

Oss 219
o

THE

Gentleman's Magazine:

A N D

Hiltorical Chronicle.

For the YEAR MDCCXCVI.

> V o L U M E LXVI. PART THE FIR $\quad$ T.

By S Y L V A N U S URBAN, Gent.

> LONDON, Printed by JOHN NICHOLS, at Cicero's Head, Red Lion Paffage, Flcet-Street; where Letters are particularly requefted to be fent, Post Paid. And fold by ELIZ. NEWBERY, the Corner of St. Pau's Cburch Yard, Ludgaie-Street. 1796.

TO SYLVANUS URBAN, ON his completing his LXVIth volume.

" With Fame's rich meed who profp'rous virtue pays,
Frefh feeds of merit fows, and diftant days,
Shall fee the glorious harveft flourish fair, And beefs fond Admiration's timely care."
I.

URBAN, to thee what tributary lay Shall the Mure bring on this aufpipious day?
How breathe her grateful offering to that Pow'r, Whore providence fupports and gilds each hour?
Preferv'd by more than mortal care,
Thro' all the ills we here mut chare, In life's precarious run;
Urban beholds another year,
Like all the former, difappear, Another too begun.

II.

Remembering life's uncertain date, Remembering time is only lent,
May we prepare to meet that fate, Whore bluffing is fublime Content ! Yet why Gould we complain, And idly five in vain ?
Weep not, frail man, thy narrow fan of life,
That checker'd dene of pleafure and of strife,
That all the honors of thy youthful prime
Are only feting, and fool fade with time;
That none by wifdom can protract their flay,
Or Fortune help them on their haft long way.
But other means the human mind, By bleat invention, frill can find, Perpetuate the mental man, Beyond this life's contracted flan;
And teach mistaken crowds this truth to read,
Learning alone is happiness indeed.

111.

Who more than thee, O Urban, have inspire ${ }^{\prime}$ Ingenuous worth, the youth fut boron find?
What ufful works have in thy pages firing,
Where once the Christian Hero iweetly fang,
And where the Mules to this hour retreat, A cafe, convenient, honourable feat : Reflection winy volumes owes its rife, As of is Correspondence bring tupplies,
And when Antiquities are brought th vet,
From something old were fore of forething new.

Antiquity difplays th' extended plain,
Where moulder fragments once of waft domain;
And tho' we fee no more their pomp and fate,
We fill reflect they once inclos'd the Great,
That once within their halls, their courts, and bow'rs,
Gigantic grandeur rais'd her Gothic pow'rs:
The maim'd infcription points out here, In former times how Chieftains fell;
What ruin 'ti that claims the tear, How well they fought, as ftories tell.

V.

But far fuperior is the ufeful fight,
Which Virtue gives us from her faced height,
When in thy page forme ufeful life is told,
Zealous for honest fame till man grew old.
To fee, and yet unconscious of the fart,
How pafions vile deform the human heart ;
How appetites deceive, how errors blind,
And wild opinions far miflead mankind.
Examples drawn without difguife
Improve the weak as well as wife ;
Th' Obituary thus delights,
Enlivening rainy dis and tedious wint'iy night.

VI.

URBAN, proceed: and may thy well-earn'd gains
Reward thy toils and literary pains!
Thy Volumes, keeping pace with Time,
Be read in every age and clime!
And may thy page historic foo deciare;
Trace is the word! and every coin* ti y's care.
To commence turn's, foal fertilize each spot,
And beefs with fair increate the yeoman's lot;
When plenteous blefings will return, And bloom hie lovely Spins,
And man, no longer forced to now n, With grateful heart hall ing.
h, Lemoine.

P $\quad \mathrm{R} \quad \mathrm{E} \quad \mathrm{F} \quad \mathrm{A} \quad \mathrm{C} \quad \mathrm{E}$.

AMIDST all the Horrors which defolate the human Race, and when, from the Ruins of War, a vain Philofophy, oppofing itfelf to Religion and the honourable Eftablifhment of Ages, marks a new 压ra in the Hiftory of the World; the Gentleman's Magazine commences a new Year under the faireft and moft promifing Aufpices.An Appeal may fafely be made to our Pages, that there is no Diminution in the Variety, the Number, or the Value, of our Correfpondence. If it were not thought too vain, we would affirm, that our Repofitory feems to have been fought by Men of deep Reflection and exalted Talents, as a Shelter beneath which they might repofe in literary Eafe from the Tumults of the Worid around them.

Long may they flourifh! Nor do we fear to retain the honourable Diftinction. It is the very Nature of Succefs to produce Rivals for public Favour: and for our part, though we Thall require no Spur to animate our Exertions, we are friendly to ingenuous Emulation, particularly if warmed by the Caufe of Virtue, and the Interefts of Learning.

With fuch Feelings and fuch Hopes we complacently can contemplate the new Year.

As Patriots, we congratulate our Countrymen, that their Valour in the Field can only be equalled by the Moderation which has marked their Councils. As Friends to Science, the Profpect before $u s$ beams without the Interupaion of one gloomy Cloud. The Publications of the preceding Year are in all refpects honourable to Britain, and may proudly challenge Competition with thofe of any European Nation.

Our own Pages are open, as before, to the candid Difcuffion of all Queftions which intereft the Curiofity or exercife the Talents of the Claffical Scholar, the Philofopher, or the Divine. We make no vaunting Profeffons of 1 iberality and Candour, becaufe we have feen thefe Terms abufed by defigning Men for the wort of Purpofes. But we defy the moft malignant to prove, that we have, amidft the Contentions and Animofities of Parties, ever fiverved from the Line of frict and honeft Impartiality.

The long Catalogue of our Volumes, which, we are proud to fay, are fought after and collected with ftill increafing Avidity, fufficiently teftifies the Approbation which has marked our Labours. Suffice it then to fay, that it is our Determination to purfue the fame Paths which have invariably led to the fume End-the Favour of our Countrymen, which is the height of our Ambition, and, while it rewards, inrigorates our Diligence.

[ iv ]

TRUTH and FICTION,

A F A B L E.

FROM THE FRENCH OF FLORIAN.

BY THE REV. MR. BELOE.

TRUTH, fiom the bottom of her well, Once naked came, as ftories tell ;
Time o'er her form his blights had fhed, And Youth and $\Lambda$ ge her prefence fled. Alone, in melancholy mood, The friendlefs dame unpitied ftood :
When, lo! before her wand'ring fight, Fiction, in borrow'd trappings dight,
With precious ftones, fome talfe, fome true,
And gaudy plumes, fome old, fome new, Was heard, in chearful tone, to fay,
" Ah! Truth, my dear, how do, to-day ?
"Why here, thus penfive and alone?
"Pray, where are all your followers gone :"
"Why, if the fact muft needs be told,"
Said Truth, " I perifh here with cold.
"Of paffengers $I$ ark in vain
"Some thelter from the wind and rain;
"But all my prefence feem to fly,
"As if fome wolf were in my eye.
"I fee, when pafs'd the charms of youth,
" No love remains, not eंen for Truth."
" Well, well," faid Fiction, " dry that tear,
"In me behold a fitter dear.
" Mankind (excule the boaft) agree
"To heap their favours upon me.
"Indeed, my dear, you 're very wrong,
"Alone to venture thus along.
" Come here beneath my veft; together
" We may defy the winds and weather;
" United thus, our chance we 'll take,
" One caufe, one common intereft, make.
"The wife, if you but thew your face,
"Will fuffer me to kcep my place ;
" And, for my fake, the fool, you know,
"Will e'en to you fome kindnets thew.
" Thus we fhall each man's pations pleafe,
"And live together at our care.
"My follies, with your fenfe united,
"Shall to us both be well requited;
"Nay, all the world rejoic'd will be,
"To fee us thas in company."

The Gentleman's Magazine

Lond.cazzTTa Neral. Even Lleyd's Evenitig Si.james'sChion. Hatndon Chron. i. ondon Evening The Sun-Star Whitchall Even. London Packet Enslifl: shou Courier-Ev.Ma Middletex Journ. Hue and Cry. Daily Advervifer Trmes-Briton Morning Chron. Cozottecr, Ledeger Herald-Ot cie M. Fuf-Telegr. Morniug Adsert. 13 Wackly Fapers Bath a, Briftul 4 Birvingham 2 Blackburn Bucks-Bury CA..ERIDGE 2 Canterbury 2 Chelmsford Chefter, Coventry

$$
C O N T A I \text { IN ING }
$$

Meteorolog. Diary for Dec. and Jan. r795-6 2 Obfervations on the Migration of Swallows on the Torpidity of Cuckoos Farther Remarks cnthe Flight of Swallows Letter from Editor of the Monthly Review Amefbury, the Seat of Duke of Queenfb-rry Anecdote of Mr. Addifon-Mr. Dunckerley $i 3$. Remarks on the newly publithed Shukfpeare ? Meafurements of fome Gold found in 1reland 8 Hint conceraiug the Will of Mr. Bond Hopkine ib. A fuppofed Portrait of Benevenuto Celfini 9 Original Latter on Plants, by Dr. Tho. Shaw ro Abfurdities of moiern Aërial Philofopters if Monwmen! of Lord Chief Juftice Markham 12 Frringdon Hill and Church--Sir H. Urton Is Erroneous Afi rtion of Mr. D'lifaclisectified i4 Suggeftions on Eiriection of Human Bodies $i 弓$. Parifh of Upton Grey, in Hants, defcribed is An original Letter of Sir john Suckling 16 A late four through the County of Rutland 17 D'Herbelot's Bibliotheque Otientale valuable is Li eand W'ritings of the Abré Barthelemy 21 Query reative to the Cultivation of Viadder 23 Great Frienthip of Drs. Home and Kenaicott 2 if Outhes of a $P$ an for innuroving the Thames 25

On the Formation and Utility of S mill Cannle sot The European Ravagers of Afia and Amesica $3^{2}$ The Scarcity of 1596 and $179^{6}$ compare f Juquiry after the Arms and Family of Reyonolds ?3 When were Briefs fint iffied in this Comatiy : ? Mr. Rowland Roufe on the Name of Gartree it Lifts of Places of Public Worthp forDifenters ? : 4 Continuation of a late Ramble oa D-rtmone ib. The prefent High Price of Com acconsied for 36 The Hood of a Liveryran, whance derived? 37 A Cnery on the Powerof a Churchwi.rten Proceedings of prafent Seffion of P.rlinmart Was Ura Burin! practifed among the Denes ? 4 : The Etymolng of Wathing. Street illuAtated ib. Genuine raticutasotite Late Mrs Duncker' y tz Review of New Puraicatio:s 44-IndexIndicatorius-Mnerie, anfered 60 SelectPoevry, Antient so Nodera 6r-66 Interefting Inteligence fom LondonGazettes 67 Foretgnliterary intelibghnce Conary News-Donsettic Occuranices 74 Marri ges, Deaths of mminont Perfens So-36 Theatrical Regifer-Bul cf Montility The Average Prices of Grain for anc Who th 87 Dally Variations in the Prices of the Stocks 80

Emhellifted with a beautiful manown Portrait, funpofed to be Bensveruto Cellini; and with a fine Perfaclive View of Farincuen Hift, n Prrasifiee.
By $S X L V A N U S \quad U R$ R $B \quad$ in Genr.
printed by $I O H N$ NICHOLS, at Cicern's Head, Red-Lion Patiace, Fluet-Ateet; where all Letters to the Editor are defired to be addrefled, Post-paid. $172^{6}$.

Mitcorclogical Diaries for December, 1795 , and January, 1796.

7. The hedges and flurubs fpangled with dew-drops, and embroidered with webs$\mathbf{G}$ cffamer floats in the fields.-8. The robin fings but plaintive.-17. Blades of crocus appear.-19. Sea gulls inland.-24. A hurricane about four o'clock in the morning.

The year ciofes with gieat mildnefs. Vegetation is at work, and apparent in the fwelled buds of trees, and in the verdure of the fields. The warmth of the air has frequently brought from its recefs the torpid fly. Severe will be the if a keen froft appears to nip thefe premature efforts.

Fall of rain this month, 3 inches 6 -10ths. Evaporation, $\mathbf{r}$ inch 7 -10ths.
Fall of rain the whole year $3^{6}$ inches 6 -roths. Evaporation 26 inches 2-1oths.
N. B. On account of the long froft, no account of the evaporation taken till the month of May.-- Walton, ncar Livirpool.
J. Holx.

Meteorological Table for Januayy, igg6.

THE

Gentleman's Magazine:

 For J A N U A R Y, ${ }_{1796 .}$KEING THE FIRST NUMEZR OF VOL. LXVI, YAR I.

, Staffordbie, Fan. 9. PERFECTLY agree with the writer of a difquifition in your laft volume, p. 980, as to the cifficulty of tra cing fome Butifh fpecies of migratery biads to their winter refidence; nothing but the patient and accurate olfervation of Naturalifis, refident neaz the coalt, can ever eflablifh a decifire certainty on the fubject. The fuppofition of the fiwallows immerfion, which Candide has revived, is exploded by Pinnant and Latham, rise incfícelebrated ormatiologift, of the age ; they, however, aliow that many of the later hatches remain torpid in clefts of rocks, under eaves of houfe, and otiser receffes. All ant. thors agree that various fpecies of the fly-ribe conftitute the principai fond of fiwalows; consquestly, the torpidity of thote infects in winter forres the fwallow to dilapazar. Now, it is much more rational to fuppese that when, from the vicilfirudes of the feafons, their faourite fuftenance is no longer to be prucured, the force of animal infind will impell the majonity of birds to repair to warmer climes, than to alfume a fate wherein the the ponvers of life, excep: that of parist retpiration, are fufoencied. If a be atked, why do they iver leave countrics where fies abound at ali leafons? I anfwer, European fwallow are very delicate breds, equally unanle to fuftain ex:reme heat or cod; fo that hy migationiticy may enjoy a remperate chmade rie whole year. In Arrica, the fugh st s of Northera winters are unknow ; ans a very inttelligent vorager affures m. be faw numbers of European fivaliows in the bav of Goret early in Jamuar, flying atout with the fame eagernefs in fearch of prey as we oblerve in England. Adanion took four, which ne examined, and found to be European fpecies, so leagues from the coalt of

Senegal; the birds were kani caught, having towards evening perchet on the throuds of his velfel. Another fill more remarkab'e inflance of the fame kind is recorded in the Phil. Tranf. vol. Li. part 2, p. 459. Adanfon exprefly affurrs, that they are never feen at Songal but during the time of their abfeace from us *. Other mariners frequertly tee large flights of birds; but, from their elevation in the atmolphere, it s difficule to afcertain whether they be fwal!ows (l) not. Clouds of birds from the Hyperborean regions annually vifit the thores of Great Britain. Why then is ic lefs prob: he that jwallows fhould have a fimilar infinet? As 10 their arrival here, not leing onferved, they may tak: advantage of the n'ght, or a mift, a remark that has lieen made in the migration of Scolopax RzuFticoin (wondenck). The abili's of fwallors for performing difant migrations, independert o the abave fals. is proved, by the rbeing, when in thefe itlants, almot perpetua! on the wing; inreet, the ertent of that memher in the genus hirundo 'esms pectitiarIy sevell ad apted i r ratt Alights. About the eime of their departura, they fly unufaliy high; multudes are then feen aftomitua un the funmits of towers, or other lofy edifices. If their retrear was the buttoms of lakes, I fhould conceive, number, would be obrerved plunging into the water That emint: anatomita. John Hunce r, b; d:lliction, found the fawtow's lungs not adapted for refpiration in water; fo that they maft incvitaisly peifin on the r firt m mesfion. Cuckuos art compelled to leave this kingdom from the fame caute as swallows, a deprivation of food. On the fubj: Et 1 hall unis mention one fag, tend ng to prove that Africa is the winter retrest of this fpectes. It has been oberved, thar the Cuckoo (cuculias ca.orus) ftops regridali; twice

[^0]a-yearen the inand of Maita, at tims correfonding with its migration and remegration from the European fares. The Statfordfire peafantry univerfally believe the cackoo fubfits by fucking the eggs of whtur tirds. Does this notion prevai in other parts of the kingdom? The circomitnce is not noticed by authors, hat is piobably a vulgar erict. What does Condide mean by fasing the cackeo is of the hank species? Havks and cuelions are lirds of fuch livie affoisy to exh o:her as not to be clafed in even the fame order. The former, ordio acc:jitres, getius fulco; the latter crac pica, senus cucaths. If the abuve rematks fhall renture the doubes of Candide, or any other of your ztaders, is will be a qrear fatistaftion to john Moratio Dickenson.

Mr.Urban,
Yan. 12.

HAVING read in vour laf rolume, p. 9 So, fone conjutures in regard to the migazion of cuckons and Iwallows, I an inctuced io communicate to you the lulluwing fast. In the Spring of the: carlifiz on a cummon in Cumberland, 1 found a young cuckoo in a ti-latk's neft. i to k him bome, in oider to wh whether he could be made to furvive the ufual sime which hiefe binds continue with us. His food confifted unifurmly of brad and water; large purions of which he ufed to confume. About the inddle of Auguft he began to chroop, and to lofe his appetite. On riniting his chamter the third day of his fating I found him apparintly quite dead. I placed him near a good fire; and, to the furprize of my tamity, he revived, and uttred his wonted fqueek, but fill refufed to eat. He relapfed into a turpor whan carnied back to his litule patour, but iuftantly revived when expoled to the fire. For two or thee dajs he hiod torpid or waking motervals, according to the degree of co!d or heat which ise experienced. Hi.ving huard that cuck cos pafs their oblivious whters in enfrequented thickets, I laid lim in the trunk of an odd deca. ed Oak, expecting to renew my acquantance with him in the furing ; tut iong bofore that faton the vermin cev urea bim.

The following is a convincin? proof that fiw 11 wes be:er Ieave this inant.
is lew years aqu a triend ot mine was with + fiome why on a frat licke in Comalian in the falun bhen fw.llows diflical. What attention was fugdenly arrefted by an wacuramon noile; which, on looking upwards, they percesived to be occafioned by a very laige flock of thofe birds torening over the wa:er. They Law thom graduall; defcond, and, at laft, all bury themflece in the boitum of the lakc. Thiscircumfarce a perfon who was eye-witnel related to ma.

Clericus Eboracensis.

Mr. URPan, Jan. x 7 .

 VV HETHER or not birundincs abide in England all the jear is a doubt tha:, cid oue rot know the contriry, che would think might be eafity refoived by anv a five Nawalifa ronfantly refitant is the kngdam; but, tlill ornitiologits writc, converfe, and furmife on $i$, wheno being able to discide futsfafloilv eimet affirmat.vely or negatsely. Candide, p. 9 So, adoyts the fuppufition of theis wintering in fubaqueou: fituations; what is an upinion 1 cannot coincide in, notwithftading I have, during nine vears oblervation, fetia them for the firl and laft time in each yer. (exctpt as afiermentioned) near the Thatmes; but, the conclufion I draw my felt from this circumfance is, that inftird teaches them that the river is a fuse guide to the fica, and tla: they find the current of air attendant on the current of water allitant to them in volution. How. ever (to difeufs the matter fairly), I know not but that they niay be feen in other counties firit anc laft near great lakes; a point not in my power to afcertain. I farther thok, that thofe near the mouth of the Thames depart from his country firf, and thofe from the head of the river laft; which progretive method of deparare actounts for congregated-conglezations of them never being feen. Every conimon ob. feiver knows that they difappear from the villages by degrees; and why may they not quit the illand gradually? Sumple congregations I have feen in mane nwn vicinity ofter; and laft au: tuma I faw one fettided on a ifing paf-ture-giound within a mate of the fea, as if writigg ior a favourable gale to waft them off. In attemping to reach anchor country, doubtefs, thoufands of the young ate ion; of that dminu. tion accounts for the ditureace on the ruvaber of threfe thas wepart and o. thote that retan. Inevarfaw them in the neizebountual of the Thames ta. tur dian hie abcin of Códober ; but, at
1996.] On Swallow's.-Dr. Kippis not Editor of Monthly Review. 5

Swanage, in the ifland of Pnrbec, I laft year faw a confiderable number on the $5^{\text {th }}$ of N vember. Whether any were feen there after that day, I cannot fay; but I never fatw one in the ifland after. Some people think the birundines go beyond fea; fome affert that they hide in botroms; others aver that they conceal themfelves in the interftices of clifts and rocks; and others fuppofe that they plunge into frelh waters. Now it is remakabie, that the fituation of Swanage is fo peculiar, that it favours each of the e conjectures. It is fituated on the margin of a bay, formed in part by rocks and clifts, and into which a rivu et empries itfelf; this rivulet flows from a deep bottom interfected with bou aes and underwood, and purfites its courfe to Swanage, which imle fea-port town lies at the feaward termination of the bottom. Here is a labyrin'h that every ornithologift mutt find himielf tof in! I wi!l not, however, fo entirely relinquift the difquifition, as not to offer a few confiderations in oppofition to Candide' furmile, as it feems to me the worft-grounded of the tour furmiSes above enumerated.

I have lived dil my life within a mile of the Thames, bur never heard of any torpid beruxdines being fornet by any filherman, duck-bunter: crawfih finder, fiwimmer, ang'e, barsman, miser, or ofier-cutter; notwithtanding the tullowers of tho'e anwlements and calilings never refrain for fo ooy a tume as half a ytar (the period of the fiwallows abfence) trom parfuing their refpective vocations. It is oasticularly to be obferved, that tlie diz: cutter purdu:s his at the idertical juncture , hat Candiae would fuppofe the birurdines to cmerge from their watery beds; viz. towards the end of Abil, wher the bhas re-ap. pear, and the ofyrs can be pericd. Therefure, if the berumbines wi- red in the bed of the river, the curte: and ftrippors muft offen be witnefies of the curious a flation of them rom cut of the ear h or waser ino rie arr, and woulat toe shem in a fate of emonarmment refulung from wee and mud. If the birds iodged eith: $r$ in ate bed of the river, or in its broks, flows would wafh them our of their holes, and furce them ino the intertices of weirs, aires, quills, wharfs, campthots, neits, &e., aud the common cuirent wouid expole the vefige of their moulting every year. Moreover, fevere frofts would kill them, and they would be found by bufhels at the diffolution of the ice. We all know how firmly the Thames was frozen laft winter, and yet, in the enfuing Spring, fwallows and houfenartins were mone numerous than ufuat ; and it is to be underfood that thefe are the two foecies of birundires that I bave been particulariy al uding to ; for, with the fiwift I have little acquaintance, and with the fand-martin not any.

Candide has made an allufion to a work of the Hon. Daines Barrington, and I prefume the is alio acquainted (notwithftanding his difference of opinion) with tir remasks of Meffrs Pinnant, Whit, aud Hunter, on thes interefting fubjest; and therefore I forbear making any refercnce to the opinions of either of thofe gentiemen.

If I was poffelfed of a fmall pond, edged with aquarce trees, fhrubs, and plant. I would put a fting round-netted net orer it, and place in the middle of $\mathrm{O}^{2}$,ber fome fwallows and houfe maztios under the net; I could then fee what the birds would do; but I have not a pond finali enough, or fufficiently private, to anfwer the purpofe.

Incompertus.
Mr. Urban, Turnbamgreen, Fatr. go

IN your Magizine fol Ostober lalt, P 804, the witer of an accourit of the late Dr. Kippis affers, that the Ductor was ont of the earles white: in the "Munthiy Review, and comdscted it, for a number of years, wuth only one or trus aftitaves."

As Editor of the Monthiy Review, foom the firt monent of sts expenditure to the prefint hour, I thank it in. cumberit ir the to inform you, that Dr. Kipps never had any concern in the ma.agement of that wor. That ho wocationally woroie aricies in tis at anearly pernot of its thalifimen (in concert sth no a ew learned gentiemen, particul rly Dr Gitgory Sharpe, late Mafter of the Tempe, and that eminent mathematician, the Ruv. Mr. Ludiam, or Leicefter), is a fact.

1 hould fooner bave taken notice of this above mis fratement, had I not over'ooked i. In tuining over the pages of vour valuable Magazine; of which I have been an attentive reader from the pubication of its fitf number by my old friend Mr. Cave.

Your infertion of this note will oblige, Sir, your humbie fervant, R. Griffitis.
P. S. Although 1 may, occafionally, thirk myfelf at liberty to mention a deceafed Reviewer, it is a rule with me never to acknowledge an exifing connexion of this kind.

Mr. Urian,

Fan. 11.

ANIORE reired fpot could nce have been chofen tor the purpofe of contemplation, and feclufion fron the world, than Amefbury, in Wilthite. The Duke of Queenfory, with leave of Gove nment, having granted his fine place for the ufe of fome Englif !adies, buns from a convent in Flunders, who fled to England from the perfecutions of that unhappy country; they poffers an ample revenue, from the int:ref of a confiderable fumluegod in the bank of Vienna, which is regulariy remitted to them. From habit: of folitude they enjoy their fituation, as wothing could have beer mote diftrefting from theis living fo lone toge:her, if octiliny had obliged then to feparare. The gardens are laid out in a very pre.ty tafte, with buildings atter the manaer of the Chi. nefe, with a beaut.ful wood, interferled with lahunums, and other fowerin's Thubs, crowning the fummit of the park, and which is foco from the windows of the locer; a noble ftram meanders throngh the grounds, from which trove of authoniming fize and fine flavour are tere, and conveyed:o Salifbury-makit. and the tamilies of the neighbourhood.

The Prince and Pinceís of Wales have honoured the nunnery with a vifit; and it is faid, for want of betier fare at the George Iun, the princet: for the firf time partouk of an Engiilu Rafher, a regale, to which, ne douber, the keen air of the Duwas greatly conetributed.
" Happy Pritortin, rich is thy foi, and meicifulty cliae; [wough; Thy frea: : untabing in the Summe's Unmach'c: .ay guadian oaks; thy valleys float [tant Hocis:
With golden waves: atid on thy mounEeat nunberlifs." TKow.
Such was the retreat of the late Dake and Dutchets ot Rucenfioury, wh. lived in friendflsip wib, and adnured the abilitics of a Thurlow, a robleman who has on fo many occafions floved himfelf the friend of his king and country.

They were the well-known patrons of Gay, and erected a monument to his momow in Weftininfter Abbey, when Mr. Pope, on the occafion, wrote thefe lines:
" Biefs'd be the grest, for thofe they take away, [Gay 1 And thoie they leave me, for they left me Left me to fee neglected Genius bloom, Neglected diel and tell it on lis tomb: Of all thy blameicifi life, the fole return My verfe, and Queenf'ry weeping o'er thy tirn.
The fame writer, in one of his lettets to Mr. Gay, fays,
"How comes it that Providence has been fo unkind to me (who am a greater object of compalion than any fat nan alive) that I am forced to drink wine, white you rict in water, prepared with oranges hy the hand of the Ducheris of Queentberry? that Iam condemmed io iive on a highwayfule, like an old Eatiarch, receiving all guefts, bliere my portico (as Virgil has it)

Munc follutantum totis vomit celibus undan;

whilc you are urapt into the Italian groves, fprinkide with rofe-waier, and live in burrace, b.lm, an burnet, up to the chin, with tine Duchefs of Queemberry? that I am diomed to the drualgery of lining at court with the ladies in wa ting st Winder, while you are bapply banimed with the Duchicfs of Cueentbey."

N B. Her Grace retired from Court in confeguence of a metiage from George the Sicind, E , onc of the Lord's in waiting. refpectiny her diefs.

It may not be anits to mention that the greal MI. Addifonwas boin, in the year :e7t, at Mithon, two or theee miles from Anctbu $y$, where his father, Dr. Linceloi Add'in, was reator, and seceived the rudiments of iis aucation at the freegranmar-then, in $\mathrm{C}_{3}$ f!e tircet, Salitbury, of v.bic: the Kes. Mi. Evans is the piefone on titer, amponica by the corporation; anc that Mi. Addifon, foni his connexicu and Krowiedge of this parr of the country, and the tery of a dxmun infering Mr. Mompution's houfe at Tidivorth, imlined the futt ;dea of "ritios a travery celled "The Drumacr, or the hatnted Hcufe."

Wrhcourcr has feen the late Mr. Duncienly will reflif, the excerding great likenefs he bore to the diffe:ent branches of the roya: tamily, infomuch that, when at dinner with the fludents in the fona Temple Hall; of which fociecy he was a member, he was alivays addreffed by the title of Highnefs; and when his Majofly attended the naval review at Portmouth, Mr. Dunckerly was prevailed on by his friends to prefent a petition, for a penfion, to the king, as he paffed from the governor's houfe to view the dock - yard: but it fhould be noticed, that, previous to this circumftance, his Mijefty pointed him out to Lord Sandwich, as a refemblance of his own famitv. About this time his refidence was in Salifbury, where his diughter married the fon of Mr. Edgar, an eminent apothecary of that city; but they are long fince both deceafed. Yours, szc. $\Phi_{1}$ R.os E.

Mr. Urban,  Зan. 1.

WITH the year 1796 , the firja folis * of our neze Shakfpeare, has made its public entrée. It was defignated to appear many months fooner; but the attention which inuft have been employed to produce it in its pretent folendid Rate, conifitutes a fuffocient apology for the de'ay. In point of typugraphical benuty, the volume may challenge comperition even with the Shak peare of Buydell: and the $f a a^{\circ}$ fimilia with which it abounds are ex. ecuted in a manner that does credit to the engraver's אill. The fubferibers are in number about 120 , and among them are feveral names of high refpect. ability as patrons of literature, and cultivators of the belles letires. But it muft be regarded as a fingular phasnomenon, that not any of Shaklpeate's veteran cominentators appeat upon the lift.

As this is the cafe, I mult be allowed to exper's my regret that the fame moferious cloud, whichinug over the profpecius, fill lingers abous the preface of the publimer. We are now informed, that " Mr. Ireland received thefe papers from his ton, a youns man under 19, by whom the dilicuvery of thein was accidentall; node at the houle of a gentleman of contiderabio property:" that Mr. I-, jun. "in purfuing his fearch, was fofortundic as to theet with fome deets very material to the interefts of this gentlenan; in return for which firvice (added to the confideration that the young man bote

[^1]the fame name $\dagger$ and arms with the per fon who faved the life of Shak(p are) this gentleman promifed hitn cvery thing relative to the prefent fubject. that had been, or thould be, found either in town, or at his houfe in the cauntry." -Now, the mere name of this gentleman, as Mr. I. himiclf acknowledges, might afift to "位tle all men's minds upon the fuibect." But over this natural objert of enquiry there drops an impenetrable veil. His nzme is not to be diclofed. The parties ar . b ound to fectecy under the frongeft imjuations: and even to Mr. Ireland he is mot perfonatiy known. This channel of invefigation is therefore completely choated up.

The authenticity then of thefe papers intid tet upon the intertal moof that they are true to their trutt: while fome weight fhould crainly be given to the moral chatacter of the polfefor. As my fole knowledge of this is derived from his cwn pliniti documents, wherein he pronounces an attempt in impofe upon others 'a fraud and crime;' I give tvar due degree of force to the laterer confideration, and am ready to allow him incipable of abettirg fo ' unworthy a defign.' He doubtie's conceives thefe MSS. the genuine autograpliy of Shakfpeare, or he would not have expended 'a confidetab!. \{am" in emoatining every blot. But may not this very enthufism have expofed him to the altifices of fonce one more defigning, and have hoodwinked his underfanding by freading a mift before hi- cyes? 1 am the more inclined to favour fuch a fuptofition, as I can fcarcely glance over a puge of his volume, without beng coweked by fome glaring incongruity or manifelt improbabiluy. Suvetaliy to poist out thicle apporances would carry me beyoud the limers of a lefter. One trait of peculianity I cannot but remark, as it pervades the whole coliection of mifcellaneous matier now braeghe furward. and may be laid so "hive along each line." 'This triking thature confifts of an orilugraphy, bloated throughout by fupernameraty luters. Aimoft

+ It may be necthuy to accuraint fome of your readers, tiat antiong the lesal inftumeuts is a deed of gift to William Henry Ireland, for refu:n? Shakiyeare from drowning. Now it happens, very apropos, thit Mr. J. the jounger is intaled vilo ham! Henry!!

3 Shakfpeare.-Gold Mine in Ircland.-Mr. Bond Hopkins. [Jan.

every word is incifcriminately clogged with double confonants, huddled together, it would feem, for no other purpore but that of awkward encuinbrance. And yet fo unifurmly prevalent is the practice, that it obtains alike with the Ladye Elizabeth, our literate queen; with his Grace of Southampton; with our refined Willye Shakfpeare; and, in thert, with every perfonage who put pen to paper in forming the compofitions here produced. Now this is a fpecies of anigma which leaves me at a lofs for a fatisfactory folution. I have infpested MSS. and perufed books of the Elizabethan age, bit without being able to trace any fpecific refemblance: tor, I verile believe, that no fuch mode of fpelling prevalled at the latter end of the fixteenth century, nor, in truth, at any period of our literary hiftory, either antecedent or pofterior. The neareft fimilitude I have yer difcovered occurs in the writings of our great modernancient Thomas Rowleic. But this is a coincidence which rather increafes fufpicion than filences ditiuft, as the language in which Rowley's works came forth was proved to be of modern contrivance, though apparelled in the antiquated taters of former times. The Shakipeare of Mr. Ireland, like the Ruwley of Chatterton, has alfo many verbal anachronifms.

I cannot, therefore, join the editor of thefe fragments in his unqualified reliance on their 'validity;' fince various reafons obtrude themfelves to induce a contrary conjecture. But I am difpofed to hear, with becoming deference, the advocates for his opinion; and to weigh their arguments with candur, chough they fould not be fraught with convietion.
K. S.

Mr. URban,

IH. fan. 24. Have been favoured with feveral drawings and admeafurements of a piece of folid gold found in a valley at the foot of the mountain Croghan, near Arklow, in the county of Wicklow, in Ireland, in Seprember 1795; which you will periaps depofit in your valuable ftorchoufe of curiofities.

The weight of the piece is 22 ounces avoirdupois.

The circumference, when Iying flat, 3 inches by 4 ; when on one edge, $3^{\frac{\pi}{2}}$ inches by ircir ; on the oppofite edge, 3 inches by $1 \frac{5}{4}$. When placed on one end, $2 \frac{1}{2}$ tach by 1 inch; on the other end, $x$ inch and $x$-Sth by 5 -Sths of an inch.

The gold is found in marfhy 'pots by the fide of a forall tream, in a gravelly ftratum, in the choits of the rock which lies beneath; of all forms and fizes, from the aloove down to the fmalleit perceptible pleces, beating ail the appearance of having been in a ftate of fufion. Allo, when the mud and gravel are carefully walied, they afford a confilerable quantity of goid $d u f$.

The fecret of the mine was difcovered, about it or 12 years ago, by fome poor people in the neighbourhood, who have fince occafionally collected confiderable quanities; but it was not publi:ly known umtil the beginning of September. From that time feveralhundreds (fometlmes thoufands) of tle counery people have been daily employed in the feaich. It is computed that gold, to the value of feveral thoufand pounds, has ; been collefled. On the 14th of Ochober two companies of the Kudare militia marched into Arklow; and the day following proceeded to guard the mine on the part of his Majefy. This piece was the property of eight poor labourers, who agreed to join hares in the fearch. It has been fold to Turner Cammae, efq. for Sol. 12. od. at the rate of four peunds an ounce, and at prefent is fuppofed to be in the polfeffion of his Majefty. Yours, &cc. B.D.

Mr. Urean,
Jan. 25.

OBJERVING in Vol. LXV. p. 744, an extract from the will of the late Mr. Bond Hopkins, reipecting an intended bequeft to the Humane Society, with Mr. Green's obfcrvathons thereon, I beg leave to offer my opinion on the lubject, conceiving that Mr. Green has miftaken the ndture of the queftion ar.fing on the cafc.

I am clearly of opinion, that the bequeft to the Society, and that to the executors, are quite diftinct, and have not the lealt relation to each other. That it was the intention of the teftator to leave a fpecific fum to the Socie:y, does not admit of a doubt; and the circumftance of the fum not being inferied was an accidental omifion, which, I conceive, may be fupplied by parol tvidence, if any fuch can be obtained.

Yours, &ic. J.S.
Mr,

1796.] Porlrait for Explanation.—Plants from Arabia Petræa.

Mr. Urban, Norwich, O&f. 19.

ISHOULD be greatly atliged to any of your correfpondents who will give me the name of the petfonage for whom the inclofed portrait was intended (pl.l.). I bought the original in London about 20 years sgo; is is in excellent condition, greatly admired, and thought by Mr. Beechev, the queen's portrait-painter, to be a portrait of the fammus Benevenut, Cellini. Nor mult the engraver go unnoticed. He is a perfect child of Nature; his parents are unable to afferd him the jeaf pecuniary affifance; but feveral adonerers of genius and modett wersh have paricuariv nosiced hima, and wifter eourage his infatialle thilt a'ter the Arts, propetly fuppofing that a boy of 17 , who can diav and en . grave in this derent way without inAruction, mighe beam foth with fome luftre under an able mafter. Hi- is at Fefent engraving two ovals from very piesting ong:na!s, painted by the tate Mr. Duché, in the poffelfina of B. G. D !liwpham, tiq. near this city: one reprefent Hopt, delivering two orphan gits in duttrets to the Genias of the Afylum; the oher Chatiy, prefinting an enaciased priflitute, in a fate of dofpair, to three recla aned females as the door of the Magdtien hofpial.

It is hoped that the profits a ifing from thefe prons will enabie him to purfue his fudies; and if this attempt to introduce him to the notice of fone Artif, who may want fuch an atiftant, Should befuccetsful, it will effentially ferve an ingenious worthy youth, and give pleafure to

Yours, &c. W. Stevenson.

Mr. UREan,

fan. 2.

AWARM admirer of your excellent Milcellany in general, I cuntefs myfelf moft pleafed with that deparment of it which, whilft it enlarges the circle of ficience, introduces us anto the company of men of firfrate eminence, by developing their charafters, or illultrating theirliterary purfuits. As others of your readers may be of the fame opinion, I doub: not but the following original letter of the celebrated Dr. Shaw, to Dr. Sherrard, will readıly find admittance.

Cultivator.
Sir, Algiers, Dic. 21, 1722.
This waits upon you with a fhort catalogue and account of fome few plants 1 obGent. Mag. Yanuary, 1igo, ferved in the Deferts of Arabia Petrea. They were gathered in pirt of September and October, AD 1721, in a voyage I made at that ume to Monnt Sinai and Ter, a convenient port upon the Red Ses. I doubt not of your furpiriz; when I tell you, that whatiover plats 1 gathered when the moon was in it fild or laft quadrature prefently mouldered away (thongh I took the ufual care of them) and ermed. And, uaon enguriving of the m:mk: of Sinai and of the introbitants of Tor, I underfood that whet wood foever they cut down for charcoal, or for any othe we, which requites it to be dey, they alwavs did it, if pofible, as near as could he to the full-moon.

1. Aracia At abica nure huleo herbar mimofe fuholis nervo triumciali attixis, filiquà inflata incu: va. - This ire athorded a gam very pientifully, hike th, if not the came with, Gumma $\dot{f l}$ aidica offinaram. It is in great plenty all alons the road to Mount Sinai, and the only hare trea, except the palm and the thorn, 1 remember to have feen.
2. Apncyam fandens fore ex albido. coccinen eleganter ftriat", falicis folin.
3. Apocyna: fructu hirfuto rena $i$, pre licis mannitusine, fali is item foho, ad fammanales verum forrato. Surgit ad alcitudioem 4 pedum.
4. Apocyrum fruticofum finre parvo carneo, untellatim difpofito, fclio fubtolande fempredali. Copiosè in diferto de Hebran.
5. Atriplex folio haftato, f. fpinachix fdcie afperâ, floribus in fractum echinatum defineminus.
6. Card us lanceolus fuperficie folii fpinofi. Moris.
7. Carduag aczulis, foliis fori fuccedaneis, humi nrocumbentibus. This thiftle juft fhoot its head above the ground. It is of a reddth hue, and in figure like that of the erioceptalus. The leaves are a palm long, waved, and 解derly defended with prickles.
8. Conyz?, f. Jacobra lanuginofa, foliis vifcofs, ferratis, crenatis. This herb, when frem and new-gathered, has a finell very difagreeable, but, when dry, very pleafant and agreeable.
9. Colorynthis vuigaris, copiosè in deferto de Pharan.
10. Colocynthic pumila f. nana nucis juglandis magnitudine, cortice lævi.
11. Colucynthis altera nana echinata, frius 12 unâ viridi, alterì flavâ variegata. The whole appearance of this fruit, except that it is rounder, is like the apple of the Stramonium.
12. Chryfanthemum aizoides, flore parvo purpureo, caule quadratâ.
13. Eryfimum nanum hirfutum dentis leonis folio.
14. C气a
15. Geraninm pumilum humi prowaibens folo generii mano.
16. Gnapiahum ferturineman tuat facic holofericum.
17. Gramen pentadacty? briatum.
18. Helianthemum folio fubtomidu floreo haten, petatis tiotum acutis. Thie lraves of this ate tometimes oppofteiy, fomermes alteroatels ploced. It las its Ralk and leaves guntect with foft maicies ! ke the roie. It rifestwo or thre e mehes from the ground, and is of a light greenim coibur. The root fibruas.
19. He ba miliculóa culeata, eryngif faeie. The : me of thewerng whis juft wisen Ifay it. 3 hereul-v the was ot the tig nef and forn with thite of fropbitaria ar:ted maje. It was very had, aded conbiated of two lotee, eril contaling oite fimat redith fred. The whole was furrounded with long and foft prickes, and greiv $t$, the heighi of two cet.
20. Holiutropium erectum Ithofpermi face.
21. K.t affrgens fecii vermicularis farie.

2:. Kalimaximè fucculentum folo obcuío 1: Ufo.
22. K li fruticofum, furibus membranace's allids, frolio fett glabofis.
?2. K h lum te foli, acutis fibi nivium a cle... arertibus.
$\rightarrow$ K... gencuatum vuigare. Copio 2n me an latere mat ralm.
25. Le acoum manam fruticafum folio ionev anguito, fatiua cmpreffa ovali. This b a a zonk, narrow, pointed leaf. I fiw it wo m of wer. Ilepod is near :al iuch long wht cmians ony two fin.ll atat woncel teed. The it lks bear 8 or 10 of the fe at their exthembu only, buhny, or in t'e mantue of the um :lliteras planes.
26. Mat:ubium 'iencrafacief rithus mter foling un atia c cvaneforthous Thas heab is white and logary upon one fite of we leaf, and of a ambe green upontlic other. The dlower, of a t theolorr, are to fradl, and te leate formerone that, withoit a new mider ather, they camo: he cifcoveres
27. N. ant folender, copicse in Co- : fo:x'el.
23. Ox"achata valgaris frullu ad celaf in Eritudine me elicate
29. 'aninuca tunufilia hufuta umbeiih parnex 1 ict.
35. P'pi montanum Arabum. This
 Lle maiongcra, f friawint ef wientam or.ii on sucumer, nam, ari that its leeds dipoled dad reaterad in hate matuer. 't fucceed a Rower confifting of five petalat, as big its th. $t$ of t: whld ere, and with a number of cinver atisng out of the womb or centre. Tine erges itwo of thele leaves are whe motely foned, a an!te bendeal down, and recervicu ino the aider, which is of une fuchy leaf, courorming itfelf to the faner. The ontah itfolf ts fue or fox foet ligh, the leaves, like to the rivit of the bulbun, $-b$, verv lowhy, and :ill of it defended with peickles. The Ar be pickle the frut, and have it in great elteern for its pungent tate and fintor.
31. Joly monm pulyfumon fohis acutis fore sibis) Aloreicesto.
?2. Sedum puan ham nammulatic minotis fatce.
3.2 Tammis as foliol wan tenero fafor tin (laticis ment.1) fermbatute.
34. Thilet? fatucofnm, f. Hicracontiam. Curore in detero de Sm.

25 Tribulusenciris. Copio: é in defulo de Phat ul & furn M. Smai.
36. Irifolume lequatufum oioritam, fiower is lake in mape to the volet, lant moch faller. it Tous ufrizht one foot. The leat es are l-ke thofe of the rotemary; the pod romsd, and one moh and an ha'f loner.

3?. Trifoliom ferpenc, flore carulo Pentapetain, fucha penticapfion rosat a dijuro. T e le.ves of this flant are of th: confitet ceand compl:yon of to ematy, illuins os foli amalis. Tie whote firtads itf:If a fo $t$ apon the oretand circu! ! 1 .

1 wherved no ipeceies of the jow cas ev ar:an to uprot tho be aks of the Ead Sow. This I ahe notice of, hec ofe Y. wat Exi, which w. tomfate Ped bea, i i.y win inwered ahon dricu of then lad fabe these.

Bufi esthe'e, I lave feen fe torl other fpectes of prants, wou ch, being neither in trine ior fandy. Thafy 1 have deformed are wiventty mathet to the barras rock, sho f:ndy whilenfo, and to a pleniful mig'aty de: f fithe ir growth and momathment ; t.r, iul is a bleting not to be met whint theie d ient". Ite monks of S'13, 1 and j? at. An have, in a lons procets of tin $s$, hy the date and other mboith of the convare, covered aver five or fix actes of thefe maked plans; whols artiticial and atventations forl proinces at this tme camBrowet and lethese, with the like fallad and putherhs, the beft I thank I have enten. Tin v hase bicume baifu in great armadince olive, phan, almond, apple, an. P ...t ince ; the Enmt of which is cert.1 .i. cxathent; and the pact paticularly is extecmel al (irutctuoby the Englifh atd Fench merchmos 1 fodng there, as we!! as by tho macive of the place, to be th: woll delactous in the wortd. Nether are then grapes (fome of them at leate) mfutor an fiven and binn is to any whato. cser; for, thay commonly exced dheleffer walm:t in fize, and yield a palpy juice equally retremar and dich hitul. In thote, it is fulif, demonstated, on the admiable froit and hertage they enjoy，how far an invincoile care and indurtyy con prevail over nature；and that it is very pethble to fandize ant impore f veral of thefe places which matue intended io be bolron，and whach the whe and hatt fal wroud per farde themfeles to be inmadhathe．

1 hall，in a fomstine，guve you mac－ count and defciption of the futmanme plante of the Real Bea．Wa the ne n them， I beg you to belevene，ai i vally am， Gry，year ofliged humbe fervart， Tyri．Sbaw．
Pleafe to give me refpeats to Mrs．Rand．

Mi URBAN，Calike，Fuly io．

IF，by nour indalyence，$t$ famuld perfiveie，through the medium of the Gent！emat：＇s Mase：zine，to expese the monfrous abfudides of our mo－ de naëml philotophers，their foramstul beboviour towards me mutt he the poo－ per apology．I think it is imperfinle but that he chembet world muft be fentibe of the abiurdiaus which the moit celcbated of our plulotonhers Fre fo vey unwitng to reinquilh， firt ring themele－s that their wames would be hanced dow．s to pofterty ＂ith app zute－they cannot enduse to have the evors of thear phatofopiy de－ toled：and hence，I ienr，it will be round that fo many artful methods bove been talen，in literary jounals and other pablications，to decry the chemical tra his which i have fonfen fand before them．But if jutice， $\mathrm{c}+\mathrm{n}$－ diur，and tuhh，whillave no efoct，I hope they will pay fome regard to the lives of tieir fellow．creatures；for，the w！ld and abfurd theorics which they are enduavourirg to efrablifh can no tonger be regaded as a mete ammfe． ment for the Roval Socicty：they have made a decp impletfion upon the minds of the young and unraflecting pacti－ nowers of phyfic；and are now in danger of being every day introduced intu medical puefeription．

DoElaines which bave the charms of novelty and a fpecious arrangemert are ardentiy caught by the young itu－ dent，who is to believe that arrs are every thing，that they form ail iolid bodies．

The common，and I believe unot． jectionable，dostrine of our fortfathers was，that vegetable acids are ufeful in the foavy，by neutralizing the a ka－ lefcent putrid liate of the foliths and fulds，and thus putting a ftop to the putrid dathetis which had taken piace from two caufes：firft，from living on animal frod or fited previnins，and from the pinciple of lite being weak－ thed，and，onfequently，the neceflay afion of the vitat funcions leffence？． It is from thete caules，Mr．Urban， thot the beechanical atrmion of the itood vefiels and tatcuar motion a：e incapmibe on decongounding the red globuec，and tuminethem inon amimal geal．But we are tanght by our wild theorfor，that acds are necelfary in the fonsw，as being compdid of a great quanuty of ple arr，docom－ prunded in the cisculation by anmal real，forgetung that this animal neal amcunts to no mote than 96 of Feh－ renheit，ahhough they te：！us，that in the claboratory the fame aciu＇s require ＊red neal in orderto be decompounded． Such，Mr Urban，are their ablurdi－ thes and monfifineter．

Dr．Cowiord and Mr．Keir，whe promifed the Roya Soctety an exnlam nitions of forne experanents upon the theory and foild bodie，beng compofed of air，have not yet performed ther pronse：I fancy they begin tos dif－ cover the error of fuch theories－but lot us interigate thele doctinass a little more fulty．

Refpration and combufion，accord． ing to the modera thenifes，are fimbar proceltes；but I heve arreacly whem $n$ that there is a great quansi $y$ of fire fet lonfe in the latter，and nese ta the for－ mer．Our theorils pgice with me， that the biack giobules of the blood a：e changed by refpiration into red ones．Let the doctine then of the fimataty of combution and reppia－ tion be put on the tef of expmanamer， of vhich the；are fo much whio ousd．

By expufiag black blood，or the blach globules，to air，out of the iungs， and fertirg fire to them，the purs ais is turned is fised atr and water，a quartity of a Brual tire is produced ：ond the black plobules become cheico：t． In the lungs the asr abtec upon in the idme manner，it is tumed to fixed air and water，but no fio sp protuced，and the black glooulcs，irleas of beco－ ming a coal or charerat，ate chang i into red or crimion giobules；whish are much more cumbulible thar they wete before when bhack ones．Honce we are brought to this condulion，that： the black globules，by baingexpered so the air in the lungs，and commenica． ting to the air，during the procels of retpration，its charconat ur cas beree，ard itshyarogen，or inth mmatiody，have， neverthelefs (agreeably to our learned theorifts) when this undergoes sfimilar procefs out of the body by combuftion, more charcoal and more Ny drogen to give to the arr than they had befo e they poficd iato the lungs and when black gintules. Whw then, give me leave to akk, are not thcfe black elobules turned in the lungs to charcoal, the fame fubtance as when they are hurned out of the body? Thicle black and raf plesules, by givine out charcoal to the air in c.mbuftion, hou'd be converted into an entire darcoal. How abford! And yct, fitil more Arame ! thefe gintules, by acting upon the dir in combution, and by giring to it charcoal and inflammable air, are turned to a charcoal, that being the refiduum when they are bnent nut of the budy; but, when they are barnt in the lungs, i.e. when the give out according to modern chemifiry their charcod and inflammable air to purear, they form red globu'cs. Such, Mr. Uiban, are the laughable inconfiftencies which are at prefent received, inficad of my plain and imple principles. But let us confider the fubjea in another point of view. If the black blood, or black g!obules, be expofed to the atmofphere withour undergoing any combuftion, our of the body. infead of becoming a charcoa!, they hecome red globults, although the air is changed or acted upon in the fame manner as if the flame of comburtion had taken place.

12 Harrington on the Abjurdities of modern äerial Pbilofophers. [Jan.

The modern doEtrines are really deffitute of common fenfe; for, we are told, tha?, when armolpherical or pure air is applied to the blood in the Jungs, it atiratts che charcoal, or carbone, and inflammable air of the blood through the coats of the veffels of the lungs; but they are at the fame time under the neceflivy of requiring us to believe, that a part of the blood's charcoal, and a part of its inflammable air, are not quite fo traftable and polite, forcing the pure ar to come to them. This, Mr. Uiban, may be thought a little fingular, bur, as this is an age of woonder and credslity, fuch srifing contradiction is eafily pafied over. When they unite, we are told they come from fixed air and water; but here our theorifts are fill unfortunate ; for, fixed air and water, when applied to the blood, inftead of chang. ing its g'obules from black to red (which they ought to do agreeable to their erroncous reafoning) change it from red into black. For, all acids; turn red blood hlack, and all alkalies turn black blood red.
But this is not all the difficultv. I never heard it maintained by the boldeft modern philofopher, that the veffeis of thie lungs are fre-froof, which, acoording to thcir very curtous ideas, they certainly ought to be. For, a queftion here naturally obrudes itfélf, what becomes of the fire of the air when it is clanged to fixed air and watc: How will our ther rifts difpofe of it when their imaginaty inflammable air and thit imaginary charcoal leave the blood to unite with the air out of the lungs? When the infammable air and charcoal act fo powerfully as to make the pure air penetrate the wacls of the langs, the fire of the pure air muft undoubtedy bie fit loofe, fince, according to Dr. Crasuford's theorics, that and the fixed air cannot remain in the blood at the fame time, as they repel each other. But Irepeat it, Sir, there is so. tire fot loote in the lengs. They icil us, indeed, thas that fire, which comes from the pure air when it is turned into nxud air and water and expired, penerrates tha b'ond, and bacomes latent there. This, to be fure, is a fort of faivo; but the queltion, Mc. Urban, recurs with double force: In its paffage through the coats of the blood. weffels, what binders it from burring them?
But I am afraid that my readers will be tired with rherr extreme inconfiftencies; and, if I am thought too fevere in my animadverfions upon them, I repeat it, Mr. Urban, their Bameful bebaviour towards me defervesit. Robert harrirgton. (Toba cominued.)

Mr. Urban, IN a thur which I made lar fummer, I vinted the village of Eaft Markham, i:a the county of Nottingham. In the church is the monument of Chicf Jul ce Markhan, with this infription:
"Orate pre anima Joh"is Markham. Jufticiarii, quii obiit in fefto fcti Silventri

* Cream of tartar is perhaps the only exception to this obfervation. We have found this acid char.ge black blond into a more florid appearance in fome meafuse. Nor will this be thought extacortinary if the true na ure of cream of tartar be properly attended to, Edit.

1796.] Faringdon Hill.-Gallantry of Sir Henry Unton.

: : : : : Anno D'ni Milleno CCCC nono. Cujus anima propitiet Deus. Amen.

The whole of this infcrigtion is perfeetlv legible, except one word afer Sil-weffri, apparently of about four letters, which have been defared. Thorotin, in his Hiftory of Netinge ham hire. and, to the bef of my recollefinn, Mr. Gough, in his nesveditinn of Camden, make no mention of this word.

I write, therefore, to you, in the binpe that fome of your antiquarian readers, who are converfant in old monumental infcriprions, will fugedef what word ought to be hore fupptied.
E. C.

Mr. Urban, LetcombRrgir, Dec 1.

THe bexutilul fot cailed Faringdon hill, celebrated in a poem by Mr Pye, pnet-laurear, the late owner, being floitly to be plour hed up and defaced, 1 fend you a drawing ( $\boldsymbol{f l}$. J. $)$, hoping t'aereby to preferse its appear. ance to furu,e ages. Faingdon hll, for called fiom the neighbouring town, is an eminence iling eafily from the vale of Whitehorfe, the whole of which it cmmands, as well as an extenfive profpect wer part of Oxfordfhire, Gioncefterthirc, and Wilthire. It has a ine grove on the top, which is a noed lind-mark, being feen at a gieat diftance every way.

Faringrlon is a neat market town on the geat London road from Abmazon and Oxford, leading w Gwucefter and South W'ales. It had furmerly a cafite, demolimed by King Stephene part of one of the buttrefies is till emanng. Here was likewile a driory, whech was made a cell to the tbbey of Bedulicu, in Hamphire, by King John.
The church is an antient fabick, partly of Saxon architecture. le confifts of a nave and two fide alles, feparated by round pillars and hemicicicul.ar arches, a large and lofty chancel, and it had a double tranfept; but one of the South ailes, with the fipire, and part of the tower, were bedten down by the artillery of the parliament ermy, cpinmanded by Coionel Sir Robert Pye, whofe houfe, which then flond near it, was a royat garrifon! Pieces of bomb hells and cannon-balls are frequently found in the church - yard.
Here are many antient and curious morumenis, particularly one for Thomas de Faring:on, on brafs plates, burisd $\mathbf{1 3 9 4}$; and a very fuperb one, of alabafter, for Sir Heriry Unton, of Wadley, near this town, who chal. lenged the boll Duke of Guife in Quren Elizabeth's time; and fome elegant modern oacs, for the Pye familv.
The following ancolinee was commonicated by I. Gerep, of INewbury. to J. Bratlly, vicur of Faringion, Oct. 22, 173:
"Hen:y U'mpton. knt. (or Unton, or (Wion), was born at Wadley, Beikfinie. He was employed by Qiecn Elizatiecth embiflidor into Fitine, where he belaved biunfelf right fisully in ther hehalf, as may appear by this paricula. In the month of March, 1592, beng fert fible of fome injuy of fered by the Duke of Guife to the tionour of the Cigen of England, he font him this enfung challenge :
"Forafmuch as hate'y in the lolging of the Lord Du Magne, and in publick elfwhere, inpulently, indefcreetly, atal overbotidy, you focke hally of my fovernign, whofe ficred perfon here in this cyanty 1 reprefen, to maintain, hoch by word and weapon, her homour (whith never wis called in quefion among people of homeity and vatue); 1 fay y a have wickenly lied in fieaking fo bif ly of my foueraizn; and you fhat do nothing elfe bat lie wlicafoever yon thall dire to tix her honour. Moreover, that her facrad perfon (beng one of the moft complete and virtuan pri.cettes: that lives in the worll) ought nor to be erai forken of hy tha tomguie of fucha a perfidiows trayton to her hav and country as yor are. Ans batcapan I do defy yon, and chatienge your perfon t. mine, verh foct manner of arms as you fhall hike of chute, be at either on hereback or oates. Nics would I have jou to think any inequality of parfon between us, 1 being iftued of 2 a great a race end noble houfe bery way as yourct. So afigering me an indfereras phace, 1 will here maintain my crords, and the the which I gave you, and which yous Thoulh net endare if you have any curray at all in you. If your coment not to mets nee hereupon, I with bold you, and cante you to be generaly held, for the arruntedt cir - 1 , and moit Ianderous fave, that lives in all France. I exped your aniwe .."

This Henry was fon to Sir Eiward Umpion, by Anne, the eldeft datotter of Edivard Seymour, duke of Somerfet. Sir Henry died in the Fieaci king's cattip, whence his corple was brought to London, tnexce to Wadleg. and butied at Faringdon, in the North aite of the church, on the Sith daj of Jniv, 1536.

For want of imue ma!c, a great paxt

14 Mir. D'Ifracli's Mifiake concerning the Literary Fund rectified. [Jan.

of the land belonging to Unton's fami y devolved, b, an heir-general, to the Purefoys of Wadley.
Yours, Es. J. Stone

Mr. Urban.
fan. 6.

MR D ISR AELI, in his ingenious "FRay on the Literars Character," having firted that the tuiety inflitued tor the velisf of difuffed authors has falien into decay; and this mifake tendin: to piejudice the fuccefs and interefts of the tuad; you will do an eliental fervice to the intitution by faring that, fo fat from having fallen into decay, it has grativally obtained an increafe of tuppreters, and, in confequence, a ereater probosility of permanence. Defrous, he vever, of extendng as much as potifile the ir means of relievine proper objeasis. by making the intitution twore known, the C. mmitte have lately printed, and are now circhlating, an account of the origin of the Society, and of the cafes hathero relieved ty it; frop which I纤all touble you with an extrad.
" This inflitution, which may prohably rank amo the moft weful and important in the kinedm, had its oripur in a clab held at the Prise of Wates's cofice-linure, Condur ftree, confiting principaliy of mein of etters, which gencr.ily bad fome objeet hefides conviviatity; and that object had been frequenty changed by the choice of tise Suriety, or the influense of tome afnating finit, of which evety togiety i. pol:etles.
"During the fummer recefs of the year 1938, an event toik phace, which tarnthat the charater of Fngtith op dence and hotmanity, and atficted the votaries of knowledze.
"Fleyer Sydentam, the wel!-known trannatur of Plato, one of the moft ufful. if not of the molt competent Greck fcholars of his age ; a nath revered fir his knowledge, and beloved for the candour of his temper, and the $\hat{\text { ghentenefs of his manners: }}$ died in cunfequence of having been arretted, and detained for a delt to a vief"aller, who thad for fome tince fumbled his trugal diuner.
"At the rews of this event every fiiced of literature felt a mixture of introw and thame; and one of timembers of the clulb abovementioned propofed that it fhould-adopt, as its object and purpofe, fome means to prevent aunilar afflictions, and to amift deferving authors and their families in diftrefs.
"This inlea, though arplavidel, was not unanimoufiy adoptes; but the ardent fpirit of the propufer was not ditcouraged.
"The club was diffolved, and another formed confiting only of eight perfons; at the firft meeting of which the prefent Conftitutions, and an advertifement, were produced by the fult propofer, and unanimonly approved.
"The fulferiptinn for the purpofes of printing the Conftatatione, and wferting advertifements in the pohlic paprs, amnunted oniy to eight guineas ; but at the next meeting it was enewtd.
"The fil at failliful band, however, feadily continued their operations: and, without waiting for the refuit of yeatly fubicriptions, renewe 1 their contribuions, as thay were ${ }^{-2}$ anted, and funained the expence of printing and advertifements for nearly two years.
"In this manner the Society gradually acquired fability; and the firt general meeting was appointed to be heit on Tuefday, the 1 Sch of May, $\mathbf{r} 7 n 0$, at the coffeehoufe atovementioned; when officers were "lected, a Committee formed, and annual fuhfcriptions ohtaned."

To this let me add, that the Som ciery has alceady, from the time of its inftutution, given relikf in 4 r cales; in feveral'ot which they had the lat sfacllon of relitving authots of diltinguifnad merit from the imaneditte prollure of very fevere diftref.

I will not trefpafs farther on your patience, Mr. U, ban; but, from what is here fated, the benevolent readet will doubtiefs be defrous of adiing his affratance to an inflitution which that already been to ferviceable, and which canoot fail of being in future lail mome extenfizcly of ule.

A SUbSCRIDER.

Mr. Urban,

:7ar. 6.

ISHALL be obliged to you if you will allot a column to the foliowine fuggeftions refipeeting the diffecting human bodies for the purpofe of obtaining anatomical knowhedge.

There are feveral obfacles which prevent the procu ing bodies for anatomial dificetions; fome of which, perhafs, might in timc be much leffened, if attempted to be removed in a proper mareer. The fift to be noticed is, the abhorrence perple bave at the thoughts of their friend's body being cut to pieces by the knife, and not buried afterwards wath the ufual funeral ceremony. This I fhall not endeavour to remove. There are, I have no doubt, many perfons who, for fear of public clamour, and a fenie of propriety, will not fuffer diffections, although they do not feel the abhor-rence juft mentioned. Perlaps the fear of clamour is the next greatef of the obfacles, and which it will not be verve eafy to get rid of $q$ "ickly. Aithogl' at pretent bodies for compilite degizion, of for 隹eletons, are rost 10 be procured in fech nombers as ase wanied, 1 think a great deal of andromica knowiedge maght be cita ned, if perfons would defire, or give directions in there wills, that hear brdies mixht be opened at the houf where they die (or foare mure convenitat place). by a furegen, in the prefence of a few mung perpt. educatng ter that profeifion; dad, fony patt was paricuiarly vi ted for farther inveftigation. thd tave migt, be given for the togen to tike ir awa:, and the body afteriards to be fewed up, and in'eled as uiusi. This would take ofe ageat dal of the objections ex if ing or diycerean, and frobab's would not wake. in many infances, mare alteritim in the comle than the cperatun ue embal.m.ng dess now.

Sheuld the above hetes tend to increafe the u'cful and cet ehiful fudy of anarons. with mit reforting to the feandainus meth dof obenn ma bodies from turnal grounds now pratifled, is will give geat ple fifure to the witer of this paper.

A $-z$.
Mr. Urban, Grays Inn, Oze g.

IN purfuance of the plan 1 recionmended, in wol. LXIV. p. 984, I now fend you a hortaccount of dnother parifh, in which i have larey fy+aza felv days. John Caley.

The patith of Upton Grev is filuated in the Hundred of Bamanfipt, in the Count; of Hints. The neareft market towns are Olham and Bafinglioke; from the latter it is diffant about five mules, of very bad road, unlefs the traveller is allowed to pars througi $\mathrm{H}_{x} \mathrm{ck}$ wood-park, an induigence which has been rarely denied, as the other road is very uniafe for a carriaze, yet, through the caprice of the gate-keeper, a ferious accident hadnearly happened to tivo ladies la:ely, and to one not long ago, from a refulal. This is meant as a hint to the worthy owner, the Right Hon. Mr. Orde Powiert, who is no doubt ignorant of the circumitances. To return to the fubje ct after this digrulion; Upton Grey affords little that is interefling to the antiquary. It probably derives its tatter name from fome former owner.

The Loil is chalky, the land cliefly arable, there being only a few acres of mieadow. In the pariflate feverai auphold efrazes. The namor of Upton Giev belangs on Adeiphus Metkiike, E'g to whom it calite by marriage wita Mhis skuner. who had is be devile fiom Mis. Opic, a nish: formerly of congleathe note in the pirin. The prime pil prophetors, belides MT. Matikike, a M Mr. Talk. of S.liftury, and Mr Leccli, an ems: nent farmer.

Hodd naton is a hamle:, in whis? Jihn Linbery, E'q. has a feat with pieatant waiks. Hithes here a linall manor.

The church, which is re?arial, is rather ancanterntur:, do bie hodied (a modern pire haveng neen acted bay the tamily of Laniba. y), with a tower, cil.neel, and puabl.

Thiere ate no brafics in :his church, nor any monuments of mach entuquity, the oisen a the chancel being that of Lalj Doobly E.re. It is a mural monument of :adabe, with har ef gites, ent the arme of her conmetions, Eyre. Baidrode, Clytit, &ic. The inkriptan ruas thus:
"Here lyes the remainler of Ladye Dorothy Eyre by ourt? a Bouttrod, io her youtin a maty of Honvert en ereen Anne, in iner reper yeares the wife of Sir Joina Eyre, in h riater of Mr. joln Cly fes, one whiu w.is zealuus and ditreete, chantuble and chenfal!, whe above ber fexe and hunble below- he: coudt:on, well tead in the sclicult of N. Ature, bu: better in that of Grace. Nether is it dectutal whether the cured mate dodyes or connfulsed more fouls.

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { A. D. } 1560 \text {. } \\
& \text { Ob. Dec. 12, xt. fux } ; 8 .
\end{aligned}
$$

Sleepe, my good lady, neeper; enjoy your reit :
[her. Some D.ushters have becn wife, bucyou the

There are fome other veries on the fanie iddy on a tablet, bue, not being remarkable tur the:r goodncts, ase omitied here.
In the chancel are alfo buried, Mrs. Eliz. Evclyn, wife of S dasy Eveiza, Efy 8 Miacch, 1762.
Her finer Mifs Mary Hill, Aus. 7 75. Sulney Evel, n, Efy: :9 Jan. 1782. xt. 63 .

In the body of the church, near the pulpit, is a moral monument of alabarter, thas intcribed:

MS.

" Johannis Mathew A rmigeri qui Hoddingtoni ex antuqua petrapha ala:us et apad

-6 Upton Grey defribed.-Origizal Letler of Sir ]. Suckling. [Jan.

Oxonienfes in Coll. Wadham. per feptem ammo 1 tudorun curfom peregit, in thono$\mathbf{5}$ :hih dehinc Grevenfinm Sucietite legon Algiga municipabum ftucio et profebma se atdixit in qua Sparta ornanda optamus chentumi Advacutus et cothlimmo in cubijs Legum Craculum merito auburit.

 Chiniti 1657.

Arms. A lion rampant crowned. No colours expretien.

Thee is is the church arother moIoment for , Batbara, reilit of Richard Opie, gens. and onify daukiter of Matechy Dudeney, late of this piäce, gen:. fie ded 20 Oct. 1697, xt 50 teaving three fons, Nichotas, Itiomas, and juhn, and a daughter Barbaty; alfo ine bedv of Thomas Opie, aforefide, who vas a lnetn-dinper in Lomdon, and died is March, 1700, ate 22 .

Arms of Opie. Sable, on a chevon berweentlice garbs Oribree pellets.

Sims of Dudenty. Argent, a bend cotized Ermise.

The only monument befides, worsh noticime, is that to the memory old very woatby chataeter, Alll romembered wibre'ped by many of the msabiants, viz.
Near this placeare depofited the remains of I mes $k$.ner, Etry.
Who was exemplary in lie and moners, Fusent, vanums, Puse.
A a a govelatizen, he p dicd th: former part af hfe in Lors. . $n$, in : eputable and foce ef-
 Ftereat mhapotconal efate, as an amiable imblefpectaine contaby gentleman in the -..mmatian of the jecter: as a thae Chrifsom, his dew tat lererance tor God, his - ank, bit, fienton to his WurAip in this sazed place, (on the decint cornament of which he beRasued girat careraderpence), this inagaty, ins chanivy dipl ye in reheving diftref, is prometing harmony, in the execution of Bmportant truls, m good will to all, En med him z:nveriflefteem in this world, ant whll, it thopel, recommend him to the Divine Favour in the kefurection of the foft.
He ded Aug. 15,176 .
Frwn a frdeful leer rd to the memory of fo fincte a triend, mat adefie to tix a lalting imp ration of foworty an example upon the lie rets of all that knew ham, this moabment is erected ly his Execuhix, Mary N. L. Imber, Whaw of his uepi ew, Capt. Edm. Imber. who died at Guadaloupe lin the fervice of his Conntry,
A. 1). 1758.

Aras. Sable, a lion rampant Or, crowned Atgent, between thate ciufs crofilets of the fecond.

Thw unti butif in Cpton Grev, now inliahied be - Beaufor, Eid heIn g-d in Mir. King, and was devited by $\operatorname{Lim}$ to Mir. Leech.

The manor houfe of Upion Giev is near to the church, and is now oaly a farm-inufe.

The rechorg of Uroon Gicy is in the putronage of Queen's College, Oxtord, it is woth about 2001 . per annum; the peefent incumbert the Rev. Mra Ackinion, who dees not tefide here, but at auothorliting in the Cunny.

Mr. Ueean,

F̌aiz. 5 ,

1HE tollowing fea-faing ictor opeitaps you will not thisk unworthy of a pace in your ufetul Ni gazine, as it vas wilten by Sir funa Sucking, the pote, when he was on his traveis abroad, at the age offixicen. The or ginal letret is in the Athome lean Nutcum, Oxtord; where there is alior a beautitul porircit of that diamatift and poet. $E^{!} \mathrm{J}^{2}$.

Wile,

It is tepoled here a-fhip-hoard, that t?e wind is as vomentate, fot the mont pat bad. That it altspe lier takes part wath the waters, for it tolits him contmually that crobles whe feas. That it ie not good for a tate referve pohncina to come to fea, for he as tuhject ioh he; foth has mund, in very plainterm. That it is ail ill ganains-place, for four days tegether here los been very bad turting of all fodes, and 1 thonk, if 'ue loud wricd langer, it would have bee:n worfe. That lo mech rope is a needefs thing in a hip, for they drown here altogether, not liang. That if a wench at land, or a fhip at fe, fpring a leak, it is fit and neceliary they mould be punpt. That Dunkerk is the P.puits purgatory, for men are fatin io pay money to be fieed out of it ; or, to freak mone like atrue Proteftant, it is the water hell, for if a man'scape this, 'th ten to one be fhall he faved. That lying four nights a-fhip-board is almott as bad a.. fithing up to loofe money at three-penny glecke, and fo pryy tell Mr. Hett; and thu: macia for fea-news.

Siuce iny coming n-more, 1 find that the people of this country are a kind of infidels, not beleving in the Scriptures: for though it be there promifed there fhall never be another deluge; yet they do fear it daily, and fortify againit it. That they are Nature's youngeft chidiren, and fo confequently have the leaft portion of wit and manners : or rather that they are her biolatis, and fo inherit none at all. And fure their Anceftors, when they begot them, thought on nothing but monkeyc, and bours, and affes, and fuch like ill-favoured crearures; for, ther pryfiggomics are fo whe from the rules of progortion, tiat I Should foil mu prote to let-in the deforibion of them. Ia a ward, they are almote as b.d as the fe of -...-inire; their habits are as $m$ mitrous as then elves to all ir rangers but, by my troch, on peak the naked truth of them, the difference betwixt the drafing of their women and ours $s$ only $t$ is: theirs bumbate their tails, and ours th-ir arms. As for the country: the water and the kng of Fance beleagre it round; forntimes the Hollauder gets ground upon ther, fometimes they upon him: it is fo even a level, that a man mult have more than the quantity of a gisin of muftardfeed in fatth to move a mount in here, for there is none in the countrv: thear own turf is thear firing altogether, and it i . to be feared that they wili barn $u_{i}$, their counryy before doomfidy. The air, what wth their hreathing in it, and its own natural cormantion, is to nowboleforne, that a man muit refo ve to he at the charge of an ague once a month: the plague is here conitnatly, I mean excife; aud in to great a manner, that the whole country is fick on't. To te leained bere is a capital treafon of them, reileving that "Fortoma favet faturs," and therefore, that they may have the briter fuccefs in their wars, they choofe hurgomafters, and burgers, as we co mayors and aldermen, by their great belthes, little wis, and full purfes. Religion they uie as a ftuff-cloak in fummer, more for thow than any thing elfe; their fummum borum heing altogether wea'th. Tliey whilly bufy themfelves about it mot a nian here ha: w whle do that which Fudas det, for $h$ If the money. To be thor, the country is 1t.rk.nought, and that too good for the inhabicants; but, being allies, 1 will forbear their character, and re? Your humble fervant, Leyden, Nov. 18, 1629.
F. Suching.

Mr. UREan,
7an. 3
I AsT iprinz I made a hatty tour through the liale county of Rutland, for the \{ole purpofe of taking drawings of the churches, which, with fome pairs, I accompliffed, avoi have now a complete $f \in t$ of all the church s and chapels, which amount to nifty in number. I had fome notion of having them engraved, hut as yet have come to no determination on the fubject; fome il:it nctes which I made in the courfe of my pereqrination here follow, and, if vou judge them worthy a place in the Gentleman's Magazine, they are verv much ar four fervice.

Gent. Mac. Janwary, 1796.

In Aifton church, a window of coloured glafs, the centie, Chrift on the crof, the raf fcriptusal. in the manor houie, near the church, are come coasts of arms in glafs; in the church-yard, two figures, very much defaced, carved in floae; on the breaft of one a crof-, the foot of which runs down the body, which is, downwards from the middic, overgrown with weeds; the other figure appeas as it in mail, but fo detaced as hard! to be made our; hey lic live by fide, and are both ca:ved out of one thone; they were very likel: once within the church.

In Ahwe!! church three ancient altar monurretits; on one, carved in $w$ ort, is the figure of a knight, in mal, crof-legged (of as antient a date as thote in the Temple chutch, by the Atvic). Oa the fecond, in tone, is an ccolefratic in fonificulibus. The third has the nigue of a man and his wite, chafed on the cover-itone, with the followiry infrrption (whicn is to be found in Wright's Hifory of Rutlandhite) in back letter:

Hic jacent Johannes Vernam, & Rofa uxor eju, iarentes Mugitri Johanns Vernam, Can nici F cclefies, Cath Sax. & Hen. qui quid Johannes obsit $x x$ die Januarii, Anuo Dom. M.CCCC octogelimo. Et Rof mencrata dit decimo feptimo die merifi: Decembris Anno D.mmini M.CCCC feptuasetimo nono, quor' animabus p'picictur Deus. Amen.

On the wall in lofing the church. yro of Beiton, is pur, by way of coping, part of an old monument formed aifse Wavs, as that of William Rucus in Wanhefter cathadral, with an uncommon fort of crofe carved thereon, the top ot which finthes with a heat.

Io Brocke church is a monument for one of the Nocis, in the atyle prevailing in James's time. In this pdifh are the 1 uins of a manfust, fomerly of the Noel family : on one of the lodges, now turned into a diecor: is their cuat-Fret ée a cantor. Etmone.

In the w ndows of Clipham chur,h, Incod thele iolowing cuats of arms, E.

Itt. Q.rterlc, France (of 3 Alurs) and Eushind, within a blue garier, without infoription, abose it, by way of creft, a fleui-de-i's. 2i. Quarter'y, firlt quarier quarteriy France and Enge land as bufore; fecond yuarter broken;
thind

18 Tour thro' Rutland.-D'Herbelot's Bibliotneque Orientai.e. [Jan.

third quareer Ireland; fourth quarter as the firt ; all within a garter, with the motto, "Honi toit qui mal v penfe," in Romancapials. $3^{\text {di chat, Checqy, Or }}$ and Az . which an impalement broken. $4^{\text {th }} \mathrm{cosi}$, Gules, three garhs A:ge t. $5^{\text {th }}$ coar, Gules a falcire charged with he ermine foos. Th cons, quanteriv, firt and fourthalin :a prame and lanel of thace points; focont and ih. rie, thice chefs rock. There is a!'o the cign:zance of the portcullice, \&c.

The vane of the pire of $z^{\prime}$ 'cton chutch is a p.gaiu, the crefl of the Right Hon. the Eall of Win inclfe.

In Envingham chuch-windows are thefe coats of arms: it, Gules, i4 bezants, 4, 4. 3, 2, and 1 , and a canton Ermine. : , Gults 3 watur-but, eis Arg. 3 d, Guics, a crul m line Arg. 4tis, Or a lion rampant dounle queue Sab. 5 ih, Gules, a fefs berween a bas gemmells Arg. 6th, Azare, a caots recerce'é Or. 7 \%h, Glis, a chevrn between 3 ifcalloz: 0 :

The church of Eston, upon the whole, is, I think, the hantromet in the county of Kut and; the fleeple is very prettily contructed; the tquare tower is of confiduable heignt, the corners have tuncts, finifhing in pinnacles; from the centre rites an octagon or decagonal eminatred tower, out of which again freing a pretty taper fipire, lighted at iatervals hy open windows: within, it is docorated in the antient Ayle. On the fpanetrils of the arches are fat?enings, from witch the Letmets, tabades, pewnons, and banners of the Hatring:on auc! Noe! families hang, in an ordery and graceful manner, not hudaicd regether in one comer of a fmall chapel, but to regularly diftibuted tiroughout the whole edifice, as to be a very elezant ormament to it, conveying, hrough the eye of tafte, ideas of the grandeut of antient chva'ry.

The Earl of GainBorougli's fear, at Exton, is in the Elrabutlian manner of building: there is a print of it in " Wright's Hatory of Ruhanaffire."

The tower of Glaition church is over the center of the church, cathedralways.

Hamblaton Hall, a maninon belorg. ing to the Barber family, now let as a farm-houle, is in the Elizabethan fryle: there fitll remain, in the upper part of the houfe, feveral fuits of plate armour, which, by the weight and foutnefs, feems to have been made for hardy fervice.

Ketton church has the mot taper fpire in the county, and, though the tower is but low, together the exceed moft in the county for height; it fipings from the middle of the buiking, the fume as Glaftun.

In the E ift window of Norti Lulfenham church are leveral coat; of arms, and three or four figures of faints. An antient hufe here was mimbited by J ho H athere, Efq. (bereht to Sir Gilbert Heathoote) who is lately dead.

Abating on Ledington church-vard is an anticut bethling, it is an hofpial with a waden, &c. ixc. in fume of the wnd ws are coats of arms.

At Nomenton Sr Gilbert Heathcces, bart. lias a fine fear.
O.
(To be continucl.)
Mr. Urdan,
Fan. :

THE circumplances of the prefent liacs, both as e nneged wibl rhe athairs of France, and of the E t/f, have of late curned my thoughts to a wark, which, if under:aken with 个pirit, and executed wish fidut, would. I am pelfuated, greatiy benofit the literary world. 1 mana a tranfation into Eng1.h of the Bibliotbigus Orientale, or Whiverial Dectionary of the celebated Bartholomew D'Herhelor. Its merits have been univerfally allowed by all who could read hior; and few, I beheve, have cflayed in any fhape to treat of Oriontal matters, whole paticular atention has wot been given to the abundant information deducible from lahours of this unrival ed writer.

We are told, that his work, containing whatever rel ted to the knowledge of the Eatt:rn world, and treating of topics squally curious and profound, comprizes the fabfance of a great number of Arabic, Perfian, and Turkif volumes, which ha had rad; and intotas us of an infinite variet of particu'ars unkmova before in Earope; that he wote it at firft in Arabick; and that the famous Colbert had a defign to print it at the Louvre, with a fer of types caft on purpole for it. This refolution, however, was waved, atter the death of that minifter : and $D^{\prime} H$ Her. beiot then tranfates his work into Fiench, in order to render it more univerfally ufeful. He committed it to the prefe, but had not the farisfaction to fee this impreffion firiffacd, as lie died in December, 1695, and it was nor publighed till $1697^{*}$. It is an ample to:io; the copy i have f(y) the work was $b=$ cone very farce and dear) is not mentioned as a new edition, but limply as a republication, and was primed at Maeflicht, in a vers hardfome m mner, by Dafour and Roux. 1776. Till that period it was harilly to be purchafed in Englind at any pice.

The hand that now gives you this accourt ance emploteditfe'f or leveral months, with much pleafure, and witin ut any view of gain, upon a tranfation the that here recommonal. Is progrefs wat ther fleppet by oher intervening butinef; the papers have been loft, and with them that glowing ewergo, which, if not kepr upar youneer life, cayor now be recalled in falladrancing vears

Ha, D'Herbelot publifued, as lias firf iotended, in Alabick, mash fewer flill muft bave been the number of his admirers. Confined folety t.s the Fretion language, many, I fear, tuen of our loarned, are as vet densiveat of much inteligence and eutertanmen:; wheh, if clothed in nur own vernmeular d.eis, would ditiu' that peculiar hind of knowedge, of which no times coud better avail themfores than lie prefent. We bave now, though the vichlitiode of painfai events, a thonce number of Jarned Frenchmen among wo, to whom a fhere in io homourable a rafk would be highly giatefur and anmating; and, for better arsoteh, bwo well-itformed Eoglimmer, at the moft, might be very laudably exacifed ingiving to the verfion, for allifted, all the force and gra-efulatis of thetr nat ve tongue. Our Eaft-India coanex:ons, fince their hap. r. acquifition of thote ingenious labours, Whic!: immortalize Sir Willtam Fones -bay Icience and vitue ever embalm is memory!-will enfure to the profied publication a rapid and extenfive fle; and, like hidden treafures at legth explored, fo valuable an additin to their libraries, will hardly fail obeing patronizea by our mure opaJer and thinking countrymen from Inia.

Fo the claffical and the inquifitive I amperfuaded the reading of D'Herbelotiviil prove alike gratifying. "He wa no lefs conveifant in the Greck and Lain learning than in the Orienial lanpages and hittory. He was indeed all iniverfal icholar; and, what in [^2]every literary character muft always be deemed highly valuab'e, his modefiy was equal to his crudition; and his uncommon abilities were accompanied with the utmor protity: pety, elanty, and oher Chrifisa virtues, which he uniformly practifed through the courfe of a long life of zo Budinets years.

Let the following culagium of Com. mirus fipe-k the relt. Few have $m$ rited fuch pralf, and $f$ wer ilill can convey applaufe in lines more fowing and barmouinus. I find them prefixed to the B blio heque U.emate, now betove me.
Baritolomei Hereftotal Memorta F. Joannes Commirms, S. J.

Qnocumque at orhis limate, Viatur, venis, Gelfum parumper fite; Civis hoc tuis Tegtur fepulero. Namque Populorum ornium
Qui fect, lege:, atare linguas calluit Nompan enfe poral hof, jHerbelotius. Uhane cerie ipecimen eg!egium ingenî, Scicntize, virtutis ic morum dedit. Favore gautens pincipha, magnas opes A!agnofque ho. ores promeren maluit Quàm poffidere. Refigue disjunctifimas Piciatem et -fulam cluittianus Itoicus Simut elie piffe dncuic. at tandemotio Et litrerato reddous facceffui, Parrix tanen adelle nuuquàn deftitit; Sepulta tencon is ou uens volumna, Orientis unde lume: hiturix vent, Arabumque late gloriad effaget ducum. Hæc molicntem, pluraque patantem * virum Mors occupnit: atque tot lingnis fonans Hen ! fempiterno chafit o filentio. Sed nou et ora claunit et famx lubas: Qua nomen elus vochbis centam canunt, Plableme meritis orbe toto landibus. Ne f., vintor. ille fe heri vetat 2Eter na cocio quem beat fulicitas.

$$
\text { Yours, } &=\quad B^{*} ^{}
$$

Mr. Urban, Nov. 20.

IN your Magazine for the month of Auguft, p. 647, your correfpondent D. H. hav tavoured the pu'mok with fome particuliars of the life and writungs of the Abbé Bartheiemy. In addition to thele, and in order to correct fome m.ftakes in that account, I fend you the following extradts from a very e egant tribute to his wemory, which has iately appeared in $\mathrm{F}_{1}$.nce, and was written by the ri-devant Duc de Nivernois; a nobleman not lefs refpeetable for his political knowledge and literary endownents than for his private worth. HP is now living, at an advanced age, in Paris, having, by his fingular merit, or good fortune, efcaped amidft the fanguinary proferipLions of Roberfpierre.

* This refers to his "Anthologic ;" a very curious work; and to his Turkilh, Perfian, Arabian, and Latin Dictionaty, &c. which are yet unpublifhed, thougls he had given them his laft fuih.

John- Janes Barthelemy was born January 20, 1716, it Calfis, a fmall fea-port in Provence, fituated between Touion and Marfilles; ha family had long been eltabimed ar Aubagne, a pleafant town in that neighbourhood, where they were much refpeded; his mo:her, Migdalen Raftel $^{2}$, was the daughter of a merchant at Calfis; res loft her at four years of age. At:12, his father fent him to fchool at Marficilles, where be made fome proprefs in his fudies under the Pere Renaud, at the college of the Or torre ; bat, being deftined fur the Che ch, and Mr. de Belzunce, the b:fhop of Marfeilles, objeching to adnat the ftudents of that feminary into orders, he was remued with regict to the college of the J fuits: there he tul: in:o bad hands, and was therefore h-ppily induced to form a plan of fuody fir himfelf, independent of the profeffors of thee college, and devoted himfelf to the titudy of the antient languages, the Greck, Hebrew, Syriac, and Chaldean, with fo great ardour, that it nearly coft him his life; nor did he recover his hea!th till the period of his entering the feminary in which he received the tonfure There he became intimately acqua nted with a young Maronite, who had been educated at $R$ ome, and nuw refided with his uncle, a Turkih merchant, at Marfelles, from whom he acquired a fundamental knowledge of the A abic language, and learned to Speak it with factlty. By the recommendation of this young man, he gor by heart feveral Arabic fermons, which he preached to a congregation of Ari. bian and Armenian Catholicks, who did not underfand the French language. Aftor he had tinifhed his academic fuadics, Burthelemy retired to Aubagne, where he relided fometime, ofen paying vifits at Marfelles to thofe learned academicians with whom a fi. milarity of literary purfuits had naturally coanceted him; among the reft, with Mr. Cary, a great collector of medals, and whil Pere Sigaloux, of the convent of Minims, with whom he fuditd aftonomy.

In 1744, he went to Paris with letter of recommendation to Mr . de Boze, keeper of the Cabiner of Medals, and fecretary of the Academy of Infcripions and Belles Lettres; by whom he was very kindiy received, and inroduced to the moft difinguifhed members of the academy. The age and infirmities of Mi. de Boze caling for fome alfilance in his laborinus occupainn, he pitched upon Bathelemy for an affociate in the care and a.rangement of the cabiner; and bis appointment was confirmed by Mr. de Maureasa, mimfier of that deparment. B rihelemy loft no nime in arranging in pe:feet onder the large and valu-be collechon of Mr. D'Etiées and the Abbé de Rothelin, which lav in confufd heaps mboxes There he feparaied. compued, and defcribed in a fupplen:entary caralogue. While he was thus orenpi:d in a manner to congonial to lus tofte and has talents, he was perebenfive be thould be drawn off from thefe purfui.s to enter on a very different career. H's triend and countryman. M de Buffit, had engased to promet in in the church; and, berng now b.finp of Bézers, invered him to accept the office of his vicar-gentral. Barthelemy, having promited to follow the fortunes of his friend, had no intention of retracting his engagement; bur, wifhing to be releafed from ir, and ro be lefi at $h$. berty to follow his favou ite fludies, he fubmited hunfelf entirely to the decifion of the worthy prelate, who had too much goud fenfe, and too warm an effection for his friend, not to coupy with hi wifhes.

In 17\%7, on the deafh of M. Burette, he was eletted affociate of the Academy of Infcrip.tons, M le Beat having very handiomery decl ned in ha favour: and, when M. de Bougain vile refigned the office of fecretar, and recommended Barthelemy to I. D'Argenfon as his fucceffor, Barti:lemy, with equal generofity, yielcd to M le Beau, to whom he afterwads fucceeded; and his annual laboursin that office were in no degree checied by his danly and laborious occupatios, in which he was engaged in the Cbinet of Medals, and in which be ifplayed fuch critical acumen and rofound erudition.

In 1753, on the death of $\mathbf{M}$ de Boze, with whom he had been anciated for feven years, he was sade keeper of the Cabinet of Medals, to which office he was promoted, notwithftanding fome of pofivion, bv the zeal of his ihuftrious friends, M de Malefarerbes, M. de Stainville, afterwards minifter and Duc de Cholfeul, and M. de Guntacq, brosher to the laft Maréchal de Biron.

In 1754, M. de Stainvilie, being apponned imbaifador at R me, invired Bertieiemy to accompany him to ltaly; an (fier which has duty and avocaticns would not permit him twaccept. In the year $\mathbf{1 7 5 5}$, however, he was enabiod to take this jurney "ith his trond M. de Cotte; and his refidence in Italy was made particularly agreeable by the continuatice of M de Strinvilic, ishointoducted himp to the amiable and celebrated Pope Benedict XIV. At Naples he became acquainted whi Mazocchi, who was then uccupits in the tifk in unfulding the numerous andere MSS. tha had been found in Hercu neurn. M:zocchi had deciphered two or three, which, contan ne mater of iitule impertance, the work was on the fuin: of beng abadoted at thet time but for the zealous encouragement of Buthelemy, wh, if the Maiguis Carraciola, then manifter ar N.ples, and who had the matter munn at heatt, had lived, would ceramly have been the means of the work's going on with ardour andeff.e: As a proot of Barthelemy's retentice powers; having eppli-d in vain for the liberty to copy one of thefe manulerrps, in order to fend a fac-fimile of the artient wrifing to the Learned in France, and, being only fuffeced to examine it, f.e read it over attentivcly five or fix $t$ mes, and, fuddenly leaving the apartment, copied the fragment from memory, and correcting, when he came back, fome nlight errois, he fent it the fame day to the Academy of Eelles Lettres; enjoining fecrecy, however, that no blame might attach to Mazocchi. At Rome he had the pleafure and honour to give a new and latisfactory expianation of the beauiful Mofaic of Paleftina, which is printed in the thirtucth volume of the Academy of Infcriptions.
M. de S:ainville, on his return to Paris in 1757, being named to the embaffy of Vienna, Barthelemy joined him there with Madame de Stainville, who had remained behind at Rome: and a very flattering offer was then made him to undertake a voyage to Grecee, and up the Levant, at the king's expence; but be declined it, as incompat:ble w th the duties of his office.

In ifes, M. de Stainvile, then Due de Choimul, havirg focceeded to the minattry in the rom ut Cadinal de Bernis, he determinet to provide for Bathele:ry; which te atcondingly did, be graming idim fuccelfively pen. fions on the arch mifmen: ick of Abbr, and upon tle etreatury of Sr. Martin of Tours, and. finally, the place of fe-retary-general of tha Swifs; befade which, he enjowed a pertion of 5000 livess on the Mercure.
in 1771, M. cie Cumifeul was difo placed in the minftry by M. D'A'guillon, and thinifhed ro Cis rteloup, where Burthelemy dad we ficlitate to tollow hin. and, whon that minefer was compelled to refign his office of generat of the Swits. he would have given up the place of feererary immediarely, hod not M de Choifeul prevaiced upon him to ratain it until he could obtain an inderrmisy for it. He went therefore t., Patis, and offured the furrender of hi: brever tothe Cumte d'Affry, who retufed to accepe it; and, with many other co fiderable $p$ fous about tiec Court, hewed a geta inclination to proted Batheleay if he would ounfent to give up his patros. This he pofitivelv refuled to do; upon which M. Diffry, much to his honour, terminated the bufincts by accepting his refignation, and graning intm 10,000 livres out of the annual piofits of the Flace; and Barthelemy fet off the mext day for Chanteloup. He was now in puffelfi n of 35,000 !ivies per annum, 10,000 of "bich he diftrbuted annually to me:l of letters in diftrefs, and enjoyed the remainder in a manner becoming a philolopher. He educated and cfablathed in the woild three nephews; he effifted what remained of his tamily in Provence; and he collect d a numetous and well chofen library, which he fold fome years before his death. By the fuppieftion of h.s places and app intments, he was, at the clofe of his life, reduced to great difficuties; but was never knowis to complan; and might be feen daily traverfing Patis on foot, bent double with age and infirmity, and prying his accuftoined vilits to h's reipectable friend Madame de Choifeul. In the $5^{\text {th }}$ volume, p. 136, and in the 7 th volume, p. 74, of the octavo edicion of Anacharlic, he has diawn the characters of the Doke and Dut.bers de Choifcu! under the mames of Peé ime and Arfame.

In $1: 89$, he was urged to arcent lie vacant foat in the Frerich as demy; and, throgh he had feveral times before decised it from prodence and modate, he at length youdd to the pucfing folicitation of his frimend, und took his place whese his repatation had gone betcre him, his V.enage of Anchamis having been publifiod in the puceding year. Of hisincompashie work, replete whth tift and crudhion, it is unnectifary to fay more than that it is in the hands of all the world, and that it will be read agan and again with uncealing delight and iuflućtion.

In 1790, on the refignation of M. le Nuir, lbrarian to the king, that honowrable poft was offered ti) $\mathrm{B}+$, hele mub. M. de S. Preft. Ho declined it however, being urwilling to engage in the detai! of an emporoment that wo u'd obfrude his other literary purfuite, efpecially as he was now occupied is preparing for the prels a woik he bod long meditated, namely, an esq27 delcription, and catalog ue aifinncé of the rich cabinet when had teca to long under his care and infpection. In the fownarte prijeit, however, he was detcased by the pecular sircumbances ot the times.

Frum the year 1792 there was a vifibe shage in hes conflitution, and le bec-me luljaf to faming bis, "hich depuived him of has fenfes for many hours ongetater. He was then -S yeers of age, to of which he had $f_{p}$ mt in bommus occupations.

Do the 3oth of Algut, s793, he with his nephew, and fix other perfons liftonning to the public library, were denounced, under pretence of anfiocracy, by perfons he had never leen or known. Reing then at Madame de Choifeul's, he was temuved trum her huufe, and conducted to the prion called Les Meiddelonettes. Though, irum his great age and bodily infrmities, lic was tufible he Gu'd not long furvive the feverity of confinement, R1t he fubmitted to his fite with that calmnefs and ferenity of nind which confcious intocence can a!one infpire. So great was the general ellimation of his wouth and charact.r, that he was met at the pritongates by all the pifionets, who vied with each other in te? imnnies of ff:ction and sefpes: and, in juftice to the ialor, Vanise..rand, it muft beadnutred, that he haned himevery in... 1:ane aterition and legard. A bipa. rat: chamser wa alowed to him and his ur then ; where they receised, on the cerme of trir impritonment, an eanl. wife fiom Mariane de Choifent. Such wac tarenfioulty and futendbip for Burthelent' u. © $t$ is ose Gitn, that fise, wibh othus of his zeahous friende, fat on the in quibe tw the Commances of Gowertmen bo convace shem of the i: w wone a, P pus.tv of the Able's condust. They hufated in ricilify the nuit ke, and decialed they hat nom anemion of in. cluting this worthy men in the gencral ouder of arre of all perfons empl yed in the puolic liurary; and they immechately gave direefors for his releare; in erntequatace of which howas belote madripht cantied back from prifonta the house of Madame de Cholfect, whence be had been token the fame roonag. In faribict whimony of tis y rtucs and talents, and to conpenfate in fome degree for the infilt fiered to buth, by the momentaty fuffrion and impritonnest which he had futrained, in the Otwoer nillowng, the wifice of principal librarian beng vacant by the dath of Coria, and he acfiebation of Champro. $\because$ was ofied to him in the moff flattering manner; but he ctofe to declibe it on account of his ape and minmities. These lati in. creafed vifibly; and, about the beginning of $1755^{\circ}$, beith then in his som year, $\mathrm{i}, \mathrm{i}$ end pidy apprached, and was prob bly haftened hy the extrome feverity of the feal a. Hedied on the 3oth of April with litt's corporal fuffering, preferving his folifis fo entively to the lati, that lie was eading Horace two hours before his death, and was probably unconfcious of is approach.

His tizure was tall, and of good propertion; and the fructure of his frame feemed well adapted to fupport the vigorous exertions of his mtnd. Houdur has timmed an excellent bult of this cimament of his age and country. His relations cherifh his memory with filial piety; his friends feel his inreparabie lofs with conftant regret : to the laareed he has left a model of imutation, atid to all mankind a ufeful cxample.

Bicgraphicus.
P. S. In addition to the lift of pube lications by Barthelemy, enumerated by D. H, the following may be mentioned, wiz. Letters to the Authors of the J urnaldes Scevans: On Phernici?n Medals and laferipuens, in vol. Allguf, $7^{66 c} 4^{60}$, P $495 ;$ Dec. ${ }^{1 / 61}$, p. 871; Sept and Nov, 1763: On S3maritan Medals, April, 1790. He wrete alfo manv articles in the C Hection of An iguiijes by the Corrte de Cavlus. In the Journal des Sgavans for Apri!, 1754, and \}une, 1760 . he m de the extiacts of whe Rums of Ralbec and Palmwa. He wrote for M. Betin a Menwir on the Mexienn Parnings; which wis loft. He intended to h ve publifact a concolion of all his D:fiferath, nc, whatherations and additions; which his neplew hopes one day or othe to accorit fi.

1796.] Abbé Barthelemy's IT'ur's.-Cultivation of Maddir.

Mr. Upbav, Atimetiaet, Fin. a.

ISHALL be muct obliged to ary corretpondent wiso will commencate fome general dreetions tor the grow ng and culuvat re that very ufeful dying mate:al, madder, and wheo ther the act 31 Gemgt K. enaging, that a fum of ir fer arre, atud no more, fha the takentation of :the the eof, be now in force. A the writer of this aticle wifirs whentivate a confide:able quantia this pulentyer, 1795, hu wil be chliged it gontemen underfanding the buflets will athut ham with their communcations in an carly Magzz:
E. U. T-N.

Mr. Ubban, $\quad$ ?nor TOUR Co refpondent, W. B. N. p. 984 , rither miftates, of mitAntes, the parge from Mi. J Jncos'sife of the late excellent and pious Bionp of Norwich. His expieffions are titete:
" When it is faid, the two Doitors lived in peif fect fr tadflap with each otier the latter part of their lives, Mr. Yones of Leaf convinces me that be makes an afferion ap:on truf $\mathcal{F}$ \&c. \&c.

It is true, that there is a qualifving IF towards the end of the letter, which admits the protability of "the two Ductors" not meaning Dr. Heatbcote and Dr. Herne, but $\mathrm{D}_{\mathrm{r}}$. Kernkott and that amiable prelate. Allow me to acquant W. B. N. that his lef furmife is founded in fact. Mr. Junes's ob'ervations have not the fmalleci refurace to Dr. Heathoote. They commenorate the intimacy, which (to the infini e honour of two of the beft men who ever lived) took place, after the florm of literary controverfy hat fubfided, between the Opponent and the Champion of the Hucchinfonians.

A fufficient fpace of time, Mr. Uiban, has now elapfed, to enable us to conifiter the matters in difpute without undue bias, or local an! perfonal prejudices. It will, I belicve, appest in chi, intance, as in mof poletrical csfes, that botin patties wetre, in fome icgice, to blame; if the zeal on one free was too liery, there was on the orter two great afpeity of ceifure. The opinions of Hutchinfon are for the molt part worthy of atien innthofe which are leaft temable are ionn. cent. Infead of having the mafleiy of has tefem, be, like orther themins, fowetimes lee his fyftem get the better of wis buthor, and carry him into devoms p ins; and in this contruveriat writ ags he did not always remember that bribherly kindnefs is the re? of true Chinfianity, and that, while knowlelse ruifth up, charity alone ;eally edineth. But tis philofophy, to whehthe labours of Dr. Horne's Brographer have given much fuppors and Aftomar, i bouity grineng groura. and io hi- tronlagu is is prubualy owing, that cold moral chazys from the pulpe hate of luse vens betn in a great dagree Gepoteded by Chriation datt.tan, w. rthy of the primatre chuch. and time the eves of matkind begoto Na, oned es to the non-exifunce of any vaura! poners, by which unaffias rcaion can forni to ituels the knowle'se of (iod. This meagre chonema, fone 'un'y known by the name of atureit tigion, is the in:medi.te patat of Desm, and of invide1ty in oll ths boms: though itfe!f the bafecés talyric of a viiun, it produces in its maniquences reat and horrible ewis-taucheg the mind from the oni juft objects of retiginus adonetion. a at cownen, with feinned relpeft, at the feet of auth, till the oppostarity prefons atcolt of aiming a blow at its exfence. Mr. Hatchintun was of of itiun, (and what he thought he boldy aturen, ) that Grifel-cruth, or the religion of the Buble, was the only lisht exhibited to mankind; and that the $\int \mathrm{fr} / \mathrm{\beta}$ aruce of the Crced was as muct an aticle of faith, taught by Revelation, as the feiond. (See h:s Rellgion of Satan delineated.-See allo two trachs, ene by Dr. Ell:s, and the other by Mr. W'ilats, in the firlt valua of a recert publication, entited, "Tho Sctiviaiamed").

24 Exemplary Friendjמip of Dociors Horne and Kennicott.

To return to Bimop Horre and Dr. Kennicot', concerning the Latter of whom M Jones ou hri, in my opinion, to have fpokes w th more refpect, and "it. more kird efs. If dep=rted fouls have any krowledge of what is paffing on taith, luch a trib te of well-deferved appiafe would have been grateful to the fprits of Two juft men, now, as we tuti, made pielfeet, andenjoying the pleafure of immortal friendihip in eachuther's lociety.

The witer of the fe lines, Mr. Uiban, fometimes flatters himfelf, that he was fo happy, as to be the humble inftrument o: eftablifhing and confirming the friend fhep, which gilded the latter days of his honoured patrons. Twenty years have elapfed, fince be had an opporsunity of thus repaying the diftingu fhed kiodnels, which be received fromeach of the ie wherious charafters. He loved them borh, and he had reafon to love them, with filial affection-and he became the joytul witnefs, how truly and how cordially thele great and good men lowrd each other. It was an union of hearts, ard tempers, and difpe ficias, fuah as Heaven tomerimies grants, in ats efpe cral favour, but of which very law fuch perfeat intances have heen exhibited to nankind. They were "Arcades ambo," or, to paint their virtues better, they were "Chriftians indeed, in whom was no guile." The flafhy pretenders to merrimin, whoie wit would vanifh and evaporate, if it were not fupported by profanchef, or ribaldry, or malignity, might have feen (if they had been akm :lible into fuch lociety) with what luitre the powers of fancy can fhine, when irradiated by every evangelical virtue. I fpeak, not from uncertain rumour, Mr. Urban, but from pertond experience; for it was often my happy lot to be admitted into their intumate fociety, when, from my age, rank, and fituation, I hid no pretenfions to fuch a flattering diftinttion." I honcured them, and they endured me." Let me for one moment indulge the recollection of thofe nocles ceneque dium, of which it is impolitible to iptak more appofitely, than in the words of the venerable bithop himfelf, when deferibing fome of the employments of his early years: "I was thus exempted from the buftle and hurry of hife, the din of politics, and the noife of folly-vanity and vexation flew away for a feafon-care and dif-content "palfed hv on the other fide." The hou's thus emplaved were indeed hours of happinels. Very pleafantly did they pafs, and moved fmoothiy and fiwifty along; for, when thus engaged, I counted no time. Thev are gone; but have left a ielim, and a fragrince on the mind, and the remembrance of them is fweet."

1 atas reading Plin's lette's a ferv days fince, Mr. Urban, when a paffage ftruck me, which, with a trifing alteration, is fo applicable to thefe my parental friends, that I cannot forbear indulging myfelf (though I fear I weaty you) in commitung it to peper :
"Quorum recordato quantum admirationis in animo meo, tantum cefiderii reliquit. Cogno quibus amicr, quabus viris, caream. Implevit quidem uterque annum fexagefimum tertium, quæ xtas etiam robnitufimis fitis longa eft. Scio. Evafit uterque perpetuam valctudinem. Scio. Deceffit uterque nondum lahafcente republicâ, quae illis omnibus fuis chatior erat, et hoc fcio. Ego tanen, tanquim et juvenum et fortiffimorum mortido en-wloleo autem, licet me imbecitlum pues, meo nomine. Amifi enim, amifi vilx mex tefte, rectores, m.gittros. Proinde adluthe folatia milu: won liæc, fenes erant, infumi erant (haxe enim novi) fed nova al qui, led magna, quæ audierim nunquam, legerim nunquam. Nam qux andivi, que legi, foonte fuccuriunt, fed tanto dolore fuperantur."

Many years are paffed fince the death of the nurit of my berefactors; and the prignancy of iny regres for the lofs of the fecond is now beginning to mellow the that render and affectionate remembrance, which brings fuch indefcribable pleafure to a heart not abfolutely deftitute of fenfiblity. But I have eagerly embraced an opportu. nity of doing juffice to the memory of the ee excellent men, and of eltablifhing, beyond the politibility of doubr, the EACT of thir perfect and cordial friendthip. For the truth of my affertions, I could appeal to many witneffes; in parricular to two Ladies, themfelves at this day intimate firends, of whom the world (which wants fuch examples as they afford,) is happily not yet deprived; and who are ftill more immediately and more intimately concerned in the fubjeft of this letter than myfelf. My name is not of fufficient confequence to be worthy of the public eye; but you are at liberty to communicate it to W. B. N. or any other en. quires. Xours, &c. E.E.A.

1796.] Plan for turning the Thames into a capacious Wet-Dock.

 The following EJay is on a fubje? of fucb importance, ain.t geves juch suierus for the improvement and embellijbment of London, that we doubt not but our readers will be pleafed to have it entire in one Magazine.
Outlines ofa Planforturning the Thames, asitflows throngh London, intoamost capacious Wet-dock, &c.

Somerfet Place, May, 1:93.

THOUGH London may jully claim to be the greateft fea-port in the world, yet the veffels that frequent it are far from being fo well accommodated as the interefts of commerce would require, or as the improvability of the river will admit. The tide at London, on an average, rifes about 16 feet ; and then the river makes a moft noble and magnificent appearance, which it is the objeCt of the prefent Effay that it Chould always retain, as the fhips would thereby be relieved from the ftraining which they fuffer at low-water. Were the Thames to continue naturally always as high, or nearly as high, as it is at flood-tide, it would not only be a tenfold greater ornament to London than it is at prefent, but it would, by many degrees, be more beneficial to all thole who have any intereft in the fhips that load or unload at the rapital. But, what we cannot expeed from Narure alone, we may have from Art in co-opcration with Nature. I hope, therefore, it will not be unacceptable to thofe who defire the embellifhment of London, the improvement of its harbour, and the convenience of its merchants, to perafe the outlines of a plan, by which the Thames, as it flows though the capital, may, during the whote year (or from year to year), be kept up to the fame beight, or ncarly the tame height, as it now is at every high-tide.

Wet-ducks are univerially a lowed, by thoie converlant in thipping, to contr:bate greaty to the pretervation of the faps moored in them; on which account twane of our chiet fea-ports, namely, Hull and Liverpool, have lately procured to themielves thofe naval condervatories, if 1 may to call them, at no fmall labour and expence. But the Thames affords to the city of Lendon an opportunity of forming a wet-dock fuperior to any other in this illand, or perhaps in the whole worid belides, confifing of 300 acies; when, Gent. Mac. Januery, 1796.
exclufive of the advanrage to the fhipping, would add a mo pleafing embellithment to the capithl, by rendering the Thames, as it flows though it, accoording to the deicription of the Puet, Tho' ne'er overfowing, always fall.
This advantage and this e:r bellim. ment may be procuied to London by the eafy means of an addition I bridge built acrofs the Thames about two miles below London-bridge, a litile higher than Bell-wharf, and fo conArugted as to ferve for a lock as well as a bridee. Of the three bridges now exifterg in London acrofs the Themes, one of them, namely, London-biaiae, may be confidered as an imperfeđ́ lock, by which the river, for a couple of hours every tide, is kept up three or fiur fett higher on one fide of the bridge than on the orher. But, by a complete lock-bridge, built, as is propofed, about Bell wharf, the Thames. may be kept upabove fuch bridge 15 or 16 feet higher than low-water mak, not only a few hours of the tide, but from one tide to another, that is, perpetually.
I fhall therefore enter into fome detail relative to the form and confiruction of fuch a bridge, and to the advantages thas would tefult from keeping up the furface of the Thames at London as high as it now is at hiyhwarer. Suppcfing the breadth of the river at Bell-whari to be 1220 feef , the fame as at Weftminfer-bridye, that would confequently be the length of the new bridge. This new bridge I would propofe to be erested upon one contirued foundation of mar nry fiom babk to bank, of the breadth of alout 90 feer, and of 12 feet in thicknetw, 6 of which to be fank in the bed of the river. Towards the mildie of the length of the bridge I would cacet ewo locks or fuices, with flood-gates, to remain open from one hour before high-ade to one hour after it, for the ingrefs and egrefs of thpp when the tode il wed, or when it was ligh tide. Le: the diftance between thetelocks he 200 fect ; and, altowng 4 feet for the width of each lock, and 8 the thick of wall for each of the checks cr fide-walls, they would tien cocuey 122 feet of the whole length. The remander of the length I would dftribute th the following maner. Liv: ding the whole mito purtions of 20 fust,

26 Plan for turning the Thames into a capacious W'et-Dock. [Jan.

fec:, and of each of thofe 20 feet allowing 4 feet for a flone pier, the whole leagh thea, exc unve of the lo:ks and abaencta, w uid confiti of 55 pers, and 55 npens of of 16 ieet in wadeli cacti. On 1 e 55 piers, and ov:r the 55 open ans, let 55 uqual arches be ervited, of wher if a each, rentaing the road over the tidge perfectily leval from one and to the wher. as met bridges ugnt to be. A. he twolocks tle road mult pafs oves dsaw-indgess waich muft be kep: open two nuers pevery tide, when the bridge woud be thut up as impallable, the paflecebeing ree du ng the reft of the 24 hrinar. This oifluction of the road, durng 4 hours every day, would be unavorable; bu; weighed againft the o her convereaces afifing from the bridge, ourhi to pafs for nothang: and certainly he would be decned an unreafonable rutmurer, who had a paflige opened to him for 20 hous a diy, where there was no fall ge befoit, fhou'd he complain that lie could not pals daring the whele of the $2+$ hours.

But, befne the arches and the road core ti:e budge are confruftch, let froud-gates be bited to the two lucks, ard alfo to the 55 openings; which Rood-gates, when thut, will render the whole bradge one costinued lock, and will ghe tothe Thames, fur 10 or $: 2$ milites abeve the boddge, nearly the fame appearance thas is has at evtiy high-tine, and thereby keep the Mips in the poriof Londya always a- 9 . . st in a petée and ned eapacious wot-dok; and the nutances of low-water and anude Gores, at pritat founfighty asad to msonrensert, will thereby be rowored foca the whatis and keys.

ILving thus given a defcription of the effential pats of the condtudton of the new la $k$ bridye. I fiad mes proceed to cas on fonce of te atvantages that nothet cmedeatataly be made to arile hom it. Dy the coned. fion of all merat peopla, ot would be a'lowat to afind a gital bencis to the Rip in the puit ot ! : nden: formioch berant, were the taps to pay the late acknowied embit for week a: is ulaally domented at ortier wet.alsches, it nibight be caperded to promuce an inmuil mome or 20,000 . To rhis my lie abict the wan, convenonces and inderatares of ladiay, dolluatang at the wasto. But on thele pomts I hew not acio charge, ar t...) hase been very amply explained in a pamphitet latelv publified on Wet-docks, Ruck, and Wbarfs, for the Port of Lordoa: a performance where found judgenent and extenfive information a-e qually confmuous. From this pertorsance it would feem that I have much undertated the income that would probabl, atife from tarning the pot of London into a wet-dock; for, fince che wet docks at Liverpool, where the frpping amounts to 300 veffels, produce an annual revenue of 12,4io pounds, a wet-duck ar London, where the fhapping is 1860 vaffils, ought to produce fix times as much as at Liverpnol.

Thus far in regard to the fhipping, and the revenue tience arifing fiom the conftruction of a lock-bridge. Let us now tum our views to other advantages that would accompany that lock. bridge. 'Jle flood-gates of the two lucks, and of the 55 openings, malt be to contitucted as to pen-in the high-tide to any heiglt that public convenience may requare; but in each of them let fliding vanes or wickets be made, to allow one-fighth of the whole deprh of water to run ofir every tide. Thus, fuppofing the flood-gates completily thutat the turning of every high-tide, when the additional rife of water is 16 ftet , the fliding vanes or wickets muft be then opered to fach a degee as to let two feet of the water run (If between one tide and another, fo that, whon a luccieding tide retuins, the depth of the water penned. up on the upper fide of the bridge may be about 14 tect ab ve low-water mark. In thits manner, after the bridge is buili, bhere wili be, as at preftut, a flowing and eboing in the Tharics as it runs through London; but, inftead of flowing live hou.s, and ebbing futen hours and an half, every tide, it wil how two hours, and ebb ab. ut ten hous and an half evory tide; and, infted of rifing 16 feti, and falling 16 fect, it will nite only two teet, and tall twofect.

An the cbo tide the Thames at the bock-bridge will be a feet higher on the upper fide of the bidge rian on the luwer, and about halt-tides it will be aboui $&$ feet hiwher on wase lide of the bridge than on the other; conlecatatily the water, in runamg of by aic whots, and flading vant, may be bitid to thave a fali of abome $S$ teet upon an averdae. I would, therctote, pro-pofe to take the benefit of this fall of the fleam to tranfport what is now called the water-works of [ondonbridge to the lock-bridac, whee the fame effect would be produced by enehalf the prefent expence of machinery, the fame rent continuing to be paid for thofe water-works in their now fiturtion as is now paid. London-br:dge, being thus freed from its ficlent incumbronce, might then be re-buite upon fuch a plan asto prevent any fal of the fream between its piers, which might induce the owners of many finall veffels to take their morings alove that bridge; whereby the port of London woud be greaty enlarzed, and the wharfaqe greatly extended. The only objedion 1 can lee to the remonving of the water-works to the biekbridge is, that it would carry the forcing power to too grema difance fiom the refervoir, or ppes of difitibition. But, whoever conndets the 1. ring machine at Chelfea, which conduts the water of the Thames to the circuJar refervor at the tip of Hydu-park, will abandon th's wije hon.
Allowing a force of 300 feit by the fide of the lu: $k$-briage for titefe waterworks, that is, 15 of the 55 upeninge, with their coitelpondent fel, all of which opentnes noy be appliid to the purpefes of water-mills, havins a fall of water of of feet upon an average, and cap ble of being wowked 12 hours every diav. I hatlon hete tizer into the detail of the conftruction of thofe water-anills, bu: the:l only obfe:ve that, if corn-milhs are erefted, each opening will tufice for wo mills; confequently the bodge will give on the whole So pir of Rones, with water in abundance. Were we to adopt the late poluc fyttern of the Ficuch, of from hotle infera of trim NothAmerica, our thips ia the WV, ft-Lidian trade would give fol umployntent to alt thofe milis, exciutive of the confumption of London, and, fuppofing the flour carred out not in cafks, but in large jass, like the Irtan mil jins, thoie jars thet calry gat the firour muht bring hame the tugar, whoch woald tuperie's the cramanat cxpence of P pc-ïaves, cosperage, &ic. ft Moniac and at Kimbsulas I cuuned, if I remember repht, 20 pars of tones in one houle, which were c!ititly emsplorad in grand $n_{k}$, 月ous for the Firnch Weit-Ludid thands; and eacil pair of fones yielded a rent of 100 . y : 3 r . But, reckoning each of cor so in:lls at the rent of roly sol. a yed', that wnuld give another annua' income uifing frem the lock bridge of 4000 pounds. Adding this in ome to that arifing from the tonnage of the Repping enjoving the bentlit of the wet-dock, and it miny Ithonk be j fivenctudd, that the propofed luch-bridee would, exclufive of the embellianment of the capital, yeld an annual income of ab:ve 30,000 prunds.
Let us fuppole this inrome, with the expence of the $c$.nftrugion of the bridet; and we may, I think, fairly conctude. that the above great advantures, and great embellathments. might be procued to the City of Lundon at no xpence; for, a capital, that the courte of a few vears will mo'e than remburfe it felf, carnot ptupuly be fid to be expeoded. Suppofing the laggth of the brodge, including its almoments, to be 1220 fect; the b:e-thh of the foundain, as above-mentionod, of folid matany, to be 90 feee, a a its d-rth 12 , thefe three numbers, inulapliad tozethor, give us 82,350 tors of tone ai molund fe: to the flome. Fify frow pien, e ech 4 feet long, 4 fut brod. and 15 feet hieh, give an addtion of $8=-5$ tons. The clieeks of the twolah. . . gether with fectwo dermont, may becmprated to : ke $2626: 00$, and 4.e arohes of the bridge, fiste v. . 11 , and parauers, ro,3co this. 'I the mafs of fome in guitice to complexe the bedge in vid then be 103,55 tons, which, at 20 .
 phing tie warmanfar, and other matertis, to anutut in as murh more, the bridge would then chet 207,1<21.
But to the midere I have puproied the dppepdane of so witer-mills! eved on the lower fate of it, for when perpote the breadth ot the found tion of miffonry at the bite, on of the tive: was to be exiended at go feti What of tha breadih was no: occuped by the briduce word be cocupted by the mills. The naits anult be built upon piers and arthes of nealy the "ane dimeufions as the piets and artues of the brict e, on y that the arche, whach - nuild ibe b it is teet fpan, migh: be of bricl, and ward lave or the prowndRoses it the mals it is no: why 10 tention here to onter into the matute detan of the enianate; therefur I "s.il
dugpuis
fuppofe the conftruetion of thefe mills to coft 40,0001 . ; and, allowing 60,0001 . extra charges on the whole underta. king, the new lock bridge, and all the advantages immediatily conneeted with it, will then coft about 300.0001 .; or, as I have above obferved, may trulv be fard to coft nothing, as they would fully compenfate for their firft expence by a large annual revenue.

From thefe confiderations, rich individuals, who have a defire to improve their capital in the building way, have in this undertaking a fair profpect of employing it to advantage, exclufive of the benefit they would thereby render to the metropolis and to the publick; and can any juft reafon be alfigned why undertakers in fuch great works thould not be amply recompenfed? Sound policy will unite wth juftice in giving to great undertakings gieat revards; and, I may alfo add, in keeping down the profis of low uneffential occupations. What feems chitfly neceffarv to prevent jobbing fpeculators in thefe and fimilar undertakings, is to prohibit any partner in them from felling or transferromg his fhare during the firft ten years.

Suppofing the bridge comp'eted, it would follow as a natural cenfequence, that a new road flould be made from each end of it in a fratit line with the bridge, as far as the contour or circuit of London would allow, becaule I would wifh this new read to be a bounding 'oad to the capit 1 , and that there fhould be a prohibition in the act from ertcting any houfes upon new foundatimas on the ouifude of it, or within a mine of that ouifide. OA the inlice it would toon be lined with new houfes built in a handfome fyle, and, as the ground in thit quarter of the city is a low flat, the $p$ teut grafly fullace ought to be made the cellarfloor, and the parlour fion lifted 10 or 12 feet ab ve it. The read itelf I would likewife propole to be raifed for the firt mie, on the M ddielex fide, 10 or 12 fect, buuding it on the outlide by a b:ick wall of that he!ght, and ormementing it with a double row of rees. It would thus become what the Boulevard is at Paris, a oclightul wak for arring, riled as a tetace, ha: eleant houfes on ope fide, and a betutiful park on the other, about iwice os large as St. Jums's park, to whicy the bounding bick.
wall of the road would ferve as a haha fence. On the Middlefex fide, this road might be continued in a tireight line with the bridge, nearly as far as Hox*on, croffing the White. chavel road clofe to the London Hofpital. On the Surrey fide it ought to advance in a ftreight line but a fhort way, when it ought to make an angle to fall-in with the proper outline of the capital on that fide of the river, which outline might pafs nearly to New.ngton Buts, and thence to Lambeth, where it would meet another bounding road ending at Milbank, and fo nearly complete the circuit. This circuit would extend about 13 miles, including a face more than double that of antient Rome, when that city was at the height of its fpiendor and magnificence.

London of late is fwo'n to fuch an enormity, and fo many irregular plans of building are purfuing on the roads of approach to it, as call loudly for fome parliamentary refraints. Thou.. fands, and ten thoufands, of thofe who, without any call whatever, think they cannot breathe out of the fight of the dome of St. Paul's, would find the air of England as pure 200 miles from it, and might eat their frefh butter on the Spot, which is now brought to them near 200 miles by land-carriage, to a needitef enhancernent of the price. The fame may be faid of almoft every other article of confumption in a fanily. Having, therefore, fixed upon a proper bounding line for the capial, every difcouragement floould be given to the multy!ying of houles for a certain number of miles without that bounding line; for, found views of policy, as well as of commerce, would lead to a difperfion of habitations over the whole iffind, efpecially upon our fea-gut fronier, rather than to an unnectifary and unmeafurable concentrati $n$ of buildings upon the banks of one river.

Having thus explained the leading or effential points, in regard to the form and confruction of the lockbridge, and the advantages arijing from it to the port of London, I fhall not at prefent ent $r$ into a farther detatl. In pointing out the pract:cability and utility of the improvement, Ihave in a manuer laid the foundation. flone of the new bridge.

I fhall conclude with one obfervation more. The luck-bridge, it appears, would

1796.] Plan for turning the Thames into a capacious Wet-Dock.

would give to the capital the very great embellifhmenc of having the Thames, as it flows through it, always full, that is, up to its own bounding fhores, nearly as much as it now is at the high tides. But the Thames, from Lambeth to Blackfriers-bridge, is fufceptible of a magnificent embankment on both fides of the river, with hardly any interference with private property, and I may add (as in the cafe of the lock-bridge) at no expence, that is, yielding a yearly re venue that would more than rimbutfe the canital employed in execuring it. Whever confiders the pref.nt unfightly irregularity of the banks of the Thames, as it flows through London, will molt readily acknowledge, that not onlv elegance and magnificence, but commercial adv:n'ages, have been moft flamefully facrificed in private intereit, or moft fupinely left nut of all confideration. Mr. G hev of Troye in Ch mpagne, whom I formeriy knew in France, vifited London abnut thitty years go, and, after a refidence of fix weeks. ha publith-d his remarks and oblervarions in tivo oc tavo volumes, under the tit'e of " Lon dres," which have been much read on the cont reent. One of his obfervations is to the following cffert; " The Thames is a fine river, but the people of London turn the backs of their houíes to it, for fear left the fiedre of the water hhru'd tempt th. $m$ to drown liem. felves." H s commendation of the river gives adistonal inrce to his fneer at the negled of all ornament and convenience upon its banl:s This negleft would impels h'm the more from his acquaintance with the quavs of Parre and Ftorence; for he likewife vined Italy, and publimed an account of has tiave's there. But the view of the Thame isfelf, at London, without any reference to other cities or other rivers, fuffices to prove the ealy preficablity ni fümirg a magnificent embankment lron Lambeth to Blacktriers-bridge, w ich would give a milhon of cubic feet of additional warehoule-room or celiarroom, and might tempt many, who now fhun its muddy inores, to build elegant and fumptunus houfes fronting the river in an unitorm line along the new quays. When a brige is built over a confiderable river running through the middle of a great and populous city; it is a wonderful over-fight not to give to fuch a bridge fideapproaches as well as end-approaches. This overfight, which has been committed at Weflminfter-bridge and Blackfriers-bridqe, may happiy ftill be efily remedied, and the natrownefs of the Surand, in compaiton of the numbers of carridges that are daily palfing through it, calls loudiy for a new communication along the banks of the river between thofe two bridges. Privite rights, whirh at bottom are ufurpations, ought not to preclude public rights; and, if it woud be deemed both unjuft and impolitic to foffer Fleet-ftres or Holl arn to be made pisete property, it would feem to be no tef unjuft and impolitic to fuffer the banks of the Thames in London to be made pilivate property. It would almon feem even beyond the power of an $A$ ft of Paliament to turn $F$ ect-fteet or Holborn into private property ; ver, what ought as much to be pub! c property as either Fleet-ft eet or Hoborn, has filently been avpropriated by indvidauls, many of whom would be at a great lofs to hew any authority for such appropration. A mult frict fcrutiny therefore, ougit to be made into all c!aims of privace proporty on the banks of the Thimes between the above-mentioned bridges; and, where fuch chims are found to be leyal, the poffeflor fhould receive an equirable iecompence, and the propert be trenfferred to the publick The embinkment I propole wisuld, I thank, yield a great part of this recompence out of i.felf; and, hould my propaial of a new wet dock, by means of a lockbridge, meet with app ib inn, and be put ino effect, I fhall explan the principle and the ways and means of this new embankment, one of the greatell defides a uns in reipeet to the mprovement and embethithment of the capital.

On the whole, therefore, the propoled lock-bridge might be made so be productive of three veiy cilential advantages to London. It would add $t$ '. adrantage of a wet dock, the largelt and mof conv nient peilaps in the whoie world, and wou!d keep the furface of the river, at al thits, nearly as high as it now is at nigh-water; fecond.y, it would give to the cia. al a magnificen bounding rad. with vacant foaces wathen it for $f_{p}$ :ctous and new Atrects, laned with neat or with elcgant houfes; and, on the outfide, all round, having an ornamented park for the exercife of the inhabirants; and, third!y, it would open a freet of comtriunication along each bank of the river, which freet would at the fame time ferve as one continued wharf for merchandife, and more than double the warehoufe-room or cellar-room that London now poff fes. And, to complete the whole, the revenue ailing out of thefe great advantages would fully defiay the expence of th ir execution.

For the exocution of fuch noble Refigus the fuperintendence of an Adilian Board would feem to be moft proper. The Rumans very early had a fupenior Magitrate, under the name of Kdal, whofe employment was to diredt and infpect in what wer re garded the rublic huildings, and the meceffary impiovements of their cuy. We a.e et got no farther than Commelfioners of Pavements.

Mr. UrDan,

7an. 1.
A $S$ the introduction of Small Canais may be of rarional importance, I lope the obfervations on their formason and utility, in the inctoled paper, will be found worthy of a place in your very ufeful and entertaioing Magazine.

Yours, Re. Rob. Fulton.
This fubjeet has never been rublic$1 y$ invefligated, yet one which if cun. reive a rational imporance, and worthy the confideration of exery frytiod to improvement.

The combtry has arrived at a period Sentible of the importance of internal navigation. Wherever ciaas extend, the carriage of materials is lowered, and in an agitultural view they are a moft powerful agent, by reduciag the expence of trantporturg the ponderous ingredients of manure.

But, to facilitate their confiruation, and that they may be extended in every direct:on, fome mode of tormation much lef's expenfive than locks muff be adopted.

In viewing the operation of a lock, It appears, that, if they werc built for fmall boats, the delay in paling wou:d be fo great that an imporiant trade could not be tranfacted, as it requires almoft as much time to pafs a cmall as a larger boat. Hence, to perform any cunfidersble quantly, a lock mult be funcient to admit a boat of at leaft 20 tons, and fuch boats demand a wide, deep, and expenfive canal, particularly in hilly countries, or were tunnels and aqueducts intervene.

But, to eftablifh a cheap fyftem of navigation, canals muft be fmall, tunnels narrow, land faved, embank. ments reduced, refervoirs contracted, and imall boa's introduced. For this purpofe, locks muit be avoidnd, and valleys in many intances croffed without aquedueds, contracing the expence on all the parts, yet retaining the power to perform the trade; the principle being to lay the weight, on the canal, in length inftead of bieadth.

By a final hoat, I mean one of four tons, four fect wide, twenty long, two fect ten inches deep. Such boar, being lirger than the chett of a wagFon, will centan almof cvery thing but timber, one hoffe conveying tan. Thicy wif comram lime, lineftone, coa's, cad, imen ore, grain, flour, iron ware, and petter; of all kinds, and at bodre, panderous and compalt, as well as bots of any fize whatever; they wtil contain hogtheads, boxes, and bate gools, not txceeding tour tee, in width (which are teldom of bratcr dimenffuns). Each boat will receise 15 lacks of hops, careon, or wool; and abrough the is facks will not weigh four toss, the fame circumftance is at cendant on all other boats, theing impolfible to give the:n the sweight of tonnage by fuch matera's, yet one horfe may take the greater number of boats, to make ep has weight.

Confidering the anicles enumerated, I think the ent few things excluded; and the quefion is, whether a company faruid expend 100,000 . intead of $\leq 0,0001$. () accommodate the fers things which thefe buits cannot conve?

Thus feeing that mon things may be navigsted in fmall boats, and fmall boats coniract the expence of a canal, the next thang wil! be to pafs them to and from the difierent ponds with eafe and expedition. For this purpofe I have conftrucied various models, by perpendicular butt and inclined plane, each having for tis leading principle a preponderaring tub or c liern of water to sive the power, and of which perhaps the following is the moft hmple:

The ponds of canal being run to fuch points of hilis as will give the greateft potible sife at one time, a double inclined plane mult bie conflructed, on which the rapes or chains muft perform a rotatory movement; by palfing round an horizoutal wheel at top and bottom by the rotatory movement, the defcending baats will ever pafs down one plane, and the afcending mount the other, keeping up a tucceffive inftead of an aicernate moton. To perfirnithis, the plane nume either be compoled of rollers, or cach boat have four finall wheels, placed bene $i t h$ its botom, wih the axles cafed, to prevent refiffance in the water.

The reafon for the fpecificic formation of the apparatusis, that, as it is neeeffisy to introduce fall b biats, to have a (malt canal, it is abololuely neceflary fucn boats hould pafs quick crai the plane, that a quantity of trade aady be performed. By compofing the plane of rollets, or mounting a beat with wheels, fhe will be reedy for transfer without leling time in fixing her to a carriage for that papife. And the operation in a defeendigg trade will be thus: the fift boat being rated out of the upper pond on the plase, by means of the water.tub, and hooked to the cha:ns, the fit in defceating will drav out the focond, the focond the third, and fo on, to any number of boats; at the fame time, taife thofe that are ermpty by their desending weight; the whole beseg performed with the tofs of cn!y cne ton of water applied to the fint boit: hence, in a defcending trade, as is frequentiv the cafe forn collie, ies and thace werks, ali the water in demand ts a pond to bong the hicats to the plane, wione they are parfid to the diferent lovels, withous the repereilh which ho ks requite.

Whacn an attergate or alcending rade is pretenied, the wati-thes are applied to draw luc bots up the piane; ard in ische cale tios watio of water is Hetle mure that the wagh of the reTipesive ca gete.

In palling the boats, there is lat'e more to dio than lurok the.a to the chans, the rotatory novernent conveyinct them up and duan in regular fuccstion. In cutering the different pords, they didhato nitemelvestrom the chairs withou fantier trubite. Ey this movement, i conctive two lourton boats, out us antore drow, may pafs a panc, "urfo pedicudicular is 200 teet, in thee itume, with is equal to 1920 bons in 12 hours; thece hoats. ounted on wheels may he confitered as to many waggons movisu on a fluid to a cistem point, then running down or rounling a ibil, by an adiquate power.

Whan timber ionger than zo feet is to he tranipoted, it mav fort in the canel, till arriving at a plane, when it is zaken on wheels prepared for the purjore, and patied with Intle more trot ble iban a bost. In Puifit and Amertea, kreat quantities of timber a:e fioated to the fea-ports; and the fime fiftem, I conceive, miy be practifed to alvantage in canals.

In caies where water can be fpared, and a deep raley nay require an expeafive aqueduet. I propore to ered a Hage ther parallel or incined, the chains performing the rotatory thovement as before defcribed, with prepondetating water-tubs to daw the boats to the differmt ponds; this operation will be fimilar to the iaclined plane, and at the fane time a valley is croll:a, height may be gsined where the ground admits of luch advantage. In conpructing theie machines, it apiears that a plane to mount 100 feet may be exeruted for 2,500\%. taking the average of fituatons; while locks for $2=\mathrm{t}$ ns boat, to the fame hetght, is utarly ellmated at 2000 . In an aqueriuct now wuiding, eftumated at 15,0 ol, an enyme, as hias been defcibed, might be erected for $4: 00$, which leaves 5501 . fer aung in, from Whicis deduch tue wages of two men. with wear and ta't, 1201. and the ansua! foracs wal be 4301.: thete culculotives wit xiva fone adea of the mannor in whila ite lavings are pie. duced.

On a can l formed for fourton bo.ts, boats:atce teet wide, com-3un ing tiaree Lu:, wi!t wo.k: th oreã: sqinguavenct.t :u i.. ma a tunme:, forit boais may ba cerneyod by a ruti-w y to the pus, flete telie in than efogo, and, detecodirg, th thecanc, betra-mode will five the cxipence uf lisit Joading inco :argens enta thea inen botio; allo avoin the notexize. © coll.

la the courfe of a warase, whe:f

32 European Ravasers of A fia and America.-Fafting-days. [Jan.

detaining the boatman, which the purchafer may difcharge in his return: but, in a 25 -ton boat, the whole muft be derained till the quantity purchafed is delivered.

(To be continued.)

Mr. Urban,

7an. 5.

IHAVE ofren wondered that none of your many reading and writing friends have calculated the probabilitv, that one day or other the inhabirants of Europe, who have extended themfelves over fo much more of the globe than properly belongs to them, may be compelled to retreat within their own portion of it. The fitt advances from Europe into Alia and Africa were for trade. The difcovery of America was innocent in its motives; but how foon was the new continent made a theatre of blood and murder! and how many horrid fenes have Afia and Africa witnefled! Can the injured natives, who have yielded to fuperior force or intrigue, for ever fubmit to the oppreflion of ambition and avarice ? or will the race be extirpated in this world, and awatt to be avenged on their deftroyers in another? Shall not the Judge of all the earth do right ? Though he permit, for the wifeft of reafons, his human creatures to execute the great defigns of his Providence on one another, he will be fhewn to be "juft in all that is brought upon them." What then are the temporary revolutions which we now witnefs and wonderat on the Continent of Europe? A tranfaction of a few years, compared with the havock and ravages of centurits, in the eye of him who beholds the world as one great theatre of good and evil, where the evil fo large. Sy piedominates. In $\mathbf{v}$ in we bath of new lights and wonderful improvements expected from the New World, when all the virtue practifed there, while this globe endures, wall not atone for the corruption of body and foul derived to the innocent Aborigines from their invaders. A reftels difofition, luft of power and conqueft, purfuit of new objeEts, new gains, new plealures, carried men out of Furope. By a gradual difpertion the over-ran the reit of the world, and are ftill eager atter new ducoveries; every one of which ferves bit to fhew human-fidture in irs netice colours, guided by impe foet moraity, and lefs religion, and not amendod by its new onlighte.
eners. In vain then hope we that the New World thould hold out to the Oid a more perfed pattern than that from which the inhabitants of the latter departed, when they tranfgreffed their original bounds.
H. D.

Mr. URzan,
7.2n. 6.

WITH the view of enabling our readers to compare, in circum ftances by no means difimilar, the prefent with former diys, the year 1796 with ${ }^{1596}$, I have tranfmitted, for infertion in yourmifcellany, an extract from N o. XXX. of the Appendix to Strype's Lite of Aichbithop Whitgift. The infrument referred to is dated Dec. 27, 1596, and has this litle, "The Archbiliop to the Bithops of his Piovince, for Faiting and Prayer, upon Oication of a Dearth." And in the letter, in purfuance of her Majefty's exprefs pleafure, and abfolute commandment, it was directed.
"That fuch as be of better ability do, in the fear of God, ufe a greater moderation than theretofore in their diet. But, namely, that by none, of degrees whatfoever, any fleth be dreffed or eaten, in fuch days as by law ftand already prohibited, other than fuch as by reafon fof infirmity be lawfully thereunto licenfed; and that not only on Fridays, and other days by law already appomted for fufting-days, wo fuppers at all be provided or taken by any, exher for themfelves or houfehold; but a! fo that every one, not letted by grievous ficknefs, do abftain altogether on each Wedaerday night. To the intent, that that which is by forbearance of that meal, and at other meals, by abftinency from all fuperfluous fare, fruitfully fpared, may prefently, efpecially by the wealthy fort, be charitably converted to the relief and comfort of the poor needy." How many, or rather how very few, would now acquefce in going fuppealefs to bed, in obedience to a royal mandate notified by the Archtifhop of Canterbury? But 1 hope, and I belneve, that there are many, who, in their public and pravate devotions, exprets thelr truit, that the farcity and dearts (wobich ave do nowe nopis juifly fuffer for our iniquity) mar', throxgh the goodnefs of (Gal, be turned into cbeapness and plenty.

The wo ds in halics occur in the firt of the collects in the time of dearth, publithed in the book of Common Prayer; and the fame collect was in the Liturgy ufed in the reign of Elizabeth.
B. B. (LXV. 997.) recommends an abstinence from Butchet's meat for one or two days in a week, and aks what a raving of calves and lambs would there be, if next Lent we were to keep a Popish Fat ? i. e. as it appears from the words following, eat fight, infiead of flefh. Your correfpondent, however, did not confider that there is as great a falsity of fifth as of flesh, and that for a plentiful fup:ly of fig at leaf we mut watt till peace foal be reftored. Whether, during the urrent year, or even the current centory, we thill be favoured with that invar able bleffing, time will flew ! Under the procraffinating cloud, which has hung over us for three years, who caa yet difcover a glinfpfe through the gloom? Yours, &c. QQ

Mr. URBan,

Dec. 25.

IHAVE fomewhere feen on a tomb. fine a memorial to the name of Reynolds, with the following arms, viz. Argent, three oorfes heads coupled, the colour not diftingurhable. I hall be much obiged to any of your numerous coirefpondents, who can point out to me a family of the name of Reynolds, who bear this coat armour; for in Edmondfon's Heraldic Colic. tron there is none in the leaflet referbling it appropriated to that name.

Yous, &ic.  juba.

Mr. Urban,

WHEN were briefs first printed in the country?
At what period did they begin to be iffued by the Crown?

What is the reason, that, in Wales, their circulation is confined, by auth. rity, to the three counts of Flint, Denbigh, and Radnor?

Why are the other counties in that principality exempt from the impotitron of briefs?

Clericus.

Mr. URBan,

767. 18.

AFriend having favored me with the light of a proof-ficet of Mr. Nichols's "Hifory and Antiquities of the County of Leicefer," as a Specimen of this t very valuable work; it is with much diffidence I offer the following conjecture. in uppotition to the great authority therein quoted, on the etymology of Gartrce, ur, as it is Sometimes spelt, Gartrey, the name by which one of our Fundiets in Leicefterthre has for a long faeries of years been, and is til diftinguifhed.

Gent. Mag. January, 1786.

The notion, of the appellation being fuggefted tv the county-gallows, formetimes called the gallows-tree, feems to want fupport ; gar, ts fire fellable, bearing but a very fight affinity indeed no galiow, nor will the different orthography of the word prove very favorable on the above opinion. In Domefday Book it is felt Gereirev; the Tefta de Nevil, and our county hisdorian Mr. Button, uniformity $\because$ iva it Gertre. In the eccefiaftical di vifion of our neighbouring county of Linconn is a deanry named alto Sartre, whicia I behove is not pffeffed of that Mender circumftance of the gallozes ftanding within its boundary"; it being a confiderable distance from Lincoln ; not having an opportunity of confulting any topographical account of that county, I know not what, or if any, opinion has been given of its derivation.

With due fubmilfion to your very fuperior judgement, Mr. Urban, in the fe mattes, I proceed to obferve oar the name in queftion. You know, $\mathrm{S} r$, we heralds ufe the the term Garb, from the French Gerber, to denote a Sheaf of all kind ot grain. See Edmondfon's and Cotes's Heraldic Dicetionaries. And Giles Jacob, in his Law-Dietionary, fays, the word Greet is mentioned in the fatute of $5 \mathbf{x}$ Henry III. and dignifies fine wheat. The term then compounded of the te two words, Garb-trect or Gerbe-tree', has experienced left alteration in its othograpiny than alnoit any other of equal arthuity. This term, denoting generally beats of corn, or, in its more redramed fence, fosafs if fine, or geod, wheat, is very delcriptive of the quality of the foil of this bundied; for, Mr. Burton tells Li, in his general defcipion of the county pe fixed t.) his Leicofterflure, "The Souhb-eaf tide ionise," in which! our hundred of Gartree is firuated. " is ex ceding rich ground, yteld.eg great increase of corn of $a^{\prime} l$ kinds in ab:ndance. The decl -ration made by every good farmer, that no land in England grows better wheat and other cora than that of this difrict, fully contras the oblervation of our hitparian. I am, however, forty to add, and especially at this truly trying time, but hate of this excellent land is mow in ullage, almolt the whole of the hundied having, within there flow years,

34 Garte-Bufh -Difenting Meeting-Hs.-Dartmoor Ramble. [Jan.

years, been incioted and laid down for g azing.

Mr. Nichols, Vol. II. p. 7 of his Leiceterßire, hints that Fram!ard, the name $f$ another of ou: hundreds, means firm, orfiff, lande, and tha fuch land is :a many places c-led frem lamide. This is fonewhat to nur pre fent purpofe, as affording an inft nce, in the 1 me c untr, of the hunditd being defcriptuve of the quality of the foit.

In your laft volume a correfpondent afk in what parifh Gortree buff is fituited, The following defciption I tock on lie foot Gartres-bufb is frusted in the parifh of Shangron, or Shankton, on the Eat edke of what is called the Rockingbanm road, but which is in fiequthe Via Divana of the Romans *? bout :00 yards North of its interfection whth the road leading from Market Haiborough to Melton Mowbray $t$. It confits of five anciont elms (and the flump of a fixth) goowing on a bank or fmall knoll (perheps a barrow); from the appearance and fituation of thofe which temain, it is probahle the buff, or clump, confifted or ginal y of eight or ten tites. Gartrce-bugb is not inferted in Mir. Prior's fub'criphon map of Leictfterfhire, which it cestainly ought to hive beer.

Yours, & Kowland Rouse.

Mr. Ursan, Hackney, Jab. u.

A
S fome of vour correlpondents have lately favorted the pubick w.th hifs of the Lundon and country boukilleis who have publifhed cataJogue:, I whth to fugge.t a wifh, that an aecount of the praces of public worthip beronging to the Diffenters from the Churrh Eltablahment in London, w th their practice, and tumes of fervice, be cormun ca:ed by the fame hands, and though the lame channel.

A a furure period, I truf, I fiat he able in fumith y u fla curious life

[^3]of the fome kind of places of public worf'p throvghout the kingdom, from the paptis of the late learned and inyenic:s Mr Robinfor, well known for his hifto of Bant.fin, &ec.

> Yourc, &c. Curiosus.

Dattmoor Ramble continued. A "11 c'clock in the mon's. we et out from Tavif.ck, in featch o! O.aken Totr, and other itm kalit places on the Moor (t king etpecia care r furnib, ur fe vant with a flock of cold provifi , and a borte of vinum bonum; We tork the Exeter-mad, and having. to the bent of our know odge, atcertaned the rpan, we procesded on foot to the Nombood, 10 ix me fome torrs, and fearch fur W:Rnan's Woud. After fearching in $v$ in for fome time, and being arrived at the thind torr, and finding no whod, we were under fome perplexith covcerring it; however, on clambertne to the t"poif one of the corrs, we difcovered it a little behnd us, Near the river it is an affemb'age of low ferubbe o.k-tiees, or rather large bufhes of ndawood, feemingly of great antiq:., occupying a $\int_{\text {race }}$ of about haif an acre of siound, the foaces bet wet. the frees being covered with imm ol woorftone ruct,e, almoft toushirg the inwer boughs of the tices. At this time the come far hi ri of the retcription Ricion, : h his Survey of inewn, gers; few of thom tha we neterves having any bing tike doprightrurik of a $\mathrm{f}_{3}$ hon aloat we of the, refi ad loteicft that as maved, preifice a trunk of thont tivo itet is glt, whoh fipeads regular: nto thea bat has.
 bufhes ot the faix, of whimw-tret, of the mountain tanty, the fruxtivs witgie is, cummon - fh-tere, and a few plants of the Sorbus ancofaria, moun-tain-aft, or was folv ce-tres. Returrim; to Ceraiem T Y, we duw the coik of wer vorte, fercad our cold collat 0 on the growad, and reh to with au Lxquate geit, higul A1+1pered by the deen des of the woor. After ennied $11:$ pufned about one frugat "one of extand amg thary pretty baitk, dinktag all the enod and loyal co-lts wisicir our lianty allowance would allow. Thete torfs we bequeabher, whiten of : hlp of paper, and cotiked up in the borte, the the next honefi fiader, be:athang a with that he might be as happy as $\because e$, and left it under the proje sing eige of a maffy rock. Wre now proceded to inveftigate the Torr, and fearched for the talle, feats, \&cc. fint to be uled in the Stanary Parliam nis ufualiy held here; but could not difcover theri, and we we:e lod to :magine the rock', and detached finaller maffes, were ufed for that purpufe; and for this, in the rude age of fuplicity, tie Borr feems well adapted, confiting (not, like mot of the other Torrs we vitited, of high and Reep piles of rocke, bur) of a great number of feparate ones fcattered on the ground to a conficierable extent, fome in fingle mafies, others doeble end triple, in fuch masner as may tolerab!y well ferve for tables and feats, and be fancied as fuch by a fertile imagination; as to any thing regular or arrificisl, the re did nor apped to us the fmalleft trace; the whole feems to remain as when forned by N,rute, the rocks fcattered without any vilible order or defign, and no appearan e of any tool ever having been employed on them. I here found a curious fragment of a fline, whin concentric curved lines, which 1 preferved, and added to that part of my collection to which it belongs. We by no means iuppofed this flni to be a natura: production of this place; but brought from a diftance and lodged there for ute; or it might have been the propersy of fome poring naturalifi, and there catually loft; it had no appearance of ever being oled againgt the fteel. This was the only particle of $\mathrm{f} n \mathrm{n}$ we perceived during the whole ccurle of out tour on the moor. The grear difparity between the ftrata of Dartmoor and a filter eminence of great extent (Halldown), which conlits of one bed of flints, very forcibly firuck us. We now turned out hortes towards Holne, and returned to Two Bridges, for great: $r$ falety and cestainty of gerting into the Holntroad; but, leeing a very good cut leading acrofs the moor, we fluck into the lant, which brought us into a fine road. Fullowing which for about a mile, we arrived at a large brock running Scuth. On relewing to the feeich of the map, it was tound not to be the road which we fuppoled it to be, being on the other fide of the river $D$ irt. Procetding, howevtr, on it, we came to Dunnabiidge-proud, and, on tarquiry, found it leato Nowe bridge, and was rhe Ahburten-road; but that there was a nearer way to Holne, which would fave a mile or more. A man of rhat place became our guide, and p inied on, this road, which is eatered from the A hburtonroad, at a g-t leading into a giten lane. Having fortod thit Dart (or, as our guide called it, the Wer Dart) and alcending the oppofite hill, we came to C ombRone rock; it confins of 3 very large maffes of fione, piled one on the otirr, like cakes, the fides nearly perpend cular, and the upper parts flat. Thence we proceeded to Holne, where we refielted oulfilves and horfes on good homely fare, and courrenus obliging behaviour. In crolling the moor in this part of our peregrination we were moftly on horfebatk; therefore could not make many very parricular oblervations, fuch as were made heing fuperfinilly. We oblerved that, Weft of a bridge called Merrivil-bridge, it was very rocky, and the foil but poor; bur, fatther on we obferved feveral fpots inclufed with walls for cultivation. Thefe fpots we aporehend ro be called New Takes, (in the Old Latin Rolls Sepimentum,) and held by grants from the Prince of Wales, each fuppoled to be equivalent to eight acres of good land, though fometimes containing in quantity ucar ten times as much. Farther on the foil improves, and black-rood is cut in great pienty. About Two Bidges and Crockein Torr is is very good pafture; but, though these are many fuch inclofures as juft mentioned, pioducing conn, \&c. we do not recoltect feeing rhe leaft ppearance of timber (excepting Wiftmanswood) till we were got fomeways to the Eaft of Dunnabridge-pound. F.om the pound to Holne the lands South of the river Dart are mollty incloled, and put on dee appearance of the in-country. Great part of this route laying though the Genfla fpinofa furze, made iis very troublefome. As we drew near Holne, and rhe parifh of Buckland, we found woad plential, monly of the Uirus vulgatifima jolio lato fiabro, common rough-leaved cim, and here and there clumps of fiagle trees of the Quercus latifolia, conmon ok. The ftone on the moor, as far as we obfuved it this day, was all of the granite or moor-fione fyecies. Holne, otherwile Holne, lormer y Holeland, poffefled a monafiery of the White Monks, Monks, who were greatly condemned for their covetcufnefs, as appears by the wolds of Kinz Richard the Firf, in arfiver to one Fulk, a Frenchman, (a man in gitat elfeem for his godlinefs and prem, ) who tuld Richatd that he foftered three danghter, whichwould incur the wrath of God if he did not fhortly free himfelf from them. "Thou hypocrite," fays Richard, " the world well knoweth ! never was the father of children." Fulk ftill perfifted he was the father of three. Which af. fertion fo roufed the King's choler that he threatened Fulk highly; who, to appeafe him, difcovered his meaning, faying that his three dauphters were Pride, Covetoufnefs, and Letchery. "If that is the cafe, replied the King, I will prefently rid myfelf of them: firf the white monks of Holne thall have my covetouners, the knights templars my p-ide, and the clergy my luft; thus have yuu my three daughters befowed amongt you." Edulph Bithop of Crediton held half an hide of land here, Then Otheiaze inherited it. After him, William Bozun, fince Nicholas de la Yeo. A hide of land is defined fo varioully as to its quantity, that I beg leave to lay before your readers the various definitions that have come under my eye; at the fane time fhall thank any of your readers, or correfpondents, if they can point out the certain number of acres at this pefent tume. We ind, in Terms de Le, a hide of land to be as much as mugh be flougted with one plough in a vear, of as much ground as would mamaina farnily. Crompon, in his furiddetion, ixc. fays it contains an bundred aces. Sir Edwad Cuke will havent, that a hirle of land, pourh land, yadd lane, \&ic. contain no ceriain number of acres. If thas was really the cafe, a lide of land knew no bounds. jacub in his Lair-Ditionary, fays, thete was an extaurduary tax payable to the King for every hide of land. This was levied, nut only 113 money, bus provifion of armour, in hifior cal coltesions, \&ic. We iead, al:no Dom. 100\%, this jear the King commanded, that thips thould, wht all diligence, be buit by the wiole Eaglifin nation; that a fayp bould be fited out by $3: 0$ hides of tand (a hide containang as n, wen ground as one plough could be fofferent for the management of every year), and ten hides thould fet out a mona aund with an helmet and bredi-plare; and laftly, in the laws of King Ina, we find the diftribution of Eng. land was made by hides. Of the vil. lage of Buckland we obferved nothing remarkable; but find it is commonly called Buckland in the Moor, that from its fute Roger de Buckiand took his name, a man of great worth and wealth, from whom fprang William de Buck!and, who was Sheriff of Devon and Cornwall five fucceffive years. After being fufficiently refreficd and recovered from the fatigue, we left Holne, and proceeded towards Buckfaft abbey, which we viewed with a great deal of pleafure, and thought the time wel! Spent. From which we proceedcd towards Modbury at a pretty good rate, taking the direct road. Arrived there at about 10 o'clock at night, and refled there till morning, when we feparated, each travclling to his refpective home. The village of Blackanton at that time being my place of refidence, I fhall beg le: ve, if agreeable, to continue this tour to the fourth day, deferibing Buckfaft Abbey, \&:c. then my route homeward, which fhall be my next letter; then nur remaks on the Geography, and Donn's map of the moor; and laftly, thoughts on its intended inclofure and cultivation. J. L.

Mit. Urgan,  Fan. 21.

1CAN by no means cxonerate" the ycomaniy of this kingdom,' from the charpe of keeping up the price of cern (vol. LXV. p. 1007). They have done, add contimue to do it: clfe why, I would ak , do they withhoid it from the markets?-1 refide in the lagef enunty, the laigeft corn couniv, in Great Britain? and have occubatoravel a good wealint; and I have obferved, that moft of the prin. chalfarmers haveatleat thrce fourths ot the meduce of the inte hatveft, and miny of them adualiy the fame number of fock: no:v as they bod in September or Ottober. It it is not the intention, then, of thete extenfive farmers, to fupport, and eron moreafe the price of corn, why do they keep the matkets fo fantily fuppited? It is from plentitul markets alone, that the price of corn can be reduced (except conpulfory laws be enocted); and there is no doubt with me, of there being grain unough in the country to furnifh them in abuidance. 1 , aling with many intcingentmen with whom I have converfod is the fubject, have never thought a real fcarcity did exift-as at any time a fufficiency might have been purchafed for money -and it was a $f_{a}$ et, that, upon the cve of the late harveft, when there was a general appearance of abundance, the beft wheat was to be tought, at a moderate rate, at all the neighbouring markets. The farmers themfelves confeffed their crops of corn exceeded many former years, and some of them voluntarily engaged to fupply any family with wheat at 6 s. per buthel till the next harveft. We need, indeed, only refer to the news-p:pers at that period, to find the flatte:ing accounts of the fruitfulnefs of the earth. Jt was a grateful profpect to the poor-but they were deflined not to enjoy it.-Interefted men foon dared, to infinuate a continued farcity of the "ftaff of life"-and proved to be fuch fools " as to hoard up corn," notwith ftanding "the enormous fum it has fold for for fome months paft."

If the tenants of fall farms have threfhed out all their fock to fupply the county hitherto, furely the large farmers, who, many of them, have yet made little or no imprefion on their hoards, will be fully competent, if properly regulated, to ferve the demands of the reft of the year.-The land-holders in this ration are, from the late and prefent exifting circumflances operating fo much in their favour, fuddenly become as opulent as the owners themfelves; neceffity therefore does not oblige them to fell their grain, but each watting till the price flall be ftill more exorbitantnaturally produces the difticfs we have fo long experienced. Whoever judges of the quantity of corn in the country from the barrennets of our marke:s will certainly, with reafon, pronounce that there is an alarming ficarcity-but that ought not to be our criverion; let us examine the extenfive barns-the numerous ftacks of our rich yeomanry -and we fhall find con enough, and to fipare, if we might but enjoy it, without impofition or monopoly. "The prefent wieched flate of the iabourers'" is chiefly owing to the high price of corn, which I think may not unfairly be traced to originate in the tarmers, who, notwithltanding the obfervations of your Correipondent, I muft fill continue to believe, have a great deal "to do with the manufacturing poct:" It is tat tathers, to whom the whole nation look to, as the men to whofe care the cultivation of the earth is en-trufled-if they combine to raife the p.ice of their produce, not only extravagantly dilproportonate to the wages of the labourer and mechanic, but to the relative value of the dealeft land, everv member of the community muft forcibly feel bow much they can affect his interefts.
The general articles of Britifh manufacture bave experienced no advance that bears the mof difant proportion to the enormous price of provifions.-Afk the manufacturers of Manchelter, Sheffield, and Birmingham, and thcy will inform you their terms are lower than they were 10 or 20 years ago. How then can they advance the wages of their men? wages, a fhort time fluce, when corn was 5 s. or 6 s . per buftiel, fully adequate to the fubliftence of the induftrious man and his family, and which would again ferve, were we to banifh impofition and extortion from our markets.-Mr. Urban, I am afraid I have already tired your patience-but I will conclude. If the attention of the publick, or the exertions of the legiflarure, be not aroufed, this country will yet Innger endure the prefiure of this grievous evil; for it is not probable that thofe, who are fo very highly benefited by its exffence, will offer any help tho wards its removal. Yours, &c. A.

Mr. Urban,

デan. 10.

IREQUEST the favoar of any of your Correfpondents to inform me if the Hood ufed is the ceremonal of making a Łiveryman fill preícives its original hapa, or has underguac an alieration as the hoods ufed by graduates have done; and the meanng of the hoop or circle, half fcarlet, half black. If the hood was worn as the only covering for the bead, when is was firft iniroduced as a matk or badge of the livery of a free $c \mathrm{cy}$, in fuudal times. Stowe relates an anecdute of a countryman lofing his hood in Weilmunter Abbey, and firding is expofed for fale in Cornhiil, but, although claimed, it was refufed him, unleis he chofe to purchafe is (claims of th:s fors being then deemed inadrailibit). Awkward as the fhape of the hood now appears for a cuven: head, yet originaliy there can ou u, daube of its ornanental apperf ber. If 1 miltake art, king tany 15 .
is adorned with a covering of this nature. The round bontet, or cap, mighe have been more the miltery appeidase and conrefed iffelf with the fioir drefs.

I isther requeft informarion. whit are the powers of a Churchwarden, with refoect to he indecorous flate of a chu h yard; if a pa ifh neeleets to fuinith a fieflemetry when the prefent one is in, fate too painful to Cefthe) Curator.

PROCEEDINGSIN PAKLIAMENT.

H. OF LORDS.

 O.7. 29.ABOU ' half p two notock, the kine being eniobed, and feated on the throne, was gracon fly pleafed to deliva the feech alieady printed in vol LXV. 1. 874.

For three hours after the king left the Houfe, nothin paffed among their Lordfins but private convertition. Lord Wefmorlana then ftated the outrage which was offered to the Sovtreigr. (See vol. LXV. 965).

Their Loodfins then refolved uen an addrefs to his Majetty; itatin. thes. loyalty and attachment to his perfon, theirapprehentions for his fifery, and their iente of the infult offered to the dignity and honour of pariament; and praying that he would be graiioufly pleafed to order fuch ftep to be taken as might tend mof effectualy and expediti unly to find out, and bring to punifiment, the perpetraters of to heinous an outrage.

A meflage was fent to the Commons, flat:ng, thet they defired a prefent conferenie, on a lubjeet which materislly affected the fafety of his Majefy and the homour and dignily of parliamem. At eicuen diclock the conferenceraok place; and the Houfe was ordered to be fummoned for next day, at hate Faft three.

In the Commors, after the Spenker Ind iead his Majofty's Speech, Lord Sallezto moved an Addefs. His lurdibip proceeded to take a general view of our refources, the excent of our commerce, and the luccetes which have attended our arms, both in the II it atad Weft Indics; which laving名: ne through, he moved, that an humbie adarets be prefented whis Maieliy, tor the mofegtactour fpeech which be had lieen picied to whiver from the throne. Llicaddrels, as ufual, was an echon of the ineecin.]

The Hon. Mr. Stewart feconded the atdiel. It was not aecelfary 10 g. lack to the beginn ng of the war, in order to porve blice defperate thate of France; the prefent was buticient to frese thit the conetit mult be brought

trv. Alfignats, and the fyftem of tewne, two great fuppriters of the Finnch elources, were now almoft exhoufed The hon. gentieman here entered into a calculation of the ioffes on alfi nas, and enormous expences of the French government : the prefent fyftem, he mantained, wou'd alfo be abandoned by them, as well as the frffem of terror. He concluded by feconding the addrefs.

Mr. Sberiwan expreffed his aftunimment at the fiereth deltvered by his Majefy. in whech be cruld not obferve a fin. le word that breathed the language of peace; he perce ved a profuret fitence in that houfe, but could not be afonifoed that hey foould remain dumb at hearmg fuch a fpeech as the prefent; the 5 th or 6th words in it was furiffaction: there was not, he frid, a man in this mand who could form the moft diftant idea why the word fatistaction could find its way into his Mzjedty's Speech ; for, what they could be fatisfied at, no man, he belicved, could polfibly know. He then went into many of the tranfactions of the war, and charged minillers iv th a cilminal delay of the iniended expedition to the W'ff Indies. He would move no rmendmenr, but object in teto to the addiefs; bur, if any fuch thing as an amendment vaneld be poopofed, it foould he to alluce his Majelty that we dare no longer inibis from our conftituents, but that we muff endeavour to put an end to this defluctive war.

Mr. If akinfon tait, that there was no man erithed more for peace than he dus, but thes was not the time to fue for 15; and liat notintog could remove prace t. a greater ditance than to relax in sur preparanoms for war. He ccacluded by giving it as has opinion that his wasauttice perod at which we oughe or licat, chough he belitver it noterar diftant.

Mr. Litanise Roliznfon complained in generai terms, of the mifmandge ment of public athaths; and votel agmont lic adurefs.

Mr. Fox faid, afier the very extra ordmary puceld which he had hear from the hrone, he hou'd not think he did his duty to his conftituests, or to the publink, if he oppofed the addrefs that had been moved only by a filent vore. The firf thing that arrefed his attention was the unparalleled infoit concained in the very firft pardgraph; it was not enough that, by means of this difgraceful and difattrous war, the people were groaning under unpre. cederted burthens; it was not enough tha 100 millions had been added to the national debt, and a perpetual annuity of five millions to the fanding taxes; it was not elough thet there had been felt a fcarcity of bread laft year, which fcarcity, irappeared, was now become more alaming; it was not enough that our hhips were captoed, and nur manufacture dminithed; it was not enough that the por were driven to miterv and tamme; they mult be infultingty told, that their fituation is improved.

Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Conmons in $: 795$.

Alte haring tpoken a confiderble length of tme. he moved an amendment, the fub nee of wh in was, to entreat ins Majefiyto...nf:a, that a:mof , ill his athes have toanooned hom; thas fome of our flands in the WeßIndieshave been over-iunand pilaged; that all the expeditions to the coalt of France have proved either difgraceful or abortive, and tend to tarmith the honour of the Bullim chatater; to entre't alif, that his Majefty woeld no long=e yet upon an alluronce thar the prelent or ans otter form of $20-$ vernment in Fiance fheald prec udic neg ciation; and that his Majefly would 'ook for mdeniniry, where enly indernity could be procu:ed, in the fpeed: tefluration of $p=$ ce.

The Chancellor of we Exchequer fid, $t^{1}$ e moft evenulu' penod ot the Eng ifh hillory never fug etted a quelt on more momentus and mportant for the difcuttion of the legifiture tian the piefent. He nfwead Mt. She:rdan at great lengh: and it tic, that, by the laft acciunas from Part:, it appeared that the deplecia $\mathrm{i}, \mathrm{a}$ fainguats was $98 \frac{1}{2}$ per cent. At the commencement of latt tetfion the citcount was bet"een 70 and 80 por cent. $2=0$ liness in allignats wete thein worth 25 livies; whereas now the fome sommat lum is oniy worth a littie more than $1-16$ ih of 25 , or about one and a half. He begged the Houfe to the de what muft be the effects of fuch and amazing alteration io the value of the suriency.

He, however, did nut mean to affert pnfitively and unconduionally, that, if th-credit of affignats were orally deAtroved, it was not with'n the poffiblity for the Frencin to devife means of carrying on the war ; bur he begged to oberve, that if fuch mean, didexift, the French had pretty firong motives to make them endeavour to difoner them; but he would not eeft this part of the cafe on his own reafoning; he vould cie to the Houfe the opininn of one of then $g$ eatel financiers; allo ftates ine immanfequantity of affig ats in crrcuation, and adds, in the moft expl it terins, that of tome means are not devi:ed for Aopping the iffung of any, and of rittidrawing an inmenfe number from circulation, that they would become of no value whatever. It wave fiom a view of thes thate of thi $g$, in Frince, and from companing them with the con-nerce and manufactures of England, hat he fe: himtela juftified th detending the term fatiffaction in his Majeits's Speech. A decree has however been pallid by the Conventoon for Aloppone the corculation altogether; ra, tven the very prates are to be braken; hut there is one condmon annexed io this decree, which is rather fin uldr; thefe alfignats are to be laid atide, poovided any other means catu be fround of furp! ying a circulain'in. But is is poupoled that thefe aflignats ate to be lapplied by what are calied mera fie piecer. It was not Aa ed exampy what thefe matallic pleces were to $b e$, whether they were to bear an arbilary $v$ lue, in which cafe they would only be alfignats of more expentive confruction. He thea concluded a very loag fpeech with c njuring the Houle not to plange b) nd ly forward into a negociation with an exproag governmen, but wait untif they could fee the new contitution brour ht int., acrion, in the proncipies of wath he law nothog that fanold prevent nemociation. He voted againft the amondment.

Mir. Fur and Mr. Sheriaun explainod; and at half pait tweive at midnight the Houfe divided, wnen the addrets was catried by a great majo r.ty.-Adjourned.

> H. Of Lor D S. $O \not Z \mathrm{I}$.

Their Lordhip met at an early hour this womang, and made confiderable progefs in the bufinefs reipctiog the flagitious infult offerad to bis Majefty on the preceding day, as the was resurning from the Houfe of Peets.

The rrder of the day being read for taking into conficteration his Majenty's Speech to both Houfes of Parliament;
Lord $M$ cunt Edgecursherofe, with fingular fatisfaction, to propofe the Addrefs of Thanks for the gracious communication which his Majefy had been pleafed to make to the houfe.-Taking his Speech as the text, his lord faip proo duced a commentary of confiderable clearnefs and elegance. The addrefs was as ufual a paraphrafe upon the fpeech, and we have feldom heard one better conceived or delivered.

Lord Walfingbam, in feconding the motion, could not content himfelf with the fimp.e expreffion of his affent-the occafion demanded from his entire approbation foraething more; and he accotdingly dilated upon the points wherein our fituation was amended, and the reafons for ant cipating the humiliation and ruin of the enemy.
The Duke of Bedford, Rating his objections to the addrefs in its prefent thape, propofed ancther exaetly fimilar to the one which had been propofed in the Hon'e of Commons.
Loid Grenville combated the argumenis that had been adduced by the Duke of Bedford, and concluded by giving his moft decided negative to the anendment.

A debate of confiderab!e Iength enSued; after which the Duke of Bediond agzeed to wuthdraw his motion of amendment; and the mation for the addrefs pufich whiou:a difen: ing voice.

At 2 in the morsing the houfe ad. journed.

In the Commoas, the fame day, a new writ wan oidered for the Rorongh of: Rye, in Suffex, in the toom of General Cow te, who had accepted the chitern hundreds.

A new writ was alfo ordered for the Forough of Haddineron, in Nouth Eriam, in the room ar Jokat Himition,以?
S.urd Ealkits movec, that the repurt on his Maje: M's iddurefs be ㅇnoeght ap. His Lordhip then moved, saat it we read. It was sead a firti and scond wae, and ordered tha: fuch memivers as were of the Privy Courcal Goould watton has Majelity tu-morbew, for the parpofe of prefenting it.

Nir. 76 k lf dimet hite Mimiller, whether therc had not been confiderable fums of money levied without the confent of Parliament; on thishead he wiflhed to have fome fatisfaction, as Parliament was now met-the experience of the Right Hon. Gentleman (Mr. Pitt) muft convince him of the impropriety of this; he was fure, he faid, that Parliament would not have been called at fo early a perfod, had not the Minifter wanted money.-He would fay, that raing fums of money againft the confent of Parliament was frikiag at the very exifence of our liberties; he would therefore expect an explanation of this prastice.
Tiue Cbancellor of the Exibequer faid, that, if the Hon. Gentleman had any thing to lay, he hoped he would bring it forward in the flape of a moti n at fome future day, when he would be able to prove, that no money had been borrowed which would not be fanctioned by Patlament.
He then moved, that the Houfe would go into a Commilute for the farther continuation of a Bill, paffed laft Seffion of Parliament, granung the importation of Corn, and other articles of poovifin ins free of dury.
Mir Rydir wifhed to know, whether the Right Hon. Genileman had confidered the fubject tufficiently, foras to be able to give a complete fitisfaction to the Houfe, and actual relief to the poor.
A converfation now took place beeiveen General Smith, Mr. Fo.x. Mr. Ryder, and the Chancollor of the Ex. cheyuer, who moved, that the Houre hould go ints a Committee on the farther continuation of the Bill.Agreed.
The Order of the Day for taking their Lord fhips Addrefs into confideration, was moved and agreed to: it was read, and was couched in terms expreffive of the zeal and attrachment of their Lordflips to his M-jelly's facied perfon.
(To be continucd.)

Mr. Urdan,

7ar. 5.
IN peruhing fome MS papers putinto my liands a few days fince for a purpofe 1 need not explain to you, I have met with an oblervation which is new to me, and upun which I fall be obliged to fome onc of yout Correfpunuents to give ine more particular information. Speaking of fome urns tuand, the writer rewathi, that, nothing was found in them to determine whether they were Roman or Danih; for. the later people ufed urn-buriat, and burnt their dead." If it is really true that the Danes made ufe of urns as well as the Romans, I thould be glad to know. whether they are not cafily diflinguithed from each other, either by their hlapes or materials. I thould fuppofe the Romar unns would be very fuperior in their nrnaments and workmanflip to thofe of the Danes, among whom the arts of civisization had made but litt'e pr giefs, when their drealful incuifiors upon our ifland defolaied a! parts of it.

Watling-firest.-In a cenverfation with a friend, a native of Wrales, he communicated to mie a derivation of the name of this old ruad, which aopearid to me much more probable than any I had before met with. Bur I find one of your Correfpondents has given a fixilar derivation. I can therefore only propofe it as a kind of variou raading. Gunith lorg, legion work, is the one given by your Correfpondent-Gquaito Ilen, legion work, is that whith I have to propofe. The latter approaches much nearer to Wetling; bur, as I have no knowledge of the Wella linguage, I do not prefume to decide which is the true reading. A Mr. Jeffreys, a Welf Antiquary, was given as the author of the later defination. T. R.
 We bave been fevourd with the follow:ng Pariculars of the late Mr.
Dunitierley, comantuniated to us in bis ozun Hand-werulung by ì.s Execuiors; whtich fully contradicz tioe many idle Stories tbat are in Circulation. (See col. LXY.p. 10j2.)

JAN. 9, 1750 , foon atter my return from the fiege of $Q$ bece, 1 recelved an account of my mother's death; and, having obrained permifion fram iny captain to be abient from duty, I went to London, and attended ther funera!. Among the very iew that I invited to thisceremony was Mrs. Pinkney, who had beell many years theighbour to my mother in Somerict-houle. On our return from the buriai, the defied i would sal on her the next day (ded nor bing my wite with me), having fomething of conf'qu sice to tell me. I watted on her accuidingly; and ti.e following is the fublince of what the seleted to me, as 1 took it in writinz.

Cent. Mag. fukiay, 1736.
ill with the gout in her flomach ( $\dagger$ tan. 2, 1760), and believing it wil! be her dea $h$, is defircus, at the requef of her friend Mrs. Pinkney, that the following account may be made known to her fon in the moft fecret manner, and to none but him.
"At the latter end of November. 1723, Mr. Dunckerley went to Cliartworth, in Derbj hire, on fome buinelis for the Duke of Devoofhre, and did not return till the May fillowing. At Cnifinas, I wentur fe Mis Miekin at Lady Ranelugh's. Mr. L---y happened to come there, and paid ms the greatelt refpect; and histed hiat I tood in my own light, or I meha be the happief woman in Englata. I knew h:s meaning, bur mate no rep'y, and went back to S.omet (en-b, ufe the next day. A formigit after, I had an invitution to Lady R inc! h h's, and her coach was fent for mee. I was furprized to find Mir. L.-.-v the: e again. He barded mef om the corch to the parlour; where, to :n turure unbapp:nefs, I found the Punce of Wales, whom i had too zelll k.own before my mhapoy marilige. At his requal (forlauld den, himm.: ny) 1 Rayed feveral day, dantos whut time lie nade me fity woss; and on Candlemas day I wew hume.
" Soon after, 1 fuubid my féf in $k$ and breedng, and was ief lious to make an end of my life. I wat baken very ill. Lady St mley cancto fee me; but I could nor tes hea know my ditorder. Mrs. Mechio cuite to 'ce me; ald I told her the confequence of whis ind happened. The next diy the aune again, and brought me ${ }^{2} \mathrm{~m}$ k bills fue 501. inciofed in a cuvar frum Mr. Lumley, acquanning ise it was the the Pri:ce's coiminand. Stec faij, L dy Ranclagh was couning to fee me; ard in lefs thin an hour lies Lad diop cance. They acevited me to go in the country, and faid a boufo was taken for the :t Richmond; bat I was obRimate, and faid I would toce go out of the hovie till I was brouzthe toobed. Idefied that they would nev a let rhe P.eftec of Wales or Mr. E--y karev that I was with chld; and 1 never fourd they did. D. Mead atenced me. He ordered me to be bled; and in swo days I could fit up.
"Mr. Dunckerley came from Chatiworth in Miy. and leemed not dif. pieared to find are with chite. I dio dausod ${ }^{\prime}$ ained to deceive him; and told him what had happened. He commended my conduft wh fo much joy, that I could no heip defp:fng his meannefs; and bis barb rous behavour to me in the laf ronth of metime was what I always refented, when lic thew a cit in muf.ce. and frore that he would mark the baftat Our fopatation fuon followed after my deliv.ry; and he kept the fecret on h:s own account; for, he hod rwo places, and fereral confiderable duvantage, at the prace of my folly.
"Mv fin nipht have been known to lis roval fither; and I nuight have lived in as electan: a manner as Mrs. H. or Mifs B; bat my dear mother seclained me from fo crimnal a par. fion; and dread of public thame prevented mymaking it krown."

This is what Mis. Hinkney afured me was my mother's dectation on her death bed; fo:, Boc departed this life five days after. She allo tuld me, " shat my grandmcther Bulnelt, Mrs. Cannon a mic wife abi hetodf, we.e pulfont at my bith, OCt. 23, 172.4; thit my nother then deci-red the Prince of Wales was my iather; and that my grardmother aud mother requefled it thicht be kept a feceet.

Mis. Pakicy alio informed me, "that my muther was a phyfician"s daughter, and lewd wath Mrs. W. when the Ionce of Wales debsuched bar; but tibt Nars. Wi. deforveded what had hipponed, and has her married t" Mr. Duncketlev, who was t. 日 ertandin the Duke of Devonnime, on a vist to E.s R. W. at Hought.)n.

This information gave me great furprize, and :nuch uredinefs; and, as I was whined to ruara :nanedarely or ary dur waboma :la !aneuard, f made et known to no po wan at that time but Captan Swamom. Iit faid that thote who dad are kunw me cond liok on it to be menting more chin a gunep'siforv, We were then C'pen Swamon ditproiale me, ther, on wen ieman to Enghat, he would emdeavour oo get me intardoced to the 1un", and wat he woult grye min a charader: bu:, whion we cume back to Enelant. the k.mg "an ciend.

1 had fiate ed myilf thas my cafe Wrould be tad hetore the king: wat I hoold have the homeer nat hapiouts to ue plefonted to nay loga! madur and father; and that his majefy, on recollerting the feveral circumflances, would have granted me an appoinement equal to my birth: but, by the demife of my moft gracious fovereign, my expectations were fruftrated, and all my hopes fubfided.

In J nuarv : 76 r , I waited on Sir E. W. and afted his oninion, if I was like the late king? But, as he was pieafed to ty hat he fav no refem. blance, I did no, at that time. acquaint him with my reaton for afking fuch a queftion Sown after, I was aprointed by Lord Anfon to be gunner of the Prince (a hip of the lecond rate); buit, being 100 well convinced that the late King was my father, I could not fup. puets a pride that rofe fuperior to my fation in the novy: yol I remained in that fohere till the war was ended; and, in 1764, I was fuperannuated by the interett of Lord D ghb.

At the fiege of Louiflourg, Admiral Bolcawen grarted me a warrant as teacher of the mathematics on-board the Vinguatd, in addition to my being gunner of the fame flip: and, mough 1 dicharged both duties for three years, to the fatisfuction of arverp. ta:n, yer, when 1 expected to have tecuived my pay, ijol. as teacher of the mationatics oi. - ord the Varguard, is cuild net be obtaned, becaule Lord Anfon lati nor contirmed the warrant whish a iccived from Admua! B Ccawen. This untxpeeted luis, in add"dun to licknefs in my fami $y$, and We expence of having iny daughtors raget leg cut off dbove the knee (wheh was occalined by a fal), bruceht me in debt 3001 .

Mis. Pnkney being dead, I krew of no perfon living tiat could authenrecate the fory the had told me; and, as I w suad od an the ways of court, If faw mo probabilty of gaian accels to the thal ear, or has majefty's be lot of whit I had been told concerning my viath.

Dicasiul of being arrefied, Ileft the kngdenin in Ausplt 1764 : and, hang ordered the p:mipt patt of mufuper-anmution-pention for the lupprof of my wife and fanily durng my abrence, f Coiled woth Copram Rutheen, in the Gredatompe, ro the meonema. nesn; and here it was that 1 hod the hapanets to be known to Lond Whalhan Goidon, who was gurey to ju:n has regunent at Minc.edo

In June 1765 , I was put on thore at Matfeiles, being feized with the furvy to a violent degree; but, by the bleffing of God, and the benefit of that fine ctimate, I was perfectly refiored to heald in lefs than fick weeks; when Irectived a letter from Captain Ruthven, inclofing a recommendation of me to his Excellency Colonel T. at Minorea.

I took an opportunity of failing for that ifland, and waited on Col. Townfend, who received me with great friendthip. I remained there fix weeks, during which time 1 was conflant $y$ at his Excellency's table; but no employment offered that it was in his power to difpofe of.

1 had (in the confidence of friendship) acquainted feveral offecers in the army and navy with the account I had received from Mrs. Pinkney; and they were all of opinion, I hould cn deavour to get it reprefented to forte of the royal family.

Some genilemen of the Lodge at Gibraltar, knowing my ditteis, fent me 2ol. to Minorca; and on the fame day I reccived a letter from Mr. Edward M. at Marfeilles, with an order ro draw on him for rol. Thus being enabled to undertake a journey through France, I refolved to return to England, and try to get my cafe laid le. fore the Duke of Cumberland.

1 failed from Minorca on the fitit of October, and landed two days after at Toulon; whence I went through Marfeilles ro Nifmes, in Languedoc, to wait on Capt. Ruthven, and my good friend Mr. M. Captaiu R. ga: a letter to Admiral Keppel, requeftag his alfiftance for my outainiug the 230 . due to me for having taught the mathematics on-board the Vanguard: and, after flaying three days at Nifmes, I tet out for Paris.

When I entered thic capitai of Frapee, I had only two lovis-d'ors left, and a fmall bill, whech Mr. M. had infilted camy taking.

Soon after $i$ came to Paris, I had the honcur of an invitation to braktaft with Lord Wm. G. at l'Hote! Deltragne. His lordíhip, knowing how much I was difrelled, beggud (wih greatef politenefs) that I would give hun leave to prefent me with sool.; alfuring me that he fhowht rective as thuch pleafure in beflowing it as is evas poffible for me to enjoy in the poffetion,

My furwrize at this inflant could only be exceeded by my gratitude to this generotts yung nobleman.

After faying five days at Paris, I went by the route of Lifle to Dunkirk, and theace to Casai, where I arained on the gth of November, and was informed (to my gieat grief and difappointment) that the Duke of Cumberland was dead.

I emhanked the next day for Dover; on the $7^{\text {th }} \mathrm{g} t$ to Londor, and had the happintfs to dricharge 1501 . of my debt. I removed my family from Plymouth to the apartment is SomerfetHoufe where my mother had refided near forty years; and at her deceafe it wai continued to the by an order from the late Duke of Devonfinire.

The next year ( 1766 ) I was honoured with the nutice and friendhip of feverai pe-fors of diftinetion, who endeavour"d to convey the knowledge of my mistortune to the Proncels Dowager of Wa 'es and Princefs Amelia; bu: it did not meet with fuccefs. In Apri), 1767, General O. (wholad known we tor fevera! years) acquainted Lond Il. with my futuation: and that nobleman, with the alfitance of Mr. W. lain my mother's declaration before the king.

His Majefly read it; feemed much concerned, and commanded that an cn quiry thou'd be inacte of my ch racter fir mi Lord C. and Sir E. W. who had known mefrom my infancy. The acrount they gave of me was fo fatidactory to the king, that he was gracioulty pleafed to ordar me a penfico of 1001 . a year, from his privy purfe, May 7, 1767.

The next morning I received the followin lettur trom Lord H
"Sir, 1 faw Gcuernl $O$. laft night, and $2 m$ happy to find that we have not, beon unfuccershat in our a tempt to ferve you, and bope it will be an earneft to thething better. Ny triend Mi. W. had the h.ippitefs to lay your cafe hefurea King poldefled of every virtue that can ado at a Crown. Don't call on me to-mortow; for I aur going to Chathan, wit" the Duke of Ghoucetter; iny ollet tine, I fiadi be harpy to fee a man protieffed of fo fair a character, which I value beyond every thand m this hife.

Your friend and humble fervant, Friduy nlornung
H_—."

I had alio the honnur of c ngiavila tory letters from he Duke, f E Athiont, Lord Vilcoant Tuwnherd Ef nerid Oughton, and many of ny finme.

1．C．Silii Italici Punicerum Lib，i XVII． ravictate leftionis et perpotuá a．lnotatione ilhnfrati à Genac．Alex．Ruperti，gam． Stat，reiaone．Votamin pimum，cui prue faties e／z Chr．Gettl．Huyne．Guet－ tingx，1／9\％

SILIUS I PALICUS was difcovered a）by Pageio in an old tower of the ahbey of St．（Ga！， 20 mi＇es from Con－ fla ce，during the fitting of the Coun－ cit there， 1415 ．together with the four frir bouks of Valerius Fiaccus＇Argo－ nautics，Quintilian＇s lnttitutes，and Afconins Pedianu＇commentary on eigin of Cicero＇．Orati ns．The origi－ nal ws is fuce loft．It was frift pub－ lithed at Kune．1471，1474，and tuice in 1481；at P．rin．，1481；again by Masus at V．ice 1483，1492，1493； by Avartims Hobiootenus，Leiplack， 1504；at Pais， 1512 ，with illu？rations and fion orher MSS；at Luons，by Peretr， 1914 ；by Nie nder，for the Tuntz，ists，very incurrecीlv：at Etif， 1522 ；by Afulanus for Alduc， 1523 ，wh the athen of 84 lines at the becin：ing fire eiphth bock，from a Preneh Ms．Cerrio correqed it from an antiert Mo．ar Cologne（wating haf he 16 th and ahio，fince lof，but in wher refeents $n$ arle agreeing with t．e orivinal MS．）in Emendal．©f An－ diq．V．rai．Auwctp， 1576 ，and Paris， 1583．Sun；：e did Morius form the Game Ms on ti Norvan：q LeEton．Ep． 14．Hiancf．1584，8co；and Henfias， itr lins Crotiondia Siana，of which Leffblue ctanns tay too much；and in an edtorn at Leyden，1600，Ant－ werp，1618，12и：\％．Dan！g，a ci－ non of Tumay，publ fhed a new edi－ tion， $1615^{*}$ ，mirefom rinted cepies tia．MSS．Banhius publifined sorte－ tw of him in his Adve faria，Fiancf． $16: 4$ ，fo in，and a rew eduion from a Mis at Quen＇s，C．llege，Oxfordt； and Goonolus iliufrated him in his Oiferwalous．The next edirors were Eapheiengius， $\mathbf{1 6 : 1 ;}$ Cellarius，at Leapfik，il．95；Diakenborch，at U－ t＇celr，Iクロー，\＆t… This laft wis aepub－ Jithed by Schnnd，Milan．1775．There was an coten at Dux Ponts， 1784 ， 8：0．The latt edition was by Lefebued de Villeb，une，Fo，is，1781，800；and in

[^4]3 volumes 12 mo ，with a French tranf－ Lation；again by Ernefti，Leipf 1791． Other editions are，Paris，1508， 4 to ； Leyden，1514，8．0；Bafi＇， 1522 and 1543，and Paris，1331，Geneva， 1607 ， with the titles of Bufchius to each book；Venice，1523，8vo；Lyons， 1547，1551，1578，1598，1603，1614， 12 mo ；Antwerp，1566，1568，1601， 12mo；Amfitatam，1620，1627，1631， 12 mu ；Milan，with an Italian tranfla－ tion by Buzio， 1765,3 volumes 4 to ； an Englim tranfation and continuation， by Sir Thomas Rofs，keeper of the King＇s librarv， 1656 and 1672 ，folio． Drakenborci＇s edition is the moft criti－ cal，as coming from the fcheol of Bur－ man；of whom，however，he falls very fhort：Ernefti＇s better illuftrates the poem；the profent edition was half prinied hefore the editor received the other．Diakenborch＇s text is here fol－ lowed．The four MSS．cited are，the Cologne，Oxford，Du Puy，and a fourth be＇onging a Tellier，written in Italy， 1413－1417，on paper，but incomplete， and the editions the three Roman， the Parifian，Milanefe，and Lienefe， 1514 Ruperti began his in 1788 ，for which he is handfomely commended by his mafter Heyne；and thouch he heard．：791，of Ernefli＇s intention to give an edition of Silius，he did not give up his defign．This fift volume， of 728 pages，ends with the VIIIth book．We could have wifhed it had been printed on fairer and more fub－ ffantial paper．The late elegant edi－ tion，printed in two volumes 12 mo ，at London，1792，under the care of Mr． Heber，was nt $k n$ wa to M．Ruperti．

Lef bore reflored to the Vlth book a number of lines which．he found in a MS．in the K．ne＇s libary，with which Petrarch eoncluded his Afilica．B fides the MS．found at Si ．Gall，there were foon tound other MSS of Silins．The firf printed cops at Rome，1471，was fiom a MS．belonging to Andrew bi－ fop of Aleria；or，rather，it was re－ vifed by lim from a tranicript of the origina！MS．which is now loft．Mo－ dius intended an edition－illultrated by patallel pafiages from Homer and Vir－ gi，which Drakinhorch has in part fupplied，and alfo from Lucan and Sta－ tius．but not to the extert he might have done from Livy．Dauff was fitter to write commentaries on authors than to give a correct text；and Dar－ then＇judgement was fo dif rdered，that be fancied，fore too years，that his head was made of glafs. Cellarius, availing himfelf of the notes of Heinfius and Gronovius, and adding hiftorical and geographical ones in their proper places, has made a hetter edition than Drakenborch, who followed him, and who had the affifance of collations from the Ox ford and Du Puy MSS, the marginal notes of Scaliger, and the labours of Heinfius' fon, which were left unfinifhed at his death.

Lefebure prefers the fubject of Silius to that of Virgil, and even of Homer, as keeping clofer to hiforical trath. We cannot, however, think that he has been fo happy in his imitation of that poet, whom he profelfed to hold in fuch veneration: but that he rather abounds too much in the conceits and affested ftyle of his contemporaries, Lucan and Statius, than in the eloquence of Cicero, whom he fudied. Some good frictures on this poet may be feen in our vol. XLII. p. 200212; and a vindication of him from the contenptuous cenfure of Scaliger. In the predictive fketch of Roman hiftory, which he puts into the mouth of Jupiter, III. 585 and 629 , he pays extravagant compliments to Domitian, and gives new facis, or confirms fome Aightly touched by hiftorians of that emperor.

Among words peculiar to Silius may be noted flameat, for inflames, I. 55 ; frangere equum, to break a horfe, 262. The mode of guiding horfes more by the fivitch than the bridle practifed by the prefont Arabs* is repeatedly fad of the Africans, I. 215 , Il. 64 , IlI. 293, XVI. 200.

The fecond volume of Wyttenbach's Plutarch, buth in quarto and octavo, has jult made its appearance from the Ciarendon prefs (fee our vol. LXV. p. 592-595). It contains eighteen eflays, begenning with the adts of heroic women, and ending with the treatife on parental affection. See the lift p. 594.
2. A Sermon preached at Uppingham, before the Rutand Yeomunry Cavaly, ufter the Confecration of tosir cioous, on Thurflay, October 29, 795, by the Rev. R. hert Blyth, Camplain to the Corps. Pibibliate, together quith the Pravers ufe.l at tbe confecration, at the Riciefit of tbe Cerps.
THE reverend willer foars above

[^5]the comprehenfion of ordinary capacities, but, we doubt not, was fufficiently comprehended by the corps who requefted him to publifh what he faid to them; which he has done "exaelly as it was delivered in their hearing, with on'v one fentence more, which efcaped him in the pulpit;" and it has already gone through two editions. Ever atcentive to the intereft of the county of Rutland, the chapldin ftept forward, on the das of nomination of a candidate to reprefeat it in parliament, with " a fpeech at the caftle at $\mathrm{O}_{\mathrm{d}} \mathrm{k}$ ham, a curreCt copy, wi h reaf, ns for its publication at this time," and an advertifement intended for the Cam bridge Chronicle, Sept. 12. We are equally at a lofs to comprehend Mr. B's wit. The publication of this fpeech, however, produced " a letter to him," which, being fet at the low price of one penny, though printed at the fame piefs, has outfold, by two editions, the fpeech, which, like the fermon, could not be afforded for lefs than iwelre pence.
3. A Sermon preacked at Worthip-freet, Shoreditch, Octoher 18, 1795, being a fincere Trilute of Refpect to the Memorics of the Rev. Samuel Stennetr, D. D. the Rev. Andrew Kippis, D. D. F. R. S. A S. ant the Rcu. Rice Harris, D. D. To wbicb are profwed, a few Particalars of their Lives ant IFritings. By John Evans, M. A.
WE have alıeady noticed Mr. E's "Sketch of the feveral Denominations into which the Chriflian World is divided," &c. of which a fecond edition, "with confiderable addition.," is juft put into our hands. In the fame fpirit of candour he pavs a "plain and fincere tribute of refpect to the memory of three good men, with whom he had the honour of being acquainted, and from the two firlt of whom he experienced verv confiderable acts of kindnefs." He laments the great recent mortality among minifers, "in an age marked, perhaps bejond all others, for lonfenefs of epinion, principle, and eccentricity of opimion" (p. 16); and. when we confider the temper, character, and talents, of thofe who futvive, we join in the lamentation, and cry cut with the writer, whofe words he has taken for his text, "Help, Lord, for the godly man ce:sfeti, for the feithfel fail from among the children of mon," Plalm xit. 1.
4. Bivoratsinat Sketches of eminent Pefons, *eiduje Potraits form Part of the Duke of Dorf t's Guiection at Knole; with a birief Dofiription of the Place: embcliffect with a front and Eaft Ficio of K node.
THEs is a good fpecimen of the prefent fcience of book-making, fiom which the reader can learn oothing new, or that cou'd not be olitained fiom every Hiftory of England, or prefumed to be known by every perfon at all acquainted with the hillory of his own country. The lives of Archbifoop Whitgift, Thomas Sackville Earl of Darfet, Rohe:t Cecil Earl of Saliburs, Sir Fiancis Drake. Don John of AurEria, William Cacil Lord Burleigh, Fohert Dudley Eari of Leicefter, Archbihops Bancrefr and Cranmer, Admiral 3 ake, Sir Francis Wallingham, Charles Howard Earl of Notringham, Altxander Farnele, Henry and Char'es Dukes of Guife, Bimop Fifter, I hn Dudley Dike of Northamber!anḱ, Georze Ciiitoud Earl of Camberland, Alphonto Duke dvalos, Marquis of G:allo. Frier Bacon, BiBuop Gavincer, Sir james Wilford, Ehe. Thomas Egraton Baron of El3efinere, 1. Crombell Earl of Elfex, Thomas Howaid Duke of Nofolk, Themas Howard earl of Suffolk, Kitery Howard Earl of Northampton, Thomas Ratcliff Ear! of Suffex, Charlos and Yohn Dukes of Bourbon, Wiliam frr? Prance of Orange, Sir W'iliam Mildmay. Sir Chritiopher Hatom, Eanry Fitz Aian Liari of Arundel, Sir Thomas More, Cardinal Wolfey, Sir John Nohis, Sir Whian Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, have all been writxen ar larye, or materia's for them are in cuntemporary hiftorians. No new bacts, from manationt papers in thas noble lowie, are given; nor are we favoured with the leat defcription of the 3.) portraite, by Holbeia or his fchokars, which are all atfembled in one room near 90 fect lung. We cannor help thasking but a decription of the houic and its contents, by a fcientific hand, with c pees of the molt interefing or fuch as had never yet becn ingraved, wouk have betn a more agiceable prefent to dhe tra elict, the virtaon, and the antiquary. Buthere, perhaps, the pubifther may tay, "ith 'Terence's odd man, Mens faratu eft. Jed deffil crumena. We aniver, at leaft aride the experiment which ptan would enfure mont puichaters. This bow was firf intented for the ufe of the noble poiftifor and his friends.
5. The Amcrican Indian; or, Virtues of Nature, a Plav, in TVirec ARTs, witb Nites, fontlad on an Indian Tulc. By James Bacon.
THE foumiation of this tragedy is intituled "Ouâ'li; or, the Virtues of Nature, an Indan Tale, in Four Cantos, by Philenia" [Mrs. Morton, a lacty of Bofton in New England]; the fable of which is taken from Mr. Carer's Mufum, and thus given in the Montaly Review for Septen.ber, 1793: "Cerario, rambling in hopelefs exile va the banks of the Maffifippi, is alarmed by a piercing fhrick, and efpies a beauteous captive, on her knees, imploring life of a tall Muron, whote arm is up. lifeed to deffrow her. He immediatcly Gres at and kills the Huron, thus delivering the captive Azâkia. She, having never till now feen an European, nor heard the report of fire-arms, addreffes her deliverer as a god. He, in return for her deliverance, ales the reward of love; is refufed, but allows Azâkia to conduct him to her home, where he is introduced to her hutband Ouabi, who promifes to cherifh and defend him as a brother. Colario follows Ouabi to the war, and, on being wounded in battin, is carried back to the hofpitable refolence of the chef, and fubmitted to the caic of the beautiful Azâkia.
"Azatia's land the chernic juice applies, Live conftant aid the ftrength'ning food prepares,
Her phintive voice beguiles bis clofing eyer, And footios his flumbers with unceafing prazero.
"之inow winds Lis ringlets round her dufky hand, [boaft;
And views the contraft with enamour'd Now orer his features bends with accents bland, [lott.'
Till cvery fwimming fenfe in wonder's A mutual pation is conkinded. Celaro attempts io pufuade Azâkia to be fathets to her hutand, but the, without difguifugg her liwe for the En" ropean, nobly rejects his bafe prop "al. Avathed and overwhelmed by the purity of favage virtue, Celario forms a refolution of quituing his afylum; but Olâbi, ceurning, emp'oys himett, at the dol:crtation of his taichful Azâkia, to tuoth the anguith of his minu, and to uisat him fivm ine intention, ITa-ving fecured to his wife the fociety of Celario, Ouâbi again goes out to battle, and is wounded and taken prifoner by the Hurons. Tidings being brought of this difaftrous event by a bleeding fagitive, Celario haftens to revenge the fuppofer death of the chief, Accompanied by a band of valiant Mlineis, he atacks and dete ts the eneme, and dif. covers Ouâbi furrounded by the Harons, who wre employ ed in toituring him; while he, defing his tormentoms, was linging the Death Song. Cetario delis rs his duke friend, artfes his wounds, and condu?s him to his dwelling, and to his Azdria. Ola i, ove, whelmed with atmitation at the valour of C-hario, and punetrated with gratitule for the deliverance which both his wife and himfeif had experienced at his hand, grasin sthe pation which he knew Celario had conceived for Azakia by eftuning her to him, while he hmee'f weds the ycuthful Zifina. Scarcely, however, wele the nuptial rites folemnezed, than the generous and noble Ouaji expircs, anti. cipating the enjorment of realms in which epodike valour will be rewarded, and appoincing Celario to fuftain his place among the Illinois."

Mr. B. who appears to be a fivdent of Lincoln's Inn, with a good ceal of leifure ti:ne, has prefersua the fimpli-. city and !entiments of the poem, and, having prefented h's fiece to the ading manager of Drury-iane theatre, receind for anfwer, tha: "it couid not be produced whth idran'ase to the theare." He difclaims all moive of refontarnt in publifhing it; for, "with Belcour the Wert indian, he can truly fay, 'If 1 knew that man on carth w!o shought more humbly of me than I do of mylelf, I would take up his opinion and to:ego m: own.' His modettylias been rewarted by the patronage of the Marchionef Townthend, and a handfone fitt of fubleriburs.
6. The Altentures of Telemachus, tranfLatelf fiom the french, with Noes, and the Life of $M$ de Fenelon, by the Author of the Dilertation on the Parian cibosnicle [the Kev. Mr. Robeatfon.]
"THE buris of this edition of Tclemachus is the tronftion of Litutebuy and Boyer. As thar tramlation was become farce, it was propoted to reprime it with fone hight oecahonat correctuons. But the editor from perceived a newtity for improvins th:e ityle in alinoft every tire; the greatef? par: of it is therolore antw tramhation, for which his predecefors are not accontable. In the courte of these emendations, he has endeavoured to $3 \times n i 2$ all mean snd valgar phrafes on the ore hand, mald all iantaftic embellumornts on the other. it has beon his comftant aim to exprefs the fer imencs of the athor in clear, eafy, natural, maffected, language, or with that fimplichy which st the ereateft benty of foryle. Up in this principia the has funetimes taken the 1 hoity to omit a fuperfluw epobet, to contract a buxzriant priod, and to divent all inrage of fome frevolons decoration. If he has mot always facceeded, or done juftice to the original, let it be confudered that he migy undertonk to improve an old trandations as the pronter was procteding in his worma and hat it is no eafy tafk to convert negligence and vulguity into grace and dignity."

Such is the Editur's preface to thefe two fuall whene; we that only adi, that the woik bears the marks of that elegance, tafte, and learoing, for which the tranfitur, or the annctaior, is emasnencly catinguilhed.
7. Far, fife Rexuine 1, a Pom, in Fonr buös Jy frims stron. A new Elition, suits Fots of quatious Ahtbors. By Charles Duniter, M. A.
" $T$, at the Paradife Regained has heon confidently under-ated iny the worde. feems of lite in be an optrion amort generdly admited. But nerhaps we fath fate the fact more corredtly if we fay the it has heen neglectel, rather than andotrated; that it has been more buknowa than not admired. This is fo mach the cafe, that I ajprenend fome of the watae! faresyrits of the Paadifat Lof hav: nev.r hanourd the puem with a perufis. or only with a cafual and areat unfore onta unler a cinad of prejudices agraint it. A cuilic, whofe tafte, judzemer', and candour, tre umpueflumed, has given it ahtolutely no place at all among the wotks of it autur. ' if I might venture to placa of pietic excellowice, fays Di. Jormh Warton, 'it thentd be permups in the fulowing order, Parablife Lor, Conlus, Sment Agmilles, Lachdas, L'Allegro, il joutaroin. 1 hou lowe hat Fendfe Regained liphet wachatally sut of tho leyt. Indend whathe tate Mr. Waten hat had of the Comme, ido mot hefitate to apply to $\mathrm{t}:=$

Without controverime dimentaion, to which however we mowid for herne knuwlage valdene gras: Ab ged:o
the ingenious editor for giving us fo defirable a publication.

Though of late ycars a growing attention feems to have been paid to Milton's peetical works in general, yet the Paradife Regained has unaccountably been much neglected. Bp. Newron, thaugh not in fome refpects well qualified for an editor of Milton, has taken great pains, and difplayed confiderable merit, in his annotations on Paradife Loft. His edition of the Comus, Lycidas, Allegro, and Penferofo, is alfo well executed, and con amore. His notes on the Paradife Regained and Samfon Agoniftes are, however, haftily and impenfestly put together; and the fecimen which Mr. Dunfter has here given of his commentatorial talents on the former poom induces us to wifh that he wouid turn his attention in a fimilar manner to the later. His claffical knowledge will there be eminently ferviceable to him; that appears to be his forte rather than the black lettir reading, in which he can pretend to no rivalry with Mr Warton. That gert'eman's edition of the Juvenilia is, however, rather too philological, contains too minute an in. veftigation of words, to pleafe the generality of readers. His ityle of notes, and that of Bp. Newton's, though the editor inclines more to the maverer of the latter, ate in the prefent work judiciouny blended. Or Newton's notes Mr. D. has inferted a confiderabic part; fome he has entirtly omited; and curtailed others. He has availed himfelf likewife of the jabours of different authers; but the far greater part of the performance is his own. He has likewife prefixed argumen's to the different books, of which they were befure deflitute; and, at the conclution of them, takes a retrof pective view of their pecular beauties.

An editor is commonly prepoffefed in favour of the author on whom he comments, and, if we will give fume litte alowance for that netural partiality (which arifes probably from habits of intimact) to our pefent edi ter, if we will confider him a an ad. vocate rather than a ju:ge, we foll commonly find the evtrone which he fuins up in faveur of h's clent juticious and fatisfactury. The notes deferve the lame comnendation : bur, in fome mitancts, they worn'd fater sio injure by a lit le comptetion, whach we would acomatend to har. Duntats confideration in cale of a fecond edition. To felect from thefe notes fo as to give an adequate idea of the performance, unlefs we exceeded our limits, is no eafy takk. It is fufficient to fay that the claffical reader will be more particularly gratified; that the author in various places difplays a confiderable degree of taite and learning; and the latter pofibly no where more con. fpicuoufly than in a geographical note concerning the mountain unto which the devil is fuppofed to have carried our Saviour, and in fome others which foliow connected with the fame fubjuct (B. iii. 179, &cc.).

A good map of the places mentioned in Paradife Regained, taken chiefly from the Orbis Vetelibus notus of M . d'Anville, is prefixed.
8. Robin Hool: a Collection of all the ans tient Pocms, Songs, and Buthals, now extant, relative to that clebrated English Outhazu. To which are prefixed, Hifforical Sinecilotes of bis Life. In Two Volumes.
WHETHER the editor will rank our opin ons among the cenfurts of thofe whom he defcribes by an epithet too grofs for us to cepy, we neither know nor care; but libauld editors deftrve fuch cenforc. Whatever merit there majy be in the balla's of Robin Hood, and we are willing to afcribe as much to them as the innocent amufements of our infant years, and partiality to the heroes of old England, whether real or fietitious, demand; there tales will rank no higher in nur eftimation than the legends of Jack Hickathrift, Guy carl of Warwick, and many others who were the talk of the time, with very little foundation in true hif. tory. That there were fome famous deer-ftealers in every foreft, in cuery period of hiftorv, is ealfly conceived; and who, that refects on the horrid feverity of the foreft laws, could doubt that every expectient was tied by the poor man to get a fice of the rich man's venifon with impunity? But that Robin Hood was of robie lineage, defeeneded from Fizonth, and had a clatm to an earldom, mufl be attefted by biter authotities than Dr. Stukeley's reverics, en which the piefent edion indeed relins very lutle; vet, defpifige a cecrivation in our Magaz:ne, vol. L.XIll. Y. 225 , propocs, as a more fubable c njestule, one from a pati-colunted bord, weroras a dipuife by this heio. Would is nut be as fair

: 796.$]$

Review of New Pubications.
to admit that it was a nick-name, or fabriquet, as much as tho of Little Fobn, Geo ge o'Green, frier Tuck, and mnumetable others, whofe names are recorded in plays and poems of the $16: \mathrm{h}$ century.
9. Pams en intarefing Events in the Reign of King Edward MII. שulaten in the Thar $1_{3: 2}$, fy Latrence M not. Witha Preface, Differtations, Notes, and a Glaywy.
A MS. in the Cotton library, mark. ed Galba EIX. miltaken for Chaurer, was dicovered by Mr. Tvrwhitt, "E!fay on the Language and Verfification of Chaucer,"IV.p. 67, n. 54, to have been writen by Laurence Minot, whom Mr. Warion, (Hittot; of Englifh Poetry, vol. 1II p. 103, n.) pronoun. ced to be contemoner with Chaucer. Bur, as the jateft cevent in this pece is the capture of Gaines caffle, 13512 , "he ma" be retarcied as a pott anterior not only to Chaucer, who, in 1352 , was but 24 years of age, and who had nor, fo far as we know, given any proofs of a poetical imagination, but alfo to Gower, who, though he furvired that writer, was probably his fenior by fome years, He cannot, at the fame time, be confidered as the firft of Englifh poets; fince, not to mention the Hermit of Hampole, he is clearly pofterior to Robert Manninger of Biune, whofe name-fake of Glouceffer, is in fact the Ennius of this numerous fam:l" (p. xi-xiii). It feems pretty clear from our author's dialeet and orthography that he was a native of one of the Northern counties, in fome monaftery whereof the MS, which contains his porms, along witis man others in the tame dialect, is corjeciened to have been written; and to which, at thic fame tione, it is not improbable that he himfeif belonged'" (ib.). The fubjeets of thefe poems are the wars of Edward III. they are prefaced by the editor with two introduciory differtations on that king's Scottilh wars, and on tiis title to the crown of France; and are illufirated by larg extracls from Harleian MSS. from Froufart and other hiftorians, &c. and with a gloffary. This little work thay be efteemed a grod addition to our national hiftory and poetry.
20. The bumble Reprefentation of Stevens

Totion, Citizen and Mercer of London, to Gent. Mag. Fanuary, 1:g6.
the Right Hunourable the Lord Mayo, the Honouratle the Alddoman, and the Gentleren of the Common Council, of the City of London, Fune 1795.
MR. T. in 176 S , connived a plan for carrsing off water fiom rellars by a new conftruction of fewers. barrelled at the bottom, in the nature of a reverje arch, to be carried into execution in B:Hopfiate parifh, urder the fandtion of an aft of parliament to levy a rate for the parpofe. A memorial was piefibed to the Commiflionters of Sewe:s; but it feems tite idica was deemed not a new one, and therefore not carited into exscution : and Mr. T. after an expence of near 301 . in printug and Aatio ers' bills, &oc. has not "received the leat heral nutice on his fiete-hoaro thar he bas betn ma:ked by his fe low-citizens as a man worthy of panicular attertion for particular fervices readered them."

1r. Oxenii Dizx fretiare, five Latinis nerfibus bexametris ${ }^{\text {an }}$ perimatris Doforitao, qua fere publica quadque Ox.mii Monementa
 Acad microm Te's. varia 'fuverth: s Acultemica per Ifin mavigandi atio: Lewas qurecunque Oxom five in Oppi.to jive in Lhiverithate perforugant cas'o fplendare avime que almiatione pericliunt stuture M. Aubry, Riziorices Pigiflore. O.. 1795.

THE author, who appears to be a French emigıant who has tound protection and patronage here, and is a teacher of the French language, exprebis his gracitude the Englifh by a minute defcription of Oxford, with its Univerfiny and environ, not fo much for the bentit of frangers as of thofe who are asquainted with thele fpors. He his not omitted the emperors' hads round the theare gand, which he fuppofes were fot there $t$, fcare idle boys away. He pays due compliments to fever it eminent prei..te: and others, his contemporaties, and to Meffis. Pitt and Burke, whom, in an Englijl note ('or all the notes ane in that language), he nyles "wonderful men for their cloqutace, and love of their country;" and " the humanity, kindncfies, and attention, of the matquis and marchiont's of Buckingh m towards 700 unfortunate French clergymen in the king's houfe at Win. cliefier.". For a Copecimen talie the concluding lines:
"Galus

* Gallis ero, atroci patriain itable coa'lus, [mo.
IIen! fugere atque animo du"ciz queywe
Anglica me duxit flax in lior fidus,
Et Rella Gyonium duxit antica nagzis;
Anglornm de moremanus non was benigna Hic fovet exisi volnestarerba met.
Qud mirumergo Anglo í patazapoblert?

12. Regal Nigbes confacnt tuitit Nuaza! Li-
 Oxf, d. on Sundiv', func :1: to woith is fubjuined ar Alppenflx contaming Evtwas from the pue ers, Ece prefente.. to the Tioule of Cmmor, by $\mathrm{N}^{\prime}$. Secratary Dandas, in I 794, with a fow flaialı Olncrations. By W. H. Haxk ws, - M. Pe Pebon late of Wells, ard brias $f$ Whatecharchs, Dorici.
MR. H. fiom Preverbs, xxiv. 2t, with that fpirit whech eught io infpite every inember of a Erisih Univertite, fands forth in vind cation, we do not fay of the desine bur, of the criginal eftib imment of monaiche, which has obtaine! from the ereation.
"Gid fortid that the pulpit fhonk be proftumed to party putpotes; I fand nut here an zūvocate for partacusar meafures, of for muthular men. I only wifh to enforce the great unted dutie of to alaliy to the crown and ficulty to the comftitution. I honow that indopentence whoh has elevated a fteady eyc is the ganer.. 1 g.ad. I reverence that difintereftednefs which is the foul of pinciple. I hoh in high efteem that opermel of fentiment and tpeech Which is equaty unroforved in centure, ail: -nerous in approbalinn. In fhore, I remate the nerverener, 1 aprland the vigilance, of Opp fifion But lot it be ro$\mathrm{m} \mathrm{m}, \mathrm{red}$, all this while. that power is always idious; and that offices of hoonur and arolit re "e rare meompunte w th , atr of $f$. han ftultai insectave or Horid declaniton ampliee it. I dth, 1.owever, vediy : 0 a know, bige fone intperfection, fome evit, and, nos : docl ve the whe of a mase pophr word, chis Erevance, to exilt amo g us, anm of $10-$ vea.l deparmenis, sud in mo re relpasits than oat. if contend wniy thet, of whetever kind, c: Hutw-many-foescr me we:- moly be, wo hate to clawhe of a romady from Rate-eragitur, who frofut whed the marmutes of the body-wnitac. Whts they ar Satrion fis vial. The wrih if fo Dy our \& refathoes it the latere end if the sand it is rot withmut a firmge misture uf Foncermatd aiknifiment, relentu:ataf, and apprchetifoin, that we be an at werr pofPerity afficioing to be waik and weller tian thefe whes inive 1 in the rem. If hat of if maney invaidulu vilyativas" (1, 2j-5).

At the clue of the aprendix $\mathbb{M} \mathbf{r}$. IL. divide the malwonteris inrs the ee cialtes; cholie who cannot lofe. but may be eainers, by the downftil of chuch and fiate; that of plilofophers, or sifematis, who deal in no itical frecu'tions, and teliat on the prancipers of the Revciaion of 1688 ; and profent mifor, apu rapme at thoir legat cilyumitcationsy asd ate fo for eniy averle to poas chy as it is ubiu* soulable to thon uiva preteahons.
13. -in Aisume of the Infithtion of the Soritiv for the Mublifmint of a Litiraly Fund: the Thanfacious of the Cummatte for the - thptacution if the Subjortptious: Psoms on simmizerifolcs, & c. t'o Conjitutions of tioe 'cercty; alterd'tio only at the Delive of a General Aitcoing: ania aLi/t of Siberertars.
ItioủH dis lirle trae? is not ptblifined as an o jūt ffaie, we readily aflitt to hiog it fowazd to notice, in hopes of zanumbing it firtie to a very benevolent ad csochlent inftitu. t"a: whith is the more necentre bec:ufe a notiou ha heen circulatut, wiohO*t an: foundation, :hat ibe S cim wes difiolred (fecp \& ) . L. appar, from thi accolint of thir prowerfiggt, riat they are, on the contrat", lert refip Elaby petranz:d; aod are ampg goxi contisully by ruleving inflecol auhters of merit, as far as the profent ex:こui of their fuuds will permit. Their lalt anmuat fubtorption amounted to Iooi. which, rocugh imall compared with what night be vititied, is pronf eroums thet whe Suciou fitbfors, and is flicty to continte us azto of lenevo$\operatorname{lon}$ - (S.e p. (3)

 Jolas Hurn ins ivishom.
 Pariainanty hreis hut to le thons are. $j$ ing. We wion, however, the cale of 1). Wr. Stuater': mation bere a!?a platied, and liane compe hot cou tor deto thrit to wham le bequerthed it, uahamitumaly enamph in reppes to many who conablued to in, formation.

 antion -大...! ?

Wie lant alrady revewed Mr. Jowle ore's accuune of the ejry of L che field, vol. LXV. p, 687, and can fpeak in the fome terms of the prefent work; which, confidered as a guide to frangers, has forie morit; but we expest a fuller account fiom the hiflorian of the county. It is remakable that Liclificl cathedral was the firft that was feized by the parliamenarian army ; and was deffined to tutal deflrugion. Perhaps too it wa; the firfe that was made a garriton by the rovaift: Thereftoistion of it by bifhop Hacket was as fronal as the havock it had fulained. Bre it is a littie remarkable that the nembers of it, who could not afford t') ketp the lead on the roof, fhould conerive to raife soool. fir the late reFilis and alterations. But fuch is the force of futhion. Among the inudern monuments are tho'e to Mr. Addifon and his fath re, dean of this church, Lady Mary Wortey Montague, Dr. Jobnton, and Mr. Garrick. In the Librarv MIr. J: has omitted tu notice tle fimeus pufpel of Se. Chad, the gicateft cuisiolity of the place.
16. [ALetter] to William Witherforee, Ef? MP. Nereber of the Barih Socicty for the Encouragement of yon! Surant; ;at t comwentad to the Perigual of cuary Pelfon wobs kecps a Sovart.
IMPELLEED by that pililanthropy which is the rage of the prefent dav, and which mav, in many inttanees, do as much miclitef as the abfurd and equaliy famionat,! doctrine of the rights of men, M2r. W. has (in the opition of this writer) undertaken mole than he can pertorm. Thas fervants want roforming as much as their mafters is too maniteft : lut the relormation mult alway begia with the higher clatf s of fociety; and, whi'e fervants are multiplies for no purpofe, or made intirnmencal to the worft purpol-s, whe can w.aber that it hould he neceliaty to califor an act of pariament to procure an atrquare temedy, where the lenient methed of rewarte, and hororary badges, to work upon the prevailing paltions of human nature, fails? Such a remedy has been put in execution in regard to falfe and fiaitious charaches. How they inpufe on credulity may be teen in this pamphtet; which leads its author to cxhort his readers never to take a written charaster; to enquire the charalar of the perfon to whom they are tifered ; and to bring the fervant andi mafter or wiftefs face to face: and never to lifr on a montlis warning or wages. So much of family happinefs depends on fervante, that :tey ought to be pute under legal iegulations their wages frould be lower; and their characters more fxithfulls given. Ehe propofes to IVIr. W. to bring ia an act to fix the wages of fervan: at a lower ftandard; thempower jufices to fine miblence or aduc ; and to extend the penalty for fulfe character; to 1001.
19. The H pary of Datiomy, on inlant K'mgdun of A rica : compled fromt authentic Me moire, with an Intiod cfion and Notes. By Archuinald Dalzel, fomerly Gonernor as Whydah, and nowv at Cape-coift Canle.
THOSE who wifh for information refoecing the wilds of the interior part of Africa, and that tradt of country which reaches from the Mediterranean fea to Mount Atlas, firlt difcovered by the Portuguef, whole object was folely commerce, may find in theic Nemors a fair ascount of the chatabler, manner, and defpotifm, of a puope litic known in Europe. Governot D. had the adsartige of 30 yeare oblervation, ? of whici he reffded in Guine.:, and 4 at Whadah; the very intelligent NTr. Robert Norric, of Liveppool, 88 yars in Africa, coinmunicared many curious aod interating facis; and his Hitory of Aladee, and Journey to Abura, $17 \%$, are here re-printal.. & well-ratien pretone ellablifhe the crenit of the work: the introduction $c$ reains an accruane of the fruitful foit and p"ocuctions of Dahony. We have an account of the redigion, government, ard manerer, of the Dahomans. Thuse i- knowa or faid of the firt ; the feomd is the mef perfeet dicf orim that cxige, perliaps, on the fare of the earth; the hati are marked hy a mister of fernsity a d policeres. The comabat wanton proctice, if we may focaii it, of exrenmimating war in hafe regions, fems to have becn adoptal by wus zuncivilizeat neightrouis on the continent. If the Ipeech ofking Adalanzon to the pre. fint guvernu: ot Whydah dees not exculpate Europans from the horrid chaige of exciung war to get fiares, we defpair of convincing the advocotes fur the abolition of the flavetrade:
"I oumire the renfoning of the white men : lut, with all their fenfe, it doas nes appear that they lave thorousthy fudied the nature of the blacks, whofe difprition difers as muib iften that of the whites as their colorr. The fame great Being formed bois; and, fiace it lath feemed convenient for tum to diflinguifa mankind by opporite cornslextims, it is a fair conchufion to prefume that tha re may be as great a difagreement in the guatites of their minds. There is, likewife, a remankable difference between the countries which we inhabit. You Englifhmen, for inftance, as I have been informed, are furrounded by the ocean, and by this fituation feem intended to h id commerce with the whole world, which you do by means of your hhips; while we Dahomans, being placed on a l-rge continent, and hemmed in amidit a varity of other people, of the fame complexion, but fpeaking different languages, ate obliged. by the iharpnefs of our fwads, to defend ourfelves from their incurfions, and punim the deprelations they make on ws. Such conduct in them is productive of inceffant wars. Your countiymen, therefore, who allege that we geto war for the purpofe of fupplying your thips with flaves, are grofly mitaken.
"You think you work a reform.tim, as youcall it, in the manners of the blacks; bur you ought to confider the diproportion hetwien the mignitude of the two comtries; and then you will hon be convinced of the difticulties that muft be furmounted, to change the fytem of fuch a valt country as this. We know you are a brave poople, and that you might bring over a great many of the blacks by the points of your hayonets; but, to effect thic, a great mayy mutt be put to death, and nomerous crueltizs mult be committed, which we do not find to have been the practice of the whites: hefrutes that, this would militate againit the very primciple which is profeffed hy thofe who wifh to bring ahout a reformation.
"In the n.me of my ancettors and myfelf I aver, that no Dahoman ever embarked in war merely for the fake of procuring wherewithal to purchafe yowr commodities. 1 , who have not been long mater of this country, have, without thinking of the market, killes many thonfands, and I fial kill nany thoufands more. When prlicy or juftice requires that men be put to deatif, neither filk, nor coral, roor brandy, nor cowies, can he acepted as fublitutos for the blood that ought to be fpilled for example fake: befides, if white men cherc to remain at home, ard molonger vifit this country for the f.une purpofe that ha:h ufually bu wight them hither, will back men c wafe to make wau? I anfwer, by no means; and if there be no mips to receive then captives, what will become of then: I anfiwer for yon, they whll he put to death. Perhaps you may atk, how will the blacks be fornifind with proce and powder? I reply by another ghetion: had be not clubs, and bows and arrows, before we knew white men! Did not you fee me make cuffon [amnall ceremeny] for Weehaigah, the third king of Dathomy : and did you not obferve, on the day fuch celemony was performing, that I carried a bow in my hand, and a quicer foll of arrows on my back? thefe were the emhlems of the times, when, with fuch weapons my brave anceftor fought and conquered all his neizhbours. God made war for all the world; and every kingdom, large or fmall, has pracifed it more or leff, though perthaps in a manner unlike, and upon different priviples. Did Weeb: insh ever fe! llaves? No; his prifoners u ere all killd to a man. What elfe could he have done with tiem? Was be to let them remain in his countrs, to cut the theoats of his fubjecte? This would have been wretched policy indeed; which had it been adopted, the Dationa n name would have long ago been extinguifhed, inftead of becoming, as it is at this day, the terror of furrounding nations. What hurts .me moft is, that fone of your people have maliciounly reprefented us in books, which never die, alleging that we fell our wives and children fur a few kens of brandy. No; we are hamefully belied; and x hope yeu will contradich, from my mouth, the icandalous fories that have been propagated; and tell pofterity that we have been abuifed. We do indeed fell to the white men a part of our prifoners, and we have a right to to do. Are not all prifoners at the difpofal of their captors ? and are we to blame if we fend delinguents to a far country ? I have been told you do the fame. If you want no more naves from us, why cannot goo be ingenuons, and tell the phan truth; faying, that the flaves rou have alrcaly purchafed are fufficient for the combly for which you bought them; or that the artifts, who uted to make fine thinge, are all dead, withous having taught any body to make more; hat for a p. reel of men with long heade, to fit dnwin angland, and frame laws find us, and rrotend to dictare how we are to live, of whom they know mothing, never having heen in a black man's country during the whole courle of their lives, is to me fomewhat extracrdinary. No doubt they mat have been biaffed by the repont of fome one who has had to do with us: whe, $f r$ wint of a due knowledge of the treatment of have, found that they died on his hands, and that his money was loft ; and, feeing others th.rive by the traffic, he, envious of their good lack, has vilfied both black and whete traders.
"You have feen mekill many men at the cuntms; and you have often ohferved delaunents at G:igwher, and others of my pinvinces, $1 \times \mathrm{c}$, ane? tent unto me. I ki) them; but so 1 ever mat on beirs paid for them ? Some heats I order to be placed at my dior r , others to be frewed about the market-place, that people may Aumble upon them when they leaft expe of fuch a firbt. Thic pives a grandeur to my cuftoms, far beyond the difplay of fine things which I buy; this makes my enemies fear me, and gives me fuch a name in the $B u / b *$. Befides, if I thould negle at t'is indifpenfable duty, would my anceftors fuffer me to live? would they not toouble me dyy and night, and fry that I font nobody to ferve them; that I was only fllcitous about my own name, and for getful of my anceftor ? White men are not acquainted with thefe circumftances; but now I tell you, that you may hear, and know, and inform your countrymen, why cuftoms are made, and will be made, as long as black men cou inue to poffers their own country: the few, that can be fpared from th:s riecefary celebration, we fell to the white $m \in n$; and happy, $n$, doubt, ate fuch, when they find themfelves on the path to Gugw ee, tu be difpofed of to the Europeans: We foil fill dink wuato $\dagger$, fay they to themfelves; zobite men will not k/l us ; and we may cien azo it punifoment ly frosing our nese maliens zoith fitelity."

How difingenuandy the aboltionzeal leads its profeflors to trear thufe who feem to differ fiom them, may be fepn by the little controverfy between Mr. Prefton and Mr. T. twards, at the end of the Monthly Review for Septemiser acd Ollover laft.
12. Guicciardini's Account of the antient Fieminh Sabosh of Painting; tranflatel from bis Difeription of tie Netherlands, palifm-- 1 , in li wev, at Antwerp, 1567 : witb a Prefian, by thic Tramplutor.
GUICCItRDINI'S account of the anticrt flemul fc!.ool, the only foure, for a! ne time, of our art and artifts, is the molt antient detail yot given; but, from the nature of bis work, is almull unknown to writers on painting, and cuntains many names and anecdres enknown to others. He afcribes only hillory to Mabuie; to whom, before he was born, Vertue gives fome of our royal portraite. Guicciardini has been mifled by Vifari in afcibing, the origin of oil-painting to Van Eyck, who, Mr. Rafpe hews, only inaproved it; the art being known long befure, and perthaps invented in the Buzan ine empire, where many farks of it remained in the ninth centure. This tranflation is not without its ule in bio-

[^6]graphs; hut, when we confider the fate of their works, during the late d firactions on the con inent, the very recollcation of their names is painful.
19. The great Sin of with-r-liling Con, an? the Duties of all Mer in Time; of Scarcaty; Two Difcueve, prearbed in the Chapal of the Afvan for Finale n phais, on Simentay the sth and 1 gto of Nuvern: er, - 450 Dy the Rev. Septumi Holfon, M. B. Rector of thrapton, Cbaplain of the Alylum. an! Chapiasiz in ordinary to the Prince of Wales.
THE author's view is to call off the minds of then from unavailing complaints, and difpititing apprehenfions, to the fetious confideration and earneft praclice of their refp-ctive duties; and thefe $t w$ ) fermons, from Proverbs xi. 26, are fold at a cheap price.
20. Medical Fafiss an:l Objenvations. Vo!' IF:

ARTICIE I. Obfervations on the Fivers ani Liylintery of Hot Climates; and on the U e of MI-rctirv inthole Difeajes. Ev Mir. W:liam Boag, Surgeon in the uervie of the Hon. Eaft in ina Comtany at Bumbens Communicaret in a Lettir to Wibliam Saunder:, AN.D. Felow of the College of Pbyicions, London, and Pbyktan to Guy's Hop:tal; and by hom io Dr. Sinmon.

The oberentions contained in this paper wru'd fuffer by an abnidgement. They appear to be the refult of extenfive expenience, and are highly detervine the aumetor of modica! resters, particularly of thate who are relident in hot climare.
11. An Accourt of tho fuccreforiat Tratmert of a Cale i: whitib the Erachtal Artery nuas diedied. By Whanos Adair, Elg. Surgron gcuer.at to the Garrifon of Cribraltar. Comszunicataci in a Letter to Dyerard Fome. Ejq. F.R.S.; and by bint oo Dr. Simmons.
111. An Accomat of the Efiefs of Or of Turpstine in a Cafc of interna! Hse morriag. Wy the farme.

The good effects of this fimpie re. medy were, in this cale, very frikiog. The patient, a man forty eight yens wit age, had repeatetily difcharged, bo flout, a large quantity of blects coagulated blood, without any appearance of forces. "His extremities were cold his pulfe, at the wrift, was hardly perceptuile; he had a hiccough, andileunca to be in a dying ifate." Ton days of vil or twientine, mised with a hate of the voik of an eag, and diluted with cinnamon-water, wote given evers fix foners. The dicharge of blood dimi. tihed after the firt dofe; the naxt day ic was thought fufficint to repeat it mone twice in :wentefour hoar, and, on the followirg da; it was catbeiv laid afide. But en the day the pationt, keing colive and feverifs, tonk an onenine medicine, which brought on the hamortage again, with ahnof as mexh violorece as at fift. It was immediatel: flopped, how:ver, by the oll of turpentine, given in the fame dole and form a hefore.
IV. A Caje of imserforated Anes. By the froms.
V. On, rations con the Patbology and Whodenf Treatmert of Cialculi in gemeral, bul wore farticularly of inticilimal Calculi; wish a Defirition anditemical Anaivis of the te:trimat Calcult of Forfes Fr itr Wiliom Guidfell, Surgron at Rutherhi tie fommangat in a Leser ohr. Wham Babiagton, Alothecary to Gus 'Horpital; wne by bim to Der Gimume.

The plan of the vaimetle paper Cuhioh is accoropand whet engraving of deferent forem ot irtetmal cal. culi) will be beft lemat firen the following p.fiase, which we cxtraw it m tice awthos' incrucuíuory letter whir. Lals nopter:
"1 have divided the paper into taw fuctions. Fa the fyll lana of the patiolsy and mode of teremer of chen' in zene. ral, but mua premenaly of meneral colcant; and onthe $f$ cond 1 gives achemian analf for of the intentema atcult of herfes. In the tater of tho fo hate, I mev, prhers, by fume be thourn comernber tor baving noted the maturals of corppointion, whote matheng mone cxiciay their pooPribon: : hu, as diftetent famee, clenically exmined, difir fmenthat in the ouantity of their confundent pincipl ", rheagh not in their forfine ghatres, b have been lefs anxios about criteal mi-matherf.-Ny or is wat vol ghe was, to have mate thefe whenvations the fubject of a Fepanate puldication, and to heve vequetiad J ave to inforite uto yom, ase amall, but Sincere, tethmony of the refpect andeftem rai trafon-, ath pantutarly your fiandly phe for it as wow if entalifhed reputation. I luerefore bog ketuto aval my1.! of your kend of ratumin tit to Lr. smarn to be saramed it he thonk prores, ${ }^{\text {a }}$ the "Meusal Facto and Obicrvatu:a.

Wise folloneg mbryations on the fpecies of ca'culur, which is the fulject of Mr. G' refearches, will, we have no doubt, be iniece?ng to many of our raders whoare not of the medical profefion; thofe who are, we mult refer, for much other curitus matter relative to the production, clemical properties, Eic. of thefe concteti ns. to the parer iffelf, which forms a cuntiderable part of the volume tre fore us.
"Natural Hifory informs us that calculi may be find in the forachis and itef-iniest, and in mas; and haurite in the human bolf.

 no wher then the fo mon 1 annactiss. Po preve this ane (1...!), let the quate ITr. I. wis's dembin! a : :'em,
n. पus.! ur matme e .a.enore (mata di a wherver, the fant... i. wi tie face wi a leer; whith, si bean lowizen, avoers conts, of winch the inmer is momert and ritafify is the onics; in ice mildle, the atde, is what a cation ime procery mator, Fiante, we whe line fubt mees $\gamma$.

$\because$ The icforman: whas concet, terej: in limator? thefe fu dutw ns to land ansmals, for tos ancimame met vith in fiftes. Thateine, ou chache this fuyject, I foal: chamer.en the whate? that bez ars are now heegthatly fromed 1: Amens quadraed we ma, beclion tre horie, ex, amon stme: : anamen timnai, or fied … whate: anmer infets, tise aforus yourne of near craytho anong the cionatewis whma, the concist and, late y manniad.

* "Rezura flene were firt nutived and Alab:en plyfuan, who He whed atout the elevenir century; but bucy wite ferlt acanateiy difonhed hy Gurcia, dil Besto, phof tan in the lomaute woroy of the Indies. They tock ther mame from the「effan word sanzcuer, whech jignfies artidore, teing confidered as remedies aganit pofon. Ewen it this duy they are faid to bie in great efleem amons the Perfins."
 [1. $13^{3}, 130$, "
"Tha Gentlemañ Moranzine, vot. Vil. P. 44 , gives an acommt of a sto...e taken ant of the Atomach of a horte xed in years, whe gientet circumference of whith was 28 irchec, and the leaft 25 . Its figure was an mhleng foheroid; its wa ight 19 pounds avoir 1 n! s .
- In the $1, \mathrm{Xt}^{3}$, volume of the fame whon, ar p. sk, we have a defeription, with a fegure of a chisteret to e, wigh-as loge at a venny loas, like a hean of Wabluh tomfedunt, fros the intotanes of : herefe ;o years of age. At r. 895 of the are delne ted; the frot of which weighed I promt -a oncec; the fecon:', 2 pounds o onnces; the third, 3 ourcs; and the foreth, 7 pom!s r4 ances. In the Pha. Quforhas! Trosfactom, val. こ1, ©lll, we have an a comt if at rases Som whore poun's $t 2$ ombes. An: liwy'ch morved in has cellection two coleuti, winch, wit', cran, th the foace of fix on de. The

 be a groin of hative
"Ai -cotes has laforiomel wel elineated an Orientat comwertors of :has fort in the Vatican cotiectuat t: prefontod ty the King of Phetugal to Cutur! Al. xandinus, which werged fomownt mose than four otuces; and Hon ane har from an anmel of the ting sond, roust to Rome by the Jefints fron Porn, the weight of which was 56 cimers + ${ }_{+}^{+}$.
"il: the monkey thefe concretions are found in the fomach, of atoon the fize of an ha. $2 \cdot l$ nut, hatder than the other kinds, and of a dark greenim col ur, pproaching obblack. But on the pucuipine they are fented pilncansly in thos gell-bladaler, and are fimita to bins calculi in other ammals.
" It fihes we may adtuce amberatis, as 3 comi. etion of the thermaceti-whale. Dre $$$ vewtr, in the LXXlill sobme of the tory hifiny of this animal poduet, and aftert, that it is found in the belly of the wimie, and on'y of that parcular focies
* "Vide Frid. Rusfla: Ttuenar. Anatom. "cimd. p. 29. 4to, Anliel. : 722 ""

穴"Mach. Merath Aletall theca (Armiar. VIff. de lapiditus animeithus intatis, cap. I.) f.lo. Komx, 171 y."
$\ddagger$ "Momades, in his work, trannated by Cluful, under the t: be ci Simphium Arilitamentornme ex nozo Orie katuerom Hijtoria, has infented a letrer widi: an to am by a correfpondent in Pera, wiso deicubes the pouch, commanicating wath (hu lamach, in whiol tlacie Luicctions ate furmed."
called by limenne phefer micrarephalas. Hadulatice it a the if fithat - d about fix or feon teet forn the anus, and never his'or up; which, in all promatile forys tha: Dorior, is ite forefinum cacum, hithe:! eronewafy confilered as a pecoliar For for the fecretion of thie fingular fathInace Intcrmasol with this are a munher at lock ip.ts, a purent'v the benke of the flemadoprota, whech is the matmal food of th1. Ppecies of whale. All whales, it f. cm, which afford thic concrecion, are found fi ily an emaciated; but houthy "hates nevor pronince any * : herefare we may conctude it in ha an andot roncrete, Ene:nod by dieqde, mad with proves an tal by it machanac I trimnuct.
"In the infett ace co dilor oculi cancroram to be the fony concretion of the cryfin: thev ane thas duferthe thy Dro Lespi I: "A Abint the $11: 2$ If pess of a bour white; fometime: with a rewhat, and fomenmes with a blueilh cata; internally of a 'enf: texture "."
"Int"& xame niry be infla cod the peariy colocetions oh ce'tain oritas-ile coula margatifea. Thele concretions a e of a bright fom-lla forathe whit lefs, at are of [y/4 for , the Orient il and 6c.idental. The oriental are of a filver lase; the Gecidestal of all op+que wirte; and they ate fund on the mific of the thell $\|$.

" In

* "See Phit. Traní. vol. LXXXI. P 43 " + "Clufur wos "f onmion, that amoergris was the materable prat of the fond conleci-d in tine Atmonch of the wlale; and Kempfer foeaks of it as excremant, and mention's, that the Iaranefe, for thi reafon, call it k:if.rat uc futs, i, e. whates' dung. Put, I think, from all whiles b.ing Eumd unhealthy in which it is difcoverci, and the quarnity impated being fond!, compared with the quanty that wo il every where be to be finnad were is natural foces, in thafe feas where the fpermace:whale inhabit, $w$ : may faftly conula'e that it is a dieetied protiret, fioniar to flones in the intetmes of hufus, indat other anime."

I "Materia Melica, T. ipz."
 their ftemacha and inteitanes at cercau 1 eriods; that, when the ftornach is renewed, the old whe becomes fubject to the digeltive procefs; and that, after this poceds, comcretions ate found in the new oats. Sute de lin Mat. Med. de M. Geothoy, tome I. p. $33^{8 .}$."
il  As neither crabs' eyes no: pearls ale found in all rrayfin, os all cieters, and there is no figgefing an; wfe that they c.a fin mith to the ocomomy of thefe anmals, wr may, prohay, be juts fiod in concluding that they ate fomed by doufo m ther in -
" In the himman hody we have ton many well-recorded facts of inteftinal concretions, and the direfnl effeets thev are prodinctive of; fome of which shall now be felcked.
"Lanzoni mentions f the carie of a woman in winnfe ftomach were found ten shones, the largelt weighing an ounce.
". Dr. Coe, in his treatife on biliary coneretions, gives an inilance of a woman from whofe rectum was extracted a concretion, the nucleas of $u$ hich was a plumb-fone $\ddagger$. In the Edinbargh Medica! Eflays $\delta$ we liave in account of a fimilar faet. In this laft cafe the ball was of an irregular cubical Elape, md weighed five drachons. In the Effays and Ohfervations, Phyfical and Litesary, is the hiftory of a hoy who had three fiones extracted from the rectum, the nuclel of which were the fmall bones of theep's trotters*.
"The third volume $\|$ of the Memoirs of tile Royal Academy of Surgery at Paris contains an account of a woman from whofe bowels was taken a fone weighing two on ces two drachms and a half.
"In the Plutor plical Tranfactions, vol. XXVII, we have an account of a concretion formed upon a plumb-ftone, and retained in the inteltoum cacum; and in the Louden Nedical Jonmal, vol. VI. p. 355, Mr. Johmion, of Lancafter, relates the cafe of a woman who voided, by ituni, a ball of hardened foeces, weighing three ?"arters of an cones, the nucleus of which vas atfo a plamb- fiome.
"There f.ces (and other fimilar ones migit eanly te collected from books) are iufticient to frow thet inteftinal calculi are foot limited to the quadraped; and that they accur noore ficquently in the homman Fride than has perhaps been geneatly furpercre!."
Vi. An Account of the sood Effins of Obiusis in a Culc of Rutenition of Uratie. Sy Mr. Alry nder Mather, Surgion al York. Connmanicated in a Letler 10 Ner. Johs Peaifon, Surgeon of tbe Lock H-pilal and Pubiic Dijienfary in Lonén ; and b; binz to Dr. Simmon.

VII a Gufa of monpious Birib. Ey fre fume.

Redines. The pofitice confirmation of this Bporhen: may be dificunt, but it may in tume, new haps, he decided, by the obleivaemon of ahigent naturalifs. See Reaumm's paper tha the formation of pearls and fhellc, in the Nemoits of the Acateny of Scences at Paris, for the year 171?."

+ "Acta Pbyl. Med. Nat. Curiof. vol. X. P.1:\%
$\ddagger$ " Pe Cos on Eibary Concrerone \$. 377 ."

E"Eol 1. r. 243. "

VIII. A Cafe of Varicofe Aneurifin. Ey Whr H. Park, Surgeon to the Liverpool Infirizary.
IX. An Accuurt of the good Effects of Opium, adniniflered in Chyfers, in Cafes of Menorrbagia. By Mr. Peter Capland, Surgeon at Swavfild, ntar Colftervorth, in Lincolanime.
X. An Account of the good Effers of a Fitercurial Suruff in a Cafe of Gutta Serena. By Mr. R. B. Blagden, Surgeon at Petworth in Sufte.

We thall rake ile liberty of tranfrribing this cafe for the information of fuch of our reaters as may not have an enportunity of confulting the work itfelf:
"Mr. ——_, ased 3 r years, of a fpare habit, and fubject to fcroph ulnus affuctions of the fub maxillary glands, between four and five years ago, on a fudden, and without the fnalleft iniury or previous indifpuftion, became fenfible of fuch a defect in the fight of his riglit eye, that he was unabte to rake his f.vourite diverifon of havoting, in the uflal way. However, as the fight of the left eye enabled him to read, and to ufe a left hanced guln pretty fuccelfsully, he was contented; and probathly would have remained fow, had poot that likewife began to fail: a circmmftance of whicli lie firit took notice about fix weeks befone he applied to me.
"On the zth ef Octuher, 1792, when I firt faw him, hie pupils of both eyes were contracted to as great a degree as the puph of a found eye is by a fudien and firong light.
"The pupil of the left eye, on the apo proach of a very vivid light, firewed fo finall an alteration as to be fcarcely perceiv ble; and that of tie right none at all. With the left the patient could barely fee the capital letters which the printers call tho Four Lines Pica; with the rigit he could onily diftinguldh 1 ight from darknefs.
"Tlie cafe feemed to me a fair one for a trial of the mercuial foulf recommended, and fo fuccersfully ufed, by Mr. Ware, in the third volume of the Memoirs of the London Mesical Society; and 1, accordingly, direefed the paterit to take a pinch of it (prepared by mixing five grains of the hydrargyrus vitriolatus with thirty-five of the pulvis afrari compofitus) every night. As le fimiled at the idea of heing curred by a pincl, of forn, 1 give him two tea frocnfuls of a mixture, compofed of equal parts of tincture of valerian and compumad tixature of lavender, twise a day in a cup of pofemary tea. The dofe was, afferwards, increated to three tea-fporoftuls.
"On the 2 fft of Gistober the patient could fee the capital leticrs wilh the righo ere, and could read the Four dines Pica print with the left. The pupils were, in their general appearance, lels concracted; and they wore affeged more fentioly by the imprefion of light. The firft nve or fix times of ufing the finlt it made his nofe bleed fre:lv ; and, on long as ir produced this cffect, he thought he percaved the advances more frikugly : an ald.tional two grains and an half of the mercu al were therefore put to the next quantity of the pulv. afari c.; and the hæmorrhage from the nofe was reproduced as often as it was made ufe of.
" $\mathrm{On}_{n}$ the 28 th of October the appearance and contraction of the pupils were natural; the patient could read a newspiper, and was able to thoot correctiy with his right-handed gua.
"On the r 8 th of November the fight of both eyes was in every refpect perfect."
XI. A Ca'e of Pitmonary Hennorrbagp; wi ih Remarks. By Mr. William Davidtun, Apotbecary in London.

We have here additional proof of the efficacy of a mode of treatment defcribed by the author in a former volume of the Medical FaCts and Onfervations (iec p 234 of gur vo'. LXV.)
XiI. a Cafe of Proas Ablce/s fuctec/yfully treated. By Mr. William Siaith, Surgeon a: Bideford, and Mem'er of the Corporation of Sargeons of London. Cominunicated in a Lettar to Edward Whitek r Gray, M D. F.R.S.; ant by bim 10 Dr. Simmo:ls.

The exciting caufe, in this cafe, feemsevidently to have becu exp fure to cold; and the happy ternination of the difeafe proves that fuccefs may be expected fometimes to attend thofe deplotable cafes, which are ton ofren (particula ly in hofpitals) given up as ablolu tly incurabie.

During the progrefs of this cafe (whish well merits the attention of medical readers) the author tells us he conanaly kept the fullowing cunfiverations in view:
" r. To prevent, as much as poffible, the allution of external air into the cavties, by operating by f meture only.
" 2. To appeale pain and urritation, by a liberal ufe of opium, and the moit fimple fuperficial dreffings.
" 3. To endeavour to proportionate the quantum of nouruhing diet and tonic medicines to the daily wafte by fuppuration.
"And, 4. To ventilate the room frequently, by, paffing currents of pure air through it."

> (To be concluded next month.)
21. Monopoly; Price 6d. The Cutting. butGber's ripology to the Legiflature upon the Gent. Mag. Fanuaり, 1796.
bigh Price of Meat; in wobich many of the bafe Practices of Smithfild Market are cxpsed, and a Remedy printed cut for the Poor. By a Pbiluritiropic Datcbor.
THE mifchief is acribef to a confederacy bewten the fatefman and car-caf-bintcher to keep up the exorbitant pace in Smithtield matin't, to the difadvantage of the cuting butcher, by whom the community is immediately fapplied. The writer adduces a variety of frong facts to prove the great incieate of this injutious monopaly, and th: neceffi.y of the incurpolition of the leg fliture to prevent it.
22. S.mihfield Maiket; an Fffay: again/t Cserise-Butcbers, Monopolizers, Fergiflers. anit Regraters; iniluding IE IT, ts of a Bill for regulathing the Sale of Cattle avid otber live Siock in tbe London Marke:. To wobach ""e allifed, Ren arks on the Report of tio Com, hittee of (cocufe Buttobers publifici by Henry King a/at J. Etmunds.
THE hesis of a bill are here propolcd: Fult, that all filefmen for catthe, theep, and other live fock, brought to S.nithtield inaiket, thall be appointed by the lord mayor and court of aldermen of the citvo of London for the tione letng, who hall give fuch fecucurity a mas be required by the faid mayer and aldermen: and no falefman fhall extrific, either directly or indire 7ly, the o:cuapation of a retail or cutting buicker. Steordly, that ro perfon, either direstly or indirectl; Chall purchafe, on acy one masket-day, more than eizhly head of beals, foriy theep, and the fam= number of lambs, under pinalty of farteiture of three times the value of all fuch beats, fleep, and lambs, excecding the aforefaid quantity. Thirdls, that return of all live fook fiom the country, intended fur the faid ma $k e$ : of Smithfield, fhall be previounf made to tue clerk of the faid marker, in who!e book fuch reruras hall be entered; and that all drovers, or other perfons entrufted with the care of the ard Atock, fhall be accountable to the Gid market for all deficiencies in number $c^{\prime}$ 'he ftock entrufted to his care, which may not be b:ou he to the fid market agr:cably to the returns entered in the books of the faid clerk of the market; and that if tie pr perty in the faid ftock that be chang d, or if the number fhall be diminithed, without gond and fufficient caufe (by accident or otherwife), the drover, or perfon in whofe care fuch flock foall have been affigned, Siall fuffer the penalty inflifted by the a\&t againft regrating and foreftalling; to remedy the purchafing of cattice and fheep before they come to Smithfield maket; and even in the market on one fide, whine they are refold on the other, as the carcalc-butchers allow in their report of June, : 995 ; wherein they lay the blane of monnpoly and high price of meat on the cutting or $r$ tail butchers. Thife are here fhewa to be entirely undier the potver, and at the m-rcy, of the carc ife-butchers, who rafe immenfe fortunes on their ruin, and from the exorbitant pice at which it is in their power to keep the market. Their profis will beft aspear from the account of the tapenice of wiftributing the fefh of two lieers at $2 \frac{2}{4}$ ? per lb. to the poni of Totteniam inf winter, ora ieans bouglt in the Smithfield market b" a committee at Deptford; and Mr Mellifh. the agent-ricsuailer, in the three firl mentas of laft yeir, fupplied the victualing-office at $3 \frac{2}{2}$ ). per : b .
"If whole ale butchers were done awav, the cutting-butcte: ; would have an opwelunity of purhafing their beans aud other hove block ar the matket, whthout Deing under the necelliy of applying to the carcife-batchers for what night be aseceffary for the confurption of their n.ops thl the next market-day, when they evould be ohinged to have reconte to the fame means fur fupply; which womld be enticely prevented, if the monope lizing carcati-butchers were not permitted to carry on their nefarious trate, and London and i:s environs would be atcounmodatod wich meat at a cheraper Iate than at plefent, becauie it woad nit have to 80 though fo many hands; which circomprace akne, of meat foing though ieveral lands, muit naturally increatie the price to the confumer" ( $\mathrm{p} \cdot \mathrm{z} \mathrm{g}$ ) .

Tvo or three cutune-hatchers join to purchate a whote heaft, or lange caff, and are enabled to fell it ad. per ib. cliespes to the puli)"ck. The price of a beall at Smitiffilld market, in April shd May, ${ }^{2} 795$, being 181. 105. and incidental expences 3 . od. and the produce of the that, chaiged br the cuttons to the carcafe burcher $5 \frac{3}{2} \mathrm{~d}$. x9l. 3, 4. the profit of the oftal 3t. 6s. 10d. we are therefore to deduct 881. 136. 6d. Ircm 221.1 y. 101. and the profit will be 41. o. 4d or, as ter all allowances for bad dicbers, \&c. 3. bos. and ros. 4 d . per hrad ot this pesiMabie commodity for rilk and !ofles.

To the 4 quarters of the beaft the offal mur be added, making a fifth, the profit wiereof is cleared by thofe who kill for the market.
Such are the ix.ats and calculationson which this pamphiet proceeds; and it cortainly deferves the attention of the leginatulc how far midale men, as they are termed, are neetliary in thr commerce fo tilential to the fupport of every individual. For, if the breed of catule, or the productiors of the earih in grain, be ever fo much increated, if it be not within the reach of the prortf purchater, it maiters not what be conies of is.

23. Nichols's Hharty of Leicefterfhire. (Contimuel fiom VUl. LXV. p. Itoz.)

 THEkiugu ma Englad laa ing been dianed between Ellmusy" a "Canure;"The firmer retained that put which confed cpon Ftance; and Canute the rete, whuli inctured the MIFecian diffrict. Edreurd enjoved met hang lis faded partion of dovereignty: for tire petfidious Edric? whicte life fermis to have been one uniform iyftem of treachery, gluted with the fivours of hoth theie kuiss, in firew himfelfdepar int." Chmute's conccit, conn triven the end of senowned Ednand: who being retired to a phice for noture's neceltity, wis thanft tron. urder the daurit into lis body with a mirp fear; whinh dune, tne treacherous Eftuc sutting off his iovereigu's hexd, prefented it to Canute, with theie fiwang falutations: 'All hail thou now file monarch of England; for, here beholu the head of thy copartnet, wiich for thy fake I have adventurril to cut ofe.' (Gamre, thoughambitiou unongh of foverelgnty, yet of princely curfonituon, abafhed and fore grieved at ii) unwnity a a dindoyat an attempt, replieriand wowed, that 'in reward of that ferv'ce, the tringer's sown head fhould be advanced above all the peers of his Fungdom." Which ligh hwnour whle this prodigious wretch greedty expected (and indeed for a time, i.uth Maimefbury, lie found fome fhew of favenr with the king: ) foon after, by the king's command, his head bade his, fhoulders farewell, and was placed upon the lighett gate, to overlook Londen. After this event, the twwin of Leicelter, having fome breatiung time of reft, tecovered itfelf in fome meafure ; for, at the entrance of the Normans, it was very well frequented and peopied, and ball many bur: geffes in it.
"W'e are now arrived at a period when authentic documents will in seneral accompany our efearches. Durwg the reign of William the Conqueror the caty of Leicefter was in the king's own hands, excepting what was held of hum in capite; at leaft, it was fo when Domerday was made, and we do not diffover that the king had made any granc of $i$, or this any of his tenazes in capite enjoyet it during his reign. That this town was in the king's own hand feems farther probable, from its having been a town of royal de.nefne in the time of the conquerors spredeceftr Eiward we Confefin. It was uftial at that timef.r the towns and manors of the Crown to be keld at hirm. Ant this feems to be the meaning of fimarios in Ordericus, which may mean either latice, or renter at wal; as munnccps feems to dencte his being the cyflos of the cafte for thee king, and ricecomes, the kirg's lientenant of the county, er, as it usi:ld be thon called, vifoonty, viccomitatus.

1796.$]$

"In the trme of Etward the Confefire, the City if Leicefter (for for it ic called in the record) patd yearly to the king an anmul rent of thirty pounds by tate, and filteen fextaries of toner; and the burgettes of the king, i.e. who beld of him in capite, tere bound in part of their $f$ rwice to tend twelve of their nin hody to attend the king whenever be went to the wars in pertom; and, if he made a voyage ty fea tigainft his enemier, they were to lend four hories to cany azmour or other necelfanes as far as London. In ic 86 we find thefe cuftoms continuing in full force; and that the king then received, as a compofition for atll rents from the city and county, forty two pounds and two flillings in weight; and, inftead of a hawk, ten pound by tale were paid to him; and twenty fhillings inftead of a fumpter horie. By thee mint men, or coiners, was paid annually to the king 2 cl . at the rate of 20 in ore; of which Hugh de Gientemaifnell had the third penny.
" The churches in Leicefter, at the neriod of the Conqueft, were fix; of which four belonged to Hugh de Grentemaifnell, and two to the hithors of Emcoln .
"The large portion of the town of Leicefter, which was held un'er the king hy Huph de Grentemaifnell, included a very confiuetable manor, fyar churches, more than tuo thirds of the houfes then in the town, togrther with the caftle, which had been the antient refilence of the earl, fituated a little to the Weft of the Soumhgate, on the banks of the rivet; a cut having been made to draw it from its general courfe to the fide of the caftle, where is now the prompal channel. The bifhop of Lincols poffeffed anolher manor here, which lay in the fuburbs on the Eaft fide of the town, in the parifh of St. Margaret and in Knighton. It is called Tbe B:boop's Fee, and remains out of the jurifdiction of the borough; though attempts were made in the reigns of Edward VI. and quen Elizabeth to have it untad to, and reduced vider, the goverument of $1 t$ : but w thont effect. The bohons mate the parforage of St. Margaret a prebend of Lancoln; and the manor remained in them in If33; but was verv foun diter this transferred $t$, Probert Buthe -1 ot leicefter, in exchange for the manor of Weftereses, and its arputenances, unde: the thte of the manor of Cnifintene, and the Suburts of LeiceRer, with the appertenances; and, hy thit ear', who was the fornder of Leicefter :Hbs; was again exclian"ed with the monks the forlande in Alfordlyy and Segrave, which were fetted on the chat:ch of Lincoln, as part of the comperfat:o', for Kinghoon."

A good account is given of the Grentemaifnell family, which terminatel in tivo fenate, coheriffes; one of whom was marijed to Robert Blanchmains earl of LeiceRer, the oller to Huz̧h earl of Norfok.

The early earis of Leicefter, who have ever heen famoas in the annals of Fnglifh lititory, may be divided into tour grand dinalies; of which thole of the Saxon lace, though many of them were highly dnfinguibed, are by no means the mot important.

Robert de Bellmont, sall of Mellent in Normands, was created earl of Licelter, by the Corqueror, in 1:07; and the dignite was enjoved by his fon Rohert Boffu, his gradion Rco bert Blanchmeins. and greai grandfon Robert Irz.Parnell; who dving without iffue male, and tle title b. coming exting, the hononts and proper to of the tamily were dowed between two co-heirefle; one of whom was married to bmon de Monifort, the frudar of the fecond disnatiy; the other to Saer de Quincy, ear! of Winchetter.

With the Montforts the dignity was mort, but picudid: terminating by the death of the lecond of them, in 2 batt 5 2gainf has lovereign, in 1205 .

Thic third dyndly of the earls of Leicelter, that if the Pastaventt, commenced in :2 -F . by the cleation of Edhund card of Cancafiet, and terminated be the afforption of the title on the accetion of Henry IV. to the crown.

All thefe feveral putiods are fully and diftinet|r ditculfed, by the afiiftance of Mr. Kuffel; whofe death we have fo lately deploted (LXV. 1056) ; and who, in a letter to a fread, thus ipcaks of the fubject in which he was engaged:
"I aim at truta and anual information ;
2.d
and endeavour, inftead of mixing the narrative with a great deal of my own reflection, to ftate facts fo clearly and forcibly that the readers may make the , hvious reflections for themfelves. They will read, not me, but the authors and tecords of the times in queftion. The information, I think, we thall give to the antiquary and politicuan will be very comfiderable. The mattr is colected from the fountain-head, and unadu'terated with modern notions; not one word or fentiment ont of any modern anthor ; whom I have read with great difguft, for the want of truth and peripicuity in their accounts of the Arglo Norman corfituton.
"The grounds of the family-war heEween Henry II. on one fite, and his gueen and fons on the ether, fhall he illuftrated; and the heroic Montfont juitined in thaing part with the gueen and her fons. All this is new hiftory.
"The fublequent earls are not fend? but merely titular : and therefore hose little reference either to the town or county.
"I have had infnite trouble in giving the out-line of the Englifh conftituton in the time of Henry 111 . A great deal of curious and new information ariles on that fubject. Horace 〔ats, Brevis efic lathore,

Obforus fio.
No one wihies more than I in to he concife; but 1 muft take care to be in'elli-gible-very dificu't indeed in fuch pur. plexity and darknefs.
"I never had a thonght of making a profit of my hiftorical refearhes; thoking them, althongh currous and bew, and valuable to a few inguifitive examintis of our huftory, no maketable commodity or likely to be pid for by a bookfetler. They now fand whete I wighed to fee them; and I thall be content if they do not injure fo valuable a work; the author of which feems determined to outitrip all competitors in the rark of county hiftorians; which he has enfly done."

How excellently this part of the underiaking is performed, thofe who are the moft intimately acquainted wuth the Englifh Contitution will be the heft able to judge. We fafely, however, recommend it to general pesulal; and, in our next, flall give an exiract or two to juflify our commendation.
24. Strutt's owplete Vicre of the Dreffes ant Habits of the People of England, from the Eftablifment of the Saxous in Brotain, to the prefent Time.
OF this ingenious work fome notice has been already tiken. vol. LXIV. p. 1027 ; and we now refume is for this purpofe of obferving that Mr. Strutt, as he procecds, has contrived to render his serformance fill more interefting. We applaud his induftry and fidelity; and are glad to fee that the approbation ot the pubick has cnabled him to exhibit thitteen numbers; and that he is flll proceeding with unabated vigour.

INDEX INDIC ATORIUS.

One of our Rfaners having read Lady Wallace's Comedy, called "The Whim," and her Appeal to the Fublick on the refuful of a licence by the Lord Chamhertain to its being acted at Marente, defres to know how he i to r concile th s :with Mr. She, idan's fller ion in the Honie of Commons, Dec. 3, 1795, that Covent-garden and Drury-lane were the only licented theat es in the kingdom! ant no orbers twere fabjeit io anv liccnce at all.

A Constant Reader will be obliged to any of our correfpondents, or orhers, who can furnith him with the Second volume of that fet of Willis's Hiftory of Mitrel Abbeys which was bequeathed to the author by Mr. Thomas Baker, of St. John's Colloze, Camhidge, with his manufcript notes in it, and others added by Brorvile Wills.

Abuther Constant Readif. wifhes to he informed whether the "View of Tmubridge Viells, with the Company is grotefgue," by Badufale, mestioned in Privith Topography, $3.47^{3}$, is to be found in ail the coples of Dr. Hasis's Hiflory' of kent, ws only accisentally in fome.

The Rev. Torias Henshaw, archdeacon of Lewes, died, as prefumed, about $1 \therefore S_{1}$. The Christian mame and place of refidence of his father, with any particulars of the anchdeacon, will be accept:ble, and confidered as a favour by ANother of our Readers.

A Covntry Clergyman, with a fmail incone, and a large famm, will be greatly obliged to any cercfpondent for information whether, among the vaft number of benevolent inftitutions which do bonour to this age and countly, there is any partieularly defigned for the relief of thofe anllicted with ruptures; as the common price, four guineat, for a trufs, cuts too deep into the icanty income of a comiry curate in the prefent day.

In our account current with Wimbiam LydGER, we acknowletige ourfelves his debtors on the fcore of obligation; and he will place thefe thanks on the Credit fide of his book. We fhall fpeedily reform.

Viator A. in our next; with Attie cus;-Anacharsis; A. B.; H. D.; &e. S.c.-Many other letters are received; and are under confideration.

Seled Poetry, Antient and Modern, for January, 1796.

A SACRED ODE

on the Provitential Delizicrance of our Moof Gracious Sroertign, O.206er 29, 1795.

מי שערורחה וֹה ת ימין אשר נהיצה בת בהּ אנשי דעציט קשרו יחר יחד לשחחת אתת משיח יזוה : בי איץ פּחר האל בהם בלבם סורר עולה אמרו
 דיישר בעינינו נעשה:

צוּ מובקשי בקים נפשו

 בארח טמיגו דפח לו לוכלי מות במיסתר דרבו ועוְד מעם המזיתוהו: לולי יחוה דצביל אתר מכבל שאנים אתו חגם יהיה טרף לעברתם וששבלנו מלך הטוב:
ששמח נא הגוי אשרי מלי
הנה מלבר החות חיהת : דריע נא עם בקול רינה דגזה הפּרו דשבּ רעתו: בעש יהוה יגיל מלך בי הסדו גדול מאד לו : ברל לבו ישיר לי לול
כי בצּיניו יקרד נפּשו: ברוך יהוה אלהיני אשר בצר ישע עשה ולכילבנו ולעמי ברוך שם כבודו לעד: בץ האל בטּח מלד אל יעלצו אוביו ילליו בכלמּה בלם ילבשו

H. Dimock, Lambcth, Dcc. 1, 1795 .

ODE FOR THE NEW YEAR :
my. j. pye, ese. poef-laureat.

I.

WHERE is immortal Virtie's meed,
Th' unfading wreath of true rencwn, Pcft recompence by Heav'n dereed
For al! the cares that wait a crowa;

If Induftry, with anxious zeal,
Still watchtul oer the Public Weal ;
If equal Juft:ce' awful arm,
Temper'd bv Meri y's fuaph charm,
Are ineffectual to afluage
Remorfelef Faction's harpy rage? But the fell Dxmmns, urg'd by Hell'sthehert, Threaten, with frantic arm, the royal Hatriot's breaft !

II.

Yet not, imprial George, at thee Was the rude bolt of Malice fped, E'en fiends that Crown with rev'rence fee Where Virtue confecrates th' anointed head-
No—at thy bofom's fondent claim,
Thy Britain's peace. their flafistiey aims Pale Envy, while o'er half the woild War`s ble ody hanners are unfurl'd, Beheld our coafts from ravage free, Protected by the guardian fea,
Where Commence fipreads her golden fteres,
Where feets waft triumph to our thores;
She faw; and, fick'ning at the fight,
Wifh'd the far profpect of our hopes to bligl.t;
Sought out the object of our deareft care,
Found where we moft could feel, and try'd to wound us there.

IIt.
The broken haft that covard Molice rear'd Shall to thy fame eternal lufte give,
Infribe on Hifin's pase thy name reverd, [live.
And bid it there with eodless biaza
For there our fons' , emoteft tace,
In deathl fo characters, fhall trace
How Butam's batied foes proctain'd tipeir hate.
[19fthe fare. And deent'd her Monarch's life the buswatiz IV.

Now ftrike a livelitr chord-This inap. ry da",
Selected from the circline year
To colebrate a name to Rritan doar,
From Butain's fons dumandsa feftive lity
Mild Sov'reign of our Monarch's fout,
Whinfe eye's meek radmace con controul
The pow'rs of Care, and grace a throne
With each calia joy to hife comentic known,
Propitinus Heaw'n has o'er thy head Bloflorns of richer fragrarce med I han all thaflucue Mufe can bring,

For fec, antid wild W゙inter"s hours
A sud its nilken fold diphay,
Swester than all the chatic'd fow'rs
Tha cruwnhine onvambrofal May.
O may thy fmile, blen intan', pore
Omens of concort, and of love!
Bid the foud itrans ot mart al triumph ceafe, Ard tune to fofter nood the warbling reed uf Peace:

THE COMBAT:
AN IRREGUEAR ORE.
———Morentia Martis Amacano. VIRGIL.
#TIS come: he faral day of frife! And now the fivord thall end Full many a valant warrin's lfe;
Torture to maty a loving wifs, A binter or a frend.
The rav'nous vultures round tach army ay, And, feenting, mote the future dead.
Ah me! what vapous dim the morning fky, Strip'd thick with atreaks of flaming red!
Hark ! now I hear the clank of diftant arms; d. tadful roar,

- And now the deep-month'd cannon's Rough-rumbling round the afficheted hore, Difracis the ambient air with fierce alarms.
See where th' intrepid fquad ons fland: Now at their Gen'ral's lutid conmand,
With afpect ftern, the hoffile tronpsengaze;
Thefe, Atrugghng onward ganit the hoftile bands,
Grafpat fair Vich'ry with refitiefs hands,
Nor reck the flouts of Death, nor madd'ning bittle's rage.
[p'ain,
Now, proudly falking oer th' embsuled Bellora, Mars, and all their furioustrain,
To ev'ry foul a thinf of Wood inverr,
And guide each we pontothe deftind iteart.
See, Difcord fonl in borrd form appears:
A livid tunic forms the phonton's sowa;
This hand a fword ant that a feeptre rears,
A triple-crefedhelminvoivesher crown!
And, lo! the favage nxmon of the fight
With purple pinious hov'rus o'cr the field, [fteel'山, And his hard leat 'gainat gentle Pity Whilft boundlefs carnage forms his fole ivelight!
View him aloft with joy exulting hie, And far ahove the raging conflict four ;
Then, fuiftly darting through the lurid fky,
Midft dying mangled heaps of corles ligh,
And glut hi: greedy maw with human gore!
Still fierce th' embatided hons contend;
Nor cools their rage. But, as an eager flane
Fiercer abd fiercer burns, nor finds a:1 end
Titl fuel fail: fo thefe, in farch of fame,
Uige on the contert, with then hearts the fame.
[haws
'Twixt Death's deftroftive wide-expanded
The gollike heroes plonge, twan apphoufe.
Now the battle fiercer buraing,
Tumult fwells a loader ftrain;
Victory, to each fode turning,
De, is altermate joy and rann.
With torrents of blood their kecn fatchions imbuing,
[prize:
Both armose ftill bravely contend for the The victors of both fwift lhe vanquifid purfuing, Whilh lightnings indignantly fain from

At length, "They yield, they fiy!"
The conquiring troops exclam,
" Let them draart with foame,
" Nor by our falchions die!"
And now is hun', the din of war ;
The bellowing guns we now no longer hear;
[afar
The Fiends of Durknefs take their flight And fo rce a min mur finks upon the ear.
By flow cegrees the vanquilh'd bands retire, [fight:
And oft, defpuring, would renew the Deplore the wreck of legions, late entire, But now for ever fed the realans of light. Staid Eving foon leer fober mantle throws O'er the fad feene, and hides the mournful ground;
Placid and calm the late infuriate foes
Hymn the grim God, and bid the heav'ns iefound.
Nor hottile ranks, nor murd'rous deeds, Nor rattling cars, bor fying fteeds,

Nor dreadful glare of armour, frike the tye;
nimes ipecd,
No whizzing balls, impell'd with light-
Proclaim deftructoon nigh;
But to the gale the blazon'd banners fy.
Huff'd is the thun:ler of the cammon's voice, Mute the thrill fife, and ev'ry martial noife; No longri Mars the firk'ning view molefts, Nor any found the lift'ning ear arretts:
Save where the piteons wounded in the fight
Lament their country's forrows, and their own;
[agroan,
While now a deep-drawn figh, and now Difurbs the folemn flence of the might Serenely Luma rifes o'er the hills,
And her mild affuence all the profpect fits.
But, ah! what touching fights are thiss reveal'd, [ceal'd! Which erft confufion and the dink conAnd lo! thefe widows, and thefe mothers kind, [carnage led:
Thefe friends, and brothers, through the
Gently they raife each cying pallid head In feareh of thofe, alds! they fear to find. And lo ! where tender vingins wildly rove,

And feek the youths they lately lov'd fo dear ;
[rumove,
Whinm, when they find, they fathy thence Sigh o'er each wound, and bathe it with a tear.
Such feenes mult e'er await the nipp'ry road [10 fweet
Of martial fame. - And art thou, Fame, That men fhould pant to leave their calm abode, [meet ?
And feek in death thy fern embrace to That all fiovid mild Tranquillity abhor,
And madly truck Contentment's charms for War ?
Good Heav'ns! to think that haplefs man
By man's own hutchering hands fhould That be, whofe life is hut a fpan, [f.ll1] Should thus on Death with rafa impatience call!

Comes

Come, from whofe gift all real combints Oh, quickly bid thefe homid tumults ceare, And to the world thy beanteous image fiew!
Defcend, and pour thy gentle lealing balm In ev'ry lucklefs warrior's bleeding wound;
[calm, Soothe each ferocious thought, each pation And let all earth with conftum joy refound!

Nerva.
Ode for the Annive fary Mecting of the Siub. fcriters to the Literary Fund*, April 2 I, 1795. By Wilitiam Boscawen, Efq.

I.

7E focred Bards of elder time, Whofegenius breath'd celeftalfire, Whofe heart-feit rayture foar'd in fongs foblime.
[lyre: Whafe magic fingers fwept the founting Who, proud th' heroic chitf to crown, Wove the hright choplet of renown, Or told, in foft and melting ftrains, The font defpairng lover's pains, Or, with jour animated breath, Kindled the patriot's gen'rou zeal, And hade him, for his country's weal, Brave the ftern tyrant's pow'r, aind imile in death!

11.

Bleft Spirits! from your farry fpleres, Where, clad in rohes of fapphre hese, Ye fit enthron'd, oh deign to view This flow of fympathy divine, This focial homage to the Nine, Which fwett Benevolence endars ! And while the voice of Pity floats In foft, melouicus, thrilling notes, Wake $\ln$ fpiration's l./tier itrain! Wake the brigist hopes of happier days, When Poetiy again hall raife Her gemume fong, and heav'n-born Gerius reign!

III.

Oh, mark the glories of that age
Which lives in Homer's matchlefs page,
When kings, when heroes, could admire
The glowing verfe, th' enraptur'd lyre!
High $t$ on a th one of filver plac'd,
Their feftive halls the poet grac'd;
And when he tower'd on Fancy's wing,
And when histouch awak'd the ftrmg,
What fympatletic hearts around
Re-echo'd to the martia! found!
Again he bade the battle bleed,
Pour'd vergeance on th' aftonifh'd foe,
With mem'ry of each glorious deed,
Kindled extatic valour's glow.

[^7]Each wartior chief with fond regard Cherifh'd t'e foul-infpiring bard;
Each felt, with tranfport felt, his name
Snatch'd from Obtivion's pow'r, and ftamp'd with deathlefs tame.

IV.

Speak, gentle Mufe, thy conscious price, Recont the trophies of thy fway, Whon, vith impoturus foaming tide,
The mughty Thehan's deep-ton'd lay
Ruh'd os the torrent from the mountain's fide.
[deeds,
Th' Ciympic Champion's far-fam'd
The hari'y wrefler, aus victorious iteeds,
His verfe ado:n'd with bright renown
Beyond the fatue, or the lamel crown.
At folemu feaits he inar'd
The facred portion for the gods prepared.
Sil after-aces lov'd, ador's,
His awful nime*
A lone conld fay the holtile flame,
Quell the fierce victor's rage, avert his vengefill fword.
V.

What triumphe, Cueen of Song, were thine,
Whrn Rome, in toundlefs rule enthron'r? Proad Ronee, thy gentle empure own'd! Own'd the mild luttre of thy charms, Refign'd for peaceful arts hor arms, And lov'd thy fons, ador'd thy thine,
Th' impersal mafter of mankind,
To foft buntanty refin'd!
Heard the majefic Mantuan lay, nalighted heard th' Aufonan lyre
Mild counfe'shreathe, juit deeds infpiret,
And ielt the Minfe's pow'r that harmoniz'd his fway!

VI.

Say, Britain, when, in days of yore,
1 lyy fons 'manit Rome's opprefive band
Stood datnte is on thy fea-girt fhore,
Stern guari ians of tieer native land; And, on the teep-weig'd ranks of war, Impettous wharl'd the icythed car ; What pou'r their sen'rous valour fir'd?
Tlee Bard, the patriet Bard, infpir'd!
From nak-crown'd glades,
From myftic fhades,
Where late lie chaunted meek Religion's位rain,
Avenger of his country's wrongs,
With harp, artun'd to martial fongs,
He rum'd indig'ant to th' embattled plain! Nor lefs lus voice, midft factious rage,
Could Difcord, bateful fiend, affuage;

* Alluding to the fory of Alexander having, on the fack of Thebec, fared the houle in which Pimdar had lived.
+ Voslsne conflium et datis, et dato Gaudetis almæ. Hor. 3 Ol. iv. 4r.
Horace is fippofed to have wr.tten this, and other palliges of his works, with a view of foftening the charadter of Auguftus.

The warrion's mad'ning tect arren. And foothe to peace he favace breat! Tought hy his ore in focial baads to ion, All lor'd the gentle Bard, all blers'd the fong divine.

VII

But where, ah where! in later days Th' brighe reward, the gen'rous prate, That once adorn'd the tonefol ta ain ? The rev'rence genius could command, When, cherih'd by a graieful land, It porur'd a free and virtunus ftrain : Farfrom the manfions of the great, Where Prde maintains her fullen ifate, Where, funk in e fe, unfeeling Luxury lies, Repelld, the Mufe's ofripring flec.

What fiends attend his fteps forlonn!
Gaunt Poserty, with feeble cries, And wan Difeafe and tannting Scorn !
Thefe, thefe, arreft each bolder flight :
Or, fhould his fancy nohly dare,
Bafe Avarice ftnts the hard-earn'u mite,
Drives him once more to want, and bids him chaf deipar. vilt.
Behold in Mis'ry's drear ahode
A care-wern wretch *expire!
"Tis he! the Bad whore fancy glow'd
With foft yet vivid fire!
Who, in the tenl'reft notes of woe,
Bade Belvidera's forrows flow :
Whofe pow'a ful Mufe, beyond contronl,
Could wring, could agonize the foul!
And mak that youth with afpeet wild,
Chill Pemry's deroted chitd,
Who, fergning a rude antique itrain, Wen i frrtune's fimle, but woed in vain. Ahembed in deep defpar he lies!

He pmer, he friks, he dies!
H1: fated youht ? whin foftring ray
Had kind Protection blefs'd thy lay, And tangto the path to well-earn d fame, Srizain perchance had gloried in thy name, Had hat d the proforome and renownd, Fy eviay Mufe minarid, with evisy vitue crownd.

$1 \times$.

Ahthen, celettial Mife, defcend!
The gimpes of thy rengn renew:
Bright Honoun's tomee, fuir Vir'ue's friend,
Smile on the liberal chofen few !
Congenial hearts alike infpire
Thy gemuine fons to cherifh and admire : Exalt thy vot'ry's purer mind
Ahove the vulgar juys that charm mankind:
A wake the fympathetic glow!
Fid the rich itream of bounty flow !
Again bid drooping Cenius rife,
Affert its !ong-loft riglt', and claim its native fikies!

* Whether Otway was Ritcrully Parved to death is not certainly known; but it feems quite certain that he died in confegaence of his poverty. Of the fate of Clat:erton there is no duabt.

ODE ON HEALTH:
Fiom 'i Pocmí, by George Dyer, B.A.'"

Thengh. Eif $\hat{r}$, beery.

CHII D of the Light, fair Morning Hour, Who fmieft o's r on purple hill, 1 come to woo thy chearing power,
Belide t'is murm'ring ill!
No: I alore-A thomfand fonsters rife
To mec: thy diwning, and thy fiveets to flite:
[air,
While cv'ry fluw'r, thet feents the honey'd
Thy milder influence fee's, and mews its brinhteft dies.
And let me hear fome village fwain
Whithe in rantic glee along;
Or fome fair dianfe:'s tender pain
Breath's from the milk-mard's fong.
Wild are thoie notes; but fweeter far in me
Than the foft ars burne from Itaian groves, [lovec,
To which the wanton Mufe, and mked The lyre at random itrike, and dance in gamefrme glee.
And Health, the child of blooming fire,
Shall hither hafte on nimble feet,
With flowing locks, and loofe attire,
Me on the plain to meet.
Gay laughing Nymph, that loves a morning fky, [lews ;
That loves (1) fkip acrofs the fyangled
And, with her finger dpped in brigheft hues,
[my languid eye!
My faint chicek fha!! fhe tinge, and chear
Then will I tafte the Morn's fweet hour,
And, fimeng. blefs the new- boon dy;
Or, wand'urs in Amanda's bow'r,
Rife the fweets of May:
And to my fong Amanda fall attend, And t.ke the pofy fiom the fylvan Mure;
For fure the viruons fair will not refure
The Mie's modert gift, her tribute to a thend.

ODE TO GRATITUDE:

Alheched to Mirs. F. S. Y.rmonth, Norfolk. - 4 i fue fui momores alios jec cie mercndo.

Vikgil.
Thafe, whbs confign'd their names
To nemory by zuell-sheferving iceals.
Trapp.

TO thee I call, fweet Gratitude ! Oh leave awhite the realms of day; And, ah! forgive thy fuppliant rude,

Who courts thee from thofe realms away !
Ere yet Creation heard his voice,
Ere the glad Erth obey'd his nod,
Oh, thou didft make the Heav'ns rejoice,
And fmil'd before the throne of God.
Then too thy lovely form was feen
To reft upon :he heaving main:
Thy hand array'd in livelieft green [phin.
The trees, and deck'd with fow'rs the

Was there a ftream but prais'd thy name In murmursas it flow'd along?
Was there, in all the earthly frame, What haii'd thec not with chearful forg?
When Gol defcended foom above, A dod drain'd the fotheains of the main;
Thou tanght'ft the lone exploring duve
To feek the fricndly 3 k : ashin.
The early worn to thee is giv'n;
To thee its homage Ev'ning hrings;
And not a lark that fors to Heav'o, But bears thee on its dewy wings.
Blef,'d lower, o'er all my fom pretide, And chace Oblivion's mitts away;
On deeds, her envionc vell would hide,
Emit thy pure cffulg ant $r$ ay!
To thee, O Sifter, ever kin!,
Her earlieft fruits thall Mem'ry bring,
Who rais'd with care the infant miad,
Andtanght the tender voice to fing.
And, though deny'd the pleafing tatk
To bid thy name for ever live;
Take alt thy gente wifhes ank,
And all the fimple Nufe cun give.

> N. B.

Mr.UREan, Fion. I2.

IF the following Sonnet to an aniabie, but unhappes, peafonage, on whole deftiny the eves of Europe have been anxioufly fixesl of hate, be confodered as applicable to the fuhject, your giving it a place in your refpectable Magane will add to the many favours of the kind conferred on Youts, &c.

Eyles Irwin.
TO theprincess royal of france, - On ber Arival at Balle, Dec. 25, 1795. ROM trials dread, in Beanty's brilliant morn, [3llur:s, When Pleafure carols, and when State A prifon 1 many a bell-houd gaunt fecures,
Her royal ftem by rehel hands up-torn, Where Hope was bary'd from folitude forlorn, [firnds of Death, From frantic France, whofe limbs the War, Faction, Famine, palfy with their breath,
To happier realms fee fair Maria borne!
Hail, Maid illuftrious ! while this votive frain, [woe, With Fortune's gifts, would cancel ev'ry In court or hamlet give thee blifs to know, [sain:
Bring the difemper:d world but health a.
Prove in thy courfe the larbinger of peace, Whole friiles thall foes unite, and bid Diftraction ceafe!
E. I.

TO ANNA.

THE mornint wakes, arife, my Love, And greet the envious flecting hour! Though ikill'd the human heart to move, Thou claim'ft not here a momeni's pow's. $\mathbf{G E N T}^{\text {ENAC. Manuary, }} \mathbf{1 7 9 6 .}$

Arife, my Anna, fince for you,
Fann'd hy the Zephyr's halmy wing,
The modeft flow'rct, wet with dew, Bluthes from forth the lap of Spring.
For you the gaden's vatious pride Mingle the many colour d dye;
Here fpreal their gay profufion wise, There bloom miticen, urifled die.
You they await; then hafte, my Fair, Cull from each plant its fav'rite flow'r :
Prond of its office, each thall hear Some emblem of my Anna's pow'r.
Thus while I focke, the Fair-nne's eye Diffolv'dinto a pear'y tear,
Which when orlicions Love would dry, la perfive accents forke the Fair:
"Als! erf thine unavaing care, Nor fiy the mormint walkes for me;
Say not for me the vernal air Perfumes the white-enblofom'd tree.
Alas! the bloom that paints the rofe, The foow-w hite tily's pater hwe,
Each vernal faver, each flow'r that blows, And fipreads its beauty forth to view :
Ton flow, when ev'ning's envisus fhade Shath chall their tender on'ning flow'r,
Each thort-liv'd glony foon fhall fade; The ninion of the norning hour!
Thas too, beneath the touch of Time, L:ke flow'rs, thall pageant Beauty die;
Each farr ; each horn but to decline; chudren of fran mortality.
Yet $t b i s$ diftuction fill awaits The common the that both muft fhare;
This nice proportion in the fates Wh cin bothase fubjected to bear;
Summer repars the Wintry rage; Spuing bids the embryo fow'ret bloom: Eat, ab! what Spring enlivens Age 1 What Summer dawns upon the romb !

TO HAYDN.

WHO is the mighty niafter that can trace
Th' eternal lineaments of Nature's fare?
'Mid endlefs diffonance, what mortal ear Could e'er her peai of parfeet concord hear ? Anfwer, O Haydn! flrike the magic chord! And, asthou frik'ft, replv and proof afford. Whene'er thy Genius, flafhing native fire, Bils the foul remble wi: ht the trembling lyre, The hunter's clate'ring lwof, the peafanthout,
The warrior-onfet, or the battle's rout,
Din, clamour, uproar, murder's midnight knell,
[ycl-
Hyæna thri $k s$, the warhoop, fcreati, and
Al' founds, however mingled, Atrange, uncouth,
Refolve to fitnefs, fyftem, fenfe, and truth 1 To others noife and jangling; but to thee
' Tis one grand fol ma fwell of endids harmony
When dark and unknown terrors intervene, And men aglait furvey the horrid fene;

Then

Then, when rejoicirg ficnds flit, gleam, and fcowl,
And bid the huge tormented tempeft howl;
When fire-fraught thunders roll, when whirlurinds sif,
And earthquakes bellow to the frantic fkies, Till the diffracted eat, in racking gloom,
Supects the wreck of worlds, and gen'ral dnom: [teare,
Then Havdn fands, collecting Nature's And conforance fublime amid confufon hears.
T. Holeroft. onthedeathoftherfy. de kippis; by helen marta whildms.

PLAC'D 'midft the tempeit, whofe conflicting waves
The buoyant form of Gallic Freedom braves, 1 from its (welling furge unheadful turn, While o'er the grave whene Kippis refts I mourn.
Friend of my life, hy ev'ry tie endear'd, By me lamented, as by me rever'd!
Whene'er remembrance would the paft renew,
His image mingles with the penfive view;
Him through life's leugth'ning feene I mark with pride,
My earlieft teacher, and my lateft guide.
Firft, in the houfe of pray'r, his voice impress'd
Celeftial precepts on my infant breats ;
"The hope that reats above," my chillhond taught,
And lifted firft to God my ductile thought.
And, when the heav'n-born Mufe's cherim'd art [heatt;
Shed its frefh pleafures on my glowing
Flath'd o'er my foul one fark of purer light,
New worlds unfolding to my raptu'd fight;
When firft with timid hand I touch'd the lyre,
And felt the youthful pnet's proud defire;
His lib'ral comment fann'd the duwning flame,
His plaudit footh'd me with a Poet's name ; Led by his counfels to the public fhrine,
He bade the trembling hope to pleafe be mine;
What he forgave, the critic eye forgives, And, for a while, the verfe he fanction'dlives. When on that fpot where Gallic Freedom roie, [woes,
And where fhe mourn'd her unexampled Scourge of his nature, and its worft difgrace, Curfe of his age, and murd'rer of his race, Th' ignoble Tyrant of his Country ftond, And bath'd his fcaffolds in the patriot's blood;
Deftin'd the patriot's fate in all to fhare,
To feel his triumphs, and his pangs to bear; To fhunth' uplifted axe, condemn'd to roam A weeping exile from my cherifh'd home *, When malice pour'd her dark infatiate lye, Call'd it, though death to ftay, a crime to fly ;

* Mifs W. took refuge in Switzerland during the tyranny of Boberfpierre,

And, while the falfehood ferv'd her hateful ends,
Congenial auslience found in hollow friends; Who to the tate " affent with civil leer, "And, without fneering, teach the reft to fneer ;"
[hield,
His friendhip o'er me fread that guardian Which his fevereft virtue beft could wield; Repell'l by him, relentlefs Slander found Her dirt hereft of half its pow'r to wound. Alas! no more to him the tafk helongs
To forothe my forrous, or redrests my wrongs; No more his letter'd aid, enlighten'd Sage 1 Shall mark the erri.rs of my carelefs page; Shall hide from public view the faulty line, And bid the merit he beftows he mine.
Ah! while with fond regret my feeble verfe
Would pour its tribute o'er his hallow'd hearfe,
For him his Country twines her civic palm, And Learning's tears his honour'd name embalin ;
His were the Iavilh fores her force fublime, Through ev'ry paffing age, has fnatch'd from Time;
[art,
Hie, the Hiftorian's wreathe, the Critic's A rigid judgement, hut a feeling heart; His, the warm porpofe for the gen'ral weal, The Chriftian's meeknefs, and the Chriftian's zeal ;
And his, the moral worth to which is giv'n Earth's pureft homage, and the meed of Heav'n.

To Mrs. Bishop, with a Pocket-loaking-glafs; quitten by the late Rev. Mr. Bishor, Mayter of Merchant-Taiiors' Scbool.
7 O you, dear Wife (and all muft grant A wife's no common confidante), 1 dare my fecret foul reveal,
Whate'er I think, whate er I feel;
This verfe, for inftance, I defign
To mark a female friend of mine, Whom long, with pafion's warmeft glee, I've feen, and could for ever fee.
But hear me firft defcribe the dame; If candour then can blane me-blame. I've feen her charm, at forty, more Than balf her fex at twenty-four ; Seen her, with equal pow'r and eafe, Draw right to rule, from will to pleafe ; Seen her fo frankly give, and fpare At once, with fo difcreet a care, As if her fenfe, and her's alone, Could limit bounty like her own ; Seen her, in Nature's fimpleft guife, Above arts, airs, and fafhions, rife; And, when her peers fhe had furpafs'd, Improve upon herfelf at laft; Seen her, in fhort, in ev'ry part, Difcernment, temper, figure, heart, So perfect, that, 'till Heav'n remove her, I muft admire her, court her, love her I

Molly, I fpeak the thing I mean;
So rare a woman I have feen;
And fend this honeft glafs, that you,
Whene'er you pleafe, may fee her too!

$\left[\begin{array}{lll}{[ } & 67 & ]\end{array}\right.$

INTELLIGENCE of importance from the London Gazettes.

Horfe-Guards, Fan. 6. Difpatches from Col. Stuart, of which the following are copies, have been this day received by the Right Hon. Henry Dundas, one of his Majefty's principal Secretaries of State.

Camp before Tincomale, in the If an? of Ceylon, Augu/t 17, 1\%95.
Sir, In obedience to the orders and infructions I received from the goverument of Fort St. George, and Col. Brathuaire commanding the King's and Company's forces on the coalt of Coromandel, I have the honour to acquaint you, for his Majefty's information, by the Roya! Aclmiral, under difpatch for Europe, that the armament, with the command of which 1 am intrufted, embarked the 3oth cltumo at Fort St. George, on-buard his Majufy's thips of war upon that ftation, and the tranfports taken up for the purpofe of conveying it to this place. The fleet arrived in Back Bay, to the northward of the forts of Trincomate and Oonteuburgh, on the Ift inftant ; and, as Commodore Rainier and I were particularly anxious that the Commandant of thofe forts thould not mifapprehend the object of the armament under our command, every precaution was taken to prevent any mifapprehenfion upon that head, by explainung to him the nature of it ; and two days were fpent in communications belween the fort and fleet for that purpofe. As the Commandant, however, did not think proper to accede to the requifitions made, in the name of the King, by the Commodore and me, and refured obeying the commands of his fuperiar, (Mr. Van Angelbeck, the Goverabr of Columbi,) to deliver up the fort of Ooftenburgh to a detachment of his Majefty's troops, on account of an informality in the order, the Commodore agreeing with me in the propriety of landing the troops, they were difembarkcal on the 3 d , about four miles to the northward of the fort of Trincomale, withont oppofition. Neither the garriion of Trincomale or Ooftnaburgh have hithertn given us any moleftation in the laborious fervice in which the troops have been employed, of conveying provifions, ordnance, and ftores, along a feep fandy beach, from a dift ance of three miles; nor has any act of open boftility taken place. We are ftill employed in the fame fervice, as well as in preparing materials frr the conftruction of fuch works as may be neceffary to reduce the forts; and, if the Commandant perieveres in his refolution to refufe us admittance as friends, I hope to have it in my power to begin our approaches againft the fort of Trincomale to-morrow night. I canuot too ftrongly exprefs my obligations to Commodore Rainier, for the readinefs with which he has offered every affiftance which could be given by the fquadron of his Majefty's Thips under his command, in conveying and landin the troops, ftores, and provifions, and in every part of the ferv:ce where his aid and co-operation could the of we, and his zeal has been ably feconded by the exertions of his officers and feamen emp'oyed in carrying bis orders into effect. I have the honour, &c.
J. Stuart.

Camp naar Tiincomale, Aug. 30.
Sir, Soon after 1 had the honour to addrefs you on the 17 th inftant, informing you of my intention to begin our approaches againft the fort of Trincomale, on the following day circumftance occurred which induced Commodore Rainier and me to detan the Thips then under difpatch, in the tope of that fuccefs which I have the honour now to amomace. We broke gromed on the evening of the 18 th , opened our batteries on the 23 d, and, before twelve o'clock on Wednefday, the 26 th, completed a practicable breach. Commodore Rainier and I then thought proper to fummon the garifon to furrender, while preparations were making for the affauit. Terms were demanded which could not be allowed, and fuch as we thought confiftent were tranfmitted in return; thefe not heing accepted within a limited time, our fire recommenced, and in a few minutes the white flag was difplayed on the ramparts, the conditions we thad offered were accepted, figned, and tranimitted to camp, with two Captains of the garrifon as hoftages for their performance. I have the honour to inclofe a copy of the capitulation offered to the garrifon, and accepted by the Commandant, and of fome explanatory articles which were afterwards arranged, with a ftate of the garrifon, return of ordnance and fores taken, and a lift of the killed and wounded of the forces under my command. This evening the prifoners taken here will embark for Mastras. 1 thall immediately take up a convenient pofition, and begin the necelfay preparations for the attacis of fort Oofteuburgh, the Commandant of that garrifon laving refued to furrender when fummoned on the 27 th inft.; and I have reafon to bope that that fort alfo will be very foon in our poffeffion. His Majefty's and the Hon. Company's troops, forming the force under my command, bave fo fortunately diftinguihed themfelves on every former occation, that I need only fay their zeal and gallantry, on the prefent fei vice, have been well exerted to maintain the raputation they have fo juftly acquired. I am beyond meafure indebted to Commodore Rainier for his cordial co-operations, and the active afliftance of the Navy in every department of the public fervice; and 1 bave particular pleafure in affuring ynu, that, from the perfeet harmony fubfifting between all defcriptions of the naval and land forces employed here, every thing may be expee.ed from this divifion of his Majefty's troops, which is capable of being attained by their united exertions. I have the honour to be, &c. J. Stuart.

Tfrms of Capitulation.

The garrifon of Trincomale, in confiseration of the defence they have made, will be allowed to march out of the fort with the honours of war, drums beating, colours flying, to the glacis, where they whil grond their arms, and furrender themfelves prifoners of war, the officers leeeping their fwords. Frivate properiy will he fecured to them, but all public propertv, papers, guns, ftores, and provifions of every kind, to be delivered up in their prefeat con diti on.

The garrifon to march out, and the zritifl troops to be put in poffelfion of the fort, in me hour after this capituation is figned. Thefe ate the only terms we the under-figned officers, commanding his Britaonic Majetty's forces, can grant.

Camp before Tincomale, 26th -Ius. 1795.
P. Rainier.-I. Stuprt.

Explanatory Articles.
Capitulation according to which the Fort of Trinconale will be furrendered to the troops of his Britannic Majeity.
Art. I. The garrifon fhall march out to morrow at four in the afternoon by the hreach, with the honours of war, drums heating, colours Aying, to the glacis, where they will ground their arms. All the officers, whether Europeans or Indians, thall keep their fwords. - The cre:nfes of the Malays fhall he packed $u_{p}$ in a chelt, to be delivered to them in cafe they thoutd be fent back to their own country, as being weapors peculiarly belongutg to thent, which they will never confent to part with. -Anf. The gation thati marchoat on the manner demanded. The cactiles of the Malays thall be dipofed of as requetted, and the whole of the effleers and men thall de contidered as prifoners of war.
II. Ali the ammuntion and other effects of the Company, fhall be delivered to the perfons mamed on the pait of his Briannic Majetty's Commanders.-Anf. Granted.
111. The Europe in ofticers flall not be fent to Europe contraly to their own con-fent.-Gianted.
IV. The eftects, as well belonging to the garrifon as to modivedats, thall be preferved to them-Anl. Gromed.
$V$. The civi fercants of the Company thall be allowed to retice to another part of the inand--Ani. It is not in the power of the officer-commanding the Britim forces to grant thrs articte.

V1. The tick and wounded fhall be proferly taken care oi. - Anf. Certainly.

Vil. The garrition thall not be fubject to reprifals.-Granted.
[The ordnance in the foit confifted of 42 brafe gunc, widd 6, tion guns.?

Filled and wounied of the Troops under the command of Col. Stuart, during the fiege of Trincomale, Auguft, ${ }^{7} 95$.
Kille 1 - 1 Rombadier, 3 gunners, 3 mątroffer, Ifeaman, 1 fepoy, and 6 lafcars. Wounzict-I m.jor, I captain, I lientenant, 1 entign, 4 ferirants, 1 corporal, 2 gunneis, 10 matrofirs, 13 priva'es, and 2 teamen (Eutopeans) I tyrans, 9 fepoys, and 8 lafcars (natives).

Officers wormbel.-Major Smart, Depny Quarter-Mafter General; Captain Gorry, of his Majefty's 7 If regiment; Lientenant Prefcutt, of the Madras trtillery; Enfign Benfon, of his Majelty's 72 d regiment.
P. A. Ag Eiv. Dep. Adj. Gen. Camp near Trincumaie, Alg. 3, 1795.
S.r, After clofing my dipateh of yefterday, an officer was fent to me by the com. mandant of Fort Oorfemburgh, reque:ting that I woutd permit an officer to meet him this morning for the purpofe of opening a negeti tion tor the furrender of the Fort. I accordugly fent Maior Asnew, the Athe jutant General of the forces under my rommand, and have the futi:faction to inform you, that the gamfon this day furrembered themielve prifontis of war, and that a detachment of his M jefty's tronjs to 顺 pofferton of the fors, andthe Brotifl colours wele hoifed in it before fon fet. I have the honour to inchoc the articles of capituhation, but have it not at prefent in my power to tanfonit the feveral retman which will be necefary, as Commodore Rainier and 1 tonot chank it proper to detan the Indiamen any longer, particulart: as the Commod re propotes recommending to the Guven manent of Madrasto difpatch the foha fchooner in a few davs to Enrope, as a moore expeditions converance. I have the homon to be, ice.
J. Sivart.
[ A Supplement to the above Gasette was publithed newt day, confiftins only of lethers rom Admiral Ranier, in effect precifly fomilay to the above. The chief atditions are, the failing of the Nalacea e:pedition, whech in bis lettor of the tith he mentions thus:-" His Majefty's thip Refittance, with four European flank companie, a tranfport, and the Suffolk's tender, with the remainder of the troops and basgate for the Malacca expedition, failed the fame day, and about eight A. M. pasted company." The other circumitance is the lofs of the Diomede, of 44 guns , which lie thus defcribes:-Unfontunately, as his Majefty's fhip Diomede, with her tow, were working up againft a ftong land wind into the bay, fhe ftruck with fo much violence on a rock, lying in fifteen fathoms water, and not delineated in our chart;, between Pigeon Illand and the outer point of this Bay, that the water the fhip made, gained fo faft on every exertion of both feamen and foldiers at the pamps, there was tarely time to taks the men out before the thip fomdered, without a polfibility of faving a fingle flore of any confequence but the boats."

Downing :Areet, Gan.16. The following Difparch, from Lieut. Col. Crufurd, dated Head-quarters of M rethal Clairfnyt's army, Creatzenach, Dec. 21, 1795, hit seen recesved by the R:ght Hon. Lord Greavilie.
"In confequence of the ajvinta es chtained by Murmat Cdirfuyt, as thated in my lant, Gener.l Jourdan, after haviag attempted in vain by different inancelures to fecure the right of his army, began his retreat from the Nathe on the $13^{\text {th }}$ intant ; and on the 1 th he took a prition unon the Huntruck, occurying :n the princimal paffer harween Bacharach on the Rhate, and Trarbach on the Mofelle. From the 15 'h to the prefent the feveral moinarntant actions have tak"n place between the advancel corps of the two arme, and the Anttian light tronps have, at diferent times, icoured the conatry from Bitkenfuldt to Treves; but the ftrenzth of the enemy's pofition in the montans, and the roads that leat to it being ventered for had by the late rains as to make the mar hof heavy artiliery almoft inpotible, have prevented Marfinl Chirfayt from undertaking any operation of confequence. His Excellency's line now extends from Dreyekhaten on the Rhine, by Stromburg, Kirn, and Oherfein, to Bi kenfeldt, whare the left of his arav is comeded bv a chain of light trows with Mrthe: Warmfu's right, which ocupies Kafomatern. MarThat Warnfer has drawa his lane from K. fe flauten, by Nenfalt, almg the rivalet called the Spirebach, to the Rhine. G in. Pichegra has male feveral attempts to ondize the tultrians to abandon the pott of Kaien! ntem, and on the zoth inftint he attacked it with very faperior numbers; ber, after an attern of feveral hoas, he war c mpletely repulfes, with the lafi of ne er two thowad men and feveral cannon. The Autrinss had, on this occ:imen, twenty nine offieser, and betwen fix and feven bond ed nom commifioned offiers and marates killed and wom!ed. The enemy fimetimes make demonftations from Doffethont; but the Anirian Corps, fationed up uthe Sien Rivalet, keeps them compietely in cl eck on that file. Pat of Marthat "rurmier's arny an: the Frince of Conde's corpo defend the right bark of the Rinine from thilipsbourg to Bafle."

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.
Conumbnt, Dee. 25. The Dughter of Louis XVI, and the Amb iffador of Tuicany, pafed through this town on the 2 j . The manner in which we came to know her was as follows : -the carrasewheels had not buen greared fince they left Troyes; in comfequence of which the carringe vaking fire, the Daugher of Louis XVI. was ohliged to walk all the w y from the Tanneries to the Inn of the Flear-deLy=. It was in palfing through this town, with Madame De Soucy and three men, that the was known : a p'aun bick gauze vell covered her face. Whilt the carlage was repainng, a number of people croused around the Imo. After the ftepped into the carriage, fhe paffed through this mulsitude, who obferved the moft profound filence. She appeared beauriful to themand in fact fhe is fo. She travelled wade: the name of Sophia, and was fuppofed to be the danghter of Hue and Madame De Soucey. We have fince learned, from the couriers who paffel on their return from Balle, that the exclange has taken place there, over willich Barthelemi prefided.

Bafle, Dec. 26. The French Proncefs Royal arrived at Hunningen on the 24th in the evening, accompanied by a Colonel and by Madame de Soucy. They occupied a private houfe, which had been previounly prepared: nobody was permitted to approach her, nor even any ftranger to enter the town while fis remained in it. The exchange took place on the fame evening at fix ocluk. The princefs appearsto be in a good tate of heath. She praited throush this town at foruck la't nisit. In the fame carvare with the Princefs were Madame de Soucy, and a female attend bet. The next cu.ch containe a a vaLet, of the name of Hine, a cook, and othev Servans A C lomel of the Gens, diarmes had the care of croducting the Pume if from Paristo Hunningen. Vir Bacher monediately on has arme!, fet out coin firr Rizchen; whence he rearaded, in the night, with the French fate prinerels. The Princefs was dreffod in black; and, wi:hout any extrandnary deg eu of banty, to ks very aminble: the is tal!, well- browed, and has the eyes. She foraks with a grace that excites almaration. Her atendant, converfing with one of the foritators, faid t.) them, " Lo $k$ at the Princel ; the is as good as the is petty, and tas the be? heart that ever womm had." At wine io the evening, the Proncefs and her retinate fet out fron this Town, taisivg the road for Lufienourg, where fhe teted latt night, wience the contimet iner jumbey th Viennia, by way of Impreck. Tise Pri cefs, in t.aking leave of M. B.cher, fa.d, with tears in her eyes-" Adhev, Sir; I th.ll always remenber that 1 .un a uative of France, and I feel regret at leaving that kngtom: be affured, that I hall always endeavour to render fervice to my Conntry, whenever it fall he in my power." The procelion from this place conifited of feven carriages. It was a fiue moon-light night, and a number of people crowded around her carriage. The people of Little Bane received her at her paiflage with great joy and clapping of hands; and we hear, that the was ueated at Hunningen with due refpect.

Lienna, $D_{c \cdot} 30$. Since the arrival of a meffenger from London, who brought an accome of the King having fignified to the Parhamer.t, that he confiders the French Government capable of being negotiated with, the hopes of Peace have confiderably increafed, though the dificities in the way of concluding one are, no doubr, very great. A quantity of artiltery and numbers of cannoneers are fent to ltaly.

Kientana:b, Dec. 3 1. The fufpenfion of arms is now finally fietted.-Field Marhal Claiffayt fets out to-morrow for Viema; and the troops go into winter quarters.The heavy cavalry is to commence its march on the ad of next month, and the infantry is to follow without delay.

Mentz, Fan. 1. Witi regard to the Armiftice between the Frencls and the Imperial armies, we have it now in our power to make the following report:-After the French Generals Pichegru and Jourdan had, by means of the Geacrals of Divifions commanding the Friach advanced polts, propofed a ceffation of Hoftilities for three months to the Anfryan Generals Mazores and Kray, the Field Marmals Clairfayt and Wurmfer refured acceptiug the fame, beins likey to become prejudicial to the Imperial army; but acquiefced in the Generals commanding the advanced poits to conclude one, under the exprefs condition that no party fhould attack the other, unlefs formally giving a notice of ten days.-Agreeably to this convention or agleement, both armies have remained in the roftion they occupied during the negotiation, and eaeh party is at liberty to recommence hoftilities, provided ten days notice are given. Since this occurrence, all hoftlities have ceafed; and no doubr is entertained of the French Gener:ls having accepted this offer, made on the part of the Imperial Field-Marthals, although it widely differs from the original overtures made by the French Genera's.

Fin. 28. The principal highthenfe at firuxbazen was blown down by the violence of the wind on the night between the fecond and thind inftant. A veflel from London, as an inftance of guich faiting, had arrived there from Londen in q $^{S}$ hours.

> West lndia Nisws.

Barbados, Ner. 26. "We were, in the beginning of this montl, very much alarmed by an unufual and e:traordinary fall of water, greater than any known in this illand within the memory of man, and far excceding that at the time of the burricane in $\mathbf{1 7 8 0}$. On ti:e 8 th inftant, we had heavy showers and thater and lightning in the afternoon, which continued all that night ; fo that the Gully * ran with great violence. About 7 next morning, it feemed as if the heavens had burft, and were pouring down their waters to overwhelm as; it fell in ons continued torrent till feven the next morning, bemg twenty four hours; and all that time, hous lay and night, there were not two feconds intermiffion hetween the moft vivid flathes of lightuing, and mott tremendous peals of thunder I ever heard. It might juitly be fai, in the language of the pfalaift, "The clouds poured nut water, the air thuncered." The Gally ran higher than ever was known, and, meeting with a flow and fpring tode, the water, after bre:king down both our bridges, howed over into the town, and was in many Areets and houfes five feet hish. The inWhatants efcaped to other parts of the town; fome wading through the water, lome fwimining, and others on torfeback, the horfes too being ohliged to fwim. All thint part, and, indeed', I believe, the whole town, would have been wafhed away, if the Gully had not overflowed its banks on one particular part, taken a new courfe over the fields, and emptied itfelf into the fea, atter having wathed away the greateit part of two houles, and mads a gulph in the road which le ds into the town, at leaft co feet wide, and so er : 2 deep, too large to be filled up; unleis a bralge is built there, the road muit contmue to be impafiable. It has broke up all the roads in the comutry, and done much damage to feveral phantations. Sume, for miles together, lie under water; the negro houfes, and other fmall ones, were entrely covered, and, I believe, are to this day uninhabitable. On the Monday it haided two or three tines, and feveral fmall pieces of ice were picked up in different places. It is fuppofed the bridges cannot be rebuilt in lefs than a twelvemonth, as there are no materials in the ifland at prefent for that purpofe."

Famaica, Nov. 29. The Maroon Negroes filll continue to be very troublefone, thongh (thank God!) their complete extirpatom is at hand: it is certain that their ammunition is very neanly ealisutted; firit, that they do not fire fo frequently as heretofore, by at leaft oue half; and, fecondly, that, when they do, it is fo weak and meffectual, that we now begin to dread no injury from it. Our blacks too are fo fteady and ftaunch in our caufe, that I am enabled to hope our next advices will be as confolatory as they have 'tely been unpleafant.

* This Gully is a river that runs from the fea in Carlifle Bay, through the town into the counry, about a mile and a half. Into this, when we have heavy rains, the waters from the windward part of the inland falls and fill it, which empties into the fea.

America.

A few days ago arrived in town from Halifax, in Nova-Scotna, Mrr. Spillard, the celebrated pedeftrian traveller, fo frequently mentioned in the European and American publications. This fingular character has been out near twelve years, and has travelled on foot, during that time, the diftance of 69,000 miles and upwards, through all Europe, a great part of Affatic Turkey, through Parbary, u; to Manquinez and Fe , in Morocco, and through the Arabs country.

Being defirous to add America to the other three quarters of the world, he took paflage from Gibraltar, about fis years agn, for Boftom, and has travelled, during that time, through all the United States, through Eaft Florida, and from the river St. Mary's, through the wildernefs, to the Lower and Upper Creek Nation, where he was kindly received by his friend Col. Magilleviay. Being protected by him, te remained there for a confiderable time, and was furnithed by that gentleman with notes of that nation, of Indian manners and cuftoms. From the Creeks he vifited the Chickafaw, Cherokee, and Chockldw Nations of Indians, and was al:says prefent at their councils and talks.

From the Creek Nation he proceeded to Penfacola, in Eait Florida, where he procured letters of recommendation from Go vernor O'Neal, in the Spanifh fervice, and alfo from Mr. William Fanton, merclant of that place, to the Baron De Carondelft, at New Orleans, the preient Governor of Lonifiana, whe, contraiy to Mr. Spillard's expectation, as well as thofe oi his friends, very poltely received him, and not only gave him a generat pasport, but likewife letters of recommendauon to the Governor of the Natchez, and to all the commandants of diftricts and out-pofts in this extenfive province.

Mr. Spillard's intention being to go up the Melfura River to its fource, he fet out from New Orleans, accompanied by fome Gentlemen, who would intit upon feeing him as far as the poft of the Walnut Hills. There he croffed the Difififippi River, with fix men in his company, and went up it till he came to the confluence of the Meffura witi the Mififfippi. Having gone up the Meffura a diftance of more than 3000 miles, he fell in with fix white hunsers, from the Ouchita River, who advifed him not to attempt going up any farther, as they themfelves were out three years hunting, and loft all their peitry and horfes, and narrowly efcaped with their lives from the Ouza Indians; thefe Indians never give any quarter to either red or white men; and the party who went up that river to explore it, under Governor Mure's directions, were all killed.

Thus deterred, he came down to Natshez $z_{1}$ and foon afier came down the Miffirfippi, till he came to the confluence of the Red River, the fource of which he was determined to find out at all events He ac cordingly went up as far as Ænoilife, where he parted with his canoe, and fruck off to Oppalufa, which, as well as Atakapau and New Iberia, he carefolly examined. Here he ftruck acrufs the Mountains to Nactitoches, which is the latt Spanifl port upon the Red River. Previous to leaving New Orleans, the Governor gave him letters to the Governor of the Province of Thikors, in New Spain, where he arrived at the City of St. Antoine in a month after his departhire from Nachitoches. The Governor, Dr. John Curtefs, received him politely, and, after refting a few days, gave him a fmaill guard as an efcort to the South Mountain of Santalee. Here he fell-in with the South branch of the Red River, which he continued down till he came to the North branch, and fo continued along its banks in the great plains till he came to the Pawnee Nation of Indians, and fo on to the Canfee Indians, continuing his rout till he arrived again at N.tchitoches, and fo down to the mouth of the river.

There are many rivers which fall into the Red River, fuch as the Falfe Oucheta, Muddy River, the Acomafhee, or the River of the Mene, Little River, and Black River, with the Oucheta, f:lls into it juft twenty leasnes from the Mofintipji. The Red River witer is very unwholefome, from its falt tafte; it is alfo very muddy and rapid.

Mr. Spillard is the firft perfon who has ever taken a draught of this river from its fource, from the Riountains of Santalee to its junction with the Mimfinpur, a difo tance, with its windings, little mort of 4000 miles.

We are forry to hear that this Gentleman, in attempting to get to England, has been iwice captured by French privateers, out of Charleftown, and fripped of every thing valuable about him, but had the good fortune to fave his journats and notes, which are intended mortly for publication. He came to England in his Maje tty's fhip the Thifbe, through the recommendation of his Koyal Highnefs Prince Edward, at Half. $x$.

Pbiludelphix, Dec. 8. This day, the Prefident met both Houfes of the Legina. ture of the United States at the Congrefs Hall', and delivered the following fpeech :
"Fellow Citizens of the Senat", and Houfe of Reprefentatives,
" I truft 1 do not deceive myfelf, while I indulge the perfuafion, thit I have never met you at any period, when, more than at the prefent, the filuation of our pub1 c affars has afforded juft caufe for mutual congratalation; and for invitug you to join with me in profound graritude to the Author of all Good, for the numerous an! extraordnary biuhings we erjoy.
"The termination of the long, expenfive, and diftrefing war, in which we have been engaged with certain Indians, North Weft of the Ohia, is placed in the eption of the United Suates, hy a treaty which the commander of our army has concluded, provifiona!!y, with the hoftile tibes in that region.
"In the adjufment of the terms, the fatisfaction of the Indians was deemed an object worthy no lefs of the policy, tha: of the liberality, of the United States, as the neceflary hafis of curable tranquility. This object, it is believel, has been fully attained. The articles asreed upon will immediately be laid before the Senate for their confideration.
"The Creeks and Cherokee Indians, who alone of the Sonthern tribes had annoyed our frontiers, have lately confiumed their pre-exifting treaties with us; and were giving evidence of a fincere difpofition to carry them into effect, by the furrender of the prifoners and property they bad taken: hot, we have to lament, that the fair prefpect in this quarter lias been once more clouded by wanton numders, which fome citizens of Gemagra are reprefented to have recently perpectrated on hunting parties of the Cretk:; which have again fubjected that fromier to difquietude and dinger ; which will be productive of further expence, and maty cocafion more effufion of blool. Meafures are purfuing, to prevent or mitigate the whal confequtences of fuch outrages; and with the hope of their fucceeding-at leaft to avert general hoftility.
"A letter from the Emperor of Morocco anrounces to me his recogntion of our treaty, made with his father, the !ate Emperor; and confequently the continuance of peace will that power.-With peculiar farisfaction I add, that information laas been rectived from an agent deputed on our part to Algiers, importi"g that the terms of the treaty with the Dey anu Regency of that combry had been adjoned in fuch a manner as to authorife the expectation of a fpeedy peace, and the refteration of our unfortunate fellow-citi$z e n s$ from a guievous captivity.
"The latest advices from our envoy at the Court of Malrid give, moreover, the pleafing information, that he had received affurances of a ipeedy and fatisfactory conclufion of his nezotiation. White the extent, de ending upon unadjufted particulats, cannot be regarded as afcertainel, it is agreeathe to cherid the expeciation of an iffue, which, fecuring amically very effential interefis of the United States, will, at the fame time, lay the foundation of lafting harmony with a power, whofe friendhip we have uniformly and fincerely defired to cultivate.
"Though not before officially difclofed to the Houfe of Reprefentatives, you, gentlemen, are all apprized, that a theaty of amity, commerce, and navigation, has been nerotiated with Great Bitair ; and that the Senate have advifed and confented to its ratification, upon a condition which excepts part of one article. Agreeably thereto, and to the beft judgment I was able to form of the public interef, after full and mature delhberation, I have added my fanction. The refult, on the part of his Britannic Majefty, is unknown; when received, the fubjef will, without delay, he placed before Congrefs.
" This intereftng fummary of our affairs, with regard to the foreign powers between whom and the United States controverfies have fubfifted, and with regard alfo to thefe of our Indi in neiglibours wit! whom we have been in a ftate of enmity or mifunderftanding, opens a wide field for confoling and gratifying reflections. If, by prudence and moderation on every file, the extinguifhment of all the caufes of external difcord, which have herctofore menaced our tranduillity, on terms compatible with our nationat rights and homour. forth be the hapry refult-how from and how precious a fommation will have heen lisid for acrelerating, maturing, and eftahlifhing, the profperity of our cometry !
"Comemplating the meternal fituation, as well as the extemal relations of the United Statec, we diforer equal caure for contentment and fatistictuon. While many of the nations of Europe, with their American dependences, have been i:1volved in a conteft mufiantly bloody, exhaunting, and cal mitows ; in which the cvils of foreign war have been aggravated by domeftic convulfion and infur ection; in which many of the arts, moft wefut to fociety, have been expofed to difcouragenent and decay; in which fcarcity of fubfiftence has enibittered other fuffering:while even the anticipations of the return of the blefings of peace and repofe are alloyed by the fenfe of heavy and accumulsting burthens, which prefs upon all the departments of induftry, and threaten to clog the future fprings of goven nment; our favoured country, happy in a ftriking contratt, has engoyed general tranquillity-a tranquilly the more fatisfactory, becaufe maintained at the expence of no duty. Fazhful to ourfelves, we have violated no obligations to others. Our agriculture, commerce, and manufactures, profper heyoud former example; the moleftations of our trade (to prevent a continuance of which, however, vely pointed remonfrances have been made) being overbalanced by the aggregate bencfits which it derives from a neutral pofition. Our population advances with a celerity which, exceeding the mnft fanguine calculations, proportionably angments our ftrength and refources, and guarantees our future fecurity. Every part of the union difplays indications of varions and rapid improvement, and with burthens fo light as fearcely to the perceived; with refonces fully adequate to onv prefent exigencies: with go ernments $f$ unded on the general minciples of rational linerty, and with mild and wholefome law ; is it ton much to fay, tht our country' ex', ihit a fpe.tacle of nationa! happinef, never furp (fled, it ever before equalled?
"Placed in a fituation every way fo aufpecious, motives of commanding furce impel $u$, with fincere acknowlyment to Heaven, and pure love to our cour tre, to unite our efforts to preferve, prolong, and improve, our immenfe ats mitgec. To co-operate with you in this defirab'e work is a fervent and favouste wilh of my heart.
" It is a valuable ingredient in the general eftimate of our welfare, that the part of our country, which was lately the fceve of diforder and infurrection, now enin; the blefings of quet and order. The minfed have :ban loned their erors, and pay the refpect to our conftitution and laws which is due from good citizens to the public :mothotites of the fociety. Thefe circumitances have induced me to pardon, generally, the ufenders here referred to ; and to exten' forgivenefs to thofe who had been adjulged to capitil punibment. For, though I thall :ilwavs think it a facred duty to exercife with firnusfs and energy the con-titutional powers with which I an vefted, yet it appeare to me no lefs confiftent with tha puhtic good, than it is with my pertonil feelings, to mingle in the operation of Government every degree of moderation ant tendernefs which the national juftice, dignit", and fafety, may permit.

" Gentlemen,

"Among be ohjeols which will claim your attention in the courfe of the feffion, a review of our military eftablifhment is not the leaft important. It is called for by the events which have changed, and may be expected ftill farther to change, the relative fituation of our fron'iers. In this review, you will dountlefs allow due weight to the confuderations, that the queftions hetwera as ad cortuin foreign powers are not yet finally adjufted; that the war in Enope is not yet terminated; and that our Weftern polts, when recovere.', whll demand provifion ton garrifon and fecurtns them. A ftrenent of our prefent mithtary force will he haid before jou by the Department of war.
"W'th the review of our army eft. blifhnent is naterally connected that of tie military. It w:ll merit enquiry, wht imperfections in the exifting plan fartler experience may have usfolded. The fubject is of to much moment, in my eatimation, as to excite a coniftant folicitation that the confideration of it m iy he renewed till the greateff attainable perfection thall be accomplifhed. Time is wearng atway fome advantapes for forwarding the of iect, while none hetter deferves the perteverng attenthen of the Public : on cil.

"Whule we inth'ge the fatisfaction which the actual cow diticn of our Weftern borders fi, well uthoriz s, it is neceffary that we thould in the fight of an important truth, which conthually receives new comfirmations-namely, that the provifions hererofore mate, - th a view the the protection of the Indans from the villences of the lan lef nart of our fronter inh bitants, are infuficient. It is demonftrated that thefe violences can now be perperrated wath impunity; and it can need no argument to prove, that, whefs the murdering of Indins can he reftrained, by bringing the nurderers to condign ienifhment, all the exertions of the guvernment to prevent deltruet ve retaliations 'y the ndians will prove fraite's, and all our prefent agreeable prefpects illur 1 y . The frealant deftructhen of innocent women and chidren, who are chief the victims of reraliation, muft con'inue to thock humanity; and an enormous exp-nce to drain the treafury of the Union.
"To enforce upon the Indians the obfervance of juftice, it is ind fpenfable that there fhall be competent means of rendering juftice to them. If ti:efe means can be devifed by the wifdom of Congref, yad efpecially if there can he added in adequate provifion for fupplying the necelitles of the Indians, on re.ifonable terms (a meafure, the mention of $w^{\prime}$ ich I the more readily repeat, as in all conferences with them they urge it with folicitude), ( hameld not hefitate to entertain a flrong lope of rendering our tranquility permanent. I add with pleafure, that the pr hability, even of their civilization, is not diminnlied by the experiments which lave been thas far made under the aufpices of government. The accomphthment of this work, if prachicable, wi!! reflect undecaying lutre on our national chiraser, and adminitter the moft griteful confolations that virtuous minds car know.
"Gentleme:rof the Houfe of Repreentatives,
"The ftate of our revenue, with the fums which have been borrowed and reinmbirfed, purfuant to different acts of Congrefs, will be fubmitted from the proper departments; together with an eftmate of the appropriations neceffiry to be made for the fervice of the enfuing year.
"Whether nieifutes may not be advifable to renforce the provition for the re-d-mption of the public deht, will natrolly engage your eazamination. Congreis bave demuattrated demonftrated their fenfe to be, and it were cuperftoous to repeat mine, that whatsoever will tend to accelerate the honowatle extinction of our public debt accerds as much with the true intereft of our comntry, as with the general fenfe of our contiquents.
"Gentlemen of the Senate, and Houfe of Reprefentatives,
" The fatements w!ich will be laid before you, relative to the Mint, will hew the situation of that inftitution, and the neceffity of fome farther leginative provifions, for carrying the bufinefs of it more completely into effect, and for checking abouses which appear to be rifing in particular quarters.
"The progrefs in providing materials for the frigates, and in building them; the fate of the fortifications of our harbours; the meafures which have been purfucd for obtaining proper fites for arfenals, and for replenifhing our magazines with mulitary fores; and the fteps which have beell taken towards the execution of the law for opeuing a trade with the Indians; will Sikewife be prefented for the infurmation of Cougref,
"Temperate difcuffion of the important fobjeeds which may arife in the courfe of the feffion, and mutual forbearance where there is a difference of opinion, are too obvious and neceffary for the peace, happinefs, and velfare, of our comery, to need any recommendation of mine."

Ireland.

Ton. 3. This night, the houfe of C.teb Harman, Efq in the county of Longfond, was att.cked by a numerous party of Derenders, who demanded a furrenter of all the arms in the boufe ; but, on Mr. Harman's refufing to comply with this demand, they deternined to carry their parpoie by affault, and with fome difficuly foried oper the doors. Mr. Harman at the head of his domelticks, endeavouring to renel the allailants, was fired upon and rechived the contens of a blunderbufs loaded with flugs in his abdomen, and in confertence of his wownds lies in a languibiog fitate*. Several of the domentics nere affofeverey wounded; and the Defencerc, having effectuatly fucceeded in obtaining ill the arms in the houfe, rituendintiumph. Fleven out of the twelve ruffians who allalinated Mr. Harman have been taken, and are in Tongford gaol; in the number is the perfon who was wuunded by Mr. Hamea's pitol.

Scotland.

Yum, 6. About two octock P. M. his Rewn liighners Monfieur, Comse d'Artos, with his fuite, landed at luith, from onboart his AhjeAy's frigate \|ton, C. Stirling, Ex. commander. On the frigate's coming to anchor in the roads, his Royal Highnefs was faluted with 21 guns from Leith battery, and with the like number or lis landing at Leith, where he was recejved from the boat hy Lord Adam Gordor a id a part of his fuite, ard conducted in his I rothip's cariage to an apartinent in his M.jefty's palace of Holyrood-houfe, fitted in hate for his roception; and, as he entered the palace, his Royal Highnefs was faluted with 21 guns from Edinburgh Caftle, The Windior Forefters and Hopetoun Fencibles were in readinefs to line the approach to the palice, but, his Royal Highnefs chofing to land in a private manner, and with as litule ceremony as poffible, that was difpenfed with. The crowd of people at the Quay, and all the way from it to the pilce, was extraotdinary; befules, every window was fitted; and the joy expreffed on his Royal Highuefs's fafe arival in Scotland feemed to be very general. The Noblemen in his Royal Highoef's fuite followed in carriages provided for that purpofe, and were conducted, from the outer gate of the palace, by the Commander in Cheef, to their apartments. His Royal Highyefs, and fuite connifting of a number of french nohlemen and gentlemen, dined with Lord Adam Gordon, and feveral others of the fuit rank. His Royal Highnefs is, for fome ine, to have apartments in Lord Adam Gordon's lougings, until others are fitted up for his recepuon,

Country Nyws.

Gowes, Joh. 3. There have heen various examinations of the Mafter, and fome of the furvivors of the unfortunate paffengeis on-buard the Joln and Elizabeth, lately arrived from Guernfey. It appears, that, on Dec. 24, 120 perfort, difcharged fiom two Funcible Regiment, were put onboard the above veffel by an officer of the army, whole nane the Mafter does not recollect. The vefiel is only 35 tons, and the otficer faw her, and paici the Mafter 5r. a head to land thefe Sokiers in England. On the 26 th, fhe failed trom Jeriey, and about 4 in the afternoon put into Gaernfer, to give the people an opportunity of fupplying thernfelves with provifions, and to lay in a flock of water. They failed from Guernfoy next morning about Io, the wind W.S.W. At 6 , it began to blew, andercontinuing to increafe, they took three reets in of the main fail, and fet the from jib. Ac 3 in the morning of the 2 gth, it blew fo very liard, aush was fo thick, that the Mafter could not make the land difinoly, and about 4 land her to. At 8 bore away to m. ke the land; mate the land about 10 , but, the weather being very hazy, could not diftinguifh what land it was. About now, fet the try-fail, and land to. No hatches were then on, but the vellel hriped inmenfe quanticies of water, fiom the fea running very high, and more than the pumps covild difchar e. At 8 P. M. the Matter called to the people, then bulow, and told them it was irapofitible to keep the haiches open ..ay tongei, os the vetfel murt inevia'ly $f$ uncer, and that as many as cliofe mig'te run the hazard of coming upon deck; that the batches nuatt be bitictind dionn, $n$ or er to fave the velfet and the: lives. Ahout fever came on dick; but one perimed $b_{;}$the feverity of the weather. The hatches were then land $n$, dud the tarpaulins naited oner. Abcut 12 , it blowily ftill with greas vichene, tit Al: Rer was alarmed with the cry of fire ; upm whin th he ran to the fore butch-". ys, nit twe the hatch oft, and ufo the t...ppums and he tho es of the main laath-way ; … whech a mort offenfive fnell :iti ed foon the hold. The pumps in the wean tme were kept at work, but corid farce free the veffel. On the morning f Dec. jo, the wad thified to N. W. by N. about 2. At diy-dight, on examuniug the :orld, 47 men wore found deal, all 3 wima, all of whom were thrown overlvart. Une man died after the arriva' of the vefer in Cowes Road. Une of the follicis diell on Timer ciay night from the effeci: of the buttwation; and an ther was fo ith on Ftin. y, that it wa, thought impolithle the could furve many hours longer ; making the whole number of lives Ioft, 54 .
gan. 6. Liff week there was a mugt atrocious rohbery conm ted near Nai.fone. Four men belonging to the rostin res ment, quartered is Canteibery, itule from then quarters, suld atheched a company of farmers returning from market, whom they robled of all the money they had about them, winch amonited to near bocl. One of the vilatins his heen taken.

Fan. 8. This cveniug, a Bath conch was overturned at the bettom of King-ftreet, Kending, trom the lurles having fee off before the coachman was on the hos: the infide paliengers Cortumately cicaped with only a few itg't ct.tcties; bat the cuach falling on Joan B.ker, a fater, who was on the outsid, te was brutid fo much internally, that he died on suadiy morning. The Coronal's verdict, Accilenall Death, the coach and horfes forficted is a deodan!? -This unfutunare man was a gunner oinboard the Dumede Frig.te at the time the was lot loy firleung on a fumben iork oft Triccom,le, and was afterwarls at the taking of that fort : he came tare in the Ship the: brought the drfatcher, and was coming to London to fee his wife, froma whom he had been abfent alove ten years.
Staford, Yan. 9. On Friday evening, as Mr. Willani Dyton, of Bugit, a yonig man of refpeeathe char Etel, war itturn:5 home from a vifir, he obierved two manh quarreling it the door of a public houfe; aud upon his enquiring of a bye-ftander into the caufe, one Edward took up a gon, and frack the unfortunate youth upon the left temple with fuch violence, that, after laguifng two days, he expired.-The Coroner's inquett have brought in their verdict, Wifíul Vurder.

Fin, 9. A ducl was fought in a field near Kcibrilge, Hants, between Licut. Thomas Purgets, of the rath regiment, and Lient. Kearnec, of the 8oth. Mr. K. received a pilu-fhot inhor hop, and languined in the greateft pain till Thurday lat, when he expired. An inqueit was tiken on the b.dy on Fnday laft before Mr. Conbir, Ci romer, when a refpectable Jury, at Redbriige, after a very minute and particular inveftigation of the circumftances, returned a verdict of Murdir.

Fuh. 13. Thin night a fire was difoovered in the Dutse of Devonhise's feat at Cbifwick, which at firit threatened very alarnang confequences to that eleg int building; but it whextingurhed withont doing any other dimige than deftroying the houfekeepet's ditting-ronm and bed-room, in the later of which it broke out. The fmell alarming the farvants, who were below at fupper, they immediately procured the parith engive, with another helonging to Mrs. Luther, who lives near the Duke's; and, by great exertions, got the fire under. hefre ans abiftence arrived from Town, for which an exprefs was fent on is firft heing ditcovered. The accident is fuppofed to have been occ, fioned by the clambermad haveng dropped a fpark from the candle when ihe turned down the hed, whech, with the fumiture of both roms and a valuable picture, were burnc.

As a proof of the great milduefs of the prefent featon, there is in an orchard helongins to Mr. M. Hodge, of the Parim of -Iffond, near Rampurle, an apple-tiee, with blofioms in full per fection, and anotiver tree with the apples fot.

Finn. I4. About a quarter before thee o'duck thinswong, a fire broke out at the extenfive Mills at Lifa Bidge, Midlefex, the property of Cmmles Hanertm, ed. (hiely one wh the Shertis of London), which. atter burning with amazing rapidty for two hours, entirely confoasd the fame, rith an immenfe yuantity of wheat and enver. The works whith fupply Clapton with water were who coltoyed; and a coifiderable pin or necdie manufactory, with much timber on the wharf, and aboat 3000 gharters of what an flour, the propery of Government. The fire is fuppreat thave Deen accafioned ty the meal-weigher's le:ving a hos.acd candle between $=$ lacks in an upper-rom. The dwe bug-hou.fe ajoining efcaperi. Mrs Kill ck, who thee! : ir and has het lan-i, fuetimen ar juy, though grently narmed and in the frightit. The fire was fo extromely rapid, tha the preanifies were entrely confumet in in hour and half. Mr. Hiammerton's propetv was montly intarel. The light of the flame wa difinctly reen at Fified one wav, and a Mary-le-bonne the other and refections in the air as far as Hatield.

Fan. 22. The following remark the inftance of martality in one ta ilv happened durigg the courfe of the lat week. Mr. S.mer: Fegans, if Seddon- ftect, Litee pool, at the ame that he was atemting the tumeral ot his wife and fon, whon liad dhed a day or two nefore, was informed hat his daughter had alfo jutt died of the :oted fever ; In that he has loit his wife and two clibluen withon ore weck.

Fan. 23. At 4 in the munn of hay on the prenures f Dimel Ga nault, Ify. at Enfell, were difoov ict to be in fire, ant ver lictle coull be f el notwithItandine inemediate amfance. Strong fufpicions arifug of theirh ving been malicioufly fet on fire, a rewartl of 5 for is aducrifed. The precedng niglit, the punlic-howe in Enfieln hoghay, kept by Mr. Fichl, grazier, was hreken sute, and money and sundry attictestaken fiom the bar.

Cobbam, Yar. 24. Captain Wutfon is declared unt of danger. The bone of his thigh has exfoliated, and the wound has pot on an braltely apperance. The circomf:nce will, his ever, be attended with lamenefs. (See p. 83).

Fan. 24. B'twe-1 ight and nine n'd ck this day, the Puwder Mills belouging to M . . $3: 11$, :t Hoanflow, owng th : he wheels of the milh not heirg proper $y$ dupplied in th oil, took fire, and hlew $n p$ with dreadfu explofion, which not only ter "fied the mbabtants of the place, bat alarmelt ie cities of London and Weftmmer, a d the thousen of the people feral miles round the metropolis experenced the . Heers oi its powerful concuflon: three nen whu were it work in the menufactor , of the names of Parry, Alllinge, and Wintorman, who all refuted mear the fort, have lof their l:ves, and the flames from the mill communcating to a puit in the mill inver, in which were 30 batrals of gam-powder, let fire to the whole, and blew up with a terable explofion; the man wha hat the care of the velfel heing thatered to piccee, the hat being blown ant of the water. Nion a velthge of the mill $i$ jeft fianding, a.d Homiflow heath is covered wich buicks and thes ard ile mangled limbs of the onfortum te fuffe efs The homes in Humfow, Thewort!, and evea Bientford, have fuffered conlid-ra !y, the Crown Im, at Hounflow, and the King's Head at Brentiond, thave not a" hole pane of glats in the windows; and the mriabtants were foterified near the foor, that they not only forfook their dwellings, but a number of women, with their children, through fear, appared half niked in the freers, expecting every moment that their houfes would fall and bury them in the ruins. The fattered limbs of the unfortnoate victims, who for the nooft part have left large fan ilies to lament their lois by this unforefeen event, were, by order of the Magift tes, collected to $\tilde{z}_{2}^{*}$ other and depofited in the churchyant The lof of this valuable manufactory is eitimated at near 20,0001 . The flanck was felt ac far Nurth of London as the e etrenuth sof Fnfild parifh, and South heyond Crovdon. Añm lar difafter happened to the fime conc: $n$ about 20 years ago.

HISTORIC IL CHRONICLE Heads of the ct for the Safety of His Majestu"sterson, &゙c.

I. If any wefon or perfons whitfoever, after the day of the pulling of :l1.s ACt, during the natural life of our moft gracions Soveregn Lord the King, and until the end of the next feffion of Pallament aiter a demife of the Crows, fhall, within the realm or without, compat, imagine, in$\mathrm{v} \in \mathrm{n}^{2}$, devife, or intend, deat or deftruction, maim or woundin?, impriforment or reftri it, of the perfon of the fame our Sovercign Lord the King, his heirs and finceeffors, or to dumive or depofe him or them from the ftyle, honour, or kingly na ne, of the imperin' crown of this realm, or of any ether of his Maje fty's dominions or countries; or to levy war againgt his Majefty, ha hers and fucceffors, within thes realm, in order, by force or conitraint, to compel him or them to charge his or thicir meafores or cimmels, or in order ta put any force or contraint upon, or ta intumitla'e, or overawe, hoth Honfes, or either Houfe of Parliament; or to move or Atir any foreipner or ftranger with force ts invade this realm, or any other his M.jelly's dominions or countries, under the , weifance of his Mdjenty, his heirs and fucceffors; and fuch compafing, imaginations, inventions, devices, or intentions, or any of them, hall exprefs, nttet, or declare, by publifhing any priuting or wrinng, or by any overtact or deed; beng legally convicted thereof, upon the oaths of two law ful and credible witneffes, upon triat, or otherwfe convicted or attanted by due courfe of law, that every foch peifon or perfous, fo as aforefaid offending, fhail be deemed, declared, and adjudfed, to he a traitor and traitins, and maill fuffer pains of death, and alfo lofé and forfen a in cafes of high treafon.

II If any perfon or perfors within that pait of Great Bntim called England, at any time from and after the day of the paffing of this Act, during thiee years from the day of pafting this act, and until the end of the then next Seffion of Parliamen, hall maliciounly and advifedly, by writing, printing, preaching, or other fpeaking, expref, pabluh, utter, or declare, any worts or fentences, to incite or ftir up the peopite to hatied or contempt of the $p$ rfon of his Majefly, his heirs or fuccelions, or the Goversment and Conftitution of thas Reatm, as by law etidlifhed, that every fuch perion or perfons, hemg thereof legally convicted, thall be liable to fuch punthment; as may by law be inflicted in cafes of ta sh midemennours; ant if any :erfon or perfoms thatl, afier being to convicted, offend a fecond time, and the thereupon convicted, betore any commafim of oyer and termaer, or gaol dehvery, or in his Majeity's Court of King's Bench, fuch perfon or p-rions insy, on luch tecond convicturn, be adjudged, at the difetetion of the Count, effore :o Guffer fuch pundrivent as may now by law be mflicted mofs of high midemeanours, or to be banifhed this reatm, or to be traniported tur luch place as Matl be apponted by tus Majeity for the tranfportation of offenders, which baumme:t or tranforiatuan mall be tor fuch term as the Cont may appoint, not excecting Seven, years.

1796.] HISTORICAL CHRONICLE.

1II. If any offender or oftenders, who Ghall be fo ordered by why i ch Court as aforefand to be bamibed the realn, or tranfported heyond the fea., in manner aforelain, in fl be ai erw.rds at large withm any patt of the kingd om of oreat Britan, withour fome avful caufe, before the expration of the term tor which fuch offender of offenders thall have been orderes to be bamaied or timforted beyond the fern as aforemind, evory fuch offencier bring fo at large as atorefad, being thercof adwfolly convicted, thall fuffer desith, as in cales of felony wuthout henefit of ciergy; and foch offeadier or offenders maty he tried, erthea before Jutices 'alize, Oyer:antermamer, wieat Sethons, or Gaol Dehy ry, for the county, cily, hberty, borough, or phate, where tuch offender or offenders thatl be apprete ded ans thaen, or watence he, the, or they, wat or were ordered to be banimed or tranfported; and the Clerk of the Atfiz , Clet $k$ of the Yeace, or other Cleak o. Offiver of the Court, having the ce tody of the records whene fuch onders :if banithment or trinfportation fhall be made, ihall, at the requeft of the profecutor, or any other pe fon on his Majefty's belanf, make out and give a certificate, in writurg, figned hy him, contaning the efiect and fubtance only (omitting the formal part) of every indictinent and conviction of fuch offendes or offenders, and of the order for his, her, or their banimment or tadifpouttio $m_{2}$ to the Juftices of Arfize, Oyer, ad Termmer, Grent Sellions, or Gad Delivery, where fuch of fender or offenders ihath be indicted (not taking for the fame mue than two impllings and fixpence); which certificate thall tef faricient proof of the conviction and order for banifhment and tranfportation of fuch offender or offenders.
IV. Providel $a^{\prime}$ ways, that no perfon or perfons, hy virtue of this prefent Act, thall for any mideneanour, incur any the penalthes he inbefore mentioned, unlefs he, the, or they, he profecuted within fix calendar months $n$-xt after the offence commitcel, and the profecution brought to trial or juigement within the firft term, fittings, atiizes, or fetions, in which, by the comrfe of the court wherein inch profecution hall be depading, the prof cutor could bring on tuch trial, or caufe fuch judgement to be enterel, or in the term, fittins ${ }^{\text {s }}$, affize, or fettion, which fhall next entue, uncis the court in whach fuch profecution Thall the depenting, or before which fuch trial ought to be had, mall, on fpecial groand ftated by molion in open court, think fit to entarge the time for the trial thereos, or unkes the defendant hall be profecuted to or towards an oull.wry : and that no perfon fhall, upon rat, be convicied by virtue of this Act, for any mifdemeansu, but by the oaths of two creatible wineffes.
V. Prowi dalways, that all and every perfon or perfinisthat thall at any time be accufed, or indicted, or profecoted, for any offence made or declared $t$, be treafon by this Act, ihall be entitied to the benefit of the Act of Parliament, made in the feveath year of hus late Majelty King Wile liam the Third, intruled, An -ift for regize lating of Trials in ciafes of Treafon cind Mifa pificu of Triafun; a d alfo to the provifions mate ly ao ther Act of Parliament, paifed in the feventh year of her late Majefty Queen Amne, intituled, An AEt for imprce ving the Union of the two King doms.
Vi. Nothing in this Act contained thall prevent or afleet any profecution by information or indictment at the common taw, for any offeace within the provifions of this Act, unifis be party fhall have been firft protecuted under this Act.

DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

priday, 'fan. I.
This norning about 3 o'clock, an alarming fire broke out in Bow-it'cet. It raged with the utmoft violence, and, nutw thftanding the arival and utmot exertions of the many engines, conit. woi be futinued fomer than 6. It burnt with a degree of fury almott iucredible, and, after dertroying feveral houfes in the man ftree!, extented its dettructive effects itr widí as Crof lane, where it confuned inme houfes. The damage is not yet aicer:durd, but it is thought to be very confiderable. The fire teian in the warehou . app $\therefore \mathrm{t}$, the houfe of an uphbler, who livad next door to the Ginrick's-Head tavern, to which it commanced itfelf. The hore where it commenced was entively burn:
doxin, fo that fearcely a vertige of the very walls remainel. Three other houfes immediately adjuining were reduced to the fame deplorab'e fate of ruin. Mr. Spencer, Landord of the Ganilk' Head, and his family, hed retired to hed previoully to this unhappy affair taking phice. His extenfive premifes received very great damage, paticulatiy in the year of the buiding, which comnunicates with Duke's court. A party-wall, which Fwtunat-ly feparated Mr. Spencer"s from the houfe whate the fire began, was the neans of faving his thoure from total deffruction. His lofs mun, however, be very confuderable, as has boufe is retured to a mere thell, and his goods, by the hurry of removing then, received great injury. A large biquor-hhop, litely built by Mr. Spencer, at the bock of his houfe, in Duke's court, was alfo deltroyed. The lof coufed to individuali l.y the calamity muft be feverely felt, as the greater part of them were altogether uninfured, or but partitly covered. From the exertion of the fi emen, and humanity of the $f_{j}$ ectators, no lives were loft, thongh feveral were in imminent danger. Much praife is due to Mr. Brandon, of Covent-Garden theatre, for his attivity and good conduct on this melancho!y occafon.

A Collector of taxes was this day fummoned betore Mr. Alderman Staines, at Guildhal!, for giving fine'ry receipts to the inhatitants of the parifh of which he was collector, withont having proper ftamps on the fame. It appeared in evidence, that he mate it a praciice to charge 2d. for a ftam;, whorgh tach leceipt was on a blank piece of paper. He was fined in the penaty of 51.

Tharfay, Gan. 17.
Ahout fix o'clock this evening, 35 two gentiman were remmirg foom thouting map puit-chaife, thay were atacked by fix toot rats between the Fow'li-N1/'s and How w, who fopped the horfes, and immollitely fired note tie chaifo; when two of them advancing th the fide of the chate, one of the gi .t emen difchmrged hi: dowble borrelled gan at them, ind exomatel one of tham, is lie faw ham fall. Therthers tited repeatuly at the charfe, bu, not findang it ratumee, they rpened both dons, and woth the gemtenen of all their mones, are their donhe batmed gun, wad beas them ahout the he df with ther piltol. B bly the : entlemen sere ray moch wandel, and ame whiged to chilua forger: It at dippuited the gros remoen the wumder man, an immetrate fearcia wab ande atier lion whithout effect. Nioncy, \%en 18.
White the R yol diadand was fing in the Tonves of Londan, Anvat, in homour of the Denech, a tri colverolink flow, there yads when, and of longth 14 puparturn, was ratod oicr the ranpars da a diath of feven feet long, and cuntinued hoifted for thrce hous before it was difcovered in the garrifon. On the difcuver:, the Major of the Tower. Colorel Snith, went himielf to flrike ir, when makirg into a wrong part, it drappeared b:fore he reached the 1 pot, but was thaced into the Deputy Chaplain's houfe, and found fripped from the ftaff, under his fon's bed, a young man of I 5 , at prefent the pupil of a puhic fchool.

Wimeflay, Yan. 20.
The wind was this migit fo very tempertuoks as to caufe feveral finips to break from their noorings in the Pool.

F,idy, Y̌an. 22.

Mr. Fores, the propretor of a print-fhop in Piccalliy, was yefterday taken into cuftody, on a warrant ifface aganef imm by Mr. Addingtom, wherein ic fands charged with conte mptuoufly and imp:onfly capofing to puibl c fale a certain print, entituled, "The Preicaration, on the W'fe Men's Oftering," which is confideted in a atligions hight as a buriefque on the Sory ture picsure of the Whice Men's Offins to cur Sivisur, but is farnofed to relte to a recent event at Cailetin houre. The offence being provel. by the production of one of the priot, purch ifed at Mr. Furses thop, he was ordered to find ball to and a er the comphant at the nox befinn for in fitmefter.

Phillp, hopman to Mr. Ankn, printfeller, in Cumle-haeet, heice tel-tields, was accufed of the fome offence, and allo orderd to fime hallon his appernence.

The latmach of lis Moy :fty's flip Garland, on her vay from Slieenct: to the Nore, winfonately funk; and the Firfo Lieutonant, Mr. Wafon, Mr. Stew.w l, and iir. Thompfon, M fter's Matec, and Lientenant Burton, of the marnes, alt young ald deterving oficers, we e dwownd, 'og. b her $\mathbf{w}$ ith ne men and one womas, ien of the men, the reminung part of the crew, wer haved. This accident lope pend batherg tan intorerest a gurnthy if thur, when they were carrymg (If to the flip. One of the mea, who was a 1 cmattible good istimmer, hedd Mr. Sicwad up for a cormative time, and hat once athed ham in getting on the hothon of tle boat; hut, theing far feent, he comblio: Keep lis iond. His boly was accival happened, ind evory :mhance 2i en, hut in wan The mathen in red hime felf hy getmon, ne the trent of the boat.

$$
\text { Satude , Fin. } 23 \text {. }
$$

This being the fitio diy of liblary Term, the Lord Chaticellir and Juiges, :.itended Fy the great law-officet, üc. se came from the lord Crenco!tas': in procelfion, and difinumat Couts.

The wind blew fo frong this night as to the Metroplas. As the Gineral Poit-

1796.] DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

$O_{\text {fficefome chimneys were blown down, and }}$ the Accountant General's Olice unroofed. Sunday, fan. 24.
Her Royal Higtinefs, the Princefs of Wales bad this day di vine fervice performed in her apartments, the firt time fiwce her recovery, whien the thankfgiving prayer was ufed by the officiating claylain. Tueftay, Foan. 26.
As a fervant to Mr. Wilkic, of St. Panl's Chuich-yard, was carrying a young child of her mafters's along Ludgate-Hill, the was fuduenly feized with a violent pan in her fitomach; and had hardly time to complain, and remove the child from her arms, when the dropt down dead.

This morning a terrible fire broke out at a malt-houfe at Nine-Elms, which burnt with great fury; the flames commonicated to a dwelling houfe; but, by the timely afsftance of the firemen and engines, it was got under withont fpreading any farther.

Wedufiluy, Э̌an 27.
After the leyee, this day, the King paffed, with his attendants, to the Great Council Chanber; where, being feated in the ufual Itate, the Lord Mayor of London, accompanied by Alderman Sir W. Lewes, Pickett, Boydell, Le Mefurier, Skinner, Newman, Langfton, Eamer, and Luhington, the Two Sheritis, Recinder, Common Serjeant, and other city-officers, and about 80 of the Common Council, were introduced, and prefented the City Addrefs of Congrarulation on the Birth of a Princefs, which the King received with his ufual atfanility.

The following is a copy.
To the king's Most Exceleent Majesty.
The humble Addrefs of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of Lowdon, in Common Courcil afembled. Moft Gracious Sovereign,
We your Majenty's motit dutiful and loval fubjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council affembled, humbly approach the Throne with our fincere!t congratulations on the fafe delivery of her Royal Highnefs the Princels of Wales, and the birth of a Princefs.

Deeply fenfitile of the trne and fubftantisl bleffings which we experience under your Majenty's mild and patern il Gosernment, as etfential to the prefervation of the religion, laws, and liberties, of all your Majefty's fubjects, your fairhful citizens of London matt feel themfelves biglify interefted in an event which directly tends $t$ fecure to Britain the fucceffion of your ullutirious race on the Throne of their ancefors.

Impretied as we are with fuch rentinuents of loyalty and auramment to your Royal Houfe, it will be equally our duty and delight to promote, within our feveral foheres, a grateful venetation for your

Majefty's facred perfon and Government, a due fubmifinou and refpect for the laws of our cometry, and a geadfaft zeal to preferve the tranquility of the empire, as the fundamental protection of the invaluable privileges which we enjoy.

His Majesty's Answer.
"I thank yon for this dutiful and loyat addrefs, and for your congratulations on the bitth of a Princers.

The repeated inftances which I have received of your attachment to my perfon, family, and goveramen', are highly fatiffactory to me."

After retiring from the King's prefence, they were conducted to the Queen's Prefence Chamber, where the Queen was feated in her ufual fate, having all her attendants in waiting, when the following addrefs was prefented to her Majefty, which the received with evary mark of complacency and gratification.
To the Qúfen's Most Excellent Majesty.
The humble Addrefs of the Lord Mayor, Aldermeo, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council affembled. May it pleafe your Majefty,
We his Majefy's moft dutiful and loyal fubjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Conmons, of the City of London, in Common Council affembled, beg leave to congratulate your Majefty upon the fafe delivery of her Royal Highneis the Princefs of Wates, and the birth of a Princefs.

The citizens of L.ondon feel the moft live!y fentiment: of joy on every eccafion which contributes to giour Majefty's dumeftio felicity; and the facred line of fuccellion to the Throne of thefe kingdonis thus preferved forms a very materal portion of their happinefs; confcious as they are, that no advantage will be wanting to form her infant mind after the virtuous example of the illuftrious femaies of your Majefty's Royal Houfe.

That your M.jefty may be long fpared to witnefs the growth of thofe tranfcendent virtues of which your Majelly forms fo eminent a pattern, is the fincere prayer of the loyal citizens of London.

The Queen's Answer.
"I return you my fiacere thanks for your congratulations on the birth of a Priucefs; and I cannot but be very fenfible of thofe cordial expreffions of attention to me, wih which they are accompanied."

Satarday, گ̆.ィn. 3 c.
Bifcuits now made for the ufe of the Royal Navy are compofed of a mixture of materials, of when , rye, an! barley, according to the new regulation. Greenwich and Chelfes torspitals, at the inftriotion of Government, have alfo adopted a fimilar mixture in the compontion of their bread, for the wie, not only of the penfic. ners, but of the fuperion ofticers.

Cul.

Vol. LXV. p. so 5 6. Mr Richard Skinner, rector of Balingham, co. Lincoln, was the third nd laft furviving hrother of three brot!ets, all clergymen; and he, dying a haclitlor, has left his fortune (a coungng to iom thoniards of pounds) to his inomi rec. danghtels of the l.te Rev. Williom S. pr hendary of Hereford (lee VC.LXV. P. 4.4). Another hrot':er. who died fonte yeats fince at B.th, married a Gifter to the prefent Archbithop of Cinterbu:v; and left by her an only daughter, a bighly accomphihed young lady.

Bik: hs.

Fan. 1 A Abrideen, the Countefs of 4. A Abovne, a danghter.
7. At Carlton houfe, between nine and ten orclock in the morning, the Frinceis of Wales, a princefs. The Dike of Gloucefter, the Archbifiop of $\mathcal{C}$ interhury, the Lord C ancellor the Lord Prefucent of his Majeft's Cuncif, the Duke of Leeds, the Duke of Devonmine, the tarl of Chommondeley (Lor' Chamberlain), athd the Earl of Jerfey (Mafter of the Porie to the Prince of Wales), Lord Thurlow, and the Ladies of her Ruyal Highnefs's $B$ dehamber, were prefent. Her Ruyal Highnefs is, God be. praifert as well as can be expecied; and the young Pincefs is in perfect health. This happy event was imne eniately made known by the firing of the Touer guns, and othel d monftrations of joy in London and Weftmufter. Gaz.

In Spriog gadens, the Lady of Jofeph Hun!, eit a fon.
8. At Twickentam, the Lady of Lieut.col. Camphell, of the $t$ infantr, a daugh.

The Lady of joln Marjorbanks, efq. of Eccles, a daughter.

At Kimaird, the Lady of Sir David Carnegie, rart. of Southelk. a damerter.
ic. The Lady of jonathan Jakfon, eff. of Warrington, a danghte.

14 At the feat of Mrs. Bonverie, at Betchuorth, Surrey, the Laty of Colonel G. Noel $k$ dwards, a "dughter.

At has houre in Hertford ftreet, the I ady of Rachand Buingle shermat, ely. a fon.
15. The L. dy of Col. Beaumont, of Portman-fquare, a diughter.
16. At his houfe in St: Jame's-place, the Lady of inokert Smath, efg. M.P. for Nottingham, a fun.
22. AtRufe hil, nearW'rexham, co. Denbigh, the Lady of D. Pennant, efq. a fon.

MAKKIAGES.

LATELY. at Weth.m, Will Cakell, efy. if the He't= munin, to Mafs Eliz. Kynafton, facord dengit.r of Thomas K. etq. of the Giove, LHex.

At Rachefter, M1r. Thomas Simfor, one of the cleaks of his $M$ jefty's vicluallingoffice there, to Mifs Mary Hallinead, of. St. Margaret's Bunk.

Rev. Mr. Joyce, to Mifs Tagg, of Bath. At King fbridge. Rev. '. Wilcocks, vicar of C . th on, and mafter of the grammare fanool there to Mifs E Wilhams.

Rev Wormley Martin, of North Wal* fham, to Mifs Forfter, of Bredfield.

Capt. Glanville, of the royal Cornwall reginent, to Mils E. Fanflawe, fecond danghter of Commiffioner F . of Plymouth lock ard

At Limerick, in Ireland, James Patterfon, efi. one of the commiflioners on behalf of Dutch prizs, to Mifs Jane White, da. of the late $\mathrm{W} / \mathrm{m}$. W'. eft. of that city.

AtPuffa e, near Cork, fobucole Bowen, efq. captain in his Maintty's Weft-India regiment, to Mi f Matha Randall, dau. of the late Lient. R. of the roval ansy.

Rev. Dr. GHl, rector of Routham, co. Oxford, to Mifs Townfend, fifter of Edward Loveden Loveden, efq. of Burfcote park, Berks.

At Ely, Lieut. Brown, of the Nottinghambire miltia, to lifis C. Marthall, youngeft daughter of Mr. W. M.

Gan. r. At Swanfer, in Suuth Wales, Mcimath Gu, efy. to Mifs Heriot, dau. of Jihn H. efq. fen. and fiferito John H. efq. of eathame- Atreet, Stamd.
4. At B.th, Rev. Thomas Leman, of Wenhefon-hall, co. Suftolk, to Mrs. Champion, widow of the late Col. C. of the Crefcent, Bath.

At Maynote, in Scotland, Rob. Thomfon, efy. of Jmaka, to Mifs jane Kenneds, danghter of the late Rubert K. elq. of Dilj..trock.
5. Mr. Browne Wilts, of Aubourn, to Mifs kent, of 3mithfich hars.

Gtore: Shum, elq. of Gower-ftreet, to Mifs St rey, of Bedford-fquare. They were prevonfly wnitad at Gretna.green (fee vol.

6. By the Biflon of Lincoln, at Hollygrove, the fat of La,ly Jemings, in Reiks, Gerige-tlenry kute, ely. M.P. For Sonthanmion, th Mifs Duncombe, gramd-dane of her latyfhip, and dath. and co-heirefs of the late Thomas D.efy. of Duncombe-park, co. York.
7. At Lincoln, Ambrofe Cookfon, M.D. phyficion there, to Mifs Judith Hutton, daugtter of the tate Thomas H. eff. of of Gate Burton, co. Lincoln.

Capt. Milhien Crarg, of the Queen Enf Jombinan, to Nats Junet Muaro, of Ni chulis lutie,
8. At St. George Hinover-fquare, Cha Pye, eftp. ef Radley, Berk', major in the third regiment of dragoons, to $M$ ifs Mary Coht, daglater of the late Olwer Colt, e't. of Auldhame.
11. Capt. Grifith, of the royal navy, to Lady Whlen, duu. of Mr. Serjeant Addir, and tel:d of the la to Hon. Mr. Jutice W.
12. At Aftiton-ander Line, the Rev. John Kenworthy, B. A. mimftr of Sraleybrilge, bridge, to Mifs Tavlor, dau. of Mr. T. attorney, of Duk in field-ball, in Chebire.
14. At Hanmerfmith, Andrew Fope, efq. to Mis Scott, dau. of the late William Scott, efq. of Grofvenor-place.
15. At St. James's church, C. B. Roper, efq. to Mifs Revely, dau. of R. efq.
16. Mr. W. B. Flexney, of Carey-ftreet, to Mifs Sill, of Rorbefter.

Mr. Fonert Golden, jan. architect, of Great Ormondi-Atreet, to Mifs F. Harrington, of Great Ruffel-ftreet, Bloombury.
13. Capt. Jackfon, of the Carnatic Eaft Indiaman, to Mifs Harrier Goolchild.
19. Rev. Dawfon Warren, vicar of Edmonton, to Mifs Charlotte-Lucy Jackfon, fecond daughter of the Rev. Dr. J. canonrefidentiary of St. Paul's.
20. At Enfham, co. Dorfet, William Monro, efq. lieutenant-colonel of the Caithnefs legion, to Mifs Bower, of Enhamhoufe, eldeft daughter of Edinund B. efq. of Profpech-hill, Berks.
21. William Chapman, efq. deputy of Coleman-ftreet ward, to Mirs. Chandler, of Gower-ftreet, Bedford fquare.
27. William Miles, efy. of the Exche-quer-office, Temple, to Mifs Jane Clarke, of Hatton-freet.

Deaths.

$S_{\text {ept. 13. }}^{\substack{1795}} \wedge^{T}$T Rome, of a putrid fever, $S_{\text {ept. I } 3.1 \text { Mr. James Durno. - He was }}$ not ill more than wine or ten days; but, for a confiderable time paft, his health has been in a wery precarious tate. He was boried according to the nfaal cuftom of interring froteftants in that comery. All his brother artifts (we mean Britifh artilts) attended; and Prince Auguftus honoured his funeral by carrying a torch, as did his two gentlemer, and Lord Wycombe, Mr. Amherf, and sir. Difney Fitch. Lord Plymon'h cou'd not atten', but fent his carriage and fervants. Mr. D. is fincerely regretted by ail who knew bim, both as an ingenious a : titt and a moftabenevolent man.

OEf. 4. At Et. Bomingo, Wm. Ridduck, efq. of Carbietm, near vumtric:, and captain in the 22 d reg. of font.
8. Of the yellow fever, at Cape Nicola Mole, of which place he was commandant, Lieut.-col. Boyd Mamaingham, of the $\delta_{1}$ it regiment.

Nor. 24. In her folitary g.rret, in Greffeftreet, of a cancer, aged 82 , Mrs. Mary Roche, dau. of Count J.mes R. of the Temple, and half-finter of Earonefs Nolken, wife of Stepthen Le Maitre, eiq. counfellor in Bengal. She was a iady of a moft liberal and benevolent heart, and has been for fome years fopported by the humanity of fome friends who tiuly commiferated liter very hard fate. Mis. R. is noficed in vol. LXilll. 673 (where Mr. R's znother fhould hive heen Mrs. R's mother).

Gint. Mag. Fanuary, 1796.
Dcc. 5. Aged 45, Mr. Edward Rogers, merchant, in Liverpool, whofelofs will he deeply felt, and feverely lamented, by an amiable family and a felect band of friends. To unftained integrity in extenfive ryercantile concerns were in him added a found and highly cultivatell underftanding, an elegant turn for the fine arts, of which his valuable collection of paintings is an exifting pronf, and, above all, a liberal independent Ípirit. $^{\text {. }}$

At Gilbraltar, Charles Strickland, efq. major of the 22 d regiment.
18. At Venice, in fix hoars illnefs, after a fit, fuppofed to proceed from the gout in his ftomach, Chartes Sackrille, efq. a partner in the banking-houfe of Sir Robert Herries and Co. in St. James-itreet,
30. At his houfe in Eroad-ftreet, Soho, in his'74th year, Mr. William Squire, well known to the curious meclanick and artifan for his great ingennity, and peculiar fkill in the tempering of feel. This art he firft applied to the manufactory of faws; which, for their effect and execution have ever been held in fuperior efimation. This excellence not only gave him a decided preference with the curious artificer in cabinet furniture, but foon attrafted the attention of furgical operators; and his improved amputation faws and new trefine gained him the patronge of thofe emment forgeons, Hunter and Wyatt. By tie recommendation of thofe gentlemen, he afterwards turned has attention to elaftic trales for ruptures; and, by happily adapting his practical ingenuity to their theoretica! principles, numbers, both of rich and poor, have experienced relief and cure in one of the molt ditrefing and common maladies to which each fex and ifation is fo very lable; for, he at ways made it his rule and endeavonr to proportion his reward to the ability of his patient ; and by this means he was enabled to render gratuitors fer. vices to imumerable objects who had not the power to make him a recompersee.

At Hampteat, in his 8oth year, Matthew Barton, efq. admiral of the White. There are tew perfons who, during the time that their age and ftrength would perm't, have been more actively employed in the fervice of their country. He went to fed in 1732, in the F6x, Capt. Arnold, to South Carolina; recurned in Augut 1/32, and was paid off. In the November following he was made a midflipman onboard the Falmouth, Capt. Byng, and went to Lirbon, and the Miediterranean ; returned to England in May, 1735, and was turned over to the Comwall, Capt. Vanhrugh, and paid off in March, 1736 ; in May iollowing was a midhipman onboard the Edinburgh guardhip, Capt. j. Davis; and OCtuber in the fame year wos a midithipman on-board the Elthan, Lord

Auguitus

$\xi_{2}$ Ob:t ary of remarkable Perfons; with Biographical Anecdotes. [Jan:

Auguftus Fitzroy; went to New foundland, and thence to the Mediterranean. In March 1739 was a midhipmian on-board the Somerfet, Adn:ial Haldock; in September, was made licntenant of the St. Jofeph prize off Cadiz, and brought her home. In 1739-40 was made lieutenant of the Lenox, when the took the Princeffa, and came home in the Princeffa. In OAnher 1740 was removed into the Prithcels Caroline, and went to Jamaica, where Adm. Vernon hoifted his flisg on board the Caroline, and removed all the officers into the Burfurd; was lieutenant of the Burford at the fiege of Carthagena; came home, and was paid off in the Burbord, but immediately appointed heutenant of the Nonfucls; was a Weftern cruizer till June, 1743; then went to the Mediterranean, with convoy; was lievtennt of the Nonfuch in the agagement off Trulon with Adm. Naticwi. In September 17.14 was appointed firf lientenant of the Marlborough; in Muth 1745 was removed into the Neptuns, Adm. Rowle's f:ip; and in hay 1745 w..s, by the Animiral, appointed capt in of the Duke frefmip; and, in Febriary $17+6.7$ was made captain of the Antiople by Adm. Malley; in Apil folkoving was appointed to the Poftlion xebech; $;$ in Aveutit $17+8$ the Poftilion was ordered to be left at Port Niahon, and he came howe with Adm. Byng in the Boyne; was paild off in Octuber 1749, having been only one day unemployed tinat war. In Januaty $\mathbf{7 5} 5$ he was mate captain of the Lichnicid, ard failed with Admeral bofcawen to Loutburg and Hahfix. In June $175^{6}$ took the Arc en Clel, a Franch Thip of war of 50 guns, oft Louitburg; came home in December 1756, and was odered om fenior captain to the couft of Guiney, and then to the Leetvard 111and; and in Auguit 1758 brought home, wdir ronvoy, one hmadred fal of mips. in November $175^{3}$ was appointed one of Atmeral Kerpl's cquacron agamf (roree; on the 3 oth of that romon wis unforturate10 cura avay on the coaft of Buthaty: remaine. on the thend a totmght wothout rany thines to fumfit epon bur a rew duwned heep that were divien afore ; hincicle and that pant of his crew which eifapol from the wreck were quite nalked. Aftor remaning eighteen monthis in flavely ot Moraceo, he was ramfaneed by Gewernment, and, upon coming home, war thied by a const-mathal for the lof of the Lichtield, and honourahly acenitted. In Octohor 1760 lie $14+5$ commimaned for the Temeraire, and apponted one of Adm. Fieppel's fquadton to Belle-ifie, with a duthesulimine perdant. He was apminted by the A miral to command the that-b.ttomed boats at the landiug, and the feamen empligeci on it are: : sad, when the eneniy capututated, he was publicly thanked ior his fervices by Gen. Hudfon, and fent home with the account of the fuccefs of the expedition. Aftervards he convoyed between two and three thoufand troops to Barbados, and was at the taking of Martinique. In March 1762 be went to Jamaica with Sir James Douglas, and afierwards to the Havannah with Sir George Pococke. He affinted Adm. Keppel and Capt. Harvey on the day of landing the troups, and afterwards had the command of all the feamen employed on fhore for the firft five weeks, till he was fo reduced with fatgue and a fever, that he was obliged to give up the command. After the place was taken, lis heaith was fo much impaired that he was obliged to change his fhip from the Temeraire to the Devonfhire, in which he came home, and was paid off in May 1763, at the conclufion of the war. He was promoted to a flag on the 28 th of April 1777; was made Vice admiral on the Igth of March 177; ; and Admiral on the 24 th of September 1787 ; but, his con1titution having been very much broken by the fever with which he was attacked at the Havannah, and the length of his fervices he fund himfelf unatle, in the laft and the prefent war, to take upon himfelf any active comamai, and therefore did not folicit it. Alter having given fo circumftantial a detail of his mentorous conduct in his profeffion, it would he doing an act of injufte to his memory were we not to meation his worth in the relative duties of life. As a hurband he was faithful and afo fectionace; as a mafter, kind and forbearing; as afrient, whathen and difuterefted; and has phous refiguation to the will of God, dumg has lat illnefs, proves him to have beca if fincere Chrifian.
I.:a's, in Portugal, Dr. Loreira, author of the "Flom Cochacinfis." This celebrated horanit devoted 30 years of clofe :nplication to the comprotition of this work. Siy Jufeph, Panks invited him to thas country, for the purpote of puthifhing it here; hat adisancel age prevented him from accsprivg the invatation.

At Kulbittan, cn. Corb, Irelant, Mr. Jofish jones, formerly an eminent brewer, of the cry of Cork.

At Cort, Mrs. Ancrum, wife of Major A. of Sinemb.

Nemy Norgan, efq. of Caerleon, co. Mmanemb.
A. Crencefter, co. Gloucefter, aged upwands of 60 , Tf in iam Turnert, efy. a gentleman utiverfoily icspected.
siler a mort illuifs, Mr. Alderman Whitweth, of Coventiv.

At Thombury, near Bromyard, co. Hereforl, ised int, dune jones, widow, a pauper. Sie weni to fervice on the day thatan account of the battle of Ranili-s arrived, and wes temokahly heathy till

At Farnborough, co. Berks, in her 18 th year, after a tedious and painfal illoefs, which fle bore with an uncommon degree of fortitade and refignation, Mifs Good: lake, only daughter of the la e Thomas G. efq. Her amiahle and engaging difpofition will render her lofs long and feverely felt by a difconfolate mother and a numerous circle oi: friends.

In her 18 th year, Mifs Frances Talbot, fecond daughter of the Hon. Francis T. of Wiham-place, Effex.

At Congleton, in Chechire, Mrs. Sophia Topp, wife of Mr. John T. Hoap-boiler, and daugliter of the late John Colby, ef? of Bot?on, co. Lincoln.

William Fowler, well known in the town and neightourhood of Sheffield as driver of Mr. Nicholfen's machine (of Caywo.') from Xork to Sheffied, and back ag min. He had travelled for 37 yeats fuccenively, withont baving, in all that time, met with any illnefs to obftruet his journeys, till the cold which he cangite of late, and which proved fatal. In one week be muit have travelled 244 miles, in one year 12,668 , and in the whole 37 years 45 5, 456 miles.

At Roltherne, in Chefhire, in his 8 ; d year, James Marfey, efy. late of Salford, many years piefident of the infirmaly, &c. in Manchetter.

Suddenly, Mr. Joln Rradley, formerly mafter of the Silver Oar mn, and late a con-merchant, of Rachefter.

Rev. Henry Holdfworth, rector of North IIsinh, curate of Dartmouth, and one of the aldermen of that refpectable borough.

Rev. Jobn Richardfon, M. A. rector of Wuterborne-Stickland, and vicar of Hermitare, co. Durfet; the former in the gift of the Earl of Durcheiter, the latter in that of the Crown.

Rev. Lancelot Rell, rector of Sall, and vicar of Saxthorpe, co. Norfolk, both in the gift of the Mafter and Fellows of Pembroke.cilleg., Cambridge, of which he was a member, B. A. 1759, M. A. 1762.

Rev. Rubert Wells, rector of Wanftrow and Enmore, co. Somerfet.

At Blakeney, co. Gloncefter, the Rev. Thonas Leach, wha held the feveral livings of Langfoy, Ragland, and Llandenny, co. Monmouth.

Sudenly, at her iather's houfe in rall Man, Mifs Jane Mooly, eldert daughter of Samuel M. eiq. This joung lady i- one of the many itentances which have lacely occurred of dow ant latent fever bringing on fudden death. She had been out in the carriaze, felt herfelf inlifpofed, went up to her chamber, laid her head down on the bed, and die!!

Yunual) t. At Chefterfield, co. Derby, Wm . Anderfon, 6 Cq . of London.
2. In Little Britain, aged 83, '1r. Edward Bailaid, boukfeler; whom, in a former volume, we have noticed as the laft of the numerous race of that fraternity for which L. Britain was many years famous.

In his 8 gth year, George Stuinforth, efq. of Old Broad-itreet, father of Mr. S. winemerchant.

At the houfe of the Rev. D. Pape, at Rye, Sufiex, Mrs. Mary Brown, widow of the late Major B. of the 85 th, :und fifter to Lient.-col. French, of the iosd regiment of foot.

At Newark, Mrs. Simnitr, wife of Mr. S. hair-drefler. Going through a pallage near her houfe in the dark, the had the misfortune to fall over a kit, which had been inadvertently left in the way, and her ftomach pitched on one of the handes: netwithtanding every poffible affiftance, fhe expired in abont an hour, leaving a difomolate humbind and three children to bewail her untimely end.

At his houfe in Exeter, of a paraly:ic feizure, Robert Studley Vidal, eff. one of the guardians of the poor of that city. He had been mufailly well during the day, and, at the time of his being ferzed, was walking and convering in the molt tranquil manner. He firft complained of a chthnefs through his whole frame, which, in the courfe of a few minutes, was fucceeded by a numbnefs that gradually brought on death. Mr. Vidal was hred to the profeflion of the law, which he practifed for fome years in London with confiderable fuccets: but the eafinefs of hos circomftances enabling blom to quit an employment to whach be was never mach attached, he early retired to the enjoyment of independence in the neighbouhood of his his friends.
3. At Dublin, in confequence of the wounds he received the preceding nigit from a party of Defenders (who have frince been appreliended), C.leb Barues Harman, efq. brother to Lord Oxmantown , and M.P. for the connty of Longford. (See p. 74.)

At his houfe on Watcot-patrade, Bath, the Kev. William Dee Belt, M. A. rector of Backwell, co. Somerit, and of Baughuift, co. Southampon.

At Gainhtorongl, the Rev. Jeremiah Gill, near 50 y ears a Prefoyterian mumter i 1 that town.

At Gofpori, in his 32 d year, Lieutenant William Nichollon, of his Majefty's hip La Commerce de Marieilles, formerily malter of the Paragon, of Liverpuol.
4. In her $7 \mathrm{ctl}_{1}$ year, Mr. Prngie, widow of Caprain Walter P. and filter to the late Lady VPrde:a.

Mrs. Spottifwotale, wife of Rolert S. efy. folicitor, of Autin-triers, London.

At Geinborough, Mr. Paul Steer, formerly a butcher thers, but forme yeare fance fo!d his eftate for a fufficiont annuity.

In confeguence of a duel with Capt. Watfor of the gothregiment, Major Sweet-man, of the Independents. The gentlemen never faw each other before the evening if jan. 2, when ther happenel to meet by chance in the fame box at the Operahoufe, and, in contequence of fome difagreeah'e words that paifed between them, capt. W. received a melfage next morning. They met on Munday morning, Jan. 4, in a common near Cobham, when, at a dittance of nine or ten yads, they fired both at the fame time. Mijor S. received C pt. W's flow in the right breant, fell, and ded in about half an heour afterwards, without uttering one word. Capt. W. received the Mijor's thot in lis right thigh, which completely fractured the hone, and came out on the other fide. He is now at Cubham, where evcry attention is paid him by two gentlemen of the faculty, and is in a fair way of doing well. See p. 76.
5. At Hampitead, Mr. Cieed.

At-his houfe in Curzon-ftreet, Mayfair, the Hon. Richard Fitzpatrick.
6. On Stoney-hill, Briftol, David Duncombe, efq. miny years an eminent merchant of that chy.

Mrs. Hopkins, wife of Richard H. efq. of Dubwith, Surrey.
7. At Shellord, on the Trent, near Bimghan, con. Notingham, James O'Burn, the celebrated ventrilcquift. He was a native of Ireland, hot had reftied feveral vears in this kingdom; and having, fome time azo, picked-up a wife at Shelford, he always after confuered that village as his home, whenever his inclination led, or us eccemriciry fuffered him to defit, for finort intervals, from his perambulations through different parts of this country. He had feveral liber?! offers from varous companies of itinerants to indace him to engage with thern fer limited per:ods, in the exercife of his wonderful and extramerinary faculty; but as be could not brook the itea of confinement, he never thoaght preper to accede to therr propofals. Anangit the many ladicrous prant difplayed hy him, the following is not the leatt wonthy of recording: Meeting a farmer's foriant upon a public bighwiy dr:ving a wiggon top liden with truffes of hay, he fo atfally imisated the crying of a culd, as proceeding from the midulle of the hay, that the poor affrighted countryman ftuod aglaft at the noife, w bich being fereral times repeated, he wis prevailed on to let him affitt in unloading the wagson, and releafe the fuppofed futfurer, whofe ciles becarc touder and more fiequent. Jemimy having thus facceeded in getting the tiay off the waggon, after hughing hearthly at the comit. yman's fimplicity, left him to replace the fame himfelf in the beft matirier he combl.

At his houfe at Twickeriham, Thomas Foxall, efy. late a commander in the Ealt India Conpary s fervice.

At Barnes, Surrey, in her ryth year, while preparing to dance, the annable and accomplified Mifs Martha Townley; only child of the Rev. G. S. T. sector of St Stepien, Watbrook.

At Edinburgh, Frances Vircounteis Kem: more.

After a Mort illnef, Patrick Tlwomfon, efc. , f Warwicn cont, meichat,

In her t6th year, Mis Bhyney, only daughter of the Rev. Dr. R. canon of Chrift Church, and Regus profeifor of Hebrew in the univerfiry of oxterd.

Samuel Alller, of Bution, near Lincoln, caterer to Lord Monfon.
Aged 77, Mr. Smith, of Arhally, co. Osford, corvainer. He was thrown from his hoife in tile market-pldee at Wituey, and imnsetiately expurel.
8 Mr. Grixin King, merchant, of Naffington, co. Northampion.

At Quarndon, near Dishy, whither he went for the recovery of his heath, Henry Price, eiq. brother to Job Hart Price Clarke, efq. of Sut:on.

Mr. John Lean, many years a merchant of Brittol.

At Erixton-place, Surrey, Mr. William Wint, fen.

In D.wion-ftreet, Dublin, George Rawfon, eiq. M.P. for the borouzh of Armagh, and one of the commiffioners of ftamps in Leland.

Klled, at Reading, John Baker, gumuer of the Diome de frigate. See p. 75.
9. At Stone haven, co. Kincardiae, North Pritain, aged 8r, Mr. John Duncan, writer, portmafter, and deputy collector of cefs for the county. His firt wife, If.bst Stevens, died in 177s, leaving no iffue; and he married, May 2,1780 , Ifabel'z Dunbar, aged about 21, who died before him, June 10, 1794 ; by whom he has left iffie two fons, John and Robert, Mrs. Eliza Duncan (whefe maiden name is Duntar), wife of the Rev. Mr. Duncaty, of Se'cume, is the eldeft and only fifter of his lift wife, and the hat furviving iffue of the name of Dunbar, of one of the fevcial branches lineally defcencled of the Danbais, antient eals of March and Dunbar.

In Pow is -place, the infant fon of Fran-cis Fownes Luterell, efy commiffoner of the cuftoms.

Mr. John Adams, of Maryanfleigh. Retorning from Southmolton narkot, on in's to the dirsnefs of the night, he rade into the riter near Alfwere bridge, and was, imfortunately drowned.
C. H. Garret, ely. firft lieatenant of sir Peier Parker's map, the Royal William. As be was coming on-fhore, he fell ove:board in : fir, and was drowned. The boly was immediately t.aken up, and every means ofed for has secovery, but wathent effect. By has death the frivice has luit a valuable otrices.

Y796.] Obituary of remarkable Porfons; with Biggraphical Aneidotes. 8 ;

1o. After a few days illnefs, in his $83^{\mathrm{d}}$ year, Jofeph Allen, M. D. upwards of 30 years maiter of Dulwich college, Surrey. This advant igeous and honourable office he refigned to his worthy fucceffor, the prefent nafter, upwards of 25 years ago, on his marriage ; which holy itate was deemed by the Foun ter incumpatible with the duty of this maggifterial chair. Dr. Allen was fuppofed to be the laft furvivor of thote who went round the world with Lord Anfou. His condoet in public and privare life was moft exemplary; he was charitahie, juf, and liheral, full of information, frendihy, and benevolence; and, by his will, has bequedthed 5001 . to the Arylum, and socl. to the Lying-in Hofpital. The reft 'f his ample fortune, except a fow fricndly and famuly legacies, he has left to this nephew, Mr. Richard Alien, a furgeon of great relpectablity in the borough of South wark.

In Redford-ftreet, Covent-garden, ased 69, Mr. Barnard Baker, uphodder.

In her 87 th year, Mrs. Garling, fen. of King-street, Bloombury.

Afier a very fevere and lingering ilhefis, Bencher Baril, efq. of Southampton.
11. In her 2oth year, Mifs Cox, daughter of Philip C. eff. of Quen-fquare.

In Craven-itreet, James Anderion, efq.
Aged 78, Iface Watl, efq. of Bridlington, co York. His remains were interied at Deptrord, Kent.
12. At Sleaford, aged 82, Leonard Brown, effl. of Pinchbeck, co. Lincoln, many years an acting magittrate for the parts of Kefteven.

At her fathes's houfe in Plymouth, after a very fhort illuefs, Mifs Mary Hesbert, daughter of George H. efq. banker.

Aged 83, ins. William Walker, many years wharfinger, of Exeter; a man of frict probity and exempiary piety.
13. Much regretted, Mr. Jonn Anderfon, F.R.SS. London and Ed.uburgh, and profeffor of natural philofophy in the univerfity of Glafrow, in the 7oth year of his age, and 4 ift of his profefforilhp. He was author of unany ofeful and ingenious inventions, and lived to fee, befides other works, five editions of his valuable Inititutes of Phoficks. To bis elegant, pleafing, and fingular manner of teachmg -to his very alldumas exertions, and expenfive apparatu--the fthent, the merchant, the tradefman, the farmer, are much indebted for the knowledse they have acquircd in natural hiftory, in mechanicks, and in the higher branches of natural philofophy. Society in general will lung feel his kfis.-me has beypueathed his valuable apparatus and extenfive hbrary, witis the greateft part of his effects, for the purpofe of founding a lecturethp of natural philofophy at Glafgow.

At Batingitoke, Hants, Jannes Hudy, M.D. formerly one of the phyticians to the Northampton conaty mfinme.

At Lynn, Siephen Wilfon, efq. one of the aldermen of that corporation.

At Perth, Mungo Murray, efq. of Kiacarney.
14. At his houfe in Spaw-fields, Clerkenwell, aged 71, Mr. Ifanc Hitchin. He was many years a refpectable woul-deder in Bermondfer-ftreet. Thofe who knew him moft can beft witnefs that his life whs exemplary for integrity and virtue.

At Ingelton, co. York, afier a long int difpofition, Mrs. Barlow.

At Norton, co. Duham, very fudden'y, in confequence of the burfting af a bloodveffel, Thomas Bradford, efq. Ife was married, on the 2gth ult. to Mifs Johnfon, fecond daughter of the late Rev. George J• of Norton.
15. At his houfe in Featherfone-buildings, aged 74, Anthony Pye, cf 4 .

A!ter a long illnefs, much lamentel, Mr: Baker, matter of a writing acidemy, aud one of the capital burgeffes of Stamford, co. Lincolin.

Mr . Nibbs, a Weft Indian of very confiderable property in that country, and lately calied to the bar in the Temple. He this day bought a brace of pitit. 1 , dined cout, and retumed to tea previo's to his going of by the mail for Portfonoth, where his finends waited for him to fill to the Weft Indies. He took vut with him, in the morning, the greatelt part of the mone which was to carry him thither; paid all the fmall bills he owed about the Temple; and for thofe to whom he was in. debted, and conld not meet with, he left the money on this table.

At his houfe in William-Atre t, Dublin, in his 59 rh year, univerfally and defervelijy lamented, Alderman Nathaniel Warren, M. P. for the borough of Callan, and lire fuperintendant magiftrate of the new eltablifhment for protecting the peace of the city of Dublia. He filled the office of high Cheriff of that city in 1773; was elected an alderman in 1.775 ; chofen to the mayoralty in 1782: in 1786 he ferved the olice of high theriff of the combly of Dublin; and was allo chief commifioner of phice for many years.
16. Soddenly, in York, at an advanced age, the Rev. John Chamberlan, upwads of 25 years chaplain to the ?.mm Cutho: c hourding folool for young hodies withoat Michleate-bar.

In his $5^{6 \text { th }}$ year, Henry-Willim Portman, efq. of Bryanftune-plare, co. Durfet; whore large eftates in the Welt of Et gland, and in the comaty of Middiefex (comprifng the ground-rents of Fortman-quare, and feveral ftacets in its neighbuathoud), devalve to his only fon, Henry B aikley 1 . ery. M.P. for the city of Wells.
17. At Maidfone, Kent, Mifs Eliz beth Shiplej, third daughter of the lute Rught Rev. Jonatan S. bito of St. Araht.

2c. Sut-
=0. Suddenly, in his 6 gth year, Mr. Thomas Vanhagen, many years a paftrycuos in St. Paul's church-yard, and one of the common council of the ward of Farrirgion Within.

At his houfe at Depeden, co. Surrey, Sir William Burrell, bart. LL.D. chancellor to the Bithop of Worcefter, 1764 ; F.R. and A.SS. 1754 ; and commifioner of excife, 1774. He was third fon of Peter Burrel, tiq. of Beekenham, Kent; admitted of St Jolu's college, Cambridge, whete he ftuthed the civil law, and procceded LL.B. 177\%, and LL.D. 1760 . He maried, April 1 3, 1773, Sophia, daughter of Charles Raymond, efq. of Valentinehoufe, Effex, who was created a baronet May 3,1774 , with remainder, in defaut of nale-ifite, to Whiliam Burrell, eft. of Beckembam, end lis heirs-male by Sophia bus wife, by whon lie has left twa fons and two daughters. Her fortune was itaecd in our vol. XLIII. p. 202, at 100,00c1. Sir Willinm reprefented Haflemere, 1773. In the courfe of five years he made the molt ample collections for a Hinlory of the Conury of Sulex, arranged in complete order, by rapes and parithes, in 12 fotio volumes, befides anothcr of drawings of churches, houfer, &c. &ec. by Lambert and Grimm, three volumes of monumental infcriptions, and four volumes of farvevs and records, &ic. This work he fpared no pains to bring to perfection, though he declined giving it to the puhlick himfelf (yet no man was fo well qualified for the undertakins as himfelf), but intended to bequeath it to the Briuh Mureum. He was feized with a paralytic froke in All* guft $178 \%$, which took away his fpeech for a time; but, though be recovered that, he totally loft the ufe of his left arm, and in 1791 refigned his feat at the board of exsife in favour of Robert Nictolas, efq. referving, however, to himitlf a fhare of the appointment. He purchafed a retreat at Depedell, the air of which particularly agreed with his conflitution, which was, however, too much afrected to hope for perfect recovery, though he feemed to have recorered enough to appear among his friends.

23. At the houfe of his brother, the Hon. Mr. Perryn, in Gre.t George-ftreet, Weftminfter, Lieutenant-colonel John P. of the 12 th regiment of foot.
25. At Hammerfmith, Mrs. Sarah Moyfer, laft furviving daughter of Colonel $\mathrm{M}_{\text {, }}$ of Beverley.
 Promotions, E゙c. Éc. in our nent.

THEATRICAL REGISTER.

Sfur. New Drury-Lane.

1. K. Henry the Eighth-The Son-in-Law.
2. The Kecranng Officer - The Chblren in the ivonel. [and Apothecary.
3. The Provok'd Hubband-The Doetor 3. As You Like it - The Adopted Child.
e. The Siegeot Belgrade-The Harnourif.
-. Love for Lore--The Adopted Child,
4. The Pirate - The Firft Floor,
5. Fir d Love-Tise Prize.

Ir. The Moantaineers-The Spoil't Chiid.
32. Twolith Night-My Grandmother.

I3. Alczander the Great-The Doctor and the Apothecary.
[Supper.
#: The Wheel of Fortune - No Sons No T: Sing Kienry the Eighth-The Adropted
r. ite Jew-The Liar.
[Chuld.
s8. Poughas-- Fia isquintiaptive; or, MagicFire
בn. לno:v Tour Diwn Mlime-Dito.
2. athe sehoul ire Szandal-Ditto.
$\therefore$ : The Muntanesrs-Dit:0.
2:- I ane Shere-Ditts.
2 3. Wh. 5 Ten Thaufond - Ditto.
23. Atcander the (reat-i)ito.

2'. Tie ilan of Ten Thoufand-Ditto.
2\%. Dito-Ditio.
28. Fint Love-Ditto.
29. The Ditrefs'd Muther-Ditio.

Gar. Covent-Garden.

1. The Myiteries of the Cafte-Merry Sherwood; or, Harlequin Forrefter.
2. Notoriety-Dittu.
[ Bitto,
3. The Ghoft-The Widow of Malabir-
4. Speculation-Ditto.
[Ditto.
5. The Ghoft - The Myfterious Hurband -
6. The London Hermit-Ditto.
7. Crofs Purpofe-Fontainville Foreft-
8. Speculation-Ditto.
[Ditto,
If. King Herry the Fourth-Ditto.
9. Speculation-Ditto.
10. Arrived at Portimouth—The Days of 2\%e-Ditto.
11. Ditto-Ditto-Ditto.
12. Ditto-Ditto-Ditto.
13. Speculition-Merry S!erwond.
14. King Heny the Fourth-Ditto.
15. Speculation-Dito.
16. (rots Puppofe-!)ays of Y ore-Dittoi 21. Speculation-Merry Sherwood.
17. The 1.on on liermit-D.to.
18. Thation to Gat Maricu!-Ditto,
19. Ditlo-i)itto.
20. Dito-Ditt).
21. Unto-Dittis.
22. Ditio-Ditto.
23. Ditt:-Ditto:

BILL of MORTALITY, from Dec. 22, 1795, to Jan. 26, 5796 .

AVERAGE PRICES of CORN, from the Returns ending Jamary 16 , $\pi 596$.

AVERAGE PRICE, by which Exportation and Bonnty are to he regulated.

PRICES OF FLOUR.

Fine
Seconds Thirds
 $7^{65 s}$. to cos. Fine Pollard 249 to 005 . Bran 115 , od. to she 6is. to 70 s. |Commonditen 3 sculuocsod | OATMEAL, per Boll of iacils. Avoirdurois, 45. 1 kd.

PRICE OF HYCRS.
Kent Pockets
Diten Eags
Erlex Bags
51. os. to ol. Gs., Suffex Pockets

4l. $4^{\text {s. to }} 5^{\text {t. }} 10 \mathrm{~s}$. Ditto Bares
$3^{\text {l. }}$ 10s. to $4^{1 .}$. 10: Farnham Pockets
41. yos. to gl. yos. 3!. 13s. to 5t. cs. 61. os. to 81.8 is
PRICE OR HAY AND STRAW.

| s's - Hay | sl. 16s. 6d. to 61. os. od. | Aver. 5i. 18s. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Strav | 11. 16s. od. to 2l. 5s. Gd. | 21. |

Average Price of SUGAR, computed from the returns made in the week emang Jan. 2-, 1796, is 62 s . gdit . per cwt. exclufive of the dat; of Cuftoms paid or payabie therent on the imp,rtation threof into Greai-Britain.

SMITHFIELD, Jin. 25. To mik the offtl-per fone of 8 ih .

| Beef | 35. cat. to $4 \times 4 \mathrm{4}$ d. | Po-k |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Mutton | 35. Ed. to 5. cd. | Lamb | os. cd. to os. . 3. |

Tallow, per ftone of 8 ib . 4s. wh. Cande, tos. 43. per dozen.

 Four curious Original Jetrers of Ben Jovson ys Chimping Onaty Church, con. Ellex, de maded $t^{h}$. Mr.Malone onfuppofed Siakfper rem MISS. 92 Tithe and Cultivatim of Madder exploned 1 If

 Asbé Bartheizmy and me? Tr vels of Anar har fis rat On the Formation and Urlity of Smull Canals it. Procuring Swailows a der Ners near Winter ge Hakewell in Elfex-Trumees for the P . of th. Archit acon Ficnithaw's De.rth-Gueith-lherg ik. The Game of chet, from an anter.t P.et 97 AlterationsinLichfieldCat edral-Monophliesg 8 Honourable Teftimonal to an nfeful Medicine y9 Collections elrave to 12 . Jeaemy 1 aylor rio Antony Woad and Lloyd - A leyne and Byr e cor Breaking-an Song f Dadce Doman aiked for 102 Thoughts on scarcity and the Pate of Corn ib. Abufes of Jowbers, and Misers of Bread 103 inapolicy of too geveralp ractuct of hacl fure $1: 4$ Brats Figure at Dorcheter-White Horfe ios Arms at Baltol College - The M:ciocofm? 106 Some References by Camden ta be filled up 107 Virgil defended agamft fone recent Att cks ro& Abfurdties of marern AërialPhalofopersls 109 Incculation one great Increate of Population in 2

 Soar, Swift, an Thelland-Eopolar suliz 118 Familer of the buce setteress at tow thow i.n Dr. 1 hmas Swadm on the Mrrace Rina $12-1$ Word Popeental from Narkham' Womanar iJ, Sir Hen. Unton - The Fam:'y of Nice Veithe la Mifell.Correction-INoExiontcato itu ib. Froceed ings of pretent Sufion of Pouliamic :t 124 Eiogiaplucal Anectates of the late Mr. Hill $120^{\prime}$ Reviewoz Newiubicatioss $13 \ldots-1$ Literary I:itellifence
 IntereAing Intell'gence from Londonti ex te is Int 11 fr on wame $P$.nts of $t$ Contment Coun'ry News-Domertic Occurrencet, &er 15 Aarnages, Dzaths of eminent Perions 16 :-17
 The Average foreso: Suain for one Mo th 175 Daty Variul iono in the Yrice of the Stocks 178

Enbellifhed with Views of Hatdham Yroors, Shfiev; and Chappac Onear Church, Eflex; a Momment at Douchester, m U Enthire; te White Horse, Berks; the Mafift Cross at Waniage; se. &e.

By $S<\mathcal{L} \dot{V} A N$ IT $S$ U $X B A N$, Gent.
Printed by JOHN NiCHOLS, at Cicero's Hade, Red-Lion Painag , Fleet-itreet; where all Letters to the Editor are defired to te aldrethed, Fost-pat). 1796.

THE  Gentleman's Magazine:  For F E B R U A R Y, 1796.

BEING THE SECOND NUMBER OF VOL. EXVI, PART 1.

Mr. URBAN,
 perean dilcoverics oc- cafion fome amufeA 济 ment in the literary淡 circle; perhaps fome Jonfonian fragments may be equally accepiable.

A Letter to the Earle of Newcafic.

1. "My Lord,
"The faith of a faft friend, with the duties of an humble fervant and the hear $y$ prayers of a religious beadionan, all kindled upon this altar, to your honour, my honourable lady, the hopefull ilfue, and your right noble brother, bee ever my facrifice.
" It is the lewd printer's fault that I can fend your lordflip no more of my books done. I fent vou one piece before the fayr by Mr. Withrington, and now I fend you the other morcell, the fine gentleman that wa!kes in town, the fiend; but before hee will perfeet the reft I feare hee will come himfelfe to bee a part, under the sitle of the abrolute knave, which he hath playd with mee. My printer and I fhall afford fubject enough for a tragi-comedy, for with his delayes and vexation I am almoft become blind; and if Heaven b: fo juft in the netamorpholis to turne him into that creature he moft alfimulates, a dog, with a hell to lead mee hetween Whitehall and my lodgings, I may bid the world good night.
"And fo I doo,
"Ben. Jonson."
2. " M ; Nobleft Lord and bet Patron,
"I fend no borruwing epifle to pro*ake your lordthip, for I have nether fortune to repay, or fecuritie to engage that wil be taken; but I make a molt humble petition to your lordhhip's bounty to fuccaur my prefent neceflities shis good sime of Eafter, and it Ball conclude all begging requett hereafter, on the tehalf of vourtruett beadiman,
" and moft thankefull fervant,
" B. J."
3. "My nobleft Lord and my beft Patron.
"I have done your bufinis as your lordfhip trutted mee with, and the morning after I received, by my beloved friend Mr. Payne, your lordhip's timely gratuity: I ftle it fuch, for is fell like the dew of heaven on m y neceffity, it came fo oportunely and in feafon. I pray to God my workes have deferv'd it. I mennt it fhould in the workeing it, and I have hope the performance will conclude it. In the mean time I tell your Lordßhip what I ferioufly thinke. God fenas you thofe chargeable and magaificent honors of making feafts to mixe with your charitable fuccors, dropt upon me your fervant, who have nothing to claime by of meritt, but a cheerefull undertaking whatfoever your lord!hip's judgment thinkes mee able to performe. I am is the number of your humbleft fervants, my lord, and the molt willing: and doe joy in the friendfipe and fellowfinip of my right learned friend Mr. Payne, then whom your lordihip could not have employed a more diligent and judicious man, or that hath treated mee with more humanitie, which makes me cheerfully to inveft my felfe into your lordfhip's commaads, and fo fure a clientelc.
"Wholly and onely vour lordfhip's, "B. Jonson."
4. "My noble and moft honord Lord,
" I my felf being no fubtance, am faine to trouble you with finddowes, or what is lefs, an apologue, or fable, in a dream. I being fricken with the palfy in the year 1628, had, by Sir Thomas Badger, furne few months fynce, a foxe fent mee, for a prefent, which creature, by baadting, I en-
dismoured
deavcuret to make tame, as well for the abaring of miv difeare as the del'ght I took in ipeculation of tis neture. It fapp wed this prefent vear io3m, and this verie wecke being the weeke ufhering Chrifmas, and this Tueftay morning in a dreane (and murning dreames are tuefi) to hare one of iny fervants come to my bedfade, and tell mee, Matter, mafier, the fox Ppeaks! Whereat mee thoughi I fiated and troubied, - wient down into the waid to witesfs the wonder. There ffond niy reynard in lis tenement, the tuisi, I bad hir'd for him, cyncally expreting his awne lott, to be condemind to the houfe of a poett, where nothing wés to be feen but the bare walls, and not any thing heard but the noife of a fawe dividing billates all the weeke long, more to keepe the family in excrcife than to comfort any perfon there with fire, fave the paralytick mafter, and went on in this tia:, as the fox feemed the betier fabler of the two. I, his matier, began to giwe him good words, and froake him ; but Reynard, baiking, told mee this would nut doe, I mult give him meate. I angry calld tim fiinking rermine. Hee repis'd, looke into your cellar, which is your larder too, youie find a worfe vesmin there. When prefently calling for a light, mee thought I went down, and found all the flour tutn'd up, as if a colony of moles had been theie, or an arme of falt-perre vermin. Wherctipon I fent prefently into Tuttle-fireet for the king's moof excellent mole catcher, to roleate mee and hust them: but hee, when lice came and viewd the place, and had well maked the earh turned up, touk a handirul, melt to it, nad faid, MLliur, it is nat in my fower to delroy this vermin, the K . of func good man of a ooble nature muf helps you: this kind of mole is calld a want *, which will deftro: you, and yeur famm, if you prevent not the woriting of it in trm: Pand therefore God kespe you, and fond you bealth.

The interpretation both of the fable and dream ic, that 1. . waking, doe find wast the woit and molt working vermin in a houle; a:ad therefore my nowle hord, and nex. the king my beft patron, i am necelitated to tcill it you. 1 am not fo impudent to b rrow any fula of gour lorimip, for I have no facule tinay; but iny needs are fuch,

[^8]and fo urging, as I do beg what your $b$ unty ean give mee, in the name of good letiers and the bond of an euergrateíll and acknowledging feruant to your hohour

We Aminfler, $2 c$ Dec. $16{ }^{2} 1$. B. Jonson.

Yefferday the barlarous Court of Aldermen have with rawn their chand-ler-ly penfion for varjuice and muftard 33 l. 6 s .8 d .
Mr. Urban, Feb. 24.

THE Acthor of an INQuiry into the Authenticity of the pretended Shakfpearern Manufcripts (now in the prefs) is too ford of a retired and private life, ever to introduce his name unneceffarily irto a newspaper. Knowing, however, that thofe who appear in any view before the publick are liable tol his kind of meretrisious and undefirable celebrity, he Was not furptized at feeing, a few days ago, that In Quiry made the theme of a long advestifement. Whatever may have been its olject, it hall not induce him to publifh lis De:ection of this Forgery fooner than fuits his own convenience, or before he has rendered it as perfect as he is capable of mak ing it ; which (with his beft efforis) may probably be about the 8 th or soth of March. - Thofe who are acquainted with the bufnefs of a printing-houfe beft know the difficulties and delay that occur there. What was originally intended to have been a fhort p :mphlet has grown under the author's hands a book; and he trufts.it will not verify the Greek proverb. Had he been content to carine himfelf merely to the detcction of the molt inarificial and bungling forgery ever attempted, his tafk had been eafier, and it night kave been foon difitithed: but, where the repuation and character and hiftoly of his great master were cońcerned, he was naturally led to take a wider range, to furvey the mariners of the time as well as the flate of the fiage, and to relieve his fubject by occafionally intermixing fomething of entertainment as well as inftruction with the verbal difquifitions which he was necelfarily obliged to go into.

With refpect to the literary temerity afrribed to hiin in charatenfing haswork as a Detection, (for, that is not the title of his Elray, though is is its object, an objeet which he dues not hefitate to fay he has fully attajned,) he has no appithenfion 1798.] Mr. Malone on the fuppofed Shakiperean Manifcripts.
prehenfion that he flall incur any cenfure from the judicious part of man kind; fince, in this point of vics, he only benches by the fide of his learned friend, the prefent very refpectable Lo d B:hop of Salifbury, who, 46 years aco, publinged a deleryollo-admired trata a havilar fabject, thus intituled: "Milton no Pisc"ary; or, a Detpiction of the Forgfries contained in C,auder's Ellay on tie Initation of the Moderns in the Pura. dife Loft, &c. By the Rov. Jonn Douglas, M A."- In the prefeat inPance, the forger bing wakn wn, the detcetion necelanly relates to the Manulcripts alone.
E. M.

Cento Verboran ex Shakiperiana

 Hiserale."None otherwife fall it apere than your oune copye is; nevther will I atde unco it, nor yet demynile it in one r"te"

St throvicu's E itt. I544,
Dearefie Maferre Edinonie,
This letierre ande witheinne connetentes, I amme underre unntufualie niffeffitye toe tenderre urtoe thyne innerellygente obferfevatyonne. Forre itte fites thee we unnedorieftande thate the veretaoufe friryte ofte thye deparre:edde Wiaim shokereare offe Staiford uponne ivon iffe offenndedde bye anotliene counterfeytynge Willje fromme Ireicand bve Thanes; inneherytynge, nee legytymyte poopinnequitye whe thye connctradicdle patronte, orte wewe remandiaunce untoe hivmme; butte beynge the fophyfycatedde ande munaegrelle janevennetuonne, oure atoppetedde !annecye, offe fomme unacknowne frauilgerre toe hymme ande hys acknowleggedde conncceptyonnes.

I doe thereforse imme porrethe thye worrethyerre dyfuerenagoes inne thys matterre, ande dae cuntiderfe thete alle a properre-gualyfyodde champy. onët ofte thye dy thmorredde freynde; earentitelye perrelwaded de thou ane dyfpufedde, alle beefeems a gennetillemanne, tos anatomyz the jertekynae offe thye Wrillys iunftymedde rivalle, Fibberretygybette, ande roe annoynte his felloweflumpe offe ig -gerre-heades withe lerruyceible benydyctyonne: watse hymfemlfe maye notte connectyve (frcmatur owne oire twoe buttoriṭye-arrgumennes afe yette flewnedereive amatwereds) sue hutbinat: ofle Ana Hathere-wave mutte furrennederre toe hys bafo terdyfuge adverrefirye, fromme beynge eyiherre forrefaykenne orre unnefreynnededde. I doe forrebeare loe commepiemente thee furretherre, ourte amme withe innetvre frendefayppeThyne perrepennedicularelye!

Forre Mafecre Edmomse --  Anna -  Lonndonne.

N. B. Signature and part of the fut pe.feciption roo mach difooloured to decypher; hut it may fausfy forne of your carrefpondents to know that, when they call read the above with focilic, they will be nearly competeter to pe ule our nezo Shakfpeate withour a Gloffary; for, all the words may to found there literatim.

Mr. URBAN,  Fsb. 7

HAVING only truch in view, 1 ane anxious to acknowledge the fmalleit erro: I may have falten into. Is po. 11. 12, of "Free Reflections ca Mifceiancous Papeis and Legal Inftruments, under the Hand and $\mathrm{S}=a!$ of William Shakfpeare;" I have fairi that "Wbunz'es," \&ic. the tule cf a hook printed in 16,1 , " is the earlieftintans I san recollect of any word like sebyor jycalie." Si ce the pullication of that pamphlet, I have ubferved that rebimjey occus fo carlv as in the firit ediaion of ". B.n. Johufon his Volpine, or the Fixe." 40.1607 , the third aEE of whinch begins thas:

Mosca.

"I feare, I hall begin to grow in love
" With my deare felfe, and my molt profp'rous parts,
"They da io ipring, and burgeon; I cate reele
"A whinfey $i$ ' my bleod."
I avail myle!f of this opportunity to infurm the Eeveral perfons who have honoured me with their enquilies, timat the untire NS. of "The VinginQ eeen," from whicn fone extadets thave been prated, is in the polfelfion of your cenhant reader, F. G. Waldion.

Mr. URban,
Fib. 2.
ZOUR seaders are much rib iged to one of your Cortelpondents for his account of the Able Butholemy, as he was unqueftiondaly one of the mont illufisious wroters of she prient age. Saxtus, !n his Ononalticon Latorariun, a work: which defertes a place in the liorury of every foholar, fienking of the Travels of Atraclalas, if s,

94 Bartheleny's Travels of Anacharfis.-Letter from bim. [Feb.

very jufly, "Illius iter per Graciam jucundiffimo pariter a:que eruditifimo fabulx involucro expofuit." Vol. VII. p. 280. The earned reader will find fome additional information, relative to M. Barthelemy, at P. 121 , of the fame volume.

The chief objeटtion to M. Barthes, lemy's admirable performance arifes from an inconvenience which the author could not poffibly avide : that is, he was obliged to collect his account of Grece from a variety of differeat writers, fome of whom lived 700, a 3000 , or 1500 yeals, afer the t.mb in which Anacharfis is faid to have arrived in Greece, which was 363 vears before the Chriftian xra; contiquentely his deferiptions cannot be fuppoled to correfpond with the rea! ftate of the country at that period. But let it be remembered, that this work is not exhibited as a real hiflory, extracted from authentic records; but is an imaginary view of Greece, agreeable to thote imperfę flketches and reprefentations, which are to be colle Qed fiom all the writers of antiquity who have left us any information on that fubject.
P. S. I have fent, for the more gratification of your curioficy, a letter from the celebrated author above-mentioned, as a fmall ipecimen of his epiftolary politenefs, and as one of the laft reliques of his excellent pen*. J.R.
" Monfieur,
" Je viens de reçevoir la differtation que vous avez publiée fur la Chronique de Paros. Je fuis $\AA$ flaté de la reçevoir de votre main que je ne puis différer de vous en témoigner ma vive reconnoiffance. Je la lirai avec le plus grand plaifir, et certainement avec beaucoup de profit, le fujet eft très intéreffant et me paroit traité avec une profonde érudition.
En daignant, Monfienr, me parler du voyage du jeune Anacharfis, vons mavez Faitíéprouver conbien l'amour propre d'un auteur eft prét à s'exalter au fuffrage d'un homme de vorre mérite; it eft valai que mon illufion n'a pas duré, et que je me fuis bientồ rapellé que le vrai favoir eft toujours accompagné d'indulgence.
J'ai Yhomeur d'être avec le plus fincere reffect, Monfieur,

Votre très bumbie et très obéiffant ferviteur, Paris,
le 28 fuine, 1 пя 1 .
Barthelemy.
A Aionfieur Alunfieur $\mathcal{F}$. Roberfon, Great Marlberougb-ffreet, London.

[^9]On the Utility of Small Canals. (Concluded frem $p .32$.)

HAVING, I tope, exhihied many ronveniences at endant on fall boats. it muft next becontidered which are the fituations noroper for their ape plication; and this may be brought under three heads.
Frff. A'l independent cinals, fuch as ave formed ithout entering the ocean, rivers, or lareer canals; in all fuch cales the princtal may eafly be tffablithed, and the lucceed, ne branches extended by the lame fyftem.
Secondly, In all cafés where cargoes are transferred from latger to fmaller craft, fuch as from cozfing veffels, or 40 tons boats, to hofe of 25 tons; tor, if the cargo is transferred, it may as well be to a 4 tons boat, which boat will navigate a canal confructed for half the fum requifite to one of 25 tons.
Thirdly, It is worthy of confideration, whether it is not better to form long lines of canal for 4 tons boats, and transfer the cargo, than enter into the enormous expence of a navigation for boats of 40 tons.
Hitherto it has been a prevailing opinion (and many long canals are forming on the principle), that the canal fhould be of a width to admit the coafting veffels, to avoid the expence of transferring the cargoes to fmasl boats.
While there was no alternative but 40 or 25 tons boats this fyftem may hold good, as the difference in expence was not of fuch great importance. But, on taking a comparative view of a canal for 40 and 4 tons boats, the great faving by adopting the latter renders the object of loading and unloading at the coaft trifing. For, wherever a canal is be confiructed for 40 tons boats, one-third the fum would execute one for boats of 4 tons. Therffore, when I look to a company who are fpending 300,0001 . where 100,0001 . would anfiver the purpofe, $10,000 \mathrm{l}$. per annum is left to pay for transferring cargoes; which, at 3 d . per ton, alluwing 280 working days per year, would pay for re-loading 2857 tons per year. Thus it appears a principal is funk to fave a transfer, of which there is not the moft diftant profpect. Few canals have a profpect of a trade which would require a tranffer of 500 tons per day, which, at 3 d. per ton, would amount to 17001 . per annum; yet, to aveid this, 10,0001 . per annsm is fuak: which, admutring that the excence of trans ${ }^{t}$ el falls on the proprietors, makes a difference of $8_{3001}$. per anmum in fivour of the fmal! conal. $Y$ : 1 do nor conce've that the expence of tron for ing the cargoes wil. fall on the company, but bear on the fr.ighter: ard the clef tion is, whether the fiei her will be deterred from fending his rands by the canal in cinequence of the addiow, nal sd. per ton? It fo, he "anft have an admrahle alterwative, much fup-rior to land $-\mathrm{c}_{2} \mathrm{ritege}$; and in furh $r$ fe the compart sin lower th - "nodge to favour the :reighter, ver have a better profped of enolvemut by the fmall than they poffinty can by the large canal, in conlequence of conftructing it fol one-third the furs.

H-ne I conclude the coafting-trade wii: be conveyed as much by the fmall as che larger canal.

Wh't le alt eonds taken in at any pan of the canal, and delivered on its b. nk. viil be the fame in loading into lates as fmall horts; vet, in coals, it , or morerals, the fmall boats will hate in advantage by raking-in their caryo to the delphs, or works.

To:s it appears proprietors have as goned chance of re tiving 15 per cent. by tor $1 . \mathrm{n} .1$ as five by the larger wowk vet, guturè ag inff ay material lofs, they have every advantage which i large orecan give.
In connexions win arger canals it may be fated, that fmall c nalals exclude large noats; but arge canats will no cxclude fin il biars; a nefl of fmall bo ts w. 11 als a lack, and nivigare to a deltined pennt. wherevor canals extend, virhos. moving the cargo. Hen ef conceve there are few fatizetons hut the trnall conals are preferable, paricul rly in long lines, fuch as commumcations betwen the E 'g'th and Brittol channels, or S livay Firh to Newcalte or Sunder'and, with junctuen of diftant canals. But the $\mathfrak{f}$ tuations to which they are applcable will he e.fily determined by comparing the faving of principal with the trantfer of ca.go, keeping th's in view, that the tansfer of cargo will feldom fall on the canal proprite res.
It is pretty generaly allowed, that canals benefit a country whatever may be the fatt of the fubfribers. But this principle will give futficibers a better dhance; and they, feeling an ineereft, will be encouraged to extend their fpeculation. When I confider that, infiead of a canal 30 miles long, a company may h,ve 90 miles for the fame noney, and exch part competent to the trade, the difparity certainly is geat-in a double tenfe; firft, as emolument to the company-feconds as a brnefir to the country In a national fad agricaltural view, I fee them of the greatefi importance, by reducing the number of hoifes, and rendering cheap the articles of fuel and manure. Wherever they extend, their trifing expence invites connexion; ikirting the trills, they fpread a verdure on the barren heath, and warm the cottage of the helplefs poor.
During my thoughts on this fubject, I have exhibited the principle to fome committees, who have become fenfible of its utility too late, part of their canal being finifhed, or the parliamentary line not admitting of deviation fufficient to apply the planes to advantage. Therefore, as the fyftem 马ould be kept in view from the firf furvey, I have thought proper to give my ideas through the medium of Mr. Urban's Mifcellany for the following reafons:

1. If the principle is a good one, it fhould be generally known.
2. If it is not, 1 flall be infinitely obliged to any one who will exhibitis infufficiency.
3. That companies who have canals in consemplation may weigh the fubject.
4. That every argument for and againft may be brought before the publick.

And for this purpofe, without wifhing to impole a taik on any one, 1 think rayfelf juftifed in calling on gentlemeneng neers, particuiarly Mef. Jeffop, Whavorhh, Outrim, Miline, and Renwie (whofe meriss 1 efteem), to fate their objegtions to this fyitem of navization; which I here promife publicly to acknowledge, or confut:, from the obfervations I have made: their fience I thall confider as a tacit acknowledgement of its fuperiority. I thall alfo be obliged to any other gertitman for their thoughts eicher for or againft he fmall boats, machinery, and ryftem of conveyance

Rodert Fulton.

Mr. Urban,  Fth. 12.

ICOULD combat many objections brought againft me, but, as a fincere bover of truilh, 1 and an enemy to difputation, intended to cefend coojeÊurcs on fubjects which may be illufrated by facts. A conjedure in its natuic commands but a fmall portion of refipect beyond politenefs, let it come from whomfoever it may.

I thaok your three Correfpondens for their obliging attention to the migration of fwe!lows, hoping thir more gentlemen will he inclised to fotward an eliquiry cancerning a tadt, which it is a reproach to naturalifis to be ignoo rant of at this time.

Clericus Eboracerfes is with me in all points.

The plan of Incompertis, to prozure fwallows usder nets near water, is much to my mand. 1 think they might be watehed, fo as to produce a cartainy of their immerfion, if my itatement is true, and that at no great expence: we have time before-hand; and if a fmall box, with a hoie wa tope to zdmit offerings, was fxed in the wi.cow of any public flop-keeper, I doubt not but enough might be collected io pa: men to watc.a their departure; and if three or four adive gentemen under. took to employ proper perfons in the autumn, in this way, there is little fear of fuccefs.
One fact well attefted is as well as an hundied, when we corffer the reqularity of Narure' ifftinsti:e commands to the animal tribe.

Some think thai the note cuckuo is that of hunger; I wather think it is that of love, perhaps in boih fixes; for the cuckoo I kept fev:ral menthis made, as I have laid, dred foll tereams whien hungry.

Candide.
Mr. Urean,

A- 10.12. Correfpondent (nol. LY:V. p. 1009, ) afks information e necr:iing the rectory of Hakezeits in Hifex; and obfcrves, that it is "not to he found in Bocon's Litar Regis." Another Correfpondent replics. P. 10§o, that " the name of the parif is Hiawkofwell :" and I add, that it is mfered in "Sacon's Liber Reyis," as follows: " Hawkswell, aibas Hackiwell, R. (St. Mary) Robert Buthow, L'q. 1736. 1757." F .613 . The searly value is about 2501 .

As one trterelted in thi parih, ulI:w me to day that I thould hold mi:felf much obliged to any oue who would comman:cate in what way the diyow fon came into the Srifow family.
Yours, &ic. C. I. E.

Mr. URBan,

Fib. 13. TAVE the goodncfs to inform the country clergyman who has the misfortune to be aflicted with a rupture, p. 60, that he will get a wery rood trufs at Mr. Squire's, Broad Atreet, Carnabymarket, for two guineas as the common price ; and, I believe Mr. S. has. honevolerce entugh so take one, and no more, on fuch an occation.

Has the fchemer for making the Thamesa wet-dok, p. 25, adverked to the falilowing of all above his gates, by the mud, de. whic! will le moughe fo far by the river, eipscially winterfloods, and there loclged?

Your almolt antiquaied reader, Cornub.

Mr. Urban, Feb. 21 . T. TR. Arcadeacen Henfliaw, p. 60 , is I: burid at Cuch.field, in the county of Sulex, of whic! place he was tefident Vicar from 1673 till has death; the exaft date of whith event is fomewlat ownere; the patith-regifter has an eno try, "Nov. 25, $148 \mathrm{r}, \mathrm{Mr}$. Tobias Hent we washerici-N.e. 28 , received an afidavit for Mr. I obias Howhaw." This is molahlthetruecrate, hecaufe the entry of a buriai the preceding month $i$ in the Aschdeacon's handwriting. But the incaiption oves hegrav: *, atrer reciting that he was titafuler of the church of Chichefer, and was born of the fante morhe: with Feter Gumaing. lae Bump of Checheiter, but now of Els, comendes, "Onit die menfis Decembrs, Amm, Domini

> MDCLXXX,
> NTY. LX.

He gave two filver patines to the church of Cuck held.
N. O.

Mr. UBban, Fib. 12.

IHAD "Lhuid's Archaoloba Britanvica" before me when 1 tave you, what I thrayht, on his aviburity, an nam aceprionable etymolugy of the wond Warlogreftetet; and, thorefure, I am contident, that I wrore guaitaLheng, and mot Gunith long, as in your Mlas. z:ne for Decemter tatt. I ga:c Mr. fotheties thas erymologr, with ohers, thateyeas ago, on accidentaly metng wh ham at the houte of a fritud in the Litte-Cloiftis, Weft-manter-Abiey, whon he was foliciting fubsoiptuins for a Welth Dimionary, which, at that time, I fuppefed, he in. tearied to , nblifis.
R. Duff.
1796.] The Game of Chess defribed fiom an antient Poir.

Mr. Urean, Gan. 18.

ISOME time ago met with the following Latin veifes in an ancient poem faid to have been wristen either by the poet Lucan, or in his time, that is, in the reign of the Enperor Nero, and intitled Carmen in Pifonem. They relate to fome ferious game of jkill, that feems to bear a refemblance to chefs, if not to be that game iffelf. As the perufal of thefe yerfis may afford fome amufement to luch of your readers as are acquainted with that ingenious game, I mould be glad ycu would infert them in your enteltaining mifcellany, together with a tranfo lation I have made of them, upon 2 fuppontion that they relate to that gane; though I am by no moars confident that they do fo, and I have been informed that many connoiffeus in that game have been of opinion they do not. However, the Latin words will, I think, bear the meterpretation I have given of them
Yours, &s. C. D.

Latin verfes from Carmen in Pifonem, a pancgyrick on a young Roman of great rank and rase accomplifhments, of the name of Pijo. The verfes relate to fome ganie of fkill, at which Pifo is fard to have excelled.
Te fi forte juvar, ftudintum pondere feffum, Non languere tamen, lufufque movere per artem, Callidiore modo tahulâ variatur apertâ
Calculus, et vitreo peraguntur milite bella,
Ut niveus nigros, bunc et niger adhget albos.
Scd tibi quis non terga dedit? quis, te duce, cellit
Calculus : aut quis non, periturus, perdidit lofem?
Mille modis acies tua dimicat. He petentem
Dum lugnt, ipfe rapit: longo venit ille receffu,
[r:xæ
Qui Aetit in fpeculis: Hic fe commottere Audet, et, in prodam venientem, decipt hortm.
Ancipites thibit ille moras, fimilifque ligato Obligat ipfe duos. Hic ad majora moverur, Ut citus et fracta prorumpat in agmand mindi, ${ }^{2}$, Claufaque dejecto populetur moenia vallo. Intereà, fect- quamus accertima fu: gant Proha muluthus: plenat tamen ipie phalange, Aut etiàm patuco fpoliatâ milue, voncis; Et thi caphwa, efonat manas utray ae tuaba.

A conjeceural tranflation of the loregoing veries, upon a luppefition that they relate to the game of ctuefo.

Gent. Mag. Forwarya ifst.
"When you have been fatigued with playing at tennis, and the other active exercifes of the body, in which you fo much delight and excell, you are fill unwilling to be unemplojed, and therefore berake yourfelves to games that exercife the powers of the mind. Cn thefe occafions you open your chefsboard, and produce your armies of black and white foldiers, made of coloured glafs, or of porcelane, and endued with a variety of different poners of motion, of a mof fubtle kind; of which the black pieces rea pretent one army drawn up in batt ed array, and the white pieces reprefent another army drawn up in the fame manner, in oppofition to the former.

But what piece at this game has not been forced to turn his back to you, and retreat? and what piece in your own army has ever been forced to fuffer that difgrace? or, if it has retreated from the enemy, has not, in the very inftant in which it feemed to be in danger of being overcome and defroyed, turned fhort upon the piece of your adverfary, and taken it?

Your pieces, at this ingenious game, anncy the enemy in a thoufand dif. ferent ways. Sometimes we are furprized to fee that one of your pieces ficms to fly from the piece that attacks him, bus at that very moment takes the purfuer. At another tume we lea your rook (which had before food nill in his origmal corner of the boaid, as in a watch-tower, fride ac:ofs the buard, and Arengthen an attack upon you: adveifary. On a third occation we fie a plece advance, with an appeatance of tahnefs, into the midd'e of the tnemy's army, to as to temps the eatmy to endeavour to take him; but, when the themy attempts to do fo, he finds your piect is fo well guarded that he is ouliged to defilt from his attempt; or, if he ferfeveres in it, is fure co repent of his folly by incurimg the lofs of a piace of greater vaiue. At abother time we fee you piave o: 2 of your pawns fo judicinully, that, though it caules an impedment to the advance of the piects of botin the players, 'et it hatll ftop tive of ywur atverian's pieces froin advancing, while only itfelf is Ropped from avancing on your fice. And, while your inferior pieces purfue thefe moderate advantages, your Quecn marches forward in fearch of aobles gome, wath

9S Game of Chefs.-Lichfield Cathedral.-Mionopoly of Food. [Feb.

the fuiftnefs of a high-mettled horfe, that breaks from his ftall to tufh upon the ranks of an enemy's army, and endeavours to break down the rampart that defends the enemy's camp, and lay it wafte. Whiite thus the game grows more and more difficult, and the contef more and more eager, by the intermixing of the pieces on each fide with thofe of the other fide, you yet contrive, notwithftauding this complicated hate of things, to win the game without having luffered your army to be diminifhed, or, at leaft, with the lofs of a vcry few of your men, while both your hands are full of the pieces "hich you have taken from your adverfary, and which, by their rattling in your hand's, as you flake them one againit the other, proclaim your vifory."
If thefe verfes do not relate to the game of chefs, quare what game they do relate to?
C.D.

Mr. Urban,

fan. :

 - YOUR correfpondent, p. 999, not pafs unnoticed, p. 924 ; and Ithink the fame of his letter. He wifhes your readers to believe that the clergy of the cathedral church of Lichtied, after expending a fubfctiprion of 5200 l . generoufly incurred a debt of 1 Sool. jolely that the choir might be large enough to contain the inhabitants of the City when they met the inhabitants of the Clofe, for the purpofe of hearing a fermon preached on a Sunday morning. I fay fole'y for this purpofe, as it is all he produces in proof of the fuperior information he implies being poffeffed of, when he blames Viator for venturing to cenfure before he had inade proper enquiries. I an a very old man; I have feen many atrange things come to pafis; but I little thought I fhruld ever read in your valuable Magazine, that "the beauty of the neve (ot a chiuch, Mir. Urb:n) was torallu deitroyed by beingcrowded with pews.". There are few of your readers will be furprized that the gentleman who prefers the beauty of an empty nave, to one croweded with peus, flould be at a lofs to comprehend what Viator means, by "every method of confufion is introduced,'~ " the periods of Gothic architeCture are cruelly confounded" but many, "very many," will be aftonifhed he fhould feel and confefs his ignorance. I would have a ftatue of the perfon who ordered the butereffes to be built placed on the top of one of them, and a flatue of the architect on the other, wich fuitable infcriptions, that pofterity may know to whom they are indebted for fuch elegant fpecimens of the flate of the arts at the clofe of the eighteench century.

As your correfpondent declines replying to Viator's general argument I fhall conclude he finds it unanfwerable; and for the fame reafon I murt believe "the monuments and the afhes of the dead have been removed," that the inhabitants of the city, &c. &.c. &c. Yours, &c. W. W.

Mr. Urban,

ARemark which I have juft heard made, on reading a hint in the St. James's Chronicle, recommending it to the Lord Mayor, &c, to havefour* Smithfieds in London inftead of one; i. e.
"There is fill fane good fenfe, fome wife counfellors, lett in this nation, if we had but the wifdom to adopt the plans propofed.'
This remark led me to think how many individuals fuffer for want of a little good advice giveo to them gratis, as is done to the publick in your ex. cellent Magazine and in mofl of the newfpapers that are not demonocraic.

As we have lately heard the beaviitiful Hy ma fung by A ogels toShepherds, "On earth peace, gool-will towards men," it occuried to me, that, as 1 am fure I cannot aitia in the fi: fl part of the hymn, nor do 1 fee how abler heads can, lought

[^10]to try what I can of the latter part. I wih, by means of your, I believe, uni verfally-read Magazine, to offer a word of good advice to a perfon, who, to my regrer, Inever faw, but of whom I have heard much, the famous Dr. Norrifs, hoping thereby to bentfit multitudes, as well as the poor Dochor himielf, who, if he is ftyled a QUACK, is certainly no Puff; for, in h's book given with his large, and jol.t with his fmall, bottles of Antimonial Drops, he has not faid half, that he might with ftricteft truth have afferted, of manv aftenifh ing cures performed by thole wonderfull drops; particularly in the cafe of two of the fuperior domeflicks of the late charitab'e Archbifhop Secker, both given over by two eminent phufirians of Londnn. They hevged his Grace's permiffion to fend for Dr. Norrils; who fo perfectly reftored them to heaith, bv God's bleffing, that one of them is ftill living, and in good health and ftrength at the age of fourfcore, and the other died in a good oid age about fuur years ago.

My excellent angelic friend, the late Mrs. Catharine Talbot, regreuted that I was not prefent at a conference beld between the noo Regulais and D. Norrifs ; ibey fupremely defpifing bim for his nefcience of Greek and Latin, Sxc.; and be bim for their inability to cure in three months thofe whom he had cured in listle more than three days. It neturally brought to mind the dialogue berween the Engli?h blackfmith, who cured the King of France of his ague with bark, and the phyficians: "What is an ague, define it to us!"-" It is what lican cure, and you cannot."

Were 1 to relate the afonifhing cures, that I and others of my tamily have, by God's bleffing, performed in different cafes, it could h.rdiy be credited but by thofe who knov me well. I have for years occafionally taken them in fmall quantities, in the vio. lent hot weather, in July and Augult, and conft nily founc immediate relief. Somewhat more than four montiss ago I caught cold, which fixed on my lungs fo tough a phiegm, that no medicines, no change of air, had the leaft tffect on me. I was unable to cough at all, and was frequently very near fufiocation; twice my kind difectionate old fervant, ftanding by me, fuppofed I had actually drawn my laft bieath. An amiable kind fritod came into my room, and faid, "You are always prefcribing and dofing your friends and neighbours with Dr. Norrifs's Drops. tor pity's fake take fome yourfelf." I ep ied, I did not know that thev were of fervice in my cafe. The paper of directions was taken up, and the diret:ions there given followed, as I never am without a bottle or two in the houfe; and within fifteen hours of my beginning them, without any perceptibie operation whatever, I was pertectiy frced from my intolerable load of phlegm, and in better health than I hove been for fome few vears paft. This 's about five weeks aen. Of courfe this has fet me to pretcribing them, with redoubled earnefinefs, to al! my fick or infirm friends or nei hhours; but, alas ! often in v in, for the bigh price ftartles them, partcu'ar!y perfons of moderate foitunes, in chele dear imes, alihough, if they would conflier, a guinea is foon gone at an anothecary's. There are, to be fure, fondit bottles, but they do not contan enough to make a fair trial. I would, therefore, eatnctily ricemmend it to the Dutor, to reduce convederably the price ot his ircompasate Drops I am fully perfuaded, that by fo ching he would teit ten boules fo: one he now iells. He has alfo another difadvantage, which is, that all venders of quack medicines conftantiv fend Norton's for Noirifs's D:ops. I haye now four boties of the latter lying ufelefs by me, brought mefrem town by a lady, a neighover of mine, faying, the man toid her that I meant Norton's Drops. So I now conftanly write down Dr. N. Antm. Drops, as I had the fame miftake lappened a few weeks ago, when I fent to a country town, but the man kindly exchanged thern again for Norrifs s.

A :aughable circumitance happented fome years ago. Living near a large town, I am ticquently lending (as I doctor my pour meighbou:s) to the apothecaries for drues. One was wanted that our apothceary wad not. The fervant went to another; who, knowing bis livery, faid, "Well, Sir, how many more people docs your maiter mean to kill with theje fine Norrifs's drops ?" The man's mother was a Welh woman; fo a little Welg blood rofe; ard he replied, "Stay till he has killcd one; he has cured fores that you could not;" and walked equt of the thop.

100 Vistues of Antimony.-Collections rclative to Dr. J. Taylor. [Feb.

It is pity, Mr. Urban, that fuch excellent medicines as Norrifs's Drops and Games's Powders hould grow into difufe. Everv one knows the emphatic, although rather profanc, name that the French chemits term Antimony, le main droit de Dieu; implying that it can accomplif every thing. That it is a wondertul medicine, may be feen by every carter and hog-dealer by the effect it produces on the fkins of both thofe beafts, to whom it is frequently given crude, mixed with their food.
"Goodwill to MEn" obliged me to requen, that you would infert this in your Magazine. It may there meet the eye of fome wife perfons, who may profit by it; and perhaps induce the Doctor to lower the price, as it is now quite out of the reach of the poor, and is certainly a coftly medicine for thofe that are confiderabiy zbove the poor.
B. E.

Mr. Urian,

BEiNG the fift, and, I believe, the only peafon who, through the chanael of your valuable publicalion, have challenged your Liverpool Correfpondent (vol. LXI. p. 575) to fupply fome collections refpeching Doctor Jeierny Taylor; I am not a little furprized that no notice has beentaken of my application, efpecially as his , for was made with fuch uncordnimal liberality. It is probabie you misy have a clue to the Contefpondent I refer to; if you have, it would be efleemed a very great favour to we your endeavours for the prodaction of whe documents in quefion, unleis the poffeffor of them himfelf has any ferious intentions of converting thete :o the fame ufe they were intended for by me, namely, to be from time to time pretented to the publick, by the means of your rommonicative vehicle, incorporated with my own collections on the fane futject; in which cafe, hould he figuriy as much, 1 would contive to promote his defige tu the utmoft of my power.

I cannot agree with Scrutator, in your Magazine of lait June, p 467 , that Lhovd, auhber if " State Worthirs." shmuld we brideed of the title of hring, whis I gave him, being, as 1 appehend, Wiliam Lloyd, who filled tise lee of Worcther, and died about A. D. 17:7, and not the Dind Eloyd whon Wood alludes to; though I muit confefs, that his cenfure, perhaps as juf as fevere, was as frictly applicable to my William, as to the character at whom it was levelled. And this opinion, which I profefs to entertain of the author of "s State Worthies," whoever he may be, may ferve to thield me from the ridicule of your correfpondent Ofuro, (vol. LXV. P. 726,) becaufe I aik, of what county Sir Geoffrev Fentun was, when the infallible Lloyd has written him of Nottinghamfare; a queftion 1 certainly fhould not have afked, could 1 prevail upon myfelf to become the dupe of credulity, merely to fave myfelf the trouble of enquiry. For, what credit does fuch a writer as Lloyd deferve, who, without the fhatow of an authority in fupport of what he advances, obr-udes on the world his biographical fketches of men who lived a century and more before his ome, as dogmatically as if he had been their bottle companion. Shot hints of that kind from the pen of a contemporary, fuch as Sir Robert Nanton's, are valuable things. Nor faall the battery, which Oicure has opened upon me from old Anthory Wood, drive me from the polition I ar firft took, or induce me to abate the lealt of rhe ardour of my enquiries refpecting James Howel, in vindication of whom, vere 1 fo difpofed, I c uld open fuch a battery, in my turn, as would cHi Clually filence Of. curo and his foul bingrapher; but $J$ tones Howel needs no champion, and h's fame is out of the teach if pigmymalice. I will admit that his flyle, if examened by the fin adard of the prefent day, is objectionable; but try it by that of his own that, and how will it appaal In the ape he lived, and for half a century before, what was the beft Englifh fyle but a fiff tiflue, ghittering with falfe c nctits, mere fpangled buckram? The ttage, the b.r, the pulprt, and the chrone, were alike involved in the cenfure, and the Monarch himfe.f was in the extreme of thetafion. Bit to confute Wood's impudent (lie for I can give it no midder term), in fighurizing Howel with impotture, 1 a F enabled to produce fuch damning proofs to confiont it as would avercome the mok inveserate prejudices in favzur of an affe:tion as malientat as gooundifis, and which, one day or other, ma: be made pubic, by which it would appear that James Howel was piffeffed of as much honour, integrity, and the milk of human nature, as Wood had of meannefs, falfehond, and gall; and that the monftrous biographical mals, his Athenæ, was collected at random, and moulded to anfwer the bafef paffrons and the narrowelt prejudices, with an exception only of onc inftance in fifty through the whole work; in hant, Wood's calumny, and Lloyd's panc. gyrick, I hold in equal refpect. When Ofcuro is pleafed to boot withost a falking-horfe, and afpires to a litt'e more of the Cbiaro, I @all be happy to be better acquainted with him; but till then, I hall begleave to bid him good nighr, and leave him to the full enjoyment of the U'curo.

In vol. LXV. Part I. p. 314 , it aftonimed me to find a critic bold enough to enter the lifts as a cenfor of Aulus Gellius and his tranflator, who proved himfelf fo ill-qualified for the talk, by betraying fuch limited reading and obfervatiou, and fuch ignorance of clafical antiquities, as not to know that wallinuts were fcattered at the weddings of the antients, or to want an authorty for the farne. Many might be adduced; but I hall beg leave to offer only the few that are frefh in my recollection, viz. Brffonius de ritu nupbiarm. Phay Nat. H.ft. Lib. 15 . cap. 22 ani Valcus's Commentay on Perfiss, p. 10. in an edition of "arious commenteturs on that Samrin, fublinhed by Frich inus, in quartn, $150^{-8}$.

L L. B. in vol. LXV. p. 630́, mentions one of the Elecies of Pvazus, of a tratatation pabhined by Payat, $\mathbf{1 7 6 2}$, as given to your readers w tha view of comparing it with Mr. Polwhele's. Is the fact fo or not? If I thought it was no , haveng thet iaminttion by me, 1 thould beg your miat on of one of theclegies, which, Aprefune, whether writera by the $B$ thep of Fernes, or Dostor Cleaver of Brazennole, will bear a comparisa wath either Mr. Pye's or Mr, P hwhe'c's attemnts. The affectatim ot havang dricovered in Tyrteses's whld thatimas a teference to a fet of matitery tacticks is conterepri. ble; and to taink that a few forced concerts, primted in I.al!. s, could aran!fufe the fpirte of the Alhenian's warhoop, is a puenlity below crincifa.

Yours, &゙c. Anachareis.
Mr. Urban, Oxiord, fane zi. FAVING lately ndd an uppontu. nity of louking into the truly valuable "H Atory and Antiquities of the Connty of Leicefter," I beg leave to make the following extra from it ; with a defign of pointiug out to the indefatigable Editor, and his numerous readers, a miftake whelh cocurs in his account of the Rev. Mifostilegne; of whofe tibrary a bale catalogue is re. gitered in p. 8. 1 of you: Lat volume.

The hilforian's wordsare there:
[Vol. II. p. I. 203 ]
" His" [Francis P'ck's] " copv of Burton's Hilaory, in which he has made feveral remanks, and noted down many ufeful references, I pirciafed (1-93) from Mr. Achuns, bookfeiler, of Lough rough, after it had tain many ears in the library of the Rev. John Alleyne*, B D and fellow of C'aiverfity College, Oxford, latc rector of North Cerney, in GlonceiterThire, to which he was prefented in 1780 , by his college, and died after one day's illnets, Nov. $1,1793 . "$

* "Mr. Alleyne, the fon of an attorney at Loughtorough, was bern there in r731; matr colated March : 4, :745, of TrinityCollege, pich. fil.; ordained Deacon at Bugden by Dr. John Thomas, Bimup of Lincoln, is c. 23, the Sunday before Clirifmas day, 1750; his tit'e Edcot, co. Bucks, given him ly his frimd inr. Cranger, vicar likewife of Shiplake. Mr. Alleyne $\dot{w}^{\text {w }}$ is appointed malter of Magdaten fochool, 1752, conceming whech he made fome MS collecteons. He was ordaned preft by the fame bithon the Sunday betore Chr itmas-diy, 175 6. In $17 t_{4}$ the applied for the matermip of the Gram, ar-ichool of Brifen Comporation, but faled. He correcter the piefs for a volume of has tracid Dr. Hobbry': Sermulis, for the benefit of his widow, and afficted in conpofing the Index to "r. Chander's laturptiones Antiqux, 1774."

Every word in this note, from " matriculated" inclulive to the end of it, is inspplic able to Mr. Ailevne; but is, I belicve, exasty t:ut, if applied torlieRov. Robert By yne, M. A. whufe papers, on his deceafe, fell into the hands of ivlr. Alleyne*; a letter fiom wh in is now tefore me, dated Mav $18,17-6$ Anting, " thatourp. or faund Bane died on Tucidav iaf,", Mey 14. From th: Catature of Graduars if appears: tibdt air. Brane took the degree of M A. on June 7,1751; and that Mr. Allyyne did the lanie on June 7, 1754; and that M-. Allerne [^11]did the fame on June 6, 7755 . The latter, though a fellow of Univerfiry College, was Steward of Magdalen College, where he refided till he gave up that office. The former was born in Somerfethire, and bioughr upunder the celebrated Thomas Hare, M A. Mafter of the fchool of Crewkerne.

With the fulteft conviction of the rurh of the reprefonation given by "Antiquitatum Invef gator" in $p .720$ of vour laft volume, and with beft withes for the completion of the work there characterized, I am,

Yours, &c. Magdalenensis.

Mr. Urban,

Yant. 19.

IHEARTILY join with your Correfpondent M. (vol LXV. p. 993), in the wifh that the fong of "God lave the King'" may long chear the heatt of many a loyal fubject: and, if it is put into the Latin language, I thould alfo rejoice to fee it *; my beys thall learn it, and, if they fonuld ever meet with M's fons, they hat! fing it together.

My youngiter's are ve:y defirous to know the words of an old leciaiteg up fong, which is ufually called "Du ce Domum," thofe words being the burthen of it. I once knew it, but cannot now recolled a fingle fianza of it. Perhaps fome of your Correfpondents evill temember the pieafure they fe't in their juvenile days at the epproach of the holidays, and wilt do me the fo. vour to communicate the words of the Said fong though the chabnel of your Magazme; for fo coing, they thall have the thanks of myle'f and my boys. Yours, &ic. Miakcus.

Mr. Urean,
Эал. 26.

THE piefent foarcity and hivh pices of Corn are ferious evils, which cannot fail to excire the attention of every thinking man, and the wihh, as far as it is pulfible, to remove shem.

From the particular attention which I have patd to the fubje f? for tume time palt, and from the pecular adv, ntages of my fituation, in the midf of one of the moft fertile and prodact ve corn countries in the kingdom, with cne of the principal dealers in that com modity for a neighbour and friend, I ain induced to think that my opintons may not be altogether undeferving of attention. Be llatas it may, my motive [^12]is moft affuredly to do good, and my information is the beft that can be had in thefe parts.

A few years ago the great quantities of grain which this country produced, and had to fpare, were chiefly bought by two or three dealer:; mien of known property and integrity. Their connexions were extended to every part of the kingdom; and, where we e the greatefi wants and the higheft prices, there this furplus was fent. Thegreat quantity of Cors which went through their hands rendered their annual profits conthierable, although their profits per quarter were finall; four-pence, os lix-pence, fer quarter, being as muihas they in gencral required.

As thefe dealers bought of the ginwers, and fold only to the confumers; and as lix-pence for quarter Was the general difference in the prices of buying and felling; it is vely evident to civay ore, that the corn-trade could net be conducted upon better terms for the couniry than it was in their times.

But, how is it carried on at prefent? To mo certan knowledge, the circuit, which confanily fo'd so one of thofe dealers, is now daily ridden over by tea or twolve jobbers! Among thele are rallors, breeches-makers, blackfouths, miliers, and farmers! They :'fend the proncipal markets, get otders from dealers meting them there, ald then ride the next day among the fe:mers; fometmes five or lix, at the fame ume, boing in the fame little village. They bid againtt each other; get what they can; hurry it to the manket town; there the dealer takes it and rells it again to others, or tranfports it th the beft markets, where a tatefman is keft to difpede of it to the dealers or coniumers there!

It is therefore very evident, Mr. Urban, that the corn which ufed to pafs but through one hand, from the grower to the confumer, now pafles through a regular fuccetion of three or four, and very frequently more: each of thele has has diftinet profit; and what is fall mo e unfortunate, as the coun mult be divided among fo many buyers, the quantiry bought by each is too fmall to make it woith his attention at the old allowance of fix-pence per quarter; eaci therefore takes more; io that, inflead of one fix-pence per quarter between the grower and confumer, the diferent hands it noiv paffes through, lay on, collectively, not lefs than four, feldom lefs than five or fix fhllings, per quarter, and very frequently much more!
1796.] Abufes among the Jobbers in Corn, and Mixers of Bread. 103

This additional expence in bringing corn to the confumer, Mr. Urban, appears to me to be a hravy buithen upon the country ; and it is, molt af. furedly, a very unneccfialy one, which loudly calis for redrefs.

In the courfe of the laft winter, it is an undoubted fact, that feveral of thefe new dealers found means ti) get the refufal of all foreign corn brought into a certain port ; they bought it immediately on itsarrival, and fold it to the bakers and millers, in waiting wirhout the door (who they knew had pofitive orders to buy), at the common rate of 20s. per quarter profit! this they did repeatedly, by which means wheat was advanced from 60 s . to 120 s . per quarter, in the couste of very few weeks.

The prefent moment, two, affords an inconteftible proof of my affert ons. Three weeks ago, numbers of little iobbers daily rode among the farmers, suying, at any price, whatever was offered. The farmers, alarmed by their :agernefs and importunities, durft not ix a price, for fear it hould be too ow ; they therefore denied their corn; :onfequently, the ma:kers were thinly upplied, and the proces, in a few wecks me, were up to an enormous height. oo foon, however, as the 1 umour of corn seing permitted 4 be exported by , he Emperor of Geimany became prezaent, the dealers withed to difpole of heir purchafes on hadel-ihe hitte jab3ers received no orders-the prices :ame down-the farmers, alarmed, ind plenry of corn, best, alis! no suyers! Ar this prelent moment, the narkets are overftocked, and the prices of whest, in the courfe of the aft two weeks, bite come down thirty Thuliogs per quarter; conlequently, the exorbisant prices, and the thin tupplies or many weeks back, wele, evidently, he eff=Ets of the jobbers; lince, by beir being quiet for fourcein days, he prices ate rowered tull $3=s$. fer 1uarcer, and the markets are fupphod o fuperabundarce.

In thoit, Mr. Uiban, Ifee fo much of the confulion into which the country sthrown, and of the heavy tax which slaid upon corn by thefe numerous roops of upftari jobbers, that I teel a full convetion in my own mind, that the moft effectual means of fuppreffing fo deteftable and pernicious a practice fhould be immediately alopted; and, perbaps, none would be more inflantaneous and extenfively ufeful than for every dealer in corn to be obliged to take out a licence at $100 \%$ per annum, This $I$ earnefily recommend to the immediate confideration of the country at large, and of the minifter in particular. Dieffing mills and trading millers are no lefs a nuifance, and deferve particular confideration.
Yours, &c. Rusticus.

Mr. Ubean,

 Yan. 29.「HE following calculation may ferve to thew how the publick are ar prefent impoled upon in the fale of the article of bread, manufactured ss recommended by the Legflature.According to the prefent price of wheat and barley, which the bakers mix in the propertion of two pats of the former to one of the latter, the following flould fland as the fate, determining the refpective value of each:
Wheat ——8

Of thefe cwo kinds of gran, if a loa be made agreeable to the recommended plan, its parts will be thus proportioned as to value:

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Wheat }-6 \\
& \text { Barley }-1
\end{aligned}
$$

Hence it appears, that the difference between whe ten and mixed bread is ar 8 Cr 7 ; fo that a loaf, of the fize which wouid now fell for four-pence if it is mate of wheat only, fhould be but threepence halfpenn if a third of it is Larley; that is to fay, the quartern luat, which, entire wheaten, is now at the value of .ne dhilling and one penny katipenoy, oughit to be no more, if mived, that rea perce halfpenny. Ytt in it is, there is no gond mixed bread to be bought for lefs has one fhiiling the quartern loaf, which is three halfpence more than its walue; and fome of the takers du not make eyen this allowince ro the purchater, who, after all, does not inteality know what he is cating when the loaf is not entirely of wheat ; which it night be, and all the advantages denived that are expected from a decreafed confumptoon, by fimply making a coaler necal of of thats grain, and prohnbiting the ufe of any otlier.

> Yours, &sc

SIs.

Mr. Urban,

テ̛an. 21.

IHAVE with pleafure juit perufed an account of the happy confequences tha: are to arife (according to Sir John Sinclair's ftatement) from the General Inclofure of all the Wate Lands in the kingdom; the totalnumber of acres fuch lands ennaln, with Epecific ufes they are to be applied to, and to the aggregate of the whole (no lefs than 20 millions) to be added to the annual rental of the nation.- A glerious profpect truly! What a pity it is the time is fo diftant when t!is golie. harveft is to be reaped! It may be termed a mine indeed, but which, l:ke metallic ones, will require an immenfity of lime and labour to extract from the earth. May ir not, like too many of them, prove abortive? Gieat praife, however, is certainly due to the indefarigable pains the worting Buonet and his co-adjutors have taken on the fubject; as Inclofures, while they have barren unproductive ground for their object only, are certainly meritorious; but that they have been carried to lengtl.s highly injurious tothe pullick (in many inftances too various to enumerate within the narrow compefs ot a letter) is moft notori us. 1 canmot, therefore, belp thinking, that the Committee would have deferved more highly of the pubiick, if, at the time they are endeavouring to br ng more land into cultivation, they had recommended to the legiflatu e a prohibition againt any in open fie its being thrown out of it, which mult be the cate, either totally or partally, in refpect of the moft necelfary of all giain, Wheat, for one year at leaf, in every arable open field where an inclofure takes place.

I have neither the means, nor leifure, to invelligate the lofs the community lus futfered in that paricular produ-c within thele two years; but he follow. ing fhort dara may, I hope, furnifh hints to others more able than 1 am to purfue them.

Althoush not poffeffed of the Votes of the Houte of Commons, 1 ain willinformied thet 78 Inclofure Bills were patled laft year; and, from leave having Leen given for ti:e introduction of no lets than feven in one day this felfion, the prefent year is bikely to be ro lefs productive of them. Anone the paIifles included in the Bill, palicd with in my own indewiedge, arc the four following: Eedjord, Rbeley, Healow, and Eator. In the two former, not cne hardful of Wheat has been fown the fea'on fublequent to the Bills putfing; in Henlozv, lixewife, a large prolific field for wheat, not more than half the wiual quantity; in Eaton parifh, about the like poportion, to the diminution of ahout 450 acres of their ufual fowing, which, at rwenty bufle's por acre (which 1 am whld is theirordinary procuce), will leffen the produce of wheat next harvef, is that fingle parifh, 1000 quarters.-Mv information does not go to thic quantity of land thrown ruc of cultivation (or unfown) for this grand defuter cilum, this fatf of life, for one year, in the other three beforementioned parihes; but, I think, we may tairly ftate thoir lofs in produce to be equal to that of Eaton, making the whole, in the four, 2000 quarters. Thefe four parifhes are allin tiie county of Bedford, in my neighbourhood, and the faths notorious; except that, on recollection, I am not quite fure whether the Bill for inclofing Rifeley did not pafs the preceding vear, the Inclofure Bills of which feflion, indeed, are thofe that molt materially operate rowards tie pielco: fcarcity.- If the Commitre of Enquiry into the high price of wheat wore to turn their refuarchics this wav, they would find out at leaft, one of the caufes of it.

Tinat there have been Inclefure Bills of public utility among thofe o the two laft years, I make no doubt it is not againlt inclofure itielf 1 an contending, but againft its being ap plied to improper places, and being ill timed. The mealure, which migh be a public as well as a private bene fit with wheat at 55. a buthel, mul become quite the reverle when it is a near three times that price; and I hum bly conceive it to the the duty of th Leg.flarure to lay, at leaf, a temporar: setriction on a practice which, I feru ple not to affirm, is become at thi critical juncture a national evil.

Bedfordiensis.
Mr. UREAn,
Fib. 2. This Cintical Reviewers, February 1791, P. 192, fpeaking of the al fertion in "Hamuton's Tranfactions, during the reign Queen Anne, fror the Union to the deakin ot the Princefs, $1 \geqslant 90$; that the NImanks were "alfat fins afuiclaid, for the purpole of ext cuting Pince Eugene's vengeance o his eremits, the Englith manity, fay, " the accuracy we muft leave to the author's veracity."

. Ir17"

1796.] Brafs Figure in Dorchefter Church. -The Ithite Fiorfe. IO5

Now, without inquiring whether Charles Harmilton, Eiq. had any new authority forthis affertion, w-find the fame affertion made in S:vift's Hiftory of the four laft years of Queen Anne; and the Marquis de Torcy exprefsly charges the Duke of Marlborouh with fuggeffing the idea to Prince Eugene, who rejected it. (See Vol. LXI. p. 337; and, in p. 528 , an extract to the fame effect printed in the Annals of Queen Anne, for the year ${ }^{17}$ :2, p. 516). So that, howeser improbable your Correfpondent deems thele affertions, it is pidin both paties beld the fame opinion concerning the Mohawks at the time.
D. H.

Mr. Urban, Fan. 6.

ISend you a fketch ( $\hat{l}$. l.) of a figure in brals, on a graveltone in Dorchefter Cinurch, Oxfordfinire. The infoription and the legs of the man are torn away. X. Y. Z. (LXV. 806.) may perlaps, from the arms and cieff, beable to give fome account, of the family to which he belonged. The initials on the fword hitt may help; and to him, or any other of your correfprondents, I twall be obliged for any information farther on the fubject. And as X. Y. Z. ceprefles his concern, that illultrations of Oxfordgine are not taken in hand, I may, perbaps, be able to afford him fome amufement through the channel of your mifcellany, by communications from other churches in Oxfordfhre.

H D.
 This figure is thus illuftrated in the Sepulchral Monuments of Great Britain, voi. I. p. 201

Edit.
" In the South aile of Dorchefter church, at the Eaft end, lie two or thee monsment:, which Leland afcribes to the D:aitwis. "There lye," fays he, in the Somth ifle of the quier, three of the Draitons, genthmen, one hard by another, under plaine marble ftoines ! there lyeth at the heall of theie Draitons one Guibert Stagrave, a gentilman, under a that marble. [Leland, 1.. II. If.]
"On one of thefe remains a knoght in a clofe-pointed helmet, a collar of SS on a ftrap buckled round his neck, and faftened by a trefuil fibula round thou'der pieces, eicallops at elbows, fword belt theded wath trefoils nlipt, mail finge to armour, and two plates falling from the midtle of it, fword and dagger, on the fir. rd bitt ( $n$ a cypher) I. s. like the initials of John Sleford; prieft at Bliham. Under his head a heimet furmounted by a Soracen's head; his legs gone. His lady is alfo gone. Above them had ben two flelds, and hetween them $r$ mained one.
"Qunterly, r. 4. G. a bend between 6 crofs croflets fitche, A. 22 a fefs Ermine; in chicf a dem: limn rampant impaling Cheque, in chief $;$ rondeans. Thefs laft are gone fince I took them."

Mr. UREAN, Letcemb-Regis, fay. 8.

ISCLOSED ( $/ 2,5.2$ ) is an exact delineation of the figure called The Wbite Horfe, as it appeare at about a mite diftance from the hill on which it is cut, fuppored, bu Wife and ather Antiquaries, to be a monument of the Weft Saxons, made in memorv of a great victory cbotained ower the Danes, at Andown, neir it, by King Alfred, A. D. 871. Thus Mi. Pye, in his Foem of Far-ingdon HII, delc'ibes it : "Carved rudely on the pendrot fod, is feen [the glan; The frow-white courfor fretchng oice The antigne figure ican with curious eje, The glarion monument of victury!
There England reard t.er long-deiected head, [bled." There Alfred triumph's, and invafon A te: thins manuer nue houle is formed, on the fide of an highand it-ep h II facing the North Weti. His dimenfions are extended cu:r an acie of ground or thereabours. H:s bead, neck, body, and tail, confit of one whice line: as does alfo each of his four legs. This is done by cutting a trench into the chalk, of about two or three feet decp, and about ten feer broad.

Fig 3. is the top t:one of the o!d Matket cinfs at Wantare; but it has not been ftand.ag there for uptrards of a century. It appears to be very anthent, though the date is uncertain: the towntose have a trudivion atmong them, that it was erected by King Aifred, who was bern there. We itad in Camden, thar the market was obtained by Sir Fulk Fitzwarin, about the year 1316 . it is cetagonal, and is adorned ail round wi.h half-lengria rigures of faines or apofiles in cito ye. heva; it was latly pefented to me by the town, and is at piefint ereded on a mount in $m$ - genden. J. StoNe.

Mr. URBAN, Oztort, Jaw. g.

 Sund you a coat ot arms, which feems to be rather curious; and foll be glad to read any remanks which mar be made upon it.[^13]Gent. Mag. Fobruary, 1;gh.

106 Curious Arms.-The Microsofm?-Nuns at Amefbury? [Feb.

In the windows of Balliol college library are feveral coats of arms of the feveral benefoctors, which had formerly infcriptions under them. The dibrary $h$ ts been lately repaired, and the infcriptinns have been deffroyed, though the coats of arms remain. In one of the windows on the Norch firte are two frields; the one Arg. a quidir. n of eight bars Sabie. The oher is as fketched in ph. II tg. 4

I learn from Buty fergus that the infcription, below thele two coats of arms, was:
"Hanc focii quondarn dao perfecerc feneftram Wombwelle Robertus, Thomas Bariycue*, vocatus."
E.
 * In the tenth window, which was given by Rot. Wombiveel and Tho. Barry; the former of whom was afterwards vicar of St. Lawrance in the Jewry, London, his ams here given ate S. a faltite Or betwect two cups covered, O ; and two wyerns Gules. Thefe läfo our corrépondent teems to hawe milaken for leticis. EDit.

Mr. Urban, Sbreufluy, Yan. 9.

ITake the liberty to defire an explanation of a fiver coin in my pofferfion. The drawing (fig. 5) is exdet as to fize. flape, and impretion.

I hall likewite be much obliged to you, to inform me what becanie of the Microcotm, carried abour through molt parts of Europe, and the Englith America, about 40 years paft, by a Mr. Bridges?
A. B.
 This feems to refemble the filver coins of Side in Pamphilia in Dr. Hunter's pl. XLX. 8 ; but the infcip. tion is wating on the face, ond that on the reverfe is different, beiog on Dr. Hunter'scoins $A P$ and $A O$ and $E$ and amino. This lat is on Feliein's LXXI. 20 . The figure over the letters EIX is a pomegranite. EDIT.

Mr. Urban, Credilon, Dec. 29.

EVERY traveller along the highrosd from Londion to Glouctier mult regret the tincatened demolition of the beautiful piantations on Farringdon hill, which henceforth is to hive on!y in the poem which beas sits name; whether luch deftiuEton be the effect of the neceffiry of the times, or the caprice or want of taite of the prefunt puffefor.

Aic nor the nuns fetted at Amer-bury hofe from Bruges? Whatever their order be, they fucceed the Benediktine monks fettled in that fpot by King Edgar's widow, A. D. 980 ; and othe:s foblituted to them bv Henry If. :177, from Fontevraud in Normandy, who at the diflolution had an ncome of between 4 and 5001 . per annum. Tanner, Noi Mnn. $\quad$ :8.

While we canmot but congratulare your corvefpondent $R$ nbert Uvedale, jun. on his conle application to the ftudy of Hehrew, in which Cambridge does not boaft fo many fludenis as Oxford, and heartily with we could put him into a " proper mode of proceeding for the fiecurivy of fuct advantage, from the publication of his inventions and difcoveries, as there may be a fair and reafonable claim to;" we cannot help entertsining apprehentions for his fuccels. Perhaps the profelfors of Hebrew, or the preficients in the innguage, in one or both univerfities, might bs a competent jury before whom to lay his clams.
1 am very forry Icannot fubfribe to tive fentiments of Citricus, ( p . 1089). If it be feribufly intended, as well might the bovs of every fehool in the kingdom be permitted to go to the dififerent places of religicus worfhip in their neighbourhond, is the men-boys of the univeffly to wander from their appropuiate place of worthip. If they are to $b=$ under any difcepline at all (tor it thould wat be callied rififizizion), it floculd be on fuch an occation. And if they are required to ear in common, or to attend lesures in commun, why are they not to worflip in the fame way, and teffify, in the moft public manner, that they account religious worthip of the bighe't importance to their future bappinefis?

The letters omitied after Syluefer in Judge Mirkh 1 m's ceitaph at Mirkham, p. 13, are papa*. P. P. LXV. p.1077, col.a, l.a8, r. Burzvell. LAvi. 33, a, 23. Q Eiorjes. 93, a, 6, r.fixweeks. Mr. Urean, Feb. 2. TN the late edivion of Camden's Britannia, in thrce volunes, a number of references made by Mr. Camden to ancient writers, which could not be fettled by the editor, we e left unfilled up, in hopes fome critical readers would have extrcifed their fogacity upon them, and communicated them ro you. Th.s requeit is now inade o them, and the paffiges are here po nred out.

[^14]1796.] Referenc's by Camden to be filled up.-Win old Opinions. Io7
Mı. Camden's preface:
i Priny advifes to read over histitle, ${ }^{1}$ A comic writer fays, detraction is the treafure of ton!s, &:c.
ii. Orpheus of Ceres in Brit=in.
iii * Tzeizes on Lue pirun.

* Robert Avefoury.
vi ' Thoopbilus of Antioch.
$\mathbf{x i}^{2}$ Cafar of the Gau s' hattle array.
- Strabo of the Gauls' long hair, and $x i$ of their different dialefts.
xv. ${ }^{\text {i Fornandes of the Gau'. } \mathrm{m} \text { T.euca. }}$ xviii a Arifiadu's epithet of Britain. liv. \& The autbor abost the perfecution under Dioclefius and Maxium.
Iv de Eutro us of Confantine.
${ }^{f}$ Otittanus Doplyrits.
lxi " Cl udi ri's lines:
-- Dombro quout Saxine Thetis
Mitior, aut frazlo jucura Britannia Picto.
lxiv & The poet-of Rome:
Quos domuit nexuque pio longinqua revinxt.
lxxxitii : Sidon. Apollinaris's cha$r$ Mer of the Bi'ens.
lxxxix ${ }^{k}$ Wihham of Malmfary's walds about the Bretons.
xc q Gervale of Tibury's mention $c^{c}$ Vandalburgh.
y Tacitus's accouat of Agricola's driv'ng rout the Picts.
$\mathbf{x c i} .^{1 \pi}$ The precifechapter or page iwhere Diodorus-Sic. B. vi. and Sirabo B iv. compare the Britains of Ireland to the Seythans.
civ. 'Salvian's character of the Alans, &c.
- Bede of Eafter month.
cxxi. ${ }^{5}$ Gervafe of Canterbury, of the Danes.
cxxvii. - Hoveden of the Norman conquef.
190 m Tho. Walfingham's defcription uf Winchelfea.
219 y Where does Mat. Paris call D ve: Catlle the key and bar of England?

220. ${ }^{\text {b c d }}$ Where dees Solinus call St. George's (hanne, Fi ctum Gal. licum? 「acitus, Fretum Ociant? \& Americanus Marcellinus, Oce. anus frotalis?
$223^{k}$ Where does Henrv of Huntington defcribe Anderida?
261 m Where are Leland's lines on Te wk foury and Malmibury? n. ${ }^{-}$and Bede's mention of Dethum?
291 Whe.e does Eunapius call learnedmen living libraries?
324 * Whe e does Mat. Paris defcribe Pever's palace at Tuddington?
$335^{\circ}$ The worthip by the ancient Britnos to mountains, rivers, \&c. in Guldas ?
337 : Confantine's account of the opening of St. Alban's tomb? Yours, &cc.
R. G.

Mr. Urean,

Fan. 3.
A MONGST the many mifchiefs A which nive their brth to the new philofophy, I hardly know one more difagreeable than the contempt which every upfart profeflor feels himfelf entitied to caft upon old-efablifhed opinions; I mean thofe, which, having pafied th:ough feveral generations unimpeached, claim a kind reception foom mankind, till their credentials are fair! y examined, and their pretenfions proved upon very found arguments to be inadmifible. We feem, Sir, at this mument, to be convinced that our predeceffors were a fet of poor wretches, perpetually groping in darknefs and blunders, but that we are buift forth at once itto the medft of light and truch. Now, I muft confefs, that, high as my opinion is of the virtues of the prefent generatom, of the:r fuperior noblenéfs of.tprit, difuntereftedutis of conduct, and maniy ftrength of underftanding, I cannot help shinking, that, in the confcioulnefs of tranfiendent merit, they fometimes lay their claims too high, or at lealt fpurn the pretenfions of our anceltors with fomewhat too much consempr. Sufficiently enlightened to dilcover the abfurdity which formerty prevalied, of regarding the dictates of a:tiquity with a reverentual awe, or as axioms from which they might $r=$ from, but which they dare not prelurite t., doubt; with that degree of weshonis which generally attends human vanty, tacy hav= run with violunt pecintation ta the oppofite exremt, ad now, to mentun an operion as iupported by antiquity, is to render it ducred table.

I was throw: moco this train of reflections by the perulal of a note in a modern pu.lication, called, "The Landicape," whice Virgil is attacked in the froffeft ternis of cenfure . I have been fo much in the hadis of refpuaing the judgement of Virgil, that I will confefs I was a !i-le fhocked to hear it fo freely condemred, and afton: fhed that one, wheprofeffes himfilf to be an admirer of the antients, fanuld, without enguiry, without examinoricn, without diffidence, at the very firt ,u-tetion of fancy, proceed to reprove wie of the:r !eaders with fuch intemperate lapyage. The author, taving octafin in his poem to allude so the eroup of the Latcoon, feizes the opportuntry of infetting the following note: "The Group of La-coon, and Iho fios, in he Corale of the Bevidere, is the work of Ay:fander, Polidorus, and Ahenedorus of Rhodes. Viugil has feid th : akewhisdetcription of the death of Lhocuon from this group; but bly debajed, the fual ine ideas of the Greek Sculpors, in making the futfering $H$,is roar out when bitten by the ic peai, is a ball roars when firict:cn bo the facrificer."

108 Defence of the Judgement of Virgil againft a recent Attack. [Feb.

" Clamores fimul horrendos ad fidera tollit;
Qnazis mus, tur, fugit cunn faucins aram
Taums," &c.
Aminii. 222.
"In the wable the breatis expacid. ed, and the throde contratted, on fhow that the agones which corvolite the frame are oome in filence." P. 8, 9 .
Sor, the indi, vanon excied by the harfhacis of this remark might jufily cur bringing the two pocts to the liandard of grod ienfe and grod tafe, where the Roman, peihaps, wil have no ciccafing to thrink fiom the competition, but lold his head as high upon the flandad as ever, notwith. fanding the tremendous blow aimed at it by his modern rival.
Mi. K. will be furprized to be informed, that there is fome reafon to doubt whather Virgi evidentlv copied his dicisption from the fculptors' grocp : upon enfuiry he will find th th alis bas been a fubject of difpure amonglt the learned; and the tefult of their enque:es ciearly evince, that neither the poer copied from the fcuiptors, or the feulptons from the poet; for, at the zume when Vireil fourifat, thele were extant feyeral defiriptions of the Latocoon: it was a popular fable, vasroully yelated by different poe:s, treated at large bs Eurhosion, whote nowe, it is known, were much admired by Virgil : and Sophocles exprefsly wrote a play upon the fubject, intituled, "Laocoon." (See, in the laft edition of Hevne's Virgil, an excurf/us upon this paffage). When thefe circumftances are duly confidered, and fome of the principal festures in the now performanses found very d:ffimilar, there may be fome reation to befrate before we give our affent to the firft part of the crivicifm; elpecial $y$ if it be true, what Vitruvius, I believe, men ions, that the fculptors flourimed in a period poferior to Virgil.
I am aware that thas apology only literates the poet from the accufation of plagiailin, or imitation, which, like (mall arms in a fea-fight, may be Gilenced, without materially affecting the conteft, as long as the thundering artillery, loaded with the tremendous charge of "g giofsly mifunderttanding, and tiferablydeb: fong." 1 enains ievelled at the poet's judgenert.
In oder to form a fair opinion upon this part of the fubject, we mult confider whit was the object of each performance ; :t certainly was the ficu!ptols' aim to exthe colizpation by a tee petemation of foffering fortsude, in which they have mof wonderfu'ly fucceeded, and which is eeeran!ly and judicionfly citacikd by Mr. K. ; but Virgil's was of a very d:fferent nature; it was to facilitare the admiffion of the Grecian horfe within the walls of Troy, by fpreading fuch a degres of terror through the Trojan hoft as at once to lubdue all fulpicion by the impulfe of fupe futu, or at leaft filence their objestivis by the menase of Heaven's vengeance.

Terror, therefore, was Virgil's object ; and, with all due fubm: flion to Mr. K. I fill continue to think the performance neither " grofly nor miferably" done. The p.Cture of a hero, fuffering with filent fortitude, might have tiifed a ftrong fympathy and admiration in the leaders, but would by no means have excited in the mu'tucude that terr:fying horvor which fuited the occafion; and I belitve the poet fudioufy compares the fhrieks of Laocoon to the roaring of a viltim at the altar, in oider to fur up, in the breaft of a Roman reader, that aweful thrilling fear which fuch an image was likely to excite.
I am not aware of any teafon Mr. R, may have for fuppeng that Virg,

1796.] Virgil defended.-Dr. Harrington on modern Philofophers. Ion

intended to defcribe Laocoon as a hero, unlefs cafting a dart with great ftrength againft the horfe, or running to proteet his children, may be conftrued into heroifm. He was a prieft of A pollo. This fubject miyht be explained farther; but I hope I have faid enough to tempt Mr. K. to perufe the Ex. curfus, and perhaps it mav furnith him fome amufement to refled how precipitately he had proceeded to calumniate an author of the moft diftinguified character for talte and judgement, and may excite a fmall degree of diffidence, fufficient to prompt him to make fome enquiry and reflection before he publifhes the crude fuggeftions of his fancy.

If I have beflowed more indignation on this matter than it deferves, it has arifen from a repugnance Ifeel at a practice, creeping intoour pub'ications, of endeavouring, by oblique remarks, and fly infinuations (omprized in parenthefes, or in the corners of a no:e), to fneer away our beff. eftablifitd opinions, and caft ridicule upon every thing which has been held facred or refpectable. It is a bafe and mifchievous proceedin: ;-it is giving a fly kick, and running away; and many, wha will notice the injury, will neitiser have the candour or the patience to examine the caufe, or attend the cxplanation. It is a cuitom adopted from the French fichool, where that arch fneerer Voltatre, and his confederates, Diderot, Alembcrt, and others, by inferting their wetie poifonous remarks and fecret ftabs in all their publications apparently witten for other purpofes, frir mere pleafantry or amufement, effectuaily fucceeded in deftroying or banifhing evary principle of religion and virtue from this wretched country; and this too under the banners of an oftentatious phitanthropy.

I am forry to fay it is a practice which has been coumteranced by feveral writers amongit us, and is particularly to be traced in the publications of thole who for a time were under fufpicions of no friendly difpofition to their country, but by a judicial decifion in their favour are now purified, and delivered over to the world as patterns of innocence and true patriot. ifm ; and I heart:ly hope it may rever meet with any dagite of counternce but from fuch illuitriuas charoders.

Gours, &c. AtTICUS,

Abfurdity of the new Opinion, that pure Air con be injurious to confumptive Patients. (Coninued fromp. 12.)

Carlife, fune 7, 1795.
SINCE it is an undeniabe fact that the blood acts in the fame manner upon the air out of the lungs as it does in the lungs, if a part of the charcoal and inflamable air of the blood did, withour leaving it, imbibe a part of the pure air, turning it into fixed air and water, that fixed air and water would, inftead of turning the blocd putrid, refit putridity. They will, I ann fure, allow this uncontroverted fact, that acids are antifeptic. Mr Henry found that putrid fleilh-meat became fivett by being expofed to fixed arr.

- Our theorilts have judged very fu-perfici-1ly; not reflectung that, if the bood retlly poffelles charcoal and inflamable air, thefe bodies muit alfo form the principal part of the nutriment lucelved from our food; yet, the mainain that the lungs, the moft ellential organ in the fyftem, are deftined by Niture for the evacuation of thefe fame bodies, and that they are fo very poifonous that death would enfue were they to be retained only five minutes.

Whatever way we look at the modern doEtrine of refpiration, we meet with difficulties and abfurdities. Niture cbidently expoles a Jarge Surface of blood and air to act upon each wher in the lungs, a thia membrane or coat of veffiel only intervening butwixt them. We are told, that a part of the air attracts inflammable air and charcoal from the blood through th s intervening membrane or coat of veflel, and that fixed air and water are thus formed. But we are allo teld that there is another attraction, the reverfe of this, going on at the fame tine, viz. that $a$ part of the air (being more polite), initead of attradting thefe imaginary bodies, charcoal or carbone and infleminable air, through the thin membrane, or coats of the velfels, fuffers itfelf to be at. tracted through them by the fatne inaginary charioal and inflummable air already in the blood. Hince, undoubsedty, according to thefe doctines, fix. td air and ewater mult thus be formed in tiae bioud. I am forry, Mi. Urban, to take up your time whin the detail of fuch glaring abfurdities and contradictions; but remenber, good Sir, they are not $\pi y$ ablurdities nor $m y$ contradigions; they are the abfurdities and the contradictions of the mof celebraeed chemical philofophers of the prefent age-abfurdities and contradictions which are adopted in lieu of my plair and fimple truibs.

1 10 Harrington on the Alfurdities of modern aërial Pbilofophers. [Feb,

If thefe gentlemen thould argue thus, and fey, that this polie part of the pule air eniers the b'ood hy the abforbent veffe's, even ther they muft allow shar, wlea it comes into contad weh ahe blood, fixed air and water muft be Fomed, fince thete is not fo muchas an interetning membrane to prevent the unsus. And here, according to Dr. Ciawiord, fire muat be lit loofe, becaufe he tel s us that tire and thofe bodics repel ecch other; confequently, they cannot remain quistly in the blood rog-ther.

But, acconding to this unfortunate doctrise, which is ever at variance not only with common fonfe but wih iffelf, it would follow thar, inftesd of the red globules being formed in the lunge, they would be broken duwn there, and changed into black ones; for, the pure airmuft thus, according to their own doftine, be formed into fixed air and warcer ; and fixed air and water, if applied to ted globuies, will very foon chanke them into black ones; an experiment which may be eefily made out of the body, by puctirg a Bittle arte:ial blood intoa vehtacnraining fixed air and water. So this pure air, which our modern plitiufophers inform us is recelved aro the blond by refiriation (hough by the plainef experiments I have proved the contrary), inftead of forming red globules, muft, according to their own dodrine, form black ones. In fhurt, Mr. Ublan, there is nothing but univerial incorffifiency and ablurdity thro' the whole of thi ir boafted fyftem.

Let us take it in a different point of view. Rread is the cemmon food of man; which, being burnt, will turn the pure or atmolpherical air to fixed air and "ater, a quantity of actuil fire will be fet loofe, and a coal or charcoal $r$ emoin. But, if this bread be eaten by man (fuipofc for inflance that he live entirely upea is), it will form chyle, and that chyle b'od; and, when it arrives at the lunss, where it is expofed to the influence of the atmofphere, it turns the air into fixed air and water; but no fire is fet ioofe, and the blood, inflead of becoming charcoal and water, is converted inte foan red glohules. The Greenlandei lives upon whale-oil; and, if whaleoil be burrt, water is the refiaium, a great quantity of fire is fet loote, and the pure air is turned into fixed air anc w- ter. Nature teems to have deffined this frong phlogitic food for the purpofe of refifting the piercing fedative coldnefs of the Greenlan'er's climate Yet, according to the dogrine of our fagacious theoriffs, refpiration, whict is infeparable from living creature: that are poffeffed of any confiderably degree of animal heat, will turn thi: oil to water and a little acid and fixes air. Hence a Greenlander's bloot muft be formed of water and a feda. tive bodr, quz. an acid; and thefe twi qro $n$ bodies ate to refint the piercing cold of the polar segions.

If this oil be expoled to atmofphe rical air without paffing through th animal fyliem, the oil will becom rancid, and the atmolpherical air wil be terned to fixed an and water. Bu if the atmo!pherical ir, in undergoin this change, took from the oil char coal er irfiammableair, or gave it ox ygen gas, or the acidifying principle it ought to renoter the oil mider. I you expnef oil to a ffrong heat in. clofe veffel, it will become rancidex a Clly in the fame manner as when ex pofed to the air, theugh we are cer ta'n thet in the latter procets only petiment is not the lefs wothy of no tice fr moneng the ditplay of pompous appaatus and algebraici charadters.
According to our modern theorie alce hol, which is une of the molt con buftible bodies we are acquainted witi inftead of infiaming the blood, ougl to burn it into a watery acid.
Were our theorifs to confine the opinions to fpeculation only, litt hatm would enlue; but, when the attempt to reduce them to practic and apply them to medicine, it mak one fhudder for the confequences. confumption is a very tatal difeal which may ofren be fopped in i commencement; bur, if the new th ory be reduced to practice, it will for either confum the difeale, or bring

- In one inftance we fee actual fire a phed; in the other, the aerralized fire the atmof phere, which is gradually attract by the oul, efcapes obfervation. Epit.

1796.] Harrington on the Abfurdities of modern aêrial Philofopbers. II I on when it is only fuppofed to be prefent. I wih Dr. Beddoes would afk himfelf this plain queftion. If there fubfifts between pure air and the imaginary charcoal and in flunmable air of the blood fo great ar: affinity, that, upon their inmediate expofure to each other, the air will attrect the ch rcoal and inflammab'e air through the cnats of the veffels, will it not follow, when a part of the pure air penetr tes, as we are told, the coats of the veffels to enter the blood, that the fame bodies muft be formed in the blood as out of it, viz. a watery acid, or nixed air and water? But, if he argue again?t every rule of reafon and cominon fenfe, which appear indeed to have very litele to do w th our perefent phiofophy, that pure air enrens the blood, and re'nans there in is entire aërral flate, then highly reßifies firite of wine m"uld be one of the bet medic.aies for chanying it into a watery acid, to neutralize liis poifoneus bodv, to counteract the bad effects of a mortal ensing; but give the leave, Mr. Urban, to afk, of what mor. tal enemy? of what poifonous body? Even, my good Sir, of pure alr! which the phllofophy of the 18 ih century hath aijcovered to be the dealruction of fo many valuable nicmbers of the community when young; PURE air! Mr. Urban, which, according to the abfurd notions of our ignorant fo efathes, was luppordd to give the firft or vital principie to animal Ife, but which is now, by thefc learned children, difonvered to be fo deadly a poifon, that an exceff of it entering the blood is the caufe of contumptions; for the cure of which, Mr. Urban (fuch is the contamination of the human intellect under the influence of fallacious theory), the breathing of a putrid atmolphere is recommended.

If Dr . Beddnes fhould think that the fixed air which fipirit of wine is fuppofed to produce wi:h pure air be too active in the blood, then let him adminiter the cavele voldtiie alkali, lince that budy mav be formed alinof entirely into inflummable air, and mult confequently, upon his own principles, be capable of changing the olood into that mild band body, watcr.
But, let us ceafe to purfue this foo'in theory, and attend to resfon. Li is a fact that ulcers by being long expoled to the air, and thofe parts which $\mathrm{N}_{1}$ ture defigned to be covered, being kept epen by the wound, receive luch a quantity of fixed fire from the atmofphere as to produce a frone alkeline faturation. C necers, for inftance, the worft of uleers, are well known to difcharge an acrid fluad $f 1$ iarts the velati'e alk:li; and all ulecrs more nr lefs do the fame, fome being more "irultur then others *. U ceis, theiefore, producng an acrid liquor of an a a wine qua'ty, it necefintly follow; the., if an acid can be applicd to the ernthe of the lungs in cotfumptive caite, atiyanage may be expe ${ }^{3}$ at ; and h was it mult be confeffed that the dë.in ocid, from its mi'daels and eéral form, is part cularly adapted for ditealts of the lungs.
If our modern philofophers would condefend to throin a way the:r felfor pride, if they wou'd hail the pr mulgzor of new and mpraramteuths, sut condia'ly unite with me for the bere 的 of fatence, ic wou d be weil; for, $L$ thank I have yet miny mportant difcoveries to communicate. Can they, Mr. Urban, defire a more decifive experimens than the coniturtion of fulphas in clofe veffel? Yut this clear, th's luminous experiment, when offered by thcir own couservman, 's fatididouly reje.ted and delfifed; bu:, no fooner is is refleged in boirruwed ligho from the Curtument, than tis eageily attended to, and univerfatly rece:ved. The combution of fuphur and the combuft.on of atmofphericst air are finn:ar procetfes; in one, the ttrong minerd acid. winch neutrailed the fire of the ferphur, is ter fice, and the actd remans; in the other, the fire, which neutralized the aërial acid and wanes into that great animating body called

* Believing, as ue do, that this is the true theory of the injanome effects of the atmofithere when anplicd not only to es-ternal ulceration bat to the furface of intemal cavies, we canoot refrain foom mdugiging hope that, if tise idea lware prope iy purfued, fome very great adsantages might acerve to lurgaty. Is is on thas principle that we would explain the goud eiteets of the aërial acid as appled in two cates of repatci cancerous uicerathen in the breast by Dr. Ewn.rt; we fay icputst, becunte, from the de: 1 of one at lealt of thote cale, the:e is seaton to ajphohend that patid abicefo and linus mas have then mitaken for real cancer. Alad it is mat e fime priacipe, dublefs, that dices or 1.mes producen fo very hatitary an eftect on purrid ulcer- whe a apphed by tae mgenoms Mr. (How Di.) Chmalm. Edit.
atmotehericata

112 Inoculation the Caufe of the great Increafe of Population.

atmofpherical air, being alfo fet loofe from its combination, either by combuftion or refpiration, an acid and water, or, in other words, fixed air, will be the refiduum.

Mr. Urban, I here boldly call again upon the chemical world to bring one experiment that militates againft this plain and eafy fytem; and I here farther declare, that all thofe brilliant experiments, which are confidered as fo ftrongly in favour of their own, can be rationally explained only upon mine; the truth of which is at the fame time demonftrated by thofe experiments which I have adduced in diredt contrad ction to their fyftem. Would the enemies of mine only ftep boldly forward, and fhew wherein its error lies, they would act an honef, an open, and a candid, part. But, no! they either will not, they cannot, or they dare not ; but, in the moft hameful and the mof daftardly manner, alfafinate in the dark. Thefe. Mr. Urban, may be regarded as hark expreffions: I confels they are harh; and to the candour of the world fubmit the feelings from which they originate.

Robert Harrington.
P. 11, col. 2, I. 10, 15, for "animal neal" read "animal beat."

Ib. I. 25 , for "theory and folid bodica," read "theory of fulid bodics."
P. i2, co!. y, !. 4, fur "Nydregen" read "Hydiogen."

Il. I. 57 , for "come from fixed air" resi "form fixed air."

Mr. Urban, Yon. IS.

THE increafe of penple wathin the laft 25 years is viffole to every obferver; and it is to be accounted for on a principle irrefragably true. London and it enviruns are at leaft 300,000 more numerous than 30 years ago: (0) which the additional houfcs bear teftumeny.

Brifol, Bath. Manchefter, Liverprol, Slieffeld, Siriningham, and a great number of towns in the North of Angtant, fwarm, and all the provincial towns are compiticly full.

Inoculation is the uyfic fpeil that has produced this wonder. Some time between $173^{8}$ and 1743 ( 1 fpen from momors), the finall-pox was folevere at St. Edmundforey, that the ellizes were twice, if not threcturs, held at I piwich; which fuppotes a continuation of sömonthe. During that term, it was fird, that the tuwn had both de.
prived of a fixth part of its inhabitants: there were no markets, and she town was avoided as the feat of death and terror.

This was no more than a common calamity at that time; for, in all the great towns of the kingdom, through which this foourge conflantly made its tour in the courfe of 25 or 30 years, it was equally fatal, befides the hundreds always fick in London in that diforder. Briftol and other large cities were never entircly free; fo that it may be fafely afferted, that this malady, added to the general laws of nature, did at the leaft equipoize population; that is to fay, to bring it to a point of hiftory near at hand, there was no increafe of people from the Revolution till 1765 . Dr. Price infifted, in 1765 , that there were not fo many inhabitants then as in King William's reign.

It is now 30 years fince the Suttons, and others under their inftructions, had practifed their fkill in inoculation upon half the kingdom, and had reduced the rifk of death to the chance of one in 2000 . Hence the great increafe of people; for, to the general fource of population is to be added an eighth* of the number ufually born in 30 years, and the progeny of all thofe boin from 1765 , who ufed to be, as it were, confyzned over to mortality in the degrec I have mentioned.

The incidentai advant ge bas been, that the prefent race is much handfomer than formerly: the beautiful lineaments of Nature, and her celeftial texture of kkin , are inviolated. That this has been in favour of chaftity [ dare not aver.

Rara eft concordia formæ
Atque pudicitix.
Juv.
Yours, ic. Candide.
Mr. UREAn,
Feb. 6.
THE modett and pleafing naraner t in which Nuacunenfis, LXVI. p. rogi, propoled and requelled the foluthon of a perptexity in Cohins, induces me to offer, as foom as polifible, what appears to nite a full and tatisfactory explanation, efpeciatly as fome of your critical readers may not condefocud to pay attention to th. A confefs I had formerly fome fight doubts on the patlage queted by $N$; but, put out the comma after fire, and the fenfe adapt e $\downarrow$ to prole would be thus: "The lightnings that faffed from his eyes, inflamed with rage, betrayed the fury that flung and proved upon his vitals." Ligtining, applied to eyes, every one mut know, is extremely common.

[^15]
1796] Authenticity of Siriptures.-Hardham.-Chipping Otigar. $11 \hat{\xi}$

One of your correfpondents, ScioJus, p. 730, has made dome excellent remake on the authenticity of the Scriptures, and brought forth fosse arguments in my opiaion indisputable. Yet, I confess, nor one argument appeals to be of equal weight with that which was urged by Lord Chefterfield on Lady F. Shirley. That noble lord, who, as is well known, was no bigoted friend to the Scriptures, in a fertous private converfation with Lady $F$, told her, he thought the "prevent fate of the Fivers" a great proof of the authenticity of the Sacred Writings. This anecdote is related in Jones's Aspendix to his Life of Horne. I have not the book within reach, my quotation is confequently from memory

Yours, &c.
A Friend.
Mr. URBan, $\quad$ june 14, If 95.
HOPING a feennd view of Hardham priory, Sulfex, may be accopt. Bile, I fend you a 1 ketch ( $p l . J I$ ), taken from the North-wed, is promsfed in my lat.
S.

Mr. URbAn, Av, 3.17950

CHIPPING ONGAX, co. EDA. i: called to dinemguig it from one of its adjoin. ag patifhes, viz. $\mathbf{H}_{\text {ph }}$ Ongar, is pest nifty fixated, at the diftence of 21 miles from the metropuis, in an hundred of it w non name, in the high. old leading to Dunmose and the Readings. It is a tow of great antignty, as the bunding in general throughout pretext forme fpecimens of it mut or leis: but, there is one in particular fo, hituate near the church, which is celled Oi gar cafe, it being moated, \&c. \&ic. It is in the praline of R. H. A. Bennet, eff. Here is a weekly ta market, reed on Saturday, which was milch attended formerly, but hiss of latter years fallen off.

There is a free idol, founded by Mr. Joferh Kay, crizen and ironmonger, of Luadion, for fix boys and four gills. I: is a large building, in the comer of the twa, the under fart ferving as a masku-noufe, ord the fchool is kept above, the prefent marter of which is Mr Edward Gardiner.

Gen T. MaC. Ferny, 1790.

It is faid there was a Roman flotation near this toivn, but at what part I nevar have been able to difcover.

The church, of which a North-wed view is annexed (plate II.), is an antent frudure.

It confines of a nave, or face, with a very fall though near chancel adjoining; there is an indifferent wonder. fire fteeple, containing two fall bells with a clock. The li zing is a restorys valued at 100 . per annam, great and final tithes, &c. included, in the gift of R. H. A. Bennett, eq. atorefaci, who is lord of the manor. The pres. Sent rector is the Rev. Andrew Edwards, $M$ A. who alfo holds the living of Gat Ciefinghatn, co. Norfolk, and refides procipaliy it the later place; in cuniequeres of which the curate who performs dust: for him here is the Rev. Mr. Heringhar, who alto holds the rectory of Chadivell, near Grays, in this county. There are numerous refidences of refpeStable family ie in the vicinity of this town, among whom are the following in firticular: Mite ${ }^{*}$, the property of $F$. Fane, eff. (related to the light Hon. Earl of Weflmartand), formerly belogging to John Luther, eff whole fe i: Mr. Fare at ho deceit; Greenhead hall, John Redman, eff.; Bukthail, forme :y Sir $M$ Death's, Dart. nov e Lately fill to Cupel Cure, eff. and Mavifuck, Ert Waldgrave, &oc.

Monumental Inscriptions.
On the Southern ide, leading :c the chancel, is a neat plain white masbe tabier, whin this written:
" Hic futon jacket
Nicholas Alemaniler, generous, nuper de Marten At:; fir probus, honeftis, et p. us, ecclefix Anglian films obrevantitimus et cutter. . Uxerem halu:c unicum Joharnam, plan, cartam, et prudentem, fill on Stephanie sm; th, ulmigeri, de Singeing till :n farochua de Black mure, in comtatu Lhexte; cum q a in combo fidel e: aftectore marish per pacium quingersine annotate ot ultra visit. L serous relight paper bites Gul:elmum, Ewar.um, Theme,

[^16]Hearicums

:14 Chipping Ongar.-Tithe and Culivation of Madder, [Feb.

Henricum, Annam, Margaretam, et Johar,nam. Obiit xxix Julii 1714, anno xtatis fux $85 . "$
Arnis at top. Az. a cherron between thrce taibots heads eras'd Arg. eollar'd Gules; impaling Arg. a crofs Gules between 4 peacocks clofe Az.

Crelt, on a wreath, a talbot's head eras'd Arg col'ar'd Gules.

Alfn, on the wall facing are two atchievements, one for him , and the wher for his widow.

On the Sourb-eaft fule of the entrance irto the chancel is an extremely beautiful white narble mo ument, executed by Nollekens, confifting of an obelifk or vale, at the bafe of which are two angels, one fitting weeping, the other flanding and lecorating an an [that fands between them] with a wreath of flowers. Under them, in a fquare compartment, is this infeription :

"Sacred

to the memory of Mrs Sarah Mitpord, the defervedly belor ed wife of John Mitford (fome time of this parifh, efquire),
Who departed this life Dec. 8, 17\%6, aged 31 years."
Arms in a fhield at top. Arg. a fefs between 3 moles Sable, impaling Go. a chevron berween 3 combs Arg.

Cieft, a dexter and finifter hand coupéd at the wrift, hoiding a fword, all proper, charged with a boar's head Sa. arm'd and langued of the firf.

On the North-eaft fide of the entrance into, and clofe adjoining, the chancel-door, is a large white marble tablet with this written:
${ }^{4}$ Heis fepulta jacet
Jana,
Gothofredi Tones, hudimagiftri Ongarienfis difideratifima conjux, mulier jufta, proba, pia, amore erga Deum ferventiffimo, fide erga virum inconcufià, charitate erga omnes propenfultime ; filiolum unicum (nifi forfan et adolefcestulis Sub marioo bonis literis, operam navantibus quos prof fuis femper hahnit, vera mater habenda fit) patri moeftiltimo legavit moribunda.
Obiit Jan. $5^{\circ}, \mathrm{Mbecxv} 1$. aetatis $33^{10}$ Gothofredus cupradietus, hujufque eccletix rector, obiit $14^{\circ}$ die menfis Augufti, annoque $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { xtats } 48, \\ \text { Domint }\end{array}\right.$
$\{$ Domin1 1733.
(To be continued.)

Mr. Urban,

Feb. 6.

IN p 23 , E. E. T. enquir: whether the adt, 31 Geo. II. chap. is, refpecting the tithe of madder, is in force. I find, upon looking into the Statute-book, the adt in queftion was granted for 14 years only; and, by a fubfequent aki, 5 Geo. III. chap. 18, it is continued, from the expiration of the former af, for 14 years more, and to the end of the then next felfion of paliatnent; but $i$ have not difcovered any farther continuance of the act in queftion, therefore prefume the purpofe has been anfiwered that was intended by the Legiflature. I apprehend the tithe of madder is a finalt tithe. I fhould be happy if it was in my power to give your correfpondent any pental ditecions for cultrvating maduer.
W. K.

Mr. Urban, Cyeditor, Feb. S.

IN anfiver to your correfpondent's enquiry, p. 23, after directions for c:ativating inadder, I beg to inform him the following is tranferibed for his ufe from Miller's Dictionary; who fays, obferving a great quastitv of madder growing in Holland between Helvoeta Guys and the Brill, he was induced to $m$ ke the following enquiries refpecting the culture, for the ufe of fuch as would attempt the culture in England.
of In autumn they plough the land where they intend in plant madder in the fprings and lay it in high riuges that the frof may mellow it. In March they plough it arams and at this feafon they work it very deep, laying it up in ridyes 18 inches afunder, and about a foot deep. About the beginning of April, when the madder will hegin to thoot out of the ground, they open the earth about iheir oid roots, and take off all the ficte-thoets, which extend themfelves horizontally jast under the furface of the ground, preferving as much toot to them a polhble. Thefe they traufplant immediately upon the top of the new ridges, at about a foot apart, ohferving alw,ys to do this when there are fome thowers, becaufe then the plants will take root in a few days, and require no water. When the plants are growing, they carefully keep the ground hoed, to prevent the weed, from coming up between than ; for, if they are fmothered by weeds when young, it will either deltroy, or weaken them to much that they feldom recover. In thefe ridges they iet the plants semain two feafons, during whicls time they keep the ground very clcan ; and, at Mechaclons, when the tops of the plants are decayed, they toke up the roots, and dry then for falc."

1796.] Cultivation of Madder.-On the Migration of Swallows. 115

- Thefe are the refu't of his enquiries in Holland; to which he adds obfervations of his own, which he made fince the firft. He finds there is no neceffiry for laying the ground up in ridges in England (efpecistly in diy land), as the Duich reafon for the fame was their giound being very wet, and freguently inundated, which would rot the roots. Secondly, they fhould be planted at a greater diltance in England, the rows ar leaf 3 feet diffance, and the plants as inches afunder in the rows; otherwife, as they fpread under-ground, there will not be fuftcient room for the roots to grow. And, thirdly, I find that, if all the horizontal roots are deftroved from time to time as they are produced, i : will caufe the large downright raots to be much larger (in which the goodnefs of this sommodity confifts), as he found by experiment theywt re double the weaght.

Mrs. Parker is siot the only female travelier who has made the ci. cumnavigation of the globe, as obferved in the review of her Voyage, LXV 941. A female (in difgulte) of the name of Barié, f-rvant to Monf. Commeiçon, in the celebrated voyage of M. de Dougainville, accompanted him thro' all the perils and dangers with heroic fortitude, and was difiovered to be a fema'e at the diand of Taiti.

Mr. Urban need not travel fo far as Yaimouth for a drawing of a cioppono, orlady's filt, of Venice, as mentioned EXV. 1083; he will Eud a Gimlar one, with a number of antique Englifh floes, in the wardrobe-room at the Leverian Mufeum, the Surtey fide of Blackfriers bridge; where, as the ft:lt is very fimple, a diawing may foon be taken for the amufement of his fair correfpondent Maria, if he thinks proper.
J. Laskey.

Mr. Urean,

YOUR Correfpondents that have witten on the migration of Swallows feem to make no diftinction of fpecies under the genus Hirundo. The only ones I am acquainted with are, the Swallow, the Houfe and Sand Mattins, and the Stwift. If there are कyothers, I hould be obliged to any of your Correfpondents to acquaint me with them.

Upon examining the Swift, we find that the wings are much longer than the Swallow's; and fo much out of propotion to its legs, that, if it be placed on level ground, it is net in its pow r to afcend. When it has nccation to defeend to the ground, to procure glavel for its neft (which in general is bult in a chiance), or any other purpole, wou may otrierve it run to fome fmall preapicé, whence it drops, and in the at of faling expands its wings to take is wonted f ght.

1 do not pretend to contradiat what Clericus Eho-acenfis, p. 4, afferts as a fack fo pofitive, that bis friend aw thefe bids deicend undir the weter, and bary theneflys at the botom of the lake; hut 1 thou'd be obiged to that gentleman if he would acquaint me with the $m$ onner in which they tife from that muddy habitatin, and whether hat freend obferved the Swift to be among its companions when they $: m$ merted to their difmal ab de.

Their ingration appeats to me very rational ; for, it is contrary to cur ideas of the Almighty to thonk he has formed any animal with more than a due propotion of firengtin for Aight (as is the cafc with the Swift) wittiout defigning it for fome greacerexer ion of that git of nature than the mere circumvolutions that thas fpecies of birds are known to take in this country. The migra ion of the Swallos is mentioned in Scripiure, Jer. vili. 7 " Yea, the tives in the Hearen knoweth its appointed time, ent the turtie, and the crane, and the fiwallow, obterveth the time of their coning ; but m propic, &e."
It is well known that, before thefe biris difappear, they take very lofty Aghis; and it is related by many failor, that in croffing the Mediterranean they have feen very large fights of birids :o ligh, that it wa. not in their prwer wdifcover what they were; I think it very likeiy that ir mult be Hirund:nes colfing fiom Europe to Africa. Quails are known to crof: the Meciterranean; but they f: to flow as very often to reit on the mafis ot ibips, and to be caught by the fallors. $P$.

Mr. Urban, Creditoa, ${ }^{\circ}$ Feb. 12.

ON the emigrating movem:nt of the birunaznes, I beg to make one among your nume ous Correfipondents, by fimply Rating the obfervations $\mathbf{I}$ made on a body of them congregating, in 1793, for their periodical figh to fome $u$ tnown land, from whofe bourn, tome tay, few, if any, return. It wilf be necelfary to te! j jue ibefe obfervations
fervations were made in the houfe on which the fwallows, in pats, aftembled; it is very bics. and himaied on the New Brifee at Exeter in front facing the river Exe, vihal gldes her Rereams at the "יitance of dew vand; its uppor fiory commands a vietw of the fta at aront ten milies ditiance, and a fine view of ciat noble emimose, falldown, in frome. I thrugher it the mone necelfary to cefine the firuation ot ins ha ufe, as rivers, ficas, and cieary commons, feem oo have betn grand cbje ens for frunding corjecturc. To procect. On Suniday the 221 Sepiember, 1793, at abiut foven o'el ck in the morning, the atmothere very heav, witha drizzing cold rain, and wind EaRerly, Loblened a valt number of the Hirundo rufica, fwaliows, cong'egating ab a:t my houfe (and thofe ajoining) on the weatherpoard: the hosd in rows three ciecp throughrut the length; the roif and chimuey, tagether with the chimness of the whar houles, were entucly cuvered with them, together with the fr nt of the houfe. Ahout nine o'clock 1 he. gen to pay th:m particular artention, bas: utite me obfervations riceafionally; 11. firit was fix birds perched on the clevated ficuation of a chimnes-top, thefectana ned atitirly to theinfelates, which was the means of my taking that particular antice. During the the they were fituared, I notical one that never quitted the chimney, nor his fivuation. At intervals large flocks, or, if 1 mias be allowed the expetion, latge coloniex, joned the main body; on the arival of each calony, an unwhal chibing comntaced, and the companiss of the bird which I fing ed Out fles :rwat ds them, then returned to then ded fituation, mating ule of a claip eiffernt from any of the reft. The apmarance of the whoit bude was vers lahagic and mupad up, and to very tame, that I found it an taly matter to whe as many as I pleated fism the den of the windows. For exper:e n-fake, I eat my hand ard arm unt of :i:e stic ftory window, and fourd, within a fow ninutes a fwallow had pirchad on my hand; I expeeled, on withoraaing te, the bird would have decamped, but finding him concinuc in his fituation without the ieaft tear, I had an opportunity of inveli:gting is a.pasitaze move nariowly: his eyes apported fetarly hut, hris wings and eal drooping, a flacciuity in all his Fowiors, and an univenfa torpiaty pervaded his whole frame. Finding fome force neceffary to take him from my hand, I had the curiofiry to whill him round feveral times, but to no purpofe; the only exertion the bird ufing being a languld expanfion of the wings for preferving his ieat, which he did by grafping his claws, fo firm as to draw blood from my hand. In the courle of the dav I tow 20 . confining them at large in my roon; on their firf incroduction they perched themelves on vaious parts of the rom, and appeared as moped up as their neighbows withous doors. A fmall hi:e heing in the chimney, I obferved a bird that had perched on the mantle-piece $t$, appear more lively than its fellow-prioners, mosing uts heac with a deal of anmation, and feeming to enjov the beafi, cent warmth of the fire: on this $\mathbf{1}$ heightenedi it, and bionght the air of the room into a very watm flate, which recovtred my plifiners from their moped comstition. and they winged their fight Lackwards and forwards win the fame apparent velocity as when ikimming the humid air on a Summer evening. At bout 38 minure? after 8 öcluck, they took a flighr, leaving a very few hehind, and were swaning nealy two hours, when thes retuned in fetming grea er numbers. the fix bires oscupying thecis old ilation and all things renained without a: belore the fight for the remaindier o: the dav. I obferved on the bodies o: my birds a great number of fimal grenif acari, quite urlike the fly inholb ting the neft of the fwallow. On openian the fiomach of four of them, found a cruse febitance, the ficmacl b-ing phite ful: on infuling it it water, I found is confified of gnats fies, and other fuall jufects, with thi elytrar of fmall featabeous infects, \&c one in particular hat in his ftomach th areneas dia, is ma, or white crofs fpider as near as I rould guefs, the ipecimes heing in fome degree mutilated by th acive cortofion of the Romach. Earl the nex: morning, being Mondiy th $23 \mathrm{~d}, 1$ paid part.cu'ar att ntion to them bat found nothing farther remarkabl in their appearance till about 30 minure after 90 'clock, when there appeared great commotion among them, wit loud piercing chirp, and wibhin a fer minutes the whole body rook thei flight in a diref̂ South Eaft direction Therr figitit was to very fudden and un expecied, that i had not time to obferv

1796.] Swallows, E'c.-Record's Arithmetick.-T. Henhaw. 117

whether the fingular birds as before mentionen were their lead'rs or not. Fion the torpid flate thes leemed to revive and took their fightr wath as much animation as can be conccived. Toreturn to nov inmates; at half an hour after the flight of the main bod, 1 gave two of them their liderty, wo ferving their fight, which ! found to be in a letrogademetion for a anou: dialf a minute, feem:ng; bewicered; thon dating off with the greatelt velocity, in the fame drection as the main bude. Icentruace to let go the others at intervals, betucen the hours of eluven and four o'chock, and found them unifurmiy take the fame fight. I forgot to mention above, that the main body flew at a great height, to which they rofe by feveral circomvoluions, and, as iong as my eie cutud conmand then, feemed to rife in the aimu. fiphere.

The pealantry of Devon and Cornwall, a ta as I have lad ennexton with them, beicue the cuck oftedis on the eges of :ther bires; and that the Jittle bird, a they call is, accompanying them (the Irex To quill, or fummer bind). fiarches for them for that pur, ofe, ani feets him.

Y'our: &c. j. Laskey.
Mr. URban, Fib. S. Y OU maj affure Mr. D.ckniun, p. 4 the notion of the Cuck o, in fart, dubfing by fucking the $e_{-g}$ s of other bircs, duce untre lat y premal; and, hosgl it is not noticed by atenors of nuterictl, there is a inmbie pradurtion, entituled. "Sorgs for Charer," which has inculcated it for man: veats, if not for man) ginerations, in the following fiar zas:
" The cuckor'sa pretty bird, Sings as the fles;
She bronge us gool tidings, And tells a no lics:
Sbe friks litilu linals eggs To make her fing clear,
An" never crics cuckoo Till fummer draws near."
From my own alfervation, I can inform him, that the frequen ly defprits the nefi of fome imalier bincis of their tggs (and that moft probably by fuck. ing them, as the remains of the troken empty fhells are generaily found in them), and then defofits one, and fometimes, though but feldorn, two, of het uwn ; where foe leaves them to pe hatched by a fofter-mother: whis fact is alfo proved hy vour facceeding $\mathrm{c} \mathrm{r}^{-}$ refpondent illericas Ebaracenfis; hur whether this is the univertal m thod of increafiag ber fpecies, I am :ot competent to determine; thonsit I have never lieand ot her ege e ner nulling, veing found in any cther fituation.

Hz. SNEzOE.
Mr. V'ranan, Fcb. 12. PECORD's arithmetick, or the Fl Graven of Art. reaching the perfer work and piatice of Arithwictick, &c. was pubmhed in 1540 , and decticuted by han to Eaby Edward VI. This Treatite wa lep:ated in 1590, and 1655 , augmentad is M. Jom Dee; and trom this lift edition I have copied the following paragraph, that is in the Author's Pretace to the loving tcaders.
"And if any man object, that nther books have heen written of atithmetick alieady to fuficienty that 1 neuded nut now to put pen to the book, except 1 aill condemn other men's wntugs; to th ma I antiver, that as I condemn ro man's diligence, fo I know that no one man can fatisfie every man; and therefure 1.ke an many the eltecme gre.tly other hookes, io I do bt nut hat fome will like this my booke ah ve any of er Englith Atithme tick hitherto writen: and namel; ford as have io plainly fet fontuthe ex mpler, as no booke that I have feen lath done hit erto, which thing thall be crat e: feta the rude readers."
infumation is defred concerning the books writun in alithmetrk, worch Recerd nay be fuppolesi to have had in lis view; and in panticuldr, whether the thok were printed, or on'y circulated is minutcrept.
A. We 'ucc for to Tobias Henfaz, in the Aich eaconry of Lewes, was inlial'ed Dec. S, 1681 , it may be prefume", as obfcived p. 60, that he died in the laterend of that isar; and the Tr alurermip of Chichefter was vacant at the fatne time by his deceate. It appears lik wife, by the regiter of Bithop Br deoak, that Tobias Herflaw wa collated to the rectory of Slintold, in Suffix, Jul 26, 1675; and, if he were mterred in that church, there may be a fepuichral monument, with fome bographical information concrabing lim and his par:nts. The enquirer is doubtiefs apprized that there was a Thomas Henflaw inftailed Dan of Clichetler, Nov. 29, 1660, and promuted to the fie of Peterborough in oi has particularly notic. , e. 1 Kennet' Regifter an .t $t$ m.ntioned, that 7 ...than was adnited B. D. at C. जge Uè iS, 1660 , by R val Arane st Fis. thefetuo Divints were a. 2 it ; lated is viry piobable.

Wi: thete not an ieverlv a family of c.alforance in trarce of the name of X: raved: Qasty, the etrmolngy of this awewtion, and their amonal bearins in the mudde of the fixternth seatury?
W. & D.

"7an. 20.
Fiv the artacie (rol. LVIII. p. I99) * c mertanify the thace rifers whath th E: Lheir rak in the pasif wi Koaptoti, whar s: fersed of the rwer Sow inay ail lie true for any thang 1 know to tic conraaty, except the town of Parington, Ehich, i iuppote, is pus tor Petrington, a Erid:kut fown in Holderneis, n.at the S, arnhead.

The next atticle, concerning the Siltf. may be a very juft acconnt of it. Bue the article cuncerming tace Wedfond is not exact. The Welded rad Ete Nen never urite. 'Ine Weiland, af or pathang Stamiond, Derpinge, and by Filoke Waft, in Eincolethere. Whe Xan, ur at leatithenorthern theam of is ( 16 at Pecmbonotgh it divides into two), tirnes to W': fbech, and riees out chance to fea. to Crois-K ys Wath, civeling Lincon, fhire fiom Nurtolk.

> W. Maveham,

An Inhabitunt of the Eionks of the Wilimial, near Fivalie.

Mifr. Urean,
テ̄an. 20.
FH:C pletert defervedlv-popular air Gicst tave the King'" is fup. pulac ti have been compoled b: An\&anis jones, mulician, contemporary Noh. Patct, and gia d fa-her of the Leic M. Arnc, Mis Lampe, and Mis. Jouts, all Aage-fogers, ulite tipmalli, by ilenam: of Yourg. When Ifir turie was revived in 1745 , tradition faic, that the wori: of "Gua lave the Ki. Ki" wor writen, aid the runc com- $^{\text {w }}$ preo, for Kirg Janes the Second, at the rime the the l'ince of Otange was expeled to land in Enģand. Durang If E Exbellion of 1745 , Dr. Burney, authay of the "Guntil Hifory of Alufic, compoled parts to the od nuicojo ot the defoic ot MAs. Cibber, for inus - Lame Theatae, whereit waslung. in : fluy and folemn manner, so the parts by Whrs. Ciuber, Mr. Beard, and

Mr. Reimhold, the father of the prefent fingtr of that name, and repeated in chorus, augnented in force, ufually, bu the whole audience, It was called for at this theatre for near two years atter the fuppreffion of the kebellion.

About three ears ago, being curious to know fome farther pasticulars refpeing this mific fong, I waited on Dr. Cork, late org mift at the Abbey, who corroborated tini account, ard wid the, that, when he was a buy, he remembered to have heard the tune long, to the worcs of "Gox favegreas G̈ames our King,"
E. I.

Mr. UREAn, Feb. 10.

T!iE Gentleman's Mag:zone, from the eatlicf perint of is institution, has been the Friem! wif lamanity. A fubfription is fot rat tor forthe relief of the widnws (fome with !arye fambites) and the orplans of ther fartereis in the bale dreadfu! vat: imple near Fi untlow...heath. Ir the ci.cutarion of the foilowing adoreis, del:eented at a neightounng ciaticn on suswiay the 3af of Jonady, wal be of the fmalleft ufe in inducing fome of sour hamane Conerpendents io lend tieet contribut:0 s so Mitulis. Pivingomosis Sr. Paul's Cluctr-y ard, or wh. Mrieten, No. soo, Fleet-lireet, I fall be vesy happl: and I arn well allured, Negrs. R. and P. wiil open a berevolent account for that purpote, and 1 will be their faithful &inner.
k. H.

Dearly beloved,

In puluance of the notice a'ready circul:ted through this panth, a collection will be roade this monnmg, after Divine S:rvice, for the mhappy Widows and Orphans of the poor fufferers who were killerlhy the exp ofton of the jewder-mills, near Il num $w$, on the $24^{\text {ti }}$ Init.

As I thatl on this diy have the advantage of receizing inftruction from the pulpt, (initcad of endeavonring, as ulual, to impait it, I take thus method of recommending the pertons in quefion to your charitable att intion. 1 thall fay but a very few words. It is not neceffary to awaken either terror or pity on this occation. The dreadful found is yer, as it were, in our ears, which to four, at leaft, of our felow-chriftians was the found of death. As yet we feem iu feel that convolive mock, which filled us wht temporary co fernation, as if the ecnetal domon $x$ as at 1 and. To the objects for whiom 1 folicat your bounty, it was attended wish hitde lefs tio rown, than if thit dwful event had dettrally taken place. It was the weok of all their hopes, and all theic happmeis, and ail their comforts. In that one temble mument they were deprived，not of life，but of all that ren－ dered life defirable．Weep not then for the dead，neither b moan them－but la－ ment，pity，and relieve，the deititute，heart－ broken，furvivors．

1796．］Difrefed Familics at Hounflow．－Thomas Swadlin．

Contributions of this kind have been fet on foot in other piaces．I need fay no more．I doubt not that the inhabitants of＊＊＊＊＊＊＊ will always，accordong to the ir ability，itand forward in fupport of whatever is tamable， lovely，generous，and of good report．We requeft no large donations from any in－ dividual．A fmall general contribution， beftowed，not as of neceffity，but willing－ by，will accomplith our purpofe－that of relieving the fe poor fufferers from the preffure of immediate dil？refs－of pro－ curing them a mort refpite from the mi－ feries of extreme povelty，in addition to their other woes－of giving them the only comfort their melancholy fituation admits－． the comfort of experiencing，that there are kind and iympathizing hearts，who can feel for their fevere misfortunes．

One more remork，and I have done． You mult confider the unhappy men，for whore widows and orphans 1 an pleading， as forming a part，bowever mean and ap－ parently incoufiderable，of that order of men，who in the ie times of danger and anxiety，contribute to the prefervation of yur country．＂ 7 lh fe members of the ody，which feem to be more feeble，are zeceffary．＂In condzant jeopardy of ibeir lives－with but a fep－nay not fo mach －between them and ient－－exchdedifo：a he duties，and trom de rembuts of tie Sabhath－day，thy hay an in an boyment，wh．ch nee f．lfere ：t mostern warfate renders bit too immortats－．．． furoibing vs wath meato of cian aceagatant the commern adverif．ries of mankind：of whofe reftlefs，invizurate in．y esery day gives freth and wndonatic pon－who look on this countiy with eyes of the deepeft naligac，atiod wher，is macen－ rolled，woull to nt make us the varims of their jeal：mify and hated．We revere she memory of the（t．deer why das in the fiels of honour－he antappy rren in yluetan may，witheut impruprety，be confatrat as marlyrs in the mane ，the and necettaty anfe－a catufe wh c！fhould tever ceatioto animate each madodu： 1 in if：ref！！－Pive phere；that，is tye wock ．，：to wiach ho scaled，le ：ayy，to the ：．ltat hour of his fife，pronote we prill w＋isate．
Such is he obye i vo kian on view．It Precilefs，I trott，to adt：that vonst pentafatuns th． 4 tef tefu＇applecd．If， mpotitl－that＂he levilag of tum thar aras trady＂＂perniz＂hatatume unon yon， lie：Li fy fur，how he hiv，＂It is more blened to give tida to yecerve．＂

Mr．URban，$\quad F_{c}$ b． 6.

THE difquiftion on the marriag：－ ring，Vol．LXV．pp． 578 1078， recal to my mind a curious palinge in a very curbous old book，entituled， er King Char es his Fu：tral；s＇o was beheaded by bafe and barbawore Hand： January $30,164^{8}$ and incerrad $a z$ Windfor，Feb．9．1648，wi．this Ar－ niverfaries，continueci till 1659 ．By Thomas Swadin，D．D Un orat ee $^{\text {n }}$ exotat，Vivat Veniat，ぞ：ara C rnius fecundus，et fit Caroio ilagno Mijor． Awen．＂The vo ume confi＇s of twelve Anniverfary Sermoge，flaced to have been preached hermeen tis death of Cha．I．and ule Reftoration of Cha If． on the folloxing whinsbalic ferected texts； 2 Sam．i．14．Aecite．Is Pla＇m cxii．7． 1 S an，x．27．：King xxi．1ğ。 1 Cor．ix．16．Rev．xiv．13．Plal．cvi． 29．Acts xiii．28．Rom．i． 32 Sone of your corrdpondent，failted in the bography of the laf con．ury，may perlaps，be able to ollige me with a few anecdote cithis intiepid Royalift a who，aftu all，ana：peiliaps，have vt－ tered his z－alusa c会dfons on the ether fode of the Channel dariag the inter－ regnum，ay 1 thiak he obligut，hint， p． $1 \leq 2$ ．
＂E＇：me ant mo holy zcol，＂rays he， （fpeal ing of the Liturgy）＂if I do wit． dicate that favine bo．$\delta$ agantt the fcitimatick＇s greatcit sxcrpronns－and thar is in the uffice of maverige Tia？ whice conflas of hithfance and cere－ remony a RIAG－E．k yill up $n$ buile，and frit，the foct prayer in that vince－it héeches Ambinv Gon to bitfot\}e oupic ta be mamised, as I laac abal Eciorced－swhenc－Eargu t：are：

This prajer was dectaced b：the If if Ofat the cumpolers of the Comman Piav，ls，of mate by mole c．an；oises witho．it the dielate of the Haly Ghad－but n．t be dem withous lis itiEtact ；theroture，by his diziate to th：＂1n．

If by them withous hom，then they wund la：me mate it sc orlt ig to human $r$ aion，and woulnhave a is＂B＇c＇s henz OL rit，as sho：d：ult＇o＇e＇s Aurahan and Surah，or a thou did！t blets Jacob and Rach：1＂and thes lad lumme reáon for it－for，Abrahizon was Gol＇s hitit frend；Jicol was God＇s su ot tav uilie：but fas the Huly Cint， ＂N．t 1o，not fio；buz ler it be，，lo＇s them as Ifacs and Rebecca：and $n=1 e$ is no hatwan riaton for this；ixt a

士20 Martrage Ring.-Pope Sylvefter.-Markham's Monument. [Fcb

Hivine reafon there is, and that is this: Abratam had his Hagar in Sarali's time, Keturah afterwaris: Jacor had his Leah, his Zilpan, and his Rilhah; but Iface had none bur hos Remkan; and thercfore, ( (ays the Boly Grool, ) let it not be, blefs chum as Abraham and Strah; biefs them ak Jacoband Ruchel; for then people mav $b$. apt to think they mav have nany wives at once, if not fome concuhires-but lat it be, Dle's them ac thou citat blefs loac and Rehecca.-Let wem know one man Alould buve but one wife, efpecially at one time.

Thenfocondiy, look upon the Ring. This rine mult be round without cond, and the ting mult be of g Id without mixture: fo mut the hafband's !ove be to his w'fe propetual, ard to he terminatedonly by dath; and withal his lovemul be pure, and not gy ven or impartai to any other, but to lis of fe onl,."

I lea e it to wifer heads than mine, Mr. Ullan, to detrmine what referen $c$ his patione can have to the decollation of he Royd viricr-but is j. Armaly on poin: is the fubjend difculied by your aboic quosed Correfparidents.

Before I take leave of Dr. Swadin, I fiall wetare to tranicribe the estii. cation to his curious womk:
". To the King's mort ex.eellent Majefly Charles 14.
"Geat Sir,
" That ynur $M$ jeftie may vouchfafe to give had Annivetaries a gracious reseption is the pertion 10 ,
"That your Majalie may be bief wint a lone life, vitha quict reien, with a Fandifull Comeil, with a Prous Clergic, whith a Vatant Soulfor, whta Lowi Deop'c, and bepteierved frum a new rivaliy of $P$ ofuytery and Incicpeadency, is the petain? for,
"Your in.joft,

$$
\text { . } B_{y}
$$

"Your Maitlic's Loval Su' ject, "Thonà Sw...tlin, D. D"
The volume form which the fe extracts are t.ken is a imail quarto, printed tor the asil cl. Dy John Clewes, Losema. 166 r I believe it is at prefent very, imeult to de met with. Yuurs, dic.

Mr. URfan, $F_{6}{ }^{2} .7$.「IIf huphying the was wation,

${ }_{3} 1$, in Latin calendars, Sylveffer Papa, and in eld Englim ones, Sylvefier Pope (XXXIV. A.D. 3 th), that vou need hardly hwe been troubled with this, but for the falke of reforming a pufage in Mr. Barrington's plafing Ubervations on the Statuser, 4 th edit. 1775, p 509:
"The Compilers of the Pariiamentary Hiftory mention the having feen an edition of Fabin's Clromicle in which the word Papo is erafed throughout, and thence foppole a pruclum tion tur he iffued this year in which it was forled to ufe that odious tiame. It fhowht, perhaps, be rather attributel to the indrereet zeal of come enthufiaftic reformer."

But that thefe Compilers fuponfed well is manifelt from Lond Herbert's Life of Henry VIII. p. 382, under the year 1535 . 15 June flands in the margin. The king bv proclamation enjoned, that the Pope's name fhould be razed out of all books. And, accordingly, among the few books 1 have is a copy of the Legenda Alsea, Lugd. 1509, $4^{10}$, in which $P a_{f}^{f} a$, thal occurs is very often, is calcfully feratched out (no eafy marier in fuch $a$ (mall back-letter prini), or a line i: drawn :hoough t, both in the Covtent: and andy of this wark. Caap. XII is "De Sindo Sulveftoo." which it probibly ou's from the order he ftand: in between St. Thomas of Canterburs and the Cercuac.i.m of our Lord, bu without the addition of Pope, which 1 believe, is feltorn omitted; yet it i faid, "mortoo Veichiade epifcopo ur bis Romx S Ivatier ab omnt plebe plu rimum tenitens in fanmum pontiacen e? el:ctas." From the curious iiffanc of the infcipision you give, it houl, fecor tha: the icrrified fubjebts of tha bloody defpet thought that the orde extended iather than to broks, ant tirat the name of Pope was to be defa ced in mferputions, &ec. as was practi fed by the Romans for thio bad en perors.

Peed.
Mr. Urban, Cambrige, Itb. S. N aufver to your cortipondent' enquary, p. 12, concerning the un perichioa of Aakham's monumen I have no doubt that it thould be tupg plied by the word $(\hat{p}$ ', the ab revia ton of eficcosi, which, not inprob: bly, nifith lee wantomly defaced $t$ fome antieplompa! fantick; for, 1 bix:d to andem mathis a'our the age,

1795.] Markham.-Family of Meetkerke.-Indew Indicatorius. I2I

Markham's infription. I fufpect, nowever, the date iane9 to be erroneJus; and that, if E. C. were more arefully to examize the fone, he vould find he has omitted in his copy he woid foxu"efims, whel being nferted, the infription will be thue:
"Orate pro anima Jon's Merkhay, iuficiarii, qui chijt in fido s'sfi Silvert, i p'i, anvo $D^{\prime \prime}$ ni mill'no cccc feragefimo nono. "agjus anima prepi"t. Deus. Aimen."
This very time correfpords to that n which Marklam cealed to be chief uftice of the King's Bench, wherein he was fircceeded by Thomas Biling, ${ }_{23} \mathrm{~J}$ an. foilowing.
Probably is will be expected, by Come of your seaders, that E C. will ayour them with the refalt of his enginiry, though the medium of your terary vehicle, after a more attentive examination of the monoment. J. B.

Mr. Urean,  Feh. 21.

AFULLER account of Sir Henry Unton than appears in P. ${ }^{13}$, with a portrait, fand to be originat, and the fame copy of his challenge fent to the Duke of Guife, is tiven the "Aniquarian Repertory, vol. Hi. p. 213.

Mr. Cise, has been mafnformed with refpect t., the marriage of Adolphus Neerk rke, Eq4. p. 15. He married Barbir, third and youngelt daugh or if Mr. Richard Chapman, an eminemt and refpectable wholefale linen-draper in Curnhill, by his wife Who was filter and heilefs of Antony Waiburge, E'q. formerly Treafurer of Thomas's hufpital. The idea that Mrs. Meetkerke's name was Skinner may have originated very naturally from the circumfiance, that a very confiderable legacy was bequeathed to her feveral ytars fince by Mrs. Skinner, of Tottenham, in Middlefex, widow. I have fome knowledge of all the three fami:ies of Opie, Skinner, and Chapman, but not enough in in. form the writer of this paper whether they were anywife s!lied by confeno guinity or affiniry. P nbably Upron Grey was a part of Mrs. Skinner's bequen. Farther parriculars may be learne of Mr Meerkerke's grandfarher in "Salmme's Hertood hirp." article Radfiold and Rutuen, or Rumbien; and of the father in your Magazine for January, 1784.

In p. 40, col. i. in one Article are two riftakes, the former a very eafy nere: for Rye in suffor, read Eve in Suffolk: and for Grin. Ciurke, read Licut. Gen. Peter Bathwf?. E.
V.1. LXV. p. rogi, 1. : col. 3. afluer the read mof.
VI. LXVI. p. 6i. col. i, 1. 1o. for ibde. I. is for ifltag readinimy.

INDEX iND!CATORIUS.

The Monumfnt for Mr. Howarb, in St. Paul's Cahocra, heng now opened wine puthick; an elegant engraving of if, by Pasire, thall be given in our next.

In the letter form Di. Gritiths. in cur laft, p. 5, t io, for cxpensitu e, r. exifetice.

If the writer of a let er figneo $\int P$. (IXV. gCI.) has no objection t., favour ns with his reat name, we frould efte $n$ it an chligation; the fuggeftion of P. Q. (LXV. 1of8.) being wholly erronenus.
r. L. (of Marl:ay) will be much obliged to any of our correfpondents, to infurm him where the Marquis of Wharton, who died in 1715 , was buried.

We commiferate the cafe of the young man pointed out by An afflicted Friend; but cannot polfibly fate it.

We cannot poffibly admit marriages, births, Scc. on anonymous authority.

A lift of the Mafters, Stewards, and Preacliers, at the fchool-fatt of BithopStortford fchool, with fome farther partia culars of that feminary, may be expected from b. D.

The continuation of O's Ruthandshire Notes is unavoidahly poftpored thl next month; when they mall appear, with the Pedigree of the Rudina Family, &ic.

PROCEEDINGS

H. OF COMMOGS. Novembir 2.

$L^{\circ}$ORD Sberard look the oaths and his feat for Rutlandthire; as did 7. M. Grant, Efq. for Banff.

The Socaker informed the Houfe, that the Houre had been on Saturday laff to wait on his Majefiy with the Gent. Mag. February, 1796.

IN PARLIAMENT.
Addrefs, in confequence of his Majefly's Speech; and that his Ma:cty was pleated to return a mof gracious anfover, in which he thanked the Commons for their dusiful and loyal Addrefs; had the folleft reliance on their fidelity and attachment; and promifed that he would concur in any meafure which they micht adont towards the attinment of peace on te! ins cornftent with th: disnity of the country. Hs Majefty alf thanked tirein fur the A Ascis, in which they expreffed then ath witnce of the late dring atrack a lis perion, b which the Conftut on of ilie cuuntry was endencered; and allor.d thrm he woud ufe his utmol? endeavours to hafe the perf ms who were guilty of that outiage brousht to condign punithment

Mr. Dunkias rofe, in purfuance of the nosice he bad $z$ "en, io make a mation, which he did pat conce:ve it neceffary to preface by an" obiervetions whateier. E:i:iy Gentleman muft agree, that there were the moit memorable and dininguithed proofs that no period ever occurred, when the ardour, the fall, and fucce f , of our naval torces were greater than at pre. ferit. And this was particularly the cafe with the motale perdongge, and t. e other brave officers, who were the objects of his motion. He would therefore move, "That the thanks of this Houfe be given to Admiral Lned Bridport, for his able and gallent cenduet on the 23 d of June laft, when his Lordhif ontamed an inportant and brilitant vidosy over the znemy's. feet, with a detachment of his Mo jeny's sips then under his Lordfoip's command. And that the thanks of the Houre be rwen ov Vics-Aimimal Str Allan Ga:dner, Rear Admiral lharvey, and Rear Adanirl Lord İurh Seymour, for this able and galiont conduct on the fome day. And that she thanks of rice Koule be aifo isento ade Coptains of the flips whut vere in the abuse fleet, and the offre:s under that command, fou that ctule and gallant conduet on the above necafion: and $t$, th rise fone ine fignifid 20 them by Admisa! Lord Buhnort. And that the Fimidc co hichiy appove and acknowled the fervice of the failors and marines lorving onoboard the above fle. t on cho lame cay: and that the fame be fraified to them by the Caftains of their teinećtiore Abips."

All the refulations were pefied nets. 6ow. afser which the Hoafe adjourned.

Nov. $\rightarrow$

The Sproker a-quanted the Houfe ghat he had reccisid fron Admiral Hotham an ahtwer ts the Vote of Thanks thit had beca paficd to Lim by that Houfe, in which he expreffed how highly lie was honoured by the fame.

The Speaker informed Admral Lord Bridpolt, that he was authorized to communicate to him the thenks of that Hou'e for the bravery ditpiaced in a muft pecusar manner, in maintaining our ruannem glory on the 23 d of June lati.

Hi: Lordhin returned thanks to the Haufe for the tromour.

The Speaner then communicated the fume 10 Vice Admiral Gardner, and Lord Hugh Seymour; to which they feveraly retur, ed anfwers.
The O, der of the Day being read, for guing farther into the fubject of the high price of corn; the Houfe accordingly refulved ifelf into a Committee, Mr. Ryder in the Chair.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer faid, that the fubj ct which he had to lay before the Houfe for their enquiry was one of the moft important that could come thetore them; they mull therefore apply any remedy that feem. ed beft to them to remove the diftrefs. which it was the intenticn of their pre. fert delheration to alleviate. He pro. pofed that ins bufnefs flould be re ferred to a felect Committee, which would make eveiy enquiry, as wel refpect. n , the caufes of the fcarcity, a the belt roode of obviating fuch a fcar ciry; and that their bufinefs fhould b factliteted, as much as poffible, b every information that could be afford ed them by the Executive Govern ment. There was a law, he fuid, re 1 ing to the Aflize of Bread, whic cupla to be tald before his Majefty' Prevy Council, that mears might $b$ adoweri of regulating the proportion $i$ pitu, between bread made of all for (if glain, and that of wheat only, i order that imputirion might be guarde asaini. The molt certain mode ' rtlieving the prefent want would $t$ to adopt, in common ufe, bread, n . culy mixed with all kinds of grain pri duced in this country, but alfo wit Indian corn and potatoes; bread ' this kind, he was fure, would be wholefome and palatable as that mas of all lour: Firt, then, as to the lay yelating to the Allize of Bread, he d not thank them fufficiently explici whence their might arife a very gre grievance to the purchafer; there w avother circumflance, though not extenfive, viz. that a confiderab quantity of wheant was confumed in making ftarch; forchmight have been importeil, hut fome rime fince was prevented, as it wes fuppof d we had a fufficient qu-nti:y of wheat on hand, which, being fope:huons, might the ufed for that purpoit. He could wifh that thofe a toces wheh were not neceffiry for the food of man might be ufed for this pupafe; for the fe reafons he would move, that a Bill might be breu; hat in to prolbibit $m$ *king fta ch of whe $t$ for a limited period, and foi lightening the duty on the imporration of that article; he would alfo move for a Bill to pievent the wbinruc. tinto removing grin and otherarijcles of provifion fiom nue pirt of the kingdom to another. He concluded by moving, that the Chirmen be directed to move the Houle for a Seleet Comin ttee to equire into the high price of corn.

Mr Fox was far from objecting to any means of fupplying the deticiency which had been tlarted by the right honourable gentleman ofpofite; as to the aflize of bread, no dount but fome regulations were neceffiry ; materals were never dearer than this fummer, and he was fure that the b kers gained very lattle; he had eaten very gond bread $m \cdot d e$ of v tions grains; but the queftion was, whether, when gen le. men wihhed to make experianens, thofe wo ld anfwer their expentions, or whe her, if a mixture of one flurth was uled, it would fave ne fourth. The fiarcity did not aricic from the fmalinels of the crop but itom an increafing contumption; mear, as we! 1 as corn, was farce, which arofe fiom a foarcity of food for anmals; the produce of daisies had not talled, itt bater was at an enormous hich price. The war particularly was the chicf caule, as it increated the general confumption; and nothing would make matters worle than if thofe who fat in the commitee would auribue the fearcity to any one caufe, but to a complacation of virious caules. He cane now to another point, which was the diftilleries. $\mathrm{H}=$ had heard, that a total ftoppage of the ciftilleries would inju.e the revenue; if this was the oniy lols, he conceived it well paid, not onl $f_{j}$ in money, but in any thing eife; and, on the contrary, if the people continue to ufe foreign Ipirits, thi wosld, by the duty, increafe the revenue coniderably,

The Cbancellor of the Exchequer ex-preff-d. the great fatisfon ..n he bad in the concurrence of the ri, it bon. gentleman; ose of the misfortunes of la.t year wace that the w nter was fe-. vere, and the rpring lare, c.nfequantly cattle were, brought in marke: lean, and more of them dettroved, which accouned for the high price, f meat at pefent; the war no doub hat cont:rbured to the fourcty, as the moft ferile onantries were encaped is it. Ifd Atile:ies "ere foppod, the revenue would be wealiened, and fmuggling incre ed ; but, even under all thele inconvenicnc he wrou'd readily con-fen- to at on the difflleres for a year, foould thave the defiet efist.

S:veral wher member ip ke; after which, leave was given :o bing in a Bill w mend the laws re ative to the allize of breal, and to prevent making fturch of wheat and to permis the impurtation of flirch, and otherast cles uled therein, dury free;

A B II for pr habiting ditilleries for a lunited time; and

A B.il to preverit any obfruftion in the rabipurtation of geain and other artic es if provition trom one part of the kinguom to another.

$$
\begin{gathered} \text { H. } \quad \text { OF L O R DS. } \\
\text { Nu. } 4
\end{gathered}
$$

Earl Mandinthil, tehad is in command trom his Majelly to prefent to the Houfe copies of tivo proclain t:ons which had been Iffucd, the one on Saturday laff, ffluting a leward tor the arprebration of the pe:fons who had io grouldy infulted his Majelty on his way ro aid form Porlizmen!; and the ofther this day, atartiled to all隹eriffs, mavo's, juffices, conftables, and atl uthe, has Mijefty's loving fubjeds, to aid in fupprefin thule affemblies :which wer: held for Ioditious purpofes. Thefe ptaciamations were read, and ordered to lie upon the table.

Earl Spencer, after a very fhort introdution, moved the thanks of the Houte to lord Brdport, admirdls Harvey and lo.d Hugh Seymom, the offcers, marincs, and lailios, ferving under them, for their conduct in the engagement on the 2 jat June; all of which palfed unammoufiy.

Lord Romney wilhed to know if the noble lord intended to pals ove, in filence the eminent fervices of admiral Cornwallis on the asth of June; in his op:nion they were as brilliant, and as much to the homone of the Britifh nawv, as any our hinorv can howf of.

124 Farliamanary Proceedings af Lords and Commons in I795-6.

Earl Spencer admetted that he had not intended to have moved for: the thanks of the Houfe to that gallant officer, not from a want of a due fenfe and preper efimarion of shat tevvice, ber becaufe he underfioot that honour 1 d not buthento bietn etlicd fur but when fome great fucreta tad foltowed the exer:on; mererbelcfs, as the s.o.
 bimféf the homurn to ptop te rise mofiens as he had drawn them up. His lord?aip then mavel the thanks of he Honfe to admiral Commallis, the offii. cers, and men, for their conduct on the 1 sth of June; which being putand carited, the Fhoufe adjourbed.

In the Commons, the fame day, the Houfe baving refulved ittelf inte a Committee o" S pipi; it was moved, 1h. 110,000 Reanter, mold ding 18.000 matines, whth the fum of & fer murth jer wan, including the out naties for the fea fevice, be granted whin $M_{1}$ jefly for the lervice of the ytar 1796; which was carried.

H. OF LORDS. Nov 6.

The proclamstions of the 3 halt. and $4^{\text {th }}$ inft. being ica';

Lord Grenville fiated to their lordnips the necerfity there was for ma. king an $A C$ for the farther fecurity of his Majefty's perfon, the more urgent on acerunt of lditious meetings, and the late attempt on bis MI jefty's perfon. His lordihp faid, huwever noble lords might differ with refpect to reform, on this pome there could, in his opnion, he no difference, is it was nor whether his thing fir uid be, or that done away, but whether we fhould bave any confitation at all-... the monarchy was in danker, and every thug dear to us was a. fiake; but a this moment he frould only move, that the Bll be printed, and read a ferond tine on Tue'dy y pext.
Tite B 1 ws then read, intituled, "An riot fo tise farther fecurity of his M jett's petton, &ec."'

The purput of it, making it high treafon whill, wound, afdatr, ix. the krge' perinin; a higt mildemeanour, to utier ny fedi i.us exprefino lending to excize dillaff Etion in his Majelly's !ubjucis; and lawful for the magifrates to ffop any public meet. ings, ikely to bieed difcontent in the publi mind.
The Earl of Louderdale exprefed, in the warmeft and moit unqualified language. his utter, reprobation of the meafure; he confidere: it as :n attempt to deprive Enslifhmen of the only valn ble right they All poffeffed, then of affeming and deciarine their fentiments on poitic. 1 queftions; fuch a proceectro miliated againit ail the miniferial ducl sations of the loystity of the peope; if wey were fo, why was fuch a meafure necelfaiv? He ridiculed the idea of appe-ling to the precedents of uncmicuthened and 'yrannica' reigns; shey were theo fuppored to enjoy the confitut on : fierted at the Revolutu.n. The refent Bill fems to go to dearive cuery defeription of gren of the porver of affembing, by its makine ta exnef exception ta faruur of both houtes of parlianemen. On the whole, he confilered the meafuie $\mathrm{a}^{2}$ one of the moft unwaranted, arbierrary. and uncunftutional proceedrags of any that had ever been atteranted br anv fot of oninifers fince the infficuition of the Englith monarehy.

Lord Grenville faid a few words in explanation; afer which, his motion for pristong the Bhll, andifix. $n_{R}$ its $f e$ cond reding for Tutiday next, were put and carmed.

In the Commons, the fame dav, Mr . Hobart brouglt ep the report of the Commitee of Supply, viz. that 1 10,000 men, imelosthg s 8,000 marines, be voted for the year : 796 . Read a firfe and feconct time, and agreed to.

H. OF LOR DS.  Novsmberic.

The ordinary bufinets being gone through, we Dake of Portiand prefented a petion, bianed by a number of perfons, paritig that tome neature, fimilar to the brif which ftood as the order of the day, mish: be adop?ed for the fuppiction of S , ditious Alformbhes.

Lad Grenville hen rote to move for its fecond reading. He fortiy went through the clautes of the bill, and maiatained th. $t$ the exiftung circumfances of the ume: rendered its adoption necefiary; fhuld it, bowever, fo far meet their Lordthips approbation as to be fent to a Committee, he fhould muve in that Commattee to have the ords "advifed fpe king" omitted, ecaufe it might be thought by fome as xtending the penalties of the bill ron ar. He adverted to what had been rid in coonfitinn to this hill on its for atrodusinn, and felt himfelf at a infs o conce ve, if the onpofirion fhrould e connmued. upnn witat goands the igh ennes the made ufe of were ri efupported, anv more hin he could nagine how it w s potfible that the lea of its neceftery mould be denied. The daring and outrageows infult upoh his M. $\mathrm{M}_{\mathrm{j}}$ efty. in coming io and goig from that toufo. :va a norortuus at; and in what a fit at on mull il:e ountry be fuppofed to be in. when the overeign could notcome to Partament If fafty? This proved there were dif. fected perfons; and it was equally oorinus that meetings were he!d in te vic:ney of the mermpnis, fir the ery purpofe of difem'nating fediun: nd niffeading the people, one of which ad taken place almof upon the eve f the ourtage being committed, and hich he detied any man to fay, was ot conneged with the infamous ąt. Vritings alf, of en inflaman tory reaency, wre induffriouly circulared, ndeverv appearance dailv inireated , threaten the Conflitution. Tocleck refe, and preferve the perfon of his Aajefty, was the objeet of the bill, hich had been framed upon a fimilir bill palfed by our ance ioro in tae eft of times. To thofe times his Iajefy's Minifters had referied in re prefent exdency o! the Siate ; and, nlefs fome argaments to hew its im. ropriery fhould be adduced, he hoped would meet the approbation of that loufe.

Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6. 125

Ti e Duke of Bedford declared, that e fill confidered it as the moft ob:Ctionable meafure that ever was rougha forward, and tirat it would be re forcrunner of the lofs of Brit:th eedom. The provifions of the bill, e infifted, wele not caiculard to enorce the principle, even provided fuch bill was wantene; nor did it contain ne fecurity for his Majeffy's perfon hat was not better defined in the $\mathrm{A} \&$ hich paffed for that purpofe in the :ign of Edward IIl. Confidering it, lerefore, as unneceffary as to the ad it was propofed tor, and injurius to the hiberty this cyumry had fo ng enjoyed, he was determined to ive it his negative.
The Earl of Lauderdale was of the ame opinion, and took a view of the bill at fome length, as to its enåtments of thigh treafon, which he frongly condemered.
Earl Monsfolld followed in fupport of the bill, and 'pike in a high Arain of panegurick of the many great and gund qualifies of nis Majetty.
The Duke of Norfo!' oblerved, that an aigument ufd by a noble lord (Grenvil's) in behalf of the all, nameIv. thet it wou'd prevent nothing which was not punib blo by the prefent laws, feened to ham to be an argument again? the neceffity for it. As to that necelfit, he hovever thought, that whatever ended $t$ prevent intorrustion in the intercsurfe between Fis Majeny and the Parliament was defirabe : and $n$, man could be more riady than himeflet to thel er the Sovere:gn from every for: of nutrage. The sate infult had proceeded much beyond the groans which had been the ufual, and alanot the on'y, mode for the people to exprefs ther grievances; yet it thould be recollected, that an huadred thoufand could rarely be affember ay where, amongt whom $\mathrm{a} b$ unditti of thity or forty defperate mifcreants might not be found; and thit there were fuch among the populace on the lite occafion thould not be urged as a proof that their cutrage had been planned by any political fer fetof men. The noble Duke, though he approved, in fome degree, of the firft claure of the bili, that telative to treafon, objected therefore to the remainder; and thought that, as to the whole, the proceeding flould have be:n by the appointment of a Committee, as in a former year, to examine isto the circurntances which were fald to make the b it neceflary. Not being ${ }^{\text {rable }}$ to approve the bill in its prefent fitate, his Grace foid, that he muft refufe his vote to the fecond reading.

The Duke of Bedford expreffed, with much energy, his refolution to oppofe it in every flage, and by every legal means.

Marquis Tozenfend defended the Bill.
The queftios being loudly called for, the Houle divided. For the fecond reading, 77, proxies, 23-100; againft it, 7, proxy, 1-8; majority, 72.

The Bill was then read a fecond time, committed for to-morrow, and the lords ordered to be fummoned.

In the Commons the fame day, Mr. Dundas moved the thanks of the

Houle

126 Ferviamentary Proventins of Lords and Commons in $1795-6$. [Fe

Flowie to the fon. Admira Commaihis for the ereat athiltics and dotermined courde which he difplayed on the 15 th, $: 6 \mathrm{~h}$, and $1 \mathrm{yt}^{\mathrm{t}} \mathrm{h}$ of June. Azead to $n$ ons con ans adderet thas tie tharks of the Houfe bealfo given to the officers and men under the Ad. miml's command.

The Canceltor of the Exitequer moved, that the two Preciamatiors lie read, name!y, the firi, which was inced on the $3^{\text {tit }}$ of Otoher lity, and the ferrnd, which was iffied on the $4^{\text {th }}$ of November, in conferi=nce of the ourageous atack on his in jeft; after which the Ciz-nrellor of the Dxchermer obtrued, the the of cuinfances which had grven rife to the Protamations wate fo well known, and had mate fo tirnog an impreffion on the mads of all the liembers of that Houfe. tiont he would not detain them by dwellog upon tafts woth which every perfon muf be acqua nted. After the dairg and troc ous attempts which had been made upon the facied perfan of the Sove:eiyn, and that tatime when he had been exedching ore of the mait important pirs of his $k$ rety office; after an out age which not andy threatened the defi. uction o. the Xlonsth, but of the whole Comativion cif the country; everyman muft tel, and the frit impietion on has aind mat be, that fome correduas nugh tw he gaven to the aw. in order in diccostudnefs. The fi:ft impaction Should be that of adipting meafores for the itfery of Members of Paliameni. By a funfe of their fafety, the? were catied upan to fupport the danity of thatir body, the extllence of whith was tuseatened, ns well as the othe: hronch athe Combitution. Tite floule was rolowis back at thofe principles whi.h fod an eff.et in producine the outrages that 1 ely inappened. The firt temiments Gentemen meff feel would be thofe of herror and indignation at the irfor chated to the Sovercign: the ferond ientiment, that of the necefo fe.. of puting a foop to all faditous atemblie and difisyal meatings, whath wes comfantly infamene the monds of wainfortacd petlows. The Houfe was never more ardently called up:n by She cruart than rin this oceation, to adere treafures that might preverithe caufes of fuch aris as had lately tak.n piace. Thas would be the objoct of the monn wheh he had to moke. He was fo conrimiced of the necefity of it, that he frould fetl a dinruf of th caute it he dwelt on i: anv longer $E$ fluk theretare conclude by morin "That leavelic g.veato brax in a Bi for mone effe Aumily preventing Sedit ous Mretimes mod Afferb ies."

A: Fis lall, he trufted it was pe \{e8t uraterfiry for himto m ke at dectarcion as tr the indignation whit he te t at he anack on the facred pe fon of his A! jrfe. This bill w hold nur ar an addinnat eccuticy tot perfonal lifetw wf the Screvelen, which the pe fomal ffetur and vener tinn of the Monerch was maed wi the deliberatesons of that night; but was convineed it word not piove, additi nal fecurity. The conftiuti had foud many bundeedyears. Wa pot th- biws $n$ w in being luffiefort protest it? The; h d protecied it the woll of $t$ mes. It was hi inte tinntorefif hi S I neveryfage; ar :hat is m'g h have the fu left and fait dife fion, he datermoed to mo a call of the H.uute for that purpe that evely member might be refponfi to his country fo the confeq ance of

After a lone deb-te, the Houte di ded; for the monton 2i4. dganfit 4
(yo be continued.)
Mr. Urban,
J̌an 30

NO mention haring been made. my late worthy and ingeni! friend Mr. J F. Hill, except what con atmed io the verv juft cha acter ham initred in yur Obituary, 1XV. jp. 70i, 759, I am induces thanmit yut the tull wing memorab if a masi, whofe lefs whll ever be to the heme of deep regret; and whs quaficatmons delerve to be recorl by a fen verous and fertile as own. I had hoped and expected ts fuch a mbute would have been offel by firse amongh his numerous fie b Her calculated than mayfelf to do. tice to the fubject : but, ir defaul f a moic sble bigerapher, ; ou may $1^{\circ}$ haps not refuic iaiertion to the hebie ster of Viator

Mir Hill and the late Mr:. Wall, of A men's Grove, were the unly $\mathbf{c}$ dien of a confiderabie glove manutufer at Wrorceftur, whure that brah of trade is carried on to a great ext ; and is chichy in the hands of fev 1 opalent 0 kers; to which fect H li's fanly betonged. I am iz. rant of the place and mode of his 6. cation; though, from various circ ftances, and elpeciaily from his of .
al deftination for conmerce, I am inlined to think thit he was no fo eduated as to derve thot advantages of which a mind I ke his was canable, ind which woud moo e fpeetaly hovo rough hi talents to maturi y and noice. Being intended for the linen rade, I belicve he ferved an appreniceflip at Pontefrach, anid was ferwards taken in:o the houle of M. fic c. Dawfon and Walker, in Curninl', Londun, the 1 it er of whom, ation of the fea of Qarkers, bas previwotly mariisd Mir. Hil's lifers anc', hio fis. ther being duat, I thated h-lived wish his motier, wha h d quated Whuce ter, and $t$ ken a houle in Al-.-ice. But, a rind like :Wh. Hill, was the intent upor: 10 crice, and ronsace: a ter knowedge, to bie ahile to trei w much artention tp on trace; and be effoped as ofen and esearlyas a fible, fion its calculxing and concinas 100 c , to the more interening lufy of poe ry, antiquities, aned the cialmane athors of this and other ages; and 1 hate been told that, dung his per os, he wis concerned in a tranh litan, wich was afterwards fabliged. of the 13 in of Secundua. I am arecerain wh th 5 his tour t'trnugin Seotand, in ti.e tum-publifhed fort in dernita faces :n your Magazines in :7 \% and $17 \%_{3}$, and atterwaids in a prophlict), performed whifix he was yet eay, ef in bufine fs; bat, it afpeats :la: he when he farf whited the Continenc with his the: Mr. P.rfuns, with whom he travelled th onet Monce 10 Geneva, where they afianatde fome rated, and where Mr. Hith hodied the French langurge with u:s.matio: and well-rewaided affiduity. He was one of the party on an excurfion to the Glaciers of Saroy, when Mi. de Chint, a young banker of Conevi, lof has life by has temerity in feramoing amongit the fteepelt and thoft dangerous rocks, as is well known to stl who have fince vinied that countery; and Mr. Hill has u'ten told me, that he accompanied the unfortunate young man as tar as piudence would perm:t, and repeatedly and urgeasiy requeficd him to return with him to the fafe path he hid choten for his defent. The cataitroplis was iendered nont melancholy by the anxiety and forrows of the aged mothes of M. de Coint, ard be thofe of a young lade to whom the was betrother, "who were both of the paty to the Giaciers, ond whofe direfs Mr. Hill has frequear! mearioned so me as the mon magie !ene that he ind ever iv thefee?. Ater rambliag throughertious parts of Frence, Swizertant, and the Griins, MIr. Hil cofled the Alps into Itay, whera 1 firfe heard of him as Tuma, in Junc 17.6. as of an Enghiman, whote usbounded curion:y and great activity had find ced tim to cxploce the mul? untrequened $p$ arts of Petmont, and pariculatu ciat moun-

 "waing in hamer, and quivering is the ppersch of Rame's impendirg kiffe" line pendered fir ever intewhag to humanty. I azsin heard of PTr. th:ll in an ex urfon $l: n$ nde from Cented, in Sep numer 1786, through the durpuctil walley ot Nommelian. the mulefochaminy trentate, and, aucto the P th Sr. Berard, to the bah, of Cumajeur, in the dutchy of Abla, where he was tpaken of as the Quv and cherpufing Erg imona, w! had climbed mot or the tomenading mecthone actuble fon Curmjur :ha foom the villev et Chmouny.

 tomptad ben trutrated ondy by hae Hot math caly in foture 1787 , and as the very cay or ho andiva at Rome, thei Lhad tl ' pervecormeering M, Mill, with whom i dined at her. Jeakinj's, the b nker, ©s company whin Lady uliwe, sir Cecil and Iady Wha, Mr, (as, siry Pi hard Hi ate and fome cilari inghtamen, wno: ha: comertation was to me pecu1an ivintallig, and reflete with va1.ary of inturnation tel hive to feveral of the aatient citres of Tufiany, as Vitura atol Cheth, the oflond of Ella, and other places firuated on either hide of the curonon ine of travellers. Upur the lollowng mening ive accidimativ met at the C-pitel, where I found 17. Hill Lufied warting down his wbetrvions apon the eq̧utltrian Hetue of M. Aurelus ; which naterally becante the fubjet of our converfation. We finithed the day hy a vifit to the Cipitoline Mufeum; and a!! our fubfiqsent morn:ngs, during more than two monehs, wele palled together cither in the fudy and invelugation of the fplend d wrecks of antient Rom'n grandeur, or in the admi ation of the brilliant fpeciosens of ant que fculpture, and of the collections of thofe paintings which have inmo talized the 16 th century. To Mr. Hill's $t_{n}$ fte and judgement, as weli as to the lively tenor of his remarks and converfation, I was greatly indebred during the whrle of this giro around the antient capital of the world; and his merincus and good-humour, always rendy to difplay shemfeives in facetious rematis upon a vatiety of orcurences, were ingredients of ton effential a mature in fuch a purfuit not to devell upinas griaily contributory to my enre tamment. For the traveller, and even the enthafiafic traveller, wili, i think, candial: allow that, a!thowh the mind ran never be cloyed, nor the apperite be palled by the enjoyment of fach beauties and rarities as are "entained whbin the walls of Rome; yer, from varuus caufes, both phyfical and moral, incident to humas-mature, the attention may fometimes be jaded, and the chords of applicaten and enj yment be unftrung, fo as to require iome litthe mixture of merrinent and pleafantry in order to rutore them to their propert we, and give a fiefh rilh to the purfuit ; not did I tver fee a paty attending Mr. Bries, or any other Ci. cerone, upon whole faces, at fome time or other, "ere not portrayd the ftrong indications of wearifomentis and relaxed attention, and to whom a rencontre with another party, with which thev could converfe upon common to. picks, was not a coidial that gave immediate relief to the mind, and confequenily a charfol torn to the countenance. In April 1787, I leff Mr. Hill at Rome, where, and in the neighbourhood, he remamed until the commencement of the hot weather induced him to repair to Naples; whence be, in the following winter, madt an excuafion to Sicily, and, I believe, to Malta. He was again at Rome in 1788, and lived there in great intimacy with Cardinal Botgia and his Danifh friend Zoega; wo men of the moft amiable and virtuous chare ©ter, of very diftinguifhed rank in the republ ck of setters, and deeply verfed in Onental learning. From Rome Mr. Hill traverfed the Appennines to Loretto; and thence went, along the fhotes ot the Adriatic, to the antient and little-vifited caty of Ravenna, whofe intereffing remains he attentively ftudied du-i ring fix weeks, and where, as at other places, he made drawings of many inedrted monuments of antiquity, and collected every thing of note relative to the hiflory of the city and its diftris. From Rav nna he travelled by wav of Venice to Vienna, where he paffed feveral weclis much efteemed and careffed be that eminent jodge of merit the late Prince Kiunitz, who was fingulayly picifed with his frank and open manners, and with that in: nocent zaiety of heart, which didain. ed the mafik of fudiod refinement, and flowed h mas genu ne as Nature formed him. Leaving V enna in the cold Spine of 1789 , he took the ufua! route by Prague and Drefden to the capiral of Brandenburg, whence he paffed throue in Bronflick and Caffel to Frankfort on the Main; and then, by the pivurefque channtl of the Rhine, Mrillard, and the Low Countries, terninated this his firf comtinental tip of Sive years ie the following abtumn. In November 1790 I found him in the nidft of books, iwaps, prinis, foffils, and oher fpecimens of the love of Sience and the Arts, in a houre which he had hired in Charlotie-Areet, Portland place; and 1 frequently walk: cd with hum in the fairts of London, accompanad by forme Italian greyhounds, whore add nicks, with the appendages of jingling bells around their necks, ufually drew upon us the attention and remarks of fuch perfons as we chanced to meet. I left him in I.Ondon in the Spring of 1791, in the funmer of which year he joined me at $S_{P} 3$, the waters of which place, he thoushr, would be ferriceabletohim as a tonick; for, lee hast been very much indifpofed during the winter, and had a new vous affecticn in the throat, which was peculiarly drieffing to him. A circumfiarce nccurted at this place, which I cannot he: p relating as highly characterific of my deparied friend, and as redounding to his honous as a man of firit, feeing, and bumanity. A repert was one morning current at Vauxhall. th:at these had been a riot at Paris, in :rmich fome lives had been loft; and, upon the Duke de Laval coming in with letteis from that capital, a groupe was formed around him to enquire how far the report was to be csedited; when the Duke faid, that there hed indeed been a riot at Paris, and that one man had lo̊ his life, ## 796.] Biograsbical and Literary Anecdotes of Mr. Hinl.

mais que ce n'étnit qu'un avocat de 'aris." To this hauglity and unferl12 obfervation Mr. H.ll, with pioper adonation and emphafis, replied, Mass, M. le Duc, il f.ut fe fouvenir u'un avocat de Paris eft toujours un omme?' a retort which binught conietion home with fo much force, even o the heart of the D ke (who prabaly, under the old fyfem, had reckned a plebeian life of no account), hat he, as it were involunariy, though oldy, anfivered, "C'e.t wrai."
During Mr. Hill's refidence at $\mathrm{S}_{\mathrm{P}}$, e gave the following figral prool if is activity and ftrength, as well as of is fuperiority and mdifference on the eflexions which might be calt upon iim by men of polnentis and refine nent. Our converfation luming one lay, after dinner, in compapy "i h Mr. Charles Talbot, upon Mr. Hh's reat puwers in walkinц, which, thoue? knew to te confiderable, I thougite ae rather over-raied, 1 ventured to b t iim ten crowns to bre 1t the could rot walk from $S_{;}$i io Ticux, a difance of five computed mile, whon he limits of an hoour. He performed , however, in 55 minutes, under the lifadvantages of a ful fomach, a wet and fluppery road, a heavy hower in lis tace, and the dolutations and eenarks of much if the Spis company who were re:urning from the place of is deftimation. and wh: did not fiffor aim to pals whome calling uper ham. hou ${ }_{2}$ h in $v: i_{1,}$, for aw exylmation of his rapid ty. Ater a dhers repole at Theux, be lofluely w ined back it? Spa. It is mot un vottiry of remath, that, altiough he was furrounded at Spa by ga ram-tabits of eresy de'upnon, and by vartous other inductments and allu:ements to vice and difGpat on, he fill hold his courle of mo. deration and abtinence unfaliering, and frequent's retised from fociets to the fudy of Eyptian abrrquities, and to the conpletion of a fee of hier gly. phicks which be n a cop. ing for Car dinal Brgia. As he aiways endeayoured to lodge in the mod elcyited and siry $p$ irt of the place in which he refided, he inhabitud at Spa a decent apartment, commanding the whole town and much of nes picturelque en viróns; of which he rock a veew fo accurate, thit I hope the pofficliors of tis paper will c ule it to be pielerved, by requefting vnu, Mr. Urbang to give it Gent. Mag. Fibuary, 1796.
a place n your Magizine. Towards the clole of Supember we com enced an inte elfingexpedition up the Meufe to Mezietes, ard as ofs part of Coamparree by $S$ dan and Montmed" in Metz and Treves, where we piffed three days in examining fome undaferibed and very curious remains of amien Roman grandeur; and then, e-nbirking upon the winding Mazelle, were conveved to Cobitniz, whence we fwam down the magnfient fleara of the R'bne to Duffeld rff, and termimated at Lige tha very fatsfactory expedium, a asch mv ner nious triend fas mentioned in ins 'Ouservarions upon the Polticxs of France," pub1.hed in the enfuire Spting. He foon atremerds r gair d t Pdris, whete ! f und him in the Docenter following, Infri!y indged in the Rue Mirabeat, and occuped pativ in iirerary itfearches at the noble patiblares whach that metropolic then atooded, and pardy in colle Efing ontelipence for the abovemontinated publication. And bere it is bur julf what, in anfiver to what ias been intinuated in the review of his p-mphlet, th t athongh. loke mof Enghfharn, he was a wain partzan or the French revolurion, which as its ouldet pronated fo much advantage t" all Eur.pe as well a to Hh cuantry in whol $1 t$ orgintuted, ha af erwa d, itronglo reptobated the in d, im: リlaic, dad tanzunaly, cond. ©t at the Fiench zetiots. and firequent y depr calud the culs which might ande to England ad oher countries from we intudukt or, and appartmly fiuded culsevation, of fuch of the princ ples as evidently tended to she deltivetion of all order, and of the various !yttems of govermment eftabifhed and refpected in the d fierent ftates ot Europe. At the cle'e of the yedr 179: M, H 11 rururned to Enyland; Dut aga:n valited Spas in July, 1792; whence he wote to me thet he was more than ever bured in malteries and heroglyphoks, and cevered with the ruit of Egyptian anuqui $y$, beng defired by his friend Zoega at Rome, who was enaged in publifhing upon the obe: 1 iks erected by the refigning Pupe, io anker a variety of queries, and that be had confequently transferied his ideas from kings and rational affenbles to batilifis, alps, and homed vir pers, and from $G$ atic revolutions 10 the etemal Atablity of Egyot, uporg which
which fubjects he had written five folio fheers, and had brought with him materials for three more. Upon his joining me at Heidelberg early in Septem. ber, we $m$ de a great variety of excurfions in the picturefque environs of the Neckar, and terminated thein by afconding the Melibocus, a lofty mountain in the landgraviate of Heffe D'Armftads, commanding a molt exrenfive vicw of the Palatinate, and upon whofe fummit the late landgrave erected a white pil'ar, confícicuous from afar, with an infeription in honour of the Catti, the anrent innabitants of that pait ${ }^{\text {a }}$ ? country, which in German geography is fiil called Catzenellenbogen. I now alfo had the pleafare of introducing Mr. Hill to ! i: Rovil Highnels Pince Auputo Engiont. who nur we witi: a vilit on has palions chroagh Heidelberg rowards Italy, atal who was muctia pleafed with that genteman's chearEulnefs and information. Upon le wing she Palatinate in OEtober, Mr. Hill walked along the banks of th Ne:kar until they ceafed to peefent any pillurefque iencei, was cien travelied, in what the Germans very inproperly call a diligozce, to Hall and Anpach, where be was furprized to find the Gallic panick had comannicated itferf to as to induce fore of the int bitants (1) gu's the phace (the Piench under Cußle were then preading tentor bot's of we Ra:ne), and - - licule wis tiruwa . . $\quad$ ', ve for hats lare marIR : : Lany Craven At Nutemi. Leve dili inpurtans and com-xine paned when he difiributed the produtions of the Eatt through Nouthein Europe, he palfid ten davs, amuing humelf with litetary purfints, for which it affords a very extentive field. Alter jouneyng through a part of the wide-By-extendiad terincties of the Duke of Bavaria to Ratifoor, he traveiled along the banks of the Damube to Ulm, in hi; way to Stutgardt, where I had recotmended him to an ing"nious and wordy friend; who, findint lim intent upon clofe application to sho German language (of which he thea knew but little), fred him at the neighbouring waverfuty of Tubingen, as a place whese he would this much litefrary fociety, and have but little opporrunity of breaking-in upon his plan by Fanch ard Eaghan converfation. In December he wrote to me that he hac: made fome progrefs in German, whict he found very harfh, and which he be. gan to fufpect was not forich as wa: ufually afferted. "It has indeed,' fays he, "a multitude of minced fyl. lables, which are cut to pieces, anc put tegether again as neatly as may be: but, a ter all, it is nothing but mutton, however it may be ferved upor table." One afternoon in the enfuing January, I was gready furprized by the fudder appearance of Mr . Hill who told me thar, having been electec a fellow of the Antiquarian Scciety he list thought proper to return im. rediatel; to England to attend the meting:s. He was now a paflenger in the Stutrgardt diligence, but had quit. ted if may mies fiom Heideiberg, and had saded through bad roads in drcadful weather in oider to give the tivo or tinte hours of his company. He accor lingly deparicd about inid. night; and, to my inanueregter, thit w is nay laft incerview with a man whom 1 fo t.uly valued, and whin whom 1 had hoped to pats many yearsot frend. Iy antercourfe. In M rch, 1793, he wrote in me, that he had wainoly cfoap. $d$ being taken by the F ench on he patiaze from Holland: that the deligatol feen-ry anound Headelberg, the platent laus the had paif.d there, wor fally "alks, and the evening of tice noh apequang ar $S_{i}$ 're, all remai: as vavilts mpertided upon the fen, fi. aro of has inaw.bation in colours whi fe grateruinets would enfure their durawia; and that he law, da a p.ff. ing vifion, the laft evening he had panisd wh me on has tond to England.

In anothertettes, wrata upon he 6 h of $A l_{i}$ ift, he lays, "thu:gh my prenciples ftrinaly tend tonards peace, I am rally convinced that the war has been chamatiy benthera or England, by preventurg the abluad and extravagant doatraes of Gaile republicanifm from becomang arucies of irce importhion moto Brica, n." And this Inotice as anozner proof how very highly he difapproved the conduct of the French, and hoiv averfe he was so the incrodution of tyfiems to oppohte to our ettablithed form of governmenc. Upon my return to England in October, 1794 , i found that he had jult quitted London, and taken his flygt to the Continent by the way of Harwich and Helvoetfluys; and, in March ri99年, he w.ote to me flow Rome, that ae Englifh then refident in that an. enr capital excteded all former eximple; that he was vexed and aftoiflied at the ereat lack of tatle which is countrimen cwinced by the trivoous emplorment of their time amidft he fplendid monumenis of antient and nodern arr; ald that their projud ces gainli the natives of fuly were equ !-ill-'ounded, uncandid, and unbeoming. He apain nerires with aborrence the at ocitess cunmited by he Fernch. and d.pecates, as the rectef of all p while evils, the insoustinn of any of the: vile princifles nto Eegland. The lift leterr 1 ic eived tram hi.n wis daed Naples, Jec. 30, 1-94. and -ntornaed me, that te had pall a ap.afent and netulive veek in way at the int of h:s karnd friend Catinal B.n ia, at V-leti, vhence he had repaired to Tivoli, which he bad $m+d e$ his head-quarers bout three months, durtng which time he had made vaicous excu fions in the ricinity of Tivoli to the Fucine Inke (now called Lazo di Celino), Avezeano, Aquila, and other places in the singdom of Nop'es, had gained the fummit of Sin Cennaro, the lofien point of the neiphbou ing Appenines, and had vifited Marcellino, ont of the many places in the neighbuurhood of Tivolt retaining the great names of antient Rome, and which probaly had once helonged to the Marceilh. Leaving Tivoli in Auguft, he we: to Naples by the way of Monte C:fine, the great Benedictine coriveat, and, in October, croffed the bay of Naples to Sorrento, where he p: ficd three weaks; and it appears that se had thea in contemplation the expedition inen Calabria, which terminated fo faraily, and which the feems indeed to have undertaken without ciue rege do the noxious influence of the climae at particular feafons of the year. Aficr regreting that he was nit prefent at the great eruption of Vefuvius, he fays, in anfiver to my enquirits as to the then relative heighos of Vetivius and Somma, "The point of the volcano now cerrainly appeared to the ege very litete higher than Somana, iut is in teality feveral hundsed teet ligher; and it: is calcurared that Vcluvius has on one fide loit 100 fee, alad pearly 300 on another fide. The iava firin bu:f out of the noountain about a thind of the way duwn, but was increaled duting its cuurfe by the opening of feveral lower months, whofe combined imbulfe dirteled the torrent io Torre del Greco, whete at fifft it had not been Expected. It dearoved about twothirds of that town, wherla is faid to liave conrained frem 14,000 to 26.000 iilhabitants; bur, is the peorle were al! out to watch the progets of the 1avis long befere it advanced towards them, v-ry fow peffins tof their lives. The peint of Te'uv us feti-infoon altcr the eruption tonk p' ce"
Dange histiof vit to Reme. Mr. Hili lad hins purtrait paiated there by M. Guvin Hamionn a maferly performance: a noble he at, and a tuio king liknow is of nu fluat; which I. hope the preitat purfifir mav be picvarled up in to mulnply by the hand of fome cap tal engraver.

M: Hill's infatab'e thirft after knowled.je, activity of mind, and locomotive babit and difpolition, feem to have prevented him froal fleadily adhacring to the reduetion of h s though s into that form and garb in whice hey wo ald beft have ferved mankind, and, at the fame:m, inave contributed to hiv own more general reputation; fo that I canne help tegre:ing that. betore he lat quitiol E. -iand, he did not favour the pu! ". .s weth the offule of his obervatom, curng has vartous continental tuis; ior, as he was fure to Cuze every prumac. feature, and to fpy out every minutu charaEteriffick of the countries through which he paffed, as he often faw things through a new, but juft, mecium, and as be never failed to note down his thenghts at the clofe of cach day"s journey, has remarks, when dehreitd in the nervous Ayle for which he was diftnguifhed, would have afforded a varicty of ufeful and entertaining information, and would cerianily have parad hima amongt the chief oi literary travellers. I lanient allo that his late attention to, Egypian learning thould na"e checked the cultivation of his puetical tatents, whoch would have entited him to no mean rank amonglt the poers of our days, as fome lines he wrote upon a view of falien and decisy ing Veriailles do in particular mof abuncantly teft:fy. But thefe regrets are all tupericded by that, however unavailing! ter his fudden and early fummons from focicty. He died lamented by all who knew tim both at howe and abroad bur, vetily, 1 believe, "rullt febetior quain" VlatoriA.
25. A Fortnight's Ravible to the Lakes in Weltmoland, hanctaire, and Com berland. By a kambler. Sccond Ldition.

WE are happy to find that our lively correfpondent has raken in gand part the hints thrown ont to him in our vol. LXII. p. 1ri4; and has had the difcretin to lop off the excrefcences there noted.

The prefent rdition is infcribed "To Mr. Wilit am Nob'e, of London" (of chom a gond portrait is new given) in the f llowing manly terms:
"Wurs there a man on earth whom I efteen more than I do yau, to him fhould thi: book have been dedicated. You expir fied a wifh to vifit your native country. Moft willingly I accompauied you. A better guide I could not have had. Your approval of my deferiptions mads ine write with encr:y and fleenefs, and drew me before the publick. To nuake known the ma'y ohligations 1 am under to you would hurt your feelings; and I could not do juftice to the finject. One amongit the leait I venture to feak of. You ordered a captain of a hip, during hard times at Gibzaltar, to fuptl; me with whatever I wanten, either in meats liguore, or apparel. I will fay no more; hut in this littie I mean every thins, that is gratefel; and am, wath real enteem, my dear friend, your very obliged and fainfulfervant, Jos. Bedworta."

The Preface adds,
"I have now the good fortune to acknowldge obligations to the Rev. Nir. Holme, ricar of shap, in Wetireoblad, who has not onls corrected many arors fo wolatile a wititer is hable tw, hut hath favoured me with interening notes. Although unk nown to this clergyman, I have reafon to think, with thofe who feak of luine, that he is a man of eminent abilhties; and it is probably a lofs to the learned world that fo goon a feholur has heen fo lons concealed under fo fimall a lising-

> "To all the country dear,
"Shel puffing rici on furty prounds a-year." By fuch atiftance I with more confidence mest "the winkled brow."

Amony : e many additions interfperfed thoughont the volume, we recognife the "Villare Wreading," which appeared urigmally in our vol. LXIII. P. 300.

From the oher parts we folect fome exuabts.
"Yerfes on the Trent's heing violently Atooced July 22, 1792.
"Oft does the Trent, like Esppt's facred Nitc, Ruh o'er its banks, and featilize the foil;

Nurfe of the Vales! fhe fittens as fhe flou And, where fhe fpreads, the richeit herbas grows.
Bur, whon the defolating torrents pour,
The branch1..g ftreams, the farmer's hop devour; [fhee

Friend of the Vales! the Reals the lurkle

 And whirls them in t'e eadies of the dee The new cut hay, fo late with pleafui view'd,O the wild hafomon the ftreams is frew' Tress,that thl how tire elements withfioo Promifernus roll amidif the frant.c flood. Triumpinent 1 rent! mdigrant in her cours What can withtand her fi: $y$ (welling forch In this the Rambler, that for tumnus ran, Gave drink to cartle, and dilight to man; Clus'd the promid oflers in her am rous fold And varied hongs-through vartous winc ings told.-
But now, like France, a valt confufion reign Fouls her rough courfe, and defolates th plains;
[fer Defroys thole flowers her former hount And tears the humbie from their lowly bei Nought is fecure, and friends and foes giv way
To the impetuous tyrants of the day."
"Haverham, a vill:are upon a hill, famous for a fchool that has protuced inm srcat fcholors, and recently wiforturate b two youths heing drowned near Leven: This accident, which near town would onl occanion the general gloom of a minute feemed to throw forrow over the face of th Sexton whilf he thewed us the grave, an narked the frong lines of his furrowe countenance with a look of fenfibility ( thought) that made an inpreflion in hi fason: we have often fince fpoken of.The prefent Bifhop of Limdaft's fathe taught this fhool for many years, with thi greateft credit and honour ; and at thi place that learned and truly refpectabl Prelate received the furt rudiments of hi education."

Scceral interefting particulars ar given of the Belinghans; and : quaint epitaph on Lady Rorothy Bel. lingin m, who died in 1626 .
"W'e had here an opprartunity of oh ferving that the hofpitality of Levens muf have been in the good old Englifh Ayle, fo:, the kitchen-grate is large enought u loait an $n x$; and 1 dare liy good eating and morocco* were plentifully diftributed
" Wher
*" A liquor made in mo other place in the king.lom. It la,s been peculiar to this houle tume out of mind; is of a ligh colour, and is made from malt and hops; has itn acid tafte, and dies not forment; for, if it ware to be lett in a glas for a week, they fay, it wond be eqully good as

* When the great Allan* 'rul'd this large 'donain,  [vain;

- The voice of Sorrow never mourn'd in
- Sootl'd by his pity—by his bounty fed,
- The rich found comfort, and the aged' bread;'
[boarle,
The jovi. 1 tenants fill'd the length'ned With reafed ox and good morocco ftor's.
But now, though withcraft in the woods is feen,
And falmon fill enrich the winding Ken,
The name of Bellinglam refounds no more, And Hofptiality has teft the door."

The effef on the Lake upon a calm day is pleafingly defcribed:
"No playfal Zephyrs the rich foliage fhake,
Or curl the quiet bofom of the lake;
The trees, the crags, and the high-tufted fteep,
Refect their heauties on the mirrer deep;
The azure foftnefs of a clowdlefs tiky
Tints on the furface-a colettind dye,
And, when through openings of wild verdure feen,
Adorns the ©hale of Natrte's. ! !heral green;
The little cot, that on the margin fands,
An equal thatch in the brght lake commands;
[fhate,
The meep, in clufters, maderne:th the In the dun umbrage of the deep are had,
Or, as they ftray upon the daified grate,
The ftarglers ghide along the hiquid ghats.
Scenes fuch as thefo the veteran wallsers cheer,
Toil is forgot-Contentment dwelleth near.
The bufy hay folks $\uparrow$, earlier thon the fen,
Quit not their latbur when his coulfe is done;
And many a time, on fuclia clowdlefs da", At morn 'twas herbage what at night is hay,
Stor'd in their houfehole granaries away.
Oh! what delight, where rural quet reigns!
'Tis peace to man, and pleuty to the plains,
Bloom to the fair, gives candour to the yourg,
Health to the ohl, and mildnefs to the ftrong. Be wife, ye vill.igers! quit not your homes; He neerer gains comfort that for bucre roams. Envy.and Prile attend the road to we:llt; Labur and Peace, t, innocence atid heathi."

In the chapter inciruled "Olfersations" we find masy Eqgular cuftoms, which our Rambier quo'es from the communications of Mi. Ho me. at the moment it was poured out. 1 comfefs I relifhed it; perbaps becaufe t'ere is mone of the fame fort any whore eife."

* The death of a Mr, sillus Belinghom, at an alvanced age, is record d in our Obituary of the prefent menth. Eni?,
+ "The grafs is fo fime, that, in a dov wike this, weliat wa cut in the morning is often houled in the eventrg."
"The queftion you ak, refpecing the blackfmiths, was almott univerfal within ny memory. The neighbours, on an appointed cay, went with their horfes and carts, and conveyed as many coals, gratis, as were fufficient for one year's con'umption. Thas was generality done in the Spring, previous to the commencement of their tilloge, that poor Vulcan might have no excufe for Blenefi or neglect from want of fues, and that every inhabitant might have his ploughthare and coulter properiy flarpened aganft the exigent time: thus you will obferve that accommodation was mixed with charity. It gives me pain $t$ o remark, that this landable cuftom is hanifhed from what we efteem our more priffed places. At the fome time 1 any happy to obteave, the cuftom is fill preferved in the more fequefterel parts, whe:e primitive poverty and unaffecied manness preval over invdern tefnement.
" The cultom of prefenting donations at the marriages of all ranks and degrees in the North is full in ufe, hut mare fo anmer the lower order. Every neighbur, and all the kinsfolk, profent fomething, accorcing to their ability -half a dozen pewterplates, half a dozen knives and forks, candlefticks, tea-kettle, ledding, and various other articles of furniture; fo that a poos. bride, upon the day of her nuptials, has a houfe comfortably furmimed. Pity but fucia a cuftom flould becone univerfal.
"A fervant-ginl, who has continued is the fame fervitude feven years, is entiles. upon her marriage, to a copper kettle, generally consoming from four to fix gallon: this is always prefented, except the bride chufes fome other equivalent in lieu of it.
"Another remanabic cufum at chnoltenings ftill prevails in the dates of the North. Upon the day of celebating the cetemony, all the matrous in the neighbour hood affemble at the joy ful houfe; and each brings, as a prefent to the good woman in the fraw, eilher a puund of fugar, a pound of butter, or fix pennyworth of wheaten bread. The bread is cut in thin fices, and phicent in rows noe above daother, in a lage kettle of iwenty or thirty gallons. The buter and furor are diffolved in a feparate one, and then prared upon the bread, whire it continues matil it has boled for fome prace, and the bread is perfectly faturated with the mixture ; it is then then out, and 'ferved up by way of defert. This canious difh is called buttered fups."

The vnlume concludes with the fol lowing verles, ormainally witen in 17 84 , at the reguetr of, and at the bungalow of, riett. S. W. Nangreare, a relidence near a l'zyan ruin in B.ngal.
"It is not good for man to be alone;"
Come, Nangreave! let us make the world our own;
In foft returement tafte the learned page, And live am:d ${ }^{2}$ the great of ci'ly arpe.
Immort 1 Shakipeare! muit uncyual'd ifand, [land;
The "fweeteft, wildent" greate ${ }^{17}$, in the Father ot thoughts! that neter hat b.en knos", [his own.
If Slakiptare had not made fuch thoughis
Ohd Dravton tells whence furings and tewns arofe, [srows;
Where beft the o.k, wher moft the poplar,
His vigorous mmd, and forurinizing eye,
No hill, io vale, no cufton, paff's hy.
Though has rough verie fuis not the modern day, [way.
Knowlt ge explaine, and Fancy ftrev, [he From Spenfer's tary vertes learn to lcan
The v.rious paffions in the nund if mar;
Midft flowers and breaks the gieat Protector leads,
Hope flits aloft, and facred Truth fucceeds: As he will $t$ ach the true poetic ftrait,
Take penfive Shenitone, and with him compiain;
[thought
Or Hagley's Lord, who never penn'd a
"A dying nan could ever with to blot."
Defcriptive Thomfon and kind Nature vicw, [too.
With love-ion Hammond, and wild Cowley Soft-flowing Waller richly wrote to pleafe; And pointed Swifr, with langhter-loving eafe.
Informing lope, in varied greatnefs dreft,
Iy fweete $t$ numbers fooths the glowing bi caft.
[Young,
Take hesven-taight Milton!-meditative
And fy with Diyden in his rapid fong.
Wore from correctnefs than poetic flame,
Priun fands high in the great roll of fame.
Take meaug Mafon--elegiac Gray; [Gay.
Alid "catch the manners" from the gentie
Read rovirs $\mathrm{L} e \mathrm{e}$, tumultuoully refin'd,
Who wrote withfuch itrong energy of mind.
Emphatic Oiway! whom the great difowr,
'Tie Mufe's farourite ('ut the Mufe alone!)
For Savage nown, and with his writings gl:w; [woe.
His birth, his life, his death, were fuil of "Rich-minded Camoens, Lufitania's bonf,
Tells all the dangers of the Cape's rough co.2ft,'
Of toils he Char'u- of Eaftern battles won,
Mickle trandates, and makes the theme his own.
[fand,
In one grand fcene-hus the great Vafco*
"Why ftand appall'c, of what are ye afrod?

- Do not ye fee the agirated main
- Trembles beneatir the world's aread So'vereign ?'
Th' affrighted fallors, by their leader cheer 'd, Hold taut the ropes, the helmiman truly iteer'd;

The flut'ring veffel f lt the faving fails, Aud rode trimmpliant midft the roughef gales.
More able feamen Oren never knew (Brtons aftie) tha: G :ma and his crew. Withluck eis ralconer tou foultocr be deep, Weep w'er the tate, and for has memory weep.
In numbers equal, thom ho in in defizn,
 Take Hombore the lamer of $n$ t are Whofe terlin; verfe appeirs in diggrel shime.
[rear,
Laugh with gav Serne, in ger:u'ne lanruage Though lefs, yet bielt wish fentment and wit.
[fimild, Burgell, an whom the Nine with pleafure In life's young fage-the flecting hours bequ:'d:
But, older grown, the Being rafhly dar'd To iufh from fcenes t.1at made hin une prepa'd.
Who more than Addifon the are improv'd? Who more refpected, or who more hel v'd? Midft ftings from criticks, thae to Virtue's caufe, [applanfe. Blackmore wrote well, but fekiom with And Philips tro. who left fofmall a itore, We tatte his citer, and then wifh f.r nore. Mild mitred Hurd, high ftation'd madt the bett,
With every vis tue that adorns a brealt.
Take modern Cowley, crown'd with living bays,
The firt of Fancy's children in our days. Maternal Smith fo terns the pout's part, Her matchlefs fonnets trill the feeling heart, (Not like the vot'res of a figh and tear, That in foft mumhers play ahout the ear). And with a Mufe of mind a Seward writes, At once infructing, and at once delights. Burbahd, though lait, not leaft that tune the lyre,
With ftrength of judgement and poetic fire. With fuch-and more, of whom the fes may boan, [them moft. Love them, aye love them, and appland In fweet recirement make all thefe your own;
'Tis thus, my friend, man never is alone."
"On Retiremint.
"Hail, fweet Retircment! Meditation, hail On mountain high, or in refponfive vale;
Where no rude voice o'erpowirs the varied fons,
While Echo trembles to the tuneful throng Or by a rivulet's pellucid fide, [glide Where the calm hours in peacefill lou'ring Or near fome monument of Pagan fame, Like $y$ on in rains, tho' unknown the name. Where the cloailid walls in mould'ring fragments lie,
And frike with grandeur the attentive eye Hail, iweet Retirement

1796.$]$

"When early fongfters, on melodious

 fpray,Salure the op'ning fplendor of the day ;
When the hright Sun bepurples the rich Eaft, Or fets majeftic in the golden Weft;
And when protectedfrom the noontide heat, Beneath the umbrage of fome dun retreat;
Or, when the moon expels the womb of night,
Or thine the ftars innumerably bripht;
Frankly our inmoft thoughts we wook inbend,
[ficend,
With thee, my firt companion, and my In fwect Retrenment
"Ob! that the waning years of life could he
Near the fam'd town that bleft our infoncy ; Where firft a follier's life our fancy ca:shi, And fild the breaft with manhmefs of thought !
Yee, if toot ihere, on Britain's ensy'd fhore, How we would talk our martial feries o'er! And, if each liad a low and loving wife, Thofe dear iolacers of declining life, How pleatiant to retrace pat? pariols o'er, And retrofpert what well we k:ew before, In weet Retirment!"
26. Official Letters to the Monourabe American onvef. Witton uixting toc War between toc Un te? Gulonies ant Grear Fritaii, by bi's f. alancy Geor ze wafhington, cormandel in (ives) of the Continental Forces, nowo I'refflent of the Uuted Stutes. Copred, by frewial Perimilucn, from the original Popers priderivel to the Office if tho Sccretary of State, Phadelptia. 2 Vols.
THIS cullection of papers, undoubt. edly genuine, the producton of an emineni perion, and illutrative of the tanfactirns vi a mof imposiant period, in which he bore a diftiaguiged oha e, cannot fail to be highty intereflirg. They bezome mire fo when confidered (as we are told, by the editor, in his advertifement, they ought to b) as part only of a mach more extenfive publicarion, compreh:nuing aimoft all the documents which can be wanting to throw light " on m.ny impnetant tranfations which liave hitherto been involved in totai datknefs, or at belt but obfcurely perccieed, and imperfeetly uadenfood." it will be rerdered Bill tarther valuable, as fetiing the tharacter of feveral diltinquithed men na clearer point of rictiv; many of the Interefting pieces whict it is fisd to oontain having been ponned by the caders and princupal agents in the American Revolution. We truft that the hopes held out to us wili, at no diftant period, be accomplified; and that the rarious information which the editor has had the good fortune to obtain fron fuch authentic lources will be given to us uamutilated, that we may be enabled to purfue, with fome juftexpectation of fuccefs, an objest fo interefting, and fo profuandly inflructive, as the knowlege of the fecret fprings of that extiaordinary political convalion. A people, not only refifiing, but throwing off, with an almoft unanimous coafent, their abtient government, bader which totey had bean profperous to a great degiee; who not only had fuffered no adtual opprettion, but had been protected and favcured; and soiry this upon a wery ontr of remote and polible conf quences, expeded to arile from a cham of powers not precifely dafined nor checked, in their ozinion, by fufficiant conltitutional limitatiosts; this is undouttedy a curious fabject of fecculation.

Curfideied in an aitorial Igit, the letters a a a moft exciufuely confined to the details of midary operations. Of many of the nof impo tant the publick has been ing in piftion. Many curious par isulars, however, rapecting rhe difirefs of the Americen armes at cuta:n prods, and the mores of fupping their wants, and reruiting their numbers, will here be found, which have hatierto bern foughe in vain, and which c uld not be expected hom ans other fource.

We fiod, accor lime to the eatior's adverifiement, that fome matenal inclofures are wanting. As thes ar - pro$m$ led in an apendix, the alfapprintment is fuitenti. It is uis the fame uiti refpect io entire letters which ap. pear to be warting, and which, we are toid, are not exiant. As to the omilfous diftinguifhed by afferifk, if is preper to obler, e, that there is n., iea. fon to fuppofe, from the cont.xt, ithat they are of fuch a nature as t, make them a fubject for regier. Delicacy towards individuals feenis to lave occafroned the greater number of thefo chafms, and will prebable prevent their beiniz ever fupplied. In fome places virulem and abufive epithets appar to tave been umitted, which neitier good manners nor good policy can w:h to have reftoted.

The declaration of independence rook place in July, 1776. It was prechimed by General Watlington, at the head of hi, army, with great prompticude ard alacitis and the manatr of its reception, which he deferibu in g .185 of
vol. I. fincws that the public mind was then fully prepared for the event. They who are moft perfuaded of the ambicion of the American leaders will yet probably be of opinion, in conformity to common experience, that the idea of eresting an independent fate rofe out of fucceffive events; and can with as Bittle reafon be imputed to the Colonies in the beginning of their efiftance, as a fyfernaiic defign of overturning the confitution of America, and eltablithing an abolu'e government there, to thic Britiha Miniliry or Parliament, when the fcheme of taxing that counery was firft embraced, or ar any period of the war.

In the courfe of the letters; hefore us feveral topicks of general and particuJar policy are difcufied with great elegance and force of language, and with Fiberality of fentinent, as well as pruJence, fag. ciry, and judgement. Among theie may be enumerated the policy of impofing oaths of allegiance; retaliation in war; the treatment of pifoners; the policy of enlifting prifonters and deferiers; the duty of Government to reltrain, in times of public diftrefs, the engrofing of necellary anticles to cnhance their price.

A propoftion for invading Canala, in conjunction with she French, i. ex. mined in a matterly manner. It is a finifhed piece of reationg, and deferves to beftuaied, set merely for the fivle, but for the inportint and intercfing matter it contains, by all whatipise 10 conduet or to underfiand public afifiils. It ought to be read entire, and is too long for iniertion. We thercfore refier our readers to vol. II. P. 342. Its iffeet upon the decitions of Coneret's will prohably remain unknown till the whole of tha: great collettion of flateparer, promifed by the editor, hall ilfue from the piefs.

Thefe letters muft give an lifg opinoo of $G$-neral $W$ arhington's abilities. It is but juffice to obfecte, that, in the advice he cffers to Congrefis, he always Jeans to the fide of moderation and humanity. He comments upon their meaSures with decent and refpedful expreffions, but with manly freedom; and fiews limelelf worthy of the confieience they repuled in thim. The letters are moflly written undier the preflure of a gieat variety of urgent, important, and complicated butions, in critical circumanences, and at tines of immisear danger, deficulty, and diffrels; yer, in point of fyyle and compofition, they are entitled to no codirary praife. They are remarkable for precifion, force, and correEnef; great accuracy of detail, and great porfpicuity of arrangement ; and may be received, upon the whole, as excellent models in their kind.

We cannot, however, but take no. tice, in decegation from our general praife for correcteefs of ftyle, that fume few Gallicifins occur; fuch as derange fur difarrange, grode for ftep, debark for difemberk. $&: c$. ; which we do the more fcrupuioufly, hecaufe it is a vice of the times, to corrupt the language by introducine foreign terms, without regard to the juh analogy of fomation, and withut any rational ground of preference for irelody, or force, to genuine Englffin words of fimilar import.
27. Aivice to a Sudent in the Univerfity, concurning the Qualifrations and Dutice of Fingland. Ey John Napleton, D. 7). Ganon Refrithtiay of Herefurd, Cbaplain to the Lcil Bijh op of Hereford.
CHAP. I. treats of the inportance and refpor fibility of the pattoral office; 11. preparation for deacon's orders; 1h. fur prictis ; IV. difchange of par. wral dutes, and adminiftration of pub. lic fervices; V. VI. VII. Vill. conproficion of fermons; fijle; matter. evidences; doArines; pecepts of re. liyon: $1 \times$. orivate imfluetion and ad. monition; X. perional conduct ; XI retidence; Xill conctution.

Chap. II. is full of excellent rules but the three years to be fpeat in: paticular preparath on for orders, afie the four of acadernicai education, is, we fear, li ble to mary objeftions, particu lanly that of bringing forward the courfe of education, and the expenci ill compenfated by thic preiere dittribu tion of bencfices.

The following caution, on readin! the Scriptures in the church, is un queftionatly jull, ani deteryes thi particular attention of toung divmes:
"In the application of thefe principle oae cincurifance is slu ys to be renem b red. You are not fipa aking in your ow peifon, nor seprefenting, as on a theatre any , "et; you are only reciting the word of a wist - , or hie ipeechirs of other per fons by thas recorded. Though, therefore it he convest ory fo far to vary your voic as to convey to vour hearers, and even : i:nprés uroan them, the fentirient of th writer or fpenker, it is nerfsctily incongrocus to attempt to phefent his tone or manner. Coufidering, moreover, that tio writer is a facred hifiorian, a propliet, or in apofle, and that the fpeaker introduced yy h'm is geverally a pronhet, or an apofle, or an angel, or our bleffed L. rd upon. zarth, or the Almighty from heaven, this Iramaric imitation apersaches to itreveence, and equally offends the piety, ard the gooci fenfe or taite, of the au'ience. It zas, bef. tes, an appear tnce of elabordteners and offentation, in itu performance furriy o ungraceful $x$. in the a ministat ion of the affices of religion" (1. 49).
The fubijert of .hap. XI (rofitence) night have been en'arged "pon. should, however, pruptr atemtion be paid to :his nu lidation, by cudents in fivinity and the yourger clergy, the Chuech of Ergland, and the Caufe of Reikion in general, will be under con ideraple oblyations to the learned iuthor.
18. An Fflay on the Progrefs of tha $H_{k m a n}$ Underfhanding. By J. A. U-Kevfte, M. D. A. 1 .

A VIRULENT attack on Religion and Moratir, in qeneral, and on Chrif. fianity in particular, with an imperfect riew of profanc hiflory, and a new fysem of moral phisofophy. ©: The preent fketch reprefents fome of the erore, vices, and inhumani:s, of our pretectfors, in order to convince man of is ailvancemert to pelfection, and give uim fome noims of tive rapid gowh of his underitand ng. Begotry, vice, :cclefialicai fup rftition, and 1. Etical atred, are feverely attacked, hecaule her gave origin to all the crueities, jerfecutions, and calarrities, under which mankind has groaned for ages, and becaufe real happinef's can never be obtained while they exif. Thi hifiory of politicks $p$ ints out the glaring erfors hoch of former and pretent fyftems, und fhews the tiue and $p$ oper fource of reform. The method of cuitivating pur und rftandings is la:d open before pur eves; and the beft books for ac. puiring a knowlege of ourfelves and he wurid are quoted in their proper places. Two or three letter which I wrote from the univerfite of Leipfick \%o a friend in this city gave rife to the prefent publication ; and, as philiffophy and phy foology are the fciencts which give us a true knowlege of the mental and corporal faculties of man, I did not hisk the prefert fubject beyond the limits of my fudies. It has been infinuated by my fiiends, that the prefent Minifry might be apt to takc (ffence at anv publication that tende.s to enlighten or infruft mankied; but, liinking this to the the confequerce of fome vague or calumnious report, I do not hefirace to put my name to this pamphlet." If the Miniffry underfand Mr O'K. no beiter than he does himfelf, he is perfectly fate in his own obfearity. Mr. OR. is of opinion, that Chriftiasity has corruped and debafed mankin't and he has given a iff of the belt writess on moral philofophs, including Hobhes. Spinnfa, Shaftefhury, Hucchefon. Hume, Forfer, F radyce, Ferguion. Paiev, Godwin, anil wemoirs of Planetes, in E.ogans, and a long lif of others a France and Germany: to the writers in the philofophical and med ${ }^{\text {cal }}$ departments in which latte: country he gives a decided preference.

Gent. Mag. Fiorruary, 1796.
A brief account of the religious, civil, and pelinical, it trigues that gave rife to prejulice, and formed the principal impediment to the progrefs of the human underftanding and focial happinefs, compule the following pages, which teiminate with a fketcli of the iiterature of new philofiph v, efperially that of Profetlor Kant in Piuffia. Mr. OK K efe is one of thole ficribhers who Aew their teeth without being able to bite; for, we will venture to pronounce that the Kantean foiem is almolit as unintelligibie as that of Jwob B=hmen All we learn from' it i , that, like the French, all firtt priac:ples are to be done away, and we are to legen with a new fec.

29. Sormons delivered at the Sunday Evening Leflure for the Wionter Sallon at the Old İwry. By Jofeph Fawcett. In Two Volumes.

THOSE who recolle? the KEurcs and difcourfe, delivered at the mertinghoufe in the Old Jewry, by former preachers, will not, perhaps, relifh thefe fermons. But, as fahion pr-dominates even in religion, they may be ralcu'ated for the hearers who !at under them when it was the fafthion to ationd Mr Funcett as it was once to follow Dr . Fordyce. The fentiments are fet off in flowery lanzuage, bordering, perlaps nut unfrequently, on bombatt.

[^17]!ation; ruitb copious Notes and Illusfrations, par'ly original and partly Yelectech from the beflommentators: calculated to render the Book of Plalms intelligille to cvery Capacity. By Rohert W: liam Wake, Vicar of Backwell, Somerfet, and Curate of St. Michael's, kath. 2 vols.
THE following fpecimens may fuffice to fhew the itherali:y of this new verfion. The fift two verles of Praimi. are tus rendered:
" Happy is the man who has ever ftadiount avoided all converte and affociation with the irreiginus, the impiome, and the profare; bol whofe delight is in the dome 13 w , and in an incelfant conformity to is piecepts."'

The hundredth Palm thus:
"O gl"ry in the ommpotent fovereign, all ye Pag necumine: adojt his womip with chearinnefs, and apprach his prefence with racieu humns!
' 2 . Be atfored that he Lord is the fuo preme and orily God; he it is, and not ourfetves, who created us: we are his chofen people, and peculiar rave.
" 3. O proceed ioto his fancteary vih grartuse, and int, his courts wi's prave! be lhankfol to him, and alle ehic name!
" 4 . For, the Lerd is eracions, his mercy is eterral: and his vernci y will operate to the remotert ponterity."

Who would not prefer, to the modern elegance of this laft claute, the simple vicrds " and his tru h eadurth from geveration to geferation?"

The notes, for which the atthor acknowledges himfele liefy indericd to [^18]former commentators, particularlv $P_{i}$ trick, Mudge, Nichols, Calmet, Dod: Home, are judiciounty felected, ar may be very uffeful to the uniearne rcader; but the learned mult not es pect much new light fiom this worl with refoce to the true reading or iet dering of the original text.

31. A Letter to the Lord Biffop of Worce ter; occulfonet by bis Serigures on Acc biffep coker and Biflop Louth, in 1 Life of Bthop Wathurton, now jrefieod bis 国uricu Edition of that |relate's iWona By a Member of toc Univerfity of Uxford Triss is an an:mared delence of ty very eminnt cha aders of the plete c: n:ury, whom Bifhop W Warhurtou's Bia g'anherfeem thave facrificed, w:tht little feerng, to the mane of his frien whule upmons they eid not ireplicit fallow. The writ r diwalls im re, the Archliflop, as bee has "fome re. fon the farpes be defence of 8 Bp . Low will unersken by a mac! abl pon" (p.7); and, in his refence 1)r. secker, he interweaves a jucicio deferce of Hebrew iearning, with : the requifies it in orives for the ftur of the Scrip uies. This letter is coue ed in molete thongh warm terms, al dics no difciedit to the Academick his Alma Mater. We have heald afcited to a learned commentator, one of the moin intricate of the proph ti: books.
32. Shrkfpear's MSS, in the Poffifion of $A$ Iteland, examinet. refpečing the intern and external Evididnces of tbeir Autbentici Ey Philulethes.
33. A Letter to Genrge $S$ cevens, Ef7. Co taining a crilical Framimation of the Papa of Shakipeare ptaiiffed by Samel It Ind. To which anc aldicit, Ext, acts fr Vortigern. By James Hoaden, Efq. A thor of Fontanville Foreft, ©ic.
MR. URDAN's Reviewers have n the fear of Ni. Samuel Ireland befo their eves fo much as to be preventi from faying that the latier of thefe fil pullications on the fubject contai much ftronger arguments on the neg. tive than the anon;mous publicatis on the affirmative, fide. For the re: we mult all wait for the decifion of t ] great Shakfpearean champions, whi they are plepared to enter the lifts.
34. An Accormt of the Life of Sier es, Meml of the fijl National Aldombly, and of 1 Comention.
WHAT, may it be afked, do 1 learn from the life of this cxtraordina han-but that he was neither fo coniftent nor fo extraodinary as he lias reen reprefentel? He was born it irejus, in $174^{2}$, was the fifth of feven hildren, and, trom the delicacy of his onflitution" clucated for the clurch, vhere, however, be bield the revenues vithour performing the duries, and op. ofed thateizule ot its poffeflions from ntereft. He was reputed to lave been he concealed fring of all the movenents of the different paries, yet conlucted himfrif with io mach dexterity hat, if the dil not tonk up to him for nfruction, he did net c.ecie their jeaoufy or mintup. The fucret of his refersation, in tie fucceffice onnvuiions, mult be referved fur time to deelope. Thoysil a Raunch frind to the heople, a note :n this piete fores, "they who talk of a mere crede Dencoracy uling a gieat enymice contwint that which is elfontialis the bafin or every bood republan condturion wh that which ought to be the mactrane, or pring." Having erawn up a plan of public clucation, which was rijus. in, ind the author excludad fiom the comnittee of puhlic irfiruction, where he add beea placed by the Conieminn, aere clefes the pullic life of Sieyes, who lives at preferit on an income of zhout 168 ! per annum, b-fides his pay as mermber of the Convcinion. Tiuis work is a defence ot Sieyes, probably by his own yen; but of his fincerity and difinteretiednefs we throughout want proofs.
35. Corip d'ceil polititite far P'Avenir de la France.-A political Viero of the future Situation of France. By Gen. Dumouriez.
SINCERELY attached to his country, though profcribed by her, the General writes like a fcholar, while he thinks like a flatefman. He begins with faying, that the French Revolution is a fliocking tragedy, direced by monfters, and fapported by heroes: taken in a militar: point of veew, it commands admiration; in a political light, it excites nothing tut horror. He flates the politucai errors of the combined Courts, and vindicates his countrymen from the charge of being aggreffors. We learn, with pleafure, that the odious decree which Robefpicrre obtained by his vile inflrument Barrert, to give ro quarter to the Englifh and Hanoverizns, was never exercifed. "Would to God," fays the writer, "the fame generefity had been flewn towards their mined councrvmen taken in arms! The decree againt the Enalin is cowardlv; that again 月 the Emigrants tyranncal. The French bave fhewn that the Genius of Liberty, mifled by fanguinary tyrants, is capalile of depiving the meft humane and polite amang nations of everv fentiment of nature." He fpe kes phaisiy, that it is the ireteroft of Fiance tha: Holland fhould continue to be a maritme pows of the fecond order, with her col nies in both Endies under a follid government; and that France hould pradife the mont generow contug twords their bu w allies; thes fhe hould enounce the diez of retaing conquafts, and flozid eracuate the German part or the Aufhian Nethe ands, leaving then a fuil mouth t) make choice of a goverament or terms with fieir former fovetizns. Ketaning fuch corqueft would make the Empeior defperare, an! the ex rtinus of the Gomanic Body would be vety different tron what the have hither:o beew, and, in ralit., a'armingy yeat. In lis chapters on posernment he obferves, that the Convertion has done littl" more than puli dow:, and that Denocrac, is not fit a:r defiratle tor the gevernment of even a village. I:s natural character is tubuibence, and 1. Wfile to ..very idea of fetted ranquillity. He deciares himfelf decidedly for monarchy, which, when modiraed iy a fins'e, he hefit?tes not to pronnurice the moft ferfect form of human government. He recommends the wakening Great Britain, as the rival from which France las molt to fear; and, inftead of invading herfaf, attacking her in India, where the is moft vuinirable.
36. The Roval Tour, or Woymouth $A m \mathrm{mfo}$ to the Laurcut; Pitt's Fiigbt to Wimbledon, an Ocie; du Ode to ibe French; O Ole to the Charity-mill in Windfor Park; $A$ Hint to a poor Democrat; Ode to the Quseri's. Elcobant ; The Soriozus of Suriday, uri

THAT Peter Piadar hungerech and thintieh i: not to be doubted--whether after rightequfnefs may be doubred. Xer, as the age will hot beas overrightenufnefs, we cannot help givine. the laft of thefe poems as a fecimen of the whole.
"The intended A mibilation of Sunday's harmlefs Amuiements, by Three or Four mofe butrageouly-z ahous Members of Parliarkent, gave Birth to the following Elegg. The Hint is borrowed from a fmall Compofition intituled "The Tears of Old MayD.y."
" Mild was the breath of Morn: the bluming fky [hair,
Receiv'd the lurty youth with golden Rejoicing in his race, to ron, to fly;

As Scripture fys, "a bridegroom débonnaite;"
"When, full of tears, the decent Sunday rofe, [gren:
And wander'd fad on Kenfingtw's fair Down i a chair the funk with all her woes, ['cene.
And touch'd, with tendereft fympathy, the "O hard Sir Richard Hill!" excla m'd the dame; [the;
"Sir William Dollen, cruel man!" quoth
"And Mifter wiberforce, for thame! for fhame!
To fpoil my little weekly jobilee.
"Ah! pleas'd am I the humble folk to view;
[ieft;
Enjoying harmlefs talk, and fport, and
Amid thefe walks their footiteps to porfoe,
To fee then fimiling, and fotrimly dreft.
"Since the Lord refted on the foucutio day,
Which fheweh tinat Ommipotence was $t i{ }^{\prime}$ 'd;
As Mofes, in old times, was pleas'd to fav,
(And Mofes was moft certainly in/pir'd);
"Why forould not man too reft?" 'No!' crics Sir Dick: [his knees,
'At brother Rowland's let him knock
Pray, fweat, and groan; of this damn'd world bs fick;
Of mangy morals crack the lice and fleas;
${ }^{6}$ Break Sin's vile bones-puil Satan by the nofe;
[the foul ;
Scrub, with the foap and fand of Grace,
Give Uubelief, the wretch, a rat's-bane dofe;
[each hole: And ftop, with malkins of rich Faith,
"Spit in foul Drumkennefs's beafly mug ;
Kill, with harp prayers, each offspring of the Devil;
Give to biack Blafphemy a Cornifh hug ;
And box, with bats of Grace, the ears of Evil.'

* Sufan, the conftant flave to mop and broom;
And Marian, to the fpit's and kette's art;
Ah! fhall not tbey defert the houfe's gloom,
Breathe the freth air one moment, and look fmart?
"Meet, in fome rural fcene, a Colin's fmile ;
With Love's foft ftories wing the happy hour ;
Drop in his dear embraces from the ftile,
And fhare his kiffes in the fhady bower: ?
" No !" roars the Huntingtonian Prieft" No, no!
Lovers are liars-Love's a damned trade Kifing is damn:hle-to hell they go-

The Devil's chaws anait the rogue an jale.
" My chapsl is the purifving place:
There let them go to waih there fins away Tbere, from my hand, to pick the crumbs, Grice, [pray.'
Smite there poor finfulcraws, and howl, an
"How hard, the lab'ring bands no re: flould know,
But toil fix davs beneath the galling load, Poor fonls! and then, the fovenb be forc' to go
And box the Devil in Black friers road *
" Heaven glorieth not in phizzes of difmay
Heaven takes no pleafore in perpetua fobhing;
Confenting freely, that my fav'rite day
May have her tea and rolls, and hob an nobbing
"In footh, the Lord is pleas'd when ma is bleft;
Aind wifheth not his bilfes to blockade 'Gainft tea and coffee ne'er did he protefl

Enjoy'd, in gardens, by the men of trade
"Sweet is White Conduit-houfe, and Bag nigge-wells, [forth her fmile Chalk-farm, where Primrofe-hill put
And Don Saltero's, where much wonde dwells,
Expelling work-day's matrimonial bile.
"Life with the down of cygnets may b clad! [track
Ab! why not make her path a pleafan "No!" cries the Pulpit Terrorift (how mad!) [hog's back.'
"No! let the world be one huge hedge
"Vice (did his rigid mummery fucceed)
Too foon would fmile amid the facred walls; Venus, in tabernacles, make her bed;

And Paphos find herfelf amid St. Paul's
"Avaunt, Hypocrify, the folemn jade,
Who, wilful, into ditches leads the blind
Makes, of her canting art, a thriving trade
And fattens on the follies of mankind!
"Look at Archbimops, Bifhops, on a Faft.
Denying hackney-coachmen e'en their beer ;
[repaff
Yet, lo! their butchers knock, with flef With tarbots, lo ! the fifhmongers appear!
" The pot-boys howl with porter for theit bellies;
[and pies!
The hakers knock, with cuftards, tarts, Confectuoners, with rare ice-creams and jellies;
[plies]
The fruiterer, lo, with richeft pine fup.

[^19]"In fecret, thus, they eat, and booze, and nod;
In tublic, call induigence a dumn'd cuvil; Orker their fimple flucks to sualk with Goct, And ride thembelics an airing with the Des'il."
57. Thanehts conceming the Methadifts ant tbe Finitilacal Cbuch Bi Gersye Coft, D. D. late $F_{i}$ bw of Unaerfity (ollege, Ficar of trn litte, in York'hire, Lectue er of St. A.artin's in Brominghan, and CbapLain to tbe Earl of Eigin.
DR CROFT, who preached the Bampt in ! Eture fermone, $17 \mathrm{~g}_{\mathrm{s}}$, in defence of hat Church of England, in this fhort tract ably picals the caufe of its minifters aganat the M thodifts, vulofe pretenfions, dostrane, and conduct, he difculies with a compreheofive accurdsy delerving of attention.
38. Ffiav, biforical ard eitical, or Englifh Cbuch Hutck. Bu Whlliam Mafon, M.. $\therefore$. Prccentor of York.
THIS tilay was originally prefixed so a Collection of the Wards of Anthems, &c. in the year 788 . "Had Dr. Burney's elaborate work been publithed before the nits edition, I fhould have nade it fomewhat in ire worthy of the public attention, confidered merely for what is was deffened, an liftorical fummary of the progtefs of chur h-matick in this country, whith fuch ctiticat reteclions as might occur to me in $2 n$ account of that progefs. Short and 1apeiticiol as it is, it may go fome way towards abatng an illgrounded deference to antiquity, m:reIv becaufe it is antiquity" ( $p .158$ ). of The partiality which Dr. B. has flawn to it has induced me, in this ectition, to revife it with nore cate than -therwife I might have done: and, though I cannut wiond aw the gricीures I made on many of our compoícrs in point of vocal intelligiteity, I entirely fubmit to his fuperior juigemedt in alt that refpects fcientific harmony" (p. 159). E(fay III, is on IUlmody; evtry purpofe of which, Mr. M. is of opinion, would bo andwered, if the pait in which the meludy lies, be it either treble or teno', were accompanid $b: y$ bafs voice (p. 210). Elfay IV is on the caufes of the prefent imperfeet alliance between Mufick and Poetri. He dates the independerice of the former on the latier from the invention of mufical notation or punctuation, or canto firms, in the clofe of the bll concury.
39. Speculations on the Efabliffument of an untfori Tenure of Land, and an Equaliza-Titbe and Poar Rutes; with Hivts tnwards. a Plan for the Roluation of toc Nutional D) e bt.
"AN equalization of the land tars has long been a favourne o!jed wit! cver, clats of the ferpite but that mote interefied in it; the iandlooder, cone dering how fmall the chane is of a diminution of his burthens trom any alteration, has ever beld up the expences of the furver in tefuration of every thing advansed on the fuhjeet. To the lanolokler the following plan offers fome indemnification : but a mere ace tive opp liton will arife from thofe whin would prefer the grafp of a barren pivilege to real g od, as well as from that numerous body whofe wealth is intricacy and confufion." (Preface.) It is propofed to take, furvey of landed property like the Domeiday furvey, by commifioners authorized to hold a kind of cuat-baron, in which all changes of property flowid be recorded; and that mode of tenure called copy of courtroll be invariable eftablifhed, but freed from all feudal incumbiances. The prelent proprietors to be admitted; the cerrificate of which act to be the future legal tille, and, a; well as the record, co: tain an accurate defcription of the premifies, and the annual value at which the different affelments were to be male while in the hands of the perfons thus aumitted: upon ang tuture change, if the value was doubed, a more actual furvey to be made. Convevencing and !aw-fui:s would be abolifhed; and the only diftinetions would $b$ : thofe of landiord and tenanc. The obfacles aining from a double title night be removed by refticting the pictent copyholders, on each new admution, to an indorfement on their copies at the next hundred court. By this regulation of tenure, on the propristor thould be affelfed a duty in liea of lind-tax ; and on the tehant, or actual occupicr, an equal affelfiment, in her of the many impoftions now laid on lim. An equal rate on land and houfes would be more equitable than the prefent different taxes, whofe variety prodiuces multiplited vexations and expences Thedutivs on houfes might be confolidated, or others added to them. The charge of collecting mighs be recluced; and to the new mode of colledting propofed might be added that of 2 general rate for the maintenance of the clergv, calculared on the amount of the prelunifroduce, aldextending to evers to cies of prop:rty fabjes to an afrelment to the foor, who bou!d be rheved on the fot by an equal rate aftered on every ipecies of properts; and the colledtion of all thefe fiveral rates hould be under the mana ement and contooul of the fame offices the commiffoners of thefe taxcs, or the juntices of the peace, having approv d of the parochial disburfements, fhould be impowered to iffue a debenture, payable to the overfeers, upon the rectiver-general, for the amount: hofpitals th ud be provided for the infane and idiots, deaf, dumb, and blind children: fchonl, for orphans of borh fexes, ard a houle of correttion and hard labour for the difordent; and idle: boys to be exthuively brought up to the navy. The land-revenue of the Crown, if not diffotid of, mizht be collected by the fame officers who receive the nitional taxes of the feveral difricts.

By the propofed requiarions would be eftablifhed a certain crite:ion whertioy to apportion the buribes of any extraordinary pteflue in times of emergency; but the pecuniary b-nefis are laid not to be fimall. The reduction of official charge, a tax un tuthes, on transfers of landed and funded proper$\mathbf{t y}$, with the probabia decreate of the poor-sates, form, together, a total of no defpicable amount. The managemat: of the poor becoming a national, in fiead of a local, concern, the vatious dionations of lands, tenements, and dio.eys, wouid derolve to the pubiick; and a fale of them, and of crown and wafte lands, wouid go towards dícharging the national debr, by the emition of paper currency to a large amount, bearing no intereft; the whole beirg previounly reduced to one fecies of ftock, and the circulation of private paper foould be cliecked. A militia, different from the prefont, micht be formed, bv attaching a fpecies of military ferricc to the tenule of land, each individual to bear his own expences, to be attached to their reipective diftriets, and their duties be as mild as pofible, confiftent with good difcipline; and this plan contains the flamina of a reform in parliament. The landholders and houfeholders at large, by their tenure, would form the militia, and to them would be confided the election of the national reprefentation. The land and houfe taves confolidared and equa. lized on unerring princip'es, and, toge. ther with the poor-rates and tithe, united in one co letion, an extenfive and immediate reduction of the public debt wou'd rake place, and a foundation be laid, by the duties on the alienation of landed and funded prop:rty, for a farther diminution. A fimple and uni. form tenure of land would be eflablifh. ed throughout the kingdom.

Thefe form the princinal outlines of the fcheme, but are independent of each other. Whether, or when an of them can or may be carried into execution, time alone muft flew.
40. Confiderations on Lerd Grenville ant Mr. Pitt's Bills concerning treafonalle and feditious Prafluces am i unlunujul siffemblies. By a Lever of Order.
If it be allowable to argue on pending laws, this writer (who is fuppofed to be MI. G d in, author of the wellknowa wor!: on Puicical Juftice) profetfes to eflionaie the merits of thefe bills with the fricteit impartiality. He allow that fpeculative enquirers are to be conuited with fobernefs, that the Londun Correfponding Society ough1 to lee cartfully watrhed in their opera. tions, as a formiciable marnine. and the fritem of political lecturing as a hatbet, pollaps too well aciafted to purpofes more or lefo fimilar to thofe of the Jacotin Society of Pari, ; that political i. Cturers are dangrous; that the liberty of the prefs is to be approached with awe, it any thing is; that provifions againft fediticus writings hoould be conflructed with eaution. Eut he pronounces Lord Gisnville's bill the confecrated engine of tyranny, the open and avowed cnection of an arbitrary power, a protection, under Government, of an army of fpies and informe:s; ar.d that it puts a violent termination on the boundlefs progrefs of fcience, of that fience in particular esb.ch is modi immedtate'y and profeffediy intercfiing to the wobole buman race. "A doditine oppofite to the maxims of the exifing government may be dangerous in the hands of agitatnis, but is cannot produce very fatal confequences in the hands of philofophers" (p. 38). This is btgging the queftion; for, who will fop the progief: of one man's reafoning to another and perhaps a worfe man's asting, upon fuch occafions? The author, not content with diffecting and condemning thefe bills, Lord Grenville's as having: an immediate relation to the mon im portant of human affairs, the liberty of the prefs; and Mr. Pitt's as touchirg on the fundamental provifon of the bill of righis, the right of the fubject to confult refpecting geievances, and to demand redrefs; attacks the rioc-a th, which everv impartal man muft fee the high urility and expedioncy of for the prelervaion of property and life itfelf: yet, with aficeted car.Jour and conciiantian, he b'ames the London Coirefponding Soriea for pocceding too precipiatelv; though be is of opinion his Majefy's Miniliers have been far more pricipita:e. Whether he cherfhes the cunciliating fpirt he profelies, will be beit judged by hisicaders; for, his pamphtet delenves to be tedd-and to be anfwerd.
41. Varieties of Literature, from foreign Literary Fournals, unt original MSS now firg publificel. 2 ads.
AL rHOUGH this work contains a great $v$ ritt of elegart and entertainog pieces, ws cannot but fugoett that, if the colleefor has no other view than to "put the fubick in foffelinon of the nate and progrefs of literature on the Continent," we doubt whetker his purpole will be materially anfwered to himfelf, his readers, or the continental writers

Mezzoranian taies, Eflhorian poetry, metaphyfical d'fuifitions, by German divines, on miracles, the laws of Nature, the exiftence of Gud, criticifms on engravings and ftatues, excurfions to the reaims below in queft of equal rights, and Olympic dialogues againft monarchy, dif́quift:ons on the philo. fopher's fone as a moans of prolonging the life of man, extracts from a traveiler's and a literary gentleman's journal, continued in rol. II. and of a French officer in Corfiea; cure for difordered eyes (continutd in the next v lume); letters on Pais (continued in vol. If.) and Herculareum; authentic hifterical nalrative of the war between the Porte and the Egyptian Beys, 1785 , in a letter from Trittte; hiftorical an edotes of tie devotions to the heart of Jefus, from Wieland, with his remaiks; the German play at 'Venice; German fatire; the rife of Colberr, and the fong of a Madagafcar girl going to be fold by her mother, compole the firlt volume.

In the fecond volume the names of authors are more frequently mentioned : the vovare of Shelekoff, a Ruffian, from Okboik, on the Eattern ocean, to America, 1783 to 1786 , and his rerurn, from hi: owa journal; on the liberty of reafoning in matters of helief, by Mr. Wieland; iet: rs from a traveller at Berlin; origin and progrefs of Monarlition (why not Mankery? ), by Dr. Zimmernan; Olymp:c da'ceuts, by Mr. Wieland. vho, we prefume, is autlere of thoíe ia the former volume ; on the liberty of the prefe, bv the f.me; on the trantmigration of fouls: ab? ract of the life of Marame Geoffrin, a "intuous charafier in micnling iife; cantributen towards that hilory of the learnot: of the Efthomian batlos; the famous hiltorian, Putro Giannone, who dev. 1745, a insltwr to hi: freedom of writ.ne i.s his volmmin us biftory, and nther works, iotwhlitanding lie recaned; on the fpech of butes, read to a literary fociets; refloration by John- Wenry Vufs of a verfe in Sophocles' $\mathcal{E}$ 'pus Colnneus, where, Between lines 1643 and 1645 , a verfe was fuppoled wanting, which be fills $u_{i}$ by meafuing the others properlv; remarks on the genuinenel of fome Pythagorean writing: by Proteffor Tiedeman; [profe] epiftie in imitation of Horace's Tyrb bena rigum progenies; a furap concerning the Cbinefe; on the retoration of the art of iculpture; the young Perfian, a diatogue by Meifficer. A few hiftorical an colotes fill up the in:erlices of this frugure.

With regret we oblowe that this mitcellany is, in fome parts of it, a vehucle for the moft pernicous apinions. What callithere is for reafonings againf miraci-s, or farcaftic dialoyues againf the Trinity, or even for Wieland's policical disloguts, in a pub. lication generally calculated to fupply a hiberal anulemen:, it is not eafy to fay. But fo it is; and confiderable pains are taken to disjuin the evidence of miracles from Chrifianity, and to give new force and currency to the fopiiliry of Hume, Rouffeau, and T. Paine, on that fubject.

It would be uncandid, however, not to adid, that many of the effays are wholly unexceptionable. One of thefe Shall be given in cur next.
> 42. Thoughts on the Englifh Governurent, addrefled to the good Senfe of the Peoplc of England; in a Series of Letters. Letter the Frf, National Cbaracter of Englihmen; the Nature of tbe Engliih Government; the Corruptions caufel in lootb by the Introdugion of trench Principles; the Fffeces peducel $^{\text {by }}$ the Keformation and the Revolution, upon political Principles; the Conduct of the libig Party; the Clbaracter of the modern Deniscrats.
WHILE the principles of this writer have been to canvaffed in the fenate, and his perfon is ftill a fulject of enquiry, it would ill become literaty Reviewurs to pafs a judgement on either. Thus much, however, we may hazard: that he has given a go d view of the progrefs of party and oppofition in this country, from the Reformation to the Revolution, and to the prefent time; and obferves, that " the finithing blow to all party-diftinctions, and to the credit of all political prin, c:ples that have no reference but to part-diftinctions, feems to have been fruck in the latter end of $\mathbf{1 7 9 2}$. At that time an alarm for the lafety of the Confitution as effablithed by law, which feemed to be threatened by a republican parte fiom within. alfifted by the Fiench $R$ puhlick fiom abroad, ioufed the nation as one man; all party confiderations imimediately vanthed before that of the commun intcreli of us all. From that time the attention of all fober mon las been fixed on the prefervation of the government and haws; all former diftinclions of party are thrown afode, ard the illution of their principles is forgotien. There are now no divifions in the nation but that of the friends to the Conftitution as eflablifted by law and that of the Republican, who are lyingby for an opportunity to level every thing to the equality of a French demociacy; and there are no political opinions by which men are diftinguifled, but thole that are in favour of the Conflitution as eftablifhed by law, and thofe that are againit it."

We do not iee prefixed to this the leiter to Mr. Reeves, mentioned in the diebare on it in the Houle of Commons, Nuv. 26.
43. A Piopoful for a perpetual Equalization of the Pay of the labouring Poor.
AFIER premifing, that, when wheat was 6 s. a bufhel, the labourer was contented with 1 s . a day, a gratuity, befides his pay, is propofed, in the proportion given in the following table: Buthels of wheat. Gratuity over the pay.

| s. d. | s. | d. |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| 6 | 0 | 0 |
| in | 6 | 0 |
| 0 |  |  |

| 7 | 0 | 0 | 2 |
| ---: | ---: | ---: | ---: |
| 7 | 6 | 0 | 3 |
| 8 | 0 | 0 | 4 |
| 8 | 6 | 0 | 5 |
| 9 | 0 | 0 | 6 |
| 9 | 6 | 0 | 7 |
| 10 | 0 | 0 | 8 |
| 10 | 6 | 0 | 9 |
| 11 | 0 | 0 | 10 |
| 11 | 6 | 0 | 11 |
| 12 | 0 | 1 | 0 |

This table to be printed and diftibutei among the labourtrs. For the app ica tion of it let the current price of whea: in the neareft market town be afcer. tained, as nearly as it can be, in the laf week of everv month; and let that be taken and derlared as the rate which is to regulate the gratuite for the nex month. Twelve nore tables are adeed fhewing the aggregate of the pay anc gratuisy, ant theit amount for the weck. Objections to this reafunable plan are futisfaftortiy done away; anc the ex mple of a clergyman recom. mended, who has built oven and luppieci fuel to the poor, who make theis own bread.
44. The Life of the Yuyt wereplified; in the Charagir of the late Wham Romaine M.A. © ; preacioal Augut 23,$1 ; 95$, b) C. E. De Cuetlogon, M. A.

THIS is the thind fermon on the fubj=ct. M1. C, thanking "there may be a melancholv departure from the purity of the Chititian dochine where it may be lealt of all fulpected, and under fuch a fpecious pretence as renders it the more infinuating, and thetefore the $m$ re dangerous," humbly attemprs to exhibit a concile view, an outline of the official charader. of a late venerable preacher in our eftabifhment. The text is Romans i. 17; and there are fuljoined, by way ot appendix, fume fhort maxims on the excellency of faith.
45. National Calamitics the Confogucnces of Nationul Guile; a Sermon, prcacbal at the Parib-Chuth of Cher fey on Sunday, February 25, 1795, bing the Day ap5 pointed for a public Fa/t By the Kev. E. W. Whataher, kecfor of St. Mikred's and All Sain's, Canterbiry. Publifed at the Rejuef? of the Parinioners, for the Bencfit of tbe Sunday Sclools.
NiR. Whitaker, trom Ifaiah x. 4, improves tle fate of nations, from the calleft antiquirv to Fance in the prefent day, as warnings to the world at laige, whole prefent fufferings are but throes, indicating the near approach of the day of the Lord, and, confequently, of the controverfy which the Lord holds with the nations for their difubedience to his gofpel.
46. Confiderations on the Scarcity and bigb Prices of Bread Ciorn and Bread at the Market, faggefing the Rimalies. In a Series of Lettels, fult publiffe:l in the Cambridge Cbronicle, and fupajed to be written by Governor Pewnall.
THIS is perhape an extraordirary mode of publifhing a work whofe reputed author is living, and has never been backward to fet his name to any of his publications, but in this inflance has permitted a Cambridge bookfeller so do it for him. While a higher ad. vance of the price of wheat is threatened, free and fair importation is ftrongly recommended to counteract an untue if not illegal export; alfo a reduc. ion of the eftablifhment in houfe-keepng and education by the gentry, and of the gains of farmers, who are known :o have made fix rents at leaf, if not nore, from the prices of laft vear. juch is the object of thefe 10 letters.
17. A Sermon preached at the Meeting boufe in Frince's flreet, Weftminlter, Ocr. 18, 1795, on Occafion of the mucb-lamenteld Death of the Rev. Andrew Kippis, D.D. F.R.S. and S.A. who departed this Life the 8 th of the frame Month, in the $71 / 2$ Tear of bis Age. To qubicb is added, the Addloefs. delivered at the Interment of the deceafelt [in Bunhill-fields]. By Abraham Rees, D.D. F.R.S.

FROM Pfalm xxxxii. 37, Dr. Rees takes occafion to illuftrate the characer of the perfect mar, and the happirefs conneeted with it, and to thew for what purpofes perfins of this defcripion fhould be oljests of pecular atention and regald. The particulars If Dr. Kippis's life agree with thefe in pur Oinituary, vol. LXV. p. 882, with ery little addition, except his chalacer, which is ably and affectionately rawn.
8. Narratiote of Eurl Macartney's Embufly to China. (sie V.l. LXI. o 318.)
WE nutice this third edition, that ve may copy the tollowing preface:
"Twolarge impreffore, in quarto and ctav:, of this Narative heving expeienced a very rapid fa'c, 1 an called upan , publith a third edition; nor can 1 reGent. Mag. Febraary, 1796.
frain from expreffing, as I truft, a juftifiable fatisfaction in hav ing obtained a complete triunph over many illebiral but fruitefs attempts to depreciate my work. When the fpirt of rivitly exceeds the bounds of liberality and truth, it deferves the mortification which ! feldom falls to experience; and my rivals, wh.le they have taken every opportunity to nifreprefent me, and have condecendel to implore, if not to purchafe, the feverity of venal criticifm on my Narrative, have not, however, been able to fhake its authent1city, nor to leffen the diftinguifhed favour which it has received, and is ftill receiving, from the parronage of the puhlick. But, while I exprefs my fenfe of the general favour of my country at large, it would betray a criminal infenfibility if $\mathbf{1}$ did not avai! myfelf of this occafion to make my moft particular acknowledgements to the inhabitants of the Ifle of Man, not only for a very large portion of perfonal kindnef, but for their zeal us encouragement of this work, which I now make a record of my regard and gratitude."

49. Mcdical Facts and Obfervations. Vol. IV:, (Cioncludel from $p .57$ )

XIII. Cale of Pbligmonic Inflammation. zuitb Reficctions on certain Effort of Heat and Cold on the living Syjem. By Thoma Beddoes, M.D.
"I know not," fays the ingenious author of the paper hefore us, "whether it has been obferved that the inflammation: particularly thofe of the eyes, which are fo fiequent in hot climates where it is the cuftom to ileep daring the fummer in the open air, are to be referred to the fuccerfion of heat to cold. Trivellers, efpecially thofe into Egypt, have varioutly attempted to account for this phrenomenom. Haffelquift imputes it to certain miafmata arifing from the almoft empty refervoirs in which the water of the Nile is preferved from in undation to inundation. Thas is, however, a mere hypothefis, unconfirmed by any trict analogy; nor is the fuppofed caufe in any way brought home to the effect. As hittle, in my opimon, can the inflammation of the eyes the afcribed to the influence of the nocturnal light of the heavens upon the eye, the eyelnds being more or lefs clofed during teep. The canfe feems inadequ:re. It is common in this country to fleep in chambers not lefs flougly illuminated (if wit mote fo) than in Egypt, during the might, with:out any inconveniance to our fight. Befides, 1 think, if we could fup rofe the eye to be fo dizzled by the light of the nighe as to be injured, the injury ought to fali upon the tanve, and not uron the eyelid: and external parts. The nitious partickes with which Alpinus imagines the atmnfphere of Egypt to he impregnated, will not, I fuppore, be confidered as a caufe more probable than any of the preceding : but the following palfage may ferve to give an idea of the nature of the complaint in queftion, and its frequency at Cairo. "Plurimafque (oculorum lippitudines) Cayri eaflemque per omnia anni tempora homines invadere ob nitrofum pulverem, qui continuè oculos habitantium mordicat, & calefacit, obfervatur, longè maximéque in retutis primâ parte, quo tempore calor ambientıs fummè caludi oculos inflammat, taluimque morborum numerum anger. sparfim vero per urbem toto anno he oculorum infiammationes vagantur; atque epilcmice plurimze in primâ xft tis parte calidiffimâ inxqu liffimâque ob vehementifimem * meridionalium ventorum calorem, atque inflammatarum arenarum copiam, gux ab iiflem ventis afportantur. Eo enim anni tem: ore è centum hominibus quinquaginta faltem lippientes ohfervantur." (De Medicin. Ecypt. p. 24.) The flying fand muft he troublefome, and prohably, in many cafes, fupports and in. creafes the inflammation, and in fome may give rife to $1 t$; bat the following fact, which feems to me to render the induction complete, fhews that the true and general caule is the great inequality between the temperature of the night and day; to which caufe figmal effect has been given by the practice of fleeping fub die. Mr. Clarkfon (in his effay on the impolicy of the A . $f_{1}$ ican llave trade) in forms us (p.71) that, " when the flaves are brought on-board, the feamen, to make room for them, are tormed out of their apirtments batween decks, and fleep, for the moft part, either on the deck or in the tops of the veflel during the whole of the midule paffage; or from the time of their leaving the coaft of Africa (where the days are excefinvely hot, an:l the dews are exceflively cold and heavy, ibid. p 68), to that of their artival at the Weft Inda inands." "From this bad lodging," he proceeds, " and this continual expofure to cods and damps, and fuddenly afterwards to a buming fun, fevers originate which carry many of them off. Nor is this the only effeet which this continual viciffitude from heat to extreme dampuefs and col. 1 has mon the furviving crew : inflammatory fevers neceffarily attack them. This fever attacks the whole frame; the eye fee!s the inflammation moft. This inflammation te: m nites either in difperfor or fupparation : in the firf inftance the eyes are faved; in the latter they are hoft."

The inflammation of the eye is not the only difeafe produced in Egypt by the fac-

[^20]ceffion of hot days to cool niglits any more than on-hoard our flave-hhip: ; in both fituitions caufes and effects run parallel, a: the reader will find upon recurring to Al . pinus and the later travellers. The well known danger of expofure to dews in ho climatcs, and indeed in all climates, in certain cafes, feems to dependupon the fam. principle. It is alfo probable that th heat of the preceding day enables the dew of the night to prepare the fyftem for th ftimulating effects of the lieat of tise finc ceediog day; fo that, of two perfons wh hould expofe themfelves without precan tion to the cold of night and the heat of th following day, he who, fhould have bee been moft exhaufted the day before $b$ the heat, would, if other circumftanct could be rendered alike equal, be ma injured by the next alternation.
"Several circumitances, fuch as th rednefs and fiwelling of the parts expofe to cold, wgether with the frequent occu rence of inflammatory diforders not lon after expofure to cold, were calculated minead obfervers into a belief that the diforders were the direct effect of col Yet the great difference in the ftate of pirt during inflammation, and under tl influence of cold, might have induct them to fufpect that fo night an analof misht be illufive : and, after taking in the account other well-afcertained $f a \mathcal{E}$ they ought to have concluded that the th ory was falie. Limnxus, in a paper the Amonitates Academicx, expreffes! a the heated Laplander rubs humfe'f wi frow, or even rolls in the frow, al drinks the cold foow-water. We eve day fea horfes in a ftate of the molt pr fufe perfpiration freely wafled with ic water, and :lways without injuy. I ha feveral times within thefe two years caul hories, accuftomed to be trabied, to turnd out for a fingle night in winte and no cougl, cat rith, or other diford has ever been the conferguence. It a pars, therefore, to me, that, within a tain limits, and thofe not very namro the tranfition from a higher to a low temperature is attended with no danger animats in a fate of toletable healt and a perfon, 1 concerve, might fudder pats from a higher to a lower tem rature without inconvenience, even whi the dfference is fo great as to be ca ble of proxtucias confiderable inflame tion, if the change foould be made w equal celerity ma contrary direction. this, though an interefting furject for fervations on mm , and experimnts animals, we want precife fact.; anis ftate the principle in order to induce fervers to compare it with the factst fall in their way.
"Berides the fucceffion of heat to $A^{\prime}$

1796.] Revicw of New Publications.-Literary Intelligence.

and vice verfa, there is a third cafe well worthy of confideration; and this where part of the body is expofed to one of thefe powers, and the remaining part to the other; as, for inftance, where a fream of comparatively cold air flows upon part of the body of a perfon fitting in a warn room, and perhaps alfo drinking ftimulating liquors. In making chemical experiments it often happens that a cold (catarrl) is taken, if the bards be much immerfed in cold water, when the 1 itoratory is much heated; by adding warm water, to raife the temperature of that in the trough, this doger is $e$ afily avoided. In thefe cafes the effect feems to be the fame :a thit of the fucceffion of heat to co'd. In perfons whofe bowels are extremely liable to be affected, it fonetimes liappens, as I have myfelf known it to happen, that the removal of a frot into a cold part of the bed, after the, body thas hecome warm in 'ed, thall bring on acute pain in the bowels; and yet no pain is produced in getting into bed, thuugh the temperature be the fanie, and perhaps lower, han that of the pat into which the foot is removed; and, probahly, tutal immerfon into cold water would ant produce any pain in the bowels. The laws of fuctu plamomena, however defer. ving of inveftigation, have, as ye, fuarcely been $n$ object of attention with p thologifts. It is prob thle that the phxmomena, in any given cafe, are regu'ated by two circumitances: firft, by the excef of the heat (or the ftrength of the ftmulus, whatever it be,) to which the greater part of the body is expofed, above thato which the fmaller is expofed. The fecond circumftance is the dificrence be:ween the extent of the heated and cooled furfaces. When the latter is nut extremely minute, and yet 'onfi 'ee' within moderate limits, the inflammatory $\epsilon$ ffect feems to be confiderab.e. Should the circumftances be reverfed, and a flream of air, fo warm as to convey heat to the boly, inftead of cirrying it away, play upon a fmall part of its furface, the reft being expofed to a moderate or a low icmperature, it is probable the refult would be the fame as when moderate cold fucceeds to warmil, i. e. no bad effect would follow.
XIV. Olfervaions on the good Effecz of Caufles in Cales of W'bute Swellings of the Foints. Ey Mr. Bryan Crowther, Surgeon to Bridewell and Bethlem Hojoist:ls.
The great luccifi that has generally attencied the late Mr. Fioct's method of applsing casfijes in curvatures of the fine, tuduced one author to extend iss ufe to whire five: lings of the jointi. Three latisfa? ory caies are reated, whis much apparent candour, in fuppolt of the tficacy of thic treatment.

The XVth and XVIth articles of the volume (viz On the Cure of the Elepbantiafis, by At'har Ali Khan, of Delhi; and On the Spikenard of the Anttents, by Sir William Jones, Knt.) are extrafted from the fecond volume of Afiatic refearches. The XVItth and laft articie is An Account (from the Philofophical Tranfactions) of jome chemical Exieriments on Tababter, by Janes Lewis Macie, É ๆ F.R.S.

Literary intelligence.

A plan of a concile review of original $G$ rman books, in thilling numbers, to be publithed every three months, is announced. We recollect fomething of this fort a few years ago, which did not meet with encouragement. Whethes among the 27372 bucks, publifhed in Germany in the Ipace of 6 years, from 1785 to 1790 , thete may not be fome few worth importing or tranflating remains to be feen, and is perhaps worth inveltigating. We fartle at the Caralogue, arranged acc rding to the plan of the celelrated literary review of Jeru, eftablifaed and conduged by piofetior Schutz.

| General Literacure | 68 |
| :---: | :---: |
| 2 Philology | 1527 |
| 3 Divinity | 4863 |
| 4 Juilpradence | 2158 |
| 5 Medicine and Surgery | 1898 |
| 6 Meraminfics and Moial Pinilofophy | 965 |
| 7 Education | 506 |
| 8 Po'itics and Finance | 1885 |
| 9 Military Sciences | 154 |
| Phyfics and Natural Hiftory | 1729 |
| Arts and Minufadures | 1100 |
| Mathematics | 581 |
| Ge graphy and Hiftory | 4779 |
| 4 B hlies Letres | 379.5 |
| Hiftory of Literature | 762 |
| Miicellaneous | 689 |

27372
The motto to fuch a catalogue hould iee,
Scribimus inibai doctique padion.
The Art of War feems on the de:lise, and Divinity is getting the bettor of Geography and if Rory, which form the next largelt article, uriefs thev cait in Bylles Letres to their aid. Mred:cine and Surgery are but $13 \cdots a$. of Politcs and Finance, which ettett'p Phefis and Natural Hiftery, as hey argain out-run Arts and denufa uits. Huen nuch to be pited ase lie ifinge grnera i. n, wito wart 500 totems of evucation!!!

148 Seleat Poctry, Antient and Modern, for February, 1796.

Verfes quritten in the Gardens of the Monafiery of the Ne effelades, near Libbon. By the Kev James Bannister.

H
ERE let me wafte thefe fultry hours away, [gay;
And view cacli fcene with Nature's beauty
While the glad Zephyr bears upon its wing,
From al nod flow'rs, the fragrance of the furiog;
Andlurid fou tains pour falubriousitreams, Toconlthe fcorchng fun's meridian beams; Here latel fhades in arches wide exrend, Andvivid myrtlestheirlight branchesblend; Ingo wes not fairer, Petrarch tun'd his lyre To ote infpiring elegant defire;
In walks 1. ke thefe, the fond Eliza ftrove
To foo h- der forrows with Sicheus' love; But Superfation comes, with horrid mien, Blafis ev'ry flow'r, and withers ev'ry green. Behold ven walt, along the garden's fide,
Rear high the:r heads, elate with batbrous pride:
[pain,
Where monks, condemn'd to lead a life of Lament therr Founder's cruel laws in vain;
Fotbid by him, no beart-alluring maid
Muf e'tr approach this confecrated thade,
Though ner bright es might cheer the fallen groom, [bloom.
And bide ectif w'r with frefher colours Cruel refrain: ! by terrors to con-roul
The gendleli bert emotions of the foul,
Diffolve of Nature the erdearing ties,
Of wife and cluldren all the charuties!
To bend before fome faint's refpecied fhrme,
And pay to finful mortals rites divine;
Whote nights a long and painful vigil keep,
And 'pond the day mindolence and feep);
Or elfe fome legendary fory read,
Whit aching eyes, and half diftrattell head;
White the rapt fpurits frange chime as raile,
By filfe devotion kindied to a blize.
Fleafures like thefe on cloilter'd monks await :
A fad exchange for all that's good and sreat, For all that's tair, that's amiable and kind, For all that bleffes and exalts maniond
And ye, far $\mathrm{Nymj}_{\mathrm{j}}$ ha, whofe foul fubsluing fimiles [ Hiles,
Pioclaim ye fprung from Rriatin's liapy Mourn not the favage and aut-recommand, For, vengeance due afficts the guily land! In' Aonan maids whole fitite wing'd the flight [he ght,
Of Cameens, tow'ring fio: Almada's
Mov'd by your wrongs, witi ju!t refentinent fir ${ }^{\circ}$, ["fpin'?
Nuw check inufe reptures which they ance
And as werove the fe fragrat thater anong, Noblared recore's the lieat enchantug iong; Froud Tasus rollis bis waters to the main, No more ennohled by potic Arain;
In rain the fun the face of Natue warms, Sis vain the or rub unfoldt' eir vernal ch, rme, Fo: men who, now deferted by the Nufe, Behuld with lillicis eyes the richeft vews;

Untanght to feel thofe pleafures pure an: chafte,

 Which flow from fancy, elegance, and taftiMr. URban,
Far. 12.

THE following Ode is the productions Lieutenant-colouel Thomas, late 1 the 9 th regiment of foot. It was writte on occafion of his receiving benefit fron the ufe of a fulphureous water in the pa rifh of Llanwyrtyd, Brecknock fhire, an addreffed to the Nymph of the fpring. procured it from Mrs Bevan, of Neath Glamorganfhire, the Colonel's neice.
W. D.

Fies nobilium tu gunque fontium. Hor. NYMPHA, mufcofo latitans in antro, Cux facras fervas latices, falubrem, Temperans fontem, faturofque vivo Sulphure rivos;
Te mero gratus violifque dono, O potens ægrum relevare pectus, Callida atque imx implicitum mellullx Pellere virus.
Dives undarum, tibi cedet Hermus
Sit licet multo pretiofus auro,
Ire nec fupra celeb:es timebis
Nomine Baias.
Ferge folari miferos medendo,
Sic tuas parcat violare lymph is Imber hybernas, nec iniquifontes

Hauriat xitas.
Lewis Thomas

TRANSLATION.
Sweet $\mathrm{N}_{\mathrm{rm}} \mathrm{mph}$ ! thou Goddefs of th molity cave, [wave
With fulphur temp'ring the foft-flowin: Whofe ftreams (to blefs mankind firft bis to fisw)
[fluw
Eafe from dire pain and rofeate heath be
With off'rings meet I hail thy fylvan fhrine W'th purple vi'lets, and with facred wine. Thy fprings falubrious matchlefs pow' contain
To cleanfe and purify each tainted vein ;
Hence golden Hernus, once the poet' theme,
[fiream Stal! yield the palm to thy more preciou And B ' $x^{\prime}$, harhe, thoug's rais'd by Fam! fo high,
['hall vie The Mure foretels, no more with the Continue fill r'exert thy healing pow'r; So may no fumaner's fun, nor winter'. bow'r,
With he ums unkind thy gant'e watersdrain Or with foul flowd thy chry ftal carrent thain from the frenct.

THE glitu'ring piles which ait or riche: rate
Clam but the tribute of a fhort-!iv'd praife Tir'd with admiring, foos the fancy cloys: And feeks in matare more congenal jows.

Select Pottry, Antient and Modern, for February, 1796.

ho but with raptures for a while muft hear, [ear!
hen Fox or Mansfield charms the lift'ning reir well-ton'd eloquence has pow'r to draw he gazing multitude with filent awe; rike the full courts, and lif'ning fenates pleafe;
at, in the gayer hours of focial eafe, o more their glowing figures we almire, The heart grow's cold with artificial fire,) he well-wiought period no more commend.
it quit the Orator, to feek the Friend, hofe artlefs fpeech, to fimple truth confin'd, fflects the feelings of an honeft mind.

- Art and Nature have their various end, ers be my praife, but Nature be my friend!
[firir, me to my call, come, Nature, free and nd, fweetly fmiling, wave thy golden bair 1 te bloom of youth, the pride of liberty, lows on thy cheek, and fparkles in thine eye;
[flow, he charms that from unconfcious beauty $h$ 'unfading joys proud Art can ne'er hefow, [fair, re all thine own. Come, Nature, fiee and nd, fweetly fmiling, wave thy golden hair!
Ed n's parden, by divine command, hou fhedd't thy graces o'tr a happy land: was there lair Eve bet:-y'd her fond defire,
'ith eyes refponfive to her lover's fire; ind, as fhe gave her trembling hand away, othd like Aurora at the g. tes of day;
11 Nature at the r nuptials feem'd to vie fongs of love and fympathetic j y; he bounding taith, the Niy ferenely fair, ad murm'ring water, haild the joyful pair;
[grove, ephyrs alone, foft-ftealing through the ung o'er their couch, and fann'd their happy love, [around, ught their foft figls, and to the rocks nd roftling woods, convey'd the dying found;
hile rofy bow'rs, by Nature's hand array'd, [hed. ropp'd all their fragrance on the nuptial 0 for fome foft-ey'd Fair, whofe chafte defines o int'seft warps, but love alone infpires! e to fale pride, and form'd for rurat eafe, ith no ambition hut to love and pleafe!
fome fweet fcele of Nature's calm retreat, ir from the troubles of the rich and great; 'th me to $u$ ander, and with me to prove the charnis of innocuce, and jovs if live! hen would kind Heav'n my fondeft withes crown, nd Eden's harpy garden be my own!

Simplex Munditiis, on the Sanis Culottes.
I.

G ALLUS in arma ruit fine bracc:s, podice nudo :
Hoc eft fimplicitas, aft ubi munditix?
II.

Nec foleas nec habet braccas $\Delta \eta \mu 0 \times$ geralos olim, Infiguis clulamyde, et verficolore toga.
In promptui caufa eft ; ut, fi det terga Britamis, Impediat celerem farcina nulla fugam.
111.

Poftillos Rufillus olet, Gorgonius hircum :
Dic mihi quid, nudo podice, Gallus olet?
IV.

Nec panem, nec habes aurum, nifi charta fit aurim,
Nec tihi religio eft, nec tibi, Galle, fides. Quorfum igitur noftras invadere pertinet oras ?
Non funt illa tuis furripienda dolis. v.

In cute curandâ plus æquo operara juventus,
Negligtt. occ:fo principe, iæda cutem.
Qneque, ruc mitis manfuetaque, rese perempto,
Morhhu: incultis, ingenioque truci eft.
Non anmum aut mores mutavit; fordida 'emper,
Effera femper erat Gallia, femper erit. VI.

Menfes atque dies mutâfti, Gallia; muta, Si licet, et mores, fanguinolenta, tuos.

FROM THE MORISCO.

THE ROCK OF THE IWO LOVERS. A legendary Tale.

ACAFTIVE heid in Moorith chains, Fernando lov'd the royal maid;
Elvira, who beheld his pains,
With fympathy his love repaid.
For, ah! though pomp and love are foes, A princefs has a heast to lofe.
Lotks only told their fecret aim; (But what can be for love too hard?)
His eyes amounc'd a confant flume,
Hers promis'd the deeerv'd reward:
Thus with a glance the match was made, And, withour rpeaking, all was faid.
This tender pair, one fatal day, Had wander'd to the barren thore, Where rocks above obftruet the way, And far helow the hi'lows roar. Dire fcene of horror and defpair; Fitt tove can nake a defert fair I
There, by fome cruel foe betray d,
While heir eternal vows they chang'd,
They heart her father in the glade,
His farare troops :rcund them rang'd;
No hopes of puy tobe mov'd,
The Moorth king had never lov'd.
High o: the rocis's werhanging brow
the fathfulloverstake the r itand;
The kug comes on; E!vira now
Lendso'er th' aby fs and waves her hand.

150 Selerf Poetry，Antient and Modern，for February， 1796.

Deatl and his terrors meet her eye；
But what true lover fears to die？
＂Retire，retire，or you have flain Your darling child！＂the princefs cry＇s，
＂If you approach，we feek the main， And plunge together in the tide！
United by love＇s f：cred tie
＇Tis joy，＇tis ecfafy to die ！＂
He paus＇d，he fhronk，his fo st withdrew；
A cruel foldier for ward firang ；
From the high crars the loversflew， The hollow thore with echues rang． The bitter dianght of dath they tafte， And fink embracing and embrac＇d．

TO JULI4．

AH me！with what ardoar I low＇d the delufren
［cov＇d；
Where Faticy midet fcencs of futurity And the faltor of linguage and blum of confufion
［lov＇d．
Betray＇d the kind wifhes of her whom I
At lenget I poftef．d the vain fugitive hour， So wib＇d for to clofe my purfuit and my care ；
［of pou＇r，
Smiles of favour $\cdots$ de to the fern frown
She hifend， $\mathrm{d}:$ id in＇d，and condemu＇d to defpair．
F．rewc！the focet hope that fill whifper＇d to－morr w，［？ud icars； To－mornow theill filonce thefe donthongs
With the winds tho flate mingl the bre th of thy forrow，
［rears ！
And lofe in the ftream of oblivion thy Farewel the fweet int＇reft，enfrancing our队゙ゥfure，
［to huow！
Ant fof＇ining the cares we are der m＇d
Furewel ye gay revels－an！doar beyond meafure，
［irance＇n＇woe！
Though mought ye have left but remem－
Unheededthe fafons dit？robute thair pow＇r， A limanger to life I cxut but to armorn ；
1 foel not the biting of winter＇tharp hour， And vainly the beaunes of natme retur：！

S．

OD＝ON THE DEATH OF A FAVOURITE LAP DOG．
Written at tbe Requet of its Miffreffes．
Fentt fiantma dic＇s $\longrightarrow$ VIRGIL．
－Hsav＇n bus drom＇d tbat Sbock muft tall． MoPE．
CEE，life is flown ！the clofing eye binks ：nto everla ${ }^{\text {a }}$ ing reit！
Ah，whoth ill check the tilit g figh， The te．ir that will 1 th be f：pprefs＇d！
Hence，fordid wit and frnfelefs mith； S love the hr at that or－i ．it wore：
Heavn nave he fomce of feeti of hath；

What though mot one on tom．n．n hisud

 Ne＇or－lum＇d for He凶，

Yet Fancy loves，in tender guife， To wake the mem＇ry of the dead； And bid th＇ideal phantom rife From the cold eartl＇s oblivious bed． Nor yon，fair Prompters of the lay， Your praife to lumble Frifk deny；
Oh happy could the Mufe difplay In man fuch firm filtelity ！
Revenge，that haunts the guilty foul， iNe＇er found an ensance in his heart He bow＇d cubmillive to contronl， And lick＇d the hatad that gave the fir His eye，the index of his breaft， With fparkliug joy its niftrefs view＇ But，ah！that eye is funk to reft ； That grateful treart hath Death fubdt
Inmur＇d be neath yon willow a＇ree， In prace his monld ring relics lie；
And nought avail＇d，from malice free， H／s grate ful breaft，lio fparkling eyt Yet Pi＇y＇s dew－ditulling wing $S^{\prime}$ a＇l ever kindly hover near； And to the fick＇ang herbage bring Timely the dwect reviveng tear．
Yet Recollection of thall Atray， Penfive，beneath the hatlow＇d fhade： And（may it pleafe）the Mufe＇s lay Point out the turl where Frik is haid．

THE CHILDREN＇S BALL：

 or，A visit fkom the grace：II chanc＇d as of lace，on a feltival uis Of all the Cele！tials，on Pindus＇fai height，
When their Golthips affembled，bli bifk，debonaire，$\quad[$ tell who The Grices were abfent－and none a Enquiry was eagerly made for the cauf！ And＇twas hinter＇，in jeft，they had in fome faxx pai．
At iength Maller Hermes，to fave their credit ［fpread
（For，fcandal once breath＇d，even Godde Declar＇d he that morming conducted Grace： ［plar
To Bath，the noit polifid of all ear
For they often bad heard of the fame of L．adies，
［trad
To form rival Graces whofe whole and
When to earth the fwett Three и thus envmony diver，
They fina＇d that the Ball－room was re： by－He v＇n！
［roki And，havng pep＇d in，they were puz If they＇d real！y defcentcal in regons hel For luch ben：y angchic was feen in （luzong
［amc
They thoucht they wers ftill the Celef And，like Venus lientelf in the kinge of fars，
［M．1
All attetten we maid on the tride of wn
 Yonk wid the ali flemung，the homm ate－wind their tate B fl，，whi wa－ple therapter great futsforton at the chat nj ariembleve．

But when the fair Nymphs, whom the Flemings had led

Vith fuch grandear and eafe the boards lightly to tread, [deck'd row, egan to move on through the fplendourVith joy in each heart, and with fmiles on each brow, [at for ever; weet R—— and Ma - they conld look ittle P ——'s a fylph, and R ——cever; there was B. and many a figure and face hat look'd like a Cheruh, and mov'd like a Grace;
n C - -'s feet there was magical fpring, thd W. C. P. danc'd a fairy-like ring !:ach Grace was aftonifh'd t:at infants thould here [polure! n elegance rival grown Nymphs of their trid, juft as they wih'd thein b-ft thanks to retimn [conht learn, Co the Mefdames who thas thene fair pupits fermes enter'd the ruom-the .M. C. of ohd Jove - [hove; Ind fiud, "You are urgen?ly wanted aentreat you this inftait retcon to your places, [Grace:." For Heav'n is not Heuv'n when abrent the Then, foaring atoft, they enter'd Jove's portals, [mortals. And delighted the Gods by dancing like

VERSES TO A LADY WHO ASKFD THE AUTHOK TO TELL HFR AN ANTIDOTE TO LOVE.

DOES Julia ank what chatn may prove the fureit antidute to love?
In my opmion there is none :
At leaft there oniy can he one;
And donbelef here you'll think with me
If 1 but name Stupidity.
But yet the fint, apply'd to Acel,
Can fpark of hatent flime reveal,
Although the fpark appears in vain,
For foon it vamidues ig in.
Then what avals the thleoning chcek, Or lips where fem: $\mathrm{y}^{\prime}$ : rofes fpeak, If patial $k e w^{\prime} n$ will m:t difpenfe A beam ofís intellgence? A fource of wallion it may poove, But, tru? mo, Juha, wut of luve. Why then fhou!d yeuthos qu-ition afk, Why give to me fo itrange a talk, When he to whom sow eyes sre kind, Who knows the qraces of your mind, Maft foon to hic conviction prove You have no ancidose for Love?

> W. B.

Feb. 10.
Mr. URBAv,

THE fol owing compofition, there is every reafon 10 b-l.eve, was write by the celehrated Mir. S elne. It is fulicient to ohforve, that he is fuppofed to lave written it on Fo-vifinils, at an advanced period of his ltfe, the bonifo of a gentleman to whofe daughter, in has canly daye, lie hide pus lus addretfere.

Yows, sic.

O CAROLINE! thy form recalls
(As do thy honour'd father's walls, Thy matron-mothen's look ferone, And all :his lov'd enchanting fcene) Thofe happy days-too fweet to lattFrom ma, alas 1 for ever palt, When my young heart, then gay and free, Its early homage paid to thee;
On thee its firit regard beitow'd,
And firft with pure affection glow'd.
An! happy days of early y uth, All peace, all innocence, and truth; Swift flew the blithefome hours away, Unvex'd by cares, ferene, and gay. Ah me! full mary a pang has prefs'd, Since thofe dear days, this anxicus breaft; Full many a fcene of varicd lise, Diftrefs, inisfortune, pain, and ferifs, Have c.ans'd this throbbing breait to pine, Whach once I little thought were mine I When, after sth this time and pain, The fe lovely fcenes I view again, By fond lemembrance fore dißren, Grief fills my eje and fwells my hrent; And bids me think, when there I view, What I lave fort by lofing you!

Yet let me ftill, by fome kicd name, A place in your affections chaim; Call me a friend, or what you will, But he my place exalted ftill.
Remember I was nnce the yourh
Who, in part days tif jow and truth,
Firt offerd incente at your drive,
And fondly hop'd to cill you mine?
1:55.
L.S.

PARODIES OF SHAKSPEARE. No. XX1II.

THIS is the place*-be ftill-from herce how aufat
And pleafing'tisto lif' one's eresto He:v'n! The prielts, that fill the midway clocir, 102 chat
And fervice join altern.te; half way down Stands one that reads God's word, glonaus employ!
The miniters that ar the altar wait
Like "aneels critice all," yan boiy prelate
Prepares the facied rite"; " the facr fice,
" How cerementons, foiem, and anemthly!"
[rg7s
Too bright for eyes profane! th' vinuv.il'd On their harmonious difturt voices clofes, And wafts them alt on high! Here let me worth:p:
For my tapt fox!, in extacy diffolv'd,
Cannot be nearer Heav'n, on ear:h!
LEAK, IV. 6.
ARM ye with petbles: for which of you will fit [bowd? Tanely at home when Faction raves aI thy from Paris to St. George's field, Poit hafte, wath plus 'ga nitt tis tou happy land.

* St. l'aul's cithedtal.

152  Select Poctry, Antient and Modern, for February, 1796.

Upon my tongue çontinual flanders ride,
Which in feditious hand-bills I difperfe,
Stopping plain people in their burinefs.
1 bawl for Peace, while covert Infurrection,
Under the fmile of Freedom, cheats the mob.
And who but Faction, who but only I,
Rais'd fearful numbers to cry out for bread,
When the laft year (corn fent to my friends abroad)
[mine's fcourge,
Was thought to groan beneath ftern Fa-
And no fuch matter? Faction's a poifon
Drawn from furmifes, jealoufies, conjectures,
[up,
And that fo fubtly, with fuch flatt'ry, mix'd
That the blunt monfter with uncounted heads,
The ftill difcordant wav'ring multitude,
Do gulp it down. But what need I thus Myfelf hefore my own t'anatomize ?
They know I fhrink befure firm Loyalty,
Which, in the fierce debates within the Houfe,
Hath beaten down Rebellion and its troops,
Ev'n with the rebels' arms. My aim is rather.

「ham
To noife abroad that the young fon of ChatBy the pert tongue of Hotfpur was cut up, And the King, 性ore the People's majefty, Stoop'd his anointed head in the itatecoach [fhoulders!)
(Myfelf borne home triumphant on men's
This have I rumber'd through the dirty ftreets,
Between th' heroic field of Copenlagen,
And that proud peer worn pavement Pa-lace-yard,
Where Oppofuion. with the gool old caufe,
Lies at laft gafp. But fee! Polts, Chronicles,
Pamphlets, Pindaric odes, are coming out, And not a liace in them tells other lies -
Than they have learn'd of me: for, Faction's prefs [falfe!
Makes falfe things true, and true things anduction to henry iv. part it.

BUT fuch divinity doth hedge a King,
That Treaion can but peep to what it u ould.
God and his angels guard the facred throne,
And make him long become it whofe it is!
Ever belov'd and loving may his rule be !
Sach day flill better others happinefs,
Until the Heav'ns, envying Earth's good bap,
Add an immortal title to his crown!
MASTER SHALLOW.
SIMPLICITY.
By the Autbor of "A Fortnight's Ramble to the Lakes in Weff norland, Cumber land, and Lancafhire." [Scef. 132.]
$L^{\text {E }}$ ET gentle exercife your footfteps lead Where Contemplation mild delighos to tread;
Where fweet Simplicity adorns the vale, And, und fguis'd, pous forth the artlefs thie;

Where winding Lichens through thick he bage creep,
Or fpread their foftnefs o'er a barren ftet
Where diff'rent plants from the fame $t$ fom grow,
Enrich'd by Nature, and fpontaneous blov
The humble grafs, in matchlefs beat drefs'd, [hreal
Where bends the cowflip o'er the daif While fcentlefs butter-flow'rs o'er cowni ftray,
And with refecting gold their tints difple: Or butter tinge, or fall an eafy prize
To elfin maidens or to truant boys; -
Where tendril woodbines cling around $t$ bow'rs, [flow'r
Whore fcented cups o'ertop the highe
While vary'd leaves to mod'rate breez play,
And dainty flow'rets clofe at clofe of day And where pure mufic to as pure a ferear Tclls o'er the pebbled beds how Naia dream;
While Philomela, in melodious ftrain,
Pours her full notes along the filent plain And diftant Nightingales refponfes join, Filling th' emraptur'd ear with fongs divir

Ofair Simplicity ! thou gen'rous mai That deck'ft with native charms the rur hade, Thine is the gift to live and laugh with eaf And, like thy parent Nature, always pleafi

TO MY SPANIEL.

W HY, cringing, crouching, tail un
Thus doft thou greet
Thy mafter's feet?
I would not hurt thee for the work.
And yet I love thy fawning grace:
'Tis Nature's voice ;
And I rejoice
Her ever-varying fpeech to trace.
But man, of Heav'n the nobleft born, Such arts and wiles To gain the fmiles
Of patron proud fhould ever fcorn;
Should wrap himfelf in dignity and wort! And, Heav'n his friend, defy the rockin earh.
J. S. Cobbolt

THE UNLICKED CUB. A Peter-Pindaric.

WHEN firft to fchool, a little urchii Fearlefs of ufher and of birching, Jack was fent,
Jack foremoft was in ev'ry fquabble,
And bualed well amidft the rabble, Bold and impertinent.
Jack foon a bigger bay offended, And in a boxing matcin it ended, Spiteful they drub;
Jack own'd his eneray was fronger, but, bluble'ing, hasg'd he was no longe In unidik'd cab.

$\left[\begin{array}{lll}\text { [ } 53\end{array}\right]$

INTELLIGENCE of IMPORTANCE from the LONDON GAZETTE.

Aimiralty-Office, Feb 2. Letter from Capt. John Chirke Searle. of his Majefty's loop Pelic in, to Mr. Nepean, dated off Jominica, Deceraber $15,1795$.
"Sir, I avail moyfelf f the opportanty If writing to $y o m$, by Capt. Warre, on-

FOREIGN NE:S.

Bafle, fan. 6. The firt inturview beween the liencis Prince's and Ptince Fave, the Innerial Comnifivere, was ery affecting; the thed tesn, and in ats very one prefont. Sis wis tole that the rench Gov'mment hed but a gien maner of effects foricr is B.il?, and siked, Whether the woud accept of tura or wo? he anfinered with dig:ty: "Ler ther? Il be remrned; I matilaccept noding of hem." Maddane Soncy tork only ind chenifes, as $m$ nu handerchise, and a fow airs of ftuckings, for the ufe of the Prinefs untll her arrival ai Seman, and the reat vere return a to M . B.actur .is walle st he Im where the Princet aliontod at Hapingen, recetvel a aman mot-book from ser, intead if no iey, of which the had pone in her polafion He ha flace heen ffered $&$ Lous d'O S for it ; but has etafed - part with it, debaring that he was deternined to keep it as | whe shelised.
A number of the Geman nublity, paricularly the Elector of Treves, accomps ied by Princels C ingunde, for off for Vinna to nient the lrincef; who was reeived at Iefpruck b; tile Archducheefs Maria Al:zaheth.

Vienna, $\mathcal{F}$.m.g. The Dinglter of Lous SVI. il pt lat aight at Mol., where Bumon e Tumberg entertained lee in tire moit amptuous mamer. Shat is expented here his evening, on whath occufum there with ie a fupper at Coart. The Archaduchers Marisune, Abhefo oflrague, went to meet uer as furs as St. Goiren. ipatnents for ser reception and reflevee twe been pieared in that prit of the imperial Catile falled Amalieninff. Pance Lew is of Lichenften will, on Wecine:dy next, g.ve a noft fplewdud ball in honow, of the Firniefs, to which the whole Count have been avited. It is ramoured that the is to be he confort of the Arech-Duise Conaries.
Vienna, Fan. 16. The Prmuc:s Royal of France, Mania Themeta, arnved bere on he gth, a little atier fix o'ctork in the eveniug, amuit the lowert acciamations of rowds of peopie, who aciomp.nied her iarriage :s far as the Burg, where his Inrerial Majerty had caifed a refudence to be mepared for her. Count Collorale, Ca. jinet Munter to the Emp=ror, acc mpanied her to the place of har refitate from Burkertuorft, whither he went to welgone her, in the name of his Imperial MaGent. Mag. Fíhuay, $\boldsymbol{r}_{\text {fyb. }}$ board the Eatl of Smdwich packet, on his paifige to England, meroly twacqua t :ou, that 1 yefterday cantaned one of the e:nemy's cruzens, under tie hateries of "M.rygitlante. Sh: is a fchooner of ought guns, and ífty-fix men."
jerty: as fom as information of her armat inas receivid. Frace Sathembers, the princenal Low of the Betcomber, on the 12ti, went to the lefidunce of the Prinieli, and vefored to brone $G$ wre all the tutue onte id tervans, \&ec. detenel tor A. a uic. - The frith whorecelvedthe French Pancels Roval of Fiance in this capian, were the bochunkes and Arrin-detcheite. The fimperor and Emaief tmoned hat with a vifit to mafter hor antiva, and re• piate of retarace the ? Pincefs wept buterly. She has fince ant a vifit in the Archducheto Ctrition, wh, is indifped. A grond and hatlant $\ldots$ Day MLa, eced to-monow, wh ca: ill is ho file day on when hat lopend andion ty wlt make her rublic apenane fer herlong-in. It is craved ain thet the whit promer ceremony, to the higheer ri. is of the Folnity and Foregn Aonivilatrars.
 lic!y inveral wh the Gra: Oidar et Maria Ther fa, wheh bare remined watant Gince the dach of General Latudn. Counters Ciwach or, fo merly gravencie to the archuachets Elza'reth, filt confort of the Enpe: ur, has is-an apponted to cha fame dignty with the Preacl: Princeís Royal. Pronce Govre is apromed wovernor to her Royal Htghefs. Márlame de Soncy was orderad to ledve the Princefs, and never to fee her more, nor even to come to Court; in confequence of which, hhe has alrcaly taisen the refolution to return to Fiance, along with the other Fae:ch perfons is boaccompanelthe Princefs on lige jurney. The culy article preferved by the Biend Praces, from the effect, which wer put inte her carrage at Paris, is fride to be a fmall parcel, wincir, befiles a fmail quantity of hamen, contaned taree minintate potare, and fome inair of er futher, mother, and the Princeío Elizabeth lien iunt; alio a pair of garters, lank or her la'e unfortun, te mother, :ut of the therals of an old piece of tape 2 y which the fored in her 1 piron
S.3. 4. Tiere thas been dately a dreadfad fiom in the Achipetago, in whatia a lum kitiz man war of 74 gut, and fevenal ntare inferor hips of wai, wetcluf beiifes a napher of mercibanthe:a. The large thap bat feveral matheas of piners in cribung mony fom exypt un-buard.

Ths

454 Intclligence from the Eaft-Indies, Americe, and Treland, [Fe

East-Indies and America.

The coin in the m.gazinee at the Cape of Good Hope is immenfe, being amply fufficient to fu pply the largeft grpifon ever neceffary to be kept there, and the inha bitan's, for thre years to c me; which will be found a great actanifion on the Englim at the thine of artificial fearcity. Government har engaged a mimber of larpe andiamen wofreight with Corn thence to Europe. The above arcount ue li.ve from the authority of an officor of tank who was preTent at doe canture of hat imsorant place, and whofe veracit: $m$ y be lepended upon.

The megnificert chiv of irafriagton in America :a very handome fote; and they combue buildiug in a very rapid mane:.
frelaind.
Dublin, Yan, 21. This day his Fuce?lency Eanl Canden came in the ufial fare, and one nad the Seflem of Pa liankent wita the foll, ine Speech from the Th one:
" My Lords, wall Genilemin,
"I haw roceived his M. jetty's commands to meet you in pathanent.
"It giver me the mom fincere fatifacion to inform you, that, notwithermint the advantages which the enemy poltelied at the conimucement of the loft $y$ wir, a d the facelf s whichat ended their operations in the former pats of the campan 'h, the generat fithetion of affairs is on the whole nueti effentialy improved.
"The continued and brillion furcetfes of the Aurrian armies upa the Ramie, the important capture of the Cure of GoodHope and Trincorme by his ki gents's forces, and the dec:len and con fimedra;e rionty of h: fleets are circturnances of the utmor imiontance to the common caufe; and thei frect is frenctienct by the inter nal diffetfec, the ruined commerce, and increafog financia! embarr fimer:s of the enemy. The culis lately dipending in Fratuce has led to an order of things in that Counry, fuch as will induce his Rajefty to meet any d'forfition to Negociation on the part of the enemy, with an ear:oft defire to give it the fullert and f,cedieft eff ct, and to concluie a treaty of general peace, when it may be effected on juit and fuitable terms for limfelf ald his allies.
"The treaty of commerce between his Majefty and the United States of America having been mutually ratifieh, 1 have ordered conies of it, by his M.jefty's command, to be laid hefore you.
"I have the pl"afure to annonnce to you, that her Royal Highonefs the Princefs of Wales has been happity delivered of a Pille fs; an event which, by giving additional fability to his MajeRy's auguft houfe, cannot fail to afford you the highert fatistaEnon.
"Gentlemen of toe Houfe of Commons,
"I ohfer ve, with the finceiert plearun that, cotu ithfandme thecor inued preffa: of the war, the commerce and reven es this king ciom have not in any dergee fall. from that flourith ing ftate of advar cemei which in the la? jerfon of p.riliment w a fubjeet of fuch jof congra mataion.一T circumfance afords a decifive proof th your proferity is fombled on a lold bafi and leads aeto indilat the fattering hor that whatever auditicala burthens you m find it necelfary to :myofe wall no: be m terially folt by tile ponpic.
"I have urde e e tiva gubiic accounts á en.m tes? the enfung year of be baidt fore you; and have nocteuht of your rea nefs t. pr vide fich ,iphlies a a due fer of the exigencies of the kingh ma finall fu geft, and thi whe policy of frengtheni has Majery's exer ion for procuring a fo and permanent peac: $10 .!1$ apetear to re der necemary.
"M Lords, avl Comthmen,
" It is with gra: regret tiat I feel m felf whifiged to advert to thofe ficret a theion he .fromana the dugeriase sent and m.a., bi'y of whots have in for dogrebere whomen on feveral trims, a in the intemance who h hive taken pla in fome purts of the kiratom. It hus the fom time been fource of grea: fat memten ion exertions of the magiffrates feveral perre of the kingom, and the a crity which lus Najett,'tiscular and mi tha forces have wive faly manfofted on: of the ciril power, whenever they ha been called upon for the preferiation of $t$ pe ce and hupport of the liws. It romai for your prudence and wistom to dev fuch meafures as, together with a contir ance of thofe exertions, and the atdution powets which, by the aivice of the Pri Council, I have stoovbt it nectlfory chathifh in defferent comties, will preve the feturn of fimil. r exeeffes, and rettort proper reverence for the laws of it county.
"The fuperior and increafing impt tance of the agriculture and manufactur and part culatly of the linen manutact of the kingdom, will comriand your : cuftomed fupport. Under the prefent fitu tion of Europe, you cannot fail to atte with peculiar vigilance to the general it: of provinions; and, if circumftarices fall any time render your interpofition adve: able, I have no doubt of your adopting fu meafures as fhall beft apply to the exifti neceffity of the $t$ :mes.
" 1 am alfo defrous of pointing your: tention to the Pooteltant charter-fchoc and orher inftitutions of public charity a improvement.

796:] News from Scotiand, and various Parts of the Country.

" Your unanimity and zeall can never be forre importance than at the preferte ctis, in order to imp:eis !le enemv with a iorough cenviaion of the refonces an bus 1ajefte's kinglon, and oprewre faomable termuston to your homourable forts. His Map-liy his the fatlett r-1ice on vour firenet's and uxaclument, and a the foritude, finit, and perfer.r.ance his remme.
"It will! bo my amintion, as it is my rvice; and it will h: my porn wand of anxious what to co ap ante wi th y yem forts in the coranoncoufe m which we e all equatly engemad and teretted; and y umolt endeavours th 11 ie vied to fewre the happone?s an! puefjer ity of this ingdom, and th protert and mamtan its oft exce ten: Confturon."
[An Achlietstir hi- Miefly was moved Lord Convontam ; and ove to hi ExHency the Lord Lientemat was moved! Lord O'Neill, tohb vethich were carr e.i.] Cork, $\mathfrak{F} u n$. 28. Tueflay niglt we tad the oft aweful thunder, pre.edsa by tightng, that has heen iememhere! to fome ne: the lightwing flruck the maft of a ge veffel in the dock, opmofte Mr. Henficy's Sit and Iime works, and thevered to atoms, it alfo hroke the windews in r. Henaffley's, Mr. Coppinger', and me other houfes in that row, which fornately is the only damige that we hear s been done by it.

Scotland.

$\boldsymbol{E}_{\text {dinburgh }}$, Fan. $2_{3}$. On the 2 rft inft. his syal figlinels the Duke D'Angnuleme, left fon to Monfieur, arrived at the Abbey Holsmoodhoule. We understand bis byal tightheds is to be ac:ommodated in - apartmerts of the Earl of Breadaltane sre, wntll tich time as the royal a artents can be par in proper repair to reive their Royal Higtmeffes; and that his jyal Highnefs the Duke D'Angonleme opores to fee company tor the prefent in e apatmeuts of Monficur on Mondays d Thurldays at noon.
Edininrgh, fon 2 $^{25}$. The weather, for ree days path, has been cery tempeitu5. On Saturday afternoon it blew a perharaicane from the S.W. In the new wo, and other expofed fituations, many rfons were carried off therr feet, and fown down ; teveral carriages were overned, and in fume houies the wintlows ere broken and forced its. The Areets re fitrewed with chimney-pans, by the 3ing of which reveral perfons were hurt, pugh w: have not heard of any beng ngeroully io. On Sunday morsing the arm was equally violent. The gate was im a quarter that :s feldom dangerous on fis coatt ; but, if is was exaly violent on the Weft coaft, the confequences are to be feared.

Glaferve, 7an. 25. By a fudton innondation verter $v$ at Graenock and Font Glaf-were laid hu ter wer antax for mine mches on the- ti ors, by whish me as a good dzal of theace 1 ingivel, but t.r what extrot we cannot fay: The twis on fugar at Gr en ck whit be very gra, probably nets lefo thin zo,o-1. in fome of the up fion einnturn in an $n$ y ink hes on tho lower tier of figar. The form was alfo fericheflt here; a tack of chimneys was hown d wn m the Highistreit, and feverul trees in the neighourhond have been torn up by the riotc.

From Dasmfrics we 'earn, that in confequence of thela:e exceffive raine, the River Nith bad overflowed its hanks, and wahed away three houfes neir Elencaple.

Country News.

Fixn. 13. About 7 e'clack this moming, the mof ereadill freeser rembered to have happened in York cire broke out in the manufetory belonging to Meffrs. Marhall and Beymon: fitn ted ne wholl cchlare, near Leeds, which raged woth fuch fury as to buftic ciery attempt to extirguifh it, for upwards of I, hove A rreat part of the exterfac billings he: anging to the , hove concern a:e dehrojed; and we are forry to fay, that by the falling of cine of the walls, feven perfons unforturately lo + their lives, and upwards of twenty uthers were fo ternbly hruited, as to render it neceffary for them to be fent to the Gentral Infirmary.
Nerucajite, 'fan. 16. On Tusiday evening we weve turprized here by a mote fodter an' dr aifol thunder-1torm. Tha fathes of lightaing were extremely vivid, though the thunder was not fo lond as at a ferw miles ditance: a fudten euf of wind arofe at the fame inftant, accompanied by a mofa tremendous hower of hall, which lafed half an hour. That evening and the next; the wind blew with jreat valence from the S. W. and it is much io be fearal that the fhinping on the coaft would fuffer feverely; we hove not however yet heald of any damage b-ing done.

Levec, Fon. 18. A young woman, fervant to Thomas Wyatt, Efq. of Hortedkeynnes, in this cuanty, dropned down, whalf reating a letter the had juft received by the peft, ard inftantly expired. Oa ex.maning the billet which feemed to have had fo extraondmary and fatal an effect, it appeared to have been wait n by a young maly, who had fomeriy been the fullowfervant gul profeted admirer of the abote unfurcuate gill, the contents of whicla were, to infurm luer that he had lately been married to awother yoman.

Portimbuth, $\mathcal{F}_{\text {and }}$ 20. This morning, thout 8 o'dosk, arnest Amial Comipim, with the fqualion under tis con mand, confittEnt of the Glory, "f o 8 anm, the Impreg. nable, Cololus, Itrémibie, and Tident, of 74 guas e.ch; the Lionc $16 \frac{p}{f}$; Alcmene, Doat; iugzlier whtabout 45 tif? of mor-clant-fhers, of which the following EatIada thens fore: a part, riz. Sir E.wand Howte, Britaniz. Rue, King Certee, Sulnvan, Raymmi, Gug Contrant, Hoderton, and Cument bllior; the reit are ivent-Tnimen and tantpors. The Charon and Expeition were furarated form the fleet in a gale of wind. This is the remuast, with the few itragslers which bave, at diferent times, put back into plynoatin, Falmonti, Milford, and this Fort, that are arrived of a fleet confitting of abnut 200 if !, which left St. Heles's about the 8 th of Dece nie: laft ; fince which they hase heen coninually beatng agnot conprory and tamend us gates of wind and Leany !er, in whishey bave recenved fo much dumage, that aimo the men of w.ir will be oblicis. to go into dock. 20 more thips, heavy falcre, were left in alio Chamel; and as the wind is from the South Weta, they may be expecied in the courfe of the morrow. The Lion, in cuming up, ftruck on a tank with great volence, beat her moder off, and was otherwife much damaged. The Prince of $W$ les taniport, inmediately on her arriv. , ran into the harbour, having loft her bowfprit. The Charmins Eliza, Marvey, with provifions, for Grebada, is alio come into the harbour, but has received no damage. The abuve flee, after unexampled peifevernace, and having experienced the difmal effects of volest gales of wind for for long a time, that the hips were almont every one unfit for fea any longer, bore up for the channel laft Sunday, arrived at the back of the Wingt latt mght, and at $S$ ithead this morning. But we are happy to fay, that feveral more of the fleet are hourly expected to arrive ; and we hope fome are put into Irelind, as it was obferved, that fome, when the fignal was maile for bearing up, appeared a if they mifuncertioul the tagna! by the courfe they aft rwards fleered; and we tave farther confolation in he.uing, that the troope are, in general, in a much healther flate then coald reformbly be èxpeted, after being fo long it isa in fuch dreadfol wather. Di. Blar, phyfician of this Reer, his broke his leg, and is conleguenty confind.

Haftings, "an. 20. A number of anonymous incendary tetters have lately been claculated here, threatening deftraction to the perfons and pronerty of the neighbourin) farmer, on acconut (as t cy fatad) of th: high patce of wheat. Lat? night, one of hefo threats wur whied into efferf ; for, about eight o'cluck, a very fine ftack i wheat, confitting of urwards of fiftee loads, was difcovered to be on fire, on thi farm belonging to Mir Milwasd, atout mile fom this town. The folders, and number of the inathitants, were prefent $i$ : ohert time, to ore anftance; but, then bing no water :ar the fpot, the whole Whis vatuable preperty was contumed.
resari is offered of zool. for bringing th ni crad tomer or ffenders to jultice the at meirnt they here eluded all fearel MF: M1/wand is the wayor of this town, very worthy nazutate, and has aflif ed, hy many patronic mideavours, to mak the fcarcity of grain as lytie felt a poffib' by the poor.

Kingiton, Jar, 22. On Sunday morning fire breke out in the houle of Meffrs. Peft and Grat, at AT ton Aells, in Surrey, whic in lersthonan in was when to the groun The Rames wete fo fopl thet the fami hav juf tume to efiaple, liat no part of tl furnture could be kaved. The premiff were not infured. The accident was occ fioned by an oven, fir the purpofe of the manufaency, jut built, of infuficient worl mankip, and the firt heatise of which if free to the beams above $t$, thougla the brid layer who built it was appointed to wate it through the night.

Sberne/, Fan 23. It heing reported Adminal Buckn $r$, :hat a itrunge veffel w Jying in the Nore, he fent ane of the ter ders to enquire whit fhe was, and receivt for anfwer the was a Dine; bur, fome fu picious circunflances appeating, the tend was ordered to watch her. On Wednefd; night fhe failed ; but the tender got betwe her and the coilt of France, and, aft fome refiftance, to: k गer a few leagues fro Dunkirk, and trought her in here; has a very valuable cargo, and it is repor ed that it belongs to fome perfon int City, who interded to ciuit the kingdo with all his eriects; however, the pape aue before the Lorts of the $\Lambda$ dmiralty, an in all probdblity, the velf! will be decl red a prize.

Yan. 3 3. As a boy was at plav near tl wisd-mill belanging to Ryc, in Suliex, th fwifts aruck him on the heat, and fra tured his fkull to dreadfally, that he dil the next day.

Falnouth, Yan. 24. YeRerday we exp rience! a very heavy flom of wind al rain; the fea rofe to an extraordina: height, the ground houts of many houl were f:ooded, and mult of the mips drov but oniy one, a Guincamm, went on-fhu and foe was got oft weth litle damage. Fluhing, many houtes were very much 1 fled. At Penzance, the damage is fuppe ed to amount to 20001 .

Yan. 26. The lute high winde, in ma places, were attended with fevere itorms thunder and lightaing, by whech muct of ## 1796.] Interefing Inselligence from various Country Towns.

mage has bcendone, particularly in the counties of Yo,k, Cumberluni,', and Nertoumberlan?.

At Liverpsol, the ftorms have done confiderable d.mage to the piers.

Great haveck was made among the flimping in Susthampton River. The beautiful beach, a promenade in fummer for the vifiting gentry, is totally defrnyed, being inundated, and lad fat. At Northam, the quay is demolithed, and Blackman's bonfe, on the what, thown down.
"The thumer-itoras was very vivient there; but mure fo : Biphon's "üaikan, where it thook the feeeple to fuch a degoce that the bells aghually ramg. the whole village was in the urmont :llarm, every houfe was agitited as if hy on eartiquake.

Portfonoutb, Jun 26. In coniequence ©f a dreadful gale of wind, a great a mber of fhips at Spotheat have this day heen abliged to cut the:r cabte, and ron for the harbour, feveral of which have got foul of each other. Signals of diftefés are now flying on-hoard many veffels, bat the weather is fo extremely bid as to prevent any poat going fo $t^{t}$ teir affictance. A man of war's boat was inven out of the harbour with the tide this afecrnoon, and overfet near South-Sca Reach; the whole of the crew got fafe on-hore except one man, who was pufurtmately dromned. The tide was many feet higher this dey than has been known for upwards of 30 years; feveral houles on the Point have been wafied down, and a nmber of people are removiag their gonds up into the town ; for, unlefs the wind abates, the tide will be full as high as in the morning, and many more houfes will conferpuent'y te damaged.

Plymouth, 'Yun. 26. Ahout 5 o'elock this morning, a dreadful gale of wird cane on at S. W'.-About to c'c'ock, the Dution Eaft Indi, thip, whichanived here yeterday from Adm. Chritian's flest, drove to leeward; and anout 12 o'clock fruck on the S. W. part of Mount Batten, and immediately after partel her cables. She then veered ronnd with har head to the N.W. and ftre ched acrofs the harbour under her-fore-top-fulather ler ruder being beat off, by friking on the baten, the became unnannageaht, and was driven athore under the Citadel hour half palt twelve oclock, when her mults were all cut away; and, after beating for feveral iours, her back was entirolv broken, and fhe is now a mere wreck. When the thip itruck, the number of perfons on-iward, including foldiers, fearsen, women, and ch:ldren, amounted to about $50 n$; and notwithtanding the violence of the fea, which was trementous almont be ond defription, jet not rore than 4 or 5 perfons are luppof do have perified, and thofe were carried a way by the main mafi, and got entangled in the rigging; from which neilher their own exatione, nor thofs on thore, whate humane effrrts did all that lay in the't power for ther prefer vation, cond extricate them, and they unfortunately perthed. Several of the troops bave received much hust, but the utmolt care has heen taken of them, and they are all comtotahlv loder d in the Citatel and in the adgacent horpital: efpecially the fick, of whom there were faid to be ahout fix'y on-board, int of a malgnant fover. bome of the tomps were drafged many wf wiom feemed faredy to bov: a fian of life remaning. Such was the anxiety of the folders and feamen theo th isud, that many of them jurn er over- onow, and had nearly loit 11 eir ? ives ay the viouknce of tlie fea dathing then eni the rocks; on which accomit. the gellant, the merepid Sir Edva:d Fellew, whe a bravery that does !mantate homor, and v.hach, perlaps, was foldom or never mualial, Got himfelf conveyed on-board that futhon by means of a rope extendel from the fim, to the thone, and by hns able conduct provented the confenon that ex:fed, by aff. rieg the troup that he woald he the lof man to quit the flyp; wing to whi b, the utmol ferenty initantly provailed; and the men were, hy 4 u'dock this aftan fom, all sent out of the thip, fome hy mans of boats, and ohers by lopes entened to the floore, and fortunately without any mote lives beng hoit.

Whitebaven, Fan 25. On Saturiay haf, we had one of the mat drodful tomas of wind and rain that ever was known in this part. It contimued the whole day and night. The twe, from 10 to it at nigit, rofe to a height never experiacel intuctice year 1771 , beng not lefs shan twen'v-two feet at the end of the Gld exy; and tho waves, from the great vi teace of the wine, were tolied with mocredible fary overall the works of the harbenr, and feensed :s threaten them with entrie demolition. It appeared for fome time impontible for any battlements to refin the force of the fer. The damage futained was, hovever, compratively fmall. On Sundy the weathe was more moderate, and at continued far thronghout the day; but another deadfat tempert came on at night. A veliel whach had come to an anchor oif 1 is harbour, and was boarded by a buat from here, whicla put into her feveral of rut fearan to affict the crew, was put on-fhore a litie to the Northward of Harrington harbowr, and is gone to picces; happily all the poople were fived. She belonged to New Yonk, and is faid to have come fron Plymouth in billat, bund to Oftend. We have not had an opportuniry to learn the particulars. The tempettures night of Sunday was fice ceeded by a fiumy morning. Between 4 and 6, there was a great deal of thunder and hoghtning; ty half pat? ro, the tide had den then to an enomous heighe, covering all parts adjacent to the Cuays and Marker place. Abont thit time a veffel (apperenty a Pabnger) which bad boca Jinn-to, in the expredtion of gening into this harbour, was forcod p.fi it to the Northuard. Tie tide of yreverdav mernint was ligher than the former more awfu' than any phonome of of the lan' that bab occurral for a contary pif, don, we feat, noorc diftrective. That gucat damage la ben dore, is certam; bat of is extest no perfect acconat can yet be given. The budwak has tutiored confderably; the New Cung is find to he conturcl, deAtrosed, and tix parmes-a all het wewt t!e fea atel Ith. Ruminey s letsic at the food of Duke-ltret is arhed dus? ; the fomly was $t$ ken out of t tas wadevs imo boat . Beat phed in the Nia koct-place, to take the in and ats out of veat of the hooles. That pat was inomdired for four hours, and at ane the ciace tode fonw io yards up Kag-figest, where no petion lo.ing coer hat rl before. "umber al! this time, the gunt of wis. ${ }^{1}$ ware bemendoms, .and wilhlitte intelis.ibim, fram S S. W'. 'Plue conffernation was actieral, atad al:e fcene alusether hotsible and athmang beyond defariprion.

158 Interefting Intelijgence from various Parts of the Country. [Feb.

Fromozith, Yan. 26. A large hip was caft on finmeat Putteven, abort $1+$ mie: from this place, in the night of the 24 th mft. fuppofed te be ane of Admul l lititati's couvoy, wath troops, isc. on-boad. None of the erew are fitsen. ald the wffel is entirely beat to pieces. Soveral peets of wreck, fuppowal to bedrig to a fhip of about 300 tons, and one of the Witf India conoy, have hoated moneme tear Natazion; 2n (a1, mathed Fullier, of Scabro, feveral horfes with D 26 burnt on their bonse, wearing-aparel, sec.

Fahizuth, Y̌un: : 8. léferday a perfon arrived herefiom E'sileven, neat Helfon, in Curnwail, who was on the fpet when a very latge tranfout, ind to b: from Cork for Fonsmonth, with the 2 (th 1 : giment of drazoons oa buatd, confining of between 4 and 600 ment and ofticer:, foundesed within a cable's leanth of the farnc, and. every foul perifhed. Sever.t cad harles drove on-bhore, and two dead childıen, with guantities of wearing-apporel ; and fome of the malts and fails, hut all thartered and tsra in a thoufund paces. Nine men foom Brague, colled wieckmen, joined t? endelves by a rope, and attempicd to reach her when Eong coun, wten a furldenguit and a d:eadiol fa comme $\cdots r$ thea, there rope proke, and they were loatin Nomats B..y, but a grat punt of hor catro fiated. The Pier at leazance is satiol aw:y ; and two vite, at Iatinn and a latub, driven to fer, where, it is Rungate' "'rn, 28, I 13, motning about one o'clock, a large fhip belonging to Hama. burgh, came on-hbore near the bathingrunms at this place, and, if the 'ad weather continues, it is doubtal wiether the will. be got off again, as, previous to her getting on-thone, the fark asmint the Eat Pier, and recewed confule.ab'c wampe. There were or-wad this velfe! 130 Emigrants (fiart of the regimest of $R$ man), all of whom are faffly landed here; and, con-, fidening thefe poor fellows have been onbuard fifteen seeks, and we sratei mart of that "me very hod weatiser, thacy look in. goneral exceedingly well.

Portymotb, $\mathcal{F}_{\text {an }}$; i . This day atrived here his Rovalitighneis the Duke of Yark: Hecame at 3 o'clocs in the morning, and imneniately ent for Admiral Chifian, in order to confut on the aroper meatares ta. be furficed for the welf ire of the troops, who arę to be inmedrate'v lamied, and. are atrost to a man in perfet he tith.

Fob i. Thus night a wind-mill belonging to Mefrs. Cewitts, of Reigbs, caught fire (by fristion, the vanes havin: broke loofe', and in the foree of an hour and a ha!e was tatirely confumed. The violence of, the wind, the rapidity of the fames, togea thar with its fituath.n, being on ao emi-. nence, formed an arpeat ance moft aw fully, grand. vifitle evento a confiderable extent in the adjoiniug enuntires.

Conves, $F e h, 7$. Th. we the pleafure of communicating to you the very acceptable in telligence, particulariy to thote whor had selave on board the Aurora, of London, one of the tranfpats under A.Imiral Chriftian's convoy, and tuppofed to have fo:n* dered at fea, that the malter, crew, and treops on board, in number alrent iso, lave providentially, and almoft miracua tount, feen faved by the uncommon exemtions of Capt in Hodse, of an Amencau Sip cailedti.e Sedzley, who fell-in whith the wreck at fea on Tuclday latt, without any maft fanding, and foll of water, alnoo ta forking. Pefore night he had the good Errtwe e to get them all eir-board has fhif, with the lurs only of one man, whon dieco in tla buat bringing him on-boad; and foup whers expirel on th moming ot the day they arnved here, which was froby in the afternoom ; the rent wace all fifely landed. It is foppofed that the wieck nuad have funk foun after the pouple left her, having then near feven feet water in the hold.

Feb 25. The Nunery Viater Com-mill, rear D ugias, in the Ifle of Nifan, helongner t: Mr Rryan Riundeli, late of Liverpool, to k fite, Iy accident, whout in w'clock, at neist, ard was burnt to the ground, with the mathine $y$ and conteats.

Feb. 25. A mectmig of the officers of Whe wal parabes in Buth is called, for the experb 1 urpote of t kisig into confuteratowa the propricty of applying to Parbanatit for an ati for cumolidiang the pa*
1796.] HISTORICAL CHRONICIE.
roclus' affefments into the general fund, and tor houlding a home of indutiry, fimilar t. that at Shrewfory, furiciently commodious to recerve and en:ploy all the poor of the refpective parihos. The resluction of the poor rates in the toivn of Shres forry, immedn ${ }^{\circ}$ हiy on openong the:
 29.21. 10 firnur of the hrale. Withn the iane period the incteale if the norrrates in all the parifhes of Bath h.ve lowen in a proportion moth ghtater than the faviriss at Shrew?b: : and fince the erection of the boure of mduntry, they have hid a fatusfation of 'ti!' greate: importane thin even tier seat fongs, they have feen the chillaen of the pow traned u; in iabits of induttry and virtue! Lercelar, Fob. 25 . On Thuriday !aft four flits, louded with coal from Lanc:Shire, arrived at the Tover Whart of the Eli. griere Cansl, near (thajtor, helong the firt veffels wheh have navisated that part of the canad w th the abowe tiffat and :mportant article; which caume fait to be of confrderable advantise in that city and its neighb.onlumed.

In the town of Stocksth, in Chethire, the population ha leeen to uid, on an accurate efamate lately iaken, to have increafed in a very grent, ciegute. The number of inhabitats is no er tan a 5,0001 .

HICTORICAL CGRONICLE.
 venting scabtious Mreximgs an Alfombies.

1. Nonectung, of any (decraptio) of perfons, e:acerdun the number of so perfons (other thanexcept any meetang of my county, wdac, or thvifon, catled by the Lord Lieutenant, Curo Korulorum, or Siserift, of fuch courty; or a meeturg called b; the convener of any county or fewsutry in that part of Gieat Britain called Scrothand; m. any neteting cilled by twe or mine fritises of the leace of the conty or phace wisere fuch mesting tiall he holden; or any meesing of any cry or buroust, or town corporate, called by the diaso or other headofficer of lach city, or horoug', or town comporate; or any meeting of any watd or divifion of ang city or town corpornte, called by the zademan or ather hew ethicer of fuch ward of devifun; (r at:y meeting of any corporate body) wail be imlten, for the purpofeor on the pretext of confedering of or preparing any pention, complant, $\mathrm{r}=-$ monftrate. or declatation, or otier addrefs to the King, of to buth Houics of either Houfe of Parlament, for alserition of matters effablifhed in chroh or ftare, or for the purpofe, or on the aretext, of deliberating upon any grievaaco in clauch or ftate, unlefs previous notice he given b; foven houfcholders in fome newfiaper. The nutice unt to be inierted, whleís the ant wogity to do fo be wititen at the foot thereof.

The rotice and authoriy to be preferved, and priduces to a juitice it lequired; and a penalty of sc!. for inlorthoz wotice without fach authority, &ec.
11. Notice may be fiven to the C'eris of the Peace. $u$ ho fhell fortinwti, iond a cony to the Jundicos. Suchmotere to the efticetual.
III. Meeting wit mot notwe to be du:ned sn!axful afenhtics.
IV. If 12 or na se porifors, affembled co trary to thas ád, will c tothe together one hoor alter hang , equ red by a Juthice, Ecc. Wo whente, they than frater ext?.
V. Picel-nai:on we nate in the following firm:
"Cur Sovereign Lord the King chargeth and comm. $n$ :ctle li perfons being alfembled immedhately to dipmerie themielves, and recenbly to depart the their habitations or th their lavial buanefs, apon the pains contained in the aft. made the 3 th year of sing Genrye the Tinse, for the mare effer biles. Grd t..vetan King"
Vi. If, in nitethigh hol.en purfant to no:ice, any natier foull be por poanded or deltheraced upon, purpotit that any thing by Law e ablu? ! may he atte ed except by awhony of Kugg, Lome, and Commons, &c. a Niagteratie nasy aber them to diperife; and if, I2 or monc patons fhall contune toge! ! $1+r$ an hane thetcatter, they thall fuifer ceforts.

V11. Juitices at meerins on notice may order perfous, propowathes or mintaining propotitums lor alsemangat then; by liw etablinet, exerp by antherty of the tiong, Lotds, and Commun, sc. tu be taken into cratiody; wad in cafe of refitancemay caufe proclamation to be made as aforefid; and, If 12 or mote finll con'mue rogether an how thereafer, they tholi furfer deatt.
vili. tragarates miy reion to afieme blies, and att ; and m.sy 1 cupure the a.fittance of Peace Officts.

1X. Perfons nut it Eperfing within an bow after procimatoon may be apprehended; and, it killud or maimed by reaton of their refitance, the Maghtate, scc. incemuifid.
X. Perion oheruxing Magiftrates attenting, or gows to attend, mettinge, or obteructing parfoas proclaming, to furter death. Derfuns afferhied, to whom pro$c_{i}$ mation ought to have been ma e if the fame had not reen budetel, contmung together to the number of $1=\mathrm{ci}$ mome, for 2) howr afere fach hiodrance, to fuifer daah. Perfons at furh affemblies oppofing the taking oficuders wion cuitody to iwfer detih.
XI. Sherifi: denut, Ecc. in Scriland, to have the fame power a fattoces in Enghad. Perfons cunviated of felonizs in Sco land, to incur the pian of d.ath and confication of moreahie:.

入1I. Flaces for lectures or debat sconcarning cerning fuppofed puhlic grievances, wisre money is paid for admiffion, unlefs previounfy lienfed, to be deemed diforderly places; and the perfons opening or ufing them, to forfeit roel. Ac. And the gerfus managing the proceeding, and the ferfons prying or receiving maney for admilfon, or dehvering of receiving tickets, to ZuIf. l'crons anpearing as mafter, &c. of furf places lizhle to profecution.

XIV. Magiftates wilho, by information on caih, mave reafon to fufnect that any nlace is orened for delivering lectures, $\varepsilon$ ac. Fan lemand to be andmitted; and, ita citie of refit..., sie plice to be dexned dhordely, and the perion refofing admittince to forfan :ccl.
$A:-a+\cdots=0$ may demand admitennce to and coid ; lace at the time of sual bo ciemed difnely, and the perFo't foftron ad nitrance ho dl forfut rool.

S:1. Juatices may !icente ilhces for del:ver a wose; and may revke them.

Z $V$ I. Erfectures to be recoverid by adun of dew in any of has Majeft:'sConts of Revor: at Wet?minter, or in the Cullits a. foftiaty or Exachequer in Scoliand; provaded twat, if any wetion or fuit thail te brought aroint any perfori for any thing cone in pursuance and in execntion of thas zet, the deferdme may thead the semerat ia ae; and ix tyerdict pafo it the deforchont, or the phatold dicontinue lis ot her a ton, or f o nonfuted, or iuts.mant be E: en agonat the pl intit, then fuch defendút ilhall hive tieble co s.

X 21. Nothing in this az to extend to any letures or difemuries to be delivered in any of the U Uiverfities of the fekings:ome, Dy any me:sher thereof, or any perfin, anShomize:bythe Chancellor, Vicc-Ch ncchm, al other pinger Ofticers of fuch UnivaflE.: S ruectuoly.
XiX. No payment mate to any Suboulmater, or ctikr perfon by haw allowed to $t=a b$ ald matruet you:h, in refpect of any Dectanes or difcourfes delivereal by fach Schoomanter of ether perfon, for the infercenononly of foch youths as thall be commirted io his inftruction, fhall be deomed a payment of moncy for a'vifin to fuch Pectures or dficourles within the intent and meamug wf this act.
XX. Ast not to abridge any law for the furrifinon a punifhment of offonces herein defaribut.

XXl. Act to be nenenly read at every Fpptany Cisarter-fenion of the peace, and every let ot law-day.

XXif. No perton to le profecuted by virtue of this act, unders the profecntoun fidal be commenced within fix ca. lendar montias after the offence conamotici; and no adtion to he brought for any of the genalites impoied by tite act, wulefo brougld:
within three calonear montlis next afte the offence committed.
XXIII. The aft to commence and hav effect within the ciry of Londan, ar within iwn nty miles therenf, from the de next after the cay of pating it ; to con mence and have cerct within all othe parts of the kng tom, from the expiratic of feven di.ysnext fter the day of palfing and on continue in force for three yea from tine eing of pating, and until the end the then nest fefion of arlament.

DONESTHC OCCURRENCES.

This evenarg a nint famptons ente tainment and fulendid h.ll were given the $M$ ntion hame, in comblanent to $t$ : Lord \$/ Jor's buth-ilai. Mie Lord May bad felected a number of his friences to a as ftewads; and at mane oblock the dor of the Stanfor-hon'e were thrown opt As the comprany entred the falnon, th, were ferenatod by the Doke of Yort bank, and agree hls furpized ty a vark of beatiful illa sinationc, con'fling of fo tyons of valie: a d i mpres, ar dewo billii fars, concervel will sriat tafe, ald extraombary latasocy. Thecrmpany, they entered, ware wits'ued to the La Nayoref, $n$ ext 6 whom: Cor Pince Willit of Gloucetier. Soon ofter ton n'clock, I D: $k$ ke f Clarence mut the Prince of Orar and his fon arriven, who were condue ap thairs by the Lord Nitavor. After p: ing ther complimense wotho Laty Mayor her Ladythip was led by the Duke of C renee into the hall-roon, whe's was In wife very brilliantly illonnmated, and each end was a tran pareticy. The I u. - s opened by Prince Willam and $M$, Cuntis, daughter of the Lord Mayor ; fecond minate w? likewife danced by Fighneis and Mrs. Matland, tho Lif Hayor's niece. The daroing contint tilt tive o'clock the neat morning. At orclock the fupper rooms were oper which comprized the whole fuie of aps men's on the firf fory. The grand tcille, witheh was the central room for f per, opeaing into the rett, exhibited m the fudienenchantment of the firy res s of romance than the fupreme exertion if art, which at once delight the eye, 1 gratify the tafte. This room formed a loon, the pillars of which beang the rentine wieath of coloured lamps and tifici 1 Howers, reheved the fone beaut tramparencies and itars which were pended between them, berring the $\mathbf{R}$. Arne, the Cisy Arms, the Lord May s Arms, and the judgement of Paris. In $e$ parbour on he Latt fide of the houfe, $e$ Royal Vifisurs and Nobllity were entert $F$ ed hy the Lard Mayor and his Lady in fon. This room whits cqually maguifite wath the faluon. An wie end was the or chor emhizoned; at the other, the Lord Mayor's Coat of Arms in a heautiful tranfparency, under which ftood the Lord Mayor's carver in his parapheranlia, carving for the company from a Ea: on of Beef, with the S'andard of England Ituck therenn. The decorations of the tahie exhbited naval architecture and mitary croplaes. A triumphat arch was in the centre, with the Order of the Gaitcr fufpenced, on which was a miniture of his Maiefty. At one end of the table wias a modet of the Ville de Paris in foll fail, with the B ition colours riding trmasphant over ut to aufver which, was a Whater, with an hamporner ftribing a fint, allodug to the Lord Mayor's mercantle coactans in the southern thate Finery. In the cente of the room thas fufpended a bat loonhar?, wht bementighits. The Regal Vitito. were all ferved on phate. There weretwo ather moznifie:t fupherroons openal if the entinuce of the tatom, a:l ferved and decerned ia the fome folendat manner, and fuephei whet the greatelt profurion - The wime: ware onthatly chonce, confilting of ever, fist, frow Champrac and Burgundy down twinable lort. There were ahout 200 perfons pucfent; of the Nobility, were noticed, the Duke of Clarence; Prince Wham of Blausefier : the Prince of Orangu; irince Frederisk of Orange; Dukes of Leeds and Rutland; Erris of Wuchelfea, lemple, Inchiquin, Cofvemor, and Fife; Lords Wallingham, Grandfon, and Fitzzerald; Mirchinnelfes Townfend and Donesal ; Lad es Lonfuale, Walfinghan, Anne Eliza Bryiges, Augufa Clavering, Charto:e Campbell, Gertrude Villiers, Templetown, stuast, Jane Halliday, Vanneck: and feveral foreign Ladies of diftinerin. There were, befides, prefent mots of the Bankers and principal Merchants, and their famihes.

3796.]

$$
\text { Tisuffluy, Foan. } 28
$$

A Telegraph was this day erected over the Admiralty, which is to be the point of communication with all the different feaports in the king graph to London has hitherto been in St. George's Fields; and to fuch perfection has this ingenious and ufeful contrivance been already brought, that one day !aft week information was conveyed from Dover to London in the frace of only feven mizutes. The plan propofed to be adopted in refpect to telegraphs is yet only carried into etteat between Lendon and Dover; but it is intended to extend all over the kingdom. The importance of this fpeedy communication mult be evident to every one; and it has this advantage, that the information conveyed is known only to the perfon who fends, and to him who receives it. The intermediate pofts have only to anfwer and convey the fignals.

Gent. Mag. Febrnary, 1796.

This morning, about ro, Michael Blanch, a Spaniard, James Colley, an American, and Francis Cole, a Black, who were fioud gulty at the late Admiralty Selfions, of the wilful murder of William Little, the mafter and commander of an American vilfel, were brought ont of Newgate, and pliced in a cart, and conveyed to Execution Dock, where they wore executed according to their fentence. In the afferman the three bodies were bronght back to SurEeon.' Hall, there to be diffecled purfuans to the fertence of the Count of Admir ley. Had it been a care of piracy, they weold have been hanged in cheins.

$$
\text { Tíuefiay, } \text { Yuno }^{28} .
$$

This day the lang expecteal trial of Mo. Stone, for High Treafon, began. The dors of the coure were opened a fow mnutes liefore 9 ocluck; when the prifoner was brewhit into coere and tock his feat ammos the counfel th the bar. Immediatoly after appeared the dumery and Solicitor Gencrats, whth Nir Law, Mir. Gatrow, and Adr. W'on ', for the Crown; and Mr. Serjuar : Adair, Mr. Erikne, and Mr. Giblis, for the Primener.

Lod Kenyon, Mr. JuSice Amhern, Mr. Juttice Guofe, and Mr. JuRice Lawrence, were no fooner feated on the bench, than, with the confent of th- i rifoner' counfol, the gentlemen of the $j$ ry were c.lled over in the Court of Chanctiy, where they were obliged to affemble for want of room in the Crurt of King's Rench, which was excefiniely crowded. The number of jurors returned was 178, who were now called one by one; and, after feveral rejections, twelve very refpectable tradefmen were fworn on the trial. Mr. Wood opened the indictment, which charged the prifoner with having on the If of March, in the $34^{\text {th }}$ year of the reiga of the pretent King, taiterouny confpired with Joha Hutord Stone to defroy the life of the King, and raife up rebellion and war againft his Majelty, within his re.lms of GreatBritain and Ircland.-To effect this, the indictment charged him with baving held correfpondence with the perfons exercifing the powers of Government in France, then and now at open war with his Majefty; to have taken meafures to collect how the minds of has Majelty's fubjects ftood affected in his realms, in order to afcercain whether an invafon or invafions were proper to be attempted, or otherwife; and for that juapufe to have wicked!y ufed his utmon endeavours to collee every information in his power, which he fent to the enemies of this country in France. The prifoner was farther charged with having fent a Mr. Jackfon, one of his wicked aid traiterous affociates, to the kingdom of Ireland, there to learn, by oblervation, if an invafior

$1_{2}$ DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES. [Feb

invafion of that part of his Majefty's dominions were prafticable, or the reverfe; and with having advanced to him divers fums of money for that traiterous purpofe. The profoner was :lfo accufed of having fent, not only intellisence to the French relative to nor chipring, but alfo various articles ufeful for $x$ ar.

The Attorsey General, in a long and able fpeech, pointed out to the Jury what the charges againft Mr. Stone were chiefly grourded upon; and read to then abftracts of certain letters, foond in an efictutair belonging to the prifoner, which hat heen received from his Brother and Jack fon ; and in which correfpondence, he faid, the principal evidence would be found to con-fift.-Their attention, he doubted not, would be pointed to the gentleman at the bar, and, if they fhould find the charge alledged againft him rot fully proved, they would in that cafe acquit him : hut their attention ought alfo to be directed towards the country; and if the guilt imputed, as it was probable it would, could be brought home to the prifoner, it was equally their duty to convict him.

The evidences confifted of the meffengers who had found the letters in the prifoner's houle ; of W. Smith, Efq. M. P. Mr. Sheridan, and the Earl of Lauderdale, with whom Stone had fome converfations refpecting the fate of the country; an:l of a Mr: Cockayne, the evidence on Jackfon's trial in Ireland.

At half after to at night the Court ad. journed till the following day.

Friday, Fan. 29.
At 9 o'clock in the morning, the Court proceeded on the trial.

The firft evidence produced was a parcel of letters from the prifoner to Mr. Pitt : in which he pretended to make fome difcoveries, as to the defigns of the French, by garbled extracts from his brother's letters; which were themfelves produced, to fhew the unfairnefs of the pritoner's conduct in this particular-A letter from Mr. Pitt was read, exprefing his doubts as to the authenticity of the prifoner's information.

The Counfel for the Crown then proved the correfpondence that took place between the prifoner and Jackfon in Ireland; which being read, clofed the evidence for the profecution.

Mr. Serjeant Adair then rofe to open the evidence for the prifoner; and in a moft able manner endeavoured to explain the motives which actuated Mr. Stone, and which, he was fully fenfible, arofe from nothing but vanity and affectation of confequence; as he could prove, from the moft refpectable evidence, that fo far from his harbouring treafon to the country, he, on the reverfe, was loyal to his King, and a firm friend to the Conftitution.

Several perfons were then called to this purpofe; all of whom gave evidence to th prifoner's gook character, and fome to th cricumpance of the publicity ufed relatis to his correfpon ence with his brother.

Mr. Erfkne then aldhelfed the Jury cor fiderably at lengt' on the whole of th cafe; as did alfo the Sc licitor-General, reply, on behalf of the Crown; hut, as the fpeeches contaned nothing new, our limi do not allow us, nor indeed are we calle upon, to lay them before our readers.

Lord Kenyon, after a.very fhort b argumentative charge to the Jury, procee ed to fate to them in a clear manner th whole of the evidence, and particular dwelt upon the correfpondence clear proved between the prifiner, his brothe and Mr. Jackfon; and to them it was confider whether the prifoner did carry fuch correfpondence for any improper traiterous purpofes, with a defign of fe ving the French, or averting an invafior:

It was absut 8 o'clock in the eveni when the Juiy retired, and ahont in th returned with a Verdict-Not Gulty.

Many people in Court burft moto vocil rous acclamations of joy; one man, in pa ticular, near the prifoner, was mocomme ly loud in his approbation of the verdict. He was immediately taken into cufto He faid, his name was Robert Thompfo and, on being afked how he dared thus infult the Court, apologized by declari he could not controul his feelings.-LI Kenyon told him, it was the bufinefs of 1 Saw to controul and command his feelin and thofe of every urruly man; and for impropriety fined him Twenty Pounds. Thompfon offered a check on a Banker the money; but, this being no lega! tend he was comm'tted till te paid the fil which was collected by perfons in the Cou

Mr. Stone had detainers lodged agai lim for debt; and was therefore carr back to Newgate.

On his trial, confiftently with his fit tion, he was decently dreffed in bla, having his hair a little powdeged. He fmall, but neat and genteel-looking mp He appeared very pale, and much emiated from confinement, but did not fet any way embarraffed or dejented.

Chis acquittal affords an additional pr f of the excellence of the Britifa Conftitut, and of the mild and equitable adminiftra 3 of the Laws. The conduct of Execil Government demands, in a moment is the prefent, the utmoft vigilance; circumfances of ftrong fufpicion muft ways vindicate the propriety of legal quiry. But Britifh Juftice referves onl 8 the objects of its vengeance the delibe e and malicious offenders, and ftretches $t$ its protecting fhichld to all thofe who w out criminal intentions have been dupery the artifice of others, or becrayed error by their own indifcretion.

Friday, Эan. 29.

Earl Cholmmdeley has informed the City emembrancer, that his Royal Highnefs, om heing under the neceffity of "ifraiffi g is eftablimment, is unable to receive their oigratulatory Compliments in a manner itable to his rank, and with thit refpect hich is due to the City sf London; and at the Prince, exprefies much regret in thaving it in his power to thew a proper gard for the good withes of the City of ndon towar js himfelf and the Proncefs. -The publick lofe by this the fight of two ay.elegant compofitions.

Tueflay, Feb. 2.

Several cellars belonging to the houfes in eftreets whoch leal from the Strand to e Thames were this dy unde: water. he town of Maidenhead was in a dread1 fate from the fame calfe.

Saturdav, Feb. 13.
This day Mr. St me wis difcharged out cuftody, having made fome agreement th his creditors concerning the detainers Iged agamit him.

$$
\text { Thurfday, Feb. } 18 .
$$

This day came on in the Court of King's nch, the caufe of Jeffreys verfus Mr. Wal$r$ and oth=rs, commifioners appointed for uidating the Prince of Wales's debts, for fam of 54,68 I. for jewels furmined by Plaintiff for his Royal Highnefs. Meffrs. arp, Elias, Levi, and Dugden, eminent cmond-merchants, were called on the fit of the plaintiff, who proved the value che articles to be, nofer, 50,9971. 10s.; pile Meffrs. Crifp, Duval, and Francil, on the part of the defendants, give it their opinion, that, havmg examined the els, they were not worth more than 8ool. exclufive of the fetting of a miniafe picture of her Righnefs. The Jury, fr a quarter of an hour's confideration, (nda verdict for the plaintiff, 50,9971.10s.

$$
\text { Friday, Feb. } 19
$$

Sichard England was put to the bar at I Old Bailey, chargel with the wilful rrder of Mr. Rowlls, brewer, of King(b, in a duel at Crauford-brilge, June 1794. Lord Derby, the firit witnefs, ge in evidence, that he was prefent at fot races; when in the ftand upon the r-Courfe he heard Mr. England cautionit the gentlemen preferit not to bet with deceared, as he neither paid what he or what he barrowed; on which Mr. Fvils went up to bim, called him rafcal coundrel, and offered to ftrike him ; un England bid him ftand off, or he wild be obliged to knoek him down, fay" at the fame time, "We have interred the company fufficiently here, and Wu have any thing further to fay to me, y know where I am to be found." A Eier altercation enfued; but his Lordfhip, $\theta$ at the other end of the itand, did not actly hear it, and then the paries retired.

Lood Dartry now Lord Cremorne, and his lady, with a gentleman, were at the inn at the time the duel was fought: they went into the garden, and endeavoured to prevent the duel; there were feveral other perfons collected in the g rden Mr . Rowlls defired his Lorlhip and others not to interfere ; and on a fecon! attempt of his Lordfhip to make peace; Mr. Rowlls faid, if they dic not etir , he muit, though reluctantly, call thsm impertinent. Mr. England, at the tame time, ftepped forward, and took off his hat: he faid, ". Gentlemen, I have been cruelty treated, I have bein miuret in my honour and character ; let there be reparation made, and I am ready to have done this moment." Lady D rtry retred, his Lordihip ftood in the bower of the garden, until he faw Mr. Rowl's tall. Uae or two witheffes were called, wno proved nothing matertit.

A paper containing the prifoner's defence being read, the E. 11 of D.rb:, Marqnis of Hertford, Mr. Whitebreail, jun. Col. Bilhopp, and another gentleman, were called to bis ch iracter. They all fpoke of him as a $m \div n$ of decent gentlemanly deportment, who, inftrad of feeking quarrels, was ftudious to avoid tile $\because$. He had heen friendly to Englifhmen whilft abroad, and had rendered fome fervices to the military at the fige of N ieuport.

Mr. Jultice Rwoke fumed up the eridence, entered on all the legal cafes in point, as laid down by Coke, Hole, Holt, Raymond, &c. after which the jury retired fer about three quarters of an hour, when th-y returned a verdict, Guilty of ManAuugbter. The prifoner having fled from the laws of his country for twelve years, the court was difpofed to fhew no lemity. He was therefore fentenced to pay a fine of one hilling, and to be imprifoned in Newgate twelve months.

$$
\text { Saturday, Feb. } 20 \text {, }
$$

In the King's Bench, came on the trial of Kyd Wake, indicted for a mifdemeanour by hirling and hooring the King as his Majefty was going to the Parliament-houfe, on the firft day of the prefent fentoms, and likewife crying, "Down with George, no war," &c. Mr. Stockuale, the bookfeller, and Mr. Walford, the linein draper, who acted as conitables on the day, were examined, and folly proved the facts charged in the indictnient; up.n which the jury, without hefitation, found a yerdiet, Guilty. A great number of perfons attenced on the part of the prifoner; but as they could only fpeak to his gener is claracter, and not to the cafe in point, Mr. Erikine, the prifoner's counfel, dechmed calling upon them, reterving their teltimony to be offered in mitigation of punithment, on the firft day of next term, wien the prifoner will be brought up to "the Court of King's Bench to receive judgement.

SHERIFFS appointed by bis M.jefty in Councilfor the pear 1796.
Berks. Michati Anthony, of Shippon, efq.
Bedfordfine. George Brooks, of Fitwick, efq.
Bucks. Thomas Hibbert, of thallont Huwfe, efq.
Cumberland. Jannes Graham, of Barrock Lo'se, efq.
Clochicie. The Hen Bucth Grey, of Wincham
Camb. and Humt. John Gat diner, of Cliattcris, e[y.
Deremfirs. Sir Bourchier Wiey, of Tawftuc: Bent.
Dorye? ? itomas Eovijer Euwer, of Iwera Miniter, ely.
Dasbop ire. Sir Rethert Wh hot, of Ofmaton, batr.
E/fax: Fackom Barwife of twarmitls, efq.
 Torkmater, efa.
Hentw whice folm Sowerby, of Lillev, efq. Hereforifoic. Abraham Whataker, of Lition, clu.
Kont. John Mamferd, of Suttonat Home, tif
Leicyterfer. James kicharus, of Amby-de-haZouch, ef 4 .
Lincstuf. William Earl Welby, of Dentor, tiq.
Mommonth/h Henry Parnes, of Monmouth, efq.
Aorthumberlavd. Adam Mansfie!d Lawlon Decardmmell, of Chaton, efq.
Northamporfaice. Allen Edward Young the younger, of Otlingbary, efy.
Nu, folk Thomas Brown Evans, of Kerby Bedn, efy.
Notting bam, /hire. Joha Wright, of Notingban', efy.
Oxf wifh. William Lowndes Sione, of Bi ightwei!, efq.
Rutlindfaine. Robert Tomlin, of Edith Weftun, eif

Sboppriie. Ralph Leake, of Longford, et Someifetfore. John Tyudale Warre, of E. tercemne, efq.
Staffordgive Henry Vernon, of Hilton, is Suffol:. John Clayton, of Sihton, etq.
Soutbumpton. Hemy Maxwcht, of Lwh. howfe, tiq.
Sorrey. Tbomas Suton. of Moulfey, efc Sutcr. John Fuiter, of Rofehill, efy.
H'wavik/k. Edsard Croxtatl, of Suuft, efq.
Worcojperfie. Thomas Wial the younger f Buon, efit.
Wilts. Gume: Trowie Becket Turner & Perleigh, tig.
Tonkfiris. Gudfey Wentworth Wentwe of thokelion, efy.

Smeth Vales.
Civomathoh. John Marua, of Lingharne, 1 . Pemborse. Ne:tramel Phalys, of blebetche, do Cardigan. Ejward Kiatrin Jone: , of Lial , -14
Giimargan Herbert Eurft, of Ghalva, $\epsilon$ i evon. Plutp Champion Crefprgny, th lallyiy", efy.
R.ilvor. Joh. Vhiblard, of Dolyvelin, et North Wales.
Nifcioneth. Sir Edward P'rice Lhoyd, of If, ety.
Anglefier. John Morris Conway, of Ce i. g , e厄q.

Guen moron. John William Lenthall, of "1. nath, eff.
Montgomery. Juhn Dickin, of Welm Pool a, Donbiebfiare. Joindughes, of ilorieley U, C! 1
Fint. Sir Elward Pryce Lloyd, of Pengen place, tort.
SHER FF appsinted by his Royal Higbute be Prince of iv .les, in Cicuncii for the 2ear. 16 . County ff Cornwall. Jom Enyc, of Enys, 9

Vol. LXV. pr. 1058, 1075. The Rev. Sir James Stonhoufe died on the Sth of Decemher, 7995 , at his houle at the Hotwells, Briftol. The ce'sbritv of this venerable divine, both as a preaclier, and he author of feveral retigions trest, is well known. A numerous acquantance, of all ranks, from the peer to the peal.nt, will lopg $r$ t.in his memors in their aftictonts, as a warm friend and an agresthle and infructive companin. That love w God and man, which is the effence of Chrift's religho, was fothed abroad in tis heart, and fo influanced his actions, that his energetic ftrains in his public addettes, even tull withina few month of his drceafe (notwithftanding liis great age and in: ny infirmities), had fuffered tut hitcle dimmation; nor had his liberahty any $o$ her eItraint than that of gemaine pradence. To all good men (thofe at leaft whim he believed to be fuch), whatever religisus names they were diftinguithed by, he cheerfully extended the rig!t hand of Friendith; and a real indizent perfor, however frange lis face, or futile his claim, never appleed to him in vain for relief Mary public chanties, will bear refpectfal teltmony to his fupport; and many more of a private nature will feverely feel and lament it's extinction, and efpecially wofe in his own parithers, where he hod lft a commifion with a confillental friend (ever frace his complaie oblged him to non refidence) to difpenfe books, medicines, and money, to the fick and poor, according to their exigences. But what manfefted the fincerity of his profeflions, and the teat dignity of his character, much more impretive!y than can the defeription of wotds, or a rutrofpective view of his life, were his dying moments, in which he difpisyed a catm refiguation of his foul to thim whom he loved and honoured, in the exercife of true Chairtion faith, yet without prefumption, and in the enjojment of hope fall of immortali $y$.

Vol LXVI. p. Si, b. rend "Dec. 6. At Gibraltar, Capt. Charles Strickland, of the 2d batalion of the 82d regiment of foot, third fon of su George S. bart. of Boyuton, co. York."
P. 85, a. The late Mr. Wall has left, by his will, to the poor of Bridlington, co. York, for ever, the dividend of $1=001.3$ per ceut. confols; and the fame to the poor of St. Nicholas, Deptford, Kent.

Biкith.

${ }_{2}^{y_{23}} . \mathbb{A}^{2}$The houfe of Charles Brandling, efq. M. P. in Portland-place, the Lady ot the Rev. James Ord, of Langtonhall, co. Leicefter, a daughter.

28 In the college at Ely, the Lady of the Rev. Thmas Waddington, prehenvary cf Ely, a fon.
29. At Shelbrook-park, co. York, the Lady of Thomas Maffingberd, efq. a fon and heir.

In Queen-fquare, the Lady of William Frafer, efq. a duaghter.

Latciy, the Lady of Robert Lloyd, efq. of Slannon-lodge, a ion.

Ma. Metcalfe, of Portland-place, a fon.
Feli, : The Laly of Trevin Wheeler, cfor A Amerer.
2. . $\mathbf{t}$ nis haufe in Grent Cumberlandffreet, 'he Lady of Col. Glyn, a fon

The La:ly of $H$. Curfons, efq. of Waterperry, co Ozt r.l, a daugher.
4. The Lady of John Miers Lettom, M.D. of 3 finghall treet, a fon.
\%. At his honfe in Horford-itreet, May fai, the Lasy $\cap f$ J. P. Dotenu, efy-a dau.

10 At seitgefieht, on. Durham, the Lady of the ?.cv. Finnge Barrinnton, a fon.
At his boure ia lincon"-inn-fieids, the Lady of T. R. Howcll, efq. a fon.
15. At the contige in Leatherinead, Surrey, the Lady of Join belfor, efq. a fon.
15. At his houfe in syck wine-freer, the Lanty of iV oterer P oyd, eff. a forn.
$\therefore$ his la wife in Lower Giofvanor-ftraet, the lady of Sam . Whitlamidefy. jum. a fon.

At the houfe of Lady Car lae Leigh, in Ceen Anne-fireet Eaft, the Hon. Mrs. Letgh, of A dectrop, co. Oxford, a daugh.
20. At Pack wick-1urg, Wilts, the Lady of cioheri Wilams, efq a fon and heir.

2r. At his houfe un the Cire is. Bath, the Lads' of Leut-ch.I. R. Suote, a fon.

25 At his honie in Margaret-itreet, $\mathrm{Ca}-$ ventith fyuare, tre Lady of Capt. Home Popham, of the royal navy, a daughter.

Marriages.

Yur. T Lichfield, Rev. Charles Pro1. A ry, cector of Stanwick, co. Northampton, to 1 Cif Cathane Prohy, fecond dugher of the Dem of Lachtield.

Mir. Bihhop, of Eitex freet, Strand, to Mifa Bugte, only daugliter of J. B. efq. of Ineworth, cn. Miduletix
4. At Edabturgh, Mr. Jofeph Bealey, late of Henley upon-Thames, co. Oxford, to Mifs saker, daa. of R. B. efq. of Jamaica.
Mi. Harrifon, attorney, to Mifs Almond, both of Deiby.

Mr. John Walker, of Wefton, co. Northampton, a London falefman, to Mifs Jane Neal, of Belton, co. Ruland,
5. At Eton, J. Milnes, efq. barrifter at law of Lincois's-inn, to Mifs Grey, daughter of Wm. G. efq. of Buihmead-priory, co. Hunt:ngdon.

At Shrewibury, Towniend Forefter, efq. to Mifs Ama-Matia Byine, youngeft dau. of the late Major B.

At Welt Bromwch, Rev. Dr. Booker, of Dudler, to Mif. Blakem re, danghter of Mr. B. merchant, of Weft Bromwich.
6. Joln Engelberts Lietenrood, efg. of Purley, Berks, to Mifs Hancock, of Newbury.
7. Mro
7. Mr. Tanner, mercer and draper, Caf-tle-ftreet, Reading, to Mits Herbert, of Chievely.
At Barnftaple, co. Devon, Mr. John Bremridge, merchant, to Mifs Anne Collcyri. At Over-Worton, Rev. W. Ellintt, rector of Mablethorp and Stains, in the diocefe of Lincoln, to Mifs Louifa Vatentina Draper, daughter of the late IV. D. eff. of Nether-Worton, co. Oxford.

At Prefton, co. Lancafter, the Hon. Alexander Brymer, to Mifs Harriet Dchfon, youngelt daughter of the late gavenor cf Nova Scotia.
12. At Lancafter, John-Alexander Hunter, efq. of York, to Mifs Hentierta Saul, daughter and co-heirefs of the late Thomas S. efy. of Lancafer.
14. At 10nngton, Francis Waring, eff. of Ford, co. Salop, to Mifs Bames, ouly daughter of Edward B. eff. of iflingtons.

Kev. Wim. Adans, fellew of Pembrokecollege, Oxford to Mifs Frances-Pigott Cay, - Ideft dau. of the late Henry-Boult Cay, efq.

Rev. Ifasc Leathes, M. A. fellow of Jefusocollege, Caniuridge, to Mifs Haggeftun, youngett daggter of John H. eff: of that place.

Mr. Martyn, of Walcot-place, Lambeth, Fo Mifs Urfula Hornfby, daughter of the Late Rich. H. efq. of Horton Kirby, Kent.

Mit. Rawlin Mallock, attorney, of Teignmouth, to Mifs Sobey, of Exeter.
16. At Kingtion, near Portfmonth, Ceorge Godisen, efq. to Mits Colvill.

At Shipton, Mr. Peter Brooks, attorney, to :huts Birch, of Newbury.
10. At Faverhani, Nathaniel Simplon, eff. of the South-fen-houfe, to Mrs. Jackfon, widow of the late Thomas I. efq. of Fennington, co. Limerick, Ireland.

At Sprovton, co. Leicefter, Rev. 11 m . Mompley, vicat of Sproxton and Selthy, to Mifs Ehzaheth Whaley, of Granthain.

At Glanury, co. Breron, Thonas Proccor, efq. Capt. in the 4 st regiment of foot, :u Mifs Wartha Allen, daugh. of the laie Edward E. of the Lodge, in that county. At Charlton, Kent, Capt. Jof. Mac Lean, of the ruyal artillery, aid-du-canap to the Marquis Townmend, to Mifs Charlotte Congreve, youngett daughter of Col. C. of the farne corps.
20. At Bifham, Berks, Capt. Wheatley, of the ift regiment of guards. to Mils Jane Williams, fecend diaghter of Tho. W. efq. af Temple-homfe, M. P. for Great Marlow.

21 . Rev. John Jeffreys, M. A. rector of Barnes, Surrey, fon of Dr. J. canon-refidentiary of St. Paul's, to Mifs Charlote Byron, daugh. of Rich. B. efq. of Hertford.
25. At Afton, co. York, Edward Synge Cooper, eff. 2d fon of the Right Hon. Jofnua $C$. of the kingdom of Ireland, to Mifs Verelit, eldeft daughter of the late Henry Vere!!t, efq.

At Spondon, co. Derby, Edward Sher. brooke Lowe, efq. of Southwell, co. Nottingham, to Mifs Muther, dau. of Walter M. efq. of the former place.

At Camhri,ge, Mr. Thomas Mott, attorney, to Mifs Gillam, eldeft daughter of Edward $G$ efq.
26. At Exeter, Mr. Wm. G.attey, finurmerchant, to Nifs Eliz. Woolmer, eldeft dall. of the lare Rev. Jofeph w. of that city.
27. At Eton-college, Rev. Caiuc Briggs, afinitant of Eton-fchool, to Mif Penelipe Geugi na Bearblock, niece of Mr. Tyrrel, of that place.
28. At Southwell, co. Nottingham, Rev. Robert Chaplin, refior of Averham and Kelham, to Mifs Anne Sutton, zd da. of Sir Rd. S. bart. of Norvood park, in that co.

At Bradford, Willam Coles Medlycott, efq. of Ven-houfe, near Milborne-port, to Mifs Turwell.

At Newcaftle-upon-Tyne, Mr. Bowes Fenwick, to Mifs Mary Hornby, youngeft daughter of Hugh Hefq. of that place.

John Kall, efy. of Heavitree, Devon, to Mirs Bailey, daugh. of James B. efq. captain in lle North Devon miluia.
31. At Edgbaftom, Mi. E. Penn, merchant, of Birmingham, to Mifs M. Cox.

Lately, in Dublin, Joteph Kelly, efq. late of the 62d regiment, ti) Mrs. Carden, uidow of the late John C. efq. of Car: denfown.

At the fame place, Thomes Birmingham Daly Sewell, efq. to Mifs Beresford, da. of the a rclibifhop of Tuam.

Rev. John scott, miniter of Greenock, to Mifs Surannah Fifher, da. of the late Alex. F. efq. of Dychrnount.

At Adderhury, co. Oxford, jof. Rodgers, of Broad ftreet, Londen, merchant, to Mifs Lacy Busford, davgiter of the late Dr. B. of Banbury.

At Stepuey, Mr. Thomas Ahfield, attortey, to Mís Eliz. Milier.

At Kingfordge, Devon, R. Pearfe, efq. to Mirs Char. Cunnington, late of Exeter.

Mr. Elford Sparke Langworthy, of Brixham, furgeon, to Mifs Hoyler, daughter of Mr. H. furgeon of Dartmouth, Devon.

Mr. Peter Oliver Bignell, of Banhury, co. Oxford, to Mifs Barratt, of Worcefter.

Feb. 1. At Coilsfield, Major Robert Dundas Macqueen, jun. of Braxfield, to Mifs Lilias Montgomerie, fecond daughter of Col. M. of Coilsfield.

Mr. Joln Fowler, of Southwark, to Mifs Thomas, of Church-row, Newington, Surr.
2. At St. James's church, Wm. Cowell, efq. to Mifs Darlot, daughter of Peter D, efq. of Piccadilly.

At Northampton, W. C. Percival, efq. of London, to Mifs Martha Berry, eldeit daughter of the late Mr. Thomas B.

At Briftol, the Rev. Themas Hickes, brother of Dr. H. phyfician, of that city, to Mifs Hodgfon, niece of Mr. Vines, in the H!sh-Atreen.

At Uppingham, Mr, Dafh, bookfeller, of Ketering, to Mifs Mary Collyer.
3. At Sculcoates, Rev. Mr Edwards, of Lynn, to Mifs Pead, daughter of the late Benj. P. efq. of Huit.
4. J. Chamberlain, efq. of Leiceiter, to Mrs. Holmes, widow of Theophilus H. ef́q. of the fanne place.

At Tottenham, Mr. Simuel Rhodes, of Iningen, to Mife Strange, of Tottenlam.

Samuel Scott, efq. of Gower-Itreet, to Mif Onmanney, of Bhomfory-iquare.

Mr. Thomas Ayres, of Caftle-ftreet, Bloomibury, to tifs Frances Deze, of Smalbury-green. Hounniw.

At Warwick, Jofhua Deverell, eff. lieutenant of the firft frifh Loval rencible, to Mifs Sarah Bunes, dinghter of the Rev. Robert B. rector of Halford, co. Warwick, and of Upton-upor-Severu, co. Worcmfter.

Rev. Butholonew Goe, of Conngfiny, to Mifs Flowers, of Bonom, co. Lincoln.
5. At Clapham, Surrey, Thomas Cecil

Maunfell, efq. of Thor pe Malfor, co. Nor. $\mathrm{h}-$ ampton,t, Mifs Jane Wrather, daughter of Clement W. efy. of Clapham.
6. At Mary La-Bonne church, by the BiShop of Gloucefter, Thomis Gardiner Bramfton, efq. eldeft fon of T. B Bramitom, efq.
M. P. for Effex, th Mif: Blnauw, daughter of Wm. R efq or Quen Ame-ifr. Wreft.
Mr. Wilfon, of Leatherheat, Surey, to Mifs Harrifon, Jau of Mr. H. Pic adilly.
8. At Marhat Overt n , Rothand, Mr.

Scot, thate cornet in the Rutland F encbles, to Mifs Nicks, both of that place
9. At Reomley, Kent, John Reade, efif. of Iplden, co. Oxford, to Mif: Scot, efdeft daingter if Majir Jolan S. of Bromley.

The Earl of Poderfiourt, to Mifs Brownlow.

At Ket lefton, co. Norfoik, Mr, Walker Wilby, of Litule B it in, to Mrs. Dening, widow of Thomas D. eiq. late of the county of Norfolk.

Mr. Molefworth, c:binet-maker, of Birmingham, to Mifs Jetim, chelt daughter of Jofeph J. eft. of Weit Etomwich.
Rear-admital Spry, to Mits Thomac, fifter of Samuel T. efq. of Tregolls, near Truro, Cornwill.

At Briitol, W. B Elwyn, eff. of Qu.on'scollege, Oxfmi, to M Ed Edes, ehieft da. of Thomas E. eíq. or Sinfol.
11. Mr. John Amt fif, of Mifley, co. Effex, to Mus Anne Cocker, of ivillauftreet, Soho.

At Hughdon, Bucks, Wm. Faithone, eff. of the Greert, to Mifs treacluer, diugo. of Samuel - efa. of High wyomte.
12. At innchelter, Mr. John Shenton, proprietor wf the filk manufactory there, to Mifs K rant, iaughter of Mr. K. inerchant, of the fa ne olice.

At Leih, M. Eb nez r Anderf $m$, merchane, to Mhis Eliz Shortited, daughter of the late Robert S. efy. of Greenhead.
13. Felix Ladhroke, efq. fecond fon of - L. efq. banker, to Mils Mary Ams Shutrik, fecund diughter of Richard $S$. efq. of Enfield.

Alexuder Hamilton, efq. of Hampon, in Irelan I, and M. for Carrockfergut, to Mifs Catharine Rurgh, fee ind daugheer of the late Rowert R. efq.
15. Thomas Binge, efq. Pore keeper of thie orduance at Diver, to Mifs Bazeley, dauther of Rear-admiral B.
16. William Netherente Long. efg. captain in the 8 gti regiment, to Mifs Evane, ouly daughter of Joim E. eff of Milton, near Gravefend, kent
13. Jolm Wadman, efq. of the Inner Temple, herritt:r af law, omif D. Herlas. daugh. of Francis D. eiq. of the roy I navy.

At Stepirv, Mr Genrge Grew, of Blackwall, whifs Sath Perry, dangher of Joha P. efy. ot the fame pace, th.p-birider.

Mr. Wickiteed, of Aldgate, to Mifs JVo dith Slow, of Huatiogdion.
20. Mi. Agar, of Arthlery-lane, to Mifs Lifford, of Hackney.

At Stafford, Mr. Simeon Birch, of Bul-ton-le-idoors, in Mis Hewit, of Seffors.

2r. Mr. Bicknell, of Old Bond-ftreet, to Mifs Levetr of Northfleet, Kent.
22. At Bath, Rev. Dr. Knox, fon of Lord Northland, to Mifs Amma Hefketh, grund-daughter of Sir Rabert Juxon, bart. of Ruff,rdhall, co. Lan after.

Lieut.-col. A. Batuett, of the graards, to to Mis King, daughter of Admiral Sir Riclard K, birt.
23. Thomas fring, efq. of Vauxhall, to Ahts Taylor, of H Ifmoon-ftr. Piccadily.

At Greenwich, Thmas Fmkerton, efq. to Mifs Larkins, eldet di. of the late Thomas L. efy. of Bl.ckheath.

Mr Joieph jeffises Evans, of Staininglane, miercli nt, to Mifs Mulett, of Broad-ftre=t-bud ling.
25. Nathaniel Phillips, efy. of Slebechhall, co. Pembroke, to Miss Phillins, eldeat da. of the late Rev. Edwarl P. of Lampeter.

Deaths.
1795. T Le den, in bis 42d years Aus 2. Flowers Jicub Voltelen, M.D. proverfor of phyfick and clemifiry it the univerfit: at the" pice.

Sopt..... Ai a: Nichola Mtle, in the mand of Dominica, of the yollow fever, ared 23, Capt. Hugh Andrews, of the 8 Ift regment of foot; and, thor ly after, his brather. Major Hemry Andrews, of the fane resiment, aged 22 , whan fell a victum to his affectornate attendance on his brother during bie latt ilhels. They were both young men of exemplory characere, and urnamentin to therer profethen.
30. In Cliphions-ftreet, Mary la-Bnne, aged 52, Mrs Mary Evan:, wife of Mr. E. grocer.

Oc7. II. At Grenada, of the yellow fe-

168 Obituary cf remarkabie Perfons; with Biographical Anecdotes. [Feb

ver, Major Norman $M^{6}$ Lean, of the 68th regiment.

Noz: 15. At St. Dom'nco, William Hay, efq. fecond for of the Hon. Wm. H. efip. of Lawfield, and cuptain in the 83d regiment of fout.

Dec. ... Aged ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{o}$, inarally lamented, Mr. Rawlins Hay"e: many yeats an emonent miller at the $\mathrm{k}, \mathrm{g}^{\circ}:$ mills. S : nehoufe weir-bridge, Plymouth, but had retired from hufinefs. He: was a man of infinite wit and humour ; h's company was oniverfally foug't for by young and oid, who never left it unentertained $H$ e was commonly callad O!.! Acquaintance; which title he ften boafted he would no: exchange for any in the univerie the has often devared that an haneft miller was the acmé of intesrity; and affeted, with the flristeft profriety, hat bis neighbour's mes! never fatck improporly to his fagers. He was cxtremely fond of dramatic entertamasents, paricuJarly the rek brated uposa of "The Maid of the Mill," which atiorted him partichlar pleafure. One evening, rather in high fpirits, after a cheerfal glaf, whe 10 M:. Feddith, in Lead Ainoworth, fays to Farfi d (thers adnimably performed by Mr. Joff-1 ion), be think; "ic no d:grace to wed a millet's dansthter," the old gentleman threw his wht. hit, u hich lio always wote, on the fage, and exchimed - You are aght, ney lotd; an honet molser's the nobleft wo: is of Ged!' The andietice were fo plealded with this heartith exclamation, that very liberal applatate was belfoned from atl pits of the heufe. Previous to his death he called in thre witneffes, when be felt the languid lamp of life expuing, and made a nuncun twe will (u) favenar of a very otd and tiufty female fervant. In flort, the memory of old Acquaintance will long live in the hearts of thofe who knew and efeemed his whath.
3. At Monefertat, in the Viefo tratios, Mr. Herbeat, the tady of the Hon. Joitph H. efy. of that ifiand.
11. At Antigua, of a nervons fever, Cha. Kerr, efq. an eminent merchant.
16. At Chulham, near Canterhuy, co. Kent, in ter 7oth year, Mrs. Maly Cozens, widow, who was appointed, with her youngef fon, to the nanagement of the charity-fchool at Margate, on its eftablifhment at Michaelmas $\mathbf{1 7 8 7}$; which employment fhe refigned, in contequence of increnfing mfirnities, at Midfmmer 1792. She was a fathful wife, a moft indulgent mother, and s good neighbour:Mary Cozens was relort of Elwad C. late of Clitham, who was the only fou of Da. niel C. of the fame place, who died Jwne 18, 1747, aged 63 (hy Mary his wife, daughter of William and Bridget Rearl, of Godmerfham, who died Jan. 29, 1779, aged 79), who was defcended from Ciozens, Cozins, Coufins, or Coffeyns (as the name wa: written at different periods!, of Sandwict and its neighbourbood. The 「aid Edwars Cozens was burnat Upper Hardres, Nov 3, 1719. In 1743 he commenced mafte of the fchool kept in the church of Chil. lans; and, Oct. 17, 1756, was nominater and appeinted clerk of the fame parifh in both which offices he continued till hi death, April II, $173_{3}$, leeing then aged 6 y^ars. He always took a particular plea fure in every part of the fervice of th Clurch of England, the performance c whieh appared to be the happieft em ployment of has life, and from which, ha ving been bleffed hy Providence with good ftate of health, he was never be once, abfent, either at the accultomed c occafional duties in his own parifh churd except on the Sundaty preceding his deitl daring the whole of the abovementione period of more than 27 years. He was kind huibond, a tent $r$ father, an apprs ved teacher, a ufeful and valucd membt of fociety, a fiend to the dillreffed, and truly honeft man. He had iffue by his fa wife (to whom he was marmed at the pi rilh-church of St. Martin, near Canterbur in 1742 ) feven fons and one daughter: $\mathbf{E}$ watd, hom Dec. 15, 154.5, died Dec. ${ }^{4}$ following; Daniel, horn Dec. 28,174 died June 1, 1748 ; John; Edward; Mar James; William, born June 21, died Jur 2S, 1761: and Zechariah.

22. Aged 60, Mrs. Woollcombe, the lai of Thomas W. efq. of Frankfort building Plymouth. She was taken fyeechleis her devotions in her clefet; was a lady elegant and accomplithed mamers, of 1 tional and unaffeeted piety; and the po have loft a fecret but tried benefactor, a her family, relation, and fiends, a valu ble and moft excellent woman.
24. At his houfe in Revis Marks, ag 89, Levi Cohen, cfq. merchant, refpeci for his upisht conduct, retigious precel fonomable dealings, charitable practic amiable condefcenfions, rendering gene fervices, a loving hurband, a good fath and a toyal fubject ; thus bis life ended the mort exalied virtues, and in domed happuefs.

At Vienna, in the prime of manhood, the wounds he lately received in a d with Count de Weicks, Prince Charles Lichtentiein. IIe was in the 31 ft yeat his age, had been much in the confide: of the late Emperor, and is greatly monted by all ranks of prople, on acco of his numerous good qualities. Out refpect to his own merit, as well as : great credit enjoyed by his family, the gour of the law has been difpenfed $w$, and he was allowed a Chriftian bur, which was performed with great pomp 1 folennity on the $28 \mathrm{th}, 2$ th, and 3 iff this month. Priace Wincenias, his brot', 1795.]Obituaryofremarkable Perfons; with Biorraphical Anecdotes. $1^{6} 9$ who was his fecond in the duel, and to whofe counfels this misfortune is attributed, was, by fpecial favom, permittedto remain by his bed-fide, and, as foon as he expired. the young Prince was condusted a prifonier to his own houfe by two officers of the police, and a criminal profecution inftitued againft him immediately. The Emperor gave orders that, as this Prince is an ecclefiaftick, the proceedings mould be drawn un with all the neceliary forms. The Count de Weicks, and his fecond, the Count de Rofenherg, in whofe apartment the duel was forght, were alfo taken into cuftody, and treated with all the rigour of the law. - The Specint Commifion appointed to enquire into this unfortunate duel has pronounced a fentance which condemns the Canon Licitentlein to be cunfined in a cloifter for twele months; and Canon We.cke, as we las Co mot Rofenbel 2 , to be imprifoned in a fortrefs, the former for eight years, and the latter for fise vears. This fentence has, howeve, nut yet been confirmed by his Imperial M jefty.
1796. Fan. 5. At lus buafe at Nornich, in America, his Excellency Sumuel Huntingron, governor of Connect:cut.
10. After a fort ight's illinef, the whinde of which time he us at at fea, George Lord Hervey, eldeft fon of Fiederikk Eall of Briftol, and commander of the Z-alons man of war on the Aediteranean ft:tion. He was made a pott captain in 1780; and in 1794 married Lounf, fifter to the prefent Lord Beikeley. Hisiem.ans were interred at L-g'om.
16. In Cro:m cout, Rufel-Rtreet, Co-vent-garder, N:rs. Buch?one, widow of Mr. Jofeph R. formerly of York-Areet.

At chetter, St C'ulas Levirg, bint. His grandiather, REman L. efq. was one of the reprefortitives :n parliament for that city, wit' Sir Thw. Grovien w, batt. 1684 .

Aged ón, at hes frat at Beechen-grove, Wâtford, Whon. Bise, efy.
17. At waln firey, Wilte, in his 79th year, Capt. Sam. Spatcer, of the royal navy.

At Eblubuigh, Mr. Rehert Willamion, formerly a merchant in Le:th.
18. In Slare Atrce:, Chelf:a, Mrs. Kırby, widow of the lite Wm. K. efq. of the Board of horiks.

At Kilkemay, in Irelmd, Hon. Robert Fitzmaurice Deane, ellerit fon of Lord Mufkerry, and caprain in the Limeri $k$ nulitia.

Mr. Charles Campion, clork of the parihh of St. Mary Arenee, Exeter; and, on the 26 th, the widow of the tind Mir. C.; whofe death is fuppofied to have been accelerated, wot altogether by a frat babit of indy, hut through extreme grief for the lofs of a tender andi af etion te lufbend, and the painful re? ©t on of berns left with feveral we.kly c!all, n, whom the kew She was to ally incap trl of providug fur.

19. Mr. Martin Nickolds. He bed been a refpectable and refpected fervant to lord Howard, at Audtey-end, for 30 yeass; and is much regretted by h:s Lo:iflip, and his faunily and neightour.

At his feat at Cafle Bellingham, cc. Louth, in Ireland, in his 8 gth yenr, Alan Bellingham, efq. (See our Review of "A Rambe to the lakes," p. 133.)

At his houfe in Sevenoak:, Kent, azel 94, Rev. Thumas Whlitaus, chanceilor of the cathedtal charianof Chehciter, rector and vicre of Cucki, Saifex, and of Surton, cu. Nerfak

At Br'mpton, Mrs. De Euthe, widow of Col. De B.

At Enham, co. Osford, aged $7^{\text {º }}, \mathrm{Mr}$. Thomas A:kins, formely a confiderabie mutuler, but had ectived foms years.

At frab nouth, Mis. Anne Hawking, wife of (apt. Jamss H. After fpending a incial evening among her fiends, fhe faidenly cropped down and expired.

On-board the Baffet, Capt. Willim, Purcitafe, in the Dirons, Whliam Lord Belhaven, a major in the army.
20. At Lancafter, in an advanced period of life, Mr. slex mender Stevens, architiect; who, in the courfe of the lafe forty years, eretted wire tone bridges, and other buthmgs in wastor, than any man in thele kingdoms. Among the many excellont iv ths of that kind may be mentiosed the ben'ze over the Leffey at Dublin, and the locks shd dacks on the grand canat of frelont. The North of Enghondent Scotland exhbirs umberl-f works f his execution. the aqueduct over the river lune, at Lanchare; is sie of the ereateft underakings he wis everemerned ing and, had be lived a few month longer, he woull have had the fotishotwo of feing it cumpleted. Socuey tras tuftamed a gre it lof by the death of this valuable man, who not only poiftefï d confummate knowlege in his proferfron, but hat the tuoft pleafin, and engaging maners, whel endeared him to all who kuev thin.

Agull:9, Rev. William Gordon, M. A. of Hiccl!img, in Norfolk. He was adm.tted a: Bene't- Hz ze, Cambridge, :737; B A. 1-9; M. A. 1:44, was choten fellow sitit prosor 1748 , and proceeded B. D. $175^{\circ}$
22. At Nicedham, Suffik, Mifs Marriot, fifter of jom M.eq. of Tharney.

In lis igih yer, Mr. John Barm, firt lentenant of marines. He ewas drowned in grine from Sheernefs to the Garland frigate, lyug at the Nore. The horat in whath he went, wath other officurs and fevor I feamen Velonging to the Girtand, fark in its parig $g$ over-lasen, $t$ is foppored, with fors, which venel the people from baing out the "ater. Ten pertons perwhed by this daftrous event; aus and five or fix faved their lives, amongft whom is the bouffwan, who efereel hy getting oin the hoctom of the boat (ice p. 78). Lient. Butcon w... the fon of Mr. Join B. c'eik of the :ops-gatd is: his Majefy's dxk-yand diCluthom, authorof a vil tahie work bately puwhen, in it jud "Lequres on Femae Education and Manner:, " in 2 wets. Evo. His untimely at is not enly a Cuero lofs to lus purelt, hot is rezected liy all lis acquainance, , ho efocmadhon
 a. condun isow' is levit and dimpation, whith are tr amon to the military profuthonat row an ?e.

Athachan', the dow rI © y Throckmayton, widow me pelter of the late Sit natn, wife of Nat Potw , wouth Lamtein, and only fiter of the tate Do S.rapfon Pays, of Sherborice, co. Dufct.

A: houfe of C I Stewart, at Bhack1. 1.ulic et: : ; Hicume, $1.0!+$ asi $\{0$.

 th lew! en' and inat an mer to bune, an', wo wat athe the bet mein ir. it. [1].. n : wreinterad on y'm' at rults. A"atumay of the hagh sernh offegmes weere hermed with the prefence and umist el regret of Generts Mrimat, Demmanni, Watker, and JohnIn; Colonel Bortlawick, Stewar!, Cins.cise, Feace, and Alanley; and bo a very Eapectable num'or of pinde frient.

25. In lie Guth yent, Mre Sirah bewend.of Chative sume Shamen of at: ct", and naphow of W. I'ally, efq. at for he fame. He forved ticutred dawor:if Srom n $1-78$, and that of highthen it of 6 ats in $1-S_{3}$.

In Brahiwick-ph. $=$, Totichham, aged (c) Dir. Wallim Hamt.
26. Maine R. Dengets, of the invalids, Eamerly of the 37 th remment.

At Fatmontl, ionthy Cibts, eff. Hate 1a. w yor general of the mavy.

Thomes fecond Vifcount S. of Ireland, b whom the ha ioft feven chilitren, and wh furvised for owy thee wecks i ce p. ${ }^{174}$ Mrs. Zverit, wite of john E. efg. © Judi-place, Sumers-i.unn, St. Fancras. At Wellinglorough, © Northamptot 2hed 340 grealy refpestad and lamenter the Rev. II. Summers.
28. At Kugfor d ldage, near Eshan Suriv, ofter a long ant painful illnefs, th

Oía appid ductine, in his 23 d year, Wn Doyle, efy. O. Ic'ener, Bifex.

Rev. Jhan Putin, 1, A. : 769 , of Em: nuei-culloge. C mbatsc, vicar of Burt ham, ver on whicis he a..s piefented 176-, b. Sir Thilliant Mill 19 , bat. ar of Eratutece, in the - ar cononty, to whir he war poratd in :778, by the Arche hup of Camebrary, werth Entithe. 336 per anmom. He was antur if "lette concerning the Mind,", $55,2 m o$.
29. Whe R ha

 milh: of : sta: $r$... Perptrout Wi it lo ' y arived the chat hetors (adath. He can- the me nath i dat id un the 'V A Indic: and Ch: hat hore to a tive stace he he ped os a dert.e e, the wr I my., elq. fello

 *. kev. 1\% Cuk resior of Gb
 Fier uted, $1-61$, t the Hew Hump York of t'on celatan dion Jotn bumn, atat
 Ef ! of if : Times," who lucueded it the pr fon Bitherp of Ely, :755. Dr. w... of St Jom's-c.sldge, ambridge, $B$. 17:7, N. A 174.1, S. K. 1. 1750. ] hatere nowine been tricken into and pla $\therefore$ san by finge villains in the wight, fo after le fortorl of this ! ving, the fri and amel mion of a feconclatack in 1;imi, that he wo with dmalty refot from the ctiveto of defpendury.

At hail al, His Rev. Caub Rothera minufte of the Difientug moteting there 3'. Af C r thagen, near Bufford, Rev. Rement Wilus, of Trmit, ocoll. Ca brate, b. A. 1770 , M. A. $1: 72$.

Aged $n c$, the Rev. Win. Sl libury, fo tor of Arereton, Eitcx, and tomerrly fell of St. John's coll. re, C indradze.

In her ath jus, whar almgeting $1^{\circ}$. Whts Whenk, dughter of Ald.

1796.] Obituary of remarkable Perfons; with Biographical Aulecutaics I I

Lately, at Trincomalé, in the Eaft Indies, Mr. James Welth, furgson to the Lafcelles India-man.

At Northumberland, in Americ:, in his 20th year, Mr. Hemy Prielley, yourgeft fon of the Rev. Di. P.

At Edubhurgh, and buried in the Cannongate in thar city, Ann Adsaide Grebert, an emigrant, and native of Nancy in Lorraine. She was marred, 1772 , in London, to the Rev. Ei.eze, Williams, M.A. vicar of Cynvil Gaio and Llanfawch, m Carmarthenfhire, South Whar, and chap. lain to the Earl of Galloway. In very trying fituations, and doring a levere and tedious indifpofition of $h=r$ hufband's, the difcovered towards him unabating and unequalled tenderneis and affection, and betrayed the moft un ffected piesiy towards Goul, and the mofe clacefat refignation to the difpenfations of Previdence :t the death of a mont heartifu! little boy, who was buried at the fome charch, ahout 13 months old a few ueek hichurehis motier.

In his 8 th year, Mra. Join Fyfield, of Stanbridge, near Romfay, a man of a molt eccentric turn of mind and great fingulaity of coniant. The manor of Starbri ge he inherited fiom his anceitor, and it boul been many generations in his famly. He vas of a peman dipofiton, yet would farcely ever fuffer any of the timber on his eftate to be felled, thung! it :homated with the finett in the country, a grati de:l of which was yearly perifhing. Tlue price of 50 guineas had indeed owe tempted him to part with ha far famed ok-ace, but he repented of his tar:ai", and was bo ppp; to re-purchate in, a!mati man intely after, at a ligier paice. Alh repare of his mantion were prohitited, as an uffef extravagance, that woul! orng him to ;owenty; and whill fuch a fuperdaty of matertals as would aregly have remond the exproces, and remenced his habrann confortande, were rustion at his ctor, he chofe rather to retide in at wh the ro $\{$ open in many places to the leaten, with hat Ity an .partment that affreded butiti from the weather, and with the jult alld nom roting widh the wet th:- are? Ite outbuildings were in a fantar nate of dec.z, and their repar was atke pooldtesu. Ihe was totally blind ho m. ny of the beter years of his lie, wheth the thef eingment was a fingle piat of atorg bere, whible ufally quatied twice or tion weok, at the Duke's Hend, :st Gacat Bradja, ahout a mite fom his own lave, whiter he was led by a boy thet $c$ anantly atcondal him. For alang ferice of tane lie had a ftong a atipathy to ti.e making of a will, confider ne it as a prelate t. a perely deata; but the arguments of his tate w.f., whole amiable qemennonr, and confequent infuence, rapreffed or turned into a hatmed; channel many of his foug hities, and her reprefentations of the mprovided Rate of his vounger cheden at length prowatol over :s: fud ces, and induced lum on leave hem handt me legacime. Wha all his odititics, he lad slicart open to frientThip, and has frequently given fubtumial proofs of his regard for thofe who conth indelge him in them. His landeJ eftates, which are pret:y confiderable, go to his eldent fom, and are fuppofed to lave fufGicent timber on them, in want of celling, t) pay the legacies.

At Kirhbytephen, co. Wefmmiland. aged 92, Mirs. Agies Mafon, mother af the late Right R v. Dr. George M. brhup of smarnand vian.

AtOckian, Surey, aged 64, Mrs. F.. Francis.

At Ryphy aged 53, sr. Vm. Biney.
At Brifol Howents, whiner be weat fr the recovery of hin wealth, in lis $23 d y$ cat, Mr. Brigys Cary, youngeft fon of Joha C. efy. of Lym, Noifilk.

At Buth, Mi. Pollock, the heroine of the Buth and sitifol thentres.
A: Modidute, agal 76, Mrs. Tay'or, m: ther of Chment '1' eliq. M.P for that bur r.ugh.
it Abharda, aced ior, Mro. Smin.
At Hatenon, c. Nothampon, if. IV fiam smirews, a vely cpurat and fipestab'e grazier t:ere.

At his hew is Upma, near Weymurh, K Keays, :M. mr, T. B. Walfor, printer and bookfoller, of Straforl upon A A on.

Aged 82, Mrs. Hannah Wale, of Rew den, near Leeds. She was motier, gran'a mother, and great-giandmonin, is $1 ;-4$ cinkle: 12

At Rashy, c. Warwick, Nis. Cave, t. Let of Mr Wim. O. of tha plase

In her -ith yem, Mis. Oftan, wifat Mr. Francis U. fhatomer, a: Mation', York. They hit lived nario Wsitar 4 y cars.
fot Hath, in her Sed vere Now Sias t, wikne or ras. jate S. hip-on Mr. W. Gitm, immetly ot s.at , it. $s$ univerfity.

At ping, co. Leicelpar, apel 3:, 11 : Rov, hatum Ereer, rectir of Stwebt at and Thumby, matat cumary; to whan ! vang the wat promed in Aararthat. His will accalam be kis to to bay waret: is by his fumit: and fivends.

At Brenifor, co Marter w, aficrapma.

 of font, and man wert Mid ?

In Inad no in an adranced age, Hary

172 Obituary of remarkalle Perfons; with Biographical Ancedotes. [Fel

viving fon of the lite Henry T. efq. of York, and of Kirhy - ${ }^{-1}$ iall, in Yorkmaise. Richard Thompron, eff. only fon of the form $\rightarrow$ genteman, died at: Chelfea the day afee: his father, in contepuence of the buritins uf a blood-velfel. Hary Thomp(1) ', of ! . has left the tulk of the fortune, a nowni:g to at le.fe 15 an . 1. to Hinry Th moren, efq. of Kirhy liafl.

Fibruary r. At Craighead, in the parifh of Dunblane, co. Perth, in his Syth yeur, Michael Sirling, foumerly farmer at Glaforhath, in that path, where, 11758 , he mivented a thrembor nall, belie:ed to $b=$ the tirt in Scorlant, and which, from that year to the profent, 1, os the fhed anomally the whole corn producal on an extenfive arable farm.
2. Mrs, Martincon, wire of Mo. P. fursenn, and danghere of -- Squire, ely. of Curndom. ©o. Leisefter:

Aasd 'a. nuth refruste', Mr. I Sha", fowell krown for the fasgatar custon of conpany never faying at it ix yond wislat o'd is in ti:e evaning. He had kepg it s. yuns.
3. ils. IN जfor l, wife of Robolt R.

At Eath, atter a limatron mian, in the anth year of his tat, Cu ries horkhat ' i.

 citandory falyor thotiar of $!$ e l.te Genemal Combt Locin ot, of Le: and ©amwat', PIr. L', conglatat was a d!ap-fraw. and low whach lie fougit wef in :a t!心 Dath Eatres with the tk:1 of Duetors Pan and Exn', who, hy dimt of matictai and attent on, bail widated (tt t': f.eta! blow fo hons as to infpire hopes tha: he nught be able to retum to lus nathe comatry in Aprit. He was at the puht o roms npom the Mondy whending his death, whe, thougin not quite in well as amal won the Tuefly and We inafty momines was y t by no nee ns fo il as to occ. fían any anpio-el at cards up a the Tuedias afternom, a ald faw h: premis woon toe thlmws morning: $k$, at ues $t$ xum of dimot wora that d.y, the coll! : an' :if Death fathent foned "por him, and in !efs than fire mantucthe xomen, ai nart without groun.
 ore and Afr. Mawtrelt or Corde.., ware ccafored on th: Anboj C woh is Bath.
 An: :1'D mald of La.g.", in Argytehare, infoh ate: heh re dotay her life-time eldeft fon inherited the eflate of Largi upon which Mr. L. had a jointure. 1 this lady he had feveral fons and daughter of the form $r$ of whom cree died an osic in Inda; another (Enfign James Locklt: M'Donald of the 37 th Regiment of for fell, at the age of 2 r , daring the unfert nate affar before Dunkirk, in 1793 . T eldeft dingliter, married to Cipr. M:N of the dragoons, fix unwanied danghte 2nd two fons (of ul:om dlexnelet the deft is in poffeflou of the Largie eftate a is a captatn in the Dundonald fencible, giment now at Guernfey) are left to lame the fevcre rivst on of a mon indulgent $p$ rent. The be tutiful and romantic refider and property of Mumavenfide, in the $\mathbf{v}$ wty of Litit! gow, which Mr. Lockh: poife ffed in rigtt if his late wife, wloo w niece to Mr. Nicend of that place, is nt let to Dr. Faire', principal of the Univert of Ldinhureh.

4. At York, Penjamin Swineard, e culle Etor of excife.
$\therefore$ fath, Whlam Monev, off. ot Crof follore, one of the dinectors of to e baf: hat rom:roy.
$\therefore$ Sourtwich, co. Noth moton, in 1 :-i. yert, Mra. Bloate, retict of the R Froncis 1:. D. D.

Mathew Gardoer, commonl: called ( Clo f. . He w: s montanady drowned Atherftscelock, on the Cuenty can frat, and hets $k$ fo whincw and 7 chnedrer At Acrarhalik, co. Wi. fthui wh, fait of R. H. Eimenden, elg. Nir. Ne ner of the lac sir Willim Rame of Armontank; a dy et alwoblatex fiel per and tueerefiof manners.

$\therefore H$ lif.x, co. York, Mr, Hiomac Hys attomer, on l one of the coroners for 1 Wic f lidurg of that comity.

At Twickenham, in $15=72 \mathrm{~d}$ y ar, Jo Diveniort, efq. of 1 wickenham-lodise.

At Orgar, Eilex, Mif Anna-Maria Ht ringham, fecond daughter of kev. Mr. H it "ochefer, N1. Fdward Morri, pl fei f his Ilaie? 's hofpital-thip Union, 9- Suns, at Shemnef.

G B:nj. ти Porter, cfq. of Gower-f Bumbi-juate.

In on ativanodace, Jormhlhotham, e: of Ioshe.
7. At his lodiguse in Bath, J.inn S thor:, M. D. E. K. S. and Re ius Pofefl of Bome in the L'mverlity of $O x f 0$ The death of the leaned botarift muth fincur-iy regrased by . . . the ximerers (1) t f ene He was indefitignbee in 1 reterches for new ant rare fints, al trave'led twite into Trakey and Greece cultect them. The targues l e o derwe in hos lat war entral deitiojed his co finution, atad be has fallen a vichim tot

170̆6] Obitusty ofremarkable Perfons; wisb Diographical Anecdotes. I73

favourite ftudy. He took the degree of M. A. June 28,1780 , of B. M. Dec. 8, 1783 (about which thme his father refigned to bim the Profeffor?ip), and of D. M. Fati 20, 1784. Some years ag, the Univerfity appointed him a travelling Fellow on Dr. Radcliffe's fomendion, and in that eapacity he vifited a great part of the Furopean contunent. At Gettingen !is abilities were heid in fuch eftimatim, that he was honoureld with a degree in phyfic l:y that Univerfity. fin $1: 9+$ ine publithed a Flora Oxnnienfic, onl has left an eftate of sool. per annum to the Univerfity, in truft, to deray tise exponces attending the publication of a Ftora Grace tak ta irom fuecimens in his own samabie collection. After that work is fim?teri, the fom of 2001. per annum is to be added to the folany of th: S'erachan Proferlar, nematition that he reads icetures on Exany in every Term. His ex el? ent solection of phants an laonks les has forper thed to the Batanicat larary or the Unaras y
At Osen-heath, Neat, in husith yar, Sir Ermas Cien: y, thar. a manal of the White. H: w s cremed bar wet ty the tinle of Sit Frabi Gear, 0: Hed. Wen, Smry; thet, in confuquate of the matyong Mif, Ea:ts twew, a Kanma aldy, there is an acerunt of him and her family in H.fteds Hitary of K ent. For an erlogiom on

At Caill Hedinghm, ased 64, wrs. Marriote, whe of the late Cap J. M. of Sible-tedinchan.
Suldenly, " Rrompron, Mrs. Cirter, wilow of Rubert (reme. C. Efy.
8. At the !owal an! $S x$ is hocel, in Panton-fyare, th: Laly o! Willam Ken, efq. Tecre ary to the Gol eal loot wille at Edinhargh.
At bis aparmers in Exter, ased 65, Wihlam Norvis, efy. fons time ju'ge of the Coust of Adrairdty, and :cester-seneral of the cafual revinue, in the illand of Barbatoes.
9. At his houfe in Liverpool, Henry Litucual , efq.
Mr. John Furt, one of the mace-bearers of the city of Exeter.

Mr. S muel Rus rts, bealle of the parim of St. Se;ulchre, Londor. He w's gong to his houfe in Cock-ia e, Snow-Int, wi.en he dropped down an ! expred.
At Canbridse, Mi. Waic, a fellowcommaner of Trinity-c Merg. His deall was in confequence of having fatlen on the railing of the ciliege, neir Grifton-ftreet, in endeavouring to get over the wall to has 0 :\%n apar:ments.

After an ilinefs of feveral years, Mifs Lowes, eldeft dat. of Mi. L. of Pall-Mall-
In Merrion-fquare, Dublin, Lady Vifcountefs Landafti.
10. In Crofs-Areat, Iflington, ared 50 , of a urupfical complnit, in. Jo. Moore.

Rev. Yom Freeman, M. A. recior os Lymion, co. Kuthond, ard Onhetan So Mary, Whis, and late fellow of Clare-h.ti, Camb:ule.

Dolwell Prowne, efq. treafurer of $t$ e county of Mayo, in liclant. He fetl a vietim to paremal lore, never having eno joyed a diy's health fence that on whu fre received the accomit of his for's (aheutenant in the 8th daggoons) fate, who, whila his trocp, was cat (fir, efor forciag the parage of the Lys, rese Bowfock, on the ever memoratle 18 Sth of Mav, 1794. L!is ether fon has fer:ed in his Majent's navy ys years.
11. At his houre at Iflington, foln Clarkfin, eff. of the Auditer's orfie :2 the Lxcife.

In Buhopfgate-ftreet, Mr. Waltor Molse, ftatiorer, maler the Royal Ex心ange.

At Aheadur, Mr. Rub at Lifton, minifertiee.
As le apatments in St lantes palace, Mrs. Rema, relnit of Nienol.c R. ef.
12. In lu- B-th your, Ars Whetmina Mufent, wite if the Rev. fam=s Murart, N. A. formeriy of Conpus Corini col'sen O.for', and tector of sughtom, co. Buriford. Hor maden mate was Rove, of Higham-hnt, in Pate:, a iamily of matiin this kirgtiom ; as Stow's Anna's of London, and the monuments in Hacknoy charc!, Nitdllefex, ber anjle tatimong.

Henry Sandfor, efy of the Cretent at 8 Bit .
A. Claptor. Mr. Thenty Ha'l. many yesen prinupal cle:k to the commenimers of case, forthe city of Lond , and atfo a fur veyortu the Sin fue aftiae.

AL Ripmon, co. ت̈tre, in her goth year, MIr B - bs, anne nf Dr. Aytor, of the chanst-roval at is Jome's.

At his houfe on Stephen's.green, Dchlin, the Rev. Cliarles Coote, D. D. dean of Kilfenor.1, and chamter of Chatif chatech.
13. In Lower Gwivenor-dituet, after a fevere theis, to the grief of her fambly and friends, Eliz.heth, lady of Sir fohn Smy:h, bat. of Sything Sio Notholis, in Dorfethite ; by wtom the hal fevent chidre, three on'y furviving her. Sle wasthe dashter anil themets of Rober Curt, eft. of Willthomp:, con. Lincun, bander it !aw, and netce of Manew W, theres, eic. of Pctervorough, mentime for thate c:y; and the was, whot is alrove all ohar comberations, in the tratert tis! t, a mon fucere Chrian, and une of ther...ts of women. Her renains wele carot, when much funeral folennt $y$, to ise intu:red th the family-varlt in Doffotia re.

In her Ecthyeir, Mrs. Ohlthen, wet 2 of Mr. John O. and fifter th the late diaetman Conther, of Nottingham.

Ir In his gal year, the Re:. Sanuel Pegse, Lh.D. refor of Whatigen, and vicar of Ifenth, in the coun'y of Derby, prebendary of Lichifield and Lincoln. Of this truly vencrable and répuit.ble Divine, who has for so y ais honomed our mifcellany with his learned eonefpondence, an account ihall be given in a fature number.
Mrs. Catwright, wife of Cape. C. of the firt Weft York milhtia, and daughter of John Wombwell, efq. of Pall Madl.
Mrs. Woulrych, wile of H. C. IV. efg. of Red Lion !quare.

At Chippenatm, whats, Mr. Johm-Baptift so.g :, tideat ion of Ar. Bahbhoumew
S. mex:lasut, of Lomdon.

At Broapton, Mr. Chmiftopher Pernardi, of Cathane-itre t, Strand.

Rev.St. John Steme, 1 ceter of slimbridge, co. Gloncelter, and bate fellow of Maytu-len-college, Oxfon.

At Tugly, c . Leicefter, aged 7\%, Mír. Tho. Butoot, a relpect the grazt r.

At has bo fe ai S :mden, naiar Chthero, co. York, Thorias Amime Lerd Southwell of the kinge: $m$ of It lund, having firvived his laly only the eveeks (fee p. ro. ).
55. Ar Hackues, in her Sath yati, Mrs. Unwn, widow of samue! U. efq. of t.ant phice, bumerly of antom, on. Nuturgh.m.
16. Aged 75, Arombili D. ugla, tiq. of Womb-Eaves, near Ainborwe, co. Daby.
to Hme-freet, Manchet'er fquate, after a hort illnets, Thum scrmop, etro.
17. As Gatsy hall, co. Nurfolk, the Rev. Gervas Líwimes, vicar of Melton Pava, neat Notwich.

Mrs. " anning, of Ely-place, Holbor wife of $\mathrm{Captr}_{\text {a }} \mathrm{M}$. commander of the Pi Eaft India man.

Mr. Jolm Jones, oigenit of St. Paul cathedral, the Teraple, and the Charten houfe, London.
13. Ai Plymanth, Lieut. William $\mathrm{E}_{\mathrm{j}}$ worth, of the roy al navy, fon of Rear-ac miral ispworth.
19. Cipt. Snell, of the late Ingth reg ment of fort, and add-du camp to, and ti intimate friend of, Prince William of Gto cefter. He put a neriod to his exiftem with a pifel, in Kenfoggt n gardens, th caufe only known to himfelf.
2. In the Lower-itreet, Inington, ags 33: Nirs. Elizabeth Salter.

At lis lodrings in Somers' town, of droply in the cheft, aged $43, \mathrm{Mr}$. Jol Gouh, formerly a fhomuker in Ne Fond-ftreet, and hont-maker to his roy lughenefothe Duke of Gloucefter.
In Lower Grofivenor-fireet, af er a lo and painful tlinete, Dr. Stewart.
${ }_{2}$ I. In Newmen-itreet, Nifis Frycr, on fifter of Eiwnet F. M. D.
22. Oppoite 3t. Marquret's Bark, $\mathrm{R}_{1}$ cheher, Mr. funfon, an eminent ga denar, atad a perion of very confterab ptoperty.

23 . In an alranced age, Tho. Corbe efq muy $y$ ans high-banfif of the city Wefmentur.

At Worcefer, Edward Newham, ef.f *: Prometions, écounazoidably defera

THEATRICAL REGISTER.

Fib. Nem Druri-Lane.

1. The Fugu: - : al lequa Captive.
2. The han of Tre . Thmam-Dito.
3. The Countiv Girr-Ditto.
4. the Man of Fon Tnowland--Dits.
5. Tre Gmofer-ats.
6. The Man of 1 es 1"horand-Dato.
7. The Whe of of Fortunt-D.t:-
8. The Man of Ten Zlwafan-Dito.
9. No Song ivo Supma-ile Cluti of N.tu:-D.
10. Jfabela- r cquar Cptive.

11. Th Cond dacy, -ilitto.

12. The wernu: 14 Tle Coud of Na-

Ratace tive.
13. Frit inn--inite $[-$ Dito.

2). The :.ccunt t... D.co.

Feb. Covent-Garden.

1. : Wise Wisy to Get Martied-Mer S'erwivod.
[S'minverac
2. Day of Yo:e一Tbc Lock and $\mathrm{K} y-\mathrm{T}$
3. Way to get Marricd-Lack and Kcy
4. Dtto-Ditin.
5. Ditto-Disto.
6. Spent wion--Ditios.
7. The ör thet Mred-Merry She
8. Dun-lock and Ky. [wos I. Butto-Droto.
$I \therefore, ~ A L E D-r^{\prime}, F=R$.
13 Viay to s.t Maried-Lock and Key 13. Ditt)-Dith. 16. Dite-Ditto. 1-. LAll gra il Panterug.
9. Why th vec Marrid-Lock and Key. 1\%. The Sam :.
$2=$ Why thre: Marie:-Look and Key 223 ittu-Ditts. 23 . Dattu-Ditu. 2.4. Ginul S tatimon of Streal Mufic.
 26. Cram! clecton of Sued Maic.
10. Wiy to gert Mamicd-Lock and Key
11. D:t0-Ditto.

AVERAGE PRICES of CORN, from the Returns ending Fehruary 20, 1:96.

INLAND COUNTIES.

Average of Fintand and Wa'se, per quetter.

Averane of Sentam, per giartel:
$87 \quad 426 \quad 2132 \quad 6: 22 \quad 7135 \quad 4$

MARITIME COUNTIES.

AVERAGE PRIC , hy w'sh $\Gamma$ xpetation and Eva;t ars to te regubted.

PRINES OF FIOUR.

PRIUT OR HAY ANB STMAW.

Averase Price of SUGA?, mminted form the retmos mate in the week ending Feb. 27, on the imp ntation therewt onto Grea! lhatan.

Becf Mution Tal
35. $\div$. to $4^{\text {s. }} 4^{\text {d. }} \mid$ Pok
$4^{c} .81$. to $5 \mathrm{s}$.
os. od. to cs. cd. Lamb

Tallow, per fione of 810. $4^{s}$ s. 4 H. Candles ins od per dozen.

-ond.Gazktta
ieneraleven. doyd's Evening
t. James'sChrcri. ,ondon Chron. ondon Evening. The Sun-Star Whitehall Even. ondon Packet Inglifh Chron. Courier-Ev.Ma. viddlefex Journ. Iue and Cry.
Daily Advertifer
Cimes-Briton Moraing Chron. yazetteer,Ledger Herald-Oracle
M. Poft-Telegr. Morning Advert. 13 Weekly Papers 3ath 2, Briftol 4 3irmingham 2 3lackburn 3ucks-Bury Dambridge 2
Eanterbury 2
Thelmsford
Chefter, Coventy

MARCH, I $79^{6 .}$

Cumberland
Dunchiter 2 Dirby, Exeter Gioucefter Hereford, Hull Ipfiwh Irecand
Leeds 2
Leicegter 2
Lewes
Liverpool 3
Madidone Manchetter 2 Nowablle 3 Nurtharapten Norwich 2 Nottingham Oxpord 2 Rcadivg Salibury Scotland Shetield 2 Sherborge 2 Strewhury 2 Stamford 2 Vinchefter Whitehaven Worefter YORK 3

Meteorolog. Diaries for Feb. aud Narch, 1796178 Introduction of Monuments in St. Paul's 179 Defcription of Mr. Heward's and Dr Johuifon's 180 Epitaphs on Mr. Howard and Dr. Johnfon 181 A Character of Mr. Rowe of Macclesfield ib A Tour tirough Hollond in 1793 continued 182 Real Damage of the Explofion at Hounflow 184 Seals of Bp. Dove, Archid. Snell, and Marches 185 Curions Subterranean Patiage at Old Sarum, ib. The Dukes of Orleansand Bourbon Prifoners 186 Conclufion of the Tour in Rutandmire $i b$. Franchife of Oakham-Ridiligton Carving 187 Uppingham and Aifton.-1'ainting on Glafs 188 The Mohawks and Cartoucheaus paralleled ib. RemarksonPromotheusVinctus of Fif fhylus 189 Sherwen on the Management of the Foor 190 Farther P. rticnhars of the late M ! r Dunckerley 191 Subfitutes for Flour.-The Deerings of Kent 192 The late Inprovements in LichfieldCathedralig Epitaph on Mr. Harrifon at Chrit Church 194 A remarkable Scriptumal Dificulty elucidated ib. Continuation of the Ramble on Dartmoer 195
 Swallow and Cuckoo.-Sea Kale cultivated 197 The Average Prices of Grainfor one Mo th ic $6_{2}$ The Migration of the Swallow difcuffed, il. Dany Variations in the Prices of the Stucks 264

Embellihed with a bonatifal View of Mr. Howard's Monumerit in St. Paul's Csthediati; and with feveral curions Seale, Painted Class; &c. &c. &ic.
By $\quad S \quad x$
Printed by JOHN NICHOLS, at Cicero's Head, Red-Lion Faffage, Ficet-Arter; where all Letters to the Editor are defired to be addrefied, Post-pand. ${ }_{1}{ }_{7} \hat{y} 6$.

178 Mutcorological Dianictafor February and Karch, 1796.

1. Infects fport abort the heiges. The throfle fings aloud.-3. A white moth in the window. Goofeberry bery leaf opening. The eglantine and elder foliated. $\rightarrow$ 6: large bluebottley fly appears-8. Perriwinkle flowers. Infects forting in the warm -9. Wint variable, frequently and fuddenly changing the point.-12. Thunder and fi in the night-14. A white bitterfly appears. Snow-drop foliates.-20. A fug arifesf, certain lands juit before funfet.-2 1. White-thorn foliates.--23. Dead nettle bloom: 24. Strong ice in the courfe of the night.

Fall of rain this month, 2 inches $3-10$ chs. Evaporation, $x$ inch $9-1$ oths.
Wa'ton, near Litrepool.
I. HOLI

以EIEUKULVGI-AL ABLE TOR NarCh, 1746.

THE Gentleman's Magazine: For M A R C H, 1796.

BEING THE TIIRD NUMBER OF VOL. LXVI. PART I.

 The introduction of Monuments into the Catheriral-church of -St. $\mathrm{P}_{\boldsymbol{}}$ UI, whilf it forms a grand epoch to the Profeffors of the Imitative Ait, will convey to pofterity a Atriking example of the liberality of the prefent Dean and Cliapter. Whenthe modefty of Mr. Howard checked the intentions of the Friends of Philanthropy from ereeting at Statue to his honour in $\mathbf{7 7 8 6}$, the fubicriptions which had been raifed for that purpofe were returned to thofe who thought proper to demand them; out of fuch as were not recalled, the fum of 2 col. was devoted to Prifon Charities; and the remaine der was directed to be applied to ftrike a Medal in honour of Mr. Howard, and for other purpofes. Before the plan for the Medal could be finally adjufted, tire death of Mr. Howard left the Subfcribers at full liberty to revert to their original idea of perperuating his uncommon merit by means of a Statue; and accordingly, as it was intended to he erected without-doors, the Publick were invited to communicate their Sentiments on the fubject. Many ftations were in confequence Fointed out; and, from one gentleman $\dagger$ in particular, a very handfome offer was made of providing a fituasion for the Statue, and of erecting a noble crefcent of houfes, to re called after the name of Howard. Thefe ideas, however, were fet afide, upon its being fuggefted by one of the Committee $\dagger$, that, if permiffion could be obtained for the erection of a monument to the memory of Mr. Hวwardia St. Pavi's Cathedral, fuch a fatuation would be finitable to the grestnefs of his character, and the dignity and gratitude of the Britim Empirc. A refpect:hle delegation having attended the Dean and Chapiter with stis requeft; they were pleafed to grant permifion for placing a monument to Mr. Howard in their Coshedral-church; a favour the more valuable, as it was the firft inStance in which fuch permifion had been granted; and confiderably enhanced to every admirer of tafte and liberality by the handfome conditions attached to it, "that no fee " fhould be requined for its admiffion, and that no monument fhould be erected with* out the defign being firtt approved of by a Committee of the Royal Academicians;* whom the Dean and Chapter have requefted to take upon themfelves the trouble of being arbiters of the public tafte, in order to prevent any monument being introduced that might not correfpond with, or contrihute to, the ornament of the bulding. Highly gratified as the Subfcribers were with fuch a difinguibhed indulgence, they agreed with Mir. Bacon to execute the monument for the fum of $\$ 300$ guneas; and appointed the following Committee to mange all matters relating to the fame:

| Mr. Alderman Boydeil, | Earl of Harcourt, | Sir Jomua Reynolds (ike.1). |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Thomas Bowdler, efq. | Wilian Hayes, M. D. | Lurd Romiey, |
| Sir T. C. Buniury, bat:. | Duke of Leeds, | ' rutuville Sharp, efq. |
| John Call $\hat{\text { ¢ }}$, efq. | Johin Coakley Lettfom, M. | Whlham sharp, eff. |
| William Chapman, efg. | Capel Lorts, eif: | Mr. Alderman Skinner, |
| Ar. Alderman Curtis, | Mr. M,ogniac, | Jofepis Stonard, eiq. |
| Jolu Englifh Dolben, efq. | Sir Jofeph Mawbey, hart. | Rev. J,hal Warner, D.D. |
| Jofiah Durntord, ehl. | Mr. Alderman Le Mefuricr, | Sam it Whithreat, e\{q. |
| Magens Dorrien, efy. | Mr. Deputy Nichols, | Chrifopher Willoughtylf, efo. |
| Wm. Drake, jun. efy. (dxtul) | Rev. John Priduen, M. A. | Jacob Yallowley, ely. |

[^21]On the $23^{d}$ of Febrisary, 1796 , the monument was firft opened to the Publick; and, a: the idea originated in our Mifoellany, we embiace the earlieft oppertunity of prefent. ing to our readers a beautiful engraving of the monument; and, that it may be accom. panied with a fuitable illuftration, we are anthorized to annex a letter addreffed from She very able Artift by whom the wifhes of the Committee have ben completed in fo mafterly a manner.

To Mr. John Nichols.
Dear Sir, Neremen fleet, Marcb 7.

 requaft, I fend you the ideas which predominated in my tnind while forming the fatues of rhe late Mr. Howard and of Dr. Johnfon, ereoted lately in St. Paul's cathedral.

My principal ohje et, in compofing the fatue of Mr. Howard, was to prefent as much of the charabler of active benevolence as'a fingle figure would afford.

The right foot being placed confiderably forward, and the body advan. ced upon it, is interded to give motion to the figure; while the expretfion of benevolence is attempted in the feveral features of the face, and the inclined air' of the head.

He holds a fcroll of papers in his left-hand: on one is written, "Plan for the Improvement of Prifons;" and, on a corner of another, the word Hofpitals is introduced, pointing out the principal ubjects of his exertions. An. other paper, at the foot of the fatue, has the word Regulations written. In his right-hand he ho!ds a key, by which is exprefled the circumftance of his cxploring the dungeons; and the rings and chains, among which he ftands, are defigned to intercft the feelings of the fpectator in the mifery of the inhabiants of thofe wietched abodes: while his trampling on fome fetters, which lie on the ground, fug. geit the hofllity of his temiments to their tufferings.

It iwas my earneft wifh to have made this monumerit a groupe of two figures: Mr. Howaid raifing up a prifoner from the giound; which, from a natural inficxion of the body, and engagement of the arms with the diftefled objedt, rovards whom the tender cxprettions as the countenarice would all have tow direEted; and this, with the feneiment of grativade in the prifoner, would more forcibly have impreffed the charatter of benevolence on the fabject of the monum:ent. And I can.
not omit my acknowledgments to the Committee for their concurrence with my wincs, and their approbation of the model of the groupe. But, as it was thought by thofe to whom it wer left to decale on the fubject, that a fingle figure would be neceffary for the Sake of unformity with Dr. JohnGun's fatue, which had a correfpondent fituation, the Committee dire $\mathcal{E}$ ed a bas. relief on the pedeftal to complete the defign. This $r$ prefents a foene in a prifon, where Mr. Howard, having broken the chains of the prifoners, is bringing provifions and cloathing for their relief.

The itatue of Dr. Johnfon requires little explanation. A moral philofo pher, merely with the atritude and expreflion of intenfe thought, is too fimple to admit of enlargement without the aid of imagination. A few words fhall fuffice.

I have efpecially attempted, in this work, to unite (what is indeed very dificult to $t \mathfrak{f i e c t}$ ) that eafe, which is fo proper for a figure engaged in ftudy, with the energy which was fo univerfally acknowledged to belong to him who is the fubject of it. I have alfa aimed that a magnitude of parts, and grandeur of ftyle, in the flatue, fhould accord with the mafculine fenfe with which his writings are foftrongly impregnated, and the nervous fyle in which it is conveyed to mankind.

His complexional character, and that of his works, I hope, will juftify my having given him an expreffion tinctured with feverity, to which his vigour of thinking muftever contribute.

By making him lean againft a column, I fuggeft his own firmncfs of mind, as well as the fability of his maxims.

It would be unpardonable in me, on this winding-up of the bufinefs, to omit exprefling my gratitude to you, Sir, for jour exertions in it, for the facrifices you have made, and the advantage I have derived from them.

1 have the hodour to be, dear $\mathrm{Sir}_{\text {, }}$ your moft obliged and faithful fervant,
f. Bacon.
796.] Epitaphs on Mr. Howard, Dr. Johnfon, and Mr. Roo. 18x

| "This extraordinary man had the fortune to be honoured whilft living, in the manner which his virtues deferved.  He received the thanks  of both Houfes of the Britifh and Irifh Parliaments,  for his eminent fervices rendered to his country and to mankind.  Our National Prifons and Hofpitals, improved upon the fuggeftions of his wifdom, bear teftimony to the folidity of his judgement, and to the eftimation in which he was held. In every part of the civilized world, which he traverfed to reduce the fum of human mifery, from the Throne to the Dungeon his name was mentioned with refpect, gratitude, and admiration.  His modefty alone  defeated various efforts which were made, during his life, to erect this Statue,  which the publick has now confecrated to his memory.  Zie was bornat Hackrey, in the county of Middlefex, Sept. 11, mpecxxvs.  The early part of this life he fpent in retirement, refiding principally upon his paternal eftate  at Cardington, in Bedfordßire;  for which county he ferved the office of fheriff in the year mpcclexini.  He expired at Cherfon, in Rulfian Tattary, on the $\mathrm{xx}^{\text {th }}$ of Jan. mDCexc,  a victum to the perilous and benevolent attempt to afcertain the caufe of, and find an efficacious remedy  for, the Flague.  He trod an open, but unfrequented path to immortality, in the ardent and unremitted exercife of Chriftian charity: may this tribute to his faine excite an emulation of lus truly glorious atchiovements!" |  |
| :---: | :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |

THE EPITAPH ON DR. JOHNSON.

SAMVELI.JOHNSON
GRAMMATICO 2 ET. CRITICO

SCRIPTORVM. ANGLICORVM. LITTERATE. PERITO

 FOETAE. LVMINIBVS. SENTENTIARVM ET. PONDERIBUS. VERBORVM. ADMIRABILI MAGISTRO. VIRTVTIS . GRAVISSIMO HOMINI. OPTIMO.ET. SINGVLARIS.EXEMPLIQui. vixit. ANN. $\overline{\text { LXXV}}$. Mens.il. Diem. ximil DECESSIT.IDIB. DECEMBR.ANN. CHRIST. CDO.IOCC.LXXXIIII SEPULT. IN. AED. SANCT. PETR. WESTMONASTERIENSO XIAL.KAL. JANVAR. ANN. CHRIST. CID.IDCC.LXXXY

AMICI.ET. SODALES. LITTERARII
PECVNIA. CONLATA
H. M. FACIUND. CVRAVER'

On one fide of the monument :

(racIEbAT IOHANNIS BACON SCULPTOR ANN. CHRIST. M.DCC.LXXXX.

Mr. Urban, Macclesfield, Feb.in.

THE new Church in this town, called Chrift's Church, built by the late Charles Roe, efq. is a regular elegant ftructure, having a freeple with ten bells, and a handionie organ. Over the altar is a fine buff of Mr. Roct executed by Bacon. The following infcription is on a tables under the buft :
" Whoever thou art, whom a curiofity to fearch into the mov numents of the dead, or an anibition to emulate their living virtues,
Has brought hither, Receive the gratification of either object in the example of Charles Róe, Equire:
A Gentleman who, with a nender pore tign on cntrance inte bufinets, carried on the Buton and Twif Manufactue in this tnwn with the moft active indufry, ingenvity, and integrity; and, by a happy verfatilty of Genius, firf efablifhed here, and made inftrumental to the acquiftion of an ample fortune, the silk and cotton minufactories, by which many thoufands of families have been fince fupporter. The obfacler, which envy and malevolence threw in his way, retarded thot his procrefs; enterprizing, emulous, and indefatigable, difficulties to others were incit-ments to action in him. His mind was vaft and comprehenfive, formed for great undertakinge, and equal to their accomplifment. By an intuirive kind of knowledge, he acquired an intimate acquaintance with the mineral freta of the earth ; and was efteemed, by competent juidges, greatly to excel in the art of mining. In that line lis concerns were extenfive; and the landowners, as well as. proprietors, of the valuable mine in the ine of singlefey, are indebted to him for the difcovery.

It pleafed the $A L M 1 \in H T T^{\prime}$ to blefs his varinus labours and benerolent defigns; Lhis grateful hest delighted to acknowvedge the mercies he received; GOD was in al! his thughts; and, afouated by the pureft Sentiments of gemmine devotion, which hurnt ftedily through lis ife, and the bighter as he approached the FOUNTAIN of LIGHT, he dedicated te, the fervice of his MAKER a part of that Increafe his bounty had bettowed, erecting and endowing, at his fole expence, the elegant ftrueture which enclofes this monnment; and which, it is remarkable, was buit from the furface of the ground, and comphetely finifhed, toth infode and out, in fio forrs a face of time as feven months.
Reader, wuben tbuy, buiff performed the duties qukich brought thee hither, tlind ca the FOUNDER OFTHIS BEAU. TIFUL EDIFICE,
And afpire after the vintues wwich enabled biom oo raife it.
He died the 3d of Nity, 198p, aged 67 years; leaving a widw and en children (who have erefed this monument ss a tribute to comjugat and filial affection)
poignantly to liment
A MOST TNUULGENT HUSBAND,
A TENDER FATHYR, AND A CtNekAL Loss."

T. M.

Mr. Urban, Marcb 18.

IRESL ME the sarrative of iny teur throush Helland in the autumn of 1793. My L.ft letter, which was dared folong ago as Auguft, 1794, consa redas accuunt of the Hague and its ervirus. When 1 had gratified my cuntiaty in that delightul place, I proceeded in a treckfchuyte to Levden The roof had heen previoufly hied bj a domine, that is to fay, a Dutch cler. gyman; whom, from the cut of hi: wig, and the fo nity of his vifage, 1 immediateiv gueffed ro be a miniftero: the Eflablified Church. I was obliged to take my piace in the eabin : where, however, 1 found an intelli. gent young man, who fpoke Latin, but who left is about halfoway be. tween the Hague and Leyden. I wat then accofted by an elderiy gentleman with whom I converfed alrernately it French and Latin; and, finding that I was an entire firanger, he very civilly offered to conduct me to a good inn on our arrival at Leyden.

The fides of the eanal were ex. tremely pleafant; the fummer-houfe: and gardens were in general elegani and beautiful; and, the day being fine, I was the greateff parr of the time on the rop of the boat, where the eye was gratifed by a perpernal fucctfion of villas, fpires, extenfive and fertile meadows, and veffels gliding along. Delicious fcenery! which exhibated all the marks of induftry, pe+ce, and plenry, and recalled to my mind Foldfmith's defcription of Hilland is his Traveller:
"While the pent Ocean, rifing n'er the pile: Seesal amphibious world bene.ath him fmile: The flow canal, the yellow-blolfom'd vale, The willow-tufted bank, the gliting fall, The crowded mart, the cultivated plain, A new creation refeued from his reign!"

The approach to Leyden is grand, and the city is builr with great regulan rity and elegance. 1 was flruck with the magnificence of the principal freet, called the Broad-fireet, whict runs from Eaft to Weft the whole lengrh of the city. The inn to which 1 was condufitd (the Goden Lion) $\mathrm{A}_{\text {nds }}$ in the middle of It, neally oppoftie the Town houfe. The enostion of grandeur, which the view of this noble ftrect imprefied, was heightened by a folema filinuels which pelvaded the whole rown. The thops were thut, and fcibcely a corriage or a foot-paflenger to be leen. It was on a weck-day, abour tive in the afternoon; and $I$ was told the inhabitanes were engaged in divine "orfhip, in obedience to an injunction of the magistrae cy, who had apprepriated one or swo days inonshiy tor thas jurpofe from the commencement of the war. As foon as 1 liad fecured lodgings as the inn, I twideny trin indly condusior that

1796.1 Tour through Holland in the Autumr of 1793.

I withed to look into the churches. He lived in the country, and was juft going home; but he very abligingly offered to poftpon - his departure on my account; and be hewed me every place of worthip in the town. They were all crouded; the people appeared extremely devout and attentive. I truf I was edified by the fizhrmemy heart was full-1 thought of Britain with a figh ; and, O1 id I to myfelf, that I could witnets fuch a fcete of public devotion in one of the great zowns of my native land! My worthy guide returned with me to the inn, and favoured me with his company for the fpace of half an hour. I never faw a countenamce more expreffive of good. nature and benevolence. 1 was unwilling zo parr with him. He kindly regrested that, in all probabisty, we hould never meec again; and, grafping my hand with a look of ienfibility, the remembrance of which now warms my heart, he withdrew, faying, "Vale, Domine, nunquam te polthac videbo." I record thas interview, not withour fome hope (as your Mifcellany finds its way to that country) of his hearing that I have a grateful recollecticn of hịs kindnefs.

I rofe early next morning to perambulate the ftreets; the moft remarkable of which, next to the Broad-lireet, are the Haerlem-ftrect and the $\mathrm{R}_{4}$ pinbury. The canal called the Old Rhine ruas through the former; and the latter, with its elegant buildings, canal, bridges, and rows of trees, is tinely picturefque. I was fruck with the Yaft number of bridges which 1 fawno fewer, Mr. Peckham fays, than 145 . Iadmired the uniform regularity and neatnefs of all the freets and lanes of this large city. There was no appearance of wretched poverty; nor was the eye difgufted by the view of ragged :cnemedts with broken windows and mud foors, as in the alleys and fkirts of many of our great towns; cleanltnefs, frugality, and indultry, are the grand characterifticks of Holiand; and, whereyer you go,
Fervet opus-redulentque thymo fragrantia. mella.
After hreakfaft, I direeted my courfe to the college, in which there are no buildings that particularly atract the notice of a ftranger. I firf vifited the botanic garden, which, $l$ was told, difplayed all the riches of the vegttab:e kingdom, I then furveyed the collection of antique marbles which is preferved on one fide of the garden. Thence I was led to the natural philofophy feliool, where there is a collection of curiofices in Natural Hitary. giyen to the univerfiry, as I was informent, by Profeflor Allamand. 1 was then conducted to dhe anatomizal fchog!, which is enriched with the cabinet , the famous Albinus, and in which 5 fow a curious lufus nature, namely, za infart with two headx, in excelient preferpation, with the following in. frription around the glats in which it was inclofed: "Un thiant avec deux letes bien formées né a Jutphaas piès d'Utrecht dans l'année :785. Avane que cette enfant fuc né, la mere a eiz quatre enfans, ix aprèsencore trois, tous bien formérs. Corte enfant eft mort dans la nadance, &s la mere vient eacore de temis en tems !e vifiter."

It was impolfible to forvey the anatomical fchool of Leyden without recolletting the quondam medical fame of this univerfity, and the illuftrous name of Buarhaave, himelf an hots. I recollected that, fince the restival of letters, the fame of medical fience had been atiernately enjoged by Pdua, Paris, and Levden; and 1 fels a parriotic pride in refleding that Ediabugra now engroffed thote honours which they once poffetfed. The names of Munro, Gregory, Black, Cullen, Duncan, cum multis aliis, came in review ; names which have thed fush rays of gioy on tietr abina mather as enzy sannot obicure, nor ume effice.
Salve, nagna parcos, fiugumi Saturnia tellus, Mr.gns-virûn: tibi res antuqua laudiset ates lingredior, tactos anfus recludere funtes.

From the anatonical fehool I proo ceeded to the pub.ic hiurary, which; I was told, contained a large coliection of rare and valuable MSS.; but I had no time to examine eicher booke os MSS. There are fome very fine pore traits in the lobraty; amoug which I particularly remarked a full-lengit of Wiliams the firte priace of Orange, and of Prince Maurice, together with poitraits of Grotius, Erafinus, and Scaligor, and an admabable miniature of our More by Hans Holben. This library is alfo adorned with ivery butis of the followng Briaf. wothes a Wicklifife, Sidrey, Raletgh," Bacon, Buchanan, Harrungton, Selden, LudLow, Marvell, Milton, Locke, Bogle, and Newton. Ivanciated thas corner of the room as a ianted firine. My

184 TGur tbrough Holland in 1793 - Exphfyinn at Hounflow. [Marct

- ountrymen feemed to me to fhine confpicuous above the Batavian groupe, velust inter ignes Luna minores; and, with all the warmth of patriotifm, I repeated thefe lines of Pope in the Eflay on Criticifm:
* Hail! bards triumphant! born in happier days !
Immortal heirs of univerfal praife !
Nations unborn your mighty names fhall found,
[found. And worlds applaud that muft not yet be O ! may fome fark of your celeftial fire, The laft, the meaneft, of your fons infpirel That on weak wings from far purfues your flights, [wntes."
Glows while he reads, but trembles as he
After feeing the curiofities of the univerfiry, I paid a vift to Mr. Luchtmans, the bookfeller, who converfed with me in Iatin; a circumfance which recalied the memory of the late Robert and Andrew Foulis, of Glafgow, who merited the titfe of the Elzevirs of that univerfity, and were jufly refuected as good clafícal fcholars.

From the unive fity I was conducted to the Qurght, or Chateau de Leyden, a higi tumulus in the middle of the sown, whach commands a full vew of Leyden and the neighbourhood. I was told, the Artiquaries were not soreed whether it was of Roman or Saxon origin.

Such were the empioyments of the morning. After dinater I revifited the churches. That dedicated to St. Peter is an antient and magnificent flructure: there is a monament in it to the memory of Boerhaave, with the following fimple and appropriate infeription: "Salutifero Boerhaavii genio facrum."

While I was mufing over the urn of this great man, there came to the fot a young man in a clerical drefs, with whom Ifell into converfation in Latin, the only language common to both. He told me thar he was pator of a congregation of Arminians or Remonferants in Leyden; and I was fo pleafed with his manners and converfation, that I gave him an invitation to foend she evening wits me at myinn; which he accepted. Dar converfation turned chiefly on the fate of politicks, literarure, and religion, in the United Provinces; on all which points he appeared to be very capable of giving fatisfaetory infurmation. He faid, that the Anti-Stadtholderians promifed themfelves a golden age io cafe France proved victoricus. But by this time, I apprehend, they find to their fad colt, that the iron age is come; that th littie finger of their new mafters thicker than the loins of the old govert ment; and that, inftead of the whif they formerly complained of, they no find themfelves chaftifed with foo pions.

I remember we had fome converf tion about the theological controverfi which diftracted Holland in the begil ning of the laft century, and whis terminated fo fatally to the Armini; party, at a time when their brethr in Englaud were rifing upon the rui of Calvinifm.

The Arminian paftor reprobated $\mathbf{t}$ practice, which prevailed in the $\operatorname{Pr}$ teftant eftabiihed churches of Eurof of requiring fubfcription to fyftema cal confeffions of faith; and thoug that a declaration of unfeigned affe to the Holy 3criptures was as fair a 1 curity for the orthodoxy of her min ters as any Protefiant church ought reaion to demand. I gave it as r opinion, that the church of Hollar or any other national church, had right, as an independert fociety, fix her terms of communion, provid no civ:l difqualification or difgrace : came attached to diffent from th communion. This was a fubject which it was natural for the Armin paftor to feel fore, as being a difien from the Eitablifhed Church of H land, where none but Calvinifts att time were admitted to any fhare in government and magiftracy.

With refpect to the quinquarticu controverfy, I affored him that It not one of thofe who held the decr of the fynod of Dort in aty high' gree of eftimation, and that I vene ted the names of Grotius, Limbor, Epifcopius, and Le Clerc; to which : replied with animation, that I col not venerate thofe names more hig than he did the names and writing: Hoadiy, Clarke, Law, and Bla burnc.

In my next letter I fhall introd: the reader to Haerlem and Amfierd.

Clericus Leicestrens.
Mr. Urban,
Feb: 2 TN defcribisg the explofion of $:$ 2 powder-milis on Hounflow-heath. 76, the lofs is eltimated at 20,000 ; the faet is, that about 30 -barrels f powder were blown up, of the valu $f$ about 3001 . in the whole; and the . mage done to the mills might pert s be 2001. more.

Phiealeth.
796.] Seals of Bp. Dove, Arcbdeacon Snoll, ari The Marches. 185

Mr. Urban, Dec.i.1795.

WITH this I fend vian in imprfion (plate II. fige I) fina a eal of Dr. Dove, B? of Petcrourough.
am at a lofs io explain the eniblemaic meaning of the figures, but wial hank any of your more incenicua co:efpondents for a dyeitanomit. I ake it feals of this fort are not $1=1$ tommon, or I fhould not have ctic: d his for your Makaz:ne, whre, irs blace would meft likey liave beth cicupied by fomething more edifing to our readers.

A.
Mr. URban, Margate, Dic. 23.

BBISHOP DOVE'S feal is of brats, and in good prefervat on; ann, if finy of your Antequarian corre polidnts can oulge the publick w th at: lucidation of the devices on it, it will grobably be atcoptatle to many of our readers, as well as minto

> Yours, &c. Z. Cozens.

By Wood's sith. Oxon. vol.1.c. 697, t appears thas 'Thomas D re, D.i). and den of Norwith, "as, (n : ite Feath of D. Richard Howlad, :n 1600 , eleर्ed bihop of Rechetter. -- Hie was fome tire of Pombroke h...I n Cambridge, and one of the firli cholars if Jelus college in Oxon. To which fee Queen Eirabeth (tn whenen re was chapiain in ordinary) pieferod rim for h:s excelfoncy in pie ching. ind, reverend afpect and deporment. He died Aug. $3^{\circ}, 1630$ aged 75 ycars, ind was buried in the North alle or the ;athedral church of Peierbryugh: arer whofe grave was a conely monement erecied with a large nfoliyton thereon, but leveled with the ground by the robels in $1643 . "$
Can any fritad to departed monit pleafure us with the above "large m. "cription," or any farther pariocula's refpecing the fubject of it? Z. C.

Mr. URdan, Mark-lane, Dcc. 2b.
IF the inclofed impreffion of an artient foal of office, in my puficifion (fig. 2), is woithy of a place, 14 is at your lenvice; and I flall be obliged to any of your Ansiquarian correfpenwents who can inform me of thic date when Mr. Snell "as archicacen of London. The infoription, S.gtlimat D'ni yubis Sncil, irchidiaconi Lonaun. is rather mperieg; theraft of the feal is in grod order.
S. D.

NTr. Urbav, Nefloflora, $N v=8$. F HAve fent yua the monefion 1. 3) of a fe:! if uTice, wh.ch furbent.: exp'ains iticht to vour learned and A tiguanian leaders; thenfore, I frive :-binu up any Burs of your remabo LPawhery than to lay, it is of firruith praterous wory handle, and is in d:e p ofiction of the Rev. Nr. Kinhant, a delcen. done of Sr Charlon, wis) prefided in the cour: then held at L adion caile. Yous, \&ic. N. E. N!. TVBAM, Salifzarv, Lec. 12. B is i ue k a litio brato conn, or up in S. Entrund's mareh yerd, in thits cry. As the delign is aew to nic. I fend isto rour Milic-lianv for an txidnation. It has a line dallied in i: ; and I fuppote some hang round the neck: of fons [rofon as a fuaeral when :o the memore ot fome trend. It has a date on 1: 165 ( the interiognhtm after the de than . . a les 1.). It is $\therefore$ wis atancia itar.

Is ar, fiver:., wat corm frondent W arpan cpened by the exerions of Mi. Oden, a velahis uring gentlewhet, who hes to ofotamed lave fiom Lide ('meltord (or has licivard) to prosecute any fastuer d toovenes there which be midy unisk proper. There are bice difficn: conjectures as to the defign ont thas apertore. Some think it "as matiolor a luly-post; whers, to be foppsle dman wa well, and a third C. intun 1s, that it leads to a dungen for continins prifoners. The Reps being cut in the chaik, and yst not mach w ta, haters thet it was never much uide, whatevg urpefe it was defigntd fre. It is cofted up with rubbifh, the tis woude o a a condiderable fum to citer it out form the mouth; but it wint be effected at a rery fmall expeise, were an oporits riade at the bottom ot the outer aench, the roof being theie (1s appears by mealuring) but jult leseath the tuit ; and this place would te 30 yards at leaff from the mouth.

The cro's (ffro 5) was yloughed up on the lower ring o! Old Sarun, about feren yea:s fince. It is of brats, very thin, and of this exact lize. On the oppcitic nde is engrayed SDIETRE, where the s JOANNES is, and ans on the centre of the colss atove it it is fiil in my poferfion. I apprehend, by the perfection of the Ruman letters, it was brought from Reme, and accompanied fome grant from the Pope to the church of St. fohn, in the Eaft$e_{i n}$ fuburb of Old Sa was.

Where

286 Old Sarum. - Charies Duke of Orleans.-Rutland Wotes. F Mar

Italie this opportuniti to obferve, thatr, in Noble's "Patertnate Houfe of Cromwell,". publithe 1787 , in vol. II p. 66, he firs, "Richard WValler, of Snenthuift, in Kent, tonk Charles, duke of O:lears, prifener at the battie of Agincuurt; which prince remained ar Speathurft $2+$ yeils. In reward for his fervice, King Henry V. gave," &c. I doum his fact, for the following reafons. Leland, in his Itio nerary, vol. II. Fo. 33, fecms to give this homour to a Hingertord. For, in a vift to Earley cafte, cir. $1538-9$, he afirms, "there $i$ : a common faving, that one of the Homererfords bu died this part of the catitc (the lito noble hall and three fine-clambers) bo the prewe of the dule f ol lans, whom Bere dieant is lhe kret Sor Whater
 the the princois of the Hate of Lath egter morr than 40 yeato, and was ernobled 6 Hense VI. b-ta than !ard weafure of Eagand; for whote life ! have ben colleding matultals many yens.

I sppeara, by G.thin's Lifiory of England, :hit the dukics of Oitans and Bourbon were, in $1+19$, bepi prilonets in Pomfret offe und the chare ot one Watcation (not Waller). Tisis Kobert Wit:it in is frequenty mentioned in Hewn the F:fh's atign; and was, in 14r, one of the emberfy ro France to tie tof a peace.

Antquary Henrne has preferved a letrer, iwrotion by Hunis V. fro: Frace to the bifin po of Durlam, of whoth the for owing: sa pur:
" Furthemorc, 1 wall th t ye fet a prod ordinance for ney Noth marches, and fpecially for the duke of Orie ws, and tor all the remander of my protomers of France, and alio tor the king of cotand. For, as 1 am fecretly men racat ty a man of right no abie eftite in the tand, thio: there hath been a man of the duke of Odteans in Sontand, and accorded with the duke of Ab .ny, &c. to that what he may, and feek moans to he atray the thke of Olleans, zec. Wherefore, I will that the doke be keit fiill with the caffle of Pomfrt, whthout going to Ruberus rlace, oun to aiy other difport; for, it is heiter he lack hi difport, than we be diftained of all the re mamant."

It atfo appears, in Dugdale's Baro nage, vol. 11. p. 213, that a patent wa granted, 19 Henry VI. to Sir Johi Cornwall, Lord Fanhope, of the cuf tody of Charles, duke of Orleans.

Here we muft alfo remark, fron Antiquary S Iden, "that, by the lar of arms (in thofe davs), all captive whofe raniom exceeded a certain fun (10.000 crowns) helonaed to th king." In this cafe we may reafon abi) Cuppote, that a prifiner of the clafs was not fuffured to remain in th hands of the caprocs, left thev migh be induced to compromile with th prifoner for his efcape, to the lofs an damag. of the king. Chatles, duk of Otleans, was taken prifoner at Agin courr, OZ. 25,1415 , and ranfomed $i$ the beginning of $144^{\circ}$.
P. C

Tour in Rutiandshire. (Ciont nued from i 18.)

0AK 43 M, the c. unt tow though not a cuipo ale town, h: a vety hadtome choreh and antie coste, bosh ot which are engraved ; Vivaiab. Hinorv, hace waich the are inme atorations in the cafte." The lard of this calle and m,nt clims by preferipuon a franchife a very un onmon kind, ziz. tha the foly ane pees of this king d. m fa dil hapen to pars through tl pu. cinits of thes lorthip, he fhe forma as a homaze a thoe from tl hate whateon he adeth, inlef he $x$ dum it with money." And, accor ing (i) the liber lity of the nobleme -Whancurs the foifeir, a hose is ma in lize, gilt, deconated, and mileribi w.ti his tute, and the date when con Puwded for; which is placed in t calle, or on the gate, io a confpicuo pint of vie:v Five, aud fometim tein, wincas is the douceur on the ociafion: whit h the cleck of the ma kre informed me the Eal of Wi chilfea (!ord of the manor) perm hime to have for a perquifite. When was at Oakliam, I curned fuch of $\mathbf{t}$ infertytions of the thoes as wereleg ble. Nitany aic gone; for, 1 fond late ciork of the market ufed to tal dowa feverat old ones when a new o was fixed, whach he gave in exchan to five himfelf expence The gentl mon wion now bolds the office reficu a number from the hads of a fmit which he canfed to be fixed againft the jury-box within the c-fig.

1796.] Tour in RutandGire.-Ficuliar Fraיchife of Oakham. 183

Infrriptions on the fious fixed to the suter gare:
John, Earl of Ex.ter, Alizut 7. r7s 4.

Henry, E al of Ganfborough, $1 ; 64$.
Rotert, Earl of Habborc:gh, 1772 .
Inlcriptirns an the faces on the door into the caftie:
Edwari, E. Dud!ey.
P. L. Whartun.

Georf. E Cumbentand.
E. Wiloughty..

Phillip, E. of Nountmorris.
16 c2, xx Stpreni. Ese':i L Mordant.
12 My. $\mathbf{1 6 c 7}$, fierni Monteske.
Henry, Lerd Grej, 16 it.
Edward, Eulect Linc: Ln, Miy 2n, riso.
April the 8, 1687 , Thom, Eanle of Stamford.

Wm E. Berners, $\mathrm{I}_{7} 04$.
Infcription on the thes fixed againft the jury-box inflite the caft $e$ :

Bapti?, Earl of Garmorwash, Decem. 17, 1604.
Robert, Eanle of Cardigan, April 30,1667 .
April the 1, $168 \%$, Edwar', Earl of Gainfborough.

Augul If, Edward, Vifcount !prwich, An. ${ }^{\circ} 1687$.

Francir, Lord Guildford, 1 5gc.
Georse, Earl of Hentfoted, Strt. 1703.
Lewis, Eall of Rockinglam, liay 30 ,
Phillip, Lord Hardwick, Ang. 6, 1736.
Infcriptens on thoes agranit the wall above the judges' bench :

Bennet, Eanl of Halbough, $\mathrm{I7}_{7} 3^{\circ}$
Brownlow, Ent of Exeter', 1757.
William, Lord M.nstieli, i.. C. J. I;63.
Lewis, Lord sends, i766.
Charler, Lout Cimien, $1 ; 66$.
Elizabeth, Eatunef. Peicy, 1771.
Heneage, Eanl of Aylesterc, $17 \%$.
John Frederik, Duke uf Du.iet, 1782.
Alexander, Lord Loughbor angi, L.C. J.

1782.

John, Earl of Wefimorland, $1,83$.
George John, Earl Spenser, 1784.
His Royal Higtmefs Freder:ct, Duke of York and Albany, March 3c, 1788.
This thoe is at 5 in foleadid ne, and has his RoyalHigithels's coinnet aver't.
John, Lord Clifion, Earl of Darnley in Ireland, 1791.

This is alfo an elegant fhee, and has his lordmp's creft over it, viz. On a wreath Arg. and Az. a grifin's head erafed Or.

Thomas James, Vifcount Bulkely, October 10, 1793.

Henry, Earl of Exc:er, March 22, 1794.

Connel Edwaids, of the Rutland feuc:bles, has a bandfome houfe here, over againef winch lie has cre ?ed fat lics, and wryy cipital riding-houfe. whach he intended for the forvice of his Majay.

In the Smath, wal' of the chancel of Ridineton chuch, on the cuifude, is an antent carvins, reprefented in the inci fod fetch (flate II fos. 6). The workm thip is very rude.

At kyail is a houf, now an alehome, formerly appareatiy a rcligivus tuldine; the cellar is a crup: ; and I $\because$ as informed by the landlady, that, in he mo her's ime, Dr. S uke'cy cane to ficeit. One of the chamber-doors is made of the emains of old painted rannc!s. I made ut part of a crucifixion. The foditin os are done by a gord hand.

The church of Tikeneote has been, within thefe fow yars, ic-buil in the Norman frate and does the perfor Who detignod it much credit, as there is mere puity in it then is ufually found in attempts of the fort.
-- Wingfield, efq ins a feat here.
In many of the profles of this county rentain the pedef.ls and Aafte o. Rone c (fes. Ai Lidington there is one raited upon feveral greices. At Oakham, one like $n$, and the pedeital of a crois carr dewth herubim, &e. Which is now made ufe of as a honfeb!nk. An oid turt in the yard of the publichoufe at Kyall, wow made a twueh, contims me in my fuplefition of its havinge ietin a rethfous foundation, as a frose nult be an apone sage to a chryat, and pea po the rocin over tie orypr maziat be the place. This, and finte ot we bore ines countice, have an . I. entens thwalds build. ince wich mary wic: h ve mu, viz, fone nearat band; whinh is, I take ir, and is much on faten wotk atout rine nuldinus. Geming the material at on caly sate, thay could aford to frad motionlation. O......

Mr. Uriane, Feb. 10.
FEEE! myliff bound $\rightarrow$ acknowledge the honour you hase dune mis by the intertion of $n *$; tes in Rutlandfire, P. 17; and be. . $e$ correction of the micription $f$. Ahwell; where, in line 3. it ruts, azonicz Encelice Cath. Sax. 6in... inAtead or which it hould bu, $\therefore$ zeri as itake it, of the catheduls of Sailibury and II refocht.

Hombleton bal, a monfin beonging to the Bu ber fimity, čuculd be Earker family.
Pa' of the od moument, with I mentioned on tie will of Dham rhurch raid, is of te facre bere fr:tcher (flate lif (he 7) An grtion fione in Cathall chach Uutimdiare.

I would be mianh athech wom of of y:ur conefponten!s tion ....... if Frefixed to his Phefic! Ruci, , is a any way foace.
().

Mr. Unean. Fil. it. WV woper that Reatiand carefpatent $\cap$, 17. 1us taken mo norize of the : matron. Araseture of Uppineham ch roh, at ahech we hore, however, lla wilfor ur us with anemeraing, atd wi h fone account of that fuci: b'e town and ins glad to receive f me ! the infintanfion crnce ning the two fig urs which he mentions in Aifon ciurch-gal.
 friters, any how tom tun?

 in frinnade, that hey eation a fainow calld die Fikj, wh menth of Upingham, acar thelarment ber of Reaumont chace, and heft ih in for the benefite the pooz on Dutanhaw paria. Anis wa hother worthy refter is unt of the insiron:
this chatity.

Mr. Urban, Earch 4. $\mathrm{T}^{\mathrm{HE}}$ ate of Lhat ICitawk san. - dou, in the borernmo of this cen. tury, however cuntiary io the difcipline of a well-policed metropolis, a no $\therefore$ on in comnation of the outrag curn ated in F nce, about the fan resind, by a fit of banditti, calle from their lade: Ca:touche, Ca nucheans. "A Narrative of the Pr" ceudings in France for the Difoove and detering the Nurdereas of at R゙nyl th Gent em"n near Calais, Sep 21. 1723," tranfl ted f:om the Fienc and printed for Roberts. 1724, giv as Recount of the punifment as comes of their murderers under tl compand of a feparate caprain, at telers to a Freach hiftory of Carmucl and his : flociates, which I have n buan able to mect with.

Thememornodavefpectiog Mr. Bryn p. ic: reere copi-d trem a MS. in ti ba -undi.gg of Mi. Alleyne.

MTt Ficmis Bridgrs, tnquired aft i. Ief, "as'a caipenter of Waltha abtey, who, by mine years fudy, pe formed and finthed ruch a muficalm chine, or furprizens micrecofm or m Fical clock, whoic performance to ti nom curi us las given fuch genet f.tasiaitan, n. yuven berond commu fame or watcf" Famen's Hatory is a crint or then and two c ; ; cs :umes adile eflet to the artil thould arame rhomas, $\mathrm{Ma}_{\mathrm{a}}$ cuis of Whatm, ho dited in $\mathbf{1 7 1}$ $\therefore$ - bunter wis his arceftors in $t$ : or Tu゙ of li an by Serphen, on, Cur if..ad, in wich pith their efta animongor, it ailandated, lay. craice! on aile belonging T. anmo ic.11, and in it a monume Thess .s, the fat lord Wharto 14 liss two "ines Suin's Wel raitand and Cuabedred, I. 540.

> Yumis, trc.
D. 1

Erea\%

Feb. 20: I the ant of tracic poetry amol man ast ond foi nee, rufe by degre 1. Tr the mofe fimple :udiments to : a'me ti maculous d-gre of perfectio When one poos had invented fon c.a. Ammelf, anotior mado a ft fartion acivance; a third gave an al cimental character; a frourth add diets, and enished the table with i srege and incident; and all this pri for's was fo rapid, that, in a very ft Yeus, the rude tales of Thefpis at fibryaions were, by a kind of cnchan ment, converted into the high'y finith. ed drama of the im mort:l S phoctes.
Io the difiertation which fullowe, if Mall offer fome remark on the Piomethe s Vinius of $\mathbb{E}$ hatus; : tra-at a time when tow hem: haterd itfelf from is mot Natrondarmes, fpeed, to its unnofl pust? of exuel lence; st hat perid. when the wrold looked forwa don its fu: $r$ gha, , ith the fame pleating cexpestan, with which a parent antrepres thic hom rur of his fon, abour thr ive at the egge of manhoond. N'y, this fire of presty blazed with tuch somaflon ifones ardintr as not to be cxtinewth an alochem.
flances which (it mion mato . Ho have been fupp fed) woul! have the wo a more than Stugian civoun core it, and defroyed he h prs of the ring generation. Thou hi Datius was adine his myriads agaieft te fise of vegsur Intrature : ho' death, or firery worte than death, iung uvet icy ace Greuce; yet, amidit ait the hon e.s.o. $w \ldots$, her gallant fons fourd icture to wom the Mufos; unde thei winemes to fer fo. the alievation of ther lateres; and to court thriv on thentse as wall as that of Mlars ar Minava.
 how to rule e dy ... . us fulit. in the theatie, and in of a a conguerng army to k.tory in :han an :
 acobes.
But, withut duelline loneer ca thefe geicral wifionaw, let us cume more cloley th the parn, nat tymmace the tragedv of Purs hers as d. m.

the moft exc-llent, of owiz ductions. Wal miso fuch a traged foy, $\rightarrow+1$.
truft his wows: pufiorm, want:
he doumed ant, he thould coeve th
the howours be rious interefing icelon + is, ws a.ce without ficuity wor whers ence Plataza, at S ! mmus $\frac{1}{1}$ o uik not have been he wak of ans ibetagreat mad -a ferris which cou d net bre ok the limus of this wotid, whetis was not conterted whit hunial atents, but made eyery character a divinty, and carried his iemes berond the excurfions of mortil $m \mathrm{~m}$ *. And furely imagination can farco'y fora any thing to it felf more awta! fivery oltcumennce difpiavs that ., mezing mag. ninicenice, "th waide oa zuthor's geni:es as invelied. He i, fiece. volite ment, taglal. tetrin! ! 1 ia ientimeats, fluated, warn, wid, and piercing; in has in ges itantul, in-fuvime, mitjoltic, fvere, and dreadful; in :hat lit of Paerr, to woich a o.e lec bems ad piol dy N Nure (I nean force, minntr, inferwhty, and attor $\quad$ 'atio works huce finvived the wrack tit...ct

Whist refoe to the argument of this to p. At, it hac heon loag woferved hy an en'i.tnicutick. ' that it was of bíc uthooh imnoriance, thas i: was tam Kan irom rice theire s, art indeed from i.he infitutes & I. fis; and, alt...fulin ftyent, vanticver c-n iniorm
 1. ant, yct li:" W 't inhd zond men hatie lwoy remititiae wark in queitin wich the hiolisit icipat ; and, conidcuine it as $3 \%$ rion t! colls an ufeas Such, iteonamen, deti in othets+" Y par onc ind ín U han's comprelicili e catc. I ilial pirited, in the de..: or of twankiud.

It inart.t he expl? fod t.i twe fhould lure font at Alisionlu, ad of tiae 1t.... But the iz: íy befure us fecos to be bmeniv! tiv no human flc :

* Enc: $\because$ ? fax him fixam her bounded An' (\%. .f Tine torl'd afier him in vain."

: Soe the Introdtcition to Puitor's IEfclyblis, D. IO, At edi inn.
 Hebrew Youty ; whate hec nupates Efe chytur w th the prophur caetmel.
*Gubita Epistola nuncuratoria. $15-8$.

Yours, &c.(To be continued.)Mr. Urban,Fcb. 19.

PERHAPS there never was a iperch deliverd in the Houfe of Com . mons containing mose ireflabible argument than that of the Chancellor of the Excbequer on the motion for the fecond reading of a bil for emmover ing jutices of the reace to fix the wayes of iabourers in hufoand: y : from which it appears, thet evern onempt on the part of Oppoftion to lefien Mr. Piot in the tifimation of the publick, has no other fife than that of fiving him new oprortumities of rifis. in :ts eftrem. I coniels, I trembled when 1 faw him, ar this citicul and pecuiar junciure, under the recelfity of objeeting to a mextore which Semet in orignate in a defire of ametionstro the condition of the lubou ing pat it the communitv. Rut on this, itso every other occafion of difficulty, the refuit of the debate diows ha whetic deafor his friends had tor appelice:fina.

What Mis. Pitt hoth ureei with fo much elequence, rematiog the property of the poor, minrits the attention of every parig in the kingdom.
"It was uful," faid he, "nilh the magiftrate to deny any aflizance verile the poor claimant had any propefty; bet property ousht to be made the frur and reward of induftry; and hence, by a judicious regulation, ought to le a faperion claim to protection. Property Mould be, as much as perimit, made perional, preferved to the ownor is the fruits of his earnings, infted of degrading a poor man hecaufe he had it, and making him dirgore of it. The views of the poor would thas be turned to the interefts of the country, and national evils would be prevented, and national werith increafed."

This, Mr. Urban, brinss to my recollection a very ingenious propofal, which was, many yours fince, mate to the parifh of Enfiele, in the county of Middlefex, by Mi: Sherwen; frum which I beg lave io poctent you witis the followng extracts, fincerely wifning that the good fonfe and found argument which they contain may, by your meins, become more generall known.
*Vita Eichyli. Anon.
"It is perhaps entirely owing," faysth writer, "to mifmanagement in the ver firf infance that our workhoufes are if nuch crowded. From the moment that f.menty comes under the denomiation c papers, whether it proceals from unz vodathe calamiy, or from vice and ide nef, be the caufe mat it whll, from th day they are almitel iato a woikhout every idea of property ceafes. The minc if not alrexdy deh. fed, foon beeanes fo and the mifolale cojects are literally flave for life in the hoiom of a land of hiberty.
"Tuaritacit the whea of property is $t$ root out every priteiphe of induftry. An that this is seally the cafe in every work howfe con handy berwhred. When fick nefs and poverty gradnuly get the upper hand, every litile houfohold moveable a कralu'tly dhippars, being fold or pawne t) 'vard off the fatal day. They we.! knor that, when they are :amitted to a work hanfe, the mafter will lav chim to thei furnitare, if any fuch exifts. When the have ance hocone inmantes of a workhouf 15 to poilibie for them ever after to cmerge and become ufulut or creditable ruembes of the communty ? Admicting the re-efta bhfmont of heath and firength, the vor awb, if not the repatati $n$, of a work thonic, effecually th th the doors of th weulthy fiom ennioying thens. They ar duthnte of frimnds or money to pat them folves forsuri; and every fume exertio "if induftry is ac: for themelves, but got to iacreafe the m:iter's emoiument. H will tell you, pertmps, that it is spon th produce of their lab wor that he is enabe ti) take them at the ripulated fum. -Be lieve it nut.
"Let usthen, for one year at leant, tr a different method. Let the poor be fup porter, as they now reilly are, entirely? the expence of the parith; but let the pro duce of their induftry, to the wemof fat bing be fufted to accumulate for themfelve. Let eve.y perfon, whio is admitted into worklunfe, have the comfortable profped in a fow months of being able to laund once more into the world with better ex perience, and with a habit of fobriety an indufty, which, in a well-regulate workhol fe, he may gradually acquire.
"Should you adopt a refolution of thi kind, depend npon it, in one day yor would turn a neft of idile, difcontented troublefome wretches, into an orderly ant thriving conmunity, refemblang a fwarn of induftrions bees. Ievery hand will by animated with the profpect of a future efta blifhment in life; and, before the ciofe o the fummer, without a fhilling additiona cxpeace, the numier of your paupers wil
796.] Sherwen on Mainagenent of the Poor. - EIN. Dunckeriey. IgI
e confiderahly reducel-Nune will rehain but the children, the aged, and the firm, whom, invicrendent at parliam $n$ ary chligation, it is our duty as Chriftians hearfully to fupoore.
"Should it be objested, that the whole f their tarnangs is t. 1 , tirg a roportion ; anfwer, No. The fon r!ley are ena. ted to proviee for themtelves, the hecter or the parion.
"It w"y be alleged, that fuch a D'an yould he all invitation to the idle and ditibated. I believe th. re is ast claf: of mankind, howeser idie or i"ipnte, that vould voluntar:'y court admutusu buto a vorkhoufe. Swouitl there, however, be ny fuch, it is noly neculiary to recospent, hat then admyfion and difena:pe wili A.1] eft with the gen lemen who fupermtend.
"Perlaps a more fobftantial objection acurs, from the idea, that maintaining : Irunken fellow cill he has e.ined a feiv soun's, and then diftharsing h'm, would only te funcins, him to the next a'eloufe o fpend it To this it is anfwered. that the charafiers of fuch are senen ilv well snown; and if, upon a proper trtal, by hdvancing a part only of their tamines, they, are foud incorrigible, let thate be again admit:ed into the houfe, and let them here remain hewers of woud and drabels of wat-r for hle.
"Should a 1 in of this natare be atopted, it is not u reafonalle to expret that everal, who now are, ind long hase beed, pining in your worknowfe, may h te,fter become pulfiffed of comforabie habations of their own; and may even, in fulure, contribute to the fupport of that workhoufe in which they are at pretent only a burthen.-Enf.ild, Maicb 5, 1,87."
To have hus amocipated the deas of fo geat a man, on to very inupor. tant an ocelan, muft cett mbly pive pleature to the writer of the bove; and this commuacation requires no apology whatever from tours, ser.

A constant Reader.

Mr. Urdan,

$F_{e} b$ :o

THAT 1 may not lie under the imputation of impofing on you "an idle furs" cuncernng tive late Mr. Dunckulíy (ice p. 42), I affure you that the account I lent yow was what I received from toe mouth of Sir Edward Walpole more that once.
Mr. D. begns his narrative with the death of his muther in January, ${ }^{1760,}$, foon after his seturn from the fiege of Qncbec. As he takes no notice of his former fituation in life, no contradidion is given by his paper to what If fated of his having been apprentice to a barbe., ond having run an y and yot :board Sir John Norrices fhip. Sir Joha had the command of a flest fited out in 1740, at which tine Nir D. was 16 yewis of age; a pernd which admits of the filit part of mity fory being rrue. I mentioned his Veing at the fige of Quevec, and his ment on that recalion. He dmits the ergany which 1 fatad to have been marie ", Sir Esward, who, he fays, had ficocen tima from bis infancy He la,s nutinng of Sir Edward's former patonate: but, in 1761, he aked Sir Edsad whetrer he did not refemble the iate king; and, being anfwered in the negative, he did not of that time acquaint him with his reafon for alkince the queftion; nor does it appear fr minniac. unt that he everinformed hem of it, whe ugh he told the fiery to C pris S antoa, and to feveral offi cero is the army and way.

It appeas firange that he fhould h.ve tid the taie to the fe gen:lemen, who probably were litile able to alfif him, whe heve conceaitd it from one who thad been his contlant friend, whule litation and pasticular circumRances afirded in much pr babi ity of ha beeme of eflernal fervice if the itory coruld be fubitantiated. It is wonderfal that he fhend not bave carried the paper to Sir E. the aroment he receved it. He, however, made no ufe of it :!ll Mrs. Pankney alfo was dead.
lofs itr nge that this fecret fould lave buan hept fo peaicaily when fo many ferales we:e in finf-fion of ir. It is Arange tait neithe. pade, vanity, nor tove for her fon, fhu ud have induced Mrs. D. to h ve made repmesentatoons to be hate king-itiat the fhould bef. tuer y devid of pone as to fuffer an :r.......ent aftheking (acc: dincth a a o be putapP....c to a $\therefore \quad$ an, and when, by the terce of his :nent (and that he had merit is a(mittud), he hid got into a ficuation in the navy at the $\mathrm{a}_{\mathrm{b}} \mathrm{e}$ of 37 , Ee froad make no dttemptio aet bim advanied, when meri: was added to the fiowng plea the had to urge.
Indeperident of the credis to be given to the honour ble perion fiom wham lieceved the patsculare, furely, Mr. Uibaw, thete circumitances afturd a collater:i proof of the tru:h of them, and will fiew that I did not fend you a mert "ide flory."
ro2 Fimabic Surintites for Four.-The Decrinos of Kent. [Ma]

Mr. Urarin,  F?. 0.

I

 F 1 1 B wated t fe ic ans of your 1 car:eforndents h.d tried ihe rice. gudains, or bread, fcommended in vol. LXV. p. aoos; ant, sis no one has aken up the pen on he furjed, I muli beg leave torekiafy the gentide man as to the expence of the in redi enos. Hy, and cwiy une who wennfics any m thod o! acuan ny in bread, deírves tiozaks; but, the calculation proves eironenes, the feving will fatt thont of the goad intende!; and the poos wi!? hat is are te: Co numitive as we. woth bred. Rice in large crantites they ca: nut lea.h to purchafe; but wion thofe a hotie hiwher than the very porre, and whonare above rectiving dometors, yut p daps fiod ir learder to firug.e to bua. up their foahes watr citernov. i hive made both the futing and bace ob ascondag to the deents and thent un dem buth wery suc.l; 1 1, maderd, cinn a rise-pudalis of :ny klad So nonto; thaking, lice sery palambic, as walins vetul in exatery But the expinae el hepundite a as to : ws:

$T$ believe ove en erticle fet down is at ti.e che per sumblate it can ie gur. Dhaik anid baing, what ver it way be in the comner, in and wund the metrap tis is ast to beh anderefinatie. OHas and the bolicd rice-purding will tee a goud hetp, and a patatable wholzfome change in lage famithes, efpecially tochidden; but the lahouring man wili never be pastuaded he can work upan the fond equal to met; nor do ! think myfelt he could, thoughi I am permaxied we foed too wuch upon amanal di:t in England, which undrubtatiy bringz on, and promotes, thetcu:vy. I hate ditufed patay in my fambly ever fince the death, and m its liead h. we had bonted glu-puditirys with (o ranes, cherrics, daino...o. wheterer fíme was in fealo:, of les, and thonk it wore gratela.! tw ine : liate, and lek: heavy (w) te: it rach (hm pits. 1 have made panene thas fome: wate; thank on mase pieatan of than the (ddutternted) Darker's D.and, Lat U:have it is not for nutifhing as wheaten brea nor dues it gn fo fa", and confequent fiud i: duarer ; nor çon plivate fam Hiss, whon mit boy their flou in fina quanties, and fend the biead to $t$ b 'eci, ave find it arfwer in puint , intivadual r...wng, thongets t may leffe the combmpano of heiten ofur $\mathbf{i}$
 ft ar I hovenor becn b!e to get at a! or I fle oudpeforthat as a $m$ xuru The rice-beed mande very vieafin bot I fourd it len in the oven a phone 1 made hat oo iscircing to the $d$ te ion, only it word mit roke abor haif a nome of mik; and i reckone

Putatoes a id hiour, moxed with fue m.t.e su0. damplogs or pudding: OH:1 hetter wit'; 'oude raifins, withol ene ap. : I mezk of thele as chea rudilas

Nave tre more important findegs: conlure and rean ony are diputchel fullar me:o tic: :s a listie homer o frur tima *in. U.b:n, to eng̣:re any ent yoreders are acquante vith the Der no familu, of K.at. fins, in a Becach author, the f llow Lainazed' in Dutamecus : "itvant thi ob.undi Andor, i nt membe da co It of ue Coneft í fondres, ex piédici tene de la cat.élrale, mort th 1576 a. a rie im ta commentave full' ine ans rimux." diemiredta co l. Ti de Gerf. uru, mide mean chucats a. Cumbi Hofpiral, asd, prébicates de le caz!ér.aie, be a predcher at S Put\%; !on it is a firance loufe a c. am. Petats fome of you: corr. fondents con lut thas matters hight. find too, the the fation, mentis mutiont Comto Potana, a giear Po tugucfe poct, whole eptc poem, int tuicd, Quiterir la Sainle, is amongt fineft that himydmes ever produced. cab :lleer whis no one who knows $\varepsilon$ ther the poet or the fubjed of his $p$ tirn. I thould fuppofe this faint mi have pertormed reat athisvements be the herone of an epre poen; conf quen ty, her ienown wit have reach. the ears of fowe of your numero corefpondents. I never heasd but the Curiad $b$. C moens; and thougt thousia peihij:s unjutty, that Port gat was batien of peets. When a w mat's toage is in motion, it is dif cult to dlopit; but I will only ako queftioa more, dear Mr. Urban, a that your baders can certainly refols hat were the tilles of the works of emocritus, particularly that for which received soo thlen's, and bat fatmes brafs erected to h:m. Now, is 1 we proved I can make a puidin:, I ,pe I may be allowed wo frend , litt!e ne in my libray whom incuring y cenfure fir moving ois of my here. fatrona.

Mr. Urban, Lich/ield. Feb. 19. AM forsy to fee that Viator in 11 not allow any improvement to have :en made in our cathedral, ex.enting e removal of Giecian archrecture. is difpofition apnears to be a hetle ngen: I with ther of Smelfunpus, athe, Viator, whom we re dof in the entimental Jurney. It flould fcem, cording to him, that the Dean ond hapter have paid no attention to the necelfarv rep:irs" ot their church; id that the "improve.atent." which ave been made are "fantefic." How MPROVEMENTS on be fad to be antastic is another quefton. Vith a gentleman folaftidmu:, fovery exteme to ma.k what," be thazks, is done anmfs," and who feem, to elight in dwovering, and d...1 :ny pon, only what, in his opinion, ase nperfecions, it is Soth unpleaftat atd h va'n to argue. The ipplicited harge he brings againft the De n and :hapter mun not go unreptied. I ffure, ouk, Mir. U. Wan, and youl other eaders, that the receffay renats were principal conde:ation. The groins a the nave, when wre of thane, had freffed the wall: wity much out of the èrpendicel $r$ and were in graat daner of falme. Five of theo were taEen down, and re-placed winh pinte; ; a confequence of whicas the walls tave not a twenter h pari of the weight o fuftain from them which they bidd eforte. The roufs of the alles ale aifed, whing give additional fupion lo the walls; and the roof of the $n$ iz is now rendered fo fecure, that the s no dinget of the wal s giving way any farther. The entue church is conpletely pomed, cxecolise the middle tuwer and fore, which whii be pointed the enfung fummer. The pavenent of the nave and of the diles was of brick, and was briken, and uneven in many places. They are now paced with fune. Thic parts which had been murilated by the doldiers turing the Ulirpation are eftered. Fvary Gent. MisG. йiurth, 17ys.
ornament which Mr. Wvat has arded is raken fiom tome part of the ciurch; cye of an Antiquary. We woo ; hase perceived has been buit at "iलurev puides. and that fever of fr. G hic It, les are introducet in it: $n$ witliAtand: g which, it in y wilh or wriety be laid to be purcing and /moty goo trifle, it isthe cond of them which is principallo. ffemfue to the eye, bur wh ch, I bleve, cues V or himbelf wil asmit was undemi he, and not their lize, as they fand within the tiafe $0^{+}$the fommer orec, wi.ich ave fer the bfo homeh eacir wav, that hey were nine feet in the ares more at the top the $n$ at the botom. The refen ones, the colour of whis the weath $=\mathrm{r}$ will fuon change, gradualiy diminifh upwaid.

As to the wincow, the figures in which were cefinan by $\mathrm{Si}_{\mathrm{H}} \mathrm{J}$ ohaua Reynolds, far he it forna me tolimpuga Vitur's talte in pretering the ancient ficcle of glals. Tain", dare fay, E teel :is die'ight-d os he is wh the "Storied windaws richly dinis," which Multra fob Dument itr cuaraEtetize ; but I can .lla bed ? ? pheted whia the prodsetions of mode:n artifts in the new nae.

Your Reviewer, p. es. freaking of we $c$ hedral, fivs, ": s a liale rewa kalle th it hemembers us it, whu the ronf. inmed con-rive to mata S,0001. fou che tate repuis ord alterir not afond it, but beaure the anmul expence of repaising it wa vers couli.. derable; fometmes, whon the catier hal been putso: a:1, zempatma, exphes it the whole chiocts, which dues mon ant thet to tol.; whin sas io niuch st deey thmen awaz. $\mathfrak{i}$ is abur zo veats fince cher - wis wastitu, be athual repuang of wincil has nos cot:, carmaiturs whis, 20 s. The c nicynate han Neotb, that, fore has atratuon took Phan, the B.an and Chater have uic honaly lut not tha displus in the fards, till thelate very expenfive and very wec. 1 ily unaus, d.c. compences, wite they had 600 l . liock in the 3 for cents. The a, woald 1 mentomed in ny yalt remaia a dut upon the fabrick; but whichats wall in sime time difch nge, there be ne now an additionsl :ncome of near tool arfing from the rents of the le is, befides the incudental fortitirs, which vere always apprupristed to the repairs if the church. Rich. Gio Roeinson.

Mr. Urpan,

Feb. 25.

0N a loolet of white marble, againt the Sou:h w, 11 of the divi-nity-chapil, at Chrif-shuich, Oxtord, is the folowing inforipion:
"Juxta concitur in tumulo
Henricus Harrisos, A. M. hujufce Fedt alumenc qui obiit M.rtii xxix. A.D. Mdecxeri. xt. xxvil.
dignus prefecto 'fui atis exemplo fiet guid i: pfis ate intis porit virtus et verus labor.
AJolefcentam in hac xile gnaviter & honefte perenit, &, port juftum tyrocmium in fudio juris hand fegniter pofitum praxi ejus capeffenda tedulo fo accinxit : idom moribus comis atcue facitts, ben gnus antimi, ingenii felix, juichi fanus atyne rectus, fider int"gervinus.
Itaque fuis plam?entibus, whlls invidente, ingrediebatur quod fibt detmabatur curriculam, jam celtus via & merito fibi fidens. Sed eheu dum inf..hat proponto valetudinis fue :mmem $r$, inter ipta neg tia & folmowtines f.ri, morhi eum rapum ingravetientis vis oppellit.
Sperent alif fibi vite curfom lomerem d.ri, et fudtorum extums auftcatiorem; fin annes ex sero vel angufto ad fuan terminuan in eque peracto, amplionaf turx vite !paria, haud illa humanis vicifitadn bas obnoxia, fufperant fidentu..
Arms. Azure, on a chols Or, five pheons Azurt*.

Crelt. A d:xier arm grafping an arrow proper.
D. H.

Vir. UR BA:
$F_{c^{H}} \cdot 22$.

D2. At - NANGHT, in hi: "Literal Tranflation, from the O iginal Geck, of a! the ApuRotic Epiftles," has the following obienv:ion on the conizoreited pafigg, a $\mathrm{T}_{1 \mathrm{in}}$. iii. 16:
"God wus manifgiod in the fio. The Clermont MS, with the Vilgate and fome [^22]other antient verfions, read here 0 , wh inftead of $\Theta$ ros, God. The Syriac verf as trannlited by Tremellius, hath, it Deus rovelatus fft in carne, that Got was vealed in th: $f f / b$. The Cotbersine 1 . hath who. But Mill faith it is the I Greek MS. which hath this reading ; the others with one confent have $\Theta$ which is followed by Chrfoltom, Thet ret, and Theoplylaet, as appears by $t$ conmentaries. Mill faith $\delta_{s}$ s and is $\mathbf{u}$ fubitituted in place of the true realling; however, by the Arians, nor by the o hereticks, as neither they nor the ortho Fathers have cited this text. See Mi loc. where he treats as fabulous what $L$ ratus and Hincmurus tell us concerr Macedonius being expelled by Anafte ; for chansing $O=$ in this text into where alfo he delivers his opinion conce ing the alieration made on this word in Alexandrine MS.-The thing afferter 1 this verie, according to the common $r$. ing, is precifely the fame with what J huth told us in his Gofpel, chap. i. I4. Word (who is called God, ver. 1) made fleh, and dwelt anrong us. other reading, not very intelligibly, rel fents the Gofpel as manifent in the fli and taken up into glory.".

> Yours, &ic.
P.

A Ramele on Dartmoor, (Continued from p. 36.)

BUCKFAST, Duckfafire, or Bu fatteigh abbey, is a rum of ta ext nt, and deferves a more partici? defcipli $n$ than we can give. It', funded by Duke Alfred before Cutqueft, and replen thed with wl m nksuf the ard'r of Cifercians, al dedicated to the honour of the Ble: I Virgin Mary. At the furrender, veary income amoun ed to 4641 . 2d. In the reign of the lecond: chare, Visimm Siste, a tearned ma belonged to this houle. Theren remain of this maznefictut rum 1 , arcfes, which appear to have been entronce, and fums ruins on a la 10:a'i, which we took for the lod The arches are litusted one behind other, and itand acrof the road ie ing trom Puclif ftelgh to Afhburte the fron faples for the gates to hi? on fall renatis, and are of great $b$ $n \sim f$, whech led us to rhink they w : of milfy fluclure The rums of w we rook to be the Jodge if and on Eafern lide; its iengrhabour 20 pas breadth 8 paces (not being fuppl) with proper converiences for a min mealurement, we were obli, ed to a soat ourfives with it thus jougt ?

17.96.] A Continuation of the Ramble on Dartmoor.

aking care to diminifh rather than exaggerate). On the fazne fide are feveal apartments, one of which is inhasited; another is covered into a jound-houfe, in which flands a moortone trough of greas bulk, for the burpofe of breaking apples for the pound. The following meafurement I received from a leanet geriteman who ha paid great atten in to thefc wins. The diameter of this fi ne is 9 cet 4 irches, depth 3 feet 6 inches, I- $^{-}$ talf of which is funk in he ground; he fuppofed weight, $b$ fofore it $w$ ws hol owed, he computs mult amount to above 100 tons. It is of the gianite zind, and affords mater of fu prize y what means it was brought and phaced there; fones of th-t quality not being to be found within tie difance of many miles, round the abbey reing one contunted lime-ruck, which sworked at many places to a depth, reight, and extent, furpriz*\%. and orming a vaft cavein, at oace ternco and beautiul, which pioves an inearauftible fund of azin to the owner. The remainder of the fo tuins ase fituited in an orchaid on the Weatern fide If the rond, at the boton of which uns with fitent murmu the river © :rt, ceming'y rewreting, the downta of he abbev. The fif taing that preents itfelf, tradtion $f$ ss, wh the abrot's cellar, which is cnteled by a thall Gothic gateway, and is about 28 usces l.ng, and 12 wioc, arciod overlead, and in days of yo e, no doubr, vell fored wh delacius liquars, of which the monks knew puling well he true voût. But, a! :s! fogest is he change, that even Richaid the Third's tone wifin being witd as a Trinking-trough for hortes at in inn :ouid not be a greater contraf. Intead of rofy-gill'd funcis of abjimence iling the jusur ous bowl fro is this acred repufito $y$, it is now becone the ummer fhicid tor the biute certion, who feek to cool their feet in the miny oudde, formed by the cuetfoning of a moft excelient fpring of fiweet and liear water on the Eaftern fide of this eellar. At one end rewain d few fteps, which led to the rein above, which bur guide told us was the abbot's sutchen: it is now converied into a kitchen-garden. fit the Sontio end is he fkeleton of a fet of apartments, which appear to have been the ce.ls of the monks, whith ives approdeched by winding fteps, g ! of whinch now remain. It is of a particular form, having, as "ell as we could guefs, 7 fides. The immenfe buhes of ivy, diopping in meh felloons, almoft buried its form. On remov nor fome of there buflacs we c uld plank obferve the holes in which the jofts and fliepers refted tor the fupp rt of the floorm ing, from whish we judged the rooms to be bout 6 tuet in height in the ciear, oneabove the cther. Theie, we were told, folcls belonect to the abtion. Jaining thin was thetr court of judicature and judgement feat: and behind, a dungem, for thole that by their offences we e thou tht worthy of the fame. On the North eant lide appear the walls and foundat on of thas once-fipacious and lplendid fat of fuperatition; the aboey-church, and the remains of jts tower, all lying in fuch mafy fragments, that it is fcercely to be concenved br what powe: fo vali a fabrick could be dis. inied. The walis appear to we of the thicknefs of 9 or no feet, and entindy comproied of tinali fones in liyere, and a compont of lime and fand, which we fuppofed to have been thriwn on thefe layers hot, after the metimd ancicoly ufed in fach large buldags, which, incorparating together, formed a maifs as fold as the native rock. The tuins of the church appear to be alout 250 feet in leverh; and the ruins of the tower, tuwaris the Snuth, feem like hupe and vaft ruchs pled one on another in extenfive contufion-> by Time's fell hand defac'd, The rich proud con of unt-worn bury'd age.

SHAKSPEARE.

Thefe ruins, in all probablity, will conthue unmolthed for ages to come (as ftone for tailding is plentifial in the neithiounhowd), a monument of the gratuour in which the fons of the pap.if churchethen!tyed. And thouzh, on conremplanng the ie piles of ceclefiafic antiquitv in the r pretent rumous ftate, a kind of with may a ife, that we cuuld have feen them in their priftine fplendour, ef, on recollection, we feel a Satistactun in confidering that it is for the advantaye of ourfelves and country that we tee them in their piefent mutilited ftate, and that it is now the moft peenng condition in which chey can be vetwod. In the town of Buckfaftergh I picked up by accident a filver com, haviag the buft of Richad the Thard. 'the perfon I hat it of, being a labouver, intormed we he found it amoner tia mins of Buckf ff abbey. I or not fine it edited eith $:=$ by Wife, Fr hes. or Solling; but, on pernfi:\% Nu, e's "Differtation on the thin an : Com of the epircal Pa'sours of thar o', I find a cion ference bon in lis : int mark, that montioned by Noule hating a boar's hraterd he rue in ry peffetion a criak pé; Noble's al'n peffefles a fr. ure of he crotson the bre it of the king, which the ather has not He se..e ushis e a penn of Biffon Sherwond, whobd the t-portas teo fout wh lin the 6it of Aumuf, in the fift ear of lie ei nof $R$ chad TH1, and that le furmed the ayant many vears. The wetos $t$ thei:

Ig5 A Coin of Richard III.-Roman Crins?-The Swallow. [Ma

 face aithon .. cair to c.t annulets; b rove cirlyas mriotio a wols prexequettam a cuce of : no.lets, whet the ufua tyme of three ammeres enmitence of r!e mem -matk; Nob'e fay ag the wice mont-walk ufe: by hom was the lau': bead, and th it the reod inaboy dadily earne the tame mrk. I : SV: Nen ieveni thchard's heari wht whe at dimt- ders, but have ne: as ye found one as to be unitue. No! !athe the Rev. A. cind. Southare, betra in him, ..yd ina! ins pome of chaidathg the fane; bat, lavene mant can c. then Imonded, and bre death inappenmg toonatos, promed my aceiving that pleafure wish a lener fomen to great a mon wom! lave geven ate:

 geo, fur the chectitwe of any or sues conefuadern whate i paceed (a) my woy hotacerd. Whata the pand of Buck:aflate we aic whe rand the ground, liz itw.e C...... wh wi h h'l.

i un ancerat.

Roman coins ftruck with the but of livieg perforige w:re thet of Cæfi when perpenal d fazior A friend ahau has one wi.h a very bold ar perfect impe-fiing nf tha he d ut M rint, with the letets round it squal clo.r-um c marivs vit cos
On the reverfe, a trobs, and round victoria cimbricila
I know aciting t - us, hut ha: like o fee thas d ficuty ele, red up.

The fa, e gentienian has a copp coin of Auralt is in a very perfe fati. Row d the he d

$$
-\triangle H V G A Y G V S: V S P A T F R
$$

$O$ ite lef ife, a it m: in, ficure a finz anit: wombapors kneclin and vur. t

RGMa RESVRGES
fir wite is scmman, or are th FPH: of waraphas lati d1 2 new p pors:
"On Frity femongt a Swallow v fren ho pooplefiying athat the the y : d ot M: Nonro, of Sharfbury; a $\mathbf{v t}$ fins.ior i umitance on the 2201 of Jal wh, wd nuft adia the re eny conjectu refp.ating the emeg ation of this bird.".

If Clericu. Eumencenfis, p. 4, b antroded, that he himfelt had atua feana pary of fivalions plunge inte hake, $I$ meht have given tome cret ic li's afertun; but, as it is, he m tricule ar nos contid= ing a piece i.sulay evidence as a "convinci prois of the faft aivanced. T fund of Clericus Eburacenfis mig inporie upon him enther inteutiona or umatentional: ; for, he might ther play off a jusu ar falfity, or migh. be deceired hamelf by the bis fentagg on a bed ot tuthy girds wit! t: : e bound tries of the lake, from whi they probilly atomasds role again

I whs furpised, us weil as Mir. Dic emon, p. 4, ar w'at Candide, v LiaV. p. quo, could thean by enif me til Cickoiv among the hawks, 1 frmer (balides oilerdifterences) t ing inficiscreas, and the lateer c: niverous. At eugh, hewever, it c curred 4 me, that Cundide had p biel sat bewi!delud in the work of frys who evers, not only ti the cursioi is of the hawk !pecies, I thas it ritull!, during a certan pi Liva of ibic year, altyate the abfoll orm of a hawk, and that its veice aleis a* e. as we thip" and plumage. ? in. $N_{4}$, 且 It, b. oro. C.ulide is alfo n in einn when he fays, that it is verv unc maneon t) lice two cuck mons oge:her: for, I have often fect two dy cer $r$ n'y premics the her, and haye s.ten .blerved ew .o fiente is unin a tho chece of exch .. her, ad utser their nute in mive to ne mothas for aqu tornaz thut if atime, tuen till both hav: ben hoarto.

796.] Cuckos.-Cultivation of Sea Kale.-Mirration of Swallows. 197

I wonher theie es notmenti $n$ made, in the very inctligeot ind enertain:ng arcrumt or a athtik over Ditemor, p. 34 , of the fi. ge o ollow rute ; which proonslo graiss ip atamouny a that have fees $t$ in : we al ol c:s
On the cöst it the If Nember of the B tum ai Wigaze e. It.e Wat the fcientif. edi:or of last in it elc...9s work is recomending th the pub ck the ufe ofat val) whumle veget. called fea-kak. W'a.s Mi, Guas's method or manaendit ta, I known t ; but I have for the ee yoars pitt tond ture of two thids if tolazhly end loam and one ehthat of cout whes fimly fited theyther; which feceets was conerany to my expection; for, as it is a bative of our fea hio.e, I was afraid it would not have lived wsthout fome tea-fad heng mixet whe the foil I placed it ta. In winter I cover it wath lizer, and in tpring freew fome mouid, masci. as ftoret id, weth roalafhes, over tife cratwes if the root. Thus anamget, nic plaraticn efaped the hard weeter of 1794-5 tarally unaffected, though my orteraraks were killed. incompertus.

Mr. Urban, ATarch 10. $\boldsymbol{Y}^{00 R}$ mye ious e rretipuadont, M. J. L. Nkey, who, is your Megazme to, :11 tantio, ;), 115 , wac riou: parcula's precedny the dyarture of S witho:, Niteivo the me ks and mit zewh of all with ate theteticd in thas deanch of Noturallizory. It is orly by pationt atta? a, and r peated ontervetous, that diny that atdition can be inade to our hock of knowledge on this or any fimitar tuvject. I thereto e beg thave to r :commend to this genitichan (dhepicales), and to others of acuite difelamest like himutif, to befow their attention on this clats of biris during the Ev:- lawing feafon of thair annual refidence amon. us; and, in particular, on their firf arriva', in the enfuing munth of Apul. 1 would requeri them to obferve, whether an: of the $S$ wallows (who are ealil" dftinguibed foom the IF nio martins hy the white backs of :ue lats: , onpen: ai firt wis out the : Jon. exietior faat'ens, which Ih vegore, ved, that the young mood ") CSmans bave no attined this dilan an betime mey ieave us in autury. I buteve the ha e two fuccufle brods crey, famme, or, at le:ft, timet tona of them becuifilate hit their $y$ oung have not tong a wa befoce tikir d marture; and hele, ry atm combitent. it valy manurd, fo as t.. alten therif fo ked :u Is, betore they darpecar. N v, if it theuid be found thot, at the + or wat in the enfuing trins, every Sumun is teen with the forked tail iuh grown, taen he moar ha.cemoulied dunge this ablence; and Naturdifits ma cotider, wh-ther this kreat operfiion of N trure tan be pentally performed winic inefe thanas se thinit in a cav., or corgea od in a ravis at tict bottom of a lake. If, on the contary, any birds thould make thers fif appear nee in the fome fiof punn e in whol they lett us, and win their turked ralls mot gremn out, thea tuch bieds midv be luppoted to have pallod their wietel in a torpid fite.
Biat, that a great part of them mis. grave there can be no doubt, as they have been ieen tricer deputurc-ia
 -and are truan hpred ave: io undra comenent as Altaca, duting the the e the: leave us.
it was to prepare for their fuhfintence durng their plage tant then creps were i, filles as winake then drawsy, and appear to mupud oo your mgenious c maposisas.

Ani, whe ragard to the concincut ot Atmas, wise way are feen in wimer do alumant as heg are w: 6 . us in iumacer", thenuld belewe nt red that, juif about the ame they retara to ur, that country :s romedeted undit for rams, vimil) comatience in Apral, and [^23]feveral

108 The feveral different Species of Hirundines difinguifhet. [Ma feveral monithe. And this occafions the per odica! fivell ng and overgow of the $\mathbb{N}$ e, and of o her gerat rivers in that con inent. So that th- S. Wllow, coen if he cou'd conamue of abour amid thefe decending mprents, couid not weil eublit, whit all the fies, on whe ch he ieeds, ate fwept and wathed aw therein.

Whether the Hrufe martin and Sad martin tre tund there fky aing ab ut, in ermanita withtus builo.", as they are fera in Earop, de'e ves the attentinot curious engamers; and more efpeabilv the S witt, or B ackmattin, who d es not intemix wh the othes, ganer lly foaring twopher. This bad, i tave underthond, s. not feen in $A_{i}$ ct, but is common: B a graiand the ere en emplata or fadh, it Ihave beenalared be zentlentatonn that ountry Jhis i a f. © whoh mix ha be eafily atce tamed by fach of ous cuun rimen as refile in Inoa; wh) would do well to obic ve whe her tin bud bremsithere ar whed towe he Fi.ft m.kes his mpear nce; and to when be kaves thit c untrv, which, I prelume, wo Gistl fiod to be as their perndical rains come on.

The Swafd des not ie ich usquire fo eariy as the other fine ied, and cases us abrut the widd too Aurult. He is cominuafiv on the wag, anti it es wath very fupe mol ve octty $N_{n}$ one - ill doult but he has in ret's: imositus
 Let the N tuad a men, cation are how manv dass it wruld coft (mation fad in the farth ft part of Iacis. 管et ine, lake other bids o. precatous inatilience, can promby yur ive a wns wine on: the rno to an' $^{\text {a }}$ for, the werter of th s nue faw one, bot quire dad, - ha ch tad been foend in a negieded rown wh the man Oth out.
T.e te M. $\}$ an Hunter made fome cub , thesperiatents atentrin whether zi.s Sir..10w, ai the thote he diferpested irmen un was duroles to thep in :mmeree in water; the ic:ult zad ex at ace uat ui whalh, it is i.opod, whil be found among his p-p is, and communcaed to the worde in the imtuin, the white of his may polibly, in a furme Number, ret re aha paticulars, whath he ouce haad [^24] knoun to bive withent foed tho or thoce 5no..the.

very minutely defcribed by Mr. Hun ter hindeif. DERHAPS your correfponder Condide, p. 96, is right in h conjentre, that the "note curkoo i that of ove," as it is obleivable, tha theie hisdo fing onla a few of the feve ral months they are with us: indeed it appears to me, that it is a ficult that they don not always enjoy; as, z the commencement of thell finging and for fi,me weeks before they entire ly ceafe, they canno: articulate th word, but thammer caccedusy, re peang the noit fyllable (cuc-cuc-(ut-cu-koo) many simus.

Be pleated to inform your other cor reiponient, P 115, hat Linnzas enu merates twe ve epucies "under th yenus birumdo;" but, as the four only ineranasd be P. (viz. the brando do $m_{f}$ Ri $a$, of'c/lis, riparin, fusl apus; ar hatom wh the it is not necelfat to partan aze the othets. His de Icripuon of the broundo afozs, black mar:on, fiffe, or divelong, is juft, ex c. pt bhat I never knew of is buildin. is ceed an chimber, bet univerfali ia whetovers, as fiecples, Sec. Indeed thung undoubeedly of the lame clafs twe: do not watly a floc:ate with th Mran and Sivallow whle bese, an mose than a the jate of heir comin or cea ture : as the b:al'ow generall makes its dppearante thace or fou wetes hetuse the Swatt, whounfornt depats in the begraming of augut yer the ivatims atd bwallows fie quenty fay lix or toven weeks later From iths, itir. Uaban, you will con cluste that 1 am ab advocate for thei maration; whinh, I thisk withou phomutce, is the moft realonabie hy pontefis shat bas yet been advanced Fwr, though fuch venerable names a Anfotle, ilany, Ohus Megnus, Et mullor, Colas, and Kiein, with the reipudtable Danes Bationgtion, flaw as advacates to ther roapidey, or Im metron, jut the well-atielted widenc of the pince of andomits, Mir. Johi Fiunter, of their incapatality of exilt ence in fuch fruations, whit me en thriy cunfuies iuch mpmodale ideas edpecaly as our opponents declare liat thaty have procuted large yuant ties of them from the but ons it fro $2 z^{3}$ lak s, ponds, &ic.; which, bent expofed to a genia! hear, thve revived! (See Olaus Magnus, Dif. II c. 10 ; Philo!. Tranf. &.c.). To monfure this, be it rememberest, that figes (when in their natural e'ement), being conined beneath ice, immedia'ely dia.

1796.] The Aigration of Swarllows.- Mrr. Nicholfon's Diath.

But why, Sir, fhould the micration of thefe fpecies be dence, whon we have fuch undoubted proofs that amazing numbers of oher foeces peri d:cally vifit our colafs from Lapland. and other more difant countrics? The woodcock, for infance (to felect ene from the numerous genoria of cullews, fand-pipers, water-towl, s.', we know, cnmes from Smeden. Nurway, and Prufiaz; and, perhap, manufats a greater degree of inttingt than is oble:vabie in the berzedizess in cloosing the nights nextelt the fill moon for irs paffage. They fly with fuch a degrec of velocity as to Brike themfutes dead agdinf the iight onnfes, art other luminous objects, which attral :hate attemtion; and in fuch numbers, that I have kown the keeper of a nei, libouring, pharos to pacl: up fer feryen thus kiled in a nirhi; yet, te i. But in figh as enfly to the talien, one theur firf landing, by hond; and, iterut is, I fuppofe many mule perifla n tl er or tempt to crof the iea. This prohably will account for the appeatince of the two Swallows, which D. Ceits ricclares that he faw jut conte cut of the water near the houfe of the E-ail of Dobna (as well ge for thofe which Clericus Eboracenfis's friend towy drap into a lake). Might hev wot hote been fo exhauted in their pofígeas to have dropped cas the ed ee the woter, and forminatey have Romats on More? Thes apears mone necit more probable than itce they fhould have bain duranert at the botiom co die lake for fome months, and then rinciged! But, ha: we no pofitive tet mones of their migianon ? if neho... but one that is well struited, it 1s, as C pditie obferves, "as wat! as an bundrai." Bur, that we moy double the neces.ry evidence, we quate the $6 .$. wing tachs. The Rev. Mr. Whate, is a ce:ter to Mr. Pennant, decarso, thes inis birither in Andalufi: thas : him, that "of the mot'ons of thute birds he has oculas dea .ommatom, tor many weeks togeriner, borh foring and fill; during which friwe's mynteds of the Swaik w-kird traverfe the Staits trom North to South, and from Suth to Nomb, accomit ng to the feafon." (N turst Hitary of Selborne, p. 139 ). And Mr. Coit non! ves thei cturr, from S, Charies Wrager; whe hars, " Kemurring hatae in the forieg of the geor, s I came i, on frondiups of our Chanesl, a queat flok of Smaions came ond letticd upan my ruan of every r pe was.avered; they hang wa one anutiaer like a form of beer; the dacks and car mea werc filled " in them. They icened almunt fonafhed fond fpent, and wer only'f has and boncs; but, berw recruted with a mylu's reft, took their acht in the morin"." In the mouth of two of three whineffes pallevory uord be efiabifact. Hz.SNEZOC.

Mr. Virfan, Marcbig.

TF Anment is (p, roo of yout pre$\mathbb{1}$ font whame) has leen th it of I? ? p. 90 , he w. wi.t hwe :ound thet prevate to his lette, woi. LXt $\mathrm{P}=3 \mathrm{y}$ (where urietcresceto p 575 is mif rom m! Hs onn \& freformee to minntions is thac, fat not to ary pere

 U.ban, or C , or E. F, and tat oni'y under a prosio to be made of a ecal inreation on nathe the life of B 南中 Tavke. Tan Mrot ine al ofan an pomo:c lu:h isun cuia lur thes explanation, with we terther intermatonn, thar the pappow these enumeratad (with othe: rewe, mace onliefted by K. N, ir comman:asted tw ha.n b: private conetamedelice, ) bave nut beear delisect on e:he: of the preses under the buve fiemstures; nor is it konva to then whether his furviving family have in rater (as a note at the eati of one of the N , mbers of the Eration Cutuis on the lati year intimacic! a. atai a :ocombte the defin; the fotom, whut comenusicottons wa fic uration yous have with manhlind anctan fo forwander, certainly havo Ent m: .

*! Urasiv, Marikz?.

Z - U:i-r in whon julus Fwaznes chafac:'z ! mous of n:s n :'re, ! am ice to conciust that ws do met darce in rusgenes I prai, las of inasyreting A toninus, what is nor to be expecisd we can do fo abour the panamolor aco Remarks on the litnerary of Antoninus and its Compiler. [Mar fituation of $C$. maindonam. I fiall not therefore ${ }^{\text {m }}$ keany fartherremark with rel wind tw that tow... bur beg leave io lay before him the argument, which have appearedt ter ufficient to prose any particuar inmon one thefementioned ithe Oll:nerarv, that arleaft I may flew him that I have not fifered from him with, ut what applared to me waigh y ad folid eaforas.
I ant atwill thath out pejedice him in my feveur by coat off $g$, thar thave been infe.fifoleginto an inqu ry ater the antient town anationder Abroninus witant an prevous knowlerge of, or ans inclin fine tow ds, the fuy y of ant ginites. ity fif it was a matter of mere curd for, whith llan no dout would inve gen complect fa. tiffied; for 1 had ro fuperon thet a woik which had emphowd io niany of our fart Ancinuaties cumbld emen imperfeetly und chto od. Ia s, hav ever, prowed to be the cufe: fir, wh: n Ihadeonfulted B1 wn, Gave, H . fier, Canden, and every patiter I coald rice: with who hadtratad upon this fubicert, feveral towns appeacd one to bave recened ther anc putinion from any of them. Nit had any of thefe authors made any atempt to determine with prection the age or author of the work, bor yet have hey given any account of the whole wosk, but have confined theme ves entreiy to the " Int Batanitotum," wh ch contaire moly a very finall pars of it. This difourary naturaily cxcited a win that thefe disficrencles misht be rupponted; and, as the tubje it was by tils time becime fatnilar to me, I could not zefint the buld adventure. It may appeara prefumption, but it will not be fund fo, if tis confidered what gieat inprovements have been made in cu: wantymaps and books of roads, implements fo neceffary io the tracing of thofe juerneys and the dilcuveries that have been concinuaily nonde of Roman antiq uises in all paits of the hingdom in the laft few years. A commenator upon intoninus nowhas notonly all the advanteges atifing from fuch able piedecelfor, hut all thote helps and afiliances, the wht of which readeted a mpofinule tor the geated abilit os before to give any regulad and renlunabic account of \%.

Thir eqgithe medretor: of a tiend, I obtained a lown of Whaclang's thlown of the waso wonk. To wrake mytelt well a gumanted whin r, I not only tearchedevery patt of it catetully, but drew up an abridged view of $i r$, and at the fame time, by the firt-nce of Ctiarius and the old yengraphers to k the pins to col fruct m.p. foral parts of t By the ald of thefe, I wa: whie to form a ve $v$ ex. Ct odea of the $r$ ture and conftuation of the whole Ard, trom this general view, I wa: enabied not unty to bunin verv goor prob enle accounts witin regard to the age and -uther, but alin the occafiot If i'; a circuinfance, which, I do no find. haw beenever sct furpeeted
T. F. Suppones the limeiary to bi the juu $n+1$, f fome Roman officer. It whicar faree with him, but hate ven tured a lap fathe coento rame tha pertina. The ad a ofcured to the ond day in lockin c.ver my maps; and had the pieafure iof fied the inatery o that perton coun enance it be gond $m$. uun thezpe? (nas.
T. F. i. ins apon this travel!era wifung thefe cawn ratber focerofit then bufinefs, and yet objects to $m$ fending him rounc by Catudion to $g$ io Chichasford. Either bufnefs orcu riofer night carrs him there, and e quaily incline him to roturn into th road at or nearChelutsiord. The near nofs or divetherfs of his thad could fel dom be a confidetation in his jout neys, nt he would not have travelle from Carline by way of Yyk, an thence tw, Citenerto getto Richboing in Ken, Dur yet from Chichefter (Reg $n u ; i$ ) by Winchefler and Cailova $A$. trebantum in Londia.

The or gival work contains no int mation of the intention or cauit of i being compored. It is a bare lift towns' names in all parts of the Rc man Emphe, with litir difances in $R$ r man males. All Englifa writers hat concluded there towns to te flations. the Roman foldiery; and to this opinic 1 conlider T.F. as acceding whe he juiges of the fituation of Claufe. tum hy the apptarance of the countr This "phition, no doubr, armetron ti chommance, that 1 n tris ankad me of the Antor ne towns hiveremains. ftatoms near them. Betibrnomea cinfile this a pofitue apper:iage thes, or necefify ro ponve hear ide tity. The glettel numuer of tow feem to be in lowy, where it was $n$ hacly there fla uld be fo many garn fons. Andin Spain only one legion neention:d, which could nor be fuf cient toftered over the whele fate that castintive country, ia hort, Is ## 796.] Marks on the Gtiner ary of Antoninus and its Compiler.

- reafon to think of thefe places olerwife than mertly as towns, in geeral diftinguifthed in no way from thers than as larger and more popujus, a diftinction which remains wih 1oit of them to this day.
The only criterion which the work fords to point out any town is its dif. ince in Roman miles from one, geneally two, and fometimes three other owns. Independent of Roman roads nd Roman antiquities, this muft be alowed the grand proof to be looked for , fettling an Antonine town. 1 canot think the ufefulnefs of this curious ork would have been much dimiifled, if neither known Roman roads or antiquities had been difcovered. icr, it will be found that the diftances enerally lead to towns that have prouced the moft pofitive proofs of their eing Roman. I am fo convinced of he neceffity of hlewing that the difance of every town agrees with the umber in the linerary, that, if I have ppeared to have fixed the pofition of ny town, without regarding " the reative diftances from the sown which arecedes or follows," I have been milnformed as to thofe difiances. If I m fo fortunate as to render my reearches worth the attention of the ublick, the only merit 1 can claim will re, that I have given this argument its u:l force, and have never faid that the liftance agrees with the numbers withput proving it on the beft evidence I ould procure. This proof was not in he power of any of the old commenators; but I have had the fatisfaction n a great many intancus to find it :onfirming their conjectures.
But the numerals have been by many ooked upon as fo corrupt that they annot be at all depended upon, and :onfequently of no ufe. I cannot lay, nowever, that I have found them to be o. The far greater fhate of them ap. bear to be accurate and exact. And very few of them have loat the whole of their original form in all the copies we have of this work. In fome of hem numerals are omitted, in others hanged, but the real diftance of the owns fupplies corrections to natural that the true reading cannot often be doubted of. Iam here fpeaking only of the numbers of the " Iter Britannarum." I cannor be fuppofied to be to well acquanted with thofe of the Gent. Mac. March, $: 796$.
whole work; but from thefe there is reafon to infer that the reft are the fame.

A frift regard to the diffances in this vork muft lead to a difcovery of the true proportion between the Roman and the Englif mile. This proportion has not hitherto been fettled on unqueftionable grounds. In examining the principies on which the prefent calculation is founded, I was furprized to find them fo vague and uncertain, that no two writers feemed to agree either in their principles or conclufions. It cannot be inferied from the meafures in the Itinerary, that the Roman mile is lefs than the Englifh, the pro. portion generally admitted. If there was a difference, there is room to think the Roman the longeft. Horfley meafured with a chain the diftance between Corbridge and Ebchefter, and found it $9 \frac{3}{4}$ Englifh miles; whereas the Itinerary diftance called only for 9 miles. If therefore I hoold feem fomatimes to "ftrain" the mi cs a little more than may be thought convenient, it proceeds fron the conviction that the Roman mile was longer than the general opinion imagined it.
Stowmarket I have propofed as the Sitomagis of the Itinerary. The diftance from Caftor excited the fuppofition, and the refemblance between the antient and modern names added fome weight to it. No anriquaties have been found here that I know of, but Ifee Hayley new freet at no great diftance from it on the road to Thetford, which makes me fufpect that it lies upon a Roman road. But "I cannot conceive the object, lays J. F. for going out of the common road." The ditances on both fides and name princi-pally-again the diftance between $V_{e n}$. $i a$ and Combretonium admuts or rather calls for this digreffion. And no objecion arifes agamat fuch deviation from the general firuation of thefe antient tuwns. For, feveral of them lie at lome litile difiance from the roads or on fide-brunches of the fame road. On the Wat ing fireet between Lafledors (Towcefter) and Ujocona (Ozonyate) it is not certain that one of the fix in. termedrate towns lay upon the roid. Eenaventa, if Daveniry, could not is nearer to the common ruad than Stow. market lies.
Aly oninion with regard to the fimiLarity

202 Orisinal Eetter from Sir Edward Pellew.-B:Bops. Horne. [Mo]
larity between the antient and modern names does not differ much from that of J. F. I think that without any other circumfance it deferves no kind of nocice. But, if joined with the diffance, it muft be allowed a very fair proof, becaufe it is found that fercral of the fe towns do retain a payt of their antient names. The abufe cannot be admitted en argument againft a moderate and proper ufe of it. In Cambrigge he svill probably allow fome remains of its antient name Camboritum. If an apology faould feen necellity, Mr. Urban, for folong a letter on a fubject that may be very uninterefing to masy of your seaders, it mull be the age of Frontinus, whioh he has intimated in his letter to be in an adivanced fate. I fhould be forry to run the hazard of lofing the valuable remarks of a veteran in the fcience; bue, as on the fome ascount it may be troblefome to him to p'eafure me with any more of his obfervations, I fiall be obliged to any other perfon, who may have amufed himfelt in thefe enquiries, to give me an opinion upon the fubject of this leter.
T. R.

Mr. Ursani, Butwden-Parva, $\begin{gathered}\text { March } 8 .\end{gathered}$

 FHE following letter cannot but be 1. acceptable to your readers. Sir EJivard Fellew is a public character that muft be admitted; in his action witb the Cleopatra, and many others, he has flewn himfelf a very brave san, and, in his late exerions to fave the wretched foldiers and crew fiom the Dutton tranfont, he has proved that he is not lefs bancvolent than brave. This letter is a pro f that his moft priv:te actions are alfo atcompanied with, and fiow from, a moft friendly and hamane difpelition; is evas written to a carpenter in my parifmabout two yuars age. The yoor man had received a letter as from a fon he had long fuppofed to be dead; it was dated from on-board the Nymph immediately after the engagoment with the Cleopatra. The capt.ins wo k the trouble himfelf to antiver a let:r fant by the father to his fuppofed fon. The following is that anflust, and is therefore fuppofed to be addrufied so no higher a chamater that the $f$ ther of a commonfeaman. Havinz no acquainzance with thas bave eflicer, ilnave no end in publifhing this letter, but the gleafure of boaring a inall betiomony to the merit of a great and wo thy man.

Tho. Reynole
P. S. The men his never fin heard either of or from bis fon.
"Sir, I received in due time the fave you did me the honour to direct to : care, fince winch I have employed evo perfon in the thip to difcover your if but without any pofible trace of him. - j mut have rone by aunther name on c Books, for among tice killed and wouns there is no name like yours. It wor have given me much pleafure to have ft a chitl, you have folong loft, home to prents upon leave; and I was in hopes, the receipt of your letter, to have gli dened your heart with his prefence your Chriftmas ferival; being myfelf father, I can eafily conceive the emotic in your breaft on the recnvering a lor ioft buy; fach feclings do as much hone to nature, as to yourfelf who puffers the I am athamed to think that any pert could fort with your feelings on the 1 : occafion; yet it is hard to conceive, w your fon, if he is here: flould cona himfelf foom to tender a parent, whi folicitude alone fhould awaken him to co trition and affection. The neareft name yours we find to be John Everard; he prefent is at fick quarters at Fulnoui and was born at Gimmingham, in Ne folls. If at any time I thould be able learn any new circumftances, you nay ly upon my embracing fo great a pleafu as it muft afford me in communicating it you. I return you many thanks for yo vary kind good wifhes for myfelf and fhil company, aid hope we flalifo condr ourfelves as to continue the favourable of nion of our country. $1 \mathrm{am}, \mathrm{Sir}$,

Your moft obedient humble fervant, Edward Perieew Aletbufa, Port mimuth, Fan. 19, 1794."

Mr. Uraan,
Feb. 24.

IN p. 931, col. 2, of your laft voluin you might have referrel to that $f_{1}$ ${ }^{17722}$, p. 135, col. 2; as honourat mention was there made of Bifhe Ilorne's truly pious and learned fchood mafter at Maidfone; who, as well his amiable pupil, enjoyed the eftee and friendfhip of that ezcellent ma whofe characier is fo ably delineat in p. $47 \mathrm{x}, \mathrm{col} 2$, and p. 4 ? 7 , of yo volume for 1789 : to whole fon to gord bifhop thus expreffe. limfetf in inter, in April, 1790:
"I thank you heartily for your tis congratulations on my promotion to tl fte of Norwich; and have offen thoug on the pleafure with which your good f ther workd have reccived the news. F semory will eyer be mont dear wome fo i man had ever a larger portion of $m y$ ieem and refpect: and that the prefent ent would bave given bim joy is as pleaig a thought as that of the event itfelf."
The friend hip fubtting between the o Doctors, noticed in p. 932, col. 1, is a circumitanec highly grateful to de excellent perfun here alluded to; 10 never expreffed more fatisfasion an when they met, as they did more an once, under his hofpitable roof. fthing was fo adverfe to his liberal irit as the difance too frequenily pr between men, who, if acquaintmight prove a bitefing to cash her, as purfuing the tame ends of arning and relicion, though by difrent ways. Nowhing was fo truly rdial to him as the light of two opments niectivg together as fiends. he exemplary friendfhip of thefe two binent men is jaftly celebrated by an He advocite of both in p. 23, 24, of ur prefent volume; where a correondent in $\mathrm{p} . \mathrm{g}^{8} 4$ of your laft is pro. Irly corredt-! for his mifreprefentaon or confufed fatement of " your cital of Mr. Jones's Memoirs" of e good Bimop, relative on fuci iendin:p. He is eoually confufed as the author of the " anonvmous mphlet," which he "aveis tn conadifion," as be fay", "of you reci1," was tot :written by Dr. Heathocte. either Mr. Jones nor your recial ention that it was. The "Apolo"contaned an antwer to " anolher mphler lately publifinced by the dev. Ir. Heathcote," as well as to " a late ionymous pamphlet."
Tivo muly humburable anecdotes of 1r. Kennicot: are recorded in p. 289 your vo ume for 1789 ; one of which farther illuitraced in p. 5 ro, col. 2 , that for the year foliowing.

> ACPDEMICUS.

Mr. UREan,  Marcb=r.

$\Gamma$We year of Addifon's berth is mifpented in col. 2, of p. 6; as e was barn on May 1, 1672 .
When Anacharlis, poroo, can prove is prerogative to conler the tuite of Sop on the author of "S'ate Worares," fuch title wil be no langet ontroverted. Lur can he productany athority, except his mere Ip'e dixit, ir attributing that wo:k to Whiam loyd, Biftop of Worcelter? He will xcufe me for retorning his own words: without the fhadow of an authority a fupport of" his apprekonfivas "he obtrudes them as dogmatically" as if he had been his lordflip's fecretay. He is defired to produce his "darning proofs to conirnnt" poor Antony Wrood's* "gmund'efs aflettinns"witht refpeet to James Howell: otherwife warm I.nguage will be Vox et preterea nibil. But there is need of caution in difputing with a man whothreatens his antagonifts with opening fuch batteries as would eficetually filence them all; fo that I hall leave your Reviewer to crack the malnuts with him. As to Tyrtæus, about whom there is fo much vapouring, the elegy referred to may be found in $\mathrm{p} . \mathrm{K}_{225}$ of your volunie for 5787 ; which was moft af furedly not trand,ted by the Buhop of Fernes: butit is lof labour to attermpt to fot that man $r$ ght who difdains the imputation of eror ; and whom, floan' iperfucteris, nurguan perjasdetis.

P ith, col. :. Fiom Sevard's va1ua de "Aneciotus of ditioguifaed Peifuns." lately publimed, it appeara in vol. II, under the article of a? ? ince of Conde," that Eord Chefteriate's we:ght areument for the aubenticity of tie Scriptutes was equally convincing to the Prince, who replid to ane of his fecpical aff cires: "The dafperlinn of :he jews with dways be an undmiande prof to me of the inot, of nur biny rilimon" Tiser "lone urferted dipation," and the curaquence of tio "dread inneccith.n" rurorded by Sr. Matthew, are Gech illuftrated in p. 5 S! $, c \rightarrow 1,2$, it youl vern 1ane !or sora, by the tan Atchitacon o: Fichowond; ractic-s of whem are roferred to in P il:'s.c.l. 2 , of vour Supplanent lor 1792 Lu1793 inis manc'r "Difurale on he Evangelicil Hittory" was pablitisd from his finified monulcrapt, wath a iaren "Accome of the Aution" Frotued; whow har hatherro cic: wh youtter. tion. the.gh lise waino द ef yous vicifional cort peradense:ace of ag to the minuctive and pleating " Ǎcmuat."

1. 119. Dr. Thomas Swatin, from whofe cuitus volume tor $=$ chane pailyses are here cxtaciod, occurs among the Oxford write: in that Aort-houte of ibgelligence, A. Wond's "Ahenz Oxón." vo'. $11,450,60$; where a hift of his molks is extubuted. He dited on Feb. 9. . 605 70, reftor of Arlhatlows Churchin Stamtord n Lincorifhat: where he was buried the next day in the Chancel. His patrons were Archbifhop Laud, Archbifhop Juxon, and Lord Chancellor Clarendon.

* See the true character of A. Woud 1 a p. 428 of your velame tor 1792 .

Scrufator.
Vol. LXV. p. 988, col. 2, 1. 6, read " Lillington."
P. 1032, col. 1, 1. 20, read "Fofter."
P., 1054, col. 1, 1.60, read " Walter."
Vol. LXVI, p. ior, col. 2, 1. 30, read "Edgcor;" and I. penult. erafe the laft werd; and the whole of I. u't.; and "did the fame" in p. roz, I. I.

Mr. Urban,

Feb. 24.

INTENSE and uncomfortable as the winter of $1794-5$ was (and I fincerely hope we fhall not foon experience fuch another), ir muft be allowed that the inhabitants of England have but little reafon to complain, when we remember that the Ruffians, Germans, and Americans, feldom have a milder, and how often they fuffer much more dreadful cold during winter, which not only benumbs their faculties, but deprives them in many inftances of all employment. Les our prefent weather be compared with what mon probsbly the Ruffians and the Northern Sates of America are now enduring from cold; and what Enylifman bet will feel himfelf happy in the comparifon! An idea of a Pungylvanian winter may be formed from the following account of a ride of 37 miles in the year $\mathbf{7} 7 \mathrm{O}$.

A: fix o'clock in the morning of the If of J nualy, four ladies, one gentleman, and myfelf, in two phatons (that which I was in was drieen by a Negro man, the other by the gentleman), left Philadelphia for P sts town, 37 miles from the former. The morning was fach, that all the powers of Nature feemed froztn; the wind was huhted, "the rack flocd fill," each blade of grafs was crifped, every effort of vegetation was fuppended, and the eartil prefented a furface folid as a rock; in few words, the thermometer was many degrees below o. There was every lymptom of an apporaching fnow-tionm. As we pafied MarketAtreet, our atiention to vurfelves was withdrawn by a crea.endous fire; it was the hnuts occupied by the French minther in fatmes. About 11 o'clock it began to mow, but not fo as to be very difagrecable. At two we reached the irn at which we were to dine, lialf our jouns y done; where the warmith of an enormous fire fo exhilarated t 'pirits of the company, that, in de ance of the admonitions of the prude part of the fet, a handfome dinner $u$ ordered to be fet down ; which not eaten and paid for till half $p$ four. By this time the fnow fell thic the wind was high, and the cold int lerable. Every expedient was adopı to make us as comfortable as poffibl a large ftone, heated and wrapped woollen cloths, laid at our feet, w much depended on as a fovereign an dote to the cold; but, alas! it w made too hot, it burns through its 1 vering, and we fent ir hiffing throu the frow to the road. With me difficulty we arrived at Perkiomi creek, 22 miles from Philadelphia. fteam about the fize of the ri Trenr. Its rapidity prevenes irs bei firmly frozen in all patts. Where 1 road croffes it, as there was no brid the ice had been broken fo as to adi a carriage to ford it. Here our misfi tunes began. It was nearly nigl and, the wind and fnow increafing, was fettled that we frould walk acr the creek, while the carriages fhou'd got over as well as circumftan would admit. Our driver fucceede not fo the other; the horfes terrifi and chilled to the heart, refufed take to the water without violen which made them fo torally ungove able that they fariy difengayed the felves, and left the phatoton and dri in she utmoft danger amongft the ii the harnefs was nearly torn to pier Our horfes were obliged to drag, the carriage; which was not effee without difficuity and danger. For nately, however, we at laft reached inn on the bank. Our driver nearly exhaufted by fucgue, and $f$ zen filff wish his werting. Unluck the lady, whofe fervant he was, $g$ him full permilion to make him comfurtable while the traces of carstage were repaired. And he had 1 pttience and ability, might I laige on the folly of relying only our own judgenent, contrary to $r$ ture experience, good advice, the e dence of our fenfes, and the viole of a fnow-itorm at night I Yet, fi happened, the lady whofe carriage wete in zoould proceed; it wat only miles farther; the couid not anfiwe her father for fleeping on the road a journey of 37 miles: therefore, in fiance of the elements in arms, fo two feet deep, a road but little frequented, fometimes mounted on precipices, and at others dragging down rocks, did we afcend the carriage, like other Phaetons, to explore unknown paths befet with dangers.

Our fpirits were not in the moft exalted flate; but we relied on our driver's knowledge of the road, which he could not fee, and on the weather amending, of which there was net the leaft probability. But, that fome comfort may be derived from every finsation, ou-dependence on thote plaufibilities are a proof. Behold us, w: Jadies and mylelf, p!unged into a fcene of troubles, not ofien, I beheve, exceeded, the partes to ticape with life. Now did winter exhauti all is vengeance: all the forious effors of the relentef North, at the accumulated blafts concentered, thicke: ed with rinfis of fonw, iermed revelled at us alineno partners in diferef - we had braved the form, and nonv did we frel its rage. Thadd to our dilmay, the wind was ful. in our faces. "Fo: Heaven's fake, Ben, bake care! How you drive! Do net go fo fatt."-" Why, Ben, do you tho?-Pen!-He does not anfwer -Bot: - Mency deliver us, he is in liquor!'" ind fo indeed he was. How powe ful is corrithon ! how fieice dors Danger lork on us when we condeicend to fear ier! Winter-a from-night-hon on whom we depended incoxica.ed-what a climax! Prodence relumed her feat, bist her power had ficd with Hope. He:e agoin is room for reflexion. Here, in a tolitary road, witu no wintlites but his victims, were the great actoms of the heroes of antiquity aped At cac inftant, behold the Rowian plunging into the gulph; at another, fee a Fabius, cautious and circumpert in the extreme; by a performe, in his own opinion, greater thin them all. As it was impoltible to recedr, we had oniy to pray we mighs eicape. We went at full fpeed; -nd, at one dreadful moment, we found vurfelves on the ex. treme edge of a baok, near which the road palied, which we have hince found to be 30 feet in height. How we efcaped, I know not. A light ioon after darted through the leaftefs branches, and cfferdeto us an afylum. Would any one believe in! The lady refolved (and, as we were not unners of the carniage, could not elfociually erpufe her) to proseed: when (ntver fhall I forget it!) the rays grew faint. All hope feemed to expire with them; and that one candle excited more emotion than $I$ ever experienced before or fince. Our dangers increafed with evervftep; till, at two miles from the houfe where "e had feen the light, our troubles to all appearance ceafed ; for, in a conter we drove up a bank, and in an inffam were overturned. Fortunately the horfes ft-pped; had they nor, that moment would have been our laft: entangled in the apron, we nuft have been torn to-pieces. It was fomewhat fingular, we each received a contufin on our foreheads, but no other injary. Before we could difen. gage ourfelves, the fnow almoft ftifled us, and our limbs were nearly ufele is from the cold. The fright feemed to have in fome meafure fobered the man, who urgid our immediate departure in fearcli of the houfe we had patied, while h: flaid by the horfes till he had alifitance. As the lady whofe imprudence had occafioned all our dilafters was young and ftrong, it was fettled the hou'd proced; and I was to proter the lady that could not walk fo well. View us now, wandering we knew not where; for, the fow flew in fuch clouds that not five fteps round us were vifible; our cloihes torn and driven before us, the wind howling through a thick wond on each fide, and a bed of ice under our feet, frome whec!s we could not extricate them. Many fevere falls we had; and, fo overcome with terror and cold, that it was wonderful we did not lie and fleep our lait. After impediments beyond beliet, we aga.n beheld the light; but at that inflant I van hed; and no wonder, for I walked into a cellar nine feet deep. It was too fuli of fnow to dread a hurt from the fali; but my attempts to emerge were vain, it was perpendicular on the fides. As foon as 1 could explain my fituation to the lady with me, who, blinded as we were, could farcely imgine what had become of me, I heard voices, whom we found were coming to our relief. I was to n releafed, and at lait reached the houfe, where to our fucprize we found our imprudent friend in a fainting fit, with the cumion of the phacton at her feer, and the famly employed in alding her recoves. They tuld us the had vounced at the don, which fhe raked int", exclaining, "On! the lady and gentleman!" and immediately fainted. The good people, terrified at a well-dreffed perfon leaded with a long eloth cloak, and a cufaion on ter arms, hardly knew what to think, but dire 0 ly difpatched foveral men to explore the road. Mifs P. could give no account why the had felesed the culaion to encumber herfelf, but by suppoling it was impretied upon hea mind the flould fave fomething, and that that firf prefented iffelf to her grap. We werc treared whih the utmoof kindrees by the worthy Kennedys, at whofe houfe we wate compelled to semain three days and nights, dusing the mote dreadful frow-form ener remembered, which drifted in fuch piles, that in fome places it food hite eremendous precipices, overhanging the evalls of houfes; ftacts were coverod, and in many cafes the abads xocre not difeernible at all. The chird day our mar was difpatched for affifance, whic: he ohtained, though with the lofs of three of his fingers finzen to as to be eaken off. A large party of gentlemen collected their temants and forvarte, which, with a troop of dragnons, whofe officers offerer their afifance, backe che ioad, extricated us after perils cremerdous, and relamied our amous friends, who prod atty remaince behind; and we hiumplianty entered Potts town after four days journexing 37 miles.

206 Interral Evidence of the Age of God fave the King. [Mar,

1. P. Malcclik.

Mr. Urben,

Alarchs.

Fyour leveral accomes fave great Genrge our King," and from another particular, I have nealy made up my mind, as is the fafmimabie phrafe, concrining the origin and progrefs of this defervedly-spplaudod, becaute truly loval and confitutional, fong; and, hould you be of opinion that iny comment will afiond fatistacnon and amalement to your readers, If is for that purpofe at your forvice. The remarks I have to fultmat to their notise will nu: be conlined to the tha ditonal oral evidence that has been fiatod; they will father extend conhe intemal eridence that may be deduch from the woids; a circumfance that thas not, as far as l know, been duly artended to; and $y \in$ it ought to have its weight in decoding this long agitated controverfy.

Verax (vol. LXV. p. 907) has inSomed us, on the authonty of Di. Camplet, that the tune was by Pur.
cel, and fune at the coronation of King James the Second; but, according to E. T'. (vol. LXVI. p. 118), Anthony Jones, a contemporary of Purcel, has the credit of being the compofer. With regard to the zera of this tune, it is not material to enquire to which of thefe two eminent muficians ir ought to be attributed; but, as there is the concurrent averment of Dr. Cooke, that Fames our King were words in ahe fong, it will hardly admit of a doubt that it had a more early origin than one of your correfondents, who affigns ir to Carey, ( $\mathrm{p}, \mathrm{g92}$ ) is inclinced to belicve 类. But, though the tune might have been ufed at the crronation of James, it will not follow that the words of the prefent fung were likevife efed on that oecafion; and fucha notion is open to a difficulty that will not be eafily remosed. Scaller bis cnemies- make bin viciontious, are phaties that certainly would not have been in time, when the king had not any cnemies, foreign or domeftic; nor would they have been in unifon with the fermon preached at Weftninfter-abisey by Eifop Turner. The prelate's teat was I Chron, xxix. ver. 23 ; his fubjen, a perallel in a va ricty of inqances tetwein kings Solomon and Junes at the times of their rupedive coronations; and, at p. 26 , it was onferved thet "his Majefty's teacoful cetrance upon his government was a fufficent, real, liappy proof of an ofruient people."

Đу A. NI. 'T. (v.1. LKV. p. 907) we are rold it was uled an Chapel Royal " as a kind of antber, in wnich, from the finaplicsiy of the air, mont people couid have rendily jnined." And this, to be fore, might hive happened either during the nif-concerted infurrecition of the Duke of Niommouth, or previouly to the fuccersfui and glorious revolution unter the aufpices of the Prince of Urange; noram 1 aware of any other objection that can be offercel to two of the llanzas having been fo ufed, than that anthems in the King's Chapel have feldom been of the melical kind; and that, wherever these is chorefervice, it is not experted

* Carey re-pubbifhed, in 1740 , all the fongs he had ever compored, 1 in a collece tion, int:tuled "The Muficid Century, in two Eughth B.llads, &c." (Biographical Dectunary); and, it is very improbable tha! he thout, had he teen the anthor, have onitited a fong, which, as Dr. Camphell oberverg wa fopleating to ftauich Whigs.

3796.] Internal Evidecrase of the Age of God fave the King.

petted or wifhed that the congregation fhould join in the anthem. Upou this fuppofition, however, the fiff and fecond ftanzas only of the prefont fong muft be meant, there being forme lincs in the third flanza that wuit have giten offence to fancs and his contidential council. Would not the words " may he defend our laws, and ever give us caufe," &c. have heen deemed libellous, when uttered before a king, whofe endeayour was to fuperlede the laws, and to fubvert the contritia ion? Concerning the firt addrets pietented by the c'ergy of the City of Eronden, on the accetfion of this manarch, it is related, that their adding the words, "religion enablifled by law deater to us than our lices," bad sn infonuation in it' that renderen it unacorpt bie at court; and that it was remempered to the difadvantage of others, w'ol, fo:lowing the pittern adopted an their a! dreffes fo menaciag a furm. (Bubop Burnet's Hifory of his own Tines, vol. I. p. 620)

A kind of an'íe $\begin{gathered}\text { being an expror- }\end{gathered}$ fion fomewhat equivocal, I fuggefted a doubt, wheiner is an anthem it mighe be really performed in St. Jimes's Chapel; though poffrbly there miaht be a deviation from the w $n \in d$ practice of a chnir at futh an alumong crifis; and it is realonable to foppofe, that the adherents to the infatured monarch might lilkewife endeazour ro sirculate this fericus fong among the common people, in arder to counterat the effects of the ballads fung by the oppofite partv. The eclat and the prevalency of Lillibutero is a ciccumAance noticed by molt of the concemporary hiftorians.

After the abdication of Jimes, and during the reigns of Vifhom and Mary, and of Williamatme, it is obFious that this fory mut have been on abeyance; but, with mutatis mutand:s, t might have been reviged in the dats bf Queen Anus (perhaps with an adfunct for a reaten 1 ibatl !refontly mention): and it was witi, begreatelt propriety corrinued in the rejgos of Jeurge the Fint and Second, palatufarly in the years 1715 and $1, $ .5$. It s not mentioned to what year M:. Jinth, at the requth of Corey, compofed a new bats, but it was in 1785 hat it was firff fung in parts ai Diuryane theatre.
Wi:h a little atten:ien to the words, swill be found uat orgimaily it dad not conlift of more than two fanzzo. In the firft tanza, and five verfes of the fecond, a payer is ofered far tise king alone; and the two remaring lanes, " on thee our hopes arefixed-. G d fave us all," imply that, after pavine for the people as well as the king, this was the conclufion.

The third Itanza appeais to me to rave been added by a perfon whofe political rencts differed from thote of the primary bard. In it there is a trait of genuine Whiggifin not perceivable in the former fanzas, though in anne of compnfition it is of inferior merit. - The lines,
"May he defend our laws,
"Ancí ever give us came,
${ }^{6 s}$ To fr g widn heart and yoice,"
are very profac and inharmonioues ryoice rhymes ill whth lazus und cauf, and reasiz and kiwg camor by any mode of proauncation the brougheso shyme at ath. In is fron this ctroumAhace I was ted to fulped, as atore incimared, that this janza might have been iniotured when Queen Aanz was the burden of the fing, rign and Gase not buing ounte difonant; anc compecture being apt to foriog from conjecture, I wh hazard anoher formite, thar, as there is a material difo ference in the comfuration of the ex nonzen, the Crlt and fecond might have been deli crate!y written ar a defle, and the thind have been anextempore effufion at a convivial metring; and why no: of Curey, who, it in:a exudence. took fome pans to have tis meody corretited?

A next and fognticert mativ of the forg was therifore, is I have teea toll. chowfed with high glee at 0xford. Sheild jou be able to procure a aypy of it, the perufal, as a curio. fity, would, $I$ batione, be plealiag ti) not a few of your readers; and am perfuaded there is not a contant ventor and admirer of ML. Uchan's Mhlcelany, who will not cordialiy joia in the with, that the fong, wenout or parndy, or chan ef perfion named, miy be to many, many y arsencocd. God ave the King ! W. ※D.

Mr. Urean,  Marcbo.

ON reading, in your Mayszine, the Latin limmation of :God fave the $\mathcal{K}$ ug," $i$ concerved that dirte was a detriency in the metre, be aule the fecond divition of the fume lla: za ints only thrae hase; and would, therefore, with due fubmifion to the gentleman who favoured us with thofe verfes, piopofe it hould fand thus:

> Præbe coulicolens,
> Deus omnipotens,
> Atque omnifciens, > Auxilia.

I wifh it were in my power to comply with the requelt of your correfpondent Marcus, P. 102, for the entertainment of his fons; but, in plate of the fong be mentions, I fend another, frequently chanted in full cholus by an affemolage of joyful voices on the fame happy occafion:

> Omne benè

Sine panâ
Tempus eft lodendi.
Venit hora
Abfque morá
Libros deponendi;
which, fhould the young gentlemen, or their playmates, choofe in an Engliß drefs, their defire fhall be accomplithed:

All's well, my brave boys,
Come let 's make a noife,
For we fhall be beaten no more;
The vacation is come,
We will now return home,
And fling all our books on the floor,
My brave boys, &c.
Having endeavoured to gratify the curiofity of others, I thould be particuJarly obliged by an explanation of the term "globes of compreffion;" a name appropriated to fome deffructive implement of war, whofe confiruction nei. ther the Cyclopadia, nor any other Dictionary of Arrs and Sciences, hath ennabled me to difcover.

Yours, &zc. Panegnophilon.

Mr. Urban,

Marcb 10.

THE letter in your laft, p. 102 , figned Marcus, has juft been Thewn to me. An old coriefpundent (fuch he may jufily ftyle himfelf; for, lie believes, is is upwards of fix-andforty years fince he was delighted to fte a fchoolboy production of his in your Mifcellany) is happy that he is able to gratify Marcus and his boys with a copy of the foag they wifh to fee. He adds to it an imiration in Englifh, compofed feveral years ago, to be fung in chorus at a pub:ic concert by the fcholars of a country-fchool the week befure the Whitfun holidays. The air to the "Dulce Dornum" was compofed by Join Reading, in the reign of Charles II.

The original tune to "God fare the King" (the tune, at laft, which evidently furnifhed the fubject of it) is to the found in a book of Harpfichord. Leffons by Henry Purcell, publifhed by his widoev after his death. It is in four parts; Carey could, therefore, have no eccafion to requeft the addition of a bafs, had he himfelf been unequal to the compofing one: but his Ballads and Cantatas prove that this was not the cale. Sir John Hawkins informs us: that he had been a difciple of Geminiani, and fipeaks flightly of his mufica learning, confidering the advantages hi had had. He acknowledg ss, however. that he was enough informed to be able to fet a bafs te a Caritata. Who know: not Henry Carey's arch London Pafto. ral, "Sally in our Alley," at its firf appearance fo much the delight of $\mathbf{M r}$ Addifon?
"Concinamus, O fodales 1
Eja! quid filemus? Nobile canticum!
Dulce melos, domum! Dulce domum, refonemus!

Chorus.

Domum, domum, dulce domum!
Domum, domum, dulce domum!
Dulce, dulce, dulce domum 1
Dulce domum, refonemus !
" Appropinquat ecce! felix Hora gaudiorum, Foft grave tedium Advenit omnium Meta petita laborum.
Donum, domum, sc.
" Mufa! libros mitte, feffas Mitte penfa dura,
Mitte negotium,
Jam datur otium, Me mea mittito cura!
Domum, domum, &c.
"Ridet anuus, prata rident, Nofque rideamus, Jam repetit domum, Daulias advena: Nofque domum repetamus, Domum, donum, &c.
" Heus! Rogere, fer caballos; Eja, nunc eamus, Limen amabile; Matris et ofcula, Suaviter et repetamus.
Donum, domum, &c.
"Concinamus ad Penates, Voxet audiatur;
Phofphore! quid jubar, Segnius emicans, Gaudia noftra moratur.
Domum, domum, &c."

Imitated in Englifh, fo as to be fung to the fame air.
Let us all, my blythe companions,
Join in mirthful, mirthful glee!
Pleafant our rubject!
Sweet, oh! fweet our objed!
Home, fweet home, we foon fhall fee. . Chorus.
Home, the fent of joy and pleafure, Home, fweet home, infinges our lay!
Welcome, freedom! Welcome, leifure!
Every care be far away 1
Now the fwallow, bird of fummer,
Seeks agam her long-left home;

> See her neft picpaning!

We, my boys, th.tl thare in
The dear delights of home, fweet home! Home, the feat, &ic.

- Swift as thought, ye generous courfers, Bear us to the win's-for ead!

To the fond careffes,
The tender embraces,
Of each lov'd and lowing friend. Home, the feat, &c.

$$
\text { Yours, &c. } \quad \text { B. B. }
$$

Mr. Urban, Nequ-firent. Hanoverfquare, March 21.
A CORRESPONDENT having requefled a copy of the tavourite sompolition, which is fung previnus to the holidays at fome fchools, I have Pubjoined it, together with a tranfliion ; whish, if it is nut worthy of the rigina!, may ftimulate fome abler hand :o fivour us $w$ th a better. I thall be obliged, in my turn, if any of your zorrefpondents will inform me who was the author of that Ode, and whether it is fung at any otier great fchool hefides Winchelter.
J. R.
 We infert this gentleman's Tranfation; and are obliged to him, and to leveral other correfpondents (particularly E.I. H G. T. M. Veritas, and ※n. Nas.), for their whliging readinefs in favouring us with copits of the fong.

Sing a fiveet melodious menfure,
Waft enchanting lays around;
Home! a theme replete with pleafure!
Home! a grateful theme, refuand!
Chirrus.
Home, fweet home! an ample treafure ! Home! with ev'ry blemur crown'd!
Home! perpetual fource of pleature 1 Home! a not te itran, relound!
Lo! the joyful hour advances; Happy feafon of delght!
Eeftal fongs, an:l feital dances, All our tedions toil requice.
Gent. Mag. March, 17gl.

Leave, my weary'd Mufe, thy learning, Leave thy tafk, fo bard to bear;
Leave thy lahour, eafe returning, Leave my bofom, OI my care.
See the year, the meadow, fmiling ! Let us then a fmile difplay;
Rural fports, our pain beguiling, Rural partimes call away.
Now the fwallow feeks her dwelling, And no longer loves to roam;
Her example thus impelling, Let us feek our native home.
Let our men and fteeds affemble, Panting for the wide champaign:
Let the ground bereath ins tremble Whine we foour along the plain.
Oh! what raptures, ob! what blifes, When we gain the lovely gate I Mother's arms, and mother's kiffes, There our blef arrival wait.
Greet nur boufehold-gods with finging; Lend, O Lucifer, thy ray 3
Why fhould light, fo nowly fpringing, All our promis'd joys delay?

Mr. URean, Colefhil, Marcear,

IN compliance with your correfpondent Marcus's requeft, I herewith rend you an exact conpy of the Dulie Domum fong, as it is fung on the evening preceding the Whifun holidavs at St. Mary college, Winton; at which time the mafters, fcholars, and chorifters, attended by a band of mufick, walk in proceflion inund the courts of the college finging the aboue verfes ; and which, tradition lays, is in commemoration of a boy belongng to that fchool, who, for fome mifdemeanor, was confined to the colle;e during the holidays, which lay to beavy upon his mind, that, afier compofing the fe he is faid :o nave pined and died. Sea the Hiftory of Winchefler. T. M.

Mr. Urban, Witney, March. 22.

FOR the jelufal of Marcus, and has pupil', I have trankribef from a lare ingerious periodical publication the "Dulce Domum," with its hinory. Yours, &c. VE iras.
"The "Dulce Damum" was written, ab at 200 years fluce, by a Winchefter fcho'ar, detained at the usual time of breaking-up, and chanued to a tree or pillar, for his offence to the mafter, when the otlier foh 1 ins had lizerty to vifit thene refpective homes white the brakiug-up lafted. Whely confinel fenolar wa to affeeled with ques, hy being thens detained frombering lis den home, and for the hut

210

The famous Bewicks.-Swailows.-A rare Plant. [Mar:
of his liberty, that he was pafionately moved to "rite his diftrefsfil fentiments of anxie'y $\quad$ finding homfe'f deprised of the fightof is $f$ end like the reit of his fonool companons: that, calling to mind the lor, of all the b:loned objeets of his happinef, he 'ied broken-hented before his companions returned.
"In mamny of this unhappy incident, the fotwlars of W'inche fter felwol, or college, attended by the inafter, chaplains, organift, and chorifters, have an annual prucelion, and walk round the pillar or tree three imes, to wich their fellow collegian was cha ned, before the proceffion ends, finging all the t me."

Mr. URBan,

AT Linley's mufick-flop, No. 45, Holbourn, late Bland's, the forg and chorus of Du'ce Domum. with the originil mufick. Nie Latin words, and an Englifh wanfltion, are publifhed in a fingle fheer, $p$ ice is, with variations to the mufick by a Mr. T. FieldThere are fix verfes befides the chorus. I thonald be obliged to Marcus to in= form me, by whom the Litin verfes were written, and alfo by whom the original mutick w s comp: fed.

If Mircus delights in mufick, he may find the fame alr, veried b, S. C. Fif her, adaped for the piano-foste by young Mr. Cramer, in a single theet, price Is, at any of the mufick-hops, fet in a mafteriy and very pleafng manner.

Youls, & c. N.S.

Mr. Urban,

Feb. 10.

INyou Ohituan of laf year, p.1113, a nimake uccus, which pleate to correct. It was not Thomas Bewick, the engraver of quadrupeds, but John. The two brothets were unrivalled in the graptic alt on wood; and all lovers of elie arts muft regret the death of John, whodied Dic. 5, 1795. The wurks of this young arrift wall be held in efimation; and the engravings to somervile's Chace will be a monument of fame. of more celcbray than marble could beltow. Though we have nuch to regret for the dot: of to grood an atift, we have much to hope from the works of his fusviving brother, the consiaver of quadropeds, and who has been long empleyed in his Hiftory of Bircls. It is with regict that we muft obferve, that this work for the prefent mult be poltponed, to fulfil his brother's eneagements with Bulmer. It is unnecidary to dwell on the excellences of the piints in che Hiftorv of Quadrupeds. They will! b admirel whilit the arts are held $i$ eftimation.

Yours, &c.
Mr. URBan,
March 2,5.

IAM forry I cannot incorm yot Correfpondent, who figns himfe P. in page 115, how fivallows ri from their watery beds, having nev heard of their beine fien in the a\& but that they do take up their winte. quarters in ponds and lake. I ha not a doutt. Eally in the fpring, have frequent'y cbferved them by tl water-fide in a very languid ftat their feathers drooping and flaccid if they had juft emeiged. But, fetrit afide thefe circumftances, infiinct the ansmal tribe is generally unifor in her operations, and the fingle ci cumfance of one flight of fwallo having beetr actually feen to bu themfelves in the watcr is a frong argument that the whole fpecies a rorpid in the winter monhs than t moft plaufible conjectures ever form by wild theorifts the conerary. your Correfpondent had attended $\pi$ nutely to the fwift, he would ha obferved that it difappears fooner feveral weeks than any of the fwallo kind. The pafrage which be quol out of Jtremah siil. 7. is as ftrong favour of iminerfion as migratic as I apprehend the word "comin means nothing more than that che turt the crane, and the fwallow, obfer the time of their appearing.

Clericus Eboracensis.  A Naturalift in our next.
S. requefts an account of the Red-ftal neft, having never read yet any thing on thas fubject which might be depended.

Mr. URBan, Cambridge, Marcb:

IDOUET not but the followi comniunication will be well ceived by thofe who are engaged the pleafing and amufing fcience of $t$ tany: About the middle of laft mor 1 dilcovered the 7 befum Linopbyll. growing in a patture, called Drak Clofe, in the parifh of Oiley in $S_{1}$ foik, which, from the fatcity of 1 plant, and the Rill more extraordin: time of appearing, I have ventur to commit so the publick. Mr. R han, in his valuable Flora Caitabri enfis, mentions it growing on ' chalky prifures, and hearhs: and. 1 line of howering is in June and $A$ guf. Mr. Martyn, regius profeffor botany, has found it growing in great quanticies ar Derenham in Effer, in a field near the rhurch. B——s.

Mr. URbav,
March 3.

IH 4 VE oniy to obferve. in anfwer ti. the indecent fircala of Auartha $f_{1}$, that nether Mr. Polwhele nor Mr. Pye, as rranfators of Tyrzus, wit Thrmk foon a comparifon with the ve.fifier of 1762, whether he be the lithen of Fernes, or Dr. Clesver of Brat anote. Mr. Pue's and Mr. P lwh te' lave ..en accepted by all whe p obels the hati poctical talt ${ }^{\circ}$. a ewid utaflitons. The Ve fion of 1762 , is - moR contempt" ible paformance. As to the al ution wite whuh An charfis concludes his ill-natured letter, t is perieitly un. inte tiguble to your old Correfundent
F. K. S.
M.Urban, Marchiọ.

THE L. in verles, fent tu you by C. D and publ the 1 in curtat Mapaz.ne, p. 97, are thus nonced in the ifcond v .s ume of M1. Tuis's Chets, p. $25.7,: 789$.
"I f.te'y received from an anonymous Contefondat a leter contung. - Sone Latin velter from an ar erne poem dermed to Lac n, intu'd, Gamen in Pafoum, with a corjectural tatilnon, upon a fuppoti tion that beve relate to the game of Clie s.' As I c. not 1 ww his fupp min, 1 muit forbeang afertug t e verte. The chirious ieaver may find them in " catalecta Virgil. & atmum P' etanum Lum tum Vetenma l'owmat, cum Commenams Jofephii scahzeri $15: \% 1$ nod. B & Sv. entatled, M: Annee Lucani at Calpountum Pifonom Pavegyriam. Dacime e, lw or, in oure of his nates to foinva le's Hjacie de Saint Lou's, !ays that "Lkeanus in J'aner. ad Pifonem, a decr.t elegamana le joud.s Efeliec.." They are lkande mo siverina, and in $V$ crei's books, with all the argu. meats for and agamit the furporition, that the game there deforbed was Ctuels."

Mr. Urean,  March 12.

YTUU whil creatiy oblige me Dy perm mitt.ng i: etolay a calc belure your tumeious readers, as perbaps fome one anning them may have phofical Enowledge and g:odn:ls enougn io point out a temedy for it.
Some years back I anoke with a great and unefiad noile in the right lide of the: head, which alarmed me very mucir; but in a litule time it fubGded, then setuined, and went off as gain; and in ths manner it went and came rov teve years; but for the laft eqght years it bis become fixed, and niver, during that time, has ceafed one anm.

I was arlvifed to go to Balh , and to the fea; I bathed at both places. I have been blatacd, cupped, electrified; and, at length, indged it to be hard w. x. I med feveral thimgs to diffo ve it, rut wirlsuut $\in$ Kie O.
in he courto of the laft three years my heath has been io much altered for the better as to leive we no comP'a'st but this ; and, as the noife Wids retaluaily fpre d to the left fide, and in fome mealure altered, and I hive been fenfible at timios or four difrinet hinds of notes 10 my head at we fore moment, and as it has rendered me quit deaf on the right fode, 1 a:m now matmed to think it proceed from a weaknefs in that part, as when it firti came, I was under great anxict, which produced very hequent ind copious effufions of tears ; ad what teren ethens this sipiniun as, the any het in athe feems t.) rend my the a alunder; and, if I $h$-ppen to theke ir, if uppears to rung like glafs leru's The patient is a female, and ņel abil 60.
Y.uwilex ufe the length of this: but 1 theught a particular defeription neceflify that I might not maflead any zentieman who nught be kind enough to confider my cafa. A tine direded (1) Y. Z. at No. 83, Fleet-market w.ll be citeemed a gieat favour.

Mr. Urban,

March 13.

FN your laft Supplement, p. 1rog, is the collowing P ardaph, which, no rimubi, was copitd fiom lone newipaper:
"Lord Silney, and the re? of the gene $t^{\text {then }}$, f Chifleiurit, in K. at, have fubfulibed 10 :ol. for the purpere of erecting a wadmil, racipatly $f$ whe we and convenience of the lowe clafs of inlabitants of that village and wermbowrhood: $f_{0}$ this wheat they retarn them thei, own caricifition, zubich confifis of wheat barloy, ca , a graut deai of rye, burfe, ari:n, anp himey bean, … Ebc. ant, in general, fiom fon io jeven poonds deficiomt in evey bufled of rultat, inglesa of one fount, qubluch is the avinage of wajle in ons buflel for grinding and iofing. The mill is tolse fubpect to the contron of a committe ."

The firk and laft part of the above is very true. Lord Sidrey, whd his res lations there, with that benevolence which cha:acterizes every part of their conduct, have largely fubfrribed towards building a mill, in which two neighionur.ng farmers have thares. To thofe who know Lord Sidney's famil; it would be unneceffary to moke any obfervation on the part prored in Italics; to thofe who do no it muft be almof undeceffary, as fex vould belleve that perfins in thor fiution would build a mill in order tw rob the pion by taking a greater quannty of four than is raken by th- common ariller, efpecially fo much greater a quantity as is flated; but yei I cannot help wihing to expoie the anthor of luch a grois milrepeefertation. Of what trade he i , is manfent the crafs is in danget.. That a mixture of rye, of barley, or of oats, bis been reconmended, is very probahle; but, as to the beans and peas, it is as probable thet they are left to he miliers in ult. Every none knows now earneftiv thofe who have the $r$ al welfare of the people at lieart have endeavoured to provent the ca latnity arifing from a fcarcity o wheat; that they have in their ow families ufed a mixture, that the poo might not in any event be wholly: a lofs for wheat; that they have re commended to others to ufe the fam precaution; and I do not doub: the it has had a confiderable effee though too many treat it as an idl thing, or, which is fill worfe, endes vour to perfuade the paor that a mix ture of barley occafions d.feafes, , ev:n death. Every one knows ho difficult it has been to preval on mi Lers to grind barlev or oats to mi wish wheat four, and how much rt luefance the Londen bakers hav hewn to make bread with it whe moxed; and no one doubts that wh is fold as wheat flour, at the highe price, is mixed with fomething; furt ly then great tlanks are due to a of gendemen who have thus put it the fower of their net hiours of a rankst carry fo laudable a fchen into effect.

PRUCEEDINGS

H OF LORDS.

$$
\text { Nvember } 12 .
$$

Lerd $W_{\text {alf }}$.ganm brought up the report of the thill tor the better fecurity of his Majetiy's perfon. So me little alterati n bine propnied to be made, it was ayred to bring up the amendment on the third reauing, which would be on the moris.

In the Com non:, the fame dav, the Chancetior of the Exclegzur brought in the bi, to prew. fedit ous meings; and nued, thar it be rear the firlitune.
La, IW. Rajel thoulta the waut of preve is ant co on to :mportane a mo-leject it, and therefore propoled the previous quefion of arijournucent; when a lung cencesfaton took place. in the courfe of whach Mtr. Fite and Mr. Dardas epputed the arjouroment, and Mr. Robinjon, Mr Lambton, Mr. Curven, a d Mr. Cikiteg, fupportcd Nirr. Dateromine tiought that it wou'd he hethe imptope: ingeer, to think of difolifo the prampie of the bill prevous to the call of the Houte, which wat moved &ut the very purpofic of difcuffing it as lenteta; and he therefne whate to knuw prociely, if the Minifier had any fuch intention by bin ing forward the will at pu. fent.

IN PARLIAMENT.
Mi. Pitt faid, that it was his inte tica te bring fo ward the bill in eve flage wirt ali consemient d:fpath, u tl the hirm : atton, what he fhot not propere thll alter tice call of $t$ Houte, at whath peiod the prin ple might he fult ditcuffed.
w. Sheridun regalded the whi proceeding in the fame light in whi he confivered it on the former dibal and frongle condenned the precil tance "ith which the bill was pufh as tre Howt: wat the eby we ken bey $f$ prifo, and in paticuar his ught he trin Mir. Fox. who, nor expecti ary ditculiton on lici, an import: ful ject, had nut come cown.

Bir. it. Revit fon fullowed on $&$ fame tite.
Mr. Curwen profufied himelf tot. Iy inc cperient of an! party, and cal lefs where the reme of gneernme wer: placed; but looked with gre jealonty to every mealuy that affect the conflitution and liberey of the fu j- - Et; and notsing, in his epinic could do fo in a areater digree th $\mathrm{f}_{\mathrm{C}}$. warding any meafure fo latt that t Hourc could not colleat the opinion its conftituents uron it; and fuch wot be the effect of the prefent motion for reading the bill.

Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6.

Mr. Grey oppofed the geading of the bill, and recapitulated the arguments that he ufed when it was firft propofed.
Mr. Duncormbe thought that more time fhould be allowed before the bill was brought forward, in order that public fentiment might be confulted; and he reminded Mr. Pitt how tauch he was indebted to that fentiment for the fisuacion and power he poffeffed, and hoped that he would not kick the ladder from under him which enabled him to attain the eminence be food upon.
Mr. Wiberforce conceived that expedition was neceffary, and the refore 4approved of the bill being brought in.

General Tarleion was decidedly adverleso it.
Alderman $A$ derfon approved of it; and thought that no delay thould, beyond wiat was necetfar", take place.
The Houie at ength divided on the quefion of adjournment; when there appeared, againft it 145 , for it 32 .
The motion was then put and carried for the firlt reading; when the Chancellor of the Exchequer moved, "tha, it be read a fecond time;" on which, after a few obfervations from Mr. Sheridan and Mr. Fox, the Hour. divided again; when there appeared, for the feeond reading 133, againh it 21 .
The Chancellor of the Exchequer then moved, "that it he reass a ie:ond time on Tuefday nex-;" when aunther divifion took place; for it $\mathbf{1 2 9}$, agannt it 23.

H. Of Lords. November 13.

On the third reading if the bill for the heter fecuring his Mijoffy's perfon;
E. of Lauder daie offered a claufe, by way of ridor, to the bill. It was for the purpole of exc-nting the provifions to Scor-and. He faw no good reafon why they fhould not: the lame provifions wiwich were fufficient to keep Englifhmen quiet, wald be fufficient for Scotchmen if ledrtion did exilt in this coun:ry, there was no pretence for fuying that the people of Siotiand were not perfealy quiet; and, thecefore, thiere would not need greater leverity to be uled towards tham than towards the Southern part. of tha king dom.
Earl Mansfield cbfervel, is would not be proper to trefgafs long upon their Lordhips time, as very Jittle, in his opinion, would be neceffary to induce their Lordfhips to reject the clanfe. The Noble Lord had urged a very curiou: reafon why the provifions of the bill fhould be extended to Scot and; namely, becaule that country was in a ftate of perfect tranquilliy, and therefore, it was prefumed, perfectly well fatisfied with their exifing laws.

Earl of Lauderdale again repcated the propriety of extending rhe law to Scotland, and infilled. that the criminal code, as far as related to the treafon laws, fhould be fo extended It was equally right to alter the enablifhed law of Scutland as the law of this cour: F .
Ex.t Mansfeld was of opinion, that the true meaning of the Noble Lord's argument was this, to bring back the fubject upon which their Lordhips had fome time back decided, and to inouce their Lordaips to come into his opinion. consrary to the decifion they then gave. Some perluns, by the charms of their eloquence, could throw novelty upon a fubject though often dilcuffed; but fuch cinquence was the lot of the happy few. The laws of Scotland, his Lordfhip. faid, had already provided akaintt the inifchief we intended to rewedy. The Stditio Regni was what, with us, wou'd fall under the d=fictiption of a miluemeanor, as our law now thood.

Lord Hawkefory faid, the Noble Lo:d had ant clpated what he flould have remaked, that the peace and .ranquithty of Scutiand was a fingular reafon for the tuncuating thir laws. In regard to the judgements which had been alluded to, he touk his opinion of what was the lay fiom the upiaion delivered by the judges. At all events, he was giad ro find that the Noble Lord acknowiedgea there was an chabilibed law in oase part of the :nand, which was fo mucin feverer than the one now propofed.
E. of Lauder edale, with great warmth', denied that he acknowiedged fuch to be the ellabiilfed law of Scolland: he never haard it broached and 'eelared to be the effabl hed law, until he heard it upo: the late trials.
Earl of Hopecoun fpoke Gortly; he thonght, it thete laws had not been in exiftence, the people of Seotiand would not now hare been fo yery quiet.
The claufe was rejeeted without a divifion.

214 Parliamentary Proccedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6.

The queftion was then put on the third reading of the bill, which was again oppofed by the Duke of Bedford are Earl of Lauderiale.

The fpeakers in favour of the bill were, the I.ord Cbancelior, Earl of Hoperown, Lords Grenville and Hawklbury, and che Bifhup of Racbefer.

A divifion tick place on the third reading of the bill: when there appearerf, contente 4 i, proxiss 25 : non-cowNerte g, moxies 2.
the bill was then read the third time, and orsered to the cuminons.

In the $C$ mmons, the fame dav, the Fhofe bengin a Committe on the bill for rreventing the ufe of wheat or other gran in diltilleriss;

Mr. Huficy wifled the prohibition extended to treacre, wheh, he bid, was a common artic e of food with the poor, and whill, fince no:ice was giten of the preient bit, had silen, from 28 s. to cos in price, fo that the poor would pay ita pence a pound, inftede of twopence iatipenay.

Mr. Role fald, that, after enquiry, Le hed not been able to leam that the poon did ufe this arricle in any great quantity, and, by totail; fopping dit. titheries, the revenue would fuffer much more than the benelis produced. It would likewife he injusous to the fpirit of conmercial enterprize. Titacte lizd at all ame been ufed by diftilles, and on that ac unt large importatons of that article had hern made by them from the colonie, and it thertfore became an o ject of ecnfadiation, wherher, it we promibit the ufe of it in difthling, it wo l ot diminith the impurtaton fo as to taife the pric. even beyond what it is at pletens. If, howeres, on furcher enquiry it inculd appear expelient to incurde it in the protibition, that dep m. git he taken in a future ltage, or by a teperate bill. The biil then wert through the Commitue, and was ordered to b: "epated.
Mr. Een: gave norice, that he Mould take an ex lo opportunity of moving for leave to bing in a Lit to expeotite the dehvery f writs of election to the rezusning officer.

Novimber i6.

A Meffage wav brought down from the Lords, fignifying that their Luolfhips had palfud the bill for tie better fecerny his Misenty's perfon and go-- chament.

Mr. Rydir brought up the report the Committe appointed to enquite i to the prefent farcity of grain; whi was read; and from which it appear generally to be the opinion of the Cor mitree. that a free irportation of co fhould be opened; and that, to enco rage the importation, a boun'y hou'd granted; and that, a the harve though on the average of differt giains it "1a sundant, was unufua unptoduflies of wheat, fome other: tickes fhoula be fubftiruted in place of for making of bread for general cc fumption.

On the conclufion of this report the SereEt Committce, Mr. Ryder n ved, that the order of the dav on fcarcity of corn le poflponed till W. nefday. Agreed.

A motion was made, that the bill:t reccived from the Lords be read fif time.

Mr. Shiridan rofe to oppofe ir; was nor much. he fand, in the habit f arguing any bill on the firt readit; but the bill in quen was of fuch a objectionable nature, that he would pole it in every flage

The Cbancellor of the Exchest faid, that the Right Hon. Gentien had bern in the labit of argoings in ano her place already, it alguinit could be called; he would peifift orly in his monon for the firft rear of it, but would ticue for the fet reading of it on Thurfiay $n-x t$, d that in the mean time a certain nun $r$ of copies of it thould be grinied for ule of the memb-is.

The gallery was then ord red $t$ ge cleared, for the purpolie of pulig the quelli. $n$; when a very warm bate is Caid to have trkeo piace; of on the divifion, there were, for the it reading 170, ayamit it 26.

When tle gallery was opencd be Speaker was ceacing the li.1.; er which the Chance:lor' of the Exete or moved " that it be read a focone til " on which the gallery was again cle d. A divibentruk place; ano there 1 ee, forthe fecond reading 5 I , apainf $\mathrm{s}^{\circ}$ The locond reading was fixeufor Tifday.

On the gallery being opened, Ir. Sti. inta was on his legs on the fuget of his promifed motion relative ${ }^{2}$ Conmittee, to mvelligate wheher ere was a futicient caute for the intresetion of the two bils now in quet $\mathrm{m}_{\text {; }}$; ani, after a thort fpecch, conclud by

Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in $1795 \cdot 6$. 215

moring, "that a Committee be appointed to examine into the extent and danger of the country, and the reafons for the proclamation of the $4^{\text {th }}$ of November,", \&c.
Several members afterwards delivered their fentinenes; when there appeared, for Mr. Sheridan's motion 22, againft is 167.

> H. OF Lords. November 17.

The Houfe met purfuant to adjournment, and received three bills, viz. the land and malt tax bills, alfo the bill to prevent the exportation, and to encousrage the importation, of corn and grain for a time to be limited, which were read a firf time.

In the Commons, the fame day, fe. veral petitions were pefented, that meafures might be adopted for preventing feditious alfemblies, which were read, and ordered to lie on the table.

The Solicitor Gentral then moved, that the bill relative to feditious mettings be read a fecond time; obierving, that it bod already undergonc fuct ample difcuffion as to make it unnecerfary for him to intrude long upon the patience of the Houfe. He next flated the object of the bill, by which it would be enacted, that when mectings fur any political purpofes were to he held, the direct purpofes were to be fet forth in 2 requificion to the Magifrate, who was to attend; and if he conceived the object of the nieeting to be different from the pretext, he was autioriz:d to difperfe ir. He then detended tine bill by the authorite and precedents of the att of, Charks the Second; and obferved, that it was no: only the feecches delivered, but the writings now diffeminated at feditious meetings, that made them dangerous.

Mr. Erkkine followed the Solicitor General in a very eloquent fpeech, which he concluded by a learned animated defence of the perfons acquitted at the late tials, whofe views he knew to have extended no farther than a reform of the Commons Houfe of Parliament.

The debate then became general, and feveral members fpoke on the queition, amongt whom were Lord Mornirgton, Mr. Sbertidan, Mr. Dundas, and Mr. Fox.
The Cbancellor of the Exchequer took a comprehenfive view of the feveral arguments that had been adiduced againft the bill, and entered into a long defence of it .

Mr. Mainwaring objected ftrongly to the claufe in the bill which went is give magiltrates the power of judicial judges, and to give them a diferetionary authority to differfe affemblics at their will. He alfo difapproved of the claufe which prohibits all difcourfes and lecturts, unlefs licenfed by a Juftice of the Prace.
The debate continued till paft two in the morning, when the Houle divided, for the fecond reading 213 , againtt is 43. Majority 170.

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { h. of lords. } \\
& \text { Nov. } 18 .
\end{aligned}
$$

After reading the Land and Mats Tax Blls a fecond time, adjourned.

In the Commons the fame day, Mr. Dent brought in a Bill for the more fpeedy returns of Writs of Elections to the Returning Officer, which was read a firf time, and ordered to be read a fecond tume on Wednefday nex:.
The Chancellor of the Exchequer, in a Commitee of the Houfe, moved the Refolutions of the Select Committee for granting Bounties on the importation of Corn from different patts of the world; and afked the concurrence of the Houfe in the fame. A converfation then took place on the rates of the bounty between Mr. Haffy, Mr. Pitt, Mr. Ryder, General Smith, Mr. Lamblom, Sir Francis Ba. ring, and Mr. Fox.
Mr. Huffey faw no reafon why there houid be a lefs bounty given for Curn iinported from America than the coaftis of the Baltic; and hence he thought the bounty fhould be made 20s. a quarter, inftead of iss. from the former as well as the latter place. In fact, he wified as high a bounty as could be given, which would be the only encouragement of bringing it to Britifi markets in preference to others.
The Chanceltor of the Exchequer urg.d, that the Select Committee had fixed the rates after the beft inveftigation, and he thought the Houfe bound to agree to their refolutions.

> Mr. Fox fupported Mr. H: Ify.
> The report ordered for to morrow,
H. OF LORDS.
Nouenhir 19.

The liand and Malt Tax Bills, snd

216 Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6.

the Bill to prevent the cxportation ${ }_{8}$ and encourage the importation, of Corn, Meal, Flour, and all articies of Provifions, went through a Committee.

The Earl of Lata'erdole moved for an humble Addrefs to h s Majefy, praying that he would give diredtions that there be laid before the Houfe a flatement of all Grants and Penfions which had been fettled upon the Right Hon. Edmund Buake. Ordered.

In the Commons the fame day the Sheriffs of London appeared at the bar, and prefonted a Perition from the Lord Mayor, Aidermen, and Common Council of the City, declaring their abhotrence of all thofe feditious Meetngs which lately tonk place, and which they conceived led the outrage on his Majefty's perfon. They therefore prayed the Houfe to adopt, for a limited time, fuch meafures as would effectually fop thoie evils in future. The Petition was received, and ordered to $1 e$ on the table.

The Stiterffs prefented another Petition from the Court of CommonCouncil, praving the Houfe to amend an Act palfed in the reign of Elizabeth, intrinled, An Act for the recovery of Small Debrs.

H. OF I, OR D S. November 20.

Their Lorfhips affirmed the judgement of the Court in the Chandos Caufe.

Read the Land and Malt Tax Bills the third time, and adjourned.

In the Commons the fame day Mr. Honyzoood (Member for Kent) prefented a Petition from the Inhabitants of Rochefter, againft the principle of the Bills now pending before the Houfe, praying that they may not pafs into a law. And Mr. Honywood took the opportunity to flate, that his own fentiments were peifectly in coincidence with the Petition.

Ordered to lie on the table.
The Houfe refolved into a Committee of Supply $y_{1}$ Colonel Stanley in the chair.

Mr. Windbam (the Secretary at War) defcribed to the Committee the nature and extent of the Land Forces to be employed for the fervice of the enfuing year. He ftared, that the guards and garrifons, which reqularly compithewoded all the Hume forse, and thofe in the Iffands of Guernfey a Jerfey, amounted to 49,219 effecti men; that the Colonitl and Plant tion forces, which included thofe the garrifon of G:bralear, includi the expedition to the Cape of Go Hope, amounted to 77,868 effecti men; that the Militia amounted upivards of 42,000 ; the Fencil Regiments to above 13,000 ; and t Fensible Cavalry exceeded 10,00 to thefe were to be added a co:ps Irifh Brigades of $4,313 \mathrm{men}$, whi would conititute in the whole a la force of upwards of 207,000 eff tive men, which effedied a reduct in the eftablifhment of laft year to 1 number of about 25,000 men, anct faving of expence of upwards 800,0001.

Mr. Windbam then moved the f: refolution in courfe on the abr: ftatement, which refpected the nu ber of $m \in n$ to be employed in the, fuing year.

General Tarleton took the oppor nity to exprefs his difapprobation $f$ various parts of the fatemeut wh : he had heard, and to condemn in . neral terms the ineafures of Minins in the conduct of the war. Hower. on account of the abfence of fos friends by whom the fubject could e, more ably treated than by himielf, é waved all debate on the fubject ul the time of receiving the report of Committee.

A defultory and irregular conv. fation of confiderable length he arofe between feveral Mombers, 1 which Generals Smith, Muclrod, it Tarleton, Meflis. Pitt and Windh, bote the principal part. It refped various fubjects branching from above ftatement of the teat of $N$ : However, it led to no meafure or 1 ceeding of the Houfe.

The Secretary at War then mod the fevetal cuftomary Relolutions fpecting the expences of the forege $\bar{g}$ force'; which were agreed to.

Mr. Serjeant muved the ordnae eftimates, which were agreed to by e committee.

Mr. Rofe moved the colonial d plantation eftimates, which were agid to. Alfo certain fums to defray $e$ expences of Exchequer bils Iffuec a the courfe of the year.

The Houfe refumed, and orded the report to be received on Monda
(To be contmued.)

1796.] The Rudings of Weftotes, and tbofe of Worcefterfhire. 217

Mr. UREAN,

 [F any of your Heraldic Correfpondents can affift me in uniting the Pedigree of Ruding, of Weftcotes near Leicefter, with the ftock whence I ufpeet the family originally fprang,viz. the Rudings of Worceftergire, they will highly oblige me. Below thev will fand fuch pedigrees and other notices as my referches have been able tu difcover.

I am, &c.

Pedigree of Ruding, of Martin Hofentre, and the Walinoufe, Worceflemire.
Edmund Rudinge, of Martin Hofentre. $\widetilde{T}$
John Rudinge $=$ Alice Lyde.
Richard Rudinge $==$ Margaret, daughter Edmund, of Wall-=TJane, daughter to Wh. to honfe, 2 d fon. Colles, of Lyghe, co. Wigorn.
 co. Waruick.
Ednund, 1569 Efward, 2 l fon. Macy. Anae,
Pedigree of Ruding, of the Wick, Worcefterfire,
Hunfredus Ruding, et non Edmundus, de Wiche, co $\bar{T}$
Wigorn: ut appartt per Chart. in mandus Roberti Baronis Spencer.
Walterus Grant, de Salwarp vel Saltmafh, in co. TEliz. fil. unica & hxies Humf. Rudins Wigorn.

Dom. Joan. Spencer; Eq. Ifabel filia & colæres.

1278 W'alterus de Redynges (qu. whether Ruding ?) Rector of Strentham, co. Wigorn ${ }^{3}$.
I $3^{2} 9$ Egidius de Radinge, Rector of Haj for, co . Wigorn ${ }^{\text {b }}$.
1346 . John Rudirg occurs as juror in a ceufe reipecting Feckenham Foreft ${ }^{\text {c }}$.
1348 John Rading occurs as juror ${ }^{4}$.
1378 William Ruding was heir of Elizabeth Northgrove's lands in Teddington ${ }^{\text {e }}$.
$144^{6}$ Edmund Ruding, Lifcheator of Worcefterfhire ${ }^{f}$.
1469. Alicia Rudyng, Fatron of Hinto reiict of Rich. dip, Worcef1473 R.of Hofyntre terfhire ${ }^{\text {e }}$.
1475. Thomas Ruduyng, inftituted to the Rettory of Hampton Lover, co. Wigornh. 1490 John Rudynge, Bailif of Drotwich ${ }^{1}$. 1501 Edmund Ruding de Hofyntre, Patron of Eindlip ${ }^{k}$.
1581, or $\{$ Henry Rudinge, Eailif of thereabout, $\{$ Droitwich .

Without dates.
Edmund Rudinge, and Alice his wife, on a window in Martin-Hufentre cherch r?

Richard Rudging (quere) John Rudying and Thomas Rudjing occur as Regarders ${ }^{n}$.
Edmand Rading, and his fon Joho, who was father of Fdmuad Ruding, whofe only daughter Ahice married Chomas Grant, of Northbrook, co. Warwick ${ }^{\text {. }}$ This does not agree with the pedigre above.
Maurice Sheldon has iffoe John, feated ax Abberton, in Worcefterhire, temp. H. IV. who, by a daughter of Jobn Cotton, of Cotton Hall, in Chebine, had Ralph, who marned the herrefs of Ruding i'.
Sir John Spencer, Knight, married Ifabel, daughter and heirefs of Walter Graunt, of Snitterfild. co. Warwick, whofe mother was doughter and heirefs of Humphric Rudog, of the Wick, co. Wigorn 4 :
Fichard Bartlet, of Caftie Morton, co. Wigorn, married Alicia, daughter of Ruding, of Martin Hofentre. Nafh. Vol.II. p. ino,

Their poffefions in Worcefiet thire were lands in Hofyntre, Beoley, Feckenham, and Hanbury. Nafh, Vol. I. p. 65.
${ }^{2}$ Nam's Worcefterfhire, Vol. II. p. 396. b Id. Vol. I. p. $4^{84}$. c Id. Vol. I. p. 439.
d Id. Vol. I. p. 440. e Id. Vol. I. p. 439 . Id. Val. I. Introduction xiii.
${ }^{5}$ Id. Vol. I. p. 509.
${ }^{k}$ Id. Vol. I. p. 589.
${ }^{4}$ Id. Vol. I. p. 541.
${ }^{1}$ Id. Vol. I. p. 305.

- Id. Vol. I. p. $44^{0}$,

Q Bridges's Northaniptonhire, Vol, I. p. 474.
Gest. Mag, Mark, I7ge.

218 The Rudings of Weftcotes, and shofe of Worcefterfhire. [Mare

 Pedigree of Ruding, of Weflcotes near Leiccfier.
William Ruding, lived in the time of Henry VIII. T

John Ruding, of Ardbary, co. Watwick, Foice, dangit ter of Thomas Purefoy, and of Weftcotes, died 1543 . of Fenny Drayton, co. Leicefter.

Richard Ruding, 2 d fon, died Ǫ. 8, $1582=$ Anne, daughter of John Driver, of [From this perfon the prefeat family is Limehoufe, near London. lizealiy defcended]

The arms of Ruding of WorcefterShire are Arg. on a bond between two Jions rampant ©able a wivern of the field. Ruding of Leicefterhise bears the fame coat, quartering Arg. on two bars Vert, 3 plates, 2 and $1^{3}$. And Ssble crufuly fitchée 3 fleurs de lis Arg. a canton Ermine ${ }^{\text {b }}$. This laft quartering is borne by Waterciofte, and is quarrered by Wrilliam Clerke, of Dudtey, co. Stafford, temp. Hen. Vi. in right of his wife Pruderice Watercrofe. Clerke's arms are. Barry of \&, Gules and Vert, 3 plates. Quere, of what county was the family of Watercotte: Can anv merriage be afeertained betwe Ruding and Clerke, or between Rudi and Watetcrofte?

Bolow I have added all the notice can find of perfons of the name Ruding in differme counties, wh: may poffibly affift this enquiry.
Toln Ruding, Ahbot of Ofeney, $12=2^{\circ}$. Robert ie to Rudynge, of Alisefter, a veyed lands in Ragseley and Countu hul, $1327^{\mathrm{d}}$.
Sichamb atte Ruyding and Elizabeth uficlevied a fine ont. nats ar Fofhaw Warwick, $\mathrm{I}_{3} \mathrm{~B}^{\mathrm{e}}$ 。

Alanus de Wodelow, 10 Ed. II. & 7 Ed. III. $=$

Joh. Cheftere. $\bar{T}$ Avicia, fill \& cohases.
Rich. Cheftre, al. uict. Ric. de Wodelow, 8 Eul. III. $=$
Thomas Ruling, I maritus. $=$ Alcia。

Joon Rucing, Prebendary of Ruckham, 1472, died $1433^{2}$.
William Eutler, Efg. of Erefon Capes, co. Northampton, maried Elizabeth, datashter of - Rudirge, of Cotton, co. Warwick ${ }^{\text {b }}$.
Ghomas Ludford, of Witherley, fold his thate of the manor of Manceter, co. Warwick, to Jobn Ruddios, in $855 \mathrm{~T}^{\mathrm{i}}$.
Tonte la retemue Monf. le Counte de Warrewylt, des gentz darmes &i des Arch'rs pour fa dem're a Caleys fur lenfor ment de fa ville a les marches illuequ Chivalers.
Efcuiers.
Valets. $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { Matth. Rndyng. } \\ \text { Johan. Rudyng. } \\ \text { Will. Kudyng }{ }^{\text {k }} \text {, and feveral oth }\end{array}\right.$ 1 994 . Robert Ruddyng, John Riddy and Rolendus Riddinge, were juror: a court held for the Manor of Shenft, in the co. of Stafford ${ }^{1}$.

[^25]
1796.] The Rudings.--Horne and Kennicott.--Natural Religion. 219

The family of Rudding, Rudging, or Ridding, began to fettle in Sheriton in he reign of Henry V1. or Edward IV. They were ruined in the rouble of Charles l's reign. In the vear 1667, William and Nicholas, of Lynne, two of the name of Thomas, of Stonall, Wiltiam and Eidward Rudding, all boufekeepers, paid the affeffment to the royal aid. The whole line i now at an end, or reduced to one pocr famile ${ }^{1}$.

A letter of Attorney from John At Rudyng de Denham concerning lands at Denham, $1410^{\circ}$.

A deed from John atte Rudvng, alias Hurf, of London, to Join Smith, of Denham, co. Bucks, itroc. $^{\circ}$.
In the chancel of Roushan c!urch, co. Norfolk, is a graveftune to the memory of William Yclverton, Efi. and his two wives; and in a plate over the fecond wife, who was the daughter of —— Cocket, her arms. ift, $P_{\text {ei }}$ bend Atgent and Sable, 3 lys in bend counter-changed. 2 d , Sable a griffin fegreart in an orle of martlets Argent, Fraemere. 3d, Argent a fefs between 6 oak laves, Fitz Landey. 4th, A fels between 3 talbots paffant. sth, Argent on a bend between 2 lions rampant Saile, a cockatrice or wivern of the firft, Rudirg. 6th, As the firft.

Mr. URean,  Fob, 6.

TMUCH approve all that your ingenious and refpe&able correfpondent, pp. 23 and 24 of your lalt Magaziae, fays of thofe two worhy men Dr. Horne and Dr. Kennicott; and I have teac, with much pleafure, the Life of the former, by Mr. Jones. As I was not educated at Oxford, I did not underfand, before, what really Hutchinfonianifin was; but, I think, if I bad there fludied Divinity, I flould have been, in fome degree, an Muchinfomian, from the favourable, and I have no doubt the true, account Mr. Jons has given of it. But i wifh your correfpondent had not treated Natura! Religion as a cbimera. If that was Mr. Hutchinfon's opinion, I muft have differed from him likewife in this artic'e; for, when I am informed by Holy Scripture, Rom. i. 2c, that "the invifible things of God, from the creation of the world, are clearly feen, being underfood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Gothcad;" and that it was inexcufable in mon not to glorify God as God, upon this very account, "he aufe they kuew God;" when I am moreover informed, AEts xiv. 17 , that "God, in times paft," i. eb before the Golpel, "left not himfe!f without witnefs in that he did good, and gave us rain from hearen, and fruitful \{eafots, filling our hearts with food and gladnefs;" I own it appears to me, that Reainn was fo far able to furm to iffelf a knowledge of God. I am firmiy perfuaded, that, from the very firft ages, God made particular revelations of himelf to particular perSons; but that he promitred the generality of mankind to difcover him by his works. I own, I annot perceive any bad confequences from this doc: trine of Natural Religion, unlefs it is abufed. In itfelf it feems properly to lead to a belief of every revelation, that, from this antecedent knowlege of God, we are perfuaded beass ample proofs of its divine original. And Ifo far aztce with your correfpondent, thit, fince God has been pleafed to re. veal himfelf to us in the Gofpel, the firt anticle of the Creed is, from that circumftance, become now as much an article of our faith as the fecoud: " 28 beleve in Coa, belatue alfo in me." I perceive this matter might be fpun ou: to a great length; but 1 will not longer trefpais upon your time at prefent.

> Yours, &cc.
A. U.

Mr. Urban, Feb. 9. FHOMAS HEARNE, in his Dreface to the Hiftuy of Glaton. bury, po lxiv. had lamented, in lake manner with J. P. vol. LXV. p. 7i6, the want of fome work upon Architeets. Ther havenct, how ser, been alrogether negledted. Loid Onturd has preitived a good deal rlating to our antient architec's in the firt $\mathbf{v}$ lume of his "Anecdotes of Painting." Valari, in his Lives of the Painters, and Bullart, in his "Academic des Sciences," have fpoken of many foreign archituels: and there is an exprefs work upon the lives of celebrated architefts, by Felibien, pinted at London, 1705 , izmis. Many notices relating to the fubjeet ar lkewife difperled in rarious books; but an entirely new work of this kind woyld underintedly be a defuteratum in literatue. S.E.

[^26]50. Antuv, eorteat, athi mucb-impioura Mifiory of the Ifle of Wight, from the earliefi Times of outbertic Ingo mation to tbe prefent Period; emprobenting wobatever is alrious or suort by Civil, Ficclefurfitical, and Military State in the varioks tiges, botb anticnt and moden. Tbe nodern Ifijfory, in a mare efpccial Manner, from the tipgraphical Arrangenent under which it is elated, and from the liberal Communtications of Gcritlemen on the Iflaul, bas pectiliar Claims to puólic Notice, and demands, from its interefing and important Tendency the mof particular Regard, fo as to ender the Work erery Way far futrior to any Thing yet puilifhelt clative to this favourite Spot. To which is annexct. a very copious Index of tbe Subjicts contained in it; and to the IThote is prefived a new and very elegant Map of tbe Iflant, dedicated, by Permiffon, to the Right Hencurable Thomas Orie Powlett, Gozernor of the Ifiand, purpofily enge aizal for this Work; a Table of Contents, ©cc. 1795. Svo.

SO much has been already publimed on the fubject, within a very few years, that, if the the of Wight can furnifh materials for any difcution after this ample ene, it mult be a defoription in fuller topographical detail. This fiftory of it is introduced by on etray, in cight pages, on the plealure and diut of hinory.

Chan. I. treats of the natural hiftory of the inland.

Chap. 11. enquires whether it was antiently an illand ur peniniula; the quettion is decided in favour of the former, from the earlielt accuunts we have of it.

Chas. III. treats of the antient naiiotarv hifiore of the infand.

Chap. IV. of its antent protedion and defence.

Chap. V. of the caftics and forts.
Chap. VI. VII. and VIII of the cirl hitory of the ithand till it was purchafed by the Crown, and after that purchafe; and after it was retained by the Crown.

Chap. IX. of $\mathrm{King} \mathrm{C}^{2}$ warles's binfory, from his arrival in this ifand to his exccution.

Chap. $\lambda$. of the civil hiftory of the infand, from King Charles's death.

Chap. XII. hintory of the feveral horoughs.

Chap. XII. the howfe of induftry.
Chap. X1ll. the priviteges of the guvernors.

Chap. XIV. the religious houfes.
Chap. XV. the local or topographiwhin hiftor of the parimes, their clurches and chaprls, with an account of $e$ manors and gentlemen's feats, comp hending the hitiory of their antient prefent proprietors.

This work will, in great meaf, fuperfede the coftly hiftory of this publifhed by Sir Richard Worfley, t to ${ }_{1781}, 4^{\text {to }}$, though it has not all e docuinents from records, which fill e appendix to that hiftors, nor the adr. tage of plates, which are indeed far y an omament to the other work. comuend the pains taken by Mr. bin, of Newport, to compile an accezt of the ifland, whence both the inh.tants and firangers may derive in mation.

5r. The Statifical Account of Scotlat (Contmued from vol. LXV. p. 1028.,

THE Vlitith volume of this $u k$ treats of the forty pariflies of Dorab, Eckford, G:sba and Cara, Ladyis, Douglas, Twecufmuir, Kilmartin, $A$ to terioul, Cairlike, Caniflay, Newbub, Dunitee, Coomdale, Totgh, Stirin, Kelinn, Af llegarth, Beith, Gutbrie: norchy and Inifbail, Criecis, $D_{u}$ s, Dunbarny, Kelinalie, Torryburn, Fetport on craig, Lo ie, Cadder, Mall, Moy and Lalarolfe, Leflie, Har k, Clatt, Dromen, Edenketlie, Moniv d and Siravan, Ǩilloride is Arran, Mzi?, Symington, Alloa.

Dornsch was an antient epifeal fee, of whofe cathedral remain $t$ se ailes, forming the prefent church. If of the families of any diftinction necled with the parifh continue to ly within the church. In fome fort tob med this nuifance, the church was $l$ ed fome y cars ago, at the height of a it fevea fest trom the ground: to is upper fory, which is the prefent $f^{\text {te }}$ of worfhip, the aicent is by fiairs im without, the open area underneath ill Ierving as a burying-ground. Itwhithitindeg tivis inprovement, wh is a contiderable one, the churcis, from its vaft extent and Rupenis boight, a very incompetent bouf of woimis, being extremely cold, id beyond the powers of an ordi y voice. Azound the cathedral is ie church-yad, without any fence, ar in the centre of the burgh. It is the is-Ket-place; the county-road runs thre h it. Somi yeare ago the heritors of ae patifh and the magiflates of the bith entertained a refolucion to prohibi il farther burying there, A piecof ground without the town was accordingly marked out for that ufe. A day was fixed, beyond which no perfon was admitted to the old ground, and public intimations repeatedly made; but the prejudices of the people prevailed, and the project was relinquifhed.

Such is the foil of Gigba, on the coaft of Argyle, that the ground mu't be eleared of flones at great expence. The barbarous practice of working with four horfes a-breaft, which ftill prevails in fome parts of the lighlands, is faid never to have obtained here. But anorher practice, not lefs barbarous, is fonetimes ufed, though not fo common as in other places; that is, tving the harrow to the horf's tail. This is often done to fave the expence and trouble of harnefs, and fometimes to tame young horfes, as they terin it, which indeed it does with a vengeance. For the honour of human nature, is well as from a regard to the fafety and cafe of that noble animal, to which we are fo masch indebted for a great fhare of the pleafures and conveniences of life, it is to be wifhed that other proprietors would form a refolution, as is now the cafe here, to put an effectual ftop to fuch cruelty (p. 48).

The common opinion, thes weol will not grow in the Weftern iflands of Scotland, is contradicted by facts, by the quantities of trunks found in their molfes, and the fine fprouts of oak, afh, and other wood, growing in the valleys, or on the Cheitered fides of the hills, but in winter neglected, and allowed to be eaten up by cattle, inftead of being incloíed. The poorer inhabitants are obliged to fetch fuel from a diftance, and frequently overload their boats with fatal coniequences. Thefe are arguments cnough for railing trees, if the inclination was equal to the expedienc! (p. 45).

The tale of an offenfive fmell from a number of fone-coffins under a cairn, which "obliged the diggers to Jrink firits, and keep always to the wind-ward-fide, and that, when they omited thefe pecautions, ther had violent head-achs," founds a lizile exaggerated. Amang the few piates in this volume is a plan of this cairn, and fedions of rocks and cuverns through which the fea pufies upa kind of fonuts. It is the opinion of the minifer of Gigha, that, " were the labour and indull ry of fuch a numier of able men as are in the bigunads and inauds of Scotland properly direfed and encouraped, the effccts would, in a fhort time, be feedbly felt by the nation at large; the moft valuable difcovenies might, be made, inexhauftible magzines, sad materials for every branch of manutacture, might be found out, and the exertions and inventions of a great part of the kingdom, which are now lving dormant, mizht, happily for themfelses and fociety, be thus brought into action. The moft effectual means of bringing about fuch a change feems to be the leffening and regulating the duties on falt and coals, the erection of towns or villages, and the opening canals" ( $p$. 69).

The oid caftle at Douglas was burnt by accident about 33 years ago ( 1758 ). The Duke, io his life-time, built one wing of a new cafte, of very ftrong and elcgant work, in which there are betwixt 50 and 60 fire-rooms. This wing was finimed by Lord Douglas, but it [the caftle] fill wants a front and another wing to complete the plan. The dining-ronm is a moft elegant one, being $4 e^{\frac{\pi}{2}}$ feet lone, 25 broad, and is hiyth. There is alfo a beautiful hanging flair, which is much admired by all people of tafte.

Marion Chifholm brought the plague from Ediaburgh to Twerdfwuir in a bundle of cloaths; in conlequence of which a number of perfons di ed, and were buried in the ruins of their boafes, which their neigbbours pulled down upon their dead bodies ( $p, \delta_{9}$ ).

The talte for inclofing and uniting farms, which feems to be on the in. creafe throughout Scotland, will, perhaps, eventually be unfavourable to the popuiation, and molt undoubtedly to the ferfowal ciavaier and morals of its inhabitant, whom it forces fromethe active healihe employments of a country life to take refige in manufacturing towns and populous cities, which may liverally be laid so be the graves of the human fecies (p. 113).
"It need hardly be obferved, that the Scotch word Kiv', for a place of werfhip, approaches nearer to the oniginal Gretk, Kugos [ Kypor Or obser], thon the Englifh word Cazerch, and ought, perhap, tu be made ufe of, at leat in Scorland." We always imagmed both kirk and church were derived from the Saxon C户丷luc; but, as fome affinity has been founa between that language ard the Greek, it may perhaps de a colatraction, ku:' *ix.

Fruit abounds more in Cairluke parifh than in any other on the Clyde, or perhaps even in Scorland. A lift of fum$\mathrm{m} \cdot \mathrm{s}$, middle or harvef, and wibter apples is given, amounting, together, to near soforts, and of pears to 34 (p. 125-7). Among the diforders of the parifh are reckoned three of the imagination (p. 128): a man who, probable, has an invetcrate head-ach, afcribes it to a magician dropping redhot pins into bis brain; a woman who has alternate fient and talking fits; and a man who, difclaiming the merit of good works, refolved to abtain from them for fix weiks, and got his maid whih child; ba feria nuge ducuntur risum. Mr. Scot is not deeply varfed in antiquarian lore when he fuppofes Watling-firet a corruption of Vitelliusftreet (p.136). At Carluke ante-nuprial fornication is difmiffed with a feffional rebuke like a private ma, riage, to that none are hardened by frequent appearances, and marriage is encouraged in a.l (p. 141).

In Canifoay, in Caithnefs, there are no manufadures. Their common ap. parel is of home-growth and texture, gencrally dyed black. Their dre/s cloaths are all imported. There ale few fupertitious cultoms among them, except the belicf of the occufional appearance of ghofts and fairics. No gentleman, however, of the name of Sinclair, ether in Caniibay, or throughout Caithness, will put on grean aisparel, or think of crolling the Ort, on a Monday, on which day theo creffed it, fo drelfed, in their way to the battle of Flowden, where they foughe and fell, without leaving a reprefencative of the name tehind them. If the Ord muft be got beyond on Mondav, the jouraty is performed by fia. A fupertition thus derived from the heroifm of their anceftors, and fo well calculated to excite a fimilar pirt in their offspring, Philofophy ifett uill allow to be preferved trom whivion (p. $156, n$.)

The dangers anfing to navigation from the currents in $P_{t}$ itland frith, occafioned be the collifion of tide and oher varieries and irregularities, render a lighthouf indifentable necelfiry. It i reckened that 2000 velfels at leaft pats through this frith in the courle of a) (at (pf-165, 167).

The charth of Quen Mary conveys to the cown of Dundee the place and yard beloaging t, the Gicy Condelier fitis, for hiotpecial ieaton, that "tue former burying-ground, in St. Cl ment's church-yard, was in the midty of the town, and, by buying in it $t$ and other contagious ficknefs might ingenerit and made to perfeverr' ( 225).

At Tough, in Aberdeenfhire, refid Mr.. Byies, who, for the laft 30 yea lived chitfly at Rome, where he w well known and defervedly refpeet for his talte, learning, and integrity ( 264). He propoled to publibs $t$ Ethufan Antiquities of Corneto, t antient Tarquinum, by fublciprio 1767 (fee our vol. XLIX. p. 238, a XXXIV. 475), but with what luce does not appear.

The feceders at Tough feparat from their minifer in 1760 , becaufe was defirous of introducing the nt method of finging, which lie frond : ceptable to many of his parifione They built a new kiok, and have no adopted the rew mote of fingir which was the fole fource of the orig nal rupture ( p .26 g ). So much 1 Diffenting contiftercy!

The Wef church of Stirling, prefont place of worfhip, was e:en by Cardinal Buaton, and is a fulene and magnificent fabick, bat verv lit accommodated to the purpofes of Pr byterian wormip, It would need to ahnofi totally a'tured and repaired render it either elegant or coanveme The abfurd pretence of its area bei private property, held in no better curity then the gitt or conveyance the kink-feffion (forne of the polfote indeed found on grants from the tow ccuncil, for fome trifling confide tion), is the great hindrance to $t$ molt ncelfary reparation. The area the chureh ougit never to be the pi perty of any but the community large. C mmon Sinfe, as well as $R$ ligion, dichate that the poor thould ha an opportunity of hearing the Golpel well as the rich' (p.278). The n mitier ot Scinling repeats his complai of the want of room in the churd thicre for the poor, and recommer that churches be built, or places pi viced, for their accommodation. thind le carnies this complaint too swhen he exiends it to every town, ci and borough, in Great Butain.
complains of the garrifun of invali about 200 men, in the cafte, as an id debauched fet of men, whote connexic pread poveriv and didelurenefs; ${ }^{2}$ itgrafonts in duceg toms, the ill tife

If an increafing diaillery. "A diftiler working againh time, as it is called, e. paying fo much annually per galon for the contents of his fiil, and vorking without ennroul, can now tharge his till no Icfs than 25 times in 44 hours, inflead of once or twice as ormer'y, when he was regularly furreyed. This pours in to great a quanlity of the commadity to the maker, hat it cannot mif, being cheap." The nanners of the in'erior iscoks are much hurt and debafed every where by the ereat number of tipping-noufes, and he low price of ardent ipirite (p. 291 -295). Mony oher compiaints are el forth refpecting the poor, their chaaster, diftreffes, and mode of relief; - obfervations unavoidable, from an littentive furvey of the manners of many among the lower ranks of the reople. With refpect to the manners of the inhabitants in general, there is a iobriets, order, and decency, among them fearcely to be exiedied. The rreat bady of the people in Stirling, :ven of the principal peop'e, do not yet hink it below them to attend religious, urdinances; and there are few who atow themfeves the practice of jaunting, or making excurfions on the Lord's day, or the fake either of bulinefs or plea. ore. Hence there is among them an ixrernal decorum and foberntes of nind, a freedom from giddinefs, extra!agance, and diffipation, which relpect or religious inftitutions alone can prolace. Urbani:y and focial intercourfe fre not unfreçuent among them. The only thing which inrerrupis this is potitical jea.oufy; a demon which, at cerain feafons, unhappily razes too much almoft every litile burgh throughout icotland. Would magiftiacy uniformly naintain the dignity of that fituation, nd exert itfeif with fipirit or buldnefs olely for the public good, without any egard to the prolorgation of their hopour, but juit as it icfults fiom public offrage and opioion, this evil would pearly expire. So far as this evil refults from diffentient piinciples in religion, is is lefs fufceprible of curc. For this no emedy can be found but the refuration if religion itfelf; which always renders nen forgiving, affestonate, and genule, and unitormly unites them in one" (p. 196). "The ondy jail of the county is lere. Petty thefts and debt are the ardinary cautes of imprifonment. The Palkirl, diftrict of the county being the poft populous, and no public megiftrate refiding there, it uniformly furnifises the greateft number of priloners. The handitti always crowd to a populous plare where there is no cflablifited auchority. There flrould be, in every county, a public workhoofe for the confinement of the pilferers and forners who are found to be of that county. Banfloment only increafes their receffity of ftealing" ( $\rho .298$ ).

At Kefton, in Kirkcudbright, is held, on the firf Tuelday after June ri, 0 . S. the largeff horfe-fair in Scotland, where there is generalls a very fine fhow of all iorts of borks, and greas refort of dealers from Enyland, Ireland. and the Eaft, South, and Weft of Scotland. A weekly maket for black catthe is held here every RIonday, from October to December annuatly (pp. 301, 302).

In Carlenwaik loch inand was found a large iron mallet, ur hamm r, fained on one end with blood (qu. rull?), luppofed to have been an intrument to kill the victims in the Druidical time ( P 306).

1. The ecl is the ahhorrence of almon all the common people in the highlands, who corfider them as water ferpents, and unfit for the utc of man" (p. 344).

The miniter of Gienorcty complains of the inadequatentis of wapes and fervices of female to thofe of male fervants. "Let not their earnings, advanced as they are, be grudged; but let all, who retpect the female character and female utility, regret, that thefe carnings are often thrown away on the gevgaws of vanity and fafhion. Every man of humanity is pleafed to fee them clad indecent and fuitable apparel; but it is painful to obferve, that what hould be a fupport to their future families, and a provifion for ficknefs and old age, is mifapplied in the purchafe of filks, laces, lawns, and tinfel. But the morailit may fpeculate on this female in. firmity as he choofes; as far as the lafs has cath or crecit to procure braws, fhe will, flep by fiep, follow hard after what the deems grand and fine in her betters" (p. 350).
"St. Connan, the tutelar faint of the country, beftowed his bleffing on a well of peculiarly high talubrious water. On a litele eminence hard-by, in an humble cot, there dwelt, ab ut 20 years ago, a poor old man, principally fupporsed by this well. The whole day he fat principally at the door of his cor, -rady to give the pafiengers a drink from
from his favourire ipring, for which he received fome fimall confideration. It is incredible what quantities he himfelf drank for 44 years that he lived pear it. He never had a compiaint; he arrived at the age of 85 or 86 , in the cxercife of all his mental faculties. The evening before he died he was feen drinking at the well as ufual; but, though his pratice had prevented difeafe, it could not fave him from the hand of Death. He retired to his cell, and, in the morning, was found dead in his bed. A few billings, fufficient to fave the expences of interment, were got in an old rag befide him. He exacied a promife of the minifter of the parifh, that none after him fhruld occupy the hut. About this he difcovered an anxiety not to be accounted for. The day he was buried, the hut was demolified. It would not indeed have been eafy to have found a new occupant, for the whole infide of this folitary habiration wa; lined with fragments of coffins brought from the church-iard, year after year, as repairs were needed" (p. 351).
"Wihh us in Scotland many of our eountry kirks are fuch dark, damp, and dirty hovels, as chill and reprefs cvery fertiment of devotion. They, befales, endanger the health of every clafs of worfipers, and encourage the indifferent and indulent in their neglect of intitutions, with the facied noicivanee of which, moral "bligation itféf, and the public and private happinefs of man, are fo much and to immerliately conneeted. To the honour, however, of all clattes of people in this country, it may be faid with juftici, that no where are the ordinar es of Religion zorere refpected or buticr attended. Perfons of the moft cativated underflandings, and of the firf rauk in fociety, ass not athmed to join in the public offices af devotion. Here cold and cruel Infidelity has not yet seared ber baneful baniner. Here the rich and poor meet together in the houfe of God" (p. 352).-"In no part of the kingdom has patronage been exercifed with more manked atuatice to the heritors and people of a paithe than in dhis county" (p. 3: 4 )

The chatacter of the people of Eleporchy is thus drawn by their minifter: *The inllabitants of this parifh liave, from time immemonal, been marked for peculiat regulatity of manners and decency of conduct. Tliey are, in gewisal, fober, indultious, the hamani; courtenus, peaceable, and contente: They are all of the Enablined Churcl and attend the public inftitutions , Religion with becoming attention ar decorum. Here are no religious cot trovelfies to agitate the human min to hurt the feelings of the heart, and iender men fierce, injurious, and ut charitable to one another. Enormon crimes are unknown in this plac Law-fuits cccur but feldom. The litt differences that arife occafionally amot neighbours are fettled either by $t$ grod offices of a juffice of the peac who refides in the parifh, or be Lo. Breadalhane's chamberlain or ftewar when he comes to the country; al the fmall fints that are at times imp,t for mifdeneabors are generally paid the kirk-treafurer for behoof of poor of the parith. The fuperier cli of tackfmen live in commodious a decent houfes, in the enj, yment of $t$ comforts of life, with order, neatne and hefpitality : and even the middli and lower ranks of the peafantry li in a fyle of plenty and cleandinef's ve differcnt from that of their predeceflio Formerly, indeed, much of that iif which is now fpent in ufeful induffi or acquiring mental improvement, v palfed in indolence, in the favour dance, or in lidening to the captivati 'tales of other times.' A frict atto tion $t o$ credit, and a marked punctual in dicharging every money-engas ment, has long charafteriled even. pooref villager of the country. I fimple promife of the poor to p , without any orher obligation, will : nerally procuie, from thote who kn . them, the loan of moner in their fira, and family necefiaties from the for keeper. Such is the fate of this unit parifl, and fuch the general charact of the people in it. May no fur: fiatiftical writer, in his accouncs of ther, have ever caufe to give a we: reprefentation of them!" Aincn il A:nen, fay we.
Mac lan, alias Kennedy, conceal the Pretender, notwidhtandirg th: was a reward of 30,0001 . for his preherfion; and was at laft hanged e flealing a cow, which George II. clared lie would lave forgiven, had e known it in time.
The pariin of Crieib, in Sutheds, is reckened one of the laveef in S . land. The length from Eaft to W, inhabited, is ieckoned 24 compis miles; bue the armolt boundy frit ar into the hills and moors between it .nd Eddrachylis, and may be reckoned tpwards of 40 miles. The brealtin aries from 2 to 5 and 10 miles. A aifiona:y miniffer was ferried here upvards of 25 vears, and preached evcry hird fabsaib in the heightts of Criecti, for a falary of 25 l. fiet! $u y$ from the sing's bountw, and 7 from ti.e patiths, and is compured mises were und. r this niffon. The cord houn y was dificoninued in 1789 , and Ladu Rofs Baillie appointed a permanent miffiwn, wiba retter fary and comt rable accumnodations (p. $362-370$ ).
It is propoted to surronice a manuattory of (ipiming and weaving cottun nto the Highlands, hi a company of 30 proprictors, at 100 l a thare ( $p$. 382).

The epitaph on a failor in Dufus :hurch-yard $(\mathrm{p} .396)$ is commun in every fea-port town ia England. Here are fome fonfible remal hs on the ianguage of Mu:aydire, hagifh, with a brovincial dialett, but rot convinites in favour of the Scutifis proñunciation (p. 396). "The people here b. came Preflyterians mone foom acciltent thath from remper. During tie aiterradtuns of Prefbetery and Expicopa:v thicy ciid not at all ditcover that decinted pieforence to Preßytery which makod the Weftern and Southern counties. Mad not their fentiment, been kueacr than ours on that ponst, cur fland wo.ld prohalidy, at puctest, have had but une national cthuch. At the Ravelution, few of the clerey of thas province cunformed to Preß terianifin, but availed themfelves or the indulgence which the Govcrnment gave of allowing thum to remain on their berefices for lice, on qualifving to the civil yovermment. And, in order to cherith Prelyyterv, it was neceflaty, frum the to ther, to - Send clergy from ti.c Siurthem counties to terve the cure. The hortor at the name of kolidzus, which once wa a charabierifick of the Paritast and t, ueblue Peffure:ians, never tonk policitiva of our zommon people here; and why ftill celebrate, feihaps without cver thinking of the origin of tic praftice, St. John's, St. Stepheris, Ctritumasday, \&ic. by afumbing, in large continpanits, to play at ivut-ball, dance, and make merij" (p. 399).
The minifter of $K$ 'linalie fays, "The ITCH, which has been impuied as a dilgrace to this quarter of the ifland, is but rarely feen now, even among the lowett claffes of the people. This, doubtiefs, $i$, owing to tivir living in a mure ckanly manner than their forefathers. Bat zhis difimper is not pectsliar to a Hyghbander-nor to a Scotckman. It is a plant which krows in countries Souti, of the Tweed, elfe there would be no word to exprets it in the Englifa $t$ ngue: ard it is well known to have been one of the plagues incident to the Ey:ptians, Deut. xxviii. 27" (p 4cg). The temale difordet, that is a difigrace to human nature, occurs fo fediom, that it was treated by the father of a girs infecied wich it as fome " bow-ccustry dijorder" (P 410).

Cent. Mag. March, 1796.

The tardinefs in improvement in North Butain is afrribed, in a great digree, to the want of public fpirit, and of liberal fentiment, it many of the landholders; for whofe bencfit are here irferted the following lines, writen by a hishinand proprietor, when at Lanrincikirk, by way" of apoftrophe'to Lold Gaidenfown:
"if Rome, from a dirty and mean paltry villase, [lage, Arofe to fuch granderr by plouder and pilWhat may not the pation of Laurencekitk lope, Refore Arts and Scierice and Induftry drop? Fisd cur lords or our lairds but the hylf of thy merit, [fp:rit, The tenth of thy fenfe, or the twelfth of thy Our phor would be rich, and our rich would he great,
And quite ondependent of minions of fate."
"When an attompt was mate, fome time ago, to have the condition if the fchool-maRers in, this cuntr: fomewhat hetered, the atgunient by whath fome lores and gentiemen oppofed it was, that 'they whed paith fuhools were fupprefees alkogether, becaufe therr forvants were corrupted ion being taught to reat and aust; thac they would be mere oleliz. 2 and dutuitul were they mure igrorata, and had no education.' 'rifis illiberal ines is refured by fant. Thet truo ance carnot be the mather of Mivatay, mate than of Devotion is proved b: caperience. The end beidati, ua of twe buer ta:ks in semand, in queteral, con rand with the momera! crams and annat executon of beta, of the itareciats in tha thing ! M the furnay adyantages the former wis a of caty educaten and of moral and religious duty. Denrive them of thefe, and thes will fron be come as great favages as the moft ignorant rabble of London, Paris, or Bir. mingham" ( p. 481). $^{18}$

In ftating the population of Cadder, we are told there is a dog, a reatch, and a clock, for every boufe in the parith (p. $4^{8}$ ).

In a charter granted to Hawic, 1545, James Blair was taxed with "one penny of the kingdom of Scotland upon the ground of his half particate, for finding and furnifhing one lamp or rot of burning oil before the altar of the pariß-church of Hawic in time of high mafs and vefper-praver all holy days of the year, in honour of our Saviour Jefus Chrif, and praying for the fouls of the barons of Hawic, the frunders $f$ the lamp, and their fuce ffors (p. 526).
"Alexander Orrock, the firt minifter of Hawic after the Revolution, appears to have been a man rigid in difcipline and of extenfive charity. As a proof of the former there is rold an extraordinary inftance. The magiftrates, having offended againft decency and proprietv, were cited before him, and were not a!lowed to act in cffice, nor releafed from the thunders of the Church, until they had, on their uncovered knees. afked pardon of God and the Kirk-feffion. This is a degree of ecclefiaftical feverity now happily unknown" (p. 533).
"'The Eaft end of the church of Clatt appears to have been a Popi/b place of worbip of fome note, and of very old date. When the feats were removed, at the laft reparation, there appeared, or the back wall and at the end, a neat tablet of free-ftone, ahout three feet fquare, with fide columos and a cornice. In the middle, in profile, are effigies of our Saviour on the crols, with the initials of the frripture infcrip. tion at the top. The piece was ornamented with painting, in colours of vermilion, azure, and goid haf, very bright and frefh. It was piaced, about five feet high, above the area, and prol,ahly food above the for where the altar was placed. Withom the oppofite corner, it the front wall, wa an apartment, or clofet, of a culical form, which feems to be the facrifts, where the hoft, money, and books, were kepr. Alfo, within the irner fooneine of the Eait door, another fuch clofet, but finaller, probably for hoidine a veleel with conitciated water for iprinkling the people as they entered to worfhif At taking down the old walls, the off cious zeal of the workmen broke an defaced the tablet before it could be re cued from their hands" (pu. 542, 543 .
"The people of Edenkeillie, in Mui ray, are rather gloomy in their ideas i religion; but they are of a peaceab difpofition, fober, and honeft in the dealings, and very ready to extend the charity to the pror'" (p. 566).

It is curious to hear the reafoning the good people of Symington on tl tax on birtbs. "The onlv grievan they complain of is the trifling tax birtks. Every country parifh has philofophers, politicians, and divint The leaders of the people make thi obfervations on every thing that paffe and their remarks are fometimes fhrel and fenfible. They apprehend th: intead of paying a duty on the birth a child, the parents mould receive reward, and have privileges and it munities granted to them, according the number of their children. But th cbief objecsion is on the fcore of religia Connecting births with baptifm, it confidered as a tax on that ordinan Viewing it in this light, the idea paying for the facrament is, of other, the noft impious and profa It is fuppofed to imply a contempt all the blood that has been flaed in Proteftant caufe, and as giving $\mathbf{f r}$ dom to the beaft with the feven bel: and ten borns to trample the memory the old eovenanters under his teet" 589). Thefe good people certai never make the minifier a prefent, he does not claim a fee, at a chrifteni; Happily for their fcruples, the tax done away.-In this parifh is recorl the cure of the bite of a mad dog ? unflacked hot lime, which, being blo by the wind from the kiln on : wound, fretted it fo much that he is obliged to wipe it frequently, a, though other animals bitten by fame dog died, the man recovered 1 three weeks (P. 590).

It appears that, fo late as the preft cen ury, the punifoment of death of theft was commuted for firvitude is particular perfon. and a collar 's found in the Forth with this infertion: "Alexander Steuart found gu of death for theft at Perth, 5 Deceml; 1701, and gifted by the Jufticiars &a perpetual fervant to Sir John Aref a of Alra." The fentence to this ef $t$ is printed in p. 600.

Mr. Wedderburn, of St. Germains Eaft Lothian, publifhed a pamphl:t n the queftion, What proportion of the roduce of arable land ought to be paid s rent to the landlord? He flates, hat a farm of 120 Scotch, or 152 ioglifh acres of good land wouid enale a man to bring up an ufeful family vith credit and comfort. Double he alls middle-fized, and treble a larga ne; and thinks none fhould excted is. thers hold a different opinoon, and erhaps with reafon (pp. $612 \quad 613$ ).
2. An Effay on Defign in Gardening, fiyt publi/bed in 1768, now greatly augmented; alfo, a Revijal of feveral luter Publications on the fave Subject. By George Mafon.
"THIS little ffiy was firlt fubihed, in $\mathbf{r n 6 8}$, withour it, author's ame. Of this circumfance it was housht neceffar to adrertife the eader, on account of fome fubfeq ient ublications on the fam* fubjeet, which ave filentiy adopred many of the feniments of this tfay. No charge of Hagiarifm is h-re meant to be brought gainft the refperable autho s. But lome precaut on feemec requifite, left he writer of the eflive muld fall under groundlefs fufp cion of hating conpied hofe that followid rim. Sui h is the neaning of $t$ is adv , of fement For the ame reafon, all new infertions are inYuded in []; bat nere corrections and mificions feldum pointed out. The cuater hould be told 'no, that, from tome erv fingular infirmites of coontitution, he wetetr has nover feen any of the Haces mentioned by him (except Paine's hil ence in r770) fince the fray was laft puilihed; therefore it till refers to the ffare thel were in ferious ro 1768 . Thife confticuri inal nfirmities have alfo, "rcafioned fö long delay in the republica ion "- The ulijeths of this tffay are, Ancient Eafen Paradifes; Grecian, Roman, Enlifh, gardening; Claffical landfcapes; 3ritifh gardening; Renatks on viftas, round, fence, fhruboerise, wouds, Slantations, water, manfions, edifice', billars and urns, fatues, conv-niences, nifcellaneous; Dicculfion of the real late of tafe in gardening in thic counry fur more thian the la lial'-century, is ex:mplified by Kent, Srauthccte, Hamiton, Lutelton, Pitt, Shenfone, Morris, Wright, and Brown; their repective mertes appreciated, a dd a deided fuperiority of Biciifh talto in fardening over that of other European countries, or of former periods at home, alferted. Agreabie to this idea, the effivift controverts the fyftems of later defigners. He in gencral applauds the defign of his poetical namefike; but coniroverts the ideas of Lord Orford and later writers, and of all profeffors of laving. ut grounds; and differs beth from Mr. Giipin and Mr. Price in their ideas of piciurefque beautv; wlich M. M defin's "forming fuch feenery as a fpeenator would wi/b to the perpetuated by painting. The power of the painter to anfwer the wih of the (peelator makes no part of the ides" (p. 3).
53. Narrative of M. de Chaumereux, wubo elcaped fiom the Mafficres of Amrai and Vannes, after the Expedition of Quiberon; with ObJervations on the public opinion in Britany. To zobich is added, a Profpectus for Pafigrapby, or, firf Elements of the Art of Printing and Writing in a Languige to le undorfiood in all Languages without Tranj/atich.
THE calamities here related, fo mocking to humanity, are afcribed to Taili=n b: the relator, who efcaped by the kind attentions of a young woman. whom: he characterifes by the name of Sophia. He acquirs the French Nation of treachery, cruclty, and difloyalty, which are the crimes of the Convention, who over-awed the Army, which, M. re C. is perluaded, will be eafily reduced to the ordinary ftate of peace. The Chouans are the mof dangerous enemis of the Kepublicans, from their occupying a country of fuch extent and importance. "It is in public fpirit alone that our hopes thould reft ; and the change wrought in France, in this refpect, is increafing. Ty ranny cannot long reign in a country where I have feen to manv virtues."
Pofgraphy is the invention of Mcffiesrs Menon and Sicard, gentlemen of eliablifhed reputation in Paris, and will appear, fupesti'y printed in large octavo, as foon as the fubicription is fufficient to defray the expence of the engravi,gs, punchions, matrices, and fount, of this new typography.

[^27]THE four laft aîs of the third part of Henry VI. furnifned the plan of this dramatic piece, wherein are incerfperfed paflages from parts 1. and 11 . of Hcn rv VI. and from Richard II. The proingue was written by Willian Benwe!!, M. A. and the epilogut by M: Pye, the poct hurear, explaining the deforn of the infitution for whole ufe the pay was acted.
55. An Elegiac Pocm, futred to the Mumory amit Inthes of the Hon. Sir Will am Jones, one of Le yulger of the Suprewe (iut of Fuderatue in naat ; containing an hifitorical Rerripe. Ot the Frogeco of Seitence ant foreg liong ti in Aft.. Dy the Fithther of a'ith simiquiths.
THE Gones of antiont Afra is inteclucer, . a akterific and conerited wi h that if modern Afra. e ptono ner: the exiveium of ho o pated faw urin. and taces the morento of Eatern icemace. aue rdeng to the ar yamenent of his now dir a tions bef ae the Afracic Socith labe for jefteati he $t$ epif the hon ot the firp propars iff mim in 4 fa witi the fatmone : whamat. & the arre be their discentans. The fince inve iovaders of Inda anc din ated, fochates the itaption of Nat ir Shat, and rie i werfon of the filuqul empin : winct tad to a dracter Sir ly 1uan I nes. The Gatu hayorp $G$ med, the inferwr G oi pay the: part at his tunb. The po: not acquai : nec of the aubor wa sit Whil. m Jon:s, and the parmare he received fro.. hiog, rall p pombaly inturefing the "tegr, wh phem lute of :-Whed ore excelient :mas: hut is ion lowes at. i crowded for as diogide poen; and pertaps, io lume enfiarces, Farice: tos ofen implies $11 . e$ p.set + Tiuta.

56. An Fleg on the Deatb of the H.n. Sir dimt of ith Afratic Sociej. IS Wibiam H.yley, Erg.

ToR 11 apobogizes, in a fowr adveltiemont, tor taking up the tubje ater Mr. Manrice, b obfange, that their "c metton regated for the chat a te thay e matamate is fo fincere and inerenous, that they mutt rence ta a matr picity of ciferng so a wame so entiled to univerfal praft." in a note, P. 36, Mr. H. a!fo apologizes ! the "long period of mental inactis to which a perional mesfortune $h$ condemed him." It is with reglet cifer any criticifons on fuch a poet; 1 fincerity obliges us to confels, that t ergy is vely unequal to many others his eftufors. We oblicive in this, as, mane (ther meden noems, to, grt an aftectation of epithers and tur not are fome of the fentiments on $h$. pily exprofied as conceived. Yet tiere, in this tribut to the mert of univara! Genius who is t! e tulj. &t f it, lines beth finere anci !ublime; a happe enmpliment to the profent EI Sperecr, the fr:end and pation of Wilitom in their carly yotith. poet, betrowing a clatics idio forn. c who an his rean of Atalla, fuggs a manament ful has departel frenul, d in a Floxmats the frulpor to 4 . sure the stign. The no-m conchs "Ii... .ia aftociconate apofrophe to "Hices.
57. An Fngivy irto the T:A cord Powe of itis. Wouly, as Guar dorn of ibe Dut of (conwl' denige the late Mivority of 's I) A. Fy Chartes Winkia, F/?

MR. WATKINS conf. rs it ver. dechefut ;o:nt, whether th: $\mathbf{F g}$ hat at .ay time, from the grantir of the c mar bi F und tha 'inded one twelinh veat ais' w exero of Charte: S.cond, the pere. andar, of unil the Muse fio he: tre aita d the ate of ivensume. U? is, IWcere, convin en it at the fiature, pad in the tweft peat of Chules mesetur or to that priti, antoled to he ?erdip co the :~noke; and at, frombie cha whai h waved tronthe the the dar.ag the Bance of Wis's 1.4n:t.

$5^{\text {S }}$ Therght's on the Crigin ant Format of I siniz whontations. By John Bc es, Illis, ampinkt was writen pri oo tie an pranco - : the lar Firench no atare, Mr. B . we then made inc proditanns ; one of them only telins untulifidu-tie confequences of oPhis the Conftimitua fit to th teptance of the armies. But it is not impoffible that this meafure may yet lead to a renewal of the deffructive policy of the Roman cmporors, whictr made the pretorian guards the only effedtive citizens, and the camp the nation.

Mr. B. aferts the motal impofibility that a numerous nation can, in any adequate and true fenfe of the worls, chirfe or form their own government; a!though they mav overturn one already in being, and refolve a civit fociety into a multitude of unconnected individuals. He lays it down, likewit, that every government mult be founded in powet; which is cerrainly rue, even where its Conflitution is defoned by 'aws Fr.r, the power to leginate m!? have extted before each of the laws defining the Constitution individuaily, and therefore all col'e Etively. The orivin of that power is nut here examined into; of this $p$-inciple $h=m \cdot k-s$ a verv fine application, in affenne the cuales why fome Reolutios have terminated in new and rccul? forms if governinent, and that of France in anarchy. In the former cafes the pincipal aptons in 1: a great power in their hands, thi! Cumu. lidatec upon eflabl tand principice, whech enabled then to renlace ienm:diacly that which they had cm vad; but this the levelogy princioies efto ed in the latter. He exemplifies this from the frit Revolucion of R one, and that of America.

Mr. B. likewile confiders a durabie Conititution as a thang of flow gowris. He holds, that an altemho of the wi! it men could not reafon ont whe that is perfect; nor, if thev culdi, is it were adopted by a ration all at once, wruld it ftand: and that a thanple ed fiftem of government wouid not find, in a foreign forl, that rowifhment whirs would continue its cxerence. He praifes the whom of our ancellors, who, foiely be the apa icerion of inner remedies to their rrimonees, as they emerged, bought our C'illution to its pretent llate. Hu contals tion with the rafthefs of fpeculation and cx. perim:nt.

We recomenend this i) (ok, as cx. tremcly we!l written, and cint.ising a great quantity of very wesal mater. The folluwing extrad may rurn th a fpecimen boris it the fithe and ruafon. ing difpisce in this pamphet:
"Of all we ide and miford undetakigs in which rath can evoug, tie meft rule and abfend is that of Conftitution-making ; nor is it pofible for them to d a,:y ehar vanity, prefumption, and folly, in is greater degree than by enragng in fuch an attempt. As well might they pretend to form anew the huma: nce, as to newmodel the valt and comphested machine of fociety, and to reculate, accoiding to their oun fancy and caprice,
"Its armg conncxion, nice dependencies, Graditions juite" Untianply, the atempt is as mifchievous as it ${ }^{c}$ :hburd; $f: r$, ir tends to unferte every thang that ha been tablllked by time and exprience; to foke the lapprefs of niblions apont ie precarina refilt of fancif : exporment, ant of wid an' extravaSont pacolan: to deprove tie focial writ of it mader and ats compaf, of its must and man em; and to icave it, thas defiture and fortorn, in the nadft of the buifurms acean, at the mercy of the winds and waves."
59. An Whin on the Mamagement, Norfing, and Dif afo, of Clillien, from the Rirth; and on the T'eatrient and Di'ufes of trignunt and fing in Whaten: with Remaiks on the domeituc Practice & Acuitinc. The tanced Pcrials of woilmesi; unith Offerwarion on Wotbers rurfing tweil (Baw ch. The Whorle difigne! fir ammelic Uke, and parpofige whiazuch tor I male Comprobenfion, the Ser, and fuital to the mediali istue unt and viunge Practitiont. By With m Mins, Surgesn to the Liverpuol Lying-in (bavity.

litis is a very amole tinte to a very ufetw hook, which has detervedid sot to a fucond uditom. I is cedicentod, with nuth !nemety, the Qen; an! contais s many very jult ond juwhinus remaks on tie following 10by

On tae dearatic Factice of MedicineOn the Nowsment of new-bon Cini-dron-C ne: at the Buth - Drefi of In-fuets-Ne Nornty and Advantages of W.armth and Refi-Ot he Fond anat ac Feening of new-wne Catditen-The Digetion of the proper for Cathina wibo require techang before (ne" can be fuppled wath the Breart - f the Food in dry Nurfag-T. Ufe of Veal te:- Expermente on the fame-Conliv"nal-Luferels-Dificulty in meking Cimiren take the Firenit-Advaitages of accoftomat g Chideren who are wet-nurfed to feed ath a spoun-Feeding of a Chiid that bo wetrafed and does nut get Suk enorgh-Of pancular de: Times of feeding-Air and Exercife-Of the Ure of Cradles-Wafhing-Of a hired Wet-nurfe-Her Diet, Exercife, &c.-Of the Difeafes of Children-Swelling upon the Head-Tongue-tied-Of the Navel-Sore Eyes-Gripes with and without Loofenefs -Canfe of the Gripes-Symptoms of Gri-ping-Cure of Gripes with and without Loofenefs-Of the Uie of Spirituous Li, quors, Spices, and other warm Things, in the Gripes - Wind in the Stomach and Rowels-A Sicknefs, with or without Throwing up-Remarks on Complaints of the Stomach and Bowels-The Thrufh, Frog or Sore Mouth-Gum and Yellownefs of the Skin-Milk in the Breafts-Inoculation-Natural Small Pox-Symptoms and Treatment of ditto-Chicken Pox-Meafles-Convulfions, outward and inward-Rafh-Sise Ears and Neck, and chafing and fretting of the Skin in other Parts-Gore Head - Teething - Rickets-.. Caufe of ditto-Cough-Difficulty of Breathing, and Afthma-Chin Coug'-Croup -Worms - Chlblains - Marks - Burns and Scalds - Wounds - Mifcellanies - Of Weaning.

Treatment of Children at the more advanced Periods of Chilthond-Diet-Deefs-Air and Exercife-Sleeping - Cold Bathing.

Of the Management of pregnant and lying in Wrmen - Rules and Cautions daring Pregnancy - Blood letting - Sicknefs and He rtburn-Colsivenefs - CrampDiet - Exercife-Cold Bathing - Mifcr-riages-Cautions concerning the Nipples and Breaft-Cautions in Drefs.

Rules and Cantions after Delivery, and in Lying-in-Diet—After Pains—Pain, St:ffnefs, Siveling, and Gathering of the Breatt -Bre ift-Boils-Sore Nipples-Of putting the Chid to the Vrealt-A Defcription of the Mude of Treatment as formenly proctifed in Lying-in-and the In'erences to be drawn from a Comparifon with the prefent Mode-A Cafe, by Way of Example-Of difperfing or putting back the Milk of thofe who do not intend to give SuikDiresions for nurfing. and for pomoting and increafing the Milk.

Difeafes of lying in Women-Of the Child-bed or Puerperal Fever-A Milk Fever-A Miliary Fever.

Obfervations on Mothers nurfing their own Children.

Various and important as thefe fuble jeets are, we mult allow the author the praife of having, in genera!, treated them in a judicious manner; and we think his book worthy of a piace both in the nurfery and the lying-in chamber. It ma; be alforead with advantage by necical practitioners.

On the fubject of fcalds and burns Mr. Mofs, with great propricty, objects to pultices and all relaxing ar oily applications. On thefe occafion the firtt and the moft important ftef are generally taken in the nurfery. W agree with him, that plunging the pat as fpeedily as poffible, into cold wate is exiremely proper; but we wifh tha inftead of the faturnine lotion, he ha ftrongly recommendad the continue ufe of linen compreffes, wet with reed fied fpirit or common brandy, as foc as either one or the other, but particl larly the former, can be procured; fo it is inconceivable to thofe who hat not experienced the bentfit of this mt thod, how fpeedily the burning fenfi tion is fubdued bo the fpirit, and ho effectually, if diligently perfevered in it prevents the bliftered parts from ful purating, and, confequently, from u cerating. In foct, the curing of a but or feald, by the continued applicatic of rectified fpirit, may be compared the heating of a wound by the firft is rention. Whoever adopts this practi in extenfive accodents would do well have a pail of culd water and a bafe conftantly in the roum to exinguig a cidental fire.

The following olfervation does t] author much creeirt: "S ckne!s, of Aruction, and oppetlion at the ftomac will always occur, in a greater or le deg'ee, when a child gets the brealt c the day he is born, which is general the prattice where lined wet-nuries a engaged."

The propriety of the following m: perhaps be doubsed: "Tile iweetl. pleafing finiles, which are fo often ol ferved upon the coun enances o! irifan when afleep, and which the lond mo ther indulges berfelf with the idea being the effect cf pleafing dreams, no other than the effect of what called inward convulfions." Till v rede the above, we confefs that, lil the fond mother, we aiwais imagian the child was either enjoying a bell: full of fuck, as Mr. Mufs catis it, i dreaming that lic was playing at hoi cherry, or fome fuch divestion, with t] mothei's n'ppie.

In the 430 oh page we are prefent with an uleful consaft bitwixt t' heating and the cooling mode of m naying patuents in the iving-in chan ber; which terminates with this ct rious piece of iafomation: "1 ha been informed, by fone ladies w! have lain-in in London, lhat they we kept in a perpe:ual ftupor and itate intoxication during the greatein part e time of their lying-in." We hope, ir the credit of the ohftetrical part of ie profe FTion in London, that Mr. M. as, in this inftance, becn mifinformed; ut, as he fubjoins the following note, e muft take it for granred that there fome truth in the report, which has faped our obfervation: "I am in. rmed, that Arenuous efforts are maing in London, by many of the moft Ifpeftable of the faculev, to reform the ractice upon this occafion, by the inoduction of a cool treatment in lying1." This muft furely mean a reform ithe pradtice of the lady-ductors.
Our praifes of this work are confined the elfential circumfance, its utility; s to ftyle and larguane (which, alhough they are of lefs moment, are hings that ought to be atrended to), it i very indifferently executed. We carcely remember to have ever before een the verb fuck ufed fubltantively; ut it perpetually occurs in this fente n the work before us: "fo it very arely difagrees with her, except for vant of a fufficient quantity of fuck; herefore if, at the beginning, the has put litle fuck, or if, at any time aftervards, her fuck finfibly decrafes;" ind "whatever is taken by a nurfe as ood or drink is converted, in a very hart time, into Juck." Surely milk sould have been a more natural exreffion; but we mult, at the fame ime, ack nowlege, that, in the phrafe ff giving luck, the ufe of the word is a fubitantive is in fome meafure anctioned.

5o. Gleanings tbrough Walès, Holland, and Weftphalia; with Views of Peace ant War at Home anit Abroad. To wobich is added, Humanity; or, The Rigbts of Nature; a Poem : revifed and correged. By Mr. Pratt.
IT is generally a favourable circumAance to literature, and to the lovers of literature, when men of genius travel ; and thofe who have led us with delight through the regions of Romance, feldom fail to entertain us when their attention is directed to furrounding frenery and living manners. This is fufficiently exemplified by the avidity with which the "Travels" and "Journals" of fuch authors are whally read. For although, as it has been well ohferved by an elegant writer, quoted by Mr. P. on this necafion, "it is not atways ealy to obtain information that has not already been communicated by fome former pen, it will always happen that the fame objects fhall be viewed in different lights by different perfons, and that the reader will be infenfibly delighted with the appearance at lealt, if nct the reality, of novelty." It muft be acknowleged that Mr. P. has abundantly verified this remark; particularly in that part of bis book which treats of Holland and the Dutch character, of which he gives ideas very diftintt from thofe of former traveilers.

The work, as may readily be fuppofed from its title, is truly mifcellaneous. It is not only diverffied as to the variety of places and perfons of which it trears, but is interfperfed with innumerable obfervations and anecdotes; and, being conveved in the epiftolary form, admits of all the elevations, the elegances, and the familiarities, of which that fecies of compofition is fufceptible. The introduction, which includes a fpirited "Ode to the Benevalence of England," well expreffes the author's feelings on his return. It is not ufual with us to dwell on an "introduction;" but we cannot help noticing this, as being written con fpirito, con amore, and, like manv of the letters,
" Warm from the heart, and faithful to its fires."
"After an abfence of fo many years," fays Mr. P, his "return at fo fingular a monient, when the emigrant enemies of his country fued for its pity and protection (and fued not vainly), was attended with thofe fentiments which, on his fecond return to his native land, produced the Ode. He had been witnefs to the ravages of many fair countries, to the deftract:on of many beautiful towns, majeftic caftes, magnificent churches, and the terror, dcfofolations, and deaths, of numbers of the human race; and, alchough the fcenes which, at that period of the war had paffed under his eyes, were foft and merciful, in comparifon of thofe he has fince viewed, and of which, alfo, defcriptions will in due order appear; the contraft was powerful enough for him, or for any man fo, circumftanced, to have bleft the Britifh Ghore, honoured the Britifh King, and venerated the Britifh Government, had he not been born under their aufpices, had he even been their foe! For the reverie of this picture, then he looked at bome!"

The defcription Mr P. gives of that home is fuch as might be expeoted to relult' from feelings excited by abfence and ardour.

Though the author adopts the ur.affuning appellation of glearer, it muft be confeffed he hath made a plentiful barvelt; and, if he hould have gathered a feiv tares with his wheat, he will be pardoned by thofe who know that it is extremelv difficult to divett a rich foil of weeds; and the wild flowers of the heath, though vorid of utility, are femetimes beaunfal enough to arreft the attention of the mof fpeedy travelJer. The author's in di- of waveliting w is fuited to his char r of a thaner. "Inflead of athing ", ite lons litit of toth-hafe Yracytiors," lavs Mr. P. "I was reterminat to peaf an min jurneys at a fooi-pace r tioer thizn a lull yation; and to beecon a cieliberate, or, noore properiy fpaking, a refikmitary tazvelier, whon fets out on a flan at forjourning in the part of the we red he deforibes, and mixes in the tocieties of each long enough to olfore, acesga'ely, matner, cult ms, and events." Hence, though we loik d tor listle in formation reipefing Wales, with whish we were nor pericufly acgeainted, we were adereably furpitid with new pic tures of that piBurefgue countra, and new traits of the Canbriar charafer. And Mr. P. feems peculia ! foleitons in madino lis readers perteipators of hus feehass; th fie with hiceres, and to her with his ear. This, indeed, might be expected of a peet: but poets do not alwars tuce ed bet in potasying Nazure a, the is.

The fill voiume creats principally of Wale, abounding in delin-ations of val ous landtcapes, with defaiptions of the inh bitants And th fore not of the order of berevoient beings whon can read with indifference the accounts of the Bormouth; of the lady vifitires the grave of he grandinother; the yectularities of the "notorious" wid w Bowver; the hifiory of the Dankupht muchant and his daugher Amplas; and of Davy Mrgan and Kitty Wirlliams; the perfonal hatios and anecdotes of the late Mr. Howart, & C. &ic. This volume atio contains the antient hitiory of the Dutch republick, and fevenal letters on the Gorman, Dutch, and French chawater.

From a produdion to multifarious it is difficult to fule Et that which may convey a compotent idea of the writu's manner. We have not yet had an opportunity of felecing the aflailabie parts of this performance. Its enrors, and they are net a fow, we muft icave to furure inveligation. At prefent, we thali clofe our account with an cx-tra& which mav give our readers for idea of Mir. P's manner of travelti and mode of witing.
"The fcenery of Nature, in a Summ drefs, is a volume open to every eye; a a copions pane may be read at a glaw The moft nimble traveller might Juxuris as he tuns by them; ard his landfan though hat the etching of an inftant time, muft, if he has kill to 'catcht orfects as they rife, and richnefs of gen to the them, be various and delightf Here, the bortier of Brecknockthire, whi heg nis juit where what is now called Engla owns its boundary, i was enchanted w the fryt view ; but difcosered at a fecol thisi, fourth, onwad to a fortierth, in I rions excunfons to and fro, during a months refidence, ? thoufind and ten the fand particular charms which a firf gei ral furvey could never affird. I deve an equal proportion of time to the Nor criac tuthe Sonthern divifion of this ps: ditacel rimelpality, fong to the extre verge buti ways, and travelfing backwa and forn ards to look at their beauties different fesfons of the year; and it is 1 efult of the fe e epeated ififts which, at prefent moment, I give yus. I give it y in the grateful warmth of my heart, ple fure received, not without an earn hore, at the fame time, that yon, : others who have tathe and affections rethth the hloms of Nature, and patriot enough to a'mure them tot the worfe appertaining to their ratal iflond, may tempted to enjoy the fame feenty.
"That Wales bith a chaim to pre-e nence on the fcore of romantic beanty, onis be doubied by thote who never b traverfed it, ir who, traverfing, rather a race than make a vegular tour. It is $\mathbf{c}$ tan, that feveral detacised fpo:s, in sevi ditf rent Engl: h conuties, exhibit to the of the travelier as nuach of fimplicity, h: and there as muct of the furlime, and 1 quently more of cultivation ; but th thore are $t o$ be confidered as picked a choier places, and ime, therefore, part. Lar; whereas the natural graces of $W_{i}$, the fpontane us fregrance of the "is beabs and fiowers, the unreftrained red. dance of the folage, and the unlabout fertility of the Southern foll, ate gene. They often eapand from one thire to a: ther, weth fucceri ons hoth of the hean I and futhme, fometines to the fretelf $f$ thinty or forty miles; in the progrefif whic!, the fancy and tise heart, the uncflanding, and alf the higher emotions of e foul, ate, by turns, tegaled atd deligh\% Hence it is importitie for a traveller (3 juft tafte not to catch pleafure and inft:tion frem that endlato varicty of land it water, hil and valley, dizzy afcent, a aparculy fathonlefs precipice, which a terioneth and Carnarvonfhire, would rike his eye at almoft every hours jour:ying. The traveller of imagination would el an unwonted glow of head and heart, rhaps, in a warmer degree, and of a ore fafcinating kind, than the traveller of merely juif tafte. The poeiic and picrial traveller, endued with the enthuifin proper to thofe characters, would sve a more animated pleafure, from a rvey of fuch heautics, than a perfon who is been in the habit of deriving his fatifEtions rather from the refined lathours of rt than the eafy operations of Nature. ut all degrees of underftanding and feelg, nay, the foul itfelf, would be gratifin.d a tour throug! Walcs, allowing time to b juftive to Nature and themfelves; and, deed, none hut the moit uarthefs or flipated of human kind could offer:e, ithin the limut of a morning't ride or atk, fuch an atiemblage of naturat woners, viewed at any period of the year, ithout talling a pieature of that moral ind which, in looking above is helow, wift pronomace the objeets of divine entn. I bave food gizing on fome-Soriwand Plinlimmon, the vales of loyd, or inftance, till they feemed of themfelves - fay-Traveller! well mayeft thou gaze; e merit your phous admuation- for, we e of God!'"

Merio h
(Tobe continasul);

1. Varieties of Lititatue, *sc. (from $p$ 143)

W'E row perferm our promice, hy xtratiling frotin thefe milcelanics nellay called " The D ke o Aiva a Braktat?, in the Cathe of Ku: viade, in the Yeat 1547."
"Tarning over an artient chronicle of ae fixteenth century, bader the thie of Res in Eccieflas et puritai clirffinns ofta ah anmo $1: 0 \%$, ad ann. 1602, 山u:ure Softiog, the in s. doet. Rustht?. 1676 ," found the lollowing antcinte, whoch, or nore than one reafon, deforves th ive ateled fom obinviod. In a pece mader ze name of "Matie ita manhtrs Cirizeln nd it confirmed; and for the the rader 'eferred to spanientietg" "Murct of sobhiny," vol. 1 brok xili- p. +75 .
"A German ady, defremed at a family pog thambed or vatiant of ats of umos, od whech tad atroudy given an cmperos: 0 German', on a parichiar nccafom monte he furmidatis duhe if Alva treanvie by er hold and refoinae comiuct. As the mperor Chatics the Fith, on nis return, a the year 154\%, from the bartle of Suhberg, to hins camp in Sumhia, patfed hrough Thurisgia, Cathaina, comecfowager of Schwaitzbuigh, born pincefs of Henneberg. ohtained of him a leter of afe puard, that ber fuhijects might bave nuthing to fuffer from the Spanifh army on its march throwh her territo ics. In return for which, the bound herfelf to allow the Spanifh troops that were tranfonted to Rudolfadt on the Sulthricke to fupply themfelves with hrem, beer, and other provifions, at a reafonable price, in that place. At the fame time the twok the precaution to have the bridge which flood clofe to the town demolithed in all hafte, and re-conftructed over the river ata a confiderable diftance, that the too great proximuy of the city matit he no temption to her rapacious guerts. The inhabitants tuo. of ill the places through which the army was to pais, were informed that they misht fend the chef of their valumbes to the ctile of Rudolitait.

6. لean tume, the Spanim general, astented by prince Heary of Bromiwack and his linn, approached the city, and invited themelves, by a melienzer whom they difparchel before, to take their morning's rep.ut with the countef of Sciwartzburg. So modet a requeti, made at the had of an army, was not to he rijected. The anfwer rethrned iv.ts, that + ey thould be kindly fupplied why what the b ufe afforded; that his cacelle.cy tright come, and oe attured on a weicme reception. However, the didntucgite at the fame time, to remind the Spathmi Eritrai of tha fofe-umand and tuge haree to thim the comed tam whtervace of i:
"A fimally recertun, amb a wel-furr. ! es thite, welumet the arivas of the dike ar the calfle. He was obmect to con-celient momen of wrese:, wh and honour to the laws of !? ortal:y. Bu farcelt bad thay taken the ri forion, when a neffenger out of hreath calleatiecomtefs fiom the hati. His tednes meronal hor, that the Sumas. fuluies hat med whence in fure vilates on ble way, andlad draen ott the cule wa mang to the peatiants. Catwatios was a tue m.ther to her ;em?: whatever the promeft of her faijo En, manily fuftered wombited ber to the very gunh. Full of indignation at this hemach of fatit, yot ant forf $k$ en by hat pratence of mind, the onderad lier whie utheue to arm themfiven mamately in powte, and to hulc ont bat all the gates of the cia , whith dom, the retamed to the wit, ami rej in- ate praces, wion were sial at 17 the. Here the e ing ined tw lhem. in the molt noving tem, of the ufoge the had $\mathrm{m}: \mathrm{t}$ whth, and hou hady the imperial woi 1 was kopt. They tod her, lewigtaren, tha: this was the caftum mar, ans that fucin wifling difonier of foldersin watching the ush a plate were nus tobe miludel. "I hat we thail prefert y ce.," roptice the, ftour \%. "My pron hiljes's mat ave their cirn again, or, b; Guw! (rating ner vois *oice in a threatening tone) princes' blood for oxen's blood!". With this emphatical declaration the quitted the roum, which, in a few moment, was fillod with armed men, who, fword in hoth, with great reverence, planting themieives behind the chairs of the princer, tuok place of the waters. On the entrance of thefe fiercelooking fellows, duke Alva d $t=c!l y$ changed colonr; and they all gazed at one another in filence and affirgnt. Cut off from the army, furrounded by a refolute holly of men, what had they to do, hat (o) fummon up their patience, and to appente the : $f$ fended lady on the beft teims they could? Henry of Brumfwect. way the finf that collected his fpirits, and fonthet bed beelings by burfing into a loud fit of laughter; thus feizing the mos reafon hle way of coming off, by toming ait that had paffed into a fubjeet of mirth; concluding with a pompous panegy rick on the patrintic concern, and the determined intrepidity the liad Ghewn. He entreated her oo make herfelf eafy, abd took it upon bimfelf to bring the duke of Alva to confent to whatever thould be found reafonnle; which le immediately eftected bs inducing the later to difparch. on the $f_{i}$ or, an order to the army to reftore the cattle, withost delay, to the perfons from wiom thev h: feen ftolen. On t e retirn of the couricr, with a certificate that ail danases were m de Sored, the countefs of Sctwartzhurg politely thanked her gueft for the honour they had do e her cafte; :and the., in return, very courtumy tond two leave.

- It was has tranfo:thm, no diabt, that procure: for Cathana comnters of Site is likewife highty extoliced for the astive fortitule I: d ghlayed in pamotiag the Retormation thatorgont her tominions, whach had alreasy been intadoud by ber huband, eat He:ry d. XX 11 . .s w h os for her refonte neafory mee :a peaten? down the muphe … win .nvine t' ce lit.

 cution on acconost 1 i $1 h_{2}$, font, HEal to ber Fur protection and buppont, wind flas Frated them in $t^{-\infty}$ thlent extent. Ammer thefe wis a certan C:apr Agmi, bathopreat at S. TGA! ; who, in his you:ger Jears, had atwented the emperor's amy to thes Netherlands, in yadity of chaplain; ath, becalie he theic rofuided to batotite a camm-hal!, wa fate ed to that mont: of amotar by the lotentous foljuct:, to ins the tiatotue ar ; a fate whath he appoly aromid ond. hy the acodene of the pouder wot catching fine. He was now, fo the fecond time, in immident danger of his life, and a price of 5000 A.rins was fet ugno his hrad, brevie tie emper: was sneged arsmat in mor having contame.
liouny attacked his Interim from the 1 . $\rho^{t}$. Catharina had him privately bro it to her caftle, on the petition of the pe $e$ of $S$ alfeldt, where the kept him n months concealed, and caufed him to bis rended with the greateit affiduity, till ftorm was blown over, and he could ture to appear in publick. She died, verf.lly honoured and lamented, in the $y$ ear of her age, and the 2 , th of her ri The chutch of Rudolftalt is in polfelfic f her bones."

62. A Leticr to Sir T. C. Bunbury, it onc of the Members of Parliament forle Caunty of Suffulk, on the Poor-Rates, $d$ the high Price of Provifions, with Prot ls for re.lucing both. By a Suffolk Gentle en EVERY gontleman, who, in prefent diftrell. A fate of the poor, ploys his indufiry and ingenuity in viling means for the melioration their conditon, delerves well of countr: This Suffolk gentleman pears to have b:foweci laudeble at iion upon this important fuiject; furgetis a plan which mav delerve contad: atton of the publick. The cicalic of povette ainung the lo c'alles of the people. fo clearly pred b; the vaft iucruale of the poorwithin the prefat century, is, in lest:r, imputed, in a gieat meafure the almot entice anmilation of cif of men called yeomanry, by $e$ jur on of jinal farms to compe The riclies of a coun the entro juftiv canceives, do not $c$ fi': in the ereat palfeltions of tome ducula)', bit in the content and $v$ for. 0: the ulo e community. To 116 if: walthy he recommends it, as :ind ajcit of attention, to make fo. fom tin n hap. wer by raifing WA&'s, athy eticily, the prices of c flaty atialis of confunipiton. projeit, b; which he conceives s mitut, in fome meafure, be effee, w. tha I Ive in lis own words:
uploie that every nwner of lanio the ampuit of one liusadred pounds per. wom. iyns withon t'ree nites of all pc. 1. us mavku-towns, thould he engages buld a cottane, which might coft al finstcore pounde, confining of a keapi roor, hatek k'chen, and nentry, with? bed-room: ever; and ihould fet out $s$ leatt, one are of land, adjoining, on s' ne..r to the tame as my be, for which flooul. the pild a rent equal to what es famer pays for the rett of the piect 1 l.nd; it will be found that, in proporia to the number of cotragers of this defc tion, will be the incresio, for tale, of nt the fmall articles, which are neceffary to I houfekee ers*; namtly, pork, pickledack, and bacon, ducks, fowls, chicken, igs, potatoes, and garden-ftuff of all kinds, oples, pears, plumbs, filberts, and other uits, bees-wax, and honey. I infift much on bees, which hring a certain profit, ith the leaft trouble imaginable; befiles, ley are emblematic of the benefits of in-afry.-This quantity of land would ocipy the hufbandman whea he could get , work from the farmer; would be the re means of fuppert to his family, and ave a fmall forplus at the ye r's end; for, vo-thirds of the profit of an acre of land ould be added to his income: the oivner pold bave the pleafing gratification of eing the chituren of the cottage itrong, ean, and healthy, and the whole commuty reaping the benefic of his benevolence, thout taking any thing fiom his purfe; fead of the rage and fqualid mifery that ow fo frequently prefents itfelf."
This good work hould be underta. en by the unted exations of pubicirited individuals.
63. Confiderations on the prefent Crifis of Affairs, as it reftects, thic Wet? 1nd an Crionies, and the probuble Fffict, of the French Decree for emancitating the Nigrees: Ninting out a Ren for ficentigg the carmitous Conjequcrues in the Batilin' 1 /honto.
A RAilonal anione to the enzy of abolition in cffelting a preious reform in the fuhjectis of it.

Foreign Literary Intelligence.
Altenburg. Zibani: Solbfac Prationes &o Drcianatimes, & $C$ The Prations aad U.camarions of Libuins he Sophif, revied from antient Bidufcripts, and ilufirated in a oe we. ual Commentary, by J ] Reike. lol. I. Svo. 1791, Vul. H. 1793 , Val. II. 1795 -Limanus deferves to be etter known, as his woiks certan anoy fine $p=l i a g e$, and in? rictive raits of the maroter and fpuit of the imes under the forli Byzantine enipeors; while ti:e only edition of c.nfequence we have, that of 则 rel, Pari.

* "WThe inducement to bing the tandwners to do this muft be 1 eft to farther onfideration; a law, with an er couragenent from Goveranien:, may te thought If: I hall at prefent conty infilt on the ertainty that foch eff:Ets as I point out till infallithy fullos the meafure I prorofe : that a cotrag.r in 1 pay a rent equad othe buildi. g of a h afe of furicote pomals ralue is mere than 1 think can well tee umplied with; bat 1 depend on aflitance rom Governme.t."

3606 and 1626 , in two volumes, folio, fo abounds with corrupt readings and gaps, that the tafk of reading him is extremely unpleafant. Affited by two good manuicripts at Augburg, three at Munich, and one at Wuttenbuttel, Mr. R. undentook the office of coirecting lus works, and giving a complete odition of then. Unf. rtunarely, he was not able fully t"o accompiifh liis defign, though he did fomasi before his death, that we find icarcelv a page without fome emendations, ether on the authobity of manufcrifts or his own conjectutces. The widow of $\mathrm{Mr} . \mathrm{R}$, however. had hecume ufficiently acquainted with the tearned hanguages to arrange hs pepers, and thus the fint valume of a ferendit culkion, in quarto, appeared in 3784 . This edtan meeting with few purchaifa, on account of its price, the pubilitaer rololed to print a chieaper oue in octavo, the fieft three volunics of waich we have now beture us. It is to le danented that the preis was no: coirceled with mute care.

INDEN INDICATORTUS.

Leo will find a life of N. Farrar, by the Rev. Dr. Peckard, mafter of Mag-diten-cillese, Cambrilge, and dean of Pe tertenongin, 179 r , 8 co ; and in the Vith $\mathbf{v}$ whme (as ye! unpublifhed) of the new edtion of the Biographia Btitamica.
a Constant R-ader returns his thatks to N. O. and iV. & D. for their anfwers th his enquries after Archdeacon lienshaw, a cipy of the infoription to whote memory, meationed by the former, w.ll be tughty acceptabic ; as well as ony pariculars from the parochal regiter refpeetng his wife and chndre. - - en. Was the Rev. Enmicid Henshaw, vicar of Sutton-Valence, in Kent, his fa:her? or of what family was lie?

A Correspondent wifhes fome of our readers would inforna hom how the suts which infelt hot houtes, or other places, may be efocomally deftroyed.

Curroses anks for information concerning the Suar bers, as they are called, in Lodden; why they are confined to the Metrophe; and what is the origin of thefe fubitututes to the Coroner, where tircre is no fulpicion of violent death?

J W.aks, "Can an improvement be c.thed. n iuventom? For infance, a machine is already invented, and in public we; an ingenious mechanic, by the applica:lon of certain mechanical powers (ot neuly invented, lint never before appl =d to (hat pu:pote) produces an impiovernent; can this be called an int ention :"
$\mathrm{C}_{\text {ainume }}$ las our bett thanks.
＊＊Wre are much oblizet to the reppetable Correfponient tubo bas favoureit us with the follurivig juticnile，but manterly，Protuctions，

VERES ON miss cotrs and miss wil－ mot＊，bothe tromas warton， blpolar of trin．colle oxfoed． －．．Auc legat ifja Lycoris．Tifgil．
＊$_{*}$＊AN imperfoct copy of the following poems haing not only heen handed about in paivate，but actaray offered to a borkfeiler（whete fingular 1 orefty in wiufing then，on mo other accurt than his tupering them a falfe copy，is well whers，the amtatin of the fratemity）， the auth ：，in oricr in prevent any fu－ ture fantinas edtion，thanks it has duty to lay a grane copy hef ectme publich． > versis on mies cotes.

界tivinit ymphs while Cxford＇stafte－
lefs fuains， Whin fond compro adrefs ther＂tri，al That，tonfed fill by every fighina fmat， Have cain＇d madon ed role oer ev＇iy heait；
Sill whet＇d ty a train of mowderd fparks， Qneens ith．M．ll，a a hackney＇d in the P．r．ss ；
Tis cmis th difrozard the public voice，
Whers frimion gives the faubion to the ctooce；
－Ticoms：h beautier，lovely Cotec，to bonat， wee，［ 1 ce；

 A．＂．．li le taten ；mmpty of ta．e．
 Some fov＇s te fatare，that c．an ch mathe 1 ent． ［fisint， ＇Tir not tive thare at ne that pures the c． $19 \%$

Sot be jum fine and full refult of all ；
Fud thy tais dirm ous raptard bufoms wams
Wi＇h all t：e sraccf 1 nogligence of coms．
 Whersengnily compare with whthig－．．e． Wian double arts con lane us mino tore，
Lou thate hate Vams－and like Venus пะッ女。
All，th the Gt ces give the there rimid， mid：［［a，e， Nor nume thinc hors the toreth＇s a wes

＊Mit cote whothe eमlelt d．Ract $f$ Dighy Core，Pu：c Ontan，and tramipu

 Rer，raw a widu．

Blett are the fons of Maudin＇s lear 1 dome，
［hor；
Faft by whofe feats the Fair bass fix＇d On whom thine eyestherr itrengent influe ： heam， ffres！ Thon hovelv gueen of Cherwells fil Yet，ali！ulhteft the fons of Mands s dome，

Ther ； Fat by whofe feats the Fair has fix＇d They fall a viction to the neighb＇ring da， Nir Cherwell＇s itreams can cool the rass A：me；
From thy briglt eyes the Aroke of fate－ And for the beanteous Co es ther Pis 1－ave．
［tops
Meantime，while usthe Fites hive doo d Remote，and abficat fiom thy furn divi， Thy ciarms transfix our blecheng te ［ftr：
Rach though remota，and at a dift： In van front Beauty＇s influence ue rei， Thine eyes o＇atake us like the I ghtnins нie．
What dowith nor we the ht fe Ch－ prigne conh ata，［tor When，lovel Cones，t＇y fav＇rite nime Tag far＇rite nunc，lac P．œlus＇rays－ vine，
Imparis near fla：our，and improves Th，when thy he．utes conf crate the g in O s two ble Port for Ir．f Champaiz ma＂pars．
Mantum frigive the Poet of thy pr， That row ；itall plo log his humble la
 （T＇ongh vaid o！art）thote killing eye vin；
Th．ofe Ellh g cues are here lef fatal for， Fur，whle my lays they read，they ceaio wound．

VERS，S ON MISS WILMOT．

0E？lfic bloowing bank；，with ！ cale，
1 fough to find the mof diftinguim＇d $\mathbf{F}$ ， To ctop the toftelt How＇r，wati eager：： It ic＇d each vale，and ru＇do＇rev＇is ins． While ：Il anoma manumer＇d charms clofe，
Iride of the bank，the beautenns wilt
Not by vain clarme，which vilgar Be－ Wes benat，
Whmot aferts hat title to the toart．
The 1. ght coquertu attempts whthlitte is Wimene er the：Alall the theads，to gain $r$ he：rte；
She frames a varions train of winning w ， Govens each ghane and difciphes $\mathbf{r}$ inter：
Fact；dutcou：curc＇fy drops with fend And ties br－r boop with molt inviting ：； Slic leams to breathe the ge the amis ligh，
An！Al the conduq of the rolling eye； Now kindly ters upon the piling fwai Nu：the wh lok affecio of cold difdai

She learns th' alluring lifp, the gracoful ftart, Each ftep, defign, and eviry motion, art : But, an! how vain the foft decei: is found! She gives no wounds, becaufe the means to wound.
[is feen,
But, when buight Wilmot', fanitiefs form
Moving in all the majefty of mien,
How foon e.l.psid retures each light coquette!
How fon before her fun each far is fot!
Whate'er infpre'd immortal Raphat's mind,
In fummer eve, on balmy banks rechin'd;
When glow'd his mind with images of sr ce,
Studious a fea-boun Venus form to trace;
When all the Godiefs rufth'd upon his view,
Frefh from the wave, and wet witi "cenn's desv ;
[ounte,
In Wilmots form with minglong charms And all that' beantecus prour up in the fight. Frefh as the primrofe meald, of bilufling roie,
With native charms asch gentle fatme But though the butdng rofe he: cle ks adern, [thoriz.
Like that they womn 1 -amd hear a $f_{10}$ a Her face a miracle of heauty fills, [k\|ls. Sufenefs that wounde, and innoc. nuo that If fix'd on earth he: buftulul cyes are fund, Lo, Phæebus rays defce ding t?rike tie gromal! [to warm,
Hither, hrg't Maid, a youthful hreast With arp-ct mold inclue thy tove: y firm! Oh! let me view thife lips p offufe of fweot, Where fnfeft Bemuty with Perfunfon fits! Hafte, tet me weave a fragrant flow'ty c10..1),
To bind liy a mowing locks of glofly brown : Stll let mesaze upon that breat uly ne,
Wher, in tweet unton, a! the practs join; Where each igh that F ncy fom mi feen, Withont, all P-aty, and Al Fhuth winhin!

While "Wilmot's charms my glowng thengh s engage,
Adieu the matnight han, he panful page. Her ch rms each wieful fentiment impart, And fill :efine a they mprove the hat: For, more inftuctve are her bemuterus looks.
Than all the learnat indolene of broks.

At once to scanh and cham, mitact and pleafe.
While thus thy Peret, in umpolith'd verf,
Dares all thy tempting graces to rehearte;
While in my !trans thy blioming beaty lives,
And, what the Mufe denies, a Venus gives;
Queen of my 'ong, O deign a kmd res mi,
And crown with laurel-wisath thy hem le B.rd!
[:am'd,
Long have thy charms my captive heat de. And long m, wul in Love's foff fette, s chain'd:
Reward in kind return thefe dureous liys, Pr give me back my heart-or give the bass.

SONNET, ey miss locke.

5E hoary rocks, that lift your anful forms,
[adiert,
Receive a wretch who bids the world Anmious th hafte from life's contending ftorm:
And fiy to gloomy folitude and you.
Through the wide world a wand'rer long 1 Aray'd, [fimles;
Where in th' unvorthy partill Fontute Bur, al:! to me the ne lent her aill,

She naver notc'd Surrow's friundlefs child.
O Here! thou fon of man's fill varyins day,
[tears,
D.atifiv warm riys acrofs my vale of Dive from my fight Defpait's black clouds away, [ay years:
And, though not joy, let Peice lead on Teachata i fas poignantly life's ills to feel, And footle that anguigh wheh thou candt notheal!

SONNET, BY THE SAME.
算OURNER, I hear thy agonizing 1 fee thee, mon that all thy hopes are fled, Cait o'er the tranuld deep a tearful eye,

Then fills on the rock thy aching head!
Bat, hark 1 thofe founds, borne on the frefhong gate, [5low,
Bdt'y deffonwing hent with rapture Fa , mader fee the long-exputed rai!,

Whae ager love chades the too tardy prow.
The calm su'er; the blatimpetuons fweeps:
I fie that prercing look of deen dry is
Quck glawing on thy chld, whin tmiling Aceps, [happuers:
Lulth by the form which wrecks his Hefeeps: nor heeds a mother's f:antic crus, [es? While the fond futhr , the loved humand, imitation of the italian soseg,
." in quel viso furbirella."
by A: s. piozzi.

TN that rogni-h face one tees
1 Ay her lex's whthenes:
Tha fal we nelt, cold difdain-
Ev ry thinge to turn one's bram.
Suarking from exmeftive eye,
Heaving in , te ct al fighs,
$S$ ate Jeftation dall we find-
Sull we lofe our peace of mind!
Touch'd hy her h.alf tremblug hand,
Can the cold it heart withitand,
White we dread the fartins ters, And the tender arcents hea, $\stackrel{y}{*}$
Numbert is atr; fure, the ways
That the facma es our gize:
Magic arts her pow' improve--
Witchernes that wait on Love!

Varfes fuppofed to be written by Thomas Hutchumo of twakton, zubo was driven to Sea, in an open Boat. out of the River Te-s, by a viacicnt Gule of Wiad, Yon. 23, 1795, anit was taken up on the Evening of the folltrwing Day off Hinly In und, on the Coay: of Northumberlan', a Dijance of almaf? 100 Miles. being the nourcf Land, though not withi", Sigh), by the Argo, of Sunderman, whick had been divecen out of Whatbo Roats by the jame Gale

THE foamng billows. loutly raging, SWell hef ire the rifing torim;
Dettruezion all my thunghts engacinGood Heavin prefervemptort fombarm!
Als! my anchor, fmall and tender, Stides thefure the fwelling bieeze; Save, oh! fave me, life's Defender! Ste, we leave the friendly Tees!
Trementinus rolls the mishty ocean, Waves on waves foll higher ret;
Scarce my velfel hears the motion; Lo the frikes the frowning on es.
Now from thes wat'ry rithe fue's ready To launch i: to the vaft protoun,
My beart and hade no longor tiondy Feet ber beat the hellow gromut.
With fanting voice I call afilit nice, Call-hut there is mone to hea-
Every help is at a diftance; My drooping foul's appalld a ith fear;
All around my eye-tall haming Seek fome diftant mumta n's brow ;
Nought I hear but torrents dathing; Nought but Heav'n can fave me now.
See! my boat with water filling Soon munf fink bene.th the wave!
The dreadful thought my lancy ciuling Lends my arm the firnsth tw lave:
A little lighten'd by ny labour, Hope revises within my bre ft,
Hope, a kind and friendiy neighturn, Soritus the momning foul to rett.
33.t, with berror, day dechining Lenves me here in duknafs bumad;
Now adea to gref and pinine, Here a wat'ty srave l've fiend;
"O thou Sun," ! cry, and, farting, Anxions gaze upon the fkics,
"I fe thy friendy beams departing, "But who, al s! will fee !laterife?"
Night comes on-but darinief never Eclipfes :11 the genial light,
The white furf aids my tond endeavomr, Ad d joyfulchecrs my aching figlt.
Once mose Hope, with anzel forture, Sirks into my tor urd heat!
Heav'n, preterve thy bumbled c!eature, And lead hine to a port'if reft.
A:I hat the fign ! the herming morwing Glances o'er the rolling wave,
In rays, the fin If finge atorning, cote o.rafit of the power to fave.

My little fliff ftell braves the motion, Still the drives hefore the gale;
My eyes I dart along the ocean, In hopes to fyy a pating fail.
Dreadful ftll is all around me, No glimple of the at ful thore is nigh, Death in hideous forms furrounds me, Hear, oh! hear my earneft cry! Alone, tx'raufted, tempert-driv'n, Here my lahours ah mult end; Protect my wife, all !ighteons Heav'n! And he to my poor babes a fremed
Decip fighs within my bofom heaving, Althon, hotears bedew my cheek,
Tell the wharpend pong at leaving All I love tiein ho to ieek:
An! while! gaze, my eye-talls frainingIs it a fail that glats my fight?
It is-and Heav'n has he rut my 'plaining Before another dicadful night.
Words I want to fpeak my feeling; See, they caft the friendly rope!
Hiere, in water humbly kneeling, Thanks-for this is more than hope!
Now on-boar the simp atriving, How my flutring thoughs rejoice!
Joy and fear tugether itrivingAıd do I hear a human voice?
And can I fee without eniotion, While on this fafe deck I Itead,
My little boat fink in tie ucean, Through various perils buther led?
'Tis gone-and ye, whe hear my ftory, Jom in praife to Heav'n above;
To Hrm alone be pow'r and glory, To us benevolence and love!

ODE TO TRAGEDY.

HAll, Sitter of the falle ftole ! 1- 'Tis thine to meliorate the foul; To drav the temer tear from Pity's eye, Wimle faft 'ring Virtue he ave the Length'ming figh,
And groans beneath Oppreflion's rod;
Or Fhial Duty weeps at parent's woe;
Pale Contancy hang o or leer urn;
Difrated Love lamente, fiom all his withe torn;
O wife vicifitudes of fate below,
To hamble haggity man, and lift the fou' to God!
The frantic eye, the hurrying pace,
And all th' impretive honors 'f thy face, For me have more fublime delights
Than ill thy laugheng Sificis ainy hights: When Shakfpeare bears the ton along In atl the rative majetty of fong; Now fires with rage, now ch:lls with fear Now melts the icy breatt with Pity's tear, Alike in all, O Bard fublime, Above the rankligg rage of Deathor Time

But, ah! what hideous forms around thee throng!
Can thefe inftil the moral fong ?
See, Virtue finks beneath the villain's hand!
Succefsful Murder hails hi booly band!
Lo, wild Defpar's relentefs knife High-rais'd againft his facred life !
Blind Jealonly the poifon'd cup prepares!
Fell Hor ro's ftarting eye-ball ghares !
And fqualid Ter ror flies before!
Whle recklefs Fury ruthes on,
His peniard red with reeking gore
Warm trom the heart in which he liv'd alone!
'Tis paft: ftill Virtue chirss thy care;
The fev'rifh reign of Vice foon metts in sir'; For, lo! anotifer train fuccee is, A vengers of atrocions deeds!
See purple Guilt, with lowk : ighat, By tort'ring pafions vesed fire;
Poffefs'd his foul with hagrard fear As Confcience, fill to Virtue dear,
Holds up a gloomy picture of the patt;
And keen Remorfe ftill bids him " neep no mere;"
Till tears of forc'd contrition ceacelefs $\mathfrak{A l}: \mathrm{w}$,
And Furies hurl him to the fhades below.
o Coddefs of the tear-fwoln eye,
Be facred Juftice ever nigh,
In all her folemo hurrors ctad,
To tell the Tytame trambins, on his throne, He livas not for himelfalone;
In vain he fcapes irom human law,
Thy airy mmifters fill hame the bad,
Sink deep into his fout, and keep him fill in awe!
Sweet Mufe: thy leffons teach the foul
The wayward patfions to controul:
By Heav'n implanted they for tobleft et:ds, When Reafon's foler lamp attends,
Afar from Error's dark and devious wa:
To guide her heps to Tiuth's effingent dy:
Ah, foolifh man! why quit ber cheerng ray ?
The tranquil pleafures hers that never cley:
With her alone disell Virtue, Happonefs, and Joy!

Fitzmokris.
LINES TO HER WHO WILL NOT URDERSTAND IHE: K.
CAD wa the partue hour, and hung

1) Each fittring necent on my to $\varepsilon^{\text {ucte }}$

When doom'd to leave the quiet fort,
The bower of chr, the c. Ina retic:t,
Where late nuy heart wis taught wh kiow
Love's masic pow'r, and fomil: ghow
Widh that pare flame whin itation lights,
When benty with gond fenfe umate,
To warm the bofom intolove,
And ev'ry tender pifi in ne:
Monrnfuli a bent my wand tus way,
'To grief and wretchemofs a prey.
Now at a diftuce and remote,
Each former fct: E I c. sibl note, And tre, fule, whe that review, Tlofe tanfert jogs wh ch fwoth Row.

How well remember'd is each hour
1 loiter'd in Lhzishow'r
How perfect each remmek o curs,
She made on p . fining characters!
Fach thought, each ohtravato on fit,
Well pointed, and replete will wit,
Told that her mud's accomplithed grace
V'd with the hemurs of her face.
Oft on the narsin or the man,
Or on tha verat it up?and fan,
At morn, or ev'ning's grat-f.1 Chade,
Chufe at iner Io: c'y les, 1 itrayd.
Oft on yan ple c:d ab wan lign
Glising in radiance tirouzh the fk",
Whale fla eam'd its mellow fuod of light,
Chacing the ehon reign of Night,
Gazi: $\mathrm{g}_{\mathrm{g}}$ the ftuo ${ }^{-1}$, in raptnie lot?,
At Cyntian, and the fatry hotr;
Uncontcions that the there might find
An emblem of her nwn pare mind.
Still as Difexie, wihl tyrant fway,
S!ow, but refilefs in ducsy,
Summon'd a Siluer to the grave,
In $v$ in effey'd each art to five;
Still be wht ceatelefsamb in trove,
Tryd allthe ignpathics of twe
To cinm Conumption's minurg pain,
Or mitis te it wafting reign,
To mate the hatent hape, atd chear
Whapropect of reco '1: near,
Or piture, to the glitining eye,
Heathe's remomed tienrares matit.
At wes uhtre Letor y racall in,
Oipention in ats facto failid,
Where Mercy, or where Rodiun, save
The gife cf freedon to the ilave, Humbled the tyrant to the earch, Nor kinew diftinetons bat of worth, Well I wementher tiather e:e Beamid wila ferwhe eetacy, With re foms baghteft ranace forne, And tee a's, in temphitanil, to own Thit Nature's fult an belt lecree Was "slan is born: © 1.i"ctiy."

Such calan reficitions, deep impref'd, Reen w th uarn in tasence in my breaft; Shed a mid charm, and fort impure The dreary folitule 1 live; Thereas f trace, a contant ray Of jif illumes each raing day, Atten is my walang tom, ond keeps My man, when veat id Nature fleps. silidues-lize ha whe tiam, Silll vadizet the thome; But the cion wato fomy prale K.ow, int my Ma, nor ony lays !

Nixylefo.

TO MIN W:O WHE ENDERSTANM THEM.

พ?

When oft, in friendly converfe, thought met thought,
And each idea its twin fifter brought?
${ }^{3}$ Iis not her nature friendfaips thus to frame,
Enjoy the fwects, and then forget the name;
No-Mem'ry's failliful tablets well have fior'd
The ufeful truths thy converfe did afford; And oft, as on my fav'rite orb I $\mathrm{g} z e$,
I think on thinfe who love her beauteous ray,
Whofe tafte her modiat mild Effulgence court,
And to the foangled Heav'ns oft refort ;
For, though a itranger to Love's idle dream,
Not fo to rational and fix'd efteem ;
And, though to Hymen's thrine the ne'er will hend,
She hails thee ittll as Father and as Friend.
And though, my Friend, on earth we meet no more, [olne;
Fach coming morn for thee I'll He w't in
Its choiceft bleflions afk to coonn thy dizs,
And make thy life one conftant fource of praife. [whib,
And might I be, when fummoned to the
Thy Guardian-Angel in a sorid to come,
With fon'ring care watch o'er each rafirs thought,
[raushi,
Profper each deed with love of Virtue
Cherifh each dear benevolence of heart,
And each fair charm which gooduebs can impart,
[.proves,
And bid thee lead the life which Heav'n
"As derpents wife, yet harmlefs e'en as dover," [hearie,
That Virtue's annals might thy wane re-
By Angels wrate in Heav'n, by Fame on E.ath,
[he,
Nigh cancel'd then the mental deht would
Which, when on earth, 1 glad receiv'd from thes.
Then, when the fabric of this lower world
Shall, at a word, be trom ts centic liurl'd,
When all flall vanifi "s a atal- tint's c id,"
And Nature's beauties ue no mose he-lwh,
When flame: of fire finll be trom "eav'is unfurl'd,
[a wold,
And not a wreck-where once there was
When fonl and body glad nall 1 e -unte,
Then may we iom in friendhip infante;
There we, pertaps, in omion thef may trace,
No more with mort 1 but with angol grace,
Whate'er wit! far and Heav'n- $\mathrm{E} \cdot \mathrm{r}$ :i wh de flauglt,
Each emanaion from the oth revupht;
For, Care and Surow hall for cuel the.
And Fnemuls $p$ flouribh thongle etemit.
Accent thefe ines, whicu fumpie wh thats 1-, 2.,
Glows in $m$, he $r$ :, and reldens in $m y$ cheed ;
I feek we Als ily metaphor or trop-, But fomple Naturc's frec and arelif fope.

THE SEA-SIDE SONNET,

From Mr. Prat t's Gleanings. (Sce p. 232.

()N the brink of the teach as Ifilent!
roam'd, $\begin{aligned} & \text { [fuften'd fanc } \\ & \text { My forrows I mark'd on the wavs }\end{aligned}$ Loud blew the wild winds, and the whit billows foam'd, [ Atrant
And threw the falt fleeces of furf on th Faft flow'd-in the tide, yet regardlefs ftood,
[my fee
And folt the white billows advance $t$ The fand-malks of forrow were bit in th flood, [bofom bea
And the fpray of the ftorm on my har In the flory of woe not a thought could trace, the wreck of a word, and 1 faid $t$
Nut the wreck of a word, and 1 faid $t$
Ah! if thusyou the fory of woe can el face,
Your bounty might fure be extended t If here I rem on thy bittow heat fhore

No friend near at hand in falfe p.ty t fave.
[be oc':
My woes, like their fany, wond quicki
And bett owe to thee, foaming Oceat a srave!"
The billows roll'd on, when fomethin within, [to repl!
More ftrong than the ocean. feem'd thi
"Man no murder thall do, e'cu in forrou 'tis fin;"
(iis)
I felt the command, and oney'd with Verfes addraffet to a young Woman, wobo, wis intcrefte? Vicues. f.rotic to cajole an Old Man.
$\int$ EASE, Silvia, veafe! your morous ftri Can ne'er selame the lamp of iife, Or call back vernal years:
The rofy wreath, that Y'outh hefows,
In Age's uint r never blows,
No fecond Spring appears.
That feafon paft, you vainly ftrive
My dying paffons to revive,
When Time has chilld my hoar?;
To kindle love with fuedy'd charms,
When genal heat no longer watms, Exceeds the powar of at.
What though your cheeks with rofes vie, And peafure iparkles in your eye;

Your lips a coral red;
Yoor hotom as the hily far,
Ant bull of gece your thape ard air: No beanty wakes the cead.
Like you the azazline fol:r rat,
On Hecl's foow, in oxampon ilay, Duputes Atern Winter's regn;
 Thote bans stoglowing eatail. mek, And Plánes sames in wand.
But could 1, $H \rightarrow$ y's ! at once ecquire
The hoar y in d, a d hea: of Ere,
That Hecla's doum'd to prove,
Cf hy bright eyes the potent gleam
Wou'd at my factulies uthame,
And anetit my roul to buee!

INTELLIGENCE OF IMPORTANCE FROM the LONDON GAZETTES.

Almiratty-Offue, Nar-b 15 . EWrakt of a Lettcr from (iep*. Yobn Coskc, of His Majefiv's Ship walee, dated at "ipitbead, the $14^{\text {th of Narth, }} 17,6$, to E's.un Nepean, Efl.

SIR,

I beg you will pleafe to acquaint the Lords Commifioners of the Admiralty, hat on the loth init. (Scilly per account rearing N.E. diftance 18 or 20 leagnes) I dllin wath and captured L'Afpie, French National Catter of ten grons and 57 retil, ad brought her in here. She ha! been ten lays from St. Maloes, and hadd cantured the ohn Sloop, of and from Galwa; for porto.

Horfe-Guadi, Marcb 17. Exproet of a etter received by the Rt. Hon. 17. Donds, oni Major Genera! Leigh, commadarg his Majefly's tromps in the Weat Indies.

Matinico. Fan. 21, $17,6$.
I this day receive! Brigadicr-General tewart's ftarement of the :attack on his amp at St. Viracent's on the Sth mit. and he return of the kille-1, wounded, and mif. ang, in that unformate atfar. The sn. ernor and a commitee of the legit ture f St. Tincent haying written to the coraanding officer at karbatoes on the firt f this difafter, Brigalier-Ger er I Ennox nmediately font off zioo men of the 6 ad esiment, who had atrived there, under omm of Lieutemant-Culonel Gowe', to seir affitance.
Pxtract of a Letter from Mínor Goncral IIunter to Mujor-limeral Lugh, Me.2l-是witeri, Kiugfoum, st. Vonents, "ur. 19, 1796.
Herem:h I bave the honour to :nclofe to our Excellency a letter fron Brgadioreneral Stewart, with a litt of the killed, rounded, and matne, in the unfortunate Tion of the 8 th inft. I have made the left rangeme : : ald think of for the tafery IF Fort cnaluter, and the protection of is town; to effect which 1 was under re neceltity of exw uating the new vigie, erceiving the eneny', interition of cutting four commuriation with it. I :1/o Wged it prodent to withdraw the ?aty om Morne Ronde, fo that my whale ree is now concentered at the polts of ane Garden, Keane's Houce, Kingform, as Fort Charlote. 1 mut, however, whrre, that the very hard cury the men and ticers are ondged to do at prefeni canst be fupported for any length of time; ad, if fome reinforcement is not fent, i luch fear that I thall be under the newef$y$ of retiring with the troops into Fort harloste, which is a poit, in my opinion, it to be taken by all the force the enemy wh hring agan't it.

Extuat of a Ister from Brigalier Corivat Stewurt to Major-Cencral Huntcr, Ninejtor, Yinn. 13, $1-96$.
About 3 in the morning of the Sth inft. the enemy mole an attack on our $1+\mathrm{ffi}_{\text {, }}$ where we had a three-pounder and a cobom pliced upon a rougue of tand, which ran not about fifty yards, thonght, from the Reepnefs on each fide, to be itmuf inaccofithe. On the fir fithe, I mamediately ran out as Eaft as the dankiof on on'd permat me. and wa neet hy Mind Harcourt, filldunticer of the d.y. If fund the mera all paratest, ant Brigitior Cerieral Sthut, wha liad juf elien received a wond in his face, oxurente himele mench whithe rath re, ment that procedeltatlelefi; tur, fr me tire daknete, conllt ner dift.nguinh the: eneny from com now fuldiers fano Nis tine a Frenchathicerlala got over cher wo tr, nal wistakn prifuel) ; ont, not Being yet cerrain uhether the enemy had Sik monf mion of the hattery to the left, I imenel $M$ gue bameont to remforce that pore with he picqut of the icth; lut, before thas conts be d. ne, I had tom much dattay difindand a meflenger to lienteor pat of the fecond Wert Iatia regiment; hut, hefore the melfenger has got many yarls, a firing wes heand on the right from the eneny, and allatern the fiont. In this fituann I left Capt. Herrifon, of the light company of the 5 the $^{\text {th }}$ reginent, moft actively employed in ufing every exertion to keep his inen to their duty, and was proceading to the right, by the 4 ath regiment, to know what was duing there; bat 1 had forsce reache! thas regimat, whon 1 head the huttery I had left uis token. 1 mRantly tumed abom, diresting Major Harconrt, withall the nam of tha quth he could chleet, to follow me andre-tahe the battery. 1 agan met Erigader-fiener: 1 Strutt betwern fome men, who informed me his leg was flatered, and Capt. Harrifon that thomph the thatder. I fita pa! inal ta warl, afing iny beat end arous, with other officers, to an mate the men to theer ditw, nany of whom at that moment were kilfed tand woun!ed. At that the the theops sit the front and on the righe of the line gue way, and the enemy took p. Hitho of the remaining battery. In thmelt: of. We reaclied Biaton with thtwifiler able bis. The eneny hum on our bear and rizht; hat, thom the julicious attentwon of t.entewant-colnat thiler (who, on evory occafan, affordel me the mort renly alli tance) and Lentenint colmel Gralhan, they were kept eff. Bah wheng upwrds of tivelve mates from hughota whthent
witlinat provifion, and little anmunition, it appeared by no means prodent to take poit here; I therefire, is foon as the men had got fome little ren, and it became dapls (aftor having ordered fires to be Kindle (), refumed our march towards Kingfon mundefted. Permit me, hefore $\pm$ conchude, to exprefs the beavy lofs 1 finfkain+d in the want of the ahle affiftatce of Brigadier-General Strutt, who was fevereIv wounded foos affer the commencement of the at ack, as well as that of Mone Piarcourt, and other brave officers, ipecified in the return of our lofs.

Nanes of Offrecrs wouste.l. Brigadier-General Stutt, Brigade-Major Stewart, Bti-gade-Major Walfod; Major H reomer; Captains Harrifonand Davidion;-Sthalterns Simmonds (fiace dead), Freierick, Spence, Cairnes, Verity, Cliaplin, Panton, Darley, Murroud, and Le Cader;-Surroon Bollon ; Capt. Comming, alfintant to the Qarter-Matter-General, milting :-Votuntex A.hbunner (4oth regiment), killed.

Almiraliy Offec, March $\mathbf{I}^{2}$.

Fxtract of a Lettir fion the Hon. Robert Sitpford, Captain of IIts Majefy's Sbip, Phaten, ao Mr. Nepean, dated at Sea, Mincobir, :795, Cape Finifare, E. N. E. to langus. I have to requett you wit inform wy Iords Commifioners of the Adminatt, that the French corvette, La Bome Citoyeme, mounting 20 nine-pounters, and earrying 145 men, was caplat dyetlerday by the fquadron under my orders, Cupe Finifterre E. by N. $5^{2}$ leagues. S'e left Roclifort on the th $^{\text {th }}$ int. in company with La Forte, La Seine, La Regéve: ef frove, and La Mutine brig, deftued for the int de France, and have trones and a meat quantity of foldiers clathing on boud.

Almiralty-Office, Marcib 22. The fil wing difparch has be en receivel it Whis caice foom Sir William Suney Smith.

Diamunti, of Cate Frebri, Marin 18.
Sir, Having received intomano: that the armed veitels detacbed by the limece of Subillou had chafol a convoy, fo fitiong of a cur ette, luggers, four biess, and two flous, hino Herqui, I proceeded off that Furn, to recomoitre their pofition, and Found the channel, which 1 found very nal row and inticate. 7 fucceched, 1.0 vever, in gating a know ledge of thefe proints fulficient to dorermine me to attick then in the Dammon', without fors of time, and withoat wathes for the juncinom of any part of the Squadion, lett the eneny davald fortify thersechen ithll farther wo cur appearance Lem. MoKinley, of the Liberty bing, whd heat, Gofit, of the Arintoerat lugger, jomed me off the Cape, and, thomal, minder mvenders, very handfomely ff red their fervices, uhichlac. cepted, as farall vetifls werc cifumially ne-ceffary in fuch an operation. The pera nent fortification for the defence of the B are two batteries on a high rocky promo tory. We obferved the enemy to be ve buthly employed in mounting a detacliedg on a very commander point of the entran At one a'clock yefterday afternion t glanopened upon us as we palted; the D mond's fire, licusever, filenced it in It I mates. The nther's oplen do on us as we ca round the point; and their commanding tuation aswing them a leciled advant. over a hip in our pofition, I judged in ceflary to adopt asother mude of atta, and accerdingly deacised the maines boarder to land behind the ront, and t. the barteries in the oar. As the boats proacl:ed the beach, tivey m=t with a w: reception, and a temporary check, fror a body of troops drawn up to oppofe tis landing: the fituation was critical, e, thip being expufed to a mon g.alling ${ }^{1}$, and in insticate pilntaze, witir a comfid We portion of ber men thus ictached, I pointed ant to lient. Pme the appat prathabitity of c!imbing the precipic a fromb of the batteries; which be re:. dily :ceived, and, whit an aloer.ty and ha'y of $w$ hich I have lad many profs in e courfe of our feirice together, be untook and exemed this hazantous fert han'ing immednatuly under the gune, d pencerng himfelf inater of them ixfore e culumn of trops conld regain the hei s. The fire fiom the finj was diredied to of our men in this operathen; it checke enemy in their adrmoment, and the enburkation was effectet, as foon a te Buns wete foket, with"ut the lofs mar, thonsth we have to 1 egiet Lient. ter of the mantnes buing dangerit wounded on this occafora. The ene Equs, thiree twenty-fotir-punulers, ! filenced, and tendeted atelefo for the.te, we proctealed in athick the cor te mad the other armed vetfels, wheth ha by this tume openeal their file on us, to cer the operation of haulang themfelven flame. the Damond wis wherored as fe to the corvette as lier da fi of water y $1 / \mathrm{d}$ allow. The Lilerty bity was able tpo proach ne ar; and, on this accafion, 1 no not omit 10 m ution the very gallan ad judiciens $n$ an eer in which Licut. M' n key, her comman er, breaght this velf nto actuon, profiting by her light da bf water in fithorv the corvette dofe. he eneny's fire foon nackened ; and the ow being ohferval to be making for the ite, on the Englith cuiours beii g hoifted, be hilt, I mode the fignat for the buats, inned ind ammed, to toand, direeting aut. Goffet, in the lugger, to cover them. his fervice was executed by the party fror the fhore, under the direction of lieut. pe, in a manner that does them infinite " 1 it , and him every honom; as a brave mat ind

496].  Interefing Intellig nice from the London Gazettes.

o able offlcer. The enemy's troops occuhied the lagh projecting rocks all wumd he velcels, whence they kept an ineflant fire of nurfucery; and the utmolt hat could be effected at the mome twas to et fire w the corvette (named LEEtiondie, of 16 guns, twelve promiers, on the m an leck), and one of the merolant hregs; ince; as the tide fell, the enem; prolied own on the fonds, clur th the vellels; jeut. Pine therefor: roturned on-hard, laving received a fevere contufion on the reait from a mufket-bill. As the tide rofe gain, it becume prafticable to make a ieond attempt to burn the remaiming veliels. .eut. Pearfom was accordanly detache: or that purpore with the hoa:s ; ant, I..m sappy to add, his gathent exations Gucreded to the utmoft of my ho es, motwithen nding the renewell and heavy fre of mufquetry from the frore. This fire vas returned with great fitut and evident ood effect; and I was much pleafed wit! he conduct of Liem. Goffet, in the hired ugger, and Mr. Knight, in the Diamonl's aunch, who covered the appruach and rereat of the boat. The veti-k were all ournt, except an armed lupgra, which kept ip her fire to the laft. The wind and tive biting at 10 at night to come out of the tarbour agail. we, weighed and rep on-1 he point of Hergri, foom which we recived a f. w thot, the enemy having formend neans to reftore one of the guns thactivity. Jur lor, as appears by the inclofed ; etum, strifling, confuering the nature of the enerprize, and the length of time we were :xpoled to the enemy's fine. Their', I am serfoaded, muft have been grear, from the umbers within the range of our thot and hells. The conduct of every officer and nan under my command acees with my warmeft approbation; it would he fuperginous to particularize any others than thofe I have named; futice it to fay, the charatteriftic bravery and amivity of Burtith feamen never was more confpicuous. Lient. Pine will have the honour to profent their lordhips with the chlours which he ftruck on the hattery; and I bag leave to recommend him particularly to their kuthips as a moft mentonous oticer. I have the ho. ndar to be, &c. W. Sinney Smith. Evan Nepian, ef 7 . Sicctuyy to tbe Alp: iafty. A rethrn of tix tilled and ivountle! belonging to bis Mingely's J.p.p Diamonit, in the three at tacks of the cheny's buteries ant $f /$ ipping in Herqui, the 7:b of Mach, $1+05$.

Killed-2 leamen. Woundel-Firt Lieut. Hornce Pome, Lieut. Carter of the Almaraty-Offce, March $=6$. Copy of a difpatch, received at this ofice, from $\mathrm{S} \cdot \mathrm{r}$ Juhn Burlafe Warren, h.rt K. B. dated, La Pemone, 'Falmoutb, Murab 24, 17g6.

Sir, I ber laveto inform you, that on the $3^{\text {th }}$ init in colleq enene, of my letter to their lordips tron Falmouth, insod over to whe French coalt, in learch of the Artois, who jained me on the 1 ofth; and on the 20 h, at day break, hiving difcovered, from the math-head, feverat fall of veffels in the S S.E. the Saints hearing N.N.E. three or four miles, made the fignal to the fquadron under my command, confiting of the hips named in the margin*, fur a general chafe. anl, upon our nearer approtch, perceived then (1) be a convory of the enemy Recriug in for the land. At ten A. M. being up with part of the morchant-fhipe, I captured four, and ordered the Valiant lugger to proceed with them to the neareft port. I continueal in partuis of the men of wat, who were formurg in lime a head to windward, and kep: working to come up with the enemy, who, I loon perceised, were endravourng to preferve their diftance fiom us, ard to avoid an aetom, by theit t.cking at the lame time w th on thips: but, heing at le: gitarrived whinathl! gime thot to leewn, the two finatroas anSest, add pation each other won opafite tacks. bamedtatety upon our itromon thip being aleareic the encmy'stine, 1 made the fignal to tick ardgim the wind, which, by making a very thos: poard on the Parbaratack, ras notai.ed. Percening then ratying romd the conmodore clufe in flome and beginnang io form agenin, 1 made the bonal for ours, in dafe order, to enteavour to trotk there line, by catting ott the rear thip, and i1ected the Gaiarea to le:d down for th:
 anale all fal polthle from we, and atood into the norow part of the Raz de Fontenav amng the rocks. I was, however, enabled to cut of their rear thup. Nagtr appriacling, and heing macquanted with the paltage, I diat mo think it proper to lofing fome of ou: haps in fo diffecult a pafs. I have ever, rafon to be convinced, frowt e firm fuppart and zeal I have always expertencen from the efficers and neen of evely then of the fiquatran end. r my command, that the iffue of the cumer? sor fd have been mare complete of the enemy had been more dippofed on give them an opportunity of irymg ther force. I hate molnfed in acc u't of the enemy's farce, trgether with: the veliels of the convoy taken; and al lit of the killed and whofe-damages 1 in tl make al difpation pithle in reparang. I have the homon to be, &c. &c. Johas Forlast Wakrex.
P. S. A hi-corvete, two hrig corvetles, and a lugger, remand with the convoy.

Aijia of Rcpubliean men of suar engazed by the Juation unler the command of Sir Yoon Aorlafe Firancon, Burt. K. B. Narectizo.
La Pioferpine, Capt. Digier, commodore, 41 guns, eighteen puanders, 500 men, efcapeci; E.Unité, Cap.. Durand, 40 guns, cigite en pounder: i" nen, eformen; Le C-quile, 40 grins, eigtwen-pounlers, 40 men, écried; La Tamiie, Capt. Fradíe, 32 guns. twe've-pounders, 302 men, efonped; L'Etoile, Capt. Berthelicér, 30 gunc, twelve pounders, 160 men, taken; Le Cygnone, C.ppt. Piler, 22 gunc, twelvepounders, 150 men, efcaped; La Muuche, hrig, in gmss, fix -purunders, 80 men, went of with the convoy at the commonceniant of the action. (signed) John Warkm.

conmmani of Sir Gobon Bul Lifo tVanen, Barr.
K. B. Nrich 20, in an engagemeat tuitha fypation belonging to the Fiercis Rcpublic:
Ship, name uiknown, 500 thas hurthen, from Breft, bound to Nan'es; Rerg, name unknown, 3 on tons burthen, from Bieft, bumd to Ruchfort; Rrix, name unkuewn, 200 burthen. from Breit, bound to L'O:ient; Brig, name unknown, 150 tons hurthew, from Brea hound to L'Orient.
 et or-Goary the fyuadron under tbe command of Str Yobn Barlaf Wanen, Bart. K. B. Marib 20, 1796, in an evracement with a $\int_{q}$ uadron belonging to the Frem't Republic.
La Fomone, none killed or wounded;

Artois, no return made; Galatea, M: Evans, midhapman, and y fesman, killei Mr. Burke, asting lienten:ant, and 5 fea men, womded; Anfon, mane killed c wounded.
john Warren:
Alimi ialty Office, Aluch 24. A let:er fron Capt. Diap ct, of his Majetrys mip Por cupine, to Ev n Nepeas, efq. dated Monnt's Bay, Marcl 21, 1796 .
Sir, I beg you will h: pleafed to a quaint my tords commiffioners of the A miralty, that on the 20th inft. about fewt A. M. the Lizard bearing N. N. E. thr or four leagues, I received informati from the Fox excife cutter, that a Fren privateer had thar morning captured Luglifm brig, then bearing S. S. W. I acce dingty gave chace to buth, and about ni octiock reto $k$ tie Diamond, of Aberder Ge., Killar, mater, and fenta petty offic and men on-board, with orders to make । nearelt purt, and then food after the p wateer. About 12 fhe carried away t main top-malf, owing to her being ow prefled with fail: about one took polieffi She proyes to be Le Coureur brig, of , tons, and 80 men, pierced for 14 gn has but in on-bord. She fails remark bly faft, and lefi S. Matoes the day befe Shie had only taken the velfel ahove-m tioned, but was in ch.ve of a large Eng Giip when we faw her. Thate were veral merchant fhips in fight, which muf lave teken, had we not prevented!

* This, we melieve, is the fir? time the termrepublick has been in any mans acknowledged in the Gazette.

FOREIGN NEW'S.

Madrid, Far. 29. The entry of our Sovereigos into Brazatos was tady magnificent. Their Maje.ties alighted at the fuperb Palace of the Prince of Peace, and every day of the er reflence in that ciry was maiked by feans and illommations. The Prime Royal and the Princtis of Bratzil, with the infint Don Pedro, armed it the fanse tirie (from limbon) on the frentiers of Portugal, where fome magniमisent tents were pitched. Other tents ware erected by our S.vereigns on the Spanifh semitory, and it was there that sise in'erviews tocik piace between ther Maje fers and the Fortusuefe Princes; at which the moft perfect freendihip and curdiality prevalled.

L:yon, Feb. 1. All the elemen's feem to contipire againft as; for fonse time we hase had the moft violent rains and wind; the earth is in great commotion; on the $2-$ th wh. we had fo ftrons an eathquake, thin, lad a fecond followed, our city wonld certainlv have been laid in tuins; a ounber of inhabitants have fleft the place, from Auth of another thock.
whence, for 16. On the nimb of the ift.
feveral finart fhocks of an earthquake $u$ s felc at Alczaza; and, were repeated ${ }^{3}$ following day. To implore the proted a of Divine Providence, the bead of St. naftus was carried in proceffion, and? play-houfes were thut up. On the $4^{\text {th }}$, ? latter were again opened, and a ball giv; but, at midnight, an earthquake, I fironger than all the foregoing ones, is place. Several houfes were nuch damal, and a part of the Corthufian convent is thrown down. Next day other fhes were felt; and the inhabit nts were $11^{-}$ lormed, that they fied oo the churches, w c they paffed the night. Two days afte-w is other procelfions were male, attende y the magiftrates, \&c. fince which the che num has ceated.
W. H /av, Fch. 17. The King of Pola a long time fince, wrote a very feeling 1 r to the Emprefs, in which he evinced ise diquietule as to has furure lot. An ander his at length heen fent to it, in whicl be Fompress fisc, " that the right of the Jig to his own property at Wardaw canoo be contefted; that the approves of his $d$, of going to take the watc - of Carlfbad in Eubsmia, and thofe of Beden, nar Vie a;

1796.] Interefling Intclligence from various Parts of the Continent. 245

hat the dees not wifh to orpofe $h_{\text {is }}$ future tay in Italy, as his M jetty has preferred Rome for his abode, being molt congenial o his love of the arts, and of the works of tafte." The Emprefs adds, "that the facred charater of Ruyaley ought alowas to accompany his Majelty; :nd that the will do all io her power o make lim a proper eftablohment." As to the obher oheels of the King's letter, the anfiver-, thit it will be neceffary for her to corifute wion her atlies before fine can make anj determia tom.

Viemin, Fib. 25. The deprture of thas. guft Inghnefs the Archatake Chatie, Fir the army of the Lowr Rhine, where he will command in chief, is fixed fortre soth of next month. His equpase confinimg of 62 perfonsand 100 norice, b, wh as the twin Soon after bes arrival at bio head-quarter:, the campargn will he opener, which w.ll continue to be offenfie, and which, iccording to all apperrances, will he fat! more vigorous and hioty than the preceding ones, hecaufe it is withed chat it fhonld be decifive.

Mague, March 3. The day before ye? erday, the National Convention was opened in due folemaity; the commition of the States General came to initall it; the Prefident of the States pronounced a difcomit relative to the nccafion; and Citizon Panlus, who was elected Prefilent of the Convention, pite on the naton: fcarf, the diftinctive muk of his new dignity, and anfwered him. The new nationd flay was hoifted, the fame day, ou-brard the Bratavian fips and vetrets; and the fators had each of thein a pint of wine, a quaster of a pound of tobacco, andtwoppes, th ond $r$ to ceteb ate the day; a ceremony which is to rake at ce every year at the anmi erary.

Piten/beg Fio 16. On Sundiy the $14^{\text {th }}$ inft. was colebrated the marrioge of tus ine perial Highnefs the Grand Duke Contantine Pawlowitfch sith her Ruya! Highonefs the Frinc fs of Saxe Cobungry, mow the Grand Dutchers Amit Feodicrowna, whech namas her Reval Hintrief took on hor reeviclintion to the Gaeck clurch. Outhes occafon a number of apmomen were made at comb.
Entix, Feb. 29. Our Kiare yau will have herrd, hac lefr the court of and to vifit this provne; the motive of his jomrey was to do bamage to tie thene of St. Fe:mundezat jevilie. You ould obierse, that thes saint was a cmonzed fict, whofe boly thas remaned for years in a vault in the monatery of San Fermandez, with only the tip of his nofe comupted. Whe kno vs bur that it might have ong!nated in a gallanterie? Thure ar great preparations at sevile to recelve has Matfefty; and his jomrney will be attenmed with a great expence. Wi's exocet that the King of Spa:a whallo var Cure. Al!
bufinefs will ceafos, no doubr, during the tine.

March 20. The Danifh Government, it is faid, has at lengthacknouledged the French Kepublick. (See p. 144.) Grouvelle, tire French Aminter-Hlempotentiony, is to bave his folemn audience on the 26th of March.

The celebrated Count suhm, who, of at the literati in Dormark, pufferfes the boit and noft mumons hive has ceded the promer:y thercof th his Danih Mujofy, on condusin of a pention for life, contiding of 3000 imllars a $y$ ara.

Whar. 21 . Suffer, according to lettors from Avmers, duad with firmnefs. Befre he was thot, he ted a handkercinef atout his meen, and knelt down. The foldiers hith lum tes in it fire. One of his Aide:-de-Camp rectived to fies before he died. Thes were fald bafarmen, who conducten the Repliblic otrox p, to the place between Valloms atad Chetet.

Asta and Africa.

The rich fornaces of $P$ offa have, for this cutary pat?, been male the prey of inter.al divifions. Much deforation and blowithed have heen occ. fione by the $\mathrm{c}-\mathrm{-}$ veral Kham, of Nobles, who oce afionaty afpical to the Sovereignty of the ComntryThe hase ruals, who have for poligally fletis the of Perfia, and long contended w:b vaious fuccef, are Wathoned 2 L ly Khan ald Luity Alty Khinn the forniers. a Nohle of the Cajer tribe, the fon of Ha?fer Khan, who was pat t death by Nuram Khan; the later, a Noble of the Z nod tribe, the grandfon of Sale, t'ie bowher of Kirim K!an. By the laft news whinh has reached Bomblay fron Perlia, we learn this Luf:y Ally $K h_{1}$, , atter expericacang the caprice of forthe, and the ins retrayad by the treachery of his athencuts, fled, with a few partifans, to the city of Surmat, which was immediately furnonied by Mahomed Ally Khans. After a hhockide of eight or whe mindse, the citizens, turged by famine ant defint, opened their gates tw the mexulefs victor. Fibe \{even dys was the town delivered to the prisece of a rapicous folliciz. To add th the horrons of this work of rapine, the tyrant, in ordec the execute his congence upan the noviz ey-c; and to many are faid to be the victhas, that it is enferinted two mands of hman eyes vere the follits of the doboe licalcumand. Thintragiefcene wasctofol hy tota!ly anabilating the city of Kerman, and pathon the prowish over its foundation. L.fer Ahty kian is fath to have eicaped, in the confuren of the faremder, t, Bann, a lin..II tuen to, the Sommerord of Kam $n$, where he was fredily overtaken. $F_{2}=12$ ? brought inte the meinace of Nahomed At'y, hes conget difowed the manam-of difloyalty with repronches of coutempt and difiance; and, in the end, was condenmed to the losis of his eyes. This he futfered; and hootly, by means which ate not accurately afiertained, put a period to his exiftence.

246 Niws from Ireland, and various Parts of the Country. [Mar.

Cape of Gooll Hipe, Dec. 27, 1795. The harseit, which is now beginning to be got in, is the mert plentiful that has been on the ground thefe many years. It is apurehended that the farmers will be mind by the rebnefs of their produce. Grain will be almost given away to thote who will qake it, unlefs fome maket is pointed out 20 which it may be fent. Fornerly Bitavia confumed a confiderable quantity, and fone was alfo fent to Holland; but the people here have tien foxeftrained in their commerce, that they do not feen to have an idea of what to do with it, now that thofe markets are hut againft them.

JRELAND.

Dublin, March 12. A cruel murther was sommitted at the lower end of Town:/4.cnddiect. A young man (a fifherm in), who by his intuftry maintained atr aged mother, two children, and his aunt, lo'ged over a robler: on Saturday nizht, after he had prepared his boat and nets for tie purpofe of going ont tofith on the Sunday evening, He came hone to fupper, during which a ftool in his room chanced to fall down. The noife difpleafed the cobler, who called vut to complain of it in very rude terms. The young min fisd, he had a right to do what he pleafed in his ow a room; to which the cobler replied he would foon let him know he fhould no: make any noife over his head. The fifherman went down ftairs to fpeak with the cobler, but, feeng him coming towards him with his cutting knife in his hand, attempted to go up ftairs ; but, ere he had gone half way, the cobler itahbed him to the heart, and thruf the knifo with fuch volence, that, when the poor fellow got into his own room, and cried out he was mumthered, it was with great diticulty the kuife could be pulled ont. He vomited a torrent of blond, and expired imnieciately. We are forry to add, that, Jurng the infufion accafioned by this event, the numblherer made his efcape; but, as diligent fearch is making after imm, it is hoped he will be brought to juftice.

Countre News.

Part of the Alutrefs of the Rev. Mr. Gayton, Eif to the Hampihure Fencible Catoly, at Brijtol, ufon the Conjccration of tow Ladurs.
"Vigilance 15 the virtue of a foldter, hecaufe it is oppofed to danger. To give him an early knowledge of his enemy, in his Clriftian warfare, may he conducive to his acquiting himfelf with mere honour and advantage in a militaty capacity. Our grand adverfary the Devil, we are tok', has heen unremitting in his endeavours from the Creation to draw men off from the duty and allegiance which they owe to their Creator. Nor has he been idle in the fpirit of the fame guile, by his agents and abettors, in raifing rebellions, and refiltance to the donsinion of euthly kings and goven nors. He is defcribed like a wild bealt walking up and down, feeking whom he may devour. He attacks openly, and feize: by furprize. He comes in queftionable anc unquettionable flapes. There are feafon: when he does not conceal bis approaches tha he may loll us into a more fatal fecu. rity, hy an opinion conferred on our owr wiflom in the difcovery. And he is un. queftionably vifible in all flugrant breache: of our duty.
"When he has put us off of our guan by rendering himfelf famihar, he make nearer advances, which are vifible to the ege of difcernment in thofe fuggeftions ar, infinuations of pleafure which he places in our way, the atoment we difmits any o the important bufluef of our profefion. Fit is perpetuallv trying new arts, and oppofing freth ampediments to our conftancy an virtue. To the hopes of thofe who vainl imagme themtelves ingured by the fuperi ority of others, he affumes the que:timabl Shape of an impartial judge ; and foóthe by a decifon is their favour from the de ceptious doctrines of equality. To then who grafp at wealth atid power withor the duemeans of honefty and infuriy, $h$ pio mies the now iplendid profits for the mof trifing performances; the mort po pular titles fin the mont nefarious practice: He over-mates the talents of the ingenioush favours and flattery; and futcharges th picture of pulbic calamity by mifreprefen tation and calumny. Having gained ove the haf it of mankind to his purpofes, h fewls them like ipies into an enemy's com thy; where, his uwn ends being anfwerec lie always leaves them in the general con fufion to thar fate, and abandons them $t$ merited contempt. His followers feem t have enlarged upon the plan of their mat ter, who in the liftory of Joh came amon the fons of Ged, to prefent himfeif befor the Lood. It is not utcommon in thel days to find, nay lley are twotormonly di covetable, the moft factoons, the moft ie ditious, with loyalty in there moutins an protelions, whilf their retiremonts, th inmoft recaffes of their bofoms, are replet with mifchici, ate fr. ught with every al gument, ever y engine of deftruction, for th overthrow of kingtoms. If theie thing are not exaggerated, their inconfiltenc hould beget our fufpucion; and fufpicio onght to enilsance our vigilance.
"At Al Events, we would arm you with ag timit thofe poweas of daknefs, we woul make then vifible to you, who would cor fert our own hands inso influments of a own deftruction, who would break afunder the bonds of well-regulated focietv, in order to new-motel it upon their own vifimary plan, and who would deftroy whatever of reafon or revelation has, fince the heginning been contenuing asainit anarchy and licentioufnets.
"Knowing your :alverfary, you mey the more eafily ohviate his devices. Having traced evil to its fource, joo may folle againft its progecis. Layng the fommation of your duay in religious princeple, making regularity of demeanour and ohedience ts the laws canficuous in your own perfons, you will exh:but the mont convineing proot of your viglance ath ficelity. The fane zeal will pronpt you to honow your colours by good conduct in a flate of guietnefs, as to defend them by your courage in the time of tumult or danger: Your vir:tue being a fecurity for loyalts, your cunntry will reft fatisfied that the has foumithed you only with the fword of jutice.
"We proceed, then, to beg a bleffing upon the etandards before you, by praying, in the name and firit of Chrutian c!arity, that they may never he unfurled or renred upon any houtile occafim, but as innocent emblems of our logalry; ard monuments of our zewl, and that they may $r e m$ min to the Jateft pofterity fiee from the fatu of blood or difgrate. Fut, if it thould not p!afe Gcal to avert thofe oscaffions which may call us forth in the defence of them and all we ho!d dear and valuable, let us umplore has moit mighty protection to fupport in firm and unitedarotud them; to infpire us with unThaken furtitule asamft his enemies and our own; and to comvace them whodelight in war, that he aloner the giver of all victmy.
"Animated with tele imprethons athl fentiments for the mant nance of our religion and laws, frie the fratey of out Sovereig' and has people, for the flablity of his throne, and the profervatuon of their ficedom, we miy prefume to confecrate thefe Atandards in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghoit."

Hull, Feb. 13. After the family were gone to bed, a very alarming fire broke out A the habuable part of "F'reste Cayat, wh ch increafed with fuch rapiaity that before the engines could be brought from Howden (a dittance of fou miles) the entire buntins was on fire; by whins the whol:, wh:l the leaden covering, wis entirely comfined, except one chamber, with the outer and and fome patts of the inner walls. It is fappofed to hase been occafioned by a chimney t.kking fire, from which no danger was apreliendell $u$ hen the frmily went to reft. This fouth fide, or princepal patt of the quadrangle, being the only part left nademotuhed is 50 , connimed the diningruom, drawing room, ant chapel, ufed as the parith-cturch evel fatce the other w. .s ruinated in the civil warso la the tro principal chombers were fome beautiful ftair-cafes of Anzular contrivance, contaening doable flitht: of ft ws, winding roms each oher, after the defirns of Palladio.

Exutcr, Fib. =c. A terrible fire broke out in $t$ 'e nowe of Mr. Gibwons, baker and fiow-factur, in North-Areat; it beng at a rery early hamr, the flater $r$ ged with corifideranle vinance before the famby or neightmarhond were alarmed. By the woncemin exertions, havever, of the populae who quicnly a Templed, and the Sulfiox c.avary quartered in this caty, the f. me were got under without having materiathy mjured the atjomin: hoofe; bat we are fo ry to adel that Mr. C,bhoms's honte, a h. rge atack of hour, whent, all his furntare, beaning appel, &ic. wele tatirely contumet. The lof is eftimated at up wands of rovel. man', as we do mot maderfandthat the itock is mive.l, of com ie the lofs muit be foverely f fit.

Fib. 24. The following melacholy occurrence iouk place. Ase e ferry hoat was ceoling the river from Common-ftaitle Q ay to ol. Lyan, at $f=\mathrm{ven}$ ta the evening, with about 30 perfone on-brand, it ran foul of the cable of a barge, and was uafurtamately overfet, by which arcidens it i feared that unwards of 25 perfons have lot their lives ; fon more mat inev:tably hase Thared the ime fare, but for the active and vigorous exertions of one of the parfengers (John Price, a fallor). who, at the immine.ut hazerd of his hfe, and with that hamanty and menepidiy shach do hin the inglect han mo, and are the eharacterifics of an inglub dail re, refued for fellowcreatures fiom death; te hat feized a fifth (a womsil), but the ruphti"; of the she tore her trom hom, and he :hatelf had neaty prowhed in the attentpt to fave ber tife. Egha unily of the boul es have y, trea fomd. It is futt té y ans fi ce a fimian accident happened at the fame fer $y$, when Is perfons were untatanaty drowned.
 young lay, Mis Gillam, thenty yers of aqe, whu wors on a vint tor Irs. Vicale, cught tre by fome means; whe before it ly burat os ts langurh titi Tuifocy, and then expural.
$P_{\text {tramouth, Mank }}$, Laft week the feew ard of the is:rd-romal of one of the Durch men of war in Hambiar, in a fi: of revenge, farthat the fecond Comen in dreatill, that he exnied in a fur ham"; Comon's impeet wilfil marior: the primer will take hothal at toe next Lameromatize-

Ma, lla ought, Matoby. A hre broke out at Litile Batwin mit, wiich, as the huidug comfited cinetly of womband beng coveied with tiasta, was entaely confumed in the comie of :an hour. There was a great gantity of wheat and thatey in the mall, the greater part of which, la the very attive exeltions of the canal-digsers, to whom molt grateful acknowledgements se due, was taken out before the roof fell in. This u-ffentonate accisent was occafioned by one end of the fummer, in the chimney, catching fire, which commoncated itfelf to the lathe and juifte.

Sorttiomptor, Mald r. A fire hroke out at a placecalled Miwif-VFy.Barn, betwcen Seuthampton Quay and Calmot Cafle, which was fitced up for the French emigiant atillery, whonere o have march,en into the barracks the day the accident hap. pened. The building was completely fitted up for the seculion af the thonpe, with all kuds of fores, \&c. which were entirely eonfumed, tor,sthor with th, whole if lle building, before any anffance could be procured. As there were only a $\{+1 \mathrm{j}=\mathrm{ant}$, a corporal, and thece or four pitvates, left to take care of the bargage, it is not kiown at prefent by what means the accident hitppened, if indeed it is to beconfidered as an accident.

Scatbrosgh, Máb 1. About 12 o'clock, a fire broke out in the honse of one Goorge Allanby, in the ftreet called Long Weit Gate, occafioned by the carelefnefs of a fome caitun cleaths; which bumnt with fuch fory, notwithlanding every exertion a cxtinguifi it ufed by the inhabitats and one fire-engine, that it detzoyed the fame and three more adjoining houfes before it cond he got moder, tugither with nonft of of the houndold gowd and fumiture bebneging thereto. No inestwere whe.

Axmiyft, Mares 2. Abwn hine o'ulnck in the momme, a fire bappe ed, which dextroyed about 18 dwellings, and a metl:s $1 / i$ meeting-houle. It is fuppoitit to have besun at ablatekfath's. I'rovidentially the wind was Nort!; hal it heen in the oppofite quarter, it in probable the whole town would $h$ we bern defroycel, the houfes being mofly thatcheri. Doring the fire, fome goor peuple were fo imprudent as to thie e birt of the timber of the burning houfas, while in flames, for the purpofe of tifing as fuel, which they piled up in their hentes, neglecting to have it properiy extinguithed; this tonk fire the next day, and occafioned the lofs of four more cottages. From in happening fo late m the morning, no lives were loft ; bu: the fufferers will fuftain ferions imjury in the iof of their habitations and furniture.

March 3 i petition from the county of Eciefler, iu favo:u ofthc I org-Tax, was preiented w the Honf: wi Commons by lim. Poihin, efy. and ondored to he on the table. The interferace .. Parliament has long $b$ en waned io pre twe click to the ereat suabet of zif: is : 'ars, which prowl about every ftreet. and not ouiy annoy the travelA.r from the hast of every curpige in the countys dellave irultiphod tice dicaliaint finnces of that borrid affecion the hydns phobia to an alarming degrec. Liverpon has fet an example which ought certain to he followed through every part of th Kinclom, "To exclude all perfons keepi, dogs from lceiving anv relief eitber from the parifoes, or cburitatle fubictiptions ant contr butions."

Mfuch 4. Mr. B. D. Cock, driving curricle romad Camion place near Bath, th horfes, in confegtence of beng too muc curbed, hatame reftre, and ene of them, is ving hooke:a ti, bar, fusdenly dathed neer proctpoce upwards of soo fect dep, $h$ viluch the gentlem:n was literally dathe $\therefore$ pieces, the curricle deftroyed, and th horeskilled on the fpot. Mr. Cock hi left a beatiful and atiectionate wife, wit two goung child ren, to lament his hock in fate. Previous to his going out, he ende: voured io prevall on Mis. C. to accompan him, for the porpofe of taking the air; bu happily, th : seclined accepting the pretion invitation.

Marci 6. At eleven in the moming, fire broke ont in a hay-rick adjoining 4 the ox-ined, at farmer Fiafon's, at Hawk bcal; a farm bolouging to the Rev. Di Gowll, in the parth of North-Mimm The innily heine :lt at clurchexiept Mr M: and one boy, the flames spread wit funt fury that the preduce of 25 acres wheat in the form, and 80 iotals what were confumed, togelher with 15 out 1 is for oxenn, computed at $12 \%$ I2s. apiec at leaft, ind one and twonore fodangeroun burne, that they worc obliged to be kifled the boy in his fright daving negloged $t$ turn them out of the At lis before he got o horte-back to aharm the neighbourhood and, milakins his why th the church, t rode over a woman, who was taken u for dead, tut is likety to recorer. Tw engines arrived from the Sun-firc-offia jut in time to fave the divelling boufe an ti:e refi of the !remifes, which fteod pe 1a'lel with the range of huildings, Ecc. de fitooyed. It having been mifieprefente in fome of the newfapers, that this mi: chitf was the effest of popular refentinen we we happy in havng it in our fow er to fay that no man is more refpect ed than Mr. M. who has long berne an un impeachable character in his neighbourhoo and will fuitain the greater lofs hy not be ing infured to the full amount. Ther canoot be at this time too much cautio ued, or too firict enquiry made, on mfertin thefe calamitous acculents. Our icaders o this accafon well turn back to a jmilar ca tatrophie in the fame county in No.y laft recoded in our vol. LXV. p. +32 .

The fane day a fire hooke out at a farm houfe, neat himal Herapitat, which di more extenfise m-hief, confuning, bride a great quant ty of thay and coms, feve humbed pounds wo. th of iveel, &c.
1795.$]$

March 7. The driver of the coath coneying the math from cloncufter of Cxford, y a fudden j. lt, was thrown off on Curridge Downs, about a mitc fron Witnev; 1e gaard, in endeavourmg to take noth.fon of the reins, experie ced the fame te; and the horfes withont a gaid: pu:red their journey tilt they reached Witnsy, then the difmal gro ins of one of the wiveel orfes, which was down, hutt the feetioess f humanicy, and catled forth the aftit were f the inhabitunts, who imme diately roleafe. ue diftreffed animal; but he was fo much icerated and bruifed, by being uragred foeral yards on a very rongh road, that he ied the next day. The coacthan, who is ery much efteemed for his $\subseteq$, thriety and cidility, is in a ftate of r covery.
March 8. Twofurmers living near Potor's Bar, near Barnct, $1_{1 a d}$ wheat-ricks urnt down, on accont of their not having hrafhed any wil ett fince the laft harvelt. on the conflagration, the fire reached the djoining Itahles; and one farmer loft 12 xen, the other $t 2$ horfes.
Derby, March $\mathbf{r}$. Whit particularly enbaged the attention of the pubtick at our Afuzes was a charge againft a woman of he name of Ann Hoon, aged 24, for the vilful murther of her infant chld, about 4 months old. The circnmftances of this nurther were as fillow:
On Fsiday lait, this poor creature, who s the wife of a lahouring man, was about o heat her ovea, and, heing thort of wood, ad broken down a rail or two from the encing roun ! the plat it on of a gen'leman o the neighbourhoos! ; fo ne of hor neighsours threatened her with a profecution, and told ther fhe would be tranfported for t. This mash alarmed her mond; and he id an of hene feparted fro $n$ her chatd, of whom the had always appeared remarsably fond, fo wrought on her imagmaion, $t^{\text {then }}$, he formed the wornte dulign of putting it to deat'l, in order that, by orrendering harfelf mo the hatads of juftice, the might $h$ : exscutel it the marher, and fobe for ever re-wnet in tes ren to that bate whon the hai lowes more than life. As foom, therefore, aufband wes gonce out to lis lision, tiac oroceeded to put tha dab lical werica moo executon: The filleal a i irge tub wi h wifer, when the bobe, fmiliun in its monher's face, difarmed her ter the mom in, and the found herelf unahle $t$, commit we horrid fact. She the: halled tere b the to heep at the breatt, and, wopprea a cioth round it, plunged it in'o the tu'), and held it under water till life becans extant; Lhen took it out of the trob, and haid it on the bed, alad, taking her 'iat and clowk, locked her truet-don, and leit har hic; ot a neighbour's for ber loufomi, whan he Moald retura from this labour.' She tam proccoled to walte eight or nine miles to a magifatio, and, requefins admifion to lum, to:l him the w te fory, concluding with an earnett tefire imaediately to be ceeculed. She wastriat morn ng; and, many forong witances of infanity for tome yeas pettaphearing, the Jary found ber Not Grislis.

A: Stafford anizec, a remarkable canfe was tres., in whin M-s. D) ckfer, fiter and her in law of the late Fe er Carrick, efq. f 1 , ichfictd, wo ther to the ceiebraced Diwd Carrick) was painiff, and Mi. Pating, turgeon ot that town, defendint. The defenant clamed all the real and perional propery of the deceafed, (nearly 3,000 ) under deeds of conveyance executed by M: G. at the advanced age of 85 , to the totut difinherifon of alt his relations and their farniles, and a derogation of many witls made in their favour, the latt datedin 17,r. Mr. Erfkine led the ca:nefor the plantiff; and after a mort cloquent and impaffimed opening of the cafe, which hated upwards of two hours, and the examination of feveral witneffes, the canfe was relmartihed on the part of the defesdant.

Birmind_han, March if. Bimse and Jones, two delega -s from the !encion Cerrefpondent Society, regadeefs of the haws and pence of the comatry, dehivered the one it the Swan in Swallow ftrect, and the other at the Bell puitc-houfe, in Safiolk-itreet, in this tamy their inflama ory Lertures; informan of which bea. os ven to WilJiam H cks, efq. ome of our mapiztrete, he immeditely $r$ paired, with the $p$ :ce-e. of fiers, to th illmal aftennes. The meeting at the Siwan has broken ap; but at tias Bell they fond Joucs in a mom harameing abont 70 pe plo. A foos as he fav the magifer te, be who filent; but Mr. Hicks bing made requmited, by fevern who were pretan, the thdith ulangu.ge he had hall, immed ately ordered "in promchamation asanta difor ler'y newrion, th be reat, and the noupte:n a for miautes dfperied. forow wa amonthed by the maSt © tue, who warna ham to bewa eof his comblitinfure, as a inter worth ohis of tomata: ate thesh 1 of ad..... lia

 En o coal-mine at Thatro Heath, n w Protcor, occatime! by a funderan tamp which anto whte the ma, iv of ot ume;
 n. 31
man his nephew, and an old woman, were u: fortunately killed.

Brifol, March 16. A bout two o'clock in the morning, an alarming fire broke out at the houfe of Mr. Hill, umbrella-maker, in St. James's Church-yard, in this city, which was entirely burnt down, and the family narrowly efcaped with their lives. Mis. Hill, who had lais-in on Monday only, and was in a very weak ftate, was compelled for fafety to fly from her bed, withont any covering, and take refuge in a neighbour's houfe, and fome of the children (there being feven in all) were with sreat difficulty preferved by perfons at the hazard of their lives, taking them out of the lodging-room windows. By great exertions, the flames were prevented from fpreading farther.

March 20. Some days aro, as George Spurrell, efq. of Barking, Effex, was firing at fome rats part of the wadding loiged in a ftack of wheat, which fei the fame on fire, and entirely confumed it.

HISTORICAL CHRONICLE.

 Beviate of the Bill for the Cultivation of the W'afe Lands and Commons of the Kingtom.The bill fets forth, that a confiderable portion of the lands, in thole parts of Great Britain called England and Wales, lie wafte and uncultivated; and the fand lands, or certain portions thereof, are fubject to various rights of common, or other rights in, upon, and over, the fame; and that it would be attended with great public advantage, if fuch commons, werte and uncultirated lands, were allotted, an' beld in feveralty, and improved by cultication.

Therefore the hiil enacts, that it thall be Jawful for his Majefty, his beirs and fucceffors, and all oher perfons whomfoever, to enter into agreements for referins to commifioners the fetting out, dividing, and allotting, all or any part of the fand commons, wafte and uncultivated lands, in the manner directed by the hill; and all agreements being fo made and entered into, being depofited with the clenks of the peace for the county, or plice where the lands fhall be, fhall be bindug on all parties making the fame.

There are ch..ufes to enable the Lords of the Treafury to give his Majeffy's confent to any fuch agreenter'. But that the divifion, allotment, and inelofure, fhall nut extend to his Masifity's foreits or chales, without the confens of his Majefty's nfilcers, as in the bill directed-to empower guardians and truftees of moapacitated perfon', and leffees of a defcription in the bill, to enter into fuch agreements. And the bill directs, where the parties are maninone, how commifioners hall be appointed; and, where the partie, are not unanimous, that acertain proportorn of the parties interented many enter into asreenents, and have their mares fet out and allotted amongtt then and how the meetings thall he appoints That the parties interefted may ftipulate their agreements for particular allotmen or other articles, matters, or things, co nected with their refpective rights and $i$ terefts, to which regard thall be had by t commuffioners in naking the allotmen And the bill directs, in cafe of differer among the parties, how the commiffion Thall be appointed. And in cafe of dea or refufal, of commiffioners, how the cancies thall be filled up. That if any jection thall arife as to the proportions of t parties confenting, the fame flall be det mined at the quarter-feffions. That a c tain number of the commiffioners appoin fhall be competent to act. That notice ft be given of meetings. That commifion may appoint furveyors; and that the co miffoners and furveyors fhall take an os directed by the bill, before they act. 1 making perambulations, and fetting boundaries; and, in cafe of difputes c cerning the fane, the bill diredts how fi difputes fhall be determined. That the f veyors fhall make plans and admeafu merts, and may make we of former 1 veys, upont the fame being properly auth ticated. That commifioners and furvey fhall have power to enter lands, to va and forvey the fame. That the cominiff ers may fettle and determine the claim: the parties in the manner directed by hinl ; and may examine witneffes, and munite: oaths to them, and for punifh witnelfes in cafe of perjury. For fetting gates and ferces at the ends of the roads: highways, for preferving the bedges. T the roads thall not he depaftured with $c$ tle for a limted time. For allotting la for materials for repairing the roads; for fupplying the cottares winh fuel. matking sthe'ments for the ufe and conve ence of fimall tenements or cottages; that commithoners thall have particular gard tocontignty in ferting out fuels al ments. That encionchments within a'c tain time fhali he leafed out to perfons cuptong the fame. That commation mady divert il reams or curreats of water; not to prejudice any mill, mill-ftream, or any perfon entitled to the fame. making alloments, according to previ Atpulatons to tithe-owners, in compet tion for tithes of the lands to be inclofed, giving a power of leafing fuch a'lotme That the tithe-owner may atcep of tit rents in money, or a corn-rent, to be aft tained in the manner directed by the $b$ with power to vary and to tecover fame. For making an allotment to the or ers of the foil. That the refidue fhal.: appointed among the parties interef where they all confent ; and where a tain proportion of the parties are affenti and the remainder are diffenting, the I directs in fuch cafe how the fame fhall be apportioned, declaring what lands thall be exempt from rectorial tithes for a limited ime. To prevent the inclofing of lands upon which markets and fairs, or races for King's plates, have been held or run. That he commiffioners fhall give notice of fetting sut the allotments; and, in cafe the parties re diffatisfied therewith, the bill directs now the fame thall be determined; tha: the roprietor thall accept and fence the allotaents within a limited time; and, in cafe of efufal, the bill direcis how the fame fhall e done. For impoing nenalties on fheriff, cc. making default of oheying precepts. Chat commiffioners thall have regard to fiaution, contizuity, quality, and quautity, a making allotments. That the refpective erfons may make exchanges, with confent foommiffioners. That the allotments and xchanges fhall be held by the fame tenure sthe rights in refpect to which they are made. That old inclofures may be difarged fropa tithes, by agreement of the arties interelted. That the comminioners tall make an award, and tha: the fame all be enrolled and depofited, as in the Il is mentioned. That perfons, thoking iemfelves aggrieved by the award, may pply by petition to the Court of ExcheJer; which Court may hear and detertine the fame. That, in all caf.s where mpenfation is made for tithes, the tithes yable in kind to ceale from the time afrtained by commillioners. That the comiffioners fhall be allowed a certain fum of oney for their trouble, and thall enter eir'accounts in books, and produce their nichers. That tenants for life, and others, ay mortgage their allotments or a limited m , for the purpofe of inclofing, sc. and all keep down the intereft thereof; and at fuch mortgage may be transferred, as the bill is mentioned; or may charge sir allotments with fuch moneys, either by ed or will. That no leafes fhall be void; s that compenfition filll be made to the fees, for deprivation of comanon rights. rat perfons advancing money thall be reid with hawfol intereft. That the exesion of the act fhall no: be delayed or evented by the death of parties. Aird the 1 directs by whom the expences of caring the act into execution fhall be paid, ther by fale of part of the lands, or rately. For faving of rights to loords of Mars and mine-owners. For making comfofation for farther damage. A gen ${ }^{\circ}$ ral fing, and decharing the act a public act.

1796.] DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

Andthere are annexed to the bill certain redules, with the forms of proceeding for (rying the bill into effect.

DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

 Friday, Marcb 4.Shis day came on, at che Ruyal College - Phyficians in London, the election of Profeffor of Botany in the Univerity of Oxford, in the room of the late Dr. Sibthorpe; when the numbers were, for Dr. Williams, Fellow of Chrift Church College, 18; Dr. Powell, of Merton College, 10 ; the former gentleman was accordingly declared duly elected.

> Tuefday, Mar:b re.

This day the amna! feftival of the Royal Humanc Society was celebrated at the London Tavern, the Hon. Philip Pufey, V. P. Prefident, in the chair, and feveral other of the Vice Prefilents heing prefent. Amidft the feltivity, the city-murfhals made their appearance, and the itewardscarried characteriftic hanners before a grand procelion of the numerous objects reftored to life by the indefatigable exertions of the medical afiftants; a pleafing circumitance, which could not fall to excite in the breaft every tender, eviry fympathetic emotion. Dr. Hawes, lately elected treafurer of the fociety in the room of Dr. Lettfom, opened the bufnefs of the meeting, in an addrefs replete with found reafoning and enlightened argument; he entered into a minute detail of the finances of the inftitution; and regretted ao informality in the will of the late Mr. Hopkins, in refpect to the charity, which durng his life he had warmly fuported; (a fubject which we have alrealy arply difculfec, vol. LXV. pp. 657, 834, $9 I^{-}$.) The Ductor then faid, that more than 2000 lives had been reftored to the:r parents, families, and to the ftate; and dwelt upon this fubject with an energy and pathos which did honour to his feelings, and evinced that the fociety was eminently calculated to promote the moft valuable interefts of the Britifh empire. He laid a fingular frefs upon thofe, who, from a variety of cauies, were going to plange themfelves into eternity with all their accumulated offences upon their heads, if the arms of mercy had not been fretched ont to them by the incelint exertions of the medical affiftants. He then faid, that in the lait month a diltra太ted woman had hung berfelf, but was reftored tolife, and to her feven children, by this noble intitution. Dr. Hawes concluded his addrefs on a circumftance of the utmoft importance-the great number of canals lately made in this kingdom. It is impolible, upon this occafion, to do juftice to his arguments. He fud, every Briton mult rejoice at the extenfion of the trade and commerce of this country; but, as this trade muft neceffarly be carried on by the induftrious proor, it was an ohject highly worthy the attention of every friend to bumanity, to form plans for the prefervation of life; for, the riches of a nation would be deazly purcbafed by the premature death of our fellow creatures. Having treated this fuhject with clearnefs and peripicuity which evinced a confummate kinowledge of the refufcitative art;
we mula add, that the repoated applaties he reccived, whilf he was fre king, were the honelt unpremeditared effufions of more flan 300 gentlemon, affambled to emjoy
" The feaft of 1 eafon, and the Row of foul." Tbulf(lu), Mincto 57.
The Andiverfaly of St. Patrick was Feld at the Lomdon Tava The Prince of Wales and the Duke of Ciarence were prefent at the nreeting. The healt of the former was given by Mr . She ivida in the conclufun of a neat fpech, in which :... r. morke that the morclis of Eughond had th te aro on popular fredom! Ithe Bu.cr re-c.
clared that he x .
 attaciment to the fire atond

Fridar -rtre Is.

The T. dy M. oree's attert ino nt vas begond detnip ibs iplembidan, wime ous. Fivery 100 m , every venue, crepy ftair. cate, was th. to wernowing. Yet every indembud, ditongt? fo many themad, was wleafed with the ino'pitable magn ticance of the ent rt . nament. It is fupet faous to add, that llos: fredprens wor +Xccl'ent and abuis int.

$$
\text { Ifondos Much } 25
$$

 N"erer a's 1.:'y a is $f$, sit, the

 Pr.att, Doydu!n, at 1 , N vintr,

 Connfel, us. Sticitor, Mr. Remomberm-fo: : $b ;$

ceat it
where an degren ithom.
near

 and Glouschicr, Pame Rase t: I: Re of leeses, the iny to thon! and tmation, Mr. MMditas, the Statite of Wha IS !'. ic - it. It was ferved with al! the vfual abu dance; and th Lnrd Mayor ex rted bir f.lf in the circulation of the bottle $w$ fuch periect god-will, that he made frionds truly happy. The Eevption $\mathrm{H}_{\mathrm{c}}$ havis: bien rewared anil beantified, u brillia it illuminated on the occafic At eight o'clocis, the b.dl-rooms bei opened, betw in 3 and $40 c 0$ perio in diltion to the company at dinn ci whed int the houfe; and card roo were hide open for the accorm 'iation tiofe who did not '.. s. . T' e tall opene the ${ }^{m} .$. : : © Gloccefter: lew numuets witcd muluacountrv-dance, wh Pw.: limmour fuppied the want of fas The wioge of the ent in innert, from juhin…ns attention of th fe gendemen peivel b; a Lurdhan to ditribute the mathon-tickes, ghe \#ret fatisfocion, the co upanv, thoush very numerans, $i$ difed a lyofpertoneofkno nrefpectabii Msstav, Mas יร.

This oqeai $a$, about fiv iclock, ad ti coner of twomen freet. wit it..nsicater grone vegue fratede y i. rfte $t \times y$, et; and on i,t thi wh, ' . har.on r in l:as ! and, ftruc p flenater on the ne $1 w$ th it near the e w' ic was be at is be the hlow. They at leugth $f$ roured, and carred to the $O$ a is Minlborongh fireet, whence they is rersentud to Tochi: Fielis Bralewellt

Tbrerlay, Maran 3 I.
N: Flathe has thought proper to pofe fall his oriental manuferipts, wit he of gud with great latomrand exper Thice marnitripts the Eetifh Mufeum ve. lead blo puchafod.
Sa Juhn $1:$ wen bue, during his it Conne, t desti, in the whole, is merch -

 D...nes turen with flow fom Bieft.

It is with math picatule we notice a P Jatan in ace price of wheat, wis thes doy sit ras. Fer quater. From : ©rj !arse inport toms of foreign wh:, at ha! Iram: late mit the Medite A. . . as fre Cap of Good He, Whisit !ra to prowe a very absunct aramy to tin womty, we bave the !
 wot 'e fi: z cuationance, and that bid will wion tion te at a moderate r . the in i ica a. . . be accounted $\mathbf{r}$ it manfire, bite in manh by a a fi frity of whet, is irom the farts whe t e prices ftill lighe than they 1 , e lie. $!$; al alfo lig the ar: $t$ demand $a$ 1. i y ..ndome for fee.h, which las ind d 'Be innet: elpeci ily as they' want de flaw ( for (oide) to korp as many h is a: annto thring on batic $f$ and oats

Vol. LXV. Pp. 1060 , MIIt. The late Mr. T. Willman was an aninent elniton, and partner with, but not any way related to, the late Mr. Couthard, f Lincoln's-inn. He marri d a Mirs Harden, daughter of a watchma - r in the Ohl Jewry, L ndon, to whofe family Mr. Wh had heen very kin', and with whon he had no fortune. As a practitoner in the law, he wa a man of inteligence, on we with a mind active and ever fervid for he gond of his client, whofe caule efer ned to mitke his own, and in the clole or which he was fellom unfuccersful. - Shenftone was faid o be thankful to his ftars ther his n?me wond not admit of a pun. The ardour of lis zealons enteavours, addel to she natural warmth of his mind, h:s more than met istroduced Mr. W. anang che fques of the day, in fone ft mes of wit, pronably firm the pen of an unfor tundte opponena, who has ton late k'orwn that a firm and ative foliciter can make the worfe the better çate.

Vol.LXT'1. p. 169, b. Onthe sth of February, ienteace was poomancu:' at Vienna upon thofe conce: ned in the ariatr of Prince Lichtentrein's dad. The mundere. Comt de Weicks, wan of O nabruck, was enndemned io enset veris confinement in the fortrei, of matheres, in il rava; after which lie is : ne thre er hantond bo beredicary tr? © , Con+ Rufem'e:s, mithofe for ever fion has nomil:, son aret of the to tie conafad wo y arm in oncher fortreis, and chen bumber it wa the curial. Fonce Wincell:s, declaten by tie late itince to be acquttul: howerer, :at: Cour, for tome peria puere.
H. :72, h. De, Siblhapes has lefta Natuiral Hifory uf frecese end whe pres, with many venutal themizes. $\mathrm{B}=\mathrm{h}=1$. queathed the cate of thas a is : . tee Univerfi:y, whether with : 1 med elt.t: of zool. per annum the incoms : hatrouthe publication, we af e.w.setco en indifn conomy in Oxifos, to be appointed by the Univerficy.
P. 173, x. Mr Whe, who Int his life on the coll ge fpkes, wat of Trintscollege in Cambialge, rnt ia Diadinn.

Biktas.

F6b. 4 T the patace of the Bifiop of 3. A Doun, in freland, the Laiy of the Rev. Mr. Rateifcrofs, a ion
27. At his Loldthin's hoofe in bakerfreet, Portman fquale, Lady Le Defpencer, a daughter.
29. The Lady of Join Metif fi, efo. of Hammels, co. Herts. a diugliter.

At Stoke-Rnciforl, on. Lincoln, the 1. dy of Edmand Tumo: jun. efy. a daugh. The Latly of Henry Robinfon, efq. basker, in بr rietta-itr. Covent-garden, a da. Lately, at : e powfe of the Lady-dowager Kilimine, on Stepten's-green, Dubin, the Lady of Lord Kilmaize, a daughter.

The Wife of Mr. James Bafire, jun. of Qualty cour, Chancery lane, a fon.

March I. At his houfe on snow-hill, the Lady of whiam Greih im, ffq a cangh.

At Con'ter hil, near Deptford, Kent, the Lady of Jo Hz Brady, efq. a daughter. 3. At the houfe of Col. Mackenzie, in Hert'ord ftreet, May fair, Mrs. Mackerzie, of Scaforth, a fon.
$\therefore$ the Lady of Mr Wm. Threlkell, of Profpect-rov:, Bermondfey, a daughter. 6. The Laty of George Lovibond, eiq. of Sumeriet-itreer, a fon.
9. At hi hrufe in Dartmonth- Atreet, the Ledy of Sir f.is. Bland Burges, bart. a fon. io. At Woolton hall, co. Lancalter, the Lady of Tolin Abton, efq. a fon.
11. The Lady of Sir Wm. Elliott, bart. ef Stobbs, a 100.
16. At hi honfe in Upper Harley-Atreet, the Lat? of War. Bofanquet, efq. a daugh. I.- A A Bevaley, he Lady of Major Wim. Huctinfon, adaghter.
13. Wheatfold houfe, co. Oxford, the Hon. Laty Eliz. Spencer, a fors.

The L.aly f R. H. Buddam, efq. at Inficli, a damster.

At his houfe 10 Blonmfury-fquare, the Lady uf Craven Ord, efq. a fun.

Is Park-ftreet, the Ludy of Wm. Cunhefiz Shawe, efq. M. P. a ton.

The Son. Mrs. Vauran, Lady of Dr. V. of Claser-ftreet, a dan hte::
$\therefore 2$ T'e Comel of iffid, a danghter. zs. At Benwick-loonic, cu. Salop, the fure of au fater, Themer inuys, efq. the Lady-vifountef Ficlinig, a foa and heir.

NTARU1ACES.
Fob. A T Ru'tur-lial, co. Tipperaes, 15. i M Whand, dugterme Fitzgerah, सम ElGet fon wi A. E. Ef of Catigolan, co. Clare, $m$ ior of the r-7th regiment of font, to Mif Baton, finer of Lady Maffey.
23. Tom it hite, efq. of the royal navy, to wht Lerfuck, mily Jan ater of Richard If. L.efy St. Kitt's, and lieutenant-genem of the Leeward inands.
23. A: Bathwick cliurch, Ralph Montazus, tiq jun. of Park-itrec!, Briftol, to Niws B.mard, cldef? daugliter of W. Rhodes E. Cfy. of Great Pulteney flect, Béh.

Kichard romter, efy. of Eaton, neir Norwith, ts Miss Graves, of Norwich.
24. A: Walcot church, Bath, Samuel Puseil, efy. to Mifs Richmond, daughter (f Dr. Rephyicinn of that cty.
25. Rev. Rd. Baker, B. A. ut Cembrokehati, Oxford, to Nifs Martin, daughiter of Rev. Thomas M. of Norwich.

Rev.

Rev. Wni. Morgan Whalley, to Mrs. Buxton, of Upper Slaughter, co. Gloucefter.

Mr. John Miller, of Jermyn-1treet, to Mifs Lambe, of Sloane-ftreet.
27. At Glafgow, his Excellency Robert Lifton, envoy extraordinary and minititerplenipotentialy to the United States of America, to Mirs Henrietta Merchant, daughter of the late Nathaniel M. efq. of Antigu:.
28. At Speen, Beiks, the Earl of Guildford, to Mifs Coutts, eldeft daughter of Ihomas C. efq. banker in the Strand.

At Leeds, Capt. Simpfon, of the fecond regiment, to Mits Loula-Margaret Thorold, ferond daughter of Samuel I.efq. of Ar-rifton-hall, co. Lincoln.
29. Mr. Gearge Duncan, merclant in Dumfries, to Mifs Chritian Cur rie, youngeft dau. of the late Rev. James C. of Midiebie.

At Retfor', con. Nottingham, Rev. Wm. Fearfon, one of the maliers of the free grammar-fchool of Lincoln, to Mifs Frances Low, fecond daugherr of Mr. Robert Low, of Lincoln, irommonger.

Rev. Thomas Wartaby, of Gumley, co. Ieicefter, to Miifs W crt, of Brampton, co. Nerthampion.

Iately, at Feterifourc, James Da'rymple, eft. of North Berwick, to the Countefsdowager of Haddington.

Robert Drought, efq. profeffis of divinity in Trinity-college, Dublu, to Mifs Briftow, eideft daughter of Roger B. ely. of Bagotplace, Dublin.

At Farringdon, Berks, Mr. Reynokls, to Mifs Bradtey, daughter of the late Rev. Mr* B. vicar of that place.

At Brauniton, co. Leicefter, Mr. John Tilley, one of the loyal Leteftermire Yenmamy Cavalry, to Mifs R. Wilkinfon, of Kinkby Muxloe.

Mr. Hart, attorney, to Mifs Worrall, both of Bourn, co. Lincoln.

Mr. Bofwood, of Tooley-ftr. Southwark, to Mifs Ward, of Fetter-lane, Holborn.

March 1. At Hendon, co. Middlefex, Charles-Samuel Milward, efq. of Bromley, in that county, to Mifs Sufannah Maria Eond, daughter of John B. efq. of Hendon.

Henry Thernton, efq. of London, banker, and M. P. for the bornugh of Southwak, to Mirs Sykes, daughter of Joferh S. efq. of Weft Ella, co. York.
R. Grimmer, efq. to Mifs Honor Crabbe, both of Seething, co. Norfolk.

At Loweftoft, Dr. I. E. Smith, of Hammerfmith, prefident of the Linncan Society, to Mis Reeve, only daughter of Robert R. efy. of Loweftoft.
3. Mr. Widiows Golding, furgeon, of Walling firl, to Mrs. Henderfon, relict of the late Magnus H. efq. of Cloak Iune.

A! Bath, Capt Richards, to Mifs Diana Jones, fecond daughter of the late Robert J. efq. of Fonmon calfle, co. Glamorgan.

At Great Eedwin, Wilts, Stephen Ftuin, efq. to Mifs Amue Mafon, third daughter of Alderman M. of that burough.

Mr. Stileman, of Winciefter, Suffex, Mifs Dawes, of Angel-co. Throgmorton & Rev. W. Boycatt, rector of Wheatac St. Peter, and fellow of Caius-college, Can bridge, to Mifs Smyth, daughter of Thom S. efq. of Dei eham.

At Aberdeen, Capt. Livingfon, of tl 30 h regiment of foot, to Mifs Martin, on daughter of Alex. M. efq. of Nellfield.
7. At Canterbury, Thomas Strangwa! Horner, efy. of Mells-park, a captain in ti Somerfotfhire militia, to Mifs Whitlock fifter of Col. W.

At Hathern, co. Leicefter, Mr. Hall, Mifs Micdleton.

Mr. Douglas, of Loughborough, to Mi Charlotte Middleton, dau. of Rev. Mr. M.
10. George Gariett, efq. of Portmoutl to Mifs leirce, of Watford, Herts, daugl of the late Capt. Rich. P. of Kingfton, Sur

At Frampton on-Severn, Mr. Jn. King formerly a woolftapler in Gloucetter, bi now of Dee-hill, near Painfwick, to Mi Collins, of Cranupton.
|. R. Futado, efo. of Sonth-Atreet, Fint hury-itu re, to Mifs E. R. Peynado, & Bevi - Marks.
if. Mr. Thumas Hutchinfon, leather cutter and currier, of St. Ives, to Mif Barnes, daugh. of J. B. e'q ol that place.

At Ely, the Rev. James Saunders, B D feilow of Queen's-cillege, C.mbridge, an rector of Sawtrey-Moigne, co. Huntingdor to Mifs Attenborough, of Ely.
12. Mr. Thomas Woodfall, fon of Mr William W. printer, of Salifbury-\{quare Fleet-Areet, to Mifs Collins, formerly o Drury-lane theatre.
14. Robert Tubbs, jun. efq. of Frier's place, co. Midduefex, to Mrs. Stephenfon of Bedf id-fquare.

At Plymouth, Capt. Pell, of the Nortt Devon miltua, to Mifs Nicholls, daugh. o the late Johin N. efy. merclant, of that place
15. At Greenwich, Major Hamilton, of the reyal artillery, to Mifs Charlotte Hardy. daugher of the late Conful at Cadiz.

At Moccas, Samuel Peptoe, efq. only fon of John Peplue Burch, efy. of Garnftone, co. Hereford, to Mifs Comewall, eideft danghter of Sir George C. bart. one of the reprefentatives for that county.

David Windior, efq. of the marines, to Mifs Lowden, of Houndiditch.
16. At Ludlow, co. Satop, the Hon. Thomas Parker, brother to the Earl of Macclesfield, and colonel of the Oxfordhaire light dragoone, to Mifs Edwards, elleft daughter of Lewis E. efy. of Talgarth, co. Merioneth, and of Old Port, Salop.
Mr. Vincent-Francis Rivay, of Angelcourt, Throgmorton-ftreet, to Mifs Wilhelmina Cornthwaite, daughter of Rev. Thomas C. of Red Lion-frpuare.
17. At Andover, Mr. William ludlow, winc-merchant, to Mifs Stone, filter to Richard S. eiq. of Sonniug.

1796.]

Marriages and Deaths of remarkable Porjons.

By fpecial licence, at Chichefter, Thomas Clapham, efq. captain in the Weft Fifex militia, to Mirs Carolina Longley, only dau. of John L. efq. of Longley Hall, Hants.

At Canterbury, Henry Bazely, efq. of the royal navy, to Mifs Stringer, of that city.
18. At Lady Stirling's, in Chape-ftreet, Edinhurgh, John M'Kenzie, efy, merchant in Glafgow, to Mifs Jane-Maria Stirling, fecond duing. of Sir fohn S. bart of Glorat.
19. At Mary-la-Bonue church, Wallop Brabazon, efq. of Rath, co. Louth, Ireland, :o Mifs Du Fié, daughter of the late Jolias Du Pré, eff. of Wilton-park, Bucks.

Mr. Griffin, of Ludgare-ftreet, to Mifs Chawner, of Guildford-ftr. Qieen-finare, eldeft daughter of the late $W \mathrm{~m}$. C. efy. of Welbeck-ftreet.
Crawford Davifon, efq. to Mifs Wood, of Higlfield-place, Surrey.
2 I . Lewis Cainde, efq. of Great Marlsoroush ftreet, to Mifs Eliz. Taniel, of Upper Noel-Atreet, Soho.
26. Mr. Charles Lathbrook, of CannenAreet, Hamburgh broker, to Mifs 1 hompfon, of the Strand.

Deathe.

1795.

fune 17.
T Port-au-Prince, William he hofpital.
Aug. . . . At Guadaloupe, in confequence of the wounds he received on the $2 d$ of july, 1794, at Point-a-Petre, where he was taken prifoner, Lieut. Jolnn Ekins, of the 2 d regiment of foot.
0.7. 7. At Hanover, in his 67th vear, Tohn-George Zmmermann, M. D. knight of the Rulitian order of St. Wlademir, of he third clafs, and firft plyfician to his Majefty for Hanover. Dr. Z. was a nadive of the canton of Zurich in Switze:and, and is well known tn the publick hy his excellent Treatufe on Expericnce, his Effay on National Pride, his work on Suyitude, his account of his converfations with :he late King of Prufid, and other valuasle publications, muit of which have been ranfated into Englifh.
13. His Higlinefs the Nahob of the Carnatick; and, on the 27 th, the Pelhwa, or firft Minifter of the Mahata Government.

Nov,... In the ifland of Grenada, Col. Ralph Ramfay, of the $29: 1$ reginent.
3. At Ah, near Sandwich, in Kent, Mr. Thomas Jull, fen.
6. In child-bed, of her 13 th child, Mrs. Pittman, wife of Mr. Wm. P. of Sandwach.
11. At Bermudas, Capt. Dixom; He hiled ronnd the worth with Cupe. Couc.
Dcc.... At the prefisent: houfe at Torsola, in the Weft Indies, of a fever, nuith lamented, in his zoth y ear, Henry-George Fownes, efq. commander of his Majefty's Roop Bull dug, and ehere fon of the Rev. Tho. F. of Kite ery-court, co. Devon.

At Harfleur, in Normandy, aged abont 70, Mr. John Maton, ahlerman and fenior of the carporation of Salifbury.
5. At St. Vment's, in the Wert Indies, aged 46, Charles Wehfter, M.D. phÿfician to the army, and fellow of the Royal Coslege of Phyficiansat Edinburgh.
14. At Sphervale pen, Trelawny, in the inand of Jamaica, Mr. John-Gilber Ironfide, fion of the late Rev. William 1. of Houghton-le-Spring, co. Durham.
20. At Cadiz, in $5 p$ in, of a rapid decline, John-Capol Hanbury, efq. fon and heir to the late fon H. eff. of Pont-y-pool-houre, and M. P. for the county of Monmouth. He would have heen of age on the 27 ti of fanuary, on which day he was to have heen maritied to a lady of exquifte accomplimments, and with a fortune that would have rendered his own extremely fpleadid.
1796. Fan. 3. At Lifon, whither he went for the recovery of his health, in his 2 Ift year, Thomas-Auguftus Hervey.
27. At Limerick, in lreland, in his 3oth year, Sanuel Crompe, M.D. N.R. 1. A. Whoever has known the man whofe much. - es retted death this paragraph relates, will read it with a figh. He was gifted with talents, and poliefled of information, that promifed to raife him to an high degree of eminence in has profenish, and in the literary world. He had açuired no imall celebrity, as an author, by the pubtication of "An Inquiry into the Nature and Properties of Opiom," and of "An Effay on the heit Means of providing Employment for the People;" which laft was honoured with a prize-medal by the Rogal Irath Aceslemy, and procured him admiffrom among the members of that body. It is a work concerning which we hazard not much in faying, that it canot fail to eftablith his reputatom and perpetuate his memory, as a fenfible and hamane man, a true and enlightened patriot, and azeat us friend to the general nterett of mankind.

Fch. 1:. At Forfor, after a few days illnefs, aged 8 ; Bailie Wm. Gray. He enjoyel a fingularly good conftitution, never having, by any trouble or ficknefs, been confined a day to his bed previous to the difeafe he died of; and retained his memory and fenfes to the lait. He left behind him $5^{3}$ children and grandetildsen, all itout and healthy, befides a great number of great-grandchtiten.
13. At Hoy, in Oikney, in the 8 gth year of his age, and 5 the $^{\text {th }}$ of his mimitry, the Rev. Robert Sands, minifter of Hoy and Gremfay.
14. At Mile-end, the Rev. William Addingroi, paitor of a congregation of Proteftant Diffenters in Mule's lane, Can-non-itreet; to which, on the death of Mr. Fort, he was invited from the congreg?tive: : Market-Harborough, and bad retired on being ftruck with the palfy fome time agn.

$25^{6}$ Obiluary of remarkable Perfons; with Eiographical Aneciotes. [Mar

16. At Denl, aged 73, Mr. Jas. Shindem.
17. At Balville, in Badenoch, Invernefshire, in his 59 th yer, James Macpherfon, efq. M. P. for Camelford. His remains were brought to Highgate, Midalefex, and were 18 days on the road. At that place the hearfe was met by 8 gentlemen's coaches and 6 mourning coaches, and with this attendance the corpfe was, ou Tueflay the 15 th of Marcin, brougbt to Weftminfter abbey, and interred in the Pqet's corner, vear the monument of John dake of Argyll, and not far from the buft and tablet to the memory of the late Dr. Goldfmith, which, we believe, was erecited at the expence of Mr. M. who wrote the epitaph iufcribed on the marhie. Mr. M. nate fome nofe in his day in the literary as well as the political word. The firft publication by which he was diatinguibed, he called a trandation of the poems of Ofian the fon of Fingal, which appeared in the year 1762. This performarce ex. cited a long and acrimonious contriveriy, in which Dr. Hugh Blair early diftugumed himifelf. It prociuced fome fevere anmad. verfiens from Dr. Jolanfon, whilh the author refented, and adjed io his refentment fome menacing expreftions, which produced from the Doctur that ve:y pirited and intrepid letter, which Bofwell has publifhed in his memors. In 1773 he poblifhed a tranflation of the Ihiad of Homer, in the fame heroic profe with which be had dignificd the fom of Fingal ; 20) this work the hate Sur Jober Etiot was fo extremelv partial, thit he preferred it to rope's, carried copies of the book cund to all his patients. Not fatisned with the laurels he gaihered in poetry, Mi. M. next embarked in the characier of an hiftorian, and in 1771 publimed au Introduction to the Hiftory of Great Britain and Ireland; and in 1773 a Hiatury of Geart Britain, fiom the Rettoration 111060 , to the Acceffion of the Houfe of Hanover, in two volumes quarto; the chief merit of this collection hes on original extracts from the private memoirs of King Jarnes the Seconal, and their leading error is party prejudue. In 1775 he publuled a panplet, inutuled, the Rights of cieat Britain over bet Cotomes afferth, which dwided the approbation of the Roy.lufs wath Dr. Johnon's Taxation no Tyranny. It has heen faid (with what theth we know not), that he obtaned a penfion of -ool. pur ann. from hord Nomth. He was firtt elected to Pallminent in 5780 , and was appointed to the acrative office of agent to the Nabob of Arror, which he herd to his dealh
15. Ai Cl phatw, John Wright, efq. of Hatfichi prove j, Ent-x zo. Thumat st atv, e'q. of the Grive, Hackneg. He bas dett a ton, tofident at Efiningdon, Herts; and a daughter, marrie to the Rev. Mr. Fuller, formerly minifte of the Prefbyterian congregation at Enfiels Aged 8x, his Serene Highuefs Heary Augufius, reigning Prince of Hohenho lugelfingen, chief of the illuftrious houf of that name. He was born July 11, 1715 .

21. At Glack, in Scotland, Mis. Margo ret M'Kenzie, wife of Robert M. efq. © that place.

At Kelgrave, co. Leicefter, aged 8 r , th: Rev. Jolm Clayton, M.A. He had enjoye the rectory of Norton by Twyernfs (cor monly called Hogs Norton) 51 years, an had been 37 years vicar of Belgrave.
22. At the houre of Nicholas Ridey, ef in Francis-ttr. Bedford fqu. Mrs. Atkins.

At Woolwich, on-board his Majefty foop Raven, Lieut. Francis-Venables Ve nom, of the royal navy.
23. At Belvidere-houfe, Bath, in a ve advanced age, Mrs. Gibhon, mother of it celehrated Hiftorian.

At Cove, Lient. Thomas Malbon, of 1 Majeaty ship Malabar.
24. At his father's houfe at Claphas the Rev. Jonathan Garduer. He was bo Se,t. 2F, : 61; enered at Merchant $T_{i}$ lors fchoal Feb. 4, 1771 ; whence he w elected to St. John's coilege, Oxferd, Ju 11, 1779, where he afterwards procsed fellow. In 1785 he hecame under mala if Neichant Tailm foon, but refign at Muffummer 1795; M A Jan. 15,176 and B. D. Apill 24, 1792. He was fai time curate of Si. Mary Abchurch, whs he was huried on the 1 if of March.

At Ofakdivick, near York, aged Mrs. Myers, relict of tize Rev. John Ite vicar of Langton, in the North ridi of Yorkthire.
25. At his brother's chambers in Fur val's inn, the Rev. Michael Baxter, vi of Tamwonth, co. Warwick.

At Rurntwooc-lodge, near Rarnfey, Rev. J his Marfden, D.D. rector of Bolta Percy, prebenlary of Surhwell, and 18 centor of St. Afaph. He was of Chu Church, Oxford; M. A. 1756; B. : D. D. ${ }^{1777}$.

After two days ilhefs, at Bowhill-hot near Exeter, Mrs. Gordon, wafe of $\mathrm{C}_{\text {}}$ G.; whon the has left with fewen child to dephore her lofs.
26. Rev. Heny Tafvell, B. A. 1 treafurer and femor vicar-ction th of He ford cathedral, and vicar of Ma:den, i that city. This gentleman, wath tarong telleciual powers, poticficd a mony uffurlly retentive, was a good clatical ic 1s, and generally allowed great $k$ kill 1 k nowlege on the fcience of mufick, wh the offen promoted to the entert inmer his friends in and near Herefurd. His ? was un riked by fome peculiarites, wh had red ded him well known at s . buiy, Wells, Worciter, and Gloucel, 796.] Muituary of remarkable Perfons; woith Eicgrapbical Anocdotes. 257 where, a few years fince, he regubrily atended the different malick reetings. He had often exerted himfelf in the caufe of he dintrefed, and hail performed many Ats of cliarity. Mr. T. was a native of Votton-urder-Elge, in Gloncefterfire; nd has left more than 2000l. to his two rothers and a gentleman of the college of Iereford.
A: Canterbury, in his 8oth year, Mr. tobeit Quiefted, late of Littlehourn, Kent.
In Great Ruffil-ftreet, Bhombury, Aajor Jomes Camphell, of the Chutham ivifion of marines.
27. In Culeman-Atreet, aged 75, Mr. olin Jacob.
In the Crefcent, Bith, the Hon. Charles Tane, of Mount-1da, co. Norfolk.
In his 6 th year, Mr. Emanuel Elam, of .eels, form rly a confrelerable Amesican herchant, and one of the people called llakers. He hat reired from bufinefs everal years ago, with a fortune of nearly oo,oncl. It was this gentleman and his froher Samuel who wer the principal urchafers of the valuable eftate which was Ild in Octoher laft, belonging to the Maruis of Salibury, near Leeds, for 155.0001 . he elder Mr. Theluffinn offered i $50,00=1$. nd James Armitage, eff. of Hunlet, near ,eeds, 154,0001 . Mr. Leatham, of Batton ear Malion, and Mr. Dowker, one of the :nants, were the other purchafers.
At Beicigh-mills, Mr. Cruficr, an emient miller near Maldon, Efuex.
In Craven-1treer, the new-born fon of irthur Onnow, efq.
28. In his 7 Gih jear, John Davis, efq. of loyd Jack, in the commiffion of the peace or the county of Card gan.
After a long and painful illnefs, aged 77, he Rev. John Jago, M. A. of King'slliege, Cambridpe, $3^{8}$ years vicar of avillock, and 43 years rector of Pe stavy. As a minifter, he was diligent and sdufrions; and, like a wife and faithful aftor, nevel defifted from his fpiritual aployment till compelled to refign to the firmities of Age and the decays of Nature. Is a magiftrite, he was as cautious as he pas able and ifeful, equally as free from orruption as partiality. In his private onverfation he was lively and facetious, sretable and entertainng without levity, ha aiways confintent with the dignity of is claracter.
29. At Holes Owen, co. Salop, in the rime of life, the Rev. John Parkes, B. A. anter of the free grammar fchuol of that lace, and minifier of O:dbury. His fenments were liberal, his perception clear, is jodgement found, and his philantliropy niverfal. In the pulpir he was animated, lain, and for cible; his fermons were clear, ndeafy to te underfond; for, as he once bferved to the writer of this aricle, " My Gent. Mag. March, $1 / 9^{6}$.
congregation being many of them illiterate, to fpe:ik to them in a ftudied, fiowery fyle, would be the rame as fpeaking to them in an maknown tonguc." He was a tender hufband, an affection te father, a cheerful and inftructive companion, and a fincere friend. His death is a fevere lofs to his widow and infant family.

At Clapton, John Withers, efq. clerk to the commitioners of hom-tax for the city of London; and formerly deputy of the ward of Cheap.

Lately. Among the number who unhappily perifled on-board the Leda frigate, off Modeira, MIr. John Monins Le Geyt, midhipman, youngeit fon of Robert Le Geyt, efq. of Canterhury ; a young man of very prominigg talents, which, joined to an excellent difpofition, made him univerfally beloved. His parents have to lament the lofs of a third ormament of their family within the fhort fpace of 9 months. In April, 1795, they were deprived of a moft amiabie, accomplified, and only daughter, at the age of 19 : and, a few weeks afterwards, of their fecond fon, aged 18, a firft lieatenant in the royal artillery, who, falling a viatim to the fatigues of the fervice at St. Lucie, left a character, amply teftified by his fuperior oflicers, and by all who knew him, as worthy a clofe imitation in a profeffional as well as private line.

Aged 51, M. Dombey, a celebrated French hotanift, who was employed, for feveral years, by the King of Spain, in cotlecting and defcribing the plauts and other natural productions of Feru. After his return from that country he retired to $\mathrm{L}_{\mathrm{jon}} \mathrm{ons}$, and coutinued to refide there till lately, when 16 was appointed, by the Nationat Convention, to misertake another voyage to America, for the purpofes of uatural hiftory. He accotdingly embarked as Breft for Philadelphia; but the Thip be was on-hoard was taken by the Enillifi, and carried into Antigus, where he died.

At Vienna, in his $77^{\text {th }}$ year, Count Trantmanfdoiff, the Emperor's chambertain.

At Ballyfermott-cafte, near Dublin, Capt. James-George Proffor, of the Plymonith divifion of marines. His death was occafioned by a liver-complaint, contracted on the coaft of Africa. He had the honous to ferve on toard the Impregnable, Acirairal Caldwell, on the firt of June. He was a gentlenian of infinite humour, pleafing thongh harmlefs wit, and cheerfol conviviality; admired while hiving, and regretted now no mure.

In Ireland, Col. Henry Bruen, deputy quat ter-mafter-generaltu the army the lat four years of the American war. He died poffeffed of the greateft furtune ever amaffed in the army hie, the great Marlborough not excepted. By hus wiil, lately made pub-

258 Obituary of remarkalle Perfons; with Biog' aphical Anecdotes. [Ma

1 c, it appears, he has left $12,00 \mathrm{c}$. per annum to his eldeft fon; 4000 . ditto to his fecond fon; and 30001 . ditto to his third fon ; with $50,00 \mathrm{l}$. to each of his daughters, and a large jointure to his widow. It is fuppofed, u ith mortgages, \&c. that he died worth half a million.

At Proudfoothown, near Lowth, co. Meath, eged io5, Mrs. Kelly. She retainell her feples nearly to the haft hoar, and, until within thefe fix months, walked to clappel every Sunday.

At Stephen's-green, Dublin, Lady Eliz. Southwell, elsett fitter of the Marquis Comtrallis, and wife of B. Southwell, efq.

At his humfe in Dublin, the Rev. Dem Coute, brother of the late Sir Fyre C.

In Scotand, aged 114, after cariying his budget from his $14^{\text {th }}$ year, James Andeffon, a well-known itinerant tuker.

At Teigumoutb, co. Devon, William Peirie, efy.

At the leat of his father, Gen. Faringun, Capt. Farrington, of the $33^{1}$ eegiment. He loit his life in confequence of the tranfoot in which his party of the reginent was embarked at Spithead with Adm. Cluiltian's fleet being ron down by the Impregriable man of war of 98 Eums.

At Cheder, in his owd year, Henry Pembertor, efy. a captain in the roynd navy, and regulating-officer for that port.

At Sumefice, co. Durtam, agod rot, Mr. Jofeph Dutham. He had furmerly been in the army, and mounted guard at Whitehall 81 ver.rs ago; hus faculties were fer foct to the hitt.

At Bath, whither he went for the recovery of his health, Jofeph Boulton, eiq. lanker, of Briderorth, and one of his Miajenty's juftices for that borough.

At Mr. Rawhing ${ }^{\circ}$, at Fuliam, in bis $\$_{3} d$ year, Stephen Jermyn, efy.
M. Г. Lopes, efq. of Clapban-common, ither to M. L. efq. of Fitzrey fquare.

After a long and painful illn'fs, in her Stth year, Mr* Lydall, winow of John L. -fly of Uximore, co. Oxford.

At Molbury, co. Devon, Vice-almiral Gidoin, a truly brave officer, poffeffed of fuch univerfal benevolence and philanthrony as rendered him :a ornament to human nature; and who is as univerfally lamented ats he had lived beloved and eftocmet.

At Nears-Ahby, co. Northampton, In. Tinume, who has, for a number of year, loudged at the Bont nublic-honfe there, and was in the habit of working ats a day - las. bourer. His extemal appearance was truly wetched and miferable, and his parfinony fogreat, that be denied thinfelf the conmon nccelliaties of life when ant to be obtained t.y any other means than that if porchafing them. On examining his cloaths, a fhort time after his deceate, 69 guineas, ghillangs, and I halfpenny, were found lened - p $m$ the wainand of his breeches.

At Guillford, Surrey, Mrs. Maud.
At Rainham, in Kent, in her 24th ye Mifs Richards, only daughter of the $R_{1}$ James R. Her amiable and engaging d pofition will render her lofs long and verely felt by her difconfolate parents a a numerons circle of friends.

Rev. Philip Blifs, vicar of Colerne; Wi
Mrs. Twung, wife of the Rev. Mr. refior of St. Mary's, Colchefter.

In London, Mrs. Williamfon, wife of 1 Rev. James W. M. A. formerly reader mathematical leetures in the univerfry Oxford.

In London, aged 70, Mr. Thomas We late of Market-Harborough, a member the benefit-fociety held at the boufe of A John Waterfiel, the Hind inn, Hart rough; from which, during the lait 9 ye he receired the fum of 9 cl .11 s .

Aialch. On or abont the it of this mor at the vicmage-houfe of Lawhadon, co. Pe broke, thic Rev. William Evare, ahove years vicar ef that parifh, the laft of foven fons of Evan Evans, late of At bifl, co. Camarthen, efy. This pious learned clergyman was highly refpected the neishboming gentry, and died as i vorfally lamented by the poor of his rifi, to whofe neceffities he ever admi tered with a 1 beral and unfparing ha He was the author of feveral poetical pit and religious tracks, which, with his emplary femons, we hope his execu will prablin. Ahout 30 years ago he tr. lated from the Welfh into Englifh vert collection of ancient pcems written by colebrated Rees Prichard in the begim of the laft century, insituled, "The We man's Candle, or Divine Exercifes" very curions and popular hook among Ancient hitions.

1. At the houfe of her fon, in Lincol inn-fields, where fhe had lately arrive ber road from Eath, aged 54, Mrs. $]$ Custeis, wife of Jeremiala C. efq. of B in Suffex. She was the fecond duughter cobentef of Searles Giles, eff. late of $\dot{j}$ denders in Kent. An only fon and 1 daughters bave forvived this extellent amable woman. She was buried in fanily-vault at Teiterien in Kent. In fame vault was lately interied Edwardsemial Cruters, eldelt fon of Edward. remiah C eff. of Lincoln's-inn-fields, ' died Augutt -, 1795 , aged almott 5 ye In the fame vatult alfo was lately inten! Mr. Llizaheth Curteis, wife of Willian efy. merchart, in Friday-itreet, and i? furvving daughter and heirefis of Fras Whatield, efy. late of Betherfiden in K . She died luddenly at Camberwell, Dec. .1795 , aged 43 , to the extreme grief 4 in reparable lots of her difconfolate hunt 1 and famby, and left 3 fons and 2 dangh -

In Sife. 1 rec, Camor fureet, Wentwh Dgle, efi. ienguan.

796.] Obituars of renar kable Porfons; zuith Biographical Anecidotes. 259

Mr. John Gooàwin, of Chapel-court, xford-itreet, formerly a watch-maker in e Strand.
2. At Oxford, of an inflammation of the ugs, much lamented by his numerous faily and frients, the Rev. John Mogridse,
-A. hate of Alhion-hall, in that unver$y$, visur of Perfhore, in Worcelterthire, d of Avenbury, in lkurefordmire. The A , to which he was prefented in 1784 , in the gift of the Dean and Cnapter of eftimister ; the hatter in the Crown.
3. In Kenfington-fquare, Mr. William cod, many years clerk to the Bubers mpany, and clerk to the Court of Lieurantcy of London.
At Lichfield, aged $6_{3}$, Charles Simpion, 1. one of the aldermen, and formerly wa-clenk, of that city.
At Stumford, co. Lincoln, aged $4^{6}$, Jas. derfhaw, M. D. formerly of Emanuelllege, Cambridge.
At King's Lyma, co. Norfolk, the Rev. lan- Jeftery Watfon, fon of Cooke W. eiq. Hector of the excife there.
4. At his houfe at Clent, co. Stafford, somas Liell, efq. a lieutenant in the royal $\mathrm{wy}_{\mathrm{g}}$ and formerly commatader of the Stafd Eáft India-man.
Mr. Temple, of his Majetty's fitreirillery at Windfor.
At Ba:h, Mlr. B. D. Cook (fee p. 248).
Of a putrid fever, Mr. Shave, a confidehe farmer at Thornham, co. Linc. ; and, a fame afternoon, of the like mataly, two - his fons, very promifing youtis.

At his houfe at Stratton, co. Norfolk, 8. Geo. Wallis, one of the people called akers, many years an eminent wholefale Seu-draper in Londun.
Aged 68, Mrs. Bence, wife of Mr. Alder4us B. of Wotton-Underedze, co. Glouc.
5. John F.dwardes, efq. of Havod, complifoner of the land and window takes for ie of the divifions of Cardiganthire.
At his houfe at Roehampton, co. Surt, William Galley, eiq.
6. In Chancery-lane, Robert Fry, efu. $\therefore$ of the commulioners of bankrupts.
A: Exeter, Mrs. Storey, wite of the Rev. Jeph S. of Bingfield, co. Cavan, hreland. At Briftol, Capt. Inglis, many y ars a re4table and moch-refpected commander of nip from that port to the Weft indies.
Un his 84th year, Abtié Kaynal. fie vked to Paris a week hefore his death; I a cold, which was followed by a catrh, and kept his bed fome day?. On the 4 of his deceme he got up, haved and thed himfelf. At fix in the evening he tat to bed; heard a news-paper read, al made fome critical obfervations upon $t$ operations announced in the praper. At to oclock be died. The juftice of the Ice of the Section dos Champe Elyfés s not chufe to bury him until he hat alkthe Government whether it was intended to pay him any funeral houours.-He was empluyed, juft before his death, upas a new edition of his Philafophical Hilhory, aud had prefented an addrefs to the Directory to obtain from the agents of the Republick in foreigo countries the documents, of which he ftood ia need, relative to the comanerce of different nations, to the Ealt India Companies, and fome other objects of his work. The Directory immediately complied with his requelt, and fent the necelfary orders to the French ambaffadors in Huthand, Denmark, Sweden, Spain, and Ital;. It is known that the Abee left, among his manufcripts, a Hiftry of the Rev cation of the Edici of Nantes, in four volumes ; but it is rumoured that, uader the reign of Robefpierre, he burnt part of his papers.
7. At Finchley, in an advanced age, James Andiews, efq. of Queen-fquare, Weftminfter; a gentleman refpected by all who knew him for the integrity of his principles, and univerfally beloved for the diffinguithed fincerity and henevolence of his heart. He has left his fortune to Thomas Harrifon, efy. who is to take the name of Andrews.

At Swaffham, co. Norfolk, aged 22, Mrs Roberts, wite of Mr. C. is. furgeon, of that plice.

John Rase, ef 1 . of Sudbrooke, co. Linc.
8. In the neighbuthood of Dumbries, aged 101, Lenowes Reid.

At his houre in Noton-itreet, Sir WilLam Cuambers, Kuight of the Polar Star, Surveyor General of his Midje?ty's Board of Works, Tieafurer of the Royai Academy, and Fellaw of the Royal and Antiquarian Societies. The remembrance of his ann.able drfofition and emment virtaes with ever remain imprinted on the minds of has friends, and on thofe who were employed under him. His abilties as an architect will be immortalized by that great nation.al omament, Somerfet place, and by his excellent Treatife on Civil Arcnitecture. Sur William was a Swede by birth, and the fon of a Swedifh merchant. The latter not being profperous, his fon, with an early promife of great talents, vifited feveral countries, to acqure architestural knowledge, to which his genius trongly inclised. He went to Coina, and broughe all that was worth bringi g, of the art of huiblang and gardening in thit coraty. He publiffeil tis ebfervations io a "Differtation on Otiental Gardenia.. $17733^{\prime \prime} 4^{\text {to }}$; and in the foldowing y:ar a $\mathrm{i}-\mathrm{c}$ : adelition, to whel was antiex-a 'A copl matery Fu, gen." which wasm nollincfy athacied and bert"fqued in the aumirable "Herome Epitie" fo genealiy acribed o one of ouy beit modern perts, who has unce detinguited hunfla by a poera on gardening. Ey induftry, [rudence, and integrity, he

260 Obituary of rimarkabls Ferfons; witm Biographica! Anecioies. [Ma:

pufied forward as an architeet, difplayed fucia talents as raifed him to the lead of his poofefion, and enabled him to acquite a large fortune. He was eftetmed by the higheit and moft valuable characters all over burope, as wel! as in this comentry. He publifhed "Defigns for Chimefe Buildings,", fol.; "A Trestife on Civil Archite &ure, 1759 ," fol.; " Plan, Elevations, and Sections, and Perfpective Views, of the Gardens and Baildings at Kew, $1=03$," fol. ; all which were incorporated into one volume, folio, 1769.-Sir William Cham- $^{2}$ ters was defcended of the ancient family of Chalmers in Scotland, barons ef Tartas in France. His grandfather was an opulent merchant, who fuffered very much in lus for King of Sweden, with money and goods, for which te was pad in the hafe coin ot that Monarch. Sir William's father was a gentleman who reffited for many years in Sweden, to endeavour to fettle clams his father had upon that comery. Sir Wilfiam Chambers, his fon, was born in Siveden; appointed fupercargo to the Swedifh Eaft India Company, which he queted at eighteen years of age, to exercife thote talents for architecture which he afterwards difplayed with fo much credit to hinfelf and to his country, as that great orbarent, Some fet Houfe, bualt hy himfelf, fo phanly evinces. His remains were interred in the Poets Conner, Wefminfer Alter, atrended by his fon, his fons in law, his execuors, the Dean of Limcoln, montter of the path, the Rev. Mr. Penneck of the Eriifh Mufeum, and a fow other friends, the prefident, officers, and council, of the Rayal Acader:y, and the clerk of the Board of Woiks. In the abbey they were joned by the mafte: vorkmen belonging to the Brand of Werks, who attended, unfolicited, to teitify their regret for the lofs, an. their efteen for the memory of a mai, by whom their clams had ever been examined with attention, and leciled with juftice, and by whom themfelves were always treated whith milduef, contefy, and aftimilty.
9. Mrs. Bicknell, whe of Mr. B. brewer, Micend.

In Thavies-inn, in his 6 gth year, $\mathrm{W}^{\prime} \mathrm{m}$. Whafter, efq.

Mr. Torr, of the claice caluier's office in the: Bank of Contand.

At shrewforry, Laly Knowles, widow of the late Almmal sir Chaties K. bsit.

In Meckienbarsh-Atreet, Dublin, Combsellor J. Kolls, a gentioman of great profefiem thilties.

Mrs Purker, wife of Mir. Sack ville P. formerly a bookfetler of Osford, bot who had irtirct om buthefs many years.

At her houfe in Qucen Anne-itreet $E_{a}$ t, sirs. Clarke, wíe of fohn C. etq. At St. German's, in Comwall, Capt. G. W. Hruce, of the afth reximent.

After a lingering illmefs, ared $25, \mathrm{Mi}$ Wilmot, eldeft fifter of Sir Robet W. bar oi Chaddeden, co. Derby.

At Lynn, in his 6 gth year, Mr. Richau Rufh, formerly a corn infpector there.
10. Mr. John Harrifon, fecretary to th Million bank and clerk to Guy's horpital.

Mr. Sanderfon, formerly mafter of tl White Horfe livery-ftables in the Curt in road, Moonfields.

Mr. Felton, ftock-broker.
At a very advanced age, the Ho John Forhes, the oldeff officer in the nav and general of trines. He had been poat caproin exactly 60 years, having be appointed in March, 1736 . He was ma a rear admual in J.ly, 1747, and a fi admiral in Fehruary, 1758 . In 178 t was appointed admiral of the fleet. I was a fingulit inftance of longevity, accoi paned by fo much infirmity. Fol the li 20 years of his 1 fe he was never ahie fland, wor could he fearce turn himfe'f bed witbout afliftance, heiug lame in bc liands and feet. This ufficer was remar able for his extenfive and univerfal kao ledge of naval affar, having ffadied the in all their brancizes, with a perfeveran and oberved upon them with an acuten and judegment altogether unparalleled. I mind was capable of emhracing the gieat and montempheared objeets; ind hav hont it tow and the fudy of that profefia of which be was allowed, by the aniven voice of his contemporarics, to le a pr cipal omament, he attaned fuch a fum of natuth ikill as rensered him the ora of a!l who were moft eminent; whet in the dreet on of the fleet, of the nati or in the equally arduow tatk of fuperint ding the civil department of the differ brancheo of the Morme. In the earlier of his lif, he was peculiariy noticed as able, exterprifine, and intrepid offieer.
ferved with much reputation uader Sir J, Norris; and was no lefs ditinguifhed captain of the Norfoik, of 80 guns, in aftion of Mathews and Leflock with comburd fleets of France and Spain, w lus gallantry contributed in a high degre fave his brave frend Admiral M.the whofe feco:d he was in that engrgem So bright was his homour and fo clear ${ }^{3}$ reputaiten on thofe turbuknt days, though bus evilence on the trial of the miral went wholly againd Admual Left, yet then officer was often heard to dect, "That Mir. Fortes's teilmony was g a like neficer and a genteman." In 1 d Chatham's glonous war, Admiral F. is fele:ted as che abluft amfitant the frit $d$ could have in the management of the are ralty, and conducted hmafelf in a mair highly creditable to his abilities, and.. nently ferviceable to has country. Wh the warrant for expecting the unfort - 0 Admiral byig was uttered for fignatur it the admirally board, Almiral F. retufed to fign ir, at the fame time humbly laying at his late Majefty's feet his ohjectums. A copy of the paper given by the admiral to his Majeity, on that occafion, muy be feen in Smollet's Hiftory of England ; it is well worthy the attertion of all men of hooour, as it contains, perbap', the teft fipecimen of an upright and medependent mind, and an honelt and benevolent horrt, that is to be found in any langauge. The following anecdote is well known in the naval and political circles : During a late adminiftration, it was thought expedient tw offer a noble lord, very bugh in thenaval proferion, and very defervelly a favourite of his Sovereign and his country, the office of generdl of the marines, held by Admiral F. and fpontaneoufly contcrred upon him ty his Majelty, as a reward for his mony and long fervices. A meffage was fent by the minifters, to fay it would forward the King's fél vice if the would refign ; and that he Thould be no lofer by this accommodating the government, as they propurell recommending it to the King to give hma a penfion in Ireland of 300 l. a year, and a peerage to defcend to his daghter. To this Admiral F. fent an momediate anfw:r ; he told the Minifters the generalthip of the marines was a militury e malozment, given him by his M.jefty, as a rewand for has fervices; and that he wowl inot comdefend to accept of a penfion or bugain for a peerage. He concluded by liy us his generalmup of the marinee, tyg ther with his rank in the nary, at the Kma's feet, entreating him to take both away, if they conkl forward lis fervice; and, at the fame time, affuring his M.jeft, he wowld never prove himfelf unworthy of the former honours he had received, by ending the remnant of a long life as a penfioner, or accepting of a peerage, obtamed by political aridngentent. His zracious Matter applauded his manly fpirit, ever after continued him in has high military homours, and, to the day of his death, condencended to fhow him itrong merks of his regard.On the mornine of the 18 hih his remans were removed irmm Savile row to Wasford Church, Hetts, where has kady is interred in the family vambe of the E.al of Effex, to whom the was haif niter. The funeral was proare, only one cozch following the curpfe, with the fervants of the deceafed, confiling of a footman, witc. conk, and homelkeeper. IIe has leít near 200,000 . to two daumber:, cohertenies; to trs houfekeeper and tw, wher domeiticks mnutios of 3cl. ath; and whis buter a year's wase. Tree inderptom on Kas coffin-j) are and monment cowtains his titles and horoarable deiceat, w.th the bedigree of his wife.

1796.] Obituary of remarkab.e Perfons; with Biographical Anecdotes. 26!

At Iflington, Mis. Seton, wife of James ff. Efq. governur oi the Mand of St, Vincent.

In Duhlin, Henry Greville, efq. of Carriekmine, in that county.
lin Park ro'v, Brititol, Wm. Hole, efz. late one of the bankers of that city, bus many years retised from bufmefs.

At Euinburgl, Robert Dick, efy. advocate, and proferfor of civil law.

Themas Atkinfon, exq. of Lothbury.
ir. At her houfe in Kidare ftreet, Dublin, after a lingering ilfief, in her goth year, the Comitefs-dowager of Aldhurough.

At Barnftaple, ased 28, Mr: Hugh Adame, attorney; a gentleman whofe unwem:hed rematation and p!e.t fuecefs in hat profition fatly evince the honery, liberahty, and catwor of bis depurtment.
12. Mrs. Leyon, wite of Mr. Thenas L. ferjeant at mace, and keeper of the boroughgonl of Liverpool, who alfo died on the following day. Their bodies were nete: ved in one grave on the g g h , at St . Peten's church, winther the procelfin proceeded in the following order : a fingle coach; two coaches abreat: two heartes abreaft, comaining the bodics; two moundin-conclies aloreatt. The fingular and affecting appearance of fuch a procefion excited mach atention.
13. In his 73d year, the Rev. Francis Say. For upwards of 40 years he held the recharies of Hotley St. Garge and Eait Hatley, together whin the vicange of Tablow, wh in the county of Ca abruige. The former he a that time firce vefitied in favour of his fon, the Rev. F. F. Suy, the prefent incumbent. He was of Peterhoute, Cumbridge; B A. 1775, M. A 5753.

At Barking, atter a luas illatis of the dropfy, Mr. Samuel Burfi. He wis tapped on the 1 ft mRant, whe apwads of 60 quat ts of water caken fi mo hiom.
14. At Thruxton, aged 80 , the Rev. Henry Vaughan, M. A. upwaris of 52 years minifter of the unted parthes of Kington ath Thrusten, nar Herefod, and vicar of Leominfter. Fortunate m the enjoyment of a guad confitution, he was for regular in tie pertomance of his citurcta fervice, that it is known he never had himfelf onated fervino the charches more than five times in $5:$ years. He has left a large fami'y.
15. A jed 77, Mr. Them. Mrawn, a vary reflectande hap-owser at Hill. He was

96. At has bambers havio :it idnonton, Mr. Phmp Da ic, tiock-hroker, Wathrook.
17. Mifs Frances Wh tfeld, dather of the Rev. De: V. rector of St. Margaret's, Lothbury.
13. Ac Rrifini Mut-wel's, Wm. Evans, efy. of Darley, near Derioy.
12. At hi beufe in Lincoln':-imn-fields, of a rhenatic fover, Gemge Bond, elg. one of has Mafty's ferjeant at law; whofe profethoual emivence wes deturvedly andured by perterering indattry in the laborow puffui of lead knewtote, and by invariably honcurable conduet in his pracrice as an malrocate. In extent of butinefs he was interior to very few, and greatly firperior to moft, of bis learned brethren of the coif; and, though his oratory was not always periealy Ciceronian, his deep know lege, correct juigement, and conftant good humosp, more than compenfated for that defect: and, had he live! to attain a feat upon the bench, he would have made an able, upright, and independent judge. His eacellent heart, admirable temper, and focial qualities, will make his private worth te long affectionatcly remembered by thofe many friends who deeply lament his deceafe at an early period of life, and in the midft of a fucceisful purfuit of weal 4 and honear. He was the fecond fon of George Fond, eff. of Farnhan, in Surrey, who died in May, 1792, by a daughter of Sir Thomas Chitty, knt. married in March, 3749 ; and bruther to Capt. Bond, of the Royal Admiral Eaft fndiaman. His father's elder brother, Benjamin, married Elizabeth third daughter and coleireis of John Hoptins, efq. of Brittons, commonly c.lled Vulture Hopkins; many particulars of whofe family are to be found in vol. LXIV. in Apml, i 792 , hemarried Mifs Cooke, uf Condus-ftrect, whofe granufather was smay varm ont of the prothonotaries of the Coart of Common Pleas ; and whofe amiarie manners and affectionate condect to lier hufband, in ficknefs and in ticalch, megit the higheft encomians. He: catly whdowhood (with two young cbildren, and the melancholy profpect of a pofthumous one) is an additional fubject of regret to all who are acquainted with her.
21. In Theobald's-park, aged 24, after the hirth of her fecond child at 7 months end, the wife of Mr. Stunders, farmer, and only dughter of Mr. Ninny, of Enfield.
22. Mrs. Rawlinfon, of Cerwi $k$-ftreet.'

23 Aged 74, the Rev. John Benet, M.A. rect.rn of Sunning well, Berks. He was of Trinity-college, Oxford; M.A. I744. The rectury, which was in the patronaze of the Stonhoufe family, is now in the gitt of Adroiral Sir George Bowjer, who fucceeded to the Stonhoufe eftate on the death of the late Rev. Sir James Stonhoufe, LL.D. The latt Rev. Sir James Stonhoufe, M D. ficceeded to the title only. Mr. Benet's very refpeatable connexions in the univerfty of Oxford, where he was in conftant friendly intercoufe with many principal perfons, were greatly and defervenly to his honour, The opulent as uell as poor of his parifh will fuftam the lofs of a friend and benefactor. He married Diana, one of the daughters of Sir John Stonhoufe, bair. of Radsey: She dod frome years ago.
24. In the marine-hirracks, after a long illnet:, Mr. James Clifon, momy years furE EOn of the Chutham dwificn of matines.
26. At his bure in Great Geinge-freet, Weilminfter, ilmmpiry Ainchin, efq. M. P. ior Businey, and lieutenant-cofonel of Lhe Noutl Etant: mintia.

ThEATR:CAL REGISTER.

Warch New Drury-Lases.

3. The Flam Dealer-Harlequin Capti:e.
4. The Momtaneers- The spaliu Chid.
5. A Trip to Scarhorough-The Doctor and the Aporecary.
6. She Won'd and she Wou'd Not-No Soms No Supper.
7. Love for Love- The Devil to Pay.
E. My Giandmother - The Chad of Na-ture-i he Prize.
8. TSE 1 Iogn CR-Harlequin raptive.
${ }^{5}$. No Song No Supper-Tie Chits of Nature- The Sporld Child.
r5. The jew - The Doctur and Apothecary. $\therefore \cdots$ A Irip to Sca:boroush-Harlequin 16. The Iron Chert-Ditto. [Captive. 23. Distu-Dtto. 29. Ditto-Ditto.
9. Slie Wou'd and She Wou'd Not-No Sung Nu Supper. [Pay.
10. The Echool for Scandal-Tine Devil to מura Covent-Gardra.

1. Way to Get Marriel-Lock ans Eey.
2. Grand Selection of Sacred Mufick.
3. W.ly to Gee Married-Lock and Key.
4. Grand Stlect:on of Sacred Mufick.
5. Way to Get Married-Leck and Key.

7 Dittio-Ditts. 8. Ditto-Ditto.
1o. D.tu-bitto. 11 . Metiah.
12. Way to fee Married-Lock and Key.
34. The Merry Wives of Windfor-High Life below Stare.
15. Spectianom-Hharleguin's Tieafure; w, Yetuils Nezu Sit.
16. Grind Selection of Sacred Mufick.
17. The Nay to Get Married-Harleguin's
18. Meffiah.
[Treature.
19. The Lie of the Day; or, A Party at Hanptor Court - Netley Abbey Hallequin's Treafure.
23. The Merry Wives of Windfor-Ditto. 29. Speculation-Ditto.

3 . Live Lumber - The Lie of the DayThe Wray to Cit Lin-muried-Hart: ford Brige. [Treafure. 3r. The Way to Get Married-Harlequm's B:LR of MURTALITY, from Feh. 23, to March 22, 1796 .

\footnotetext{

Wherecthave dicd mader two years old 596
Peck Loaf ace IIdy.

| $a$ | 193 | 50 and 60 |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 5 and 10 | 03 | 60 and 70 | 76 |
| 20 | 41 | 70 and 80 | 77 |
| 0 and 30 | 80 | 80 and 90 |  |
| 0 and 40 | 114 | 90 and 100 |  |
| 40 and 50 | 123 | 100 |  |

AVERAGE PRICES of CORN, from the Returns ending March re, 1796 .

INLAND COUNTIES.

Average of England and Wales, per quarter. IO1 4/62 $1 / 39$ rol 24 10|f5 $\circ$

Average of Scothand, per quarter. $913 / 30$ 9i3I $512+8!40 \quad 8$

MARITIME COUL:TIES.
 AVERAGE PRICE, by which Expettation and Bounty are to be resulated.

| Nifricts | Wheat R;of Barley Oats |  |  |  | Beans |  | Wheat ${ }^{\text {P }}$ |  | Rye \|Barley| O. |  |  | ans |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | s. dits. | $\therefore$ Its. |  |  | d. | Difticts | . | d. s. |  |  |  |  |
|  | 115 ulit | 0, 36 | 8135 | 5336 | 7 | 9 | 79 | $55^{5}$ | -1,30 | 31 |  |  |
| 2 | 11513,60 | 236 | -124 | 236 | 9 | 10 |  | 10.56 | - 39 | $6{ }^{6} / 3$ |  |  |
| 3 | 109462 | ${ }^{1} 33$ | 10,23 | 10137 | - | 11 | 89 | 262 | ${ }^{1} 135$ | $3 / 19$ | 5. |  |
| 4 | $98 \quad 670$ | $0{ }^{13}$ | 6.4 | $6{ }^{6}$ | 1 | 12 | 104 | , | ${ }_{1} 136$ | $5: 26$ | 5.4 |  |
| 5 | $9^{6} \quad 2$ | ${ }^{1}$ | $3 \cdot 2$ |  | - | 13 | 92 | 330 | 9/32 | $3: 8$ |  |  |
| 6 | 991013 | 243 | $8: 29$ |  | - | 14 | 93 | 9,30 |  |  |  |  |
|  | 1038102 |  |  |  | 3 | 15 | 95 | $713^{\circ}$ | 913. | 4:25 |  |  |
| 8 | $1004^{166}$ | $51+6$ |  |  |  | 16 |  |  |  |  |  |  |

PRICES OF FLOUR.

| Fine | 835. to 845 . | Midaling | 70s. to 985 s. | Horle Follard ins $\mathrm{d}_{\text {d }}$ to os od |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Seconds | 795. to 8es. | Fine Pollard | 245. to oos. | Bran Iis. od, to |
| Thirds | $6 \mathrm{cs}$. to 72 s . | Commondit | 3sedto 145 sd |  | OATMEAL, per Boll of 1 folbs. Avoirdupois, 46s. od.

PRICE OF HOPS.

Kent Pockets
Ditto Bags
Effex Bars
31. 10s. to 5!. 12S. Suffex Pockets $3^{1 .} 105$. to $4^{1}$. $4^{\text {s. }}$ Ditto Bags 3l. Os. 6 4l. 4s. Farnham Eockets
31. ICs. to 4 !. Ios. 3l. 10s. to 4l. os. 3l. cs. to 6i. as.

PRICE OF HAY AND STRAW.
St. James's-Hay 5l. os. od. to gl. I6s. od. Aver. 5i. 8s. oi. Aver. 2l. Ss. ad.
Average Price of SUGAR, computed from the returns made in the week ending Mar. 2 ק, 1.796 , is 68 s . $8 \frac{1}{4} 1$. per cwnt. exclufive of the dury of Cuftoms paid or pay .fae thereon on the imprataton thereof into Cireat-Britain.

SMITHFIELD, Mar. 28. Tofink the offal-per fone of sib.
Beef
Mutton
Veal

| 3. ${ }^{\text {a }}$ | Po |
| :---: | :---: |
| $4^{\text {c }}$. od. to $5^{\text {c }}$. cd. | Lamb |
| 4. 64. to $5^{\text {c. }}$. $\mathbf{4}^{4}$. |  |

4. 8.t. to ss. Pi.
os. od to cs. ut.
Tallow, per ftone of 81 b . 4s. 2d.
COALS. Newcaltle, 33 cod. to 3-s. 6.

$$
\text { COMTTA } 1 \text { Ot } 1 \text { N O }
$$

 Namesforanlagat: a bumenalmizi|  | 1 |
| :---: | :---: |

Mr. Femant on the Argaten of Sua! an $2 n+1$ and I
Foreign, Domdiass: atan: hy kno: $n$
A Sulphutema S.r.nf fatad nu. r IJ matey z"
Stomaih of Canel-be:n otimin themy 202Obfermenouson a ferne of if. Herchmen 2netol Corractint:
$\mathrm{Dr} . \mathrm{H}:$

BoftonYiar an- ont-1
Bp. Dove-Arhdeaton ..... 11
S!ave Trade - Phtom:CH: ..... I

 a remark hic Jamat at jenclizu, H.

Meteorozogical Table for April, iyg6.

| Wind. | $\text { \|Barom. } \left.\begin{gathered} \text { Thermom. } \\ \text { I. } \\ \hline \end{gathered} \right\rvert\, 3.42 .5 .$ | Hygron. feet in. | State of Weather in March, 1796. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 1 NE moderate | $30,0.413234 .40 .35$ | 141.0 | little fleet |
| 2 NE moderate | 29,9440353643736 | $\cdot 9$ | overcaft |
| 3 SW moderate | $5042313233^{6} / 32$ | . 0 | fnow A.M. clear and fun P.M. |
| 4 N calm | $7540,2931 / 46,40$ | . 0 | fine day |
| 5 SE calm | 30, $42,33334+7.44$ | . 0 | fou and pleafant |
| 6 SE c:lm | $20422^{2} 33^{2}+5.43$ | . 2 | fun and pleafant |
| 7 SE calm | 27,40,311:23230 | .2 | overcaft |
| 8 NE calm | $20.42 .35,36 \cdot 30,30$ | .2 | overcaft |
| 9 E calmı | $342.35 / 30 / 36,36$ | . 2 | overcaft |
| 10 E calm | $29,9042,3636.144^{2}$ | .2 | fun A.M. overcaft P.M. |
| 11 E brik | 86.453613615542 | .2 | fun A.M. nvercaft P.M. |
| 12 SE moderate | $80 \cdot 48.41414 .44$ | . 0 | night fhowers P.M. |
| $3^{3} \mathrm{~S}$ moderate | $96,514543 / 55,53$ | 1.7 | dight fhowers |
| 14.4 mederate | $95: 5143+3+3.43$ | . 9 | gloomy, little rain |
| 85E moderate | $90.52,4747 / 4^{8} 47$ | -9 | fair |
| $18 . W$ calm |  | $\cdot 9$ | fun and clear |
| ${ }_{17} \mathrm{SE} \mathrm{calm}$ | $8.52+3$ 43 54.54 | 2.0 | fun and clear |
| 18 E calm | ${ }_{2}^{2} 513914150,50$ | . 4 | fun and clear |
| 19 E moderats |  | . 5 | fun and clear |
| 20 E gentle | $4049384^{41} 42 \cdot 47$ | . 7 | overcaft A.M. fun P.M. |
| 21 E caim | $40.4938 .40,62,50$ | . 6 | fun and clear |
| 22 NW calm | $23 / 493739144+3$ | - 5 | nvercaft A.M. fun P.M. |
| ${ }_{3} 3$ SE calm | 18,50\|42 $44+5.42$ | 4 | fun and mild |
| 24 S,W gentie | $29,35504243,62+6$ | . 6 | but latle fun |
| 25 NW gentle | 85.4835138 .57 .45 | . 8 | overcart |
| 26 W brik | $6{ }^{\prime}{ }^{\prime} 50.46+7 \times 554^{6}$ | . 7 | little fun |
| 27 NW moderate | $62 / 44{ }^{\prime} 313+4543$ | -4 | little f1 et and hail |
| 28 NW bruk | $68.413630 \cdot 52+6$ | . 6 | lutle fan |
| 29 NW calm | $68.44 .40+7514 \mathrm{r}$ | $\cdot 7$ | cloudy |
| 30.5 calm | $50+49.4+44.34 .44$ | 1.8 | flight fhowers |
| $3{ }^{1} \mathrm{SE}$ calm | $63.50: 43 \cdot 44+3.44$ | $\cdot 7$ | cloudy, rain at night |

3. Primrofe flowers.-12. Tachamacha foliated.-13. The froft has ceafed, and gone

 athay almoit imperceptibly; mild in tts progrefi. The eftects have b -tn falutary, by checkng the $t a$ advanced fate of vegeration, and without pierong winds to deftroy what was too premature. The frof has not only been healing to the fonl, but has afo forded an opprettunity of conveying the manues upon lands heretofore inarceffible through moifunc. The rains of th? 1 3:h and ryth were fimmar in there mamen the proverbal thoucers of April.-15. Swect-fuented viotet flowers.-16. Latch foliates. Bees isturn lueavy laden. Goffamer floats. Varieties of butterflies, flics, and mfects,
Gentleman's Magazine: For A P R I L, 1796.

BEING THE FOURTH NUMBER OF VOL. LXVI. PART 1.

Mr. UREAN,

T names of thofe whoare faid to have expreffed theiropintons FOR and AgAinst the authenticity of the late Shakfpeailan difcoveries.
Yours, sic.

> FOR.

Sir [faac Heard, Kt. Gurter King at Arms, Mr Erkine, Rev. Dr. Parr, John 3yng, efq. Thomas Caldecot, efo Albaiy Wallis, efq. Caleb Whitefoo d, efq. Sraven Ord, efq. Gilhert Francklyn, fq. Sir James Bland Burgels.

AGAINST.

Edmund Lodge, efq. Lancafter lerald, editor of the Howard, Talbot, nd Cecil MSS. S:r A. Macdonald, hief baron of the Exchequer, Sir Joeph Banks, K. B. Sir W. Scort, kt. kc. &c. Duetors Commons, Owen ialufbury Brereton, efq. Frederick 3atnard, efq. librarian to his Majefty, Dr. Charles Conbe, Dr. Grieve, James 3oảden, efq. G~o. Hardinge, efq. John Zourtney, efq. Lord Lauderdale, John Reeves, efq. George Chslmers, efq.
Lord Oiford, Bifhep of Dromore, Rev. Mr. Hen!ey, Rev. Dr. Farmer, Geo. Stevens, efq. Edmund Maloné, :fq. Ifaac Reed, efq. Jofeph Ri:Ion, :fq. Holt White, efq. commentators on Shakfpeare.

Duke of Leeds, Duke of Roxburgh, Dha. Gray, efq. Samuel Lyfons, elq.

Antony Storer efq. Richard Bull, efq.
Benjamin Weft, efq. John Farrington, efq. William Hamtton, efq. John Hoppner, efq. Thomas Lawrence, efq. Geo. Dince, efq. Richard Weftall, efq. Ozas Humphrey, efq. Richard Cofway, efq. Henry Fufeli, elq. members of the Royal Academy.

Rnger Witbraham, efq. Richard Porfon, M. A. Greek profeffor io the univerfity of Cambridge, James Pye, efq. poct laureat, Bithop of SaliBury, Bilhop of London.

John Topham, efq. Thomas Afte, efq. keepers of the records in :he State-paper office.
R. B. Sheijdan, efq. Thomas Härris, elq. Mr. Waldron.

Mr. URBan, Ipfrwich, Afril2.4. I SHALL be happy to find that I. fome of your correfondents have obferved the coming of the fwallow tribe; and, if nc one afferts to have feen one dozen only together, as in a traveliing body, it muft be my tetious, at leaft to thofe who infift on their migration, that fuch numbers hould arrive, and fertle in all parts of this ifland, finglv; wisereas, according to their arguments, they depart, and thonld arrive, be myriads.

Some, who feel nofurpize a: reptiles dozing out the winter months three feet under ground, abhor the idea of burds being in a like flate under water, not knowing that water is a much intter firuation to brearhe in * To [^28]reconcle this a lit:le;-H the warerfowl on the : $k s s^{t} \mathrm{~S}$ beria are faid by proverne Gime n threnter SouthWad on the conmencomen: of the foffs, the rail excent-d, whech Nows harias in the l:om: this in SireI és Phitofoply ai Nials ! Hiltry In geterl. tis aution is, in al -Terionce vesy easred. cure, and phlofrpsical; bu', with refrect t:) tie B :Hfows, he lass, withont adsucing any ar,ument, end fo we are convanterd of thar matration" Mr. Conanton lat rold nim, the Sir Gohn Norras hid feen a whamber of thele bads that came abourd has flup, in the Euruen oh notel, st the time of their elenart are; M. C. Mina fon had forgotter. that. th.s is the time of tine equanal al ga ee, and that a wiff win frem ur coza or frim that \& Fronce, mughe polith:y have d. $\mathrm{D}=$ this fe...; thas very pla ? phical man may fonetmes be dalía oy firp: $z=$

K.nain: how menmpetent we are to decide on the fere frec-cdums of Natare, $n$ ogeat refpoct is crate to any rati', nowion, ustu p red by fast. A roniteture mon be uged in the reVatei I di; - Ba? erufe, and or is fowe rev 1:1 . .in in is betrer fuited oo oris prax comedult us to the patoquan ung mat... endfuciatt."

Vuy emoent ac:: is are not cein the leady of nutard hitaiy. Al thofewhich we atll the gre tuft prover of the human mosd thould be in a quiefcent fate. The hiturian of N:ture has his fans ready :s his :an', fo thele is no need of the extrife ot invention, nor of a lively imagitation, which is very apt to millead; fume penetration, ac:uday, and grear ap$\mathrm{p}^{\text {tication, will he a man for the ta }}$ t.

+ Dr. Watfur's Chenı. Err.

$\ddagger$ Limonye, not comtent with his hypothefis teipecting the lexual commerce of plants, provides them with a beri, curtains, sc. Bahy-linen, candle, and a nurfe, night have been provided, by fome infert, with a lutite more adidition of fancy.

A Journal.

Within half a mi'e of me is lake, or mire, which all the ye: covers nine acros; a cottage is ne: th. edge, and the contager had ir ffrucions to give me notice of th fret Mantms and Swallows he migl $f=$.

Arril if. Four appeared fkimmir the forface of thel:ke; the wond can on cold, Eafier.y, and they di apyeared.
if On Sunday obont ten, he ga. me notice that they appested agai none baving been feen fince the sit I "om imatedi acy iosthe lake, whe If+w 自ve, ard, b. half pait twelv the had increated to forty, among which I difcovesed onl' two Swallow We? I I was there watcinng with i c.taper, o:e rite from fome ruf ju hef.re use not theive yards o perched on a imali back-thorn, al d:elled his plumage, w!i h was wi i am cerrain hedid not ducend fre the air; fore eo place was evel bett abiapred for dietecion of that fort; $t$ giound rites immediately from t wate:'s edge for about thrice furions fo as to form small hill all roun ant g:ves a command of the horizc the: nothin: wald cores on the la from the an :rumezorth'y, the i cirate was whe!!! inu the lake, th fids of which iste of rufles, abe twanc jads in b.eadtia from t E is. Twent betwencight and nit end fon noue: afrer bitaktaff, I wé iv eh :ay fersatut, cank a bour, to hat a full furvey of the lalice; about twel fise appeaiod in the eur, but foon d appured.

Abrut a milie and a half from me another lake of about fix acres, whi mis ie vant had at winded for fome da: Beallen five aud fix this mornir he had fen heve, which foom were c.e.f.d to about thirty. Whiff I" in the boat, I fent him asain, and found nene; thote he had feen befi went from the North fide of the la inte the fun, to drefs their fe the which feemed wet.

A tormer was fabbing fome tre near the fide of the lake, who faid had that morning obierved to hisw his furprize at having not yet feen a Swaliows; for, the trit and the laft them he had teen there every year his life, though he did not belie they left the country. It had ne'

796．］Ervidences of the firg Apparances of ：？Ewalliw，Sic．259 scurred to him th c chey mi，hr go ofarther than the lake，be be iesing hey went inrog gravel and fand pits， $s$ is comenonly fuid．
There is a fpecies called Sind mar－ ins in this country，whacio are laid to re found in fand pits in a mpad $n+\epsilon$ ． My fervant alfured me，thar，w＇ta ooy，he has ofren laken wantiu＇s weits rom the houfes， c ntannig one，and ometines both he old obes，and yos Ie well remembered they dit hut ： nk ，and that ther cyes were clofid； is thoughe them \＆$d$ ．
I dicerned miif two S：valtaws amongft the Misents on the tyth．Ni； fervant faw levical on the fin la，．．．．， ands azree bly to T．P＇s luzantion， （p．198．）I du．ared him ：o note lic plumage fertinialy；the greed in what I had obecoced numaly，th the two tail－ica hurs of the S ：niliows peared as if firipe oi the plume．Tae Martins had，when in fighat，the ap－ pearance of no tali；late，oan a cloter examination，the fan－put was in tone half an inch loas，in ochers rrmom that to an inch and a 4 －ater．Thete can be no doubt the＂＂had moultad listiy， and were not fuil plumied．
19．None on，he nearelt lake；fevera！ were feen fla ming the fimailer，and a navigable neze of trefla water not fer fiom it．Tarce S wall we were teen in a fmal mankt－tawna two mies wil． 20．Nonte on ei lan oi the takes．
21．None．Tle wind eafterly，b： not cold．At eyglte in the evenin． my ferasnc was friting near the fix－ acre like，a fack rye thà a full of tullies，－ea ty two tumedred， 13 he gutifed．They flew to the lk， about two huarsed yards，and fett．．．． among th the rullues；itwis moun－ligit．

22．They approached the bundiofs in the viliage tor the firitum．

I have great hopes that wur Mil－ cellany will have eme h．nour of folvong this enifma，viz，that in the avempa the immertion of thefe bards whit be proved．Thry fecin to pertin in tile ratio of ten to ońc，thic numbers at the fprirg and fall are perizas as uniform as any thing in the humpy of nature．

I truft that fome of your co：ie－ Ppondents will rear and profurve the Cuckoo through the wimti．

Yours，\＆c．Ciandide．
Mr．Urben，
FxCiusive of the improbabiliy，
if not mpoliduaty，of the Eliriaid．

 ※̈r．（as drey ta \＆cratiniy docitan a Gifles，which，wi dit MiLil a ？－ in tlit．rtacis？Th．uk！Cl of i ino

 （4）HE：s in F＇n＇s that lakes，＂and tily $\hat{F}$＇ג広位 cowitriares of a ald theom a：tla：$: \cdots, \quad$ ，ve rne time of i！$\therefore b, \ldots \cdots A^{\prime}$ alin，inticture，＂is nienit．u，is uteily＇lic．＇ior，if he had aten himelef dre waste of icter－ ric：io lis It biew $L$ shan，he ivouid have lound that the word oygeta

 Hats wiov．n＇z．

 the il：tye？，it is p：b，b：e cliey would cove？：auch intrindatun；for，I be－ in＊＂c，象e tris atcontivis mblerved and noted tive combint aud dep diu：e of the

As ateilay－Eblience is admitited in thincuirvicty，Cloricus Ebonaconfs， 2n：i he sther cincidates for the unt－ Vcili！lo：fod：y of the ufually accounz－ cd Lirds oi paligge，will piobably re＊ jolce at herep：liti n of the following ailc；which an ased temale ancetioc of mine has frequant＇y averred to be ＇t：uc．Iu inctedie the hilariby of a Cilitimas evening at the manor－houfe of Etture，in the parifh of Chilham． in Keris，a wollow irce，of no finail dimenfions，whiih liad been cut dowa a ！evv roonths，was ladd at the back of the fi：e．In the midit of their merri－ ment，they were afonifned at the un－ fedionatle voice of the cuchoo；which， on its repetanon，they wiberved pro～ cecded from the Live on the lire．Oa 6xamaning its cavity，they ducovered the bird, fo re-animated by the ratefied air as not only to be capable of singing, but apparently of all its other funcions. How it was difpofed of, I know not; for, though the tale ever appeared marvellous, yet, as I had not then given the doefrint of migration. 8zc. a thoughr, I made no farther enquily; and, as the old lady is now no more, the fory muft remain incomplete.

The firft Swallonv cibfe: ved at Margate this feafon appeared on Wednefday, April 20, and was followed on the two fucceeding days by many mose, all of whom had forked tails.
Yours, &c. Hz. SNEZOC.

Mr. Urban,
Aprilı1.

THE :edfart (or, as it is vulgariy called, the firetaif) generally builds in old trees or in old walls. Its neft is compofed of coarle roots and firaws, and is Ined with hair and fea. thers. It lays from 9 to about is eggs, of a pale light-blue colour.

As far as I amable to judge from my own obfervations, from what I have read in books of Natural Hiffory, and from what I have feen in your Magazine, I think there can be no doube but that the Hirundines do really migrate; at leaf, if not all, by far the greater proportion. Some few may, perhaps, lie torpid in old ruins, or fuch fort of places, during the winter; for, with refpect to the idea of their burying themfelves at the bottom of ponds or lakes, it appears to me to be truly improbable; for, I cannot give credit to the fory which Clericus Eboracentis had only from another perion. Among the many incontrovertible arguments againft this abfurd hypothefis, I do not recollect that I ever faw that urged in your Mifcellany, that a Swallow is fecifically lighter than water. Not having feen any Swallow this year, I have been unable to attend to the hint of T. P.; but L do notiecolleet to have cver remarked, on therr fixf appearance, that the iwo fork-feathers of their talls were either not fu'ly grown, or were wanting ensinely.

I think that, as J.W. flates the cafe, (p. 235.) it cannop, accurately fpeaking, be called an invemion.

1 thould be obliged to any of Mr. Uiban's correfpondents if they can inform me whether the Galanthus nivabis (commun farow-dron) has ever been found in places which feem pret clearly to afcertain that it is a nativ and not a naturalized plant. I ha ofren feen it myfelf in orchards, b never fat any difince from houfes, from where the traces of houfes gardens are obfervable.

Though nobndy is a greater enen to the detetiable cultom of fcribblis on the walls and windows of inns th. I am, Rill I cannot refrain from fen ing. you the following little for which I copied from the wainfoot an inn in Wales, I think it was Montgomery:
" It is a relief to the wretched to mal known their grief." Though he who wril this could not count kings among his ance tors, yet he was born of an old fami Unfortieen misfortunes compelled him, the age of 20 , to leave his native land, 1 indulgent parents, and his beloved A-C-D, to feek for wealeh in the burnii climes of India. Having acquired, in $\mathbf{n}$ many years, more than fufficient to comfe the declining age of his parents, he retur ed to England elated with the profpect his future happinefs. But, alas! how w he miftaken! He fou: wh his paternal eft: the property of others; his parents" go to that bourne whence no traveller r turns;" his only brother, in the purfuit glory, buried in the ocean; and, to fum 1 this fad catalogue of misfortunes, the bel ved object of his affections compelled by favage father to give her hand to a rich c mifer. Alb! fata! afpera fata! P. L.'

> Yours, &c. Scammoniu

Mr. Urban, Salißury, April 26

DR. Wation's Apology for the B ble, in anfwer to Paine's Age Reafon, is fo excellent a defence revelation, that I fincerely wifh may be as univerfally read as polfibl in order to ccunteract the poifon the other.

As there is now fogreat a fale $f_{1}$ chetp books, and Paine's Age, Realon has been vended in that wa I wifh to fee the Biffop of Liandaff A pology publined in the fame mat ner. I fuppofe, with leave, it mig! be printed, fo as to be fold for a fhi ling a copy, or lefs; and, as there no doubt of getring fubficribers : encourage it, for the fake of diftibt ting them gratis, it would give a pleafure to fee it put forward in mediately.

I leave my name with you as fublciber for one hundred copies, an I would a: this ume hope, that man 1796.] Watfon's Apology for the Bible.--Increafe of Infidelity.
of thofe who read this propofal, would fend in their names, with an account how many they will fubfcribe fur, as foon as it is known, through your Magazine, where it may be printed, and he price at which they can be deivered.
The increafe of infidelity in this ige is become very great and alarming. The authorty of the books of the Oid ind New Teftament are now publicly fifputed, their claim to infpiration jenied; and charged, by this man in satticular, with being full of lits and mpofitions.
I would afk thofe who believe in, ind are converfant with, the prophetic arts of Scripture, whether the two visneffes, fpoken of in the revelations, as prophefying in fackluch for more han a thoufand yerrs, may not figuatively mean the two difpenfations of be O'd and New Teftament.
It is peihaps difficult to make a :ofe parallel, till we know more of he effects and extent of modern inidelity, it being fo highly figurative; ut it appears to me, though a new et a mote natural folution, then any ormer ones that I have met with, ither from the pen of Mead or Tewton.
The prophefying in fackloth feems , mean the oblcurity and unlovely ppearance, under which they have , long remained, although !anding efore the God of the earth, or daily fed in all chriftian countries.
The beaft that $m$ keth wat againit zem, who afcendeth cut of the attomlefs pit, may mean, hat new recies of phslofophic enquiry, founddin a proud conceic ot the unbounded owers of the human mind, to judge I the A!mighty and of his dipentions as they woud of a feliuw. eature. It is a bottom efs pit in. eed : for we fee it leads the mird to arknefs and to doubt, hrit as to the athority of his dilpenidtions, and terwards to the very exiffence of the reat Creator himitlf.
It forther informs us, that, though te influence and power of thefe faithIt witneflies hall be in a manner deroyed, and thereby give a fhort iumph to their enemies, their budies, owever, remaining, though their irit and efficacy be gone; yet, at ngth, they thall, by lome means or her, fuddenly recover therr inaence and authority, more than ever, perhaps by the clear fulfilment of fome prophecy, fuch as the reforation of the Jews, &c. The fpritit of life from God fhall enter into them, they fhall fland on their feet, recover their authority without the help of man, and frike their enemics with great fear and confufion.

This appears to me the molt natural folution of this difficulty of the death and reftoration of the two fa:thful witneffes; more efpccially, as we are told in the third chapter after, without any allegory being ufed, that the everlafting gofpel will be then preached in a more public and general manne: than ever (by an angel) to every pation, kindred, tongue, and peop!e, that dwell on the earth.

I wifh the abler pen of fome one, who may fee the fubject in the fame l'ght, wou d take up the fubject, and Vndicate the anthority of fripture on this ground, againt the wifdom, whick cometh not from above, this beaft that arifeth out of the bottomlefs pit, this fpirit of abftraet fpecclation, whereby men profetfing themfelves so be wife, beconie abifo utely fools.
Yours, &ic. 1. Q

Mr.URBAN, $\quad A_{i}-i l 25$.

THERE is a materiai miltake in Mr. Gibbon's Memors of thas own family, lately publithed by lad Sheffeld, which, had he lived a 'itile longer, he would certainls save currefied. Irecelyed a teter fiom bitre on the lubiect in the Augut peceding his death, of whirin I will icne you a copy as foun as my retum home enables me to feach for is amonet my papers. Mr. Gibbon, in the Memoirs, fates his great grandfather Mathew to have been fon of Robers Gabbon, cuizen of London, and brether of Juhn Gibbon, Bluemante. (See Gent. Nagg Vol. LEII pars L. P. 523.) The tact is, that Nathew Gibbon was che of the younger fons of Thumas G:bbon, of Weftlife, nedr Duver, gint. of a totally different and more diftant branch of the Rolvenden family, who was a man of confiderable landed and perfonal property, by Al:ce, his fecond wife, Gifter to Jane, the wife of Sir Joha Mavnard, knt. ferjeant at law, and to Dedorah, wife of William Cou'd, of Watringbury, gent. (See Gent. Mag. Vol. LVili. part II. p. 699.) Matchew was baptized at Weftcinfe, Thomas, tic eldeft fon, bun i621, a country pernteman, ramed 11.2 y, finer et So whimbake, hther ff amiral Sr Geaze Rome bias feroud beriter wow a parficin. His Murba, da pheter of S 3 ion R. bent, knt. Ais fifer Anwe married Iohn Cofrin, of Wootuon, gent. and his fifer Elizate-h Maried Thomas Freae, of Wrottun, yenr. fon of Th mas Foche, by Joan Finett, his wile, maid of hon ur to the queen, and fifter of Sir Jun Finett, a neted $w:$ and poet of fants 1 'o nure, whole family lived at their mantion of Souiron, adoinng and parily in the pauth of 'Waficlife.' ( $S-e$ Wund's Falii, 1 . 270 . Warton's sir T. Pope, 4.11 12.)
Tamas Gilbon, the fatier of Mathew, was born in the reign of gueen Eliz.leth, is 1:90, and was bucied at Wefte ffec. Ni.v. 19. :6.t, aged $$_{1}$. The puschafer of Willcifie manor and efiace was Thmas, the gri nufather of this mere a wealtiny and Therate yeoman, in whom Mr. Gibhoa's ingenuous trind woud nor hate cildained to coniefs an anceftor, becaufe he feems thave founded the 1.cies of the youn, as brach * of 2 a anctent farity on twe in burs of the plough. He died in a Eiq6

If pronf be w. nteu io to the father of Mathew Gibm ma, I verer to the will of Mth. Detorah Leutitad. of St. Audiev, Holloonn, wid wiaz ate, concled wtha deed in me bothei's puffition. The doed, dited 1 ;00, reates, that the faid Deboral! 23 adford, and Phip Gibion, gent, aie the oniv !urving chaldicn of Tommas Gobow and Alice, finer at Dome yae Minymad, deceaieri, and, as luch, firing untricd to an elare in certan C:de m Rumpers radta, wider the Ho wife al Jun frime eq the g.and duancia of I mond and Aluce, Gomgh ther fon Enani. Nifs.

 a varicty of reatoms, eloco teyabis tu her nicce, Ime B ideos, wiows ner bigu, Bther Acten, widou; her mopaew, Edwad Gibbern, etg. fon of her bioller Ainthew; to bidwod, tun of her bisuler. Edinat, to

* 1-6i , his tee the telin o ong ot Misifpet, in his V:i. C.nnt, a: d the amme in Viś co. Kent, $160^{\circ}$.

Tinmas, fion of her brother Mathe; to Ihrmas, fon of Thomas, &e.
samuflegerton Brydge
Mr.UREan, HonleyEnvirons, Air
FIATTER mylelt the you y anford antace to the inclofed uib of craturte foom the inhabitants i beficy to their governor, the to Fietch-mathat Conway. The mocwor that ruly-great man prevented be no public duing his lite-rime; "has, lince his death, been affixed originally intended, in a Diund's te. ple; which, in the form in whict was ditcovered, adorns a beaut point of that charening foot, Pa p'ace. The tranflatinn which acolpantes it is at your fervice: if: thould be of opinion that te, infert wa! not prevent the oriqintif receiv, more iuffice from iome ablur pen. Yours &c:
Cet ancien temple des Druidee, déerivert le 12 d'Acut, $17 \% 5$, fut hamerne de St. Heliter, dansilina de J ricy, a éé preitenté, par les habitans, à fon Excellence le Gen Conway, lear :omycricur.
Four des fiecies caché aux yenx des mor Cet ncien monum-nt. ces piei res, cesau Oü ta fan? des humains, ntiort enf facrit, Ruife'a pour des dienxquenfanta la caph. Ce m mument, fans prix par fon antici, Tenoznura pour nous, a la pottó, té, Q.e, dans tous fes dangers, Céírée cu a pere, Attentif, vaillant, qénérenx, \& nrofpe E: redra Conway aux fiecte à venir citan relpect du $\begin{gathered}\text { a ton fouvenir. }\end{gathered}$ Lhe te fit ce don acquis à ta veillance Cunme une jofte tribut de fareconooifa!

This anzient Duid's temple was d.fenvered the Inth of Aus. 1785 , up the aomatain of St. Heller, in the ifand of Jerfey, and prefented by thi intamants to his Excellency fen. Conw the r governir.
 THencent mie recats the mith * W'ita hon wi, anoithe attars ilitu'd, A a' chelp, ist the r God pryphand. lu if the of of ancent crime His ouglat of watia heltow'd by time; Ye tony alt.rs, hencefonth prove The rateful wibute of rur love. Say that, whet dinger him, d around, Jelfey a cenerous fither found, Ans oflas to the hrave and good This monament of seatitude; Thus hemiding doe n to tate fame The blethings of a Consay's name!

Mr. Urbin,  Abril 8.

$A^{\prime}$S the old church of St. John, at Hackney, has, in al! provability, almoft arrived at the period when it muft be fierificed to its fucceffor, a Sew memenios of webat it ruas will not be altogether unacceptable to your readers, when the materials of which t is compofed are feattered as chance Thall direet. I vifited is on the $4^{\text {th }}$ of this menth, and could not but rexret hat fo refpectable a remnant of antiuuity, as the infide cert inly is, fhould be condemned to defruction. There may be many obttacles to fuch a plan (and I do not prefume to decide on its raRaicabllitv); yet I could not help wihhing that it might be fuffered to Aand as it is, the parent church, while the new frukture fhould be a chapel to accommodate the furplus of the con,regation, which, I have no doubt, is rufficiently numerous to fill both. Were the outide of the buiding only confitered, no one could entertain a wifh For its prefervation; for, it is an incomorehenfible jumble of diffonant repairs, without a trace of the original building remaining, except the windows of part of it. I cannot help fuggefting operfons concerntd in making alteraions, or adding to old ftructures, that propriety requires there fhould be an aniformity of defign throughout, or the additions will be infallibly looked on with contempt (however refpeetable, were they detacied) by a man of any tafte. There are two beautiful ouildings at Derby; the tower and :hurch of Al Saints: the former, a nof exquifite fpecimen of Gothic frandeur; the lattor, as fine as a Doic building. Taken feparately, they vould be admired in any country of Qurope; but, as they fland, the rich a.l tower alone attracts admuration; he church is lolt amidft a blaze of ex:ellence. A Grecian building never an be added with propristy to one of Sothic archiedure, the proportions ire fo different in each. The church it Hackney was once dedicated to St. qugultin. Its prefent patron, st. loin, is fuppofed to have been fucia ince the knights templats of St. John f Jerufalen had property in its vicidity. It has been pretented to by that ppellation lince 1660. However, I hall not picten' to decide whether the relent church is the bame that, in 292, was callied St. Augufin, and a Gent. Mag, Aitrib, 1796.
diftinet refory and vicarage. The Tylum family have it in their giff, who are lords of the menor.

There are tivo ficie ailes, and the p:lars, '2 in number, are remorkab'y firong, grod, and well-preportioned; the arches pointed. The gilleries, of which there ase feveral, are not made fo convenient as thev might have been; they appear to have been erefted at different periods, and do not reach, as wfual, from one end to the other of the church, nor extend to the pillars which divide the ailes. One is fo flight, that it is as it were hung to the roof by iron hooks. If thofe galleries had heen removed, and others eregled, a valt number of fears might have been added. The roof of the whole building is uncommonly good; the beamis and rafters appear perfectly found. The organ-gallery is fpacious, the organ large and handfome. ©u. Is it to be removed to the new church? Along the friez: of the gallery there is an infcription, purporting that the church was repaired in 1720 . Above, in the pannels, are three pilures, drawn wilh much tafte and freedom in black and white, though very flight: tie waves in one, and the trees and rocks in the others, have confiderable merit. The fubjects are, the miraculons draught of tifhes, Chirit in the flom at fea, and Elijah fed by ravens. The pavemens in many parts of the ailes confift of flabs for the moft part fripped of thatir brals. There is one, tolerably perfect, of a man in armour and his wife, under the or gath-gallery the asms and infcriptios gone. The fort is moden; the cover, which is fuffended, appears rather more antient: nesther are any way remarkable.
There are feverai iorafes let anto the walls; which, as they have becn already noticed by others, I fhall pats, and only memion thofe that appear moft to deferve attemtion.
Io the chancel, the monuments are mural, exeept one altar-iomb, with a recels over it, intcribed, Anno d'nl 5 5ig.

Christophozo Vragyk Reatore. $\Omega$

M1

The lower part is thut up by cxecrable wainfort; the brider to the recels is richly decoated with Gothis ornaneats. What is to bicome of this munumesi
monument if the church is to be pulled down? Not deftroyed, I hope; though it cannot well he avoided, I am afraid. However, I intend it hall not be totally forgotten; for, I will draw it, to grace my collection of tombs.

Over Urfwyk's tomb is one to the memory of David Doulben, bihop of Bangor, a half-lengih figure, in his facied vellments, 1633. To the left of the above are Henry Thoreby and wife, 1615 . Oppofite, in a chapel, are an altar-tomb and a beautiful monument, 1612, to Sir Thomas Rowe and his wife, whofe effyies and fix of their children kneel on it. It is of variegated red and white marble, richly gilt, very clean and perfect. Near the door of the chapel a monument to Thomas Wood, Efq. has himfelf, wite, four fons, and four daughters, kueeling, 1649. The altar is a firong oak table. $\mathrm{O}_{\mathrm{a}}$ the South wall of the church there is a monument, 1570 , hid and defaced by a gallery, to the memory of Sir Thomas Rowe, Knt. alderman and mayor; his effyies in armour. Near it, between two windows, is a vacant nich. On the left a tablet to tite memory of the Rev. John Lewis, M. A. lecturer of the parifh, and of Chriti church, Middefex, 1770. There is a currous figure, cut in metal, of Hugh Johnfon, vicar, 1618 , in his pulpir, itt in a piliar near the reading-dcte.

On a perv, loofe and leaning againft she wall, under a gallery, is a itone, apparently taken from an old tomb, containing this infcripion:

> The right Honorable Baron Join Nivit, Knyghte, Lorde Latimer, departed thin lyfe at his manner of Snape, in the countye of Yorke, y 22 > of Apryl, 1577 , in ye yeare of his age 1 , and lyethe buried with his aunceftoules at his churche in his towne of Well.

This tablet, I find by Strype, is part of the monument of Lucy lady Latimer, and formeriy had on it the fol. lowing infcription and verfes:

Here lyeth the R. Honvurable Lady Lucy, daughter to the Right Nohle Henry Eal of Worcefter, wife to the late Right Hosourable John Nevyle, knt. Lurd Latimer:. By whom the had iffue four daughtris, Xatharine, Dorothy, Lucy, Elizabeth. She departed this life the agd of Febrs. 3532, in the year or her age 59 .
3ach as the is, fuch furely fhall ye be,
Such as the was, fuch if ye bea be glad.

Fair in her youth, though fat in age fhe gis, Vertuous in hoth, whorfeglofscidneverif: Though long alone the le ad a widow's Yet never lady lived a truer wife.
From Wales fhe fprang, a branch of $\mathbf{v}$ fter's race,
Gratt in a ftock of Brownes, her' motl 's
In Court the held a maid of honour's ri',
Whitat youth in her, and the in Cour bide:
To John Lord Latymer then fine becal a Fourdanghtershad hey breatning yet in e. Earl of Northumberhand * took the fir to wife,
The next the heir of Baron Rurtei; $f$
Cornwallis had the third for term of lift
And Sir John Danvers pluckt the yo eft rofe:
Their father's heirs, them mothers all ic Pray for, or praife her, make yourlat the it

As fo much has been done aurhors every way competent, it natural'y occur to your readers I have been thes brict in notieg dates and inferiptions in St. Jol's church. The old parmage-houf 1 luppore, wilt not long outlaft church. To preferve both, I ble made drawings for my collection. the yard there is a grave-ftone to memorv of Francis de Otiveyra, kn of the order of Chrif in Portugal, 10 abjured his religion, and died hery a 1783 , aged 8 x years. There are e: beils in the tower, and rocm for tel

The new chuch, of which 1 fer view (Pl.i.), is nearly completed. Tl is fomething magnificunt in its cxter the corrice and dentris are wel proj tioned, and give a good etieet in whole. The infide wili be extren'y piain, as there ate no pillars to e roof. The plan 19 that of the cr The pillars, twe're in number, is fupport the gaileries, are of the D order; hey are on thice lides of e church, and extend no farther ta the matriciiens of the crofs, forms an area circular oponte the al The cieling is a deprefled arch, ipri ing from the four hides, and meeng in a point, which is decorated wit a large mofe huccoed. The altar cant be much decorated, as there is a $v y$ large wiantow over where it will e placed. Under the pews there wil vaults, for the preveation of damps s I was tadd. Thare will be many parments in the church for varis purpofes, of which 4 cannor fpeak oh certainty.

1. P Nalcor,

A Ramble on Dartmoor. (Continued fromp 196.) HURSDAY, the 24 th . Owing to the great fatigue of yefterday,

$\Gamma$Ir. Somnus detained me in hus letharic fetters till near nine o'clock this rorning; probably much longer, had ot a gertle knocking at my chambernor, and a voice full of rendernefs, nquiring after my reft, a wakened me, ad kindly gave me an inviration to te hofpitable b:eakfatitable of my fiend and fellow-traveller, who aaited my coming. After feveral trowfy attempts, I at laft unglued my ye- lids, and foon obeyed the mandate; here, between each circling cup of elicious fouchong, the pratting offorings' and:ous enquiries of their paint, as, where he had been folong, nd what he had feen, and the more aiticular enquiry, whether he had rought the on home any thing, afforded Huxury to tentibiltry; but its true refh can only be known in the happy wher bleffed with fuch rlive-branches ncireling his friendly board. Afer breakfait I frolled about the awn, found nothing very curious or emarkable. I is difinguifhed by the rame of Great Modbury (or Mortnury) and L.tile Modbury. It has a olerable market on Thurfdays, geneally well fupplied with provifions, and wo fars yearly on the fealis of Sr. Jeorge and St. James. The church tands in an elevated fituation, whith a olerably lofty fpire: the commu-ion-plate, I was rold, is remarkably fich and valuab'e. Modbury hath seen noted, tven as long ago as King Henry the Third's day, for brewing rappy ale; of which Henry of Auanches, a poet of that date, wrote hus:

- Of this firong dink, much like to Stygian lake [make;
(Moft term it ale), I know not what to Folk drink it thick, and pafs it ont full thin, Much dregs therefore muft needs remain therein."
Litt'e Modbury was formetly the dwelling of Sir Ralph Roufe in Henry the Thud's time. The laft of this place (as Rilcon fays) had iflue Elizabeih, firt married to Peverel, fecondly to Dymock, and thirdy to Walter Cornu, fon of A!an Cornu. She had iffue only hy Dymock.

About four milies trom Modbury, in my roure homeward, hands the litle xillage of Buomfons conitury of a tew featrered houfes. Reginald de Valletort, Iord of Modbury, gave it to Ralph de Morville. From him it defcended to his fon Adam, who granted ir to Baldwin de Wayford, who gave it to the abbey of Buckfafleigh in the reign of Henry III. A bour a mile farther onwards we crofled the river Aun at a ftone briuge, called Gearer bridge. Thence we pafs a fmall village by the name of Morleigh. It is very antient ; as I find, by records, that in the reign of Edwald the Firt, 1272, Sir Peter Fizacre. knt. held lands here, then belonging to the parifl of Woodleigh (a netghbouring parifh); whereupon fome controverfy arifing between him and the parfon of Woodleigh touching tithes, the matter being pufled to a great length, Sir Peter in his pation killed the parton; which act was fo eagerly followed againf the knighr, that he was confrained to anfwer the fame at Rome; where the Pope enjoined him, for his penance, to build the church of Marleigh; which he accordingly did, and liech buried in the walis there, arched over. At a fmall diffance thence are the remains of an old forrification, now no otherwile than a large circular heap of fones; alfo a circumvallation of great exent, with leveral large tumuli, five of which frand clofe logether, one of them very large and lofty. Very near the outward edge of the circumvallation, fome cthers are oblenved at a diftance; on one of which, known by the name of the Beacon (in the adjoming patifl of Halweli), ftands a very neat pleafurehoufe, built by Col. Edmonds, a gentleman juft returned from the EaftIndies; whofe elegant boufe (newbuilt) flands in view. I have long had a wifh, Mr. Urban, to open one of thefe iumuli. A ftragefancy running in my head, that the contents would enrich my finall cabiner of curiofities in a great degree; and I already enjoy in idea the pleafure of fearching the hidden rectlfes of the barrow, and the far greater pleafure I fhatl have in employing my poor pea in givng you a defcr!ation of the valuable contents. Fancying this then, that, like a drowning mar, catching at every it le idea that will iender the conjecture plafible, boldly allerting this to be the fword of-whom flall 1 fay, Air. Uiben? It mult be fome great and fanous mian; biwever, I diall layye this at prefent with you:
then defcribing with all my gravity prohably a fingular and large brafs ring, or a curions biz of hrafs of no determinate frape, fancying the fcratches made hu the rude hand of Time to be Roman, Sax 0 , or Danith letters, as it way beff fuit; then the pretty litle baubies of glafs are called in to amit the conjecture; and, laftly, the urn, or, unformatelv, the fragments, come, and give a finifhing fircke to a that has been fald before; the calcined bones and burnt wood, and perhaps a folitary coin of the Lower Empire, fixes it to be pofitivelv a Roman hero. The name of thas fort is Stambers, or Stanborough. About two miles farthe on we pafs a finall hamlet, called W'nodaford, with two finell rivalers running thtough the fame, which, a litile below, $j$ ins. and proves the fource of filling that elegant and picturefque fiecet of water the Lea at Slapoon Celiars. This fibeer of water occupies famehundreds of arres, and has no vinive outlet, draining itelf throush the fand of the beach into the ica, which is toncely diltant a fonen's ibrow. It is well fored with the ferca finviathis, perch, lucous efox, pise, coprozus rutilus, roach, and immente quantilies of the anguilla, or ce!; and the frilica, bald cour, in abundance, finding here a life breeding-place among the valiquantities of the arando, or reed, here called Lea reeds. In winter every kind of wild fowl is to be found on its furface in the greateft plenty. Fiom this hamlet, alcending the hill, we arived at the pleafant village of Blarkauton (antienty Averon). This villace was given to the abbey of Toar bv Herbest Fitz Mathew, as appears by this old record: "Petrus, fil. Mather conc. abbat de Torr tutum manaerium de Aulton cum corpore fio pon motrem hidem quiefcendo falvo Rogero fretn fo & hared. de curne fuo progenit $X$ marcus ennui redditus in cerio alfign. tefle dommo Nicholas de diules." And the following evidence frews that Whidiam le Specke lefr at! his lands in Auton to the fame abbey: "Wilithous le Speke falut. noverint me piofatus. ase conceff. Hbat de Fore totam terram neam in Auton," Ac. The parimo of Blackauion !s vety large and popu1. us; tos chanch mater fonat', which vears its matore, fituated about four trites fioro Darmouth, and eight from Totucts and kimathidge, on a hill.
moft part commanding a fine vien if the rea: its virinity to thefe tow, and the known healthfulnefs of its $r$, being a combination of the fea, la , and moor, induced many gentleme, make purchafes, and fix their refide here, whofe houfes, from every pit of view, have a pleafing appearar

The churrb ftands on a hill, to pearance ra fed on purpofe, very la confifting of a nave and two ailes. is entirely civented of that antique ( wic grandeur which moft churche: a fome degiee poffers. The chancel id the ailes feem to be of modern oris and very irregular. The tower, ab 80 feet in height, holds a tolerie ring of fix bells. The moft curis article here is the fkeen dividing chancel from the main body of church: it is of carved wood, in gul condition, perfect. and very curic Neat the centre of the navelies a fic covering the lemains of the Forde mily, on which are two brafs engrat effgies of Margaret and Nicho Forde, date 158:. There are my other curious epitaphs in the chu 2nd yard; but, having loft my Nc bock, muft defer givang them you i anorher opportunity. The late w, thy vicar, Thomas Adams, will 1 ! be remembered by his parifhion and was himfelf a proof of the heal inefs of the fituation, living to the of 71; himfelf and father holding vicarflip above a century. Since. year. 1530 only feven vicais have b. appointed.
(To be continued.)
Mr. Urían,
Feb. 15

THERE werc, as it may be fait prefumed, two images of : Virgin Mary appertaining to old Ch : han chuch; one of them fixed wi . out in an arched canopy over the Solt door, the other in the chancel, church being dedicated in honous? h.er.

If fig. 3 and 3 , in vol. LXV. p. 9 , pi. 1. were a part of either of ther rastier fuppofe it to have been of ; former flatue; becaufe, when ? chancel walls were taken down, $p$. viounly to the late repairs and enlari ment of the church, a cutious and telligent yemteman dilcovered amc the rubbifh remains ot au imape is far better noyle of teulpture, and mat embellifhed; winch, on compet grounds, he judged to liave been.
1796.] Images at Chatham. - Andrew - Absot of Winchefter. 277

Jicks of our Lady at Chatham, concerning whom Lambard, in his Perambulation of Kent, p. 360 , has mentioned a legendary occurrence.

In the lozeer half of lig. 1 and 3 , your correfpondent P. Q. p. 1069, thinks (and i agice with him) there is not any thing ciarafterific to fopply the leat information; but, on the fragment of white marble, fig. 2 , which, as T. F. who tranmitted the drawing to you, tells us, is painted and gilded, and in toierabiy high prefervation, I apprehend a matk to be difcernible th it may forve for the balis of a plaufible conjecture refpeding its priftine purpofe and pofition.
Not a few perfons of the Romim communion were formerly is the habit, as feveral Aill are, of uffering at altars votive gifs, fignilicative of the cure fuppofed to be wroughr, or benefit obtained, by the aid of the refpec. tive tutelary faints: for infance, heads, hearts, eyes, ears, legs, arms, or other parts of the body, that had buen difeafed or huir, in ifone, wond, metal, or wax; or they preícnted pioures, or pieces of fculptuse, on whinch wete difplayed the kind of calamiry end:rred, and mode of deliverance by tiem thus gratefully acknowielteel.

Cuatham, from its ficuation on the banks of a large ndvigable river, wot far from the fea, mat have had it.habitants who were by occupation mariners, and of courfe exprfed to ithipwrecks, and engagements, and :o captivity, ofren the confequence of there difatters. May not, therefore, the fiag ment in queftion have been the commemorative tablet of a fea offer wio had been cbained to tie realls of a dengoon; and who, berng a vorary to our Lady at Chatham, had at!:ibut:d io her ịnterceffinn and afiftance his litedom from livery, and his retuin to his country and triends?

As not irrelative to this furmife, I will fubjoin, from the Anols of Wh. cheiter Cathedral, an ar:ectute of A:1drew, abbot of that church, commi:ted to the gaolat Hide for offences that are not fecificu. Dy wanefs and fraud he effeched an efcape, bat was willing to have is belueved thas th: pri-fon-duors were opened, atad his choms taken off, through the merits of the moft popular fuint of his age: and, under that notion, offered at tie ifrime of St. Thomas of Cineabury the riners ch his fetters. The mankith hationian, however, terms it a fictitions tale, and a mockery to confiler it as a mitacle.
"Anglia Sacra, vol 1 p. ztr.-Anno meckill-Budeac, prior Wintonienfis, ICI Johannem epifopum cedons prioratui quanvis invitus, culpis fois exigentibuc, apud iidam mittitur incarceranduc. Unde exiens per cautelam et frudem, thia alinvent falfontis commenta, qual meritis B. Thoma martyris fit a compedibus et canctie hotratios. In cuitas figuan ipfa compedam anna apod Catuala, ip fo ens com fuperforiptione offrente pro ludibrio, ne dicam pro miracule."

In the Resifter and Chronicle, compited by Buthop Kennet, p. 797, is noticed "A Lecture fosoded at Cheping Ongar by orthodox D:vines," th.t may not be mentroaed in your correfpondeve's report of that par.fh, P. 113:
 Alvifed from Cheping Ongar. in Etiex, that this place num thret.l for a contrmunce of a leeture by othoolox divinee, and did for that purpofoperim the Risht Reverend Fother in God Giltert, Iord bithow of Lom ton, in whofe Jitcefe we are: and las leqdhip no former received our de. fires bat granted our regaent for that yeitowde, Otuber 15, our lectme bejan, I): Chale, Gubs preachas wur firt lic. pure. I need nat tell you, that Common Prayor was read accordma in ti.e Ratut.. Many worthy divines wet: prefor, who utalutonk to fupport the lecture for the better fervice of his Mjetvy and one church, being the more encourased by :lll the gentry of the adjacent $;$ rimes, "h, uit: great fatisfactum alfo cane thether." Public Inteiligence by Autianty, $8 \%$ Nu. 42.

$$
\text { Yours, &c. } \quad W \text { abu } D_{*}
$$

Notes from Chipitig Oingar. (Conchuled fromis. ift.)
B $N$ the Northeeall ble of the chatcel is a natat anal monubatat whathis infereption:

> Near this place
huth the tiody of Thomas Velly, M.a. late rector of tins ?ation, niho ded N.v. 23, 175 , aged 47 . Alfo, two wit has childron, and his mother, hae wite of Them $\mathrm{V}=1$, efq. of Marden Ath.
Arms at top: Az. a chowrn between thres towers Or, imp,inde, arg. on a $f$ fis between three beas heads erated Subie, as many mulics 0 .

Creft:

Creft: An arm couped and erect, holding a dagger proper.

Alfo, an a:chitvement for his mother; Velly, as before, on an efoocheon of fretence. Quarterly, firit and fourth, A:g. three antelopes Sa. fecond and thard, Arg. feven lozenges joined in bend finifter of the fecond.

In the nave or fpace on the Northeaft fide, near the chancel door aforefaid, is a large flat dark grey fone with this:
" Here lieth the body of Mr. Jonn King, citizen and draper, of London, huried
March the git, $1656-7$, aged 75 years.
And of Mrs. Elizabeth Kinc, his wife, baried Augunt the r4th, 1661 , aged 79 years. Here alf ilyeth the body of Mr. Josepy King, his fon, citizen and irenmonger, of London, buried Fuirury the 29ti, $1678 \cdot 9$, aged to years; who was the benefacior thest left an eifate in houfes, of the value of 20 ponids per ana, and upwards, in this parnh, for pious and clantable uies precifyed in his laft will and teftament.
Proverbs x. 7. Memonajuhti benedi&a."
In the chanct, adjoining the communion rals, are two large fat white frones, with thefe infcripuions:
"Here lyeth interred the body of the Rev. Mr. Joun Campe, hite reitor of this panh $2 S$ year, who depated this hife, S. pt. the so:h, 1720. iged 57. .
"Herel. chalfo the body of M:. Thomas Campe, fon af the Rev. Mr. Ioln Campe, who departed this life Nov, the $10 \mathrm{H}, \mathrm{I}_{2} \mathrm{I} 9$, aged 21 ."
Within the cummunion rails, on the Nurth-ea? fode ai the table, is a darkgrey fat fone with this wraten:
"Here lyeth interal the hadies of Robifrt hile, citzen and grocer, a. tomann, wio departelt this life Ustub, the $22^{2} h, 164$, agcl 63 yentes.
And $A \times n$, his fecond wife, the dauglien of $j$ the King, of this prain, sent, who depried this hie Nuvemb. the 2:1t, 1668, aged or jeates.
IAve GMEA1NERD, the youngeft daugher of the faid Re bert Hill, buried here the Sth of Sept. 1683, ag"d 37.
Here alfo lyeth the hody of the Rever ${ }^{1}$ Nr. Jo:n Hill, late reeter of Hish Laver, in this comenty, and fin of the faid Robt Hill, and An his utfe, who dicu the 14th of Decrmber, 1727, $\operatorname{agcd} 8{ }^{3}$."

On the Soush-eaft fide is anothe with this:
"HIC JACET JANA, D. OLJVERICROM WELL,
FINCHENBROCHIENSISESCDIDVSHVN TINTONIANIS EQVITIS BALNIENS: FILIA, VXÓR TOBTE PALLAVICINT ARMICER EXILLVSTRI NOMINISILLIVSINAGR CANTA-ERIGIZNSIS FAMILIA ORIVND', A CUADRA-
GESIMVM FTATIS ANNTMIET FERME TERTIVM PERTINGENS, QUOVMORTAL EVITINILLA; OFFICIOVITAQ;FVNCTA 1 N
HOC PULVERE DEPOSVIT
XXIIII MARTII ANNOQ;
CHRISTI MDCXXXVIU.'
Arms at top: A crofs pierced, on chief a bar, over all thiee billets j pale, impaling a lion rampant.

Ciole adjoining the iat-mentioner on anurher, is this in Roman capitals
"Here lyeth the hody of tha: thely honowatle and relgiovs senteman, Horacio Palavicenf, efquire, who depated this life on the fixth day of May, in the yeare* ovr Lord $164^{3}$ being of the age of fix and thinty years."
Agrinf the South-eaft wall are tl fullowing atchicvements, viz.

Turner, mpaling Az a crofs fleul Ats.-Creft, a lion fejant holding mill-inde.

Alfo, the fame for the widow.
Another: Az. a crofs fleury Ar impaling Alexander.

Ancther: Alexander impaling Bei ntt.

Againft the South-weft wall, faci the reading-de 依, is a large table framed and glazed, containg the un der-written, viz.
"Mir. Joseph King, citizen and irommonser, of London, born in this parih, who died tie 22d of Febr ary, ano Domimi $16-8$, gave for charit ble vles five melrwayes or tenements, fo wate in this town, amovnting in the wh to the yearly valve of twenty-thiee pount and this Eflate to be managed by certe feoffers in trift, who are to meet yeal vpon Tveflay in Whefon-wetk for mar ging and performing the faid trvit, as fi: limeth:

* Su it is us the iturie.

1. T

1796.] Mr. Pennant's Thiughts on the Difoppearance of Swallows. 279

1. Ten povad yearly to be paid to the fchool-mafter of this town for the teaching fix poor boys till they are fit to be put ovt.
2. One of the faid buys to be put ovt yearly, and five povads tole given whath him.
3. If none be fit ore year, then eight povnd may be given for putting ort ons the next year.
4. Care is to be taken that they be phaced, in religiovs families, and with good workm"n.
5. If one of extraordinary parts prove fit for the viliverary, five poveds per armon is to be allo ved him for fove year:, and the putting ovt of apprentices is to ive forborn for the faid time.
6. Forty millings per annven for the teaching poor girls to read.
7. Twenty thillinge par arnvm to be haid ovt in B bes for pour families; and, heing furnifhed therewith, the fuid fvom to be haid ove in books of devotioi.
8. Ten thillings to be expended yearly for a dinner vpon Tveftay in Whitfin-week.
9. Fovr fihillings fer annvm to be paid the fexton for keeping this table clean.
10. The overplivs (if any be) to be laid ovt for edveating other poor children of this parifh, at the difcretion of the truffees.

Wien there fhall be bvt threetrvftees fetving befide the minifter, they flatll conwey this eftate to other trufteec, not fewer than twelve, in or near the parifh of Chipping Ongar, as by the will more at large may appear."

I noticed two large flit fiones near the reading-dek, which formerly had the figures in brals of men and their wives, Sec: : a fo, at the entrance into the chancel is a very latge dack grey ftone coffin+fhaped, but fo much worn away that I cinnot difcover anv in. fription thereon.

むT. ©.?.

Mr.URban, March 28.

IN your laft volume, p. 2so, there is a difquifition on the torprd flate of fvallows, from a correípondent who credis the tdea of thetr retreating, during the Winter, to the bottom of fome of the rivers or lakes of this kirgdom; but there a $e$ fo many argunients $t$, the contraty, and in fuppart of their leaving Eugland, as to put their migration, in my opmaion, beyond a doube.

That very uxcellent naturalift, Mr. Pennant, his treated the fubjest w,th fo much ability, and has collefted to. gether fo many tucts, that I thall ayail myfelf of his words, and lay befoue your resders his account of the dida;pearance of fwallows, extracied from the Brath Zoology; Which a bope will prove acceptab'e to thofe who are not in puffefion of that valuable work.
"There are thice opinions among natisralifts concernng the mander the fwallontribes difpefe of themplues after their difappearance from the conatrics in which they make their Summer refidence. Herod tus mentions one ipecies that refides in Izypt the whole year; Proiper Alpinas afferts the fane; and Ma. Loten, late governor of Ceylon, affered us, that thofe of Jawa never remose. Thefe excepted, every other known kind obferve a periodical miEration or remeat. The fwallows of the cold Norw y, and of North America, of the diftant Kamtfclatka, of the temper.te pats of Europe, of Aleppo, ald of the hot Jumaica, all agoe in tha one point.
' In cold countrice, a defect of infect food on the approsch of Winter is a fufticient reafon for thefe birds to quit them ${ }^{\text {y }}$ hut, fince the fime cauf, probably, does not fubar: in the warm climates, yecourfe mould be lisid to fome other reafon for their vanifinus.
"Of the three opinions, the firft has the utnost appearance of probability; which is, that they 1 emove neater the fun, where they can find a continuance of their natural diet, and a temperature of air fuiting their conftitutions. That this is the cale wit'l fome frecies of European fwallows, Ius been proved heronil contradiction (as abrove cited) by Mir. Adanlon. We often obferve them collected in hooks imumerahe on churches, on rociss, ant on trees, previns to ther rionmture hence: and M. Colitaton proves ther ietura bere, in peihaps equal momers, by two curious re* Latimes of undoub ed cred t ; the one commuaicated to hun by K1t. Wrig't, mater of it flip; the wher by the hate Sur Charles Wager; whobuth deferbed (oo the fume purpofe) what happened to each in their voyuge:. 'Reurning home,' fays Sir Charle: 'in the Spriag of the year, as I came into founding in sur chamel, a gre.t flock of fwollows e me and fetted on atl my riggeg ; every rope was covered; they hang on one ambther like a fwam of bees; the decks and carving were filled with them. Ihay feemed almoit famithed and $f_{j}$ ent, and weet only feathers and bones: but, beng recruited witi a night's reft, took their the he in th: morning *.'
"This valt fatigue proves that their journey muft have been very great, confiderius the amazing fwitmels of thefe birds; in ath probablity they had croffed the Athatic Uecan, and were returning front the shomes wf Sollegaly or orher parts of Africa; io that thii, accome from that moot aile :nd lionett teaman confirms the latter informatom of Ar. Atamfon.

[^29]
280 Mir. Penmant's Thougtts on the Difappearance of Swallows. [Ap

"Mr. White, on Michaslmas-day, I~6.3, had the good fortone to have ocular proof of what may reafonably be tuppofed an actual migration of fiv:llows. Travelling that morning very early between his houfe and the coaft, at the beginning of his journey le was environed with a tiick fog; but on a large widd leath the mift began to hreak, and difowered to him rumbortets fwath, wr, confered on the flanding bathes, as if they liad rionfed theye. As foon as the fun buif out, they were inftintly on wing, :nn, "ils an eaf and placid flight, proceeded towat the fon. After thic, he fiw no more flockc, only now and then a flaggler*.
" his rendezvous of fwallows about the fime time of year ic very common on the willows in the luale ines in the Thames. They feem to alfombic tor the fume purpofe as thefe in Hamphire, notwithfanding no one yet has been an eye-withers of their departure (in the 26 th of Septembut laf, two gentlernen, who happened to lie at Maidentead bindge, furnimed at leatt a proof of the maturnes there aftemblad; they went by tur ch-log'te tor an acliacent ine, and in ief that hat an hom broughte aSore fify duzen; for, they hoed rothmer more to da than to draw the whilow-twigs through their haths, the birds nover fta:sing thll they were taien.
"The Nexthem maturatifes will perhaps firy, that this alfembiy met fot the purpore of planging into their mbanneous Whater quarters ; but, was that the cafe, they would never cicape diformery in a river perperuat'y fiched as the Thames; fome of them mouft newathly he brought up in the nets that harafs that water.
"The fecond notion has glent autiquity on its inde. Arifotle and Plany give, ds vhen belef, that fwallows do not remove very for from ther summer habitation, t ut winter in the hollow of to ks , and, durthes that time, late their feathers. The former pate of their opinim has been alopted hy feveral ingerious men; and, of late, fevetal proofs have been brought of fome frecies, at leaft, hwing been difoosered in a eorpid itate. Mr. Cohtufon fasomed us with the evidence of three gertlemen, eye-witne lies to numbers of fand-mantans beng drawis out of a cliff on the RBice m the month of Marih, $1-62+$. And the

* In Kalm's Yoyigeto Amer:ca is a lemark ble inftance of the diltant Hight of fwalows; for, one lighted on the thip he was in, September 2, when ho hid pattud oniy aver two-thinds of the Abtantic weath. f!r patlage was minomaroly thitio, being F.iformed from Deal to Phat adelpaia 14 lefe than fix weeks; ande, when thas accident happened, he was fouteon days foul from Cape Hmlopen.

Hon. Daines Parrington communicated us the following fiut, on the authority the late Losd belhaven: that numbers fwallows have been found in old dry wal and in fand-hilis near his tordhip's feat Eaft Lothian; wot once only, hat fro year to year; and that, when they we expofed to the womth of a fire, they $r$ vived. We have alo heard of the far annona difover:cs near Morienh, in Nort wat erland, bat canno fpeak if them wi the fame atlirance as the two former; ne ther in the two laft inftances are we certa of the proticular festes*.
"Other whatles crowd on us to pro the refidence of thofe bords in a tompod $f$. woring the fevere feafon.
"Finf, in the chatky cliffs of Suffex, was feen on the foll of a great fragme fome ye.ts ano.
"S"condl", in a decaved hollow tree ti was cut down, near Doigelli, in Mer neththare.
". Thirlly, in a cliff near Whithy, Yor fhire, where, on digging out a fox, wh hutkels of fwallows ware found in a tor conlition. And,
"Lafily, the Rev. Mr. Conway, Sychoon, Flintaire, was to chliging as communcate the following fact: a f ye.rs ago, on looking down an old $h$ mine in that county, he obfervad numb of twallows clinging to the timbers of 1 thaft, feemingly afleep; and, on thag foms bravel on them, they juft moved, never attempted to by or change th place; this was between All Samts : C)riftnas.
"Thefe are dombtlefs the lorking-pla of the latter hatches, or of thofe $y^{\circ} \mathrm{t}$ birds who ale incapable of diftant mig tims. There ther continue infenfible : ruat; but, like thee, may fometimes remumated by an mafeafonable hot day the m! !t of Whater; for, very near (hr mace, a few appeared on the monding ? windor of Nerion-college, Oxfond, it temakably worm nook, which pren tur: fy (et their hlood in motion, having fon : Acct as lyms them refore the fire the fane thane of the year. Othorsh. beou known to make this prematurs : Perance; hut, as foon as the cold natr to the ieaton returac, they withdraw ag to the ir tormer retreits.
"I thall conctude with one argum dawn from the very la e baches of $t$, focies. On the $=3 \mathrm{~d}$ of Ottoter, 1767 mantil was feen m Soxthwark, Hyine and our of it neft; ams, on the $2 g^{\text {th }}$ of fance month, far or five fwallows w whervei hovering ranmi and fettlun on ? combty-hofpit. 1 at 0xtard. As thete b; mutt h.ive been of alate hatch, it is hig

* Klein gives an in!tance of fuits be found in a turpid ltate. Hilt. $A: 204$.
inrrob.

796.] Mr. Pennant's Thoughts on the Difappearance of Swullows. 28 I

nprobable that, at fo late a feafon of the ear, they would attempt; from one of our nicland counties, a voyase almoft as far sthe Equator, to Senegal or Guree: we re therefore confirmed in our notion, that zere is only 2 partial migration of thefe irds; and that the feeble late hatches onceal themfetses in this country.
"The above are circumftances we canot but affent to, though feemingly conradietory to the common courfe of Nature 7 regard to orther birds. We muit, thercore, divide our belicf relating to thefe two, ifferent opinions, and conclude, that one lart of the fivallow-tribe migrate, and that thers have their Winter-quarters near iome. If it thould be demanded, why wallows alone are fuund in a torpid ftate, ind not the other many fpecies of foft,illed birds, which likewife difappear bout the fume time, the following reafon nay be afigned:
"No birds are fo mach on the wing as wallows; none fiy with fo much fwifirefs and rapidity: none are obliged to fuch Fudden and various evolutions in their light ; none are at fuch pains to take their rey; and, we may add, none exert their roice more inceffuntly. All thefe occafion I vaft expence of frength, and of fpirits, and may give fuch a texture to the blood hat other animals cannot experience ; and fo diffofe, or, we may fay, neceffitate, this tribe of hirds, or part of them at leaft, to a repofe more lafting than that of others.
"The third notion is, even at firt fight, too amazing and unnatural to merit mention, if it was not that fome of the Learned have heen credul us enough to deliver, for fact, what has the itrongelt appearance of impoffibility; we mean the relation of fwallows paffing the Winter immeried under ice at the britom of lakes, or lodged beneath the water of the fea at the foot of rocks. The firt who broached this opinion was Olaus Magnus, arclabifhop of Upfal, who very gravely informs us, that thefe birds are often found in cluftered mafies at the bottom of the Northern lakes, mouth to mouth, wing to wing, foo: to foot; and that they creep down the reeds in Autumn to their fuhaguenus setreats; that, when old fifinermen difoover fuch a mafs, they throw it into the water again; but, when young inexperienced ones take it, they will, by thawing the birds at a fire, hring them indeed to the ufe of their wings, which will continue but a fhort time, being owing to a prematurc and forced revival *.
"That the good archbilhop did not want credulity in other inkaces appears fiom this, that, after liaving flocked the bottoms of the lakes with birds, he flores the clouds

[^30]with mice, which fometimes f.fl i: plentifth fhowers on Norway and the aeighbouring countries 中.
${ }^{6}$ Some of our countrymen have given credic to the fubmerfinn of fivallows + ; and Klein patronifes the doctrine ftronsty, giving the foldowing hitory of their manner of retiring, which he receiven! from fome countrymen and others. T: $\because ;$ afferted, that fometimes the forathows ath mbled in numbers on a ree. $t$ il it broke: $\ddagger$ funk with them to the b, Hom ; and "wir immerfion was preluded by a dirge of ginarter of an hour's lergth; that others would unite in laying lrold of a fraw with their bills, and fo plonge down in fociety. Others, agzin, woukd form a jarge mafs by clinging tagether with their feet, and fo commit themfelves to the deepor.
"Such are the relations given by thofe who are fond of this opinion: and, thourt delivered without exasgeration, muft provoke a finle. They align not the fmalleft reafon to accomat for thefe birds being able to enture fo loug a fubmerfion without being fuffocated, or without decaying, in an element fo unnatural to fodelicite a bird; when we know that the oiter, the corvorant, and the grebes, foon perih if caught under ice, or eataugled in nets : and it is well known, that thofe animals will continue much longer under water than any others to whom Nature liath denied that particular fructure of the heart, neceffary for a long refidence beneath that element.
"Though entirely convinced now own mind of the imponfibilit of the fe relations, yet, defirous of fireng+hening;our opinion with fome better authorities, we applied to that able anatomif, Mr. Tchn Hunter, who was fo obliging as to inform us, that he had diffected many fivallows, but found nothing in them different from other birds as to the organs of refpiration; that all thofe animals which he had diffecled of the clafs that fleep during Winter, fuch as Lizards, frogs, &ic. hat a very different conform?tion as to thofe organs; that all thefe anmmals, he believes, do breathe in their torpid ftate; and, as far as his experience reaches, he knows they do; and that therefore he efteems it a very wild opinion, that tertefrial animals can remain any long time under water without drowning."

So far Mr. Pennant; to which [ beg leave to add, that, eally in the morning of the 25 th of July, 1793 , two dead martins were brough: to me. which were found in a water-butt by the gardener, who told me they were not there the preceding evening. All my endeavours to reffore them to life were ineffectual. Had thefe birds been provided by Nature with any peculiar mechanifm in the organs of refpiration, inftinet would doubtlefs have pointed out the neceffity of their exerting them at fo critical a moment.

[^31]Migr Av. Amcen, Acad, 1V. 589.

A Naturalist.

Mr. Urban,

I$T$ is often pleafant enough to obferve under what different afpects the fame fubject is viewed by different perfons. I remember, when I was young, and reading fuch popular works as Frefnoy's Art of Painting, with Graham's Lives of Artifts annexed, I had often wondered that architects were omitted; and, conceiving that P.P. (your correfpondent who had not met with lives of architeds) was fomewhat like myfelf, a joung man, wifhing for general information, 1 referred him to Fitzgerald as a popular work; at the fame time mentioning a work which, fhould he ever vifit Italy, might be of ufe to him. Your good friend S. refers him to a work which every man of tafte is acquainted with, but which relates to Englifh artifts only; therefore did not feem to me fo applicable to P. P. whether I was or was not "aware" of its contents. Now, fir, as I am no friend to mere remark, or to barren fpeculation only, will you be kind enough to prefent my compliments to Mr. S, who is (unlefs I greatly miftake my man) very well verfed in Englifn hifory, and Englinh art, and requeft him to do fo much for Englifh buildings and architects as I have done for thofe which are the principal objects of attention to travellers and fudents when abroadimproving the litt as much as he pleates by remarks, &e. in paffant. I dare fay fuch accounts of the cathedrals, &c. of Canterbury, York, Durham, Winchefter, &c. from his pen will pleafe you, Mr. Urban, and all amateurs your readers; it will inltruct P. P.: and it will greatly oblige,

> Yours, &c.
N. B. In hopes of his compliance with this requeft, I have purpofely omitted every mention of Englifh buildings, &c.

Sketch of a Lift of the principal Buldags at this Time cxting, whofe Architects are know with curfory Hints, and Dates.

In EgYpt.

The Pyramids, built by Mofes and Aaron

If you wifh for my reafons in fupport of this opinion, call for them, you thall have them.

> In Athens.

Tower of the Winds, by Andronicus; time unknown, but guelfed ahout
Temple of Minerva, by Jetimus and Callicrates
Temple of Thefeus; probably fame architects.
The Propyleum, by Mneficles; fame date.

In Rome.
Theatre of Marcellus, not by Vitruvjus, who is immortalized by a treatife on architeEture; under Augufiss.
Dumitian's Palace, by Raburius Piazza Trajana, &c. by Apollodorus

The pillar remaining ftood in the ceater of the formm.
The Mole of Adrian, by Detrianus
N.B. He committed the miracle of conveying the temple of the Bona Dea from one place to asother; long before the Cafa Santa of Loretto was thus moved.
Si. Feter's, begun by Bramante, died

Continued byfeveral others, Raphati, Michael Angelo, Exc. to Carlo Maderno
The Jefuits' Church, by Vignola; died
N.B. Vignola gave defigns for the Efcurial in Span, which were execused under the direction of Louis de Foix, who alfo bult the famous tower of Coidouanne, near Bayonne.
St. Andrea della Valle, by Cardinal Ramatdi; died
Fountain in P'iazza Navona, &c. by Bernini; dited
Fountain da Trevi, by Niccolo Salvi; ded

96.] Sulphureous/Voter dijcoverednear Bewdley, by Dr. Johntone.283

At Constantinople. neta Sophia, by Anthemius and Ifidorus

Under Juftinian.

At Venice.

his city originated from a houfe built on one of its iflands, by Entinopos impanile of St. Marco, by Buono he Rialto, by Jacopo, or Antonio da Ponte.
he Zecca, by Sanfovino; died
Geminiano fulla Piazza di 5. Marco ; per idem; and many other churches, &s.

> At PISA.
he Domo, by Bufchetto of Dutichio
he Campanile, by Guglielmo
This tower is 17 palms out of its perpendicular, for which it is famous; yet has food feven centuries, and is likely to fand.

At Florence.

the Domo, by Arnolfo; died This is known by the name of St. Maria del Fiore. It was left unfinifined by Arnolfo; was advanced by Giotto; terminated by Brumellefchi, who died he Campanile, by Giotto; died

In France.

heims. The Cathedral, by Rumaldo
t. Denis. The Abbey, by Suger the abbot aris. Nôtre Dame, by Jean d'Echelles, about Alfo, Jean Ravy.
he Louvre, by Serlio, in part; died
'he Thuilleries, by Philibert de l'Orme; died
'al de Grace, by Francis Manfard; died
;ollege des Quatre Nations, by Louis le Varr; died
the noble Front of the Lnuvre, by Claude Perrault ; died

He was at once phyfician, painter, mufician, archite $\mathcal{E}$, engineer, philofopher, and anatomift ; eminent in a!!! ferfatles, by Julius Manfard; died

In Germany.

Straßburgh. The Cathedral, by

Erwin di Steimbach; died The Tower of this Cathedral Sr. Charles Borromeus, by J. B. Fifhers; died

1035
1049

The Column in the Merchants 1724 Square at Vienna is alfo by Fithers.

In Holland.
At Amfterdam. The Exchange, by Cornelius d'Ankers deRy; The Stadthoufe, by Jaques van Campen; died A Bort Account of a Silpburcous Water lately diccovered near Bewdley; by James Johnfone, M. D. Worcefter.

SOME time laft Summer I was led, by a very ftrong hepatic fulphureous fmell, in paffing a bye-road, to examine a water in the corner of an adjoining field; and, finding it ftrongly impregnated with the fulphureous gas, I thought it deferving of farther notice.

The water iffues from a field belonging to Mr. Goolden, of Bridgenorth, now occupied by his tenant, Mr. Whitehoule, and is called Saivyer's Field, near a bye-road adjoining a wood, lying Weft of the river Severn, in a part of the parifl of Upper Areley, about 3 miles from Bewdley.

The water in the well has a greenifh bluc colour. It has a ftrong iulphureous tafle and fmell, noticed by parfengers on the road, and lers fall in the channel, in which is runs off from the well, a white foft precipitation. Coalmines are worked at no great diftance from this fulphureous well.

This water certainly deferves attention, from its perfect refemblance, in tafte and fenfible qualites, to Harrowgate and Moffat waters; and, not being inferior to them in ftrength, it may be prefumed to poffefs the fame medical virtues; and this has been confirmed by the chemical analyfis and examination of fome of this water, fent by Mr. Jones, furgeon, in Bewdley, ti DI. John Johnftone, phyfician, in Birmingham, for that purpofe; from which it appears fimilar to that of Harrowgate : and it promifes to be a commodious remedy to fuch at leaft as cannot aftord the expence of a long journey, journey, and yet ftand in need of Harxuwgate water.

Worcefier, Fan, 10, ェ796.

Mr. URean, Marchsz.

IN compliance with the requen of your correfondent, LXV. So6, to whom I may with friet propriety give she epithut w which he bas honoured tre, "ingenious," I have reperufed the remarks on the natural hiftory of the carsel, r. 576 , but without their producing the effect he wilhed. In fhort, I cannot help ftill afking, wherher the camel is fo formed as $t$ imb me mote of the moifture of the sir tian wy other animal, in proportion to its buik, if iis capabilit; of Roine fo long wiehout drinising is not to be atmbuted to that refervoir of woter which it is known and acknowleryed co comtain in its flomach, but chitfly $t$ the moifture which it imisties from the armolptiere? I have baen informes, fince 1 wrote laft on the fubjest, by a very incelligeite freend, thet it muy be fo formed; and by another, wnote opinion is eraited to the highelt cipoet, the very learned and fonfibieed eor of the ivatural F .\{moy of Alispo, Bec. that it is 200\% Thus circumftanced 1 wifh fome of your refredable corelp adents, who are well acou: nted wita Netural Hifeory in general, and wath tot: wat of ic whach ieldes to the extrommary and itureneliny animal in patacuar, would lave an goudnef to favour the with then tewinsents an this fubjes.

As ior the Marimotcaina theory of the amolph.te, you. conefporiont Haters: the wnea he wifaes me to fhew me ingenuity bs consoversigg thspinciples. Ilowever, be mui tacuteme, as $I$ bave renher opportasicy nor abiJity to underidke fuch a tafk.
Yoots, &c. JUVEN13.

Mr. UkBAN, AAril 3 . TAM exiremely forty tha: my inci-- dintal mention of the gland tenet a.i Mr. Iiutchinion, and my obfervanons upon it, faould give offence to any of you readers, paticulaily to your tivly reffectable corrofendent + U. (p. z: S), who will, i th ture, bu eve me formbie of the value of his graclii approbations, though on one P. wudar ropreck, and that wot an wa.. $p$ calut unt, we may nut think ckبús alku

Will you allow me, Mr, Urban, to ftate, as difinefly as I can, and a manner that I truft will not give offence to the worthy $A$. U. or ny other of your readers, my full fismonts on the point in difpute?

It appears, by irrefragable P of, that Gort made man orginally of he duft of the ground; but that the $m$ n. nets of this origin was at once dinified, in that the creature forme of clay was made in the jmage of his Creator. God animated the flus fh mafk with the breath of life; and he work of Onniporente was crowne by the laft grand donation, by virte of which man berame a LIVING sob; not merely poif.ffed of being, in csmon with ail things created, not m ely in pofielion of the vite! princip a gif. bellowed on every part of an ated Nature; but bleft with a rat al and unperifinable foul; a foul wh fhall exilt when rume fall be no ne, and the worid mall be annuhil d. "For God created man to be ims ist 1 , and made bim to be the imag of his own eternily."

It ever then a fair effimate coulbe made of the natural powers of the $1-$ man mind, wat tefoct to relig as matiers, i: mult have been in the fe of this our thit parent; becaufe al he theological knowlege of his poft ty traces itfelf, by regular atcent a m fon to fasher, imto that whereof ar anceftor Adam was poifelfed, ad which was imparted to him by avenly infpiration. Without that 10 fipration, his reafon would have a I. ed thim litule, even for the com un purpues of life; ftill lets woulc 3 e have been enabled to find out thi jo vinceatrobues and perfections. The, h made a litte lower than the angel: ae had every thing to learn, and God as his reacher. He had immedrate cio? municatinos of heavenly widom t m above. Dy the facramental fy mbo of the tree of life and the rete of knylege, he was iaughe the fublime d mytherious dogirines of his relign. Moral duties were at the fame 16 ca:cfully imprefled on his mind ae was thewn that man came into 15 world t) be employed in the office of ufeful i,dunty $;-$ and, as the condin of the covenamt, he was raugh o pradtife the grace of felf-denial.

He feil-but Mercy renewed yat Sia had furforted: and let us not ifr gire oul firft parents ignorant of ie terms on which themfelves and tir 1796.] Remarks on a leading Tenet of Mr. Hutchinfon.
pofterity were to be refinered to the fayour of Hevven; nor yer of the man. ner in which thas: 1eforation was to be accomplifhed. The Almighty never fake unimtellig:bly to his fervants. When the divine word announced the promited feed of the woman, which thould brifie the Eerpent's head, our Eather ADAM rejoiced of fee the day of Chiff, and he faw it and was glad.

He faw it; and he imparted to his children theserms of the gofpel covesant. He told them, and they could not have lesent it otherwife, that the facrifical rites, then firf inftituted, were a fymbol of the great oblarion. In reference io this atmement, the pious Abel offered the firftling of his flock on the altar of God: the offering was accopted; whiie that of Cain mitt with deterved rejestion. In fact, the faith of Cain (If it may be calied fo) was that of modern feepti-qifm-totslly deflitute of Chriftiantry.

Religion then was introduced to the knowlege of $m=n$, frit, by inmediate communication in Adam from God-aficrwards, by regular tradition from Addm to his maluliy-n ne of whom can be fuppoial th h.ve been ignorant of thole cally trantictions which formed fo imporian a feature in the hiftory of nankind:. Tue race of man being afterwards defloyed, with the except of Noak and his family, all thote by whom the ark was re-peopled after the flood had to trace their ieligious knowlege no farther than to this pariarch, as to their common progenitor; with whom the covenant by facrifice was renewed by immediate revelation from heaven. And, when hurnan prode and arrogance culuted the dricemdants of Nozh (on occaffon of an act of pretumpthous, and probabiy deltical, :afhnefs) to be fcatteted abrodd over the face of the earth, they carried woth them the remembrance of thofe traniactions I have mensioned, and, beyond a doubt, communteated them t their pofterity; till, their defcendants beng, in procels of that, wore widely difperled, and almot imanitely fubdivi-

[^32]ded, they, in fome cafes, entirely lof fight of all reiigious knowlege; in others, deformed the truth with the intermixture of monfrous and horrid falfchoods; and, bv a ftrange and $f a-$ tal perverfion, facrificed to devils, and not to God.

Tinte are the principal hitorical facts on which we have to form our opinion on the quallion, whether there are or are not, in the homan mind, certain natural notices of God? Called on as I am by focandid and honouraje an opposent, I will endeavour, with equal candour, to offer the reafoos which mow lead, and ever have led, me utterly to deny my belief of the fact.

If ever indeed the buman heare was capale of thes knowledze, where hall we find an opportunity of afcertaining the fait by ratr exper,ment? Cervainly not emong the defcendants of Noah; for they recesved wormation by means of their progenier. And if for a moment we we;e to accode to the vague aflertion, that the deluge was patial, and nos untverdal, we muff flll trace to the tint-formed father of all men the relighous mirs and ulages of his pofterity. io a "ery few intances a partial trial has beco made of the cate. A human creature has bean formd, feparated from the fociety of mankind, and thrown into a ttate of mers'y anmal exitience. Wiun a being of this deforipton has here and there been difcovesed, he has been m a condition exaEtiy finilar to that of the wild bedfa around hm; viteing difordant chies in imitason of thers; crafty, malicrous, fierce, and ícatcely tameable. If it hanll appest when thes "child of Nature" has been inwoduced to any knowledge of elvilized life-taught the ute of languase, and enabed to expoefs his featmoches ; it tera it hall appers that, in ins favage fate, he had any notwn of a Supreme licine, and, by a combinaiom ot his mate ideas, had otwibuted the works of citaiwn, which he taw, to an trvitione $A_{\text {sent }}$ whom he coeld nut ioe, then mdead we flould allow that the adracates for netural religion had fome good swand on which to telt their theories*.
$A b=1$ by the approbation of $G$ d, and Naxh by his command, offried a burnt ofiorng as an atonemene

[^33]No. $\mathrm{an}_{\mathrm{s}}$

Noting feems lefs obvious to the mind, or lefs likely to have been devifed by the unafifted reafon of man. Still leis eafily can we imagine that, in the moft remote parts of the world, a variety of people, who for ages could have had no intercourfe with each other, fhould, each for themfelves, have invented a propitiation of this fongular nature. Yet, in the diftant regions explored by our enterprifing countrymen, regions where inhabitants knew no: that there exifted any race but their own, our navigators have either found no traces of religious knowtedge at all (a circumftance in itfelf faral to the doctrine in queftion), or elfe, in many inftances, they found shofe very facrifical rites, which, shough blended with the mof execra. ble abominations (even to the immolating human victims), are all corruptions, however horrible, of the original holy ordinances given in the earlieft ages by God to man, and then prefiguring the great atonement for fin.

1 am aware, Mr. Urban, that wife and great and good men think differently on this important fuhject ; and, without any ill will to Revelation, are of rpinion that God has written a porrion of his law on the mind of every mian at the moment of his breathing into his nofrils the bieath of life. That the contrary is the fact, 1 do without arrogance, but without hefitation, ftrenuoully maintain. The mind is certainly capable of illumination; but ot itfelf it is in a flate of total obfcurity. "The natural man knoweth not the things of God"meither can he know them; for, they are fipiritually difcerned. Fdith, knowledge, religion, all come EY HEARing. God has thrught fit to teach us Wy the nimifly of paients, inftructors, friends, by his revealed and written word, and by his blaing on our own diligence, atier the ineans of informasion are pointed out to us-after our minds are dui- and fuly imprefled weh the idea, that "for the foul to be without knowiedze is not goocl."

In the firit infance, and under the regulation of humilty and faith, the doctrine of natural religion may perbajs be harmlefs: bat, after its wellmeaning advocates have atfigned it a reriod, the infudel carries it farther, and from the fame principies draws mate dangerous anclufions; places Reaton in the throne of God, and ba.
nifhes Chrifianity as an ufelefs fuper ftition. At the fame time he tells us that he confiders himfelf as believing in God the father and creator of the world, after whofe name he affects th call himfelf, and whore religion hi profeffes under the name of pure DE ISM, a religion totally confiftent witl the pretended Creed of Nature-bot : religion without a fervice, without : temple, wihout a facrifice, without 1 Redeemer, without a Comforter, without prayer, without praife, withou faith, without hope, without fanetif. cation, without falvation, " withou every thing."
E. E. A.

Mr. UREan,

April $1^{\circ}$ TN my late In RUIRy into the authenticity of the pietended Shak. fpeare Manufcripts (p. 3i8, n. 193), have faid that the Ftench had not thi words deronger nor derangement in the tume of Slakfereare. But this was : miftake, into which I was led by look. ing into Cotgrave's Dictionaty fo thofe words as they are now fpelt. Hi has, I find, defrangé and defrange (which was the fpeiling of his time) but not defrangement. This, however does not at all affect my principal argument in that place; for, all that was bound to fhew was, that we har not the Englifh words formed from them till above: century afterwards and this I have fhewn.

At the fame time that I mention this Alight overfight, permis me to notice two errors which efcaped me wher I was making the table of errita. Ir p. 93 , l. ult. of text, for noviciate reac novice; and, in p. 254, 1. 15, fol twenty read twenis-feven. E. M.

Mr. Urban, April 16. TMR. JOHN HOLT, of Walton the furveyor of agriculcure for the county of Lancafter, has been prefented with a cow-calf, whofe dam is in the 32 d year of her age; a fab which can be afcertained from certair data. And, what renders the circumfance more remarkable, the dam of the calf, whilft in poffefion of the pre fint proprietor, can never be faid to have been properly out of milk for thr latt 15 years. The young temale call fuems very healthy, and a beautiful creature, and which, we underftand Mr. Holt intends to rear, as the greateft curiofity of the kind exifting probably at prefent in the kingdom.

The

706.] Athamanta Libanofis.-Mifcellanious Information.-Ants. 287

The proprietor of this old cow is amucl Yates, a farmer, a very induf. rious worthy man, who lives at preo. ent in Fazakerly, about five miles rom Liverpool.

Mr. Urean, Cambridge, Aprilli7. HAVE to requeft you to make known the following erratum thro' he channel of your Magazine as foon s you can find rooun for that purpofe. in seferring, a few days ago, to Mr. kelhan's raluable Flora Cantabrigienis, I accidentally noticed his account If the Atbamanta L:banofis; wherein efays, "Plantam hanc rariffimam, et botanicos Anglicanos diu latentem, andem inveni anno 1783 ." Probably Mr. R. might not, at the time he vrote this, have been aware that the pot in which he found this fcarce lant was previoufly examined by Dr . Soyte, of Ipfwich; who, after feveral ays inveltigation in this place, viz. he Chalk-pit Clofe, at Hinton, near Sambridge, met this very fpecies of he Ahbamanta, and tranfplanted it to uis own excellent botanic garden at pivich in 1780.
Before I conclude, I embrace this pportunity of acquaincing the pubick, that the great defideratum in boany, a complese hiftory of grafies, vith plates of every known Eritijb pecies, is preparing for the prefs, and vill fpeedily be publifhed, by a ftudent If this Univerfity.

Botanicus.
Mr. URean, Barnfaple, Aprill 18.

THE " Dulce Domum" may be found in a Hiftory of Wincheler, publifhed, more than twenty years ince, by (as I have been informed) a Mr. Porter, an attorney, of that city. The account of Magdalen-hofpitai I vave heard afcribed to the Rev. Richard Wavell, late rector of St. Maurice in Winchefter.
The Microcofm, after which A.B. ?. 106 , enquires, was exhibited in the Weft of England in the year 1762 . It was then in the poffeffion of a Mr. Walker, who took it thence to 1reand. Sone pieces of mulick by Hansel, compofed, as I have heard, exprefsly for Bridges's barrel-organ, were given by the then poficfior of the nicrocofm to a gentleman in this reighbourhood. Qu. Were they ever publifhed?
In the church of Tavifinck, on a ablet hxtd againit the wall, is the following epitaph to the memory of an immediate defcendant and near relation of two illuftrious literary characters, Henry Stephens and Jface Cafaubon. Her relationfip to fuch men may probably induce you to infert her eptaph, fhould not its fingularity entitle is to your notice.
M. S .

Here under lieth the remains of Sara the wife of Richard Polilard, Gent. educated in the Fiench and Englifh Courts, and thought worthy to attend on the Right Honourable the Countiffe of WeitmoreIand, and by her recommended to wait on her moft dear daughter, Lady Racliet Countiffe of Bathe.

This Sara

was daughter of Monfieur Voys, a Syndique of Gineva, who moft honourably lof his life in defence of that free city. Her grandfather was the learned Henricus Stephanu: and Ifaac Cafaubon was her uncle.

She died 3oth Jal.

MDCLII.

In the church of Tavitock is the family-vault of the Bouchiers Earls of Bath, and their fucceffors the Wreys, Baronets. The church contains many monuments which would be admired even in Weflminfter abbey. W.W.

Mr. Uzaan, April 19. TN your Magazine for lati montis, 1 p. 235 , a correfpondens wifhes to know a method to deftroy ants in hothoufes, acc. I am forry not to be able to anfiver his queftion in point; but, 1 have reafon to betieve thcy may be effe&tualiy prevented from hurting melon and cacumber plants in frames, though not deflroyed themfelves.
& covered a common dung-bed abour rhree inclies deep with faw-duat from fir-timber jun cut dowa, and then laid on the foit. In $2+$ hours the frrell of the turqentine raifed with the feam was exceedingly trony, and found the furface of the foil covered with worms of many different kinds. and various infeets, &c. a.ll dead; nor has one appeared fince, althought the fmell has gone off. The plants in this bed bave come on furprifingly weil.

A meton-pit which was not covered with Caw-dult was full of worms and ants. Sofar as I could, without hurting the roots of the plants, I mixued the earth about the hills with faw-duyt, and covered the whole furface with it; then taid on three inclies of fine teafand; whela not only has to apperance banified the ants, but has prevenied the finails, &ic. from getting at the plants either from below or from the furface. This fand, I find, keeps the plants and fruit quire dry and clean, while it prevents the fín from forching the foil, at the fame time refocting the rays.
A. N. Deb. L.

Mr. Upban,
Murch 25 .

ALLOW me to erefpafs for a few moments on your time and patience: I d not ofitn venture to troubie you. Dr. Harrington hiss latily, thr tigh the clannel of your Merizine, been attompting to force upon the puthirk fonie new and fogular theonies of his own invention; and th:- in fuch a tone and manner as jufty to provoke the indignation of every fenfible mon. Thisgentleman firft introdeced himfelf to notice in your Mifce inny under the aufpices of Sir Jofeph Barke, to whom he addrefied a letter, thanking Sir Jofeph for exprefing a a eadinefs to receive any difcoveries of Dr. H's. Bur, did Sir J. teer give him leave to dif his penat fo unliconted and abufive a atat: Did he ever al ow him to tucat with contempt and contumcly the mote re. fipectabie claracters of the age? I beHeve not. Has Dr. H. read Lowth's poignane attack on Warburton? If not, 1 would advife him to do it before he firs down to fen another letter to the Gendeman's Magazint. There fet him confider the chareqee of Warbuiton as ably repucfented by his anragonite, and there fortoufly confider whether it may not be appled to fimcelf. Our chemift eemis to rear timmfelf albove all the'ref of his brethecn as fupreme diflator and empesor. Every thing was dark, intricate, and nonfenfictl, till he arofe; till be ade to make amarchy order, and pour light on obfeurity. At his firgie nod we are to believe that all the theoncs hatherro fupponted by the mighire natmes of Crawford, Beddees, and Neworn, are ridiculous and unfounded; an: that Harrmgton alone is the prophet of truth. I pay all diue deferenct to the ingenuity and ackn.wledged talenis of Dr. H; bue ere fach expitflions as "the extrecte abifurdity of Di. Boddus," \&e.; "thafe muyfirour b;potbefes;" "the monfirous atifurctaties;" and miny other contemptuous, malgnam, or cgot Risa paftecs; I fay, ace thefe becotining a matuof fenfe or a gemleman, cven if the theories he advance admit of no conuoverfy? which, think, is far from being the cafc wit our modern chemift. For (totake th firft initance that fal's in my way p. 218), it has been long imaginec and aliy proved, that the principal bu finefs of reipiration is to dfcharge th ir fammable air and charcoal froin th blond, which is formed of acefen. chyle; but that the blood filll retair and imbibes to much of the acidifyin principle as is necefary for the nutri ment of the animal food; a plair hs pothefis, admitting of frund proo However, Dr. H. Gays, "Navis mu appear rather fingular, that two fuc bolies as inflammable dil and charcea of which they !uppofe $\div$ nimals and ve Rerables to be principaliy former thould be fo nexious to the animat: to require the acton of the air cor ftantly to difcharge them, otherwi death would enfue." Why, in th name of reafon, Sir, what is the ir anfifiency hare? $D$ cs the Doai imagine that every degree and evel quancity of any fulltance whatever equal in its cfliefts? or, is he ignora that what is in a moderate degre highly beneficial may in a larger d gree become noxious? It is plain ar clear that the blood, imbibing the it flammabie air and the charcoal, do and muff require the play of the lun to remuve the noxinus quality, ar leave the beneficizl. Pui it in th way: Inflammable air and charcoe uniefs purified and tempered, are no: ius to the animal fyttem, but the a tien of the ar does purify and temp them, by dichargug the noxiop principle; the remainder is, therefor bentícial and nutritious. Can at thing be clearer?
I can affure you, Mr. Urban, I cou proceed much farther, but "I fear have roubled you too long." Hor ever, Sir, if you favour my lemart whih a piace in your valuable Repot tory, ir, if D.. H. thould with know what I may have to lay, I fia perbay, venture once azain in hazal a tow mole obfervations on that get theman; to whem and yourfelf I haever remain

A Friend

Mr. Urean,

April 18. 1 DO nut believe that ynur $R$ - viewers roticed, or perheps kne of, "Obéervatiens on the Corporatis and Tett Actis, in a Letter to a Friend

796.] A Pamplact on the Ta;?? Seal of Willian Fitz Otho. 289

wherein it is fully proved that $n$ n Eif. enter from the Eathn? Chursh can readmirred to anvonflee whe? he tefl $s$ reouired by laiv as a quathication, och Difenter betug inadmiffible, the' ie demand the factament on any secaion whatever. To which is prefece', I Thort addrefs to the juninr council of he town and counso of Notingham; by Charles Heathore, gent.; printed or T. Payne, 1794; the delien of which is to thew the incorifitency of Diffenters profeffing t, be contci-nious, and creeping into cicil officts sither by evading or privanly $t$ ls heteft, as fome members of the c rsoration of Nottin ,h.m have d. n . Yours.&c. P.C

Mr Urban, April o.

THE feal of William Fiz 0.ho (flate II. fig. 1), engraved in :he accoun of the Snaldine Society, Bibl. Top. B t. No. X. . p. 6z, was arft engraved by Gerret lemue. for the lyte Nicholas Herdingr. rif. felnaw of Kine's colleze. Contanda, where the orignal chatier io faitued. In Mr. H's Letter to the late Eart of Pembroke, ${ }^{1727}$, printed his Latin poems, ${ }^{7} 7^{80}$, but hat in all the editions, Mr. H. detcrines tite figure, "feilà qu fi curuh motitentem, manu fin:fiâ gladium gerenitun, dex. trâ telum, quo in duel is tana crimonzlibus quam civilibus Carmpons, uc t,renfibus utar verbis, advertenos terebant." Sce Mados's Hiftory of he Exchequer, Ppl. $3^{\mathrm{S}_{2},} 3^{8} 3$; Buffin No tas in Uctonum, P 37; Ranulphum de Glarvilld de Lecybus, l.b. II. c. 3 , 7. Modox, in the place cited, $g$ ves a remarkable record in the Tower of the reign of Henry III. at the top of which is a drawny of two combara:ts, Walter Blawterme drat Hem n le Starte, th: form ofonving רppered the later of robhery in when (he) were both enncerned; liut the appellant, being varguined, was hangud. The two combatuits ark repurened fighting with $h_{\text {a }}$ clds; and the weapoa reprefented on the teal, which is tike a pickax. Th s drawing was enyraved before by Bylitie, in hus Notes on Un ton, p 37, but wot in fac umble. He burg, liegemath at the an or at G'at tonbury, fire whan, in uered, inter 42 Henry 1 he eng ses, for 30 lilzins ftering, to wage tual agmint the Gent. itha. afth, ifjo.
champion of the biflon of B .th and Wells. H figure on thas it it has rime fome we po no ond thed. The sero pan, di.ened to be providet the the judien in fuch challenper, is deleriuad as. thef wiorata mad a tarstaurfiutan; hut the eapon and the thitld are to be of eq at rewetn and rhicknefequats loigraulas at grefrerei (Upiun, c. 11. 8. D. 85) Trete ch mini is are at on twot; $n$. werbal tetcer pia in is given of ther weanns; hat, ither fought on borfeb...l. the: werpras wete to be a la:ce and two fiwords (Bustaf. y zo). Vratus, in his man. Ternownd. ad tere of few that the finats danmoed their quarcis feriert, i e dialo L L nenb. lib.i.

 He lo.s it was rather ptcuita to the N theon ratere, and ociurs in whe Cptald if the Emper.r Ludoricis the L.:n Wal Whe Curqueror, p. $12=$

Whitam, the farhe: of Willizn Fizz eat wh the (cunazor, whoh Cm.
 " mafiter of the ment," whath office was heetedran in his family, that reIpediabie Antiqu ry MI I.hnfon, in his Dafieration on the Nint at Lincom (ubr lypra), fupp:red ive wa e. pretented wrow 6 :e mintrments of his chice in i.es +ght-hent; but, is the fword whinh tie holds in his lett, has no reteretice tw the min, may we not, with fuch kood authority is bef re quaces, whet craclude the he inrended to tee ep, elemed on his te. 1 in character nt a chump:on, readv to duel ether on by fo: foen, with the jacord or the cizk?
 tion, of the iral is Fize Otho's trefs, which, by all the rite of cunnat, th uld be there in:lie bady anc arme, his Mat ut hand and no crp on his héci (ViS. Selé=a, ap. Upron, p 37).

$$
\text { Y(u s, } \sim \text {. } \quad \text { D. H. }
$$

[^34]
Mr. Urban,  April 3.

 T HE drawing herewith fent (flate II. fic. 2), takep from the vica-rate-howle in the church-yard ha B orton, is thus deforitied by Dr. Stukeley in his Itinerary:"In the prefenage-houre is a furcheon, with a pait wal ftaff hehind it, bearing a fols charged with a fifh and two an ulets between chree phates, each charged with a crof fitchés.," Thele arms are mentioned alif in the "Colqume Galeanæ. 178 s," B.bl. Top Bit. N. 11 p. 67; as carved On an oaken doon, and repeated on a pannel wer the chimnev; whiha re. maik, tha: Di. Sukeley has not noticed the nitre, whis a is plan on both, nor the mithe, nor the two I's, which are io the carving within doors, and which Mr. Mauice Juhnfon fuppofed to it int for Yobannis ferualemmani. The arms Mr. Gale att:i)utes to the abbot of Bardney, who pr bably miyht be a benefuter to the buiding of the vicame houfe. Linctiniensis.

 The ring, for. 3, and feal, fg. 4, were fonac, absat thelve years aco, near Clucrefea abley, iti Surrey.

Mr. Urpan, Ragell-Pigce, Aprilg.

IN the infide of the ancient refeciore, now the parifh-church of Beaulicu, at an clevation of about 12 fee: hom the gruund on the We? lide, Ganit a pulpit, ilus dereribed in a MSS of 164.8, in the Halci-ta Co"estion, No $822^{*}$ :
"The ancient and farre parifl churche of Betio Loco Regis, al's Betilev, in the coun'y of Sourhampton, hewig deftioyed with the abby wherein it thood, ar the South fide of the faid of charche's fumadations frands the now parifa charch, Southe and Nuthc, having been the :lhbot's dyning tiall. On the weit fite of the fane is an athent palpett. which fanes in the well le.mig upp th it, which was the phace wherema the atbott's b ble cla:ke did exercife his funstion, and is fitats over againt the neww, pulpett ind reading place, but higher urip."
A. fighat of thone fape, with a roof carioufly anched and ri'bed, and enlightened by fever. 1 Gothic upertares, forms the afcent to this pulput, whence the reader gave a protion of divinity to the monk, thai were feated below at dinue:; a cunom which exilts to this day at Oncen's callege, Oxford, where a nurw in nf rite Gra.k Tenament is

[^35]dailv read during the hour of dinner
That the pulpit ab.ve defcribed is eppropriated to this purpofe may inferred from the follec wing injun Etic infuted in the Benediglive Regul tims, Mon. Ang. fom. 11 p. 955:
"Lector refeemorii port capitulum lib portst in refactorsum. Leetor fat ad brom veria fecie al mientem. Inclinal c. nventu al elerid parri, et ad pater noft inclinat et ipfe, verf. facie ad conventu Nec deloet antorn fed re, donec fedeat it qui preeft conventui. Hiatorim legat tundius; fermones et omelias attractius.' Youls, iss.
E. Rudgi

Mr Urban,
Aprill 8. TOUR cor refpondent Z. C. P. is will find the entaph of Bo. Do in p. 82 of the Hiftory of the Chur of Petabomuce by Gunten, whoo ferves, that "this monument being, the vear $: 643$. leveled with the grour the epl:aph, infead of marble, m1 now live on paper." Not the finall trace of it now remains. The feal take to have an allufion to the widd of the teiper, and the innorence, the dove; the foriner huing lituck by one man as a humful crestu whie anotherom on feads the ortier an innment one. -in line 28 , for $k$ che? reat Piertborough.
Juhn Snell was archdeacon L.i.ding final about 1426 till 143 when he refigned the offee; he , fiened the church of St. John the B1 tith, L-ndui, 1442 ; was collated the pethend of Wisidmani, 1426, a archeremo of London ahout the fat thate. (N wecurt, I. 61).

I canne tbut doube the genuinemi of T. R.'s cnins, p. 196.
Enward Deering, S.T.P. w prefroned tw the retiony of Plackle by Archbinap Paker, 1563 , al was fucieted by anather rector $\mathbf{r} 57$ whether on death or refignation, H : ted, 111 234, fys not. ©in. Was the thind fou of John Decring, of Su renden, who died 1612? (Hafted, i 239, n. 10).

Democritus, having incurredt penalty of the Abderite law, denyin burial anony them to frendthrifts; order to vindicate himfelf from th charge, the cffect of calumny al envy, he read to them his work int tuled the Gieat Diacofinus $[\mu 5 \sqrt{a} \leqslant \Delta h$ xorporg], which was his mafle:-piec for waich he was prefented with $5^{\prime}$ talents, honoured wihl feveral flatu of Drdis, and at length buried at t

796.] Slave Trade.—Gibbon's Cbaracter of Priefley. -Chipicy. 291

ablic expence, Others fav, he read is book and another on the Atonic Rem to his judges, to prove he was $x$ mad, as was reporied, and, in con. quence the cof, carelefs of his afirs. His writings, as enumerated by iogenes Laertius, were on fabjects of lorality and Phyficks; of which a og. lift may be found in Stanley's ives of the Philofophers. None of iem are now remainang. He was a taterialift.
P. Q.

Mr. Urban, April ${ }_{13}$.
TAR be it from meto apgravate the miferies ol human kind. It canot, however, have efcaped your peneating eye with whit an imprudent igernefs the friends to the aholitom fthe Negro flavery have puthed thecir oint in a late debate in the H . ule of ommons, April ro, r796. Evely reafure caiculated to promate the rermation, inftru&tion, or happinefs, of re Negrnes, is exrtainiy to the deoutly wifind; but, on the occafom Hluded to, the monon for that purpofe, owever ably ionported by the propo:r, met not with the approlezion of nother genternan, equally dicteving f praife for his humanity and legal nowitge. When once the parrons of god meafures divide aming themdives, the meafure itte:f maft inevt? ly fall to the ground. But it is the haiader of our countrynien to tuft very thing as fer as it will go. This 3 the very pont at iflue between theoetical fpeculation and practical expe. ience : the point whence all the ca anities of France may date their oregin, nd where the beft of men, with hearts sarfing with benevolence, will for hemfelves duped by men who have lothing but inte cil for their guide.
This obfervation, whicli has been fo requently ppitd to Dr. Priefley and iis partnets, in your Micellany, is nott admirably brought beme to him py Mr. Gibbon, who, in his Life, has the following obfervations on hins in. emperate firit
"In his Hiftory of the Corruptions of Chriftianity, Dr. Prieftrey threw duwn lus we gauntets to Bifhop Hurd and Mr. Gibyon. I leclized we challetige in a letter, Exhorting my opponent to enlightita the world by his phthomincal urgaverics; and to remember, that t'e merit of his pretieeffifor, Servetus, is unve reducell to a fanglo paffage, which mulistes the imaller carculation of the blood therengh the lungs fren and to the heart. Inflead of lifering to this friendly advice, the dauntlefs phititofopher of Birmingham continue to freaway his Jouble battery :igainft thofe who believed too litite or too much. From my ef/ics he has nothing to hope or farr; but hie So. cinian thicld has repentedly heen piercel by the f. ear of Horfly; and his trempet of fedition may at length awakea the magritrates of a free country,"

Pompilius lemas.

Mr. Urean,  Ap:it 9.

 THE following particulars of the直 Chospy fomily (foe our otizuary of this montb). I have fided as corredily as I was able from the pedigrees I could find. However, after dihgent fearch, I cannot be paricular enough refpecting the frmily of Sanford; nor ipeak at all fitsfactorily refpeEting Whatlo.Chifley houle and pank are fituate. a mile and half South of Miverton, and was, for a number of years (fay's Colunfon, in the Hiftery of Someler, the poffefion of a fatialy of $i$ 's nam: , till at lened it came to the Wanes of Heftercombe, by the matiags of The mofine, fole daugher aws heir of Thomas Cniplergh, E:q, with R-iner Wrie, fecond fun of Richard IV are, of Heliercombe, Efa.; in which brat: is of the Warre family the ta d manors continued till Mary, daughterane hor of Edward Wrarto of Chapley, brougha them by marrage to Wiham Lia thban, whole daughter and berces dying wich mat illue give thas maner to M. Clarke, fon to bur hatenal ay his former wile. Goorge Nuigraw, of Netulecombe, Efq. a colons: vi the Someafet m litea, married Mary und duughter of Edward Clarke, it C jpley, E/q. H: died Sept. S, r7:4. Lise fon, George Mulgwte, marma Cotharine eldeft drughter of S : in..n Chicheler, of Yuathone, in tis aisty of Levon, Datt. ; by whom he iad one for and che dughter. Thomas, his fon, dicù januar, 1765 . untman ned. Juhana, the incterels, varited lac la:e Si. Jomes L ngham, Bart. and is the preteni Lady-aouag os Lanswom. Whlana Satherd, of Nimenced-cobs: Eic. manred Anne dausher of Eć? watd Ctale, of Compley, Eus. by whom he le't two tuns, what Jhn. He ciad in February, : 718 . $\because h m$ WHAam his fon manded i c.anot d:ia ver; he left a numaroum fon. lef. two fons and rwo daushters; Willian. Ahford Samford is the prefent poll for of Ninehead-couri. His eldeff fon is an infant, by the name of Edwa d.C rke Sinfo.d. ©. The afoefard M.s. Whaley being a defoendant from this family, is it not frome the other daughter of Esiwatd Clurke, Eff afr, elad?

Juha Jones, Eff of Langford-court, manied Elzan-th dideh dua, liter of Etward Cturbe, if Cander, Ely. Theirfon, Conere: John Jones, drai Aprol, 475; whot fin, Edward Junes, lefr one univ daugher and belre's, El zerin, who maried, finf, John-Whbels shemwand, Ey. Winnt ter at law, whin dual Augatt, 17:0; fecondtr, the Rew fhomas Salywet W'h llay, the phatan oivner of Lats-fried-court.

The above Jun Jones is defcended from Cadwallader Jones, a fuffere in the royal caple at the clofe of the ri of Charles I. In the petition he fonted to the Houle of Commons the time of the F'rotedorate, he p for a releale from his conumement, confideration of the iomproant lerves he h.d rendered his comemery. In petition he pules humfil a nephew f Sir William W"phtham, Bart. (w! h fimity have fince : Alumed the tithif Eals of Examom), and nephew f Cant. Wher, of Hatcombe-court, n the coenty f D:von. Edward Cl a al memit, had one oriver daghter, die: 1 ummaried, and one other younger than Jepp, Samuel Cla whon manted an actrefs on the Lon iftec, and died without iffere; bis dow afterwands marri=d Richard S' wood, etq. of Sydcot, in this cou grandfather of the aforcfaid Je. Withers Sherwood.

Mr. Ueean。
IN the Domedoy Suivey we fiad it inferted that In Osp Lrestine Hundret tenet Wifis rex xijaĉ́s tive 7 dim de nanefmaneflande II $^{4}$ tra ua lait 7 uales $y$ fot hanc habuit rex EDw frmilit.
"In the handed of Oculfon King William holds 12 acres and an half of d unclamed by iny one. This lad is (and has heen) valued at 5 fhill ngs per anr, and was .f retime lieh by King Edward the Confalfor in like manner."

Can ane of your man ous correfpondents give a pobable conjegture of e frot :o whah thi entay alludes?

That the Fiel. w: Fondoury (or at lent a part of i) was held by Kg Wallam the Congueror, is undentable; as, in his charter (in the fecond:r of his reicu) to the crllegze church of Se. Martin ite Grand, it is fad

 D) forula."

The firf objection that may be made to this is the word terre occurrin n the above catract from Domeldav, which is generally fuppoled to mean ar e land ooly, vet, as coim terram occurs in the betwre-recited ch.rtet of coill d.te, 1 lee io impediancat to the reconcilation of the word terre with e mos ais in natitor.
$S$ condy. Nave arn fanit, which, though it may be, wich equai probabil, affixed to any whir plos of ground in Offuliton hundied, yet feems peculiy atdyted tor the widd come'tion of fo vaft a tract of fenny land; thes only tenic (or uefui) pret of which (befode that granted to Si. Martin le Grand in 10) might be the 12 actes and ain h. if mentioned in Domedday.

H: E
Mr. Upian, Airilit. ther whth fome additions to his FTHE learmed Editor of the "An1 tiquitares Vustrar." (Ne"cufle, 8vo, 1777) having omatred to havay thing upon Rolick Sinday, fertit an ozafional conefoondent th. ly a fev obervatins rpab the iulife ingecount of Eaker, &̈c. before your meroua readers.

Amongtt the Harl. MSS, 2447, curnus collection of antient Puft or Homilies, written in the reigns $f$

* The appelation of No man's hant in, it we mitiaha bot, given to more than? parcul of lad in the conaty of inhedefex, Ebrt.

1796．］Relick Sunday，and Fafokal Eqrss．－Lichinild Caike，an

VII．at fol． $186, \mathrm{~b}$ ．of which I find one，＂In fefto Reliquaram，＂be－ ginning

Wormipfull frendis，on sunday next con－ ming hall te the holy feft of all relyk； （called Rellic Sonlay），th．t be teft her＇in erth to the grete marnficence honor abd wornhp of god and p＇fite to man bo he bodily and guatly，for in as moch as we be in fufticient to worthip and te＂once fing：－ larly all rearent Ryliks of al 6 yms teft here in erth，for it palitis nans wever．Where－ fore boly Chirch in efocuall the ：wher ha of Yingelonde hathe ordeyme th is holy felt $\omega$ be wormipped tle nest forday aft the tranfac on of feint Tamis of Cantibuy yerty to be halowed and had in reaenc．

And，in an antient dicount of Charcir Expences belonging to the Parifh of St．Martin Ouiwnen，is ：has entry：

Anno 1525.
Payde for wyne on reigkys Sond？ye it．
Mr．Ifr．nd（App．P． 310 ）：reats up－ on the Pofche E Gus，but ？ors thiave forgoten che＂Frfobils＂or inslowed taper wed at this seufon of curmem－－ rating our Lord＇s dusth．Amongit the beformanioned hamalas is tate （fol．g2，b．）＂lia vgita Pulke．＂ wheren this curious cultol at ithe
Eaffer feafon is pleafing！y obrated：
Wormiaflal Fremus，on Ehern＇Ever＇ the Pafcall is brousit forth to be batense＇
It figuifyeth oare Smieyne Sumar＇Ct ite
J＇h＇a；for as the Pafall y $\quad$（ anditl an Taper in the Chir he，of iv Come pranti－ palt atal chaft mone ．il Semots in it
The P．．crill alforigmteth the a lle if ！？ that yecte beforne the chmintae ？then！！ when thei went ante of hate to ．ats do Jerl＇m an！as ctat yede thoron an of the rede tc＂，dry fote，liol cal monde． （Fol．93）Alinthe pafcalt is lin ：w the new hallwed Fyre，and then all othor ruperis fame hallow fyre；fir al limpos and light of $g^{7} \mathrm{ce}$ and gode waln，comyth of encenfe be fette in the prentrocte wrie fignifith，as Bere（gth，the y picions wounds that caine furiscl on hio paus； body．

And，in the curious MIS Account of Paith Expences atwi－y ored，is another entiy，which may promabiy tend to the hlfutration of this Eieguadr paragraph：

Anno 1525．

Pay． 1 to Thomas Vauce waychandelar for making and renewyng of the he ne lyght and for makynz of he Patali wor inde tera－ bur cindell ant of comstil axs．mat wane of the tume pafoill a powni ata halfe qut viju．
A：d here，tie pacutaricy of the fol aning fuec nem in ionkine Losic， when a，pears martistile c ofe of ihas honaid．whit inubtef＇s apniogife for the Gigonow：
 1：cetlyen on the＂Wen；the the iti
 Mas hater；whem $\because$ A．Anyshte gal

 （利＂ apmettas ，t moyt mpt matucur－ tinue the lalfor th thme for ore nuts－

II．E．

|  |  |
| :---: | :---: |
| NTr．UnEa＂， | Ar |
|  | I．cit |
| 1＂－4．0．！！！． | －＂い－－ |
| $\therefore$ | 1．1． 3 |
| バレ，wsth！hat | －\％ |

$\qquad$

 P aper（Irun：…

 wor＇：ut the 3 mon port ：wremes of ser inthes ：badee ．．．．．．ar． crass Reury a reat knife，efeablag the in Mantioucon ，D．part 15．tam LXVt．on whach he remaths that be knows of no fuch rites in the Clitian chorch which required fuch on in－ floment；therefore profumos it in h．irebeen a fuple chofore－arere，and that the prom whom th：taie meanoned was remer move nobluls than a butciner．Eve y fote ad of Nir． P．mufl revet that his sez thondid out－ rull haseakere Now，str，it hap－ pria that the efent：cyt foth hes wa $a$ where Mr．Gretat properly calls the indrument in oastian a falibon．Your ＊I inppotans＂Antiguity extimed．＂ filas crror is copied maptictty hy Mr． J．；and，inde．d，can ot be romalud with－ out feeng the origmal． worthy correfpondient P. Gemfege (ib. p. 6 -7) has not calt fo much lithe on this fabject as mit he have been expedied from his teferches: but. if you look into the croflis engrav A in the "Sepuichral Munuments of Gieat Britain," Pl. 11. 1, 2,4 5, 6, 8 ill. ro, we will find a ficu d on each of the flab., by the fracs on a couks: and, in the hatit of the temarces. wic for ure is moder than thea at afficid: format it does not nec fimatily hallw thatorges on tomb-ftones were away expudise of eccuffufireks being deprifud under them. Indeed, the cons is ratier on cmblem of the Caritian Retizion than of is minifers. Wh: P. meht a to have frited his declaration cwicien:ng. the fe " modifi achinovelegements; whin ate not urfisquant" He bad "feena deceaied fisarer dennted be his Bears. and a tailor by has zoore" The thens, it is itue, occal on a flome in K .f.". in-ARbeld cherch, co. Notinglta? and are fomkedall ciera ch pet in Cuhlampton church, co. Devon, ternhed by John Lane, woo ftapler, of Lewdon. 1526 As iothetailoi's GNOSE, 1 challenge Mr. P. to produce an infiance, as at would be tuen great a curiWhey to withaold frem the anuquartan publick.
M1. P. P. 108 , notices a new particularicy on the hand and feet of $B_{i}$. J'atinuli's figure, with :ep efentat ons of the "Alquata or marks of oar $\mathrm{S}_{\mathrm{i}}$. viour's "rouath." As he tais notheng of the fifth wind un the fide, and the other four met wily covit es, ic is nume probable thu ate the tficsi of tume, or intended to repreferit the jewe' on the ghoves, and thit laftenings of the thots. We have no othct aullom: tor Mr. p's idea.
Nit. Jack fon, who copis 'M: P. fice. ly in has arco ote of hiis ciurchand its monuments, has rut had the gount fenfe to follow them in the accouat of Denn Heyweod's figure; that "he is reprefoniod in his habre, and agein maked. whithe eniaci ted cliangcinh chdeath uctations." Nir. J. piefers the die Widition of every ve:ger in cvery cathedral where foch a figure occurs (and thene ath not many whee it dues not), that his "emacieted thate was occutioned hy his arrogant and vain aterypu to equal the mes.aciato ast of our Saviour's fafturg forty days and

[^36]
forty nights." As to Bidop BEAD

 he appenis to have had no exiftence, bu is confounded with the bead p.cket out of his grave by Afhmole.Now fur another (pecimen of Mr P's gaieté de cceur. "Here arg feverà moniutirais within the walls of a mof, frugal rature, having no appearanc, of thy P it but the head and fect,? Mi. J. thus convers thie fame idea "A A enthnt monument of a recum bet figure, the head and neck o waici tie on a roll of manting in a nibe or cavern* in the wil! ; and abrut fre tect borvontally, in anothe of cring on cuvert in the call, are feen the teet and ancler, with tome fold of earrent, alto ly.ny on a mat ; and though the internediate pate is a fo. lit Atme, yee the imagination fupplie. the diflitery,y, and the whole imag. jerins aro rai bofore our tyes."
M. P. tha angular drawing of : temb. now hit, of "a kotght naked tu his waiff, his less and thi ths armed and at his feet ind head a Rag's horn Lis haic lora and dibevellad, a ficull: in his havids, as if te was readirg, confafion or aEZ of conerition. Acrol his midele, on iifs bafle', is hus coa of arms, whici thew lim to have deel Earl Staniey." Mr. J. fays, "thi fotus. when in fuil, repuefinted; man naked from the wall upward has legs and thighs amed, and at hi head and fee: a thas's horn, this hai hiog and difhevelled, aid a fcroll is his h.nis, with hi 促: l: of arm aciols wis middie or betce." Mr. P arcounts for this faguar reprefenta tion (which, from bis dufcrestion and print, was probably on a brafs plate thou hi Mr. J. pronounces it a fatue) that it was in commutation for fentenct of excummunication p.ffed on him fo defrauaing the prebentlary of Stotfors of his tiltes, and difputing with thi chapter aliout the water through hi lauds. Mr. J. adopts this account but revioully entertains us wihh fom vulgartrudition, that Capt. Stionley wa a Drawcanfir, who challenged any mal to fingle cumbat, not excepting th. king, for which m!o'ence his majef: communded him to be fripped nakee

[^37]
796.] Mr. Pennant's and Mr. Jack fon's Acoounts of Lichfich. 293

om the wera foncuard till SUCH TIME be foould repent of his ralb ibalienge; ut the king at lengit, romatiferating is condition, ortered hem ts ueer bis 'oaths ar ain; yot he rruted, a d inve. nued in tha flate thith deats. One onders a writer of contan ende anding can fubanit to perpeluate luch filty fin y
The figue in an ov al on the mould ig of the Nerth Jow (P. 1c6. J. 38) kneeling before him*; but, accardies to M . P's own p-int, a fizure koes ? ing to a billop habiest in pontiferal is, whe bods in his kit-hand a crolier, and elev tes has right-had to give the benedition.

Mr. $J$. is not happy in his tranflthe of the emeaphs, particul. Hy Bp. Hech-1" Inl'v: Dua, e: ia are -"I ave lered due L, d, n: rjored:" intie do: "Serve h. L. d wih giddnets," a cext uf Pisim c 2.

Let us feend a few moments in exammang this cplaph.

1. The Original Epitaph.

Johanvis 4 acket, Epifc. Si hf. & Conentr. chererthis fictum rimæve ‥t!a, es 'unaria

* $x$ yembiar pertatem.
cclefix An, we we ct filf rthoduce . .1"erturen Itronum,
:onciona'rem tham dalti mum :fiduom, Ifupertitions ab;imice
tam mirn wm lit itum, It pene in car 15 Raverit 1.oy. 1. an ; (K.1. - yen in rita de anc atryate &

Sorum fuaviatic & c. nitore,
Tharitate erg paupetios tximia,
it liberstit tee erga furs infignem :yimos; (Ve bo umr.a)
Jo. Willams, mu:amot

Ita omnia tabula tixe (1anes) in Hacketc exlahe, Idverfue pofitum ci.tera marmor hitet.

Obiit 28 Oat 15-2.
Sub anno ætatis fux 79.
Sifiamus ergo!
Moræ pretum eit fcire,
wis demum Lanithon, clandu hatus?
olus H.cketus terto cignus contub 1 nir;
Zujus pix liher liandere tur
2od Larigthat: ch eeres non frigefome.
edis cathedralis Linhfolldic Inflatiator illic Refaurator hac j. cot.
2. Mr. Jackfon's Tranfanm.

Simat to the ather of Johe tis ket. Pp of Lichatithandionenty.

A paras wa mot clomut fracher, as artol aifis a and reteme: of t! ... itson the Eughta 'harch, om thlu mo atteme of bi dituc: $=$ a whe

 ! satity mav ór ibib 10 karcian quth by on the ra. ... (: Snemar bata ace of an atia, te, hy the metgaty plesionten is and cander of man racled beanisy to tos lowetont, afores $n$, a thatm in-
 i) …" ivit., Ma: atun.
 cula..... :sats/ the was if fonc. : citraill the fir Wher er y. This tably ree rdeth ithofever u-an Hocletet alon-; the "m underact ealabit bicemos.

He ched on the $28: 12$ of Oftomer, rifoo, in tite 79 tia $y=1$ … !ns age.

Let 11. then iofy
The athantage of a foJemp puate is t latu, uno Lath inntlacal the west of Latesm: Hakt $t$ hume is worthy of fo great an hanowe ; to !! ! !ivis ma, ficance we are monted fur that qubilib Larftor's Athes culinot finishi. He:eh sthe reitorsi. there the maonuts, of Liciffeld Cathedral; e-
3. The proper 「rinfition.

Sacted to the a tees of Jonn Hacket,$\mathrm{C}_{\mathrm{j}}$, oflichiti Idan C ventro. A prlate of priateral puty and contumm te digucnct, a fanden themier of the - Mahormind and the athed x or true fint, a difigent pracher even to the latt, an! fo s.uly an enany to he forentiton of ne hurch of $R: 3 .+$, that ha deteasai the Lefuits $\ddagger$ doont in lis craile, and, by a frigul. e"maple, the puet preceried the dvine 8 .

A charrfer entiently diftinguafel for int grtand innatuer ann in of of ne ad c when emant ciancy to the prer. man 1-la a wor, trony of his pira, fom widal, who of Yith-(iak then no mace - T i table: exinibits et alone; the wetl|l te comtane.' the mable brtow.

He died on the 28th of cironer, $16-0$, wh the 79th $y$ yar of his are.

Hivelet wa ans.
It is werh our while to koow who ret? by the file of La menn. Hicket alone was we tioy fuch a place; to wive pous bo:nty is owing that the :ahes of Langlian are not expofed to the col:. Here refts the rebuild r, there the huilder, of Lichfield Cabedral; an illurtious par of Enghth
=26 P'r Pemantis ant Mr. Tack fon's Ricompts of Lichficld. [AF

Eccefin Aingle nx antitipies.

Sive vis lo comr,
Casm antus lte I ni neb lis uecutit?
Shicola ruts Wiomonart. olumbuin,
Cu iteman S. S. Trinitat.
C. hr fociam,

Eeci.Sancti Andre s 'Tobern
3: Cheam in a~̃o Surtin.
fitwhemanm restore:n,
FOPDP. refinntinum,
Edes hace epif: onsle digraffrmun fibi
Pefulcin abregtum dafet.

Sel! hatnte, viatne,
Dus in ter mortme tof ro eかar 1.4.47

Qu, no ha ipitiona eficojoble S. S. 'E: wit . coti.

Et Cantah buric ateca litris chmudา • act cistly grant aith itan'tat Fatbers; atat ha Dacoll ble more ititu to ons hat mo mex wercerfar rew ro her.

 he in'wnads ' $\quad$ rikereader, of a : ary hy this Jumental - Iftcray.if how Fit, -T1 ty oll ratellow, -...the bu'y chmrite, of St. Andrecs iawheme and Cham, in ל九.e.", lament t'e mels of the fou an t chancis bewn ic a thotion cor Ann, atal thas "pifcupal int ale: :

Dat I thene veth ther, O! reder, " 4 with atation ha ns am mist th de. ', wion the anduinsol echards, wonn
 nity culles., erciet by him, when the hirars at Cams. breche gia irl, sugmented bo ti: $\quad$ fio, thll tranfait,

Prelites; and the more

 lulyious from thicir ex́ reimbiance to each othWoutdat thou knose re der, how umarefally mented by all gand nion died? 'the rova! fohool Wiestminfter hameats thel of a fchrlar; Trinity colle Curn'ridge, a fllow; chunches of St . Andre H.shom, and Cheam, si rey, a rectar of frrty ye it , whig ; the church of S'ul a refidentiary; t Tpicopal fue laments a m vorthy pre late.

Eu.t I mock then, read white ! placeanmon? the de t. it: $m=0$ whom the repe of St. Yand and the ruins St. Cival, the eprifopal 10 at Timity colle: e, which romaitt, and the library C.mabrulac, wha in he gre: a:gmented wica berks, of if Mant to the lated pot rity.

ter.y.

I have often thane thes epianth one of the mult ecsom: ficcitacon it gret I refica thet the m nement is rearned form the pece what the b fhen muth afturdi." ritendectoraft, ob the fol.ontorataryontit tusthe to he b. Some .. e of the chine (o. A ...c it " the Sewh cbaral i i *"), under a whe cow, and l cione win:: "al, that ne 1. In if the "very haudi.. c" eume, as Mi. P. c. l!s ", is son is com-ntol, and we h ve maty the pam pethyed u him kamuast.. hew what il once wes.

The fix fodues oneach fide of the choir under the whatows were too much natilated to be loffered to forvive the lafi repar; and no more regard was had to thew "hourifal Gothis niches" than on "the fione fe. e-n of S. Mery's chapel behind the cheres, the ma fickent that can be imagened, f.ver ! rows Gothic niches of m exqurive womkmanth p, and is fto w:in Grt.ro wats over each."

The fidemert of finenlar fcu ture of twa $G$ bete arches; benei one is a lomg fitelo whth one hand a voung frace, on the other a m naton is teared [his right leg on left kneej, entraved by Mi. P. now, if I misake not, lluck in I ". "f. the Siuth wan!ept. Somethi lhe thas is in Pereabonough mind encraved amon_ $C$ a ter's ant rot foul rues; and bitin were rencks of $t$ Wher church, preierved in re-buildi

Nether Mi P. nor Nls. J. ha thou lit it worth while to notice $t$ old G : el of Sr. Chad, which is t thine left worth noticing in the libra

1 han d be forry to be thought! fese $e$ on the young C cerone of Lis field carliedral; but, in this reign lllumindtion and twite, readers a Haveliers rique better fare, a fomethong mose fatisf:clory than co

796.] Rules of the Apothecaries for taning Apprentices, Esic.

ilations from the moft celebrated wriers, whofe errors are implicitly trancribed.
D. H.

Mr. Urban. firilg.

APETITION was lately prefented to parlamens, figned by a numier of perfons calling shemfelves apohecaries, with the felf.ereared title of The Pharmaceutical Socicty;" feting forth the deplorable mode by which the bufnefs of the apotbecary vas carried on throughout the king. lom; that phylicians' prefcriptions vere made up by druggifts, chemifts, ad others, never bred to the profefion, and $\epsilon$ qua! ! y ignorant of pharmacy nd the Materia Medica; that the pubick in general, and the army and nayy n particular, were great fufferers by dulterared medicines, and the bad nanner in which thev were adminifered. This heavy charge called for nimmediate inveltigation of the buliiefs; which produced from the mater nd wardens of the Chartered Suciety of Apoth caries of London the followng abitiaet of their Rules and Orders; which was read in the Houfe, and which plainly proved that their allegaions were ill-founded; and their pefition was difrificd accordingly. The Rulles ar.d Regulatiors rubich bave been, and are, oblerued by the Soctety of Apothecaties of the City of London on the aftr-nticing ant A.l. miffion of Menkievs ixio thear Society.
That every member of the faid susiety fall bring his intended apprenice, withat too menths atter his enertainment, fefore the mather and wardens, on fome court-day, to be examined thuchine in knowledge of he Latin turpue, and of, upon fuch examinarion, he thall be fuund quatiied, but not othernile, to be bound or the re:m of eight vems, upon pain :o forfeit 10 ). for $\mathrm{e} \%+1$ fach offence.

That every perina aplyang to be made fuee ut the iat buciet, enther by'fervitude, or by patimuny, fhal, before his admation, pifo an examaztion befoe the inster and wartere, touching ins kn:wate det drags, ant Kill in con prundme them.

Any perten donnus to be made free of their Society muete prowites a tettmonal of has liavise luen educited an the faidant, and mute $p=1 s$ the du. ve cammation.

The thatier and is ,idem and altinants may enter the flops and wareboules of any freeman of the faid Society to examine their drugs; and, if any decayed or cerrupt drugs or medicines be found, the offender to forfeit sl.; and, if the refufes the faid fearch, to forfeic 201.

The centurs of the Royal College of Phyficians, by an aft of Henry VHI. together with the wardens of the Apothecaties Company, may enter the fhops and warchoutes of every druggift and apothecary, and, if they find any bad or decayed drugs or medicines, may burn them before the door of the offender.

The Socicty of Apothecaries of the City of London have a botanical profeffor to inflocet the apprentices in the fcience of botany; and hkewife have leEtures at their botanic gardens at Chelfea; which garden hath been kept up at a very great expence by the faid Suciety of Apoliscaries for near a cencury, where fome of the fird botanifts in the lingdom have been influcted.

They have likewife erected large la. botatorics at their hail in Blackfiers, for the preparation of chemical and Glencis medicines, which are ihcre made according to the Pharmacopceia of the Royal College of Phyticians; and likewife warehoufes for drugs, from which the royal nary, the naval hofpitals, the India Company, Greonwich holpital, and moit of the holpitals in town and country, and merchants and othe s, are fupplied; which laboratorites and warehnotes are infoueded by the cenfres of the Royal Coleqe of Pheficians, in order to juige whether the drags are grod, and the preparaions fathfuly patpared.

The Honouraible Cummilioners for fick and wainded tumen fend the dif. fenfers of plicir differenc holpitals to be examined by the mafters and wardem of the Soucty of Apcthecarses presus io chatratpomaneat.

A)ril 25.

0NE mane worl, Mr. Uib $\because n$, whith your leave, on the Slakfpeate fonkily, I was perfeéy $/$ div, re (as I have mentioned in my hook) of the proms; and, weretcre, was hoi durpriaed ou find that I hat beenmitraken in the chjestionand it in p. $36+16$ heaun

298 Mcaning of Earmark.-Plafter Imprefion of Dr. Johnfon, [Ap

ous MSS. as a diffyllable. I now recollect that it is fo ufed in MAC. ветн:
" Hear it not, Duncan! for it is a knell
"That fummons thee to heaven, or to hell."
The infipidity, however, of the wa-ter-gruel compolition where this word is found, remains ftill perfect and unrivalled.
P. $\mathrm{s}_{5}$, 1. 8, for Anglise, r. Anglis.
P. 226, 1. 14, dele Henry; for, I find he was chrittened by the names of Henry Frederick.
E. M.

Mr. URBan,

April 26.

IN Mr. Malone's late able vindication of his old friend Shakfpeare, he has made ufe of the word earmark, which is not to be met, with in John. fon's Dictionary, or any other 1 have met with. It is, I underftand, originally a law-term, and figniges that token by which a perfon can identify his property. I cannot call to mind (if there is any) another fingle word equivalent to this. The adoption of it is, therefore, licentia fumpta pudenter. If any of your numerous and acute correfpondents can inform me of the etymology of this expreffion, it will much gratify.
Y: rs &c. ETUMOPBILOS.

Mr. UREAN, Afril21.

1HAVE jult been reading Mr. Zouch's edition, highly enriched, of honct Iface Walton's Lives of Donne, Wutton, Hooker, Herbert, Sanderfon. It was oriyinally a work calculated rolive. The prefent editor has done more; he has prevented it from ever dying while our language exifts; and our religion is as duable as it is true.

In this fingular publicarion, at p. 97, there is as lingular an extimition of Dr. Donne in his throud. The engraving is fine. To fome it may be flocking: I think it not fo, and I have read Young, whofays, that " Becaufe we never think of death, we die."
The views, fir, of that mortality to which all men are liable, never jet, I hope, prevented any good man from exerting his abilitues as ferenuoufly as if he were to exift a thoufand years. The silkworm is my teacher; fpinring, and pinning on, till it is involved in its own rourd wooks. 1 do no: contider D. Donne's as a perjed character; but, when you have m with fuch an one, I hall efteem it charity to mention him, that I m marvel.

All this is but preliminary. I Donne in his hhroud, ut fupra, pl me in mind of being fome time fir at Mr. Coade's, the artificial ftone $m$ ker, near Weftminfter bridge. Ith and there faw an impreffion, in plaft taken from the face of our Dr. Samt Johnfon, when all that man can : was dead. I do wifh that fuch a tra feript from the vifage of fuch a m were multiplied by more editions th you and I thall fee of his works; a I am convinced that it would do more good than to know that I Johnfen lived. I felt no depreff but an animating fenfation at the vie " Is this," faid I, " calculated to g . " me an idea of the man? no; it is "teach man what he muft be befi " he can be happy."

1 once, fir, wrote to Mr. Coade this fubject; and, being in general' fartheft from a fplenetic or a melis cholly being myeilf, I onily hope th. if the feelings 1 have experienced $f$ r. thefe pof-obit exhibitions are fo frt ful as I have found them, others n fee, and go, and feel, for themfelv what man is; and thence infer w man inay become, by thinking on, a improving by, thefe things.

$$
\text { Yours, &c. . B. }{ }^{*} \text {, }
$$

Should I ever print the Woi the Life, or Death, of Johnfon, thould think my publication defeet without the plafter lamp before $m_{1}$ rioned.
"To this complexion we muft come atla

Mr. URban, March 18

 " 1 HE deferving objects," fay: refpectable public print, " whom Mr. Steck's annual donation! 201. was befiowed, pieve, beyond reach of contradistion, that the fit tion of our inferior Clergy requires i provement. The falaries given ion of education and learning, who fill : honourable office of curate, is, in a ny cates, lar below the earnings of ; lowelt mechanick, in any of the lik lucrative employments. Some m fures, feecdy and efteexual, finol moft ceriainly be adopted for their leff; and, when the wareafed price ff every nocullary aucte of confumpt? is comlideted, fuch an augmentatior t falary as will focure to every clergyn
796.] Relief of Curates.-Lichfield Catbedral. - Word Oriol.

pol. a year cannot furely be deemed nreafonable."
I no fooner read the above, Mr. rban, than the many excellent letters, om various refpectable correfponents of yours, on this interefting fub:at lately, occurred to my recoliecon ; and particularly that of A. B. in I. LXV. p. 3 ; who, I hope, as lere is now fome profpect of an aproaching peace, will have the pleaire of feeing the fubjeft taken up in a roper manner by thofe, from whom one any effectual redrefs can be obined. There can be no doubt that te obje Ets, on whom Mr. Stock's chaty, was beffowed, were deferving; idging from thofe of laft year (for I ave feen no particular account this), le misfortune is, that there fhnuld be ay man, of fo truly refpectable and nportant a profefion, confidered in rery point of view, to whom fuch a iffing fum fhould be of confequence. is univerfally admitted, that every lergyman ought to have rool. a year. have never met with a finge excepon, even among the loweft claffes. ow this may be bef procured, I preime not to fay; but, that it may be rocuted, I have the firft authoritt, ie prefent worthy Bifhop of Landaff, or thinking. I would not dep ive ay rich rector or fat pluralift of what eferment he pofiefles; though fome e of opinion, that they have tinjoyed aie fuperaiumdance of the good tings of life long enough; bur, 1 uink it would be right to begin this luch wifhed-for reformation in the butch, by not fuffering any Clergyran in future to be pretented to a leond living whute there is any without oe, or at lealt without the abovemenoned income.
Your infertion of this, Mr. Urban, rould you think proper, in your vaable Repofitory, wraten with the ew of kecping up attention to the bject, and of drawing letters from pler pens upon it, will amply gratify, Yours &c.
Y. Z.

Mr. Urban, Lichfeeld, April 16. YOUR correipondent W. W. (whom I believe to be Viator) as now learned, from my lail letter, lat the money expended on our caIedral was not empioyed folkly for the urpofe he minn:ions, but that great atontion has been paid to the keeping ie " wretchent Jragments," as he is pleared to call them, in their places. 1 hhould not be furprized were he to attack me again in your next Magazine under another fignature.

With refpett to the monuments, a few oniy were removed to a little diftance from their original flation, for which the confent of the relations of the deceafed was obtained, where there was an oporrunity of afking it. The grave-fones were all taken away, but no one complained of it. An exact account has been taken of their fituation, fo that the friends of the deceafed may place a memerial of what kind they pleafe, on the wall, ncar their remains. As to the "ahes of the dead," I believe every church-yard exhibits as many bones, when a new grave is made, as were expofed in confequence of the new pavement, one circumfance only excepted. A fone coffin, containing thofe of one of the dignitaries of the church, who had been buried near soo years, lay fo very fuperficially, that the workmen wers obliged to remore it in order to place it deeper. A pair of half-boots were found in ir, which were depofited in Mr. Green's Mufeum, the foles of wholh enabled te to elucidate a paffage in Shakefpeare ; fee vol. LIX. p. 1201. This circumftance was unavordible. I wifh I had mentioned the following circumfance fooner; but I pledge my felf for the truth of it. The alterations and improvements in our cathedral noet with the unqualified ap= probation of the late Sir Whlliam Chambers, whofe place at the Board of Works is fo deservency filled by Mr. Wyatt. Viator mav, perhaps, declare himeif to be of a dififrent opinion : but, " rhofe who make envy and malice their noutihmenr, dare bite the beft." Shakfpeare.

Rich. Geo. Robinson.

Mr. Urban, March 28.

 THAVE occafionally met with a 1 word, of the precile meaning of which I can obtain no fatisfactory account: thas is an orisl, or (as I think 1 have fomewhere fecn it written) auriol. It may, perhaps, be in the power of fome of your good-narured and ingenious readers to give me, through the channel of your Magazine, that information which I wifh for refpecting it ; namety, the etymology and orthography of the word, as alfo whatparticular particular part of the caftle or abbey was included under this appellation. Yours, &c. E.C.
 Oriolarum, porticns, at ium, Math. Par. A. 1251. Ni/s in refatario wel oriols pranderct. Idem, Vit. Abb. S. Albani. Ut now in in/finar a $Y$ yal feorfor in oriolo monachi infimi carnem corncterent d: ibi. Aljacet nobil:Simum in introitu qued forlicus nel oriolum appellatar. Vacis etymon on agnofo. Du Cange 10 voce-Oill in !rensh: Liceze cle jurne an o wai ent e le mavir anjuat il domeure a prejent \& le manoir que eft audit $1 \mathrm{ad}-$ ficu, qua eft a Ioppofite a'ycillui manor, Charpentier in voc. Edit.

Mr. Urban, Lichfifld, April 25 .

IISHOULD feel myfelf much oblized tiany of your Colefpontents who will inform me, through the channel of yrur uitul mifallany, whether Di. John Porter, the late H:hew proferor at Cambedxe, (who, o Jua Liat, was apionted bimop of Kilala), is the fime Dr. John Porter who was formealy chaplan to archbithop Cornwalls, and was frelened by Mes. Cornwallis, after the archheshops deatir, to the archdenc nry of Landif as an option. It he is the tane gentleman, I would farther beg, leave to enquare, whether he continates to hoid that archicaconvy whth his bihopick, or, if no, the Chinkon, furname, and degree, of hes lucction, ant in what manner he was apporated? By infernog thefe querres in an ealy hiagazine you will much oblige,
Yours, &cc.

> Yours, &c. W. E.

Extrafts from Crenter Letters 10 the Clergy. The, were to be ageine and again read in their Charetss.
From the Aucbu:hot of Cancro:sy, 7an, $5,1796$.
" HROM uguries procieti in cvery putible way, and hoar tha mof foeran and laborfous invehigation of the fithath, thene is tom much reifne to belicve, that the crops of whedt in the tha hat vear hase fallen for that of an $5: c$ chen the medion. N: me.ns inale econ left untricd, no $=$ vetil ... Pa...., to ianike goed the dacic ia y of importatar. Eat the gene: 1 siute of he crape buth on the comonest of Eur $\mathrm{j} \cdot \mathrm{a}$, and in Ameic, makis it : Pa woic in ub tain an cadogis.ate fath: Sach is he reat itare of sioe cate, what it can anfoer no gond parnte to difowe: and the inevitatle whequenct ong be,
if the confumption of wheat goes , at the ufual rate, that the whole fto of the kingdom will be exhaufted lo before the next harveit can be $\xi$ thered in, or be cven ripe for gatherimy

From the Biflop of Rocbefer, Fan. 7

"The proof is too complete tl the produce of the lan harvef, up an average of the whole kingdom, it greatly hort of a medium crop: in much that, at the ufual rate of 1 confumption of the councry, in or nary times, our wholefores of wh muat be entirely eaten up hefore, return of the feafon of the haty Government has not been unattent to the calamity which threatens, rem'fs in its exerrions to procure a medy. The ativity of the mercha has been fimulated by the ofier lasce bounties upon importation. the failure of the crope has been fo neral in America as well as in Eure that thene is tittic b-pe that importat will furnih: furpty any dearea quate to the dubiency. I am forrs inform you bue in luch cales it pernicous fulucy to aticmpt to com or extemate die evil) that the c. mite is nor, as fonse have foppo artificial, ciented by combenations the dealers sin corn and flour."

Sut, quotb Mafier Urban, p. $25^{\circ}$
" l is with much pletfure we notice reduction in the pace of whoat, wh this day (March 31) !:41 $13^{3}$ per quar and from the very lung smportation foregn wheat, as well from the Baltic the Medters wean, as from the Cap Gcod Hope, &er."

And in tact in a formight the ! $p$ has been $24 \cdot 1$ r quaner.

Whll it not, lon vever, be obfer , that infalablay does not attach to e properiens of Lambeth ad of Br . ley tiontes-thogh one $b=$ a $\bar{I}$ Reverend and we other a Rhe Ruvaend perforige? And, quy, the polley of regning them to gi a fanden io a taliexiran: For, do leis, the rapul and unwarrantable vence in the pitice of wheat is owing, in a contiderable degreé, oo thoe circular hertars.
P. P. of Darath, who has a fe and halfa fore ustur, fisters himf, thit the loud mavor will, in a $t \boldsymbol{f}$, lower the price of a quartern loi o C"ghe pence; and his dame trulls, at the fhill aw ata louger be oblige to cut batley breat, which makes er aroat rough, and, to be fure, herefore fuch bread was allotted to lerous hofpitallers, as is plain from the oaves. The monks of St. Andrew's riory in Rochefter ufed to dole out - infirmis fratribus de Sancto Barholomew," "Semper Sancta die xiii panes de ponere panis quadrantis melictas frumenti et radietas ordei" Cuftumale Roffenfe, p. 24.

INDEX INDICATORIUS.

Antiruariolus will be obliged to any of cur correspondents who can inform iim in what book of hera'dry is engraved the brafs monumental plate of Thomas Waterhouse, derk, mifter of Amridge colleze, and rector of Quayrton, who died May 23, 1554. Alfo the effigies of $G$ thert Aguxdomus, Anglice Waterhous, de Kirton, conitate Lincoln, temp. Hen. III. on the back of p. 8. He wihnes alfo to be informed what are the bereditary titles of the emperor of Germatny, as Buiching catls them, without enumerating them; and where nay be found a dedication to him by all his tilles.

The Country Clergiman, p. 60, is requered to fend his addrets, and a particular account of his cafe, in :a letter direcied to A. B. at Mr. Hollis's, Sutton Coldfiehd, Warwickflire.

A Corpfepcindent requefts fome account of Mite or Michat Davies, the author of icon Libellorum, or, a critical Witary of Pamphlets, printed 1715 , 8vo; and afteruards reprinted, under the title of Athenze Britanices, in two or more volumes. Alfo information as to the tranfator or publiher of Pilpay's Fables into Englin.

Our Friend's account and plan of the Roman encampments, &c. hall appear. Civis has been fome time received.

PROCEEDINGS  H. $\begin{gathered}\text { OF } \mathrm{F} \quad \mathrm{O} \text { R D } \mathrm{D} . \\ \text { November } 23 .\end{gathered}$ November 23.

THE Roya: Allent was given by commution to the following hills: The Land and Malt ; an Act so prevent the exportation of foap, candles, and tallow, for a limuted time, and to Dermit the imporration of thofe articles duts-fire: an Act for the continuing an $A^{7}$ of laft feflion, for permitting the importation of organzined thrown filk, &ic.

In the Commons the fame day, feveral petitions wese prefented for and again! the two bilis now pending in Parliament, viz. "fur the betion fecurity of hw Maj-fty's p+ion," and "to prevent fedtious meetins:"

Sir T. Adolvncux here atended, re. quefting the attontance uf the C.m. mons at the palfing of fome hills.

On the retern of the S paker, Mr. Sturt prefented a pernon from the Londion Curnipmoding Socicty, figned by upwands of 10,000 :.tmes; athing thefe, he Cha, ware the namar of many citizens of refoér-thifte. Nir. Sourt introdteed the petit on whth a tipech of confiderdble lergth asd p intiors uith much feveritio a ain the min :ty, he decared the he whe net'te"e thote was a fing ciocendiery of CopentracernHouie. He proiuced a pampllet, which hadi fur its tutle fum-tiong about Tytannicide, with which Cit. 2en Lee, who was aifor faid to be priater to the L.ondon Correlpeating So. cicty, was charged. Citizon Lee, hy his own cunfeltion, was not pilinter to the Lundon Cortefpondine Suciety; nor did he himflif, exclufive of the title, fee any harm in the Pamptlet. Citizen Lee had, as he laid, put this tutle to it, in ordes to induce the common people to buy it: he was a true friend himfelf to a Pailamentry Reform, for he knew we!!, that if thete wat not a reform there would be a revo witon.

1 N P ARLIAMENT.
$\mathrm{H}=$ objected, he faid, to the prfent frferm, in siving, for inftance, 4000 . fierling a year to the Rigit Hon. Gentleman oppulate, when he ofren faw a poer offoer or folder waiking about on wondea le ss, unable to exilt, white, as he had fard lefore, that man who liz. $15:$ Eutope in Amas poffelfed fuch a: incme. The Correfonving Society was charged whia nealorable and foritious paarices, which he was lure a Beith fil: would neror adnit. Hehere teat: 'eatiacts fom Thelwall's feeech at one of thole neverings, recommending peace and $g$ od order: the onl...distmence between the Right H.a. Gondwan (Mr. Mirt) and the Srciest "? , that he himfelf had profonted tru fanc pinaiples before he cave into pece; he had now abzanband taem. the they perfevered; and le : Was confide.i hat in the event they mont fucceul; he would, he faid, read :0 the Howio what was truly a bill of tralun, viz. an exirdet from a pampilita waten by Juftice Reeves, in which te ama, " hat the monarclay of Lingiond was "ike a goodiy tree, of whath the L:- is and Commons were merely branches; that they might be lopped off, and that the Conflitution of England would fill go on without their aill." This, he faid, was a moft infamous libel on the Conflitution of this countig, and every man who did his duty in that Houfe ought to refent fogrofs a violation of the privileges of that Houfe, a d profecute fo daring an ofiender.

$3^{02}$ Parilamentary Procedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6.

A long and defultory debate enfued, in which Mr. Whiturrad, Mr. Lamb. zon, Mr. Siart, Mr. Martin, Mr. Gryy, the Chancellor of the Excbequer, Mr. Fox, Nir. M. Robonjon, Mir. Pareis, Gentrel Tarleton, General M ${ }^{4}$ Leoot, Mr Tekyl, &c. took a part; after whicha mation was made, whether the arder of the day, or the reading in toto of Mr. Receres's pamplalet, fhould rake piace: $t$ the latter of which the Foufe agreed unanimouly, and the clesk proceeded to read it.

Atter the rading of Mr. Recves's pamphlet wa conciuded, it was moved, that it flould be taken into father confideration on Thurfday fe'noight. Agreei io.

A motion was then made to arijourn the farther confideration of the bill till Weinneflay next.

Mr. Fow moveil as an amendinent, that Tuefday fennight, be fubfiruted infleal; and, after reminding the Right Hon. Gentleman of lis iniftake, in feppofing laf Monday that the meeting in Werinurter did not fpe $k$ the feníe of the parimes, the contended, that delav could not be defired for the parpofes of mifreprefentarion, bucaufe miliExprefentation might prevail for 3 moment, but muft be detected his deliay. The more debates were beid, thic greater was the dinke of the bills, though thas Aminitration w.es dhtinguithed for extractinay means of foreading their epinionc. Difculfon, which was the means of crunteraiting mitreprefenation, was all that he defired. When an atempt was made to charse the limited monarchy into an arburary one, he wifhed it dione all at sree, that the defign might be unfierreod, tawer than by leparate mosifures which by making tive poifon more pleafant, rendered the deftrudion more fecure. ite therefore hopen, that if the bills did pais, it would be without alurations, that tiee nature of the Miritite's view migh: not he conceated, but speatio in all thir odrous maked. s.cis.

Never did man wing more fincerel than he for a true declaration of th the people's opinion. The prefent me ment was a crifis in lis public life. the people pieferred flavery and the bills to liiserty and the Conftitution, 1 would continue to love them indee but it was not in the frame of his n : ture to be the fervant of fuch a pect ple; and he trufted, that he could re tire, with fome confolation, to prival life. If otherwife, it would remai one of his duties boldly to tell ther truths. Should the bills pais by th mere influence of the Minifite, cor trary to the great majority of the $\mathrm{n}^{2}$ tion, and he was afked without door what was to be done, he would fa: "This is not a quaftion of moralit or duty, but of prudence. Acquiefi in the litils only as long as you al compelled to do fo. They are bills.! dethrov the Conflitution, and parts , the foftem of an Adminifration aimin at that end." (Hear ! Hear! Hear! Mr. Fox faid, ke knew the miffor firuction to which fuch fentiments wes liatie, and he braved it. No attemf of the Stuarts called more for oppof: tion than the prelent bills; and extra ordinary times called for extraordiuat declarations. He moved, that "tc morrow wetk" he fubfituted in t motion for "Wednefday."
The Cbarcellor of the Ersbegut faid, that Mr. Fox's laft declaratio could ror be maliconftrued, and 1 thanked him for making it, that th public might fee him fetting up hi own judgement aganft that of the ma jority of the Houte, attempting the dit Filution of Suciet, and paf fuading th propie of England to have recourfe t the fword, if they thought ther coul fucceed ly it. Let him not imagint hewever, that Englifmen with war foint th luphort the taws. The Righ Hon. Gurtieman would probaibly fn the law too frang for him; but, if tha hauld not be fo, he hoped that h wiuld find the valour that thould ai the law.

Mr. Fow would not retract a fyllabl of his allerions, which, he faid, th Risht Hon. Gentleman had to muc mitrepelented. He had itated metely that, if bilis to deftroy the Conftitutio were paffed againfthe fenfic of the ma jor'ty of the nat:on, he would give th advice whish he had ment:ontd. H would Atand and 'athice be his words Which he was ble: willing to hav keh down, if required. The words ight be frong, but ftrong meafures llied for ftrong words.

Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795.6.

Mr. Windbamz denied that Mr. Fox's splanation had mended his affertion, hich was fo plain a difcovery of his trentions, that he had not, for fome me, heard any thing with fo much leafurc. People would now fee the ecellity for a vigour fironger than the wws. (Here a cry of, take down his rords!) Mr. Windham explained hat he meant feronger laws than the refent, and that the laws hoould be apported by means not wanting upon ther occafions. (A cry of note the rords!) Mr. Windliam replied, that e would repeat the words if he could, ad concluded by expreffing his hope at the country wou'd not be fo abject ; to fubmit to the Right Hon. Geneman.
Alderman Newnham fated, that the heetings againft the bill were nut all zirly held, and that Mr. Nisinwaring ad not been heard ar Hackney, or imfelf at Guildhall.
Mr. Sheridan thought that the Hon. Hiderman had libelled his brother freeolders, and argued, hat all meetings 1 the metropolis and the atighbourood had been fair, at one of which he Lord Mayor, who had been friendly o the bills, had acknowledged, that the aeaning of his conllituents was exrefficd. Mr. Sheridan offered to fu'). cribe his hand to all the dectarations of Mr. Fux, from whom Mr. Windham bould have known better than to ex. rett a retracion. When plot-forging dinifters medjated attacks upon the Conftitution; when the Secretary at Var hat made London, the leat of the 'arliáment, a gennfon, and talked of a igour more thas the law, be would dvife every man to refint the eftablibh. nent of the fyltem of terror in this ountry. No Briifh Rob-fpierte, he oped, would ever ciomineer over the reople of England; Rubelpierre, who ad harralled the poople of France with his pretended plors, thl he could lot vifit the Mayor of Paris without a uard. Were they not to give this dvice, what c ntemptible wretches vould they be? No othar antwer could ie given to the people. Miniters vould not always feel the fame cou. ege as at prefent fur per'werng in heir plans.
Mr, Wilberforce faid, thar fuch de. larations were iiat!e to very dilforent opinions, and expreffed his difapprobz. tian of them. It was like telling the enemy, that they were ready to take up arms.

Mr. Grey repeated Mr. Fox's words, and faid, that he was ready to fubicribe them, and gave them to the clerk. He confidered the bills as the laft blow aimed at the deftruction of the Cenftitution. Mr. Fox, he contenced, had faid nothing but what was afferted ar the time of the Revolution.

Mr. Fox's amendment was then rejected, and the criginal motion carried without a divifion.

Af haif pait one the Moure adjourned, after a debate of uncommon warmbh, the cries of Hear! Hear! during the laft feechics of Mr. Fox, Mr. Windham, and Mr. Sheridan having been louder from both fides of the Houfe than we rencmber to have ever heard thein before.

H. OF I. ORDS. November $=7$.

The bill to prevent the exportation of talluw and candles, for a tine to be limited, was read a third time and agreed to,

Mr. Wakeman's Divorce Bill was alfo read a third time and agreed to.

In the Commons the fame das. Mr . Sheridan moved, that the names of $\mathrm{Ge}-$ ral M6e Leod, Lord R. Spencer, and Mr. M. Robinfon, be added to the select Committee for inguicing into the author of the pamplifet attributed to Mr. Reeves; and alio that they have leave to fic to-morrow, which was agreed to.

The order of the day being read for the Houte to refolve itfetinto a Committee on the bill againft Seditiots Meetings, &e.

Mr. $P_{0} x$ wihed to know of the Gentlemen on the other nite of the Houfe, whether the; could frm any opinion, luppoling the bill to go through the Commutee to-night, at what tume it Was to be repurted?

The Cbincelor of the Exchequer replied, that, if the bill hoaia pss the Committec this aight, be thould propote that the report be recested immediately, in order that it houn de ny.ated, a d the confederation of the rezort be peffe poncel to Tueifa: nexi.

Mr. Fore faci, that he the a fupposed the readnag may be espeeted rowards the end of the week, zown 2 hurday or fraday aex:

304 Mifcellaneous CorreEtions.-Origin of King's Broad Arrow. [Ap

This fuggeftion appearing to be affented to, Mr. Fox, accompanied by feveral members of the minority, immediately left the Houfe.

The Speaker then left the chair, and, the Houfe refuming the Committee, Mr. Serzeant took the chair.

The Committee then proceeded to confider the different claules and provifions in the bill, in which fome im. material alterations and amendments were made, until the fourh Claufe was come to, when the Committee fixed that, if the meeting remained one hour or the fpot after the proclamation was read, the perfons fo remaining, Exc. would become guilty of felony without benefit of clergy.

It was moved as an amendment to this, that the punifmment be felony with benefit of clergy. The Coinmittee divided at half paft one o'clock on this queftion.

There appeared for having it without benefit of clergy 80, with benefit of clergy 13. Adjourned.
(To be continued.)

Miscellaneous Corrections

Vol. LXVi. p. 5, col. 1, 1. 59. for quills read mill, and for netts r. nete. Cui. 2, b 25, fie flring f. ftrong.
P. $1+\%$ I. 10 from buttom, for Sunford re thit.
P.in8, l. 10, for Renaude r. Renalde.
P. 173, 1. 25, for hirath r. lioath.
l. 33 , for IX r. L.
P. 185, 1. 13 , for Spendherer r. Speldsert. Nur is there any mitiake in $2 T r$. Nuble's account of Charles Dulic of Oriears bemg hed at Groombinize in honourable tefraint by Sir Richard Waller, who rook tim pricer at the battic of Agincourt. Sir Richard's feat, at Groombridge, was rebuile by the duke, who alfo buitt the purch of the church; in the front of which were his fhield of arms to the time of the: fire, which a few years fince burnt down the thurch. Of this porch there is an engraving in Bibl. Topog. Brit. No. VI. Part 1.
P. 192, c. 2, 1. 30 . Mr. Edward Deering, concerning whom Matrona defires fome information, was fullow of Chritits college in Cambridge, the Lady Margaret's preacher in that univerfity, and preaclice in St. Paur's cathedral. He was born in Kent, became B. D in 1568 ; and in 1569 re:zor of Pluckley, in which panth is Surrenden, the family-feat. His writings are fpecified in Tanner Bibl. Br p. 225 ; and he is noticed in Neals Hiftory of the Puritans, vol I. p. 28 in Strype's Life of archbimop Park p. $3^{\text {So }}, 426,428,45^{2}, 469$. and Fuller's Abel Redivivus, p. 341.
P. 207, c. 2, 1. 42, for therefore heretofore.
P. 188, col. 2, 1. 17, for Cumbe land read Weftmorland.

Mr. Urean,
March 10.

INN anfiver to your correfpondes vol. LXV. p. 947, who enquis for the origin, Scc. of the king's bro. arrow, I confefs I am not able to' tisfy him concerning thofe particula The charater which is, and has be for a long feries of sears, made ufe, to particularize the king's property, clearly intended as a reprefentation the head of an arrow or dart; $t$ what analugy there can be between and the name, office, or perfon, the fovereign of this nation, I kn not; but, if there is any juft reafon: the vie of this fingular mark, If be equally obliged with your othera refuendent for an elucidation of for, I acknowledge, I have been fi quently afhamed to mare afe of a cl refer of which I could give no ri forable account; and this moft c tainly is the cafe with thoufands thiskingdom at pefent: though, wh making or cbferving it, I have aliw. fuppofed that what is now called a made to reprefent the head of ala or iruad arrow was originally 1 thirg more than a large Roman $\mathbf{R}$ rox. Whether this letter was e made difierent from what it is now, as to lead to (what I muft think ti am better informed) the prefent c ruption of it, or whether the error arifen from a vicious pronunciation the king's browd $R$, I cannot det mine. Though, if we may fupp the praftice to have obtained folls fince as the Saxon characters were ufe in this nation, the S:xon n , wh is not veiy unhlse the prefent ma, will confiderably Aengthen the c jecture.

As I heve been defcribing whal conceive to be a vegarerror, per t me to mention another which is 1 . tainly fo, i. e. the reprefoning e perfen of AInfes as berted, whict s ob'civable in tome modein, and 1 many antiont, pilluits of the dive

796.] A vulgar Error.-Hiforian of Cumberland vinaitated.

giflator on altars, \&cc. The miftake ppears to have originated in renderg the Hebrew 9 P, karan, keren, rnu, an horn, infte id of $k_{1} r_{i} n$, luce, fhine, as the context evidently rejires (Exod. xxxiv. 29. 35) : and the ulgare encourazes the errar by readg'the palfages, "Ignorabat quot rnuta effet facies tius"-" Qun v.deant faciem Mofs effe cornu'am.' But ¿ Xpúp.xlos $\tau$ צ̃ जfozínz, to which remelius and Junius agree: "ut noraret Mofehe fpl-ndidain the facm.cuem faciei fua."--" $Q$, it $p$ enda fasla effer cutrs faciei Molchis." s does Paulus Fagius: "Mofes nefebat $q$ òd multus efliet plend $r$ gho. e vulû̀s ejus"-"E: videcunt filii rael quod multa effer cla itas gloriza ciei Mofis." And, finaly, oar own anflation: "Mnes wift not thet the n of his fice of ne."-" Ant tise hilden of Ifrael fiw the fice of MI $)$ s, thas the $\mathrm{f} \cdot \mathrm{n}$ of Mufts's 'ace one." But, thou lis the Vigate does eraily itrenzthen the error, it nrobly means rays of light imitaterg $\boldsymbol{r n s}$; as B Mup Parrick iblerves in e paflage, R. So vmun Ja chi calis em borns of magniticence; ad the biop fuppofes that the harr of his inedd as inter'perfed wath light; and that would have been more teafondble is inters had reprefenced him with a ory, inftead of horns, encurcling his ad, as the falut. are paisted in the oman church; which cultom he dees from the hearhens, who thus ieefented their gods; as Lucan obves of the Deasyyia, that fie did ams upon her head. And thus, obably, were the Roman emperors rtrayed when they wete deified; as iny, in his panagurick to Trajan, ughs at the ruduitum Donit int ca6.

Hz. SNEZ.C.

Mr. UREan, $\quad$ Y-m, March 22.

IY retired fituation, in an ou'cure correter of Yurkflice, ducs not ord me an epportunity of fremg ur valuable Mifcellany fo often or regularly as I could wifh. Youi XVth volume I have, however, j:it rufed; and, as I perceive your can. 1 and impatial attention to correondents, I am encouraged to folicit uto admit the following obfervations. Gent. Mag. April, 1796.

For fome ime pretious to the perufat of your volume, I had been tneaged in reading the firf volume of Hutchinfon's ic Hifory of Cumberland," now publithing. To a native of that coun:y fuch a hitorv, voumay readily anclude, would be particulaty in ereffing. I poruled it with much $p$ eafure, though not forblinded with partality as to overlock the little inaccurades and typ eraphical eirors, which wur Reviewel (pp. 50, 51, 52) tox, fev-reiy points out, conidering its many beaulics. Oae of his remorks I cannot but notice, as it is pattoularly unju:

Mir Hurchinfon, defcribing the efGeies of a knight in complete armour, bavs. "the hinds are elevated, and the fwond is ficarbed by the fide, denontig the pe 1 nage died in the time of peace." Here your Reviewer farcaftcilly fre did Mr. F. ever fee a fward $u$ ghenibed be the fise of any monuncusal heure? Ho may, inded, lee fome is the act of unfleathing their fiword; but, in generai, the weapon is in the hatath." Now I appeal, Mr. Urban, to anco of yur A:rquarian or crnical correfpondents, it Mo. H's deforiptoon is not accuratly jult? In order to difcoever whether the perfinage reprefented died in time of peace or war, the firuat on of the fivord tnuft be obfer:ed: if in t me of peace (as in the preient inflarce), the fwora is greathed, and nuult crertainiy be fo expiofled, in difinction from one that died in cime of war, who is generally repretiented as "in the ast of untheathing the fword." H d NT. H. defcribed any figure with bis froord winfosaibed, intiwad of baving in the act of wheathing it, the criticifm wou'd be jutt. In the pretent witance, however, it is erroneous, and will by no means appl..

Having advanced thas far in vindication of a work which has afforded roe plealure, and which (though not faultels) molt neverthelets be acknowledeed to merit the attention of the publek, I cannot conclude without tak n: dome notice of your curreSpondens P. P, who, in vol. LXV. P. 569, affers, that "Linnercoft priory is omuced in the new Hittor, of Cum. berland, thoughail the places in Efkdale ward are tieated at tatce," &c. Is it poflible that P. P. cou.t find (wizhout ain indry) "ali the wacesin 胃作.
dale-ward," and unintemtionally neerlook hannercof, which fatids in frent of the reft? At fuch a grofs violation of the decorum of tiue criticifm, Mi. H. "dots well to be angry;" tor, to fit filen while mistarements are induftioully propagated, would he an infance of criminal nesthence and indifferensesather than of parience and moderation. Bur has character, as an Author and an Antiquarv. is far beyond the reach of illiberal critasifo.

> J. G. Cumbriensis.

On the Prometheus Vinctus of出-chylus.

> (Coninued from p, 190.)

T
 w"eh the atoval of Promedous atd his appeintod turmentors* at the sock, where he was to futier the cruct punifhent afigued him for his benevolence towards men. Vulcan, who was to fupcribiond the execution of the fentence, expiefics much regret at the fovere talk land on him by Juptir, but is conftr ined be his affociates to obey. They bind their v S.m, and leave horst: Vulcan is filene:, He others what xpteinons of thathig in-the 'uftrer, and all fowt that curnpilint, to the ! hous and inerenoc of which it bo inipolible for wode to do jutice:

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { OEOE. } \\
& \text { v. } 86
\end{aligned}
$$

The perforis who are to compuic the Chorus not yet making their appearance, the lationtation of Prometheus is continued; till at length a band of Nereids, who hear his cries, approarin the rock in winged hatte, and addiets fectionate fympahy. Mliry had at nifl been alarned by the nile fot hote implements with which Vuican folten-

* Kgaies i lum. Sterngtb and Powcr perfonified, according to the common urage of Gracian mytisology.
f. The legend of the valture feeding on the liver of Prometheus is entirely umosiced by 活forylus.
$\pm$ rineope refertur ad levem fontom undacum, ventis exagitatarum, qui eti on aliquantulum crifpant maris dotfum quafi amabili quadam jince: ieq. Stanl.
ed the object of Jup er's rave tar mountain, and affervads were $m$ It to prey by his pulting aty expreflion's. gref. He tels them his fad ftor deronftating the mot unfadien fo tionde amidft his forrows. He declar whh elation of toal, that a day conce when his petent ralarmies oh $b$ ve an end, whan Jupater in his tu finill play the fupplant, and the ir natch of theav. n
"Shall come to him for peace, and fue filendthrp," and hatl mect with reciprocal affecti at his hands -

Kai pınótnta
 He explinins fuccingly the revolut in O wpus, during which he had filt d J piter in dethione and ban Saturn; and then everting to theme of his own !refent fufferings, loudly dec'ares, that alt which be undergong or mef freiwhd und gn, is for ise late of the bumen re whole mite whle tandi ion be could fec chattiu ut :haiperst reit concern [1 Fert inf leatmes perents of the an Lugy, cromerning which ve fll the catter (peak more diffulivaly, $n$ be werred to :happot of the raved

What Pomecheus and the Nere are thus dflcoulfing, riney are joined Ocednis; who, urged by the ties confangunty, aud by fentuments p:an, decletes that hat will immedia. aply to Jupher tor the releale of Gultaer Pamerlitus diliuades 1 towe the atiempt, urgine, that, ti detromined porion oh th arrive, overture will ise van ani fuitl Oceanus :neretts Proncthous to ref from all invect ve ond excatmation reprochstunnit Juptet, as anly te ing to exaiperate the de $p$, and if long his befentisent. The Chö, too the formen of Pronetheus, is oceation to leewa.l thote of his brot r At :no: and, while the fulferings of s lad: the depictrd, the poet feemsto h uht, as it werc, all the powers $f$ danguage:

- -ainy imípoxov otíys

 $x \lambda=$ diw

The Chous nexr enquire of Pronetheus what particu'ar b netits were onferred by him on monkind, and what advostages they contequently deived. He climis to himfelt the merit of contronting laredy to their civiligation; declares hat be boueht them rom their fubteraneous retieats to njoy the hight of the fun; that he aught thein the clement: of eramiat, rithmetick, and Riomomy; thit, unler his guidance, they appropriatod o themfelves the fervices of the bate d to interpact the voress of birds, and ven to foretel future events; becane roficients in the at of he daye; kiter he ofe of the moll piecious metals: n fhort, we:e inrroducedt..evers li. acral art, every utetul temence; and hat he himelt, the quitur of to mans deffings, hough now in the uarmuli niferv and worture, is fiapperted and omforted hy the andent he pe of futare gory. The Chonus app v to Jupiter n a faran ot dewut fubm thon. mloring him to dieft thear will an cumormity to his owa; prayane to hat, hat all their words and an my ie accept+bie in his eves; athl assoowledging the we knols and mbesillity of mands when fur in erempe rion wath the Divate Power and Wifdum:

What foriows, thou hh not :atw-ately tending to the at diop,he, and ormine a kiod of rp fiode, is lind-a. and pathetic is the exineme. i, Hill n the form to wh ch the je.lowey of puno had corshenad atr, sharmitw$\boldsymbol{v}$ rds Maunt Comalus. She :hete pehods Poonctorus chained to the ock, pties his misfontue, thoush he knaws net fo much as his perton, and os aftonithed to he. tum u:acr the zame of her tather. A mutual expldation takes place. Ther c momicrate tach other's forrows; and Io, awate hat Prometheus was endued with the gift of prophecy. earnefly tnquires of im when her wanderings fhall end, and when hat is toexpect the welcome beffacioh from her laburs? From this aint he freaks, and traces her furure progreis inco Epyr. This kengrapinical patt of the drama would in itfelf, perhaps, de rather tedious, were it not cmbilifors and enl wered by the happien folection of epithers, and a brief defeription of perfons and blaces, which put it on a level virh the celebrated predigtion of the Theban leer concerning the wanderings of Ulufies* No fooner has Is heard the wris of Prometheus, than her frenzy again feizes her, and foe is driven away by the thanaltuous mpulfe of the faries from the melancholy rock. The Chorus thee occ thion to cticibrate the bleffings Whach attend on marrige between equal: : and ceprefent thole whom Jupiter henous with his preference as exalted to a pie-eminence in mifery abov life tell of their fox.

We come now to the catafrophe of the d:an!, Prometheus, while c : $n$ verfine with the Nertids, obfcusely intimites. that a day miy come, when furne br Id afurper may cilt down Ju. pier lumfelf from the thrame, whence he formativexpelled his father Satarn. Macury is inmedia:ely difpacched from Heven wik an awhortabive nand te t. Prometreus to dotallerary Putioula of $t$ is experted vent to fufince, in pain of thit revefer, fild mave exguifer tomenrs, in cafe or his dhabedicice. The undanced fofferer Puoudia sefufes to comply; lets as nomght the reffimger of Juniter, his petton, and has charditer; enddulers bomalt more willing to unter, of the umbll fevern of prumthen: than wo purchate fieedun by fuah $\mathrm{o}=$ :e and uabeconng fubinifion. Mercu y reNowe his requefi ; he reccives the forWhing degntied :.f:er:

> - prntov 从iva:vz:

To ecree of Jupter is intandy ple in crua.rim; the thunders ret, the lighomags Ahfh, the weapons of divane ndernetw ar hurled agnimf the anferate Prometheus: when, amidf thefe exobibie a;onoes, the Chorus will ars thrake nor abat !an?
"For all the dead athliery of henen."
(To be cosminie:t.)

* It wond be an act of injuitice to our anther were we ro bury in fotence las athmiratura of 1 OMER, ant the feruputars attention with which he bas watiked in :'s fontiteps, as far ac it is pomble to harmomize the rules of epic and dramatic coripo fiteon.

64. The Love of the Erethren proceding from a Perccpition of the Love of Gol; a Sermon, occafionat by the Death of the Rev. Simuel Steme:, D. l). who dcarted this Life Sug. 24, 1795, proacbod in Little WiddPreet, Lincoln's tha Fields. Ey Jofeph Jenkins, D.D. Tugetber with the A.ldeves, at the Internent, ly A braham Booth.

FROM a Jonn, iii. 6, D. Jenkins takes occation to contemplate the love of Chift marifetted in dving for our redemption, and the cifen it thould have on our minds and practice. His chameter of the decaled here given is that of a truly piousand g ood man, deenIv impueffed with thele principie. Dr. Stennet was vounger fon of Dr. Jofieph S. former paftor of the fame church, and of one at Execr, and younger brower of M:. Joleph S.ennet, pattor of the Baptilt church at Coate, in Oxforuhire, who died 1769. Dr. Siennet was born at Exeter, and fludied firt under Mr. Hubbard, formerly an eminent theological rutor and minfler at Sepney, and afterwasts under that celebrated liaguit Dr Join W'iker, then of Mi'e end, afterwards of Homertun. He fucceeded his father in Wild freet in 1758 , and was complimented with the dee re of D D. by the univeifite of Aberdetn, 1763 . and edura:ed feveral pupils in his 0,0 n houfe of wh $m$ one of no little aminence wa Mr. William Clabe, paltot of the Bapt it church in Xuicoin yad, Southwak, and heft of thes at Esecer, where he died a tew daws before the D Ror. We are n.t whimm he marnct; but his ex:o died jun before him, an! lete a í a mad daustater, the former wa ned to the minitit y. Ontia detah-be: Dr St exprefien his perion and aromenant: "What he wh I do now if I liad onk the contasp
 Dr. Pritutry bo nome; who the Feachar earneitl withes may be fuitaty atteaud be th is patige.
65. Agoot Menifur of Jefus Cmiat; a So mont occulfierect bey the Death of the Kev. Samuel stmet, D).7). who thet Aug 2i, I725, in :be 63th Yaar of bis Algc. Ly Danich italor.
A PLAIN fermens difcourfe on 1 Tim. iv. 6: whare cilivered ts not fail.

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { 66. The gracious Murcy of Gol the chief Yoy }
\end{aligned}
$$ by the Douth of the Rew. S.amucl Stemet,

D.D. 刃c. Preach d at Abingdon, Berk Sept. 6, 1795, by Daniel Taylor, M.
A FORCIBLE reprefentation of $t$ confolation of Chrittian faith and hop flom Plalm xui. 11.
67. A Sermon preathed at the Mrecting How in the Old Jeary, June 28, 1795, ut Gecuron of the Death of the Rev. Rog Flexman, D.D. wobo departed this $L$ the 14 th of the Jame Month, in the 88 Lear of bis -Ige; by Abrabam Rer D. D. F.R. S. publifbert at the Requef bis Family.
FROM Hebrews xi. 15, Dr. Re infils on the common topic of the $v$ lue of Chriftianity in fortifying $t$ henman mind acyaint the fear of deat and sives the following particulais $r$ fpecing Dr. Flexman: that he w mon at Great Terrinston, co. Deve Fol. 22, 1707 8, his father being manufaturer there; he was admitt inco the dificnting academy at Tive thn, unver the Rev. John Mor where he fipeot fire gears, and becar alfitiant to his tut.r. He was ordai ed at Modbury 1730, officiated Crcditinn 5, and at Chard 4, year fetiod at Drauford, Wilte, 1739 ; r movesi to Rutherhithe 1747, havi that year married the daughter of M Yethur, ine of Wi, Wiks congregatic who ina abot: ix years ago, and h twosuag!ters; !is fon dild in Ind U1 ..... Hedecline of his congregation a tiv lece th he religned 1783 , and we th) 1:fide in another part of the tow fur rontinued to officiate at the mornị centre, to which he was chofen 173 He wa; tolject, towards the clole iim, on haquent att.cks of a pain! atforder, which: were periluus and haming, a dodermputed a mind n turallv cat'a asd gentle, and ronder bian incapate of public duty. Ft prito.s patificd a more extenfive a: acestraucquaintance with the hifto of Euglana, or a more retentive $m$ mo:v. The mombers of both Hou of Putiament availed themfelves hin's and aferences luggetted by hin lut the only pecunialy adranta "bech he detived from fuch commur c aions was that which arofe from 1 apponament to be one of the comp leis of the Gencral Index to the Jou nais of the Houle of Commons, $\mathbf{v}$ lunes $8,9,17,11$, trom 1660. 1697, bequn 1776, and compler 1780 . i His fentiments concurn very mach with thole of Dr. Samu

Clarke; he did not therefore fall-in vith thofe Sucinian rriaciples whech it late have been warmiy defended; rither did he reject the naturd evience of a life to come, or the notion If a feparate exiftence, as feceral inrenious moderns hav= done." (Brog. Brit. art. Amry) Hewas a ftemuous dvocate for the pre-exiftent diznily f Chritt, and the petfonalite of the Toly Spirit. When a confiderable referment in the church was offered im, he continued to excreife his miiftry among protettant diffenters, net. vithflarding many difficultics and aifouragenents. He lian the degte of D.D. from the untvelity of Aberdeen, 170. His watis are: Three Surnons (one funtrat for Di. Amory) 774. Difunce of the Difienters' Furm f Werinip. Accunt of B.thop Burete's Wini s-, profixed to his Hhloy of his uwh Times, 175\%. Account ff the Life and Wartinst of the Ror. pamuel B our.e, prefix. d to his poltumous Sasit ns, 1755. Aconurt of he Lifcead Whitings of Di. Chander, annexed t, his funeral Sermon by Pr. Anor', 1776. Urtucat and Po itical Mifelian, contaning Remarks

8. A Diaboza aton the two Bills noro dispending in I'chlown welatioc to the Klelts of the Prople. Trurtoribed by Whaw Wilion, Jatper's $D$ wither.
THE two bilis having paffed both Houfes by a great mojas ry, and r-eived the royd ation, it is nenl is ofay $2 n$ thang bune or the didurue han that Mr ' 'act zriw. f gover:mani. or, as they cat! i-, of he minitior, agunt int. weanosell nd Mr. Worhy, whan: allerefinne opprefion.
9. Sermons on Evanodiaal and Prafical Subjeats: by the late reverewi antharn id Samuc Monton bang , D.L. To which are profived licmoins of the Lififof the -liuther.
DR. Savage's intention of giatifying lif friends with fome of his "pulfitompotiti, me," which lie lete unatconplifhed at his death, is nere cantotinoexecution by his relation Mr. J han Soulanin, of Taunton, the only puron who coald be find to read the gort-hand in which ati iit MSS sere pritten. The ecitor mews his canour and fideity in fet.inirg the fen. ments and language, in many plocts obviound diferent from thofe whach he himelf is known to em'race, and the p:eafure he received from compiling tick life of a friend whooe kind se$g$ is and fompathy under fome painfat croumpances encoutded him to perícere in has academical fudi-s. The bingraphical account adds littie nore to that given LXI. 190, than that his paternal grandtather was paitor of a General Baptit church in Gondman's fied, and his maternal gra adtather, Abiaham Toulmin, a medical $m$ in and fchoolmakter. He derived the name of Morton from his fa. thet's moiber. After his grammar-learning was Gnithed, he ipent a year or two with his uncle Toulmin, an eminent apothecaly in Gravel-lane, Wapping; but he preferred the minitetial t) al niher profeifions. Eocuaragef and atiffed by Dr. W.itts, lie entered 01 his academical futues under N"ro F.m.s, who was fucceeded, :i44, by Di. jonsons, who touk him tur his animat. Oa his dea:h the academy uth runovel to Dr. Sava ers houle as H.won, and bee was placed in the di: viaiav chair, alilted by DoEtor, Kppis and Rees. In 1742, he was chofon aftitut $t$. Air. S. Rice afeerwards w patur, a:d, on tis death, 1756. tale perar. whill otaice he held 4= 1ease, and cifyocta Curihmas 1787, and the armeny at afumer

 Er of the Fhurfay latue thate 27ho --67; onc at iti prachers de Nor. C warle fract lernite :761-ロ790; Whent it wis Di. Fomeany's turn to be Eveang ietura at Sathers hall. In ti 32 : mantiat the only da :iter ai iI. Gemen: io shme, thack howter, In Ex:31 m-tquare. who dad ver.?, 1, whan two daza, hers, but living.
 twe wh ficond wile, 1770 , M1: Eimatat Whkin, who turvives hirs. H: matived the degne of B. D. from Har of D). We frum in richall culer. in the lame unvertut, 1767 . "A a poralier las diwarlies wers datoguatid by goor infe, perficuits, prutition, an 1 acciracy. A 1 riovis curgetimal finit, accuding to lis ides ot th: Chritian foneme, difuled itfle throngh them. His delivery, though nus acorned with the oriadments of a fudied fludied eloquence, was waria and encrgetic. But, whle lif eaching wa: lightly and defervedly encerme by fone, it was never chasudeged by tisa applaufe of a crowded oudiory ; and his apparene fuccifs was an in proportion to bis Iearning, alifitee, and pie:y" (p. 16). This mat fuffe as a characer of thefe dicieverfes. What he publifhed in his life-tune mav be feen in oar acc. unt above refecred on, where, Mr. Toulmin obierves, the three firft belong to Mr. Samul sa . vage, diffentirg minifter of Edmonton; and to them are to be added, An inmroiuctory Difcourfe at the Ordination of Mr . Toulmin, 1757. A Dilcourre on the Lord's Supper, 1763. (The Charges at the Ordination of Willomand Rice are here reprinted.) Oration at tile Interment of Dr. Samucl Witon, $17-8$. National Reformation, a Sumon, 1782 . The fermons in this volume are in then: ber XIV. The fuljeens ane, 1 Got's univerfal Governmont, Pialm cin 19. 2. Nature and Variety of Goo's B.nefits, Pfalm cxvi. 12. 3. Wifuem of being religious, Jois xxuii. 2S. 4. On fecret Prayer, Mathew xir. 23. 5 . Cafe of the Leper confidered and applied, Ma hew viii. 2. 6 and 7. Pcace of Carift and the Wrorld compared, John xiv. 27. 8. Effict of Faith in the Golpel, Golatians ti: 2. 9 and 10. Wifiom of numberigg air Days, Pram zc. in. it. On the Lord's Supper, 1 Cor. xi. 2t. 12. Imtation of pious Chiffians, Hebeevs vi. ${ }^{2}$. 13. Chrift glorified in his D iciple: at his firf appeatan:e, 1 Thelf. 1. :0. 24. Duty of howouring the King, I Petet, iiio 17 The clarge before matstioned, and termons 3,11 , 14 , atuprinted; 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, were feiceled by himitclf.
50. A Lefter to a Roman Citholic Clergy-bert Plowden.
PMR. Powden is anxious to chriate the retigious difputes, of no tmall me$\mathrm{m}=\mathrm{nt}$, which be has feen sife of fate years among the Roman Catholics of this kingdom, which, he is periuded, are greatiy owing to waccurace of ex prefion upon the logical fuig_ets. Hic frazes two theological propoficiors, advances by fome of the Roman Callolics: I. "Inafinuch as the oniy tpixitual authority which 1 acknowidelge is that which 1 contiantly netieved to hafo been trat fraited by Jelus Chrift to his chuch, not to regulate by an outward cercion civil and tempora concerns of fubjecss and citizens, bu id dirct fouls by persuasion in th coriseras of everlafing life." On th: the wiffrece, that io dens the exifenc of ail frisitual authority in the churc of Chrift to r gulare, hy any ourwar coerrisa, civit and temporal concert of theng ats and ci izens, according , tise tenor of the afore mentuoned pre polition, is not on $y$ a falle, bur an el ronesus and her tical, propofition, i the ohrious ienfe of the words; th government of the sh rech having a unate aable righe to, inforce the obfer vance of the natmai and revealed lav by the afe of the'e foiritual arm which God hav praced in ther hand This propurfition has been conderna bey all the calhohe riflops, and ti prope fanco ored ther cond mation Ditcening 'olls by pettuation on! :ITr. Plowden hes, is nether a pow t) diffine articles of faith, nor to di crice on mor.is, nor to loole the obl gation of fome diwne prectpts in ce tain cafes, not to bind men to the fu filiting of themr in others, nor to al flave rom fin, nor to jutge and cliaft delimquents, nor to enact laws, nor enjoin obfervances, nor to capacita min'licrs to preach and adminifter t factamenis, nor to inlibit the exetci of prealing and adnimftering; which ponver. were alwass he'd in th chach of tion to lave been impart be for Cuit to has the miniters c.ath. Dutering io perfuation, in t concern ut e euta. Gatuation, is rath a common duty, incombeat on Clirilitians, thai the exclufive rig and power of that chofen race of $m$ to whom our Savi ur laid, "Wha foever ye fall bind on earth thall hound in twaven; and whatfoever fall toofe on carth flad be loc.fed herven." The olicer propofitio whech hates the prpe to be fuprer in fiprituals by divine appuintmen fupreme in difephne by cecieftaftix intuiution, is alfo combated by N Piowen; and he afluwaris, p. $\epsilon$ dec'ares, that the oath late iy fram for Roman Catholiss is ragative, a not affinuative, fimply denying the $e$ iftence ot any power in the pope Rome, or other perfon, to interru the civil and temporal jurifliction the power- with in this realm, by whi evet rule hiofe powers were entablith It is accouding to the animus impont
:/and the intention of the jarar in e obvious meaning of the words, a vorn cautior, and literally nothing fe than that horrid monifer of impeum in imferio, p. 66. Mr. Piowen declares, that the oath of abjuraon relates wholly and friely to the me and circumilances of the pretent roteftant government fulfifting in his ingdom, and to no orter nation, or criod, or inttance. p. 70; ard proounces the inalierambtry of the hurch-lands from thas pe tiffers fince ae Relornaction to be firmicy eftabilin1. He ubjects to the privileces of ie Gallican church: afirm.ng that no ope ever ciepofed hoverciorts till ,hey ere complained of by their poopie. In fact, 1 know no writer who preands to eriorse tite d:pofing diobtion2 oppolition to the krewn will of the eople, tl ..ugh oar anceflors did, not, ke modern reformers, make the sill f the people the fole tule of chufng, religion, true or falfe, Chriftan or sfidel, as they piealc. Betw en thefe wo extremes thate is a modde path. hich men. who presend to fupersundnels of j wigemen in inveltigating rath, and prorouncing upon the apilinns of chuers, ought not to milaike, ia. that the ftrengh of a mation, which neretfarily goes with the majoity, may always be lawfully emp oyd in fuppoitng the rehe ion of Jus Shrift, which alone is karwn to be rue, even by proceedirg to the depoition of that delpotic io:ereign who hall obflinately endeavod to perqert be minds of bis ennocent Juljecte from be projefion of the trutio. On whs rinciple, and on this alone, was brounded the "epofing at Etrme, as the lear and uneq wocal expelion, of 3ellarmine himicle cuiscu" (1.91 22). The Gullicion pr polition atrempred to lifinguifh betwien the ciclefiatical and civil powers, whim, both for the renefit of churth arof flaci, I aimays vith to fee uformunaten is mucla as ooffible" (p. 95\%, "Aerecabl; to the rinciples lata nuwn by Mr. P. Withich are a ip.ricual ann condicenacus obligaion truly fuch, contoratue t.e ule and managument of fown! things w public ar privatelie, is dikroed tinter mmediately from the command of God, or tion the ba sut:s an agreements which nion make with owe an. other ; that Jitruabl ant canfeientoous bbligation, whatever be laid of 1 mporal, falls directly and marediately under the power and controul of the church of (jod, and may be emmunicated by the firitual authority, and enforced by all the fpiritual ways, and coercive means, which Carift has entrutied to his minitiers upon earth to compel Chitlians to do t'eir dury. This principle, I think, will clear up many poin's that are controverted among us" (p. 96). "As pope, the Run an pontiff had no right to fit umpise over thie differences of nations, whatever other theologians mav have advanced. Such powers, therefore, cosid only have been granted to him by the peopls" (p. 99). "The gonds and inmunitics of the church are conteared be the itate, not by the chureh; and, when conat ns are ruly and law$f_{3}$ to wale by the tiare, the right of the pore to compel the donor to abide by his colltias, according to the tenor of natural and divine law, attaches to him in quality of innmedrate via of $J$ fus Chriff, and as being apponned by Chrin to fuperinterd all the firitual concern of the 'ubjects of the church" ( $\mathrm{p}, 103$ ). Mr Piowden cbjects to the tecond Gallican propofition, ferting up general councils above the pope; the acts of the tourth and fifth itfions of the councit of Conflance being denied oy all but the Gallican church, on account of the fchition of ppes themfelves: thrte prelates appearing at once as competiours fur the panai dignity. From thes fecond propotiton the Ga:lic a church claime, by dewetion, rules, cumbus, and infltution, received be the charch of France; to which Mr. Plowden, on the tame sround as betone, object ; though the pope homef appears to have given Wav to them. Yet Nr. Powden, p. 133, confid.r. is as a particular cate not affetiong the tuwh which the church taches on thete articles.

The fourth ariele of the Gallicaa ctwath, which futijocts the pope's decreis to the confent of the church, Mr. Pluwden treats a a paradox; vet on this propotition he remarks, p. 134 , that, whech:r : uth flands on the atfromaive or m: gative fide of the main yustion, no man, either as a Chrifian or a gentleman, can be allowed to uptreid his broiher for :ot thinking on tise intaimblity of the popes as he him'elf aoes. For, whilst the gift of infalibilite, whether refiding in a pope or in the hody of the bithops, is only eatended to chofe things which were primitise'y revealed by Chrift to his apofites, or are elfentially conneeted with the primitive revelations, it is demontrabie that the grace of God, direfing the church or pope to the reveatec truths of eternal life, never can intericre, diectly or indiredty, with any temporal right that man can eniov. Yer, though Mr. Plowden eleat\&y differs $\mathbf{f o m}$ manv of the principies G. the Gahoan charch, we fies no furmal entre auanh faith contamed in thern, which obliges cat whis to reparate frem the abeitos of $: n-m, p_{0}: 136$. From p. 14:-1:0, we learn that there ante certain cathnics afifoled to intodues informations into their publac fervice, bui not for engor to prakde it as to ta $k$ of it. From the whole tenor of this luter we kena that, á St. Paulfad of the Cominian. 1 xi. 18 , fo it may be fat of the R om on C tho'ics. thete are "dicijions ( $\sigma \chi-\sigma$ ucila) atnong you;" or, as the fatse aptale more ftrongly exprefies it in the lame epiftic, i it, cortcitions (epit? ). What pope or what gencaic anci, or what caluiftical argument, heke that et this leter, is to decide, we know nat. The orthodox bih ps having, as well as che pope, confuered the new form of an oath intended fur catholics, publifhed in Woodfall's Regifer, June 26 , 1789, a proteft was entered agan!t this condemnation; Mr. Plowden confiders this proteft as cifolieditare both to the pape and the bimops, who all of them on'y applied t!etr prohbition to the article of religion in the oath, while the protelters have given it a political turn, and on thit fround founded their protef. Their appeal RVr. Plowden treats as unquationably and abfolutely null; and tending wily to keep up a fandalous difenfion between the catholics of this kingdom and their ecricfueftical fuperors, appainted by the pepe to guven the church.
7. An bifioric Defence of Evprimint il ReCaisn; in wobitb the Deizrine of wizune Ine $^{-}$ Has ine is Jufquitad by the chatbonty of Soripture, whit the Exparance of the wijeft amd bef M Lenof aill -jees and Ciountries. In t7:0 KChaver, $12 \%$.
TH!S anom mo work is inforibed o Sir Kichard Hill, Lart. and rol. II. to Dr. William Rogers, profelfor of whetonc and belles kuttres in the new coilcze at Philadelpha, by its author, whole initials, T. W. appear at he end of the preface. "The argume is biftorical; it is contended for as $f a \mathfrak{F}$, that good men, in all ages, in.a countries, and of every denominatio tave felt the exality of viral $g$ dhant have atribued their experience to $t$ ateence of the Holy Spirit, and ha fanctifed their tefierony by ho: liv and tidumphant deathe. Thete exan ples are nos feleeted from prophers, potiles, and divires, onk, but fro ammen the enament chataders in eve wath of pubtic and private life, in ev ri branch of literature and feienc This culletwon receives good men all fées and parties, as weil as of: ares and countries, without refpect any thing but ineir piety. The con piler atuentiy wifnes that he may col duce to the dawn of that golden $\mathrm{a}_{\text {; }}$ among Chifians, when the tollowe of Chrift were diftinguifted only 1 bis name, and in the late extution cill rent denomenathons make a con won caufe of Chatianity ard fore it frimnglicut the wolld; he flatte i.i , ite lame gleam of tuch dawn m. le traced." It is imporible to mal (x:1a.9s from the lifts of wothies, b fiomen with Abcl, and ending wi Lady Huntingdon, whife teftmony confirmed by D. Lettfum. Into $t^{\prime}$ litt are prefid Socrates, Seneca, al other Heathen phlofophers, the Pe Gans, Arabs, Chintie. Hindios, at American Indians; R. Crutenden, ef Sii John Barnard, John Howard, et Jum Thornton, and a firing of iitt givts and boys. Let us lear fome dii, write's conc uding tenaths as u dicrominating as his fe:eéions:
"One Samut B Btler, a celebrated $B_{h}$ from in the abautoned weign of Char 1I. wrote a mock heroic poem call Haditras, in whach he arriertonk to bu lefque the pious puritan. I wifh not detile thefe pirges with profave or filt langurse; fuftice it thencfore to menti to the fe who never read the book, th Buter ridicules all the gracous promif of the Comfoter by coniparing lus divi illuminati-n to an ignis fothas,s, and dal hatem of the tipint."
72. The Wim; a Comdy, in Three AE Ry Lady Wallace. II it's an Aldhefs. the Puibick unon the whitiany and unj. Alpertions of the Licenfor againgl its Por zicul Sontiments. Offorat to be acted J the Bentfit of the $H$ Jiita' and Poor of $t$ Ifle of Thanet, but rifufoll the Koyal L cence.

THERE feems nothing in the print$d$ piece that could be the object of a icenfer's veto. A whimfical noivenan is reprefented changing conditions vith his lervant, whole behaviour nings him to his fenfes, and brings bout an agreable marriage for his langhter. There is not much invenion or humour in the piece, but its notive was laudable.
3. Address and Report on the Enquiry into tbe genteral State of the Psor, inflituted by Order of the laft Epipbany General ©uarter Seffions for the County of Humpihite. Winchefter.
A Cominittee being appointed to nquire into the general flate of the jour were addrefled, by the Rev. Ednund Poulter, on the folly and wickdrefs of roting to deffroy grain; on he feveral claffes of labourers; the economy neceffary in the pefefent fcarity ; on fubfiftence, and its amount, to he fick and healthv; on the meafures of relief; on houfes of induftry; riendly focieties; employment of the zoor under 43 E zabeth; influstion; chools of indutiv; different modes of elief; private charity; poor-rates; arming the poor. Mr. P. recommends o veft i ies to confider the condition of the soor locally, and improve it in the way reft adapted to each place, and not, beore this is done, to make a general :egulation of the wages of tabour; that abourers be boarded or fed by their nafter, who Gould furnifh then with he beft accommodations at pine coft; hat tafk-woik be extended to every soffible cafe, with propottionate pay; that the proper fabfiftence of labourers, with their famili-s, be wicertained, and their incomes rendered adtquate to heir neceflary expenditure, firt by wages, or where, fiom infirmity or number of family, that is impolfible, the difference between their higheft income under the heft employment, and the loweft outgoing under the beft management, fhou!d be male up in relief granted by parith ufficers, or the magiflates; that other parochial charges be ot blended with the poor account; and all unneceflary expencts for enteitamments, and the like, be difallowed; no farming of provifion, employment, or medicines; houfes and fetco!s of indullry, and friendl: focketies, lecommencied. See this more a: large in vol. LXV. po 2017-1019.

Gent. Mag. April, ifgs.
74. A Difletation on the Pus Larbis. By Joieph Townfend, M.A. Kecior of Pewfey, Wilts.
MR. Townfend, of whefe Traveis in Spain we made fuch ample mention, vol. LXil. pp. 245, 345, 442, 539. deferves to be heard on every fubjeen wher the public welfare is concerned; for, it is but t"o true that facis are the foundation of legiflation, and that no man can be a competent judge of the expediency of laws reffeeting the different clatfes of men, who is not intimate'v acquainsed with the biftory of thote claflec. Incumbents and officers of parithes, who are arentive to, and difchar their duty corferentioufly, muft be better qua ified to enact latvs, adapted to thofe claffes, than men who reafon, harangue, and debate, on fuljects, ihe knowledge of which is derived at lecond hand. Mr. Townfend very properiy objeds to the advance of wages as a relief of the poor, and prefers the mode of voluntary donations: "When the poor are obliged to cultivate the Aiendthip of the rith, be rich will never want inclination to relieve the difteffes of the poor." This tract is dated i787, and called a lecond edition.

75. Hints for relieving the Difirefes of the Poor.

THE publicefpirited Dr. Letifom Ateps forward in aid of the fuffering poor, quoting the example of the Quakers, among whole $50,0>0 \mathrm{mem}$ bers not one knows what ioject po. very is; while the national poor-rates amount to $2,300,000$. per annum. Putatoes are recommenced as a fubftitute for bread.
75. An Addrefs to the different Cluffes of Perfons in Great Britam on tbe peecent Scarcity and bigh Price of Pruifions. To wobich is added an L'ppendix, coticimuig the Average Price of ir beat in every year, fom the Year 1595 to 1590 inclufive. By the Ret. Septimus Hodfon, $M E$ Chuplain of the Afy lum for Femele Orphans.
SHEWS, what is pretty gencratly proved to be the cafe, the picient farcity to be not atificial.
77. Thoughts on the moft fafe and effectual Morte frelieving the Poor, during the prea jent Searcizy.
RECOMMENDS a more fparing ute of bradd: $2 s$,
73. Somp Information reftecing the Uje of Indian Corn, collected from the Papers of Mr. Winthorp and Mir. Howard, weth Obfervations, from Mr. Parmentier, on the Ufe of Potatasion Breall; and Mr. Duffie's Dir fiens for the making of Bread in $p^{\prime-}$ wate Fumilucs, DOES a freer cuitivation and ufe of poiatoes, rice, pulfe, and vegctables.
79. One Caufe of the prefent Scarcity of Conn pointed out, and car ne ify recomniended to the firious Confitideration of tbe Pcofle, as being, at the fame 'Time, a conjiant Sowce of Ifict. bainejs to many Indin iduals. By a Pbyficiaz.
POINTS out the deficiency of corn to arife from the reintions of land. loris and ftewards on the tenants, from cultivating their farms in thir own way and in the molt produclive manner, and from the monopoly of tarms.

8o. Scarcity of Brad. Difficultas Annona; or, the Difate evanined, and the Cisr pieo mi/ch. By Job White-bread, Plilop bethus.
CRIES out on the war as the fource of all our wants; ftarviog ourfelives to ftarve the Frencl. It is ealy talking: but we douht whether, whel ave have grven the bleffing of $2: A C E$ to much-injuied France, interetted men will not find it more worth their while to fued the continent than their own countrymen.

Er. A Letter from the Right Hon. Edmund Burke to a Noble Lord.
WITA the fre of youth is the decline of life, this anmated whiter, whofe compofitions will always lee read with pleafure, parrise the wanandfome atteck which has been publicly made upen him by wo noble lods. Allowing different parties to differ abust the mode of defunce, or the procriety of crobing to detpis into the gratits of turner kings to former farourites, the notives of the one, and the ure made of the tavours by the oher, whon is there tian witi not will harmeif the writer of the triofulation with his agerefine, p. 5, 6; the chamater of Lerd North's minitry, r. ${ }^{4} 4$, and of burd Kuppl, p. 70 ; and, abuve al, the eficers of the french remolufion, $p$. $2 c, 21$, js, zad ithe avorance of their pronc ples by Inglifnmen, p. - 36? Were there moughe che in . is letter, the reprefentations of Fiench primif'es alone miond guce it oniserit enconragement in thas coun-war marle on them by the oir, that the word of the lovereign is ic to be taken, let us turn our evesp hifury, in which great men have wass a pleafue in contemplating hercic orinin of their houfe" (p. & Mr. Buike proceeds to examine origin and progrels of the houfe Rufiell; and his advice to the pre reprefentative on the defigns and a of that "meretricious Gallic faE his grace ai laft coquets wih;"a with a beautiful epifurt, does juftic. the merits of his own deceated concluding, "At t!is exgent mont the lors of a finifhed man is notea fupplied."

Mr. Burke's letter has been tian ted into French, with Fdelity and iit, by M. Pelitit.
82. A Letier to Henry Dunemme, Momber for the County of Yugk, on Subject of that very cxtrasrdinaly Pam? lately aldrofed by Mr. Buke to a i's Lord.
WE difcover nothing in this anf to Mir. Burke but unmeaning it lence. The preiminary pages ab his fuppoled atrachment to the cath religion are totally irrelevant. Inde the whole pamphlet is unworthy pen of a gentieman towards a defo old man, even though that man M ? Mr Burfie; fur whom Mr. Mi, if lie be at a! a match, is only for hard and infulting language: whith an epifode to relieve its uniform All that he favs at firlt fetuing about Mr. Burke's reigion is at luteiy falle; for he was bred, and evar cont nued, a Plotefianc.

> 83. A Letter to Mr Niles, orcufionell Ly lute furilous Athach on Mr. Burke.
> RETALIA I ED iu fcurrility.

8+. A Rich'y to the Lettor of Edmund Bun, Eig. to a Noile Lo, I. Dis Gilbert W, fieh, b.al. late Filioso of Jefus Col, Camombe.
W AKEFIELD verfius Burk Nius Lurotin. "Pity the fontows apoor old man" dows not, is fee, ahways hold. Mr. Burke oppofed i TYak field's principles, and the plconles of thofe with whom him? one drew, and his dereliction is lond we reach of forgiverefs. F, this chitdifly paffion, this attecked licacy ebour the duke of Bedford, s "ifpomment at being himelfour toned for his dallisal thowledge f aich he is fo profufe, his reflections the Britim conitiution, which are epardonaisle, let us pais to fome other fyondent to Mr. Burke's Letter.

A Vindication of the Duke of Belford's Attack upon Mr. Barke's lerlion; in Reply to a Litter ficm the Right lomo Iumund Burke to a Nuble Lod.d. By Thomas Geerge $S$ reet.
IF the conciuding quotation from erence applies to Mr. Barke, how uch more titongiy dots it apply to * opponents i "Si pergil quar vull dire, ea que nor volt audett?
i. Tbree Letters to the Right Han. EImund Burke on the Sute of Public Iffriui, , and particular ly the late ratragiones attesiks on bis Yonfish. Iy, an O! I IVig.
SIGNQD R. P. TCli-park. Millthan the relt of the publicatiors; 1 which have for therr onject a dence of the Erench ruvation ; for is opinions and flazergat of which, one, Mr. Burke refierves to he had everlalling remembiance.
7. A I.eaf out of Mr. Burke's B.ak; luing an Fpiftle to the Rigit Ifon, Goutloman, in Repiv to bis leetter to a Nabls Lollon the fubjcar of b's I'enfion. By M. C: Browne. VIRULENT and unfasing in the streme.

Surnor Enfiction on the folitious and infammatoy Letticr of the Right Ilom. Edmined Yurke to a Noble Laid. - flltriflat to the ferious Contiduation of bis Fullou Citizens by Jom I helwaht.
WHAT a conmat I
89. A'warm K ( 1 ly to Mr. Burke"s Letter. THE inchletences of a hot-hain'd nonymous icribbler.
10. Fermanis on Contre fat'ons occafioncti by Mr. Burke's Letter. In a Letter to a Piofefre on tbe Cowinent.
ABSOLU IELY uninte! ligible. t appers clear, from all thete anwers, thit Mi. Burke is not o dalily anfwe!ed as angry and hungry tivbders would infinuate.
11. Refrationsen the Eviainces of Cbriptanity. By E. Cogn.
"The author of the following piges has neither time nor indination for linns ind clab rate difquifion. B t, concludirg the caure of Chatianty to the intimately gonnected with the vir.a 0 and bappinels of natationt, he could net retule to prefont to the publick a few thonglite on the evidences of this religion, which appear, to himfelf at leaft, of fome importance. Occopied by the duies of a laborious employinent *, and devoring his few leifure. moments to purfuits whach tave no immediate connexion with moral fpeculations, and from which lie finds bimelf unable long to abftract has attention, he is aware he may be no means have done juft.ce to the caufe he has indertaken. But fome of the hints now given appeared to him of fufficient confequence to guttify their publicaton, even with the errirs by wheh they may be accompanied. And, if the leait light is there-' by thrown on the evidence of the beft rehigion that ever appeared on earth, his whes will have been abundantly anfwered." r'relace.

A comprehenfive view of the eviderce of Chaltimity, purchalable at anciliy rate, cannot be too much defired in thete davs, when " the love of many waxes codd." Bat Mr. Cogan would have better futfled the daty of at Chifitian miniftes, as weil as of an in-* frufor of louth, had he not matie. thas iitule manual a vehicle tor partocular new-fangled dechines; raftine materialiom on Chatiataty, as if the Curtian dodtrine of the refuredion of the dead cund wexprained no odrer way.
92. The R̂utb's Mentor; by Pricept and Example.
A NELV edition of "Htlps for* mont Memolies;" a wo.k hetter defoned than executal, !ec not to be difcourdged.
93. Letter to Citizn Alquier, me of the Retrefontatives of the Fiench Nation. Fiom Samuel Petrie, F/q.
WITH :he honeft frankuefs of a Briton, Mir. Perie expoles the infilence of the Fiench reprecencatives, and the defedt of that revolutionary government, and revolutionars ambition, which his left to the refentful palions and caprice of fuch refiefentatives the fate of indsviduals in their conquered countiacs as well as in the difterent provinces of France. This letter de-

* Vir. Cugan keeps a bo rding-fcheol at Clebwit, and war, for fome ume, clatical utor in the college at Hackney, to whom he tecommended (LXi, 631.) 11 = in toduction of fiale clafical turors fiom the univerfores, though hamblf etteeracd in cialical icalamg.
ferves to be read by all parties, who certainly have much to learn from it.

94. A ferw Reafons for leaving the national efablifbed Mode of Workip; addrefied principally to thofe who attend at tbe Place caltad S: Giles's Cburch, Readicg.

A CHURCHMAN turning quaker is a greater phænomenon than a quaker turning churchman. The principles of quakerifm are not fuch as would invite any of the prefent gineration, who has not been trained in them, to adopt them; and each fuceeffive annual letter bewails increafing fallings-off. John Spalding's objections are to the fioful fate in which not only the church of England, bue the gofpel of Chrift, reprefents mankind as being in; to the cuftom, or practice, of finging; to bapufin, and the Lord's fupper; and to ordination. We leave honeft John to waik by the light wiblin, "the fovereign good, the only good," which, he affirms, is to be found in man. If this $b=$ not firitual pride, we know not the meaning of the ierm.
95. Religious Execration ; Lent Sermor. By an Ortbodox Butioh Protefant.
IT this felt-ordained preacher, for fuch he gloies in accounting himfelf, underftands what is the meaning of his fermon, it is to us not fo compreherfible as its aim-the fame with that of "The pacific Temper of the Prier. hood," another faft-fermon, revicwed, val. LXV. p.3:9. Variousare the attificts exetted to prevent mankind from inrerfering, both individually and c,lleetively, in the punimment of wick adnefs. Even the fanction of divine authority, which former ages alleged as their warrant on thefe occafions, is endeavoured to be conftrued away, and the Old Teftament hiflory almoft fet afide when it makes againf this innovation. The pefent publication is of this tendency; and an attack is made on Chriftianity itfeif through the fides of eligious eftablimments and liturgies.
96. Mofchi Idyllia tria Grace, Notis, illuftravit, in Ufum fiudiofe $\mathcal{F l}_{\text {Iuchtuits, }}$ E.
Cogan.

WE have already had occafion to notice Mr. Cos;an, and his poricency in clatfical itterature. He has here undertaken to nlluftrate three litile pleces of Greck poetry, which have long had a piace in the firft rudiments of claffical education among us, al were recommended to more matu fcholars 50 years ago by Mr. Hefki of Cirift-church, Oxford, by illuftr tions of a fuperior kind. Criticif is inexhaußible; but fuch difcuffio as that on 1.3, of the fecond poel why fweetnefs, which is a fubject tafte, fhould be applicd to fleep, whin is the object of all the fenfes, by $t$ inability of language to exprefs mal feelings of the mind otherwife than I metaphor, feem foreign to fuch a wo as the prefent. It mull, however, acknowledged that many parallel pis. fages of the anticnt puets are here ac lected; but it is with concern we read t e titor's apology for incorrect printing "Veniara certe fcio nemo mihi den gabir qui inteligerit quantopers negot finn difiractus, it yuam nullis ad b. Audia comroditatilus ab infantia uj fuc-im." To fay the truth it is $n$ ealy to underfand this excufe.
97. Reafons in Favour if the London Doc 98. Eaftward Ho! or Quoz. Letters re tive to the Wet Docks Bill; with an ad sional Letter.
99. Letter to the Lord Mayor, Esc.

THE expediency and necelfity the meafure which is the fubject thefe pamphlets carry conviction every mind, who, like the chancell of the excheque, conneets it with $t$ pleafing profpect of the increafed a incicafing commerce of the metropol Diffurent opinoons have been, and $u$ be, formed, concerning the mode carring this defirable meafure ir execution, where fo manv oppofite i $t: r e f t s$ are to be encountered. Ti the city of London have delayed $t$ adoption of it hy themfelves, cant be denitd: but that therefore th flould impede the good defigns others cannot be allowed. A cot promife between the two propofers the plan can hardly be expected produce much tffett. While the con mittee ahove flairs are inclefatigable inveft giterg the merits of both, fuff it for us Reviewers to obiferve, that have not yet in print the fhadow an argument againtt the orig'nal on for, wit and humour, any mole th hibeliou, hand-hills, in uncial leite fluck up and diftibuted in every ftre are not arguments.

[^38]of the Whig Club. By a Fricbolizer of Hang-Weft, in the Norto Riding of Yorkfhire.
GOOD advice to the people of Engand, confirmed by what pretended pariots have been attempting, but withwat fucceis, in America.
©i. Reffections on UJury, as condu&ed by the Mode of undervalued Annuities; in the Courle of wobich, for the Rencfit of thale wbo are opprefled with them, are rejpectively pointed out, accordino so the defferent Secu. rities, the different Neans of kislif.
THIS thameful and peinicious mode ffury againft which the prefert chan:ellor, then folicitor general, proputed - bill, which unfortunately did nut aafs the houfe; the form in which he offered it calls loudly for redrefs. This writer detects the abufes, and ropoles fome remedies deferving general regard.
102. Ecloga Jacra Alexan!lri Pone, vulgo Melfia dicta, Græce reldita. Aicedit etiam Grece Injcriptio fcpulcbralis ex celeherrima Elegia Thonı Gr.y. Curante Johanne Plumptre, AM. Canonico Vigornienfi, Ef Collcgiz rgalis Cantatradsix clim Socio.
MR. Plumptree finding that the Elegy in a Country Churen-jad had undergone fix tramflations into ciretk, for which it was but ill calculared, contents himfelf with rendeing the epitaph annexed to it into that lanpuage; and, as a farther exercife of his ciatical taler:s, he has done the fame by Mr. Pupz's Mefliah. Whatever mav be the tffect of uranlarion from a dead laneuage ifito a living one, it is not often that the converfe of the propofition fucceeds.
103. The Monafery. A Pcim on the building of a Menafiery in Dortethire, 1795.
THE aim of the author of th.s litele pirce of blank verie, who, we underftand, is Dr. B in rd Hodfon, principal of Heitford college, Oxf rd, is to difcourage indul ectece to the papifts, tull they have renounced the fiprem.cy of the pope. "Protefiont wifent: is feparate themfelves from $u$ " las sie, "upon mere difference of op nion in religion, but the princeples of the other extend to the introduction of a!l nave ry, civit a...1.... ous, to the a val Subverfion of our goverument." And we may add thet, is hatever eaths of allegiance bave beea letely fímed fer Catho'ics alrendy among us, we may duubt their eff Ct on nowly-imnorted religions of that peiluation. The etection of a buiding on the Southen cosaf [at Lulworth, in Dor'et], for monk of the urder of La Trappe, has given bite to the followng lines; fince the writing of which the aurhor has been aliured that a fimilar one for nuns has neen erected in Wi thire. We believe he allures to the ellablifan ment of the Benedictine nuns at A:betfours heute; an.. w" may adid another feet ment of Enplifh nuns from Fand $r$ in He terave hou'e, Sufflk, where the atconh fhom of Comerbory's ationorts has been invoked to pevent their makng couvests in the neighbonrh ood. The piet mates, that haif the people of Luiworth are already turned, and the parif-cic.k among them, by the ipienden and paratet of the ceremoniec, and firusturt, erecicd b. foregnaitit:, Ate ti, Rofelha, and Carlo.

104. Look before you leap: or a fetu Hints to Artifans, Vechanies, Laboure's, Farmer:, and Hiffanilmen, who are definhus of ansig'ating to Amaic ; biing a genume Collocion of Letters fiom Perfo.s aubo emigrated: containing Remarks Notes, and aneidotes, palitical pbilofepbical, brograpbical. and litcrary, of the peefent Stut: timoSpbere. Populution Froppeats, a\%t Altant.ages, of Americt; togitier wuth the $R$ useftion, Succefs, Míde of Life. Opinions, and Situations, of ma's Cbaccters rubs buve enigrated particidarly to the feiderat City of Wafhingtinn; illujirat.ve of the prctaitivg Prafice of inileveng, ani idemonjirative of the Niture, Fiflcts, aul Confaquences, of that public D thition.
AFTER the dielates upon the political and th ougeal tyt:ems of Ametica, of whin hiwe have alreany given $2 n$ account, intle mire than what the ntit expretles temains tobe laid ot the artful mode of nacreafi g ther popu a ion, and depopultaing their rival. Circemfances are relat d with fufficient accurac: to encoura e liehcf of a pratice of cimp. ing ano cufliving thll now untieard of. Chminals or macontent, may me their retreat to the new worle, and plant modern fyfiems of teligion and mordity (we hown ather lay phriopathe, which fupertedes the firfi by letbrig man up atoove his Makior, and, in a "ugte, the latter, by elevating man a muft above himflelf by the intexics. tion ot a rogance); but it is the duy of cibty trae pablut (and pantution
canno:
cannot be better defined) to prevent the unforiunate inncent froin becoming the dupe of artful villainy. Without entering into a farther detail of she arguments of the prefact, or of the letiers witten by puafants whofe eyes have been opened when too late, we itcommend this pamphist to geneat perulal.
zog. Perfan Mifallanies; an Flay to fucilitate ticc Realing of Perfian MSS; with of grazeat St ecimens, pbiluagical Oifervaticns, and Notes critical anil hijforicul. B'y Willian Oufeie; $E / 2$.
THIS collection is atdreffed to the这sriof Moira, on account of hisknowlege of the Eaftern languages, and parincularly of the Prifion. The author very properly hegins to teach the language by asculate copies of the ictters, which he found fo ellential to hi: own proficience in it. Very litric of the momenfe treafures ia the Pufian language has been printed hefore the in. Altution of the Afratic Socicty. He referves the characters ofed by the an. tient Perfĭans for the fubjeed of invefiigation in a future work; and he fpeaks with rapture of the difsoceries made, and to be made, in the ruirs of BdbrIon and Perfepolis, and of a c Hestion of dawings of monumer of of antiguity in India, Peifia, Atabia, and the Lewant, by the chevditer Clergenu de la Barre, which his domethe mit rtunes and the caamities of his $c$ ustry have prevented him from effering to the publick. We know not how to blane Mr. O's partiality in his fuvorne purfuit, though it hould tranfport him to inflitute a compettion between the poets of Perfia and Geecee, iot ex. cepting Homer limetel; thongh he does not go fo far as prefefiior Waf. muth, who fays that, in comparifon whth the fiweerncio and elegance of the Perfian language, the graces of the Gicek poets are gracelcfs.

Mr. O. at filf intended to give only a few engraved fecimens frum original MSS, and to annex explanations of she chief difficulties that might occur to the fudent from the confufion or omition of the diacritical points, and the whmfical combination of charac. tors; but he enlarged his plan by fubjoining to the engraved fpecimens a mone minure ana firs, and by pectixites a tew genetal chervations nin each letter of the alphatet and the diacritical prints. In the estracts foom the Fre-fian writers, his chief objeet has bee to familiarife the learner's eye to th various combinations and contraetion of letters; but, in fo doing, he has bee careful to feiect fuch paliages in gene ral, and particularly from the poets, a will give fome variete to a fubject na turallv barren and unplealant, ferve ? a fpecimen of the Orienral ftsle, and b more eafily retained in the memory tha rules ciclivered in nicer profe. He be fudied originality in his extracts, whic are a!l fiom M!SS in his own poffel fien. If, in fome few inftances, th. trandation has not been literal, the vo satulary at the end will enable th reader to afcertain the true mearing ? the rrigina', and fupply the place of dietionary'; and, by an explanatory ir dex, the reader may decipher any pal cicular figute given in the firft for plates. Un the fubjeet of pronuncia tion he bas generaliy followed the mo approved and correct Englifh wite in the mannce of $\epsilon x$ reffing, by on charader, the founds of Arabic ar Perfian words. He believes it wit be found that the Englifi can beft ex prefs the founds, yet neareft approas in gencral, the Perfian with graphy relocet to conk nants and diphthonge but that the ltal an can beft retain th breat accenc of the Eafern vow founds. - The work opens with gener o fervations. Notwithttanding the it termixture of Arabic with the Perfit languake, on the conqueft of Perfial the Mohammecians, fo few and unnat ral wre the variatons which have a fected either the Perlian leteters or lal guage, for manv cempries, that a pe fekt knowlege of the ciizlogue and ch rader ufed by modern witers wou the found a fufficient qua ification $\mathbf{f}$ thefe who wou'd perufe the antie anl moft admired authers. Mr. ( therefore patfes-by the infcription Perfepolis, the Pehlavi, and langua; of the Zeud, now almof extinct Pelfia, and the characters in the fü, pofed work: of Zurduht or Zeraafte and procceds to the three princip kinds of hatd-witiog at prefent in $\mathbf{u}$ among th Perfians. The Shekeficb, broken character, which feems to a: liwer to our running-hand, and in whi all letters are written, accounts kel and commerce carricd on, is to co fulcd, inaccurate, and uncouth, al rendered more perplexed by the om fion of points, that he recommends : analy fis nd difculion of the chief di ficulties in it, with engraved fpecimens. The Talik is the hand in which are written the works of all their ports and hiforians; and it contains all the beauties of Perfian literature: aviting being ctteemed one of the moit noble and liberal arts. His defign in this effay is to affilt the learnet by a few remarks on the combinations of letters ufed in the Talik hand, and explanations of its moft obvious difficulties and irregularit'es. Accordingly, he begins with fome feparate obfervitions os the letters of the alphober, in the wiual or der, making their principal deviations from the regular Nifkbi hand, and the different combinations and concragions incidental to them. This is the fubjest of Chap. II. Chap. MII. trears of the diacritical points, which are of foch importance, that any onstion or milapplication of them may totally chate the letters, and, of couffe, the words themfelves. Chap.IV. contains mifcellaneous obfervarions, intelfpetfed, as are all the reft, with liftorical, gergraphical, and lteiary, anecdores, and comparifons wi h the clalficks. The extracts in chap V. acconproning engraved fpecimens, are fu many means of bringing us acquanited with the poets and writers trom whofe waks they are taken. The quotations from other writers, profulely fattered thiough this work, relieve the reader, an.t d!verffify, in foine meafure, the barren famenefs of the eriginal fubject."
"Such as it is, 1 prefent this offay in the publick, but too conicious of its manifold defects, and of my own inability, for want of time, to render it more enrre C : let the induigent reater receive it as a work begun wirhout any intention of publication, irreculaly continu $d$ amid the ductes and dillinations of a molitary life, and now abruptly conc'uded on the eve of em. tarkation for an hoRi'e fare. I chur it with the hope alone that it may pr se ufful till foure other peafon thall have improved on my plan, or formed a bet. ter." Thus the modeit ind in entous author concluded his MS at Ce ett-r, March 27, 1797 Siuce lis retarn from the Continent, he misle fore Hterations, and infered a fow o toratios from books printer durigg the vear 179; ; and he finally coned or ar Iondon in Septeralier lath, clarging hamfelf alone with the buthes of tomor.f. bility for all its taulte; and, as he fitil fubmit withut a nlwimu: is the correding lafh of criticifm, nor attempt to throw it from himfelf on others, io h: indulges the h pe of poffelfing, undivided, whareser recompence of approbation the publick mall beftuw on one: who has honefily endeavoured to plata and to infruft." For our parts, who do wot pietend to ani $2 k i 1 /$ in Oriental literature, we can coly commend the author's plan, and the execution of it, fo far as is genuity, application, clafical knowlege, and madery, are concerned; and with he may eljuy lerfure to continue and exterd his refearelies on his fasourire fibject, on which; fo muci paine liave been beliowed by our countrimen, unda the aufpers of Sir Wil. Liam Junes; of whom Mr. O. thus expreties himfelf. p. s84, n. "I have here, for the latt time, quoted the name of him whofe wri:ings induced me to deviate from the beaten fields of claffic l-arning, and to wander among the flusery fields of Afiatic literature; a name already fo celebratod by happier pars than mine, that it is unnec frary to cnumerate, in this place, the various oriemai compofitions, in Latia, Englifh, and Frinch, of the voluminous Jobes; his adrainable trandtrion. froms whe Atahian, Peilian, and Sanfcrit, langu: ges: his learned wrutings as a law. ver; and his elegant productions as a poet. The univerliatity of has genias is acknowleged by many ontemporary wricers; and fo great was his Ruck of acquir-d knowlege, that the name of Sir Willam Jones in fufficient to ex: peis the higheft deerce of inte'lecual excellence that a human being orud atain. His culegium and hos elegy have tate: fallen hom the pen of $\mathrm{Hd}_{\mathrm{d}}{ }^{\mathrm{s}}$ lev heinet, and Maunice the learved author of the Indian Antiguities. But the lercity and fingular buanty of the enitanh witten by a buwher juige ( S : Whliam Dunkin) induce we to pretert it to the reader as the but cuncution of this note:

> "GuLizlmes Jonfs, Lques; Cur fup. in Benze 4 rx judenhus unes; Legum pentus fictu'c interpres'; O nothus benignus, Nallus foren: Virtute, formodine, fusvilate worm, N:mini foturdes Secul eraditil nee primum, Ibat ubi fuluan pion.: corncticere f.is efta ${ }_{7} 7$ Aphl, 774 ."
105. The Gutevile Oto; or, Wentry Vale: Cinforing of origs me.'
tary; Trios, Fables, Reffecions, Ecc. Intended to correat the Fulloment, to improve the Taffe, to plenfe ibc Fonncy and io bicmunife the Ninind.
"THIS litt?e work," we are t.ll, "originated from a diflite of impiefling on the zates's of chituren lome a' ef 1 leffons in the Ecence of lite a. a mansors; an , to vary she plan, the atithor has thought fir $t$, $m$ serfperle a few thort remarks on thofe fardies wikh are hait calculited to enighten, inftruct, or ammie. He is far foons fuppofing that he has exhaufted his fubject, or that he has embraced all the impoitint objects he liad in view: hut, for what he has done, he Haters limmelf he thatl efcape blame, if he is not finud entitled to prafe. He feels that his motives were goord, however deficient the extcu'ion may be; and, if he as fortun te enough to infpire one generous pafion where it was wanting before, to extirpate one falle prejudice where it had been in:lulged, or to increafe the fund of homan happinefs, and of innocent amufement, in the nighteft d gree, he will save the pleafure of reflecting, that his humble labuus thave not been in vain."

We have perufed many of the effacs in this volume with pleafore, particularly the "Adventures of a Family Bible:" that "On Botany" is well imagined; and "The Game of Twenty" has much merit. We felect one "On Independenre," principally becaufs it comes within our limits:
"Endeavour $t$.) fecure a molerate independence, becaufe it is the prefervative and the guardian of virtue. I amfar from recommending folely an attention to the acquirement of property; the independence of principle is of nore vatue; and, if joined $u$ ith a moderate fhere of the former, it will procure generous effeets which the mere potififion of money can never do.
"The man who is actuated iny this principle will nevir. foop to meannefs; he knows his own worth; lie bounds his defires by his allotments; and will netlier bend to the frouard, nor proftitute the digni'y of human nature by tame or bafe comptiances.
"Examine mankind-obferve the immenfer unibers who cringe for that bread their own induftry and economy might oblan for them-i ho eann a precarious Subfiftence, formed by their fuperiors whom they gatt $r$, and farcely envied hy their infertors whom they foolnhly deride if shis contemplation does not affect you-if the mifery of fervility does not ronfe jun to feek refources in yourfelf, I know no ignominy that conld difgrace you-1 know no vice that could fink you luwer in the fcale of human eft,mation.
"It is of !efs confrequence than is gene. rally fuppofed, what quantum nf fortunt our's. Fo make it fuffice is the grand of living; ann', the fratler it is, the $m$. m rit relmge to :h se who ran make it tisfy, heir wants. Noperfon who is loan with dehts, of whofe eatravagance imp bim to excred his income, whatever nor n: 1 property he may have, can he cal in:lependent. He is the flave of his cre torc, the dupe of the detigning; and liberty may poffibly b- at the mercy tho e on whon he looks down with an fected contempt. The virtue of fuch $\pi$ may he undermined hy the dighteft ten tation: and their freedom depends on caprice of others. But they who afpire a vistuous independence of charakter, fui to there circumitances, and adapted toth condition, can never feel the wan of $t$ fiplendor they do not eovet, or be redu to that fuhjection, both of hody and mi which is equally inmical to happinefs : to merit."

The effay "On Health" has ma judicious reflections; but we have ol room for part of them:
"The young, borne on the wings of dent hope, and eager in the purfuit pleafure, often draw fo largely on the fil of health, that they become bankrupts fore they reach the noos: of life, and $t$ entail mifery on a vaft number of days the imprudent expenditire of a few hot But can fuch complain that Nature is kind, when the fault refides in themfely
"Y'e, who now feaft on the blif fruition of health, who are juft enter ; on the exercife of all your faculties, fr and unimpaired, and promife yourfel years of enjoyment, paufe, for a mome hefore you determine on your courfe life, and refiect, that ye may not be ceiven! In every thing avoid excefs; ; let Temperance be your conftant gu View with horror the mad jollity of toxication-appreciate the dignty of mas and never fink to the nature of the be Value healch as the firit good; and ne wantonly forfeit it by the momentary pl . fure; nor think, that, when once loft may he recovered with eafe.
"See that fallow complexion, '" death-like eye, that faultering ftep, in t very opening of manhood. Know, 1: wittohed being vass too eager to enir; and furferted at the feaf which might $h$ fatisfied for years. He rifes from the ta? with regret-he repents of his follyrepentance is vain-he ftill envies tho: he cannor enjoy-and with the nat! lue of hife is mixed the hope and the $t$ : of de'th. His courfe is not naturally r ; but he is fuddenly arr fted in his cart. He lonks forward to the goal he mit have reached-and finks into the arm: Defpair.
"Obferve that cripple, tottering on rutches, with fcarcely a foot he dares to orint on the gromnd. His features are conorted with pain-the gout preys on his bints-the ftone racks his loins. At interrals of eafe he affects jocularity-the next noment lie writhes with agony; yet he was once the pride of feltivity, and the arefident of mirth. 'He lingered long at he wine,' he kept the table in a roar. He , roke a jelt is olien as he emptied a glafs. He toafted his friends till he conld not difinguifh them from his foes. His courtiithon gave him repeated admonitions that t could not bear hiw through, if he did not defift. It $u$ as itrong, but it would not ubmit to be abufed-it would be a fervant, hut not a flave. It argued and warned in tain; and, being now broken by intempeance, reproaches him for his imprudence, ind fhrinks even from fragal enjoynents. He has doomed the remainder of his life to nifery-and, perhaps, left hereditary difbife as the unalienable portion of his softerity."
107. Charge to the Grant fury of the County of Hercford, by the Hon. Sir Nath Grofe, Knt.
THIS printed charge, which, in the peginning, touches lightly on the tubeet of fedition, and concludes with obervations on the king's proclamation againft vice and profanenefs, contains alfo the following, fhewing the evil sonfequences of riors, &zc. on account of the fcarcity of provifions; and which, doubtlefs, drew forth the mark ed approbation of the gentlemen of the Grand Jury :
"Within this definition * are included the acts of thofe who by force feize provifions, which liave been brought, or are in the:r way, to market, from the perfons under whofe care they are. This offence is a very bad one, becaufe it Ieads to a toal difregard of property, and of the law, and to the taking, what is called by fuch fftenders, the law into their own hands. In any well-regulated fate this ought mot to be done. In this country there is not a pretence for reforting to fuch a conduct ; fince, by the laws of the country, recourfe may be had to the courts of juitice, by any one who has a complaint to make, whe ther that complatint be of a public or a private nature.
"But the offence is as impolitic as it is criminal ; as thefe acts of violence tend to raife the price of provifions, by the terror excited in the minds of thofe who would intheraife fupply the marker, hut who, fearing the lofs of ther goods, whithold

[^39]them. Still worfe is the wanton deftructi $n$ of the necelfaries of life; it favours of folly as much as of wickednefs. By both thefe offences the end aimed at is defeated by the means ufed to attain it: the price of the commontity deftroyed is raited to the confumer by the ir creafed fearcity; the laws of propesty, which mould be held facred, are violated; and the public peace is endangered. The offence is capital ; and 1 mention it thus publicly, that the ignorant and deluded may be apprifed of the cxtent of the offince ; and that he who knowingly and obstinately perfifts in the violation of the law $n$ y know, that the conviction of him wall be induhitably followed by puminhment. The offence, conitituted as our laws are, is without excufe; becaufe, by thofe laws, the rich are compelled to relieve the poor. So long as a rich man has a loaf of brcad, the poor man, for his fubfiftence, is entitled to a fhare of it-not by force, but by that peaceable allotmene which the fatutes ma ie for the relief of the poor point ont. Wit out, however, reforting to compulan, we know chat is not in the natare of an Engli:hman to fuffer a fellowmereature to perith for want, whom it is in his power tor relieve. In prowf of tiais affertion, I weed ouly refer to the chatitat!e donations exifting in every county - 1 rignic iny in every town; and I would farther refer to the daily ittenthon whel has inele, and athl is, eral to this fubject by the legillature, and $g$ nerous individuals, ${ }^{\cdots}$ are ftraining every nerve to rem $\therefore \therefore$, or leffen, as far as may be, the difcomforts of the existing farcity."

108. Songs, है'c. in the Smugglers, a mafrical Dramz, in two Als.

IT is nut our ufual praftice to notice thefe occalional productions of gem nius; but, on the prefent occafion, we do it with pleafure. The fungs before us are the compulition of a cultivated mind; and the drama in which they are intruduced demonftrates that Mr. Birch has the capability of fucceeding if he would attempt the higher depart ment of the Comic Scene.

Two of the fongs thall here be co. pied; the one, a lover to his mifirefs; the other, defcriptive of a beggar-girl:
"Haft thon forgot the oak that throws
Its rev'rend arms acrofs the tide, Which o'er the root in filence flows, Fion noon's bruad beam its courfe to My Stella there was us'd to ftray, [hide?

When ro cbtrufive foot was nigh, At peep of dawo, or fetting day,

Io fore are the oft-repeated figh. Tiere firit I mark'd the damakk rofe, Duthitug deepiser glowing cheek,

There

There would the beav'nly eye difclofe More than the falt'ring tongue could fpeak;
Till Love had taught her timid heart, No more is feetings to deny,
Then te.r for tear would duly itart, And figh re-echo back to figh."
"In tatter'd weed, from town to town, Is haplefs Primrufe doom'd to ftray, Compell'd, a wretched wand'rer known, To feek a home from from day to day: Barefoot as the fitolls forlorn, O'er the flint or pointed thorn; Silent muft her forrow be, Her madrigal-Sweer charity !
At ev'ning will the village hind In rapture liften to her fong, And buy her toys, in hope to find

What future juys to him belong. Barefoot as the ftrolls foilorn, &c."
109. Pifturefoue and architeffural Vieque, for Cottage, Farm-boufes, and Country Villas, engraved and defigned by C. Middleton, Achitect.
THE three firft plates contain deAgns in the cottage fyyle, illufthated with plans, elevations, and fections; and afford ufetul hints to fuch as may wifh to erect a convenient lodge at the entrance of a park; or, at a fmall diftance from their manfion, may chufe the dairy, bath, ftables, &e. to alfume the characterific form of a cottage. some of the defigns are upon a more extenfive fcale, and are intended as a banqueting-place for large parties who occafionally inect on rural amufements. The next fix plates are occupied with plans, fections, &c. of farm-houfes, together with a perfpective view of a sarm-yard. The tenth plate contains tho defigns of thatched buildings, on - fale to accompany the general gradiation to be obferved in country -houfec. The ten following plates contain various defigns of villas, on different fcales. The twenty-firft, and laft, plate gives a defign and plan for an orangery, or funmer houfe, fludr, &:c.

All thefe detigns are mirutely defcribed with their menturation, ufes, &. Their decorations and fnifhings are alfo fo clearly expreffed, and the rerms made ufe of fo deftitute of technical jargon, that it will be in the power of any gentleman to convey to his workmen a very competent idea of what he may wifh to have erected; and he may ealily form a plan to fuit his own talle and purpofe, wihout the dietatuial encumbrance of a furvevor. We do not lifitati to proncunce that fuch as may have occation to bit finall country-houfes, vicarages, fat. houles, &c. or even decorative 1 coftly villas, will, in this work, $n t$ with much improved and ulcful a . tance.

Foreign Literary intelligent Geneva. Nouvelles Obfervations les Abeilles. Eic Nerw Obfervat on Rees, addrofled to C. Bonnet, F Huber. 1792.
THE author of thefe obfervat: las been blind from his infancy, the appear to deferve the greateff $\mathbf{c}$ fitence. Having a paffionate fond for natural hifiory, he has been :y alfited by a fervant, F. Burnen man of fimilar talte, confiderable niws, and great induftry, and havg the adrantage of excellent eves: 1 we mult refer to the work itfelf fo n account of the precautions they to to alcertain the faCts advanced, the genuity with which their experim s were consrived and conducted, and pelfererance with which they reped them, though fiequently hazardous well as nice, to a void the poffibilit if deception. The foll wing are amg the priacipal f:Ets recorded, and I of them may be turmed new:
" 1 . The queen of the hive, or mc" bee, is fecundifieal by the drone in the dinary way; but high on the wing: ot whithin the hive. 2. When the heat onie day induces the drones to iffue from le hive, the queen goes after them, an h about half an hour returas fecundit, and bringing away with her a portic of the fexual parts of the drone, that colt butted to her fecundation. 3. After or retarn to the hive, the queen difeng is herielf from the nate parts by the hel if her hind paws, and begins to lay in a 18 nix and forry hours commonly, unlef starded by the cold. 4. If the queeme fecundifed within the firft fifteenar twenty days of der life, fhe firft lays ${ }^{3}$ of working beer, and then of drones: t, if the fecundation be delayed till $\boldsymbol{f}$ is two and twenty days old, her eggs II produce only drones. 5. For the firft ven months the eggs laid are thof of working bees, thofe of the drones com 4 ter. 6. A queen can lay three thor id eggs in the fpace of two muntlis, wh is at the rate of fifty a day. 7 . The $q$ in requires no new fecundation; fhe lay: r two years, and all her eggs are frual, 8. The queen herfelf choofes the is fuitable to the different eggs the depo ; for the lays three forts; thofe of quis, the cells of which are pyramidal, and 3 -
ed on the combs in the manner of ftalactes; thofe of working beec; and thote $f$ drones. It is not true, therefore, as as heen fuppofed, that the working bees tke upon them the taik of difributing te eggs into their refpective cells: and. when they find any in cells not fuited to hem, they choofe to eat them rather than emove them. 9. A queen bee, that, aving fecundified too lote, lays only drone ggs, depofits them indifcriminately in all orts of cells: in this cafe, the working ees leave them there; and, initend of illing, in Auguft and September, the rones produced from them, they preferve hem during the whole winter. 10. When he bees of a hive lofe their queen, and lave eggs of working bees only, the enarge feveral of the cells containing thefe sgs, and give the larve that iffue from hem, nourifhment in more abmanace, and of a different quality from that which bey beftow on the reft. This difference of nourithment develops in thefe wo:king bees organs adapted to fecundation, and, when they change to flies, they become jueens. (This fact was obferved hy Schiach in 1771.) 11 . Sonetimes working rees, not defigned for queens, but the cells If which happen to be near rojal cells, recome fruitfol, from being fortunate e lough to get fome fragments of the pecuiar food beitowed with profufion on the oyal harva: : thefe fruitful wotking bees, nowever, lay unly drone eggs. 12. The iupernumerary queens are not killed by the working bees, but the firft queen proAnced declares war on the reft, and kills hofe that are ftill in the larva or chryfalis Atate. If more than one be changed into Alies, they engage in fing'e combat; the Arongelt pierces her enemy with her fting, and reigns without a rival. 13. If a Arange queen prefent berfelf at the enprance of a hive, the working bees on guard fop her, furround her, and prevent lier entrance, but do not kill her: fhe dies, however, for want of food; or ftifled, las' it were, for want of air. 14. If this tranger arrive four and twenty hours after the hive have loft its queen, to forget whom that time is required, fhe is welcomed, and adopted to govern the cnmmonwealth. ${ }^{15}$. When the bive is deprived of its queen the working bees do not kill the drones. 16. The larve of working bees fpin themfelves entre webs: thofe of the queens form insomplete ones, they being open at the lower end; and it is at this aperture that the firt-born queen pierces the reft with locr iting. 17. If an eges be depofited in a cell two fomall for the fly that is to proceed from it, the l!y will be fmaler than thote of its latecies; but, if the cell be too large, it will have tely the ordinaty dimenfions, is. The firf fwarm that iffues from a hive is alo ways led by the old queen; the others have at their head young queens, produced from eggs which the queen-mother took care to liy before quiting the hive. 19. The fiwam is induced to iffue by the asitation the queen experiences, and this agitation is occafioned by the ill treatment the receives from the working bees that gurd the royal cells. A queen, as foon as fhe is boin, repairs to thefe cells, to kill the larvæ or fles they contain; the working bees oppofe ber; the ag'tates herfelf, and communicates this agitation to a part of the bees. Thele. bees ruh to the mouth of the hive, and depart with her. As foon as this fwarm is departed with its queen, the gurds fet , at Lherty another queen, till now detained a pufoner in her cell, and keep her, with equal cars, fiom the reft of the royal cells. This new queen raifes a trefh levy, and departs with a new fwarm. Tlie fame procedure is repeated in the hive, thee, four, or even five, times, in the ipring; ased this occafions the departure of the fwarms. The hive being fufficiently weakened, no guard is kept over the remaining queens; they ilfue from their cells, and figts, till only one remains to rule the fociery. 20. In favourabie wear ther, one hive will emit four fwarms in erghteen days. 21 . The imprifoned queens have a kind of fong, the modulations of which vary. Their captivity fontianes fometimes ten days, during which the jailors feed them with honey, putting is withm reach of their probofcides, for the emition of which a fmall hole is left in the duor of each prifion. 22. The temperature of the hive in fpring is from $27^{\circ}$ to $29^{\circ}$ [from $84^{\circ}$ to $88^{\circ}$ of Fabrenhet, ahout]; when it exreeds this, the liees are thrown iuto commotion, and iffue from the inve, in which the heat fornetimes rifes to $32^{\circ}$ [about $\left.94^{\circ}\right]$. (During the great heat of July 1793, I obferved .1 part of the bees of my glazed hive affemble in the evening on the outfide of its itand, and they did not enter the hive till aiter funfot. 23. Bees are not torpid during the winter; for, when the themometer in the open air is feveral degrees beiow the freezing point, it will be at $24^{\circ}$ or $25^{\circ}$ [about $\left.80^{\circ}\right]$ in a well-ftocked hive. At fuch a time thee bees crowd together, and fir themlelves, to preferve theeir heat. They have need of fond, therefore, in the? winter. 24. The deprivng a queen of one of her antenne makes no alteration in hor manners ; but, if buth be cut off, fhe f.uls int:) a fort of madnets, wandering here and there, mad doming herfelf againt. any thang that is in het way. Two queens depraved of their antenne will not fight. This antenne appear to be the organs of Learing, and perhaps alfo of inell!"

HORACH

HORACE, BOOK I. ODE XI. IMITATED. To a Lady fudying Aftrology.

SEEK not, Leuconoë, anxioufly to find What time the Gods, unerring, have defign'd [lore
To clofe thy life; nor hope from myftic To know what mortals never can explore; 'Thy lot below 'tis better to endure (Whate'er it be) with patience, and fecure If Heav'n propitious to thy pray'r fhal! give More circling year in happinefs to live, Or dooms the prefent winter for thy laft, Which tears old Ocean with its ruffian blatt. Be wife: thy hopes to life's fhort fpan confine, [wine;
And cheer the tranfient hour with rofy E'en while we fpeak Time fpeeds his airy way-day.
Then grafp the pleafures he prefents to-Clerticus.
HORACE, BOOK I. ODE 34, IMITATED.

LATE I the pow'r of God defy'd; For human learning, and its pride, Taught my vain heart to foar; Trembling I quit the impious track, With deep humility turn back, And tempt his rage no more. Lol through the fies his path he took, With thonder all the concave fhonk, W hite gleamy lightnings low'r ! Earth faw his fov'relgn amm difplay'd, Hell fhuder'd in her inmoit fhale, And Ocean ownd his pow'r!
See his mild government on earth Extends its patronage to worth,

Brings honour to the duft ; Bids the low bind to counts afpire, Lifts the mean beggar from the mire, For all his ways are juft !

Clericus.
TWO SONNETS, ON A KISS, BY THE LATE MR. SIKG, JUN. OF CANTERBCKY. 1.
$\mathrm{O}^{5}$ EFSFRING of Love, firit horn, whom young Defire,
Iuvited of ten hy a wanton fmile,
Suatches infumcd, and tienoles all the while,
[fire,
Trembling uithawe, with paffion all on Fio commen Mufe thy praifes will require.

What hifs from coral lips to hear the fpoil!
The hees in fring with lefs delightful toil Suck op'ning blomons cre thar fweets expire.
While on the vermil altar thon art lying,
Like fome fair ofl'ring fpriukled o'er with dew,
A midft the fire of pure affection dying, Thee oft the votaries of Love renew ;

Rekindle oft the holy flame with fighing, And fwear by thee therr mutual pafien true.
II.

CWEET pledge of Love, and early frt of Joy !
[healin
The wounded breaft with balmy neet
The fecret mind by gentle touch reve: ing,
Sweet unembitter'd by the wayward Boy His hourly fport, his never-tiring toy,

Cemented fouls with mutual rapture fe: ing,
Soft fommoner of ev'ry tender feeling ${ }_{1}$ Though fenfual, pure, and rich withe alloy!
[playir
Such is thy pow'r, as when, her ikill d
Or to begule difquietude of heart,
Through mazy notes with fairy finger ftra ing,
[fta
Some virgin makes the wakefnl iv This to 'he ftrings tise foft alarm conve ing, Fills with harmonious tremor ev'ry part.

ODE TO A TEMPERATE MORNINC I JANUAKY.
BY DR. PERFECT.
H AIL, nald ey'd Moris! for thou foft and fair
As breaks upon the bofom of the day, When the blue vilet bares
Her bofom to the bretze.
Come! and the light-wing'd Spring if drop a fimile,
Sweer Premoture, nurs'd on old Wint Shall lift her blue foft eye, And wanton in thy beam.

Lamp of the wintry world, thou Heav lit Sun!
Ch , hafte and woo the young reluct And bid her humid hip Drop with the ripen'd balm.
Come, chafte-ty'd God! while yet ice-ting clouds
Around thy throne in wintry glory ride, The virgin loves thy fight
Whale yet ins blaze is dumm'd.
For fonn, when glowing with the ard fires
Of atrong-foul'd paffion, lo, the che Shrinks from the folar noon, Gathers the fweets and flies!
Propitious Morn! my melancholy Mufe.
Drops her cold tear upon the bloom : eirth;
Fetiecting man, like thee, May totter to his tomb.
Yet, e'en when Summer's fiufhing chi was full,
I've feen the pale rofe wither on the the, And fhrink, like injur'd worth, From fullen fornful pride.

TO DELIA IN SICKNESS.

 BY THE SAME.DOES, Cheerfulnefs, thy rofe its charms difplay in Delia's chieek, and mantle in the ray.
If Health propitious-Cherub-blooming Fair, ure as the hreezes of Elyfian air !
then halcyon peace my genial hours confefs, ind all's content, and joy, and happinefs. But when to ficknefs bows the lovely kiaid, ter rofes wither and her lilies fade;
ervades my theme, alas! eachanxious care, Ind ev'ry moment finks me in defpair.
is when the rofy Spring, whofe genial pow'r [Pow'r, iwells in the hud, and hloffoms in the To ev'ry eye expands her lovely mien, Jiffufing tranfport through each charming fcene, [plain, Chill'd by the Northern blaft, the quits the And all is winter, clouds, and gloon', again.

CASIMIR, EPICRAM XIV.
Drawu me, we will run after thee. CANT. i.4. $T$ HROUGH dreary wilds, a tracklefs maze, Abrent from thee I roam;
How can 1 beat thefe long delays I
Jefus, my S vinur, come.
Mary, thrice bappy, round thy feet
Twifts ber difhevell'd hair;
Bound to thy hove a captive fweet ${ }_{2}$ A captive thou to her.
May 1, like her, thy captive be,
From love I'll ne'er be free;
Dear Saviour, come, dwell here with me, Or draw me up to thee *! U.U.

> On feeing the Koyal Inf ant afleep.

HEA. V'N blefs thee, precious Babe! and on thee fhow'r
Its choice ft gifts. Be all thy days ferene As now thire infant dreams! May ev'ry howr [fcene,
Pafs calmly on through life'sall-ch quer'd
That, while the diadem thy brow forrounds,
While pomp and pageantry aronnd thee wait,
[times wounds
Thou ne'er mayft feel the thom thar oftThe bofom deck'd with fplendid robes of fate!

* Ergotrahas vel me, Sponfe, vel ipfe name.

Casim.
The fame epigrammatic curn is ufed by Herbert,

O flew thy felf to me,
Ot take me upto thee.
And frequently by Watts, in more varied and elcgant language,

* Lord, I wonld tempt thy chariot down, Or leap to thee on lugh.

LyRyPbems.

And, if the Fates decree that thou fhat hold
The regal fceptre on Britannia's throne, With great Eliza's be thy fame enroll'd,

Thy name, like hers, on Glory's records Shewn!
Als, greater ftill in virtues may'fl thou thine,
Brilliant as Charlotte, or as Caroline *!

> Juba.
C.le on the Wreck of the outzoard-bound WentIndia Fleet on the Coafi of Portland.
Sunt lacrsme icrum, & menten mortalia tangunt.

WHAT forms, from yonder fatal coalt,
Q fore my fludd'ring fancy pafs'd !
See Hope beneath the billows lof?, While Fate comes riding on the blaft I
Ye Winds, that rend the troubled $\mathrm{fk} y$, And thou, O wild rebellious Flood, Say, was no Fiend of Darknefs nigh, Infuriate with the thrit of biood,
When, with more rage than fabled lore E'er pour'd on Pity's lift'ming ear, Youtoft upon th' inhuman more
The caufe of many a tender tear?
But thon, wild Tide, and death-wing'e Storm,
I blame not you! For, on the fand
Hell's agents ftood, in human form, And, mocking, ftretch'd th' infulting hand.
When ftruggling on the pebbly fhore
They grafp'd the fand's uncertain bec',
Ye watch'd tull life's laft pulfe was o'er,
Then itoop'd to rob thi unhappy dead!
I fee, I fee thy fickly form,
Elizat $\dagger$, fenfetefs on the flore!
Wake, wake to weep, fweet Maidl the ftorm
Is paft-hut Henry is no more!
Oh! had he pers'd th' embatted plain, Itluftrions, in the arms of rame;
Glory had moun'd her hero dan, And pious Mem'ry grav'd his name !
Yet, though along the dreadful coaft, Brave Youth! thy limbs unhuried lie, The thought of thee thall ne'er be loft, Till Honour, Fame, and Pity, die.
Bar'd to the face of Heav'n, thy breaft Is beat by many a darhing wave;
Yet calm thy gentle foul fhall reft In the fweet numbers of the grave!
And when, by this remember'd fhore, I hy country's veffels plow the deep, The timud'ring canon's grateful war Mayrach thee in the quint fle $p$. * The late queen.

+ Alludug to the laty who, though very ill, and in b-d, was miraculouny thrown, by the nution of the vefiel, through a poit hole, and caft on fhore alive, while lier hufband perthed.

The Sea-nymphtoo, from coral cave, S'all oft retire to mourn thee here; And, as the fims the dreary wave, Dimple the tide with nany a tear.
But diftant he the cannon's found, And dry'd the Naiad's fabled tears; For harps celeitial waible round, And Mercy from yon cloud appears! N. Bule.

SROLOGUE TOTHE WAY TO GET MARRIED.
WRITTEN BY W. T.FITZGERALD, ESQ.

THE ftage fhould be to life a duithful slafs,
Reflecting modes and manners as they pars;
If thefe extravagant appear to your,
Blame not the drama-the reflecton's true.
Our Auther makes of virine no parade,
And only ridicules the vuc of trade;
Expofes folly in its native tint,
And leaves mankind to profit by the hint.
The modern Buck, how diff'rent from the Bean,
In bagg aud ruffles, fixty years ago!
The city coxcomb then was feldom feen,
Confin'd to Bunhill-row or Bethuall-green;
Weft of Cheapfide you then could fcatcely meet
The gay Lothario-of Threadneedle-flieet!
His fully rare y met the public eye,
Or, like a fhadow, pafsed unherded by;
Tradeiman and rake were then remov'd as far
As gay St. James's is from Temple-bar.
Bur now the cit muft breathe a parer air,
The Change he rifits-itres in Bedfordfqua e:
Infuresa deet- hen Brotle's clutsattends,
Protal to be notic d by misutled fiends;
And ftrives to join, by dillipation's ad,
The man of firfion with the min of orade.
Vain to aftowate with faperor rank,
He quits his leiger-for the Faro bank ;
His daning curracle down Bud-treet drives,
[ave:
Riking his own-and worfe-his horfes'
Till, urging Fortune's glowing whel too falt, [lait!
This empry air blown tubble bre:tivs at
Though Trade may give fucl, upitert mulhooms birth,
The Mufe pays homage to its real worth.
Thasille to commerce owes her iplendid ftate,
The fource of al! that mak sher tolly great ;
And badit her buif fon enough are found
To raite dejected Mis'ry from the ground.
Whale Commerce, with a lib ral heart, beflows
[woes;
Her wealth to mitigate the poor man's
Seeks out the wreth, his glwony prifon cheers, [tear,;
And wipes, with pitying hand, the widow's
Th' applating wonld will fay (fuch bounty siv'n) [Heav:n!
The Enghin merchant is the gleward of Ow Author now that candour wov implore

[for. Which your indulgence has beftow'd b Still on a gen'roos publick lie depeneis, Give your fupport-he alks no bett $f_{1}$ iends.

PROLOGUE TO VORTIGERN.

Fio o common camfe your verdign ne Before C , That mighty matter of the human foul, Who rules the patfions, and, with ftro controni, [he:
Through ev'ry turning of the changel Drects his courfe fuolime, and leads 1 po'v's ful art.
[imil
When on his birth propitious Nate And hong thafipoted o'er her fav'ry chatd, [fhower'
White on his head lier choiceft gifts $\mathbb{I}$ Ans wr his mind her inipiration pour' "Procectl", the cry"d, "the high decr iutil;
[wil
'Tis thine to rule, with magic fiway, t On Fancy's wing to ftretch o'er boundh fpace,
And all Creation's varied werks to trace 'Tis thine each fltcing phantom to purfu Eacib hidden pow'r of verfe to biting view;
To thed o'er Britim tafte celeftial day, And reign o'er Genius with unrivall fuay!"
[choi
Such was the high heheft.- The facr Lovig has been fauction'd by your cand voice;
[hal
The favour'd relics of your Shakfpears Unrival'd and inimitable ftand.

If hope of fame fone modern Bards ha led [treat
To try the path where Shakipeare wont If, with prefumpruous wing, they dar'd a pre
To catch fome portion of his facred fire, Your critic powersthe vain attempt repell, The flim! y vapour, hy your breath difpell' Expos'd the trembling culprit to your figt While Shakfpeare's radidnce thone wi doabled light.
[appear
From deep Ohlivion fratch'd, this $\mathrm{Pl}_{\text {. }}$ It clams reipect fince Sk.akfpeare's naw it bears;
[ligh
That name, the fource of wonder and d: To a fatl hearing has at lesft a right;
We atk no more - with you the juigemen hes,
No for gene efoape your piercided eyes:
Unkus ${ }^{\circ}$, then, pronounce your dread d. ciee,
Alike form prefulice and favour frec.
If, the fielce ordeal $1^{12 f t}$, you chance find
Rich ferling ore, though rude and unr Stanp it your own; allenty, ur Pret's fam A ad add hefh wreaths to Sh kif eare's ha

Seleit Poetry, Antient and Modern, for Aprii, 1795.

EPILOGUE,

SPOKEN BY MRS. JORDAN.
Y E folemn Critics, wherefoe'er you're feated,
Togrant a tavom may you be entreated ?
For which I'll pay you proper adoration,
And frive to pleafe you-that is my vocation.
[praife,
Then do not frown, hut give due thare of
Nor rend from Shakjpeare's tomb the facred bays:
The fatter'd flow'rs he left henignly fave!
Polthumous flow'r's! the gatland of the grave: [agi,
What, though he liv'd two humdred yeats He kuew you very well, as I w! ! fisu;
His pencil iketch'd you, and that leddom errs, [ters.
You're all, whate'er you think, his chatac-
How ?- do you doubt it? - catt your eyes around,
In ev'ry comer of this houfe they': e found.
Obferve the jolly Grazier in the pit,
Why, he is Falitaff, fat, and full of wit ; In fun and feafting places lus delight,
And with his Do'ly wmulates the knoht.
Look at that youth, whon comstenance of woe
Denotes a tonder-hearted Rome: ;
He only withes, thoush be dat: mo: speak, To be a glove to touch his Julist's chack: While fhe from yobler teriac: frolles lerene,

And longs with lim to piay tic canceta But, oh! I tremble now--itere fion a mat!, Rugged and rough-a vay Callat
He growls out his difplatute-ths a mame ! Bo, dear Nitanda, make the montler tame!
And you, my pretcy liearrice, dint fiet,
Your Benedick is fond of a coquonte :
For, thon:the bows he"11 thank no rate abues yout, ["00.
He means to mary-be can't live wit tout
Kind taithful frogens are bete tocham us,
Mad Edgars, ancient litok, 10 a'ams us ;
And Holpure, too, who feen the ghorious boon, [fa'd Mo: ${ }^{\prime \prime}$
"To plack bright Honour bon the prieBefides, we have cur Touchitones, Shyluck due,
Iagos falfe, and many a Shatuw 'fquire.
Nay, there ale lactes, whe, in ther ow: houlec, [1poutes. Are Defdemunas, plapu'd with jeatons
'Tis true, there is fume change, ! mult con$\mathrm{f} \in \mathrm{f}$, [dre's;
Since Shakiperes time, at loait in pront of The rufts ate gone, and the long fena'e waift [ufte;
Yields to the Grecian mote voluptuous While circling braids the copious welfes bind, And the bane neck fpredds beauiful hehind.
Olv fenators and peers no longer go,
Lake men in almour, g! औbing tila row;

But, for the cloak and pointed beard, we note [coat,
The clofe-cropt head, and little hort great Yet is the nodern Briton ftll the fame, Fager to cherish, and averfe to blame; Foe to deception, r. ady to defend, A kind protector, and a gen'rous friend.

In an Alaroe, commanding a biew of Naithy Fiel.!, in the Pieafure groatel of Lond Wifcount Culiev, at tiufhton, are the following T.ines, reitteri by Dr, Lennet, now Sif op of Cluyne.

* 㫳 7 HEPE yon blue fiell farce meen our itreaming eves,
A futal name for England ! Nafoby lies.
There balf fo chates beteld has fortone cror-k,
His fo: ces sanduith'd, and hiskingdom loft.
There gritm Lime a mank for houfands fived,
And Derencr feal ? b hic loy lty in blood ;
Whilit down yon hill's teep fide, with headlang force, Thorfe.
Victorions Cmanel chas'd the Northern
Hence Amorchy wur church and fate prof.an'd,

A'd tyrants an the mafzof Freedon reign'd. In thies hate thote, when larty bears comm 1 on.
[lands And Faction fattens difcord through the L.i thuie fad fcenes an whfal leffon yield Let duture Natebys rife in ev'ry field.

AN ODE FOR THE YEAR $379^{\circ}=$

S S . P.

STILL, At il the trumpet founds, to arms? to ctms!
still Gathe pride and Gallic madnefs rage; Still Slangher with her cric: the world alams, [wage.
And nations againat mations war ftill
Soun may the hatcyon days arrive,
The ofive branch her leaves expand, Diftrefs her drooping head revive,

And Plenty fpre d her bounteous hand; May fupertitions Zeal give way To Reafon and Religin's fway; May Amaschy nos langer reign, Pat France pacific lave maintan: May Heava itfer, who rules the t des, At where command the form fublide; Whofe atl-difcerning piercing eye Can caufes trace, effets deicry, The jarme pations happily controul, And calm the tempeft of the human foul?

Menwibile, let clearing Hope infufe
Her cortial drops, and e.fe inp.urt;
I.et Difeo tent and Rancour lufe

Their baneful influence o'er the heart.
Meanwhite, may Cumerce jultiy boalt
Her genial pow'run ev'iy coaft ;
Her chaps in pomp upeth apper,
Deck'd with :he tiophies of the war;

328 Seleat Poetry, Antient and Modern, for April, 1796.

Freighted with all the richeft for ${ }^{\circ}$ ", From Indian and Arabian thores;
Triumphant ftretch their fails, and fafely pile
Their treafures on Br'tan ia's envied ine.
Let Farion ceafe, with Frand and Strife; Let Concord, Truth, and Love fincere, Attend the $v$ rimas fcenes of life, And fmile upon the infont vear;
Let focial Freedom chaftely fluv;
Let ev'ty heart with rap ure glow,
In frains of a loration pare,
Since Britan's Monarch reigns fecure :
'Tis George who rules, 'tis George who fills the throne;
Regards his fuhjects' welfare as his own ;
With aw ful juftice lenient msicy blends,
And Innocence from injary defends.
Apollo, Atrike the fprightly lure, And animate the vocal choir; The virtues of great George extol ; Fefound his fame from pole to pole: Long may he live, and long poffefs Heav'n-born health and happinefs !

TWENTY-ONE.

RELEAS'D from fervitude, behold, At age, the fripling ftrong and bold, His 'prenticemip, too, done;
While tirobbing patifons govern ftill,
He taftes the gond, without the ill, Of life, at Twenty-one.
Seduc'd by Pleafure's gay defires,
Immer'd in folly, he afpires The race of joy to run;
Heedlefs of Whisom's fapient hand,
Whofe index-finger theu; th.c land, Scarce made at Twenty-one.
Grown tamer, fell'd by fierce difeafe,
At truce with reafon, quiet, peace, No more to be out-done;
With moderation holds *:ce reins
And roughs of lif, , the enxious pains, Not tir usht at Tiventy-crs.
With cautions ears, fufpicious care
The fofter pleafu e mikeshim fhare, Somewhat too lute negur ;
While fober moderation fees,
With fome regret, what difagrees With boif'rous Twenty-sne.
And now with age, and blect with wealth,
Aud crown'd witil wifdom, Itrength, and healt',
No brighter fhums the fun;
But fome infirmities may vex,
And cares of life may ftill nerplex, Cuknuwn at Twenty-one.
Mureover, what in age can charm
Brings nor difeafe to health, nor harm In life's declining fun;
While fair Reflestion holds to light
Tbe frolics of his paft delight,
Of thoushitest Twent one.

Well ftor'd with narrative and knowled,
Ohtain'd in life's extenfive college,
His race though nearly rin,
Ad zice no gratis gives to all,
Refpecing firtune's rife or f.ll
From beedlefs Twenty-one.
But Sicknefs comes, and, in her train, The quiv'ring tónc, and fal'ring pain,

When life is nes: ly foum;
Wrilt mild Religion's facred itores,
To furure life the man ret?ores,
Surpafing Twenty-onc.
Come, Learning, with thy balm in ftore
Reflexion, Iring a hundred more;
But, when the glafs is ron,
Say, what dvails? our time is patt, Thefe poor refources cannot lait,

And pait is Twenty-one.
Yet, beedlefs what the world may fay,
Besuty and youth have both a day,
A day difown'd by none;
Let fcience teach, let reafon guide,
The mind's moft pleafurable pride
Is felt at Truenty-one.
Remember then, whate'er is lent
In life, within that fpan is fpent;
For what by us is won,
From early youth to latert age,
Can never with that time engage,
Oh , happy Twenty-one!
h. Lemoine.

PINDARI FYTHIA, ODE IV. 484

$\xi_{5} \alpha_{5} \alpha \theta_{6}=$ " $\xi \sigma \sigma \alpha 1,8 v \sigma \pi \alpha \lambda \xi_{5}$

Facile quippe eft civitatem concutere, e am imbecilionbus; at in fedem iteri collocare, difficile utique eft repen nifi Deus principibu: gubernator fue: Tibi vero harum rerum contexunt gratix. Perfevera in felicem Cyrent impendere ftudiam omne.

Imitated, and addreffed to the Rigbt Hon. Willian Pitt.

ASTATE to trouble, vex, and teafi Seditious men may plot with eafe But, to preferve it fafe and found, A faterman nurt by Heav'n be found: For thee referv'd thefe honours are; This happy ifle employs thy care.

Cowbit, 7 an. 1.
J. Mille.

$329]$

ifirait of the Premiums offered, in 1796, by the Seciety inflitated at London for the Enciuragement of Arts, Mantfactares, and Commerce.

To the PUBLICK.

Phe Cmiep Onjects of the attention of the Society, in the application of theip
Rewarbs, are all fuch ufeful inventions, difcoveries, or improvements (though not intioned in the Book of Premiums), as appear to have a tendency to promote the arte, inufactures, and eommerce, of this kingdom; and, in purfuance of this plan, the Suciety lie already heen enabled, by the voluntaty fubferiptions of its members, and by benefacthe of the nobility and gentry, to exfend for fuch ufeful purpores a fum amounting to near jy thoufand pounds.
Whoever attentively confiders the benefits which have arifen to the Publick fince tbe litution of this Society, by the introduction of new thanufactures, and the improvements thofe formerly ettablifhed, will readily allow, no mosey was ever more ufefully expended; thas any ation received more real advantage from any public body whatever than sbeen derived to this country from the rewards beftowed by this Society; and this obvation will be confirmed by infpecting a gencral ascount of the effects of the rewards bewed by the Saceery, annesed to a work in folio, printed in 1778, inrituled, "A Regifter of the Premiums and Bounties given by the Society, inftituted at London, for the Encouragement of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce, from the Original Inditution in 1754 , to 1776, inclufive;" which work may be teen by any perfon, apply:ng to the SecreI, or other officers of the Society, at their houfe in the Adelfbi.
In order fill farther to promote the laudable views of this inftitution, and to enable the siety to profecute to greater effect the work fo fuccefffully begun, it may not be im. oper to infors the Publ:ck, by what mode, and on what terms, Members are eleGed.ers of the realm, or Lords of Parliament, are, on their being propofed at any meeting of - Sociery, immediately balloted for 3 and the name, with the addition and place of ode, of e7ery other perfon propofing to become a Member, is to be delivered to the Secreiy, who is to read the fame, and properly infert the name in a lift of candidates, to be ing up in the Society's room until the next meeting, at which fuch perfons fhall be balted for; and, if two-thirds of the Members then voting ballot in his favour, he fhall :deemed a Perpetual Member, upon payment of taventy guineat at one payment, or a Subribing Member, upon payment of any fum, not lefs than two guineat, annually.
Every Member is equally entitled to vote, and be concerned in all the tranfactions of the ciety, and its feveral Committes.
The meetings of the Society are held every Wednefday, at fix o'clock in the evening. om the fourth Wednefday in $O G_{0}$ ber, to the firt $/$ Trednefday in $\mathcal{F}$ une. And the feveral Comintecs, to whofe confideration the various obje $\mathcal{R}$ s of the Sociery's attention are referred, eet on the other evenings in every weck during the feffion.
All candidates are to take notice, that no claim for a premium will be attended to, ualefs re conditions of the advertifements are fully complied with.
The feveral candidates and claimants, to whom the Snciety thall adjudge premiums or sunties, during their next feffion are to attend at the Society's office in the Adelphi, on ie laft Tuefday in May, 1797, at twelve $o^{\circ}$ clock at noon, to receive the fame, that day sing appointed by the Snciety for the diftribution of their rewards; before which time no remium or bounty will be delivered.
It is required, that the matters, for which premiums are offered, be delivered in withoot ames, or any intimation to whom they belong; that each particular thing be marked in hat manner each claimant thinks fit, fuch claimant fending with it a paper fealed up, aving on the ourfice a correfonding mark, and on the infise the claimant's name and adrefs $\dot{i}$ and the candidates in the Polite Arts are to fignify their ages, and whether their Jawings be Originals or Copies.
All the Premiums of this Society are defigned for that part of Great Drixain called ingland, the dominion of Wales, and the Town of Berwick ufon Tweed, unlefsexpreffly nentioned to the contrary. nentioned to the contrary.
The Frurteenth volume of the Tranfactions of this Sociery is now in the prefs, and will fpeeily be publithed, when it may be had at the Society's boufe in the Adelphi; and of the rincipal bookfellers in England and Wales; in which book will be found the particulara feach premium inferted in the following Abfract, and the methods to be purfued by hofe who intend to become candidates; together with mary papers communicared to the iociety, in the ieveral branches of Arts, Manufactures, and Comanerce, which are the imnediate objects of their attention and encouragement; and it is recommended to all Candiintes to coufult that book, in order that mifakes in making their claims may be avoided.

PREMIOMS FOR PLANTING AND HUSBANDRY.

Class.

1. A CORNS. For having fet ten acres, bet ween OEtoher, 1795 , and April, 1796; the gold medal.
2. For five acres; the filver medal.

Certificates to be produced on the firft Tuefday in November, 1796.
9. Raising Oaks. Not fewer than five thoufand, from plants, or acorns, in woods that have been long under timber; the gold medal.
10. For three thdufand ; the filver niedal.

Cerificates to be produced on the firft Tuefday in January, 1797.
19. Rasing Oaks. For afcertaining the comparative merits of the ditfer ent $m$ des of raifing Oaks for timber; the gold medal.

Accounts to be produced on the firft Tueflay in November, 1796.
17. Oak Timber in Compass Fokms. For afcertaining, by experiment, the beft method of training Oaks, nöt fewer than one hundred, into compafs furtis for hip-building; the gold medal, or fifty gu'neas.

Certificates to be produced on the laft Tuefday in December, :805, 18. Spanish Chesiouts. For fetting fix acies between che ift of October, 1795, and April, 1796, with or without feeds or cuttings of other trees; the goid medal.
19. For four acres; the filver medal.

Certificates to be produced on the firtit Tuefday in November, 1796.
26. English Elm. For ejght thoufind, planted between June, 1794 , and June, 1795 ; the gold medal.
27. For five thoufand; the filver metal.

Cartificates to be delivered on the firft Tueflay in April, 1797.
34. Larch. For planting, from June, 3793, to June, 1794 , five thoufanc', the gold medal.
35. For three thoufand; the filver medal.

Certificates to be delivered on the lan Tueldav in December, 1796.
44. Silver Fir. For not fewer than two thouland, planted between June, 1792, and June, 1793; the gold medat.
45. For one thoutand; the filver medal.

Certificates and accounts to be delivered on the ialt Tuefday in December, 1796.
50. Osiers. For not lefs than three acres, planted butween the ift of Janusfy and the sf of May, 179 s , notfewer thati twelve thoufand on eqek acis the gold medal, or twenty guineas.
$5^{\circ}$. For two acres; the filver med or teñ guineas.

Certificates to be produced on the Tuefday in November, 1796.
54. Alder. For having planted, the year t793, at leaft three thoufat the gold medal.

Certificates to be produced on the Tuclday in December, 1796.
58. Asn. For fix acres planted 1793; the gold medal.
59. For not lefs than four aares; filver medal.

Certificates to be produced on the Tueflay in December, 1796.
68. Timber Trees. For hav enclofed, and planted or fown, teli ac with Foreft trees for timber, berw OEtober, 1792 , and May, 1793 ; the $g$ medial.

Certificates to be produced on the 'f Tuefday in November, 1796.
72. Planting Orcharis. I platning in Orchard in the mott jual ous manner, not lefs than four acres, ter the mionth of Auguft, 1796; the g medal, or fifty guineas.
73. For the next in merit; the fil midal, or thirty guineas.

Certificates to be produced on the f Tuefdar in November, 1815 .
74. Orcharis. For the Oreh which, at the end of three years al planting, flall thew the greatelf pron of fuccefs; the gold medal, or thi guineas.

Certificates to be produced on the f: Tuetday in Norember, 1799.
78. Secering Plantations FIMEER. For tatisfactóry accountsf fecuring Timber-tices fiom hares, in the, &ic.; the filver medal, or twe! guineas.

Accounts and cerrificates to be produ 1 on the firll Tuefday in November, 17

TS The candudates for plantirg hiads of trees are to certify, that the fobetve plantations are properly font and fecured, and particularly to fate : condition the plants ware in at the is of jigning fuch certificates.

Any information awbich the candid, for the foreguing tremiums may cbut, communicate, relative to the metbods m ' ufc of in froming the plantaitions, or $f$. moting the growsh of the feicral trtes? a.y other objervations that may have. curred on the fubject, will be thanks. riseives

8o. Trees for Use when expoo to the Weather. For the A, account, to determine which of the flowing tres is of the greateff tuility for Inber, when expofed to the weather, viz. Larch, black poplar, afh, Spaniif cheftt, willow, alder, Lombardy poplaa, ech, or fitver fir, the gold medal.
To be produced on the fecond Tuef$y$ in December, 1796 .
Si. Preventinc Blights. For fovering the beft method of preventg blights on fruit-trees; the gold meil, or thirty guineas.
The accounts and certificates to be derered on the fecond Tuefday in Novem4, 1796.
84 Taking offtheill Effects - Blights. For difcovering a mewod of taking off the ill effceds of blights I fruit-trees, verified by experiments; e gold medal, or thirty guineas.
Accounts and certificates to be delivered 1 the firft Tuefday in February, 1797.
85. Comparative Culture of theat. For the beff fet of experiients made on eight acres, to determine $x$ comparative advantages of cultivating heat, by fowing broad-caft or drilling; ie gold medal, or filver medal and venty guineas.
The accounts to be produced on the rf Tueflay in February, 1797.
86. Comparative Culture of Vheat. For the beft fet of experitents made on eight acres, to determine pe comparative advantage of cultivating chear, by broad-caft or dibbling; the old medal, or filver medal and thirty vineas.
The accounts to be produced on the of Tuefday in Februarv, 1797.
87. Beans and Wheat. For lapting or drilling, between December, 794, and April, 1795 , ten acres, with eeaps, and for fowing the fame land with wheat in the year 1795 ; twenty guineas.
Certificates to be produced on the firlt Suefday in November, 1796.
90. Turneps. For experiments made on fix acres, to determine the comsarative advantages of the drill or broalaft method in the cultivation of turneps; he gold medal, or filver medal and ten guincas.
To be delivered on the third Tuefday a March, 1797.
9i. Vegetable Foob. For the beft account of vegetable foorl, that will moft increafe the milk in mares, cows, and ewes, in March and April; the gold medal, or filver medal and ten guincas.

Certificates to be produced on the fecond Tuerday in November, 1796 .
93. Turnep-rooted Cabrage. For raifigg in the year 1795 not lefs thay ten acres, and for an account of the effects on cattle or heep fed with it; the gold medal, or thirty guineas.
94. For not lefs than five acres; the filser medal and ten guiseas.
Certificates to be produced on the lan Tuefday in O&tober, 1796.
9s. Increased Culture of Po. tatoes. For growing, in the year 1796, the greateft weight, per acre, on not lefs than fifty acres of land which has not been planted with Potatoes within the laf ten years; the gold medal, or thirty guineas.
96. For the greateft weight, per acre, on not lefs than twenty-five acres; the filver medal, or fifteen guineas.
97. For the greatef weight, per acre, on not lefs than five acres; ten guineas.

Certificates and accounts to be produced on the third Tuetiday in January, 1797.
98. Potatoes for feeding Cattle and Sheep. For cultivating, in 1795, not lefs than four acres, for the fole purpofe of feeding cattle and fircep; the gold medal, or thirty guineas.
Certificates to be produced on the fecond Tuefday ịn November, 1796.
100. Cultivating Roots and Herbageforfeeding Sueep and Black Cattle. For experiments made on two acres of land, between Michaelmas, $\mathbf{3} 795$, and May, 1796 , to afcertain which of the following plants can be fecured for winter fodder to the greareft advantage, viz.

Turnep-rooted cabbage, carrots, turnep cabbage, parfneps, turneps, potatoes.

The accounts and certificates to be produced on the firft Tuetiay in No. vember, 1796; the gold medal.
roz. Parsneps. For cultivating, in 1796, not lefs than five acres wilh Parfneps, for feeding cattle or hatep; the gold medal, or thirty guineas.
Certificutes and accounts to be delivered on the fecond Tuefday in Feliruary 1797.
104. Maring Hay in wet Weather. For ditcovering the ben method of making hay in wet weather; the gold medal, or thirty guincas.
Certificates and accounts of the making the produce of lix acie of land to be prociuced on the firit Tuefdiay in Jan. 1797. 106. Cultivating the true Rhubarb. For ralfing, in the year 1796, not lefs than fix hundred plants of the true thabarb; the gold medat.
ro-. For four hundred plants; the filver miedal.

Certificates to be produced on the $\mathrm{f}-$ cond Tuefday in February, 1797.
108. Ascertaining the component Parts of Arable Land. For the inoft latistactory experiments, to afcertain the due proportion of the feveral component parss of arable land, by an accurate analytis of it; the gold medal, or fifty guineas.

The accornts to he produced on the laft Tuefdav in November. 1796.
iol. Draining Land. For making, in 1796, not lefs than one thoufand yards of hollow drains with brick or flone ; the gol: medial, or thirty guineas.

Accoun's and certificates to be produced on the thad Tuefday in February, 1797.
ili Forming and applying Water Meadows. Far the beft account of forming and appling Water Meadows; the gold medal, or thirty guineas.
A. counts to be produced on the third Trueflay in February, 1797.
riz. Improving land hying waste. for a meihod of improving $5^{\circ}$ acres of foils lying wafte or uncuitivated; the gold medal, or filver medal and twenty gulated.
114. For 25 acres; the filver medial and ten guintas.

Thie accoluths to be produced on the fezond Tueflay in December, 1796 .
rag. Minutes. For the beft fet of expenments to afcertain the comparative advancage of foot, coal-athes, $u$ wod-afhes, lime, gyplum, or night-foil; the gold medal, or filver medal and twenty guineas.

The aciounts to be produced on the laft Tuefdav in Februaty, 1797.
ses. Improvins Waste Moors. For the improvement of not lefs than one hundred acres of wafte moor land; the gold medal.

Certificates to be produced on the finf Tucflay in rehtuaty, 1797.
125. Gaining Land prom the Sea. For an account of the beft method of gaining from the fea not lefs than twenev acies of land; the gold medal.

Eiertificates to be produced un the fint Inefday in Octoher, 1796.
129. Maghine for dibbling Wheat. For the belt machine for diobling wheat; the filver medal, or rwenty guineas.

The machime, with certificates, to be produced on the fecond Tuelday in JaMudry, 1797.
130. MACHINE to REAP OR MOW

CORN. For a machine to reap or ny grain, by whien it may be done chei r than by any method now practifed; filver modal, or ten guineas.

The machine, with certificates, to produced on the fecond Tuefday in : cember, $\mathbf{1 7 9 6}$.
131. Improved Hoz. For thent improved horfe or hand hoe, for clear 3 the fpaees between corn fown in equi? tan: rows, and earthing-ap the plas; the gold medal, or twenty guineas.

To be produced, with certificatesf its work, on the firft Tuefday in Dee. ber, 1796.
i33. Destroying the Grub the Cuckchafer. For difeoverira method of deftroying the grub of cock chafer ; the gold medal or zoguin

The accounts to be delivertd on firf Tudflay in January, 1797.
abl. Destroving the Wi WORM. For difcurering a methor f defroying the wise-worm; the id medal, or thirty guineas.

The accounts to be delivered on firf Tuefday in January, 797.
135. Destroying the Fly Hops, and Caterpillars in 1 . charbs. For difcovering an eafy thod of deftrosing the fly on hops, d caterpillars in orehards; the gold me, or thirty guineas.

Certificates to be delivered on the $A$ Tuefdas in Fcbruary, 1797.
136. Cure of the Rot $n$ Stiekp. For difoovering an effed il cure, verifed by experiments; the ${ }^{1 d}$ medal, or thirty guinas.
siccounts of the caufe and prevent ?, with certificates, to be produced on is fift Tuelday in reioruary, 1797.
137. Preventing and curg the ill Effects of the Fly y Sheiep. Fur difcovering a metho of preventing and curing thole effucts; 6 filver medal, or thirty guineas.

Certificates and accounts to be prodid on the firlt Tuefday in December, z $0_{0}$
139. Protecting Sheep. or protecting in bad feafons in the ir 1797, by means of hovels or heds; $x$ fewer than fiye hundred Geep; twiy guineas.

Accounts of the advantages, and cer is cates of the utinty, to be produced or ie firt Tueflav in March, 1798.
PREMIUMS FOR DISCOVERS AND IMPROVEMENTS IN CHEMISTRY, DYING, AN MINERALOGY.
spo. Barmiat. For half a to of merchantable barilla, made from any plant raited in Gieat Btitain; the gold meelal, or thirty guneas.
'Twenty-eight pounds, with a cerifif. cale, to be prodiuced on the firft Tuelday in January, 1797.
141. Pregerving Seeds of Vegetables. For a method of pederving the feeds of plaints fit for regecation; the gold medal. or tharty guineas.
To be communicated on the firl Tuefday in December, $179^{6}$.
M43. Sibparathng the Sugar from Treacle. For dincovering a cheap method of leparating the tachiasinc fubftance of ctreacle in a folid form, not lefs than one tyuldred weight; the gold medal, or hafty guineas.
Certificates and accoun:s, with famples, to be produced on the tirf Tustday in Feiruaty, 1797.
145. Preserving fresh Water sweet. For the beft account, verified by trials, of a method of picfer ving freth water during lung voyages; the gold medal, or fifty guneas.

Accounts, and detcriptions of the methods made ufe of, with thirty gallons of the water, to de produceai on the laft Tuefuay in December, 1796 .
8.447. Destroying Ssucke. For an acceunt of a metiod of defroying the frouke of fires belonging to large woiks; the gold medal, or thirity guineas.
To be produced on the filf Tuefday in January, 1797.
149. Condensing Shoxe. For the beft method of condenfing and colleceng the fmuke of feam-engines, &c.; the gold medal, or fifty guiricas.
Accounts, cirtificiules, zad fecimens, to be protuced on the firft Tuedday in December, 1796.
131. Caniles. For glifonvering a method of making candtes of refin, fic for common ule; the gold medai, or thirty guneas.
To be delivered on the firf Tuelday in December, ${ }_{1796}$.
132. Rekining Whale or Séal Oft. For chicloting a method of purifying oil from glutinous ruatter; the gold meda!, or nitty guineas.

The procefs to be delivered on the fe. cond Turfilay in Cebruary, 1797.
ro 3st. Clearing Feafhers from theik Oil. For dileovering, a method of cleaing govie feathers from their vil, Superiar to any known; the gold medid, or ferty guin as.

Accounis and 40 lb . of feathers to be aprosuced on the heft. Tuefday in Ecoruxays 1997.
res. Substitute for or preparation of Yeast. For difcuer. ing a fubfticute for, or preparation of yeatt, that mav be preferved tix moanth; the sold medal, or thirly guineas.

Specimens to be produced on the laft Tueflay in November, 1796.
156 Prouf Spikit. For making, in 1795 not lef, than one huad ed gallons of Pioof Spiris trom articles not the food of man or cattic ; the goid anedal, or fifty guincas.

Licuints ana ten gations to be produced on the firft Tuefldy in January, 17970

55\%. Starce For norleís than two hunired weght of Starch made in 1795 from matei ials not the teod of man; the gold medal, or thirty geineas.

Accounts and cerificates, with five pounds of the Starch, to the produced oa the fecond Tuctlay in Januars, 1797.
158. Preserving salted Pぬevis!ows. For difcoveing the cheapeft method of peferving talied provifions from beemming rancid or rutiy ; the gold med.al, or thirty guineas.
Accounts and certificates io be produced on or before tive firit Tuetday in Februaiv, 1797.
160. Increasing Steam. For a method of increaling the quantity or the fuce of ftean, in fieam engines, with lefs fuct than is now employen; the gold medal, or chisty guineas.
To be communicated on the fritt Tueflay in January, 1797.
16. Preventing the dry Rot in Timbler. For difiovering the caufe of the diry rot in timber, and difcolofue a method of preventivia; dhe guld medua, or thirty guineas.
The ascounts to be produced on the fecend Tuefiay in Deember, 1796.
103. Fine bar iron. Formaking ten ons with coak fiom coak-pigs, in England or Wales, equal to Swedifi or Rullian izon ; the gold medal.

One hunured weighe to be produced on the firt Tueflay in fanuary, 1797.
1才5. White Lead. For difcovering a micthod of plepanng wate itad, in a manner not prejudicial to the workmen; the gold mell, or fifty guineas.
Cerifificates that a ton lia, been prepared, and the procefs, to be producei on the fecond Tueldav in February, 1297
166. Suastitute for Basis of Paint. For the weft lubftiture for batis of paint, cqually proper as white lead; the goid modal, or thate guincas.

Fifty pountis weight io be produced on the decond Tuefday in Norember, $17,6$. 268. 12.8.
168. Refining Bleck Tin. For difclofing a method of purifying block tin, fo as to fit it for the purpofes of grain tin; the gold medal, or fifty guineas.

The procefs, and one hundred weight of the tinn, to be produced on the firft Tuefday in November, 1796.
170. Glazing Earthen-ware without Lead. For difcovering the moft eafily fufible compofition for glazing ordinary earthen-ware without lead; th gold medal, ot thirty guineas.

Specimens and cervificales to be produeed on the firf Tueflay in February, 1797.
171. PURIFYING brackish Water. For difcovering the befomethod of purifying brackifh water, fo as co it it for the ufe of families; the fileer medal and fifteen guineas.

Certificatics, and an account of the method ufid, to be produced on the fecond Tuefday in February, 1797.
172. Black Dye on Cotton. For the beit black dye on cotton yarn fuperior to any in ufe; the gold medial, or thirty guineas.

Accounts and certificater, with five pounds of yarn fo dyed, to be produced on the firf Tuefday in February, 1797.
173. Preserving Iron fiom Rust. For a cheap compofition to effectually preferve wrought iron from ruft ; the gold medal, or fifty guiseas.

Accounts and certificates, with ten pounds of the compofition, to be produecd on the firf Tuefday in January, 1799 .
PREMIUMS FOR PROMOTING THE POLITE ARTS.
175. Honorary Premiums for Drawings. For the beft drawing by fons or grandfons of peers or peerelfes of Gieat Britain or Ireland, to be produced on the firf Teefday in Match, $\mathbf{1 7 9 7}$; the gold medal.
175. For the next in merit; the filver medal.

177, 178. The fame premiums will he given to daughers or grandaughters of peers or peereffesof Great Britain or Ireland
179. Honorary premiems for DRAWINGS. Fur the beft diawing of any kind, by young gentlemen under the age of twenty-one.

To be produced on the firf. Tuefday in March, 1797 ; the gold medal.
180. For the next in mertit; the filver meslal.
181. 182: The fame premiums will he given for drawings by young laties.

N B. Perfons profefling any branch of the polite arts, or the fons or daughters of luch perfons, will not be adminted candidates in thefe claffes,
183. Drawing. For the bef drav ing in perfpeetive of the Water-gate York-buildings, not lefs than eightek inches high; a filver medallion, in cor formity to the will of John Stock, Hampflead, efq.

To be produced on the third Tuefda in Febuary, 1797.
184. Drawings of Outiline: For an outline after a group or caft, $i$ plafter, of human figures, by perfons ur der the age of fixteen, to be produced $n$ the laft Tuefdav in February, 1797, th greater filver pallet.
185. For the next in merit, the leff filver pallet.
186. Drawings of Landscapes: For the beft drawing after Nature, $b$ perions under twenty-one years of agi to be produced on the third Tuefday i February, 1797, the greater filver palle
187. For the next in merit, the lefli filver pallet.

18S. Historical Drawings. Fi the beft origind hifiorical drawing of fis or more human figures, to be pioduce on the third Tuefday in February, 179: the gold paller.
$1 \delta 9$. For the next in merit, the greatu filver pallet.
190. Surveys of Counties. Fe an accurate furvey of any county in Ens land or Wales; the gold medal, or fift guineas.

To be begun after the firft of Jum 1791, and produced on the laft Tuefda in Jabuarv, 1797.
194. Narural History. Toth author who thall publith the natural hil tory of any county in England or Wale: the gold medal, or fifty guipeas. Th work to be produced on or before th latt Tuefdav in lanuary, 1797.

PREMIUMS FOR

ENCOURAGING AND IM-PROVING MANUFACTURES.
197. blek. For ten pounds of tilk produced by one perfon in England, i the year 1796 ; the gold medal.

One pound, with certificates. to be de livered to the Society on the firft Tuef day in January, 1797.
198. For five pounds; the filver medal.
199. Machine for cardini Silk. For a machine for carding waft filk, to be pioduced on the firft Tuedda in November, 1796 ; the gold medal, 0 thirty guineas.
200. Cleth from Hop-stalks or Binds. For net leis than thirt yards, twenty-leven inches wide, mad in Fengland, the gold medal, or thiri guineas
uineas; to be prolluced on the fecond uefday in Dacember, 1796.
201. Wicks for Candles or AMPs. For difcovering a method of manufacturing hop-ftalks, or other cheap naterial, the growth of England or Nales, to fupply the place of cotton or wicks of candles or lamps; twenty uineas.
Five pounds of the wicks, with certifie ates, to be produced on the fecond「uefday in January, 1797.
203. Paperfrom Raw Vegetaites. For ten reams of ufeful paper rom raw vegetable fubftances; twenry suineas.
One ream and certificates to be proluced on the firlt Tueflay in November, 196.
204. MaintainingandemployNG THE POOR. For producing to the iociety the beft practical and moft ocoiomical plan for maintaining and emloying the poor in parih-workhoufes; be gold medal, or fifty guineas.

The plans to be delivertd on the firft Fuefday in March, 1797.
REMIUMS FOR INVENTIONS
IN MECHANICKS.
205. Transit Instrument. For cheap and porcable inftrument, for the surpofe of finding the latitudes and longitudes of places, the gold metal, or orty guineas; to be produced on the aft Tuelday in January, 1797.
206. Tiking Whales by the Gun Harpoon. For the greatell numerr; not lefs than three, by one perfon; en guineas.

Certificates of the taking the whales to je produced on the laft Tuelday in Deiember, 1796.
208. Drtving Bolts into Shipg. For a model of a machine for driving oolts, particularly copper, into fhips, fuperior to any now in ule; the gold medal, or forty guineas.
To be produced on the firft Tueflay - February, 1797.
209. Pgrtable Maghine for loading and unloading Goods. For inventing and producing the moft finpie machine, or model, for loading and unloading goons; the gold medal, or forty guineas. To be delivercd on the firf Tutday in January, 1797.
210. Parish or Family Mill. For the beft mill for grinding corn for pirate familics or parith poor; the gold asdal, or forty guincas.

The mill and certificates to be produced on the firf Tuefday in February, 1797.
211. Machine for raising Ora, Tu the perfon who fhall invent a machine and produce a model for raifing ore, &ic. from mines, at a lefs expence than any in ufe; the gold medal, or fifty guineas.

To be produced on the fecona Tuerday in February, 1797.
212. Machinefor ralsing WaTER. For a machine for raifing water out of deep wells, fuperior to any in ule; the gold medal, or forty guineas.

Certificates and a model to be produced on the firft Tuefday in February, 179 .:
213. Machine for ratsing Watertofloat Pasture land. For a model of the beft machine for raifing water from a ftream for floating pafture land; the gold medal, or forty guineas.

The model, with certificates of the ufe of a machine at large, to be produced on the third Tuefday in February, 1797.
214. Preventing Waterfreezing in Pipes. For difcovering a cheap insthod of preventing water freezing in pipes ferving to fupply dwellings; the gold medal, or thircy guineas.

Accounts and certificates to be produced on the firf Tuefday in March, 1797.

2:5. Improvement of WheelCarriages. For difcovering the principles, and pointing our the conftruction, oa which wheel-carriages may be drawn with leaft fatigue to the horles; the gold wicdal, or fifty guineas.

To be delicered on the fecond Tuefday in December, 1796.

2:6. Preventing Horsesturaing about in Mhles. For producing a model, fhewing an eafy method of preventing the necefilty of horfes turning about in drawing water from deep wells; the gold medal, or forty guineas.

To be produced on the firft Tuctday in Fibruarv, 1797.

2:7. Luring Rocks. For difco. vering a more expeditious merhod than any in ule of boring rocks in mints, &ic. ; the gold medal, or forty guineas.

Cerificates and defcription of the method to be produced on the firt Tuefday in January, 1797.

218 Cieansing Chimneys. For the beft apparatus for cieanfing $&$ imneys from foat, and preventing shildren being employed within the flues; the gold me. tat. or forry guineas.

The apparatus and certificates to be produced on the third Tuefday in Jaouary, 1797.

EREMIUMS

$33^{5}$ Premiums for the Britifh Colonies.-Neu's from Gazettes. [Apri

PREMIUMS OFFERED FOR  Accounts and certificates to be produce

THE ADVANTAGE OF THE british colonies.
219. Nutmegs. Fer ten pounds weight of nutmegs, the growth of his Mozets's dominion in the Weft Indies, or Africe, the goid meddl, or one hendued guingas.
Certhicates to be produced on the firt Tueflay in December, :796.
zzi. Cinkamon. Fer twenty pounis Werghts, the grewth of the ellands in the Weit ladies, or the fertlemens: in Atrica belonging to the crown of Geat Britein, imperied in 170 fi, the guld medal, or fifty gu reac. Samples to be produced on the fiff Tuefday in janury, 179 .
223. Cloves. For tiventy pouads reight, the grouth of the inands in the Weit ladies, or fettiements in Affica beBonging to the Crown of Great Batain, imported in 1727; the gold medal, or fity guineas.
Samples and ce tificat's to he produced on the forlt Tuet tay in Jinuary, 1798.
225. Brizad-Fruit Tree. For a plantation of hot fefs than one bundred Oread fruit trees in anv of the colonies of the Weft Indies, or Africa, futjeet to the Crown of Griac Bitain ; the gold nerdal, or thirty guineas. on the firt Tuefday in Jansary, 1797. 229. Kalifor Barilla. For cul tivating two acres of land in the Wel Indies, or Africa, with Spanifl Kali fo making barilla; the gold medal, or $\mathbf{3}$ guineas.
230. For one acre, the filyer medal, e fifteen guineas.
Certificaies to the produced on the fe cond Tuelday in November, 1795 .
235. Discovery of a Passag from Canadatothe Suta Sea To elic perton who fat a dificever a pat fage from Upper Canada to the Sout' Sea; the gold medal.
236. Destrgying the Insec caliefj the Borer. For difover ing an ctfeetual method of delifroving th intect callied, in the Weft India iflands e Atrica, the Forer, to defructive to th fugar-cane; the gold medal, or fift guineag.

Thic difcotery to be afcertained, an delivered, with certificates, to the Societ on the firt Tuelday in January, 1797.
238. Botanic Garden. For ir clowing and cultivating five acres in th Bahama illands as a tootanic garden; th gold teetal, or onc hundrud guineas.

Gertificales to be produced on or be fore the firft Tuefdav in January, 1797

IN RELLIGENCE oy IMPORTANCE from the LONDON GAZETTES.

Morfe-Guards, Motch 3 r. By difpatches Erom Major-Generat Stuart, commandus his Wajefty's and the Eaft ludia Company's smops in the inand of Ceylon, dated Trincomalée, ORuber 10,1795 , received by Mr. Dund is, it appears that the fort of Ratticalne, in that inand, furrendered en the $1 \mathrm{Sth}_{\mathrm{h}}$ of Seprember to a detachment under the command of Major FraS:1, of the 72 d iegiment. That, on the 3.th of the fame momb, Gentral Stuart entionked foom Timionmale, with a confiderabe detachment of ter's and artillery, on boatd of the Centhrom man of war, the Ronthy frigote, the R momay fore Whip, and the 3 , allow ind J ha packets, and on the $2-1$ din dimharial the trong's at Font Pedo, sbou 24 mies from J ffenajetty': fhup Hoh...s, wha a pat of the $52 d$ seame Ne, under the wontwad of the Hom. Cent. Nhonfon (on then etand from Pont Pearo (o Tt acan, 'e ), wok pollemon of the finetay and on lat ry patt of siobletrate and that, on the ath of the trme rowited tar Cot is fonlut, whom Ge-with the flank companies of the $72 d$ regi ment, and two companies of Sepovs, im mediately on has having obtamed poffefito of Jaffiapatam.

A letter from Colonel Praithwaite dated Aldra!, ORober : $7,179 \%$ an bounces the furrender of Malacea, ant its dependences, on the $r$ th of Augilt to the troops fent on that fervice, unde the command of Major Browne.

By dupatches from Beasal, it alfo ap pears, that Chufural and its dopendencie have been taken, and that the Dutch force at thofe fettlements are prifoner of war.

Aimiralty-Office, AP ${ }^{\prime}$ 5. Letter fron Rear-Admiral kamier, dated on-hoard hi Nugety's fip Sulfolk, 11 M Matras Rond the $15^{\text {th }}$ of OCtuber, 1.05 , to Evan Ne pean, eig.
sir, Yeferday, on the point of failing 1 rocerved the inclofed letter and papea fram Copt. Newcone, giving an accomp of inspraceedings, and particulaly of th fuccefs of the expeditiont, under his ow and Mayn Bowne's onders, of the Hs worabic Company 's inknty; againft M: lacen, this plase beng now in the potie fatio of the Britifh thopts. If feet a mol the of odmary balisiactum in aris maket is event for their Lordfhips information, ; on account of the original force deftined ir that fervice being reduced, my expections were lefs fanguine; and its lofs of eat importance, from the fecurite therey afforded to the tracic of his Majelty's ibjects in the ftreights of M.Hacca atid the binefe feas. Beins douhtrul of the proriety of my conduat, in not havins corsponded with the Right Honomable lenry Dundas on the fubject of the late speditions, in which I co-operated in suncil and execution, in uhedencer to 1e. King's orders, by him tianfinited, ad as therein preferibed (not having then ven received ther Lordhips drections , to do, and which are flo filen on that eadd), I have to request you will pleale to itercede with ther Lor dthips to we their Afluence to remove any culpabilty thit tay reflect upon my contuot fir this miffion; in which, if i have ereer, it as heen through defeet of inftructoms, ad my inexperience in the rectipt of ch kind of orders. On the fuccefs of his Iajefty's arms at Trinconde and Fort noftenherg, and on receiving the account f the fame from Malacca, l took upon me ; order falutes to be fred by his Majofly's uips then in port ; and on the I 3 th intam, - the fuggettion of niy load Hobart, i irected Capt. Lambert, of his M.jofly's iip Suffolk, to fine feveary-eight guns, meral-wifc, on the melancholy occafion If the death of his Maifleg's fantholally, is Highncfs the naboh 11 allija:h, bate naob of the Curnatic (the fort of SL. George, $y$ his Lordhip's orders, paying the fome onours), that panticular nomber of guns eing apponted as correfponding to thofe f the years of tis the hishors's age; hich, I truft, their Lordhaips will aprove, and nutify to the Buarl of Ordance, to be allowed in the feveral guners orthly expences. Pieafe to acquaint aeir Lordmips, that the Prefidency here ave juft recenved accomats of the furrener of Manar, in the gutph of the fame ame. I have the honoar to be, &c.

996]. Interefing Intelligonce from the London Gazettes.

Peter Rainier.

Sir, 1 arrived here on the 15 th inttant with his Majefty's thip under my comand, the Ewer and Carnatic tranfports, nd a part of the convoy, having parted ompany with his Majefty's fhip Refiftance, In the night of the $1 z^{2} \mathrm{t}$, between the andhends. Cappt. Paiketham joined comany again in the Malaccat road on the $1^{\text {-th }}$ o the morning. By the inclofed letters, ou will fee that we are obliged to corranence hoftilites, which began by the Reifance fring a few guns at the Conftantia Gent. Mag. April, 1796 .
(a Dutch Indiaman run into the mud), which the returned by fing two guns, and then friking lier colours. From the great amikance .rifided nie by the boats from the China Fleet, \&c. I was enabled to land all the troops, wish two fix-pmaders, at the fame time. They lef the fhips at foven P. M on the $\mathrm{g} \boldsymbol{\mathrm { th }}$, and reached the shore by mino P.M. At h lf pait nine P. Mf, an wificer canale on-bard the OrFhets fiom the govenor, to farrender the place on our term"; they th $n$ deli ered nver St. John's puit, a commanding work, weit fom mined with cathem, ab ut 300 yaris from the fort, and 200 foom the phace of con'e-ence, to a fubsitern wist a party of our grenanma; and we entered the font with the ramander of the Britifh detachment. The garafon teng thas completely in our power, and unconditwandly, farther than the fechrity of property, the Dutch guards were acmited to remain armed at their polts, unt.i the Governor, whon we hem accompanie! to his houfe, gave, in his owis henl-writing to Major Beowne, a deral if the gurds, whith were then refieved by the Britifh troops. From the anstor defre of complying with his Majeity's orders, we have agreed to the enchufed capitula iona, and every thing now appeats perfectly $\mathrm{g}^{-r e t, ~ a n d ~ a l l ~ p a r t i e s ~}$ revonciled. I have the nonows to be, \&c.

Henry Newcome.

Iterfe-Guat ds, Aprili6. Extract from a 1:tter, dated Calcuta, December 15, 1795, received by the Rt. Hon. H. Dundas, from Maj. Gen. Sir Robrrt Ahercromby, K. B. Commander in Chef of His Majefty's and the Eaft lidia Company's forces in Bengal."I have the bonour to inturm you, that Major Petrie, foom after the furrender of Cochan, detached a force againft the Dutch fort of Qulon, and the:r factories of Porca and Quiton Quilon in the Travancore combry. They were delivered up wihout refiltance; and we ste now in polfenion of all their feddements on the continent of India."

Aimiraty-Office, Ipil 15 . Extract of a letter from Sar Edw.ru Pelew, Bart Captain of his Majelt,'s lhp Indetatigable, to Mr. Nepen, dated of Quiberon, April 9 , 1795.
": On the 2oth ultimo we chafed three corvettes, one of which, La Volase, of 26 guns, we drove on thure, under a battery in the mouth of the Lovire, and difmaited her; but the was afterwards got off. In this affair the Amazon had four men wounded; the other twu fhips got into the Loire. We have alfo captured and det'ruyed the veffels as per inclofed lift."

Lift of the Ghips and veifel, referred to in the above extract ; viz. Brig in ballaft, chaffe marée empty, bris laden with empty cafks, names
names unkbown, funk. Favourite Sultana, brig, laden with Salt ; Friends, brig, laden with flour, &c. ; Providence, ehaffe marée, laden with wine and brondy ; Four Marys, bris, in ballaft; Amiahle Jutine, brig, in balleft: La Nouvelle Union, brig, in balluft ; captured.

Ships of war from l'Orient to Breit. La Sagatie and La Eclatant, driven up the Loirs. La Volge, driven on Eare and difmatted, but was got off again.

Horfe Guards, April 23. Letters, of which the following are a copy and an extract, have heen received by the Rt. Hen. Henry Dundas, from Major-Gcneral the Earl of Balcarres, Lieutenant-Governor of Jamica.

I had the honour to inform yon, by my difpatch of Dec. 30, 1795, that I had ensered into a treary of peace with the Trelawuey Maroms. Two of the articles were very mportint, manely, the furrender of themfelves and arms, and their giving up all the runaway faves who had panted them in rebelloon. Nowwithmanding the treaty, I had wot the imalluft confidence in their fincerity, and every meparation wis made to cestinue the war with unabated vigour. Three weeks bating elapied without any apparent intention, on the part of the Marooas, to folfit the &reaty, I ondered the Hon. M:jor-General Walpote to move forward, on the 14 h inftant, with a ferons colum of egular sroops. He had uniy alonced fome yards when a meffige was deliverod from the Maroon chief, begging that no fasther hoftile ftep mould be take. A we had experienced mach duphits ond evafiom, it was juiged expedient to nove flowiy on, and the line of march was fo arranged as to give the Marwos an oppertunity of coming in widh fafety. This had the defired effect. The Maroons, th the number of 500 , furrencered themielvec, and were condueted within our pofts. lichnding thofe whom I had formerly fewred, I have in my poffeffion near 600.; 30 Misroon men, and 100 women, and chatiren, fill rem in out : of this number feveral men are fevere:y wounded, and nthers fick. I do not cumpute the effective Maroon wat. riors now in rebellion to excecd 14, and the fe afe aquad to co ae in, Irom a confcioufocts of thrir crimes. The siaton rebellion I think is drawing to a clofe; and a fubfantial proof of my affertion is, that pubiic credit, which was deftroyed by this revint is now comp.etely reftored. The general opmon is, that property has acquire I a degiee of fecurity which it never beretofore had in this illand. His Niajefty's forces, regulars and militia, have fought the rebels in more than iwenty actuals: They have been impelled by one fentiment, that of cruming a moft dar ing, unprovoked, and ungrateful rebel lon. I thould incleed find it a moft ar duous takk to detail individual merit. Th effur's of the whoie community have bee directed to bew their attachment to $h$ Majefty ; and to maintain his governmet and their own happinefs aganft all bar ditti whatfoever. 1 muft, however, nt commend to his Majefly's notice the Hon Maj. Gen. Walpole; and I am prondt fay, that much is ouing to his perfon activity and excellent conduct. Our fu cefs, though great, is not without its allo The Alaroon reb. Is, like to other rebel have found it eafier to raife rebellion tha to quell it. Runaway fases are fill the wowds, to the number of nearly 15 ill-armet, and with very hatle ammun tron. Their reduction may take fon time, and create further expence and us eafmefs to the country; but they met the lefs confideration, as I am happy give the mof unqualified afmances of $t$ excellent and peaceable difpofitions of $t$ negio flaves thronghout the iflam. I has the hemour, &c.

Palcarri Extraf of a Letter from the Eal of Balcar to Mr. Sec. Dse: Lis, Fob. $15,1796$.
My letter of fom. 3 a appized you, th 30 Matom mer, ahd 100 women a chithen, remand out in rehellion. have now the homour to mform you, th: after b.ving iweft ctially fearched 1 them from f. ur diffrent points, 43 me bave furrendered themfelve, of whict: are fout able Marom men. The M:roe now out confift of $2:$ men, and 63 wom and cinktren.

Horje Giuntis, April: 3 . Difpatches ha th is day been recerved by the Rt. Ho Hen.y Dund s, one of his Majelty's pil cipal Secretartee of State, from Maj-Gi Leigh, dated at Martioique, Jan. 27, a Barbatoes, Manch 10, 1796 : hy the fi mer of which it appears, that, on Jan.: the enemy at St. Vincent's made an atta on the Brituh poft at Millaras Rud which they continued with great violet from daylight wntil it was quite dark, I were finally icpulfed with confidera lofs, after tuice attempting to carry rodubit. At the commencerrent of ation Lieut. Col. Prevoft, having advan with a view of furprifing an advan picket of the enemy, was twice wound but is not thought to be in any ding The behaviour of this oficer, of $N$. M•Leod, of the 59th, who commandec Millar's Kidise and of the other offic is mentiones by Gen. Leigh in the ftrong terms of commendation. The total of the Britifh during the action was $t$ ferjeants and 22 rank and file killed; Liaut.-Col. (Fievolt), two ferjeants, 31 rank and file, wounded. By the ; patch of March 10 it appears, that $M$

Wright, of the $25^{\text {th }}$ regiment, who commanded at Phlot's Hill, in the ifond of Grenada, was obliged to abandon that pofition, and fall back to the poit of Sateur, on the night of the 22 thiof February. Is is fated, that the want of water, of which the fupply hail been entirely cat off by the enemy, rendered this retrest necelfary, and that it was effected in and order, with the lofs of only two provates hadly wounded. Previnus to the retreat, Maj. Wright had teen fiequantly attacked by the enemy withont fuccels. His h on thefe berafians was: $25^{\text {th }}$ regiment-2 rank and tie kilied; 2 ditte wonnter. Black raugers-8 rank an 1 f.te killed; 10 ditto wounded; 2 dittes mifing.

Aimiralt; Office, Ap,il23. Extract of a letter from A imital Pevtin, C mamater in Clief of his Mubel?y's thips and vetcls in the Down, os Fan Nepent, Fig. Secreary to thic Admiraty, dited on board the Savage fomp, April 21, 172 f.

I have eccived a letter from Capr. Roe, of his Majetty's flomp Racoor, whrinting me he had t.ken, on the conit of France, a French Jurger privateer, with 13 men, arged with blumerbuifes and mufguets, which bad been out from Datakirk five days, but hat taken nothug.
Extract of a Letter from Rear Almiral Parker,
Conmander in Cbief of bis Majify's Ships and Viffels at Fiumaica, to Evar Nepein, Efg. duted Suififiure, at the Mole, Tel. 29, 1796.

The Hon. Capt. Carpenter, of his Majefty's fhip Intrepid, bemg fationed to cruize off Otd Cape François, for the reinforcements expected from Cork, foll in with a lirench frigate, which, after ten hours chace (the latter part being very light airs of wind), The firt anchoted, and afterwards, by their cutting her cahles, drove on fore, in a cove a litt'e to the Eaftward of Porto Plata, when the crew ahandoned her, and the was taken potferfron of and got off, without damage, by Capt. Carpenter. It appears by the 1 ligbook that the is called La Perçante, commanded by Citoven Jacque Clement Tourtellet, Lient. de Vaifiean, mounting twenty nine-pounders and fix brafs two-ponaders, and had on board near two hundred men, difpatched by order of the Minafter of Marine and Colonies, and failed from Rochelle the 6th of December laft, with orders not to be fpoke with, nor to fpeak with any thing.

Alniralty Cffice, April 26 . Evtrast of a lette: from Sir Edward Pellew', Captain of his Majerty's fhip Indefatigable. to Mr. Nepeai, dated at Fatmouth, April 20, 1796.

I have the pleafure to inform their Lordthips that, on the $3^{\text {th }}$ inft. at four E. M. we fell is with, and gave seneral chacs to, a French frigate to windivard. The Revolutionaire, being far aftern, was tacked by fignal to cut the chace from the fore; and I had the pleafure to fee her, jut before dark, in a fination to weather the enemy upori a different board, which obliged her alfo to tack. The night fitting in clouly, we loit fight of the chace before o o'clock, when the bore un, bat not unubferved by that zealous and attentive officer, Captain Cule, who purfied and clofed with her at half paift eleven; and not being ahie to pievail upon her commander to furrender whout refiftance, he epened a clofe and well-directed the upron her, which was faintly returned; ant, after a fecoul broadfile, the eneay frack, and proved to by the national frigte La Unité, from L'Orient to Rochfor, mounting 38 guns, twelve and fix-nounders, and manned with 255 men, eight or nine of whom were fain, and tleven or twolve defperately wounded. La Revolutonnaire hoppily had nos men burt; and it appears that the was maneavel by Capt. Cole in the mott othi-cor-like mamer, and the attack made with great gallantry. I have the honour th inclofe the report which he has made of the gnod conduct of his officers and fhips company upon this necafion: and, from the high terms in which he fpeaks of his firft lieutenant, Mr. Ellientt, who I know to be a grod officer, I liave thought proper to give him an order to command the prize to Ensland. La Unité was reputed one of the greateft failers in the French mavy, and is a very fine frigate, on!y fever years old. The wife of the Governor of the port of Rochfort, Madane de Large and her family, were on boand, who, with her fon, an enfign of the hip, Ifufered to return to France in a neutril veifle, taking the parote of the young man not to Serve mentil exchanged.

La Revolitionnaire, at Su:, Apriliz.
Sir, It baing io taik uhlien I came alonggie the Frena: frig:te La Unité, thac yuu could not obferve the conlued of the two thips, I heg leave to repert to you, that not being able to premal upon hee commander, c:tizen Durms, to furrender, after fome minutes converfation, $\mathbb{E}$ opened a clofe and well directed fre upous him. Atter we had fuftained the fire of his ftern-chafes forne time, and upon tiring the fecond broanlide, he called out that he had truck. I had at the farne moment directed the helm to be put to port, in order to board lim, as the fipss were going under a prefs of fail, at the rate of ten knot, and drawing neaz the thored Allow me, si:, to exprefs to you how much I feel my felf obliged to nty firflieutenant, Edward Ellicott, for his very particulat attention in teeping fight of the chace, and for his fteady and maxaly coumrage when g'fe sngigod. The chearful-nefs with which he put himfelf at the head of the tnarters promifed me the happien fuccefs, if that vent had been neceffary, and which was only fopped hy Whe enemy's call ne to fursender. In this thort conteft, the handt prafe is due to my officers and mip's company, and the effer of their fteaty combet is friking in the number of killed and wounded, of which a lint is amexed. I cannot fonficiently exprefs my own good fortune in not tirve foft an chier or man, which is is to te a tributed to the eremy's funing attlemattandrimginr. Tam, \&c J. Cole.

L'Unité, Citizin Durand, commander. Killed $(-$ vonnded 1 r .
Tollofaticatle, Falmath, Atril2 $23,17,5$.
$s_{11}$, 1 have a mut ferible pleafinion defiriog yout to infinm nuy Lords Commiffronere of the Admitally of ray owtion at this per, accomparied bey the erench wational frigate ba Virgine, of 44 gims, tighten and nimponturere, and $\mathrm{j} \mathrm{p}^{2}$ men, commanded by ciliza Bergeret, Capitaine de Vointan, who falled from bret fiagly, four cays aso, to cruize off the Iizand ia this favonite frigate, whirh is mnfdered the fone flop and satieft failer in the French navy, and of the Sargent dimenfions, being 158 feet lung, and 43 broad. On we'neflay morning, the zoth infant, aftc: i had feated ny difpatches for the t Lordfips, bying to uncer the Lizard, with the forsadron, waiting for the Vr minh frizate La Unite, our prize, to weather that point, I ohferved a thip coning in from the fea, wheh, $n$ toy mind, looked rather forpicious; and, on her not anfwering the private fighal, when the tacked from us, I immeriarety gave chace to her, aecompanied by the Amazan and La Concode (having by fignal directed La Kevohtiomaire to aucod her prize into pors, and the Argo to moceed to Plymou:h). Tiso fuperior failng of the Indefatigeble gave me the fati faction of comiag ip with her, after a chace of fifteen hours, and rumning one handred and fixty-eight mi'es. Fortunately the wind prevented her from fteering for Lhant, or he nowt have cifapel. A Jittle paft midnight i conmenced action with the enemy, which was clofely continued, under a crowded fall, for one sour and forty-five minutes. The enemy, who fought gallantly, was by this time mach crippled, her mizen-maft and moin-sop-maft being thot away; the Indefatigable was not much lefs difabled, having fult her gaff and mizen-top-man, the main top-fail was rendercd ufelefs by an unlucky fiot cutting both leech-ropes. In this fituation we paffed the enemy without the power of avoiding it, having no after-fail to back, and I had long difion vered we had not only to combat a hip of large force, but that her commander w compistely mafter of his profeffion, whofe prefence I could not commit $m$ felf with impunity, by throwing my fo: in the wind, withont fubmitting to 1 raked by him. She had not at this tirg ftruck, and we kept clofe a head of he receiving new braces to enable us to brir the mip to, to renew the attack. At th period La Concorde appeared in figh clofe under her ftern; and, upon the ent my feeing her, the fired a gun to leewar and fruck her light, as a fignal of fay render. Athough a very few minotu would have placed the Indefatigable aga: alongtide of her, I am contident the wou not have furcendered without farthern firpuse, had not the Comeorde fo time cume op. I am extremely indebted 1 Captan: Hunt and Reynolds, for the very patizular attention in keeping aftt ws himing the night on fo many courfe which nothing but the moft delicate of fervance of my fignals would have enable them to do, their diftance aftern being : great. Their Lordhips are well awa how difficult it is in a night action, wit a Hying enemy, whofe rate of failing littic intertor to her antagonift, to choo her fituation; and, when it is remembe $e d$ how often this fhrp changed her's intt acion, I need fcarcely fay what great a teption was paid to my orders by even officer under my command. To Lieuti s.ants Pellowe, Thomfon, and Norway, $n$ thanks are above expreftion. Lieut. Wi liame, of the marines, and Mr. Bell, th mafter, who were immediately about m perion, rendered me the utmoft effenti fervices. The fhip's oompany, who hav been thy faithfol companions during th wir, anci are endeared to me by their un form exertions, manifefted on this occafio nothing but ardour and zeal. But abor all other pleafures I feel is that of inform ing their Lerdhaips, that I have loft neith officer nor man in the conteft. The ent my fotiered coniderably, having 14 or 1 killed, 17 badly wonnded, and 10 nightly the fhip much hattered in her hull, an four feet water in ther hold, from fho boles. I bave fent La Concorde to Ply mouth, with La Virginie, and thall procee with the Amazon, who lass loft her hear for the fame place, themarrow, in ordt to :epair the damage we have futained i the action. I am, \&cc. Enw. Periek Eiztract of a litter from Pite Aimiral Murra: Commentice in chief of bis Majefy's Sbid and veljels in North America, to Eva Nopear;, Ffq. Siuretary of the Admirally.
On the rith intant arrived 16Aura (French corvette), prize to his Majefty thip Cleopatra. Ste had only fifty me on board when taken.

Athiralty-Opfice, April 26. Copy of Letter from Commodore Sir John Borla!

Warren, K B. to Evan Nepean, Eiq. dated on board his Majefty's thip La Pomone, at fea, the Sth of April, 1796.

I beg yon will inform their Lordmips, that, on the rith inflant, Le Rec du Ruz bearing N.E. hy E. feveral fal wote ieen in the N.E. !nartur ; and, upon the fignal for:e genertal chace being mide, st was foon perceived that they were a forall convoy fanding throtish the ftrwis between the Saints and the Continent. As the weather appeared fettled and fine, I c $\operatorname{mo}-$ fidered that it was a proper opportunky to ohtain a knouledse of the paliage, amd continued wort:ing through, wath the twle in our favour. after them; bot thewnd falling when we were in the bay on the other fide, I found it was impolithle to cut off the bris who elcorted then, ar fis ftood clofe in towards Camaret Pont, at the entrance of the Gowiet going up to Breft, and among the rocks. Tha boats of the fipuadron however captured the veffeis in the inclofed hif, who are all haden with corn and Rom. A flosp belurghs to the convoy for off with the corvult, which I underitand was Le Voltigeur, of 16 gims.
Veffils bitonging to the French Repallic, captured by the B:ats of the squation unuce we Command of Sir Gokn Barlafe Wrartn, K. P. witbin the Saints on the conde of Ficarce, on the 7th of Atpril. 1796.

A brig, La Marie, of St. Maloe's, 150 tons, luden with wheat; a brig, neme unknown, roo tons, laden with Hour; a brig, mane anknown, imo tons, laden with wheat ; floop, name noksown, 7. tons, haden with wheat, ; fent to England. A brig, name unknown, laden with wond and wine, foutted and funk. 1 have the honctar to be, &c. J. B. Wazaen. Almiralty-nffice April 25, 1745. Extract of a Letter from Conmodore Sn Joton Borlare Warren to Evan Nepran, IEf. Lated on howl his Majofty's thip L. Pomone, ofit the S.ints, the 16th of 1 ter yon will inferm their Lordmine. that, on the r-ih inftant, at eleven P. A. a fait hens diowered in the N. E. ylarte. I intructurty gave chace, and at thite A. M. Tr une up with her io this faiv: कne proves to be La Robute hip corvecie, muanting :2 ghns and 145 men, jut come from sith, hound to l.Orient. I e fequalde, untion an comand alfo capon the : gtu miftant.

FOREIGN NEW'S.
Extrata fism tle Specol of Pe:cr Paulus to the Batariun Nuational Afimbiv.
Citizen Reprefentatives: 1
The day fo long defired appears then at laft, in which a National Affembly, convoked by the whole Batavian peorp!e, begins its fittings! this grand, this clorims day, in which the genera! interett", and the deareft intercfes, of this tame people, will he difcuffed open!y, and, as it were, in its very prefence, and will no more, as heretofore, be fubjested to everinting deliberations! this day then at laft appears, which the greateft of our ancefturs siefired, but of which they never dared to thone che real exikence, beculufe they comblored it as the indubitable ditwn of true libetiv and indepencence, as wel! exterion as hrerint, and confequently of io great happiwets and fo great national 1 rofperity, that it icemal ton grand and too bribiont ever to falito the lot of this people; and confequaty they confiued themfelves to the defue. We therefore have advanced farther, in the fpace of a little better than a year, than our forefathers have seen able to do in more than two ages. We havo feen the extcutive power of this councry inflitated in a fimple and nomform mananer in all its parts: we have fen it freed from the obatacles and delays with which its admimitration was for mert; fhackled; its direttion of the military efonhlifhment, together with all which neceffarily depeads on it, was fo much divided as to be inc pabe of numer of Govenment: and the admataly, wria the diretaon of the imporant pontefions behonging to the fate in the two thtme, was leparated into as many parts, vitun no concent, as there wersediteres, chmone or colonies, in Amer ca, to fuch a depere, that nothing good arald be expeete! trom it. We have feen the promencial soverament of the difietent conatries efthathe: upen a timple and iadivighle foutins; the courts of juit ce refurmel, and the famia. tions laid ugon whide the fupen ीruchure then was wimpleceital hamed, we have feen, but rot without buy dolibe:aion, the work crowned hy the appointment ans eitathinment of a natual ateminy.

1 can then, chizen repretuatives, frace you have heel piealud to name me the fint perident of this affemhly, fiacerely congatulate you and the whole wation that yon reprefant, upon fo imporsant an event, Wheh our encmies, interad and external, hase forefech wih fear and dfonay; to fuch a degree, that they have negien. 4 nothing to tou us fiom it, and to make wife, on the contrary, of the only means of fatev that semained to ws in the circumftances we furad ourfolves, to divide nis, and the to kitide in the midat of us a cival war, which would inevit.hly hring on our total dettruction. They have buen unable, shomgh the direction of da adorable provadence, to fuccerd in then bule defigns, fince ali our provinces and our countries have folemuly confented to the fitting of this affembly, asd thefe amongat them which were at firk intimidated by the novelty of the thing, and the grand overthrasy it would bing ahout of the anrent government, have notwithotanding finatly accedad to it, eisher through the convichon of what wrould neceffatily have t.ken phace, or thongh defertace to the opinon of their allie, ,-a prorf that although the comfeterates, who it genctal lowe their counsry, may fometimes differ as to the mens of faving it. yet in the end fee the nerefity of making their particular vieusgive wa; to the general mitereft of the nerpie.

As fur as concerns múel?, citizen reprefentatives, face ycu have done me the honour in nam: the the prefident of this affemhiy, four ature you, 1 will exert ail my efforts to worik with y u to this effect, to aid, to diset your delitorations and your refolutions, fo that they may attain the propofed'end, and that the whole work may be happily finimed. I cannot ahitain from remak king here, that, although infinitely fenflhe to the diftionthang natk of confilence with which you have bern nieafed to honour me, and by which you feem to intend placing the feal of your approbation on the part I have had in the conduct of aftims fince the revolution, and although 1 am entrely ready to anroier the confidence you have placed in nie, it will often happen that you mant take the will for the deed, and fapport $m y$ weakneffes and my defults; becaufe the year juft finthed has fo much wafted my Arength by the weight of the burden, that I am not in a fituation to fupport a fimilar load. I prombe tolemnty to aid in prorecting and memtaininer, by atl porfible means, the d:guity and authority of this allemby, as well within the walls as withRut, daring, the time of my prefidency. Ard I tonft myfeif in this refpect to your encouragentent and powerful protcelion. And thon, all-good and heavenly God! bountiful father of all creatures, amift us all in the performance of the duties impofed on us! grant us thy powerful presection, that we may lay fome fones of the auguit edifice of liberty, which has been conftructed, or is now conftructing, in America, in France, here, and elfewhere! May we never want a Wafhingcon, a Pichegru, a fourdan, a Morean, or other heroes, to protect our liberty and our country without, both by fea and by land! Make every thing concur to the asvancement of the national happinefs of this people! accept favourably the folemn offering we make thee of their grattude for the poffetlion of fo many bleffings ! and may the fincere vow we now make between thine hands be agreeable to thee,
"that we will fave our country, or die our pofte!"

Conflantinuple, Murcb I. The meafu of the Porte appear to he of a nature $\mathrm{c}_{\text {: }}$ culated to give great uneafinefsto thofew fear a new war. Thirty or forty thoufa: infant y have received ordersto march it mediately to the envirors of Adiamopl the one half of thefe troops have the drawn from Albanie, and the other frr Maredonia, and other Furopean provinc Thefe corps are expected to be at the places of tentezvous by the beginning April. A body of A fiatic cavalry, tog ther with four companies of artillery; a twenty field-pieces, have this day a paffed this city for the fame deftinatic They have, for a long time, been exe cifed under the direction of Chmotian ficers. The new Beglibrg, of Romel has departed at the fame time, at the he of 3000 Tanifaries, infructed in the ne taktics, in learnirg of which they ha ficwn great docility.

Marib 2. A confiderahle fleet is pr paring to be in a fate of eadinefs to ob the firft orider. It will be immediately p under the command of the Grand Admir It will confift of fourreen frips of the tir and eigl: frigates, befides other veffe Some think it will cruize in the Archip tago, while others affirm it will be fent in the Black Sea. Tlis laft opinion is the me common.

The Perfinnc, 3 fer having invaded Gec gia, and torn in peces four hondred Rr fians, that the Prince Heraclitus had call to his affitance, feems inctined to mar ftill forward on the territories of the Rut fian Empire. Thefe movements cann fail of bejng agreeable to the Otoman M niftry, who will no doubt with to enga: the Perfians againf the common enen The Porte has granted on the Venetia permiffion to pafs the Darrdanelles, an the fea of Minmora, and to anchor in tl canal of Confantimople with fhins of wa

The Dociors of the Laws of Nahom have prefented a memorial to the Grat Segnior, in which they reprefent it as a di grace to fend Ambaffadors to Chrifti Courts. Accurding to the political and r ligions priticiples of the Sublime Porte, may recere from, but it cannot rend homage to Chriftians.

Genca, warch 10. The commotio which have prevailed for fome time pa in Sardinia, have affumed the moft ferio afpect. The infurrection againft the at tient government has hecorne general. TI penple of Cagliari having maffacred th General of the troops, as well as the Inte1 dant General of the Finances, in Sardini created a provifionary Council of Goverı ment. They difmified all foreigners, at ouly permitted fuch of the troops to 11 main in the inand as took an oath to obe e chief whom they fhould elect. Deuties were fent to the King, to claim the ights and privileges of the Sardmans; but, oot receiving a fatisfactory anfiwer, the eople determined on a revolution. The ,iceroy was, indeed, received, hat withInt being pernitted to exercife his authoity. The pepular Councal continuel, anu till continue, to regulate every thang and he inhabitants of the towns in the inten or If the inand took up ams, and iefufed to bey the orders of the Viteroy. The own of Oriftano atopted the fame fyste n; o thet Satfuri alone preferved its attachnent to the ancient gavernment. The gorernor, the archbihop, and the nobles of jalfarı, unites to oppofe the inforgents; and the duke of Ar nara, by dint of money, wice apperted the porar infuretum, which iended t: a complete revolution. At length Mundi, the Joriconfult, repaired oo Cagliari, and, afte. at ierence with he imiurgents, .ecurned to S.thari, and perfuaded the mhabitats of the cometry to fecond his projects. They accordingly arfembed, to the anount of 10 or 12,000 men, marched to the walls of Satitit, and attempled to force one of the gates of the town; but, having reen repulfed, they laid wafte all the weib! bomsing country. The governor, however, fearmg that the people, who lad hitherto remained tuanquif focetators of there commorions, might fimall be induced to take pars in the n, propafed to admit the briegers into the town, and carried his point, in (pite of the archbithop, the cildigy, and the nobles. The iufurgents were no fomer in the town than Hey put the governor and the archbifhop under arreft, and lent them in irons to C .gliari. Upwards of 40 families left Salfari, and the people adopted the form of government eftahlifhed at Cagliari.

796.] Interefing Intelligence from the Continent, Eaft Indies, E゚c. 34.3

Vienna. On the prefentation of the Princefs Royal of France a particular circle had been formed for the to!emnity, and the court was as numerous as it was trilJiant. Thie Emprefs prefented the Princefs to the ambaffadors and their ladies, and to certain ladies of the firlt rank. After which, the other minifiers and notitity were, in their turn, prefented to her Royal Highnefs, by the Grand Miftrefs of ther Im. peial Majefty's Court, by the Grand I reafurer of the Court, Count Dietrichfein, and by Prince Gavres, Governor of the Princefs's Court. Every thing betrayed the fentiments of the feart, the fweeteft affections of the mind, the pureft and moft affectung fenfibility. The Emperor found himfelf there as a fatlier, who enjoys the triumph of his children, and who is rendered bappy by the happinefs which he confers. The fatisfaction which at this moment was experienced by the precious orphan, the warthy object of his generofity and tenderners, the marks of affection which her Royal Highnefs received from ail the mobilliy, enclaanted this benevolent prince. The Empreis thated the fentiments and delight of her auguit confort. The tear of denfiblity dione down her cheek. The Archowthefs Marime, tirearchdutcheflos Clementina and Amelia, weie neither leis atledtes, nor lifs gratified. The Princefs of France exoeded the genesal expectation on this occafon. Her benuty, her fenflutity, her grace, her affability, and eafy deportment, excitel at oace furprze and admiration. Her very coufution, when the firit appeared, ferved to render her mure interefting. She faid the not fittering things to Fids Marfhals Lafcy, Clerfase, Cotloredo, a:rl Pelegrim, and to Come Tidutmanidurf. The Fiench emigrants were prefented to ber Royal Higheets by the Marquis de Gallo, the Neapoitan ambofador. They were fix in number: the Duke of Guiche, C.ym tuin of the Guards to Louis XVI. who diftinguine d hungelf on the th $^{\text {th }}$ of Octoher, 1-80; the $: 1$ :rquis de Riviere, the Blondel of his Muiter; Coant de Gourci ; Count de Merci; the Marquis de ia Vaupahere, and iA. Difchepar. Amongtt the other Fiench ard foremgers, who.were acknowledized by the trance.s, were the Duke of Richeben, Count de Fetien, the Chevader Mayer, fo well knowit for bis literary proluct:ons ; the bihop of Nanci, alike celebrated for in s vitues and his ta'ent; the Dutchefs de Guithe, whe the J tear's; the Comatels de $\mathrm{V}_{\text {dutionn }}$, and the Comer's D'Oudenarde. The prefence of thefe fathful and unfurtunate nobles contributed rot a lictle to render the ficene peculiarly ineretug.

East-India News.

Garjam, Fuly I , 1795. It is nearly reduced to a certainty, that a Mhratta war is not far diftant. Tippon, this nime, offers his alttance againt the:n, and his propofils are under confuleration. The Dutch and French have not now a fagle polteftion on the continent of India.

Irelard.

Dublin, March 2q. His Excellency the Lord Lieutenant, being this day feated on the throne, the Load Chancallor defired the Yeonan Uiher of the Black Rod to inform the Commons, that it was his Excellency the Lord Lientenamt's pleafore thas they thould attend him forthwith in that Houfe. The Commons, with ther Speaker, having attended at the bar of the Houfe, the fpeaker (on prefenting the money bills) delivered the following forech: " 1 hould feel a pride in repeating the feasiments of loyatty which diact the Commons in all their deliberations: but the bills of fupply which they now offer, dechare it more effectually than it is ta the power of any

344 Interejing Intelligence from various Parts of the Country. [Apr

languagato exprefs. We are a part of the Enipire ; we will fland or fall with Bitain: it is our repeatel, determined refolution ; and this bation will exett all its powers, a:3ll will catl forth all its reGuares, to fuppat with har the common caure, to uphoid the fafety of the laws, the reingom, and the cmintiuten, aganit the twerthrow which the prefent mnprovikel and unex mpled war amemp to thaten them with. Pace is sin othijet nold devoatly to be wimed ; tat an infecme petce is only a forotheren war-for a tafting and limatrabie one (and none can te luftur that is not honourabie), we look to the powe for impreffions which the :lbudar $t$ res, maces of the enpire, the vigour of his Majety's exertions, ath the condill coapersion of all his fubjucti, mant take on the comn:on eneary. Whe bare, accorciugly, whet an manimons vore, grantel tupplies to the vemot defire caphoffed thy his Majenty's minifters; and ní wing for we look with great fatiffiction en the encrey, wift mend cenn:omy, with whech tuc very libcral fupt hes of the !aff fellions have been auminitered ander your Excellency's genvetnment. The defence of the kiagdom has tad dee attention paid to t. The imrit of infumeation has ixen vesoroufly tuppreflad wherever it has apper red, and we have the ftr: ugeft hope, fom the vigiSance, the firmnei, and conciliaing moderation which have maked your lixcilency's conduct fince yemr antial in this kingtom, that, under the addicictal powes with which the laws of this fetion will Thie armed the mangitrates, it will be total y and tpeedily fubsiaed." His Exarilency, faving given the ruyal :ifent to the hills prefented, tetumed with his attendants.

Country News.

Maych 30 . As J. Lamafon, a promiring jouth, hetween 14 and 15 , apprentice at the de-lienfe of ivir. folan $B$ matel, in Exe-ifland, and fon of Mr. Lam fon, comfectioner, on the new bralge, Excter, had jutt turned the vater ppe hetoiging to one of the furnace, he fuddenly fell hackwards into a large copper of hot liquer, which borited over him twice hefore it was in the $p$ wer of human aifitance $t$. extrifite him from the terrid fituation into wfich he hat mantum toly planged. He was, when taken out, liternly flead alive; notuithtarding which, be livet percitly ferible, though and the now caconcatng formente, till shot icten in the camang.
 which was formerly devifed to the fecend poor of Friday on Wrasis, Fhth, : likely to prothce foch a quasiuy mot taad ore as whll purchafe the fee fimplect the whale parin. It was difowcred in dis.ing thones for a well, and is in fuch atmatance, up to the day, that enc man cleasel out inat a toin, in the courfe of twelve hours, lat weck.

A few days ago, as fome lahourers wem digging in a ganden at Fox-lane, near Not the buon, they difcovered fix human Nele twas inter, dopofited in regular arder, fide $b_{j}$ fate, and tuppr,fed to loe part if the fif teen forefiers that wete killed by that da fiag ontlan, Kohin dood, who haunter the foreft of Sherwond. Near the abow place uncienty ftond a chur h, bult in tha ently ares of Chiftanity, dedicated to St Mich el, which was twatly dempelimed a the Reformation ; and the parithioners on certain tmes repatr to chis place, to offe their retigious functions, as being fom conturies ago confecrated ground. Grea quanities of f urnan boose have heen found most of which were in a muthted fate alfo feveral Saxen and old Englifh cons viz. angels, marks, moblcs, &c. that denot it to have heen a piace of confeyuence, No doubt but are bons in cqueltion wes properly bured in St. Michatel's church yard, and are corjuctu: d to have been de petited above foo sears. What is remark Thle, the tecth appeared perfectly founi The proprietos of the garden very hu manely ondered the pit where the bone were found to be filled up, being com mendably mailling to difturb the relics o humanity, and fite ahos of the dead.

Apils6. Vati wontrageshave teencom mited in the neighthourlio kl of Ifinckley an lancoll, for fome tme patt, hy a fet ot mif creans, wher the title of the Come: So cicty; which have created the munt inde fatiguble afferions of the magulleates of th county.
$-x^{2}$ pil 20. A dreadfyl fire broke out a Frampen, Perfethare, which, in ator two bouns, near!y confumed the whole ( the tuildings Nortls of the church. Ver litule furniture was laved, fo that the inha bitams werte obliged to feek refuge in th neighboming parithes. This mosfortun is fuppoied to have heen occafioned $b$ fome fparks blown from the ?eads of th church, which was repairing by th plumber.

St. Noot's. A bed being on horfeback and the animal takug fright, was Jragge in the firmp and killed.

A polt-chaife, with three ladies thereir heing overtumed, and thrown down bark twenty-two feet nearly perpendicu lir, the ladtes were terrihle cut, an the chaife dafbed to pieces. This acciden which !appened be:ween Wifbeach au F1:, was in corequence of three driven racing on thic wadl: The poft-boy belong to the chaifer in which the ladics were, fee ing the carriage muft go down, very cart ditnomed and faved himfelf.

At Pcufi, Bucks, a fwan, while fil ting on bet egss on the fide of the rive obicived a rox fiwimming towards he om the oppofite fhore, and, rightly jixitsof the could encruanter the enerny beft in or own element, initantly darted into the arer, and, having theat off the fox fis a mfilerable time with her wings, atually cceeded in drowning him, to the attoihment of feveral perfons, fpectators of is fingular phremomenon.

HISTORICAL CHRONICLE.

bote tranfmitted to M. Bartbclimi, by Mr. Mickbam, Nuarcb S, 1796.
The uaderfignel, las Britannic MaAty's plenipotentary to the swifs Cantons, atthorized to convey to M. Birthelemi ie defire of his Couit to be made acnainted, through him, with the difpoliions of France in reg̃ad to the ohject of a eneral pacification; !e therefore requefs Anfieur bastacismi to tranimit to him a wrting (and after laving made the neeffaity enquirit) his anfwer to the folowing queftions.

1. Is there the difmoftion in France to pen a negotiation with his Majefty and is allies foc the te eftablifiment of a geferal peace upon juit and futable terms, w fending for that prepofe mimiters to a Songrefs at fuch place as may hereater. te agreed upon?
2. Would there be the difpofition to :ommunicate to the underfigned the geaeral grounds of a pacification, fuch as Frirce would be withong to propore; in order thit his Majel?y and has alles might hereupon examine, in coucert, whether hey are fuch as might ferve as the foundafion of a negotiation for peace?
3. Or woutd there be a defire to propofe any other way whatever for ariving at the fame end, that of a seneral pacification?

The underfigned is authorized to reseive from Montiear Barthelemi the anSwer to thefe queftions, and tranfmit it to his Cours: but he is not authorized to enter with hisin into negotiation or difcuffion upon thefe fubjects. (Signed)

Berne, Marcb8, ェ79i. W. Wickham.
Note tranfmittcil to Mr. IVickbam by M. Barrbclemi, March a6, 1796.
The underfigned, ambalfador of the French Repunlic to the Helretic body, has tranfmitted to the Execntive Directory the nute which Mir. Wickham, his Britamnc Majefty's miniter plenipotentiary to the Swifs Cantons, was pleafed to convey to him, dated the 8th of March. He has it in command to anfwer it by an expofition of the fentiments and difpofitions of the Executive DireEtory.

The Directory ardently defires to procure, for the Freach Republie, a juft, honourable, and folid, peace. The ftep taken by Mr. Wickham would have afforded to the Birectory a re il fatisfaction, if the dec!aration itfelf, which that minitter makes, of his not having any order, any power, to negotiate, did not give room to doubt of the fincerity of the pacific intentions of his Court. In fact, if it were true, that England began to know her real interefts; that She withed to open again for herfelf the fources of abundance and profperity; if the fought for peace with good farsh; would fie propofe a Congrefs, of which the neceffary refalt mut be, to render all negoti.a. tion endlefs? Or woold the confine herfoif to the afking, in a vague mamer, that the Fiench government thould point out any other way whatever for attaining the fame object, that of a genersl pacification?

Is it that this ftep has had no wther object than to obtain for the Britifh government the favourable impretion whin alwhys accompanies the firft overtures for peace? May it not have been accompanied with the hope that they would produce no effeet ?

Fowvever that may be, the Executive Drectory, whofe policy has no other guides than opennefs and good faith, will follow, in its explanations, a conduet which thall he wholly conformahle to them Yielding to the ardent defire by which it is animated, to procuse peace for the French Repuobic, and for all nations, it will rent fear to deciare itfelf openly. Charged by the condtitution with the execution of the laws, it cannot make, or liften to, any propofal that would be contrary to them. The conftitutional ast does not permit it to confent to ary alienation of that, which, accorting to the exifting laws, conftitutes the territory of the republic.

With refpect to the countries occupied by the French armies, and which have not been united to France, they, as well as other interefts, political and commercial, man mecome the lubject of a negotiation, which will prefent to the Bireetory the means of providg how much it deffres to att ain fpeedily to a hapry pacification.

The Directory is ready to receive, in this refpect, any overtures that thall be juit, reafonable, and compatible wish the dignity of the republic.

Bafle, the 6th of Germinal, and $4^{\text {th }}$ year of the French republic ( 26 th of March, 1796.) (Sigued) Barthefemi.

> NOTE.

The Court of Londen has receivel, from its miniter, in Switzerland, the anfwer made to the queftions which be had been charged to addrefs to Monnear Barthelemi , in repect to the opening of a negotiation far the re-eftablifhment of general thaquillity.

Gent. Mac. Alpril, 17 G 6.

$34^{6}$ HISTORICAL  This Court has feen, with regret, how far the tone and fipit of that anfwer, the nature and extent of the demands which it conta:ns, and the manuer of amouncing them, are remote from any difpofition for peace.The inadmifible preterfion is here avowed, of appropriating to France all that t: e laws actual'y exilting there may have comprized under the denomination of French territory. To a demand fuch as this is added an exprefs dieclaration, that no propotal contrary to it will be made, or even liftened to ; and this, under the pretence of an internal regulation, the provifinas of which are wholly fureign to all other nations.

While thefe difpofitions fhall be perfifted in, nothing is left for the King but to profecute a war equally juft and neceffary.

Whenever his enemies thall manifoft more pacific fentiments, his Majefty will at all times be eager to concur in them, by lending hmfelf, in concert with his allies, to all fuch mealures as foall he beft calculated to re-eftallha general trancuallity, on conditions juit, bonourable, and permanent, either by the eft:blifhment of a Congrefs, which has been fo often, and of happily, the means of reftoring paace to Europe; or by a preliminary difculfion of the principles which may be piopofed, on either fide, as a foundation of a genelal pacification ; or, laftly, by an impartial examination of any other way which may be pointed out to him for arriving at the fame falutary end.

> Durening-jreet, April 10, 1796.
> Thurfday, April 2 I.

Adviçe was received at the Admiralty, brought by Lieut. Chrifpe, of the Telemachus culter, of the capture of the enterprizing Sir Sidney Smith, commander of his Majerty's fhip Diamond, on the couft of France. Having, on the 18 th inftaut, boarded and taken a lugger privateer, beJonging to the encmy, in Havre-de-Grace hatour, by the boats of his fquatron, then on a reconnoitering expedition. and the side making ftrong into the harbour, fhe was driven above the French fott, who, the next morning, the igth, difcovering, at break of day, the lugger 14 tow by a ftring of Engl: A toats, immediately made the fignal of alarm, which collected tugethey feveral gun-boats and othei: arned velfels, that attacked the Lugger and Britith boats; when, after an ohitmate refiftance of two hours, Sir si ney had the montification of being obliged to furrender himfelf yatifoner of wat, with ahout fixteen of his people, and three oficers with him in the lugger. The Diamond frgate is fafe, but coasd aford her commander no affiftance, there not heing a breath of wind during the who'e of this maf rtomate tranfation; we are happy to add, that coly four Britili feamen were killed, and one officer : fix feamen nighty wounded. The fean were immedia'ely thrown into prifon their landing; and Sir Sidney underwer long examination before the French co mandant, afier which he was ordered to convey d, under a tirong eicort, to Pa The foll: wing were amongt the offic caltured with Sr Sidney smith: Mel W. Murrv, R. Kenyon, and R. Barro one of the ee was wounded. Fcur of feamen were kilied, and fix fligl wourded. When the Officers on hoand Dinmond heard of the difafter which ! betallen their gallant Commander, $t$. fent a flag of truce into Hayra, to enqi whether he was wounded, and entreat that he might he treated with kindn The Governer returned anfwer, that Silney was wel', and that he thould treated with the $u$ mort humanty and tention. The French, it apye r , war out an ther lagger of fupestion tonce aga that captored hy Sor Sidney S mith in Har de-Grace horbur, wich which they gased him, for a conflderable tinie, witt muct heavier metal, that rendered all refitance it effoctual, and therefore er pelicd him to Atrike.

DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

Satuday, A/prll 2.
The intimator of the firt performa of a piece afcribed to the pen of Shikfpe produced this night the ettect which mi naturally have been expected in a met pulis, filled with his admigers. At I o'clock the doors of the theatre wete fieged; and, a few muntes altor they a opened, the pit was crowded fulety $\boldsymbol{n}$ gen:temen. Before fix not a plice wa: be found in the boxec, and the paffa were filled. The phay of Vortigern'? annonnced for reprefentation as the pred tion of oer imenortal bard; but the tale is long concealment and happy recov was not heard without furpicion; wt his votaries withed to heighten iuto imr diate incredulity. The town, howe, retained its candour ; and, we helieve, predominant fentiment in the audien on this evening, was a wifh to u come with rapture the recovered offipt of their heloved blakfpeare. A play v therefore, performed, founded in fome gree on the hiftorical acconat of the am tion of Vortizern, the ufurper of Brita his mur her of Conft.nntius; bis allia with the Saxous; and lus palfion Rowena, the daughter of the Saxon ct The events are warped into a refembla to thofe of Macheth, Richand III. \&c, u the inadvertency of a copyift, who : more mtent on imitating the language it the genims of Stakiperre. The char ters are fuch as woukd not have been dra by that attoniming witer in the exert his ufual focultics. He is remarkable in dum bor rowing fron himfels. The play defitute of all thoie gigamtic metaphors, d bold allufions, which, appoaching e limits of polibslity, afonifh and atarm $r$ imaginations into a fympathy with his lime conceptions. The language, though idently an imitation, is infintely beneath orignal, which poffeties an apttude, facility, and harmony, which his never en forpalled. The andie ce betraycd nptons of impatience early in the repreitation; but, findug its tafte infuited liy nated terme, which heightened the geral infipidity, its reafon puzzled liy difrdant im ges, falfe ormaments, and abore efforts to elevate and afootih; proanced its fentrince of condemation, at e conclufion of the play; and we appre nd, that Vortigern, if it he publibhed, Il rank in eharact r , though not in erit, with the perverted and ferprizing bours of the onform ate Cha'serton.
Mr. Boyd atfembled a number of merauts at the Londen t. vern, to confuder of a prefen: Pate of the fipcie in England, d of the nocafore which the sanik had cently then of limiting difoments. After hort convofaton, a committee was apinted, confiting of feven geatlemen, 30 were apmaned to wait on the ChanHor of the Excliequer, to have a conence on the fubject. The commintee :, Mr. Royd, Sir S. Luhington, Mr. derman Luhington, Mr. Alderman An rfon, Mr. Ingit, Mir. G. Ward, and Sir Sanderfon.

Sunly, April 10.
Early this monaing, the wife of Mr. wyer, a boat-builder, near the Bithop's alk; Lambeth, was difcovered in her d-ronm, with her brains dafied out, and tbed in a mort thocking manner. This ryid doed is fuppored to bave been acaplifhed by fome diaholical villains, who tered the back part of the horere leading the river, and, re-cting with refifance their fchemes of plomder, perpetrated bhellind deel. We have not yet heard y. further particular:, except that the urtherers efcaped without creating the A alarm. It is a circumftance particuIy remarkable, that, allhough the hufad of the mundered woman was in the ofe the whole time, he declares he neither ard nor law any thing of the tranfaction.

Mond:y, Aprilin.
This morning a litule hefore 12 , three defacors weire executed at Keningtonname ; the buth maker, for the rut St. George's Fieid:, a young man for sep-itenlugs, and a man for houleaking.
Mrs. Plopoe, for the affault on Mr. furtor, is leneaced to twelve moaths imlonment in Newgate.

Fidav, Ap:l/2t.
This day tha ivitey tor the prefent year was difpofed of ty the Minifter, at a premium of $280,00 n$. It was taken by Meff. Kanfom, Moreland, and co. There was a more numerous fet of bidders than ever was known hefore.

$$
\text { Sunday, April } 24 \text {. }
$$

This night, at eleven o'clock, a fire broke out at Wyatt's, whip maker, Midde-1ow, which dettroyed the houfe and two others, and greatly damased the adjoinug houfe.

Tueflay, Aprill 26.
Mr. Alexander Lameth, of revolutionary memory. received this evening an order from the Duke of Poriland to quit the kingdom. His remonfrance on the occafion received this brief anfwer-" You keep too much company, Mr. Lameth?"

Thurfitay, A'pril 28.
At a Count of Cemmon Council held this day, on a motion of Mr. Deputy Weiherby, feconded by Mr. Dapaty Nichols, the fum of 2001 , was anamimoully voted as a benevolen ${ }^{\circ}$ to that excellent inftitution the Royal H:m ne Socie'y.At this court a debate took place refpecting the night of an Ald rman to remove tis Deputy. It was in general agreed, that the Alderman certainly polfefled fuch right, and that it was effentially necelfary that he fhould. The previous quefion was carried.-A report of the Militia Bill Committee, refpecting the fettling with the Artllery Company not to oppofe the Bill, was agreed to, and referred to the Committee, to fethle with the Company in what manier the growd and armoryloafe finould be ufed in futare by the City Mhtia and Artillery Company, and report to the next Court.

Saturday, April 30.
In an act now before the thare of Commons, for this fuither fapport and maintemance of curates within the Church of England, the preamble rocites the ACt of the 12 th of Cueen Anne, by which every rector or vicar is enjoined to pay to eacla curate a fum not exceeding gol. and not lefs than zol a year. It ftates, thit this allowance is now become infuficieat for the mantenance of a curate. The bill therefore enacts, that the bintop or ordinary find have power to allow the cuate a fund not exceedng foucnty-five poinds a year, with the ufe of the refory or vicarage. houfe, where the reftor dwes not refide four months in the jear, or 15 !. in lies thereof.

It is computed, that, of 2000 perions who have emisrated to America within the la't five ycars, fifteen hunjred have returned, findeng it totally impolfible to maintain themetves and families from the produce; fuch is the extreme dearnefs of every articic of domentic comfumption.

We are happy to announce a continuance of the fall of proce in that moit effental of mriciler, corn.
P. 1 \%os
P. Ino, b. It was Mr. Petvin's fatber, rector of Danhury, that was the antior of the "Letters concerning the Mind."

Ibid. The Rev. Willam Salifoory was alfo rector of Little Wallinghury, co. Elfex, to which he was prefented in 1766 ; and, as that benefice is in the paironage of the governors of the Charter-houfe, it may he prefumed that Mr. S. was edincated in that fchool. He publihed, in 1772 , a fermon preached at the bifhop's vifitation.
P. 173. We do mit forget our engagement to prefent our reaclers with fome memorials of our late excellent friend and correfpondent Dr. Pegex, as foon as the materials for that purpofe are arranged.
P. 255. Correct the laft article this:"Feb. 6. Suddenly, at his houte in the viinories, aged 67, the Rev. Stephen Addington, D. D. late pafor of a comsregation if Proteftant Diffenters in Miles'so lan, Cannon-ftreet; to which, ahout 14 years ago, he was invited from MarketHarborouglh, in Leicefterfhire, where he had been the minifter of a large and flourifhing congregation, and had kept: a very reputable hoarding-ichool for near 30 year. He was educated uniter the Rev. D. DodJridge, at Northampton, and was by him recommendedto Market-Harborough, where the Doetor limfelf was fettled fome time hefore lie took upon him the sare of the academy. He was a very aetive and induftrious man, and zuthor of feveral ureful public.etions on moral and religious fubjects, and fome particutarly defigned for the wife of fchoons, and of youns perfons. Suon after his removal to London he was chofen tutor of the Evangelical Academy at Mile-end, where he refided till bis growing infirmities, occafioneal by feveral paralktic ftrokes, obliged him to relinquith the charge. He contioued, however, in the care of his congregation till within a few months of his deceare, when, from the fane caufe, lie was compelled to refign this alfo. His publications are, 1. "A Syftem of Arithmetick," Svo; 2. "The Rudiments of the Greek Tongue," 12 mo ; 3. "Eufebesto Philetus; or, Letters from a Father to his Son, on a devout Temper and Life," 12 mo ; 4. "Mavins religuos and prodential, with a Sermon to young People," ${ }^{\prime}$ o; 5. "The Touth's Geographical Grammar," fmall 8vo; 6. "An Enquiry into the Reafons for and againt inchoting Open Fields,' 8 vo; 7. "A Differtation on the Religious hnowlege of the antient Jews and Patriarchs; to which is annexed, a Specimen of a Greek and Englifh Concoriance" (from which vustertaking the author, partly on account uf ill beocth, and party for want of time, was ubirgide to defill), 1757; 8. "Refignation the Daty of taumers, a Freneral Elfomide on fol ix. 12;" 9. " 1 he Cheriffan Mandict's Reafous gor haptifing lu-fants," 12 mo ; 10. "A Summary of tf Chriftian Minifter's Reafons for baptifin lofants, Sc. in Queftion and Anfwer 12mo; ?I. "Tlue Im; ortance of ear Attendance on Puhlic Worthip," price 3d 12. " $\Lambda$ Colledtion of Pf.tm Tunes f Public Worthip;" 13. " \& Cullection Anthems;" 14. "A practic:1 Freatife , Athict:ons," immo; 15. "The Life Panl the Apoftk," Ivo; 16. "SPace t End of the perfect and upright Man, a Sc mon on the Death of the Rev. Willi; Furil;" 17. "The Dying Believer's Con dence - on the Death of the Rev. Jo Olding ;" I8. "The Divine Architectlaying the forf Stone of a Burlding for $t$ Ute of the Midallefer. Society for educati poor Chiddren in the Prote tant Religion ro. "A Sermon on laying the Poundat of a Meethig houfe for Proteftant Dirfent at Chemsford;" 29. "A People perift for lack of Knowlege, a Sermim before C. Frefpondent Board in Lomdon of the ciety in Scotland (incorpor,ted by Rc Charter) for proparsting Chriftian Knc lege,". \&c. [W2 tiank tois vcry accui Correfpondent; anil requeft bis addeefs!']
P. 5 59. Willian- Thomas Raynal was cheve of the jefuits, and had even ente into their order. He was there captiv: with the love of letters, and allo with I hatred of defpotifin which, in fuck a ho could not fail to onprefs the young fand. His firft works, however, were not wot of his laft, or his fame. In his "Hifl of the Parliament of England," and of "the Stadttrolderate," there is nott remarkable but the affected brillianc his itgle, and the loftinefs of liis pret froms. We there fee merely the paint the philofopher had not then an exifter A more eftimable work of Raynals, which does not bear his name, and wi he did not avow until bong after his fur 3 was eftablifhed, is "The Hiftory of Divoree of Catharine of Arrazon Hemy the VII th" He dwells but 1 on the anecsote which furnifhes the t It is, in Patt, a gicture of Europe at perind, and drawn by a matterly $h$ For twenty years Raynsl apparently ce to write. But be lived for that intervi habte of intimacy wits philofophers, w 8 enlightened courage wis forming the $e$ in which they lived to the love of libe He publifhed, foon after, his "Political \$ Philofophical Hattory of the Euro a Comaterce in tie Two Indies." frends were laid to have had a confict ble fhare in this work. Kut the bold t futions, the enlarged views, and the tone of character, undoubedly belor Raynal. He was perfecuted for this w but, at the ime time, with a furt of deration. The Parliament who paffer decsee againat him cawed him to b formed of the procueding, and he ma a timely retreat. It was in this fame year that Beccaria was received ar Paris; a man who had not more of bardithood nor lefs of philofophy than Raynal. He retired to the domioions of the King of Prufia, who had been rather ill-treated in his book. He was, however, extremely weil received. Frederick converfed with him for more than two huurs tête-à-tête; and, on his departure, faid, 'I have been difcourfing with Providence." The Emprefs of Rufia atfo thewed him foveral marks of regard. "It is ublervable," faid the orator who gave this fketcl:, "that he who attacied defpotifm mort violently, was never illtreated by any defpor." He uas alfo well recenved by the Parliament of England. When it was knowo that Raynal was in the galiery, the deliberations were interruptell, and the Commons ordered him an honowrable fituation. Good deeds are the completion of good writings. Of the former, Raynal was the :uthor of many. In this refpert he was extremely mevtorious. He loved gloy, and this led him to make feveral eftahbithments forpaffing the means of an iadividual. He ratied on an infand in the lake of Benne a monument to the founders of Helvetian liberty. He gave an annuity of 1200 livres to the Acallemy of Arts and Sciences; 1200 to the French Academy; 1200 to that of Lyons; $\mathbf{1 2 0 0}$ to that of Marfeilles; and 1200 to the Society of Agriculture, to be given away in prizes. Thais man. faliberal, faw his fortune deranged bey the circumatances of the Revolution. He died in compara ive poverty. He was occupied in preparing a new edition of his works, which was to vary in a great degree from that which is now before the publicis.
P. 26x, b. The teath of Col. Mirchin was very fudden. He was on the point of fitting down to dinner, apparently in perfect health, and, reaching to hang up his hat, he fell in a fit, and died almoft immediately.

Births.

Murch T his houfe in Portman-fquare, the Lady of Sir Gilbert Heath. 27. 1 fon.
30. Ac his hoafe in Great George-freet, Weftminfter, the Lady of George Sumner, efq. M. P. a fon.
At his houfe in Clarges-ftrect, Piccadilly, the Lady of Capt. Rowley Lafcelles, of the 8th regiment of lisht dragoms, a fon.
31. In Dublin, ber Crace the Duchefs of Leinfter, a fon.

The Lasty of Franci, Penyfton, efq. of Cornwall, co. Ocford, a daurhter.

Lat $\%$, at Landaff, the Lady of Anthony Bacin, eliq. a fon.

In Biker-Itreet, the Countefs of Belfaft, a ftill-born child.

IPril 4. At his houre in Pedford-row, the Lrdy of Joha Pardoe, jun. efi. M.P. a ion.

At his houfe in Upper Seymour-fireet, Portman-fquare, the Lady of Sir John Tutner Dryden, bart. a fon.
5. The Lady of Joln Petrie, efq. of Port -lanil-place, a fon.
8. At Stainley-hall, co. York, the Lady of Richatd Terrick Stainforth, efq. a fon.
9. At his haufe in Duke-ftreet, Weftminfter, the Lady of the Hon. Lieut.-col. Forbes, of the Coldftream regiment, a fon.

At Teddington, the Lady of Wm. Douglas, efy. a fon.
12. At his houfe in Upper Seynour-ftr. the Lady of Sir Wm. Smith, bart. a dangh.
19. At his houfe in Wimpole-ftr. Caven-difh-fqua. the Lady of Jas. Morris, efq. 7 fon.
21. At Warbrook-houfe, Hants, the Lady of Jonathan Micklethwaite, efq. a fon.

23 . The Lady of Jolin Gribble, efq. of Soho-fquare, a fon.

25 . At the houfe of her father, Mr: Contts, in Piccadilly, the Lady of Francis Eurdett, efq. a fon and heir.

Marriaces.

5795. AT Fort William, Calcutta, Sept.29. A Lient. Anthony Green, of the Bengal eitablifhment, to Mifs Catharine Daniel, niece of James D. efq. of Her-bert-lodge, Rothampton, Surrey.
0.7.... At Arcot, in the Eaft Indies, Coiton Bowerbank Dent, efq. of Madras, fenior member of the Board of Trale at that prefudency, to Mifs Harriet Neale, dasghter of the late Rev. William N. rector of Effendon and Bay ford, Herts.

At Calcutta, Capt. Kinnard Smith, fon of Richard Carpenter S. efq. of Sombiwark, to Mifs Trances Peirce, danghter of the late nuch-lamented Capt. Richad Po of Kingiton, Surrey.
1796. Naych 28. Mr. James UpRone, attomey, of Somerfet-ftr. Portman-ifu. to Mifs Eliz. Cafe, of High ftr. Mary-la-Zonne

George Forbes, efq. of America-fquare, to Mifs Penfon, daughter of Henry P. etg. of Teignmouth, co. Devon.
29. At St. Margaret's church, Wenminfter, Maior Francis Slater, of the 6oth regiment of foot, to Mirs Relow, eldeft daughter and coheirefs of the late Ifaca-Martin R. efq. of the Park, near Colchefter, cn. Effex, and rne of the reprefentatives for that borough in five pirliaments.

Lieut. Johnfon, of the Notingham foncihles, to Mifs Henrietta Mills, danghter of Alderman M. of Northamjoo.

At York, Sir Robert Wilmñ, hart. of Chaddefiten, co: Derby, to Mifs Grimfton, eldeft danghter of the late Robert G. efq. of Nefwick, co. York.
30. W'm. Farman, efa, of York-Atreet, Dublin, to Mifs Eliza Smith, cldeft daughter of M:. S. merrhant, of that city.

3r. Mr. In. Maberly, of tiancon's-innsfields, to Mis Leader, danghter of Wimiam L. efq. of Redford-tow.

Rev. ;hn Collins, of Betterton. Berks, vicer of Chemunt, Herts, to Mifs Smith, daughter of James $\mathbf{S}$. efq. of College houfe, Cluwick, co. Midelefx.

Charles Higg: etq. of Cheltewham, co. Glonceiter, to Mrs. Brown, widow of Mr. B. of Upper Swell, in the tame county.

Mr. Farquant, of Nerton-It eet, to Mifs Nrncy Dias de Farna, fecond dangliter of M. Dias dee F. of Chifwich.

At Cullompton, co. Devon, Rd. Dradge, efl. to Mifs Penelone Azsonl, youngeft dangher of the late Mr. 1 homas A. of Litzie Chiverel, Wills.

Lately, at Chunar-Gar, in the iaft indies, William Prelton.efle coptain of infantry on the Bengal eftebinhment, and major of bugare at Campone, to Mifs Chartote Harvey, late of Godden- Gquare, London.

At Water fird, im Treland, the Rev. John Richards, of Gianpe, co. Werford, chdeft ton ant heir of the late Gotdard R. etq. to Mifs Pani, eldeft datio of Sar Johuar bart.

At Caftlewiz, in Scotland, John Hathan, efy. to Mifs $\mathrm{N} \cdot$ Dowall, danghter of A . M)D. eff. of Lozan, and fiter to Col. M•D. M. F. for Wigtommire.

At Leominter, co. Hereford, Chintopher Henry Heth, fuigem, of Worcefter, to Mifs Weaver, daughter of Francis $W$. efy. of the fume place.

At Ivworth, Benjamin Cobb, efq. of I. Sdd, in Kent, to Mi's Cartwright, of biwnith-zbey, Suffits.

At Fowey, Licut. Ward, of the Fowey volunterer, to $\mathbb{M}$ is S Pitiens, of St. Ivec.

At Ruffore, co. Nottingham, Stally Ranibul, efo. of Frietion, co. Lincoln, to Mrs. Fowler, of kuftond.
A. Tl! rik, ce York, Jum Leaf, efq. only f $n$ of the late Mr. Simon L. woolien draper to his Mijefly ( whoie fuden death, Es. is recurded voi. (X1. p. 185), to Mufs Wiaker, of that phace.

At Sc. Brade': Lemonn, Mr. El'erfield, e"ac'r-natter, wit Reaing, Berks, to Mrs. Burnet of the Ang fonthere.

Aprii 2. Kwbent Want, etif. of Linceln'e. iun-lut c, to Niff Cdthar: e-julia Mahng, tonuth dughter of Chritioplue -Themphon Mi. efg. of Wer Hearmghn, on. Durham.
4. At St. Mazno charch, Lombur-bridee, Thomar Mande, etq of Newcall -apon:in ne, banker to Mins Roxby, damgate of Heme R. efy.

At Liverpool, Mr. Andrew Hanter Aiker, merlan', to Mis Fimelan!, daugher of the late Nilr. Feter a .

Rev. Robert Pratby Francis, late of Hinghani, co. Nor fillk, to Mis L. A. Cra-

5. Ar Hackney, Mrr. Pringle, of Elyphite, it mey, th Nife Tut, dayther of Wuber: 1. eny of Newiegom.
kea. Clablec Fixeth, way of begharon, es es summer-hid.

William Clarke, efq. of Bungay, to Mifs Wake, ouly daughter ot Lady W. of Rivdlef-worth-hali, co. Noufolk.
7. Whaley Armitage, efq. of Lincoln's. inn, to Mifs Haiftwell, of Richmond, Surrey, elleft daaghter of the late Edward H. efq.

At Thame, co. Oxford, Mr. Jicob Hodg. kinfon Bubart, of Buliol-college, to Mifs Eaton, only daughter of Mr. E. of North Welton.

Rev. Mr. Carver, of Long Stratenn, to Mifs Earwick, only danghter of the Rev. Mf. B. vicar of Hommg and Neathfead, co. Norfolk.
8. Richard Moore, efq. of Kentwell hall, co. Sutfolk, to Mifs Sulney Arathelld Cotion, daughter of the late Vice-admirat C. and mece to sir Potert Salifory C. burt.
9. M.jor Thomas, of the 2 Sth repiment of fone, to Mifs Mary Builmer, of Ly miastur, liants.

Mr. Jn. White, merchant, of Edinhurgh, to Mus Anne Lambe, fecond daughter of Jota L. efq. of Fetter-lane, Londion.

At York, John Moore, efq. capt:in in the 3 (or Frince of Wates's) reginelit of dragnon-guards, to Mils To wnend, daughter of Geurge T. efq. of that city.

Mr. S. Aufth, of Edgeware-rond, to Mifs Lowifa Green, only danghter of the late Bronk Farry G. eiq. of Hafield.

1c. At St. Ame's, Soho, the Rev. Rich. Roufe Plexam, retlor of Erinklow, cu. Warwick, to Mifs A. Lawrence.
12. Thomas Afkew, cíc. of the New Romney light diagoons, in Mif Lucy-Elizabeth Ciatey, of Wimpore-treet.

Mr. Aurzaterod, oowk feller, of Chifowetfireer, to Mifs Margaret Dougles Bett, fecond daughter of the late Captain B. of the rogal navy.

At North Afton, co. Oy forl, Rc: RalphHenry Brandlog, fecond fint of Ctarles B. edi. M. P. for Newcafte, to Mifs Emma Bowles, fourth daughter ol Oldield B. eiq.
A. Wymondam, co. Lenefier, Rev. Chules Burdon. rector of 1 andom, Mucks, to Mifs Kirkhim, only duaghter of Smith K ely. Wf Garthore, co. Ie eiter.
13. At St Geviget, Hander fymare hy the Rev. Archdearen warkham, is ilnam B rnetr, efq. of York, fon of the late Son. Vm B. of Jamama, to Mifs E: $z$ :bcth.c'do tharine Markhany, Accond daughter of the Alchbifhop of Youk.

William irami Bartlet, efo. of Lambrook. co. Someriet, to Mis. N t:on, wi-

14. Gecree Nothmiel Reft, efq barmif ter at law, of the Madide Teniphe, io thifs Elz Wrox', at daughte: of thilate Cob. W.

Fev, Mr. Ripley, vicir of Kelvedon, to Mifo tialy titarter, of Fillam.

Enfigu Frmeic Notin, of the oth res of foot, 10 Nif. E: 2 a heth Llow lationi.
 1.undry,
fadler and hatter, to Mifs Tompfon, danghter of Adermat T. hoth of that place.

At Bith, Robert Radeliffe, efig, of Foxdenton, co. Lancatter, to Mis Marv Patten.

Mr. Philip Box, jun. to Mifs Sm:th, both of Buckirsham.
36. At Weftmorlans-chapelin Weftmorland itieet, Cavendiflicirare, Earl Temple, to Luty Amm Ehz aheth Brydges, daughter of the late Dake of Ctandos. The ceremony wats performed by the Rev. Mr. Hotr, his Torithbip's tutor. The ladies who attenden the hatie ware, the Dachefs-dowager of C 'indios and the Marchionefs of Buckingh.ma. Mr. Jutice Bitlor acted as father on the occafion; and the Marynis was alfo prefent. The young couple fet out inment re'v for the Marquis's feat at Stowe, in Buckiuglamilhite.

Rev. Mr. Err, rector of Swarford, to Mifs Mrs. H.dains of Witney, on. Oxford.
. Mr. Clirke, an eminent farmer at Sandfor:', co. Ouf.r.!, to Mits Wimm, younceft daugher of Mr, W. of Mackney, B.rks.
18. Rev. Cinmes Hoiden, of Baker Atr. Fortano-fiuar , to Mif Futamond-Ame:'a Danse, of L inflow e-p'ice, Suth.

At S: A!ns-i.i-Rounc chur h, Dr. Darwin, of Shrewfbury, to Mifs Wedswuod, elte!t soughter of the late Jufiah W. efq. of Etru:ia, co. st fford.

Ig. J-har Coman, efy. of the Royal Lancalhire regment of milita, to Difs Dugace , fo St. Thomas's hill, hear Canterts.
 hill. Mother, N. P. foi Wettbury, to Ma ! 1 r . eltest daugher of the Rev. Edwed ' . f Bimane, in Kent.

Rev. ia $\because 1$ ! mas, vicar ot South Stoke, in the dioverent Jxfand to Whf Erans, eldeft dith hater of the ate E*an E. efq. of Noyadd, in R di mhice.
20. Fedrak Prefoot, efy. to Mifs S3rah Gout of Uinper Grodvenis itreet.
23 r. Daton, of Lincoln's-imn, to Mifs Parkin. "W Wadfuarth, Sarrey.

Major T.fecti, fecond fon of Col. T. of the Fatt Misullef:x miluth, to Mifs Fowell, only dang' ter of the Rev. Dr. F. rector of Bihoprbourns, Kent.
25. Mr. Will.mm Bannifer, of Warhorough, cu. Oxfrat to Mrs. Field, witow of Mr. F. late of Dorcheller; wirsfe ases pat together amo'int to 136 , the briegruom being 71, and t'se bride 65.
27. Hy fiecial licence, at Lady Anne Simpfon's, in Harley-itreet, by the Rev. John Hard, B. D. Sir Thumas-Henry Liddell, of Ravenfworth caftle, co. Durham, bart. to Mifs Maria Smplon, dangiter of the late John S. jun. efy. of Bradley, in the f me cownty, and Lady Anne S. fister to the late Eal of Serathmore.

DEATHS.

${ }^{1795}$ T ROWNED in the Beagal riN/v... ver, Capt. Haig, of the Woode
Gos Eat Indiaman,
1796. Fan..... Rev. Samuel Jackion, M. A. of Merton coliege, rectur of Littie Gadilefden, Herts.

Feb. ... it C rmarthen, in South Walar, aged 88, the Rev. John Rosers, NI. A. late of Christchurch culkefe, Oxfurd, and vicar. of Carmariben and shergivily. He had held the faid livings 44 yeate; and his liehaviour dming ther long perod was fuch as to procure him ite frsendithp and efteern of all his acquaintance. In private life his conduct was tuly anaiable and exemplary. He was tixice married, adod buth his wives were confin-d by ilheers for a coniferable time; the untemitting tenderneis and at. tenton he fhewed townes both in their afflicton were greatly to his honour. As a mwiter, he was ever attentive to the duties of his facred function; and that religion he recommended to orliers happily influenced all his attiens; he "ailuied to braghter worlds, and led the sway."

Wr,b... Neat Swata-ftreet, Brompron, Thomas Doffo, a native African negro, wha puffeffed as much coodnefs, fenfibility, and gentleneds of mind and maanars, as can he found in ant c!me. He was of the Gold Coaft, and 'eft Whydil, a foit belonging to the ifficna Compmy, near 32 years aro, beung then abont 15 years of age. He was in the furte of the governos of that fortrefs, who was the late worthy chainmon of the Entt Iudia Company, by whom the haver fince bere protected. As foom as he arrived in lingland, he was tanght to read. Diffoting from bis three companons, he Ecllow-fervants, of the fame country, and who, in the end, turned out bud, he difplyed a ferous tun of mind; was fond of reading, and principally the-Holy Scriptures, and of being informed. Astais underdanding began to opert, he reflected on and atmired the benevolence and w form of the Deity; and was delighted with the church-forvice. In his countiy, he faid, they aifo dfembind tom g =ther by times, to clafp their hand, and mplore the fun, or look up to the $\mathrm{k} y$, for protection. Fiuding that men there had two names, he prayed his mafter to grant him this addation slfo, and, preferming a foriptural name, chore that of Thomas. Acconding'v, lie and his compmions received baptifin of tive Rev. Di. beckr r, the then archibuhan, of lambeth, airout the year 1767 . Being of a delicate frame, the variahle'efs of our climate, and the fatigue . occafionet by hlowing the Fiench homo, in which he exculled, hought on a pulmonary complaint, of which he died. He was married to an Englin woman, who made hin very happr, and has been dead fome years, leaving ham two chaldien, who furvise him.
8. At Parfon's green, the Rev. William Waring.

At Hinck'ey, co. Zeice\{ter, Mr. Thomas
Turner,

352 Obituary of remarkable Perfons; with Biographical Aneciutes. [Apr.

Turner, jun. hofier. He was taken off by a violent fever in the prime of life; and has left a widow and young family to lament the lofs of a tender butband and an affectionate parent, whofe urhanity of manners and gentleneis of difpofition endeared firm to all his accuaintance.
9. At Rarrow-upon-Sanr, co. Leicefter, Jolin Green, labourer; who entered ints a friendly fociety there on the 1 ith of March, 3782, and received out of the fund the fum of 64 L gs. 6 d befides 6 l . ros. fur his widow and burial expences; amounting together to zol. rgs. 6d. He was ill, fo as to render bin incapable of wring, feven years, feven weeks, and three daye. This circumtance points out the benpficial effects with which this and fimilar focieties are attended, and holds great erconragement to the labourer when under affiction.
10. At Little Gaddefden, Herts, Mrs. Amfinck, refpected while living, and now lamented by all who knew her.
11. Rev. Thomas Brereton, rector of St. Michael's, Winchefter.
32. James Salufbury Birch, efq. of Birchhall, near Ellefmere.

In his 83 d year, Percival Clennel, eff. barrifter at law, of Harbottle cifle, on the Coquet, co. Northmmerland. He was formerly of Brankfon, near the Treed, in that county, and is faid to have cied worth 20,000l. a-year. He had other large eftates at Newton, &c. in this connty; athd his lands being all under-let, at their old rent, he was the idol of his temantry. He had a portion of the milk of human knalnefs; but, refilag moftly in his native county, and having never been married, his manners were auftere, and his difcourfe was unrefined. Mr. C. was remarkable for the wonderful length of his foot. His fortune defcends to a femaie cosum, who is married to - Whlkinton, eff. of Durham. Another coufin of his wa the mother of the learned Percival Stocklale, now rector of the livings of Long-Houghton and Lefbury, near Ahmwick, in this county, and author of feveral admired works. Being alfo his godfather, and from whom he took his name, we hear he has left him a confiderable legacy.

At Edinburgh, Mrs. Catharine-Maria Lee Lewes, wife of Mr. Charles Lee L. somedian.
at Kirkcudbrighr, in her 81 ft year, Mrs. Elizaheth Mackenzie, daughter of the late Hon. Col. Alex. M. of Coning tby.
Mi. Thomas Percival, one of the high conftables of le:cefterfhire-Ageil 78, Mrs. Tilbrook, wife of Mr. John T. of Chevely, c . Cambriige.

13. Almoft fuldenly, in in apoplectic fit, advanced in ase, at her apartments in King's-row, Walworth, Mrs, Marta Johnfon, relict of the late Mr. Nathaniel J. furmerly an attorney, of Fetter-laus. She was daughter of the late Mr. Woodman formerly turnkey of one of the city comp. ters; and was mece, hy ber mother's fide to the late of ralent Thomas Hanfon, efq. of Crofby fquare, B:mopfoze-ftreet.

At his father's ho:te in Pall-Mall, Cha Heherden, efq. youngeft fon of Dr. H.

In Bloomsbury-fquare, in his 72 d year Richard Wilbrahara Bootle, efy.

In New-4:set, Hanover-fquare, in hi 8 oth year, Mr. Adam smith, lute of King ftreet, Golden fyuare.

After a very lingering and painful illnef Mrs. Finch, wite of the Rev. Dr. F. pre beniary of Weftmunter.

At St warton, in scotlanc', the Rev. The Maxwell, minifter of that parits.

At till-houfe, near Bamitaple, after long illneis, Gilbert Nicholetts, efy. He h teft a numerods family to lameat him.

At her houfe in Great Cumberland-f? Lady Bridger Tollemache, relist of Mr. 7 (brother to lie Earl of Dyfart), and nic ther of Major Tollemache, who loft his li in the fervice of his comntry, at the fiege , Valenciennes Lady Bridgot was a daug? ter of Clancelhor Ean! Nonthington, at fuccefinely tie wife of Mr. George Fr Lane and the Hun. Mr. Tollemache, w: was a captain in the navy, and fell in ? unfor tunate rencontre at New York, wi Major-general, then Captain, Pe iningto of the guards. By Mi. Tullenaclie the h: an only fon, Lionel-Rubert, who fell h nourably in the trenches hetore Vales ciemnes. Lady Bridget fruggled under th fevere froke nearly two years, with all t' fortitude that a great mind coold call fort and at length expired the viction of $h$ paremal fffections. The character of $t$ acromplifhed woman naturally took its $\nabla$ rious colonrmg from the ffrange viciffitpe of her fortme. Her mind, however, w always elevated and commanding; an though the facrificed fomewhat to farhio able life, the ever, kept aloof from the vices which have fo long difgraced it. a ffrength of intellect, which the deriv from her noble fire, fhe added a delicacy ina:g nation and a brilliancy of wit pec liar to her'elf.
14. Mrs. Byron, wife of Thomas B. e of Portugal-ftreet, Grofvenor-fyuare.

At his houfe at Vauxhall, Thamas Snai efy. banker.

At Edinhurgh, after a hort illnefs, Alt M'Rae, efq. of Jamaica.
In his 18 th year, Mr. Montagu Rent fon of Dr. B. profeffor of moral phitofor in the Marifchal college, Aberdeen.
15. At his brother's houfe at Brompt Pnbert Maundrell, efy. a captain in t Wits regiment.

Aged 66, the Rev. Feter Smith, M. rector of Aherfon with Itchen-Stoke, car of Mitcheldever, and fenior bugefs the corporation of Winchetter.

796.] Obituary of rema kabie Perfons; with Biograplicaí Anciates. 553

After a hort Blinef, thic Conness of adows.
Of the grut in his fomach, in his 33 d ear, Mr. Stephen Storace, whofe abilties s a compofer are fofemtly kuwn by hofe origita! airs th the dramas of "The tainted Tower," "Nı Song No Supper," "My Grandmother," &c. &c. Ferv men n any province of gemins bave more radidy afcended theme and indepervence. dis Ryle of compofition was formed upon he Italian model ; and, in his airs for many oices, and in choral energy, he followed he muficians of Italy wh great fucc-fs. te, was diftinguihed in private life for hrewdners, prnetration, and knowlege of nankind. His firt compolition for Druyane the:tre was "The Doctur and Apohecary," which was performed on the lay of his death.
Mafter William Barrett Naate White, only fon of Witliam Henry Wtite, efy. of 3rompton, co. Middlaiex.
16. As liunters thesu, Scotland, in his 36th year, Rob-rt Hurter, of that atk.
17. At the Has us, Peter Prulus, prefilent of the fir't N thonal Convention there, and one of the prmcipal suthors of the Reolution in Holland. In them his country ofes one of its mont zealons defenders, the satriotic party their chef fuppurt, the oonvention its head, and the marine its ableft directur. He has f.llen a ficrifice io his exertions as prefident. His death has produced the fane fenfatons at the Hagne is the death of Morabeau ded at Paris. The greateft honours lave heen paid to the filft prefident of the Batavian Convention ; and idecree of that atferthy deciares that he never ceafed to deferve well of his country; which decree, written on vellum, the convention bave refolved to prefent to his wiJow; and to give her, at t:e fame time, the national furf with which he was decorated at lle opening of the convention. See his fpeech on that occafion in our Hiftarical Chronicle, p. 341. Citizen Peter Leonard Van de Kafteele is chofen his fucceffor.

Suddenly, in Manchefter-fquare, the Marchionels of Wwichefter, wife of George Powlett, efq. who, on the death of the late Duke of Button, hicceeded to the title of Marquis of Winchefter.

At Guernfey, after a fhort illnefe, in bis goth year, Jolin Smal!, efq. lieutenant-governor of that inland.
18. William Edwards, efq. attorney at law, and one of the nembers of the common council ci Bath.

At Chatham, aged upvards of 80 , Mrs. Tookie, wife of Mr. T. fen. of that town.

At Invernefs, Major George Mumro, late of the 68th regiment.

Ig. At his houfe in Little St. Martin'slane, Mr. Henry Vicary, attorney.

Gent. Mac. April, $1 / 96$.

At Methome, co. Dirby, the Rev. Mr. Smitl, $5::^{70 \%}$ of a harge congiegation of Concrat'3 pity there.

At Swinton, Mis. Witutame, mother of the Ladv of Ambrofe Goddard, éci. Ni. H. for the colnty of $v$ Its.

At Gr-enock, Mr, James Fraler, land-

Sie Hugh Patlice, hart; of whem a particular account hall he given hereafter. 1 20. At whehur Herts, in his efth year, the Rev. A Acre, rector of l.everingtom, in the in of Ely, and Outwell, co. Nurfolk; to both which he wesp prefed by the B'h :p of Ely, i~74. He was chaplain to Dr. Law, hithop of Carlife; B. A. 1760 ; M. A. 1772 ; and merried a fifter of the Rev. Mr. Underwoud, rector of Eatt Barnet.

At her toufe in Ediaburgh, Mrs. Janes Home, daughter of the lite George H. eiq. of Kelfo.
22. In his 78 th yeur, Sir Thomas Rookwrod Gage, bat of Hengrave, co. Suffulk, and of Cotam-atal! He was ehleit of the two fors of fohn fecend fon of Sir William Gage, hatt. by him we Eliz:beth daughter of Thonas Rookweci', efq. of Coldaamhall. On the death of bice father the became tole heires of all his entates. Sir Thonas mared, 174, Lucy dangler of William knight, of Kmelby, co Lincoln, eff.; by whom lie has ilfue a fon, Thomas, his fucceffor (who married, in 1779 , Mins Charlotte Fisberbert, of Spetchley, co. Worcefter, XLIX 566), and three daughters, Lacy, Elizatheth married to Henry Darrell, efq. of Cale hall, Kcut, and Mary.

At his lodgings in Loudon-road, John Relf-11, efy. Itte afifant-commiffary to the Britih aray on the Continent; whofe trial for maldrniniftration in his office made much anife.

At Falmonth, much refpedted, Mr. Robert Blundifone, matiter of the hotel there.

At his have in the Clofe, Sallbary, Williain Benfon Earle, efq. On the $3^{\text {oth }}$ bis remains were pivately interred in the parihh-churh of Newton Toney, near. thofe of his anceltors. Podeffed of literary endowments of the higheft order; well verfed in the whole circie of the bclles lettres, but particitarly bieffed with a mott exquifite talte for mufick, his time and talents feemed devoted to thefe engaging purfuits; yes, amidit them, he forgor not the inumble and lowly, but was ever relieving their neceffities, and lelfening their wants. The following bequefts will evince that he remembered them to the laft, and will thew the generofity and goodnefs of his heart. To the matrons of Bifhop Seth Ward's college, in the Clofe, he has bequeathed the fum of 2000 guineas; to St . George's hofpital, Hyde-park-corner, to Hetherington's charity for the relef of

354 Obituary of remarkable Perfons; with Biographical Anecioles. [Ap

t'e Minc, to the Philanthropic Society, and t, the fund for the relief of dec yed muficians, a contingent legacy of roon gutncas cach; to the tirce hofpinals eftablthed at W'inchefter, Salibury, and Brinol, 100 guineas each; to the refpective parthes of the Clofe. St. Edmund, Si. Thomas, and St. M.rtin in Silibury, 50 guineas each; fo dffer nt charit be purpofes m the pasih of Grately, Hant, the fum of $4 \geqslant 0$ gni.e.as; and to the poer cotegers in Grate!, his tenancs, the fee fimple of their cottages; and to the parift of North S oke, in Somerictihire, 30 guneens. As a nan ot lierature, ana a friend to the arts, he has roqueathed to the Roval Society 200 guineas; to the Sciety of Anthquaries 200 zuineas; and to the jrefident of the Society fir the Encotafement of Arts, Manufacures, and Cimmerce, 200 guireas, for the purchafe of bouks for the mublic ho brar es of thofe three refpectabie f:ciet es; to the Path Agriculural Suclety he has given 100 guin as. Wifing to add a beaty th the man which now adicn one of the fineft Goshic ftructares in the worl', he has begueathed the fun of 400 guineas for erecting a window of painted glaft in the great What nave of Salifbury cathedal. To encomare the at he loved, and give a grateful teftimony of his patiality to the Salifbury concert, he has left an amnual fubfriptom of 5 gumeas for 10 years, towards :t fupport; and a farther fum of 150 guneas for the thace next triemal mufical fetivals at Saliftury after his deceafe. Eefnits the ahove public legacies, he has amply remembered lins in ends, and has bequeathed many others, with a verw to encourage merit, and to reward indutry and sondnes.
22. In Dover Areet, after a nort illnefs, in he: $26: 6$ year, Mis. Pearfon, wife of John P.efq. & P Puchby.

In Upper finwer-fireet, after a fow days illmels, Nirc. It tw, wie of Geo. Wi. efy.

Ar Bunny-park, co. Nottinghan, sisah Lady Yarkyns, fecond wife of Sir thomas P. bart. and datg!ter of Damel Smath, of Bunny, eft. She was married to bit tho mas in 3765 , and had ifue, hving, 2 fims.

At Yarm, Mrs. Dorothy Swathoa e. Although nie had ten cmidien, molt of whom fived to he mern and women, fise attamed the age of 80 , and enjoyed fucin a goon tate of henh, that the wever had a vei: 'penei a twoth crawn, or took a aufe of photick in her hife.

Aged हo, is. Robert Radford, of Lisfleover, near Duby.

At Mistielat-riat, co. Stafford, in his 79th yer, T!umas Ley, efq. barruiter at law, and in the curror ifficon of the peace for the counties ol Staffori and Deriby.

At B las, co. Salop, Mrs. Hoggta, mpther of the Countrfs of Excter.
33. At Edinburgh, Alex. Mi'Connochie, efq. one of the commiffoners of the ct toms for Scotland.
24. At Sutton, Surrey, Mr, Fulter, m: ter of the Cock inn there, and one of Majenty's yeomen uf the guards.

In her 23 d year, Mif. Frances Mulcaft eldeft daughter of $\mathrm{Col} . \mathrm{M}$, of the ro: engineers.

At Fairford, co. Gloncefler, Mrs. Jeffi wife of Mr. J. a:toriey.

At Sandymok, near Afhborne, Derty, Jotn Revan, efy.
25. At her ticate near Ranelagh, 1 Countefs of Croquy Canaples (widow Hugues Comte de Cregry Camples, w died at his feit at Orville, in the provir of Artois, in 1785 ). She was the only fi viving iffue of Eiward Comerford, forme of Athy, co. Kildare, in Ireland, but aft wards of Leeds, co. Yo.k, M.D. She d on the anniverfary of her hirth day, hav been bom March $25,1 \times 3$.

At Clipton, near Hackney, in her 81 ye..r, Mrs. Galhie.

After a thort illnefs, Mrs. Fifher, w of Mr. Robert $F$, an eminent blanket $-n$ nufacturer at Witney, co. Oxford

At Worcefter, Nir. Wm. Brandim, I of the printers of the Worcetter Herald.

Aged about 64, Mr. John Seaton, Wallinchorough, near Lincoln, farmer.
26. At Huntroyd, near Burntey thef of his fon-in-law, Le Gendree Pierce St kies, efg.) the Rev. Eenjamin Preedy, D rector of Frington, cu. Northampton, which he was prefented by Eal Spences 1777, having hefore been tector of St. . ban's abbey-charch; and in the commiff of the peace for the coun'y of Northarapt

In an adranced are, the Rev. Will Earett, re:ीor of it Demis, Walmg: in York. He !ikewife hetd the tiving St. George, Nahara, amexed to the dar together with that of Great Aksam.

In hes 8 -th year, miver ally beloved ; moft defervedly dimented, John $\mathrm{Sc} \times \mathrm{xt}$, t of Norvich, who ierved the office of fhe ia $175^{6}$.

Aged 25, Mrs. Vokes, wife of Mr. merchant, of Warket Deeping, co. Linc Nirs. Bilfort, telict of Mr. Thomas B Chathom dock ard.

At Lancohi, Mirs. Jane Richardfon.
${ }^{2-}$. At Iotrenham, of a paralytic itro, Mr. Thomas Hudion, formarly an emin: puider in Londor, bat had retired fr bufinefs n:any years.

At fugreis-park, Kent, in his $\sigma_{3} \mathrm{~d}$ ys, Henry Woodhoafe Difney Roelouck, ' He had beendivorced fromhilady; wasfil of his pleafure-boat, and was demed is of the firft gentlemen-mariners of the as At his houfe in Eerkeley-fquare, 1 John Linnell, upholder.

Mr. Geerge 11 illians, coal-merchant ! Rutland-whar!, Thanmes-Itreet.

Suddenly, in confequence of the byrf

1996.] Oituary of remar kable Perfons; weith Biograpbical:Anecdotes. 355

of a blood-veftel, a female fervant of the Rev. Dr. Eurton, canon of Chrift Church, Jxford.

At Killington, en. Oxford, of a gratual decline, aged 73 , Mri. Tyriell.
28. At his fert at Chpley, co. Somerfet, Edw.Clarke, efy. (feep. 2g1). He was born there in N (1. $17: 7$; and ferved the office of nigh theriff fir that county in 1741. He w. Is diftinguifzelf r his many aminhe quatities; was much attached to rural fports, and sept an excellent pack of merry harters in gond ftyle. The room in which he cons flantly fat wos hung round wih capital orints of borfes and dogs ; even his wintplaffes hal the emblems of huating cut in them. He was an admirer of Somervile's Dhace, and lwoks of a fimilar kind; and nas frequently been heard to fay, "this hfe $s$ too fort to atain the whole fcience of Hunting." But it was nor to this trivial fiverfion his miats was conined. He was ellow-commoner of Feter-touf, Camridge, about 1737-9, where he formed an nequaintance with forme of the mof polite cholats of the age; and was particularly atimite with Dr. Squire, Rifhop of St. David's, and feveral others of ditingmined renius. His mind was we!l funithed with iterature; his reading was extenive, and his memary uncommonly re'entive. This nade him thine with peculiar holliancy as t companion. His altonifhing Afock of ineclotes fupplie: him with topics of conberfation applicable to the varous clafies of berfons he affociated with. His bumour was exquifite, and did not forfake him to the bery latt. The appellation he diftinguihed nimfelf by, when in cliearful company, was "Old Ned of the Weft." He was a firm riend to the King and Confitution as by aw eftablifhed ; and was chairman to an Affication for their fupprrt againtt Rewhlicans and Levellers, at Milverton, Jan. 793. He was charitabie tothe poor beyond he generality of thofe even of extenfive ortunes like his ; and, though a landlord, aving a numerous tenantry, never rifed heir rents! The noble manfion, where he fided, has been long famed for hofpiality. This houfe was erected in 1682 by idward Clarke, efq. grandfather to the eceafed, who reprefented the horough of fauntou in feventeen parliaments, and was - very particu'ar friend of John Locko, wuthor of the Elfay on Human Underftandgg, who dedicated to him his "Treatife on Education," which work was written at is houfe for the benefit of Jepp Clarke, ather to the deceafed. The originat MS , and a fine painting of Locke, are ftill preerred there. Dying unmarried, Mr. C. has oft confiderable legacies to his friends, and ountiful ones to his domefticks. Chipley, and the chief of the eftates, are given to Mirs. Whalley, wife of the Rev. Thomas-Sedgvick W. during her life; the whole afterwards devolves to John Nurton, of Milverton, erq. his execurnr. His remams were conveyed whth great funeral nomp to Ninehead, and depofied in the family-vault there on Friday the 8 th of April. The familyarms, as they fland in the great hall at Chipley, ate, Or. two bars Azure, in chief three efcallop-Anetts culer, Clarke; impaling, Argent, on a fefe, Gulec, hetween three croilies, Sable, as many matriets of the fiat, Jepp. Cieft, an arm dexter and arrow.
29. In Bride-A reet, Dublin, Travers Hartley, efq. an emment merchant, who formerly reprefented that city.

At Glafgow, in his $\times$ cth year, the Rev. Er. John Gillies, upwards of 50 years minifter of the college kirk. No man ever lod a more unblemithed life, nor was more eminently dutanguithed for piety and tue Chrifian charty. He was father to the Hon. Miss. Lellie, zird uncle to Dr. Gillies, of Fortman-fteet.

At Meulham-ha!!, in Effex, aged 85, Dame Anne Millmay, a lady eminent for her knowlege, politenefe, and integrity. She was the eldeft of the two daughters of Humphry M. efq.; widowand teftamentary heir of Sir Win. M. of Moulham-houie, (who was created a baronet 1765 , and died 1771); and amat of the lady of sir Henty St. John M. to whom me has bequeathed her ample poffeftions. Humphry M. efq. of Shawf ord, Hants, was brother of C. H. M. efq. of Hazlegrove, Somerfethire, who died in 1784 , aged 93 , and father of C. M: efy. who died in 1763, whofe daughters are, Lady St. Johu Millmay, Mrs. Ricketts, and Mis. Clake, of Hamphire. Sir Wno. M. was fon of W. M. eif. of Surat, in the Eaft Indies, coufin and hetr of Eanl Fitzwaltar, who died in 1756 , and brother of Mary wife of Col. Cockayne, wholo only fon, Thomas Mildmay Cockayne, efq. died in 1778. Sir Hemry St. John Mildmay, of Dogmersfield, Hants (who took the nanue of Mitumay in cuafequence of his faccelion to the Haziegrove eitate in Somerie: hire), is the fon of S:r Henry P. St. Joha, who was ho:mured with a beronetage in 1772 , and died in 1784.
30. At Newmarket, in an apopleथtic fit, Mr. Joflua Hallam, miny yearstraininggroom to. Sir F. Standifh, batt.

Age: $3 r$, her Royal Highnefs the uuguft Princefs Withelmina, reigning Duchefs of Deux Ponts, of the houlie of the Landgrava of Hetie Darmitadt. She was borm Apris $14,17^{6} 5$; and married Sept. 30,1755 .

Ased 102, Mrs. Sufan Millis, who had lived the gieater part of her cays in one houle, chlled the Shipmeadow Lock-houfe, on the Bungay navigation. Her husband was manager at the locks for Sir John Dalling's grandfather in the year 1715, who was then proprietor of that navigation. This inftance of longevity feems to contradict the generally-received opinion of the unwholforneaefs ef low marmy fituations; the fituation in whin me refided being monty farrounded by floods thronghout the Win'er.

At Clifton, near Briftol, in his 7 : d year, John Hett, efg. late one of the maiters in chancery.

Rev. S. Wriglit, reetor of Bradley, co. nerby.
31. After a painflul illnefs of 9 months, aged 69 , James Mackintoh, efy. of Kenfington fquare.

Mrs. Silmon. of Bury Areet, Elmonton, relict of Capt. S. who died April 14, 1790.

Thomas Tod, efy. merchant, in Edinburgh, treafurer to the O than hofpital.

Lately, in the Weft Indies, Auruftus Colman, efy. captain in the zgth or Worcefterthire reg. of foot, and eldeft fon of Franc sc.efy. late of Halstom, near Exeter.

At Martmique, agel zhi, Fienty haturard, eldetl camain in the 83 d regiment.

At Pifa, whither lie went for the benctit of his heith, liency Lepefter, eíq. capatin of his Alajefy's fup l'Eclar, and fun of Ralph L. efq. of Hallgrove.

At Berne, in Suizellad, where he had fong been retired from wetives of ceconomy, after confiderablesexpenditure on parliamentary eiections, and afterwa ds, by preference of fituation, for heafth, Spencer Compten, eighth Eall of Northampton, in which tite he fueceeded his brother, 1763 . He narried, fret, pare daughter of Henry Lawton, eff. of Nisthampomhie, who ded in 8767 , leaving iffue a fun, Charles, torn 1760 , a id a danghter, Fances, boam 1758 . His ficend laty was Mifs Anne Hougham (whofe fitter wals married to the late Mr. Thaty, of Bownegate, Barnet, merchant of Lendomi). Hi: Lorehap was appornted one of the gromms of bis Mijetty's bedclamber, Nov. 25, 2760 ; elected reconder of Nurthampion, Nov. $1,1,763$; and conafituted lord-lientenant and cuitos rotulorum of the county of Nots!ampton, July sa, ryir ; and prefuent oi the Gential Hofpital and Pretervatire society of the county. He is fucceeded by his only fori, Charles, minth errt.

Much lamented, the Rev. Fenjamin Sowden, miniter of the Entlifh Epifcopal Church at Amficrelam. He was juttly efteened for his learning, his extelfive acquaintance with fcience, and the amiable qualities of lis heant. A difcuffion of his having written or publuhed Lady $w$. Mountague's letters, which he enly porfeffed, may be feen in our vol. LX1V. 195, 355. He printed five farmons: I. on the faft, 1747 ; 2. on the death of the Prince of Crange, 750 ; 3. at the fumetal of the Rev. Bartholomew Loftus, 1751 ; 4. Ordination, ${ }^{1} 752$; 5 . on the death of Kang George II. 1760 .

At his country houfe near Dublin, James Potts, efq. an eminent prantor.

At Kanelagh, near Dublin, Mr. E. Bon ham, printer.

At Kidwelly, in South Wales, Signio John Baptitt: Morelli, an eminent com pofer, and manv years leader of the ban at the Opera-houfe.

At st. German's, in Cornwa'l. Captai Gearge Fox Brince, of the 8fth reg.

At Plymouth, Capt. Pins, of the Ea: Devon regiment of miltia.

At Southamptor:, Mrs. Flynn, wife , Lieut. F. of the royal navy, and daughter t Mr. Couche, comperoller of the cuftoms Fowey.

At Acomb, near York, in his goth yea Mi. fohn Hill.

At Stationd-upon-Avon, co. Warwicl aged 114, Mr. John Gill.

Aged 92, Mrs. Lidderdale, relict if tu late $D_{i}$. Thomas L. formerly an emine phyfician at lynn.

At Falmouth, on her way to Lifbon, ti Hon. Mrs. C. Hely Hutchinfor, wife of ti Hon. Chuftopher Hely H. and daughter Sir Janies Bond, bart. Her remains we convayed to ireland, and depofited in $t$ reyal vault at Chrift Church, by thofe the late Secretany of State and Lady D noughmore, and thofe of her daughte whom fle furvived but a few days.

At Landiond luige, near Salilbury, M Greatheed, wife of Samuel G. efy.

After a thout illnefs, aged 66, Mrs. D villatd, of Ewelm, co. Oxford.

At Latterworth, co. Leicefter, aged & Tho. Marriot, the oldert man in the pari: Mr. Joha Rickard, fehoolmafter, Whwore, co. Somerfet. His death v occafioned by one of the church-belis fa ing on him. He bas left a widow a eight children.

At Wirbech, in his 76 th year, afteralo and painfulilhefs, Sir P. Vavazor, knt.

At Sandal, co. York, Mrs. Zouch, rel of the late Rev. H. Z. rector of Tankern near Barnfley.

After a lingering illnefs, the Rev. Jc Flemus, rector of Plymerce, Devon; man mivertally beloved by all who had pleafure of his acquaintance, frocerely mented by his parimioness, and parti lurly we wor, to whom his hand and he were always ready to adminititer relief. I living is in the gift of Oriel-college, Oxfo whopurchafed it of the Mundy family, It, with a fum of money lefi by br. Carter, p voft of the faid college, to purchafe one two advowfons for the benefit of a fell, thereof. Mir. Flemug was prefented by ; late Dr. Clarke, provuft 1778.

Rev. Mr. Hargreaves, mafter of the 1 ; grammar-ichooi at Batley, near Leeds.

In Wercefterfure, the Rev. Jn. Dav, M. A. felluw of Trinity-college, Oxfor

Sedenly, at Depeford, in an advar A age, greatly lamented and much refpeč , Mr. John Kolt, one of the fevior clerk if

1.796.] Obiluary of remarkabee Porfons; with Biographical Anecáotes. 357

his Majefty's dock-yard there; and formerly, for many years, a clerk in the cheque ofice in the above yard.

At Enfield, aged fourfore, Mr. Atam Hanilton, many years mifter of the Ponfe and Crown mo at Enfieth heghwa, which the extraord nary lofs of herfes an ill health opliged hirn to quit many years agn; and he wis at hett reduced to the henevolence of his friends and an annury left of the pirihh fur chariable purpores. He was twice married, and liad two fons, one of whom kept the Whive Hart pulide houfe at B.ttie bridge, and died juft before him. His Gither, Mis Jane Mnore, relict of Edward M. a well-known and agreeable witer, anthor of the Fables for the Femate S:x, is neceflarv-woman to the private darirtments at the Queen's houfe

At her houfe in Richmond-bullenes, Solo, Mirs. Monoux, relict of the hate Fumphry in. e q. of Sably, co. Bedford. April I. In his Sgth year, Jolu Skipp, eff. of th: Upper Ha!!, co. Herefird.
In Clarges-ititet, Cavendith fquare, Mrs. Tomkyns, widow of Packington T. eff. of Oxfard-itreet.

Of a decline, at Briftol Hotwells, in her 230 year, univerfaly Limentes, Mits Lengton, eldeft daugh et of Bennet Langton, eff. of Langton, co. Lincoln, axd the Countuif of Rothes.
2. Jas. Corneck, efq. of Clipton, many years a hater and hofier in Cheapfide.
lo an atvancel age, after a long ilinef, Anne, the Compteffe de Welderen, (fifter to Lord Huward and Mr. Paiker, wife of Dr. F. rectur of St. James's, Weftmin?ter.) wife of Count de W. knight of the Tatomac ofder, who was many years envoy ex:raordinary from Holland to thic country. She was the fecond daughter of Wialiam Whut$\dot{w} \in l$, of Oundle, efq. boin Maich 27, 1721; was one of the maide of bonour to the Princefs of Orunge; but had no fuviving iffue.
3. At Rawmarh, cn. York, the Rep. Mr. Hodgion, rector of that place.
4. In E.yre-ftreet, Cold Bath fietle, Mr. John Lodge, ensraver.

Aged 82, Mr. Richard Vicary, fergemaker, of Sandiond; a man of uatrined integrity, juit in tre dealinge, a falber to the fathertefis, and a friend to the por.

At Bath, afier a tediou and moft pir. ful illnefs of four monthe, the Rev. Thicmas Tritram, eitor of Great Ponton and Barkftol, co. Linco'n. He marriei, in the year 1.738, Lonifa, the daughter of the late Hon. General John Barrington, and filler to Lord Vifcount Barrington.
5. The Rev. Jolm Burnaby Gallaway, curate of Croft, co. Leiceller, and eldent fon of the Rev. Jom Cole Gallaway, vicar of Hinckley, and in the comminioun of the peace for that county.
6. At Aberdeen, in his 7 rth $^{\text {th }}$ year, Geo.

Camphell, D. D. F. R. S. Edinb. late prircipaland preffor of divinity in the Mis-rifchal-college and Univerfity of Aberdeen, and one of the miniRers of that city.

In an advanced age, Mrs. Brown, if Leicefte:-fqaare, wistow of the late Dr. Henry P. of the fame place.
7. At Clapham, Mrs. Price, relict of the late Jonathan $P$. eff. of Salters-hall, Lond.

At Clifton, Mrs. Lewis, wife of Percival L. etq. cand daughter of the laie Jeremais Coay, utq.

At Whinam, the Rev. Mr. Royce, who hat been in umbent of that living upwards of 60 years.
8. In h's gift year, the Hon. ThomasFincis Weman, LL.D. only brother to the hate Lond Vifcoust Wenman, and fellow of All Souls colltge, Oxford; where he proce ded B. C. L. Jan. 24, 1771, and LL D \{u'y 7, 1;90; was elected Regins prof tion of civ: $14 \mathrm{w}, 178 \mathrm{i}$, and Cultos archuoram, 1783. He went out in the morning, as uival, to add to his valuathe coilectons in atural hatery; in the eigcruefs of which purfuit he unfortunately fe! 1 iutu the niwcr Cherwell acar WaterEtton. His holly was found, fevera! iow after, not far trom the pice, where a imall net and other articles, which to camnonly emplozed for the purpofe of taking infedts, were lying clufe to the earge of the water. The crother's inquet fict on the holy the next dy, and brought in thice verdict Accidental De.th; and h; remains were interred, on the 1 gth, in Ad Sunls college-chupel.

At Hemingencl, co. Huntington, in he: 32d year, the Lad, of Clailes Leca, chy. daughter of M jur $\mathrm{O}_{2}$ ivie, of fame piace.
9. After a wart iiluefs, aged rro, Mis. Mary Furver, of Lhe ch Lench, co. Worc.

At Hemfuuth), co Yiric, the Rev. Ar. Thompfon Mantin, of the saee grommarfohoor in that phate.
10. At tis honure in the Frieis, Exeter, in his Ggth vea, he Rev. Ricthard Fote, formerly of $C$ ats-huil, Combridge, B. A. 1752, M. A. 1774; rector, in tis own right, of the living of North Tawton and Chulunlergh, and in poiferition of the tive prebetrlo apperdant to the later; alfo, pation of the $v$.camge of Okehampton, and the rectery of D.ddificombieigh; tugether furmins the ruof valuable private patrona? thathe courty of Devon, tie Hon. Lord Vicount Coutengy's excejted. Through a tendernets of conftution ant nervous fenfiblity, bzig long rendered incapable of performin: the problic functions of his profepion, he did not, however, fill to give ample tectimony of the tendernefs of his beart, the fuavity of his mamers, and the pmity of his fentiments, in his domef. tuc and privae watk of life.

In Argsle-ftrett, the Lady of 'Sir A:chibala Emontone, bart.

At Southampton, in his $85^{\text {th }}$ year, Edward Lillr, efq.
12. At the George inn at Bridgewater, on her way to the Ho:uells, aged rg, Lady Anne-Maria Montagne, danghter of the late and firter of the prefent Dike of Mancliciter.
13. At his reat at Whitutell, co. York, aged 3 5 , Sur Bellugh on Cirahm, hart He vas for of the late Sir Bellingham, and has a fifter marrict, abrod, to C.4. Srevill, vol. LXI. p. 775. His father, Sir Bellingham, die. 1790 ; and wa of a generous and warm turn of noind. He refiled at Norton Conyers, in the North Riding of this county; and, by his liheralty, is faid to have injure! his fotume. He was addieted to an babbitual, fiten tomeaning, hot odious, cufton, of ufing in his warmth loofe and prophane werds. this error in converfation is brworthy men of tenfe; it is juftiy dended, and every day tofing ground in this age of tiefinement and politenefs.

After an illnefs of only three days, Cha. Gunning, efq. an e ninint attorney, and ane of the common council of Eatio, and brother of the Rev. Dr. G. late tellow of Merton-college, Oxfind.

Far atlvanced in yeas, at her houre at Little Gaddeflen, Heite, Mrs. Ame Norton, youngeft drughter and cohenefs of the Iare Gervas N. etq. of Kertuthorp, co. York.

Mrs. Knapp, widow of Jerome K. efq. of Haherd thers hall.

At Calverhall, co. Hereford, in his 73 d year, James Whitney, efq.

At Berkhampitead, on her way home, Mifs Sophia Littlehales, foungeft daughter. of the Rev. Dr. L. of Bicetter, co. Oxford.
14. In Pope's Head allev, aged 64, Mr. ,Richard Evans, Rock-broker.
15. Mrs. Hoole, of Chapel-Rieet, Bed-ford-row.

Mrs. Catharine James, wife of Mr. James J. attorne $y$, of Ayleshury.
,6. Suddenly, James, Ioth Lord Somerville, one of the fixteen peers for Scolland. He fucceoded his father, James, 1766 ; and is fucceeded in title and eftates by has nephew, fou of his brother Hugh.

At his houfe riear Dorking, aged 92, In. Eld, efq. of Seighford, co. Stafford. He belonged to a cluh, among whem he had obtained the namo of young Eld.

At Chiflebtirs, in Kent, Mrs. Stone, wife of Richard S. efq.

At his houre at Lansbe:h, John Hughes, efy. wholefale itationer.

After a fhort illnefs, at the houfe of the Rev. Dr. Roberts, head-mafter of St. Paul's fchool, in London, where he was on a vifit, the Rev. William Sergrove, D.D. mafter of Pembroke college, Oxford, and prebendary of Gloucefter: He proceeded M. A. 176y ; B. D. 1778 ; D. D. 1789 ; and fucceeded the late Dr. Adams in the mafter-

Thip of the college; and refigned the rectory of St. Aldite, Oxford, 1789 ; to which he had been prefented 1774 . He was ftruck with the palfy at an examination in St . Paul's fchool, of which be never recovered.

Afrer two days illnefs, aged $1 \wedge 4, \mathrm{Mr}$. Benjoin 01 G bhs, farmer, of Great S sxham.

At Wisiech, in his 82 d year, William Coleback, gen:

17 Suddenly, Mrs. Symonds, of Fleetfreet, near the Temple.
r. . In Ductors Commone, Genye Harris, D. C. L. fon of Dr. Jotin H. bifhop of Landaff, choncellor of the diocefes of Durlan, Hereford, ald iandiff, and commiffary of Effex, Herts, and Surrey. He has left a large fortune, which he has chiefly bequeathed to public charnties, yc,oool to. the Weltminster Lying-in hofput, donations equally liberal to feveral others, and the refidue (fupp fed to be $4 \mathrm{c}, 00 \mathrm{I}$.) to St. George's infpital.

Sodderily, of a rhocumatic rparm, aged 26, the Lady of Jobn Pardoe, efq. of Bed-f.rn-row.
20. At Welling, in Kent, Mr. Benjamin Winckworth, flow-factor.
23. In an advanced age, at Clapham, Robert Lovelace, cfq. formerly a partner in the houfe of Child and Co. bankers.

Gazette Promotion.
1795. ICHARD GLODE, efq. fhe. Nov. 6. 1 riff of London, knighted.

Dec. 2. IG ace Pennington, M.D. Regius profetion of phyfick at Cambridge, knighted. 1796. Fan. 16. Major-general his Rofal Highnefs Prince Edward, K. G. appointed lieutenant-general in the army.
21. Right Rev. William Fofter, D. D. bithop of Ki'm re, in Ireland, trannlated to the bihoprack of Clogher, qice Hotham, dec.; Right Rev. and Hon. Charles Brodrick, bithop of Cionfert and Kilmacduagh, to the bihhoprick of K.lmore ; and Rev. Hugh Hanifton, D. D. dean of Armagh, proninted to the bimoprick of Clonfert and kilmacduagh.

Fcb. 26. John Williams Hughes, of Tregvh, cfy. appointed theriff of the county of Caermarthen, vice John Martin, efq.
27. John Earl of Bute, his Majefty's am: bafladomextraordmary and plenipotentiary to the Catholic King, created a Vifcount, Earl, and Marquis of the kingdom of Great Britain, hy the titles of Vifcount Mountjoy of the Ine of Wight, Earl of Windfor, and Marquis of the county of Bute.

David Smyth, of Methven, efq. one of the ordinary lords of feffion, appointed one of his Majefty's commiffiuners of jufticiary in Scotland.

Allen Maconochie, efq. appointed one of the ordinary lords of feffion in Scotland, Marcb ir. Robert Lifton, efq. appointed envoy-extraordinary and minifter-plenipo-tentiary to the United States of America; and Edward Thornton, efq. appointed fecretary of legation to the faid St.tes.

12. Richard Earl Howe, admiral of the White, appointed admiral of the fleet, and general of his Majefty's marue forces, both wie Forbes, dec.
15. Alexander Lord Bridport of the kingdom of Ireland, K. B. appuinted viceadmical of Great Britain, and licutenant of the admirally thereof, and alfo, licutenant of the navies and feas of the kingdom of Great Brita:n, vice Ear! Howe.

Hon. Whlam Cornwalls, appointed rearadmiral of Great Bratain, and of the admiralty thereof, and alfo, rear-aumiral of the navies and feas of the kinglom of Gieat Britain, vie Lord Brıupert.

Sir Eduard Peliew, of Trevery, co. Cornwall, knt. captaia in the royal navy, created a barone!
19. William Lloyd, of Cumhufion, efq. appointed fheriff of the county of Merippeth, vice Sar Edward Price Lloyd, bart.
21. William Billogham, efy. created a baronet, with remmeder, in default of iffue-mate, to the heirs mate of his father, Alan Bellingham, efq. of Cafte Bellingham, co. Loust, Irelans, dec. I hisis grank is a revival of an old Englim baronetage; and granted by his M.jetty tor lum as beng a disect lueal defcendant of Sir james BelLingh.im, of Levens, in We:tmorland; whofe eldert fon, Henry, was (in the lifetime of his fatior) created a baronet by p.tent, in 1620 ]
23. Wm. Wa:fon, efq. F.A.S knighted.
24. Samuel Lord Hond of the kingdem of Ireland, appointed mafter of his Maj:fy's hofpital at Greenwich, co. Kent, ard one of the commifitioners or governors thereof, wice Pallifer, tiec.
25. Major-general Sir Hew Dalrymple, apponated lieutenant-governer of the afiand of Guernley, and commandant of the forces in the faid ifland duri: g the ablence of the governor, vice Small, Jec.

THEATRICAL REGISTER.

April New Drury-Lanf.

1. A Trip to Scarhorougl1-The Doctor and Apothecary.
2. Vortigern-My Grandmother:
3. School for Scandal-Harlequin Captive.
4. Firt Love-TheDoforand A pothecary.
5. The Plain Dealer - The Prize.
6. Love for I.ve-My Grandmother.
7. The Wheel of For une-No Song No
8. Ifab lla-The S nil'd Child. [Supper.
9. Macte:h-Hariequ, Captive.
10. Alex thder the Grear - T be Spoil'd Child
11. The Smughlers - I haCritick - 1 heWed. ding Day.
12. Jane Shore-Tne Prize.
13. The Country Girl-The Smugglers.
14. I (abella-Ditt).
15. Coriolanus-The Citizen.
16. The Smusglers--The Pranel--My Grandmother. [glers.
17. Almayda, Queen of Granatu-The smug-

21, 22, 23. Ditto-Ditto.
25. Romeo and Julier-The Saltan.
26. The Heirefs-The W'edu.ng-Day.
27. The Gamefter-The smugglers.
28. Romes and Juliet - The Prize.
29. Hamlet-The Wedling Day.
30. Mabmoud-All the Wor H's a Stage.

April Covent-Garden.

1. The Firit Part of King Henry the Fourth-St. Patrick's Day.
2. The Lie of the Day - Lock and KeyHarlequin's Treafure.
3. The Merry Wives of Windfor-Ditto.
4. Fontainbleau-Britifh Fortitude and Hibernian Friendihip-The IriMman in London. [Treature.
5. The Way to Get Married-Ha:lequin's
6. The Lie of the Day—Luck and Key— Ditte.
[tifement.
7. Tise Myteries of the Cafle-A Diver9. The Lad of the Hilis; or, The IVickiow Goli Mine-Crotchet Lovge.
8. Disto-Harlequin's Treature.
9. The Travellers in switzenland-Arrived at Pontimouth - Follies of a Day.
10. The Lad of the Hills - VodernAntivives. 14. Way to Get Married-Lock and Key. w. 5. Inkle and Yaricn-The Point at Hergui: cr, Britifb Bravery TismpbaniThres Wecks after Aharage.
11. The Merry Wives of Windfor-Ofcar and Malvina.
12. The Finf P.rt of King Henry the Fourth-hiadequn's Tratire.
r9. A New Way to Pa; Oll Debes-Britifh Fortitude and Hibernian Fsietad-fhip-The Follhes of a lay.
13. Every One has his Fauk-Arrived at Portfmouth-The Maid of the Oaks.
14. The Way to Get Married-OO car and Malvina.
15. Comedyof Errors-The Irifh Mimick Lovers' Quariels-POint at Herqui.
16. The Lad of the Hills-Tbe Doldrim;
17. King Lear-Ditto. [or, 1803.
18. Zorinki-Lock and Key. [Doldrum.
19. The Merry Wives of Windwr-The
20. Way to Get Maried-Lock and Key.
21. The Woodman - The Príner at Large.
22. Artaxerxes-The Doldrum.

BILL of MORTALITY, from March 22, to April 26, $\mathbf{r g}_{9}{ }^{6}$.

a）a a a a

$\begin{array}{lll}M & - & M \\ \rightarrow & 4 & n \\ \text { Han }\end{array}$ ｜管皆
 1 $\left.\begin{array}{cc}\infty \\ n & 0 \\ 2 \\ \operatorname{cin} \\ \cos \end{array} \right\rvert\,$

 ：111 111 $\square$ 11 1 11 ： $!$ ｜ 11 1 111 111品

Lu
noncait row, Exelc louc (it) terctoret, Hus:
 treeand Leficestiz Lew ej Leeds 2 Liv:-pool 3 Maiofone Manchiter 2 Newca ${ }^{\text {a }}$ It 3 Northatition Norwich 2 VAr: 153 xm Oxpord 2 Reading Sanibury Scotland Sthenele 2 Sherturne 2 shemibury 2 Stafford Ytant rd 2 W:ce 'efar lihitehavea Wercetiet York 3

Meterrolne. Diaries for April and Mav, :796 $\quad 362$ Rem. a Matone's Vindication of Shak fpeare 263 Ireland"s Anno ncement of Lear \& Vorngern 201 Hiftory of the earlen nerindica Cublicatums 365 Remarks on I ives of Whturtonand Hone 360 Sylvanus Morran-"The Sphore of Gentrv" $3^{67}$ Mr. B Thop's Puems- Mhicellan Correct.ons $; 68$ Bth. Taylor-The Author of Dulce Damsen: ib. Middeton Chuch, "nfex-S". Alkazend's $\boldsymbol{S}^{6}$ Romantic Propofat of Cant Bumerinia 64337. The Opbrys Aranif ra, ivery uncommon P! with. Hayley's L, fe of Mitron-Buvenuto Cellom $3: 1$ Law Qu-fion elativ. toxug-nted Curucis s $5^{7}$ ? Remarks on the Mottoes felected hy who it The Butith 'actory's H whe at St. Pete th is $5^{-3}$ The Ditud Attara at Guenfe - Curious seats ib Acconntof the Frem thelerg at Whete: it it

 Leter-r form K Charlksl .t Duke. fthend :77 Introductur of Breat frat, &C. nuto I mara ib.
 lile of tord Fanfax ex'mat - Bp. ' ild nev 374
 Gemak kson D. Afiges m Hhtory of Evcia ... 3*3

The Sotulares of Monks-Brocbe . nd Ouche $3^{81}$ An Enkuiry after feveral eld Engl:fh P.ets $i b$, LichfieldC.ihedral-Sir T. Rown's monum. $3^{85}$ Charater of the te Mr. B. Cl oyce : owden ib. $O_{u S} \mathrm{~Sv}$ thlows-Kuffs and Reevec-Cuckoos ih. Attentionto P , fonagt-houfe itcommended 387 Charact of D DinCrans lle \&Arc'd. Fownfon; 88 $P_{1}$ ccediagsofth prefo t Seilimoripalianent ib. $\because$ is charch of St V rtin Ont vich begun 393 A Cuestination of the Rarableon Datmoor ib. 4. numen of हiwardI-) - ef ni Henry V. 395

 13. "akent omed e ? ne: Sof Efchylus $39^{8}$
 Skillof A pothecalia - 'iaverat p. Stontrind

 SE: H P POR: " treverngtute: ...n
Im 11 r r

Embelinted wit Views of Midnle: Shrewsum y fic Rritish Fac ato

$$
L, A
$$

 where all Letters to the tedtor are defint iu wa livited, pust-pable. ind

Meteorological Table for May, i 7,6 .

1. The darfon, fur vine, and Orleans plum, bloom.-2. Thuncer and lightni with a heavy howe:-3. Hop-buds appens. Liquorice breaks ground.-4. May duk cherry blooms -5. Great argul plum bloms.-11. Elm fuliates. Humble-bee toragi amon? the formbs--12. Vigetation has made bo great progrefs for his laft week, the of the day being chill, and in the nithits frolt.-14. The beech has dropped its leav and the hads apaerif turgid.--16. The whld ilae hlooms.--17. Cut the firf afparagus. 19. Green Chma pen blooms. Vanfy fowers. The fog of laft aight and this morning derie, a'tho:zh its continuance but abut 12 hours, it added ocy to the rainegange. $S_{1}$

THE

Gentleman's Magazine: For M A Y, ${ }^{1796}$.

BEING THE FIFTH NUMBER OF VOL. LXVI. PART I.

Mr. URBan,  April 30.

淡 溇 tection having been A made by Mr. Malone of the Stakfpearian forgery, any additional obfervations may be deemed fuperflunus; yet, though the fraud hos been difcovered, the enquiries of cu:iofity remaia unfilenced.

Mr. Malone, p. 33 of his "Enquiry," fays,
"Erom the time of Henry the Fourth I have perufed, I will not fay fome hualred, but fome thou and, deeds and other Mis, and I never once found the copultive and fpelt as it is here [in Qneen Elizabeth's letter to our Poet] with a final e."

The only intance where ande has occurred in my Manufcript refearches was in a thin folio of Churchwardens Accounts belonging to the parifh of St. Martin Outwich; where it occurs feveral times in a bill of dues, "fully concluedid, affyrmide, ande decreid, by the confent of the mofte parte of the parifhenors of this parifhe, at a veftere holden the xxjth daye of Februarii, in yere of $\mathrm{o}^{r}$ Lorde ginde $\mathrm{m}^{1}$ ic.x.wo. in the prefers of Mr. Doctor Willfone, parfone," \&c. \&c.

In Harl. MSS. 2447, is an antient collection (on paper) of potils, or hio milies, written t. Edw V. and Hen. VII. Thele have the Saxun contic. tion for th; and the $d$ in and being written with a curl, Mr. Wanley, in the account of its $c$ ntents, reads it ande; from which the Shakluearian fabricator may probably have derived the te min ting letter which accomparies this word neally throughout the Mifcellaneous Papers (and is alike written by Queen Ehzabeth, our Poet, and his noble patron), wi:hour having previoufly fearchad the NS. in quefin.

To the fmall-hand writers mentioned by Mr. M. at p. 125, n. 67, why not atd Slow and Norden; to the Black-letter latha: of the firt of whom few of the invekigntias of the Antiquities of our metropolis ftand unindebted?

Richard Cowlev, a low aetur, who played the part of Verges ia Mucb ado about Nothing, if we inay give credir to theie new difccuered documents, was Shak $f_{p}$ eare's bofon-friend; accordingly, we have a curious lettec foom him, dated "Mirche nynthe" in an unknown year, and addrefled
" To Mafterre Richard Cowlcye, dwellynge atte oune Mafterre Holliss, a draperre, in the Watlynge-ftreete, Londonne.".

In 1597 this Richard Cow'ye appears to have lived at "Alhins," a large houfe on the South fide of Holi-well-ftrect, Shoreduch, inhabited by a perfon of the fame name, by whom it was divided into feveral tenements ; whence, on May 8 h that year, Cuthbert, the fon of our Richard Cowlye, was baptized. In 1599 he had another fon, Richard, baprized from Hall well on Apr:l 29th; and, on Septurnber $28 t h, 1616$ Elizebeth, his wife, wats buried (probably) "from"' (the fame houle in) "Haliwell-giteet."

Heoce I think is not improbable that he might have refided in the pa$\mathrm{r}: \mathrm{h}$ ders befied in hanging their webs an the buibes. The fig begms to ditipate about nine A.M. and which the pomer of the fon foon dify fed.-22. Cuckso fines. Sowed barley. Lime-tree foliates.-24. Sw llow apyears; feen at Wartingren the 18 h . Siberna crab

The rains at th: cumcinion of the month have come very leafonally; not that vegeta tion was Itopped. The meadows ani raftures appear uncommonly verdant, the wheats luxuriant, and bloom upon the fruit-trees abundaut. Whatever muy be the profpects for peace, there appear greas fizns of approaching plenty.

Fall of rail by Carey's rain-pauge, 1 inch .049. Exaporation, 3 inches 7-10ths.
Walton, naar LLiverposi.
j. HOLT.
rifh of S . Lennard, Shure firsh, together with his contemprasies Tarleton and the Bubhages, from the time of his con men ing player.
M, M !one, at p. 145 . Gaith, "to rallant Anma hatlier chave in 1582, is lualy ridtculou." I have, however, froce the witing of the alove, met with une wilary inf we of Anna. in th. Parih Re ifler of Si. Botc!ph, Bi-

"Aged $3^{\circ}$, Amma ........ one of the nueres mai'es of St. Mary Spitile, buried ye 20 of Ostuber."

It is far from improb:ble, howiver, that this might be the miftake of an ignorant parifh clerk for $H_{\text {ane }} b$, but, how to account for "one of the numnes maides of St. Mary Spittle," I am ertirely at a lofs.
H. E.

IN Mr. Ireland's Pidurefque "Views on the Upper, or Warwick Bire, Avon," dated May #, 1795, is the following Avant Courier to the writings of late atributed to Shakfpeare:
"He bas the reans, and it is his intention, to lay hefore the publick wariety of 2uthentic and important documents refpecting the privaze and putlie life of this wonderful inan: one of his moft affecting and admired tragedies, written with his own hand, and differing in various particulars of ruych curiofity and intereft from any editicn of that vork now exlant ; and, at a future day, to prcfent a picture of that mind, which no one has yet ever prefumed to copy, an entire drama! yet unknown to the world, in his own hand-writing."
I fend you the above quotation, Mr. Urban, without any cominent.

Yours, &c.
Вов Short.
Mr. Urban,
May 20.

BY an error of the prefs, one of the correftions of the "Vindication of Shakffeare," which I fent you laft monch, ce uld not be undeiftood. The reference was to P. 229, where Henry, Prince of Wales, is taid to have had but one Chritian name; whereas, in truth, as appears from a paffage in Camden's Remains, 4to, 1605 , which had efcaped me, he was baptized by the names of Henry-Frederick.

As I have thus once more had occafion to fay a word on this fubje日, and I am defirous of giving as little trouble gs may be to whover may anfiver the "Viadicd ion" (if at the end of eight wecks an Anfiveres ihatl come ioto the field), I beg leave to add a few mo e cor eqtions:-
P. 96. 1. 2, Corithcays, r. Coryphes 25s. p. 138.1 . 5 flom the botom, for Clinfe r. Chinefe; p. 189, 1. 2 r for bave r. baue; and, in p 190, 1. 10, the fame correction hou'd be made. In P 193,1. 8 and 10, the word and is swice printed by the miffake of the compofitor, inftead of the abbreviation E. P. 338, n. for Anderfocn alis (the letters having been mifplaced at the prefs) r. Anderfon calls.

In. P. 79 I have expreffed a doubt concerning the antiquity of the wote excellence, as applitd to written com: pofitions, but lately have found reafor to believe that this word was thus ufer in Shaklpeare's time.
E. M.

Mr. Urban,
May 17.

THE account of the origin ant progrefs of Annual Regiffers, ex traded trom the Analysical Review is, as far as it goes, highly entertain ing and interefting; but, it certain! wou'd have been more fo, had you materials enabled you to fupply you readers with a few miore particulars a well as dates. "The prefent State c Europe," in 4to, I think, commence in July, : 690 . Some of your readere perhaps, would be good enough to te you how lung that work was continuet I have 21 volumes, which conclud 1710; but, I conceive that my fet by no means complete.
At what time "The prefent Stat of Great Britain" commenced, an at what time is ended, I do not know Thefe particulars will, 1 make $n$ doubr, be fupplied by fome of yot numerous readers.
The work publifhed in volumes $t$ Salmon I conceive to have for its tut "A complete Hifory of Europe." f an annual publication, it began wi! the year 170 j . To what length lafted I cannot fay; I have ty me th volume for 1712 ; but farther $I$ cann inform you.
Athợug it affumed the fhape, 1701, of an annual publication, it w. by no means a new woik, but a cunt nuation of the Hiftory of the form century, which was publuthed in a ve irregular manner; for, in 3698 al peaicd a volume of "A complete H . tiry of Europe, from the Begirmil of the Tieary of N.meguen, 1696 , the Conclution of the Peace at Re wick, 1697;" in 1705 appeared to tumes, beginning with the vear 500, and ending 1642 ; and, in 1706 , vo more volumes, which brought the ork up to the year 1676 .
The introdustion to the "Complete lifory' for ifor, begins thus:
"Having alread" written the Hiftory of arope, from the Begwning of the Treaty f. Nimeruen to the Cmuln of we eace at Refwitk, continuai the fumt, $b y$ bree feveral cditions, to the chal of the lug/t entury," &c.
I thould be glad to be informed whether or no any fuch pubicution is xtant. If it be, whether by threc,ieeral editions is to be underfo d...e. en eparate volumes, one far eacn jur; is, from the annuzl publicaion whic's. vas then going on, it feems likely that ve are fo to underifand it.
You will pardon me alfo far refuefting the fivour of fome of your :orrefpondents to inform us refpe气ing he "Hiftory of the Works of the Learned"一how many volumes it was zomprized in, and in what year it ended. I have it from the begton nof, but only 12 vo'umes. I: began werh January, 1699 ; and the 12 th volume clofed the year 1710. Any patticulars refpecting fo extenfive a Review, as alfo its character, could not but be very acceptable to vour readers.

It is much to be lamented that we have no where preferved a regular, and, 1 might alfo call it, a chrunological account of political pertodical publications, fuch as, in later times, "The Craftiman," &ec. A work of this fort, fpecifying the objed for which the feveral works wese undertaken, the progrefs they made, the fuppofed outhors as far as they wee e found ou:, &ic. would by no mears be an invaluable acquifiton to the HRO. rian if well executed. From the better deferip: ion of thefe mu-h entertanang and ufeful information may be colleged; and, after the hear of the moment has fubfided, I fee no harm that could arife from fuch an enumeration. Some litie has ben doue of late years by your friend Mr. Nichols on this head; but, the gature of the works which he has cdived would nut permic of fo ample an aicount as we might with to fee even of the woiks which he has noticed: many there are which could not come within the limirs of his publications. The publick are highly indebted to him for what he has done. The prefent age have abundant reafon to feel their ob'igations to him for the endevour he has made to explain much of the hifory of the pe: jotical writess of the firt pirt of rie prefint centery. Foom hi: libours much may be thill expected; ard one cannot atofether give un the inez of atilitance which he may receive from his iome li:rn correfp idouts.

Pumit me, before I finill this hafty lether, to regret that we have no where preferved an account of the indefatithe letror wi in in: ricciafoned the : inetan'e 1 am giving you. The Wans of the "E Euclotia Britonnin" have piffed han over without nuinct. And, indeed, $I$ do not find any unriculats ol time except in a note to Nuhots's Life of Bowyer, p. 638 : he is mentioned accidentally there in noticing his elder, protiter. By that account it fhund feem that he was bo:n fomewhere abou 1674 , as we might tuppoe his tider brother to enter at cuiluy about 17 . If fo, his labours crmmenced at a tery early age.

I make no apology to you for fending you thete qhfirvations and fuggeftions. It is polfible that I may here mittake the work alluded to (under the nare of "The Hifary of Europe") in the Anslyacal Review; hur, as the wries there feems to fpesk only from recullection, and a work to correfpondent in ciate and defcripion, with a utle fo title differing, was before me, Ifrongly inclined to thinls thar it was only an inaccuracy very natural to any perfon who w ote from recollection, The $S+$ mon a luded to is, 1 conclude, the Timmas Silinon above telerred to.

A Clountry Quidnunc.

Mr. URean,

May 20.

$P \mathrm{Y}$ inferting in your Magazina the following extred of a letter from a triend, on reading $E$ hop Hurd's Life of B.thop Warbution, and the Rev. Mr. Junca's Life of Bithop Horne, you will, lan perfuaded, ems itroath inany of your ceaders; and you will oulige yours, \&c.
I. E.
" - On reading the feparate Lives, what naut obvioull occur to every one, that two men, bo:a of ceiebrity of talent, both !abouing for the tread that perimeth no, fronld, in the difribution of their heiveniy fond, have to uffired in the qu:ality of the wigrewients. In the ohe, however, not t" abmulon the metapher, a.fy there no: Do difcerned an attempt to mix the bread upon earth ? In the other, an anxiety of expectation to catch it as it defcended from heaven? The one, armed oap-à-pí, labled forth a theological knighterrant to defend the pilgrim on his road; the other, waiting in the mon perilous patis, was ever ready with affectionate remonftrance to warn him of the dar.gers of the way. If you fubmitted not to the protecting mield of the one, he would fonctimes even turn his fpear againft you: if $y$ ( $n$ liftened not to the kind alvice of the other, he would feize fome more favourable moment to $\hat{\text { veal into a hrart that }}$ he was detir tis of winning to bis caufe. Like a fitting meteor, the Bifnop of Gloucefter is darting hore and there, and mifleading by his dazling brilliancy: like a mild and benignant itar always illumi:aing the horizon, the Bimop of Norwich uniformly guides us through ti:e gloom and darknefs that will hang over the fcenes of our earthly jo:rney. Both were men of great literary attair ats, and both employed them in defending the general caufe of Chrifianity. But one fays, you fall believe it, becaufe, as rational beings, it is your duty; the other fays, you ouglat to believe it, becaufe, as frail and helplefs ones, it is your dearefl intereft. Both alfo embraced fome particular opinions, which, at different times, and on various occafions, they $u$ are called upon to fupport; fo that bere they ftand upon the fame ground of comparifon. But, in the writings of the one, yeu find a vigour of intellect preffing his argument on every fide, and fropofing and deciding at the fame inftant: in thofe of the o:her, you difcover a comprehenfive mind fully embracing its object, yet hiding, as it were, its own powers, and fairly ftating the queftion between God and man to leave the judgenent free; and, whilft Warburton, like a literary Goliah, is defying to combat a whole hott of enemies, Horne goes from rank to rank to ftop animofity, and beat God's commiffion to the heart. Warburton fuftains his opinion as one who was qualified to teach others. Horne delivers lis fentiments with the humility of nue who feems defirous of being tagght limfelf. The one viewed the Old Tefament through the medium of critical factacity ; the other examined it with the faithful eye of Chriftian penciration. Thus, whilit one amufed himfelf on the furface, the other was exploring the depths; and, whilft one was buly in delcribing the outfide of the cafket, the other was anxions to unlock ir', and bring forth to view the pearl of great price. In fhort, when yon take up the works of the one, you admire and wonder; when you perufe the writings of the-other, you adore and believe; the one furprizes, the other comforts, you; and, on laying lown the feparate Lives of thefe two Birhops, as given to us with all the zeal and all the predilection of the warme friendfhip, we cannot want a more decifir teftimony of their refpective meritr at utility than is given us by the learned adve c te of one of tlea:. And, whilf the D vine Legration of Mofer is held forth to tl world as a work of which the mott leari ed men of the r age (Lowth and Secke. were incompetent to judge, we will appe to the Comment on the Pfalms, beamir with the light of truth, which every on can fee, and the vital influence of whic every one cin feel, for the decifion of po terity."

Mr. UREan,

May 16.

IAM willing to attempt the refct of a charader, of which it feems ; leaft doubtful whether, having been c riginally configned to contempt throug the prejudice and envy of contempe raries, it may not have been hande down with obloquy tiongh a lazy ar unexamined admiffion of their affe tions. The perfon I allude to is Sy vanus Morgan, at leaft the nornin. author of "the Sphere of Gentry. The real writer has been fuppored have been Edward Waterhoufe : an that Waterhoufe gave his affifanc and perhaps furnifhed fome enti parts, is probable. Still, I belie: that the principal, and certainly th moft ufeful, parts were Morgan's, ar that he had the whole conduet of th work. The book is by no means : contemptible as it has been reprefen ed; and many portions of it, partict larly the filt of Queen Elizabeth knights, and (as Mr. Dallaway al knowledges) Camden's grants of arm and feveral genealogical fketches, al extremely curious. It cannot be do nied that they are mixed with a larg alloy of pedantic jargon and fancifi allufion. But how few heraldic: treatifes of this and preceding perioc are free from it ! Are any but Wy ley, Spelman, and Byfhe?

It feems that the Heralds, who from apparent motives of intereft havenevt quielly endured the publication of th Arcana of their fcience, determiner if poffible, to dircredit him; ant therefore, the opinions of Walker an Dugdale, and of $A$. Wood, who cop: ed from them, are very fufpicious at thorities. Againit thefe I fhall no bring the judgement of one of the own fraternity, John Gibbon, Blue mantle (autlow of the bouk on Blazon ry,) whofe copy of the "Sphere " Gentry" being now in my polieffion from the MS additions of his own hand-writing I tranfcribe the following curious netives.
"I, johan Gybbon, was very well acquainted with Sy!vanus Morgan. diee was a witty man, full of fancy, very agreeatle company, and lived very credibly. Hee lies buried in Saint Barthlemew's, behind the Exchange; and, thonath hee iceived fome affrunts from the Herall's Office, Sir George Mackenze, in his excellem Bonhe of Heral.Iry, quotes him with applauic." Joh. Gybbon.

In anotber pace he fays,
"I acknowledge Morgan to have had a rich genius, and a great inclination to armariall matters."
Oppofite to Morgan's portait, æt. 4t, by R. Gaywnod, which forms a part of the fronififiece, is the following:
"This counterfanding cutt of Morgan, extremtly like him as hee was anm 1664. Hee dyed 27 of March, abous noone, 1693 , aged 73 and about a weeke over. Hee was the prince of armes-painters. And, 2 d of April following, dyed Paine Fither*, the prince of Englim-Latm puets, hetween 3 and 4 in the afternoone. They were both my great acquantance., Jowan. Gybbon, Servant at Armes, B. M."

Now follow fome verfes from a MS leaf of the book, which "Have relation to Sylvanus Morgan's Armilogia, to which Garter and Norroy gave licences (drollifh, jocular, and abufive), and he was fo crafty : s to print them at the latter end of his booke, where nobody would look for them. But, to fay the truth, the booke is full of many remarqueable fancies and allufions.

Quis dicere contra Ingenium quicquid? Qucquad et invidia? Johan Gybtoa, B. M."
is The vindicative mood, fhewing a reafon, true or falle, why the anthor printed the licence.
True, thnu art mad.-Falie. -'Twas for want of wit, [it.-
To write a book.-' $\Gamma$ was they that henced I hey did it right.- I Is fafie; they did it wrong. -
The right to Hercaulis always did belong.Bofwell $\dagger$ did write of Herau'dry; and then The King ${ }_{+}^{+}$of Arnes was King of Englifa mon;

* Hího was he?
+ Office oftended at Bofwell's Heraul-dry, Auno 1597.
7 Jir G. Dethick, vide p

Al: Aftert vanitics on all u. writ. [wit
 To print a book witt: licence form above, What was his calling, yct had lave from Jove.
[why?
Brookes coul : ot brook Rritamiar ; ik you Camacn, a painter's fon, writ Heraulitiv;
Though, 1 have heard it faid, it ruyt appear Fritornia h 'nt he falt: of Wravic'ク隹e*.
Vincent do:'t Rougerrofe prick; Radgecritif crof him; (fill,
Both print then bookst; 'ut both are full of
As painters be; bus, if the kilg exalt us,
We're then calld Herauld, quafi verus A. TU'
[ he;
That is, High Mafters, that muft hiccofe Without two kings thy bosk could ne'er be iree.
[low
If the old Greets, like them, would nut alOught that was new, what ihall be antient now ?
Upon whofe works might we fafely look
To read, and con it as a clafick brok?
Painters, to be reveng'd, have frund a way, To right the Heraulds wring ing the Difplay; Joyming with Printers $\ddagger$ ere their act of doom Could nip the Heraulds badds fo m the bloom. Thou art not wife, but jutt, by this I know, To print their fence, fince they would have it fo:
'Truas wifely done, thou haklit a juft intent, Left thou Moulds wrong an act of parliament.
[plaia But there's no treafon in thy book; 'tis Thou needs no/icence; give them theirsagain. 1 hate fuch kindnefs as off. nds, and his § That draws niy picture ugl er chan it is, Though gayly dreft; I value not a ruh The gandy prafestlat muft :nak + me blufh; And dread to have my name bedawbid on paper,
Fit but to light tobacco-pipes and taper, Or elfe to wrap up wares of litite pr ce In chandlers thops; at beft but phin bsaml Adieu all writmg books, if fo be that [ficice; I p're when hits'd, or, when I'm bunm'd, grow fat."
Themunure ental plate of Thomas Waterhoule, Enquired for by Antiquariolis, p. 301, is in Morgan's "Sphere of Geriry." p. 70. The oher, of G lhort Watedioule, is in. the fame work, lib iii. P \& $2 . \mathrm{F} * \mathrm{~S}$.

Mr.Urean, - Mayzo.
THE two e'egant compofireas by the late Mi. Bifhop, mentioned

* This, I piefume, alludes to Dugdale's Hidenry of that county. Eirt.
\& "Ponkes uri: againt Camden, and Vuccit aganst Bretlies" $\ddagger$ "G willm's Difplay fooiled between a Printer and a Fainter:"
§" Enghith Horace, publifhed by Mr. A. B"[rome].

368 Mijeellaneous CorreEzinis.-Bp. Taylor.-Dulce Domum. [Ma. in p. 994 , col. 2 , of your lan volume, are interted in your "entertaluing Mifcellaby" for 1780 : the Kinife in F . 291; the Ring inp. 327: but they are both inconectly copied.

It may not be anifs on refer yookr biblical readers to pp. 215, 216, of your volurne for 1777, for a fall aid able defence of the cummon ieading of I Tim. if, 16 ; on which the obfervation of Mi.cknight is brought forward in p. 194 of your curront valume.
I. 203, col. 2, 1. 56, read " 459, $460 . "$
P. 222, col. 2. As to Mr. Byres, your volume for 1792 , p. 201 , col. 2. and p. 317, col. 2. nisy be confulted for farther information.
P. 235 . An ample account of the firt article in your " Index Indicatosius' is given in pp. 456-460 of your volume for 1791.
P. 259, cul. 1, 1. 7, read "Alban." Other anowymous publications, as well as the "Heroic Ep Ale" alluded to in col. 2, 1. 63, 64, are alfo alcribed, with equal probability, in pp. 885, 886, of your volume for 17,92 , to "one of ourbeft modern poets." Has he ever diciamed them?
P. 290 , cul. 1, 1. anief. The cuftom here mentioned is wot peculiar to Queen's colluge.
P. 349, col. 1, 1. 6r, read "Cornwell."
P. 357, col. 2, 1. 18, erafe " late." Yours &:c.

Scrutator.
Mr. Urean,
May 24.
$\int \mathrm{CAN}$ givenofariher infimation *. either to Anacha:fis or to E.1. about Bifis p Tayler, but would itcommend totitin to write to thereptefentatives of K . N. at Liverpuot.

You may affure your relpectable correfondent E. E. A. P. 28 , that he has not given the lealt, or the molt diftant, cficnce to A . U. by any thing that he has witten upon the fubject of Mr. Hutchinfon. A. U. may fill rerams his opinwn relanve to Natual $\mathrm{Re}_{\mathrm{e}}$ ligion; but, leit any thing he lays fhould be mifundeafood, or mifmetpered by unbelisverser Difts, or afford them any handie to cention them in their falle doctrines and terioments, I have recommended to A. U. wot to purfue this lubject farther in your Firmtay Repofico:y, being well athored of the outhodyiay and the great regatd which both theie geationen bear to the fundamental doetrines of Chila anity, and how zealous they both a to teach ard to prach the tuth as in Jefis Chrif.

Mr. Urban,

May 24.

TN a poem ju?t publifined, intitule "The Inflo-ace of Domettic A tichment with Refeect to Home," ti Wykehamit buy, who:s laid to ha ce:mpofed the Dulce Domum, is th plealingly defcribed:
And fee in duranc: the faft-fading boy
'Midit Wykeinin's walls his culcet fe rows lieave;
Fled are his fairy dreams of homely joy. Als! frowns too cinlling, that his if hereave
Of all that frolic fancy long'd to weav In his paternal wonds! His hands he weir

In anguan! Yet fome balm his forro le.uve
To foothe his fainting finit, as he fings, And fuit to every figh the fweetly-wat ling litings.
0 : he had notch'd, unweeting of diftre! The hours ar fchoolboy toll! Nor ir fome flew [was le
The monents-for, each mor:3, his fer Vitent of vacare bome ye brighter gre When, b! Aern !ate obfcur th the blifs new:
Droons his fick heart. Aud "all ther Yo thom no notel Dear ntive fie adtu."
[Echo figt
" 'lome, chatming home," bill phatnt And to his parting breath the dulcet ma mitr dhes.
P.enixed to this poem (which is $m$ elegantly print-d) is the fullowing So not br Mits Sewd d:

To the Aluthor, on bis Poom on Local Attachment.
O! thou, whofegemus, in the colours cle: Of Ly ric grace a. d Pink rophicic art,
Traces in fweeren feelings of the heat Scomin thy Mufe tite envy-fhayen'd fon

1. datknefs thrown, whan, hatelded diefert,
She $f$ ek the imnuortal fane. To Virtuede Thy verte etiteening, "eeting minds imp
Ther vital imate, then confecrating tear.
Fancy and Judgement view with graci eyes
Its kinder tints, that paint the filent pous Of local onjocts, dect of high empraze To prompt; wimle their delaghtful fellis: nore
The precions van:h'd days of former jo By Love or Gluy y wreath'd with mau: fiower.
Ycuiss, ixc.
L. C

1796．］Middleton Church，Suffex．－St．Alkmond＇s，Shrewfbury． $3^{67}$

Mr．URBan，Marcl 4.

MIDDLETON lies in the rape of Arundel，and hundred of Avis－ ford；is bounded on the South by the fea；the fituation is flat，but dry and pleafant．The parifh contains only a few foattered farm－houfes and cont－ tages；the foil a rich foong loam， bearing great crops of whear．When the tide is out they dig chalk on the fea－beach．The chalk appears to lie in a narrow vein，from two to ten feet under the furface of the earth．The living is a rectory in the dean－y of Arundel，valued in the King＇s Books at gl．ros．rod．：the prefent incum－ bent，rhe Rev．－Durnford．The church frands on a low earthy chit againd the fea，and appears to have contained a rave，chancel，and South aile，divided from the nave by four pointed arches．The font is of an uncommon form．Monuments there are nonc．Great part of the chancel， and all the South ai＇e，is demolithed． What was the ocedion of the demoli－ tion of the South alle I could not icarn． From a Gothic door－way，buit in one of the arches，it thould ieth to have been deftroyed a great number of years， apparently long before the fea made its encroachments fo near；which on this coaft gains on the land in a rapid man－ ner：it has devoured the churct－yard， with gieat part of the chancel，and threatens the whole fabitick，which， from the ruinous and delo ate fituation it is in，appears to be ureparab y ht f－ rening to irs its cotai difo utton．Tra－ dition reports the paith to tidve ex－ tended near two miles to the South． Certain it is，a large tract o：land has been fiwallowed up．On the South fide of the church is a remarkably large ivy flem，whofe fpreading foliage nearly covers the South and Weft fides of the roof．

The fketch that accompanies this （pl．I fig．1）was taken from the S．E． In the firit diftance is feen the fignal－ houfe，wath Bogner，and the peninfula of Selfea beyond，with the Ifle of White bills in the back－ground．

Mr．URBan，Sbrewflury，Mar． 19.

THE inclofed drawing reprelems the Eaft end of the old church of St．Alkmond，Shrew Bury，taken down in 1794；which I fhall be glad to fee engraved（fig．2）to accompany the fol－ lowing monumental inferiptions，co－ Gent．Mag．May， 1796.
pied from brafs plates，sce．in the above church，in 1790 ，long before the ravages complaned of＊by your creforndent＊＊，LXIV．p．ros6． The pates belonging to the Pontefbury family，and ihole of Higgins，Barker， \＆c．were inofe，and thrown behind a cheft in the fexiry．I am happy it is in my power to fend the following in addition to thole you have publifhed． Monumiental infcriptions are evidence； and there of a date prior to Purilh－Re． gifters are moft effentitly fo，and ought to be cirefuliy preferved：that they have on $m$ anv occafions been in． firumestal in deciding the fate of pro－ perry is well known．

Upon flps of $b$ ：afs that had gons round the verge of a ttone；（the blanks are（o）hew the pieces loft）：

 De 进ittro：De，atmacth，que fult －．．．－－．－．－－Enter＇aute＇techmomm volutatem pateis fiere fect fitius ting motefury，natu mactnus a Pedecurdxez3．

Onan the：
Thomis 1pontefu＇，obijt ao d＇ni

On the byck of Higgons＇s plate was this，in Koman capitals：
＂Heare lyeth the body of Thomas Benron，draper，deceafed the xxth of July， 1537 ．
＂Hearelyath Anne Benyon，the wyfe of Thome Renyon，deccafed the xyth of June， 1633. ．＂

On a blue flone，near the chancel－ fteps，were the figures of a woman and her two hutbinds；at their feet the folowing intcription．The figures and infoription bra＇s． Dumferent，butgintes mite कatope， et Maregera uror ror＇，it poud jobies et prat 3ehes monefuefo：obijt tut－ mo bu me＇s syaucti ao a＇m millo C゚Cは近 nonarstumo n：\％，ac ectam Chatgeria，uror peather，obut． quingentcfimb．quor＇anmabus p＇pi－ cist＇ine＇ame＇．

[^40]On

On a late fione on the North fide the charch, the letcurs arranged as unde:. The letters of this inferption art fact in the fone; but the whole atperst to have been covered with fil ps ait baf, when undoubtediy contained one of iater date. - At the he ad:
maky, dougteato hach otteley, On he hide:
gent. and wile to richard owen, mlefcer, cemt. decessed a'no d'ni 1568.

On a blue fone near the font was a brats pate with the following, in Rofran capitals:
"Here, in afturance of a joyful refurrection, lyeth the body of Andriw STEDYEV, nanher of arte, and cildent fome of Deter Studley, gent. who married ElizaWeth, the fecond daushter of kitmplire Owen, fent. and had iflue by her 2 daughters, Elener and Mary, who departed this life $y^{\mathrm{c}} 17^{\text {th }}$ day of July, an'o D'ni 1628 , the one and fortieth year of lis age, in the feare of God and prace of confience, ending a hoiy life wtia a happy death."

On a brifspate, in Romno capitals:
"Hare jyeth the body of Pichard Prowde, draper, hurband of Alice Frowe, deceated the $25^{\text {th }}$ day of Avgift, i $6 e S$, and had ithe $=$ fon'cs, Ruchard and Jimes; and 6 dav, here, Amm, Mayy, deceafed, Eheony, M.T", tata, Margaret."

As my intentwe: was on y then. riok the inferiptions that are deflroyed, I fhall beg leave to wherve, that the othr wrmment, tombitones, &c. emoft of which ase of more midern (atic), we placed in the new chuch and chuechejard.
D. P.

In: URPAN, E. AJ. Fib. 14. A $S$ in the monthly treat you proLt vide for your readurs iou take are to furt every appotite, fo the following may piovi an agreeable difh for thote who if in the exumonding.
Yours, &a S. A.
"She propofitions of Cutaine John Bulmer, in the Othec of Aflumance, London, for the blowing up of a buat and a ran over Londen bridge - In the name of Gud, Arwen. John Buhmer, of L.oncon, efquale, mafer and farvetwur gene:all of tle kug's majefle's mines royall and engines for waterworkes, propundeth (by God's ahmance), that re, the faid jolm Balnier, fhall and will, at and in a tlowAng water, ict out a boat or vellell whan engine aloating, with a man or bey in and a-board the fid boat, in the river of Thamee, over asamft the Tuwer-what f, or lower; wheh hid boat, whathe fiat! fone or boy in or a-board her, fhatl the fame tyde, before low-water againe, bs art of the faid John Bumer, and helpe o the faid engine, be advanced and elevates fo high, as that the f.me Ghall paffe and be detivered over London bridse, to guther with the faid man or loy in an a-boad her, and floate againe in the fais river of Thames on the other fide of thi faid bindge in fafcty. And the faid Johi Bulmer, for hum, his heires, executors and adminiftrators, dot's here'y covenan and promife, th.t be, te taid John Rul mer frall smat weiforme and accom plish the premifes withir the pace of on month next after he moll caufe in timatio. to be given in to the Office of Affurance London, that he is about, or intends, $t$ put the fame in practice; which intima tion thall fo by him be given at tuch tim and fo foone as the undertakers againi him, wagering fix for one, thatllade de ponted and lett in the find office fuch conlinerable firme of money as the fai John Kulmer may compute will counter valle the charges of contrining the frid ho: and eugine, and fuch other difom fement as thall arife and grow in profecution ( the faid hafinfle. And he, the rive Joh Bu'mer, thall ans! wil! depoftite his propor tion of monies the the fith orfice accordingly And the faid monies, fo depofited by th fand undcriakers and ilie fand Eulmer, fha remaine in the fand office untill the fai Butione fall either hase accompluhed th fame, or the thate expired for accomplift nent thereof And the faid twidertaker alde etery of them, thall fubfor be and un verurte fuch fumm: of mone; as chey, c any of them, thall depofite, adventure, an waser, :gaint the fuid Bulnor'; whic Gaid monies, bo deporite! thy the fad under takers and the fad jotn bulmer, Mall b dilivered to the f.ict kohmer (in cafe performance of the premfts), otherwife t the faid unvertakeis. Dated the 6th November, 1643 .
"And all thofe that will bring in the monies into the office thall be there affure of their lotle or gane accordug to th: conditions abovemeationed."

Mr. Urban, Cambridge, May g.

THERE are many of your readet to whom the following intorma tion will be very defrable; and, fo thes icufon, I requelt the infertion c it the firt opportun:sy. There is ne theoegh the whole veggtable kingdor a more beauthtul, and in many pecit a raver, utbe of plants than the $\mathrm{O}_{\mathrm{R}}$ chiotio; and, amongt thefe, th Ophorys Aranifera, $I$ believe, is gene rally allowed to vo one of the farce and molt unconmorn. Mr , Relhar in his flera Carabo. nentions its grow ing at Chelford, Abingdon, HilderSham, and Bartlow, in this councy; but is never found in any of the foregoing places except Hilder/bam, and that in a chalk-pit about 9 miles from Cambridge. There are not above a dozen that will be feen at a ume; and, on account of the farcity of the plant, Botanifts are particularly requefted sot to take abore one, or, at moff, two fpecimens. For the benefit of rhofe who may not know this plant when the foe it, [ have annexed a claffical deferipdion of it :

Ophrys - Nectario fubtus fubcari. nato.

Aranifere-Caule teduli, quadrunciali, folis alternis lanceolatts; corolla pesalo exteriort magno. patente, purfuramente, et birfuto: fuamentis brevifhmis, antheris mmomis et obfcuris-nectarii labio bwnern, birfuis.

There are a few fecimens of this fpecies in our botanic garden, wh ch Mr. Donne has taken great pains in procuring and preferving.

I atn happy in having this opportunity of contradicting the aflettion of Botanicus, p. 287, that Dr. Coyte was the firtt pertion who difoovered the Atbamanta Libanofis at the Chalkpit Clofe, Cambridguilaie, fince that celebrated Naturalift, Ray. The gentleman to whom this happy difenvery is to be atrmbuted is the Rev. James P:umptree, fellow of Clare-hall, in this univerficy; a very lamed and celebrated Botanith, who, in the year 1780 , made a tour into Weles, and, during his bowanical wref.gations, in the fort period of a mosta, contriouted more to the knowelge and ad*ancement of this tience than many others of known and diftinguifhed abilities.

Botanicus.
Mr. Urban,

Feb. 9.

IBEG to addrefs Mr. Mayley on his Life of Miton through your Publication. I hive juft cloied a perufal of that Gentleman's Life of the exa'ted Poet, wherein I have iound much to praife, and much to blame; particularly the later, as it regare's an undeCerved attack on the literary rharacter of Dr. Johnfon. He is reprefented in hhis Lite as a man whofe mind was louded with barbarous and unchrifian prejudices towards the preat Poct; is a man devoid of exquifite feeling and fentiment; in a word, he is made - appear as ene of the mon wofath-ful Biographers that ever wrcte. I have again and again re-peruled the great Moralift's Life of Milton, but I cannot fee ayy juft caule for Mr. Hayley's witing fo detratingly of Dr. Joinfon as a Critick. D. Jolinfon has done greater and more appropriate honour to the memory and oius of Milton than all the poets, admarers, and biographers, together. It was Er. Johnfon alone whofe fublime genius and comprehenfive mind could immortaliz? the Poet and himfelf by the mof exquifitely moral and philofophical difcrimination. He truiy "reared a diadem of praife." The critique of Johnfon, as a piece of moft exalted and juft comprfition, is entitled to equal fame and admiration as the Paradife Loft. Johinfon too is as much the glory of England as Milion; and, great as the Puet is, he has not lurpaffed Johnfon in the powers of genius and of mind.

Mr. Hyyley appears to have writen in the aldour of enthufiatic friendGip, which occafonally hurries him to give ample fcope to exprefs the foes. ings of a mind incapable of holding friendfhip with Dr. Johnfon. As a writer of morality and cratifm Dr. Johnfon his no competitor. Milton and Jobnfon (as is the cafe with thoufands) diffeied widaly on fubjects of religion, education, and frbons of government. Be it fo. There foliows no room for cenfure on culicer fise by an indifferent perfon.

An Admirer of Dr. Johnson. Mr. Urean, Batb, Marcbio. THE portratt in your Magazine for Januay laft, fuppoled to be that of Envenuo Cellini, bears not the leaft refemblance to the print affived to the fott volume of bis life, trandired by Nugent; which is cugraved by Coliyer from a prinand of Vafari, a contenporary of Cellini's. It may be faid, as yours is a portrait of him when he was younge, and Vafal's when he was old, that fometimes, in fuch cafes, very little fimilaricy can bo feen; but fhrpe is a charateriftok wanting in yours, which 1 s is nothkely any difference of age thould fupply, viz. two large warts or noloes on the nofe. In Vafan's portroit the eaterprizing fpurt of this woaderful genas is frongly marked in his fe tuites.

I buyght Celhni's Life anout five years ago out of the library of the late

Mr. Clutterbuck, of Claverton-houfe, near this city; and, in one of the volumes, I found the following letter from the late Mr . Thomas Dav:es, author of the Lite of Garrick ice. ©c. The high terms in which he recommends it wilt probably induce fome of your readers to procure the book; and thole who are fond of the art, and have not before feen it, wi l, i have no doubr, eftem thentaves obliged to you for the temmendation. J. C.
"Sir, Lominn, zoth Mar, 177 r .
"I bez leare to fend you one of the molt extrionduary horks publued in any languag" ; the Life of Beavenuto Cullini.
"Variety of adventares, anecobse, fingulatity of character, and te:maks upon Several diftmguifhe per ans, make this bonk one of the moft enertining I cver read. If Mr. Cluterbuck fould difere in opinion from me, I will take st back at any time ; and am always his maft obliged and obedienthumblefervant, Thomas Lavies.
"To Mr. Clutterbuck."

Mr. Urban,

March 29.

1HAVE long expected to hind in your Magzzine fome plan for the relief of the inferior Clergy. I am, though a pluralift, of that defcription. Having augmented by Queen Anne's bounty a fmall curacy of $15 \%$ per annum, my dincelin indifts upon my taking out a licence; which he alfo atfures me will vacate a fimall vicarage, being upwards of 81 . for annum in the king's books. According to this decifion, I mult either refign the cure, or vacate the living, both of which 1 have poffeffed many years, and were held together till augmented. As I know many Gentlemen of the Law yead your siagazme, I dare fay, if you pubilih this, tome of the a wilt inform me, whether the fatutes upun augmentation ousht to be thas ioterpreted, as they neither require inltitution or induction, and the common law requires borh, to a fecond benefice, to vacate a tormer one, obferving inftrution alone not fufficient. If then a curacy is augmented, and only a licence taken out, how does that taking a licence vacate a living? Does a nommation vacate, or does taking a licence vacate? If raking alicence vacates; then taking a licence in any cure (if taken by a heneliced clerk) vacares his benefice. If a nominat on varates in one inflance, why dius it not vacate in another ?

If it does not vacate in an appoint ment to a cure by a rector or vicar why Gould it in appoinment by a la impropriator? My own idea is, tha if, under the fatute of George 1. aug mented cures are benefices, the in cumbent fhouid be industed; but; a they have neither the privileges $c$ re?tor or vicar, neither tithes. fees, oblations, not even the bite of th church-yard, nor can they recove fres for fertung up arivefones, whi are the priviteges that diftinguit them from ord:narv cures, and mak them bencfices? Though fiyled pe: petual cures, an incumbent is rems vable, though not ad hbitum, accors ing t.n Burn.-Any gencleman, wh will take the trubble of anfivering th. wi.t much ohlige

Many of the Clergy Mr. Urban, May 10.

IT is, I know, an old farcaltic $r$ mark, that commentato s often f more in Homer that Homer ev dreamed ot; yet, I cannot but this that feveral beamiful and refined all fions, in both the an:ient and mode poets, would have cleaped comm oofervation if they had n or been poir ed ou: by the penetation of a Bentr and a Warburton. When the latn informs us that, in Pope's Epitaph Gry, the fpe tator;, when they repe "Strikue their pentive bufoms, he lies Giy," are t f luppofe the poore tombed in thearnow breafs, it mut acknowledged that by this con:eit it mult be called $f(0)$ the palige gaj infonte fiput, and a meannoquite mote from vuilyar appreberfion.
i have been led mato this train thought by the Latin moto to N Matone's late admable " Vindicati of Shaklpeare;" which, as well ast Enghth mottoes pefixed to that wol is uncommanly happy. But 1 fanc' perceive a refined allunion in his $V$ g! lian motto, which, perhaps, $m$ not itike every reader, and wh will be belt explaned by a tranfiatiThe innes are, Demens! qุui moboset non imitabile fuln Aere et cornipedun rulu fimularit eq. rim.
which mar be thus imitated:
Egregiona f. wol, and knave on lefs, To palm full invit on good Queen Befs Such drunkea icrevels niferibed on brafs For Shak!peare"s mitatets ftrams to pa

1796.] St. Peterfburg.—Druad Altar.—Northamptonfhire Seals. 373

Mr. Urean,  May 9.

THE Britifh factory's houfe it S'. Pcterfourg (plate II. fig. 1), of which a diawing is inclofed, is a regular ftructure of Italian architedture. It was built by a Count Sheremetof, in the reign of Peter the Great, as his town-refidence. After the death of his daughter it remained for feveral years uninhabited, and at laft was in a very ruinous fate; when, about 35 years ago, it was bought of the count's heirs by the factory, and, under the direCtion of Baron Wolfe, the then Britifh conful, it was repaired and hitted up in the manner now to be feen. It contains the chsyel, spartenents for the chopiain, &s.

Yours, isc. Mephistophilus.
Mr. Urban, Gloueffer, fan. is.

ISEND you the drawing of one of the D uid's altars at Guernley (fig. 2). The e are two more in that part of the ifland which is called Le Clos du Val; bu: the one I fond you is the principal.

Surtace of altar at the Clos du Val, called La Pierre da Dibos, perhaps from Drus. It points Etit and Wett. There are three fiones all inchnogy to the North. The ftones that fupport the two greateit form an ex ect lquare.

Dimen/ions of the great fone.
Length, 15 feet 6 inclies; breadth. 7 feet $4 \frac{1}{2}$ inches; thickneis, 4 feet $5 \frac{\pi}{3}$ incher, south fide; Ditto, 2 tres 5 inches, North fide.

Nar Urban, Ketering, Feb. 19.

ISEND you (fig. 3, 4, 5.) the impreffion of rhate ancicat tevlo. whata I have at this trate in my poltation. They were all found in the counry of Northempion; and, if you think them worshy of public netice, you may have them engraved.

The linf leal is cut on the reverfe of a brafs coin of Antoninus Plus, and was dug up by tome laboure s raifing a thone to reptir the turnpike roid leading from Kettering to Thraption, and was found in the parifh of Woodford.

The fecond is a brafs feal of fome abbey, and was p.oughed up in the field of Kettering.

The third is a feal of the fame kind as the fecond, and was ploughed up in the field of Twywell, a fmall village about two miles diftans from Thraphon.

If any of your learned corretpondents, Mr. Urban, will give me their opinion of thefe feals, I fhall thing myrelf much obliged.

Yours, &cc. Matthew Paulzo

Mr. Urban,

April 4 .

INCLOSED is a drawing of a braff coin of the fame fize ( $f_{2}$ g. 6). It is in my poffeffion, and was, fome years frace, dug up among the ruins of Reading abbey, in Berkfore. Being at a lots so difcover its meaning, if fall efieen it as a favour if you will engrave it; and $0+11$ be much obliged by an explanation.
L. KNAPs.

*     * Fip. 7. is a drawing from a paving ule at Faver fram, and fiy. 8. from another at Habledown.

Le'ter from the Red. H. Sturges, D.D. Chancelior of Winchefter, to Jound Wilmot, Ejq. Cbairman of the Corsmatise fur the Relief of the fuffering Clerey of France, Refugees in thefe Dommions.

SIR.
MNEDIATELY on my return homs, I fet about the enquiries 夏 promifed vou to make telpeciing the Fiench priefts in this place and neigh:bourhood; and the refult of them to fuch as I think will give you pleafure.

The unfavourable reperts, both ta converfation and in print, concerning the conduel of thete unfortunate men, related chicfly to the following par-riculars:-udnations at the King*s Hoult-young fludens, not eccleliallicks, mak:ng a great part of the number there, or at leaft young ecclefiafticks of the lower orders-theis activity in making converts in tho place and neighbourhood-their ditperfing finall Eaghth tracis for the purpote, and hasing a piefs at their command.

I will tay before you the information I have received with refpect to a 4 thefe particulars. The day after may retuin, 1 had a long conference with M. Marin on the two fill ordina(tins, and the qualities of the perfong in the King's Houfe. He tols me there had been (as we all knew) thete ordinations, but the iaft wos two years agn. One was by the bildop of S:P'ol de Leon, the only one he has holden in England. In all wefe three, the number of perfons ordained was thirty-hiree from feven French diocefes; thirty-awo ot thefe were brfore irrevocably fixted in the ecceliatice

374 Dr. Sturges's Auount of French Clergy at Winctuefter. [May

profefion, and the remaining one was apprinted to a low order, which did not fix him, but left him at libery to betake bimfelf to ary other way of life. This account of the ordinations feems to me to do away the offenfive part of them ; which was, " that without necflity, tuere being no fundans for fuch perfons, when andained to perform, freforen thonid be engared in the ecclefiaftica! proferfon, and be made to fubfilt as fuch on the chanty of this counry, being precluded shere. by from gaining their fubfitence by any other means." As th the fudents nat ecclefiaficks, Mr. Matrm flured me, there was orif one ferfon of that defeription in the King's Houfe, and who was to le?ve it in the cura ie of this week. This nerfon has not liced on the charity, but his board is paid by the grand Vicaire of Brieux, who lives in London, and is brouglit to ac. count. All befides are ecclefiaficiss; and as to their age and ranks as fuch, 1 have before me a note from Mr. Martin himelt, in which he favs, there are only tevalty-nire who are not priefts; to tar is it from heng true, " $t$ tat leaft wo thirds of the who $e$ number are improper objects of the Charis:."

I cannot hofita e a moment in giring Mr. Marsin full credit for the wath of this account. Not enly his character and fituation, bnt his whole manner and expretion white we weretalking over thefe thinge, could not tail to $\boldsymbol{y}$ we any one a fung impretfi $n$ of has fincerity and upennefs.

I hase enqu red perfonaliy of all the parochial mmafters of this place; and they all agree in alluting me, that to their knowitige gon caule of cumplams has diten fince Cours.'s cole, about a quatter of a year ago; and it fooult be remembered, that, in the corirfe of a year precedtrg, this was the thagie cafe difcoverded whith admit ed proof, in a place where there arc betwion 8 eo and 1000 Frencirciergy. Couvet was treated as he deferved, hy being tent out of the kingdom ; and as every perfon fhould be treated who could to far abufe the benevoience of the corntry.

It has been fatd that the nerghbouring villages are full of French picfes. I have made it my bufinels within thete two or three days to vifit moft of them. and havemade perfonal enquiryofalmoft every parochid manifer. The villa. ges which encompais this plice ar Weeke Sparfhols, Hedborne Worthy King's W'orthy, Mirtujr Worthy Itcinn Ablas, Eafton, Chitcombe Martied, St. Crofs and Littleton Twyrerd, Compron, and Horfley nore of tham, except the three laf have ever known or fen any of th French priefts, untefs in their occa tion.t waiks, for hawe they beeo ad maticd (as far as is known) into and houfe; ineced a general diflike ti them prevki's in moft of thefe places At Twoford there is a Mr. Margin, meft tefpeetable inoffenfive man, we! known to Mr. Witli:ms, prebendary o Canterbury and refior of Compton he is eftermed by him, and teache his daughter Fiencil. In the fam. houre with him lodge twn eco!eraftick of an inferior clats, equat'y inoffenfive A: Cumpten there is a poor man, who received a blow on his hend from fom villan whi e he was readirg in a feld and $w$ 's forced to reare from the noif and c:owd of the Kine's Heufe to thi place, whese he is not ytt recoveret fion the eff.ets of the blow; and a Ho fley there is one who lives with fchool-mafter, and iflifts hum, a wor thy man, well retipestad by the bette pait of the nelghbourlinod, and is a gh eft mation, as 1 am informed wish Di. Gaunt!est, warden of Neu college, Oxford, and vicar of the parif

Ostebone, about four miles off, have nof e..guired at. I haveheard i Giad there ate French priefts toere; bu they are not takely to frequent thi fpot, becauie juit by is the feat of at old Ca hovis farmily (Mr. Smith's' which has al: ays had a evelene prite of its cwn, ated now has Mr. Walmef. ley, who is (I believt) a ittular Roman Catisctick 13.ihnp and an Apoitolis vicar. Wi h refped to their getting and d:ipurfig Eneliß乃 controveria tra&is, MI. Eurdon, the principa brokeled of the place, tells me that he had trequently applicetions for fuch wats; but thet, confidering them a: heely to be empoyed improperly, he had decined procuing or seling any Ir a confiderable time, and knows nothing now of any thing fufpicious on (Rinfive of this fort. Mir. Robbins, a bunkicler and l'rinter, fays the famt as Mr. Burdon about traEts. He had fo meily applivations to procure them but on its boing reprefented that an improper ufe might be made of them re has alfo declined having any in his ands, and has actually not had any or a twelvemonth.

1796.] Dr. Sturges's Account of French Clergy at Winchefter. 375

This circumftance of Engliß tracts arties with it more prefumptive evidence of a defire to make converts han anvorher. His prels is (I heieve) that fuppoled to be at their command. He has only printed for them three or fowr works, and thofe in French [fee the end of this letter]; which, he apprehended, could only be for their own ufe, and therefore unexeeptionable, and which (taking them o be fuch) he printed in the common courfe of trade, declaring he would not print any thing that had a fífpicious tendency.

I have now gone through the parsiculars I mentioned. The truth of what I have told you muft reft with the perfons who have given me this information; but, on their evidence, I am perfectly fatisfied that wbat I bowe told you is true. In a place where to many priefts ate affembled, of a communion fo diferent from our own, and in fome relpeds fo holite to it, it is natural and commendable for us to be vigulantly on our guard againt any aggitfions by which the relizious protefion of our own people may be fhaken. But, while we are thus on our guard, it is furely but juftice to thele un orronate men, fufferers for that re! gon wh ch they profefied and adminitered uncer the antient laws of their cobntry, not to give a ready admalfion to all complaints againt them wihout proper information or proof; or, if there were any real ground for complaint, not to exaggerste it beyond is jult dimenfions, and thereby to increaie the popular diflike towards them. The general prejudice of Englifhmenagainit their church and bation-their long ftay-their maintenance by this coun-try-and the excelfive price of the neceffaries of life concurrwg with it, have already raifed this dinlike to an alarming degree; a degree by which they are continually enpofed to infults, and their perional fecurity often en. dangered.

It furely becomes the wifer and more temperate part of the community, at the fanse the that we take all proper precautions not to fuffer by ou: kindhefs to them, rather to foften the pub. lic difpotition ; not to turn fufpicions into prools, and apprehenfions into actual injuries; even to confider the infirmities of our common nature, and to reflect how unreafonsble it is (fuppofing caufes of complaint to exiti) to expect that a thoufand men will, for a confiderable length of time, all act properly, and all do what their luperiors, from motives of intereft, if not of virtue, would wifh them. I confers I have confidered their general condug (apart from the paricular fubjects of this letter) as exemplary in the hegheft degree. I have upon all occafions, and to all perfons, burne this teflimony of them, and bear is Rill with pleafure, that, during their continuance here, which is now, I think, above three years, I have never kuow any of tiem acculed of any bee hivenur inmoral or unbecoming: and have heard all thote with whorn I aut well acquainted cesprefs, in the it:ongeft terms, their gratitude for the protefion, the relief, and the humanity, ther have experienced from us.

Cobe utijult to them at this priod of our kinineff would be cafting a faade on the brighetit inftance of natonal bentantene by which, in my ofision, any Chritian country ever was difingulfed. H. sturges.

The litics of the two talt books prined by $\mathrm{H}_{1}$. Rubbins are:
" léélexon, Ctrétiernes pour tous les Jou's de liannée, mifees daus les t'eres, dans linitume de l'Eghiz, et dans les Auteurs des Livies de Piété, par un Prétre Françuis da bocele de Rennes-Exilé pour la Foi-mi7, 5 ." [555 page $]$.
" Inthutuon Catialique, par Demands ct par Répones, fur les throits de I tutel et du Trone, on l'on prouve la Venité des Priuctpos conabatus far le duteurs de la RévolutanFramȩjifs-179j." [1:2 pages].

Mr. Urban, Gyediton, May 5 .

 PERMIT me to make the following enquiries: firft, for the flate of f.ets reating to that fingular and curious lufus natura in the human body, faid to bave been difeovered at the theatre of an Anatumv-lesturer ia Londonabout the ear 1789, where the body of the fubject appesred as any other, but, on opening, it was found the feat of the heart lay on the right lide.Whence fprang the inhuman and baibarous cuftom of cuck. ighting?

Was it ever afceitained (and where to be found) whence Shak (peare detived his ideas of that genume fon of humour, Falitafi:? Was it from Sir John Faftolfe, who fo gallantly rum away at the baitle of the village of

375 Can Greafe be extracted from Paper? -Harrington's Tiscory. [May

Patyy, for which inftance of cowardice the order of the Garter was taken from ki:m ; or from Sir John Oldcaftle; or Sir Thomas Overbury?

If any of your correfpondents art in paration of a recipe for extrabung grafe from paper, and will oblige me with the tame, I thall be much obliged to him ; and, I make $n$, doubt numbertefs of your correfpondents alfo, who might have met with the fame accident as mytelf of fouling a very vaQuable book by Ipiling oft on it. I am well aware that common flains, and writing-ink, are eafily taken out without the print being injured; but that circumiance is much againft me ; as printing-ink is an unctuous fubldane, its reffing furit of vitrol, and even agunfortis, gives but lirie hopes in reipet to thefe acids extracting greafe or tallow when once it has been imbibed by the paper. I. Laskey.
 The nedal Mr. L. mentions is not at all carious. Evit.

Mr. Urasn, W'ells, Mayiz.

IHAVE long expected forse one or wher of your medical correfpondents (more immediately attached to the ftudy of chemiftry) would reply to Dr. Harrington's ftrictures on the application of the new aerrial philotophy to the prestice of plyffick. I inentioned this expectation lately at a provincial medical ficicty, when one of the company obferved, that be believed the reafon why the Doetor remained unanfwered was, that " nobody thought it worth while." As I profefs to know no more of chemflicy ( $\int$ gor $/ \mathrm{im}$ ) than it is indifpenfably necelfary every phyfici:n fould, to avoid tambereling its laws in extemporantous prefoription, I am not competent to decide on the fubjects in which Dr. H. is fo much at vatiance with D. Preftey, and with manyla:e writers, and therefore dechine entering into a difcutfunof them; a tafk I whth so fee undertaken by more expenenced chem fts. I thank, however, thit $D_{1}$. Harrington ought not to be fpoken of as one that "nobody thought it worth while to reply to."

1 believe lome things with $D \therefore H$. which contradig the tentes of Di.P'; and there are fome things maintaned by the latter which I am as little difpoied to fuofcribe to as his antagonilt san be.

I believe that one of the pioncipal ufes of the lungs is, that the blood, in its paffage through them, may receiv the latent heat of the atmofpleric ain carried hence through the fyllem, an $\epsilon$ ventually commonicated freely toever part of $1 t$; and this I look upon as th truc orifin and canfe of anmal heal alfifted by the motion of the blood ani its confequent attrition; fir, if we fup pofe the calor animalium to be produ ced merely bv the progreflive motio of the blood through the vaicular fyl tem, and ins preffure and friction a gainft the fides of the veffels. we ough to find water running through pipe producing (from the farne caufe) th fame ff : ©ts, which we know from ex perience never happens, however rapi the motion, or however riolent the at trituon may be.

I do not believe that the mon im Priant office of the lungs is todifinarg phlogifton (taken in with the alimeni and rendeied $t$ ffite) from the biood $b$ means of intpued air, the menfiruue fuppofed to ferve folely for that enc there being very many pariomon which militate in the very teth of tha opinion.

Medical men may furely differ i fentiments without being out of humou with each other; candour fould fup poic them all equally fincere in thei fearch afrer truth; why then fhoul they quarrel about the beft road to tt $i$ Brandufium Minuci, melius via ducat, a Appl

Hor.
I hope, Mr. Urban, as the gaunde has been thrown down in the Gende man's Magazine, it will be taken u in $1 t$; w!fong, lowever, that the com batants will eagage with honourabl wapons, and handle them like gen tlemen; and, above all, that each dif putint will keep his temper, left $h$ give lis adverfry an oppurtunity $c$ conceling lits, as a late eminent plea der did an pponent, who raifed bi toice whe, he fhould have entorce his argument. "Brother," faid th wit, "you thew anger, when yo fhould thew caule." Who can forbea froling when a man falls into this er ror who figns himfelf LL.D. F R.S Acad. Imperial. Petrop. R. Pari: Fidin. Taurin. Aurel. Med. Pari Harlem. Cantab. Americ. et Phila delph. Socius (et cxtera, &c. Sc. qui nunc piefcibere longum eft)?

Yours, &is. J. Crane.

1796.] Original Letter of $K$. Charles II,-Bread-Frui', E'co

Letter from King Charles II. to the -Duke of O,mond, upon bis taking the Seals from Cbancellor Clarendon. Cofied from the Original in the Kin,'s own Hand; and indorfcd, in the Duke of Ormond's,
"The King's
$15\}$ Sept. at Kilkenny.
Anfiverd, $200.67 . "$

$$
\text { "Whitchut", } 15 \text { Sept. }
$$

" I SHOULD have thanked you fooner for your melancholly Ifter of the 26 th Augut, and the gond counfel: you gave me in it, as my parpofe was alfo to fay fomething to you concerning my tikng the feals from the cinuceilor, of which jou muft needs have heard all the poffeec, as he would not fulfer it to the dane fo privately as I interded it. The trubh ic, his behaviour and humonr was growne $f$, infoppertable to myfelf, and to all the word elfe, that I conkd not longer endure it: and it was impolfible for me to live witi it, and doe thofe things with the partiament which muft be done, or the government will he loft. When I have a better opportmaity for it, you fhall know man patichatars that have inclined nie tor thic refo'shom, which already feems to be well libeci: : it ic world, and to have given a real and wible amendment to my afiurs. Thus is an ane ment too big for a 'et'er; firl a ld herethis word to it, to affure you, that your fumer friendhip to the chancellor fhall nat dse you any prejodice with me, and that I have not in the leaft degree diminifhed that: value and kindnefs I ever had for you ; which I thought fit to fay to you upon this occafion, becaufe it is very pofibte malichos people may fuggeft the contrary to you."

Mr. URBan,

May 2.

THE iatroduction of the Bucatfruit into the Werfelndia flands is an object of fuch great public utity, that I am fure you will readily give one or two of your ufetul pages torecord the following genume extrats from the Votes of the A!? mbly of J. maica.

Hortensius.

"Dec. 2r. 1792. Ordered, That Mr. Shirley, Mr. Watler, Mr. Mitchell, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Melean, Mr. Ofborn, Mr. Z. B. Edwards, and Mr. Redwood, be a Committee, to ael, during the recefs of the Affembly, in the reception of the breadfruit, and other valuable trees and plants, which, by Sir Jofeph ranks's letter of the 9th Anguft, 1792, to the Inind Butanit, it appears, may be expected to arrive in the harnour of Kingfon in the courfe of the eafuing year ; and that the faid Committee be empowered to give fuchencouragement to the gardener:, who are enployed to tike charge of the fand plame, as may mduce them to flay in t!e inlud mnts fuch time as the f.nie are properly phaned out and fecured, or fuch othe en-wharement as the fail Cummittee flall think poper. And farther, im omfeguence of the recommentation of Sir ) fieph Ben's, bart. comnunicatec: by the agent in hi lit r of thee 8ith day of November, 1-38, that the faid Committee be empinwervit thive fuch rewand to Dr. Marter, in the faid letter mentioner, as the Committee may think remfonalue, in comequen ef the introducing a pipectes of the nory of thee, and alfo the cloce and pepper wie, or any cther vadoble tiees and plonts.
"Otitre!, That the Committee, appointed to take care of the oreat-flut and wher trees and phats. expected fiom the L:Al-IMties and Soats. S. s, and for giving encomanement to Di. Marter to bring the rumer. alde, and nepper tre , he authanzentand inamacred to iraw on the Recenve ganal for a fum not exceeding rezoi, to an'wor any expences that may attend the same; and that this or any funtre, ffen:bly will make good the fame.
"Rerw...1, That the Committee appaintut to aci, daring the recefs of the Ationhis. whe perption of the breadfout ad wher valathle trees and phants, expect. "t to arrive from the Ealt-hidies and Sousla jeas, be empowered to collect and tond tome the feverat phates and trees thet are wanted for lis wiajelty's birden at Kew; an! that they be subherized and componered to ar.wy cu the Rocuaver-general for a firm not exceenn'g 25\% , to anfiver any expences that nidy attend the fone and that this or any future Allembly will make grod the tane.
"S Nov. 22, 179:. That it be recommended to the Howie to drest a claufe to be mitred in one of the money-bills, an thorizng and rmpoweng the deceivergenural to reni- to the Aem the fum of five hundred puine.s. whe pad by him to the orver of Lameant Netband Portlock, on has repiefentitive, tir his important fervices in shating the thi. Providence through a vimy diftult and moticute navig tha, wherehy thet imp wat enabled to fultil the end of har voydje, in antroduciag the bread-f wr to this alland
" Dec. 6, 1-93. R'folver, zevr. con. That the that if this Howe be given to Sir jofeph anks, hat. fr the gleat attention hot his on wifnelle f $r$ the wetfare of this in. dand ite Weft- whes, in promoring the intod .ath in of tile head-fruit ant wir r valuent pants, now fo happly accomplithed; wad that the fame be tranfmitted, by Mr. Speaker, in the moft ach coptable mamer.

A motion heing made, that the Houfe do come to the following refolution,

That the Receiver-general he ditected to pay to the order of Arth. Bronghton, M. L. the fum of two bundred gitineas, to be laid out by him in the purchafe of a piece of phate, as a :crimony of the approbation of this Houre for his zeal and affiduity in collecting the plants to be fent to his Majefty's gorien at Kew, agrecably to the withes of the Honfe;
"Dec. Io, $1 \neq 93$. The refolution moved in the Houfe on Friday laft, that the Keceiver-general be direfled to pay, to the order of Arthur Broughon, M. D. the fum of two hun'red guineas, to be laid out by him in purchafe nf a piece of plate, as a reftimony of the approhation of the Holfe for his zeal and afidnity in colleting the plants to he fent to his cisefy's gat den at Kew, laving him thee days on the table, ans, being read, was agreed unto by the Houfe.
" Dec. 13, 1793. Ordered. That Dr. Broughton be requefted in revife the cataingue, intuled, "Holus Eathenfis," adding thereto the bread frum and other plants lately ietroduced from the South Seas; and that the printer of the House do publith the fame for the ure of this members; the expence of which $t$ as Houfe will make good.
"Refolved, That the A cent he directed on make application to the right bonowa. he the Lerds Commiffioners of the Admizalty, to beltow fome preferment on lienrenant Nathanicl Portlock, commanding his Minjefty's arrsel brig Adtilant, for the fervices performed by him on the vayage to Otaheite and the Wefl-indes, for the purpofe of introducirg the bread-fruit.
"May, .., 1794. M". Speaker Laill Lefore the Houfe a letter from Sir Jofeph Bark, bart. in anfwer to a letter written to ham, by order of the Houle; which being reat, was ondered to be catered on the Journals of the Houfe, and is as follows:
"S Subc-ipute e, Lovitin, March 20. ITor.
" $\mathrm{S} \cdot \mathrm{r}$, Allow me to requett the favons of you to commancate to the Houfe of Afiembly of Jamaica my ahundant gratitude fo: the homer conferred on me by their vote of thanks of the Gth of December. 1 confider that difinetion as a completerecompence for all the pins it has coft me to carty into effect a plan, which I have ever pelieved to be a favourite meafare with the inhabitants of the Weft-indian illands, and an ample incitement to perfeverance in my endeavous to tranfport to the ithand of Jamaica all fuch ufeful plants, natives of the intertropical climates, as may hereafter fall into my hands.
"I bee, fir, that you will alfo accept my thanks for the very agreeable manner in which you have been pleafed to tranfinit to me the pleaning intelligence. I have the honour to be, Sir, with the higheft defe. reace and refpect, your obedient and obli, ged humble fervant, Joseph Bánis. "The bonourable the Speaker of tbe A/fembly, Janaca."
"Dec. 19, 1794. Refolved, ners. cor. That this Houfe, by their refolution of the 22d November, 179j, direeting a clanfe to be inferted in one of the money-bills, for paying to Lieut "nant Na'haniel Port: locke, or his reprefentative, five hundred guineas, for his important fervices in gui. dug the fhip Providence through a very difficult and intricate navigation, meant to convey no other fenfe of his conduet than that he had acquitted himfelf of his duty in a manner much to his credit, while under the in:mediate durections and orders of his commandingoofticer Captain Bligh, from whore merit they did not intend to detraet.
"Ordered, That the Committee of cor: refpondence do tranfmit a copy of the ahove refolurion to the agent, to be by him tranfpitted to Captain Bligh,"

Mir. Urban,

M&y, 7.
TN an age iike this, when a generous I wifh pervades the land to bellow honours on thoie who have meritoriously exerted themfelves either in arms, in arts, or in literature, furely the memory of Sir William Jones is at leaft defering of a stone in St. Fcul's; and, if the Eaft India Company, who ought to take the lead on this occafion, negle& to pay the proper tritute to departed genius and fuperior merte, it is to be hoped a fubfectiption will be fet on tout for the purpofe. You, Mr. Urban, have more than once exerted yourfelf on fimilar occafions; and a bint on the prefent ons will probabiy not be thought unfea. fonable.

Alphonso.

Mr. Uraan, Jaly io, $1795 \cdot$

 TY HOEVER can command the ex: perience of half a century may invefigate many fingular occurrences, that his fagacity never fuggened, or his philofophy dreamt of. I teel the force of this temark as it refpedts my: felf. When I read the early volumes of the Gentleman's Magazine, I had not the fmalleft conception thit, hifty odd years after, I fhould find to out: firip its nume:ous competitors in the monthly race, and witnefs its increa. fing celebrity; much lefs, that the feeble efforts of 75 thould, at the dif. tance of 3000 miles, fometimes fill a column, when better materials were probably poftponed. Notwithfandingthe farcaflic fneers fometimes abfurd'y as indifcriminarely levelled againft writers in Magazines, I am perfuaded that your own, and fome other fumilar publications, furnifh frokes of genius, and merits of compofirion, which many of fuch Worthics would think it an honour to poffels.

I have no intention to cavil; but, in the friftures on the Burial-fervice (LXV. p. 7), though the meaning is explained, is "fure and certain hope" rigidly defenfible? or, "not being flack in throwing inputation in the teeth of the Cherch," exprefifed in terms of clafical fcholarfh $p$ ? Mecting Dr. Johnton one tvenirg, te veral years after I had fulferitited to his Shakfpeare, I requelled to know when the publick would be gratified with the pleafure of that performance. To this, with his habitual vibration, he lerioufly replied, "Sir, I am afiaid you will be much difappointed; for, I profefs to you, Sir, I do not underfiaod Shakfpeare;" hinting, however, it would foon be publifhed.

How truly pitiable is the flate of the inferior Clergy, as depicied fo pathetically in feveral of your late Magazines! I with our tinkering reformers would pioufly point out fome adequate mode of relief. A whe of what Government, in this œcenomical period, is monthly cheated of, would probably complete the bulinetis.
In the Biographia Britannica, a performance I perufe with pleafure, though I have no hope of marking its completion, I was furprized at the important article (Fairfax, lord) ending to abruptly, when to continue the pedigree the means were fo eafily attainabie. I knew an Jr fh Lord Fairfax, of Gil. ling, near York, a Catholick, of amiable character; and am informed the Scotch Lord Fairfax exifed many years beyond the Blue Mountains in Virginia; and that, fince the death of his brother Robert, of Leeds cafle, one of the name in Virginia inherits the title.

I obferve, in a late Differtation on the Book of Job, by a German Profeifor, he roundly afferts (as many others have done lately), that the famous text, chapier xxix, fo often quoted to prove, hatls no refpect to, a future fate of refurrection. If it were poffible to injure Revelation, there feems no way more effectual than by adducing texts of dubious meaning, when proofs of Holy Writ are fo numerous, riear, and cogent, which perfonify Chrtatianity, and jufly declare, "She needs nct the aid of forcign ornament, But is, when tuadorri'd, adorn'd the moft."
Permit me here to pay a tributary truth to the memory of Bp. Hilde Rey. It was his cufomat Hitchin to receive, once or twice a week, ill an cyening, as matr boys from the diferent ichools there as were willing to a tend him; where I was a frequent atte:dant. If any others remain; I truft they will acknowledge with me, that he took affertionare and zealous pains to make us profit by his good admonition, of which 1 hope ever to retain a grateful remembrance.
If the editors of Burn's or any other Juftice would publifh a cheap edition for the Colonies, omuting all that doth not apply there, it might anfiver a ufeful purpofe.
A few poor mortals, willing to know how the world wags, and cooped upon a fpock in the Ocean, will be obliped to any of your correlpondents, furnifhed with proper materials, to give them an alphabetical litt of ali the famous and infarnous charaters, with a thort fletch of their meisis, which have fuffered in the pious revolution as France, though the tighteous Pains may be glorifed by 1 .
What conlolation tuuf the mind of a good man experience, who, on contemplating the many myriads which have beti inhumanly butcheted from the earicelt period of tume to the prefent, togerfher with the brutality now exercifed in our own civilized fate, towards the nobleft part of the biute crea ation, to reflcet that, when he hath " Thuffed off 'his shortal coin," and his facultues are adiduately extended, every doubt will be done away, the witdons and goodnefs of the Deity will thine moft redundantly conlpicuous; and, under the fulleft conviction, he will join in that triamphant truth, "Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God!"
insularis.
Mr. Urban, Aprit 18 . XOU will oblige me by a wery earquiry in your valuable Pubrication, wihh a veew to obtain from fome of your numerous correfpondents an anfiver that may retotve my dfficulty. dam, Sir, an inhabitans of a Weftern and inland countv, in which fate is very dear, and in which, therefore, tiles are princip-lly ufed for the cevering of houfes. The raw and offenfive appearance of red tile to every eve, at all accufomed to fort colours, need not be ingired unno but, how いat zer, and ef. exyaly change, thoo colour of red tiles the anv chrat and darabie wofn, is a difficuity which thave ne. ver knowa furmounted. Tiles I have, indeed, often fecne coloured both by paint and by wath of diak rent forts; but to the fint my objetion is, its extreme dearnefs; to the later, its forit duration. Rain, and froft, or eiher of them, baye, fo far as I have obferved, foon delimeded every colouring ot tiles that has mot oit for irs bars. Yee out is too expenfive for general ufe; and frequeint application of any oher colouring, that requires ofiten to the renewed, becomes expenfive is the end, however cheap in its original componfition.
I fazll, theref re, be much obliged, to any correlpondent of yours, whocen, from experience (for I do not defire a mere guefs ugon the (mhay 9), wimen me of a cheap. derdibe, and well coloured, compofition, as nearly retembling flute as mav be in its appearance, by whech the offenfive chiour of red thes may bu completely fubdue3, and charged in:o one more agreeable to the ey.

Youri, &ic.
A constaht Reader.

MT. URDan, Alril25.

DO's requer, in Aprit :795, of 2. "a biographical account of Sir Coraelius Verm: yden, int. a celebrdted arojegor in the reign of Cilaltes the Firft," efeped iny obfervation till hae! y but, if he will fend me his ad. diefs to the Printer, to lead to 9 n interview and explanation. I bave in poftefion materials to afford bim ample information.
R.P.

RIf. Urbas, A.yil 25.

AS the adintion of tha plan recommended by Mr. Caley, vol.LXIV. p. 984 wauld be, in my idea, higighy conmendable, and caiculated for the zervice of the Provincial H:forian; I inclofe a litcte memoir fur infertion in your Mifcellany.
Yours, sc.
H. E.

The parifi of Netteswele, in the county of Eifex, is fituated at the
S. E extremity of the half-hundred of Hothow, whonce it is diftant 1 mile 2 furlongs 16 perches, meafuring from the George ing at Harlow to Nettef-we.l-crols, bounded hy the parifhes of Latron on the Ezf, Parndon Parra on the Veff, Siwbridgeworth and Ged. tefion (co. Herts) on the North, and Epping on the South, and is affeffed to the land-tax 7t 2301 . 25 . 1 id.

This parifh, together with its appurtenances (computed to be about 15 miles in circumference), was one of the 17 lordfhips given by earl, aftwrards King, Harold, to his great a'lbey of Watham at the foundation therenf, though it does not occur in the Domefday Survey ainongft the pofferlicus of that monafiery.

The church is a rectory, formerly belonging to the aforementioned ab. bey; and, at the Diffolution, wa: gramed (tozether with the manor) tc Richard Higham, efq. fituated in the diocefe of London and deanery o Hollow, and is generally valued bs computatiou at $\approx 001$. per. ann.

Hicre is a glebe of 4 acres 4 furlong 1 rood, and an alditional one of 3 a cres durasg the life of the prefent in cumbent, Anth. Natt, M. A.

In the feeple of the church (con taining one aile, running through th nave), the fpire of which is thingled ate 3 bells, on which are antient in feriptions, but they are in fo confine a firuation, as only to let the fpechate fee the word SOATIBD. 5 .

In the winduw over the altar is th portraiture of the Virgin Mary i fained glafs; and in the fide-win dows have been the pitures of 2 cr of our kings, bu. now very much de faced. Ina pane fome what below thet is the word 316 EC . JRET. and, among a quantity of flateted fragments, in th window oppofite, are the herogly phicks of the four Evangeifis. Th font is an octagonal, and very an tisnt; and was, sogerher with an an tient carving on the Weft fide of th charch porch (for an explanation c which I thould be much obliged : any of your corref(pondents) engrave in your Magazine for Auguft, 1793.
The commanion-plate is modere On the plate are the armorial bearing of the Pigut family. The cup, of a ugly fhape, was given by Mrs. Mar tin in 1 yoo. On it is "This comme nion-cup, with the cover, belonget unto the church of Neatswell, in unice filii Cuthberti Martin, de eodem loco, Effex;" and on the cafe is.

1796.] Topagrapizical Defcription of Nettefwell, Effex.

"netteswell
Efiex.
i700."

Rectors.

1716. Abr. Kent, M. A. in Dec. per mo*f. Henry Sumade: :-Richand Sayer, patron.
1717. Wm. Nuble, M A. it Y.n. per most. Alr. Kent.-Wilham Bedford, genticm r, patren.
1718. Ant. Nat, M. A. and vicar of stand: $n$, in Herts.-Matt. Bluck, arm. patron.

Monuments.

In the chancel, on the right-hand of the communion-table, is a fitt tione, in memory of the Ktv. Ahraliam Kent, M.A. late rector of this purifin, who died in 1734. Nigh to wh. ch i, an elegant mardie monument credied in memory of Thomas and Robeac Ciofe, efqrs. On the top of this monument is an oval, in which is contained the portraitule of Rubert Croffe, and on either fide of it R C. Buiow is the fotue of a lady (Mrs. Martin) weeping, refting noe eltow on a pedefal, on which is the buft of Tho. Ciofe, and on the pederal T. C. Bensat!., i., - "This monument was crs 2 e.', the eldert dangliter of Thomas Croffe, of We:lmmier, eft. and widtw and ralat of Withem Martm, lozetofore of Not: fwell Bary, ef yate, tu the nemory of Thomas Crosse, het nepriew (the fon of Robert Crulf, if iVefmanti, tfa), who died the $1 \mathrm{c}^{\text {th }}$ of Augut, $152=$, ased $3^{3}$ yeare; whe f the tant RGaskT

Crosse, her brotiver, who chathe the of Septemher, 174 , as al 70 yeats. The fad May Martia stiod tirs Sth of October, 1764, agud $_{6}$ y, yiro
All three le interred in the vavit betonging to the family of Crufe, in the pasma chunch ef Sc. Margaric, Weitmaiter."
On a plain marble monument, oppofite to thes, affixed to the North wall of the chancel, "roled to the niemoy of William larm: és. afuementioned, is the fullowing infertption:
"It fpe refurgenct,
juxta man matem,
avi, patris, matrify e, fuotum cineribus v心わæ, confuntur relegure
 ranseri,
nequetis Gulichm, de decto loca, equitis aurati, et Annæ uxnris ejur, filiz natu maximas Gulieimi Nutt, de Chigwell, militis. Difce, lectur, ab hoc et ex humitis, modefcrs, pacificus, pius, inter lota mnocens, inter acerba patiens, inter medhoc:a miferacors, inter theriota munificus.
Mille Tibras in æulificanda et dutanda fehola, pa:peres libero viginti eruliendo de? inata, moriens legavit eronandas poft obitum charillime uxoric, Marix filix natu maxfme Ihomæ Croffe, de civitate Weftmmaterienfis, armigeri;

Qux, poit daviecim annos, vidua, mœerens et grat?, pom curavit masmor hoc, dilectifimi ma $\mathrm{H}^{-i} \mathrm{~m}$ momorix facrum. Natus furt $23^{\text {tio }}$ Junit, $\left.1664 ;\right\}^{1111^{\circ} x^{\prime} \text { atis }}$ Denatus a $3^{\circ 00}$ Nuv-1717, S 51 ."
On the chancel floor is a fint tomb, on which are depictad, on plates of buafs, the elfigies of a m-n cluthed in a long gan with hanging fleeves; oppotite to him his wife; and under them, on ancther plate,
"Here lyeth buried the boly of Jons Bannister, gentleman, who had to wife Elizabeth North, the daughter of Edward North, and had iffue by ber 3 fonnes and one dangiter. He decuafed the 22 dodaye of Jmus'y, anno D'ni 1607, being of the age nf 80 ti yeres. In whote remembrance his lovenge wife eretted this fone."

Benta h the man appear the effigies of three fons; and bentatis the woman, that of an infant wrapped in fivadding cloaths.

On the church floor, about the mid. dle of the ale, is a defaced monument, 0: which the figure of a woman was formeily depicted in brafs; and near it is ancther flat tomb, having on it the effigies of a man and woman in brafs, the man clorhed in armour, with the following infcription:
"Here lyeth Thomas Laverence, and Alys, his wife; which Thumas died in Apal, ,1522. On whofe fouls Jefu have macy."
Nigh to this laft is a flat fone, which coveis the iteps leading to Mr. Martin's vault.
Ag.d perjons buried in the Cburch-ysrd.
Died Aged
Enanuel Collett, Mar. 7, 1777, 8q Elizabeth Gentery, Sep. 23, 1772, 72 Thomas Rickett, Dee. 13, 1765, 72 Mary Rickett, Mar. 12, 1763, 70

Renffactions.
1522. Thomas Lawrence gave 5 s. yoarly out of his lands to the poor. (Rec. in Alugm. Office).
1717. Willam Martin, efq. by a coatcil to his will, dated June, miti, appornted his executors to raife $500 \%$. out of his eftate, and to lay it out on कn effate, rent-harge, or fee-farm yent, for a frec-fchool in this parifin; but, by another codicil, inftead of that rool. he Rave 10001 . for the purpofe of crecting, maintaining, and fupporting it. On the 'font of the houfe is,
"Thisfree-fchonl was foundedand endowed by William Martin, efq.
for the education of 20 poor children of this and three meighouring parifhes, and was erected, by the truftees appointed by his will, in the year of our Lord 1777."

Latton parifh formerly, by the wil! of a zentleman, lent rol. to a poor tradefman of Nettefwell (as it did to the parifies of Lation and Harlow); but, of late years, the clerguman, &c. in whofe power it was vefled, have given ros. annually to the poor of each of thefe parifhes; the uccation of which was the failure of feveral perfons to whom it had been lent. Or this I was informed by an inhabitant.

Mrs. Mattin founded two almshoufes, but left them unendowed at her death, for two poor widow wemen. They are now (3794) inhabited by two poor families, who are taken care of by the parifh, the late lord of the manor, Thomas Blackmore, efq. having refufed to keep them up.

Buildings.

The Bury, or manor-hnufe, is a neat ruilding. It was re-built by Willism Martin, efq. 17.. ; but the late lord of the manor, abovemestioned, pulled a part of it down, intending it to have been a manfion for his younger fon; but, dying before it was finimed, the whole fell to his eldeft fon and heir, who let the houfe; and it is now tenanted by Mr. Eve, farmer. Nigh to this houfe fiands an antient oak, reputed to be upwards of 500 years of age, but now well-nigh withered.

Lords of the Manor.

1543, Richat Heigham, efq. who held this manor by payment to the king of the fame tenths as thofe which were paid at the time of the diffolution of Waltham abbey, vix. lixs. xa. and was fucceeded by his fon,

1546, William Heigham, whofe fo
:558, John Heigham, together wi his wife Martha, obtained licence, $\mathbf{O}$ 3, 1560 , to alienate ic to 1560, Sir Richard Weilon; wh dying July 6, 1572, was fucceeded his fon, 1572, Sir Jerom Wefton; who w fucreeded by his fon, r的3, Sir Richard Wefton, knt. the Garter, earl of Portland, and lo high treafurer: after whom we find 163., Sir William Martin in pe feffion of this eflate; who, on Sept. 1 163.f prefented Thomas Denne, M. to thic reSory. He died in 4635; wh

3635, Sir Henry Martin, LL.] became lord of this manor ; after whot
16.., sir William Martin poffeff it, one of the parhament committ for the prefervation of peace in th county in 1642. He was buried he on Dec. 54, 1679; and his fon,

1679, Cuthbert Martin, eff. fu ceeded him; who was likewife buri, here on March $9,1697-8$, and w fucceeded br his ton, 3698, William Martin, efq. who eulogium is fully difplayed upon $h$ monument. He, dying on Nov. 2 1717, Ieft this eftate to his wife,

1717, Mary Martin, who died O 8,1764 , aged 97 ; and, at her deceal to the humand of his niece's daughte

1764, Mathew Bluck, efq. of Hun don, co. Herts; whofe Son, 17... Matthew Martin Bluck, ef in $1 \%$,., fold this eftate to $17 .$. , Tho. Blackmore, efq.; wh dying in 1792, left it to his fon an heir, 1792, Thomas Blackmore, efq. 1 Briggins, in the county of Hertfort who became of age at Chriftma 1993.

The parfonage alfo is an elegar brick building, ere&ted wholly at th expence of the prefent incumbent ( $A$ Nati), and ceft him nodefs than 3200 Fossils.
Here are found in the gravel-pit: nigh the Crofs, Belemnites of a cho colate colour, radiated from 2 clo! centre. Alfo, in the gravel-pits nig the church, the Ecbinites Galeate o Birkenhout; and, in the ploughed land are found the cordiformed Echini called by Brookes Brontic.

The Oculatus Lapis, or pudding fone, is likewife not uncommon here and is called by the inhabitants it breeding-fone. There is one of an im menf
enfe fize near the Bury, the lower irt of which is not fo compactly conutinated as the upper. The cement of a white colour, and the pebbles of bich it is compofed are chiefly fmall nts.
H. E.

Mr. Urban, Aprilib.

NCLOSED are a few remarks upon certain paffages in Mr. Tvidal's iffory of the Abuey of Evetham; hich may not only be a fmall im. ovement to that woak, but convey me entertainment to your readers.
P. 27. "Ifte etiam facrifa primus xinuit bovem fecundo meliorem deortuorum cum corpuribus, \&sc.nore $\dagger$. he former part of this fentence (vz. e above) 1 do not underftanci." hus Mr. Tyndal. Mr. Warton Yift. Eng. Poetr. vol. 1I. p. 328 ), ia note upon the kirk cow, pinfif-s fimilar ignorance of the nature of as ent mortuaries. In Mr. Folbooke's conomy of Monaric Life, as it extlited England, p. 82, is the following rotation from Selden: "Monattertes ere in chiefelt reputation for barid ; ad, if the dead chofe, h.d a pieferree to any parochial chur=h'. 'The bot's morikary was the apparel of he dead, his horle and his cow. "A ortuary," fays Fuller, "was the tend beft quick cattle whertof the irty died poffeffed," \&:. Chu.ch iff. cent. 12, p. $8_{1}, \$ 29$.
P. 6i. "Thefe five hides Walter, bot Evefham, dereined at Idebers, c. note $\dagger$.-Dirationarit, a word difcult to underftand, and of which, as ere applied, ( $\mathrm{f}, \mathrm{y} \mathrm{z}$ Mi. T.) I do not now the exact meaning."-Diratioare is to affert a contrary thing by :afoning, or to deftroy by the fame leans what has been afferted. "Diraonare igitur eft contrarium ratiociando afferere, vel quod affertum cit itiocinando deltruere." Spelm. Gluff. ! verbo.
P. 73. "Ry gors and gorith," fays Ir. T. "I undertand grafs." Why ot gorfe (heath-furze)? the fente of ie paflage will bear it; and the obv:us is, perhaps, nine times out of ten, he real meauing of a writer,
P. 178 . "When it be neceffary, a haplain fhall carry a lighted lantern efore him (the abbot) in all places

* Mr. Forbrooke here points out an exeption in Lel. Itin. vol. 11. p. is, ed. learne, $17 \% 9$.
except the dormitory."-Faller, in his Hiftory of Abbeys, b. V1. P. 286, § 20, fays, " it was a grand penance impofed upon delinquens to carry atout the lantern," & c .
F. 179. "Pætogogicum grammatice fuper quatuor paries grammatice.'Gr mma among the tchoolmen was divided no the tetter, the /yllable, the fentence, and the pronunciation. Linwood's Provincial, Tit de Magutris et Potettate docendi, in Notis ad V.rb primitive fententia: "Quz add!fci non puilant fine notitia hiterarum," S.. It is well known that Donatus, who fourified in the regn of Corftantius (M. Scotus, fub ann. 337), compited the grammar ufed in the midd'e ages. Bile tells us of Richard Kendtie attempring an improvemert in this art in the rign of Henry VI. "ad f-cilionem tenere pubis educationem," cent. 7, § 7 s.
P. 186. "Dimadiun fercuium." Perhaps half a fork-full. The word is not in Spelman; and 1 ammutable o refer to Du Cange. It occurs in the Aatutes made by the kings of Fiance and England for the Crulade, as given by Willian of Naviorsugh, d. 118 . c. 22: "Staturum eft etiam ut bullus ewormiter jurct, et quod nullus al aeas ret ad dethos lucar, et quod nollus virio, vel grifo, vel labellinis, vel eforletis utatur, et quod omnes ton clerici, vel latci, diaobus ferculis fint c.nntuti," &
P. s93, nute *. "P, ft cap:ulum conveniûs. But one cannot fúpotea chap:er was held every das."- But it certainly was. In f. iz of M. F ibrorke's Economy of M waftim Lise :s the following piffige form Ingumas's Hifory of Crogland: "Phor Cuylandza in fu:vinan licentiam ha'vert, et paetiatem quotidiani capitull monachorum pententias injungere." it is Deedicís to adduce murt proois of a thing to weli known to Antig We Mi. T. has, in another pace, anmitted a fimilar ertor in iuntulutagg the librasy for the cioifer, in cororadietion to the letier $\dagger$.

I thail conc ude w.th pointing out to t Mr. Tyndal has frequent doubts refrecting the word furmugizon. It neans a horfe-load. "De q whithe: fanmagio equorum cum fargtis," \&-s. Pat. 3+ E. I. m. $25^{\circ}$ In a like fenie funmarii, fimpter horfes: "de quatuor fiommes (rods) avene.o," Pas. ut Jup. What Mr. Tyndal calls carcefute are cart-loads, from carecta.

Mr. Tyndal a charter of tie albey of Evelana, in the Black Eook of the Exch-quer, in Wirecelite fure.

Yours, &e. Anticuariozys.

Mt. Urban, Korney, Mayiz.

IN No. Vil. of Mr. Strute's "ComBabitanis of Gicet Betraim," part 11. p. 4s, ocus the foricanioy paliez: "The fotulares, or fubtalares, appses evidently to have been a thick kind of skots calcurated chicfly for warmoth, and were ufd by the Cergy when they oficiated in the churches in on'a weather, or at night," &ic. Permit me to ferd voa fome col'eetions by me refreatiog this articic of ontient dref.

Du Cange reprefenze the luybura as a fuecies of hoe which the mon's wole at night in fummer, alfo thons when they officilted. "Sotulatia, ut §ubtalare'; ord. ui Subtalares caleei, nontrifoxliers (pedul:umgenus) , quibus maxime monachi per nodem mabantur in affate. Ita etiam palfim nuncupantur calceamerta epifcoporum ficra peragentium," &c. Giuft in veibo. Mr. Scrutt, in the nute * to p. 49 , fuppotes thefe forutioria "o to reitmble women's clogs, eafly flipped or, and Shorter than the Goe, by me rifing above the heel. I can protuce authosities for fuppe firg them to have bsea a kind of half-boots, perhaps Similar to thofe of red lea her tometimes woin on the fage. In the 2 2th Conft p. 12. Nigr. Monach. (Wikies's Cumacils, vil. II. p. 607) are the followng words; "alitudo fotulatum ipforum tanita ad minus offe dabeat, ut quatuor digitorum tranferfalium de tibia fupra cavillam patium comprehendat. The height of the fotularia ought at leaift :o be fo great as to include the fpace of four fingers crofs-ways from the leg above ine ca s!" Mi. Wartin (IIIt Ene. Foctr. emend. to vol. : P. P. 418) (yys, that "the members of a charel at Wiachefcr, tounded by Roger hixpenne, were ordeled to yo in meris cmit, is ct fotularbus non roitwat."." Compare a note in Whre's Scitorne, p. 370. They are mentioned as the duts of the 'eculare canons and ciciey (an contradition evidently to, the bents of the manks) by Lindwood, Pavinc. Ancle, p. 213 , note 0. voc. Obte:v. ed Oxt. In Duadzate's Monaii. Angy ic. there atpear to be hithing fotuluria hung up in the dormitooy fur piors and siltacrs when trayel-ling on the convent bufinefs; and did urnal and noturn 1 folutariat, vo 11. p. p. 718,720 . In a fuperb gre: crils, iven by Richard III. in Yor cuthetra, an ancel on the bafe hel the ralisks of biefeel St. Pater's fotula riv, is. vol. III. Ecc. Cath. p. 17: If. S:rutt. D. 66, Gys "The pedald and the pockings ars ciearly mentione Escmo diting paris of the drefs in th ansient Catherim Siatutes. We mr with fo'ularia in thofe statutes, fe Duyd. MI math. vol. I. P. 953. In th lita of K ne Jobe:s jeviels ls wnumpc purarium at fregas de cr/r-/io. Lit P.t.0. J.i. n. 24. P. Byt inflanct Whe be produced "ithout numbe Nite nee vaz Mr. Strutt's definitio the apply to every tited of loislaria, have produced thefe in Alances to ftims late an enquiry into what they reall were.
Your remarker on the Refiques, Soncime Puetry, vol. LXV. p. 75 has fome obicreations on the wors broocbes, , imys, and oucches. In $t$ "Compurus magra Garder bax Reg Elw. L." ann. 28, are two inflanci of the wered morecta: "una nouch ad modum ?quix aurea cum rube ut amcran! ${ }^{\text {in }}$, pretil D. non. nigro Un.: noricha aurl cum imayinibus reg ti regine cum petraria diverfa pres cx:x mon." Burton ufes broche an ozuibe as fynonymous: "'Tis tru Vicin m made a moft almirable bruc, or neck'ace--But why did Vulce make this excelient oucke?' Ana Melanch. p. 3. f. 2, m. 3. P. 543.
iv. Dudley Fosbrooki

Mr. Ufran,

inarch 10.

IWASH ro procure fome in formatic of the following old poets; and fhoul be much obliged to you to infert th notice in your extenfive Mifcellany.

Cbarles Alteyn, who publ:fated a pe em on the batties of Crefcy and Po wers, $1733,12 \mathrm{mo}$; and another o the Hifiosy of Henry VII. in 12 m 103 s.

Robert: Hath, author of a little ve lunc of wilcellancous poetry, intitu Jud, "C Hella, 1650 ," t2mo.

Rober: Hertick. A volume of pc

Niche las llocke, a mifcellany, 12 ml 16:3, ..thuled, "Amanda."

Edne ard Sherburne, author of "Pc + Setuiares dinrnos et nocturnates, & P. in ricarne's Lib. Nig. Scaccarii, vol. Appentix.

1796.] Lichfield.-Sir T. Rowe.-Charatier of Mr. Sowden. 38 s

ams amorous, lufory, moral, and dirine, 1651 ," 12 mo ; and of "Salma:is, Lyrian, and Sylvia, forfaken Lylia, and the Rape of Helen, tranflied rom the Italian, \&c. with other Po$\mathrm{ms}, 1651,{ }^{\prime} 12 \mathrm{mo}$.
Martin Leuellyn, auther of "Men Miracles," and other poems, 1656 , 2 mo .
W. F. I.

Mr. URBan, May 9.

YOUR correfondent Rich. Geo. Robinfon, p. 299, may pocket his refief that Viator and W.W. are the ame. Duplicity is not the charader of Tiator; who is happy to find his obferations on Lichfield cathedral, and the taffordflire navigation, confirmed by etter judges. And here, in pity to a eevifh antagonift, who confounds li. erty of privare judgement with mace, envy, and all the diabolical pafons, he will ren the controverfy. V.

${ }_{3}^{\mathrm{N}}$Mr. UR3 (AN,

May 10.
YHOULD we not wite it Cheping. q. d. Market Ongar. pp. 112,277? P. 274. Qu. of Sir Thomas Rowe's omb being compofed of variegated red nd white marlle, as I always looked pon it, at lealt the figures, as of the ime compofition with the monument fold John Stow; this the workmen alled ftone-ware, much in ufe in the ays of Henry VIII, and to King ames I. The gauntlets of Sir Tholas lie within the chapel, and his heliet flung upon a prefs in the veftry.
P. 292, note, 1. 1, read not inftead $f$ bot.
P. 293, munning-title, for pafchal ggs read candle.
Of Mi'es Divies, f. 30 I , fee Mr. 'ennant's Hittory of Whitetoord, jult ublifhed, p. 115 .
P. Q.

Mr. Urban, bath, May 10.

YOUR Magazine for laft April contains an article highly honouable to the memory of the Rev. Benimin Choyce Sowden, minifter of the inglifh Epifcopal church at Amfteram , who dicd there the 28 :h of January laft. Whocver tranfmitted it , you, though they have juttly eftlated the mural and ficientific unerir of re decealed, have, for want of better Iformation, been guilty of a chronopgical error, which I fhall intreat you 3 rectify through the fame channel. $t$ is very poffible for a man to contiue to infiruct after he is gone, and, Gent. Mag. May, : 79与.
being dead, yet to fpeak; but it will not be readily underfood, that any one can presch and pubin, either before, or juft after, he is born. In a word, the feveral publications, which that article referred ro atmibutes to the fon, were the product:on of the forther, who was minifter of the Englifh EAablifbed Church at Rotterdam. Few have been the writungs of the gentieman lately deceafed that have borne his name. A fermon on Toleration, preached at Hackney aftes the riots of the year 1780 , and another before the mentibers of the Humane Sociery, are all that fall under our cognizance in the Englih tongue. Bur, as he was verfed in feveral living as well as dead languages, he has publified fome phiIofophical tralts in the Dutch, having been for fomat gears a member of the Phibofop incal Eucrety of Fetion Mcritis at Amferdam, where he is as unverfally regretted as he was known and efieem ed, and by no one more than by the writer of this; who hopes that the author of the foregoing article will excufe the liberty now taken to correit his miftake. His eulogium is as applicable to the father as to the fon; but the writings of each hould remain diftinct.
A. B.

Mr. UREan, Tralee, April ${ }^{5} 5$.

IN this retired part of the world, which by-the-bye is cheaper than any of thofe places in America to which fo many deluded natives of this as well as your country are induced to emigrate, I find more entertainment from the perufal of your inftruclive pages than from any other modern publication. Of late I have been much amufed by the various effays, with which you have recently favoured your readers, on the queftion touch. ing the emigration of the S wallowtribe; about whofe difappearance there are as many hypothefes as on the caufe of Fairy-rings, that fome time ago employed the pens, and exercifed the ingenuity, of a number of your correfpondents. Of all the conjectures refpeeting the Swallow, that which fuppofes its immerfion in ruins, \%c. appears to me the lealt probabie. This kingdom, you know, is rematkab'e for its lakes; but 1 never faw, nor ever heard trom any perfon in this country, any thing to wariant the belief of the watery retreat of S valiows. In the firft place, it appears very un-lively
likely that birds, which are affeced and annoyed by a cold atmofohere, frould choofe to take their abocte ia an element that is coider. In the next place, I hould be glad to know how a Swallow can fink itfelf to the depth of feveral fest in water, and by what force it is retined at the borom, in a torpid Rate, for a certain number of months, without rifing th the furface, where, I fuppofe, it will not be difputed but that, if it were dead, it would float.
Havisg mentioned Fairy-rinss, I remember to have heard, in the North of England, that the birds calicd Rufis and Recves, at certan feafons, dance or hop edeut on the grafs, in regular circles, in the night-time; and, in that fituation, are generally caught with nets. May not this caufe the arpearances called Fairy-ings? Thefe, indeed, are found, I believe, in places not frequented by thofe birds, which foums to nogative this conjeture of mine; but, mav not fone other birds lave the like habit, or ra-her inflindt?

Yours & c
Scepticuz.

Mr. URban,

May 23.

IHOPE your correfponilen. P. 397, will give the leave to differ from him, "that it is common to fee two cuck rons together." In the firf place, it may be doubted whether it is very common to fie one, a!thnough you offen bear that bird in the Spring. Bus, if you do fee two birds together that bear a refemblance to each other in that kind, I apprehend one to be the cuckoo, the other the cution's man, deforiberl, I thint, fume ye.rs ago, in your ufful Reponitory, by the Rev. Mi. White, of Oriel college, Oxford.
P. 138. May not the two remarkable fiters, buried in Aifon churchyald, in Rutandhire, prove to be no thore than the debaced effigies of an antert knight and his hady?

Let me fefer you to the St. James's Chroncte. Miy 17 to May 19 fura mont admiable and affuting charge, which was not, but might have been wey propertw, delivered at the Old Batey in this prefent month.

Mr. Urpan, Carnwall, May 23 . fam wry earncir to fee in vou: $A$ Morazine the reafons of $\square$ for fupprang rhe Egyptan pyranuds the works of Mofes and Aarta.
P. Co proural, for a clearp priang of Biflop Watron's work againft th infamous Paine, may be objected th on the ground, that it will make th pencicious writings of the latter mon univerfally known. But, does ne the objection go to all anfiwers to, confutations of, fuch damnable dor trines? For my part, I have not wort frong enough to exp efs my detefl. tion of them, and my wifhes for the utter extinction. They have dol mifchief.
One of the Reviewers of "Llango len Vale" fays, "wires are not uff for harps." Surely they are ufed thofe large ones calied ticble harps: On the fineft fhoiteft ftring, Where the warbling trehle fings; Where the foficfif flying touch Fears to raile the found too much; Where the gentie dying fall Scarce alarms the melting foul.
Your humble forvant of fifty yee flanding,

Cornub
Mr. Urean, May 24. THE following is all the alifitar 1. in my power to cive your cont fpondents, pp. 60, 117. Notraces of a of Mr. Archdeacon Her fhaw's fam appear in the Reg : fer of Cuckiel and I do not recollte that any of $t$ name are now to be found in Suffe it is not, however, uncommon in ott parts of the kingdom.

Cuckfield, Suffex.-On a marl flab, within the commenion rails:
"Fere lieth the boly of the Rev.
Mr. Tobias Henehaw, late archdeacon of lewes, treafurer of the cluuch of Chichoree, and vicar of this place; born of the fame mother with the Rt. Rev. Father in God Peter Guuning, late of Chicherer, and now Lord Bimop of Ely, by whom, in memoric of his deceafed brother, this ftons was laid.
Ohit . . . . die menfis $\mathrm{X}^{\prime}$ bris, $\mathrm{a}^{\circ} \mathrm{D}$ ’ ni mbelym. sat. Lx."
Abbey-church, Bath.-On a mu tảbict:
"Mr. Jovathain Hinshaw, ore of the aldern:ca, of this city, died Dec. 3,1764, aged 59.
Mis. Mary henshaw, wife of aluve Mr. Jonathan Henfhav, died $t$ guft 3: 1728 , aged 63. Mr. J. Hensha, their fun, hed OCt. 20, 1763 , ased 18 .'

A fernale figure reclines on an u, which fopports the arms of Henthi via. Arg a chevinn G. between tha

1796.] Attention to Parfonageoboufes recommendel.-Curates Bill? 387

cranes of the fecond, impaling the arms of Cbapinan as they appear on a neghbouring monument. N. O.

Mif. Urban,  Nay, 26.

IT has been the felicity of fome dio. cefes, beword others, to have ha! very many parionages erefled in them within a few yoars; and it is no adulatory remark to attribute this to the gradual infinence of the fentiments on refidence diffufed by their exemp ary and judicious pieiates. But it is matter of regret that, of the old buildings, few have been repaired and eniarged, and many, really habitabic for clergymen, have been cottaged off, or tenanted by farmers; being thus iendered of entire difufe to the curates in the firftinftance, and the way paved, in the fecond, for their utter demolition whenever the joint convenience of the partues fhall be thought to reguire it. Biffops miy for ever beg leave to recomment the pron's or the incumbent's condideraton of the future welfare of the cauch, when private intereft milirates againt their recomonendation, and when a more authondture injunction-nè çuil detrimimi capat ectiffa-w wuld th accort with the refinemeat of the simes. "A mere cottage, my Lord!", is the reply often given to queries about the goodnets of parfonages, wathout conficring how widely penpie's deas dificr about hofpitable dwellaps, and how many curates, who are obliged to be formmed with a ficed, and quarcr it and the: $n-$ felves upon ther relations, might be made comfortuble with a vicarial cottage, and a country church-jard for pafture.

The aft recently paffed muft have convinced their illiberal and monlih afperfers, that the billiops to not throw off from their minds all regard for their inferiors in proponion to their eievation; and that the approach to coustly regiozs dives nt hurry away their rentes and hert judgement. The ex. ecution of the act refis, I fuppole, with the bifoops, and with great propriety; for, the indulgence of the parfonage ignt fiee to the cyrate cannot be generalieed without grievance. Admit the cite of an incumbent who has expended much of his income on a lmall preterment, and wh te intirmities havuid alternards ruder a town necelfary to preciu'te the cxpence of medical jutneys: has do elata etants him permiffion to depart from refidence, and the exigences of his famly require the rental of his parfonage. Ileie, furcly, a curate fhould be chofen of ability to pay, white the lefs indigent and double incumbent hould be compelted to impart freely of what they had fietly received. In large docefes it mighe facilitate and haplify the proccedings, we e (every wish. ceaconry mapped, and) esch arcideacon prorided with a Regifter B ak (a book of Jafher) to tranfinit occationally to the dioce $\mathrm{ran}_{\mathrm{a}}$, and ultimately to bequearin to his fuccelfor, wirh his obfervations and accounts. Not a gentleman among them would deny this bon, who rificels what a treafure fuch a record would be to pollerity! What a glorious fafeguard to the injared revenues of the Church, and what honour to their own names! The regiffarius, or attoney of the court, Nowid indifputably reprefent fuch a record as a fupererogation, and al its parpofes anfivered by a triennial Terricr. Let not him be regarded. It whil add a very iew minutes to the bufincis of an archidiaconal vilitation, if to the calting over the names of the Ciergy thur refidence alfo be called cver, and a memorandum made oppoitte to each preferment, whether or not it had a parlonage; if inhabited by the cuatate, on what terms; if by a former, for what caulc; and the quantity of glebe.

Flosculus.

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Mr. Urban, } \\
& \sqrt{V} \text { E hope, in your ufeful } 25 \text {. } \\
& \text { tory of next mand }
\end{aligned}
$$ ciacumftantial account of the Cuilates Bill, as we whe every advantage to thofe who are taboriouly empioyed in the moft important of all piofefions; but we wifh that the Bench of B:hops wovid have conducied the meflure in a more cospfidertial manner with refpect to the incumbents, who, after all, will be able m generat to affurd but little affilance to their curdtes, whefo the bithups themtelves will, by another bill, tax tiose own annusl incomes with a liberal and fated falary to the curates of their refpective daceles till they provide for them according to thetr worth, without patual favour or affection, out of their own paronage, which may far.iy be luppoied to have been given them for luca laudable pulpoles.

Dr. Sturaces's loter to Mr. Wrilant, puonated
publithed May 1, is very candid, if true, with refpect to the French priefts at Winchefter*, who, it is to be hoped, will be thoroughly grateful for the benefits they are continually reaping in this kingdon, and will not, in future, give the mof difant caute of offence, either by purfuing meafures diametrcally oppofite to the Eftablifined Church of this kingdom, which nourifhes and proteats them, or by any otier pait of their conduet, inconfritent with the charaeter which they ought to fupport every where, but which they are more particu!ariy obli. ged to maintain whilft the unhappy fituation of their own country makes it abfolutely neceffary, for theirown fafety, that they thould refide in another. J.

Mr. Urban,  May 2.

IN a lettcr from Granville, Lord L.ndowne. publihed in the fecond v lune of Seward', "Anecdstes of diftinguithed Perfons," is the following friking paffage, defcriptive of Dr. Denis Granville, dean of Durha: which every one who had the happinefs of knowing Dr. Thomas Townfon, archdeacon of Richmond, will inftataly allow to be app icable alfo to him; and thofe who did not know him may be crnvinced of the propriety of the application, if they will have recousfe to the "Account" and nu:i es of him refoned to in p. 203 of your March Magazine:
"Sanclity fat fo eafy, fo unaffected, and fo graceful, upon bim, that in hin we beheld the very ' beauty of holinefs: he was as cheerful, familiar, and conde fcending, in his converfation, as he wa foitet, regular, and exemplary, in his pie ty; as well bred and accomplifhed as : courtier, as reverend and venerable as at Apofte "

This opportunity of redifying a mir nomer in your titlic-page for the montl of Manchmuf not beomitred; where in the tocond column, "Archdeacot Blaskhume" is frangely fubftitutet iatied of trehdeacon Townfon." Is the tru's intreffing "Account" o the lattor, referied to in p. 203, col 2. his maferly contoverty with th formet is ponced out in pp. xxviii xxix, xix ; confiting of "thrte thor pamphits, but without bis name.' One of them was attributed to a wrong author in your volume for 177 t , p 405, col. 1; as you were afterward intolmed in pp. 499, 500 . It wa publifhed in Noirmber, 1767; fo tha the da:e, as well as the author, wa milirepreterted by your correfponden in tire beforementioned p. 405 ; it which the "Defence of the Doubts," \&c. in Augult, i768, was by the fam. suthor; as was aifo thie "Dialogue,' noticed in the tecend column of the following page, and publithed in ${ }^{\prime}$ un, 1768 . To your liff of writers on tha Confe仿onal, in yourvolume for 1780 P 226, co!. 1, may thertfore now bi added the refpectatle name of Town. fon.

Academicus.

* We have thought it right to copy this curious letter. See p. 373.

PROCEEDINGS  H. OF LORDS. Norvember 30.

$B$OUNSEL appeated at the bar in the caufe of Gordon verjus Hume; but it was put If for three weeks, to give the partes time to accommodate the matter by accord.

In the Commons, the fame day, the Chancellor of the Exchequer moved the odite of the day, for the Houfe to reLolve itfe'f int: a Committee on the bitl "for the better fecurity of his Majefty's perfon and government," &:c.
M. E-gkne rote to oppofe the Spea$k \in r^{\prime}$ !eavang he chair, it might appear rather remaikable, he fad, that, as he was ulaally filent, he foould be the firft man to itand up to oppofe this Stage of the bill, viz. of the Speaker

IN PARLIAMENT.

leaving the chair. He thought the fatery of his M -jefty's perfon fuch, that no hiv ought to be neglected that tended to piotect the perion of the chite magifirate, as it was more expofod than that of any other, of more importance, and therefore requiring the gieater fecurity. He bad flated on a former night, and he would repeat it on thes, that the bill added no farther lecurity to his Majefly's perfon, while, at the fame tume, it deeply affeEted the fecurity of the fubject, and brought both the fafety of the kiog's perfon and his authorry into grester peril. He always had laid it down as a maxim, that the fewer reftrictions that were !aid on the liberty of the fubject the better; and by that maxim he would always abide. State-laws never ought, he faid, to be altered, unlefs they were found inadequate by experience. Unlefs, therefore, fome additional fecurity was obtained by this law, we euglic never to pifs that great object of our ancellors, viz. that the principles of ju:ifprudence ought to be made with all polible provifion, and particularly to provide for the fafety of the fubjest: and this was, never to make the laws tno fevere. This caution appeated fron the flatute of treafons of the $25^{\text {th }}$ of Ediwrd III. which would be found to be fufficient. This fatute had in vicw in objeens: one was the fofety of his Majefty's perfon, and the other for the lecutity of his government. At this time our ancestors had thefe two objects only in view ; and yet, at the time this itatute was paffed, the country was in as ftrange a fituation as it is at prefent. If any man did confpire to compafs or imagine the death of the king, no law could protect him better, or pun $C$, the guilr more feveiely, than the treafoulaws of Edward III. According to Judge Futter, to compars and imagine the $\mathrm{King}^{\prime}$ death was high treafon in the filft infiance; and, in the fecond, adhering to the king': enemits, or levying war agdinft thim, with intent to depole him from his toyal authority. If, therefore, our aneeftors thought it high tteafon to compafs and imagine the death of the king, why not ado to attack his perfon? Becaufe they knew that there couid be rio wade-extended confpiracy to attack the k'us's naturat perion; but, if any at: $k$ was made upen it, they fuppofed a could ony come from tome contemprible wretcu; therefore, all conipiracies to levy war were only high middenieanours. $F_{1}$ a, then, by the flatute of Ediward III. the crime was in the mind until it made its appearance by an overt act. To confirin this, we wanted no hatute; for, arier the overt aft was commited, and laid before the jury, it was fuficient without the ftatute. This charge mult be, on the face of the tecord, not for the determination of the jodges, but for the jury $r$ confider whether, after the overt act be conmitted, is amounts to the crime of high tration. This overt act he maintainea not to be high treafon uniefs the malignant intention of cutting off the king was alfo manifefted. He recurred to the trial of Sir Jonn Freind, who was charged with high treafon, do haviag an inten. tion to affeffinate King William, and with aiding, alfifting, and abetting, the Pretender. To this Sir John took an objection in point of lav; which was, that, as he had not actually leyied war, though he had raifed troops, it could not amount to the crime of high treafon; and that therefore ftill, according to the flature of 25 Edward 1II. a confpiracy to levy war was not high treafon. The words of Chief Juftice Holt on the trial of Sir John Freind were, hat "a confpiracy tolevy war was not actualiy high treaton unlefs alfo it arowed the death of the king." Mr. Erkıne maintained, that any confpiracy, of any kind whatever, or even letters written in a man's clofet, might, by the letter of this ftature, be made out to be high treafon. He took a view of the king's natural and political perfon, and dre va comparifon in favour of his political, viz. that, though his satural perfon, as the chief inagiltrate, had a right to every fecurity, flil his poltical perfon was that particularly kept in vie:s by this flature of Edward III.; and it was hard, he faid, that a whole nation Shouid have their hoerties cut away for the aEt of one individual, a wretch, a mifcreant, who had committed a cime moe worthy of an Italian than of a free-born Briton. Tbs learnel gentleman concluded a fpeech of upwards of tivo hours, principuily on the laws of treafon, by givins his vote againft the Sreaker's leaving the chatr.

The Atiornej-getural anfivered alt the arguments of his learned and honourable friend. It became, he faid, the dary of every 1. an in that invuic to deliver his fentiments on this uccalion, paiteculaily as the nation was in fach a ftate of public agitation. The bill, he contended, was only an explanatory aCt of 25 Edward 111.; an! at this time it was the more nectflaty, as libellous publications had increafed to tu.h a degree, that, it day one walked down the Sirand, he could fee nuthus elfe than feditious publications; and, for thefe three years palt, there had been more than in twenty yeals pecedrag; fo that it would be raporiode to fay bow long is would occupy the Court of King's Bench in prolecuting thefe libels. Another object, which particularly ought to attract the atientuon of the Houle, was, that publications of a pernicious cendency had, by means of cheap pointing, been circulated over all the country. The tendency of thefe was, to excite a batred and contempt of his MIajefly's perfon and government, and of all perfons high in effice. The Learned Genticman maintained, that paintings or devices of any kind, provided they excited hatred or contempt of his Majefty's perion or govenment, were in fact libele, and of a teratonable icndency. Heconduded a feech of con. fiderable length by voing for the Houre to go into a Commulee.

390 Parliamentary Procceding of Lards and Commons in 1795.

A divifion took place on the Spea. ker's leavnge the chair; for the inotion 203, ag, inf it 40.

The finafe accordingly refolved itfelf into a Committee on the bill.

The only alterations that turk pice volthy of notice were th the chate for Gimiung the operation of the bill, and in that for lomengot the duration of a perfun's trambertion to three vars.

On the funter clatue a divifion wook place; when twere appented, for $11-$ sniting the ereration of the aut ou the demile of at eC own, Ayes 129 , Noes 6 .
Theocher coues heme gavethrough, the Houte was tefumed, atd the report receiver, and unctics to beraken anto conflaration on Fiday near.

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { H. OF LORDS. } \\
& \text { Dicemoer } 1 .
\end{aligned}
$$

The Royal Aftent was notifed, by cormanfior, to the the prohbe the taknong farch tom wheat, &e.; alto to lower the dutics on the importation of it reh. Lidicul: th the bill to piolibat the expration of talliow, fur a tume to be imitad.

In the Commons, he farne day, he Houre requed ateifif into a Comme on the cilatien bitl ; when + we wo was made to antex a claufe m taverer puchics a conferable cqu mity of inderse, unth they might wah oft the hock in hand. This was chjetied 80; bue referses to the Stact C mmitiee atrre ltars, and the re out to be bruande up ea he merow.

A ! the paifuns concerned in the prinimg of the parphice aterbucd t, Mi. Reeves weic ordeied to atumd the Combutes; from whefe eridence is a!pearch, that the pamphict was firit given to Mr. Wight, a punter, of $P=$ ic:b....ugh-court, whaterwards sane the job to Owan, of Piccatiliy. Tile rolult of the shole invefugation wat,
"that John Reeves, of Cecil-ftreet, in the Strand, either was the author, or acted as the author, of this pamphlet."

Mr. Sherilian moved, that the report be taken into farther confideration on Friday. Ordersed.

Mr. Pit: moved the cther order of the dar. for the Houle to receive the leport of th Committec on the fedtition bill; which beives:, zeed to, they proceeded to cazation herepor claufe by claufe: when a converfation took place berween Mr. Fon, Mr. Sberidan, Mr. M. Rabinjor, and Mr. Pitt ; after which the report was recieived, with the amondrents of the Committe, and the Lefocrdered to bee read the thind time o.a Thurfday.

H. OF LORDS. Decertioer 2 .

The onder of the day being read Luti Ala, mante faid, the pointto whict be withed on diredt their Lordfhips at tention was to a book latey publined asd, as was generaliy surfecied, foom thag pen of a gent'eman who had beet undertiood to be counceled with, ani fupported by, Government. Thisbool contained doctrimes directly hoffile ti the fipitit of our Cunhicunom, and tend ing to alienate the misinds of the peopl from their efeetion to it. Mech a he was averfe oponfecutions in genera for the publuction of po inizal opini ons, yet he mur prefs twrithe sondem nation oi that book, inafmuch as, from the pecuitas circumflances atiendia upos it, it formed an exception to th gene ditulc. If the ficedtion of a fer palizges only were brought furward and thowe were not fupported by th general contest of the work, then $h$ thould i:\% it was harfo to judge of $i$ in that mode; jut, if thote palfige whe firengtiarned, a.d recuived ad duona lurce from the feneral an unvelat terivency of tie whele work is the dofermes incuicand wore uni formbly Gaflaned by the whole chata o reafonng which the awtion uled, an if, throughout, the ineter of the au thor appeared cydont and uniform then they migiat ve fartiy quoted. I alfo they were inerely the fpeculativ opin wons of an infu aicd pultical writer and vere ifft th tie comimon modes $c$ curculation, much cxeule might be ad anted. Bua tet ther Lowdaips recol hect, that the wonk caste (as wa gentally beterved) thoat wat who hà

Parliamentary iProceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795.

late!'y taken an a Eive part in the fuppors of Adarinitration; one, whom the world generally underitoon to diffeminate the princip'es, and deliver the fentiments, which wete thone of his Majefy's Minifiens. Under fuch circumfiances as thefe, it became their Lordhips to ufe their power, and determine upon the hbet. The fhould be well content os bave the panphite read to their L rdBips, witime cticring a fingle comment; he was fure it would condemn itfelf; for, the pafifues it contined were fo Aroag as were impofficle to be mifaken, and their tendency fo direct, that they w uld immediately fix the attentinn of the mind, and carry a conviction of their meaninz. To fave their Lordtaips this labrur, he would endeavour to recapitulate the pefitions it maintained, and then read a few of the parages by which they were endeavoured to be fupported. ift, That the Kng a one makes laws. 2d, That the other branches of the Legillature are derived from the King. 3d, That our liberties were grants from the King. 4th, That the Revitation only was to fecure us a Protatant King ; and, sth, Tiat the verdiei of juiles went for nothing. His Lurdmp bere reat extracts from the pamphet, insituied, "Thoughts on the Englif Gouernment." The one which he thought to be the firmegen was that in which the author compared the Eughih Go. vernment to a tree, of which the Monarchy was a wunk, and the leaves and branches the Lerds and Commons. The leaves and branches of the tree might be cut down, and yet the virality of the sunk remain, though fhorn of its honvurs : fo the kngly government wuuld remain entre, though tha Lords and Commons thould be !opt away! Ih s, his Lordilip fiid, was fo direfly the reverfe of all the principles of the Cumfitution, that it required no argument to prove it. In anotier pafige, the author trated the Diffenters as a fet of men who ought to be extirpted from the eath, and, fpeaking of the hate trials, ford, "though they were aceumited by the jury, jet they were condennadisy she country." If this did not anount $t 0$ make the verdist of a jury pasts for nothins, he did not kas what did. He coath not concique wethout a thort notia: of the wo:k of a fellow latm u:s in the fame cauf (Mr, A:thus Young) : he treated the who'e fcheme of our hiverty as refuiting from the corruptions of our Government; and thre was prefix i to this (Mr. R's) Wrk, a dedicainn, flating the good effico which mont arife fom the circulation of Mir. I's bock. In going throuph thes volk, his Iordhip akan dectead he had not perverted any one putiace. His Lerdthp then moves, "that the work comrained a frandalous and feditious hibel; Re. and a breach of the privilege of thas H:

Lord Gremville fai?, that he nat never heand whe bors in quetion un: it becanco thened of nifeution in the cothe Hulfocf !arlament; and when, arirate) bod ciroud it, he was theally gnoront tion what work the quut thon came. To this moment be had pot read it, excope half a pige in the a niss of another perfon, and chore parEges which ho had head the Nobbe Lerd binelfred. Thofep fitges, he felc mo bus in to declare, were, to his julacmant, libellous; and heneed not deciare bis abhortence of all doct mes which attacked the government of this couniry as confring of King, Envis, and Cummons. But, in the adjuting of this bufinefs, he wifhed theic Lordfips to follow a policy which fould he wife and prudent. The Houle of Commons had already come to a determination upon this quefion, and were employed in traa ng the author. The teafonable prefo nution wa, thar the meant t" prococi chminaly awamt him, when flunt; and the, perhaps, might be by impeachmen!, as was done in the crto of Sachevciell, efpecially as they had adepred tine very words of the refaluen :a the cafe. Ft tuch hould Lhe the contey ence, thir Lordthips mukt procte the diemma to which they unud be reduced, thouid they now come to a deter manam ypon the fubject. The: wuald be the judyes of a man whom they had already leg: an $^{2}$ tively condemned, and the cate wou'd came before them thesity prejutgad by their iormer r foluton. This they mukt do, or they would a.t contradictay und inconfiteas wath themfolves. Upan thele grounds, and up m thefe gruands on! , he flamplacre, "thas the Houte ho now adjownent; wimh mas uppomeai by Lud

392 Farliamentary Proccedings of Lords and Commions in 1995.

Lord Hawkefoury, Earl Spencer, and Lord Mulgrave; when a divifion took place; Contents for the adjournment 31 , Non-contents 2.

In the Commons, the fame day, Mr. Rofe moved, that an account of the ordinary eflimates and repairs of the navy be laid before the Houfe. Oidered.

General Smith rofe, agreeably to the notice be had given on a former day, relative to the army effimates. There had been faved, according to the accounts of the Secretary at War, a fum of 750,0001 . which had not been applied; if, therefore, fo great a fum as this was unappropriated, was it poffible that the Houfe would not be inclined to take it into their corfideration? It was the duty of the Houfe to fee how money, which they voted away, was applied. He took a general view of the numerous army fliablifhmen's, and particularly of the Emigrant corps, Irifh brigade, and fencible cavaly, and maintained that the yeomanty cavalry was adequate to evely purpofe, and that there was no juft reaion for keeping in pay 10,000 fencible cavalry; young boys were appointed to command, and old experienced officers, who deferved well of their country, laid afide, and to this diforganization of the army, might be atributed moft of our difafters. He concluded by moving, as an anverdment, "that the report be re-committed to a Commitree of the whale Hovie,"

The Secretary at har ar rofe to an- $^{\text {and }}$ fwer the Hon. Goneral, who had ju? fat down. The Hon. General had flated the accounts confufedly, and ingether, thoug's they ought to be ficken of feparately; he had objecied to a fum of maney being unapplied: that fum had been oyer and above the fums tiecefiary for expenditure; and it was betesr, if there was an error in a rough calkulation, that the fum voted finuld be too great, rather than too lutie; the eiror confequently was on the right fide. $17 e$ concluded by vo. ting againf the re commitment.

Genera! fiiscilion could, he faid, rate ir appear, that the Secretary ar War was ne cospect, and thet the rufing of tisein fencible corps was vecenfitumbai. Ile had head it fote whe there raci teen nu bounty fiwn, yo: ha linesy is so be a foct, that five guineas fer man had been given, and that moft of the general officers were members of parliament. The Britifh army confifted of 220,000 men, and that, on the average, every man which had been raifed for the land fervice had coft 661. fterling. The war had, he faid, been begun in ambition, conducted with weaknefs, and would end in difgrace. The Miniftry, he faid, were driving the country on rapidly to a civil war; and thefe 220,000 men were to be applied to no other object than that which they dreaded, a civil war.

General Tarleton was forry to fee fo fmall a Houfe on fo important a fubject. There were, he faid, on foot now more cavalry than had been thought neceflary when the country was in actual rebellion in 1715 and 1745. The Right Hon. Gentleman might think little of all this military maffacre, but " He jefts at icars who never felt a wound."
He took : general view of the expences of the army in this war and the American war, of the expences of the ftoff, &cc.; and affirmed, that it was more than doub't in this piefent year. He charged the Mmifiry with flagrant neglect on the Weft-India expedition; and conciuded by voting for the amendment.

Mr. Dundas, in exculpation of the Miriatry, faid, that they had done thei duty; and, if the winds were unpropitious, that was no fault of theirs.

Mr. Grey, Mr. Fax, Mr. Pitt, Sc. fpoke on different fides.

A divifion then took place; when there appeared, for the motion, on the report, So, againt is 16 .

The Report was then brought up, read the firl and fecond time, and agretd to.
(To be consinued.)
Mr. Urban, May 18. TOUR cortefpondent, Mr.T.Srone, p. 13, who appears to anticipate with inquetude the defacement of Faring don hill, would have done well to have informed himfelf of what was to happen, or to have fufpended his cfficlous inclination at the feeming ex1 ence of the owner of it; for, the lact is, that that part only of the hill is intended to be ploughed up which has teen fo giearly delpoiled by rabbits as to be of fittic or no vaiue; but the beautiful piantation

1796.] Ncw Church of St. Martin Outwich.-Dartmoor Ramble. 393

plantation on the fummit will not be defaced, but preferved, it is hnped, for futuie ages, without the affiftance of Mr. Stone's drawing.

Mr. Urban,

Veritas.

YOUR lat volume, p. 995, hints at a few particulars refpefing the parifh church of St. Marrin Outivich, now pulled down. It alfo mentions leveral donations towards re buildiag it. At prefent they Htand thus: the ciry of Londen 2003.; the South fea Company 2001. and not 3001. as before flated; and the Merchant-tailors Company scol.

The found ation-ftone has been laid agreeable io the fullowing infcuiption on a copper plate placed unde it; at which ceremonv fercral refpectable inhabitants attended, whofe good intentions towards the work cannot be doubted, and with whofe affiftance there is a probability that as neat a ftructure will be raifed as a pariflchurch ought to be; a drawing of which I fall take the liberry of fending you when completed.
"The firt ftone for re-builling the parifh-clurch of St. Martin Outwich
Was laid theis fourth day of May, 1796, by the worhhipful Company of Merchant-taylers, patrons of the rectory of the faid parifhchurch.

The day was fent agreeably to the hofpitality of the company, having for their vifitors the regtor and officers of the church, with the architect and folicitor, &c. Your Mifcellany may record the circumitance to ages, and perhaps, at a diftence of time equal to the lapfe fince the former building was begun, afcertain tith greater precifion the event than the pen of Hiltory could do in the troublefome times of Henry IV.

Curator.
A Ramele on Dartmoor. (Corithuet fiont $p .276$ )
Brief Remurks made in the Courje of the Ramble on Dartninor, and fart:chlarly of the Niap made y/e of.

AMAP' (or Ruide) mufi be a very conveaient, ufetul, and atercable, companon to fira: gers in ath moor-ax . Gent. Mag. Mlay, :756.
curfins; and the fletch we had of Donn's map of the county of D won was certainly of very great ufe to us; yet we did not find it fo complete and fure a guide as we had ben led to imagine; nor was it tafy to find objects thereby, fuppofing then to hive been laid down with peripicuity and accuracy; neither is it alwavs prafticable to travel in a direct line, and rroublefome, particularly on horfeback, in unfavourab'e weather, to refer to a map and take bearings by it. The ditance of places on the Moor appear to lie confiderably greater than we fuppof:d from meafurtog on the map in a flat line; this polfibly mav arife from the rifing and failing of the ground; Cranmere pool appearing to be little more than fix iniles from the town of Lidf int per map, whereas we found it near io mites; and, after paffing Linx Torr, we expected to have met with it in the courfe of an hour, but were much difappointed. There are alfo many torrs and brooks not noticed in the map, parcicularly three adjacent to Linx Torr, bearing the names of Brattorr, Sharptorr, and Haretorr; from which circuinflance we found it not an eafy matter to afcertain thofe which are inferted in the map, and we doubted whether they are laid down exaet. From every appearance, we were ftrongly led to be itve the unknown river we met with in our tract from Lidford, in fearch of Cranmere pool, p. 1008 of your latt volume, was the Weft Okement; the valley and the gentleman's feat, which anfwers to the ficuat:on of Scobchetter, feem to make it pretty clear: however, if fo, the courfe of the river muft be more cervilinear than the map exprefies it, otherwile we mult have gained fight of it a fecond time. Returaing a little to the Eaft of Kerbean tin work, we croffed a brook, nut noticed in the map, called Ratele brook, which we judged to fall into the river Tavy riting Sunth of our outward track, as we have no rec llection of meeting with any fuch. Then proceeding fr m Tarituck on the Excter road, we found the houlc at Menivil brilge, koown thy the lame of the Dartmone inn, on the North-ra fide mateat of cha Soathern. The tiver Wolktom is not named is the map; and the read as feen in the map, banchimy off to the right a litle to the Eut of inemivil bridge, cuald not be foind

394 Continuation of Ramble on Dartmoor.-Sir Ed. Pellew. [Ma

found, or is fo inconfiderable that we did not notice it. Two-Bridges is in $\mathrm{fact}^{2}$ but one bridge of that name with two arches, the fireams meeting above the bridge, and not below it. North of the road, a little to the Weft of TwoBridges, is a neat houfe, called Beardon. A little to the Eatt of TwoBridges a great road turns oft towards Aftburton, which paftes by Dunnabridge pound, and thence to Newbridge. This rad is taken no notice of in the map. Crockern Forr, which any one whitid iuppote impofible to pais over, is neither fo confpicuous from the road. nor fo eafy to ise afcereained be eftrancer, as it leems to be by the map. Exactly in the fituation where we eapecied to find it a final torr simes his head, which we thated vupon to be too ircontiderable to be fixed on for the feat of a llanwary parliament; and we jutged the next corr, about a gluarer of a mite to the Nord of it, zo be the one we wrie in fearch of. On caquing we topnd it to be true. For farther latisfactron, we examined rwo or shree of the turs tariber to the Northwand. The 1 ift of tuch tharos sather N.rth of Wittman's wood, high and contpicuous, and molt be that called in the merp Lon le Torr (vulgo Lag. atece Tors) ; Lustacre are two oher torrs betweea this tait and Crockern Torr left out. Wiftman's wood appeas to be netare the river Last than 3t icems to be on the map. A litte w the Weti of Dunnaividge pousd, on the Afiburton 102d, is a gateway on the Soubl leading to a feat callad Prin. ce's hall, belonging to Mr. Juftice Bullex. Here, I am intworm (lince wrising the former part of this rambie), the table, ieats, exc. belunging to the Stenuary paliament at Cruckera Toar, are remored by the late poprietor, a Mr. Culict, ard fill remain. Eaft of Dunnabrive griunt there appests, to the South of the rowt, a new lione brigye, callad llaxwonthy bridge, and a pretty confaderable fam, caltealifuggiby. The Dat river, which we forded juft below Coombfune wek, we were told Wds the Vert Dat. The Eaft Dart iiver, falling into it tom the Northwad acan Bucklabl, is mon miterted in the map. The fitule hallocks in the man, whach we imagined were intended to denote bouad ftomes, reprefent, as we tound, piles of black wood which retembic them, and abound in that patt of the raver. From information, we underftand that the river Aune (whi empties iffelf into Bigbury bay) ril not far from Fox Torr ; and, indet it feems probal!? that its fource is $f f$ ther up than the map carries it, bei by the fame not above thrie miles abc Brent bridge, where the Gream feet too confiderable for fo fhort a cour At the head of this river there is a ve dangerous bog of fome bignefs, call Aune-head Mires, which can never croffed even on foo:. If any cat fray into it, they are irrecoverably lo Tradition fays, a man on horfeba unforturately funk in this bog for years fince, and have ntver been fir found.- il beg here to inform your ce refpondent Incompertus, p. 197, th during my Ramble on Dartmoor, $\mathbf{c}$ in the excurfions fince on the fal wild, I have never met with the fing yellow rofe growing fpontaneouf and fuppofe the plants feen by him Exmoor to derive their origin fro leeds carried thather by birds or boifto ous winds, from fome neighbourn parden, as I always underltood the $y$ low iofe to be an ahen. 1 beg farth to oblerve, she fpontancous or nat rofes of England amount to no me than Bx, namely, the Apple Ro White Dog-rofe, Red Dog-rofe, Scot Roic, Red Scotch Rote, and Swe brier.
J. Laskes

> (To be continued.)

Mr Urean,

 May 20.DID the parim of Erifield ascpt t very humane plan which, in 190 , is fide to have been recommenc to them?
P. p. $115,196,197$. Is it poffii to doppofe that, if Swellows really tired tholes and cavern, or plung into the mud, by way of palfing $t$ winter quistly, nameious as they in tummer, they would not be found every cavern, in every pond, in t winter? What Candide fays, hower in P .267 , deferves, and 1 hope 6 have, cxamination.
Y. 199. Misch is it to be wifh thit I. R. will favour the publick wi his ubtervations on Antoninus's Itin rarv.
P. 202. Great as is the profefiot merit of Sir Edur. Pel ew, the letter y have pionted fers hata in a dell fuper puins of view I It does the high honour to his head and his hrart; a: we are very much obliged to the corn fondent whe fent it to jous.

796.] King Edward I's Monument.-Henry Prince of Wales.

P. 203. Without having ever read ord Chefterfitd's Works, I have neer thought of the difperfion of the ews without confidering it as the moft onvincing and irrefaftible proof of the uthenticity of the Scriptures.
P. 207. W. and D. refers to the ong of Lillibulbero as being moft fasous in its day. I have often heard ; ; but have never feen it, nor do 1 now where to look for it. If you ould give it to us, I think others of our readere as well as mylelf would abliged to you.
P. 2io. Iittle of a Buranif, I iould be glad to be favoured with the ivial name of the Tbefium Linophy!$m$, and with an account of the cxiraedinary time of its appea:ing. Your rrefpondent fuppoíes others as well formed as he is himfelf.
P. 104. There is much truth in hat is faid b: Bedfordienlis on the inofure of open-field parihes. In their refent itate much more (and perhap; atter) wheat is grown there than will eaftre an metofuse. An-ther ferious ing f.or Sir John Sinclair's ferious confiaration in, what will become of the reed of heep, if his fcheme of univenal helofure takes place ?

> Yours, &:c. E. A.

Mr. Urean, Ceriz lef $_{e}$ Feb. r.
TING EDWARI'S monument, e:ected upon Brough Marh, near rough, or rather nearer Kirk-Anrews, in the countw of Camberland, Il down on Wednefdar, the arh of Iarch, 1795, after having Rood $1: 0$ ears. It wa erected by Henry How. d, duke of Norf ik, who was at that me lood of the barony of Brough. I clofe you a coneet copy of the inription, which I tonk myleft the lat$r$ end of the year 1794. There ate me lctiers wanting, and fome fuperuous; and, though I ufed the greate it iligence in taking it down, and foraing the mofs out of the ietters witina nife, I believe it differs from tome ready publithed *. It had molined luch to the Weftward for a long me, but was obferved to lean more te! y than ulual. The height of the ronument was about 25 feet. The ittle and ho:fes, by lying under it, ad worked the catth away near a foot wer than the lurface; and the water [^41]fetiling there in winter, I believe, contributed to bring it down.

On the Eafi fide*:
"Nobilifimus princeps Henric. Howard, dux Norfole. com. Mareichal. Ang'. com. Arendel. Surr. Norfolc. er Norwic. baro Howard, Mowhrey. Segrave, Brews de Gower, Fitfalan, Warron, Efcales, Clun, Ofwaldtree, Maltravere, Furnival, GrayRok, et How?rd de C.Aterifing, prano. ord. Garter mill. confab. ei guhermator iegal. caftri et honcr. de Windier, cufos foref. de Windfor, dom. locumten. Norfolc. Surr. Berkes, et civ. et com. civ. Nor.. wici, ab Edv. I. rege Angliz oriundus, P. A.D. 1685 t."

Without doubt, the prefent liberal lord-ieutemant of the county will think proper to re-kend this antient monument, rates to the memory of a king of forential fervice to his country in clecking the dangerous in. roads of the centis on our territories.

Yours, Sc J. W. Cumb.
Mr. Urban, May :. N Mr. Andrews's "Hitary of Chronology of Europe," vol. 1. part 11. [. $143,4^{\circ}$, is the following paffage: "It "insabour this time [14:2*)] that the Pance of Wales (afterwards King Henry V.), hearing that his royal father fuppected bim of meaning to diflurb the perce of the reaim, went to court, :o açut himfelf of this charge, in a kind of al egnrical habit, fo which it has puzzed Antiquares and Criticks to accoune. He was apparelled (lath Holinibed, fro $n$ an old chronicit) in a gexwe of clewe fattin fuil of oilet holss, at every hole the needla bangitg by a fike thred with which it w is fewed." Perhaps thas fingular drefs mey be accomnted tor by recollecting, that "Hen, y V. is fild to have becheche eted a: Quecris college, in Oxford; where the a:"+riments in whon he ibved (lys Mr. Barrington, Ubf on anc. Stat. p. 339 , 3 edit.) were cummon'y bistwn to the curi us ftranger, thl the o.d gattway was pulled down withon heie few years to make room for the new wing of building, which hath now compiored riee college." Tirrec views of thefe aparments were executed, in in: 7 , by

[^42]
396 Queen's College, Oxford.-Philodemus's MS. on Mufck. [Ma

Frmes Green, at the exnence of Edward Rowe Mores. efq. F.A S. Mr. Goaeb, indeed (Anect. of Bratifh Topography, vol. II. p. 151), favs, th t Edward the Black Prince was the roval cademician who inhab.ted thole aportmeris; but this J conceive 10 be erionious, as the prince was born $333^{\circ}$, and Quen's college was no: juunded will :340, and therefore prolrably nor mhabure! for fone years aftersests; and the cducation of prances is foon confed. Bu in that year i- was tounders be Rober: Egelesfueld, cnefiliort Queen Pbitpp. And we leã from Mi. Geanger (Brogr. Hif. of England. vol. I. p. 49, 2 . ed.) that, "un the :calf f the Circumcifon, the burfar of Queen's coilepe gives to every member of that hociety a needle and, tbreai, in remembrance of the frund :-; the words atguille $\hat{f l}$ compring a kind of rebus on his name" The purpofe, therefore, of this verv u ufual court-dre/s might be to den te inat the pince, fof fur from juirnd ne in difturh the peace of the reaim, hid ween peaceably purfuing his Audies at the place al otted for has cducation; as the fingularity of its appearance would certainly induce many a queltion as to its purport and fignifieation.

Your Maģazine has been occafionally adorned iw th curous fic-firmles of antent Miss There is now a MS. $m \cdot n y$ centu es older than any other yet $k n$ wn, and wninh has never boan laid betone the publick at latge. Only one copy is fand 1 . have yet reached this countiy, and that is in the libaty of Curit-chutch, Oxford. I mein the treate of Patiotemus on Mafick fro:n the lib.dy it Hacu'anewm, and which reaches to the tirlit century of the Chrihan ali. 1\% any of pour contelp nden:s it Oxind wo ld tavous yo * weth a pectmen of the manner of whtige ufid in that MS, it would be a etry agiteable piciont, I concerv, to a numerous cals of your readers.

Your ingenius correlpondent $M-s$ (vol. LXIV p. $7 \mathrm{~S}_{3}$ ) accules the of hav ing dierted in that volume, p 5:7, that Voltaire, in has Siecle de Loruis XIV. Gays, that M. Galant int duced feveral interpolations tano ins thanda$t$ in of the Arabian Nophis Eutculans [^43]ments. I have now before me the el tion of Neufcharel, 1783; where, tom. I. p. 127, I read, "Il traduit $u^{4}$ partie dos.... . mille et une nuits; $y$ mit beaucoup du fien*" Many your readers will be gratified by bei informed, that a tranflation of othe of thefe tales is now undertaken by genteman of great eminence in is diparment of Orienta literature.

The turm ear mark, enquired af by voar correipondent. p. 298, is forenfic metaphor, derived fro:n $t$ pratice of farmers who mark all th theep by a pecu iar flit in the ear.

Yours, Sic.
SCIOLU
Mr. Urban,
May 8

THE Ahbé Barthelemy and works having been lately fubje: of fome difqufrions in $\mathrm{y}_{\mathrm{t}}$ inrerefting pige, i was led tor per with fome attention, and with met pleafure, his Vovige of an chat The worthy Abte, in fpeaking of facred rites of B cchus. Seems uná to account for the exclamation fiot. quenty repeated during their religi proceffion, Evoe Saboe! Evoe Sibje The Orienta if will not be at a lofs a key to thes difficulty. It is peit more nor lef, than a corrupton Mis로 Tin', Jebova Sabaoth, often repeated and appropriate t of the true God, the Lord of Hot atd, if St. Paul had heard the wo uttered, he wou d adve find, as he on another ocction, "Ov $\dot{\alpha} \gamma$ yozavis $\varepsilon i i^{\prime}$ Acts xuil. 23.

As eaty is it to account for the $t$ of honour given to the Carthagir magifirates, if we revert to the not country foom which the inhabitant Carrhage emigrated, and conlider vamity of Tyre to Paleitine. I Punc Suffites we.t officers, the nat of whofe delegated unt coiretpon exuetly with that of the Jer miogitus There is not the finai difference in the word, but the val cunfequent on the Greek and Heb termination.

* In the edition of Edinburgh, $1 \cdot 9$ which I have alfo, and which is faid the atie-p ge, to be "funvant la Copi" Berlin," the words in Italicks ane omit ltwas probably one of thefe copies, at M——s had feen.
+ ${ }^{\prime}$ ar: , Hymenxe canun' ; pars clan $t$ Evoe! Evae!

Or. Fal

179.6.] Early Specimen of Poctic DiEtion.-T. Paine characterized. 397

One word more on the fubject of the laft-mentioned language.

B fhop Lowth obferves, in his fourth Pralcetion on Sacred Poetry, that the firft trace of poetic diction in the Mofaic writings is found in the fpeech of Lamech to his wives*. I think otherwife, Mr Urhan; I think it is to be difoovered in the welcome of Adam to his newly-created fooufe. It is in two regular tetrallichs:

ואת דתפעם עצם טעצמי ובשׂ לוֹאת יקרא אשה בי מואיש לקודח וֹאת: על בן יעזב איש את אביו ואת אקו ודבק באטישתו
Gen.ii. 23, 24.-: והיו לבשר אחד
Hxc c'emum os ex ofibus meis,
Hac caroe carne mea;
Mulier ipfa vo abrur,
Qumpe çux a viro errunda.
1ddirco vir derelinquet
Et jat em furm ct matrem,
Et fefe confortem dibit wixori,
Eruutque deinceps caro una.
Youss, Be.
G. Mr. Urean, May 9.

IAM no friend to illiberai controworly; and I think the polemical writer, who departs from kood manners, gives himleif two wounds for every one which he inflicts on his adverfary. But there may ar:fe particular cates in which a devacion from thele laws of polte and pentemanly combat may, perhaps, be difpenied with; at leafl, if ever fuch devratoon can be pirdonabie, it is in the antagonifts of that rude and lett-handed fencer, Thomas Paine. He has been affalled by the keen and delicate weapon of Mr. Buke; the 'pear of Ithuriel has been wielded by a learned and illuftrious Fielate, with complete fuccets, auaufit him; others, wath and whour high Dames, inclocti dociaque, have luccetlively entered the lits; every poffible means of defence has been retwhet to ay... aition terp-nt:

[^44]-cape faxa manu, cape robora, paftor.
One modern writer, whom I thall not name, as I think his work not worthy of the caufe he would defend, has endeavoured, and, as I think, with complete fuccefs, to emulate Mr. Paine's own Alyle in a note, of which he is the hero. Mr. Urban, it really is a goot thing, and deferves to be refcued from the galloping confumption which awats its text, and to be monortalized in your page. The writer is fpeaking of the French PhiIof whers, and their pernicious tenets; and thence ariles the very curious fobom Itum, and the ffll more currous fimile it contains, uninjured by moxed metapho: or $j$ ar of heterogeneous ideas. Your readers will, I ain fure, be pleafed what its infertion:
" Mr. Thomas Paine muft pardon me if I can find no rank for him in this litt. [ 1.6 of phitofophers]. With whatever arrs of felf-complacercy that g -ntleman may choofe to review his own productions, he can never rife higher, in my et:imation, than [to the title "f] a mere fcavenger of infidelity, who has, with a fufficient perverienefs of induftry, raked all the foul kemels for every miferable offal of feepticifm, te putrify in the ahominable comport of corroptoon, with which he has loaded the nocturnal car of his own vulgar blafphemy."

Mr. Paine never, I fear, reads Sermons; and from a jermon was this doughty paffage fele हled; but your lucubrations, Mr. Urban, as I am cre. dibly informed, find their way by a certain, although circuitu"us, path, to the department of the Seine. It Thomas underfiond Latu, I think he would apoftrophize his brother pugitit with the compliment, Nos duo turba Jumus l
R. H.

On the Prometheus Vinctus of 咸schylus. (Contwized from p.307.)$\sqrt{V} / \mathrm{E}$ have, in a preceding part of this Ellay, taken a view of the plan, the fructure, the incidents, and the concuution, of this tub ime and myftericus tragedy; a tragedy, remakable not only for its intrinfic beacties, and the dignity and tpirit of its comparition-not only for its exaet and maite: y portaiture of mannersnot only tor tis patheric appeals to the heart-but, above all thele, for its duppoied ailufions to the prophectes thin extant in Judrea, and probably

348 Remarks on the Prometheus Vinetus of 压chylus. [May, not conined to that region, of his future fufferings, concerning whom she following enuphatical wrords can slons be uttered with propriety:

$$
\text { v. } 234 \cdot
$$

If this hypothefis thould be deemed in fore degree fanciful, the candid and unprejudiced readitr, after perufing what follows, will at leaf allow that it is not withou: a flong degre of probability. And it would be a very important and interefting fubje $C \mathrm{C}$ of inveftigation (though, from its narure, involved in diep oblcurity), how this Athenian might poffibly have gained any infight into matters of fuch high moment; and how fubjects, at hiff fight fo diffimiar, can poffib'y have any relation to each other.

Prometheus, whom the poet deferibes as enducd with fuch a degree of power and wildom as to deferve the name of a god, beholds the human race under the mof deplorathe circumfances that can be imagined-he beholds them, deprived of all the enjorment of life, and fo much affected with che difmal profipet of death, ever prefent to their inagination, as to be seductd to a fitie of horror and de. pair. The benceotent friend to manhad, at his own pertonsthuzard, icWh :es to extricate them fiom tims tiate of woe. Hz fucceeds in the atemot, bus is bimelf expord tw pain and an. guifh in thels teath. Antatacention perod, his forrows ate lum uated, bee 2s rethured so has firernerghiry, and beeomes again partaker of the iplendour of Heaven. Who that reads till con think he is lating any other than a tacred thiltory?

Thuanus, un the fuhgen of wherfe onverat and piet: there is bot one up. aron, thought there wes to mach the: h conceaied under tiue fabie of Piotresheus, that he hameaf compofed a focred diama on the rubjeti; the exordium of which is maty be fufficence recte, as combected with our pucfent drquefitum:
Permita, veserus, fen noots, fen fophi,
 Quie l, wite ath upo velitais haulerant: U't seigud taceam, reiphe ad Iremethea!
That an dien previled anong the beathen, of time richtous atonemand to be made for fin (though, by the lapfe of time, and thie fuperinduction of fable on the groundwoik of truth, that idea was faint and confufed), is a circumfance to which no one, converfant in the writungs of artiquity, can be a ft:anger. Hear the Lyric Puet anxioully enquiring, Cui dabit partes feelos expiandi Jupiter ?

The manner of Prometheus's punifhment, and the attitude of the futferer, awakens many refexions in an attentive mind. His hands are firetched out; his feet faftened together; and, in this pofrion, he is nailed [aacoanevilixt, paxillis affy itur] to the rock, exacily as one prel ared to fuffer dearh upon the crofs. This fimilority may be decmed accidental. But, both Calaubonus and the famous champion for the truth of the Chrifitan religion agree in the bold affertion, that Plato, whol,wed not long after the line of Eichylus, did aclually, and not without the inflindt of D.vine Providence, forehew the fufferings of Chrif *. "A juft man," tays Plato, "thali fuffer many things; he thall betitated whih indignicy and torture; and, at laft, he fhill be put to a viotent death :" which death he defir bes by the word ¿थvaoxvivunebínolat; a very remarkable word, io which borh Eufebus and Hufychus give a fill nore remarkahle paraphrale; for, the render it, in ckeorm tolestur. It thefe oblervitions have a $y$ nember whatever wifi tefocit to Plaio, they cerrainly affind litang rollateral evidernct in favase ot our petens iappafinon.
th the midft of all ths iufferings, Promethcus adéretios the unhappy lo with a gene: us and difintercfted pity, which cansout fail of making a deep impurtion on the merd. "Weep not for :.t.," be hajs, "but weep tor yourSeli and jur your misiortunes." He enters the a long and affectug detail of thefe mistornues, and feems to forget his nwn milery in the contemplatuon of that which his fitend was to Suftain. Nu fooner does the daughter of hachus hear Piemetheus's name than the halls him as the Deliverer of the univer/al quorld-

* See Pi.nto de Reputaca, hib. H.; and Grotius in M.tth. c. X. v. $3^{8}$; fee alfo, Cadation. de Ciedinl. et Jncredulitate; and (as we proudy add) R:Mop Watfon's 1 pology, f. 20).
1796.] Remarkable Experiment on Swallows, by Mr. John Hunter. 399

v. 614.

She takes it for granted that he is not fuffering for himfelf, but for others.

Oceanus, on the very fame principle, while he compaffionates the forrows of the divine victim, urges, and even uiges in a frain of reproof, that the philanthropift had always been inattennve to himfelf; and that he had preferred the intereft and happinefs of mankind to his own:
 "H $\sigma \times 2$ U0'o. \%. 335 .
In the fequal of this paper, I frall enquire into the nature of thofe heavenly gifts which the beneficent Prometheus imparted to man.
(To be conciztied in our nexi.)
Mr. URBAn,
May $=0$.

ISHALL now endeavour to perform my promile of March to (fee p. 158), by repeating the particulars, which I heard the late Mr. John Hunter relate, of aa experiment he once made to afcertain whether Swallows thewed any difpofrion to flecp, or 10 retire inso water, or caverns, &c. as the time of their difappearance.

His narrative, whach 1 give from memory, was as follows:

One year, in the month of September, he prepared a ronm with every accummolation and convenience which he could contrive, to ic: ve as a dormtory for Swallows, if they were difpe fed to neep in winter. inte pared in the centre a large tub of water with twigs and reeds, gic. which rearbed to tive botum. In the corners of the soom he contrived ant fical caveras and holer, into which thon mighis retire; and ho luid whe the Gom, of fappended in the air, dflerent lenetis of old ivooden pipes, whels had toraserly buea emploved in coaveying water threqeh the titeses, Sic.

When the receptack wis rendered as compiete as pantible, he then engaged fine watemen to take by mghe a large quantry of the Sivallaws that hang upar the reeds in the I hames about the ine of their departure. They brought thm, in a hamper, a con-

[^45]fiderable number; and had fo nicely nicked the time of their capture, that on the very day following there were none to be feen.

He put the Swallows into the room fo prepared, where they continued to fly aboult, and occafionally perch on the twigs, &ic. But not one ever retired into the water, the caverns, holes, or wooden pices; or fheived the leaft difpofition to grow torpid, 8ac. In this fituation he let them remain till they all died but one. This, appearing to retain fome vigour, was fer at liberty; when it mounted out of fight, and flew atway. All the birds lay dead fcattered abe ut the room; but nor one was found alleep or tarpid, or had, if Irighty remember, fo muci as crepe into any of the receptacles he had fo provided.

Such, to the beft of my recollection, is the defcription I heard Mr. John Hunter give in the year 1792: and, if I have commitred any confiderable miftake or omifion, 1 hope fome of your ingenious correfpondents, who "ere inmmare with that eminent $\mathrm{H}_{3}-$ turalift, will take the trouble to correct the case, or fupply the other.
Yours, &̌. T.P.
 The Ediror has been informed, that fome curious obfervatons have been mate on Swallows by Mr. Peaton, who fue merly lived in Newport-fticer, near Letcefter Fiehls, but is now ratired to Hizhgate, or its neightwethood; and whofe lady (lhugher of Mr. Faterfon, Jibrarian t.) the Marquis of Lanf(own) is fo diftingaithed for her paintings on glats, &c.- vis. that Mr. Pearion has contrivet means of keepin? Swallows alive in cages through the winter, and even for feveral winters, bam atever dicovered them to become rorpid, or to take long neeps, as in the cafe widunuce, tort iles, scc. in fimilar fituathons. This genteman would confer a very great obli, ation on the world, if he would comauricate to the pablick the refuit of has experience and obfervations on thas curious tubject. E=1r.

Mr. Urvais, Creliton, May 12. T. An fory to ammatavert on the \& correfpundence of any of your fruents; but the opinions and evidences brouglit furwands by Candide, p. $26 \tau_{0}$ appears to border a litule on the marvellous. His opinion is clearly for torpidity and $m$ mimention of the Swallows; and, is appears to me, every obtervawon matc by lnm is in fuppert of that idea, not even one bibltary appearance was obferved, or mentioned, tending towards the proof of their migration; or, if fuch were feen by him, carefully avoided in h:s Journal. The attempt to account for the evidence of Sir John Norris is futile, and of no effect; the fact is bot denied; and the fuppofition of a blaft of an equinoctiai gale wafting them from land is equally abfurd. I make no doubt Candide wifhes to do away the very relpectable evidences alfo of the late Sir Char es Wager and 2 Mr . Wright, by ouse of thefe tornados, as mentioned by Pennant. He might as well knock up the whole fyfo tem of migration at once, and dery any thing of the kind in N rure, and fuppole the woodcocks, and other tribes of migratory anmals, that have been feen immenfe diftances from land, and that have been happy to have found a cafual refting-place on the rigging of paffing chips and vefters, to have been diven from land by an equinorial gale. Candide's invention is fertile, as appears by the farcafm endeavouted to be thrown on the prince of Naturalifts, Linnæus, in refpect to his fexual fitem of vegetables, in his mote p 268. The wblevation of Candectio faying, "if myriads depar', myriads thwuld amme," I conceive, was made rather raflily. Does nit Candide know, that the all-wife Citior has draced, in the formation of things, aconding to the ircitafe fo thall be the decitale? And he feems to think for: for, lobterse, in the latter part of his letter, he luppoles they perith according to the ratio of tea to one: then, by his own opini $n$, how can he expeet myriads to airive? But, that immenfe quantities do ablually amve, is evident from this plaufibleargument; fift, it is not denied on either lide that myriads depart. Whence come thele in riuds? Aretheirpowers of propagati.n to very manente ao to bring torth, and rear, fuch valt quantities, even allowing two broods a feafun, as to appear moumerabe at the ciote of fummer? I hay no; they do not polfe'sany fuch great powers; and, I bulieve, thall be fupp.rici by every candid ob. ierver. Theteque, from ihi, firnpe argument, bsameate numbers mult arwive as well as depari; tom, if mysoads depate and myriads aluse, the next emigration wit be myriads of myriads, and io on at nfinitum. The Journal of your coneipmencintappears to me, at firf viow, a cormplete clufer-deffed article (I afk his pardon if I have mif. taken it) ; at the fame time I beg t ftate $m y$ reafons for thinking it fo. Hr fays, the cottager, on Sunday, the 17 tb of April, gave him notice of Swallow: being foen on a lake of nine acres. He went and fav five; by half paft $120^{\circ}$. clock they had increafed to forty, a. mong:t which, he favs, he faw only two fruallows. Is this reconcileable Again; is it not ftrange that two men purpofely on the watch, fhould no have been able to obferve or difcover on the incteafe of five birds to forty whence they came? At laft, one poor bird was oblerved rifing from the ruthe wet, and perched himfelf on a black thorn to dry and drefs his feathers This bird he poficive! y affirms to comi from the lake, as it was impolfible fo him to decline from the atmofpher without his knowledge. Grant it t1 be fo; but whence came the other 39 Nomention is made of them; they di، not agree with the hypothefis of Can dide. Five birds increafing to 40 , ol a lake infignificant in itfelf, containin, only nine acres, muft certainly hav been vifible in every point of view and yet he could difcover but one in the aCt of emerfion. Had the other feen there actually emerged from th 1ake dfo, natural inftinct would mol certainty have carried them to fom thom-bufh, or other convenient place for the lame purpole of drying them felves, and dreffing their feathers. No thing of this kind appears. We al know the fondrefs of the feathere creation for this very ed of wafhin: sud plumng themfelves; and it frike me this bird was actually feen coming from wathing, and retired to the thor to plume hmfelf; or he might hav jut arrived from his long and tatiguing fight, and taken the fift opportunit for a lave. We, the lords of the cre ation, find nothing more refrefhing af ter a long journey than a wath or bathe. Then why fhould not Natur have implanted in thefe little anima! an inturtive infind for the fame pur pofe? We alfo know that rivers, lakes ponds, $\mathbb{S c}$. polfeis the very identica food ace: flay for the exifence of thi nibe. Is it, therefore, unnatural Hi rusdines thould be feen near thet fots for the latt time in the feafon c their departure, and the firf on thei arrival; the fame inflinet leading then to thele places for the purpofe of fill ing their craws on their depatture, an again, on their return, to fupply their half-famifhed bedies with fies and other aquatic infects? Is it poffible that Candide could keep in his eye 40 birds conliantly in motion at once, and fay one of thefe fhall not efcape obfervation, and dart into the lake for many purpofes befides the abwementioned, and not be ohierved to do fo by him? Their remaining the e till the 22 d is nodoubt but for the purpofe of food. On the sth he took a boat; a very natwal confequence; had I been there, I hould have embarked fooner, even as yefterday, on the appearance of the emerging bird, and cartfully examined the rufies and the bottom of the lake for mose. But this dies not appear to be Candide's purpofe; he took a boat to furvey the lake, inflead of inveftignting the bed of the rufhes, and fearching for this bird's companions; as certainly, if he had actually emereed from the botiom, there muft have been more, and muft have been difervered by him on the fearch. Sure y Candide's opucks muft be weak, that he could not furvey a lake, or mire, of nine acres without the help of a boat; and yet he tells us he is very quickfighred. is it ufual to ketp a bodt, either for pleafure or profir, on lakes, or mires, of this bignefs, in the countty where he tefides? For, "one or the other it mult Le; or how came this boat there fo opportune! The fervant fetms alfo an advocate for imnerfion. Prubibly he rea. foned as a good and failliful fervan: my mores's upinica halt be mine. He fav birds on a fix-ace takt; firth, about tive, which mated:d in 30. Bue how comes this increate? Su:e $y$, he does not protend to fay they diole trom the lake; yet his repors tends to that anoount; for, he afferts they were all wet, and he wite'v fent them from the cold Noris fide into the fun on the oppofite, to dry and drefs memfelves. I hould have fuppolet the bencficent warmeh of the fun on the funny fides of the lake wou!d lidve aroufed from their torpid ftate fuch burds as 1y within its rays; bu: not one appeared; they uniformily, one and al, arofe from the frigid Nonth fide. The hont ft farmer's ofinion of ti.e two is to we the moff plaufible. This man, whom we muft naturally fuppofe to have enjoyed at leaft 20 years of obfervation, never faw the Swallows immerge in the lake, Gent Mag. May, 1796.

1796.] Remarks on the fuppofed limmer fion of Swallows.

or arife therefiom; nor does it appear he had the leaft idea of the fame. Candide happens to be a favourite of Fortune; the wifhed for proofs to itlultrate an opinion broached by an old credulous author, who, at one and the fame time, filled the waters with birds, and the air with mice. But, to return. The fi.ft attempt of your correfpondent was crowned with fuccefs; and he enjoyed the fuperlative pleafure of obferving, as a cafual obferver, what had never been feen by a refident on the fpot during the whole courfe of his iffe. What motive could induce the fervant, when a boy, to take down the nefts of the houfe-martins, particularly at a feafon when every one muft fuppofe neithet eggs or the birds whemfelves could be expected in them, or be the obje Ct ? Neither can I give credit to the fory of 200 fivallows rining from the ruhes in a ditch by moonlight, and fitting on the ruffes in the lake. Since, by this, they muft have a bed of ruhnes, why not have remained in the ditch, as well as fiew $=00$ yards Garther for exadity the fane ficuation? Dut the inference, I fuppofe from the account, is their remova، for immerging in the lake. Will Candide's fervant undertake pofinively to fay, fuppofing the fact of birds pafing from one place to the other, that the w were aहीually and bora fide Swallows? To me tr appears very doubiful. Objects are nut fo ditinetiv tren by the lixht of the mocn, fuppofing $1 t$ to hine with che greacit tifugence postible.

Having proceeded thus fir, Mr. Uiban, is is but foit to that my obter vations on the re-appearance if the Swallons, thetby glving Candide an opportuncy to animadvere in return; and, 1 alluice him, 1 fhall not be dif pleakel, as I hope he wil not. I and cleatly of opiniot, at pefent, they migrate; but, frould any oblervations henceforth be made, suding to prove in a dited and pofitive manner, or in any wife conclufive, I flall readly, on fuch proot, abandon my idea of ringration, and embrace that of immerfion; till then, I ath aftaid I finall remana obftinate in frise of all oblervations sic: fairly flated. Fuft, 1 mutt beg leave to thank your coritfpondent T. P. p. 197, for the p :lite manno in which he has notied my obfervations on thas fubject; alfo, for his kied cornnumisablun pir Edicor, which was duly received, and every artention paid to the Swallow-tribe on their re-appearance that lay in mv power. The firf Hirundine feen by methis feafon was on the 14 h day of April. It wat a Swallow on the wing at a great height ; the time rear fix o'clock in the evening; atmofphere ferene; wind S. W. Accidentally having a frall relefcope in my hand, I caught the object within its forus, and found is appearance tired, frcquembly flupping his wings in rapid fuccefion, and feemingly ufing great exervoss to fuppor: himfelf in the air. I thouk nut have obfe:ved this bird, had not a gentlem in then with tae remarked him for the firf he had foen for the fealon, and his appa. rent weaknefs. H pofiefled the tring exterior feathers of the tall petifed.

18th. Till this day have not been fortanate enough to ger fight of a fingle Swallow, athough the amufement of fifling daily carred me moto their haunts. Saw two in a meadow very baly fkimaing the furface of the grafly plain. They did not appear with that vivacity on the wing as we generally fee them farther on in the featon, fly. ing dull and heavy.

22d. In the morning faw about 20 wantoning the arr over a river and adjoining meadows. Nothing particular in their appeatance except boing very active.

24th. Saw fome hundreds near the fame foot and the adjoining fields and meadows. Obfervcd them for fome time; found them uniformly 10 poffefs the long exterior tail-feathers. From this day to the prefent have feen them in great numbers. Have obferved nothing paticular in their appearance.

I will now beg leave to relate hearfay obfervations. The firft, from a worthy clergyman in my neighbourhood. He informed me he was much furprized at feeing a Swallow hovering around his church about the $24^{\text {th }}$ of March. It was owing to its early ap. pearance that made him notice it. Two Swallows feen by a genrleman, in the courfe of his fifhing amufement, in my neighbourhood, on the $4^{\text {th }}$ of Aprul. The fame day, a number of Houfe-mariiss, and two Swallows, were feen at Ddwlifh, a imall fea-port in this county. On the roih, a Sival. low feen in the markes in ay neigh. bourhood.

In the courfe of my fummer pereginations on the a-confi 1 picked un, about two years fince, the entire fkeleton of a woodcock, perfectly bleach. ed by the rays of the fun. This bird I fuppofed, had dropped in the fea, ir the courfe of his migratory flight, anc by the waves dififted on fhore. At thi fame time, I do not wifh to deny but it might have been fhot near the coaft and $f \in l l$ in the fea. I, however, exa. mined the remains, but found no ap. pearance of wounds on the bones. Ir the Scilly intads, the woodcocks, or their arrival, a'e found in fo weak a flate as to be taken by the hand in the fireets. The fame laffitude prevaih when they reach the conft towards the Land's End. I have often been in. formed by gentemen of veracity, that the woodcock has been feen by them at an immenfe diftance from land, anc have been taken by the feamen as they refted on the rigging of the thips.

Youss, &ic.
J. Laskiy.

Mr. Urban,
Mavil.
THVING feen, in your Magazine for lafl month, fome oblervations concerning the late application to Parframent for regulating the practice of Pharmacy, I trult you will, in juftict to at who ate concerned, infert the following remalks, in order to corred fome nifreprefentations therein con. tined. K was not fated in the petinon to Psiliament, that the Army and Navy luffered for want of genuine medicints, but for want of perfons propesly qualified to adminifer them. This is an undoubted $f$ ect ; and is not difficult to be accounted for, when it is known, that many men, who bave been only Porters to Apothecaries or Duggits, have been, and Ail are, employed in that firuation, fi'ft as Surgeons Mates, and afrerwards as Surgeons; and it is alfo kaown, that the Surgeons of the Army and Navy act in the double capactiy of Surgeon and Apothecary.

This Metropolis, and all parts of the kingdom, abound with practitioners of the fame defcription; who fettle, either as Apothecaries, in which cafe they vifit patients as well as vend and compound medicines, or as Drug. gitls or Chemitis, in which cafe they confine their butinefs to their thops; and it is well known, and confeffed by the members of the A pothecaries Company, that the publick are muct injured and inipoled on by the fraud and ignorance of the aforefaid pretend.

1796.] Charter of Apotbicaries Company.-Prayer at Bp.Stortford.  403

ers. Some members of the Aprathecaries' Company belonged to the Pharmaceurical Affociation; a tidelts members took only as exprelfive of the purpofe which they meant, by legal means, to purfue, namety, a reform of the abules of Pharmacy. They did not arrogate to themfelves, as a body, any peculiar privileges; but conceived they had the fame right to anytitle, not appropriated to another body of men, as the Medic:l or the Philanthropic Society. They do not quefion the utility of that Company ; but regret that its power is to limited. Thar Company, in fact, is not fanctioned by the Legiflature: it refts onlv on a royal Charter, and that of modern date.

That Suciety appled to Pallament, fome years ago, for a fanction of their Charter; but, from the oppofition of the Colege of Plyficians, they could not fucceed. Wert that Chareer fanctioned, the jurildiation of the Company would wot extend but heveir nitien beyond the Metropuls. Titev- Hiwe no autherty to v fit the thops of Apothecaries: that is graniod by law w the College of Playficians; who are direded to take with them cotain members of the Aprithecaries' Compzny. The Company being fof far rocognized by act of Parliment, it may appear ftravge, that they are urt veited with a power of regulating the plofeffion; bur I flace the faer as it is. If they have any, it is only over thate who have voluntatily beconive membeas, and, [ appithend, relates to thumelves only as a trading company.

Your correfpenden feens but an indifferent logician, when he tadeavours to prove, that the abufes in the pradtice of Pharmacy do nor call for a reform, becaufe the Apothecaries' Company have paffed fome good refolutions relative to the members of the ir own foctety, white they have no power to provent the fisetper of any fhop from practifing as an Aprotiecary in eny pars of the kingdom, tven in the City of London, providid he thinks proper t be come a nember of the Cordwainers' or any other Company.

Were the Charter of the Apothecaries' Company connimed by a&t of Parliament, in the fame manner as thofe of the College of Phy ficions and the Coiporation of Surgeons, 1 am perfuaded, it would be of great advantage to the Metropolis and its neighbourhood; but why all the fubjects of the Britith dominions, beyond feven miles, fhould lie at the mercy of guacks and impofterc, I am at a lofs ta conjegure. The prefent unfklful and fraduient practice threatens, indeed, to bring them all within the Bills of Mortahiy.
J. R.

Mr. Urban,

May 16.

XI AVING tately feen the agreeable communications of forne of your cmefpondents in relation to Bifhop Stortonds fchoo', I am induced to find you the following copy of the prayer that was conftantly ufed the:e every morning, as a mite towards preferving the memory of that venerable influtuion; of which I hope to fee fome further a tices from fuch is may polfefs them. Ambulator.

Prpces Matutina.

Moft gracious and moft glorious Lord Gont, we thy humble fervants do here proltrate ourfulves before thee this morning, in the deepeft feufe of all thy mercies confened upon a , efpecially for the protection of our weal et! firits from the dangras of thas night ; for relrelhing us with fweet fleep; and for reftoring us to our accultomed itudes this morning. With hands and hemts lift up to thee, we do here, with the greatett gratitude to fo indubent a father an I fo mercifil a prefervar , befeech the conmance of thefe thy blufings; Arengthen our memories, incie:te our ibhities, prompt cur diligence, enconage our pe:formonces; that fo the portion of time, thou muft mercifully beitewett upon uc, miny be ipent to thy glory and our comfort. Abrove all, beautify thoie foculties whin thou sath implanted in our natures with a proportion of that wifdom which will make us wife unto falvation; in all our actions mipure onr minds with the highert feufe of devotion to thee our gre cieator, and contimal preferver; of beve and gratitude to our moft merciful and compahionate Redeemer, of reverence and t.fpect to all in public authority; of Juty to our parents; of lumiluty as well to our interic as as cqual. Let Chrultimity Aburah as well in prastice as profefion. Blefs thefe natoons whare we live with peace and plenty; the liong and all the rogal family in all affurs as well fpuitual as temporal, our fruen's, relations, and bentactur:, with all thole bleffings whach will moft pronote their eternal happonefs. Forgive our enemies : pardon our fins; increate our faith; and render onr wills conformate to the ductrine of our bleffed Lord; that, as we glonfy him in the life, his prevalling merns may ontain evernafting gion y for us hereafter; who has taisht us, when we pray, to fay; "Qui Father," &c.
110. Conjectures, with frort Comntents and Illufivations of various Paffages in the New Teftament, particularly in the Gofpel of St. Matthew. To wubich is addat, a Specimen of Nites on the Old Tiflament. By Stephen Wefton, B.D. F.R.S. S.A.

A
FTER a lounce in the pronaos, and reading the fais pede in uno ciecication, we en er the temple of cri-ticifm-may we be allowed to call it the Demetian frime, without bringing on our flow der : contrivetf like what we remember to have feen in EIU. Urban's pages?-The firt thing that ftrikes us here is the critique on the word Evayy hiov; $^{\text {a }}$ a word for which the Jews are faid to liave no paral'el; oefor and bejora is fimply a meffage and meflenger, good, bad, or iadiltuent; equivalent, it fhould feem, to a $\quad$ gene, or ayyentov: but does not Mr . Wefton forget that the neffenger, not the meffage, of fad tidings is mentioned a Sam. iv. 17.?

Mr. W. aims to prore that the gofpel of St. Matchew was originally written in Hebrew.

Matthew, iii. 16. St. Luke, iii. 22, is more eaplicit; $\sigma$ wreaibx fosep $\alpha y$, exptefling the form and not the mazter.
iv. 1. The fpirit of the Lerd, nema $\alpha$ E, taugbi away Philip, Acts viii. 39.
vi. 30. The palfage in the Pialms, "feel the thorns," mesns, "feel the beat of them." Mr. Wetton's explanation is, however, fupported by the Tor paperor was Z $\Omega$ NTAE woa Ev oprn xxiaztslat vpas. Our tianfation rin. ders \}avias a thing that is new, which thould be applied to the greemefs of the living thorns, and not to the fubjeEs of the wrath or indignation of God.
ix. 17. There is nothing proverbial in "now wine into new bottes."
x. 8. The reaton allizned for fuppoling "r raifing the dead" an inter polation is, that it was improbahle that a commiffion fhould be given to the difciples to do what their mafter had not yet done. It mav, however, ke obferved that, in the Old Tetament, the prophet Elifha raifed a young man from the dead; the lame propher fed a hundred young men with a quantity of bread apparently infufficient for them; and in buth inlances he was an humble type of Chiff. By a like pripilege his dead body re animated a dead corpfe laid in his grave, 2 Kings xiii. 21.
xi. 25. We wonder Mr. Weftot did not fee that " anfwered and faid" is not coniray to the Greek idiom See Homer paffim.
 Z Ev \% & & c .
xiv. 3. What neceffity is there fo anv parenthefis at all: Her...afksi John was rifen from the dead; for $h$ lad par hins death, and his difciple had buried him, and went and tol Jefus what had happened, who there up on withdrew hinatelf, not in m h t a place of fafecy as of obfcuit: for th prefent; which is equally bl whether Jefus lacard Herod's onso of bem, or his treatment of $J$ hr Ace rding to Viark, vi. $3^{\text {d. . the apol }}$ tles brouglit the news to $\}$ fse, and $h$ departed to avoid the cuncurafe of peo ple.
xr. 14. Nevied no illuftration.
26. The bread interded to children and that on which the hanis wer wiped, hould not be confounded.
xvi. 3. John x. 22, Mathew xvii 10, very happilly illunrated.
xxv. 26. How will an interrogatio alter the fenfe?
xxvi. 66. Eynz ${ }^{6}$ ©avais cannot b guilty unto death, which is certainl not an Anulicifin, any more than Grecifin. Our tranflation comes frict ly up to the original.

We ar totally at a lofs to conceir how Judas could give bramfelf the bow Aring, or tirangle himfelt, withot hanging: hut we can perfectly con ceive that, alter tying himfelf up, b fome accident he might fall down fror fuch a height as would occafion him t burft by the violence of the flock.

Ma:k, iii. 21. E $\xi_{5} 5 n$ is literally on of his mind or fenfes: $\varepsilon \xi_{5}$ 朔 is de rived from $\varepsilon \xi$ and $\xi$ \&rus. Hedericus.
xiv. ro. Lardner (p. 24, ed. 1741 fass he can produce no inftance paral 1 lo to Herodias's daughter's publi dancing; but we do not find that h withed to fiad an infiance of the fum mary execution of a man for the gra tification of a favounte at a public en terlainment.

EmiBAAwy for $\varepsilon \pi \cdot \Lambda A B \omega v$, Mari xiv. $72^{2}$, is one of thole emendation which, whenever ftumbitd upon, ftrik from the cbvious propricty and illul tration from a parallel mode of exprel fion Lukexx, 20, 26. By an error c the prefs, this very correction is made neceffary John i. 5, P. 42.

Luke ii. 7 What is the authority for the open air? 'The Magi in Matt. ii. 11, found the babe in a boufe, 0ixix.
iii. 11. The note here appears quite irrelative.
vi. 3 . The note here is more critical than interefling; for לeigas is not the word here ufed.
ix. 62, need bo comment.
xi. 44. The patfage from Plutarch is not exactly paralle!. חofe, in the gofpel, cxpreffes time; in Plut. $\mu \mathrm{f} 5 \mathrm{\theta} \boldsymbol{0}$. beight or magnitude.
xviil. 3 S, wanted no illufration.
Acts i. 25. We cannot help thinking that bis own place. or his proper place, means fomething more than his grave.

Among the new and ingenious illuftrations may be reckoned Luke xvi. 3, 24 ; xix. 40 : xxii. 44; John :v. 22 ; xï. 7 ; Acts ii. 2. Epli. ir. 29.
xiv. 15. Accord:ng to Mr. Weftun's idea, we fhould render opoioncouths commortales.

1 Cor. xi. 10. When we have the fenfe of the palfage? The woman ought, of ber own accord, to have-what-on her head?
xv. 32. The quotation feems not to anfwer the purpufe for which it was brought.

Gal. vi. 11. St. Chad's gofpel at Lichfield, and fome other uncial MSS. of the New Teftument in the Cottonian and other libtaries, will illuf-

2. Tim.i. 2. My wagann n is fimply my depofit.
iv. I2. "The cloak I left at Troas," not worth comparing with Plautus' "De palla memento amabo."

Hebrews xi. 35. Mr. Wefton has difcovered that $\tau \cup \mu \pi \alpha \nu \xi_{\text {ety }}$ was the old term for guillotining.

1 Peter iii. 14. Qibay $^{2}$ is the terrors which they hold out; Qobnsn? does not govern a genitive, but an accufative; confequently it flould have been $a v^{\prime \prime} s$; inftead of aulav. In Matt. ii. 10, $\chi \times p$ ay has not any word joined with it, as Quboy has here.

Though we have offered thefe temarks, we conlider thefe "Conjectures" as not deficient in merit; a table of errata, however, fhall be here fubjoinsd , which the author has omited.
P. 2, 1. 15, r. neverthelefs. 4, 19, r. ecce. 7, 17, r. 1 Sam. xiv. 27; 1. 39, r. 18. 19, l. ul:. r. compate Matt. x. 1, Mark vi. 7, xxvi. 3, Zecharial: xx. 9, 12, the colt only was uifd. 27, 10, r. differtation. 35,18 , r. Choneph. 36, 14-15, the paffage from Apollonius Rhodius hould have $\mathrm{b}=\mathrm{en}$ divided into lines. 37, 10, r. xiir. 16. $3^{8,2, r}$. looked up; penult. Prov. xii. 18. 40, 16, r. ENEP $\Omega$ N Al $\triangle \Omega N E \Omega \mathrm{C}$, as two words. 52, penult. and antepenuls. r. Satur $\&$ augilo 53.13, AAts vi. 3. 61, ult. $\gamma_{5} \alpha \boldsymbol{\mu} \alpha$ тео570, panul. 2 Chron. xii. 35 , is a wrong citation, where not being ha f fo many veries in that chapter. 72,11 , it is. 76, 9-10, r. wefitus and vefis, the king, \&c.
 in Ȧdibus Academicis excudeb, it Andreas Foulis, Academie Typograpbus.

THIS is among the inexplicabilia of modien editing. That it can be explained how fuch a handfome and wellprinted bork fliould be fent into the worid withut the name of any editor in the tite, without a line of preface, wihhout a fingle note, without ficholia, and withoui the fragments, all which wepe, if we are nut mifinformed, originaly wromited, we doubt not; but this contilence does not Itfien our regite for thele deficiencies. The learned world liave for many years been in expebation of an edition of this tragediar, irom the Glafgow puefs, from a copy corrected by Mr. Porfon. That the Profeffor was engaged in luch revilion w'as underfood from the time Di. Afkew's MSS were purchafed by the univerfi: $f$ Cambridge; but why a profuffor of an Englifi univerity chould work for the benefit of a Scotch one, or why the Glafgow prefs fhould have a preference to the Cambridge, is not eafy to fay. Still more unaccountab'e is it to us that fuch an incomplete cdition, wanting every thing but new readings, thould appear in fuch a fize that it can neither fuit the pockers nor the capacitits of young fludents. It has, however, undergone as ample an examination in the Monthly Review for February as the limits of fuch a work admitted. To this we muft refer our readers, and onily add that Mr. Porfon is at prefent engaged in preparing, for the Cambridge prets, an edition of the Greek Lexicon of Photius, from the MSS, hitherto inedited, in Trinity colleg:
collesye libravy; if this work does rot receive interruption from the lofs of the greatelt part of the teancript in a late bire at the Picfeffor's lodging houfe.
112. A Narrative of the Revolt and Infurvertion of the French Inbubitants in the Ifland of Grenada.
THIS revolt, brought ahout by the inftumentality of the free feople of cobour, an intermediate race, or mexed bueed, between the whites and the blacks, in the hords of the French republican commithoners in the inand, is a ftriking proof of the mifiry initparable from liferte unimproved by eivilization. The Pritifn commander in chief, heutenant-governor Honre, haling to the capital, was made prifoncr, and afterward, put to death, in dufance of what was the French commifiuners intention, who demanded the pritoners too late.
113. Fiurfluifion and Practice of the Count of Greazt ecffons of Whates, on the Cluther Eircuit; quitb a Prafuecand Index.
IN a fenfible and well-uritten preface, the author sives an account of the different b oks which treat on the particular pradice of ench Welth circuit, and prefonts his readers with the following ftatement of the materials of which this publication is compofid: * For the Cliefter circuit n.) womk las ever been publitheri; except to much of the Practica Wallaz as applus to the counties of Montgomery, Den. bigh, and Flint ; and except allo 2 ch lection of "Rules of the Court of Seifions of the County Pahatine of Chef. ter, Svo, Chetter, 1783 :" and rether of thefe contains a regular or entire collection even of the General Ru'es andi Orders for the juifdiction to whech they belong."

Mr. Abbo: (for we underftand that he is the author) enters canfider:bly into the quettion whether it be better to preferve or abolifh the general jurifiitition of the court of great feffions? and feems to favour its abo ition.

The work appears to be compofed with care and diligence, and will be found ulfeful by thole who are engaged on the Cheftsr circuit.
114. The Litues of the firf Tquclue Ciefars, thanflatel from the Latin of C. Suetonius Trangullus, with Annotations, and a Rewiess of the Govermmout aud Literature of the different Perials. By Alcxander thomfon, M.D.

SUETONIUS havingalrerey appeared more than once in an Englifo dreis, we do no: fee the immodiate neacflity fir a now tranflation, excepr to corredt the author's grofierete, to illuftrate him wirh notes, which, however, are but chinly fpread, àd a general review of the flate of gavernment and litera. ture under each emperor, with obferzations on their characlers.
115. Firfl Riport from the Select Committece of the Houfe of Commons appointed to take into Confilteration the Micans of promiting the Gultituation and Impronement of the wafte, minizdeff, ond untroductive, Lands of the Kinglism. Ordered to be pinted Dec. 23 , 1;95.
As the hef comment on this report, and, at the fame time, as a fubjert of difcution, we give the words of the Analytical Reviewer: on this article:
"The wifh to facilitate enclofures without having recomfe to the expence, delay, and trouble, neceffary for procuring an ast of parhament, is bighly meri orious. We tuta, homever, that," in effectiog this objcit, the rights of the foor cottagers will not be altones to be fwallowed up in the clams of their more opulent neighbours, but that fpecific provifions will be made in their faveur. If an increafed population be the object ponied at, a difcouragement of the monopoly of frall faims wound be one of the molt effectual means of efleeting it ; if it be an increafed produce, an extinctom or modifation of tithe can alone promote this in the degree to be willed for. Without thefe Ereat and efficient purpofes in view, the weath of the nation masy the expended in bounties, and an artificial, but temporary, fyetem of melioration enfue; but they are alone capwble of problucmg a permanent benefir, and provelting an emigration to countries, unbuthened with oppreffive ecclefiantical mopofs, and uncuricd with monop whes of auy kind."
116. On the Neccfity of alopting frome Meafunes to celluce the fuifent number of Dogs; with a Rout Alecuant of the Hyalropbobia, ant the moft approwed Ronc.lics agann/t it : a Lette, to Francis Annelley, MI. P. for the Boruggh of Reading, and one of the Truftees of the Britim Nufeum. By the Riv. Edward Bary, M. D.
THE cefign of this letter is to recommend a tax upon dogs. Dr. Barry conjedures that the number of dogs in this country is equal to the number of houles; and hence computes, that the maintenance of dogs, at fix-pence a whek each, amounts yearly to the enormous fun of two millions. A tas of 5 s. a year on each dog, he fuppofes, would produce an annual revenue of 400,0001 . Befides this, he pleads that the reduction of the number of dogs, which fucis a tax would occafion, would be advantagenus to the ponr; would contribute to the fafety of the publick, particularle by rendering the hydrophobia lefs frequent; and would promote the health and comfort of the animal. The annexed account of the hycirophoba flates the opivions of feveral eminent phyficians on this dreadful difeafe, and adds a recipe for its cure, and a precaution adaint it, ordered by tiee French conseation to he inferted in the builtin, December 9 , 1794.

1796.]

This pamphict is fuperfeded by the impolition uf a tax on the canine bace under certain refristions. We bave often bululd a whole neighbourhood in a tlate of alarin and uproar at the cry of a mad doe; and fymurhize werh the animals me faithful to man in the too-weil founded hazard of a goc neral malfacre.
in, The C mbridse Criverfity Catomar for the 1 car 170 ; containing a Lif? of the prefent Wimbers: the Living, in the (iff of each Cralleze, with thiir Incom'eria: fome ufeful Pasticuhars concerning Fellowifips, Scba'arkits, &cc. Profefori, Oficers, Pizemen, Éc. (To be continked unpually)
EVERY effablifmment in Great Bri~ tain or her dependencies has is calender; not excepling Newpate ard Newm.n'ket: ane wonders then that the univerfer of Cmbludge bas to lately found the expediency of ifth a nomenclator, and that the figer-uaiverfity thil is wiboot it. We nienn not to derngite from its uefalseli, when we , gree with the edtor that it is capable of improveraent.
118. Sketch of Domrcracy. By Rubert Biffet, LL.D.
THE operation and eff Ets of domocracy are here well traced throuph the hiftory of Gieect, Rome, and E, igiand; and the falie fta:ement of happonits under that form of government confuted by facts. In the introximion, experience and hypothefis are compared, and the latter fhewn to be mott dangerous c ncerning fubjects whith intereft the paltions. In the firf chapter, the principle of democratic writers, that the general will ought to be the rule of government, is flated and difcuffed; and the opimon of modera democrats concerning the qualification of govemors confiderd. The remaining 14 chapters are a detail of hiftorical facts, fhewing that dunocracy termina'es in firg'e derpotifin. The conclufion refpecting the Britifh government is, that "our connitution. for a century afcertained and corfinmed, is, of all poltical frfems recorded in hifory, befl filted for the attainmen: and prefervation of national happinets. Our parliament has an identety of interef whe us; our king has an identay of iotref with the fiveral ordeas conl and ecolefiatical, and with th: people a: large. The friends and enenies of the people, the eftablifiment, and the forereign, are the fame. Evety truc patriot is a lover of the confluwtion and of the king. The more a man is con: cifant with the hifory of mankind, and their comparative fate in different fituarions, the more clealy wit he fie that nune, in the various conthtuens of bappinefs, equal, or $1-$ ver rquaied, the pujects of the Erutfer goverzmert' (p. 349-352).
119. A' © moirs for the Hopry of the Wrar of L. Vewee, in whiclis the primipal Murents. If that War are accuratdy relatich, from ire Oripin to the 13 th Floweal, of the fuons 2cal of the Erench Repuh! ic. Tiunhlute: fiom the Er ach of L wis Mrie Turre.at: Commurdir in Chicf of the Wriken Aimy.
Tre cat of La Vondée was cher -a? with the ruvolution. This politact? whlano, ${ }^{1}$ its funden and terrible ezplotion, has thates more or lefs, ia Fecporion to their diftance, al! the Welern devaranents; and the plan of the chiels would have been mone fulle eyecuted if there had been moes unifon and regulasity in their monement. Th: Chwans were three berether", who h arted troups of 1 m: $\%-$ pler: and their followars foon became nore numerou, and, under lef. or-of countr, forming a iquare, of whin Nantes, A. ge:s, Mapcate, and Rennes, Were the ame'es.
"The Yenteans are axtrandinny meno whote pultical exitence, rapd wi extraordinay fucceflec, and, ahove all, ther unherat-of ferocity, will form an eanch in the republican $x$ ta ; "f thefe Vendeanion who watut only humanity and amother culfe, to fupport, to unite, every harme quality. A mode of fighting hitherto unknown, and perfectly inimitatle if it tee seally practicable in that country alone, and peculiar to the genius of the inhabitants; an inviolable attachment to their party ; an unlimited confidence in their chiefs; fuch fidelity in their promifes as may fupply the want of difcipline: an invincible courage, which is proof againft every kind of danger, fatigue, and want; thefe make the Vendeans formidable enemies, and ought to place them in hifory in the firft rank of military people. Finally the Vendeans are Frencbmen, animated with the double fanation of religion and royalty, which have for a long time fixed viciory on their fide, and could not have heen conquered but by Frenchmen only" (p. 23, 24).

The difficulty of carrying on war in a country interfected with little hills, valleys, ravines, rivulets, &c. fmall inclofures, and fieldis furrounded with ditches, and fiong hedges and trees rin their banke, and covered with brumwood, thornc, broom, Sc. is inconceivable, and renders it impofible to carry artillery or baggage. Regular troops are not a match for the ferocious and intrepid mark!men of Le Bocage and La Knroux; and there cannot be a war more crutl and fatiguing for military men of every rank, or more bloody, than this. The general officers found themfelves in the towns adjacent to the theatie of war in the midift of the accomplices of rebellion. The Vendean yenerals derived a double adivantage from their correfpondence with the adjacent towns, which facilitated their military requifitions, and prepared conquelts for them ly opinion: the appearance of royalty and the catholic religion ceafed not to corrupt the public inind, and fan the flame of fanaticirm.

The filf fiep neceffary th have teen taken to terminate this horrid war, was to eflablifh a new line of demarcation between the country in rebellion, and thole where example, fear, and conlonancy of opinion, and piejudice, might caufe the itvolt to fpread, and increale, by an inevitable junction, the main body of La Vendée; not only to feparate the rebels from their accomplices who remained in the country by means of neutrality, but, by military operations, cut off all commurication between them and their parizans, difperfed throughout the neighbouring cantons of La Vendée The unccrtain and sifaid courfe puriued by fubordinate perfons wa3 partly the effeet ant the nectifary confequence of the half mealures to i.ng practifed in order ti fiffie the war, and to which we ma! principally atrribute the amazing fuc cefs of the rebels.

In the fecond part, M. Turreat t. .kes a curfory view of the differen periods of the war, relates the princi dal events of it, and exhibits the lead inge caufes of the profperity and declin of the rogal party in this part of the re pullic.

The white flag was hoitted in $\mathbf{L}$ Vendé: March 10, 1793, and th revolt became genera!. W aknefs ant corruption became the principal agent of the rovalifts, who meeting with $n$ refifiance, in two manths overran large rrakt, and polfeffed themfelves o feveral towns, with arms and militar: flores. They formed leveral corps 0 ten or tweive thoufind men each, at tacked different points at the fam time, and al:ways with fuccefs. A crowd of priefts, nobles, malcontent of every defription, fron unired toge ther in the pincipal of the conquere citie:. Deferters, both French and fo reignere, antient cuflom-houfe officer: gamc-ktepers, fmugglers, fervant prompted by their mafters, or whor their emigration had left without em plov, in a word, esumter-revolutionift of ail claffe, flocked from all parts e the republic into La Vendée, and pro digioufly increafed the royal party, : which its firft fuccefs had given a dan gerous conffitency, which was oppo fed by troops taited in hafte, and com manders acting withour plan. Th royalifis formed a fovereign counci enaling acts in the name of Lou: XVIII. and refloring the old laws and an aflignat could nor have cur rency unltis invefted with the figna ture of leveral members of the counci They fuppoled that moft of the pro rinces wert in open revolt againft th National Convention and republica government. The circumfances whic tock plate on the fubjuct of fertcralifin and the divifions in the French fenat at this epech, had flaken the publi confidence, and fecmed a fayourabl opportunity to extend their operation to the South, where moft of the de partments, agitared, wrought upon i evcry way by the agents of the diffe rent parties that rent the republic, un decided whas conduet to purfue, fougl

1796.]

a rallying point ${ }^{*}$. They began to or ganize the atroy, and formed troops tor expeditions, who, as foon as they were finifh d, returned to their own home; eafily affembled next das, if necefiary, on the fhosteft notice. There were foon two armies, the principal called the Catholic and Roral Army, or Anjou and "Pper Poitou, commanded by d'Eltée, a nobleman of Poitou, who had ferved in Saxony and France, of confummate talents, who was taken at Noirm.utier, and thot at the age of roz. He looked on Stofflet and Pron as very uleful officers, but defpiled Charette, who comonanded the other army, called the amm of Jefus, or Lower Poitou, who in his turn hated, and would not own or obey, him. White the chiefs of the royal party laii in La Vendé: the foundation of a formidable power, which, atacking the republic in its centre, feconded by this interior diverfion the irruption of foreign troups on the frontiers, the army of the Wen began to affume confillency and tir ng h; but, being difperfed over an immente extent, did not prefent at any point fufficient forc. to at offentively: yet this was dont. The rebil, meantime, Thewed themfelves in the plains; in maffes of 42,50 , and $60,000 \mathrm{men}$, and many very Hary and hoody affairs happened. Jure 9, 1793, they took Saumur; and, extending Weltwerd, threatened Nantes. It now became ealy to know the numerows refources of a party we affice ed to difdain. When the civil war was firit kiodled in the Weft, the piincipal military forces were divided between the two armies acting on the Mofelle and in the North (the later diteated by Dimouriez, who is not, perhap; tuch a franger to the war in La Venctée as he is held to be). But feven or eight thoufand good troops would have been able to fupprefs the infurrention, efpecially as the teaters bud not been able to tafe a revot in Brirtany. Generals have been charged with dividing the Welfern troops too much; but local circumfances obliged the commander in chief of the army of Rochelle to form with the army a kind of line of circumvallation round La Vendée. Battles, and, confequently, defeats of the republicans, fucceeded with dreadful rapidity; when Nantes was faved by general Canclaux, who is faid to have more talents than any of the Weftern gereals. The events which would have followed its capture were beyond calculation; it was the fignal for qeneral infurrection in all Britany. General Biron canse and took the command of the coalt of Rochel'e; and Welterman, who come, mandect hi, dvat, ad puarl, a: : :whole wards rustod at Cnatidon, white Biron remained quiet under the walls of Niont. While the reoublicans were thus lofing ground, Chasette incautiouly regiected to gain potfeffion of fome fortified pofts on the coafts, to enable hin to have received fupport from abroad, if the checks the royalifs might receive fhould forse him to that refource. He cartfully avoided a general baitle, and his operations feem reduced to a mere trifle, becaufe, at the capture and recapture of Macheroul, be had fcarcely any thing to do, before Auguft, 1793, than to overrun the whole country, and make himfelf mafter of what he pleafed. The republican generals were guilty of the fame faults, on the fame fide, as the divilions of Nort, Saumur, and $\mathrm{An}_{\mathrm{o}}$ gers, on the other; and, when Canclaux arived, he liad nut troops enough to attock the rebols in a covered cuur. trv, but contented trimetf whth harralfiog aliem at the gates of Nantes.

* M. Turresu makes a very pertinent ohfervation on the incontiftencies of the French goverument ; one whale profcribing tederalifon and its adherents; at another, denying thas it ever exitted. "True patriots himent the mournful effect, which the triunaph of political characters, and the fanguinary ftrugale of parties, have hitherto prodiced. Is it not tume to adjourn, or rather to fmother, om quarels, and to occupy onreleves a little more about Wie public canfe?"

Gekt, Mag. May: 17960

"Independent of the firlt ideas after uhich the chiefs of the royal paity had concerted their valt confipiracy, there are a thoufand other local, fecret, and unaccountable caufes, even to the molt artencive ob. ferver, which bave equally contributed to the prodigious increafe of the partizans of La Vendée. It is owing to thele fecon* dary and eventful coules, that my perceptions are too vague and uncertain to permir me to dwell lon, on this fubject; but foms cannct be paffed over, as they principally principally owe their exiftence to that unlucky fyftem followed by the arny of the coaft of Ruchelle of partial attack, and of the infulficiency of the reperflive means adopted by the govemment, as well as all the half-meafures adopted by its fulatterns. It was in the fance of fix months that the royalift party gined the maxim:an of its power in la vendée. The chiefs began to act their parts in the poltical world; their names were advantageonfly known and cited in the different courts of Europe. Several emigran's had quitted the frontiers of Auftria and Italy, to join the defenders of the altar and the throne. A great number waitel in the inands of Jeriey and Guernfey the refnit of the laft efforts of the rebels, to enter their native country, and rend its bofom. The deplorable fituation of the republic gave every day frefl hopes to its enemies. But the genius of Liberty, who watched over the fate of France, the energy, the conftancy, and courage, of the patriots, were deftined to make it triumph over its external and internal enemies. Such was the confiftency of La Vendée, fuch the refources of the royalift paty, that, notwitl ftanding the terrible, and porbaps indifpenfable, meafures, ufed to deftroy La Vendée, notwithftanding our ten fuccefsful general batles, and more than 60 paital ones, gained on the borders of the Lowe, from Auguft in the firft year until Floreal following, notwithftanding the lofs of 120,00 , foldiers, the royalifts fill had means left to continue the war, dithongh wenk, it muft he confefied, when 1 quitted the amy, and our victojes were not the only caufes of their dectine" ( $p$. 96, 97).

One of thefe caufes was the recal of Biron, who was fucceeded by Rofiignol. "The rebel chiels cie riy found they had nothing to hope from a res publican zeneral, whole princip'es were not in equivocal, and tha: Koffignol would not be fo complailant as his predeceffor" (r.ico). His elevation fiopped the moral defection which drew off daily mumerous parties from the republicans; and people cleally faw that neutrality was no lunger allowed. The only thing for which he can reafonably be reproached is allow. ing himfelf to be ferved by fuch indifferent officers, when he ftood in need of abler; and, being fo otiten ill, he could neithar act nor oherve by himfelf. Many of the checks he received are rather to be afcribed to the envy of fome general officers, and the conicquent difobedience and contempt of his oiders. The author was gereral of wrigace under tim, and gloriss to be.
ing his friend. The fpirit of divifion fprang up among the rebel chiefs They forgave not d'Elbée for bein: commander in clief, and having th necelfary talents. Others afpired to th command. Charetre ufurped that , the army of Lower Poito ; and the were not jealous of him. Since th: taking of Saumur, feveral parties ha been found among the general officer: Succefs only increafed individual pre tenfions, and waifed the ambition of $t l$ inferior offlers. This divition pre duced the moll fatal coniequences, an the fuccethon of events will thew th: it is the principal caufe of the declit of the royalift party in La Vende Two checks which Charette expe rienced, and others which followe. were owing to another caufe : they d ferted to their fold labours; men as officers divided at the moment whe they flood in the greatelt need of a operation and union; for, mealures we taking to give the royalifts a me dreadful blow. The garrifun of Men arrived ; that of Valenciennes was follow; the country of the Vendea was to be entirely deftroyed; their $p$ litical exiftence was no longer to permitted ; the experience of the $\mathrm{p}_{2}$ and the fears for the furuse, feemed juftify the feverity of thefe meafuri A counct of war determined on ag neral attack. Canclaux's plan of $m$ king it by the Weft was carried ; b $M$. Turreau is of opinion that $t$ whjech of the council of war ablolute faited for want of a gercral plan of $t$ campaign ; and that the enerny fhou have been driven into the angle fort ed by the Loirc and the fex; and t truc motive for a diferacnt determir tion was to deprive Rofignol of 1 conmand. The plan failed at fir but two important viciorics gain over the royalifts ought to have co vinced the republicans of the adva bages of fighting on the plairs, a acting on the defenfue on the op points, fo long as they were not li ficiently Arong to penetate into Veadés. Raingnol futfered himf to be mifled: we fell again into $t$ wretched fybern of making fepar. attacks, and a fiefh experrment " wanting to correct this erior. I fuffered a fecond deteat at Coron, u cer Santerre, whole general/hip is hi a: tacked, as he threw the ill fuccefs that day on the writer, whofe ho fel! and rolied over him, and lie " carried off, and diforder followed in every part. He quitted the war a fesw days after. Canclaux recovered matters on the fide of Nantes, where the army wanted reinforcements. The general in chitf of the ariny of the coalt of Rochelle endeavoured to repair fome loffes. Not to enter into minute details, it is the decided opinion of this writer that the jealoufies and intrigues of the different leaders were alone fufficient to ruin the royalift caufe; and that it is more particularly to Chareite's conduct that this fucceffion of difafters which befel them is to be imputed, p. 126. "Their defeat at Chollet, OCtober 15, 1793, was decifive. Though nearly 30,000 croffed the river, there were not 20,000 fighting men among them. There wete feen on the night bank of the Loire, following their army, which increafed prodigiount, a multitude of bifhops, priefts, monks, religious perfons, old counteffes, batonefles, \&ec. who were carrited off be cart-loads, and only embarrafied the army. There were a great many killed in the action of Mans" (p. 128). The garriton of Mentz gave the moft Jreadfal blow to the rebels, but its march was much too rapid to be fo deftructive as is faid, it only made an opening. Another fource of defeat to the Vendeans was the Poitevins quitting their own woody country, with reluctance, to fight on different ground. Though the army was increafed by voluntary and fired recruiting, is could not long exift. The weaknofs of the republicaits on the left bank of the Loire reanimated the hopes of the rebels, and reftored their audacity.

The fourth and laft part contains the time during which M. Turreau had the command, " till government, who were never well acquinted with the war of La Vendée, leffened the effect of the cnly moans which could terminate it by its impatience on fee it finifbed. They foon rendered them nall, tefs, doabtele be my fufpenfion, than by the total and fudoca change of the fyatem according to which i acted, and which met with its approbation" (p. 141). No one who has not actually forved in La Vencóe can conceive the diffculty of the fervice, or how much it is hackled by conllituted authorities, and even by the inhabinants refiding neas the theatre of war; but, above all, by the perpttual corflich, and fumetimes the formal as well as the iliegal oppoftion of thefe paralitical authorities, produced by ararche; - hofe unrolv propagators of the principles of liberty tiansformed it into anarchy. The agcrits which government fent to the armies were not fo dangerous to the general officers in the Weftern a:my as the leaders of the pretended popular fucieties, compofed of individuals, who, nectilarily fuffering from the execution of meafures ordered by the Convention and its committees, endeavured to thackle them, and flot forth its arrows ag.inft the agents, which they dared not direet againt government. The Weftero army, although victorious, had never been fo near its diforganization as at the time when he look the command. The diforder which pervaded it, and the want of harmony in its operations, were lel's owing to the indifference or ignorance of fome gene. rals, than to their frequent change, the kind $f$ war they carried on, and the local inconveniences. He took the ifle of Noirmoutier; and in it the genoral debere mortally wounded: the cowarly garriton abanduned the lines without firing a gen. Tise captive chief aferibed all the ill fuccefs of his palty to their mifcarriage before Nantes, and their difperfion; the ambition of the general officets d'Aurichamp ard Talmont; the ignorance and atfinace of Charette; and the lof, at Chot!et, of B ncluamp, the beft officer in the amm.

The conference which M. Turreas had with this chief of the rovalitt party, and with one of Charetie's lieutenants, alfo a prifoner, cetermined his operations. . His plan of mild meafures, and a general amnelty, was rejected by the Convention, which rot onlv detemmined the extermmation of the Vendtans, but fuffered the org:nization of a fyltem of defatuation againt the general offeers who ferved in that war. Yo was this vely general accufed in the Convention of ferting fire to La Vencée, where he burned lefs rlan any of his fuccetfors. He defcribes his various opelations; and we read with horror tiat one of his officers, who liad received a couple of bails, blew out his own biains, like a hero, for fear of falling into the hands of the banditti. Another part of kis iyltem, eftabluhing entrenched cainps in the country, was executing when the command was rakera froma Lim. The sett of the work is a der-fence of his charadter from the repraches of the Convertion
" What is preferahle to every military plan is the projest of finifhing the war of La Vendée by gentle me:ns: this meafure does honour to the National Convention. It is time to for the freams $几$ food which, for thefe twenty morths, have inund ted this wretcied country. The commilfiner: charsed with this important mithion will, dubleft, know how to reconcrie the nieafures which the puiblic of fety commands, wih thofe requred hy humanity. They will rightity juilse that an excefs of clemency will jusalithy endand ger the fafery of the republic" (p. 201).

The Hitury of the Vendean Wrar is publimet at the cxperef defre of Government, ro vinalicate thir jibare of it.
120. Brief State of the Royal Humane Society, taid before the Prefitent, Vice-Prefitents, Clorg), Stetuads, Govenver, and Meltical ADGis ints, at their sinnivel fary Fefilival, 1; $\%$ \%.
"MISCFLLANEOUS कherva: nns, and ufetal reflections upon vitality, inf ever be the bifis of this annual tract : :wd it is to be boped thet the contents of this Report will prove that our wtmont eftoris are ftll exerted in a cetue bo hiluang to God and man. In an monal futliction, fo well intended, the elitor anticipate: the appobatam and candour of has readers; for, in the relation of the pricerdings of this bene oolent lutitu:ion, the motitaitidious critic cumn ctapcat novelry or variety It is therefore a duty pecularly incumbent opou the writar to exhihit to the eye of fenfinilty the mort inprortant fucs, tery ther wath nciafo al whervitens upon the fubject of mefolutation; and thofe mtercting poin. that may tend to the advancenent of the reforative art, to as to animate medical pratitioners to one of the grand dues of their profefifion-ilie prefer ration of humant te.
It is more than tuenty yeass tace our truly vatuble socie'g lus been efanilined; within athich pertod there have bien reAure.: to iife, to tieir fumilices, and to the frate, ni69."

The laft fenterce is an :mple fricld againa erricifin of -vers foccies, The Antrai Reput now bazee us, hrwever, is nat a mure detal o: medical fant. It is ewlivened wath navy hitrorical digevians, and correfpowitnce. on various turje is; a ongh which we find the following letters th and from the Rev. Dr. Parr, "a precther who s Gufty amimed for bis litcrary abtilites, and his extenfive phitanthrop: :"

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { artiz. Sis, } \\
& \text { Spital-funare, } \\
& \text { Nov. 12, } 1795 .
\end{aligned}
$$

"The Royal almane socie'y of Lon. don, well continsel of the phatahtiopy of Dr. Farr, have commintoned me, as Reg ffer, to requeft the favour of you to indulge them with a fermon at their next anniverfacy in March, on any Sunday in that nopert that niay be mott convenient to yourielf.
"They hase been honoured with fer: mons by Bihhops Wition, Herfly, and other ornaments of the bencl; ; and are ambitious to record in their annats that they have received a fimilas fuyour from Dr. Parr.
"If this requeft be not whelly difagreeahle to you, sir, an invitation in form thill be font to you from the stewrids, many of whom are gentemen of rank, furtme, and refieetability.
"I have the hongu to be, Rev, Sir,
" Your obedent humb'e fervant, "W. Hawes"
" Sir,
Hatron, Now. 16, $\mathrm{y} 795^{5}$.
"On my return from a tour of bufinets ban Saturiay evenag, 1 received the $f, l^{2}$ vour of whur leter dided Niv. is; and I nowd certainly have dore myefelf the pleature of mifwering it veferday, if 1 had Dist been prevented by a fight thinefs.
"Indecd, srr, $1 \mathrm{am} n$ : holding the jargon of trite and hollow profefi-r, when t ex;ref to yoa my geateral froie of the hainar which the flesands and members of the Humane Society have comferred upon me, ber requefling me to preath bffore them at the next annivel fuy.- t am fure that an l"ftitution fo bencyolently defigned, and fo judicio fly conducted, deferves the ferions attenton, and, where circumfances may admit, the active fupport, of every confcientions clergyman.
" 1 cannot, among the numerous focieties for charitable purpores with which thes ceums ry ahounds, name any one which fupazfic, yours in fulad utility, or perlaps rivals it in exemption from abufe. I am aware that ficver.il diftingumed teachers in the Efthithed Church have, with great credit to thernelves, employed their abil:tites in giving effect to your wife a:d homane exertions; and, fo far as corcerns the mere trouble of preparing a fermon upan the accafion, I cannst reproieh myfelf with fo much flaggifmets of teeling, or fo much barrempeis of invention, is would drfualify me frons fayme what is proper to he find before ao andi.nce fo reffectable, and for a pol pofe fi, mesputant. But, the diftaice at whath 1 live from London, she i.acon eatence I have naure than once experienced ir m leaving my parchial domeftic turfinefs in the apring, and the neceffity whith the fregnent application to me for charita- -femmons has isporied upon me of fixme fume limitatious to compliance, compel nie to ftate, throwh with reluctance, and even anguifti, that 1 am unate to perform the office, which, in your 1 tster, 1 am defired to undertake.
"Permis

1796.]

"Permit me, Sir, to requeft that you will te fo kind as to prefent iny moft refaetiful compliments to the managers, ftewards, &c. and to affure you of my moft unfeigned good-will towards fo excellent an lutitution, the fuccers of which is, I believe, in a very emment degree, to he afcribed to the julgement, zeal, and philanthrepy, of Dr. Hawes.
" I have the honour to be, "With great refpest, Sir,
"Your molt obedunt tumble fervant, "S. Patro"
121. A Sermonprcacked at St. Miry, Whitechapel, at the Anniver ay'y of the Roy al Humine Society, on Sunday, March i3, 1736. By the Rev. William Hawtayne, Reifor of Eilatree, Herts.
THE preacher, from Joh xxix. ver. 11, takes ocealion to enumerate the various affictions which mankind hats to encounter, and very naruraliy and forcibly applies his reafining to the very excelient inflitution for which he was particulariy pleaving, and for which he certainly is a very able and impr-live advocte. He fays, p. 24,
" It is a general love of mankind which gave brith to the Humane Society. All are liable to thofe accedents for which it is their wifh to provide antidotes. Ourfelves may becume benefited by the effects of this d.y's philanthropy; and it would he mo fmall comfort to know that, wherever misfortune may befal us, there we thombl the fure, by the exertions of this suciety, to meet with every fuccour that human art can afford."

Not having room for long extrads, we cancolv fiw that few termons do their authos more creder than the ore under confideration; we therefore recommend it azcordingly.
122. Llangollen Vale, with otber Porms; by Auna Seward.
AS Llangollen Vale is tiee firtt, fo is it the p:incipal effort of thas coiled.on. The fene is treble renowned; by the valour of JWEV GLENDOUR, and by the poetic love of the Bard Hoel for the ladv of Cafte! Dna, Bran, the odes in whene praite are the hoaft of Welf poetr:. While both thefe flourifhed in tre 3 th century, the vale o.ves its prefent eclat to the feventeen years' returement of two ladits, nobly born and exentively celebrated. The poum opens with a detciption of the prodigies that marked the birth of Glendour; the bloly bath of his father's lteeds, and the l'eRilence on its pale horfe : then pafics on to the fplendid appearance of the fciertific hero in the court of Richard II. his furelity to that monarch on his depro fition; the repulfo he gave to the: far out-numbering forces of Henry, in a flraight of Llangollen valley, whinch thus became the Thermopylie of antient Britain; the owmer that gland oa the royal amev the night before the batt'e; the perfonification of the Ge. nius of Cambris, on a rock, folicitoulIs ubfersing the progrets of a conef fo unegual, and then fringing over the clats, rejociry in the tilumph of her berc. The firaia then changes to iffer themes; recoids the haplets iove of the badd Hue!; and defriber the bleak rains of the Caftel Dinas Brar on the conic mountain, mace the proud pa ace of relentlels beauty. The authur jufy colls thiofe ruiatd walls, that even the ivy has forlaken,
"The crown, and contraft, of the vale below;"
through which Aows the wizard Aream of the Deva, mentioned by Milton and Prior. Another and liveher fuoj-er then occurs; the fairy palace, an: its fair inlabitants, come forward: allio deteriptions of the margic graces. which their ingenuity and tate lave dfffered through the ap rements and the how is ; their aërial lyre, their volcanic and glow-warm hights, their lettered purfuts, and devoted amity. A landseane of mournful contratt next viles butore us; the Ruins of Valle Cruchs Absey, father down in the vale, and on the bink of the daffing river; their broken columns, and ivied archer, " glimmering throughthe glades," and encircted by datk woods, with the fumamts of barien mentatats rifing above them. Tliefe ruias are apoltrophided in the poin, and remonded of the difference between the cheerlefs lolitude in which thair wretched votaries palfed " the mute and me. lancholy day," and the animated retirement of the fair reciusts, where the Arte, the Mufes, and the Vatues, hold their court.

It is offervable that, as the poem Llangolien Vale invoives in if ecit the principle of postic contraf, to the genetal collection, which forms this litthe mifcellany, feems given upan that plan: the marine landifapes of the Hoyle fhore, its calm protected like. its funny fowns, witn ail the focia! comforio of a bedutiful coat restidence, ctipofed to the deololation of the filat fiene. which rifes to the mind's eye in the thort poem Eyant the ditenus forrows it breathes, and the uncommon and lovely funereal ribute is diefaribes, always paid in that village to people who die young and unmarried.

The tender retrofpedtions of the poem incituled Time past; the chill features of wintry nature whith it pints, from obfervation and nor from books; the dolight profeffedly takea in thet:, as more iavouratise to focial intercourfe than the gav feenes of fumsmer, when out-diocr flerility is recontipenfed by the giowing hearh and the Imiles of affection; the union of philolophic and moral precept with feenic minting in the fix Sonnets:-iliefe ftyles of compoftion are forcibly uppofally the bold and terrific wildnefs of the Runic dialogue, built upon the sude hars of an antient Norle poem, which is given in the notes. A martial virgin repairs in amour to the funeral foreft at midnight, and awaKuns ti.e dead by incantations, for the purpofe of recorering an inchanted fword of refifitefs cdese, which, for nrophetic reatons, is buried with her flain father. The dial gue is formed by the foemen remonftuances of the watriorcorpfe, fpeaking foom the ret-clofed repulchre, and unwolling to furrender the fatal fword, and by the virgin's dauntets from of the woes with which ifs furiender is thisatenel. The then opening tomb; the half raited fgure of the dead wartior, tiom whofe wifunceal fire; the lyht which oleams fion it on the dark foret, and flafles ca the inatpid form end anere comteance of the young Amazon; thefe tucient a five iulject to the pacil of Euftio or Wright.
forap te cifored with trah, thet of then Mils sownt exollht. This whit cqual facitio, to than her ideas in:o the terome, the lirec, the cleyise, and the etatupt: sumbers of the eigitfeet couptet; and into the mate triot and arousur arempentent of the ickitimate Mistono womat-ot ine exceilence of that erder of ser'c, IIIr. Cary's inancte, prefixed to Liangolico Valca is a necimikn.

[^46]123. Mcnoirs of the Life and Writings g Robert Robinfon, late Minifter of the Difenting Congregation in St. A.ndrew's Parib, Canibridge. By George Dyer, Iate of Enmanuel Cullece, Cumbridge.
OUK seaders will recolicet the ac. count of this eccentric man at various times detailed in our vol. LY. p. 733, 735. Wre havẹ here a larger hifory of his i'fe, charabier, and converfation, by a writer whofe publications we have already annotinced, and who, fearful of appearing an egotift, plavs off the man " of fimple and mrdeft deportment; who had as much feif-denial, ard as much henevoletce, as moft mien; poffeffed of gentle manners, and of a morlef dencanor," againft all who do wot hold the fame opinions and protefion: with himflf and his beto. 'This is the mouden apphication of biocraphy, and we have here one more intiance addod to the lives already revi wed. That Robinfon was a man of eccenrlic genius no one can deny; that he did pood in his way, amorg the uffics in Cambridgefinte is alfo ad. mitted; but that he frequentif peaks of himfelf in turms of the moft degra. citshumiliv. yet at the fame ifme difcores fuftient felf-complacency, "his bingrapher cannot conceal" (p. 25) : and his friend Berridge lised to tee lim "grow vain, and forfake the L-nti" (p. 55). The hiftory of the rife athi eftd'unflmert of the diffenters a: Combridge, about the midide of the fat coutury, is but a hiftory of Me. thodifn: and, indecd, of the eally part of kebinofon's life little is known but his frititual experiences to the hazard of his temporal ones. But, if we objed to the imprudence of accepting a yealiy falary of 7 l. at the age of 26 , wirl, a wife, 9 children, and an aged mother, we are told, "Thofe readors who we accufomcd to conifider the art of $p t$ s.shings unctely as the ait of get. tho a livalibood, will coofider the inrit tion of the wrangling dalenters as ? hoid and unwarmanted meafure" ( $p$. 44). Mr. Dyer declines vowbling the puiblick with an apongy for the delay of this publication, to aroid egutifm; "preferting t" be pattired oier with Gher people's cerfures, to being decotated with the chaplets of tis own vanity, ard bermeace with the perfumes of his own praife." The following paffage, from the firf page of the pieface, is no bad fpecimen of the "language of equality," adonted in this rolume.
"Such namos only are ufed as diftinguifh the fex, except where patents, degrees, and the like, give an appropriare and determinate appellation. The truth is, thefe artificial diatinctions, that originated in tyranny, and are perpetuated by cuftom, lie at the bottom of many ferious evils that exitit in fociety; they are commenfurate with fuct as proceed from the accumulation of property. By the doctrine of equality I regulate my conduct in regard to relations, correfpondents, and frisids: among the e will be found fome concerning whom readers in general will feel no particular intereft; but they were Robinfon's friends ; and therefore, thour'l unknown to fame, find an appropriate place in thefe menwoirs" (Preface, fp. vii -ix.

Mr. Dyer's acknowledgement to all who gave him any communications are concluded by thanks to his printer, for his uniform and critical atention to the fheets as they palfed through the prefs. Modeft, humble, grateful, creature! does he thank h's barber every time he takes off his beard; or his fervant every time he obeys his orders? But perhaps the doetrine of equality does not admit of one man doing any menial or degrading ofices tor another, or commanding any thing to be done. Yet, not to lofe an atom of his coniequence, Mr. Dier takes care to toll us, "the fignatior $D$ is fubjoined to fome of the poetical tranflations, but thofe without the fignature are alio my oznn" (Preface, p. 7).

Among Robinfor's friends were George Whitfield, John Berridge, the "itinerant fervant of Jefus Chnit, who loved his thafter and his work, and, after running on his crrands many years, was caught up to wat on him above *." Can Peter, Paul, or the tifciple whom Jefus loved, ftonp lower? But Mr. D. who holds a different fet of opibions, can condefeend to record all the "profeftional cant" which his hero could "practife on oecafion as well as moft men" ( $\rho .5^{2}$ ), or as well as any of his brother-profelfirs. Shall we then faar to pronounce on fuch a character, however the "features molt ftrongly impreffed on the countenance of its polfefor. genius and benevolence, marked him lir a fuperior man !" Benevolence, t, humanity, philanthropy, are the cant of the prelent day; and, like falfe honour, branded by the tragedian, -Draw in caw and unexper'enc'd minds To real mifchief, while they court afhadow.

[^47]Robert Robinfon, it now comes ous for the firft time, was apprenticed to a bair-drefler, in Crutched-fricrs, 1749 ; and, by following a particular clafs of preachers, became a Baptift minifter; and, "in facility of colloquial addrefs," as Dr. Price on heaing lim preach in London obferved, "excelled bevond any man he ever heard" (p. 24). An old ineeting-houfe was pulled down, and a new one built for bin, much againt his will. "The fubfcibers and purchafers aimed at no dominion, and will fubmit to no fla ver: They did all they could to fecure the fame independency to their fuccefors, and wifhed 10 infpire them with a juft terror of that wortt of all animals, a Lord-brother," fays Robinfon; " what kind of animal that is difienting churches well underfand," fays Dier (f.66), who afterwards joined this fuciety. If fuch animals as Lord-brathers infuft diffenting focieties, where, fav we, is their boafted independence? The next chapter is taken up with the punimment of two undergraduates of Emanuel college, Cambridge, for difturbing Robimion's meet ing, where " an unforefeen accident dilcovered that proftitutes paraded the aile, dreffed in arademic habits" ( $p$. 72). Chapter 7 treats of Robinfon's "Arcana," or letzer on the prince. ples of the late application to parlia. ment for relief in the matter of futbfeription. All this is old matter; and all we learn from Dyer's account of it, in the language of equality, is the Dr. Priefley and Dr. Furneaux wrote again!t Blackftone. This is of a piece with the anfwer, fut into the mouth of a facred perfon, hat Green Mouid never be tranflated, becaufe he dilfered from his brerhren in favour of the disfenters, 1774. Green dice 4 years ariter; and, in the intermediate time, no opportunity offered for a tranflation. and the king hmmelf had, 2771 , added a refidentiarvthip of St. Paul's to h:s income. Robimon vindicated the legality and propriety of marrying a wite's filler 1775 ; and Mr. J. Harris, member fur Chift church, Surrey. and fecretary to the giepen, offered to duppurt an application to parliament to do fo. Dyer diflers very inuch from Robinfon in h's opionon of Sauita's termons; but we licfitate not to apply, though with extiome regret, the very patiage he has felected as a fpecimen io the very people to whom Dyer lias joined joined himfelf, and is fo very partial. Still lefs do we hefirate to aliert that France, by the extreme to which her revolution has been puried, has eftablifind a worfe and lets endurable detpotifm, thau any fine protended to crufin. The annals of the French revclution are more covered with crimes than the reigns of all the monarchs for centuties paft; and, had Rubinfon furvieed to witnefs it, he might have turned his hitionicai abilities to better purpofe than * biftery of "the rite commonly callerl Bapifin" (p. 3i).
$1 t$ is obvious to fee how effential it is th.ir Mr. D. muff have a lick at the two colleges of Jefus and Emanucl. Onc of Rolimion's bett fiiends was far from oppofing his making fermons for others, even for himop, and thus fap#ing an hieratchy which they could no form, p. gi. Thic fophifry of Rubinfon's mind is well difplayed, p. 92 ; how much to his ciedit, or his bio. grocher's, is another ronfderation.
Robintion's berevolent plans for diffening congregatinus ended in confirming his triend Dr. Evans's remark, " the more we affuciate the moro we fhall quarrel" (p. 99) This is a beicf charater of the feparatifls in all ages; Whey alfume too much, and cannot hold nut the the forrit in, which they legin. kutinion's beneroierce, in yaunted in chap. 7, is curfinect to the etablith thent of religions focieties, preacining - Hllage fomoon, and atmong to unite the different congeefaucns in ore bond of frateral wion.
The " Plea for the Divirizy of Chrit" was reccived datercatiy by effecent patio. His bingrapher in. clines to think lic wavered :n his opirin. This is the falderfuge by which the chiefts of i,is party, a ake out theor roufer-1oll, and prets watts and Jorria iato their fervice; an artifice unw.rehy both of Chathan charly and common catdour, and apsint whita we nonat cerlet our faces. The leters he. twen Rotirf fon and his opementis piace bis concur in the faseff light, p. 516 - ing; and it had been as wati if histovere giculatity had been pogt out of *) w, p. I2c-123; but he was as much riant, p. 120. It womb tave betn whegratifyng to know how the warm armer of Wathngtro and the Americall o nititution would have reifled thole Amerians who, foom the contapion of French tevohutionary principes, lave ammed at tho overhorow if that great man and his country. In chapter 9, the biographer's erotifm burth through all tettraint, and he beconts a partner in the memoirs of his hero.

After general outlines of his charaher we are conducted to his great and "firgular work," forming a plan for the mort fythmatie attack evir made on the chercia of Engrand, and that muld be the apology for dwelling folong on it. This is the "S Sillbus of Ledures on Non-contarmity." The effablifhed church has as jeatt this confolation that "liberty is alike eftranged from treflyterian, as well as from popift and epictipal, church government. Robinfin, however, maintained that liberty is to be found in a fourth community; whether bie is accurate fhall be left to the reader's determination, p. 167. Whether the reader will grant it or not, Rabinfon and Dyer claim fiberry and felfgovernment for themb felves and their patuzans. The former, however, lived to fiee, and the jater to fay, "the truth is, liberty is tather the acquiftion of individuals than the inlieritance of chuathes and bodiss of men" ( $\mathrm{p}, 170$ ). The inference from all this ditpuration is, that, when teachers and minitites of religion depart from theiry poper butirefs, they do greater prejudice to the caufe than all the Volaires and Routitats; for, white they \{quabble, oi, as Robinton calls i:, "rarangle and jangle," turth luffers more than from the mifrepretations of men who have never made themfelves acquainted with Chriftianity. "He carricd litule of the arr of a preachier for a party, except when his difonurles wete interiperfed (wlich was oten trdecd the calt) with polt. tical retticitions, or with obfecvations on the eflisbigfed burarthy' (p.175). With this paraglagh it is worth white to compare the veriatiity of Dyer and su Hary Tre'away, who mifecid from the charch to the diftenters, and tiom the difienters to the church ag.nn; and in what corps the former is inlited at prefent le havidit tell.
Robinfon, dwate of the fcastinefs of difenting qualticatigus, propared a plan for a collere among then, and wifled to fave D,er as a tutor; " but the reavering liare of Dyer's mind lett thas:il room for any conlidential repole in tis exertions; and his fuofe. yuent aejection of baptifm, the badge of that hatended collige, would hive raifod an ingupuable diaficuly in the way way of his future fucceis" (p. 180). The whole plan failed, becaufe Rotinfon himelelf Lcame at length lefs popular zith his own party; and, without looking out for any other reafons, his theorits were lefs likely to obtain general acceptance, p. 190. He formed a plan for a fociety tor the relief of proteftant diffenting minifters, and another for conflicutional information; and a charity-dchool for bors and girls of diffente:s; which dalt pian fublified but a fhort time.

In 1775 he was able to purchafe and eccupy a fam at Cheflerton; and, I782: another at Cambridge; and work ed a: them himfelf, to the no friall difcontent of his orethren. In 8751 , he was employed to write " An Hiflory of Batilts;" which he began in Londion, but foon found it more convenient to ninifh it at Cheferton; bus it was not publifhed till 1790 (fce vol. LXI p. 1026). His recaprtuiation of it, left unfimfed, was publifiod after his death, 1793. under the titic of "Ecciefartical Refearchec" (LXIII. 152). In $1-5=$ he publimed a poli. tical catechifm; and, in the fame year, quarreled with Dr. Sieanet for requiripg of him a receipt for $10^{\prime}$. ros. lent to him as his flare of the Regium Donum, or royal hufa-money to the diffenters, which they have not the fpirie to dilavow, any more than $R$ binfon had to return the mor:s, though he would not lign the recuipt as a wimefis againte himetr. Klssentiments about the Trioity now begon to change, and his Calvinifm into more iberaily. But, whatever were his sp nions of Calvinifm and its profeliots, we mut dite his biggapher due cuedit for his, candour towards them, p 244, =95. P ubiufunhad been provoked the drperity of fome of his beethons, and was too proust-fpirited a fuemit to all their reguifitions, though; for the fake of ferving our author, who preached for him a twelvemonth, he feems to have fed them to difpenfe with fuch requiftions. Mr. Dver gler e., like his friend, in the haughtinef: of graciude, p. 301 n . "Robinton continved to the laft rather a friend to liberiy than to precifion of religious forsmentis or to Mrict religious langrag=" (p. 31f). Whether a change in thigiens fettimen:s, or a clofe application to the hillory of baptifm and boutifs, made lim leck reciremert tonaris the dofe of life to an excefs which endangered his health, is not preciely arcertatned by his hiftorizn; who proceeds to an analyfs ard critique on that great work, the beft critique on whech is that in p. 417, "I became a baptift on principle, and now I am affamed of my party." This work, and his "Ecelefiafical Refearches," furnifn an excellent fill-up of 67 pages, from $3=8$ to 342, and from 3.51 to 396.

Among Robinfon's correfpondents in the gears 1785 and $\mathbf{1} 989$ is a Mr. Brown, of Magtalen-college, Cambridge, and chaplain at Calcutta, who reprefents the Hindoos as " without a fingle moral principle, and extreme!y cruel and malignant in their tempers" ( $\mathrm{p} \cdot 346$ ). Is not this contrary to the repacfentations which our licerati in the Eaft Indies take fo much pains to give us ?

The beft remedy for the declining and dejected fiate in which Robinfon had for tome time been, was decmed a journey to Birmingham, and an in terview wish Dr. Prieitley, which he had long defired. But he ca:ne there a ding man, and ciofed his life with. in three days ater his arrivai there. Mr. Der has embalmed his msmory in a mo:ndy, and this fort charader: "Thus hived and thus died Rovere Robiwion; a man, who; from an humble fation in life, raited hatalelf to confurabie notice; whote benagn difpotition ant gentle manuers entile lima to the chatabler of an amiable man; whote genius, whofe !eamine, whole ficaly oppoftion to every fpectes of tyranny, us woll among proteliat dulinturs as cilablifned hearchies, entide him to the charafter of a gueat man*" (p, 403). This is followed by a more ditfule charatier, or ather an examination and refutation of the charges allegea againft lun by where. M. Dyer is fur Fing our attention t.) the man mare than the dufferent ranks he fusanod in focicty. We, on tle contrary, think ra:k and foturan wit? alwas sanake a part of charåer, and that man mult be new-created hefore In can be diveltad of alt the effecto of ficuarion. Romemfon had a part to ade: buis lis performed it is the bufincfs of [^48]his bingrapher ro afcestain. We confider Robert Robinfon, like many nther modern refonmers, a voluntary victim of that fancied importance which telf claimed for him, but which tew others allowed him; and that he would have done quite as much good in the riginal character of a barber as in the atfumed one of a refo mer. Like other grear geniufes, worldiy prudence, and the care of a numerous familv, never made a pare of his fyliem Genuise humilis would have taught him anocher letion; cyes that kifon which his ditine Mafier imwheted when he went ahast deing good, withour die heraldry of bingraples and coriefiondents to found the ctumpea of baievolence, humanm, and plitanhropes, betore him. "Tie Woid ues maid fiff, and duelt amors, us," ansi when " we beheld his glo:y it was tile giors of the only-begenten fon of God, tull of gr.ce and hath." Not this or the other ain cupait of his example, infited with pinde and fuif-fuficience, defating to, farping, and ridtouling, goverments and fughers; chaifying, It may be, the jufts, Let no the afic700ns; ton, no man is to moud es a modern reformer, and no man goes out with fo fuden an extinection of his blaze. It is the crackling of thurns andes a pot, llutarening of let on fite ali atouid him, and of latt cenfumed in his own fame fance ne lath how much aliumed mesictiy exereds pride, and how Robest R binion funk at laf may be competel dewontrated by George Der's turvation, p. 4.5: "To Qeak freely, it leems a pont 20 coutsazitiow, to cunfider him at the clofe of life a a man of iitenture onther than as a divime. As 1 his precife character in the laf refpeet, it is fater to lay what he was now than wher he was. He aumied the talenes of Dr. Preitle: But he weas too much in the budat of payyg rethectul comeliments. A teclarsion fimiar to that made to De: Prictley (thet ioc was aifh mate to the tewod Robert Y: whit, of jultios craicere. as whl as in

 When a vies en retcese kotmon from tion evenne of herefy, but tw kenc l.....

It is time to clofe the hinory of a life, which Icaves the man wholived in in fucha tive of uncertanty, fo contrary to the effablifhed sule of all good living, as well as of al! good writing:

Qualis ab inceplo proceffertit fervelu, adimum.
And, if the life-writer cannot bring his fubject to a more corfifient end he had better never lave taken him up What then mult we think of theff turn coat profeffors, who change liki the camelion to every wew colour. and call this verlatility a lowe of liberty civil and reitgious, thai is, in othe woud, fulf-government, and a deter mimation to be independent of all othe a ner wi? 'in this liberey of chang the gopet iffelf is to be accommo dued, had paffages and clapters to b cut wet of it at thecir phesture to ferv their tum, Affer all that Robinfo had witien on baprifm, Mr. Dye would have us undicifand that, "ff a confacrable time bef,re his death he theved not only indifference, but maniteff telucharce, wwaris the prac tice of this coremony" ( $\mathrm{P}, 417$ ) ; anc inflead of faying of him tiay "he be lieved this tenct, or diß.licyad if oher, it fhou'd rathe: be fidid of hin that he was :an amiable, a benevolen a learned, minn, a true philinthropil an invaiabie triend of libely", (1 418). A writer in the Suaci, Ency clopedia clofes his charafer, "that I appears to have been of an unfleac temper, and acquired but lintle cied from the frequency with which 1 clanged his opinion (for we have re: fon to believe that he died a sucinian! (p. 427). He went from one extien to the other.
124. A litrti piain Euglifn, afllucled to t Prople of the United Stites, on the Titec negetiatal ruith bis Buicamnc Majeciy, a or the Lorduat of the Pregient - relati tbercto; in Anywer to "Tbe Letter"

 Proceciovers of the late opporecs of $t$. Ticaty, "By Peter Porcupine, Autbor Ohforvations on "D. Dr. "richtuy"s Emign

 London e e pentid.
Tiis is the bett and cleareft dete tion of the Cophifurs and ahlurditi winch mark the factoous fipirts in $t$ iof pentent States ot Anerica, and the C....er te...ancy to Feench pribiph Cub minter reffecing Dr. Priefl we have already noticed (LXV. 4.7) ; the other bere nemanaed has not come to our hands, but we dicubt not it merits attentive perulal as well as the orher two ; all tending to flow, in the Atrangeft point of ligit, what manuer of fpirit lone men are ot. The dii turbances which amie in Bonon, New York, and Plituriphia, refeeving this areaty mew " she uppoters of it , the fovereign people, whon are now tormenting the prefficni with their te monftiances, which fome of them have the infolence to call 'InMraction, to their Puribe Servant,' and will tro leng, un!c!s their power be contrared, tyrammze wer the peaceable inhaid. tants of tiofe Mates. When once the lower crders of the people, thofe who bave nutitag. hegin to give low to thole who have fersathing, a liate of anatchy is at no great cmance. This dreata! kombe now thecaters the U-nited States, nat the only was of avoiding is is for every homelt tean, every man if puicris, to give his heaty and fincore fupport to the geneari governaten" (p.1:0).
125. Pooms by Mr. Jerningham. A wou L. Witon; in Tws V'lunzt.

HAVING detivened our fentiments on a forbar cicafian refpeging the merit of thefe promas, we thali obly mention the prefent legans ecition as the moll complete, and which may be lonked upon, in fome muafure, as a polthurnes crifustion. as the ausiur, we are well alipred, miends never to refunt his poctical pen.

Foreign Litferaki Intelligence.
Letpsic. MayとANior EMAADOS TEPIHIH:1&. Patanz Gixciæ Defirpioio (iaece, ricen, zit ex cocd. E a'iunde ementavit © extanava Jo. Fricer. Ferms. Ifoq.
FR.OAI the edton's preface we iean, that preffir H ne mediated an wor tion of this ..ntiunt getugrapler, Lut, at the foictation of his pupil, gave it up to ham. He regrets that the leveral MSS of jaudam have been uncollated; thet Kuho, the laft editor, do. clined the orportuni.g offered him of chllating tour in the royal libray at Paris-bizaufe, as tar as he could have juiged by tpecinens, they agoted with Adus's edrtion. The learned contented themiclees with a Latin velfon of Aldass's Greek, till S. Fionkius, in a new eution of the origina, wave ma. ny goed conjectural corrchions, antl Kulin more, from a con's of Aldus noted by I/aze Cnulabon. The prefent editor has avai ed himfelf of two MSS at Vienna, and one at Molicow, ail wantirpts of diffuent copies, and the !ater onniting worts and fontences. He has admped fome conjo tural correitions, new pointed the whole, and made rew titles to the chapiers, retaining the original divifa a, hough he due not apmove it. The two firf volume:, whach are all that are vet pulltand, contan the eight firf books (innt in each), the third, the remain. fog wo with the necelary indexes.

16 vol. LXIV.f.9z', we teritwed a :ery fengular tramation of PauCanias ino Engith, deteeting, as wa flizter curcives, the derign as well as the m-sting with which it was condutied. We reculleet in fome of cur volumes a donbt firted about the gerius of the nriginal work, as if it was io rath anowe the works of the Greck $S$ phatis. Whether this fuggetion has redh.d M. Faciu-, and will be noticed by him, time will thew.

INDEX I:NDCATORIUS.

P. Q (who exprefld wihu that fome one wethia in rite on the bubject of the Two Witnetts, in the Revelations, and the B-ati chat afcende 3) is info med, that there hapa teen : wo panophlets wr ten on that fith et, one intituld "A Antichrif in the Fre:ch Convention," (LXV. I40.) and the viber, "An finquiry into the fecond Coman: "f war Satiour."
A Chbistan Rezte: calls on the Manthly Keviewers to clear up tho doubts in thatr Review of Manarce's Indian Anthqutiec, Amb, 1-g6, vol. X1X. p 403, "whet.r the Jowifh antiquries reached to a period be goud that of Iodian hiftory."
P. P. takes upon him to deny that Mr. Hutchurfon's defcruption is aecheotely jaff; and to affirm that there is no proot on epulchat monaments that the party commemorated died in tima sf percco: suar. He is not atrad to go futher in negative, and denies that "Mr. Hhictinfon's character as an author and antiquany is beyond the reach of illiberal critucifm," and that the citicifors pointed at hins ate illiteral.

One of our Readers, who has heard nothing of the hiftory of Wrefit and Hemingborough, in Yorkfare, fince tyy, when it was mnounced mour vol. LXAl. $555,624,972$, wifles to know wien it man te expedtec'; particulariy as the for mer has been dadoded by fine.

Lentera Acer will fend his"Lenten Lit ny" among the "Sia'e Puams" of we lat cenayy.

In Momary of Enfignt STEVENS, of the 3 gtb Negiment, mortally apounded at Gibraltar, 0.7. 8, 1785, in the Sixtecntb Tear of bis Ag:. Feciing bimfelf embarralfed, be bad retired from the Regimental MF/: previous to the Sige, lived upon the Pronifions allotted b.: Government, and geave up the wiole of lis Pay to difcharge bis Debts*.
EAM'D was his Sire with many a horid h: fear,
G.ain'd ingreat Ferdinand's immortal war; Small were his useans; his beft, his chief employ,
To fill with martial warmeth a darling bov; And, thoushrromotion kept not pace with f.rme,

He had a mine to leave-an bonert name.
With all the learning tha: the fock conld 1pue,
Cor voushful Enfig left parental care ;
ficher in ble tings than in money difore,
A little purie was giva-be conlo no more.
Profule and gen'rous; and, though dating, mild; [lim witd;
siature, that made. him bold, had form'd
Iy velaal falts his ear'y courfe began,
Ane, thongh a boy, he deem'd himfelf a man;
Sut principle, to native goodaefs join'd,
Fxpell'd the wayward errors of the mind:
And what acyurement can be more complete,
When a man's conqueft is his own defeat? To be in deht, nor have wherewith to pay, NuA fill with felf-reproach the live-long dav;
[tir'd,
Sn sterens thought, and from the mets reLifrations all that honefty requir'd;
He would rot think his monthly pay his (W)

Fit give the whole to clear his debts alone. No longer then in rath opinion ftrong, He fooke in queltionc, fearful to be wrong. Cn the firt day the adverfe fire began,
Anodit the din was foen the youthfal man $+;$
Elack is a miner from th' emboswel'd earth. Ul is old Night en matin diwn hath bith, [^49]His face appear'd ; no feature could be feen ;

Nouglat but the fool keen-darting from within:
Th' artill'rifts thus, determin'd to defeat,
Wear on their brows the bonourd ficade of heat.
As vig'rous intellect directs the pow'rs; Or Fancy wanders in our lonely hours, Miellow d hy time, the mind prefuntes to - tell,

How liv'dthe Sollie:- ? Rose of the morn! it grieves us to proceed,
Yet Juftice wills that we relate the deed, Wiils us to mark the fanguary fort, Hy fellow-foldiers neer to he fogot, Where; in a penfive mood, oft-times we've Iang'd, [chaeg'd; And many a thought to his fair fome exHis honour, honeity, and ferling timh,
All that adorns the have, or charms in youth;
And, as we found his virtues to the air,
"Where are ney flown?" fain Echo fays, " of, where!"
Now he's interr'd among the glorious dead,
"And hallow'd be the earth that crowns his head!"
A thatter'd houfe, of many a brick deAnd many a fhot had half the roof until'd, Serv'd for his home; there undifmay d lee liv'd,
White leff'ning debts his peace of mind retriev'd;
But $H_{E}$ that governc life, rewarding thine, Oider'd a change fom theman to divine.

One day, one woeful cay, when at his board,
['2 or's,
More with content than daintier vichuals A fhaft of fate came thond'ring near the room, [tomb :
And lain'd with blood his paffese to the At morn a fragrant blofion, charg'd with breath,
[in ceath!
With'ring by noon, ere night was clos'd
His fainful foldie:, who was wont to hare
Malf of the little of his lomely f.re,
Teils as, with iohend errief, the reatures. wore
The fame henignity as heretofore:
And, a: his comedtes took him to the South,
He kindly ark'd, " la cuol a parched month *:"
Then bide the fudiens "Larch! this latt patsier, Inter mall order or be orierd more."
No figh eicap'd thaughout the tort'ring feenc,
Inm refolution ftamed the peace within.

[^50]In grief the furgeons move him from the bier, [tear ;
When thus he nobly faid, "Shed not a Let the keen knife probe to the deepert part; [heart."
Pain I can bear-pain cannot resch my Too quick, alas! the vital fluis ran ;
The faplefs vifage wore a death-like wan,
A park of hope, by ampuation try"d;
But the fpark vanifi's, and the hero dy'd:
For, near the nobler parts * a wound was giv'n,
And thus he foke in his retreat to beav'n :
"Thanks to my friends for ev'ry favour done;
I feel the hlood of life hath nearly rian ;
Foolifh l've heen, but not a wicked one."'
With thefe lait words the eye-lids gently clos'd;
His mortal pangs eternally reposed;
The mangled corfe hal martial homorrs pare, [laid.
And a memorial marks where he was Have ye e'er feen the palm, of tow'ring form,
Ton by the fiercenefs of a fudien form ;
No cluiter'd frut on bending branch appears;
[yens?
And the loud blaft deftroys the growth of So fell a youth in ev'ry birtue high, [die! Who firmiy fhew'd us how the brave can
SO N N E T,

ON MISS SEWARD'S POEM,
"llangollen vale." (Secp.413.)

CAMBRIA, exuit! again a voice di, vine
[the ear Flouts on thy hills, as erit wild hymond Of Frfedom, bending from har native fhame [ipring de.sr,
To white rob'd Bards, her genuine oft-

[^51]Long her's andi Fancy's pride, but vanif'd long.
Rejoice, yo rock-fkreen'd Valleys, mute no more.
But echoing kindred energies of fong 1
That woice how iveet on Deva's hamted hore,
While fairy harps airial mufic blend!
From glen to cliff, wome on th' enchanted gale,
[iend,
Hark, in new triumph how the notes aiAwak'ning tramportin Llangeleen's Vale!
Cambria, exnlt! and long the lay retain,
Though Lichfield boalt the Mistress of the ftrain!
Repton, Aprilis. W. R. Stevens.

PASTORAL BALIAD:

BY ANNA SEWARD.

GSHARE my cottage, deareft Maid! Bencatir a mountain, wild and high.
It reftles, in a filent glade, And wve` clear currents wander by. Earh tender cure, each honeft ait, Chath chafe al future want form thee, When th: fweet lys confent impart To clin'b thefe ftespy hills with me.
Far from the city's vain parade, No foornini brow flall there be feen: No dull impertinence invade, Kor ensy bafe, nor fillen fpleen.
The hathow rocks which circle rond From florms thail guard our fylvan ecil:
And there thall ev'ry joy he found
That loves in peaceful vales to dwell.
When late the tardy fon fimali peer, And fainily gild you little fpire ; When nights are long, and frofts ferere, And our clean hearth is bright with fire; Sweet tales to read - fiweet fongs to fing O, they th-all crown the wind and rais E'en till tic foften'dfeafon bring Mery $s_{j}$ ring-time back again!
Then Hawth, rns, fow'rine in the glen, Shatl guard the watbling plumy throng; Nor boant the bury haunts of men So fuir a feene, fo fowet a fong. Thy arms the new-yean'd lamb will fhield, And to the funny the!ter bear ; While, o'er the rough and breathing field, My hands impel the gleaming thare.
Ne'er doubt our wheaten ears will rife, And full their yeliow harveft glow;
Then fie ve with me the fprightly joys That Love and Insuttry befow.
Their jucund pos'r can banim Atrife; Ifer clonds no paffing day will fee, Since all the leifure thours of life Shat ftill be fpent in pleafing thee.

LINES

422

Sclect Poeiry, Anticnt and Modern, for May, 1796.

Written and revited by the elldr C Ctain Morris, at the -thinual Mu-ting of the Subferilens to the Laicrary Foud, Beld at the Frec-inafons' Tavern. May 12, 1795.
FOfnothe the needy flo in Sorrow's hed, (Fithilh on widon, of the learnes de id, Thence: this ha mate Suciety berg.at,
Gur in of gening, and the friend of man.

One love was genis) ; and wur hav was f:̈d
Iix:d arrelieve whe\% bud ham;

Fine rn hic thalto tomet we to defeant;

lal bembur he herainlla yot hase,

That with views and : Honceiv'd we wace:
 Allprity-fin trum ou: thenges we cart; We haim bur jutton, an If ass the pait. Wiy may not lo. efom ill phat grow ?
No mernet an - yo latorated fre.
The more mathe: wints on acte fixth War,
[f.are. The mas the gencous thop flall rife to As "1 $n$ thick mith the this ctruterace hicic, [fie, And roll and haten ober the mountarn's The thapheri, confunderef tichlat mentis, Eye the rod on odvalumg to han buy '
 nife,
[he nises: Eurft through the floum, and blaze atong So whe rapt bard he toode wat jey divine, This levid Society in glony flatit:
E.n'1, whle Suppion feeks to cloud ber dä,
f. neiver the mifl of crorr plide awity; S. W. Cherity onlon beal tatus tanl, Anci Whtums ray blum de cu! fle. Ia vain complats are nowe of hater thewn

 Burgour fecthe, ine nopaltum: fion; ;
 If once [fard on rimblum near, Ahd ma'd yom gribus heats to parevac, [queth iff: Thefe fens are calmer; the bareft proAnd tears whempthy fill Pis's cye:
 Fousit by the cries of Ginim to chaters, Admine whit me: of intle weath have done,

- [ 1 n. n. And jo", to bare thofe honomer vinate Eejuce, wen, Ficus of Gume, lifentiof $m$ n, [rlan: Atken th we para $r$, and combino mio

The wave fiall kifs her fide, the zephyr play,
And theous of triumph hail her on her way!
Suary for the Annitiofluy Dinner to the Sulforithers th the Iitciary Funt:. Surg ty Mr Gadevicx. *iv.-"Tbe Sons of Linawasn." 1.

Toof ipallo, their king, it form'd Reli, con's court,
The lean rarged Nufer paferi'd a peti: That his Codhap world kaffo, when to earthishey refort, [condition.
To provide for his finers, and mend theis " 1 Whar avals atl our merit,
Talc, knowledge, or 乌piri,
If a poor barm tuirel is all we inhent?
If Forme with Dollneifs and Luvy combine
'Gain? the Sons of true Genius, and Ficnd' o. the Nime?

II.

Old Homer, youknow, in our happier days At the banquet of Greeks was regal', with gonki cineer;
Whith folat roath-he f they required his taps
Full groblets of Climan we quatr'd as hi beer.
Whan, at Rume, jolly Hiccus
Sung of Cumi:r tavil.as,
Such glory was gan'd that none dar'd $t$ attac. us: [cureblin Ant Dalinets with Ervy in vala megh 'Gainft e e soms of true Gemius, and friend of the Nine.
$1 i 1$.
"Now, ahs, in a region tome ble by on imiles, Land wrong:
In Britain, 100 w great are our hardhip
Whate der learning mfrutis, and our fan c: 'wantes, Sase tarse on that preje?s, and Bard on their tou is:
Oh hafe míkianeros fatire
Supere then whit matter;
For Licat the; ahufe, and for bread the mant #t ter.
[bini
That I'rife and H1-mature with Enve com
'Gantuce Suns of true Cenins, and Frienc of the Nine."

```
IT.
```

"Mance, yeterubivionebeldimes!" Apo! lur replies,
"With your whinios and exumblin ditturt us no home:
 Quithe vortd thll the thimmpis of Noi. rusfo he o'er.
Yitaway l'll imatr
H.uv to thive in your art;
 timi L-at: [cimbin:
That: Foblon:e with Envy no wore ma 'Ganf tie Sms at trve Gonius, and biem

Then to Bacchus，of Pocts the patron and guard，
［his compaffion ：
Went the forrowing Mads，and implor＇d ＂Affift us，＂they crieci，＂to defend the poor Band［prices of Fafhion ！＇，
From the forms of proud Wealth，and ca－ ＂My Girls，＂he reply＇d，
＂In nsy friemwip connuc；
To excite gen＇rous deeds is ay pleafure and pride．
［hine
No loazer thal！Fortune with Envy com－ ＇Gainft the Sone of true Genius，and Friends of the：Nine．＂。

FI．

Then thas he infeird akind beal band
（Whilf free os their mintls their hama－ nity fiow ：［hand，
＊s Enite，my brive fullows，lanite heart and Toraife drooping Genius，andhatiten its vores！

From this lappy der，

Ev＇zy Mufe mall difpray
Your fame in bragt colours that never de－ cay；
［bine
Nor Fortune with Duhnefs ata！Enry com－
＇Gainft the Sonsoftrue Cemias，ata Ftocts ot the Nine．＂

The Darabs，thanfo．．．．ints Welfh，in or－ der la pinit but a c．e．niteriot／－arill，to he in th－ 13 inle．
efleu craill Dimevimuti fydd $\mathrm{Hi}^{\mathrm{i}}$ phobs a delw tia wasi laf forwyebi ynefuedd ya（iydd）yr hevn tihyg a ycd

$y$ ddaid（fydd）yr liwn ac yrhorl oddi נטהע

matal

ymosengi ri $y$ ddaiar ir d．unoddodi

 מרהחת ל＇ארץ לא תתשתחוה cany，liwynt wafanothi hi as iddynt 9）ローコン」 N゙う ニール！ eidligus Duw iti Du＊Jehova wyf myfi ir phant ar tadaw pechod yo ymwedel Yy Eig ty max iny 7， gewhed laethaw pedwvydd iv ag trydydd ym cerains milned！i trufaredd yngwnudag ועשה：חסד לאלבּים לאחהבי cymmeri hi fyn orchmynia y godwant ag לשצרי בצותי：לה：תשה oferverti dy D Dinv Jelegra howiv yr litviak yo Jilura $1, i$

y Cofia of iwrli caset ci cymmero dim w．．．＋i＋y P！！$\quad$ I $11 \%$ i לינח 碞

| joxerex |  | 32 |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| ：－．1d |  |  |  | divinod |
| －2\％＂3V9 | 5 | ，17， | TH0\％ | （－3＊） |
| a | tre 11 | $\because \because$ | ddatat | \＃＇Y＇ | fotined djat a gotioyfodd ag yuddyutfyded

y i have benkithiohd pahan o herovydu

प 1ithmid folve＇th．fam a dy D．ed

icelsti lii $1 t 1$ yn rusi ly Duw אלחיך ברק לקך：לה תרגח： ddes hi latruti li rdinebi hi volo！ auwir ty m (iolaell dyeymny ciay yn wbir

: שקר

7าะ cybbiddia hi dy cymmyding ty cybbyddia hi לא תהמך ביוּ רעד לא תחמך efferwyns'i ef was a'i dy cymmydog wraig rydd a 'rgubl a wf afyo a'i efuch a'i dy cymmydes i
 $_{*}$ In the above trandation it is to be obferved that the only inta nee of a change in the order of the wor's is in a numeral (feithfed), the collocation of which is in itfelf an anomaly; and, fecondly, the verb fubtantive, which is omitted in the Tfebrew, is neceflarily mforted in the Welh; whence it feens to follow that the feraber mollt be the more antiont lansurage, it beaft by one, though probably but one, desree.

Perhaps another foecimen of the pectilim itnchure of tive Welih hingrage may not be unacceptabite to your renie:s. it is a tianza of thirty-four fyllahles, comaifbug of rowels only; which, in a language didtinguifhed other wife ly a great raicty of guttural fourds, and hardy combinatons of conionantc, muft be as curious as is is, 1 believe, fingular.

> On the Silk-wom.

O'i wive wy is.at ê
Ai veuau o' wyau e a weua
E a wella ei we aia
Ai wedalu yw ei ieuat o ia

$$
T_{i a n i f t a t i o n .}
$$

[Sprong] from las native egg he begins :o weave,
And wea.es his web from his intelincs ; He weaves his web of winter, - Ind his webs ate as bands of hoar-froth.

Literal Trarflation.

From his peculiar egg he gives to weare, And frim his esgs he weaves his webs; He weaves his win'er webs,
And his webs are yokes of icc.
P. i.

PARODIES OF SHAKSPRARE. No. XXIV.

TO thealley, hatte! baduews! badncws! ftock fall:
"Ill blows the w nd that profits nobery."
Look thou get !aid ; wy pol cics at e with you;
And thefe few manins in thy menery.

My fon, lay up:-give thy thoughes no tongue,
Nor any foolifh lib'ral thought its act.
Be thou fulpicious; and, by all means, cunning;
[try'd,
The guineas thou haft got, in fcales well Hoard in thy ftrong box, under lock and key.
Pleare not thy palate, but at entertainment Of iome new-hatch'd minfleds'd fyendtbrift; beware
Of entrance to a bond; but, being in, Tuan bankrupt : moft beware of what 8 csil'd Honour :
[doit:
Give no puor man thine ear, much lefs 'a Tuke cach man's cenfure, fo thy bargs be fafe:
Strabby thy habit as thy choice can fpy;
Some coat expos'd to fale, turn'd infide ont,
For, the apparel of befcreens the man;
And tivey o' th' city, fcriv'ners, brokers, jews,
That thrive the moft, are careful chef in Never a brrower, but a lender he,
Makin? the lom repay itfelf thrice told; For ant relt whets the edee of ufury:
This ahove ath-to thae own pelf he true: And then, as pence make fhillings, finilings peands,
Thou mut be rich in fpite of confience.
HAMLET, i. 3 .
THE Aayor's feaft rerv'd up-fie down; ${ }^{2}$ ths stee
Tocafones eyes down the luxurious table!
The finh and game that fill the midway courie,
[at bottom.
Thoogli learce and coft?; in plenty are;
Sit wes who carres the venifors, full empust'd;
Nuthink: us cut already half away :
I.e waters hover round, and change the plates.
[fide board
Nut cver aice: yon high-rang'd fplendid
Retounds with drawing corks? tha corks procham [defert
Wines ich and bight: the rich profure Canhot be prats'd too high.-I'll eat no' more, [mach
Left I grow fick; and th' o'erloaded ftoDifcharge ittelf unmannerly.

LEAR, iv. 6.
I SAW fweet Charlotte in her bridal derf,
[flowing, W:h blufies cal her cheek, and treffes Suc from her hnee, lNe fainted Mecknefs, And give her band with fuch aftection to i.m,

As if the had affam'd an angel's form 2 To ad. a sace to fenate character, And chrars the wold with true nobility.

I HENRYIV. i.
MASIEK SHALLOW.
IN.

$\left[\begin{array}{lll}{[425}\end{array}\right]$

INTELLIGENCE of IMPORTANCE from the LONDON GAZETTES.

Almiralty-Office, May 10 . Letter from Vice-Admiral Kingfinill, Commander in Chief of his Majefty's fhips and veffels at Cork, to Evan Nepean, Efq. dated L'Engageante, Cork Harbour, May 5, $179^{6}$.

Sir, I bave the pleafure to accuaint yon, for the inforniation of my Lords Commiffioners of the Adminaltv, that a French national cutter ( 1 'A beille), of 14 guns and 70 men, is juft brought in here, captured by His M, Mefty's Thip Dryad, Capt. Pulling, on Monalay laft, the Lizard bearing N. half E. 16 or ig leagues, Uthant S.S. IV. 13 leagues; the other th pr of the fquadron then in chace of a corvette, which there was every probability of their coming up with. The Dryad had before thken a large imuggling cutter, laden with firits, and fent her to Plymouth. Mr. Fairweather, one of the mates of the Diyad, who has command of the cutter L'Ateille, informs me, that fhe had only been out three days from Breft, and hasl not taken any thing. She is three years old, coppered, and appears well found, and madl be fent by the earlieft opportunity to P ly mouth.
Letter from Atmiral Sir Piter Parker, Bart. Commander in Cbief of bis Majgig's Ships ant Tcfels at Port noatb and Spithead, ts Evan Nepearl, Efq. dated Royal Willam, at Spitbead, May 7, 1796.

Sir, Pleafe to acquaint their Lordhips, that his Majefty's fono the Rather returned to Spithead this moming, with the Pichegru French privareer, of ton guns and thirty-four men, belonging to Havre, which the captured yefferiay noon off Cleerbourg, after a chace of eight hours.

Horfe Guards, May i4. Exiract of a Letter from Brigudier General Nichols, dated Port Royal, Grenada, March $23,1799^{5}$, to Lient.Gen. Sir Ralph Ahercromby, K.S.

I had the honour of writing to your Excellency on the 24 th inftant. That day $I$ got on more the detachments of the 8 th and $63 d$ regiments, with a part of the 3 d or Buffs: 1 alfo got two fix-ponnders and a five and half inch howitzer to a ridge Souih of Port Royal, and diftant ahout 1000 yards; a battery was made in the night, by the great exertions of Brevet Maj. O'Hara, of the 3 sth regiment, fo that by daylight it opened upon the enemy's reduabt. We faw the howitzer difconcert them very much; but, as it was our object to clofe with them as foon as poffibie, I hud determined to ge: on the fame ridge with them, or, if I faw an opening, to sitempt the redoubt by afiault : for this purpote I thought it neceffary to try to diflodge fome ftrong parties of the enemy, which we law pofted on the leights on our left, as if intended to turn or diftrefs that flak. I acsurdingly detached a ftrong laack corps, Gent. Mac. May, 1796 .
with 50 of the 88 th reginent, the whinle under Maj. Houfton; owing to t:e difficalty of the ground, it was near two heurs before they could get near t'e enemy, when a heavy but ditt:nt fire con menced on both fides. I had previounly coacerted with him, that, in cafe of attaining a particular $P^{\prime}$ int, which would have covered our aplunach to Port Royal, he was to make a fignal, on which the light company of the Buffs, the detachments of the 8 th and $63 d$ regimente, under the command of Lieut.-Col. Dowfon, were to alvance, while the part of the battalion of the Buffs that had landed were to form a referve, the whole under Brig.-Gen. Campbell; but, fo tar from difloiging the enemy, I faw with regret our black corps and the 88 th regiment retiring, Maj. Houtton having tried, without fuecefs, to accomplifh the object he was fent on: this obliged rie to detach the 8 th regiment to fluppert them, which it did effectually. At this moment an alarming fire broke out in our rear, near the place where all the fores we had landed were depofited; hut by the exertions of our people, under the orders of Lieut.-Cch. Dyott, they were all preferved. In the midf of thefe untoward circumitances we heard a firing from our fhins of wir that lay at anchor, and were foon informed it was at two Fiench fchoones that were making into Marquis; the trath of this was foon confirmed, for we faw them enter and anchor. I had one of the fix: pounders turned on them, as they were well wathin rach; but unluckily ve never ftruck them. The fituation of affurs was now fo critical that an inftant was not to be loft. I accorỏingly directed Brig.-Gen, Carppell to proceed to the affatt, and I hrought up every thing in my power to fupport him: he therefore advanced with only the Buffs and $G_{3} d$ regiment, the 8 th having, as 1 before itated, been tetached on another fervice. I ordered up half of the 20 th regiment to roplace them, and half of the gth alfor to altift if neceffary; bert the 2 gth, thit I had to brise from Grand Bracolet, though they came as fiom as pofible, did not jon. lum till after the Buffs had met with a check, from the advantage the enemy had of the ground, and from a very galling fire to which they were expofed; they however foon formed again under the cover of a hedge, and being then joined by the 2 g 山l regimenta under Capt. Clavy, Brig.-Gen. Campbell ordered the whole t a mb uce to the afantr, which they dut in the most determined manwer, lod hy the briodder himfelf Itey foon ganed the top of the rudge: the enemy then ran towards their redoubrs, and were followed by onc people, who fciarabled in at the embrafuses, Cpho Clavy, of the $29^{\text {th }}$ regment, being the firf that entered. The enemy then flew in the utmoft terror in all directions, fome throwing themfelves down precipices, whilft others tried to efcape down the hill, through brufe and other wood; but the:e was fo heavy a fire kept on them from the sop by our people, that they were forced so try to efcape along a bottom, where the detachment of light dragoons, under Capt. Black, and the St. George's Troop of Light Cavalry, under Capt. M. Burney (that had previoully been form d under the hill to profit of any occufion that offered), feeing the enemy flying, whed on them through a file of glape from the French fchooner, and cut down every man they faw, fo that very few, if any, efcaped that had been in Port Roy.1. That polt was chieny garrifoned, as 1 hear from the few prifoners we have taken, by the Sans Culote companies from Guadiloupe. We have to rearet the lofs of fome gallan $t \mathrm{mcn}$, and of two officers, Maj. Edwards and Lieut. Williams of the 3d, who fell, leading their men on moft fpiritedly. Col. Dawfon, at the head of the 3 , was wounded through the neck, hefore they got to the boitom of Port Royal Hill. Maj. Bailie, of the 6zd regiment, was then next in command to Brig.-Gen. Camphell, whofe conduct the general reports to be fteady, collected, and officer-like. The command of the $3^{d}$ devolved on Capt. Blunt, whofe light company, as leading the firft attack, fuffered feverely. Both hirn, as oldeft captain, and Lieut. Gardner, I beg leave to recommend to your Exccliency's notice and favour. We have taken but fix prifoners; among thean are the tecond and third in command to Mr. Joffey, who sommands the people that came from Guacaloupe. Our fucce?s at Port Roy. 1 has been followed by the cvacuation of Pilut Hill by the enemy.

Almi aity-Office, May 14. Letter from Admiral Sir John Lafisey, Bart. Commander in Cheef of his Majelty's finps and eeffels at the Leewert Mlands, to Evan Nepean, Efq. dated Majeftc, Marchig.

La Pique and the Charon have fent bere a privateer brig of for rion guns and ninety men, Lakea to the windivard of B.abadoes: and $I$ have inteliigence that Copt. Vangian, in the Alerm, with cae of the dions of war, has taken and deftroyed three priWateers in the Guph of i'aria, and retaken ieur of their captores. Since iny luterer of the rizin of Jannary, a fouth thip, un$\cdots$ Daik chinurso las been $t \cdot k=1$, atwerpting to convey Fuench poozle from - avee de Groce into Guadaloupe.

Sup Ni.eit, to Ji an Nesoun, Ifo watcal

- Thid.ins, April I", rigo.

1 .äe in request you will be pieafed to asquatio bic Gords Cemmidivaters of the Admiralty with my arrival at this ifland in the late national corvette La Fayourite, a prize to his Majeity's hip Alfred; which corvette was captured on the th $^{\text {th }}$ of March lart, with two merchant-thips that the had taken the morning previons, a part of Admiral Cornwallis's convoy.

Letter from Vice-Atmiral Kinggmill, Commander in Cbief of bis Majefty's sbips and $V$ effels at Cork, to Mr. Nepeat, May 9.
Pleafe to inform my Lords Commis. fioners of the Admuatity, that another French national cutter, La Cigne, of 14 guns and 60 men, clmker-built. is juft brought in here: the had been out nine days from the Ife of Bas, but had not taken any thing when the foll in with and was captured by his Majelly's fhip Dors, having the hazard floop in company, on the $7^{\text {th }}$ infl. after a chace of twenty-four hours, Scilly bearing S. E. diftant eight leagues. This prize parted from the Doris, off Cape Clear, at one P.M. yefterday, and thall be fent along with L'Abeitle to England.

Adniralty-Office, May 17. A letter from Vice-Admiral Colpoys, dated on-board His Majefty's thip London, at Spithead, May 14. to Mr. Nepean.

1 herewith tranfmit you, for the infor. mation of my Lords Commiffoners of the Admiralty, copies of two letters receivec from Capt Foote of His Mijjefty's thip Niger, giving me an account of his proceedings at different times 1 detached him in Chore on the coaft of France.

Niger, near the Pinmarks, April 27
Sir, 1 have the honour to inform you that, from the time 1 made the fignat o the chace being an enemy's cruizer, I con tinued working towands her. By fuife our fhot reached her; and fhortly after the figual being made for three fathoms, anchored within half-cable's length of rock (moft of which was cosered at higl water), and a mile from the main land; fpring was got upon the cable, and a con ftant firing kept up till near nine o'clock when I fent Mellirs. Long and Thompfor the firft and third lievtenants, Mr. Mor gan, matter's mate, and Mr. Patton, mid shipman, in the barge and cutters, wit their crews and fix manes, giving direc tions to Lieut. Long to fet fire to the vel fel, if he could not hing her off. At ha palt ten the boals returncd, with the fe cond captain, a midhhyman, and twenty fix men, havins fo ettectually performe this fervice, that, at cuenty mimutes pas twel-e, the biew up. It was with gre: difticuly they got along-fide the enems the the liaving ebbed couffiderably; an they experienced a yery obitinate tefit ance, the greatet part of her crew havin remaned on-board, feverad of whom lo their lives. She proved a corvette, ligget rigged, called L'Ecureil, monnting 18 fou: pounders, ๓ommanded by Monf. Rousfeal havit

1796]. Inter ffing Intelligence from the London Gazettee.

having 105 men on-board.-She was coppered, and had ouly been lamelied two years. Signet, E.J. FOOTE. Sir, Niger, at Sea, May 1, 1795. In compliance with the orders which I I had the honour to receive from you on the 4 th inftant, 1 ftood for the French coant, and by feven o'clock the next morning fetched clofe-in with the Eaftern part of the Ifle D:eu, where I difcovered, and immediately gave chace to and ran on nore, a French fichoner and a floop. The fchooner was completely bilged; the flow, laders with wine and brandy, was brought off and taken intow ; but in a thort time the hecame fo water-legged, that I fcuttled her. Letter from Alinisal Pevton, Coimmander in Cbiuf of bis Majehy's Sbips in the Dowons, to Mr. Nepean, May ${ }_{15}, 1796$.
Sir, You will he pleafed to acquaint their Lordhip), that the Fora armed cutter, Lient. Reddy, is ju!t retarnal here from lookug into Durkirk, and has brought in with him L'Epervier French lugger, mounting 2 twonounters and 6 fwels, wath 26 men, whish he captured clofe in weth Dunkitk. Sie faited fom Havre de Grace on the soh midant, and had not taken any thing.

Extraci of a Leterer fiom Ciapt. Catyky, of bis Mujefin's Sbip Inuinceble, to Mr. Nepean, Secretary to the - -ilmivalty, dated Sea, the the 14th of Aptil, 1796, lut. 35. 23. N. long. 18.16. W.
Ots the it ment. in hat. $37.31 . \mathrm{N}$. long. 33. 2. W. we captured the Alexam er, French prowater, f :o guns, and fixtyfix me ${ }^{1}$, commanded by Monf. Petre Edite, betionging to Nantz, out ten days; had captured the S'gniot Montcala, from Lifbon, bound $t$, the Brazils, which thip was alfo reca tures. The convoy being fo nesr Maseic.s, I thought it proper to fend the Alicore thete with the recaptored velfel, whth ureers to endeavour to join the convoy again as foon as potible. The privateer I thall carry with me to the Weft indies.
Extiact of a Letter fiom Aldam Duncan, Fffl. Aimiral of the Blue, and Commanter th Cbia of bis Majefly's foips anhl velfels in the Nortb Sea, to Mr. Nepean, Sicretary to the diomiaty, dated Veneralle, at Sea, May 15, 1796. Al: roon, Texel, S.E. by E. aiffance 15 leuguee.
Be pleafed to acyuaint the Lords Commitfioners of the Admiralty, that, on tie 12 th inftant, at day-light, (the Texel their it ring N.W. by W. ditance about 8 leagues), I difcovered a frigate and brig ftanting in to the fleet, makna the privite figen fo freak with me: they proved to be his Majefty's thip Peytata and Sjlph noop, whom I bad criderel to cruize oif the Nize of Noruay. Capt. Donsliy came on-board, and informed me, that in confequence of the information he had received on the 8 th inflaut, of the Dutch frigate Argo ind three national brigs having left Flickerse the day hefore, bound to the Texel, he proceeded off the Jutland coatt, and on the morning of the gth got fight of them. He kept near them all the day, but loft fight of them about 10 o'clock that night ; and, judging it proper to make me acguainted therewith, directed Cap. White of the Sylph, to fteer a different conrfe $t$, himfelf, in order to fall in with me, and luckily they both joined. H2ving coofulted wit') Capt. Donnelly, and found they conk not be many leagues from us, I immedately difpatched Capt. Halfted of the Phoenix, together with the Leopard, Pegafas, and Syiph, to proceed to the Northward of the Texel, and frread the reft of the fquadron. All the fhips had juft made fail about 5 o'clock, when the figual was made for feeing the Dutch frigate =nu brigs. Made the fignal for a generat chace, it then blowing ftrong at W. N. W. with very hazy weather, At a latle hefore 9 o'dock the Phceais got up up with the Dutch frigate Argo, mounting $3^{5}$ guns, and manne.l with 237 men , and, after a very imatt action of about half an lour (durng which time the made every effont to get oft), hee ftruck to the Phomix's fuperior fire; for the particulars of which muft beg leave to refer their Lordhips to Capt. Halled's letter berewith inclofed, who, I inave the pleafure to fay, has on this and every "ther occation, whilft under my command, thewn himfelf to be a moft alive, zealous, and excellent officer.

We continued in chace of the brigs, leaving the Powerfol to affin Capt. Halfed in flifting the prifoners, &c. At to o'clock we faw the Leander and Pegafus near two of the hrigy (which I hate fince found to be the Ecio of 18 guns, and the De Gier of 14 guns); but it was fohazy and blowing fo hard, we foon loit fight of them; however, by the inclofed let'. 1 receised from Capt. Donnely, their Lordhaps will be informed they were both run on more near Bafch, atonat ten leagues to the Eaftward of the Texel.

The Leander, 1 fiod, ftond fon near the fhore as the could with fafety, and faw one of the brigs'aground; and, from the report of the m ter of one of the cutters if fent in hore, affer, find one of them was completely loft; the other had heat over a tho 1, and got to an anchor, but, as it blew a perfect iturm the next $d$ y on thore, have reaton to believe the is lota alfo.

We food after the ether brig, and a 1, te before eleven the ftruck to the Sylph; the proves to be the Mercury of 16 gims (a.1 of which, except two, he had thrown overboar! during the chacel, and manned with 85 men . We then found ourfelves far to the extwaid, with the wind on Shore, which ohliged us to tany a prefs bf tail, and in the night came to blow a very hard gale of wind, which continued the rhale of the nex' day; and the day following being muce moderate, wis rejoined by the Powerfu', Phomix and Brilliant, 'ogether with the Futch. frigate and the Duke of Yurk bye bort from Yarmouth to H.mburg, which bad heen capured by the Argo the day hefise, and retaken by the Fremix on the 12th. The frgate is in exceilent cordition, and in a few days might be got reaiy for fea, and made a complete craizer. Amaduncon. Pegafas, Tcxel, S: S W. dyjunt 20 licagucs, Aluy 12, 1796.

Sir, I tave the bomour to inform you, hat two of the Dutci bries which we cla cad this moming gat clo e-1: with the ind ahent Be'ch, on tle ceant of Frizeland, and, finding 1 y our outf ing them ant they hast no othat me ns of etape, imn an there clofe to as; wre of thm finated off, bat the afterwads wok the gromi, and having tenched it curtelves. wo formed it necellury to ftad off, le viny ben with fign - of d'tu in ther tore tup-matit Ahronci, wh' firg gins.

We fer utd lave endavomed to get beluee. them ind ti e imon, but could not hou! 'f ficienticy un, without sulthing a gre:t deal of fal, which whuld a ave been tic reans of of: "th then fore-reach npon wis fors to g.taw y. Ny m tive for gr-hous affern thas: teall fufficinitly near to havacentined ir.

As $\mathrm{j}^{-}$whon ave tikeal fome time to work $u$, to yuti. L jud, at at puatent to preced is 'hifluice of the former orders you gave me, which flope all met your reprobition Ross Donnelly.

P S. We inige the hrige to have been the Eclional Gicr.

Sir, Maaria, at Sia, Míy $15,1796$. I has: the plafure t. inform jov, that a the 12 t ': mfiant we fiw five fat on the lee brw in the s. S. y ator, ums a wind ot the thabord the, whinh we mane out to be a frigute, three arm d brige, wid a cutter. I monctiatel: mode dais, a:! (oun dif.uveted +em in be eremiter; at the fanse tine tiot. P'egafur or whe plotigta! for fuch to jow. $\mathrm{U}_{\text {ion }}$ ory war arpate the trins bur ur and mas fail 'h. PeE.f.ws and syiph foll": ed then who wiow in chace with me, the ridese a, patent] ${ }_{j}$ undeten nar-d whether oo go jarge or kop hy the wind, or the fien chargel her pofition durng the ciace, bue at lenget keyt with the wind . bean. Quarter pat ergit A. $\quad$. being lote on in $r$ weathe: quarter, the haitted Lutco cotors ; upon which 1 mumut atte:, we were clofe alone: fide her to vindward, when a imart adtion commenced on both fides, which lafted about twenty minutes, when the Dutch frigate Argn, of $3^{6}$ guns and 237 men, fruck to his Majefty's mip Phœenix, under my command.

It iswith infinite pleafure I affure you of the very fteady and cool behaviour of the officers and fhip's company I have the honor to command, it being fuch as to merit e:cisy thing I can fay in their praife.

1 beg leaveto recommend in the ffronge manner, though yon, to their Lordihips, Mir. J fep:ly Wood, firfe hentenant, who, from hing experience and Readv officer1. We comduct, is linghty deferving the er moft paticular attentions. Our lofs comfins of otae man killed, and thee wounded; that of the enemy bx killed and twenty-eight normimed iome of them danerowfy.

The fais, fanding and run m; rigging, received tome damage, as did the enems's, 'ut not of to mach confequence but was toon pat to tights. The frigate and brigs were fiom Norway bound to the Texel; the cutter whach we retook is the Duke of Yiork paciect, from Yarmouth to the Llbe, taken by the $m$ the slay before.
L. W. Halsted.

Wibitekall, May 21, ro6. A letter, of which the following is an extract, has been rectivat ly his Grace the Duke of Portland, one of his Majefly's principal ferretaries of of Aute, fiom Major-General Ernl of Baleivas, lithed Jamaca, March 26, 1796.
Ihave the fanfaction to mform your Gisce of IIs ter mination of the Maroon war.

Thity-fix Trelawn, Maroons, and all the run-away hegroes wha had joined them in rehelliur, furrencured therearms. on the 1-thand. aft of March.

The Matoons to, windwad, who had foren a moft rafiatory and difobedient fpirit unce the commencement of the rebellion, are made their fu'maifter, and on their rineve, in the perence of Commirfimors, laye fwom allugance to his Majony. I Raw, by the packet, inciofe the Comminhn, atd the return apon it.

The molt perfed memal anquility is re ored to the in nd. The naves on every plamation a.ce obchent, conter ted, and happy: Our operations gande the rebels hase been carried on with untemituing vigas. In fallowing the er emy into their Hニh recefies, the romps la ave thdergone faUg emardy :o he veditel: The laft column Which nan adanant them vere five days whout piee is on of water, except what they found in the wild pines. The rebels, worn out with fatigue, centirnally harafed and ' urhed m every new fettlement, have been conquered in a comat y where no Enropean in adever thonghtof penetrating. The ven for tumate clofe of this war is to be afcr bed to the activity and geod conduat of Maj.-Gen. Wapole ; and 1 molt humbly recomanend him to his M1,jefty's favour.

1796.] Interefing Intelligence from toc Continent, Eaft Indies, छf. 429

FOREIGN NEWS.

Letters. fiom Smyna unfortunately advife us of the configration of 4000 watehoufes, eatirely belonging to Ottoman merchants, the value of which is efimated at four millions of pinftes.

Rcucn, April 19 . Sir Sidney Smith was fent to aho. ufentarreltat Sc. Lo. vielf.Wide and Bromles accompanied Sir Sidney. They were guarded by a party of gens-d'armes. Wence, in compliance with the requifition of France, has ordered Irom its territories the unfortunate Luas XVIII. who, like a pertilence, is avorted, $\mathrm{c}: \mathrm{n}$ b: the potentutes of his own houfe. Fofteri'v will doubt the lifterians who r-lute this extroorlinary c:anforice.

From the be it-puaters of the army of the Prinee of Comee at Riegat, the $2 \mathrm{~g}^{\text {th }}$ of April. The Kus attended n'y by "ome d'Avaly, Captain of his Body Gaards, mi Vifcount d'Agotit, an efficer in the iame corps, took his route from Verona to our army by Monnt. St. Godard, th) the might the founer be out of the territory of that republic which in fo rude a manner had intimated to lime the order to depatt, without his having been prepared for (h): event by any previous hint or peliminary ftep. His journty acms a ciantry covered with ice and foow, now in a carriage, ther on a Hedge or on hor feback, latted feven days.

The Duke of Flenry, "ho arreen $3^{6}$ hours befo:e him, anomacel to the Prince of Condé his Majetly's nowr arival; and that prance communcated this intellizence to Meff. Crawfurd a d Wickiam, the Britifh envoys, to whem it wat quite unexpectect. The King, on aligliting from his carriage, threw hispelf intur the arms of the Dake de Berry, his nephew, and then em. brace:t the Prince of Condé. - "I flate:ed myfulf," taid he to the later, "to brins you the fourd of Heny IV. not thinking myfelf yet vorthy to wear it on my fule." In the evening of the 28 th , the day of his arrival, the King ondered the following note to he inferted in the general orders, and feat to all the diffoput cautomments. "Imperious circumftalles had hat to vong detained us far trom you, wher an inf it, as unforefeen as favomable to our wifues, leaves us no o:her afytum tut that of honour, from which nothing con debar us. The fenate of Cenice having notited to us its refolution, $\mathrm{t}_{\text {that }}$, widhia the flouteft poffible time, we fhom quir the dominions of the republic, we returned the following anfwer to :hate metlage, no lefs injurious to the honour of the freuch mane than it is to our own poifon: 'I will so, but nader twn comedims: r. L.Et tee Emblen book be riought mr, in : wheh the names of my family are wifuribe?, that 1 may Atrike mire on: with ay own hand. 2. Let tiee-am or the whliverea to me, which my ancellor, hiong! prioned to the republic, as a token of friendfip.' We are now come to rejoin the white banners near the hero who commands you, hoping that our arrival fhall afford you a new claim to that generous fupport you have hitherto received from their -mperial and Eritannic Majefties. We entertain no dontt but that our prefence, as well as your valour, will ace ferate the moment which is to put an enc to the mi fortunes of France, by fhewing to our detuder fubjeEts, who are filli in arms againit us, the wide difference bet" sen their i refont fate, under tyrants who oppref then, and that of clikeren who darromit a kind tather."
The tews of the King's arrivai no fooner reached the different cantunments that our mithary flucked round his p rfon from every quarter, win an enthufafm whelist is dificule to exprefs. Hi Majeffy corveried dith every officer, who, fiti. : whe begiming of l e levolation, difthensel hamf If either by his $z$ ab or action', an I nentioneri the anculotes concerning them whth a much precifion as if they had always buea with him. The air ref uncen" with contam fonts of "Long live the King!", and the tears of fympathy and :a R ain alfteneu in every tye.

A Tray of r aie betwern $1,=F_{1: 0}=6$ Repati sma the King of safmia was frened at Patis un the $17^{\text {th }}$ inf. o conditions highly altantageons to ihe Remuhlicans. It is un'erifool, that las Sardiciun Mreity cedes, te $\mathrm{t}^{\prime}$ - Fren - , Sav y an rite cuinty of Nice; refile rion efii ? of feveral fontwefe: as l. ng as the wa"laft. The robke de Parme hi. Lfo chetluded a foppenfor of arms with Gent Bua pate; in virtue of which has dominion, are to be conifi' red as nearal provi con, is confider tion of very licary conmbutas he has grated to the co querors.

East-Indi News.

The new Nabot of treot his theun a difofition to conteft be anterity of the Enghth; but Lond Hobst took a fpeely and secided couift ; nd fule him to muiscriand, that he exated him to theman lhe relations that has folaypily fibbited beween his father and the Company with regut.arit, and as a teat of thes, demanded $t^{t}$ at he fowle sarder is sto $p$ th k ep within the lumes which they land formuly oceupied; and hete vas wo thont ho: thes

The King of Condy h.s entwed irto a theary of commerce with the Comirajo.

West lyta Nrws.
Farbates, Narch 13. Butween fixty and ferenty fhap.....fitin; if travipots, veluathrs, fitrelinf, and werchmonen, prot of the io sexper d Aleet from EngLund, areat hugth, atived, having : abcard neatly 7000 troop: A body of 4000 men, rangers and royalifs，were before col－ lected in this ifland；fo that no：only the apprehenfion of an invafion has vanmed， but fomething efficient may be done on the arrival of General Ahercrombie，till which event nothing is to be undertaken． Eight hundred men funt to Sr．Vincent，have given fafety to that inand，although the enemy are in poffeftion of the Vigie，and the comntry to winduard of it ；the lee－ ward pert is untonched ：and we kinow of no farthas damage than has been done to the buildings on the eftates ince in pof－ feffion of the eneny．Generat homer has requefted 1000 men to be land dat Owin， which would complete the hufinefs：he bas been the faving of the illand．On the Ift of March，it was feared at Gienda， that the Pido：H ll，near La Bay，cont：not hold out many hours；bur we troit th $t$ yon men，font the their wef．and which pro－ bable lande＇on the monnmg ne the $\cdots$ ， have relieved that hrave garif a trom the apprehentled da ser．

COUY Ki NET：

Avil6．Then v charct ai Mrortbamo mayor，was nor？af the to ut of the b：ägt contgratul，rhons of the townimnn ot the re－ and the feraty ans？protection ath rled to the pons．

Aprilzt This evenins Mr．Whliom Badcock，a vefoedfahle f．rm ir of Shew－
 Ahingdim，retwining in a we－ling fe chafe with his whe tom $A$ woth，u heve they had been atieneing the fineral of Nirs B．alcock＇s nuotien，the luotie iank fintit on the radi to Faringlon，near Paiey Furze，and rat away wit＇tle corriac， Wheri，the rems and fhatit both Dactoking， Mis．and Mirs．T\％，were thrown cut wirt． fach vadence as to ocafaon the dratio of the former imroetintely，and his a ific itu－ voved ham a few hewirs onity．They hove left

Apriz 2 x．Whilit a poog woman at＂bot－ diy was removin；the aftes from her over， wome of tie embers blew upon tioeth itched Foof of the houle，wisch inftantly sook fine，and un her eageancis to ind fone far furnoture and fittle all，afinicd ty ter child，a bry about thace yenrs old，they fo frequently perfevered in their att：raz＇s， th：at lensth the rouf fell in，ans wnisitio pily both if them perifined in the names．
－Ifr！$\geq$ g．This n＇ght Mr．Jafepl，Wyate， a refpect sble young man of Cookbam， 1 c w Mrailenhesd，Berke，was unfor：unat ly droan ned at the Ferry－place，whillt unden－ Fontung to crots it with lis ctothes on．He bad been to a viltage on the o：her fide of the river，to fix las wedding－day at the a！p－ proaching Whitfuntide ；and，having Eopped rather too late，would not wait for the ferrman＇s getting up th fet him over．

Nereport Pagnd，April 26．The Atables at Latbbury Inn，with fixteen horfes，have been hirnt by ans accidental fire．

Aipril 27．Mr，fohn Beckets，parifh clerk of $I / f y$ ，when returning from $a$ fu． neral，fell into the river from the corne！ of a narrow wooden bridge adjoining a pa－ per－nill at the Wires，near this city，atid from tlee rapidity of the frean，was cat． ried under ：lie mill－wheet，which fo dread． fully lacerated his lued，that he was killec in as irfiant．

A＇priv27．Between one and iwo o＇clock a fire broke out at the drwellinis houfe o Mrs．Pe 1，st＂ipooic，$x$ hich confumed ： part of the fonse，together with pist of the aljoning honfe helonging to Mr．Hinwell hut it was extmsuifhed ：n ahout ton hotir ty the timely exsrivins of the neiohocurs 1 is fuppofed，tias．lish acciucnt viat acca fionedty the ione on the chimore taking fire
 Jiefury sha Phitornuhc！！S chety of Man cht＊et，hrmillouje mentem n wereelect ed ortics－fun theriform yen ；pefident Tlone．e fercival，Mi．D．F．R＇S．udS A．
 White，Eiq．F．iz．S．Mr．Thons Henty F．R S．Rev．y 小n R idcl．ff，A．N．；fè crerames，S．A．Bardlaty，Si．万．Edwat子ntinie，A．O．；lis．alian，Nir．Whllian Henry；treafurer．Nathatier itcywiod Fic．；crmomtte uf prpes，Ni．W Ian Smomons，Mr．F hin $D$ iton，Gomoe 1 loyd Efc．Mr．Geotge Ihlhpe，犬 bert James Eff．Mir．Fifom：s Ratir．

Nfay i．Tis bivy a $\beta$ orm of thoud was remarc．wiy＇rem nodeuc in the wh leer part of Suffus．At Pichouough a har＇i wa fer on fire $b, y$ tla l：gitmans，and entirel confunied．Luckiy it contained only reves quarters of ous．in the weighourheod c the ahowe place，the peas in the ficlds wer confider：biy mimed ty a heavy fall of hail whoh accompanied the tl under．

Northampt＊ot，NTo 7 ，The following Quewfal actient hoppened a fow day fince to Mit．J．Rubinfor，have－breaked in Priehonsugh：h．ving a young colt in trations，the an＇man hegan on a fuddent plonne，by whach menns the rider wa thatoin fown lis fe．＇t witl fuch violence as ta feparate the who fiom lhe back－bunc The unfiotorate nuan is ittended by an eminent fixgeon，and there are hopes of hi recory iv．

A iew＇ays an，as a groom was combiny 3 race－lumf in the neighbourtood of Be． Toricy，in lorkmire，the animal becamu f．）irritated as to catch hal of the man＇ fr．${ }^{1}$ e with his teeth，and tear ansy the fleft in fo thecking a mannar $r$ ，as ta render his howels and entails rifthl．The poor fel luws e recovery is matich defpirired of．

2;96.] HISTORICAL CHRONICLE. 43?

May 19. The triennial Eton feftival was celebrated with great fplendur. Their Majefties and the Princeffes, accompanied by the Prince of Wales, went to the College at half pat one, when the proctifion of the youts gondemen beg.an, preceited by the Prince of Wale:'s hand of mufic. Their capain, Mr. Whitfied d, being the fenior fichalar, led the van, with therr ferjeants, [r-rjeants-major, cumbels, corporals, enfign, hentenaut, polemen, muflazas, Sc. Mel'rs. Polehaapton and Hahfax, with twelve fervitors, acted as folt-hearers. and, by their togal depredation: on the public, gained a liberal fupply towards fendag their captain into the world with a good grace. When they came to Salthill they were met by the Kug and lrince of Wales in horfeback, attended by General Gwyn and Colonels Garth and Greville; her Majeity and the princefles, with Lady Harcingtou and her fon, were in the Royal coaches. The King took on himfelf the ordering and marthalling the multude m fuch a manner as the procefion might pafs free'y round the carriages of the royal family ; many, howeser, notwithtanding, prefled fo clofe, that his Majefty was obliged to call them to order, and afked thofe he thought were Londoners, " if they were members of Eton, as he could not recornize their perfons fuficiontly to recmlent them." At the chaid of the procelfiom, Eufign Hacha went (1) the top of the hill, and difplayed the litg in a very mafterly fyle, to the faristathon of every perfon prefent. When the Monten was over, the King requelted, that on their return home from the Windmill 1 nn, where $2 n$ elogant dither was prowded, they might appear on Whwif r Terrace, which they did in the evenung. The royal family, after having given their ufoal donation', returned to the lodge to dimer. Among the nobinty who attonde', were the Aarguis of Sthkury, Lord Paulett and family, Lord Grmadfon, Sir Cecil Buhop and L wyy, Sir Genrge and Lady Warren, S r Jom Borlace Warren, and Sir I In Lade. The namenets of the diay afos dicw an inamenfe cone narfe of porfons on foot and horfeback to iew the fight, whichatended, according to Mi. Wallfux the Stil' e tret's account, in bens alked the question by his Migenty, a ver. puefitaren hereft.

Birmingtum, Nay 16. Da the morning of Friday the izth of this monith, the Peak Hills in Derby hire were covered with fnow near four inches deep, the contraft between whinh, and the gieen tion a fruit trees in full blom, frinich a feectacle woyel and ftrikins.

There bas tately been difcoverad at if\% lingfort, sh old paincti.g, ion ock, of ous Lod's laft cutrance nito Jeruntem, whe's ha: becn uled as a chimene-hond, and was sear baing thrown into the fre ; bu: turns out an orizinal of the great Rapiael's. The drawing, expelfion, and arrangement, aftonim all who $h$ ve feen the picture. Connolteurs far and rear are ghing to its owner continually to held ld this fine piece, $r$ foned by accilent foun dofow ity and the flames, and likely to prodwe no mandideravle fun iby its cale. sever.a hundred ponms have alicaty teen ufiered $f$ it and refack.

Two brothers wore Ixely drowned at Tiffury, in Wibih't, in the fhowing manuer: they were the foms of a poor man of the name of Oohury, in Tub ary, and one of thom had been confined fome tine o.r account of his hemg dfimdered in his fonfes: the father at Jength thinking him better, fet him at labert/, when lie ran out of the hoofe, and wew himiels into the river Nader, which runs neat it. The father, jumping in to fave has fom, was nar drowning; when hi- other fine, a young man aged 22, ran to his fathet's anift nece, bur, jempuns in too pieciptately, was the firt drowned. Two men at a diftance fave the tranfation, and came to the for jult in ume to fave the faiber, who was with difficulty prevented jumping in again to thare the fate of his two fons.

Arrived at Plymoutb the Milford Eat Inda fh'p, with a cargo of rice. In confequence of the india thips beinz many of them employed by goverament at inone, infructans were fent to the different governments in india to take up tonnage in India, and brins home carzoes; and, anungts o:her circumftances, feveral fhips wore takean up to bring hame graik, \& E. which would appear wonderful that the carriage from to great a cifance Gou'd anivet: The Milford is the firt mip difpatetad on the adventure. The $i^{\prime}$ len, whach fillow, was romerty the Atenasor, commaded by Mo. Davi! Sont, when in the m. rohant ferice in india, upwathis of nweny yoars ago, a proof bow loug thips hutit in India tadt; and a mater for hom, now se refontative of formatare, to thentom whis phace in the Houfe of Comam, ichearns permifo panj’s iernct.

DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.  Satardgy, Ap:l $=3$.

This heing st. (George'z diy, the Society of Antiguaries mot at theit apartnonts un Somitet ihace, it purfance of their iatutes and chater if incouporation, to Heat a prefiden, twoit, and wficers of the fociot, for the ye = mif...t: whereupon, Gerge Eatici Leicot r; Themas A:tn, Eig. Joha Brac., A. M. O Non So 1wbury Lretoton, Efg. S. Hemy Cambs Endefidi, Burt. Richend Gough, Eif. Ankiny Hamiton, D. D jum, Lord Jofeph Windham, Efq. and Thomas William Wrighte, A, M. eleven of the old council, were rechofen of the new council. And Frederick Barnard, Efq. Sir George Beaumont, Bart. James Bindley, Efq. William Bray, Efq. Jonathan Davics, D.D. Thmmas Lord Dundas; Rohert Hallifas, M. D. Francis Marquis of Hertfort; the Hon. John Peachey ; and Charles Townfherd, Efy. ten of the other merabers of the fociety, were chofen of the new council. And George Earl of Leicefter was re-ckeced Prefident; John Topham, Efq. Treaturer ; Richard Gongh, Elq. Director; Thomas William Wrighte, A.M. Secretary ; and John Brand, A. M. Secretary. The Society afterwards dined together at the Crown and Anchor Tavern.

Monday, APril 25 .

This night the counting-houfe of Mr . Mingay of Smithfield (who in the interim was fpeaking to a friend in the back room on the fanse floor) was broke open, and a bat of gold, contaiming 1200 guineas, which had been placed in readinefs to fend to his bankers in the morning, was taken clear eff.

Sutiorday, A'pil 30.

In confequence of a publication addreffed by Lerl Malven to the inhabitants of the borough of Leominfter, the Duke of Norfoll, accompanied by Capt. Wombwell, of the Firft Wef York Regiment of Militia, and Lord Maden, accompanied by Capt. Taylor, Aid cie Camp to his Royal Highnes the Duke of York, met on Saturday crening in a field heyond Paddington. The parties having taken their ground, and the word heing given by one of the feconds, they fired without effect. The feconds then thought proper to ofter their interference, an ', in confegur nce $c_{i}^{〔}$ a conserfation which raffed while the parties were on the ground, a reconcliation was - fíceted.

$$
\text { Weinglay, May } 4
$$

This morning, about two o clock, a fire brake out in the houfe of Mr. Pott, prochor, in Dectors Commons; which entirely confumed the fame, and damaged the adjoining houfes of Mr. Silk and the Rev. Mr. Li. © , but did no farther miury.

Friacy, Mav ó.

This day a fumpurnis cotertanment was given by the wirthiriul Company of Goldfartho to the Right Hon. Earl Howe, Adminal of the Fleet, and General of Marines, on the fircedom of the City of London boing prefented io him. Oar readers witl be grar fled with the porufal of the following handiome complimentary fpeech of Mr. Chamberthin Filks on this accafon to the firt a wat chamater of the combly ; and with the neat reply made upon the orc: fim by the cavie paton on wiom it was sdidecticd:
"My Lord,
" I give you joy; and, in the name of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons, of the City of London, in Common Council affembled, defire to congratulate your Lordfhip on the hrilliant and decifive victory of the Britifh fleet, under your command, in the ever-nemorable months of May and June, 1794, a proud epoch in the hiftory of our ghorious naval exploits
"The naval fuperiority, fo etfential to the fafety, honour, and dignity, of our inland, has been fully eftablifhed, and, we hope, laftingly fecured, wnder your Lordfin's aupices. The navy has always been confidcred as our firlt and firmeft bulwark; and the fame undaunted fpirtt, which has, under the command of the Admiral of the Fleet, gained fuch fignal conquefts over a proud, infulting foe, will, we are affired, continue to acguire frem laurels, and preferve to England the homage of old Ocean.
"My Lord, it is impoffible, on the prefent nccafion, not to dwell with heart-felt fatisfaction on the generous franknefs and zeal, with which your Lordthin las called firth the conduct and valour of the partners of your glory, to fhare in the national triumph. The gallat behaviour of all the officers, feamen, foldiens, and marines, who ferved on-loard the Britifh aeet under your command, has not heen paffed over in oblivion, hut receives from the liberal hand of their fuperior a fair and bandfome fatare of the well-merited univerfal applanie. This promment feature in the character of a true hero munt ever be renarked and admed in Lnd Howe.
"My Lord, in the prefent convalied fituation of Europe, and critical period of our own affairs, the utmott vigour and energy are neceffary. In the molt im. pertant department of the fiate, we are happy to fee your Lordhip's pre-eminence; and we look forward to the future triumphs of your viconquerable fpirit, Ikill, an: l cience. Miy every year add to your public meri;, fame, and honours; and to your privaie felicity l"

Lord Howe replied,
" 1 am moch flattered, Sir, by the favourable fentiments my worthy fellowcitizens have done me the honour to entertain of my profefional endeavours, on the occalion you have montioned; the impreffom of which has been increafed by the affurance ef your obliging concurrence in them."

An important canfe, in which property to the amount of half a mullion fterling was inisulved, came to be tried by a frecial jury, an the Court of Common Pleas, in confequence of an illue directed fiom the Court of Chanctry, on this queftion of factWhether the late Earl of Orford devifed, by his laft will, any lands and effecis to the Lat of Chomondeley? The cafe is briefty

1796.] DOMESTIC OCCURRENCES.

this-On the 2,it of 1 Jovember, 1752, the Earl of Oifuid made a will, in which he bequeathod his principal extates, after the is mite ofli iomatiats heir, the prefent Earl of Ot frol, to the Earl of Chulmondeley, whate grand ateer had maried the daughter (f his arceent, Sir Robort Walpeie, the firf Ennl of Orfird. In I756, the Rant of Orford maio a fecond will, :n which he changex the order of fucceltion, and gave a prefereace over the karl of Chictmondeley to Lord Walpole, who is defcended in a difeceline from the fecond brather of the firf Fat of Orfors.-This, of'curfe, amilulated the fiat wiil; and, had nothing fath r ocuated, wo quetton could have arifen oas the fuhject E.at, in 1776, twenty year afier the lecond w 1 was mata, the Eit frofurd fivent a com dicil, the pur;ort of winh w's to make vangous prowitorns which tat been omated in bis will,, and dechared this condicil to the a cadreil to his lait will, figned on the 2 दth day of Novenher, :752. O, the part of the phintil, it was contcoded, that this codich, wh.ch was duly figued and atteffed, was a revival and foimg up of the will to which it referted; and that, of courfe, that will retaned the fime force and effect, as if tim fccord will bad "ever been madle. On the pari of the tufendant, it was naintomed, in the firk place, that the codicil was deffutute of thofe lorme, expretlly required by the atathe of wiss, Which cound alate give th the cit ek of roviving a tran will in prefertuce to a $16-$ cond, where a renl elta'e was devifed; and, zdly, that it was the intemtion of ti:e teftator to amex the codicil to the fecon', and not to the firl will. To eftablify thefe points, it was properded to adence parol evidence; but the Count interfused; and were manimous in their opmion, that the eftabhimed law of the tand forbads thes admition of parol evidence to contradict a written and pelfect imfrument, fach as the will and codicil tozether appeared io be; that the word lagt, on which the counfel for the defendant hid laid to much Itrefs, was an exprefion winch had no deterninate meaning until the death of the teftator, when it operated to explain the intended lait act of his life; that nether the will of $175^{1}$, nor the will of 1756 , was, in fict, a will until the teftator was dead ; that an alteration of the date of the codicil would be making a new difpofition for the dead, which no court upon earth was entitled to do; the oniy power velted in a court, on the fubject of will, being that of explaining the imtention of the deceafed, which, in this cafe, was perfectly clear, that the wills ought only to be confidered as ambulatory inttruncots, fubject to the pleafure of the owner, and to be ufed by him as bis judgiment or caprice might dired ; ant tha the wit of :772 was ahfolutcly retived, ane made 2: lat act by the codici: of 17,6 . The jury, agreeng with the comrt, founc a vaditt for t!e entintef; on roniequence oin waich, the Earl of Choino oteley will furcee , at the du.th of the prefent Lurl of Orf r.!, to an efinte a the anmin value of co,ocot. exclunve of the mareforet feat at ino $\mathrm{g}_{\mathrm{h}}$ ton, which is fupp fel io lavo ceft upwards of 200,0041 . and fome other pioperty. Chunfel tor the mantiff, ferjeants Cockell, unuingtes, Mergan, what Shepherd; .tomey, Mr. l'ardon. For the defeadant, Berjeants Adair and Le Blanc.

Gent. Mag. May; yige.

$$
\text { Siaturdoy, Nay } 7 \text {. }
$$

Nyd Wake, who was convicted at the fittings affes laft tithy term, of having, on the fref tay of the prenmeffins af larlimenr, infuted his Majerty in !is pafage tw and from Paliament, by hilling, and wing feveral indecent expretions, fuch as, " no Gecrge-1:0 war," received the judgment of the rourt ; viz." That be be impufoned, and kept to hard labar, in Gluacetter gand, doring the term of tive years: thar, durng the firt three months of his imprifonase:t, he do itand for one hour, retucen the hours of eleven and the $\theta_{0}$ in the pillory, in one of tire public theets of Ghowiter, on a markt-iday; and that, at the exaration of tis mprifonment, tee du fild hecurity for 1 ,cel. for his good beo havione for ro years."

Medinaiar, Mayri.
At the Old Butley, thim day, the indiesment was opened ayamf Rubert Thomas Chofficid, tharging, that he, together with lecter Hisgus, - Le Maitre, and otters, whofe narnes were to the jumers va:koma, did conpari and imagine the de th of our Lord the Kias. There were othe counts for a compitacy to effert the fotrue puppoit, by thouthem an i..row from an inimement; wheb arove, fo to be cjected, was to be ci ebed with rorion. The Attorncy cenerat conctisly Itated the law, an:l proccedet to call evidence to fubtantate the cate. It appeared that thefe witnoffe, and the prifmer, and Up. ton, were all members of the London Correponding Society.

John L.e Pritoo faid, he was on board the Pomona, and falled from Falmouth with her Feb. 14, 1795. They were bound for the Southern whate finery. The prifoner came on-board about a week before they faled. When they were at Breft, he told then," "he was one of thofe who emaged to athinmte ins Majeny;" and find, " it was to be done by a dare thot off whinflammate ar." He defenbed the arrow lik ote ef their harpans. White he continued at Brett, he ufec: the name of Crofm field; but on his retum nome, in the cartel thip, he called hanfle H. Wilfon, of
the
she Hope. The witnefs faw him write it fo. The name was the ficond upon the lift.

Thomas Dentis, ciisf mate, faid, he had heard the prifons ufe expuefions to the following effect: that "if Pitt knew where he wac, he would fend a frigate after hira ; that Fitt would have been flot, if he had not hy accident gone over Weft-mintier-bridge inttead of another; that the king was to have been deftroyed in the play-houfe by a dart." He faid, bic knew the confruction of the dart, which refembled a harpoon. When they were taken, the prifoner figned his name, and added, "that he had then no reafon to be athamed of 1 ;" but of erwards, when he was returning home in the cartel hip, he figuet his name H . Wiffon.

Two witneffes were examined, who proved the prifoner's attemp to efcape on being apptehended. Mrs. Upton (wife of Upton, who, we underfand, is dead) fwore to having feen the inftrments produced in her hufband's finop.

Mr. Mortimer, the gun-m.ker, was examined as to the nature and condiruct:on of the implements, and the plans were alo thewn to him. Hz defcribed very minutely the power of air-zuns, and their fuperiority over common guas for the purpofe of taking am; hecaufe, as they do not reconl, they may be placel to the eye, and therety facilitate the hasu'g a better sim.

Afier fome confolt tion betreen the judges, the counfel, ant tie jury, the court ujcu "ed at clom at night.

$$
\text { Tharydav May } 12 .
$$

The cr:as of ane and tive eally part of now it. as coatumed in the fyeeclies of Mir. L.a., withe part of the Conen; and of Mr. Atan, fre the prifoner. Many witneffee were examined to prove Upton as :an wownothy memer of fociety, and that he the entened fregume revenge to Crofsfield. Other, fipeke of the prese's good chameter; and though they all confeffed he hid kepuhbican prinoples, yet they nerer hard hin foek dimespethal of the King.

The evidence for the defence cloied about half p:at twelve. Mr. Gurny no de an excellent fuesch or belalf of the prifoner, whote condati in proferbing gult "olantarily to perfons, with whom le had no intmacy, but rather an ennuty, was inconfifent with aty remeabr wice, or real conciouffef of it.

Lond Chet Jon:e. "A Mr. Crofficld, you have been hemaliy your coundal very full. : hut oo? are alow d the right of bens : ard yourelf; huw is your time, and tis Court will hiften to youwith tention.' -- ? ie pe foner replied, "My Lord, I lave only one circumitance to adil, that, from my jumolt foul, 1 have ever detefted acts of cruelty, much lefs piemeditated af fafination of m y fovereign. I am fully? fatisfied with the great exertion of $m$ counfel, and rely upon your Lorrifhipi candid conflilemon of my cafe, and th honoar and juftce of an Engl:ih jory.".

The Athoncy-Genoral took a review o the whole of the evicence, and the argu ments which had been ufed by the nrifo. ner's counfel, and chferved that he had. full conviction in his own foind he wa thereupon entuled to a verdict of guilty but, if the jury feit otherwife, be fhoul be filly fatisfied that the prifoner ought th be acquitted.

Lord Chief JuRtice Eyre fummed up th whole of the evidence; went into a grea variety of obfervation; and declared, that in his mind, the fecond overt act bad been fufficiently proved to be left to the jury the firft, refpectias the porfoned dart, cer tainly had not, as thar had been fooken ti only by Dennis. The cafe, however refed very much upon the prifoncr's owi declaration, as, without that, no purpuft could be afligaed for the inftruneats whic! had been orierel, and intended to bi made. The jury retired for an hour and forty minutes, and then cave their verdict Not suilty.

This day the anniverfary feßivalo fubfriters for the relief of deferving anthors, their widows, and childrenindiftre s was heldat the Freemafon's Tavern, when a company of siearly 200 sentemen afo fembled and pastook of in elegant dinner congratulating each ather on the increaft and profperity of a fociety, the object and conduct of which do honour to the country Thomas Williams, Efq. M.P. prefider :vith grear fpirit and propriety ; the elden Capt, Nerris: cited with applafe his an. nual offering of a pertic tribue to the genins of the inftitutio..; ; and Mr. Bofcawer read an elegans and patheric ote of hit nwis conturitun, on the gencral idea acthating the fociety, to extend the offices of bumanity into the regions of gemius anc tafte, the fupport or ietisf of which is : duty of the firit obligation. Songs, one of which was written for the occation by Mr. Bofenwen, were intodnced, manyo them wor charmingly fing, and the evening was fuent with that fecies of hilarity and joy, which becomts men who have had the hapminef to open a new channel to) the nubieft and moit ufeful benevo. lence.

Saturitay, May $\mathbf{1 4}^{4}$.
At the Old Bailey, Henry Wefton was found gulty of forging and uttering a warrant of attorney, by means of which he transferred $16,0001.3$ per cent. flock, the property of Gen. Tonyn. The prifoner's demeanour wa: extremely fedate and com. pofed, and at the conclufion of the trial, he haid he heard the verdict without furprize and wit'? fatisfantion. He hoped that young men would take an example from his fate, and rhofe of advanced age woukl advife youth of their dacy. He fell a victim, he laid, to his indifcietion, and for want of having paid a due at:ention to his cuty in life.

Thurfday, May $\mathbf{r}$.

At a quarter pat three o'clock, the King arrived in the nfual fate at the Houfe of Peers. Being enrubed, and feated on the throne, the Gentleman Ufher of the Elack Rod (Sir Francis Molynenx) was difpatched to the Houre of Commons, with a meliage, requirirg the mone.: inte attendance of that Honourable Hoale in the Houfe of Peers. In a few minutes the Speater of the Lower hioufe, accompanied by above a hunired members, appeared below the bar. Afer paying the ufual obeifance, the Speaker adurtied his Majofty in a ipeect of confiderable length. In the courfe of this adrefs he enumerated the principal topics that had heen difculfed during the fofion, and expatiated on the maniticence of the Houfe of Commons in furnithing hus Majer! with the mott liberal fapphes to defray the exigencies of the war in which this country was eugaged. His Majetity was then pleaied to deliver the following gracious fpeech from the throwe:
"My Lorls, ant Gentlemen,
"The priblic bufinefs bein now concluded, I thank it proper to clofe this feffion, and, at the fime time, to acyuaint you with my intentions of givins immediate directions for catho a new Parliament.
"The objects which have engaged your attention, duras the fretent ferfion, bave been of peculiar importance; and the meafures which you have adopted have manifefted your centinued rega:d to the fafery and welfare of my people.
"The happieit effects heve been eaperienced from the provifions which you bave made for repreffing fedition and civil tumult, and for reizsaining the prozrefs of principles fubverfive of all eftablimed sovernment.
"The difficulties arifing to my fubjects from the lugh price of com have formed a principal obje et of your delibaration; and your affiduity in inveltizating that fubject has ftrongly proved your anxious defire to omit nothing which could tend to the relief of my poople in a matter of fuch general concern.
"I have the greatelt fatisfaction in obferving, that the prefure of thofe difficulties is now in a great degree removed.
"Genticnicn of the Houfe of Commons,
"I mult in a more paticuiar manner retion you my thanks for the liberal fupplies which you have granted to mest the exigencies of the war. While I regret the extent of thofe demands, which the prefent circumftances neceffarily occafion, it is a frazt confolation to me to obíerve the encreafing refources by which this country is emabied to fupport them.
"Thefe refonrces are particularly manifefted in the itate of the different branches of the revenue, in the continued and piogreflive exteufion of our navig tion and commerce, in the fleps which have been taken for mutaining and inproving the public credt, and in the additional provifion which his teen made for the redaction of the national debr.
" My Lords, an.! Gentlenen,
"I foall ever reflect with heart-felt fatisfaction on the uniform wiflom, teroper, and firmnefs, which have appeared in all your procediings fince I firlt met you in this place. Called to detiberate on the poblic affairs of your country, in a periud of doneftic and forelgn tranquillity, you hal the happinefs of contributing to raife this kingdom to a fate of unexampled profparity.
"You were fuldenly compelled to relinquifh the foll advantages of this fituation, in order to reift the unprovoked aygreffini of an enemy, whofe hoftility was ditefted again!t all civil fociety, but more particulatly againg the happy union of order and liberty, as eftablimed in thefe kingJoms.
"The nature of the fyftem introdeced into France affirded to that country, in the mid!t of its calamities, the mans of exertion beyond the experience of any fro mer time. Under the prefiare of tue new and uprecedented difficulties arifing from fach a conteft, you have ferwin yourfelves worthy of all the befin? hat ;oa inbeat. By your counfels and canduct the conititur" tion lias been prefervel inviohte agane the defigns of foreign and domstic e:enics ; the hounur of the Britifh name has been afferted; the rak and fitation whiç 2 we have hitherto heil in Europe has neen maintaned; ant the decided fuperionty of our naval ;ower has been elablified in every quarter of the worta!.
" You have omitted no opportunity to prove your juta anxiety for the re-citablifhment of general peace on fecure and honowable terms; but you lave, at the fame time, rencered it maniteft to the worl', that, while our enemies fall neafir in difpofitions incompatible with tiat ob. ject, ne:ther the reiouses of niy king dow, nor ti.e fpint of ny people, whil be wan:ing to the fupport of a juti caufe, and to the defence it all their deaseft interefts.
"A due ferfe of this conturt is deeply impreffed on my heart.-I truit that all my fubjects are animated with the lame fentiments; aud that their loyalty and public fpirit will enfure the continuance of that union and mutual contidence between me and my Harliament, which beft promote the true dignity and ghory of my Crown, and the genume happinef of my people."

Then the Lord Chancellor, by his Miajefty's command, fid;
"My Lords, and (C.n't min",
"It is his Majert"s royal will ma pleafare, 'bat thio Purbment he prorograd on Turflay, the fift day of fily nexp, to be then hore hodden; and this Parlizere is fifth day of juiy nast.
 ficors, then rutimis and the Commons withdrew to thoir owa Clamore of Ea limment."

This morniog IVmeins, smeth, and Le

 Cowstidi in a plot ra anditute has MinAngy with a poromed arow. The jury being called ov: the Athnicy-Generat not mon to fill ay u? the proculiog ayint the man mose it the bar. The death of Uptors, the mincopl witnef, hiad accafiment a defeciency of that ev.dence which was neceftery in cales of Himh Treafom. the hat avary reafon to takemeamesto be "u to condig' phonement he permat who hald decolvad hina in that particalior. The fury fond the orifonars not suly. Afier an artempt to adurefs the Conr, in whin they were not allowed to proceed, therif were difharged from the bar.

This night a parian fipipof. 4 to be an American captain, havius immedenty ventured himfori int, a hanfe of ill-fame in Denn-ftrect, Efot Statareld, near the Alaypole, was rohse! and raurdered. The budy was found conserle., the hands thed behind the back: it appat:s be !ad wea did to a bed-non, as lie cord wan :.rohid amons the isthers of the bul; fuccol woncin ef the houlo are taison op, on whom the property of the mefortun it decenfed was inture; bis cont was dulyed for eleven hallings. A chill was the principat infrement in dhfovering this homid buifinefs.

Fitity, Ma゙ $=7$.

Thsi motame : wout 6 coclock, Lord Charles Tow afend, who had been elect-and w...s inturning th them, was found dead in a poet-cinfife ard frar, in Oxforl-ftreer, having been thot in the month by a piful ball, which prfed through has brain. He was accom ranad in th inmory by has bo. ther, Lond Elodrick Tomntend, who appeared in a very terangel fate, and before the thody was lifcuverad, had got vut of the chain, and arimed off his coat, waiftcont, and hirt, apparently to fight the poit-boy. He was mimediately taken into cultods, and foon after a long examination took phace before N. Conart, Efq. in Matlborough-fireet, in which it appeared, that the two hrothers had gone to Yarmouth on the Friday before, and lived in the utmont harmony with each cther ; but on the day of leation, nat afterwards, bath of them appeared, particularly the deceafed, comfiderably deranged io mina, oranght on, it is probable, by iuremperance. They left Ya...matiti on Tlpufing morning, and, till tiey reached Colchefter, were attended by tworivuits, who, not being able to get hortoz then, were leftbethon, a ad did wet overens their maters again thit bey reachcat town. At 1 feral they changes horfes, but did not ahoht ; and the poit-boys depoiel, that they fars only Lord Frederick at that time upon the fot of the chaife, ani concrived that he was alone in the carrase, here Lond E. appeared cifrated sine oficed to give the pot boy fone gui. neas to give in chanity on the roach. A Ahle-ond the rofl- Loy heand the renort o a pflui, which they afterwards faw Lor I. throw ont of the cariage window. Ot their ammal on Ouf ridefreet, the poot-ho: fopped to lon.w whare he was to fet down when the melancioly fifcovery was made. Tajilay, May 31 .
The land tax, being nominally 4 s . in the pround, hoodon, Wefminter; an Middle fex, do not pay 3. No county i Eielund pays murcthan 2s. except Surres Sufex, Hertort, Butas, Batis, O:ford abuve ss. Nent, Nofoik, Sufferi, an Handiare, and the inh ad counties, pa 2cd.to as, 1. The arent coumber of York Devor, ami Snaerfer, pay $1 \approx 6 \mathrm{~d}$. Corn wall pay lefs. Walse, Lanca?nire, an the Northen comatien, pay under a ghi. luz-, Scotand pays about the for: $j$-fir purt of the liad-tax, though the value of tieeir lankis is about one-fiesth of that Enghan'. Several parißes in Londou an Wellninter pry foll, or more than 4 s. $\mathfrak{j}$ the pound, white chicis farce pay a thir patt, and fome lefs than holf that fun Marytone parifh, confirting of 2500 acre of whict one-third is occupied by buik iugs, pavs the enormous fum of one penn farthang When they make it a halfpent there is an overplus! Serjeants Inn, Chat cary-lane, containing abont fifteen apar ments, former!y for the judges and ferjeant worth thout 501 fer ammm, one with ar other; the whole is worth about 9001 . $p$ annutis. A tak of 4 s . in the pound wou. be 1801 . They pay no more than 31 , which is alout od. The three Templ. pay about rod. Pembrokefhire pays 61 Cardiganfhire, 4d. Part of Radnorfhis pays 2 s , other parts 4 d , in the pound.
P. $35^{\circ}$

1706.] Additions and Correriinss.--Births and Marriages.

P. 35:. The death of the Comtefs de Welderen was thas anromed in the Leyden Gazette: "It has pleafed the Sorereign Difpenfer of all Things to take ento himifelf, laft night, my wife, Laly Ame Countef, of Welderen, hora at Whitwsl. She died at a very :dvanced are, after lingering decay, and an ithefs of three months and a half. inctify this lofs, fin fenfite and painful to me, to my relaton and friends, intreating them to fare me all letters of condolence. J.W. de Wetperex.

Hagu:, April 3."
P. 358. Dr. Harris was the temhator of "Jutinian's IuRture, 1756 ," , to. His charitable bequefts are, th St. George's Hofpital 40,0001. ; w Hetheringion's Charity for the B'ind $2=0,001$; to the Weft. minter Lying-in Hofpital afocol.; and to the Hereford Infirmary 50001.

Bistma.

"THIS morning, about ro oclock, my dear wife, Cithame Elizabeth Chlenbrock, was happily d livered of a givl; I advife my reations and friends of this circunutance by this preient.

Jonn Homarikz.
Amferdan, Icth April, 170 5."
Apri' 28. The wife of Join Gregery, a poor midi, livius, on the S.lifoury road, near Romfuy, three daughers and one fon, all fince dead, and the woman in a fair way ef recovery.
29. In Upper Wimpole-ftreet, the Laly of Cland Ruffel, efy. a fon.

Lately, Mirs.A Abatt, wife of Mr. George A. of Prefton, corn-deaier, a daughter, beiang her 2oth child, and whe the ift year of her marriige to Mr. A.

Mrs. Hainfworth, wife of Mr. Hanc H. of Couktidge, near Leed, :bree fons, all likely to live, and nanied Aboham, Ifaac, and Jacub.

At his houre in Charles-fteet, Berkteyfquare, the Lady of Reginald fole Carew, efq. M. P. a durghter.

The Lady of Mr. Sheriff Liptrap, a fon. May 6. At Aherdeen, the Lady of Mix. Allardyce, eff. of Dunottar, M.P. for Aberdeen, s:c. a daughter.

The Lady of Join Cmmal!, efq. of Old Broad-itreet, a daughter.
9. At Cullean-cafle, the Countefs of Cafilis, a daughter.
12. The Lady of Mr. Cotton, a daugh.
13. A: Bath, the Lady of Jn. Willes, efy. of Hungriford-park, Herks, a fon.
15. At his houfe at Leopard's-hill, the Lady of Lieut. John Alfiger, of the Lombay eftablifament, a daughter.
15. At his feat at Afwarby, co. Lincoln, the Lady of Sir Tho. Whichcote, bart. a dau.
18. In Mansfield-ftreet, the Lady of Sa-muel-Robert Gautien, eeq. a fom.

At the Marquis's feat at Bll-hill, co. Oxlord, the Marchionefs of Elandford, a fon.
20. At Somerfet-place, the Lady of Commiflioner Hope, of the navy, a dauzhtci:
23. At Il'month, the Lady of Capt. G. Byng, of his Majefty's fhip Mercury, a fon.
25. At Stretton-hall, w. Stafford, the Lady of Edward Grove, efq. a fon.
27. In New-itreet, Spring-gardene, the Lady of Charles Demmond, ciy. a fon.

Marriages.
April A T Dublin, Major Stark, of the 13. Derby militia, to Mifs Bolton.
15. M1. James Harris, to Mifs Eliza Preiton, both of Uxbringe.
13. Mr. Prown, of Melton Mowbiayfurgeca, to Mifs Webiter, of Loughtorough,
10. At Montrofe, Robert Tmefon, eiq. jun. writer to the fignet, to Mirs jane Chrinte, daughter of the late Alex. C. efschiof magifrate of 1 montrote.

At Nottinghain, Mr. Stoup, furgeon, of Heckington, co. Lincoln, to Mifs Green, oniy dan, of Aldirman G. of Notuingham.

At Ixeter, Simiel Binfil, cfq. of Exwick, to Mils Gibs, fifter to "icry G.efq. Larritter at 1 w , and recorder of Briftol.
20. At Hul. Mr. T. Whberfoce Crompten, to Mits Mihner, niece of the Rev. Dr. M. dean of Carline.

Henry Gibble, eiq. merchant, and one of the proprietors of the Barntaple hank to Mifs Gorton, eldet davohter of the late Mr. David G. of Tiverton, fuller.
22. Wru. Evans, efy, of Buckland, to Mifs Brewitar, eldent danghter of joh B. efq. of Burton-count, on Mewfrt.
IV.m. Ctartton, efq. main tis the 34 (ne Prince of Wates's) res of dra -om-bmads, to A1rs. Thomation, relict of Dr: T. of York.
24. M1. Rich James, of Rehopfgutit. to Mifs Hener Symonds, of Yerk-1teect.
26. Enign Saravel Townend, of the ift foot-guards, ouly fon of hat late Cobia. Toto Mifs Thmon, diegter of Diviu T. efo. of Weliekd, co. Radror.

Mr. Thomas Prutt, to Mifs Carr, both of Coventry.
M. Tay ior, furgeon, at Scven O.ke, in Kent, to Lady Louifa Stamope, daugh. of Earl Stanhepe, and niece to Mir. Pit.

Lord Porchefer, eddeff fon of the Endef Carnarvon, to Mifs Acland, canzh, of Laty Harrut 3 , and niece to the E. of Heliefter.
27. Fob. Sterbome, efy. of Ravenheat, co. Lanatete, to laifs Cater, danghter and coherrefs of the late - C. efq. of Kempftowe Bury, co. Dedford.
28. At Parctas charch, Mr. Mathew Coutes, of Rriftol, to Ahis Sufan Adams.

At Withycomive chapel, near Exmouth, Samuel Young, efq. eldut far of Admiral Sir Goorge Y. to Mifs Emily Bating, dau. of Charles B. efq. of Devonfire.

Rubert-fames Carr, efl. to Mifs Anne Wikinfen, buth of Twickenham.
29. Mr. folin Haynes, of Denby, to Mifs Innocent, of Swanwick.
30. Mí. Richard Woollafton, of Eezu-fort-beildings, to Mifs Wifight, of the Salupian coffee-houfe.

Lately, Mr. Geo. Juhnfon, of Guiliorl, to Mifs Newman, of Send-Marfh, Surrey.

Capt. Ta'sot, to the Hon. Lady l, lizatheth Strangen ays, uld. dau cf the E. of Ilche?ter.

Rev. John Roherse, fcond fon of the late Dr. R. provoft of Eton, to こ.iifs Anve Samnders, youngeft daughter of the late Abiaham S. efq rf Gloucener.

Rev. Ruchard Ellic, vicar of Aifgath, co. Yorts, to Mifs Sufannah Limpord.

Mr. Wm. Pank, a capital grazier, to Mifs Efther Skelftane, both of Rorough-fen.

Rev. Henry Plinaldy, of Finibury-fquare, to Mis Porter, of $\mathrm{H} \cdot \mathrm{e}: \mathrm{H} / \mathrm{Lv}$, Suffex.

Mr. Henry-William :. uzop, of the ordnance, to Mifs A. Tucker, daughter of tle Hon. Herry T. eff. p effent of has Majefty's counc.1, &e of the ifland of Bermuda.

May : Chatles Patts, e'g of Hamplitice, to Mus Chatotic Matida Bett, widow of Cul. Thom: - Lert is R.
2. Fy frectllicerce, at Kiverfont-ha!, near The ford, Nuiftk, W'm. Shutz, Cfy. of Bury, forme ly of the Cobldream regiment of guavis, to Mils Sopha: Scuatz, of Welbeck-fireet, daughter of the late Fras-cis-Mathew S. efy. of Ghanghom, Norf.

Mr. Geo. Harman, to Mits Mary Ame Howan, both of Erith, Rent.

Rev. Wm. Armfrong, chlen fon of E:mund A. Efy. of Finty-hall, Enfied, io, Mus A. A. Chalote Hafiel!, one of the daughters and coheireifes of the late Richard H. cifl. of Barnet, with a fortune of $20,0 \mathrm{cl}$.
3. Hon and Right Rev. Dr. Wm. Stuart, bifhop of St. David's, to Miif: Penn, daugl:ter of the late Mon. Thowas P. efy prepitetur of the province of fennflyania.
4. Richard Hey, efq. fellow of Mogda-Jen-college, Camtiridge, to Alifs Mintha Enowne, 2 d daugh. of the late Tho B. eifq. of Camishld-plate, near Hatfid, Jerts.
5. Mir. Thomas Riley, Itreper, of Lynn, to Mifs Grant, of Great Glem, co. Leic.

Mr. J. Goddard, of Foter-lane, Cheapfide, to Mifs Griffiths, of Inington.

Mr. William Stokes, of Dartmouth, co. Devon, to Misis Pickard, eldeft daughter of the late C. P. Efq. of $13^{\text {th }}$ tight dragoons.
6. John Clive, efq. of London, to Mifs S. Ames, dughter of L. A. efy. of Brittol.

Mr. Parker, farmer, to Mifs Rudlin, both of Cottelmone, co. Rutland.

At Edmonthonpe, co. Leiceiter, Mr. Plailip Rippin, aged 5 , to Mrs. Judith Bariow, aged 74 , beth of Wymondiam; he iatter has been blind many years.
7. Cant. Storin, of the 17 th infantry, to Mifs Acklind, of hazlegrove.

Edwad Kenfugton, efq. of LombardAtreet, to Mifs Brown, of rooting.
10. Genrge Granvile Marmall, efy. of Charing, Kent, to Mifs Hatchinfon, elideft daughter of the late Norton H. efg. of Wcochall-park, Herts.
ir. Edw. Divetr, efq. of Lanflown-place, to Mifs Kenfingten, of New Btidge-firect.

Sir Elmund Head, ba t. to MifsWeftern, of Cokethorpe, co. Oxford.
Thomas Sterlock Gooch, efq. eldeft fon of Sir Thomas G. hart. of Benacre-hall, co. Suffolk, to Mis Whittaker, "oungeff finer of Abr. W. efq. of Lyfton-houfe, co. Heref. Pt Bahley, Mr. Black, furgeon, of Exmouh, to Nifs Parminter, of Exeter.

At Little Dalhy, co. Leicefter, Rev. Trimatt Knapp, of Shenley, B:cks, to Mifs Goodwn, eldeft danghter of Mr. G. fureeon, of Mascet Harborwigh.
12. At Landif, Rev. W. Beakin Meackh.in), L. L. B. and recter of St. Fagan, co. Glamorgan, t" Mifs Mary- 9 me Pearfon, frurth daugh. of Euceart P. efy. of Lendaff.

Win. E.joluck, cfe. to Lhifs Day, both of Baimam, co. Cinubritge. fit Anverh:m, Bucks, Mr. Denuis, of Cambridge, :o Mifs Rutter, of Anerfham.
14. Higi D:'un M1.ffey, efq. eldeft fon of Sir Hugh M. inft. to Mifs S. Hankey, fermd dangter ite late Thomas H. efyof Redemd-fquare.

Wow. Hartiton, fr . of Ravenftone, Bucks, to Nafs Rut 11 , of Howland-Ar. Fitzoy-fq.

Mr. Join timenell, of Newcafie-uponTunn, to Mifs W:Miamfon, darghter of T. W. efq. of Gieat Ruffell-ftr. Blombleny.

John Bowhirs, ofy. of Yenvil, co. Someifet, to Mifs Ponsford of Ford.
15- + Bueklebiry, Berks, T. Noel, efq. to ant Cathine Smith, Jught. of the late Hohw: ef wirmanton-houfe, co. I.eic.
16. N thanicl Bithe, tif. of GlouceAterplace, to Mirs any-Elizabeth Douglas, dau. of the late Sir Janes D.
foln-Charles Stracey, efq. captain in the xihregim. of font, to Mhfs Helen Erown, of Srutham ton row, Bliemibury.

At Puchefler, Tho. Coleman, efq. rafter caulker and builder's thirl amitant at Chathon took-yard, to Mifs Sones, dausho ter of the late Re:. MIr. S. formerly of St. Margaret's, Rocheflor.

Mr. Brian Hodgfon, jun. of Macclesfield, banker, to Mifs Catharine Koughton, dau. of Wra. H. efg. of Manchefter.
17. At Winbledon, Surrey, John Sutton Count de Clomard, to Mifs Sarah Bray, fecond dau. of Michael B.efiq. of Lincoln's-inn.
r9. Caift. Jn. Cochet, of the royal navy, to Mifs Jeffiies, of Chatham.

Mr. LachlinM'Lean, purfer of the Montague, to Mifs Sophia Marfhall, of Chatham.

21 . At Tiverton, Mr. Robert Acland, murcl. to Mifs Tucker, poft-miltrefs there.

Ldward Blewett, efq. of Lanternan, co. Monmouth, to Mifs Amelia Duberley, of Eumam-hall, co. Oxford.

Mr. Bumhan, jun. of Guildhal!, to Mifs M. Ofborn, of Welbeck- itreet.

At Walton-upon-Thames, Henry Martin, efq. to Mirs Julia Parions, fourth daughter of Mrs. P. of Leicefter-fquare.

* At Hereford, Rev. Robert Crowther, of Spratton, co. Northampton, to-Mifs Symonds, daughter of the 1..."homas Eowcl! S. eff. of Pengethley, co. Heref,n'.

22. Mr. Jolm Jotes, of Cie iur. to Mifs Parfons, uf Brown's Over, co. Wa wick.
23. Mr. Crafton, of Upper Guilford-ftr. Quen-fqu. to Mits §entence, of Craver-ittr. 25. Mr. Privikenden, of St. jom's, Southwark, to Mifs wet.
24. At St. Bartholomew's church, Royal Exchange, by the Rev.Samel Peters, LL.D. bifhop clect of the ftate of Vermont, John A. Grahani, LL.D. of London, to Mifs Lorimer, dangh. of Mir. James L. of the Strand.

Deatis.

1795. 4 T Hyderaba!, Lieut. William Sept ti. & Stenart, of the Beng.a eitablifment, fecond fon of James $S$ eff. of Edinhurgh; a gentleman whofe, excelient talents were excred, daring a long coan fe of official dut., to te benefit of his employers; and where provete vintues and embeaing qualities have rendered tis lois a fubject of regret to the publick, and of fincereft for row to his friend: Lieut. S. was fir fome years attaclied to the Refidency with Mabajee Scindia; and, fince the nidule of the year 1790, has ferved as affiftant to the Refident at the cours of the Nizam ; in which ftations his abilities, natural and acquired, and his kotexlege of the politicks and languages of Hindoltan, enabled him to fulfill his duty wuth credit to himfelf and advantage to the public intereft. As a furyeyor, his nerit was confpicuous; and, in particular, his forvey of the route from Agra to Hyderabad, through paths till then wexplored, has proved a valuable acquifition to the sengraphy of India. His conduct in every fitetion, whether referved to a public or private life, obtsined him the appontation of his fuperiors, and the refpeet and affection of his acquaintance. An uncommon libernlity of mind, joined to manners the moit amiable, ind an ardent attachinent to the friends ot his choice, will ever entear to them his memory, and keep alive, in their minds, the fincereft forrow for lis lofs.
1796. Fan.... At Port-au-Prince, in the intand of St. Domingn, Captain-lieatenant john Taylor, of the 3zd regiment of foot (light infantry company).
$F_{i} b$. io. At Kenfington-gore, Mrs. Dobell, of Javington-place, co. Suffex. Dy ber death an eftate, worth 30,0001 . falls to Laucelot Harrifon, eif. of Prighthelmflone, conformably to the will of Sir W. Thomas, the origimal poffeffor. The Dobell cfate, which is very confiderable, goes to Mrs. Lane, of the Cliffe, relict of the late Dr. L. of Southover.

Marcb 6. At Martinique, Mr. Fra. Hart, furgeon, late of Chefter-place, Lambeth.
19. At his feat as Vache, in Buckingham-

Shire, in his $75^{\text {th }}$ year, Sir Hugh Pallifer, bart. admiral of the White, mafter and governor of Greenwich-hofpital, governor of Scarborough-caftle, and one of the elder hrithren of the Trinty-houfe. This gallarit officer was bom at Krk Deighton, co. York (and not in Ireland, as has been erroneonfly ftatect. The Irifh branch, of the family fetted there early it the lafe century; and Dr. Phillips, (ifterwards Archbifhop of C anhel) was ator te the famou: Mr. Locke. Sterve bel mined to the Englifh branch). Sir Hugh Pallifer early diftuguith d himfolf in the naval fervice; and, in $174^{3}$, on board the Captain, in a defipmate action in the Mediterranean, with a frigate of fuperior force, received the fhat in his teg which brought him to his end (with two balls in his body) by the explofion of an arm-chert, which alfo killed two pertons on the quar ter-deck of that thip. This wound, baflling all the fkill of the faculty, fubjected him ever after to ceafelefs torture. His moncle was a Colonel, and wounded under Lond Galway; and his father ( captain in tie army) although fhot through both cheeks in the difaftrous battle of Almanza, yet furvivel many years. On the death of Admiral Sir Charles Hardy, his Majeity appointel Sr Hugh to the go vermment of Greenwich-hofpital; when, refigning his fext in partiament, he retiol from all public concerns, except the duties of his gove nment, which were always ah! $y$ and unremittingly difcharged. As a profefo fional man, he was found fuperior to mont of his contemporaries in maritime fkill; judicious in bis difpofitions, and decifive in their confequent operations: in private life, conciliating in lus manners, and unfhaten in tis friendhips. The wife and folutary laws, which he caufed to be enasted for the benefit of his country, and the comfort and happinefs of the pror filhermen in Newfound ad during his gavernment of that ifind. are proofs of a found mind, and a homane and benevolent difpotion. He was mate a prit-captain in the year 1746 ; in $175=$, governor of Newfoundland; in 1765, he me'e peace with the Indians upon the back fertlements of Canada; in 1770, he was promoted to the rank of rear-admira, and in the fame year, was elected one of the elder brethren of the Trinity-toure; in 1771 , he was appointed comptroller of the navy; 111 1773, created a baronet ; in 1775, chofen M. P. fur Scarborough; in $177^{5}$, one of the lords of the Admiralty; in : 778 , a vice-adniral, lienrenant of mirines, and governor of Scarbornugh.caftle; in $\mathbf{1} 78 \mathrm{c}$, he was appointed mafter and gevernor of Greenwich-hofpital: in 178 r , elected to 1 eprefent the borough of Huntingdon in Parliament; and, in 1787 , promoted to the rank of admiral of the White. The title, and an uncatailed eitatein Ireland, devolve entisnephew, now

Sir Hugh Pallifer Walters, of Greenw: his other ofrates, and a lange periemaif, io nune, are hitly will to Mr. Thomas, his natural fon; who hes, purferat to his will, t.ken the farmane and arns of Pabifer. On the atth his remains weer depofited in the prith-cimach of Chafon: St. Giles, in Sw whathamire. The fungIb in chetiea to lis owa requiftion, was wory priva, ; the chief nownier, were Admiral Bazeley, Capt. Fannell, Corse 3:atwe l, ciq. and amener genteran. Fur more th:m the 1 in 15 or to yeirs of tiois bife he fuldom or ever lay curno o: a bed; from the cenftert pain in fis 1. क, whiction bore with the bomit man y furtimet, we was winder the necritidy of componm thenfel: :n an eafy chim, hloping at intervis; and when awake, he phicest the womndedno on the conirary knee, om which porituon i: employed thmilf in ubbing the: tome (ther it was lieraly no mous, to afinge the pain, thll feepagain int maty overtorikhen. (Other accounts of the canfe of wis ieatio foy, thet it was ocrafinned by a chopfic! Eahit of becy, to which he had almoys heea thbje $\mathcal{A}$, aftera fevere illath of five inamts) He was an indefatigable cullccion of valuable naval papets, which are now anmging

Narcb 29. At foun o'clock in the nfternogn, the ullufricus and traty unfortunato Chatette, chief of che Chouan', wis fhot at Nantes, whisher hat had been conducted hy his conquercers, to moreafe the herrere of his excoution, by cathing lim to be mardeeded in his owva country, and under the eyes of lis relations and friends. He w.ts raken at Angers; and at $N$ intes was interrogated by General Dmillh, but efufed to aniwer feveral of the gathens put to him. He did not fhew the fralleit es t.t.tion or emption, and was conducted, throgh an immenfe crowd of people, to prifon. He wore a grey partatom, with a jacket of the fume ; and has enly whtinction was a marrow gud lace roum the wat. Lir. His head was homd with a handerchief, uegligently tied in a knot. He had received a wound ia the head, :and his right thoulder was till bloorly; his left arm was in a fling, having loft thee fingers by the firve of a labre. His countorance was urdaunted, his fiep from, and his whole appeanance per fediy caln. His complexion was not fo clear as it was fermerly; he looked around him withent ingotence, or without being deprefied. On the day he was tried, he retainal the fame frimerfs, and anfwered the queetious pur to him withaut acrimony, and with the greateft collieef; and when they talked to him of the maflacies at Macheconal and other phices, which lie was faid to have ordered, te th: ok his head and fniled. He owned that he commanded in chief; that he fought for munarchy; and that he had ricceived from I.onis XVIII. a hrevet of lientenant sercial. He faid, that, fome cass befive hee was furprize:, a general (whom lio did not name) made lim the nri porat to quit the teritory, promifing 1,t prontestion if he would leave the refinds ; that he tepoficed that leter with a ce t. n yica, becaufe, pedfulas he was c. atll fides, he conld not carty papers
 "t ceral whion nade him that proporn! was, trit te wan,ed a litule refpite to fette the toms. fiet red upen this to requeft a dert, and that he might be fent to Paris, as Cormathu wios. When the julges re. tind to vo.e, ie talked with thifo who were vearett to ham. He related the circumflances of his cepture; and to thofe who exprefied then furprize thate he did not kith himefer, he antucrud, that he a:ways looked mpon tuicive as an act of cowarsice. Whan lis fentence was read to him, he hement with thamens, nor did a mufte of the face chamse. He wefired to fouak, and there was inmedi.te flence. He fid, he did not winh to put ofit the monent of his dath; but withed, for his fatisfactims, th.t the commifion: would fend for the letter he mentionsl. When De was conduched to the place of execution, be was garded by 5000 men ; and Cubbrt, a juras priest, atendul. He wond hee be Haded on kneel down, hut B:ackured I is lyeant to the piequet who wre to fire upan him. He waldtew his 1 it an from tle fivg, and making a fign thit he was.crudy, they firet, and he fell de th. He uas ahout 33 ye:rs of age, five fout four indies high, black hair, frall lively eye, long nofe, large moutl, much marked with the fintil-pox, froms chened, well made, and mufcul.r, a weak and rather effeminare vaice, and very active.
sjizii . . At Latinbeth, Mr. John Pelly Lepand, itationer, in Nex cate-ftreet.
at Kenthl town, Mr. Thornton, hookfiller, it the corne: of Sonilamptoi-ftreet; w.il known for his faill in farce portanits.
10. In St. Patrick's hofpital, Dublin, aged re6, Nanay MDaniel. She pofferied hier faculties to the laft moment, and thro hife enjoyed an uninterruped good fate of Ite:lht. This woman, when young, married a folder, and attended his fortme in the field, where, on the phains of Fontenoy, he tor:zht for honows, and fell, and left her a willow swith two chidren. The humanity of her late hufband's colonel enabled lier and chilicren to reach Ireland; another folder was her lot, who fell at the battle of Prefton Pans, where fhe was prefent, and had a fon alfo killed in the field, white wile and clith were in the camp. On her retern to Dublin, the was apponted by the governers a fervait in the foundation of Dean Swift, and was the firft perfon that ever flept in that hofptal, where fhe re-

1796.] Obituary of remarkabie Perfons; with Biographical Aneciotes. 441

:mained ever fince. The governors had fuperannuated har fome years, and fupported ber with decency and comfort to her death.

At his lodgings in Palace-yard, aged 56, James Hehden, efq. folicitor, of Leeds, whence he had a few days arriced, baving a camfe then pending in the couris at Weftminfter. He was buried at Kew.

Aged 45 , Mrs. Eliz. Gowan, wife of Mr. G. furvesor, in Gieat Windmill-ftreet.
15. Lieut. Robert'Hefketh, of bis Majefty's navy, and fon to Sir Kobert Juxton H. bart. of Rufford hall, co. Lancefer.

At Hamhurgh, the Rev. St. George Molefworth, vicar of Northfleet, Kent.
17. While he was attonding the interment of a corpfe, Mr. Jofeph Pollard, of Coventiy.
18. At the Hot-wells, Bath, Charles Buller, efq. of Oriel college, Oxford, fon of the Bifhop of Exeter, and brother of Lierrenant colonel B. of the $2-$ th ragim . of font, who fell hat year at Geldermaftern.
19. Rev. Mr. Whitmore, of Stockton, near Bridgnorth.

Suddenly, the Rev. Mr. Worthington, rector of Lhangadvan, mafter of the freefchoul of Dytheur, and munifter of Newchape!, in Montgomerythire.

2 I. In his 77 th year, Andrew Corbet, efq. of Shawhury-park, co. Salop; a gentleman very much refpected. He is fucceeded in his eftate hy his nephew, Andrew E. efq. of Hatron-houfe.

At Hoxton, Mr. Wi'liam Bibbins, of the Bank of England, and one of his Majefty's ferjearts at arms, and alfo meffenger to the prefs.
22. In an advanced ase, Mr. Prieft, many years principal clerk to the Court of Kequeits for the city of London.

At Coleflill, Berks, univerfally lamented, Mr. Gearing, a refpectable farmer of that place; whule many focial and other good qualities endeared him to his family and numerous friends. And, the next day, at the fame place, Mr. Dodwell, a reputable darv-man. They had long liverl in habits of friendihip, and were both about 70 years of age.

Mrs. Purkis, relict of the late Rev. Dr. P. of Carlby, co. Lincoln.

At Exeter, of a violent fever, Captain Thomas Wation, of Ardleigh, co. Effex.His father, Thomas Watfon, efq. died at the rame place, of the gout in his itomach, on the sgth inftant.

At Barrow-court, co. Somerfet, in his $\boldsymbol{\epsilon}_{9}$ th year, John Gore, efq. He has left his manors and effates in Monmouthflare to his nephew, the Rev. Charles Gore, and an ample legacy to John the third fon of Willtsm Gore Langton; efq. The familyeftates deicend to his only brother and heir, Edx. Gcre, efq. of Kiddington, co. Oxford.

Geivt. Mag. May, I7y.
23. Mrs. Wightman, milliner, in the market-place, Leicefter.

Mr. Thomas Buckingham, many years 2 refpectahle filhmonger at Oxford.

At Croydon, co. Surrey, John Shambrook, efq.

At the Hot-wells, Brifol, in her 22 d year, Mre. Cafwall, wife of the Rev. Robert Clirke C . of Burford, co. Oxford, and only daughter of Henry Deane, efq. of Reading.
24. At his houfe in Hackney, rged 55, Dzvid Alvez Rehello, efq. A. paralytic afo fection, that, fur the face of two years, by progreffive Atrider, deprived him of his faculties, finally terminated his exiffence. Few charakters have been more lamented; none more defervedly fo. Society has loft in him a valuable mombar, the fine arts a patron, and the poor a liberal benefacior. While fenfibility, talents, tafte, and gencrofity, are eftimable, his lofs will be regretted. Mr. R. had applied much to the ftary of natu:al hizory, on which he has left feveral defultory pieces; was a great ad:mirer of the works of art, particularly coins, of whicis he had made an elegant and judicious collection, as well as of minera!s, hotany, and every other branch of natural hiftory ; in fhort, of every fubject which muft have naturally prafented to a mind fo vigarous and expanded as his.

At Hampton, aged 74, Wm. Wood, efq.
Mrs. Seagooil, of Sible Hedingham, Effex.
At Spondon, co. Derby, aged 35, Mrs. Pitmas, reli\& of the late Mr. Thomas $\mathrm{P}_{\text {。 }}$ furgeon, of Derby.
25. At Staveley, co. Derby, Mrs. Cathatine Dixon, wife of the Rev. F. D. vicar of Duftield, in that county, and fifter of the Rev. F. Gifoorne, rector of Staveley.

Aged 42, the Rev. Wim. Wonllcomber prebendary of St. Peter's cathedral, Excter, rector of Eaft Worlington and Clift St, Liwrence, Devon, and fourth fon of john W. efq. of Aimbury. He difcharged the duties of his profefion with earneftnefs and fincerity, and was defervedly efteemed and refpected by his trethrea and parihimers, who juin a widow and eight children in lamenting his death.
26. At her houie at Fichmond, Surrey, Mri. Rees, wife of Capt. James R. of the Northumberlaud Eaft Indiaman.

Mrs. Judd, of Stamford, co. Lincoln, relict of the late Wm . J. efq. captain in the roydl navy.

Suddenly, at his houfe in Belford-row; John Pardoe, efq. jun. M.P. for Welt Looe, Cornwall. The death of his lady on the igth overwhelmed him with melancholy. He bas left five orphans to lament his untimely death, (See pr-349, 358).
27. At Windior-caftie, Mr. James Hoggau, furgeon.

Mr. Cule, furgeon, of Coventry.
Willizm

$44^{2}$ Obituary of remarkable Perfons; with Biographical Anecdotes. [May,

William Butler, efq. late of his Majefty's duck-yard at Deptford.
28. Mr. William Balcock, a refpectable farmer, of Sheepitead's, in the parifh of Marcham, near Abington, Berks. Returnins, in a one-horfe chaife with his wife, from Highworth, where they had been attending the funeral of Mr. Badcock's mother, on the road from Farnusdon, near Pufferi-furfe, the horfe tock Iright, and ran away with the carniage, when the reins and thift both breaking, Mr. and Mrs. B. were thrown out with fucb vioience as (o) occation the death of the for ver immediately, ond his wife furwase him a few hours only. They have left five chiliren to lament their fate.
29. At Henler upon- t baner, co. Oxford, very fudienly, of a mialytic feizue, Mres. Pinid, relict of Ho Rev. Dr. H. late vicu of Reothile, co. Lancufier.

At Cly fter, afier a linering illof, the Avmston, Baks; a gentioman of mu ft ami ble manurs and refrectalle character.

At Reelampt in, Sulaty, occifioned by a \% -.m hish the, Lramus Edwin, cig.
a Cafe, chafold ditame in Ar
S.on: academy at Atterchif: While tathay handif in the aver Dor, te unfortanitelyg out of his dep:th, and, being maside th fwa, was drowned.
3. Kilicd on the road from Dumfries to Craiglan rock, by the overturning of a cariage, Alex. Fergutur, efq. advocat.

At the honfe of Cartonni, in lier gift year, Mrs. Chrittian Craufund.

At her father's houfe at Lambridge, after a few hours :llneif, in her isth year, Mis Frances Willes, fotah daughti of the Archueacon of Well.

Mr. Samut farr Sergeant, attorney at law, of Bury, and one of the protots of the Ecclefiaftical Court.

At his houfe in Laitle St. IIten's, Samuel Beachorof, efy. many yeare ore of the directors of the Bank of Euglaud.

In Lower-itr. Inington, Mr. Job Tripp.
At:er a mort ilhef, at his tooufe in 1 ot-tenham-court, Ceorge Audelfon, efy. accomatunt to the Eaft intia Board of Contrual. He was bomat Welton Turvile, in Packinghamfhre; was formelly of Wad-ham-cullege, Oxford, and M. I in that miverfity. His grem and well-knm,wn prodeffronal ablities render his death a pulte lofs. His vancus howlege, of which he himfelf appeared manconfions, but which both delighted and informat thofe who had the picature of b:s acquintance; the chearful and gente philminopy of his charatier ; the fimpliciry of his manners; the cendernefs of bis affettion; and the bonelly of his heart, have ket his widow and fritisds whinout the hopes of retijeving a bofs winch they fet it metreevable.

Latoy, at Calent?s in the Lait Indie,

Lieut. John Wittet, of the Company's arillery.

At the Cape of Good Hope, aged only 19, William-Auguftus Gordon, efq. captum in the 9 th regiment of foot, and fon of William-Augutus G. efq. of Exeter. His death was occafioned by a fall from his horfe, which, having fractured his fanth, he lived only a few hours.

At the fame place fudlenly, Col. Robert Gurdon, many years commandant of the Dotch ferces there, and one of the council of that gover ment, who tateiy fur rendered that important fettlement to the Britifin army. He was defcended from a Scotch family. Tlic time of its fetting in Holland is not kusisu, but it mut have been very hong ago, as his gromelfathor was hurgom.ffer of Schiedam. His father's entry into the amy was by a cornetcy of the Dutch crastion suard; but, on ascount of his Scotch name and the burgomafter's ffrong intereft, he foon ohtrined a company in Fiett-m. rihal C lvear's ressment of the Sutic's big ide. This was ennffilered as a B eat en e". nce ty he fficurs of tast enrps, who l oked wem to tamly as Du'chi and. whenever lis fature pomation was in queRinn, remonfrated agrainft it. He, notwithtanding, refe to the rank of majorgenemal, and comman'ed a regiment of the prigiale during the war in Flanders, ard was thken prifmer at the fiege of Bergen-op-2.2om. The colonel himfelf was born with his father's regiment in Guelderland, in winch be tatly obtained a commiffion, and rofe hy feniority to the rank of captain. But the fationary life of a foldier in reace, iersing in the gars:fons of the United Proennces, itli :ccorded with the activity of a mind thirting for variety of knowlege. Havnm, therefore, vifited fucl parts of Europe as his !eifuct would admit, he obtain. ol leave of ahferce to ninke a voyage to the Cape if Gund hope, where he employed about a year in penetrating the interiut of that country, and ftudying, with an accur:cy for which he was ever diftinguiked, the natural productions of fo new a field of enquily. Some time afterwards, on his return to Europe, on the refignation of Col. Vinil Fren, he was appointed by che Dutch Faft luwit Cornpany to the chief comanal of their rambaty at the Cape. It was ahout this time he married a very aminh'e antl fenfibe woman, a native of the Pays do Vaux, in Sivitzerland. Although his time wats much taken up in his otficiat dutes, and in the ftudy of the moft ahftiufe pats of fcieace, he was, neverthrefs, of a chearfal and focia! difpofition; open, cancud, and fincere; of thict integricy, punctlions honow, and unthaken principics; bat of tow licte fubtlety, and of too impate cat a mud, to rreat with fufficient in finatace the contimal verations to mat wht in a colony Where defpotifin and peculation were uncontroulable, and where felf-intereft was univerfally prevaient. His houfe, the conftant refort of Itrangers, the feat of hofpitality, at cuce exhibited the learning of the man, the dignity of the chief, and the felicity of the huband and the father. His natural partiality to the fociety. of the Englim never induced him to be in the leaft wantiug in attention to others; and, though related to Britons, he never fuffered the lealt bent of his inclination to wat $p$ him from his duty as a Dutchman. He luas left his widow with four fons. The eldert, now abont 17 years of age, bore a commiltion in his father's battation at the time of tie furtender of the Cape. Madame Gord(n), now, as it is foppofed, on her way to Switzecland, is coming to this country; and it is not doubted that there are many, who, bearing in remembrance the good quatities of the colonel, will have it in their inclination, as it may be in them power, to return to the children part of the ohligations conferred by the father. Although not rich, had the colonel died in any other times than thefe, it is certain that des widoes and children muft have been left in decent and refpectable circumitances; but it is feared that the effects of war, and the confufions in Holland, will be injurinat to their property, both in Europe and strica. He had, for fome time back, intended publinhing the refult of his different expeditions, but found it impracticable during his refidence at the Cape: His papers, amongtt wiach is a very curious wollection of dravings, and an extenfive topugraphical furvey of the Southern promontory of Africa, muit the valuable; and it is greatly to be wifhed that the publication of them may be entruated to the care of fome.perfon conpetent to the tafk. He wa handfome in his perton, elegant in his mannere, upwards of fix feet high, thin, but mulcular, ftrong, active, and capable of enduring great fatigue; of a dark complexion; and died at the age of 54 . He fpoke the German, French, Dutch, and Englifh languages with egual facility. - To the friends of the amiable Col. Cathcart, who, in his patiage on an embaffy to Clina, died in the Indian reas, and was buried on one of thore iflands, it may not he unpleafant to know that Col. Gordon had provided, with the beft. materials, and executed by the bert artilts, the Cape could atford, an eleg.ont marble memor ial of our ceparted countrvman, when he had forwarded to replace the more perifhable one tirat had been left to point cut the foot wherelay the remains of the deceafed.-Lieut. Pateríon was particularly fortunate in merting with Colonel (then Captain) Gordon, who had travelled joto the Hotteotot country about 1774. (four years before him), and was then fintely returned from Holland, fecond is cornmand, and appointed to fucceed Col. Van Pren, their commander in ckief. H* speaks of Col. Gordon as a gentleman of extenfive infornation in maft branches of naturat hiftory, and the only perion who had any confuderable knowlege of that country, being acyuainted with the inte rior parts for near 1500 miles from the Cape. He had acquired the language of the Holtentots, which, together with his perfect acquaintance with the Dutch langnage, gave him an advantage over moit other travellers. They fet ont together, October, 1777; bur, on account of Mir. F's illnefs, patted in a montl. See lis Narrative, publinied 1789 . (See our vol. LIX. p. 829, where it is, by miftake, fud Their journeys together; whereas, in each of the fen: journeys, Mr. P. liad a different companion.) - In the lately-pul o lithed "Voyage ound the Word," by Mrs. Parker, an entert inment of Co!. Gordon's is thus defciited: "Our haggage arrived the next day ( June 25, 1791), and we wire buffly employed, having ehgaged ourfelves to dise with Colonel Gordon. The hour of dinner was two o'clock ; the Colmel obligingly fent his carriage for us, which was very acceptable, the weather being intenfely hot, and the pavement intoleraty bad. The villa where the Colonel refides is fiteated a few miles from the town, on the fummit of a bill commandiris a moft pleafant and extenfive view by fea and land. The good Coionel is already well known for his Mufemm, an:l Manufcripts relative to Natural Hiftory, and his many enterprifing journeys to the interior parts of that country; for which he was eminently qua. lifiedon account of his extenfive knowledge of the languige, manners, and cuftoms, of the Hotentot:, by whom he is almolt adored. The refpect and regard which I bear to this famly forbids my pailing over in filence the polite and friendly artention I received from Mirs. Gordon, who is a Swifs lady, and who moft agreeably acquiefces in whatever may tend to renter thole com.fortahle who have the hippinefs of heing ranked amonglt her : "emantace. After what I have ind, it w eafily be fupiofed that their childsen are tangat the fame engaging attention to ftratigers."

(795.] Obituary of remar kable. Forfons; with Biographical Anecidotes. 443

At Adernety, Entiga Calladine, of the invalids.

Sudtenty, at Preitun, co. Lancater, Jn. Fazakerlry, eff. eldeft fon of Jolm F. efq. of Omakirk.

Mr. Hogens, of Polas, co. Salop, father of the Coundets of ixeter. Mrs. M. died on the 22 d of March laft, fee p. 354 .

Mr. King, grazier, of Earl Shikon, co. Letonfer.

At Byfleet-park, Surrey, after a long jlineis, rget 64 , Mr. Daniet Hanı $s$.

At Gmitord, Surrey, ared abuit 86, M1so Gilljaw, formerly of Ripley.

444 Obituary of remal hakle Perfons; with Biographical-Anecaotes. [May,

AtSandwich, Kent, Nathanael Elgar, efq. At the frme place, Mrs. Sarah Naine.
At Whaddon, near Croyden, the Lady of Peregrine Bourdien, efq.

At Chefterfield, aged 48, the Hon. Eliz. Horton, eldeft fifter of the Earl of Derby, and I:Ady of the Rev. Thomas Horton, rector of Biadfworth, co. York.

At Woolwich, Gen. Broome, of the artillery. He rofe from the fituation of a private to the high rank of a general ofticer, merely by his perfonal nerit. He was a captain of artullery at the time of the trial of Lord George Sackville, in which he appeared as a principal evidence againft his lors'hip Aged 6c, Mr. John Rathall, of Lincoln, many years an officer in the excife.

In St. Thomas's parih, near Exeter, Mrs. Ot to Baijer, relict of John Otto B.efq. of Antigua.

At Tiverton, Mrs. Beavis, relict of the late R.cv. Peter B. rector of Wark!eis', near Snuthmolton, co. Devon.

At Ottery, Devon, Mrs. Hodge, wife of Mr. H. furgeon there.

At Norwich, aged 8 ; Mrs. F. Gibbon.
At Belmont, aged 82, W. Taylor, efq.
A. Grantham, on his return from London, Mr. Joha Binns, of Leeds, printer, and one of the pathers in the commercial batk at Leeds.

Vuch r-foêted, aged 25 , Iohn Wakefictd, efq. fen. alderman of the borough of C.fitle Rifing, co. Nortolk. He had feived the ofice of soyor 27 thares.

At Wanage, Berks, Mrs Sterling, widow of the late Whlliam S. efq. attornty at liaw, of that place. His busther $u$ as the Inte Mr. John S, aitorney at law, of Pumpcourt, in the Tenple; whofe nephers, Thomas, is the preient coroner and deputyclerk of the peace for the co. of Middlefex. This branch of the family were of Eyemoutin is the shire of Berwack.

Rev. Francis Mlsckwell, of Londwater, Eucks.

At S:iffron Walden, Effex, after a long and paintul illnefs, the Rev. Wm. Campbell, viciar of Henham, in that county. He was p.efented to it 1779 ; and, 1781 , married Mifs H. M. Bulteck.

At Llanarmon, near Ofweilry, very foddenty, the Rev. Mr. Whlliams, vicar of that parifn. His brother, the curate of Llenflin, lavivg teen fent for on the ocenfion, dropped down dead foon after entericg the houfe. The widow aho of the decrafed vicar expired a tew clays before, after a very few homs illaefs.

At Scarbolough, in his $95^{\text {th }}$ year, Mr. Thomas Writfied, mariner.

At Iympiton, Duvon, David Carnegie, efc. bate in conncil at Bombay.

At Hatnoue mith, aged 84, Mrs. Eliz. Somme, widew of Mr. James G.

In Hull-street, Mifs Caroline Baker, youngeft daughter of Wm. B. efq. repreferative of the comnty of Fiertford.

May . . . At Iflington, Mrs. Dawes, re liet of John D. efq. of Highbury, who died Feb. 1,1788 (LViII. 181 ).

1. At his chambers in Lincoln's-inn, Ifaac Prefton, efq. batrifter at law, and recorder of Lynn, co. Norfolk.

In Bocuiton-ftreet, Robert Pate, efq. of Epiom, Surrey.

In his 4 8th year, the Rev. Mr. Shuttleworth, vicar of Tidefwell, eo. Derby.

After a Short illnefs, the Lady of the Rev. Henry Flumtre, daughter of the Rev. Jeremash Femibertou, of I rumpington, co, Cambridge.
2. At Southgate, of the palfy, Mrs. Collinfon, wife of Mr. C. of that place, and daughter of the late Mir. Hinton Browne, banker, of London.

After a few days illoefs, aged $67, \mathrm{Wm}$. Turnbull, M. D. phyfician to the Eaftern Difpenfary. Dr. T. was a very able and fuccefsful phyfician ; he came to London from Wooler, in Northumberland, about 25 years ago.

Mr. Wm. Smith, many years priter of Merton-college, Oxford; whufe upright integrity and focial virtues will be long remembered.

At Hope-park, near Edinhurgh, James Ogilvy, efy deputy receiver-general of the cuitoms of Scotlane.
3. Of an infiammation ia her bowels, Lady Gerru ude Cromie.

After a few days indifpofition, at the houte of Mr. Mould, furgeon, of Oundle, vhere the was on a vifit, Mifs Hicks, dau. of Mr . H. of Fotheringliay.

After a thort illnefs, Mr. Ring, of Bifingitoke.
4. Mr. Deodatus Eaton, coal-merchant, of St. Aldate's, Oxford.

At Hampton court-palace, in her 7 fit year, Anna Catharina Rumsion Warminhwybin, dowager Buronefs da Tour, no-ther-in law of Baron Nagel.

After a long thnefs, Airs. Belgrave, wife of Mr. B. one of the aldermen of Stamford. Lacheny Sbrapnel, efq. of Eradford,Wilts. At Stock port, Cheahire, Mrs. Crowther.
5. In Lomion, Mr. James Sindry, filver* fmith and jewellers of Uxford.

At Ramigate, whitler the went for the henefit of her health, the Laty of Francis Frecling, efq. principal and refident furveyor of the General Poft-oftice.

At Chefterfield, aged 36, Mrs. Saxton, wife of Mi. S. hofier, of that place, ond youngeft daughter of the late F, Radford, efg, of Little Eaton.
6. At Camberwell, in her 18tb year, Mifs Amelia-Sophia Petkins, only datghter of John P. efq. brewer, of Southwank.

Mr. Wm. Walker, of Albenarle Areet, furgeon to St. George's hofpital. Mr. W. was about 55 years of agke, and waş a papil

1\%96.] Obituary of remarkab.e Perfons; zuith Biographical Anecdotes. 445

of the late worthy and amiable Thomas Gataker, efy: of Tall Mall, furgeon extraordinary to his Majefty, whe died near 30 years ago. Mr. W. was cartied off by an illnefs of two days from an epidemic and infectious fever, accompanied with is fwelling of the face, caught in the hofpital.

In his 8 gth year, Sir Thomas Blackhall, knt. fenior alderman of Dublin:

At Britweil coppice, near Watlington, Joh Phillips, a very induftrious labouringman. While felling an oak-tree, in com. pany with his father and brother, one of the hranches ftruck hum on the right fiete of his head, and kilied him inftantly.
8. Mr. William Spreckley, of Witham-on-the-Hill, co. Lincoln.

Kev. W. Tookie, rector of Herringfuell and Worlington, both co. Suffolk.

At Inington, of a decline, Mrs. Sarah Johnion, eldeft daughter of the late Mr. Richard J of Derby, br.zier.
9. At Harmiton-hall, ne er Lincoln, after a long illnefs, in her 16th y-ar, Mifs Clara Chittina Thorold; youngeft daughter of Samuel T. efq. youngelt fon of the late Sir John T. bart, whe died in 1775, and goiddanghter of the late Earl of Exeter. H r remains were depofited in the family-vant in Harnifton churcin Her filter was married, Ficb. 28, to Capt. Simpion, fee p. 254.

Rev. Thomas Dannet:, rector of Liverpanl.

At her houfe near Finchley church, Mrs. Anne Allen, widow.
:0. Mrs. Hafelridge, of Wansfort, co. Huntington, one of the daughters of the Late Sir Arthur H. bart. of Nufelej-balt, cu. Leiceiter.

Mr. Hardy, of Bradgate-park, many years huntiman to the Earl of Stamford. His abilities as a fportiman were in the higheit eftimation, and bis deportment in private life amiable.

If. Mr. John Mozley, printer, of Gainfborgugh, co. Lincoln.

In Blackhall-itreet, Dublin, Henry Hart, effy oneof the aldermen of that city, and a divifional magiftrate under the new police bill.
12. Aged 85 , Mr. Rubinfen, of St. Martin's Stamfurd Baron, co. Northampton.

Mrs. Hammond, wife of Mr. H. diftiller, Sol's-row.

In Kenfagton-fqu. Samuel Palmer, efq. folicitor to the Geireral Poit- fice, and brothre to the late agent to the D. of Beilford.
13. At Chatham, aged 76, Mrs. Martin, relict of Mr . M. Mip-builder.

Tobias Hippiley, efq. of Hambleton, co. Rutland ; fher ff of the councy in 1782 .

At his houfe, Drumheugh, near Eidinpurgh, the Hon. James Eirkine, of cilva, one of the fenators of the College of Jufsjec. He was admitted an advocate Dec. 3, 1743 ; appointed one of the barons of the Exchequer May 27, 1754; hand, May 20, 176 ? , one of the lors of feffinn, and to $k$ the title of Lord Bariarg, which he afterwards altered to that of Lord Alva.

Of a paralytic firroke, aged 57, Mrs. Elizabeth Bye, wife of Mr Deodatus B. printer, St. John's-fquare, Clerkenwell.
15. At Hampftead, co. Middlefex, Hemy W. Guyon, efq.
${ }^{1} 16$ In his 75 th year, Jofeph Elderton, eff. one of the aldermen and a juftice of the peace in Salifbury, many years regiftrar to the thinop of that diocete; and frequently an eitertaining corretpondent in ohr Mifcellany.
17. At her honfe in Qineen-fquare, in her 88th year, Mrs. Pryne, reliet of Johia P. éq. merchant, of London.

Mr. Willam Pardoe Allat, mealman, of St. John's-ftreet, London.

Mr. Michael Guefl, of Chandos-ftreet, Covent-garden.
At Frielibury, near Rochefier, Mr. Tho. Ayres, many years mater of the Crown inn, and one of the common council of Rochefter.

At Sidmouth, the Rev. Whlliam Blake, M.A. reAtur of Brampton, co. Devon, and of Stockland-Briftol, co. Somerfer.
18. Aged 76, Mrs. Lifter, relict of Thomas L. ef.a. of Girfby-hath, co. Lincoln.
19. Edward Athawes, efy. many years clerk to the Cordwainers Company.

At her houfe in Hereford-theet, Lady Charlotte Finch, eldeft dughter of Daniel feventh Earl of Winchelfea and third Earl of Nottingham. She formerly enjoyed the place of governefs of the royal munfery, with an appointmant of 600 . per anntm. 20. Mrs. Tremeils, wite of Mr. T. coalmerchant, of Northumberland-ftr. Strand.

Mis, Kirby, wife of Mr. K. keeper of Newsite.
Mi. Benfon, of the theatre-royal, Drurylane. About three o'clock in the morning he fung himfelf from the top of a houfe in Bridges-Itreet, Covent.garden, where he lowiged, and his bead pitcting on the kirbftone, his brains were dathed in the hisis road This lamentable circumftance is to be attributed to his having been affleted with the brain-fever, from which be was fuppofed to have recovered. He had not the leaft articic of clowths on; and he attempted to get out of the two pair of ftairs window, by bresking a fquare of glafs ; hut not beng ahte to open che window, he got out of the garret-window. He has left a widow friter to Mrs. Sephen Kemble, who was expected in town from Edinburgh the dy after the nelanch ty event happened, and four young chilliren. He was an induftrinus, ufeful, and meritorious performer; and by his death an aged father and mother are depmived of fupprit.
21. At her lodgings near Bath, aft ra tons and painful illne.s, the Lady of Sir Edwurd Harringtoa.

446 Obituay.-Eiciefrufical Preferments.-Bill of Moitality : May

z2. At Dartmonth, after a long illnefs, much rmmented, Capt. Edward Rrowue, of the royal-navy.

At Mr. Robinfon's, in SouthamptonЂuildings, Chancery-lane, much efteemed and lamented, on account of her amizble temper and accomplithments, Mifs Carver, Formerly of Plymouth. From great anxiety and atiention to a beloved filter, the late Mrs. Rohinfon, of Ely-place (fee vol.LXV. 260), fhe fuffered in her health, and greatly in her firits; and was attacked with pulmonary confumption, under which the laboured 13 months.

At the White Lion inn at Bath, HenryThomas Cary, Vifcount Falkland, and Baxon Cary in Scoland. He had reached Melkfham, on his way to Londen, but being too ill to proceed, returned to Bath. He was born in 1766, and fucceeded his grandfather, the late vifcount, in 1785. Dying without iffue, his brother, the Hon. Charles-John Cary, fucceeds him.
in Bluomfbury-fquare, Tho. Wier, efy.
23. At Knightfbridge, advanced in years, and after a lingering illnefs, Mr. Jn. Jones, formerly of Little Chelfea.
24. In Great Queen-ftreet, fincerely lamented, Mrs. Francklin, widow of the juftly-celebrated Dr. Thomas F. fome time Greek profeff rat Cambridge, tranflator of Sophocles, &c. and tuthor of fome other valuable works; who died March 15, 1784 ; and of whom an account is given in vol. LIV. p. $23^{8 .}$.

At Stockpors, in Chehire, Mr. Crowther, who forvived his lady only thee weeks (fee p. 4.4).

Suddenly, Mr. Wm. Hyde, many yers an enment grocer and very refpeciable claracter at Oxfond.

Mr. Taylor, of Hertford-college, Oxford. He fell overboard and was drowned while taking his pleafure in a canoe hetween Itiey and Oxford, ahout 7 in the evenans.
27. Lord Charles-Harrick-Thomas Townfous, youngeft fon of the Marquis T. (fee p. $43^{6}$ ). He was bom at Leixlyp, in incland, fan. 6, 1768, while lins father was Lor d-lientenant of that kingeom.

Ecclestastical Preferments,

R3 EV. Dr. Dive Downes, appointed 7. chaplain in ordinary to ins Arajefly. Rev. foreph Amhidge, of Heath, near Cheiterfiteld, alt. Hucki..ill V. co. Detby.

Rev. John Robin'on, of Wefton, co. Notenghan, ribthelf V.co. Derioy.

Rev. Mi. Thomas. rector of Walton and Surcet, Backwell R. co. Somerfet; and Rav. Honry Dyfon, M. A. Banglurit ti. co Southanytun; both wice Bett, dec.

Rev. Jolin Parfons, St. Leonerd R. nea Colchefter, Elfex.

Rev. Rohert Hardy Tucker, B. A. St Mary V. Mariborsiath.

Rev. George Sandby, Camberwelf y co. Surrey.

Rev. John Lilly, M. A. fellow of Mer ton-coilege, Oxferd, Stoke- Jacy R. an Felton V. both co. Hereford.

Rev. William Hampfon, B.A. of Al mondbury, neur Huddersficic, co. York Peel perpetual curacy, near Manchefter.

Rev. Peter Wright, M. A. fellow of By liol-college, Oxf. Baddeley R. co. Chefter. Rev. Jn. Walters, rector of Llandoust near Cowbridse, co. Glamorkan, and au thor of the Englihh-Welh Dietionary, an oher publications, zollated to a prebend the cathedral of Landafi.

Rev. T. Cockayne, Burnham V. co. E fex, vice Petvin, dcc.

Rev. Riclu...d Runwa Jenkins, Axbride R. co. Somerfet, vice Gould, dec.

Rev. J. C. Mayber, M. A. Merthy Tidvile $R$. in the dincefe of Landaff.

Rev. Joln Yeatman, M. A. fellow Oriel-college, Oxford, Edburton R. Suffe Rev, Thontas Wats, LL.B. St. Giles ' Northampton.

Rev. W. Butlin, M. A. Cooknoe, othe wife Cogenhoe R. co. Northampton.

Rev. Willian Trevanion Barlow, B. Southill R. with Kellington chapelry at nexed, co. Comwall.

Rev. James Glazebrock, Behon V. c Leicelter.

Rev. John Francis Browne Sohun, De den R. co. Suffolk.

Rev. J. Lewes, M. A. Ingateftone with Butifoury perpetual coracy, bo:h Effex, vice his father, refigned.

Rev. Ells Burroughes, Sutson R. on Ne
Rev. T. Howes, Thuriton V.co. Nori
Rev. K. Warde, Dittm R. co. Kent.
Rev Dr. Hay Dermmand, Hadleigh quec Whaton, refigned; who is pronoted Rotnbury R. co. Nerthumberland.

Rev. Charles Phillips, Rhagland a Landenny RR. co. Monmonth; and R Jobn Powell, heal-matter of the gra mar-fcl:ool in Mommonth, blanfoy R.; bi wise Leech, of Klakerey, dec.
$\because$ Rev. W. Ward, Nite-End R. near Ć chefter, Effex.

Rev. C. Paulctt, jun. Kingiclofe V. Harmpfure.

Rev. Darell Stephens, B. A. Maker co. Cornwall.

BILL of MORTALITY from Apill 26 , to May $24,5796$.

AVERAGE PRICES of CORN, from the Returns cnding May $21,1796$.

INLAND COUNTIES.

Wheat. Rye Barley Oats |Beans

Average of England and Waies, per quarter. $\begin{array}{lllllll}75 & 10: 48 & 10 / 34 & 2 \mid 2 I & 9139 & 4\end{array}$

Average of Scotland, per quarter.
74 5134 2/29 11123 5l40 1

MARITIME COUNTIES.

|  | Wheat | Rye ABarley |  |  | Oats \| Beans |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | d. 5 . |  |  |  | d | s |  |
| Effex | 76 | 29 | c 25 |  | 19 |  |  |  |
| Kent | - | Oo | 027 | 11 | 20 |  | 130 |  |
| Suffex | 623 | 3 | - 27 | 8 | 21 | $6{ }^{6}$ |  |  |
| tf.lk | 729 |  | 27 |  | 20 |  | 431 |  |
| Cambrid. | 659 | O0 | 25 |  | 15 |  |  |  |
| Norfolk | 725 | 5 | 24 |  | 18 |  | 1,30 |  |
| col | 712 | $25^{6}$ | -133 |  | 16 |  | 35 |  |
| k | 724 | 454 | 8:8 |  | 2 |  | 37 | 7 |
| Durham | $74 \quad 7$ | $13^{8}$ | - 39 |  | 23 |  | 00 |  |
| Northum. | 6011 | ${ }_{4}{ }^{\circ}$ | -129 | 10 |  |  | 100 |  |
| mber | 868 | $5^{2}$ | 738 |  | 26 |  | , |  |
| Weitm. | 868 | 86 | 0.46 |  | 26 |  | c |  |
| caft | 837 |  | 0132 |  |  |  | 57 | 4 |
| eft | 809 | 00 | 0100 |  | 27 |  | $\bigcirc$ |  |
| Flint | 807 | 100 | 045 |  |  |  | 100 |  |
| Denbigh | $85=$ |  | ${ }^{\circ}+7$ |  | ,24 |  | 00 |  |
| Anglef | co o |  | - 32 |  |  | 0 | 00 |  |
|  |  |  | 913 |  | 17 | ro, |  |  |
| io | 1832 | 59 | $2{ }^{2} 7$ |  | 121 |  | $\bigcirc$ |  |
| Cardya | 724 | 46 | c) 32 |  |  |  | 00 |  |
| mb: | 596 | 100 | $0 / 31$ |  |  |  | doo |  |
| arma | 66 | 800 | $0 / 36$ |  |  |  | O |  |
| Glamo | 736 | 10 | c/37 |  | 21 |  | OO |  |
| Gloucert. | 784 | 400 | $0 \cdot 13$ |  | 22 |  | 37 | 7 |
| Somerfet | 756 | 6100 | c $3^{6}$ |  |  |  | 32 |  |
| Monni. | $77 \quad 4$ | 400 | c 37 |  |  |  | 00 |  |
| Devon | 730 | do | 0133 | 111 |  |  | 0 |  |
| Comasall | 677 |  | $0{ }^{1} 32$ |  |  |  | Oo |  |
| Driet | 68 |  | $0{ }_{3}{ }^{1}$ |  |  |  | 40 |  |
| , | 63 |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | AVERAGE PRICE, by which Exportation and Bounty are to be regulated.

PRICES OF FLOUR.

| Fine | 56s. to $6=\mathrm{s}$. | Midalling | 445. to 62s. | Horfe Pollard i isod to os cd |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Seconds | $54^{\circ}$. to 555. | Fine Pollard | 22S. to oos. | Bran ros. 6d. to us. |
| Thirds | 42 s . to 48 s . | Common dit | is6dtocosod |  | OATMEAL, per Roll of 140 lbs . Avoirdupois, 43 s. rod.

PRICE OF HOPS.

| Kent Pockets | 31. ros. to $\mathrm{g}^{\text {l. }}$ i2s. | kets | $3^{3}$ l. 10s. to 5 !. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Ditto Bags | 31. os. to 4'. Ios. | Ditt, B.ags | $3^{\text {l. os. To }} 4 \mathrm{l}$. os. |
| Effex Bass | 2l. 10s. to 4l. os. | Farnham Pockets | $3^{\text {l. }}$ Ios. to 61. | PRICE OF HAY AND STRAW.

| s's-Hay | 4l. $4^{\text {s. }}$ d. to 51.8 s . | Aver. 41. i6s. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Strav | 11. | Aver. 21. os. 6 d . |

Average Price of SUGAR, computed from the returns made in the week ending May 25 , $179^{6}$, is $53^{5 .} 94$. per cwf. exclufive of the duty of Cuftoms paid or payable thereon on the impoutation thereof into Great-Britain.

SMITHFIELD, May 23. To fink the offal-per ftone of 81 b .

$4^{\text {s. od. to }} 5^{\text {s. }} 4^{\text {d. }}$.
Tallow, per ftone of 8 lb . 6 s . $7 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$.
COALS. Newcartle, $344^{\text {s }}$ od. to $38_{5}$ od.

|  | $\operatorname{cincman}_{\text {and }}^{\text {and }}$ |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  |  |

The Gentleman's Magazine;

Lond.GAzETTE General Even. Lloyd's Eveaing 9t. James'sChron. London Cbren. London Evening The Sun-Star Whitehall Ever. London Packet Englith Chron. Courier-Ev.Ma. Midderex Journ. Hue asd Cry. Daily Adv.rifer Tienes-Briten wurning Chron. Gazenteer, Ledzer Heratr-Oracle M. Poft-Telegr. Morning Adverr. 13 Weck!y Papers Bath $=$, Drifitul 4 Birminehara 2 Blacklu:n Bucks-BE: 7 Cameridgiz 2 Cancerbury 2 Cheltasford
Cheftar, Coventry

$$
\text { JUNE, } 5796 .
$$

Cumberland Doncafter 2 Derby, Eacter Gloucufer Herefort, Hal! !pfich Ireland Leicester Lewes Leeds 2 Liverpool 3 Maiditone Monchenter 2 Nuw wafle 3 in retaramion țaravich $z$ nurnema "xFify 2 B.a:tins

EcuTLAND
S1~~ 2
Stur me 2
Si.f.ed

$x=8 \mathrm{~K}$
 Memoirs of the 1 te Rev. Pr:Samuzl Pegge $+5^{1}$ Infriptionat Lucerne-High Lake, CheWire 455 Sotulacs-Dream realizel-|ndex Indic. 456 Defcription f Lydingtonand its Hofpital, &e.4:7 Old Seals-TheCollegeat Hackney abandoned ib. Letters from the late Mr. Githon to our Printer459 No Man's Land-The Waterhomie Family 460 Somo Literary Notices of Mr. Robert Herrick 46 r BiographicalAnecdotes of Edward Sherburı, eqfo Information concerming feveral antient Poets $; 6$; Conntefs of Welde:en-Famly of Heathaw + $^{52}$ A Charge not delivered at the Old Billy $i b$. Figeons Fanthers in Beds? - Famtly of Job 405 Uvedale's Whitings a the Hebrew Lan"enge : $/ 6$. VariousBiograplical andGencalogical Notice ćá.G Kangaroodefcribed, from Admeafurement is Themonmentsat Hack ney will he pref Twines Litnean Syitemdefendel-Wntancal Nurices / fab Remaks on the Hiftory of Winchefter Cey +70
 Remaks ontice Roman Starion at torblucio 47 ? Irom Forgesand Sommer Campofther man iz3 Earth-wons near W:Imer-Cafrr's? lect 474
The Frenchand Englia Tetesi.phodifierent tis
 A conos Abstrace of the new Curates st it in Suppofed lmane fien of Swallows TheDealoga in Hutrew on

Embellihed with a fue View of Lidington Hosirtal, iathe Comay of RUTLA:id;

By . ${ }^{2}$
ita $B$
Prouted by JOHN NiCHOLS, at Cicen's :tead, Red-Lion Patace, Blat-atcet; Meteorozogical Table for June, 1796.

W. CARY, Optician. No. 182. near Norfolk-Streer. Strand.

| 芫 Wind. | Barom. | $\begin{array}{l\|l\|l\|l\|} \text { Thermom } \\ 1 .\|2 \cdot\| 3 \cdot 14 \cdot \mid 5 \end{array}$ | hygrom. feet in. | State of Weather in May, 1796. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 1 E calm | 29, 43 | $544^{6} 47+54$ | 142.5 | fhowers |
| \% SE ca'm | 45 | 54484515951 | . 5 | Showers P.M. |
| 3. NE moderate | 72 | $544^{6}+77+94^{6}$ | . 6 | fun and clear |
| 4 NE cam | 80 | $50424^{2} 7050$ | -9 | white clouds |
| ${ }_{5} \mathrm{~S} \% \mathrm{c}: 1 \mathrm{~m}$ | 80 | $5^{2} 44^{6} 4^{6} 19.44^{8}$ | . 8 | white clouds |
| 6 WW calm | 74 | $5+5049{ }^{6} 55^{2}$ | . 6 | fiight fhowers A.M. cloudy P.M. |
| 75 calm | 80 | $545^{1} 55^{5} 5491$ | . 8 | heavy rain |
| 8 SE sentle | 53 | 56494952.48 | 4 | cloudy A.M. heavy rain P.M. |
| 3 IV gentle |  | $5^{6} 4^{9}+4^{\circ}+4^{8} 14^{8}$ | .2 | fhowers |
| 30 SE calm |  | $5^{6} 50.5415149$ | $\cdot 3$ | fhowers |
| 3 SWV gentle |  | 57,54,52 60 [54 | - 3 | fhowers |
| 12 SW brink |  | $575^{2} 5^{2} / 545^{1}$ | - 3 | itormy fhowers, hail |
| 13 NW gentle | 40 | $53.444^{6}+343$ | $\cdot 4$ | hail ftorms A.M. clears up P.N\%, |
| 14 NW moderate | 6 | 53.47456962 | . 6 | fhowers A.M. clears up P.M. |
| 2 ; SW caim |  | '53,44,43 40.40 | . 5 | fhowers with hall |
| 26 in W calm |  | 5, 49,467457 | . 6 | farr and clear 1ky |
| ${ }^{2}$ - S moderate | 30, | $15053 \mid 51 / 575^{2}$ | . 5 | clear A.M. overcaft P.M. |
| \% E moderate |  | $153555^{2} 159100$ | . 6 | hite clouds |
| 1) E brik | 20,96 | $65^{6} 5^{2} 7^{8} 66$ | . 8 | white veil upon the blue |
| 2) 1. guntle |  | $60.53,4979$ ó 5 | 3.0 | clear blue fky |
| 213 ctm |  | ,60 $5^{2} / 4977767$ | 1 | light clonds |
| $\therefore$ NW brifk | 8 | $5{ }^{\text {a }} 4.9 .491949$ | 2.9 | overcaft, night fhowers |
| 23 N calion | 30, | $5^{8} 5^{1}: 5: 535^{1}$ | .7 | gloomy |
| 24 S moderate |  | 5954 527565 | .7 | white clonds |
| - SW modurite | 19,7 | ,60 $55^{\prime} 54,5^{6} 5^{6}$ | $\cdot 7$ | mizzley A.M. white clouds P.M. |
| 25 SW briik |  | 15953:254 54 | . 6 | fhowers A.M. clears up P.M. |
| 27 SW inoderate |  | 59 51/52 $5^{2} / 50$ | . 6 | overcalt A.M. firowers P.M. |
| 28 SW moderate | 6 | 5951535553 | . 6 | fhowers |
| 29 SW butt | 4 | =-53 561\% 56 | . 8 | cloudy with fhower |
| 30 S moderate |  |  | $\cdot 4$ | thowers |
| 31S ${ }^{\text {S }}$ S gentle | 4 | $1574 \times 914^{6} / 4^{3}$ | . 5 | overcaft, with fhower |

1. Labornum and fyango bioom.-4. Potatoe-ftems deforoyed by lati nights froft: whis fiout has alfo been fatat to the different iruts. Flantanus foliates. - ? Horn-heam fohated. Fiogs crowsi in the croning--10. Hex foliates.--16. Hawthom bloms.-17. Throftle fings viblent.- 18. Duft rifes in eddes.-19. Duft rifes. Barley in fome places changes colour by the excefs of wer ; it has affo in fome degree atfecied the wheat. -20. Niynads of fles fonting over the hidrant water of ditches-21. Fion fer a fucc Mom of nights; the prejudicial etrichs evident upon the fruts, hecges, &e.-23. Moun-win-ath in full blum.-17. Hork-chelinut in bloom-28. Guider rote blegras,

THE

Gentleman's J Tagamine: For JUN E, ${ }_{1796}$

REING THE SIXTH NUMBER OF vOL. LXVI PARY I.
MCNOIRS OF THE REV. DR. PEGGE.
 Peroe, LL. D. and F.S.A. was the reprefentative of one of your braaches of the family of that name in Derbyfhire, daived from a common anceftor, all which cxifted :o. gether till within a few yews. The eldeft became extinct by th. deak of Mr. William Pegge, of Yede:?ev, near Afhborne, 1768 ; and anorher by that of the Rev. Natianiel Pegge, M. A. vicar of Packington in Leiceiserfhire, 1782.

The Doctor's immediate predece!fors, as may appear from the Heralfsoffice, were of Olmafton, near Albborne, where they relided, in tine $t$ fucceffion, for four generations, antecedentiy to his father and himelt, and where they teft a patrimona! inheritance, of which the Doctor died poffeifed I.

Of the other exifing branch, Mr. Edward Pegne having [1652] marned Gentrude, fote daveher and heir of Williain Stetiley, Elq. of Beduchief, in the Northern part of Dirbvhire, feated himfelf there, and was apponted high theriff of the county 111667 ; a: was his grandfon, Strelley Pegec, Efq. 1739 ; and his great grandion, the pretent Perer Pegee, Eif. $178 \%$.

It was by Kath wine Pegge, a daugh ter of Thomas Pegpe, Efq. of Yelderfley, that Kong Charles II. (who faw her mbroad daing his exile) had a fon (born 165:), whom he caled Charles Fi:z-Claries, to whom he granted the roydl atms, with a biton finffer, Vairé, and whoin ( 1605 ) his MIjeity created Earl of Plymouti), Vifcounr Tomefs, and baton Darimoution. He was bred to the fa, and, having been educated aurodu, mot probally in Spain, was known ter the narne of Jon Cartos 3 . The Earl marriad the Lady Bridget Ofborne, thind daughter of Thonas Eirl of Danby, lord high treafurer (at Wimbledun, in Surrey), $1678^{4}$, and dued of a Dlux at the fiege of Tangier, 1680, witnour tfrue. The body was broucht the Eng'and, and interred in Wetaninter Abbeys. The Countels re-married Dr. Phalip Dife, Bhop of Heretord, by whom the lad no iffur, and who, furviving her, erected a handfome tablet to her memory ia bis canedial. Kistatine P.gge, th: Earl's muther, Marised Sir Euivard Gieene, Burt. of Samtord in thliex, and died wi baut iflu= by him ${ }^{6}$.

But to recurn 5 : the Rev. Dr. Pegge, the outline of whote lie we only propute to give. His tather (Chafiopher) was, as we have ob!totd, or O:matton, though he never welided there, even

[^52]even after he became poffeffed of it; for, heing a younger brother, it was thought proper to put him to bufinefs; and he ferved his time with a confiderabic woollen-draper at Derhy, which Ine be followed t:ll the death of his elder brrther (Humphry, who died withour ffue 1711) at Cheflerfie!d in Dorbybire, when he rommenced leadmerchant, then a loerarive branch of rrafick there; and, having been for 5-veral years a member of rime corporaanon. ditd in his third mayoralty, 1723.

He tiad married Gertiude SteptienSon (1 daughter ef Francis Stephenfon, of Unfion, near Chefterfield, gent), whofe mother was Getrude Pegge, a daughter of the before-mentioned Edwald Pegge, Eiq. of Beauchief; by which marri=ge the fe two branches of the f mily, which had long been divergin fromeachother, becamere-united, both by blood and name, in the pertion of D. Pegge, their only furviving child.

He was born Nov. 5, 1704, N. S. at Chefterfield, where he had his fchool education; and was admitted a penfioner of St. John's Col'ege, Cam. bridge, May 30, 1722, under the tuition of the Kev. Dr. William Edmundfon; was matriculated July 7; and, in the following November, was elected a fcholar of the houfe upon Iupton's foundation.

In the fame year wih his father (1723) died the heir of his mateinal grandfacher (Stephenfon), a minor; by whofe death a mriety of the real eftate at Unfton (before mentioned) became the property of our young collegian, who was then purfuing his acadenical hudies with intention of raking orders.

Having, however, no immediate por, ect of preferment, he lonked up so a tellow hip of the college, a'ter he had triken tie degree of A. B. in J J ${ }_{d}$ nuary ${ }_{72} 25$, N. S.; and bec me a candidate uy $n$ a vacency which happened f.wnu bly in that very yer, fo- it was a la-choon hape on the Beresford foundacon, ard appropiated to the fuen's kin, or at leall confined to a native t Deb thre.

The cumpe iors we'e, Mr. M.chasl

Burton (afterwards Dr. Burton), and another, whofe name we do not find; but the conteft lay beiween Mr. Burton and Mr. Pege. Mr. Burron had the fronger claim, being indubitably related to the fourder; bur, upon examination, was declared to be fo very deficient in lierature that his fuperior right, as founder's kin, was fet afide, on account of the infufficency of his learning; and Mr. Pegge was admitted, and fivorn fel'ow March 21, 1726, o. S.

In confequence of this difappointment, Mr. Burton was obliged totaké new ground to enable him to procure en eftablifment in the world; and therefore artfully applied to the College for a tenlimosial, that he mighte reccive orders, and underake foré cure in the vicinity of Cambridge. Being o-dained, he turned the circumtiance inro a marœuvre, and tock an unexpeeted astuntage if ir, by appealing to the vifitor [the Bifhop of Ely; Dr. Thomas Gicen], reprefenting, that, as the College had, by the tefimonial, thoughe him qualified for ordination, it couid not, in juftice, deem him unworthy of becoming a fellow of the fociety upon fuch forcible claims as founder's kin, and alfo as a native of Derby hire.

Thefe were irrefiflible pleas on the part of Mr. Burton; and the Vifitor found himfelf reluctantly obliged to eject Mr. Pegge, when Mr. Burton took peffeffion of the fellowthip, which he held many years 7 .

Thus this bubinefs clofed; but the Vifior did Mr. Pegge the favour to recommend him, in fo particular à manner, to the mafter and feniors of the college, that he was thenceforward confidered as an honorary member of the body of fellons (tanquam focius), kept his feat at the ir table and in the chapel, being placed to the fituation of a foltow-commoner.

In confequence, then, of this teflimony of the B:hrop of Ely's approbation, Mi. Pegge was choien a Plattfellow on tise hilt vacancy, A. D. $1729^{\circ}$. He was thereiore, in fatt, awace a fellow of S'. Juhn's.

There

[^53]There is good reafon to believe that, in the interval hetween his removal from his firf fellowfhip and his acceding to the fecond, he meditated the publicaticn of Xenophon's Cyropadia and Asabafis, from a collarion of them with a Duport MS in the library at Eron, to convince the world thar the mafter and feniors of St. John's College did not judge unworrhily in giving him fo decided a preference to Mr. Burton in their election. It appears that he had made very large collections for fuch a work; but we fufpeet that it was thrown afide by being anticipated by Mr. Hutchinfon's edition, which was formed from more valuable manufcripts.

While refident in college (and in the year 1730) Mr. Pegqe was eleCted a member of the Zodiac Club, a literary fociety, which confifted of rwelve members, denominated from the twelve figns. This ititle inftitution was founded, and articles, in the nature of itatures, were agreed upon $\mathrm{D}=\mathrm{c}$. 10,1725 . 'Afterwards (1728) this fociety thought proper to en arge their body, when fix felect additional members were chofen, and denominated from fix of the planets, though it fil went collectively under the name of the Zodiac Club. In this later clafs Mr. Pegge was the originál Mars, and contmued a member of the ciub as long es he refided in the univerfig. His feceffion was in April 1732, and his feat accordingly declared vacant 9 .

In the fame year, 1730, Mr. Pegge appears in a more public likerary body, viz. among the members of the Gentlemen's Society at Spalding, in Lincolnthise, to which he contributed fome papers which will be inentioned hereaterer ${ }^{10}$.
Having taken the degree of A. M. in July 1729 , NIr. Pegge was ordinned deacon :n Deceriaber in the fame year; and, in the February following, received prien's orders; both which were cǫnferred by Dr. William Baker, Bithop of Norwich.

Ir was natural that he fhould now lonk to employment in his profeffion. and, agreably to his withes, he was foon rera:red as curate to the Rev. Dr. John Lynch (afterwards [1733] Dean of Canterbury), at Sundich an Kent, on which charge be entered at Ladyday $173^{\circ}$; and in his principal, as will appear, foon afterwards, very unexpectedly, found a patron:

The Doctor gave Mr. Pegge the choice of three cures under him, viz. of sundrich, of a London living, or the chaplainfhip of St. Crofs, of which the Doctor was the mofter. Mr. Pegge preferred Sundich, which be held till Dr. Lynch exchanged that living for Bifhopfourne, and then removed thither ar Midfummer ${ }^{1731}$.

Wirhin a few months after this period, Dr. Lynch, whe had married a daughrer of Arcibbifhop Wake, obtained for Mr. Pegge, unfolicited, the living of Godmerfham (cum Challock) into which he was unducted Dec. 6,1731.

We have faid unfolicile 1 , becaufe, at the moment when the living was conferted, Mr. Prgge had more reafon to expett a reproof frem his principal than a reward for to hort a fervice of thefe cures. The cafe was, that Mr. Pegge had, in the courfe of the preceding fummer (unknown ri, Dr. Lynch) taken a litile rour, tor a few mourhs, to Leyden, with a felow-collegiaa (John Srubbing, M. B. then a medical pupil under Boerha ve), leaving his curacy to the charge of fome of the nerghbouring clergy. On his return, therefore, he was not a litrle furprized to ohtain actual preferment through Dr. Lynch, without the moft difiant engagement on the fcore of the Doctoi's inteseft with the Archbithop, or the fimalieft luggeation from Mr. Pegge.

Bergg now in poffeffion of a living, the fellows' table. They were founded by William Platt, efq. (fon of Sir Hugh Pintt, knt .) an opulent cirizen of London, out of an eitare then of the emanal value of $14 \%$. Being a rent-charge, the fellowthps cannot be endarged in point of revenue, thung the tumber his been increafed to eigbt, by favmes from the furplu. There is a good porirait of Mr. Platt in the malter's lodge at St. John's, with the date of 1626 , zt. 47. He died 1637. More of him may be teen in Mr. Lyfons's Enviruns of London, vol. III. PP. 59, 66, 70, 71, 110, 376 .

9 Of this linle academical hiterary focicty we fhall hereaf'er be empewered to give an eniarged accumut from the origioal MS. entruated to us by the comptler of this Memoir. Edit.
${ }^{10}$ An account of this Society may be foen in B:bliothec. Topographica Britamica, No. XX.
and independent property, Mr. Pexge matricd (April T3, 1732) Mifs Anne Clarke, the only dau heer of Deojamin, and fifter of Jonn. Ciake Eiqus. of Stanley, near Wakcticld, in the county of York, by whom he had one fon, the prefent Samual Perge, Effl. who, after his mothe','s deatit, became eventually heir to his uncle, and one daughter, Anna-Katharina (now living) the wife of the Rev. John B urne, M.A. of Spital, near Chefierfich, retror of Sutton cum Duckmanton, and vicar of South Winfield, both in Derbythue. From the fon, by Martha, a daughter of Dr. Henry Bourne, an eminent phyfician in Derbyflate, defeended Charlote-Anne, who dicd onmarried March 17, 1793 [fee our Oattuary of that month], and Chrifopher Peg?e, M.D.F.R.S. and fellow of the Coliege of Ilisficians, reader of anatomy, on Dr. Lee's foundation, at Chrift Church, Oxford: Mrs. B-urne's Effue beng two daughters, Elizabeth and Jane, now living, unmarmed.

While Mr. Pegge was tefident in Kent, where he continued 20 'years, he anade himelf acceptahie to evely body, by his general knowledge, his agiceable converfation, and his vivaci:y; tor he was reccived into the familiar acquaintance of the betit gentlamen's $f_{a-}$ milies in Eaft Kent, fereral of whom he preferved in his correfpondence after he quitted the county, thl the whale of thote of his own Hataing gave way to fate before hom.

Having an cally propenfity to the fludy of antiquity anawg has general refearches, and being alwwully an exeetlent clafical fchoiar, he here lajd the foundaren of what in tene becane a confiter hle collted: $n$ of $b$ cks, and his litule cabinct of coins struw in proportion; by which two aftemblege. (!o farce amang country gentithon in general) he was quained to purue thefe collateral fucie, wihou: neglecting h:s par.chial dusties, to whith he was : insty athduounh :Hen ive.

The fow picees which 11. Peoge printed whte: enved on Kent wiil be meurined hereater, whea we that enumerate fuch of his vaitines as anconet manal. The' (exturise ly of Mr. Dham's clazaita (10) im in the cioncou publation) lay appaact pincop ly, and moth ownien fo, in the ficion ma, which may so terined the riadorions on the Bucisty of A.tiqualicis. In that vatit-able collettion will be found 47 memoirs, writcen and communiczted by then, many of which are of confiderable leagth, bei.ag by mach the great. ell numuer hitherto contrured by any instyitual member of that respectab:e Society.
In returning to the order of time, we find that, in July $17+6, \mathrm{Mr}$. Pegge had the great misfortuna to lofe his wife; whole monumental in'cription, in the church of Godmerfmam, bears ample tefilimany of her worth, and where, in a fhore Latin infcription, the is faid to be "Fermina, fil qua alia, fine dolo." (See Mr. Parfons's Monuments in Kent, :794, 4to. p. 66.)

This event entircly changed Mr. Peqge's eeftuatiuns; for he now z :aloully meditated on fume mode of removing himfelf, without diadvantige, into his native county. To effett this, one of two poiris was to be cartied; e:thcr to obtain fome piece of prefoment, terable in its nature wih his Kentifa l:ving; or to exchange the later for an equivalent ; in which laft ho eventual'y fucceeded beyond this immedite expestans.
(To be conlinued in our Mrigazine for A, gunf.)

Mr. Urean, Fune 20. HE correfpondent who furnifhed \& you with the anectlotes of the Auhé Raviali, p. 348, is miftaken in faying that he ratise a monument to the tounders of Helvetian libery on an ifland in the lake of Einne (piobably mifprinted for Bienne); for, upoa referimg to a Journal of my fulit vifit to Svizizetland in $\mathbf{1 7}_{786 \text {, I nind the fol- }}$ fowigg accoult of the monument in queftion.-" Within thace nillcs of Luctine we landed upon the very finald 1tland or Ardfatt, fituated a tiv yards from the wa nland, at the place where the take of Lucerne affumes the figure of a crufls. Uponthis fland the celetrased Ablé Raynal has choten to eickt an oter N. in commemeration of ithe Sa:'s icze ue, and in won our of the there Suin puion tio fuene to defend the hatertics of their country. I vas twid that he was detirous of placing it d: Ralit i. Ura, where the enShement wis entered into; but that the three Cimowns objecied, upon the Found, that the taets which bad givearne to their tee tom were two the fh in their metmorks is wate any modela and furegu lupport whesp them alıze alive; that all the pyramids of Erype, if placed there, would nut contribute to make them revere the authors of their liberty more tian they actually did; that, if ever they thould be baie and degenerate enough to forget what they oived in their anceffos, no monument could pollibly have any effig upon their minds; arid that they conceived the propolal to have been made for the gratification of private vanity, to which it would doubticis contribute more than to the hosour of their illuftrious forefathers. Foiled by this unexpected and indepentent rapiy, the Abbé ob:ained permilion from the canton of Lucerne to cielt the ubulifk upon the liete illana. It is of a very ordinary fpacies of biack and white granite, is not more than 45 feer bigh, including the pedefil, is extreme!y fleuder, and is furcharzed wi:n a gidded ball and fpear. Upm one file of the obelife is painted a cap of hoerty upon a Raff lupposted by two hards; and below t are puinted thice saned cfes:heons of the arms of the three cantons of Uri, Schwits, and Unterwalden. Upon the four fides of the pedeltal are the following intcriptions:

1996.] Rayaal's Obeli/k ot Lucerne.-High Lake, Chefhie.

To the immortal ARentry of the forlt Foun leis of the Swifs Cicrijuterazo.

1. Dem ewiren andenken Der erfien Ctifar:
Des Eidgnoultichen burcies Gewitmet. Optimis civhus Guakero Fult, Uranienín, Vernero St mulich, Sviciari, Arnoldo Meich thai, Subsivanienfi. 2. Cuod eoram confilic, virmit, Condtartik, Exacti Anfliacorum niefeci, Vici cures
Exacess muat rit:

Pari fule, minn, "man & recuperarant, vin somen . . Gr rue mot.
 geituthat mom ray turpientan,

I was and by acera ioflf: of Luco:ne, that !wemal :an hn elapte: and feveral appic: $0=16$.....t, the Abor ver ined tha maner: 1 "y fur dif...jig the corence of pumaty up this pitiful monument, which did not exceed the fum of gol. fierling."

I am now writing to , ou, Mr. Urban, from the extreme point of the hundred of Wirrall, in Chefhire, near the broad eftualy of the Dee, and only leven miles from the confluence of the more commercial waters of the Merfey with the Ocean. Your laf Magazine has moticed Mifs Seward's poetim cal aditrefs to the propritur of High Lake: fome of the lines in which are, indeed, not lefs elegant than claffically detcriptive. The Hoyle fand breaka the force of the wave*, fo as to render the lake a late road for veffels of any fize in the roughelt weather; and it is ftribity true, that "age and infirmity may fecurciy plunge" during the higneft rides and mot boilterous gales luch indeed as we have latedy experieuced for a length of time, at this taton exceeding!, unufuh. The hetel lateiy eredted by Sir John Stanley, tiac lord of the manor, is licuated with:in a few $y$ ards of the beach, and contains a vaitety of iommodious apartments, buth pubitic and privata, very comfortainly furnifhed. The charges duevery muderate, the table well and amply moppled, and nothing is wanting on the part of the perfons who have the namagement of it to reader tisis hu'c as ittalant and convement as can be definch. Aithough, at the frot giance, we appe ir haut out froma the lek or the wond, a very fhert dine conveys us to Palk-gate (the thatho with Dublin packers), ecrofs the water (am Wales, into the buftie of Le verpeot, or the leis buly capisal of this conacy. The coafl of Fhathire, ri lity woscied even to the water's ti, es, and ingulatly contratting with than nak diment, diplays itelt with pice: Derury on the other fide of the 1). , winit the ligetd mountains of V. W., undlly Auticang our as for as A. .. Wore fomt tice boundary of the ints c. At, excmatar ncatiy to the Fitctien, Fud ainding wery ory and phe ic wase ated rikes as does al.o an! whully dietl:u:t wapobles. Thens fane is parteri : la; a cham of fand. hats, heid bugntor un the fiar-gorn, a miod iont row entach they why sulicil. Lyour is to under the efyo

456 Sotulares. - Dream fatally realized -Index Indicatorius. [ June, cal protection of the law ; for, if it were cut and converted to the utes of which it is capable, fuch as making mats and befoms, the fand-hills would quickly be blown away, and the coonry behind overwhelmed with a mowing land. The fand-hills are the refort of a verve excellent breed of mabhits. The Dee affords abundance of fine falmon; cockles, fhrimps, fores, and various kinds of flat fish, are taken on the fand-banks and in the lake; and the Liverpool markets furmith an ample fupply of the productions of animal and vegetable nature. Every velifel that comes into, or goes out of, the Dee or Merfey, is diftindively fen hence; and the lake is frequentty enlivened by brigs and fchooners beating to windward, as well as by the anchorage of the Dublin packers, whole paffengers are glad to partake of the amufements and refreflments which the hotel affords. It is well calculated for the inhabitants of the centrical counties, who, at no great diftance from their own houfes, will here find genteel focisty, good accommodations at reafonable prices, and one of the mot commodious bathing-places in the inland. The lake is dininguifted in the maps by the appellation of $\mathrm{Ho} \% \mathrm{l}$ e lake; but Sir John Stanley, having found it termed High lake in forme ald writings belonging to the eftate, has defied it to be fo printed in the adversifements relative to the cfablifhvent of the hotel, whit h was opened in 1793.

Viator A.
Mr. Urban, June 22.

ANE net the bufins, worn by doctors in divinity at an act in the univerfity of Oxford, called fotulares? and do they not anfwer the account given by Mr. Fufbrooke in your daft (p. 384, col. 1) from Wikis's Confilial, vol. I1. p. 607?

Mi. Urban,

P. O

I

 DO not mean to impresa urn your readers a fuperftitious belief in the accomplishment of dramas. Thole airy phatioms are ton often the tile of bodily and conlitmonsl cables to be conlideted with any ctrtunny as prognefacks of future events. However, give me leave to preform you wat the hollowing very extioudinaty infinace.A power chimney-fwesper in the netgldubal.cod of Swound, Wite, lately dreamed that he fion'd lope one of his children by water. This dream he communicated to his wife; and, with an earnefl folicitude, entreated her itricter care and watchfuinefs over their family. The mother accordingly complied with his defines; and, when her daily labour called her to the field, did not in her prudence forget to leave her chi'dren clofely confined at home. It happened, forty after, a neighbouring woman, having occafion ta borrow tome common utenfil, came to the house; and, knowing the place where the key was ufually fecresed, gained aumitiance, and, after futistying her wants, departed. Du: ing this visit, the elder ion, a child of fix or feven years old, watched the opportupity of flipping out unperceived; and, too fatally fraying to a horfe-pool at no great distance, accidentally fell in, and was drowned.

The flock was too great for parestat feelings. From the firing imprefo fin of his dream, and from the melanchoiy accomplifhment of it, the fathe quickly after was feized with a delirious fever, which in a few days put an end to his life

The truth of this fact may be fully confirmed by the inhabitants of EatCote, the villa ${ }_{5} \mathrm{e}$ in which he lived, as well as by the clergyman to whore fad office it fell to read the lath folemn fervice over the remains of both father and for.
G.

INDEX INDICATORIUS.

Historicus defines us to att oar correspondents, if William Wood, who died March 25, 1763, fecretary of the Cuftomhour in London, aged 86, was William Wood, ironmonger and hardwareman, to whom was granted, under earl Carteret's admuilfatioa in Ireland, the famous patent to chin half -pence, u high Sivift wrote down ia his Draper's Letters. Any particulars of the life of either William Wood would be acceptable. Is there any thing ithuthaive of this in any of the numerous lives on Surf, or editions of his works?

A Constant reader enquires whothe there dee vic found completely perifiend parts of te rettrint animals, or thofe whacin never intalitit ty ret: incerufution is a viltines process from peteffiction. Hie afr alks, ate there any well-attefted accunts of hair growing on human bodies after interment, as he donets the faced ?
C. requells, foo tome mgenious corPepper em, any hints relative to the himtory, :nature, mode of breed ar and reari. 5 , [~.. $\{\ldots$...

1796.] Topograpbical Defiription of Lydington and its Eiopital. 457

Mr. URBan, Mavis.

THE town of Lydington, in Rutlandmire, formerly mere confiderabe than a prefent, is fituate in the hundred of Wrangdike, in the South part of the county, and near the Eaftern edge of Le cefternire, about three miles South of Uppingham. In Domefday Brok it is written Lidentone, and reckoned as part of the biAhoprick of Lincoin, in the courts of Norihampton; of which, till the teign of fohn, Rutiandmire made a part. Edward III. a. r. 3, granted Heniy Burgherth, then bp. of Liaco!n, free warren in this manor, which continued annexed to the fee till the roign of Elivard VI. when bidhop Habech gave it up to the Crown, but on what condition does not apiear. It was granted = Edwari VI. to Gregory lerd Cromwell and his wife for their taves, durng the king's plature; and, 5 Edward V!. the reverfion in fee to Sir Winiam Cecyl, lord Barghley, whofe fon Thomas was, 3 Jamis l. created earl of Excter; and in this family it ftll remans. This Thomas, earl of Exeier, about the year 1602, converted pact of the biflop of Lincoin's pilace here into an holpital for a warden, 12 poor men, and cwo women narfes, by the name of Jefus hopits; which foundat.on fill lubfits. This building is on the North fide of the churchyard, the bouth front of which is here reprefented (plate I.) Behind is a clo:fer, and between the chimneys a window under a pedimens, 4 doors ath a porch, fone fieps alcending to the hal', in the windows of which are the red rofe ciowned, and feveral times repeated, D'N's EXALTACIo MEA, and delectare in domino, a border of croffes moline $A$, and $S$. and a falt:re A. and E:m. between 4 flewirs-de-lis G. the arms of bifhop Longland, fig. . There were, in in rishe's time, thole of bilhop Ruffel, 孪 chevron between three rofes, fig. $=$.

In the window of the warden's room, on a label, o lux prefvlgens
ENVSTA

REXS1NE
MANERIS
EM orate.
A bilhop in a red rocher and mitre, jewels on his hands, kneeling and prasing, holding a crofier with a fcroll round it, EGNo RESIDENS divina patrona paradisi gavpia dono
ethims. Orer the chimney 3 rofes, perhaps the arms Gent. Mag. $\mathcal{F} u n e, 1796$.
of bp. Rofiel, but with-ut the chevron.
In the hall lies a folio Bible infcribed, "Liddingtan hofprel Bib'e, by John Clare, ciq. Rewad to lord Ex. eter;" and a writen priyer for the bofital read with the :eft of the fervice by the warden. At tiee ent ance to tine church-yard is a flone watchtower.

Tise church, dedicated to St. Andrew, confitts of a bady on 5 pointed arches, cluftered chlunns, and 5 quare clerefiory winduws. Two atles. In th: Eeft end of the South aile a pirc:na, a perk over 1 , and two en eacia fide of it. In $t:=$ Eift end of the Nonch ai.e is a perk and no picina. Dour to loft, and fteps to rosi-loft.
O. 1 the noor, the brals figure of a wo:atan in the vei! had drefi, thin meagre vifage, n:tica feeves, belt and corton.

In the South wat of the chancel a fmall wiadown 1 ma a a door.

Three iteps lead up to the altar on the chancel foor.

Tirree icats and a pifcina are in the South wall.

A brafif figure of a man in hair, fur gown, long looic fleeves furred at the end, iong clofefleeves, a woman in the ver: head-drefs, fallen cape to gown, furred cuffs, long belt, and cotdon, fur falls from the hips. Below, 5 funs and 10 daughters.

Arms, twice, on a chewron 3 roundels between 3 birds. Two thelds gone.
 Robett datmo, geathath,

The epitapil on Ediw a Waton, fecetary to to:e bihups of Lincoln, who died 1530 , mentioned by $\mathrm{M}_{1}$. Wright, p. \&t, is till remaining.

Here is a ichool, tia mafter's Calary 61. 14s. 8d. tor five boys; to which a lady left 300..; the intereft of which, much improved, arifing from land, is for the benefit of three parifhes, Nottingham, Lenton co. Notungham, and Lidington.

The ehurch is a vicarage, a prebend of Lincola, the corps whereof contifts of the impropriation and advowfon, valued, 1534, at 201. 10s.; now, in the King's oooks, at 201.

A lift of the prebends may be feen in Willis's Lincoln, p. 20g-212. The vicarage vicarage was endowed fo early as the reign of Henry III. and confified in altarage and al! the fmall tithes of Li dingten, except thofe of the bifhop's court (curia), and of all mills in the parith, and in two matks a year from the churches of Cildecot and Snellefton. Valued alto ethes i 81.2 s . (Wright, p. 8t). C'oll yeally value, 43l. 17s. 1d. being a dicharged living; and, though in the diocefe of Peterborough, exempt from the jurifdietion of that fee, being a peculiar of the church of Linculn (Bacon, 849).

Caldecot chureh, dedicated to St. J hn, flands at the South-eaft earremity of the village, curfifts of a nave and chancel (the latter lower than the former, having only an Eaf and two South windows), a flender tower embattled, with a fone fpire having win. dows in it. The nave has a Suluth aile, and a frone, dated 164 , fixed at the Eaft end of the roof of the nave. In the Scuth wall of the chance!, two pointed fall's and a fquare pifcina. A lorker at the back of the communionrable, and wother it the North wall. The nave has two pointed arches on octagon ptiars : the foat is octagor. In the Sor th aile is a lung poireed pifina. Thas is a chapet annextd to Lydingron, ferved by Mr. Granam, of Gretron, patron. The prefent lord of we manor is the earl of Exeier.

In Fitzherberi's Natura Erivium, p. $184^{*}$, is ? writ of nufance, directed to the herifi of Rutland, authoriz.ng the bifhop of Linculn to difannul (projiernere) the market at Uppingham, fet up unjuftly to the prejudice of the free matket of C, bihop of Eincoln, by P. de M. (Pcterde Mondfort) M: Wright fuppufes this writ of the time of Henry 111. when Peter de Mon. fort was lord of the manor of Uppingham.
Yours, शe.
D. H.

NIr. Urban, Slawfion, May 24.

AFEW days aso 1 purcmed a your ring, which was dug up in St. Mary's field, n-ar Leichite, about a $f$ :tumbth before. A it is curtoully

* Rex vic. Éc. proc. P. quod jujte, Erc. pamithat epilcopum Lencoln. projiterncre quoddam incriation in Uppingtum, 1usd P. do N.
 Éc. lewant a mannentam lrie'i morati C.
 fice:. F.alt. epicopus fic. te fccur. E'c. tunc fun fick. I. quoi fit, હ゙co ofens. quare.
carved, and has fome deeply-engraved characters withinfide of it, I have inclofed a drawing (pl. 1. fig. 3) of the ring and charakers as near as I could take them, hoping you will infert them in your valuable Magazine for an explanation from fome of your learned correfpondents. If I miltake not, the words aie sithon atit and the ring has been originaliv a new-year's gift.

Fig. 4, which is alfo in my pofieffion, was found, fome time fince, at Beigrive, near Leicefer. J. Tailby. Mr. Urban,

May 25.

ABOUT the year 173 t , a brats feal, of which the impretion is inclo. fed (fig. 5), was dug up in a garden in the Ftier-lane, at Leicefter, belonging to a houfe of M . Simpron, on which lite had formerly ftood a priory of Giey friers. In the centre, under a rude Go:hic atch, IbS, and rouad it, EST ACOOR COE, making, when complete, 1sfus eft Amor meus, an infeription not unfrequent on old monuments.

J. N.

Mr. URean, Mayzi.

WHAT I and others* formerly prediect three years agot has now happened to the Diffenters: "Babylon is fallen, is fallenl" Hackney college, a fiacious butlding, fitted up at an immenfe expense ${ }_{+}$, is to be fold by auction, or private contract, before the expira. tion of next month, in one lot, and the houie occupied by D:. Rees ia another. What will be the future ap. plication of chis frbffruEtio injane tine will hew: but that the proud boafts of this party are come to an end already is pietty clear; "He that fitteth in the Heavens hath laughed them to fcorn, and men wll have them in derifion." They lpake too piain §, and their defigns are covered with confufion. Esther they hase no funds, or they have no managers, or they have loft all the men of abrities capable of conduchang the mighty Bibel, whach was to make them a name to Heaven. The crazy -- , the infuriate - - , the heavy ——, the obsfe ——, the [^54]$\pm$ Sue vol. LX. p. 793.

§ See vul. LXI. Pp. $509,622,9^{84}$ i LXIII. P. $49^{2}$.

1796.] Gibbon's Pofthumous I'orks.-.Origina! Letters from bim. 459

pedantic ——, the pretended claffic - ., are nor, when united, equal to the grand incendiary nww under fentence of felf-tritnfportation. I mean not to infult the ef felf-deceivers; but, it is fit this iliue of their machinations ghould he recorded by the impartial hand of Sylvanus Urban. Neither do thou fear them, fon of man; for, know that no wifdom or councul devifed againn the found tion and truth of the Gofpel will profper. P. Q.P.

Mr. Urbas, yume 5 .

IN the Temple of Fame whith the noble Ediror of Mr. G bbon's Puat humous Works has erelied to the memory of his friend, Ihitt e expected to have found a niche. Ber, as I am fo far bnoured, and the poffares in Mr. Gibbon's letters*, unesplaned by the fubject of them, may convey an indireft cenfure, it is proper to oblerve, that the firft teter alluded to, as printed in your vol. LXIV. p. 5, was to!lowed by the two I here tranficribe:

$$
" \mathrm{Str} \text { Laufinne, 耳an. 16, } 1793 .
$$

"It gives me ferious concern to find that I have been the innocent occation of injuring a very retpect.ble man in the very act in which he intended a kindnefis to me.
" Latt Feltruary, on the credit of your general character, 1 addreffed you br lettor on the fubject of an article in the Gentieman's Magazine relatuve to my family. I am now affured that my exp-Etation was fulfilled, and that my curiofrity would have been gratified hy the communication of feveral interefting papers which you prozured for my ufe, and tepofited in Mr. --'s hands; and I can only lament that you did not, at the fume time, fivour me with a line by the pott, to inform me of the fucceifs of my application. During the whole fpring and fummer I remained in a flate of ignorance; nor was ic till late in the dutumn, and after feveral fruitters enquiries, that 1 was informed at once of your depofit, and of Mr. --'s inexcufable neglect. I then wrote to him, requefting, firft, that the parcel moght be fent to Lzufanne, and afterwards, on cooler thoughts, that it might be returned to you to await my approaching arrival in England. You niay guefs at my furprize and concern when he informed me, by a letter which 1 received laft poff, that it was loft, millaid, taken away perlhaps by fome workmen in repairing his houre, esc. By this fate of the cafe, you will acknowledge how perfectly I am guillefs of this unfortunate accident. You are on the fpot : you have hut too good a right to interrogate Mr. - clofely and fharply. Yerbips aan advertifement with an landfome reward might detert there papers, which are of litele value except to oarfelves. I fhouid willingly take any trouble, or fupport an:y expence, to repair the mirchief which has been the confequence of my application, aud your kindnefs. 1 beg the favour of an immediate anfwer; and you will perhaps sive me fome accmut of theie papers, which, 1 hope, will not tarn out to be the bill of lading of a thipswreck. I am, with fincere regard, your obliged humble fervant, E. Girson."
"SIR, Lat/anne, Afpril 4, 1793.
"Mr. Gibbon might perilap have expetted the favour of an anfwer to his firit or fecond leter: ; but he is hum felf fo indiffcrent a correfpondent, and he feels himfelf fo much indelted to Mr. Nichols's good effices, that be will unt complain of this apparent neglect. It gave him treat pleafire to learn by --'s lad le:tor that the fample -naperi are founcl, and moft probably retureed into Mr. Nichol's's hal's. It was Mr. G's intemtion to have lett them thre cill ins arrival in England; but bis journey this fummer apiears fo uncertzin, that he is tempted to mave ufe of a very favomable opportunay. Mr. Francillon, a Swifs clergyman eft bluhed in London, and his particular triend, is fetting ont on a vifit of three or four months to his family at Lemame. He will call on Mr. Nichats; and, fould the papers be intruted to his care, their conveyance will be fefe and fpecily. According to the time that may be allowed, Mr. G. will either return them by the fame meffenger, or bring them to Enğland hinifelf:"

Mr. Gibbon returning fhortly after to England, an interview took place early in June i793; which led to the query inferred in wol. LXIII. p. $530^{\circ}$ and to the following notes in July:
" If the invitation in this month's Magazine has revealed the author of the arricles relative to the Gibton family, Mr. C. will be much obliged to Mr. Nichols for a line inclofed to Lord Sbeffield, Sheffield Pluce, Uck fich, Sulfex.
" Mr.Gibbon will be much obliged to Mr. Nichols for Philpot and Lambarde. The fhortnefs of his flay in town will oblige hin to carry them to Lord Sheffield's, in Sulfex; but they fhall be carefully uied, and fpecedly returned."

The cinfequence of the enquiry was, a literary intercourfe between Mr . Gibion and the refpectable correfpondent who originally communicated the anecdotes of the family; and whofe name is annexed to fome correstions on this fubject in the prefent volume of Gent. Map. p. 272.

Yours, &ic.
J. Nichols.

Mr. Urban,

May 23.

P292. In the fecond battle of St. Alban's the Duke of York's troops broke through the king's, and, "at the North end of the town, called Barnard heath, toward a little town called Syndridge (now Sundridge), in a pace called No man's land, they had far greater confluct with 4 or 5000 of the king's armic." Stowe's Annals, F. $4^{13}$.

P 321, col. 1, 1 27. r. Hertford.
P. 357, col. 2, 1. 18, dicle the late. Yours, &:c.
D. H.

Mir. Urban,  May 23.

 7. HAVE inclufed for you fome ac-具 count of the Waterhoufe family. Morgan, hib. H. P. 67, feekng of the pole as a chage in arms, fy", "io that farmily, wetach iad its denumiantion ab aqua doron, iss filf anceator of note propabiy living in a feat upon the water; rne fatnly of them bearing the fle betzecia ino formains; thote of Buckingham, Hidtord, Withthe, and Shropthite, bating the pile engrailed, are fircngthened by the pile of honourable famhes, fiom whom is defeended Edvad Xaterhoufe, efq. and erigrailed into the themory of afier-iges, that the teeth of time sannot but leave the marks of his antient fambly, who is defcraded lineally from Sir Gilbert ab Aquedumo, of Kirron, in Low Linfey, co Lincoin; but becauie, in this book, I ontymention the pedigre from the gieat gtandfether ; therefure, I frall uniy begen with John Waterhoute, efo. who was of Hemelhem-fed-berry, co. Hertford, and by Margaret, daugher of Tumer of Biunthall, in Eiltx (who bore, Ermines, on a crois guarevended Ar. 4 milroms Sa.), had ilfue two fom, 1. S r Edward Waterhoufe, of Woodchurch, in Kent, chancellor of the Exchequer, and one of the privy-council of ineland to the famous Quetn Elizabeth."This man hes burted at Woodchurch under an aitd:-tomb, on the ledge of which is the fullowing infcription in Roman capitals:
" Edwardus Waterhous, miles, reginas a conflhis regni fur bibemm, utiat 13 die Octubris, 159 I."

Arms. 1. Or, a pile engrailed Sa. Waterbus
2. G. 3 benditts vairé. Longavalle.
3. Per pale indented, Ar. and G.
4. Az. on a cheyron between croflets fitche Sa. atrefoil Ar. Daverport.
5. Ar. 3 towers G. Cafell.
6. Or and Az. a bend Erm. Sparke. A crefcent for difference.

Impaling, y. A bend Erm.
2. Checky, A. and Sa.
3. Ar. 9 annulets G. 3, 2, 1 .
4. Quaterly, 1 and 4, G. a bend Ar. 2 and 3, Sa. a fleur-de-lis, Ar.
5. Sa. a chevion engrailed between 3 owls, Ar.
6. Afefs indented between 6 crofflets.
7. G. a clievron between to cicfles pat:ée, within a bordure Arg.
8. O. on a faltire G. 6 etoils of the field.
9. Ar. 3 fleurs-de-lis, 2, 1. *
" Sir Eiward's brother, Thomas Waterhoufe, was of Berkhamftead, co. Hertford, and lies buried with his father in a chape! in the church of Berkhamfled. By Mary, his wife, daughter of John Kirby, of co. Notingham (who bore, Ar. 2 bars, and a canton Gn.), he had iffue Edward Watethous, efy. of Berkhamited, who married the daughter of Sir Wilham Lane, of Horton, co. Northampton; and Francis Waterhous, of London, afterwards of Greenford, co. Middlefex, efq. who, by Bridget, daughter of Morgan Powell, defcended from Farkhall, in Shrophire (her arms, a chief $O$. and lion ramp. jetfant G.), had illue Edzuard W'atci bous, of Greenford, Middlefex, efq. now living, 1660, and lodging in Sion college, London, who married two wives, viz. Mary, daughter and heir of Robert Smith, alias Carrington, defcended from the Leicefterihire family by Magdalen, his wife, daughter to Robert Harvey, efq. controuler to the cuf-tom-houfe to Kug James. His other wife was Elizaheth, daughter and co-heirefs of Richard Bateman, efy. by Chriftian, his firft wife, daughter of William Stone, of London, efq. by whom he had iffue Edward, her only fon, fince her deceafed, and two daughters, Elizabeth and Bridget, both living this Auguft, 1660 ."

Then fullows a plate of his arms and quarterings; the lame as thofe of Sir Edward Waterhous, at Woodchurch, with the addition of Leibourn in the $4^{\text {th }}$ qquarter, viz. Az. 6 lioncels rampant Arg.; and, in the 7 th quarter, Si. on a crof's (between 4 towers Ar.)

* Copied from the church, Sept. 1792. In this church is a curious brafs plate with the following infcription on a circle, which has puzzled many :

> Matre Nichol de Gore
> Git en cette place
> Jhicfu Chritt prions ore
> Re merci lui face

1796.] Waterhoure Fismily,-Biographical Notes of R. Herrick. A6I

5 frear-beads of the fie!d, alfo Waterhous. Ontwofcocheons of pretence, i. Smith, alias Carrington, Ar. a crofs Gu. between 4 peacocks Az. and, 2. Bateman, Or, 3 crefcents furmounted of as many etaits G .

Mr. Edwa.d Witerlinus, of whem A. Wood tpeaks with too violent contempt, introduces his Difcourfe on the Rife and Decay of Farnizits thus:
"Though 1 have little reafon to concern myfelf for the grandenr of samilice, the glory and vapour of the world promoted by them, having fo littlc, I thank Gol, obliged and engagel me; nor ouglit I to hold my fe'f much refpumfle to mine own fam ly, whofe inativity is well as misfortune bas left me litule caufe to beart of a generons ance?try, or to deprecate its fetting in the m. (culnity of it in try line; which, being inter acions of ions (the only ordinary centinuers of it 1 m ito nome and lallie), therwdy hazards the temporsy filence of it in me: yet the tove and fervice I bear to mobility and gentry coonpe's me to write," &e.

He feems to bave been a man of confiderable teat:ong, but tacelfively vain and podurtic.

O: the bouk befnre cired the foll title is. "Tho Gentieman's Mon'tur; or, a Kober Infpequon into the liertues, V:ces, and ordinary 3 3enns of the Rife and Decay of Men of Ftmilies. With the Auhor' Apolow and Aip'ication to the Nobits and Gentry of E"gland, feafon inte ine thefe times. Lond. Printed by T. R. for R. Ruylon, Bookfe ler to his mod S:cred Majefy. moclexv." Prefixet is a gond puint of han by $A$. Hertocks.
A: the end ts a int of the frithoving books written and publthed by the au:hor:

1. An Apolozy for Learning and learned Mea. $\quad$ Fino, 1053.
2. A Difcourfe of the Prety, P licy, and Charity, of eider Times, and Chrifians. $12 \mathrm{mo}, 1555$.
3. Two Coatemplations of Mivgnanireity and Acqualuturce with God. Svo, 1653.
4. A Deience of Arens and Armory. 8vo, 1559.
5. Fontelcutas illualratus. Fol. 1663.
6. The Gentieman's Mi nitor (as above). 8vo, 1664 F*S.

Mr. Urban,
フैune 9 .

THE Rabert Hierick, enquird af. ter by W. F. I. P. $3^{\text {S }} 4$, was "a Lond ater born, bar delcended from thofe of his name (which are antons and genteel) in Leiceferkire *." Hs was the fourth fon of Nicholis Herrick, of St. Vedalt, Fofter-lane, London, by Julian Stone his wife; was beptized Aus. 24, 1591; and bectme felloiv of All Snuls college, Oxfo:d, from that of Sr. John, about the vear 162 S. He was M.A.; but the sime of taking his degree is not known. Being patronized by the earl of Exeter, he was prefented by King Charles I. on the promoticn of Dr. Potter to the fee of Carlifle, to the vicarage of Dean-Prios in Devonfliret, OAt. 1, 1629, where he exercifed his Mufe as well in poerry as other learning, and becam: much beloved by the gentiy in thofe parto for his horid and wity difoule; bat, being ejoGied trom his vicarage during the covil wars, he retired to London; where, baviog no fifths paid him, his fubfifience was but ficanty. His verfes "ro Dean-bourn," however, on his "Return to London," I trantcribe as charatctifict. They are enpied from "Hefperides, or the Works, both Humane a ad Divise, of R, Wert Herrek, E/q. London, 1648 ," in a thick octavo, with his p. Qure \&a frouider-pece) before it, uggraved bor Marha; which Cuanger ducrethes as "a bult; two an_eis braging chaplets of laurel, Pegaliss on Parnatul, Helicon," \&ec.; and this comptivent:
"Tempora cinxiffet follorna de:, fime unDubetar genio baurea fylvatuo. Ihyis Tempua cr lla tibi mollo colimufer civa; Scilicetexciuls vel fibu ama ins.
Almifees antiqua novis. juga la feveris:
 Ut rolo minor es Phrebo, fic majur es ati: Omnihes, mgenio, mente, lepore, ryy.u."
To this volums was appender, "His noble Numbers, or, his pios: Pieces:" wherein (amongt other things) he fings the Batrh of Carif. and tighs for his Saviour's Sufferiags on the Crofs. Thefe two books meds hisa much admired in the t.me they weit putbithed, and cfeciai.g by the gensious and boon Loyallits, who comm ferated his fufierngs. He refoded in St. Ame's parifh, in TVetman. fter, till the Refforation; when $h=$ apatn obsained his vizarage 5 . Fie was author of a great nuaber of poeme, many of which are of the lyric ont epierammatre kinds. H's "Chifimas

[^55]
462 Biagraphical Notes of R. Herrick and E. Sherburne. [June,

Carol," and his "New Year's Gift," were fet to mufick by Henry Lawes, and performed before the king. Several are addreffed to his own relations"to the reverend thade of his religious Father"-"to his dying oother, Maieer William Herrick'-" to his deareft Sifter, Mrs. Mercie Herrick"-'"A Country Life, to his Brother Mr. Thomas Herrick"-"to his Brother Nicholas Herrick"-" to his Sifter-inJaw, Mrs. Sufanna Herrick'-" to his Brother-in-law, Mr. John Wingfield" -" upon his Kinfiwoman, Mrs. Bridget Herrick"-upon his Kinfwoman, Mrs. Elizabeth Herrick"-"to his Kinfman, Mr. Thomas Herrick, who defired to be in his Book"-" to his honoured Kinfman, Sir Will. Soame" -" to the moft fair and lovely Mrs. Anne Soame, now Lady Abdie"-"to his Kinfman, Sir Thomas Stone"" to his honoured Kinfman, Sir Richard Sione"-many " to Endymion Porter, a great friend and patron of poets"-and one to "Mrs. Katherine Bradfhaw, the Lovely that crowned him with Laurel."-He was, perhap', the firf of the numerous iranfltors of the "Dalogue betwixt Horace and Lydia;" which may be feen among his Works. His general character is not unaptly defcribed in the lines quoted above; and in the following couplet, which concludes his volume:
" To his bonk's end this laft line lie 'd have plac'd; [chafte."
Jocund his Mufe was, but his lite was
See more of him in the "Athenre Oxonienfes," II. 122, where his "D1vine Poems" are paricularly commended.

Eugenio.
Mr. Urban, Eafinghall.fr. Fune 7.

THE Edward Sberburne, enquired after p. 384, was born in the year 1613, or 1614, and died, towards the latter end of the reign of King William, in diftrefied circumftances.

His father, Edward Sherburne, efq. was fecretary to the firf Eaft India Company (that eftabiufhed by Queen Elizabeth's charter); and, in the year 1613, obtained a reverfonary grant of the office of clerk of the Ordnance. He was afterwards knighted by Charles the Firti. The fon was bred to the army; but, in 1638 , his father procured for him a reverfionary grant of his own office (clerk of the Ordnance), to which he in a fhort time afterwards fucceeded upon the father's death. This office he held till the breakingout of the civil war in 1642, when he, with other adherents to the royal caufe, was imprifoned, and deprived of his oflice, by thofe who then ufurped the powers of government ; his property was alfo fequeftered. What were his purfuits, or in what manner he employed himfelf; during the interregnum, I can give but little account of, more efpecially of his poeical or literary career. It appears, however, that in 165 I he publified a fmall book of potms, and the other Woaks your correfpondent notices; fent into the world moft probably, if not written, as a means of relieving his prefent wants. At the Refloration, the king re-efablifhed him, with others of the Ord-nance-borrd, in his former ficuation; and, in 1682 , conferred on him the honour of knighthood as a reward for his fervices. He continued to enjoy his office till Charles's death, and was confirmed in it upon the acceffion of James the Second; but, at the clofe of that unfortunate reign, bis fun of fortune, like that of his royal mafter, fet never to rife again. Being a member of the Romifi chatch, and confientiounv forupling to take the oaths, and fubler be the Declartion, required by law (he performance of which ceremonies was at that time igoroufly exacted from all perfons in office), he was forced to leave his houfe in the Tower, and was again deprived of his office. His place, however, was not filled up till the following Auguft, when one $S$ waddell, the patente in reverfion, took his feat at the Board, upon the ground of the pateut to Sir Edward Sherburne having become void by his non-conformity; and, immediately, appointed Captain (afterwards Sir) Thomas Middleton, his deputy. From this time I have no farther noales of Sir Ediw. Sherburne till 1696, in which year 1 find him prelenting a fupplicatory memorial to the Earl of Romney*, then mafter-general of the Ordnance, and another to the kingt. In both thefe memorials he reprefented in very earneft, but modeft, language, his long and faithful fervices; his total lofs of fortune in the caufe of royalty; his extreme indigence; and his advanced age (he being then upivards of 82 years old);

* Sloane MSS. 836. 2. + Ib. 1059.9.

1796.] Infarmation concerning feveral Poets given and afked.

and concluded with a bumble requeft, that an annual fipend for his fuppoit might be granted upon the quarterbooks of the office. A fmall matter would have fufficed to render the remainder of his vife comíriab:e, and, at almoft any etbar time, would have been granted; hut 1 cannot affover that his requeft was complied with.

He was well acquainted with the duties of his flation, to tee therge of which he dedicated a lois ...c, and was the principal perfon concerned in drawing up the "Rules, Orders, and Inftustions," given to the Office of Ordnance in 1683 ; which, with very few alterations, hate been confirmed at the beginning of every reign fince, and are thofe by which the office is now governed.
R. S.

Mr.Urean, $\quad$ fune 7.

FOR the information of W.F.I. I communicate the following hints.
Clarles Aleyn has a place in the new edit. of Bing. Brit. vol. I.

Roberi Healb is flighly mentioned by Pbillịs, in his Theatrum Pootarum, 1672, p. 162; and by Wood, Fafti Oxon. 11. 27.

Robert Herrick is recorded by Phillips along with Heath, ubi fupra; and Winftanley follows Phillips. [Sce p. $4^{61}$ ].

To the author of Amanda I can fupply no clue for biographical refearch; nor dues it even appear certain that your correfpondent is righ: in calling him Nicbolas; for, as he only fublcribes himite!f $N$. Hooker, the initial letter may equally apply to Na tbaniel.

Edward Sberburne has a copious article in Wood's Fafti, II. I8; and Langbaine fpeaks of his tranflations as the " beft then extant of Seneca's tragedies." His brother 耳obn was alfo a poetical writer, and publifhed are Englifh Verfion of Ovid's Epiftes in 1639.

Ot Martin Liuellin there is a particular account in Athen. Oxon. 1I. 706. An impreffion of his poems in 1661 was intituled, "The Mariow of the Mufes." Winftanley, in 1687, knew not whetilet he was then living; but Wood defrribes his death to have taken place in 1681 . Phillips ftyles him, "the not uncommended writer of a book of facetious poems."

Permit me, in my turn, to enquire whether any memoranda are to be traced of the resfifiers named below.

Artbur Newman, gent. who publifhed a diminutive volume in 1619. called, "Pleafure's V:fion, with Defert's Complaint;" and may be ftyled a minor poet. according to Dr. Anderfan's juft difinction, "from the brevity rather than the inferiority of his writings."

Tho. Scot, gent. author of "Philow mythie, or Philomythologie, a Poem. "nele:", outlandifh Birds, Beafts, and Fifhes, are taught to fpeak troe Enghifl fun ." Svo, 1616 and 1622.
N. W. [Whiting], M.A. of Queen's college, Cambridge, "de Hose di Recreatione, or the pleafant Hifiorie of Albino and Bellama," Sec. a poetical romance, $12 \mathrm{mo}, 1637$.
R. Fletcher pablifhed, "Ex Otio negotiun, or Martiall his Epigrams tranflated, with fundry Poems and Fancies." 8vo, 1656.

Fofepb Rigbie, gent. clerk of the peace for the county palatine of Lancafter, and a colonel, author of a fmall poem, called, "The Drunkard's ProipeEtive, orBurning-glaffe." $12 \mathrm{mo}, 1656$.

Henry Delaune printed " Patrikon Doron, of, a Legacy to his Sons; bew ing a Mitcellany ot Precepts digefted into Seven Centuries of Quadrins." $12 \mathrm{mo}, 1657,2 \mathrm{~d}$ edit.

Will. Bofworth, gent. author of as polhumous publication, called, "The chafte and loft Lovers, &c. with Hine Lachrimx, or ceitain Sonnets to Aus tor "," 8vo, 165 s .

Pbilip Ayres, efq. the polifhed writer oil "Lyric Poems in Imitation of the Itahans," "vith many tranflations from the Greek and $L_{\text {itin. }}$ Svo, 1687. At p. 145 are verfes addrefied "to John Diyden, Elq. Poct Laureat and Hiftoriographer royal, his honoured Friend."

I beg to acquaint Bob Short, P. 364 , that Mr. Ireland's folio Profpectus was dated March 4, 1795, and confequently mult bave diffanced this Avant-cosrier by two whole months. The fact is, that the compiler of the Avonian Anecdotes was only acting in concert with the editor of the Pieudo-Shakfpeare, and following up his own ad. vertifinents. Levirereruditus.

Mr. UREAn,

Fune 6.

THE notification of the death of Madame de Welderen, though in England it has the appearance ot fingularity, is made accurding to the ufual cuftom of her adopted country. I ob-$4{ }^{\circ}+$ Lady Welderen-Charge not delivered at Old Bailey. [June, ferve, however, in the tramatrinn of the advertifment. a Arange wifake (fee p.473) for, fie is callua Ladv Anne, Comptes of Whteron. hon at ehat Madame de W was a hit-o othe pretent Lord $H$ vad de Wrden, Thafe original mane wos John Giffin Gritionelf, elq. the appellawn he re. rained till he became in politefion of Lis maternal efrates, and with them the friname of Gififin. In the origital it is ne whowell, and meant no nore than :1a Whetwell was Madame de Welderen's maiden-rame.

I wifh I rolld give an. amfonce th your corest,-1.. 天 Fiot alus (3. $3^{86}$ ) in his enquaies after the famly of Henthaw. About thirty years age, I penember a very retpedtabe branciro of is fettied tither at Bowsturne or Hodidefaen, wh the county of Hentiond; but it becalue extin? I I blieve, foon afier that period. I fu'per the nome to have bew crigrally Hurbthan, or Hernflaw * [i.e. a in adow the refort of herons]; and, [ b.lieve, the armosiat Desrings of the famaly juiffy the Ruppefition.

In the firf columa of tha !eme pape Soun renders a e refersed to "a thentit admrable and arf ling Charge, which wis hue, but di, hat lizve been very papeni, deliserat at the Old Batey 3. the mon'h of Mi y." Will you aibow me, Mr. Urban, to inchale boua Mas cony of the charge alluded to, which wis hated so int by the ingezinss author, and whinch difiens in frne erepeds form the paper to Whicia juar correfpoadent Q. refers? I ala fure that jou will rective the thank of your readers for its re-pub. Hateron, fors he fake of the text, it mot for me valious readings. Heavea knows, we bave reaton enough toexcaima at all times. and in all places, Gens.ivetaf Kingl K. H "A Chuge not delivered at the Oh Ralley, on Chu: ©day, March 12, 1796.
"Gentemen of the Jury,
" it is cintomary, on iccations tike the prefent, thes you hould he addelfed from Shis place, previcury to yon exerefing the foltonn effice to winch you are delegated by yotir country. At this inoment, haw-

* Heronfarv fometimes alfo fignifies a voung heron. It is well known that this wh the on sinal word in the proverb (now unintell:ribit), "he does not know a bawik Sorn a hanifas " [heronthaw].
ever (I fay it with fome degree of fatisfaction, for I dare not troft my felings), any nocefity for this painful tak is fuper foled. If wouk be an iniu't on your unetafandings, it wouk he a helel on voer logaty, wue 1 th Happoie a pollinie that ary donbe could arle 11 : ur monds whach might rea gute eiandation som me. You have heard tu: cvaterce, and you nees 10 monitor to prant ou: to yuu its appricition to the ma happe crammal at the bar.
" It hs in dreect and pofitive pref a ene t'emen of the fory, that 1 . ....ver, whole hife is nest i jounh ., 's apenly avowed his d te +1. : at". . . .at his attempts on that of in ine ences. It is in proof the the ' : 'e.lres, that $a=$ unfluce cryful effot if :h, kind HAS ALREADY BLEN Manf; dial you hive heand the expremions of h's regret that the fa rile, ions deh: n was fruite ted. Fanhat wide ceds of death, he has been prowed to hate meditated the murder of an 'mon'sent fellowcre thre, who, in the difelarge of his lawful employme t, was con:e, i.g him from the place of rpprehenforn to that of erial; but thas ca not excite any aton. Thment in yur mands. He, who thrits for the molt precions blood in this chuntri, camont be fupponed to be ver deliate or errapulons wath refere to the meanet?.
"C nt manen of the Ju*", you bave feen a durystion of the metroment of intended altion then edelincatel b, the piswer himfolf. Iou bave lieard its chatrolical phrpofes explonned. You are in poitention of the cisumbtances which d proutrat" the easer anxiety of the prifoner whoricate the engite of death, and his perfesenng alfiduity, undeterred by repected difplome ment, in giomg from place to place to procure araticers for has parpofe.
" Retire, Gentlemen, if it is neceffary to retre, with the wath of God upon gou, and your daty to your country and your king. Remember, that it is the accurfed policy of our enemass (with whom the connextons of the prifoner at the bar are too well afcertaned) to employ all means, bowever deteliabl, wot only to abolifh monatichy, but alo to extemmate monarchs. Remember, that one lawful fovereign las already fallen on the faffoldanother by the an of a manderer-another in the lothrome clungeon-two more, it is toon probsble, by leact, filent parricide. Preferte thus kingdom toon fimilar horzors; or, if you slo not, may God in his mercy extend his own right-iand to protect bis anwinted forvant!-If, after all that you have heand, it is posinble that you can acyutt the profoner at the bar, fhould he bereaftor execute bis atrocions defigns, reniember, that the blood of your forereign will be on sour heads.
"Gcatliman, 1 have done."
Mri

1796.] Figeons Feathers? -Job?-Uvedale's Hebrew Works. $\Delta_{5}$

Mr. Urban.

Feb. 6.

SUPERSTITION has done much mifchief in the world in the days of our forefathers; and perhaps, in fome intances, their chiluren of the prefent day are not quite exempted from its influence. May I be permitced to felect the following as a feccimen? Is is common to throw awze the feathers of pigeons, as unfit to be nied for beds; and the only reafon alfigned ror this is, that perfons cannot die eafilv on beds which contain anv fuch feather-

Wiil any of vour correfpondents be fo kind as to inform us, whether pi-geon-feathers are unfit in their own nature for beds? or whence the opinion with refpect to dying perfons to $k$ its origin?

Erastus.
Mr. Urban, Cowbit, Feb. 10.

IMUS $\Gamma$ beg leave to remark, that my fentiments agree with your correfpondent, IXV. 914 , refpectine Job's father soing alive when his troubles happened; for, the original text does certainly mention his father; but pour correfpondent, LXV. 1066, in the fenfe he gives of the paffage, entirely leaves him out. That Jub's father might be living at the tim= of his troubles may vety well be inferred; becaufe, in Job ch. xlii. 16. it lavs, he lived an hundred and fot: vears after his afllicions; therefore, as be might be about fixty years old at the the time of his fufferings, his tather might very probably be living when Job's troubles happeated, efpecially as they lived to a great age in thofe elder times.

There is a miftake in what your correfpondent (who figns himfelf A L.ayman) fays, IXV. 916, viz. that Jobwas born A. M. 2254, and that his troubles happened after A. M. 2314; which could not be, fuppofing has whole life to be two hundred years, fince the fcripiure tells us he lived after his troublcs 142 years. J. M.

Mr. Urban, Langton, near Spi!弓by, March 7.

THE kind notice which your correfoondent P. P p. 106, has taken of my requeft in your Supplement for 1795, makes it necelfary for me (with your permifion) thus publicly to mention again my $\mathrm{H} c$ brew fudies.

Having lattly applied to fome learned frienas of the univerfity of Cam lridge for their advice and direction, I have fo far fuccerded, by the interpofition of one of the principal and moft refpectable members of that bodv, that my writings on the Hebrew language are, by his direction, to be fent to Cambridue, in order to their examination by a learned and competent judge. If approved, they may probably obrain (after palfing through the ufval forms) the patronage of the Univerlity, and be pronted at their prefs and at their expeñe, and afterwards publinhed bv general fubfeription, unlefs, by forme kind encourager of this br ach of larning, a more eligible mode of publication can be po nted out.

Gent Mag. Junf, 1796.
R. U.

A Lift of Writenrs, &c. intended for Publication, by Robert Uved.'c, B.A.1. An Inftrument, or Machine, for reprefenting and illuftrating she Structure of the Hebrew Language.

A Defcription of that Invention, with an Introducion and Notes, &cc.

From chis work it will, verhaps, appear that the aut ge as thrown new light on the fructute u. nai facred and moft an:ient language, the Hebrew.
2. A Liffertation concerning the Hebrew Leiters and Pronunciation, on a new Plan.
N. B. A great diverfity of opinions having peevailed on this fubjeet, this is a feparate treatife upon it, in tivo parts. Part I. treats of the Hebrew pronunciation in general, and is divided into feve: fectoas. Part Il. exhibits an accurate collation of the opinions of a varizty of authors refpecting the pronunciation of the Hebrew letters, with notes, which, it may be prefumed. will make the ciork effentially ufefuil o thofe who would form a proper judgement conerring the antient and prefent ftate of the Hebrew pronunciation.
3. A Charr, on caavas and rollers, three feet in lenget and two in breadth. exhibiting all the Hebrew and Chaldee words in the books of the Old Teltament, wh their various fignifications, in one view. A delcription wile ascompany it.

This work is intended to affift the ftudent as well in acquiring as retaining in memory the various ngnifications of Htbrew words, and may be rery eafily and expeditiounly coniulted, by a method never before attempted. The execution of this work has been attended with confideranle labour; a d the avthor lias endeavoured to give the

466 Biographical and Gomealogical Natiess of eminent Perfons. [June

true fenfe of the Hebrew words, unbiaffed by a forvile attachment to any particular writer or fyftem.
4. An Introduction to the Writing of Hebrew.

Mr Urban,

May 2.

ISEND you the following biographical and genealogical notices for prefervation in your excellent Mif. ce.lany.

$\tau_{\text {unbrid }}$ Paribb. Regifer.

" Mr. Anthony Hamman, and Mrs. Jane Clarges were married by licence, Aug. 14, 1694."
N. B. Thefe were the father and mother of James Hammond, the elegiac pret.

Burials.-Nov, 12, 1635. "Prer. nobilis Ricardus, comes Clanricard et Sc. Alban's, ifto xii die ab hac luce onigravit, et fepultus fuit 24 die apad meid. hor."

Sept. 24, 1665. "The young earl of Giencariy, of Summerhill, a child about two yeas sold," buried.

Mar. 14 1664. "Sir Richard Cu!brond, batt." buried.

Mar. 19, 1667. "Sir Charles Colbrond, ba t." busied.
Jul. 26, 1666 . "The lady Margaret Colbrond," buried.
Oct. $11,3619$. "The lady Darcy," buried.

Aug. 12, 3664 . "Sir Genrge BarLer, who died at Di. AmheriA's," bur.ed.

Parilk-Regifir of Kineflon, Kent.
Oct. 5, 1592. "Willian Swifte [ancefor of Dean Swift] and Mary Philport," maried.

Regifer of Biboffourrne, Kent.

Nov. 4, 1660 . Buised. "Mr. Ri--hard Huoker, parfon of Bifopbourne."

Mar. 23, 1600 . Married, "Edward Netherfole, genr, and Joanc Hooker," Richard Hooker's widow.

OAF. 75, 1623. Married, "Themas Stanley, gent. and Miry Haminon," she fatier and mother of the poct of that name.

Denton Receifer.

Buried, June 17, 1670 , "Mr. Henry Oxinden, of [Litie Maydeykin, in] Barham, gent." an obfcure poet, of whom there is a fcarce print, 1647 , afcribed by Granger to his coufin, Sir Henry. This Henry was fon of Richard Oxinden, of Mardeykin, gent. whodied 1629 , by Katharinc, daughter of Sir Adam Spakeling, of Cante:bufy, kot. : which Richad was younger fo of Sir Henry Oxinden, of Dene in Wingh m, by Elizabeth, daughtel and heir of James Bioker, of Mayde kin, who died 1588.

Weftclife Regifer.
Buried, Feb. 6, 1582, "Rober Fynnett, gent." father of Sir John Fi. nett, a noted poet, mafter of the cere. monies to James I. and Charles I. &ie Baptized, Feb 23.1642, "Mathew the fon of Thomas G bbon and Alice,' the great qrandfather of Edward Gib. bon, the hifrorian.
Buried, Nov. 19, 1675, " Mr. Tho. mas Gibbon, fen. aged 81 years," fac ther of Misthew.

Fiom the Note-bocks of Symonds temp. Charles 1. (Harl. MSS. 99r), fetect the following notices :
" Mr. Denham, of Surry (the poet), for to Baron Denham, has 2,0001 . per annemn.
" Waller, of Beaconsfie'd, in Bucks, tht poet, had 2,0001. fict annum. Sold 50 . 6001. to fave his life.
"Earlof Pembroke (Flilip, the bawliny coward) had 19,0001 . per annum.
"How, of the Subpœna office, is wortl 3,0col. per annum in Gloucefterfhire. On: they call Squire Chefter married hi daushter.
" Lerd St. John, fon to the Marquis o Winchefter, having married a daughter o Frecheville, with whom he was to havi 6, -001 .: 2,0col. of that was unpaid at th. time of her death; and the mother agree with this lord, that, if the can procure hin the daughter of Sir Th. Meyerne, fhe fhal be excuied of that 2000 .
" Earl of Arundel's eftate, now in Mr H. Hosward, $27,0 c 0 l$. a year. 30,0001 debt. The debt was 150,0001 .
"Tuften, of Kent, had 10,0001. a yeat
"Edward Honywood, of Elmfted, fot of Sir John, 1, 5001 . a year.
"The father of Col. Phil. Honywood 2,0001. a year.
"Sir Einard Hales, 12,000I. a yeat Herlackenden governs it. Sir Edward ha hittle command of money.
"Herlackenden, of Kent, has 6 or 7001 a year.
"Anne, danghter of Robert Honywood of Charing, and Alice, daughter of Si Robert Barnhan, marricd Dr. Fox, whr had iffere by her Alice, wife of Sir Richars Willys. Fox, doctur of phyfick, had 4001 per annuse at Walcham abbey, and 3001 per amum in Oxford dhire: 8,0001. left hint by his uncle Dr. Fox. His daughter, whons Sir Richard Willys marricd, had 10001 given to her by Capt. Fox, her uncle, ond of the King's fea captains, and 1,0001 . by the Doctor.
"Earl of Warwick had 8,:001. per ans:

1796.] Notices of eminent Perfons.-Aecount of the Kangaroo.

"Lord Hopton, 4,0col. per ammm. Ma-jor-general Harrifon hath 400 l. a year siven him, part of it.
"Sir Harbottle Grim?one, of Bradfield, zorol a year.
"Sir Freder. Cornwalis, 2,onol. a year.
" Dymock, of Kyme, in Linconohire, the champion, that died in Oxford, had 4,000 l. a year.
"George Villiers, duke of Bucks, 19,000). a year.
"Lord Bellafis, 3,0001. a year.
"Lord Arundel of Warduur, is or :2,000l a year.
"Earl of Narthumberland, 8 or to,0001. a year, befiles demefnes.
"Sir Richard Bettifon, 1,500 or $\mathbf{i}, 6001$. a year; and this year, 1658, bought a purchafe of 14,0001 ."

$$
\text { Yours, &c. } \quad F_{*} S \text {. }
$$

Mr. Urban. Crediton, Marcb 7.

ISCARCELY fit down an evening without a volume of your Magazine at my elbow, the entertainment it affords far furpaffing any other volume in my library. This I attribute to the mifcellaneous infertion of letters, from your numeious and learned correfondents, on every fubject; where the Antiquary, though deeply fkilled in antique myftic lore, ftill muft find frefh amufement from new difoceries communicated to you, at the fame time unbends his mind, and turns the leaves of his Domefday with chearfuinefs to anfiver enquiries made to Mr. Urban by thofe !eis learned than himfelf. The fedate Philofopher ot refined Morahit finds an equa! fund, the Naturalift an equal field, and the Hubbandinan, Farmer, and Gadener, muft find amufement as weli as a beneficial intereff, in the catertaining communic $\boldsymbol{c}_{-}$tions of Agricola and a Southern Faunift. And, lafily, though not lealt, your friend Malcolm arnufes, by bis peregrinations, the fire-fide traveller. In fact, all ranks and cliffes of mortal men muft feel the great fuperiority of your entertaining Publication, and, at one time or ather, meet with a communication fuited to his hooby-horie, on which you good-naturedly permit him to ride at onty the expence of the poftage of his letter to you. A-Dropos, on the fubject of hobby-huries. I muit tell you, AI. Uaban, the name of the one I ride is now and then a letter for the Gentleman's Magazine; ano, polflling a few scartered ideas, which I have gained by dut of reading, and obervation of nulums and cabiners, I venture now and then to mount and intrude my hobby on the publick; and, as he ls perfectly harmlefs, I hope no one will be effended. I inn fo fond of your Migazine, that a fingle line fcarcely efcapes my readiny, as I begin with your Meteoro'og'cal Diary, and finifh with Mr. Wilkie's P ice of Storks, miouting, in a book kept on purpofe, the queries of your correipondents as 1 proceed. On perufing this book lately, 1 find many enqu ries unanfivered, among which s L. E. vol. LXIII. p. 513, requefting a detcription of the Gamgarou. Yourcarice fpondent, A Southern Faun'ft, anfwers it generally in vol. LXIII. 587 ; and it is now ray place to anfiver it fpecifically, which I ain enabled to do from a very fine ftulfed fkin prefented to my colledtion about three months fince. The Gamgarou, or, as Pennant calls it, Kangaroo, is a native of New South W iles, and firfl difonvered by that able and much-lamented navigator Capt. Cook. The proportions of this animal are fingular in a great degree, its hinder (or lowe.) paits be. ing generally feen in an eted pofition, polielfing great mufcular fireng: $h$, and, compared with the fore-parts, are fin. gularly ftriking. It ufe, its hind legs for the purfore of progietfive moti. $n$, jumping to the aflomfiang diftance of from 20 to 30 fett at a jump, and with fo great a dixterity as leemingly not to touch the ground. The fore-tegs are extremely flender; at the end a paw, or hand, with five fingess, or toes, the middie finger tire la, geli, the othe four diminailing gradually in Iongtn, beng nearly of one fhepe: each pulfelfes a long black horny natl icmued tor grafplog. The fkin on the palar of the hand is very thick and horny, whout hair, and different from the fingeis or back of the hand. I: utes thele paws, or hands, as the fquire or morsey, for retding or graiping of any thing. Its tail is thick aud long, tuperag to the puint, overed wath hal. it in faid to be ufed as a counterpitie to the head whew the dnumal is in the ack of jumping, as it is then diways in an ereci pulition. It alloufes it as a wede pon of offence and detence, Notur hapving eppratentis dented it an, other, as wo tuetif, mostif, \&es. lesm in no wayo calculated tut that purp !c. The tecth of ammais berug onc ol the crio teriuns by what Naturdat ellower the cribe or clats to which the velueg g , is 14 thes anmmat of go authoaty, bear-

408. The Rangaroo defcribed. -The Church, E'c. at Hackney. []une,

ing no proportion to any clafs or tribe of the brute creation yet known, though the mouth at large bears fome affinit to the fcalpris dentata, and with the horfe and ruminants in a fainter degree. Tie 'r gi is remarkably hort, the leg extemely long, and the foot very long, on which are placed three toes, the middie toe very large and ftrong, bearing a marked refemolance to the long toe of the oltrich. The nail on this toe is alfo fimilar. The outer toe is fmaller; and, what appears to be the inner toe, is in rtality two toes of a diminutive fize inclored in one fk in or cover.... The nails of thefe toes are the fane as the long toe, black and hong. Tise nails on the two limall tots are of the faine iub. ftance, very hirp, and much bent. On the under fide of the foot and wes there is ino hoir, but a hard calious gkin, well adisted for the purpole of walking. The liead bears a fliong affincy to the head ot the greyhound, alfo the neck, only horser. The underlip has a chap in the middle, each lide rounded off at the divifion. 1 is of the gianivorous kind, very timid, fhy, and inoffenfive, and has been taken from the fize of a rat to the we.sht of 150 pounds. The male has a pendulous forctum of fome length; the female, a pucu, or $\vdots$, rying ber young, which the evidently fuckies, as the female has been taken by the ferters at New South Waits with a young one of the fize of a walnut adhering to the test of the mother withia the pouch, or bag. The body is covered with fine hair of a greyinbrown colour, inclining to a dirty white on the belly, very thick and woolly; the amms (orfore-legs), hands, hindleys, and head, wath hair of a more charfe and wiry nature.
Dimenfoas of the Kangaron in my Poffefion, from aciual Meajurement.
Heghit from the tip of nofe to f . in. the ground
Length riom tip of nofe to end of tail

35
510
Leng:h of fore-leg from thoul. der to end of nail
Breadth of the paw, or hand
Circumference of fore-leg
Iength of the lind-leg
Duro of the foot
Ditto of the sthigh
Extueme girt ot the hips
Ditto round the middle
Ditto at the çhelt

| Circumference of the thigh | 1 | 8 |
| :--- | :--- | :--- |
| Dit:o of hind-leg | - | 0 |

Length of the middle toe on the hind foot
Ditto of the toe-nail - $0 \quad 2$
Length of frotum - o $3^{\frac{1}{2}}$
Suppofed weight, 70 pounds.
Yours, &e. J. Laskey.
Mr. Urban, Cambridge, May 9.

IAM h=ppy in being able to diffipate M. Maiculm's fears re!pedting the besutifu antique tomb of Chritiophet Uifwigch in the chanct of Hackney church; for, it is, as all the othel monuments are to be, carefully taker down, and rebuilt in convenient parts, afpiopiated for the purpofe, in thi new one. The elegant chapel, being the maufoleum (If I way fo term it) o the Rowe family, will remain attei the church is demolnlied, and neatl! cafed with ftone. I think Mr. M would employ his pencil to great ad. vant ge, were he to fketch a view o this chapel at the time he dues thi tomb aforementioned. The organ which in is prelent fate is not a ver! hindtome, hough an excelient, one is to be removed, previous to which i will undergo confiderable improve ments, exclufive of entire new exterio decorations. The beis alfo, whicl are very fine, w th the clock, are al to ise re-ereeted in the new church

In regard to the parfonage, Mr. M is pertectly wrong; for, it is neither very old one, nor will its exiftence ter minate with that of its venerable ap penciage. The interior of the net church will be elegan', and yet fuffici entey plain to enatle to to the appella tion (if. this be not inaptly applied t fuch objects) Jimplex munditits. Th pulpit, galleries, prws, &ic. will be o waintcot, and the ailes will have tran! verfe feats for the poor. The apart ments your correfpondent mentions ar merely for the entrances and gallery Ifaircates; and, in regird to the vault: there, I beheve, will be about thre feet high fur the purpofe mentioned Any farther information Mr. M. ma difire refpecting the old church, i" materials, or ornaments, or stlative :

19s6.] The Linncan Syfem defended.-Various Botanical Notices. 469

the new, he can amply procure by application to the parifh-officers, of to Mr. Spilier, the archited.

I cannot pafs over the ignorant attack on the fexual fyftem which Candide introduces in a noie to his terter on Swaliows, p. 268. At prefent, however, I fhall only cenfure the aronical temesity with which he treats this juftiy-celebrated fyfum: but, for a full vindication of the Linnean doctrine of plants, 1 maft requeft your redders' patient indulgence, and pa:ticularly thofe who, like my felf, feel themtelves infulted by fuch infignticant criticifms, till a more convenient opportunity thali enable me to piefent them with it. Had C. been at all acquainted with the œeconomy of Nature, or had ever fudied the Philolophia Botanica of our great Naturalif, whote efforts were invariably directed towards the eftablifhmert of a natural fyitem, he would neither have expofed his own ignorance, nor offended uthers with his halfowitsed malcvolence.

Scammonius, p. $25^{\circ}$, enquires whether the Galantbus mivalis has ever been tound growing in places which indicate its berng an indigenous piant. In anfiwe to which I inform him, that a botanical friend of mine fatv it lait year in this fate in Hornfea-wond, in fufficient quantites, and too remore from any houfe or orchard to furpect its being a naturalized plant.

Can any of your readers inform me how it happens that detached parts of feveral counties in England are fituated in others, at a diftance from, and totally unconaeded with, their own? And what intereft of civil or provincial œeconomy fuch a tranfmutation can ferve?

Before I conclude, I muft fay a few words to $\mathrm{B}-\mathrm{s}, \mathrm{p} .210$, who there afferts his having found the Thefium Linopbillum in February. He muli be miftaken ; for, this rare plant does not ufually product its leaves before this time. I think he has taken the Lonom prenne varians caule proczombente tor it ; and I conceivethat, upon confulting has Species Plantarum, and comparing thefe two plants, not forgetting to mark their refpective times of firf appearing, he will difcover his ertor. B-s might doubtlefs have fallen into this miftake owing to a trivial fimiar!$y^{*}$ * between thele plants when not in

* In the Thefrim Lynopbilluin the leaves are Inear ; in the Linump perenne they ase flower; but, if he wifhes to be an accurale Botanit, he muft be more cautious in future.

Crito.
Mr. Urban, Wincbefler, May 10. reHERE is a miltake in your laft H Number, p. 277, where a certain monk of the name of Andrew, who was committed to prifon at Hyde aobey, without the walls of this city, is teimed "abbor of Wiochefter cathedral." The fact is, the calban-mýngre*, or cathedral-church, though is much fuperior in dignity and antiquity, was only governed by a prior, whilft the mpan-mynjrjut $\downarrow$, founded by Alfred clule to the antient chutch, and lemoved by Henry I. into Hyde meadow, always had an abbot for its chief fuperior, who enjoyed the privilege of the mitre, and of a feat in parliament. If any one is dolirous of knowing the ground of this difference, it is this: where a cathedral-church was ferved by monks, as thole of Wincliefter, Canteib:ry, Worcelter, Bath, \&c. were, the bithop or archbihop, by virtue of his office, being the head fupertor, was confidered of courfe as its abbot. Hence the office of prive was the higheft conventual rank to which any monk could teraifed in the fame; whilt the other abbeys, being under no fuch reftrant, shofe a regular abbot, who always had a pilor fubordinace to him. Your conerpondent will ubferve, in the fublequent paragraph to that which he has quoted, and elfewheref, that the prior Wiatonienfis and the abbas de Rida arealways diftiogumod oy their appropriate titles.

Permit me to inform W. W. of Barnftaple (lee p. 287), that the late Mr. Porter, of this cley, though a very abie and fagacious man in this profelfion, was never known to afire to the honour of au:horthip. It was Mr. Wavell himelf who had the chicf hand in compiling the two volumes of the Hiftory of Winchelter, and net the account of Magdalen hofpital alone, as your cortefpondens luppofes, which fince his time has been pulled down, and the materials of it foid, thuath the fice of it ftill conftitutes an ecclefiaftical living. The chuf merit, howalternately lanceolate; and in buth tivete the ftems are procumbent.

* Chron. Sax. ad an. MXIf. + Ibid.
$\ddagger$ Succelf. Priorum Ec. Win, Ang. Sac. vol. 1. p. 323.

470 Kija, ory of the City of Winchefer. -The Deaulieu Pu'pit. [June,

cever, of the aforefaid hiftory is certainly due to the late learned and much-regretted Poet and Antiquary, Thomas Waiton, as it was upon a fmatler work of his, publifhed fome years before, that the copious, though incomplete and inaccurate, hifory abovementioned was modelied and made up.
Having hinted at inaccuracies in the Hiftory of Winchefer, I cannot belp complaining to you, Mr. Urban, and, through you, to the Learned Woild, that a city, which only fubfifts by its connexiors with literature, flould be difgraced by a public record, emblazoned with gold charaters, and erected in the city chambers, fo replete with falfe facts, falfe grammar, and revolting anachronifms, that I defy al your correfpondents tozether to produce its parallel within the fame compafs of writing. Do you fufpect me of exaggeration? Take the following inflance, and judge of Hercules by his foot. In the aforefaid recold, which is intended to perpetuate the memory of the moft remarkable inctdents which have befallen Winchefter, the Danes are introduced (by one of whom the city is fard to have been burnt down) before even the Saxons were known in this ifland, viz. in the year of Chriat $3: 5$; when, under the thadow of the great Conitantine's freptre, the whole kingdon was fccure, and this city was rich by its manufacsures and commerce. The numerous errors in queftion, together with the merhod of corrediug them, were pointed out by your prefent correlpondent at the time when the two tables, conpaining the laid record, were firferected in our affembly-roora about ten years ago; and his criticifms underwent the ordeal of public exammation kwo feveral times at the metrings of the learned Soctety at Somerfet-houfe, in your Magazine*, and in other periodical papers. The only confequence, however, of the detection was, that the tables were removed to a lets conSpicuous fituation in the adjoning chamber. In fhote, they were a fecond time eiected, and that with all their flagrant falichoods on their foreheads, theugh they might bave been coriteted in the tpace of a tew hours. That a majurity of the Wintonans fhould preterve the charader of their anceftors in the $y$ th and rith centuries ${ }^{*}$ is not furprizing: fill, however, there are amongh them tome men of ingenuous and well-ftored minds, who feel for the honnur of their native place, and with whom the att inment of truch has charms even beyond a city-feaf.
The Harleian MS. (fee p. 290), giving an account of the antient tefectory of Beauleu abbey, is not exempt from inaccuracies in confequence of its being a century and an half old. The faid refectory, into which the antient tombfiones have been removed, and irregularly difpofed in every porfible direEtion, does not "Itand South and North," nor indeed pointing to any of the cardinal points of the cerrpafs. It is alfo a miftake in this antient writer, whoerer he was, to defcribe the curious pulpit, with the plate of which you have enriched your Mifcellany, as approprized to "the function of the abbot's bible-clarke." This expreffion intimates, that the office of reader in the refeetories of our antient abbeys diftinetively belonged to fome one perfon, and that there exiled fuch a poft as that of the abbor's bibleclerk: whereas it is a certain and welfknown faEt, that the monks in general, as many as were quaiified for the fame, were appointed to ditcharge this duty by curns, each one for the fpace of a week. Independently of other arguments, this is proved by the rule of St. Benedict ; the falme which was obferved at Beaulieu, and in every other Ciftertian abbey, See cap. $3^{8,}$ " De bebiomadario Leciore-" Menfis frat:um edentium letio deefle non debet; nec fortuito calu, yui anipuerit cod.cem legere auceat ibi; fed lecturus rotâ hebdomadâ, Dununcâ ingrediatur," &c.

I pats, Mr. Urben, from your Effays to jour Review; p. 317, where I find a work, suttuled, " The Monaftery," improperly no iced as a porm, whereas ut contans no one mgredient of poetry except iss fiction. Your Reviewer alfo mult certsunly have been mifintormed, when he aicribes thefe anonymous lines to a div ne of a untvesity whech has immurtalized nitelf by tes hurnaniry and libetality to thofe contcentious tufferers the exiled C er-

[^56]
1706.] Obfervations on "The Monaffery."—Emigrant Ciergg.

F" of France. Could I be of this opinion, I hou'd think it neceffary to enquire inte the hiffory of an author (if 1 did not think proper to take due notice of his work) who could affert, at the prefent day, that
"Rome
With unrelenting ze.al inculcateth
This dreadfui seliom, 'Proteltants, my fons, Are objects of God's hatred; he, who moft Annoyeth them, gains highet place in hea ven."
The pubick will agree with me, that fuch language as this, be it profe or be it verfe, muft have efcaped from the port-folio of the late unforturate maniac, Lord George Gordon, and have been wilten previoufly to the month of June, 1780 . With the work irfelf, therefore, I have nothing to do, except whele your Reviewer appears unguirdedly to have given it a confe. quence which it could not otherwife pofif: fs. Your tried impartiality, Mr. Usban, will afford me the opportunity of contradicting certain falfe pofitions of a cru:l tendency, which I am fure you do not intend they flould have, that are either afferted or implied in the aforefaid article.

It is falfe, then, that a monafiery, or other religious AruĒure, bas heen lat!ly erected in Dorfol/bire by Aretii, Rofella, Carlo, or anv oiber architect, or difins. guifoed artiff. The whole fact is this: amongfit the numerous Ernigrant Clergy, whe, fome moaths back, were fupporred in London by the Committee inflituted for the reiicf of fuch objeAs, a fmal! number being defirous of gaining their bread by the fiweat of their brows, a gentleman, who has diftinguifhed himfelf by his public fipirit and loyaity, offered a piece of wafte land up:n his eftare for the realizing of this project. The offer was accepted of by the Committee, and a few mud cottages, covered wi:ib thatch, were saifed by the hands of the aforefaid poor men, with the help of the gentleman's fervants, on tixe wild heath which they inhabit and till, at a confiderable diftance from any other human habitation. It is falfe that thefe cerrical peafants (for they are nut diftinguithed in drefs, or outward appearance, from the ordinary ploughmen of the country) have ever made the leaft parads of religious ceremonies, or have furnifhed any arkument by which the moft inquifitive perton could judge whether dey profeliod any celigion at ail or nor. It is faife that any one perfon in the neighbouring country has been turned from bis religion by them, or by their means; it is even falfe that any one of the aforefaid folitaries has ever interchanged a fingle word with any perfon of the latter defcription. It is, moreover, falfe that the late parifhclerk (now difcarded) of the village ncar which they refide is become a caa tholick, or is in the way of becoming one. And, with refpect to his fuc. ceffor, it is notorious that he was brought up in the Catholic perfuafion, until feduced by the ambition of rifing to the vacant dignity, or overcome by eridence ( 1 hall not determine which), he became a profelyte to Proteftantifma In other paflages, Mr. Urban, of the article before me I mifs the ufual accuracy of your Reviewer. You know there is no fuch place in Suffolk as Hefigrave houfe. You know that the ladics at Amelbury are not Benediztine nuns. You know that the oaths lately appointed for Catholicks, inftead of the ufual oaths of allegiance and fupremacy, are not new oatbs, being the fame which were appointed for them by the Englifl. parliament in 1778, and by the Irih parliament in 1785 . Finally, I do not think you are of opinion, that thefe, or any other oaths, are neceffary to fecure the allegiznce and teaceable bebbuiour either of the new-(y-importsd Catholicks, or of shofe who have been tefablithed in the ifland ever fince the days of yore. Be that as is may, certain it is, that a confiderable number of the new-comers of our own nation have, in order to fecure themfelves from the remaining farks of the confagration of 1780 , taken the oaths abovenentioned as the act directs.

Yours, ze.
John Milner.
Mr.Urban, Hedington, Wilts, Mar. 16. M ANY pages of your interelling Mifcellany having lately been dedicated to the difculition of tome of the antient roads and fations of the Romans in Britain, induces a requetio for the contunuance of this indulgence in the infertion of the following lines, addrelfed to Agrieola, or any other Antiquary difpoted to give his fentiments on the fubject.
What is the general opinion of Stukeley's interpretation of Antonine's 14th Jurney, and more particularly conceining his fixing of the fiation Fcriucio a: Hedington, a pillage aboue four miles North of Devizes? As to my?elf, I am inclined to adopt the idea, with the addition of two corroborating tefimonies more than he was acquainted with, to be mentioned in the fequel. Verlucio, it is well known, had been before referred to Warminfler, to Weftbary, and to Eddindon, (mifcalled Ifeddington once in Camden), a village about eight miles Southweft of Devizes. The firf has no claim but the commencing fy!lable of the name, without coins or other Koman vefliges; and the two latter have afforded ficarcelv any thing more than coins and obficure indefinite foundations for the fupport of theirs. But Hedington, the place of Stukeley's affignoment, in his "Itinerarium curiofum," p. ${ }^{136}$, \&c. befides poffeffing the fame rumains in common with thefe, has, at this ddy, a well-preferved and confpicueus Roman road leading to it from Cantio, or Marlborough. This, fo accurately defcribed in the fixth Journey of the farse work, and afterwards in his "Abury," PF. 26, 30, 32 , and 43 , plates IX. X. Xl. leems to have principally determined him in the conclufion. Four or five antient canps alfo are to be feen within a mile or two of the village. I will now flate the other indications wibich firengthen the Eoctor's opinion, though unknown to hizfelf. The Roman road proceeds vifibly neariy from Eaft to Weft to Hedington ; but, on the Weftern fide of it, immediately becomes oblaterated from the operations of agriculture. If we ftll con:inue ideally the line Wefeily, its courfe, as tending towatds Aqua Solts, or Bath, at about two miles diftance, juft before confling the prefent turnpike-road from Devizes to Chippenham, is a foot where, about thity years fince, was difcovered a Roman teffellated pavement. It itill romanues nearly unimpaired, but covered over with earth, lying about a foot beneath the Surface in an asable ground in the parifh of Bombam. It reprefents a Noman foldict, or military officer of higher rank, of the natural fize, arm. ed with a fpear compofed of different coloured dice; the red of brick, the white, $\& \mathrm{cc}$. of the marly chaik, or crsta margacea, which forms the neighbouning hills and downs. Round about this fyot the plough turns up the tragments of a red Romen tile, an inch in thicknefs neariy, and latticed on one fide with diagonal furrows; but none to my knowledge infcribed. The fubject of this work feems to mark it out for a pratorium. But, not to indulge in conje ©ture, it is fufficient for our prefent purpoie that it eftahififies the refidence of the Romans in the vicinity to much greater certaint, than coins, fibulz, \&c. which might only have been dropt accidentally in a march, or an engagement with the hoftile Brimons. It was dicovered between twenty and thirty years afier Stukeley publimed his "Abury," and near the rume of his death, or but fiortly pieceding it.

As the Ronan road from Hedington to this pavement is defaced and obfcured, fo hence towards the Avon it fill continues, from the fame caufe, to elude the fearch of the Antiquary. Bur, asain tracing it in the motrd's cye We Atward, its direciion towards Aque Solis, or Bath, about twomils fartiser on, at a place called Eufly mar/b, is another veftige, probably, of Roman erigin. It is the etm ans of an extenfive potiery, freading under the turf of a large meadow; whele, in digging, or felting of trees, &c. the abundant fragments of a coarle, red, unglazed. ware never fail to vecur; and the bed of ciay s frill plentiful and good. Our affumed Verlucto, or Hediugton, is diftant from it about 4 miles Ealtward.

On both fides of the lise of dircetion, in the lands of Brombam and Chitway, \&cc.are found many beaps of ironflogs, fome vely near, others more remote. Greas part of thefe-e yet to be feen; and the ploughed grounds are in a manner ofien covered whith the fcattered pieces to a wide extent. Concerning them and their origin not only written evidence, but even traduion, is filenc. The ore which has offorded thete $\mathrm{fligs}_{\mathrm{ig}}$, or drofs, abounds fill in the neighbourhood; a:au much meral muft have been here extrabited at fone ie. mote period, when the fuel of the forefts predominated over the imprevements of agricultase. Such cinderheaps, as they are olten called, are found alfo in orher parts of out iffind, in Alonmouththire*, Yorkfurct, \& \& c. and are there regardew as the temams of Ronian works. Paiticularly, near

[^57]

1705.] The Romans made Iron,-Tilearaph on Shottenton-hill. 473

North' Gritty, in the W. ft rid in of York Mire, Dr. K chardin writes, that the Romans cert indy made iron; for, in itmoviny a heap of fla storpail the roads, a quantic ot copper cons war: difovered. of Conftmine, Corfantius, Diociefin, ant Cruficus. He adds, that the furrounding country abounds with there remains, without even the tradition of iron havine been made there. From this re$\mathrm{f}_{\mathrm{g}} \mathrm{e}$. be authority we need rot hofftate in admitting the fimilar fig he tops of Bromhain, Chiwav, \&心 to an equal hare in the clayton of a Roman origin. And, as a fa the support of the opinion, may be mentioned the wet! -known antic..t monumental fane of Julius Vat is Favericuid, fuad, in 1708 , near B th, in repil ny the Futs-way; who, being a workman at the forges, was interred at the change of why might be called the Roman Iron-company. By this inscription, the exiftence of foch works in the neighbourhood at that time receives more than a prefumptive proof; end the difance, $n$ i exceeding 15 miles, renders a connexion wit D.onibam, Chitway, and the environs, mo se proable than wit Munmouthmire, as Di. Broke by luggers.

There are the observations which have led me to embrace the fentiments of Stukeley, and which are fubmitted with deference to the bette: judgement of others more vera in the Roman gengraphy of our inland. I will now cali farther to intrude; only ft ting that, exclave of what ha been before fad, if we drava right line from $C_{z}$ netio to Aqua Solis, from Mantborough to Death, Hedington will be found much more nearly lituated to that line than Warmintter, Weltbury, or Edfind $n$.

What authority is there for that palfage concerning St achene, in Dotgey's "England iluftrated," vol. IF. p. 337, where h. lamers the lois of an inscribed table of tin, found there in the reign of Hen y VIII; the charactens of which wert not underttood by thole who were then unfortunately confuted?

JUNIUS.
Mr. Urban,
April 2.

TAYING a ramble, a few weeks since, into the interior of the county of Kent, my cusiofity led me to inspect one of the improved telegraphs

Gent Mag. June, 1796 , in the chain between Deal and London. Ad, as i: repels the deferselvetrate of war, permit me, before I enter.... iss defcripion, to parsiculanze tome remutiable velites of the fat on of the Rem as on their, fecund invifion of wis country: as there appears a connexion between them both as to fetence and fituaton, I hope the conbination will not be thought unnatutubal. The telegraph to which I rooter is placed on Shotenton-bill. in the palish of Selling, a very conlide:uble eminence, commanding forme of the mod pleating and extenfive protects in tits county; for which reason it is fuppored, by Mr. Hefted, that it wis choler by the Rom. as as a proper fitustion for aa explanatory fort, and that they had here one of the tr caftra alva, or former encampment; which is eat amply probable, as the fummit of the hill is incloted by an intrenchment (fie pl. II. Ais. i) encircling neatly two ceres of ground, on which lite the te graph is fixed. As the fame hitaian has mentioned a conflerable remain of a superior work in Siaclingheld wood, which is litutted near a mile to the Southeat of the former, but has given no delineation of it as he has of the above, 1 explored that all. As the refit conceded my molt linguine expectation, and as it is fingular in its form and cexien:, I made as accurate a flush of it as its fituation would perIn t ( $/ j_{j} \cdot 2$ ). This evidently, from its circumference, which contains about 12 acres, and the multiplicity of the works, was one of their caftra fativa, or luting cacsmpments. The fofles and valiums ate very entire; and that on the North, alter taking a confiderable circuit around what is now a corn-fild, enters a wood, in the centire of which is a very regular tumulus. This thee works arc Roman cannot be doubted, from the number of coins, una, ix c. which have been at diff. rent thanes dug up in them. And, if your corielpordent T. R. (p. 201), be right in his conjeGure, that the Rooman mile exceeded the Englifh in length, they, perhaps, may form a clue to unravel the miylery which has long perplexed many Ántiquarıes, viz. where was the lite of Cellar's decilive battle with Calfivelaunus. Cæfar freaks of it, in his Commentaries, as happening at about 12 miles from the Sen fea-fhore, on the banks of a river. Now, as there is not a rivor, in the direction in which he moved, at a lefs difance than 15 Englifh miles from Deal, namely, at Chilham, and though Camden has faid that that was the fpot on which the batt!e was fought, hifosians in general, probably from the idea that the Roman mile was not equa! in length to the Englif, have foouted the fuppofition, and flrove to fix on feveral places, which have not she difcriminating circumftance of being on the banks of a river.

It is generally acknouledged that Cxfar, having been repulfed by the Britons in this attempt at Dover, Cailed gigit niles towards the Eart; and, after a tharp conflict, landed on a flat open hnore ("carciter millia paftum viili ab eo loco progreffus aperto ac plano litiore naves conftuti"'), evioently besween where Deal and Sandwich now Mand; and, afier divers encounters in their viciniry, concluded a peace with the natives, and returned to Gaul. That th's landing could not be exactily on the for where Walmer cafle now fands, as Dr. Pucke in his Ancogra phia :ufmuares, 1 think muft be evident to every perfon who is acquainted eithe with the fituation, or the evidences which have been produced, proving that the marihes, which now furround Sundwich and Dial, were, in thofe early days, entirely covered by the fca. Conirquently, the earinworks near Walmer, which he fuppofes were thrown up by the Romans, muft be the produetion of fome later period. It is alio as generally ack nowled, ed th.t, on Cafa 's fecond vifi, he landed at the fawe place, and proceeded to Eabham-douns, enght miles to the Weftward of Deal; where cafing up an inarenchment, full vifibie, tie left Quintus Afilss with a confoderable body of men, and advanced himitif wirh the remainder in queat of the Eirtons. That ihis was his reute is even now exiremely evident, from the contiderable works which are remaining at Rippe, Monpchan, Eythorn, Wificiton, and on Suow-down; from which. il place here is acommunication of folfes and va lums, inticrperted with puine oo stumuth, \&xc. with his grand eacappeent on B rhan downs. In the fime dire 气ition he appears to have ad:unced four mile, to blan reood, whire, pobably at the clote of that du's with? he encamped, fecusing himfelf with thofe extenfive lines fill remaining entire. Puifuing this courfe to the difance of about 12 Roman miles from the frore (and about four Engl'in miles from lfin wood), the Britons under Caffivelaunus prefented the infelves, and difputed the paflage of a river, but were defeated by Crefar's cavalry, and ob iged :o retreat into a thick fortified wond ("fe in flluas ab. diderunt, lucum saai egreg:è छo natưâ \&゚ opere munitum, quem domef: tict belli caufâ ante p-aparaverant"); from which, after a dreadłul Aruggle with the Roman infintiy, they were driven with a great flaghter. Now, for the reafon above giten, and from concomitant circumfances, I muft fuppofe that it was near Chisham where they palfed the river, and that the wood to which the Britons tetired was Shellingheld wood, difant one mile from the ford. If we corfider the fucceeding particulars, I apprehend, they will inuch Rrengthen this conjecture ; for, foon after this conflict, Cæfar returned to the fea-fhore, to repair the damage his fleet had fultained in a ftorm. This work accomplifhed, he returned to inis former Ration, probably in Iffin wood. Caffivelaunus having refumed his ftation in the wood, whence he had been diven by the enemy (and whech they peohably had Atre:gthened by the fortifications of which I have given a fketch), harrafied their advanced parties with fuch fuccefs as encouraged them to make a general attack on the Romans; in which, though they were at laft overpowered, the $\%$ completely defeated the advanced guard, and two cohorss fent to its affitance, flying a thibune, Quintus Iaberius Durus (" $\varepsilon 0$ die cecidit Laberius"), and feveral other pancipal officers. This attack appears to me to have commenced at the above paflage of the river, between Cæiat's poit in Iffin sood and Caffivelaunus's: She!lingheld wood; as here we have the large tumulus which has ever been fuppofed to contain the athes of Laberius; as its name, Fuliberies grave, certainly implies, being probas: b. y a coriuption of Ful. Laber. or $\mathfrak{F u}$. In Laberius, i. e. the grave of Juhus's tribune Laberius; and as Chartham and Siverdling downs, which iie about midway between the river and Iffin wood, are covered with innumerable tumuli, whither I fuppole the Romans were obliged to retreat on their dif. cumáturë

1796. ] Telegrapb diffirent from the French.-Mary 2. of Scots. 475

comfiture; and where, having received confiderable reinforcements, they finally defeated Caflivelaunus. After this defeat, Caffivelannus retired to his home in Middlifex, and the Britons in thele parts fing into the woods remained tolerably quiet (" $n e-$ que foof id tempus unquam fummis nobijoum copis boples contend: riunt'). B"fides, the whole of the fite on which Chilham cafte now ftands appears to have been a burving.ground, probably of the Britons flain in thele cont ats; as weli afterwards of the Romans, who had there one of their explanatny, if not one of their latt:ag, encanpinents; witnefs the many uins and other Roman remains difoovered by Sir Dudey Digges, on digging for the foundation of the prefent flately ed fice.

If the dbove conjectures can be confirmed, or confuted, by any of your c. refpoudents, I thall be happy that I have made them public.

From the view of the telegraph which 1 have given (fig. 3), it will be clear that it entirely differs from the Freach telegraph, of which you have given a plate and defription in vol. L.XIV. P. 992. This confifts of a frong high wooden fiame placed cna low building, con:aming two rooms for the accommodation of the peifons who have the direEion of the machine. Within this frame are fixcd fix fuutters, each moving ci an axis, and are brought to an horizonal pofition by weights afixixed to the end of the crols. bars attached to the axie; at the other end of each bat is a rope, conveyed to the centre of the building, by pulling of which the fhuters are railed perpendicularly, as Nos. s, 3, and 5, are reprefented in the fiktech; which bcing liberated, by means of the weights they return to their original pofition, and appear as Nos. 2, 4, and 6, in the drawing. By thefe fix fhutters, or frames, it is evident 720 different pofitions may be formed; and thefe being appropriated to different letters and words, incelligence may be conveyed with aftonifhing celerity; fo great, that a meflage has been forwarded from London to Deal, a diffance of 72 miles, and an anfwer returned, in feven minutes and an half. To the fide of the machine is affixed a tun tube, to convey the fmoke from the apartments above the flutters, that the fight may not he impeded thereby.

To each of thefe machines, which are placed at convenient diffances, fo as to be eafilu difcernible with a conmon telefcope, therc are four perfons appointed; one to obferve the fignais at the firf flation, the fecund to make the neceflary movements, the third to notice when they are repeated at the next flation, and the other, who is the fuperor, to anter the obtervations on a j,urnal.
Z. Cozens.

Mr. Urban, Fure 9. CO much has been faid proand con as to whether Mary queer of Scots really wrote the lerters which the is cliarged to have done, that one might reafonably have expected that the mitter sould have been fully cleared up one way or other; but that has by no mans been the cafe: indeed, inftance are not wanted of later times, where the fagacity of able lawers, after the fullef difcuftion, has been forced to leave them in their or ginal obfcurty. I believe I may fay, that I have read every thing that has been written on the fubject, except the two laft performances by Mefirs. Whitaker and Dr. Thomas Robertfon, which, from the extracis I faw in the Reviews, feem to be written too o atorically to affilt much in making an impartial deiermination. To guard your readers againft beng infuenced by any thing 1 may fay, farther then faets and truth will warrant, I freely own, that I cannot he'p being of opinion, that the Queen really wrote the firft long letter in French, whofe non-exiftence now, either in the original or copy, I own I am not able to account for. After this fiank confeffron, 1 will beg leave to fate, in the plaineft manner, fome of the weightiets objections made on the other fide, with fuch anfwers to them as occur mod readily.

Objection 1. That it is not at all probable, that Bothwell would keep letters that were fo difgracetul to the writer.

Anfwer I. One would think that thole who made this objection had never heard of the inany ftupid and indecent letters which are produced is Weftminfter-hall on moft trials of crim. con. Befides, might not Butawe 1 carefully prelerve this ietier, to hold over the Qigeen's head in cafe fietraniferred her affections from him to ancther; as he mult know the was capable of coing? Before mote is faid on this head, it is highly proper that her advocate fhould fettle whether there is any thing wrong at all in the letter; which forme of them fay there is not; whilf others maintain that they are too bad to hive ever been written by any married woman.

476 Objections to Letlers of Mary शueen of Scots anfwered. [June;

O'j 2. The au hor of an Hiftrical and Critucal Inquirv int the Evidene, 8.. Edinburgh, 1760, 8vo, who I think writes ableft in the Queen's defence, infits much, p. 5, on George Dalgleifh, Bothweli's fervant, on whom the letters were found, net beingexaCly quettion. ed as to the circemitances.

Anf. 2. His extrination paffed before Monton, Acho'c, and Grange, Jords of the foctet council; and by a public act thefe het mevieleters, written and fublcoive woth her awin hand, and fent by her to Jaires Erle of Bothwhl!, we e mace the erounds and juftification of the is fiz ug ar : imprifoning the Quera's reflon. This act was fubrorbed by the earls n! Murray, Mot n, and others; and the muftall have been hardencd vimas indeed, if, in this canly fite of the bufinefs, they cou'd thus pubicily atted an imporeant fact, of the reality of which they had not the nont pericet affumane. Here I would juh oblerve, that many of the waners in farour of the Quecn fem to arguefrenaoufy, as if the hopour of their bation was intimately connated with the condemnation or acquat I of the Quetn; whereas to me it fermis, that, is valy one party were fo abommatly wicked as they mult have been, let the caufe go which way it will, the lef that sfici on that head the bei:er; and, if borh were to bad, then the body puitic wes abfulusely conupted is cap:ig at incmeris nobianoribus. It may alls de propoted as a coubt, "hich is mof likely to be the guily paity, a young woman, however Deautiful or fentibie, bred in a confeffectly profigate court, and now uncier no conruat, and withous a fingle friend (as it hould icem) of age, ability, and experience, to advife her; or that a nubaercus robility, who have alwdys valued themfelres on the high rank and ansiquity of their families, finould readily agree to ast in fuch an infamous ard cruel manner againt thes innocent, young, and accompl:fhed, lovereign.

Ooj. 3. The letters were not publicly produced till fome months after they were teized.

Anf. 3. Do the obje Rors confider, what a dangerous fep it was to pro. v.ke an offended fovertign, bv a pub. lication which could never be forgiven by ber? Wouid common prudence, and a regard for their own fafety, allow the infurgents to make the publication before they had goteen the upper-hand? Had the letters of King Charles, taken and publifhed after the batile of Nateby, been taken at Edgehill fight, where both partics equally claimed the viltory, will any one foy, that the Commons would bave dared to have made the publication? They feem to have acied jult as the Scotch did; both, after they had got the vitiory, poolifned in juftification of what they had done.

Onj. 4. The very finort fatement of the charge varies; for within ten days the fame letters are faid to be written balelie (i. e. wholly) with her awing hand: and th's is faid by the fame authority as before.

Anfw. 4. If any one reads and fees the variation in the charges preferred to the Englif parliament againft Cardinal Wolfey, he will hardly perfuade hitafelf that they are not more material than thofe we are confdering; much lefs that no charges at all were preferred againft the Cardinal: to me the exprefion is clear enough; I fuppofe they mean to fay, that the letters wete wh I'y writien, and the contract fuiberibed. by the Queen. Muf we not, from the lace of the papers, conclude that they did mean fo? if, inftead of and, they hat faid or, nobody could have had anv doubt of their meaning; and that culd was fometimes ufed in this fenfe, is phin from many inflances: when a culprit at the bar fays, "by God and my country," dies he mean to have his caule determined both by God, i. e. by suel or ordeal, and alfo by a jury of his peers? By this form we may guets that it was meant he fhould fay only one of the two members of the fentence, though both are fit down for his choice, i. c. by God, if he chofe to have is fo, or elfe, by my country. As things are managed at prefur, the former par: feems perfectily unmenniag, as God has very little to do in modern trials, or is even mentioned, except in the fweating part, in which he is not always honourcd. In the by-fsundation of a college at Cambiduge, dated about 1515 , the perfon clarming the feliowahip is dufcied to be of the name and kin of the founder: this was very eafy to be undernood, and maters went on quietly and conformably for above 200 vears, when a perfonflated up and claimed the fellon mip, though of a very difficent name: the college thesefore rejule3 him; but, os his appeating on tir: Vifitor, his claim was fubitantioted, and perhaps not emjufty, for, the qualifertion next ©pocifed is, the t, in cale nobe of the arsmar duicti, tion cidin, the perfon flonid be bern in the crumtes nt Derby haire and Stinforthice. Here it is equally pirin that: ard muft nean or, as one perton c gin not \% boin in two countit. An D. arer nowy the ravifur is to mariv tice dumed, and sive fitty pieces to the tabler: hore furne able commemarors think, ta out man mean or, as 'ome to $\because$ 'r ron be whe ro thatede Holvew paticu: Y, wiehcortraonly meatis sht, fonietmas mas. or. But could atev mumber o, mationen that had wombont terate or Ples, or that coold b:tely re-d. iffirm in a public att that the ette, wht cis are not hoteribedi at all, ve.ettaily fubfatbed; or the contact erimen by hat, which mobouly ever :cre: ded os has was watten by her? Aay arganene, theafone, doawn tram fuct a pripabic aududis, muft beplaced it: the clals of the Aleut-ni-hewt-hum's $x$ icks, mentioned ot the ron! lion of tif. paper; and we in. İ ve ationed dhe looty of putt.rg ancoly and :x mas explanation upon ditan, if wic u a $=$ chute ratiser ioleav: thens w. att or, in error and pelpexed witi nazars. Une thing fuems ce-ain, AI foll a:g!ments, the mere thoy are and he merc decifive the. ferm, the mote il.: y huit the catuie they weie flitustes io defend, like tre cannon uf a flymy as my, when taieed upon thoie thet brought them into we ha'...

1796.] A' gumints in Favour of Tiary Queen of Scots anfwered.

The foregong feen wo to b: the principal argur no common?, wt s in favour of thit R1sel, and, 1 thath, are here fatsentan:ily fiverts. One other, indect, is brougint, whign sult be allowed io be decilite ta proyiug the fpurioulnefs of the ieture, fit caman be done andy it a fatisfaciory mianier. In the Eqcury brinere qquact, App pendix, p 26, tanc's, unaer the $1 . \mathrm{t}=$ of "Part of :'te J rinal or Dary of the mon natenal pallager concerning Quten Mary exhibited by Murray and his Aficcaics"-" "Jan. a§. The Quen* brouche the King to Linlythquov, and there remained al morn, quhiill fis g.s. woud of my Lord Buthwell his returning toward's Ety brough be Ihob Ornithoun ane o the murtheraris. The fame duy, the Erle Bo hrwell seme back from L.y iditarll tozecrds E. ynblou b." The Enquirer prupuly enough adds, p. 30, that "no error of date an here crept into this journal, which came from the Q een's enemics; becaufe, the etror in the date of oue dy in a joumal, which proceeds progreffively trom day :o day, and reciles the trantadrons of each day as it pafics, murt run through the whole journa!." This muti tradiny be graneed; but it muat be infildeted, thit tie fage, if true, nakes the Eal thavel abou: :50 miles in two days, in zumg and retuining, in the wort of Saitcin roads as they then ithod, and in the deptia of winter, without aligning any reafon for his tak nis fuch a jouncy, or faying, in the flestet maner, what bufinets he coal tramen, whon, os we fay, hie bus fo mucls bufinetís to do riearer home. It he da perform fuch a journey on thote d. y., it muit be aliowed that Paris could hot dehver the letter to him, ur was in conterence with him. lit is to be noted, that this paper is watke.i by lecil's hand. Now, the whe:s of this panter, who in fome ploces us dalcribed as the mogt artful of miked men, mult have hewra themion ves to be quite wher wife by inkat is thes thoot pataeraph, winch "s perlestly unnectifuy to tucir purpoite, ds an ways tendiry to ciminate the E...1, but quie the contary; and C ch whit have been of greater dulbat an extian tian is uiutily fupfiscu, it the could oveil ook tuch a glaaty incoritionsy. But all is eafily icconciifed, it you only luppore that the En wist socked up in his chaniber at Eunbergh, and only gave out that he was yone fuch a jouiney: fush temporaiv ablences were realiy, or pretendtdly, wade by leveral of the actors in thet horrid icenes as often as $2 t$ was necelfisiy. If this is once granted, the Whliculy of the journty vaniflies; and the smprobability 'too of the Earl's depurtme tro.ll Edinourgh at a time that he icems to tave had bufinefs enough uphn ins hands to have detained him in li.s ploting-chamber these, at the fa the time that he might be glad to hiue it tnought that he was far enough off. If a perfon find it hard to believe that Elizabeth Canning flais in a room without meat or drink, though under no reftraint, perhaps he may be difpoled to remove ail d:fficult es hy believing that the was not there all the time; and then all the wonderful part of the flory at once vanibes. I know a perfon of tigh rank, who, with:n thefe few years, entertained compuny at his own table on a Tuefday. To.. wards evening he was milling. The company continued firting for fome time quiet; but at lift called in his genteman, and defired to know what was become of his mafter; who aflured them thit he was retired t., his chamber, and was not to be difiturbed on any account. The next day, the commen fevants expreffed great unealinets at their mafters non-appearance. Their uncafinefs increafed, and they grew mone violent, but could not get an" thing more from the gentleman, then that it was as much as his phace was worth to go in to his mafier, firs orders being, not to be difturbed on any accotent. So matters consinued till Saturday morning, when his lordthip made his ulual appearance. Ionly afl which is moft cuedible, that he was locked up in his chamber from Tuelday eventag thl! Sourday morning, without rating or drinking, or being feen by any body in faid chamber, or that he tiole nut, by the alfiflance of the fenteinan, the firt night, upon fome fecret proj $\mathcal{E}$ of pleafure, and kept it up thil the Friday might. In thort, all fuch finites greatly refemble the moft wonderful tricks of fletght-of-hand-men, which, though they feem perfecily aftenihing and inciedible, arre, when the tecret is let out, the nimpleft and fisicft. Witnefs the eqg of no egg in a box of the thape and fize; the guinea and fhilling in either $h$ :nd at command, though the arms be held wide-extended; \&ic. \&ic.

478 Langton's Deanry-Wintication of Voltaire incomplete. [June,

Yours, &ic.
Peed.

Mr. Urean, Kerjington, fune 6.

CONCESSIONS a.e due from nie to deveral of y ur correfpe dents; and heft to A. M. T. vo.. LXV. P. gob. I beg eave to hark han tor fettung ine light about the nane of Dean Jangion's deaniv; at was Cagber, and hot Colerant. I coud not have thousin thermanchely acid ant betwen M1, tad arolie as hum had betn natly tore fince; buil his acsurate abeveme and aids. Uiban's reference to the time of her marriage w'th John Fulford, efq. of Great Fulfurd, in Devonfhire, puts it paft difpute.

The gentleman who figns Ordinis Minoris Inm now able, thankfuly, to inform, that the R.v Mr. Peters was carate of St. Clement Dane, and chofer K.Etuier thereof, July 3, 1723 ; but, as hi Chriftian name was yotn, he was nc: the critick on Job. Thus much I have gathered from a friend, an old inhavitant. He ufed to be morring-preacher at Sping-garden chap.l an he year 1752, and sill 1759 ; and ried fome time beiween 60 and 70.

Vo'tair 's vindication by J. B. R. I mu't take leave to think verv incomplete. Had he been able to have cleared the philofopiser from the charge boougit ag, is, it him on my fuperior, whorn I took the liberty to quote, it would have been fomethong; but he preferred mooting at the dwarf tacher than the man. Huwever, 1 acknowlege he lias proved it the fault of the tranflator; which, as I had not the original French then, though I have purchafed it fince, I could out refer to. His tranflators were Dr. Francklin, Williams, Downname, \&cc. \&c. all, or mofily, clergywen; and mine being Lackington's edition, -how could I, Mr. Urban, fufpeft any error to come tom them, or leafo ot all front the, Temple of the Mufes? But, Sir, I have another edition of the tranflation, printed for J. Carnan, and fold by Berty, Rogers, and Borry, New-York, whih an elegant head of the author in an oval, where the fame blunder occurs, in p. 201, of hanging the butler inftead of the baker. The fametranfo lation is guitty of another error in collugg the third book of Kings the firl bork of Chroricles, in $\mathbf{p}=89$; and at bettom refers to Gent. Mag. voi. XXX1V'. p. zzz, viz. under the head Sicmon:
"Salomon, felon le troificime livre des Rots, avat quarante malle écuries pour les chevaux de fes chariots-" whicis is sight in the original, becaute the two books of Samuel are motured, "otherwife the Firft and Se con Book of Kings."
"Solomon, according to the third book of Kuge, !had 40,000 litables for his chad rivt-hat fes."

The above gentleman feems offended at wy loidnefs; but I think courage in deteeting error, and vindicating 1796.] No Man's Land.-Mr. W. Taylor?-Currates Bill.
truth, equally pardonable in one man as in another. I hope to have convinced him that both his zuarmth and his rbecat were mifplaced, and that he fees where cenfure is due.

The wit of the Philofopher is not difputed, but cannot be approved by any fincere Chriftian, while he is breaking jcfls upon the Scripture. The greateft wits that we have had have ufed that talent io its derence. Wit is an edge-tool, and a fha p-one, and therefore fhould be hand ed ca efully, for fear of curting noerelf; which they certainly do who make vife of a talent God bas given them againg bimfolf.
" It requires a nice eye to diftinguin between fome people's and other people's madnefs." Bifhop Pearce.

An impartial Hiftory of the Revolution in $F$ ance, now befo-e me, evinces the benefit. this author has been of to the world fo forcibly, that I bee leave to quote it :
"After all, if we would trace calamity to its fource, we muit be forced to conferf, that the flimfy writings of that wretched caviller Voltaire have undone Fraree. We earneftly hope the example will operate as a caution to all other governments, and teach them to beware of permitting with impunity improus and licentions publications. They may rely upon it, there are no libels fo dangerous to a ftate as thofe againd God. Wie venerate, and ever flall, the cavie of religious toleration : every fect which acknowledges a future tate of rewards and punithments is innoxious, if not refpectahle. Bur, if this great foundation of morality is removed, there can be no dependence on the principle or integrity of a people. Let the Horfleys and the Prieftleys frecly indulge in theological contefts concerning difputed points; but let every impious fcoffer, who prefumes to aim his deftructive fhats at any of the great doctrines of religion, be foverely punifued, and his writings frictly prohibited. Till this is the caie, no govermment can be fafe; nor will it be polfible to maintain order, or even common honefty, among men."

No nocn's land, Sir, you will find, confifing of a large houfe walled round, and three or four more in the vicinity, contiguous to Fulham field. As I furpofe it is in the manor of my Lord of London, you will not be at a lofs for intelligence concerning it.

> T. O. de Britain.

Mr. Urban,
June 8.

IN the year 1780 , fome of your intelligent corsefondents fiyoured us with a fhort account of the poets whefe produdions compofe Dodfley's Collention; bur they faid nothing of Mr. William Taylor, the ingenious author of "The: Brewer's Coachman," and other lively pieces, in the $5^{\text {th }} \mathbf{v o -}$ lume; or of Robert Nugent, eff. who wrote the "Epifle to the Right Hon. the Lord Vifcount Cornbary," and fee veral pleafant odes in the 2 d volume.

Permit me to requeft fome account of thefe gentlemen through your Magazzine.

I fhould be glad alfo to know who tranflated Profeffor D'Arnay's "Private L -fe of the Romans." The tianflation now before me was publifhed in 1764. A constant Reader.

Mr. Urban, 7une 9.

HAVING an opportunity of pert=fing the Curates Bill, lately paffed by parliament, I fend you the following extract. By giving it a place in your uferul Mifcellany, you will oblige

Another constant Reader.
By the 12 th of Queen Anne, ftat. 2. chap. 12, it was enaged, That if any rector or vicar, having cure of fouls, fhould nominate and prefent any curate to the bifhop to be licenfed, he flould appoint a certain fipend, not exceeding 501 . por annum, nor lefs than 201. to be pard by fuch rector or vicar to his curate.

The aft of parliament lately paffed. fays,
"That it fhall and may be lawful for the bihop or ordinary to appoint, nnder !is hand and feal, any ftifend or allowance for any carate beretofore nominated or employed, not exceeding feventy-five pounds per annum, over and befiles, on livings where the rector or vicar does not perfonally refide four months in the year at leart, the ufe of the rectory or vicarage-houfe, and the garden and ftable thereunto belonging ; fucls ufe to be granted to the faid curate fir the fpace of twelve kalendar months by the authority of the bimop or ordinary, under his hand and feal, with power in the faid buhop or ordinary to renew the grant from time to time, or a furthier tum, not exceeding fifteen pounds per amum, in lieu of fuch houfe, garden, and it.thle, in cafe there fhall be nowe fuch, or it thall appear to the bifhop or ordinary not to be convement to allot and affign the fame to fuch curate; which faid ftipend or ftipends fhatl be paid and recovered in fuch and the fame maner as the ftipend payable under and by virtue of the faid fratute of Queen Anme: Provided always, that the faid houle, garden, and fable, flall be for the wfe of the faid curate and his family only durinz bis act mal mefuence iu the fad rectory and vicarage-honte.,"

The grant of the houre may be revoked at any ume by the trifing. Churches au mented b: Quete Ame's bounty to be deemed beratiece prefensative, and the ficiating remente may shave a fipend of 751. a icar. Bericfies held with augmented cures to be held by the prefentuncumbens. The bilin.? may apportion the fupend torofictating curates of derpetual curacies nertantmented. The ordmary may licenie curates eniploved, thom h no nominagion fhall have been midic to him by the ncumbent; and may tevoke a y hicence, fubject to appeal to the armbinop of the province.

Q s .

Mr. Urgan,

 5 OUR Magazine has of late been 2 fomuch occupied on the fubje et of the watery retieat of $S$ wathows, that 1 hanuid net trouble your readers any more on the fuhjee, wete I not myfelf an cye-witne's to the rath of we conjec̃ure. Unforan tely, 1 nis witneif of thi curious fact a that tarl. period of lite when the mind, ury iled in controverly, stlows ofien proal the colivion, and whath, if a: a tutu.e persod thay are convanome at uit, can $b=$ to to the obfervar oriv. Ihine, therctore, but flender hoples of atminillering convéion te your currefondent Scepreas, P. 385.
"Of all the conjeeques," fay he, "refrecting Swollows, that what fupres ther imirerfon in: rivers, &c. appeare to me the le fe probabic. Ttas kingdom is remarkable for its like.; but I n wer fav," continues he, " nor eier heard from any perfon, any thirg to warmut the belief of the waiery rerreat of Swathows."

In anfwer to thes, and in confirma. tion, or wher in aid, of the watery sereat of Sw llows, you will allo w me to relite a corcumfta'ce I very well recollect, that itpoded cearing a valy muddy pond (1 canot tay ex elty how mary te rsback, but it was when I cunid net have lon , overpaffed my finf baffrom), at Puafect, in Effx.

My parenes were cui, and 1 was lefe in the culs of the fewand, whofuperintencied the libourers. As I was playing about the pond, my attention, I pertectiy recalleet, was on a dudden didwn from the untes that then engaged me to the vulgar exclamatrons of thefe hamo ers. that they had found a neft of dead biris. Wheeher one ar all of them fir wed any fiz: of life at the tinge, or whateves other induiement ditf: workaica had, I cannot $f_{1}$, but the byde we:s 11 carried betore a fire in thicir hove', where the erery one, as 1 weal :emenater, fhewed the ale!ves to be itire, by fp:cading them wings, Sec. This is a piece ot informat on, as I ann well aware, fo imper'fe $\delta$, that it will he convancing to fen, if to any. I fall mok no comment on it ; but merely add thit, as eentemon arda Nrus!!a, .nt th $t$ is terted is:ue; and hat, if you thank the fubjo is at a! elucad ted by the communicat on, you will allow it to a!pear in your MAgaz'nt.

1. D. Detham's Phfoco Thoclogy, vi. 1. A. 3 , there is the following note:
" We had, at a merting of the Royal Somation of Swhllows retinn ander water in wher, from Dr. Colas, a perion very cun nous in the feraton; who, freaking of bere way of filling in the Northeru parts, hy mekt.g lowles, and drawing thear nets u'der ble ice, fuith, that he faw 16 SwalH: i: fin dretw ou: of the lake of Samrodt, ant anout 30 wh of the Kug's on at puad at Raflicien ; and that at chiehittin, riear
 S.alto as jut come ont of the waters that condd fcarcely hamd, bciag very wet and weak, weth their wings hanging on the gromen: and that he hath obferved the S:allows to be often weak for fome days after their appearance."

Yours, &ic. Veritas.
Mr. Urban,
Fune 12.
I THUST the following brief accouna of the depar wie and return of Siwtiows in the fumper months wit, in a giedt meafure, do away the controverfes which have fo lately appared in your Mikazire.

Dr. Beauverleu, in his Natural Hiftorv of Buds and lntects, alferts it as a $f=$ et, that Swallows in the winter latve this climate for that better adapted for the purpofe of iaying concealed in a dormant liate. which rakes place about a menth diter their quittang this $k$ nedom, atior in high chffs or excavated c:verns uiually furrounded w th mofs or thack clods of turf. la the hollow parts of thefe cliffs they have beenfeen tu chier miadege lwarms; and, after hustering round their deftoned abode for lome tume, collect vaft

1796.] Confiderations on the fuspofea' Inmerfion of Swallows.

quantities of earth or clay, with which theyentirely coverthemfelves. During their continuance in fuch afate, they are fometimes difurbed by the apul cation of warm water applied i. the hollow parts of the cliff, and have, upon thio tria!, appeared in great abugdance. "Of this," favs Di. Beauveitu, "I was an eye witnefs; and, t.king partucular notice of the Siwallows, I difcovered a thin film, of a tranfpatent fubfance, by which each was protected. They, however, we ein a very weak condtrion, and apparently totally inanimate. I carried a few of them in my coat pocket to my divelling, and placed them in a wry clofet in my Audy, where nothing could moleft then. Scarcely did a day pafs that I did not obferve them. However, they appeared in the fume uniform pefition feveral months: when, to my great furprize, upon laying them near the Gre, they refumed their prifine Ggure. The't fame I kept in my houls for two yeazs, when an enhappy cicumftance depiived me of my borty."

Naturalist.

Mr. Urban,  Fune 6. $\mathbf{V}^{\mathrm{E}}$ are certainly indebted to Candide, p. 267, for the attention which he has exerted on the Hirsudo controverfy. Ithink, if no one has "feen one dozen only together in a travelling bedy," it mutt be as myjarious to the advocates of immerfion as to there who favour the contrary hyputhefis; for, if they do emerge from the lakes, which are principaliy confined to a fe:w counties of this eatenfive nation, can it be fuppofed that they difperfe them. felves throughour the kingdom by oue or two at a the? But it appears from his own evidence, that wearly two buisdred have been feen in a fiock; though the circumftances attending the place and time could nor be very favourable for oblervation. Though Candide appears to have no fcruple on his mind refpecting the emerging of thele birds from the water, it may not be uflefs to inveftigate this article clofeiy. We are told, that they arofe from a ditch full of rufbes, and flew to the lake about two bendired yards, and fetted anoong the rufles. This occurrence happened on the 2 If of April, at e!ght in the evening, by moonlight; but, as the fun did not fet that day till 53 mi nutes before eight, the moon confeGent. Mag. fure, 1796.quently cou'd have little influence: and, if is hild, could any perion, through fuch a mediam, dillingaith a Swallov from other fimaltirds? And to aicertun :hat they atrife frome the rufles in the ditch, and feited in thofe on the lake at two hundrod yards diffance, bv fuch a light, is impofinble. They might aptear fo to do, as uthers are faid to appear to come out of the water, at lealt out of the rufies, and that the plumage of others feemed in be wet; but that any of them were a\&iual: $\%$ feen emerging from the watei, etern C widide has not confidence enough to affert. Now, reventing to the old fyrs. tem of migration, might not this hlick be a part of the grand caravan, which was difpering iffelf throughous the kingdem, and, futigucd with thetr long fight, had reffed among the ruhes? For, their being feen iffung from them by no means implies that they then came ont of the water; which if polfible, their plumage being wet wouid have prevented their flight even two hundred yards. Befides, the rime of their being feen is wi h the a proof that they did no: emerge from the water, but were really in the aft of migration; for, throughout the day none had been feen on the lake; and, if the meridan fua had not been fufficiently invigoratigy to entice them from their wastery abode, can we furphe that in the evening, with the winf Eaftwadly, any thing could muce them to conse forth? for, at that time of the even. img (cxcept when on their paficge from ditient countries), they cier retie th their places of abode for the night. The whols of the evirence of Cand:!? propes only that the eb birds are ufually firt feen near the likits and rivers; which certainy is mof realonable: for, there they can procure tl:e food neceffary for their futenance before it can be obtained in vilday and towns.

With me, the note from Dr. Wato Con's Eflay is very far from proving what was mesended by it; for, a perfon mult be titule acquanted inocid with the ceconmy of Nature, who does not know thast water contains a confderable portion of air; but to conclude therce, "tiait it is a much better fituation to breathe in," efpecially for birds, than the earth is for fome few of the reptile tribe, whofe conftruction is peculiarly adapted to thofe dituations, is exseeding'y probieRatical.
matical. Exclufive of the formation of thefe reptiles, as well as its being the proper element to which the grand Architect has configred them (which water never can be to the feathered race), may not the means, which conrey them "three feet under ground," leave a fufficient admifion of ats for refpiration? If Candide has any ferupies on this point, let him but cover the furface where fuch reptiles are concealed with water, and, is much air as it contains, he will fiad thas it proves thear imenediate deftrufton.

The hope which he expreties in the cInfe of his letter, "that in the "truma the immerfion of there bids will be proved," feens to infer, that he culifders their emerfion to be fully ellablified by his cvidence, which priacipally is again through a fecond perfon. But how to reconcitie the latit fentence, that, though "they reem to pern in the racio of ten to o.as," yet, ${ }^{6 x}$ the numbers at the fpring and fall are, perhaps, as 3 in: 0 ans as any thing in the hitary of Nature," I know inet. For, if he ineans that they yocresie during the fummer in a ren-fold proportion (which certainly tas words do not c!early exprefs), he is undoubtedly miftaken; for, then each pair inut preduce 20 young; which, as they feldom lay more than 4 or 5 eggs to incubate on at a time, they could not perform but by raining 4 broods, for which labour the fummer is by far too thot.
P.S. Having proceeded thus tire in my lerter on the above date, the uncommon charge in the weather promifed mean opportunity of tiging an experimenton which I had long determined. Some of the lait days of May being coid, wet, and windy, I obfe: ved that the Hirundines in general became le!s active, and manifefted much the frome appearance as they do at the clofe of the feafon, when they are about to leave us; and, particularly on the 3 m , they were to enfeebled by the rough cold gales and heavy fhowers, that in the courfe of the day many were eafly taken by the hand, fitning torpid under the eaves of houfes and other places of fielter, even the Swifts we:e in benumbed and tired as so fettle on the hands and heads of fereral pertons who were obferving thcir uncommon appearance in the meadows, I had feveral Hi undenes biougha me in the evening, which appeared to be dying; their eyes weie cloled, and their wings drooping, fo that they woud coutinue in ally prition in which they were laid. I wrapped fome in flannel, and depofited them in a warm room, and in lefs has an hour they bocame as active as I ever obferved thein; but, on expofing of them to the cold, they became torpid as before; in which fate I affixed weichts th the feet of two of them, and crrited them to the mea. dow, whence they were taken, and immeritd them gradually in a ditch among ruthes, where I had oblerved the fi fo that made their appearance this year, tha?, if they had emerged therce, the experiment might be tried in the water and place that had preferved them throughout the winter. I memedi,uly had caufe to conciude the: were drowning; for, when they fift came is contate with the wate:, is rouzed them from the ie lethargy, and, when fuily irnmerfed, the air efcaped from them copioufly, Eaufing large bubites on rhe furtace of the water. In thas fivation I left thein till early the next morning, when I eafily reco. veret then from the bottom of the ditech by a ftring that was attached to them. Having taken them home, I depolited them in wool, and placed them at a confiderable diftance from my kitchen-fire. At intervals 1 remored them nearer; fo that, in about three hours, their plumage was dried, and, in an hour more, therr bodies had asquired a natural blood.heat; bue not the leath figns of re-animatio: appeared : futhat, when I defpatred ot recovering then by the aid of the fire, I placed them full in the warm rays of a forenoon's fun, where 1 fuffered then to continue till the meridian, when they remained as rorpid as ever. That they might receive every poffible alfitance. I then tried the p wers of elestricity, but equally in van; for, though the friction was in. crealed fo as to expand their wings, their lite had for ever fled! and in two days mure their bodies were haftlly becoming cortupt; while thofe, that were pregerved from the genial Hud, throughthe influance of the warm fun the next morning took their fight in the more beneficent clement of air.

Whether this evid:nce will be fufficjent to convince $C$ tadide, &ec. that it imp, fifble toi thete bitds to lurvive a It te of immerfion, I kaow not; but with me, and, I thank, with every reafinable pe.f a, it entirely explodes fuch an inip:ouable hepothefis.

Yours, &i, Hz. SNEZOC, Jure be:

$\left[\begin{array}{lll}483\end{array}\right]$

ZHE DEC AL O G U E, tramplated into Welih; sorrected from p. 423. ,ddelw tii wnei Ni fygwynebi ofaen elaill Ddawiauti fydd Ni לא ידהיה לך אלדים אדרים על פּני: לא תעשה לך פסל yr hwu ac ,ychod oddiy nefnedd yn (fydd) yr bwn tebyg uydd phob a בארץ מתהחת ואששר .hwyntwafnnethi nias ,idynt ymontenzi al :daivir and טתרהז לארץ: לא רשחתחד, להם ולא תעבדם pechod yn ymweled, ,iddidieus Ruv; ;ti: Dm - , ichova wy in in Canys

 אברת על בנים על שלעים ועל רבעים לשנאי:
ryngorchnynion y qadwant as ,ym carint a m!ne at trusar wd yu nwneuu ag ועצדה חכד לאלפים לאחבי ולשמרי מצוֹתי:
 לא תשא ארת שם יהוה אלהיך לשוא בי לא y Cofia oferwchi enw ef ei cymmero, hwn a yr !e'iora madeas ינקה יהּה ארת אשר ישא אגת שמו לטוא: וכור ארת

 .dy Dduw J-howa i y fided fathath feethred dydda'r, iif waith pob בל מלאכֹתך: ויום דשטבועי שברֹ ליהוה אלהיך לא תעשה כל מלאכה אתה ובגך ובתך עבדך ואמתך

 ag yr ,mory ,ddaiar áyr, neffeest $v$ fhhwa a craeth $d$ wriod ימים עשה יהודה אח דהטמים ואח הארץ את הים ואת

 ברך יהוה הת יום השבת ויקדעדון כבד yrhwn , ddainv (y dydidiau e.inner for yr the fain a dy Dad צגת אביך וארת אמך למען יארבון ימיך על האצמה אשר odinebi N d dil xi .ti yn roi , Duv Jthous ymae ידוה אלהיך נתן לך; לא תרצח: לא תנאף: anwir tyfiolaeth dy gymmydog yn erbin di gi Ni .ladretti wi לא תגנב: לא תענה ברעד עד שיקר:

$[48+]$

EROCEEDINGSIN PARLIAMENT.

H. OE COMMONS. Decembier 7.

AMESSAGE was brought from his hojefty, exprefing his in. rention of apply in to the public ferwice the monev arifing from the fale of the pilizes belonging to the Uniced Provinces, of er an adequate reward had been allowed to the captors for therip icruices.

The Crancellor of the Exebequer moved an Addeifs to lis Majetiy for his fracious Meffige; which was agreed to unanimpuly. He then moved the order of the day, for the Houfe to reSolve itfelf into a Committe of Wavs and Mears of the whole houfe on the fuppliss. The Houfe acco.dingly refolved iffelf into the faid Committie, Mr. Hibart in the chair.

The Chancelior of the Exchequer, in opening the Fudget, taid, that he was petfecily awore, at fo ear:y a period of the ieflion, of the difficulty of forming an accurate account of the expences of the year, fo as to enatle the Houfe to give a fenisfactory anfwer to their confireep's of the burdens to be laid on them, and of the general articies on which thofe Luidens wate to be laid. He had, however, powerf 4 motives sot to delay laying this befure rhers. He recuried to the pening of the prefent felfion of purliament, and to the approach ng profpect of peace; and thit wothing was more defirable than the mieans to fultil and obtain theis ends. He was lappy, bowevsr, that that lioufe was piepated for ail estremilies, and to act vign or fly until peace souid be oltanard en prounds that mere good and acceptabte. He advareed next to the difficaltues of the eaemy to continue thar pretent normouṣ expence tiblite, howser, we were analous for pence, it was neceflaly that we hould coninue our exathons ior the nest year, to car.y on a war for she fuppore of our libentics, by t.king the beft methon or lup: oftrag yuricives throwgh our dficules uath that poriod arrived when it arould be waf. fary for the enem, to :efmin te the var on juft and cquitable prounds, and on terms accepratle to as. He requefied a pationt atemon while he land that part of bis daty befour the rioufe, the amount of which whuld be contained undicr each parucular head. Firft heay was tie Midavy, the oidinary expences Wf when ancuried is $5.700,000$ \% fterling, the ordinaries and repairs to $1,300,000$. the number of feamen was getearer by 10,800 than laft vear, and the excefs 757,0001 ; the total of the expences of the Navy, therefore, amouated to $7,000,0001$. Rerling. The next head was the Army, the total expences of which amounted to 6,104, coml. La fat sear there had been an ovelplus of $1.000,0001$. and which, omitting the difierence, he would flate at 900,000 !. which had been pald for foreign troops. Left vear there had been pald for the different French corps $42 \%, 0001$; ; ihe extraordinaries of the Arms, inciuting the Sardsuan riea'y, that had not yer betn voted, amounted to $z, 646,0001$.; and that 350,0001 . more would be neceffary: the tota', therefore, including the Sardimian fubfidy, would be, in round numbers, $6,000,000 \mathrm{l}$. and in the Ar . my theit would oe a total faving over the laf year of $1 ; 0,000$. The next head was that of the Ordnance, the total expence of which amounted to 1,744,0001. and which was lef's than the liff year by 377,0001 . Next, thete were the Mifcellaneous Expences; for the French corps, the profecution of Warten Haftngs, increated expences of the Civil Litt, S:c. 360.000 !. The next head of expence was, the re-placing of the fums iffued on Exchequer bills. The total amount of the experices of the curient year would be $26,000,0001$. Aterling ; $3,000,0001$. of which would be re placed by a vote of credir, and $200,000 i$. anplied to the teduction of the nutemal debr. Gentonetn would recoll-f, that here was a luan of 8,0000 ol.; :he anount of the 1 xis was Hated at $19,000,000$ I. one million wore han l.att $y$ edr. The roal to be previded for this ; tar would be $2,3,30$, cool.; the botal amount con tasned under the head of the Supp ies of the current pear would be $27.662,000$, Ways and Means.
The land-ax pand mait duty, growing produce of the Confolidared Funds, and fitaro daties, would amount, on an averfye, laft year to $13.933,0001$. this jear to $13,53^{\circ}, 0001$. ; the permat nest charge, theietore, would be 1 $1,538,0001$. the balance of which would be 2,3950001 . There were other artieles, which he would flate to the Houle; one of which waş the fum that woud anfe in conlequence of hig Majelty's Meffage refpecting the Dutch prizes deta:ned in our ports. Thefe were not, according to the prize-3et, velled in the capurs, but :n the Ciown; yet a due atten'i in would be paid to the merits of the d.fferent ctaimants; and from this wold arife a fum of $3,000,000$ By the vote of latt year there was $: 000.0001$. remaining; which. however, it weuld be better to leave untou hed, as there mikht be occafin for it for wht fervices thould the war faft annther vear: thetefore, it would be neceflay to provide for 18,000 oool. No one, he was fure, would rearet the increaled expences of the navy, which were incurred in order to put our navy on that re!pectable footing which the exigences o the times required. It was alfo increafed by the ranfport-fervice, the wital amount of which was $5,000,0021$. Since the 3 :f uf Dicember, 1794, the puichate of Eitt-Indrat thips, o te converted intwithiph of war and tranfports, had coft $\mathbf{1}, 500,0 c 0 l$. ; but this year the expences of the uavy would beieduced swo milhons and an half. The a mo exiraurdinaries were geatiy increaled from our operatiuns an the Consinuth. Anrther head of expence wouid be the bnunty on the in.portation of cirn; which, perhap:, mighe be fontething far bevoud our expect rions, but to which he looked up whth hope ather than fear. The total extraordin iry expences of the year he would flate at $5,000,0001$. It was h's duy alfo to flate the revenue arfing from the lotterv, which amoun:ed to 3000001 . This went to pay the American Loyalif1; 250,000 . of when would ceale at the end of the prefent year. Whether it would then be beter to continue this evil, as being more th?n counterbalanced by the good :t would do, he would leave to the determination of the Houre, to confider of it as $1 t$ :hought proper; but furely they would thisk this better than exifting taxes. Having taken a view of the in ereit of the loan, he then proceeded to flate the new taxes; which would be taxics levied on all fpectes of col ateral tucceffion; on affelfments an incieate of ten por cent.; a douole amount of taxes on all horfes kept for pleature, and un all other horfes to a certan extent embployed in the bufinets of agriculture, or ot "erwíe; on tobacco, frituted witons, falt; a diminution of bounties and drawascks on the exportation of fugars: and thete were the general cutlines, which he thought it his duty to hy before them. Firlt, as to tixes on collateral fucceffion. This fecies of taxation had o.iginured in a country that had nearly equal'ed this in commercal confequence; he alloded to Holland. Under this might be comprehend d all legacies; which, compuring the derree of proximity, would be reted at from one to two per crut. Firit then, to enforce the prine c. pal of tivo per cent. on all legacies above a certain t'm, effduary egacies to exterd to the follo.wing calcularion, making fome tiif ng variations, viz. from two to four, and from four to fix per cent. beginning wi h firft coulins, and contanuing to perfect ftrangers, obfe:ving a regular proportion. This fort of pruperty was, he fand, moft connected insh the exiltence of the cuatry; and, fu ely, 1: could not be tiseught unreafonate to exiend it to linded propeity of tise country alfo. The mode of affeting this tix would be, whea the reathon was not wide, twuper cent; in cafe of a ti it coufin. thee per cent ; tecond cuulin, four per cent. ; and the more remote in proportion up to the dblante ftanger, whu th ud pay fix $p$ reent.! and this tix to be paid in $p$.purion to the degice of conlan, anty The landed property atroanted, on the luwefl calculatson, to $25.000,000$.; the annual iental at 28 years pu chare would a. mount to $700,0000501$. ; add to this the perl nal properry of $600,000,0001$. Ene ival amount would $b=1300,000000$. I:king legacies left by wha one-third of the whole, and the amount of legacues to collaterals to efs than landed property one-n'th-than takiag one. fourth as the muthon amount, the amosut 0 ent be compured at $325,000,000$. Which wou'd produce anuusty a fum of $29+, 000 \mathrm{l}$.; the an mount of the effelfod taxes 140.0001 . Thenext astacle of taximon was w.ries. Taere was already a taz of 100 on every fingle horte kepe for pledure. Shas tax insud, thercoie, beinciear ied in proparion unt it the number reavardinx, wites the amount thould be doubicd, whet would make zes, for every horfe-this he computed at 116,0001 On every horfe emp oyed is agniculture, or otherwite, 2s. per wnim-this coled not be comp ained oi by tarmers, at lately their produce had rifen to a very gieat price, and they could eati $y$ afford it. The num. ber of hodes thas eaployed he coma puted at one million; which would groduce a revenue of yo0,000). The nexe articie of tuation was tobiacon; she duty on which he would a igment one-fouith ter pound ; the amcuot of which would be sy0000. Nex, yrinted cottous; the dury un whach he woud propole raising ivo pence halfpenny fer yand -the duty ar pretent was three penes hati-penny, and this nie of twapence ha'f. penay wentd be fix-perce; which would amount to 3 $35,00 \%$ The next a, cicle was fair, which he weute hate at 32,000 . A ximsinution of one-fourth of the dramback on the exportation of fugro, which would amuent to between 7 and Eoc.0001. The total amount woult therefore be 1.322 cool to be raifed by theictaxes. The tuiply for the novy wass the only antucte, in which the fyca e ehimate txeerded the explondture of the prefent year.

'Parliamentary Proceedings of Lords and Commons in 1795-6. $4^{85}$

Afer M. Put had friphed, a long senverfation touk place benwen Mr. W. Snyib, Mr. Pitt, Mı. Fox, Sre. ceariaz, Mr. Sbertuan, M. Hijly, and Mr. FTh, $\mu$.

A musion was made for the chair. mas reportine pagets; when theye appeatcd for it 27 , aganit it $3 ? 7$.

The feveral refoluitions baing read, and agreed to, in the Commitec, and the Houfe having refumed, the tepore was br ught up, and urdend to be recesed next day.

> H. Or LORDS. Decembers.

The Duke of Portland prefented a NeFage from has Mangety ietate on the apporphiting of Dutch captures, frimita tor that prefenied to the Houfo of Commons yeliaday.

Received some provee bills from the Commons; which were read the fift tinc.

In the Commens, the fime day, the Cewictilor of the Excheguer deheried the foliowng tilatyefrom has ihojefy: "Grozoer .
" His Majeity, telying on the aflurance wheh l: has recerved trom his faniaful Commons, of their deterninatuon to fipport ive Mi juclly in thefe exertoris which dre necematy tinder the prufent circumGunces, recumananis it in this Houfe to confathe of mikins provition towads enzatug bus aterity to dernay day extrandinary experces which may be incurred for the fryver of the entuing year, and to take thinks proper to acquaint the Houre, that the crifit which was depen lines at the commencement of the prefent feffion has led to fuch an order of things in France as will induce his Maxelty (confurmably to the foutiments which the has alre dy declared) to meer any difonfition to :esectiate on the : part of the encoig, with an eqneit wefore to give it the fo!leyt and fpeentieft effect, and to conclude a treaty for gelemai peace, whonever it can the off cied on pof and futahle tems for bimbet on hus alhes. That it his Mai ity's earnef wigh that the fpirit and determmation manifefted by parliament, alded to the tecent and imporiant fuccetios of the Antiri:a armie, and to the contmod and growing enabarafinent of the enemy. nay fpedify conduce to the attainment of thas ohject, on fuch grouncis as the jaftice of the canfe in which this croutry s engaged, and the fituat on of affare, may entitle his Majeny to expect."

The Mirfage was odered to be taken into cinfideration on the moriow.

The Glancewor of the Exchequer then d+fveed anothet Meflaye irem his Majefty relative to the landing uf forelgan troops in:o thosk nedom: whoch was alfo crdered to be tat.en into condetation : 6 -morrow.

Mr. Hobart brought ip the report of tive $C$ moni.ire wi W'ays and Means. Tuc vifferent refolutions were ied the fint ind fecond tume, and the repoit agreed 10.

> H. OF L O R D S. Desenhit 90

Lord Greswelle delivered two Meffages tion his Majafy; the fitme as thite to the Houle of Conmons on Turtifv. Ordered to be taken into constesation un the morrow.

The oicier of thee day being read, for the fecend reading of the bill for preventing feditious meetings, Lord' Grenvile cailed their L. rdfaips attenston to thote circunifances which ite Houfe had a ready decided were fufi. cient (o juftify tome meatures l:ke the profenc. This, tee admutcd, was connedled w th the former bill, and was one fyflem of meafures. It had often been recngnized, that there exifted in the coustsy a psery of men who were determined to deatioy our conftiturion. They had mes fome check, and received what was dec:ned fufficient to thew them the error of their conduat; but, inftead of alteing then conduct, they wish increafed sancour militated aganfer our confirution, amd fought to deitioy ir, even tolts ve'y foundation.

Sercral of thetr Lordnins fooke afa ter; when the Honfe divided, Con. tents rog, Noncontents 21.

In the Commoris, the fame day, the Chancelior of the Exclequer moved the order of the day, tor taking his Majefts's Meffage inco confideration. He would not, he fald, trouble the Houfe with more than a few words on this ectafinn. The fentiments contained in the Meffige were cear y the f-me as thofe delivered in hic Maje fry's Ipeech at the opening of the prefent teflion of pariament, ziz. that the iftem of grvernment in France had now almived at that crifis when his Majefly thought he coud treat under the exiling circumances of the prefent sime. He had not the luaft doubt bu: the Houle would exprefs on this occ.afion the fame affurances which it had before. $\mathrm{H}=$ would, therefore, move an humble Addrels of thanksto his Majefty, for the ferriments contained in his Mef-fage.-The Addrefs was merely an echo of the Melfrge.

Mr. Sberidan propofed an ament'ment, which was of conlcerable iencth, and was in fubfance as follows, siz. "that his Majefly' (aithful Commons, hąving taken his Wetlige into confideration, and whing to glve it the fulleft efiect, had to regret, that his Majefty had been folll atvited as to refute to treat with any form of covcrament in France, and humb y to impore his Majefty to abandon eternally thote who had adviled him to fuch me fures; andih-t it Majefly would endeavour to pencure a fuedy peace; that an immeriate nemotiation for that purpofe fhou'd the plane; and thet no change in the government of France Should prevent the cariy.ng of this objeet in o ificect."

The queftion was put upon the amendment; which was negatived without a divifion. The Addrefo was then put, and carried.

The Houfe procceded to take into confideration his Majefy's Meffage relative to the debarkation of forme toreign tronps from fluets of weather.

Mr. Dundas moved an Addrefs of thanks; which was catried netn 6on.
(To be contrinued.)
Mr. Urean,
7xime 7.
TOU formerly enquired after the copy of Burmn's Leiceftermire with Richard Gilcoyne's nores, mentioned wice in Of, ret's Harletan Cat. I. No. 8igI, p. 469 , LL. N. 368 , p. 23. In this 1:a place a very particular defuription is given of this valuable book It is added, $R$ Gatcoyne had "a vaft treafure of original charters, patems, evidncees, wilhs, and o:her records, which he lad amafied together; for which, and other fuch performances, he is highly praifed by Sir W. Dusdale, in his Antiquities of Warwickfnire, and in his account of his own life. But bow that treafure of records was wilfully bumt ahout the year 1 "2 2 ated not be remembered bere." Now ir is concerning this iaft traniactina, the fite of this collection, that ${ }^{2}$ win to be informed, if is be within the recollection or linowledge of aly oä your antiquarian readers.

I think I can venture to affrm, that the copy of Burton abovementicaed is the fame which paffed into Mr. Wefts Sibrary, and thence into Mr. Gough's. See the reference to p. 35, where Gafcoyne mentions himfelf.
P. 364. "The prefent State of Great Britain" commenced by the name of "Anglia Nutitia, or the prefent Siate of Enclind, 1658," Sro. A fecoud jart was pubifhed :ont, dro. MIy copy, ${ }^{1743}$, is inti:uled, "Masha Eritannie Noti:的, or the prefent State of Great Bratain. The $35^{\text {th }}$ erision of the South fiai:, called Ellgland, and the ${ }^{14 t h}$ of the North part, cailes Scatland."

Fip. 3. in your pl. If is the feal of Confantine St. Martin. Adran de Sin Tilarur. held fome knights fess is Eiron, in Northamptonthire, in the reiga of Edward 1II. (Bndges, IL. ETV); and Huah de St. M. was a beachator in Luffeid prinry, in the fame county, b) fore 3174 , giving to is Lillingfone chapei (60.1. 2.75, Dugtale Mos. I. 522). Erther of this fam! y in thas county I find not. Fig. 4 is a feat of "frater H. de Stodon";" vut where that place was I am to feek. Fig. g , is the leat of "Willam T" Abr, of heferton," perhaps of Chefierton, in the adjoining county of Kuntingdon. Fig. 6. is a Muremberg token of the loit you Kase frequently received from your correfponcients. Snelling, F. izs g ves the inicription Aifuritate ECR- Tcicrantia; which is certajaly wrong ia the fingt word, as it reates to the oid ftory of a man lits ng a calf by cou* thant progittion till he was able to lift it when grown to its full fize. The teverfe foems an inftrument with a fail fre, ring a hole in a mull-Rone, ur, perhans a wreched vefel's gradiaily lvolk-

488 Queen's College, Oxford.-Mr. Hervey's Epitaph. [June, ing it felf ofagain. The maker's name is Wrolf Latufers. Snelling sives fome with Cornelizs Lavfers: Resion Pfenige, i. e. reckoneng tenny or courter.

Artiquarious, f. ${ }^{2} $ 3$, will forgive my feting right his tautable ende. ar to correct the Antiquites of Evenam.

Derciad Lat. dirationavet, means accounted for, fc. the pay went of.
73. Gors is furze in many pauts of the kingtom.
578. The context pain'y fhews that the lantera was not rairied before the abbot of Evehara by wav of tenance; for, it w s s the duty of a ch "plain.
186. A ntworth will rell your correfpondent that firculum is a difb or mefs. Applied to a horfe, it would mann two feeds, to a man. two meals, a day. Had it been a for folll, though it is not eafy to fay of rebat, is would have bien furculum; but there is no fuch word.
P. 396. What is faid about the B/aik Prince's apariments at Queen's coirege, Oxford, in the Bruifh Topozraphy, is ony copied finm the piates there defcribed. The infeription on one is, "Introitus cubiculi Nigri Principis;" and the other, "Intrinus fuper quem cubiculum Nigri $F_{\text {incipis }}$ \& Henrici V." The founder of this college, as anpears by Mr. Gutcli's edicion of Wood's Hiftory of Halls ind Colleges, po 139, "purchafed, 1340 , feveral tenements for the fudents to live in for the prefent, till the hall or college could be butis." Thefe were halls known by the natne of Temple and Dindanour ; and probably in the firft of thefe he fertled the provor and 12 fellows or flhuiars, thouph he did not obtain the royal chatter till dfter he had made his purchafe. There is no neceffity for fuppoting thei the Elack Prince was too young or tao old to be cn:ered oa this foundation, and lodged in fome aparment over a hall which exiled prior to Cueen's hall or college. But it is a very naturai conclufion, that the royal foundrefs wudd pay her chaplats the conpliment of fending hei eldeft fon to fludy, were ir ior tever to fhort a time, withm bis retw foundation; and, if the prince did not go to college till he was is (and who can fay at what age Henry V. went?), he might imbibe a littit academical learning, or finifh b:s fudies at Oxford. In concruverting your coritefondent's opinion on this fubject, I feel difpofed to give him full credit for his other conjecture about the drefo of Prince Henry, afterwaids Henry V.

I have not been able in oltain a fight of the He culantum MS. of PhiIotemus; hut vou will find a feecimen of the wreng winkelmani" "Letere [to C. B.whi] fur los Déc'uvertes d'Fe cuantum Diert. 1764, " 4 to, pp. 87, 88 ; of whi h, I think, there was an Entina twndaran, if.., 8ro.
P. $3^{c}$ ₹, b, I 54 , for ruins r. rizers.
$\checkmark$ itheur hnowing who is alluded to as the ermbitinr of others of the Araban Nehts Encelamments, i hope and pray it mas not be the maker of that fet publined 1704, in 4 vols, 12 mm , which are as reinote from the Eftern fpirit as poffible. Whether M. Gaidnt interpola ed bis tranflation I net her know wor cart : for, with all the fia'nef, f our preient doing into Enghifh tranflation, is affords as much faristaction to the as to the publifhers, who give a new edtion atmol every year-to far more innocent purpofes than 9 -ioths of the modern novels which every year fpawns forth. P. Q.

Mr. Urban, Wifon Favell, Mayz6.

IMAGINING it will be highly gratifying to many of your readers, I here tend you the infcription on the grave-ftone of the Rev. James Hervey, the celebrated author of "Medirations among the Tonbs," "Reflexions on a Flower-earden," &cc. and of feverit other admined productions, late rector of Wefion Favell and of Cullingtree, both near Nurthampton. He lies interred on the South fide of the communion-table in the chancel of Wefton Favell af,refald.

" Here lie the renaains

of the Rev. James Hervey, A.M. late rectur of this parifh; that very pirius man, and much-admired author! who died Dec. the 25 th, 1758 , in the $45^{\text {th }}$ year of his age. Reader, expect nomore; tomake him known Vain the fond elegy and figur'd fone: A name more lafting thall his writings give; There view difplay'd his heav'nly foul, and live."
Mr. Hervey wifhed for no fepulchral mokument, no "Iculpured marble," as appears from his "Meditations among the Tombs." The monument he wifled for himfelf was, to "leave a memontal in the breafis of his feic low-creatures." And, indeed, no one ever had a better monument of this kind than this truly excellent and aporolic man: his name and memory will never be forgetton in the parigh

1796．］Proferzation of the Sea－gull recommended．－Paine Fifher．489

and neighbourhood where he lived． His fifter，therefore，put down，fome years ago，a plain fione with this fiore and modef infcription，more for the purpofe of pointing out to the flranger and to pofferity the exact fpot of his interment，than of paying a tribute to his memory；to which，however，it is in juffice due．

A new and more fplendid edition of all Mr．Hervey＇s Works than has sver yet been publifhed，in 7 volumes，oc－ tavo，is now in the prefs，and writ fhortly be publified．I heartily with them that encouragement and fuccefs which the works of folearned，inge－ ninus，and pious，a man deferve．

I w．fh it was in my power to fend vou a drawing of the parifl－church of Wefton Favell，and alto of the parfon． age－houfe here；both which are very pretty．The later，ameng various other good and nobie acts，Mr．Her－ vey re－buit at his fole expence the fame year in which he died；but，fo frail was his earthly tabernacle，and fo uncerrain are all things here beiow，he never lived in it a fingle day．Wefon Favell is only two milles and an half difatt from Northampton．

A constant Reader； ard a Relation of the above great and good Mar．

Mr．Urean，Norwich，May 30.

THE feefons have been remark－ ably favourabis to the increafe of the cockchaffer－grub，than which the agricultural world has not a more de－ vouring plague．Their ravages have been purticulatly felt in this county and Suffolk fome years ago．After the various endeavours ufed for their de－ Aruetion，aided by premiums from the Society of Arts，it is found that Pro－ vidence has bleffied us wh the moft tffeEual remedy for his evil in the crow and feazagull；the formerboring the hard ground with his ftrong bil；and both of them gretdily devouring the animal as it is turned up by the plough．In－ deed，the fea－guil will gorge himfelf with them；and，atter ditcharging his flomach，repeat his attacks upoa the grub as long as he can find any to de－ veur．This ufeful bird is perfectly harmlefs，and not，like the crow，gra－ nivorous．
1 am ，therefore，very anxious to piefs upon the minds of every one the policy，and even necelfity，of precicr． Gent．Niag．yanes： 796 ．
ving and increafing the breed of thefe birds wherever they appear，efpecially at a time when corn and grafs are ob－ jects of the firft confequence，and be－ caule thoufands of the fea－gulls eggs hive lately found their way to this city to gratify the palates of the luxu－ ricus，and endanger the extermination of that invaluable bird．Be fo kind therefore，good Sir，to admit this well－meant endeavrur into your next Publication，and oblige，

Yours，\＆c．W＇．Stevenson． Mr．Urean， デжニ 13.

Iin reply to feveral mifcellaneous ar－ ticies of laft month，be pleafed to accept the foifowing obfervations．
P．367．F＊S．afks，＂who was Paine Fifher：＂He was a voluminous writer of Latin poetry under the fignature of Paganus Pifcator，and printed fome Engl：a books on Heraldry and Anti－ quities．For an ample account of this author，and his product：ons，your cor－ refpondent need only refer th the Ox－ ford Hiftorian，vol．IL．col．899，and Winfanley＇s Lives of the Poets，p．192． In addition to whofe notices I will far－ ther add，that the：e is a copv of Latin verfes figned P．Pifcator before Pecke＇s Parnafi Puerpertum， 1659 ；and an Englifh epigram by Pecke，in the fame votume，infcribed＂to his loving Fier．d，Mar．Payn Fimer，＂f．isf．

P 369．The prefent incumbent of Middicton is the Rer．Thome：Durn－ ford，whofe father married the finen of the celebrated poes Coilins．This ruinated church，and fea－walhed cs－ metery，have been retrieved from ob－ feure whision by the poetical painting of Chatoote Smith．The vietv here given of the adjacent coaft，and pud－ diug－fione beach，are greally deficiens in perfeefive and rimitude．Bognor， Selfea，and the 1ffe of Wighe，are al！ huddled rogether in your engraving， though，in fact，far removed from each other both in appearance and reality． The telegraph ought to be marked by a fingle poie，rather higher than its appendant contage，whereas your plaie makes it look like the Monument．

P．372．The late ingenious Mri Headley coincided with REnobarbus in approving the latt line of Pope＇s Epi－ taph on Gay ；and，in the Supplement to his valuable Notes on our ant．ent poets，has pointed out a fimilar thought in Brownc，the paftoral writer：
＂No
"No grave befits him but the hearts of men." Select Bcauties, &ec. 11. 191.
Habington. I beg to add, though in a quainter fenfe, has a paffage fill mote appnfite:
"Should the prefent flatterie write
A plorious epitaph, the wife
Will fay-the poet's wit bere lyes"

$$
\text { Caftara, } 1640, \text { p. } 183
$$

P. 375 . By referring to the lan wolume which the learned Dr. Kippis !ived to publion of the Brogiaphia Biitanuica, Mr. L fkev may fatisfy himfe:f, that S $\begin{gathered}\text { fpeare had " not any }\end{gathered}$ vew of drawing Sir John FalAaff from any part of Sir John Fafloly's chatacter;" the only relation which the former has to the latter being "a little quibb'e, which makes fome conforn ity in their names, and a fhort degree in the time wherein the one did really, and the other is feigned to, live." Mr. Gough, the able revifer of Fafolfi's Life, has alfo fuficiently cleared his memory from the imputation of cowardice at the battle of Patay, and has proved, on the evidence of Mr. Anilis, that, fo far from being degraded for his condufa on that eccafion, by lofing his George and Garter, he was honoured by appointments of added im. portance. That Sir Thomas Orerbury was ever confidered as the atchetype of Falfoff, I hnve yet so learn; and that Sir John O'dcaftle was falfely fo confitered appears from Shak fpeare's own epilogue to the fecond part of Henry IV. Ar. Sceevens indeed has thewn, that a contemptible play on the fulject of Oldcafle was written before Shak. fpeare's time, from which our Bard has taken feveral hints, but concludes there is no proof that he was ever obliged to change the name of Oidsattle into that of Falfaff.

> Levitereruditus.

On the Prometreus Vinctus of路schybue.
(Coniluded from'f. 399.)

HAVING affembled the human race together, he raught them, as the firt and leadiug ftep towards happinefs,

He exhorted them to confider, that they were fent into the wor:d for better and nobler purpoles, than, a!ter fulfilling a liated period of merely animal exittonce, to go into anmhilation, and we as the bealls that peri!b. After he had thus removed the terror of death, he infpired falutary hope into their minds; dim and fladowy as was the profper he held out, it had efficacy enough to mitigate their forrows, and pour the balm of comfort into their hearts. It is impoifible to read this. flatement withoutdireEting ourthoughts to the great DELIVERER of mankind, who took away the fting of death, infoliced into our hearts plorious hope, and fi!!ed with celeftitl comfort thofe

$$
\text { v. } 446 .
$$

Next, he gave them fire-and this the antients confidered as the fymbol of wifdom: a circumftance which receives additional tirength from the enumeraion of the arts and feiences confequent on its production. If any doubt remains on the minds of your readers, we can refer them to the chergeric words of Hippocrates:

Another ftill more wonderful definition follows, and more clofely to our purpofe:
 ©A'NATO'N $\tau \varepsilon$ Eival, xy vosiv $\pi \alpha^{\prime} ท 1 \alpha, ~ x^{\prime}$

Again, Hefiod, when he is giving a delcription of the fevere indignation of jupiter, and its confequences, fpeates of the occultation of fire from mortals as one of the moft terrible punilhneuts; and pays a juft tribute to the favour done the human race by Prometheus in its ieftoration:

 $\pi$ тícob $\dagger$

In what manaer the illumination imparted by the Saviour of mankind removed the "blacknefs of darknefs," and brought life, and joy, and ime mortality, to light by the Gofpel, I trult it is altogether unneceffary to explain.

[^58]
1796.] Rernarks on the Prometheus Vinctus of 历fchylus.

Hence, as we have already obferved, proceeded various arts, and feveral attainments of the firt importance. The tranfition from the figurative fpeech of prophecy to the thing fignified, or adumbrated upder thole figures, is obvious and natural-and, therefore, when we hear the in!pired writers proclaiming, that the Meffiah frould bring man from darknefs into light-fhould diffufe peace and harmonyeven among the brute creation and fhould heal all the difeafes of the foul-we hear alfo the voice of the heathen poets, announcing that their Deliverer fhould briag men from fubterraneous habitations, teach them the vaious ufes of animals, and explain to them the art of medicine, and other fciences, conducive to the welfare of their race.
In fome inft:nces we adnir, and with feelings of grateful exultation, that the analegy does not hold good. Prometheus, amidft his fufferings, infitad of the meeknets and refignation which charafteized the lowly Jefus, is haughty, infolent, and vindictive; a difpofition pelfectly contiftent with their ideas of peffetion, who banifhed the word "humilit"" from their very language, or at lealt only made ute of it in a bad fenfe, to exprefs a mean, groveling, and derpicable temper. Promeiheus too defcribes his inftructions to mortals as myfically qiven, and their very light as clouded with obfcurity:

But our hope, thining with all the radiance of the Father, the Fountain, and the Origin of Light, exhibits the fpiendour of that hexven which is the object of its contemplations. The joy fet before us, lefting on the promiles of God, and eitablified by the Holy Comforter, brings with it perfect peace; and teaches us, that death is not merely a refuge from the forrows of life, but an entrance into ererlafting giory.

If the chronologers have afcertained the rara of 在ichylus with tolerable precilion, he flourihed two centuries after Ilaiah, and many years a!ter the Dabylonifh captivity. It is unverfilly believed, that about this period thole opinions gamed ground, and became more widely diffuled, which once had been better known, but which, through a long ieries of years, had etther been gradually loh, or much obfcured, among mankind. It is not, therefore, incredible or impotifibe, that our post fhould have been made acquainted with the writings of infpiration, and from them fhould have conceived the idea of a Divine Being expoled to a variet of forrows, fufferings, and tortures, in behalf of wretched morials. Add to this, that the very fame expreffions of grief which David and the Prophers, in a variety of inftances, make ufe of, are to be found in the writings of Efchylus, with a degree of Gimilarity that can fcarcely be deemed accidental.
If the whote of this fuppofed analogy Thould be deemed fortuitous, it fill exhibits a moft curious and aftonifhing concidence. If otherwife, what a train of ideas opens ittelf to the mind! And how can we fufficiently adore the goodnefs of God, who "left not himfelf without witnefs" among the heathen, even in the earleft ages; but gave them occafionaliy an infight into the doctrines of truch, and caufed the rudiments of their obficure and figurative my thology, abhorrent as it appears on the firfit vicw from Mofes and the Prophets, to mftrutt, prepare, and difci$p$ ine the minds of men for the reception of the Golpel!

I flatl conclude in the words of Garbitius*, of whom mention has been made more than once in the courfe of this in veftigation :
"Grave eft argumentum-imò fíquis id penitus iutroipexerrt, aninadyertet ab Hebrais petitum effe, er quidem ex doctrina Mofr. Quanquam auem onmia, qux pertiuent ad naturam hominis ex onmi parte tum cognoficendam, tum emendandan, ad intellisentiam et perceptionem non tohum humantatis et juffitix civills, fed et fanchitats et juftilix firicitalis, non debent, neque poffunt aliunde pothus, falutarios aut certius peti, quar: ex facrà fcriptuià; non tamen unguan fuerunt hace etaan, a mente et faplentiâ humanâ tanus et unilius aut inventa aut agitats, prorius rejecta et fpreta: et quidem per iplos etiam theologos, et eos prxcipuos. Qill et phi, nun fine exemplo apoitolico, ftudiis diciphinarum liberalum eradti fuerunt, et ta ad quandani noa inutient wioncieituciy ad ductrinam facram aliss quugrie conceiferunt, aut etiam comrachazrunt,"

> Yours, &ic.
E. E. A.

[^59]Mokell.
126. Ant
226. An Enquiry into the Althenticity of certain Nijcellaneous Papers and Legal Infiruments, publifbed Dec. 24. 1745, and attributed to Sisakfpeare, Ouecn Eliza. beth, and Memy Earl of Southampton; illuffiratcd by Fac-fmiles of the genuine Handwriting of that Nobleman and ber Majefly, a news Fac finule of the Hand-quriting of Shakfpeare, never lefore exbibited, and otber autbentic Docuncents. In Tivo Letters auddreffed to the Right Hon. James Earl of Charlemont, by Edmund Malone, Efg.

PALPARLE as the forgery of the Miiceilaneous Papers here referred to :mitt appear to every reader of difcer ment, we could almof forgive the au hors of it fur thes fingle reaton, that shev have drawn forth a detection from this able mafter. The dete&ion is cmplete; and, to borrow Mr. MaJone's own words, in his fummary of the whole, P. 353,
6. In the courfe of this Enquiry it has been proved that the artificers of this clumf and daring fraud, whatever other qualifications they may poffefs, know nothing of the biftory of Shakipeare, nothing of the liftury of the ftase, or the hifory of the Enghifh language. It has heen proved that there is no external evidence whatever that can give any crelibility to the MSS. which bave now been examined, or even entitle them to a fefious confler tion; that the manner in which they ha:e been produced, near two ceaturies after the death of their pretended author, is fraught with the frongent circuantances of fufpicion; that the orthography of all the papers and deeds is not only not the orthngraphy of that time, hut the orthography of no period whataver; that the languaze is not the language of that age, but is in varoous inftances the language of a century afterwar's; that the dates, where there are dates either expreffid or implud, and almoft all the fact mentr ned, are repugnant to truth, and are refured by indifputable documents; that the theatrical concracts are whoily inconfiftent with the nfages of the theatres in che age of Siakfpeate; and that the language of the legal intruments is as falfe as the ipelling and phrafeology are abrurd and fenfelefs; and, lattly, that the hand-writing of thl the mifcellaneous papers, and the fignatures of all the deeds, wherever genuine autographs have been ohtained, are wholly diffimilar to the hand-writing of the perfons by whom they are faid to have been written and execnted, and, where nutographs have not been found, to the general mode of wriping in that age. If any additional proof af forgery is wanting, I confefs 1 am at a Jofs to conceive of what nature it fhould be. I have now done; and, I truft, I have. vindicated Shakfpeare from all this " imputed trah," and refcued him from the hands of a bungling impotor, by proving all thefe MSS. ti) he the true and genuine off pring of confummate igrarance and unparalteled audacity."

So bittle of this controverfy has appeared in our Mifcelicanv, that we that! be excufed from entering mure at large into the arguments of this able examiner; whofe intimate acquaintance with every thing lelative to his great Mafter, as he ftyles him, gives him a decided preference in the hif of his champions.

In the Appendix, No. I. treats of the origin and hifory of promitiory note. and paper credit, ably hanoled by a frient of Mr. M. who Gew: that promiffory notes were firf introduced about the end of the laft century.
127. Free Reftections on Mifcellancous Papers and Legal Inyjramsents under the Hund and Seal of William Shakfpeare, in the Pof fiffron of Samue 1 Ireland, of Norfoll: 1treet. To wbich are added, Extrafs from ar: urpzetilfhel MS Pluy, called The Figin Noren, 7 witton by, or in-Initation of, shak ipeate.
MR. Waldron, of Drury-lane thearte, the publifger of theferefiections, is, like Mr. B,aden, a convert from the osigipality of the Shakfpeare papers. The Virgin Queen is a fequel to the Tempeit; and the extrachs from it have been in their prelent owaer's pulfeffion 20 years.
128. The Laves of Tiolus and Crefide, quritton by Chaucer, with a Commentay by Sir Francis Kynaton, never before $p u b$ lifad.
MR. Waidron before-mentioned purchafed the MS. of Su Fiancis Kynafton's Latin tranfation of Troilus and Cielfide at the iate of Mr. Hindlcy's Mibrary, :793; the two fift books of which had buen printed $: 635$. It was propofed to print the whole poem, with the commentary, in different portions; the Cecond carly in Junary 1796 ; and the remainder with all convement tpeed. In the courle of the publication will he given a portrait of Sir Francis Kynafton (of whom there is not at prefent any pint cxant), engraved from an criginal drawing conjectured to be by Vandyck, prefixed to the MS, Mr. Warion ca!ls it a poem " of corfiderable merit, in which the vidilitudes of bove ase depiged in a ftain of true poetry, with much pathos and fublimity of fentiment. Chaucer, however, claims no merit of Invention; theugh Sir Francis Kynafton fays, "He lias taken the Hiberty of his own inveation*." Whatever mightit the the merit of that work, we cannot difcover much in this that fu pafedes the labours of cther editors of Chaucer.

1:9. Subo: lination cufferced: a Sermon preasbcal befone a Conjutuutional Sosiety at Howden, und on the late Fafl-day at Sneath, ly the Rev. Edward Bracker, LL.D.
"The following fermon was preacied at thowden, before the Urion Sccict;, at a particular meeting, held tor the purpore of thewing their loyalty to his prefent ma jchen ; and, at their particular and earneft requeft, is now made public. Dr. Bracken, $\boldsymbol{\epsilon}$ thembg urility ahove originaity, acknowledges his obligntions to the publications of the day. If the following difcomife has a tendency to enabiina and confirm any pate ,ff the induatious conmonlty of this kingtom in their duty to their king and their country, the author's intertion will be fully anfweres.', Fiom a well-chofen text, Juiges xprif. ro, D.. B. has made a plarn well intentioned difcourfe, adapted to the capacity of his audience. We fhould have noticed it fooner, but accident picuented ats falling into our bands.

130. Civeular Lecter to tbe Correfporning Societiess in Great Brtain: csittaining the Cat let out of the Eag, or the Perifetial Motion diforecred, anit its Ufes dilphayel, weitb a weurning ${ }^{\text {Volice }}$ to the Alfociations. By Mífes Goniez Pareira, Pbilo Kiveif.s.
AN attempt to buriffque thic modern pariots, by the author of "The Jew's Appeap' againlt the modern pitudoprophets, revitwed LXV. rogs.
131. A Semon preabet at St. George's, in Kent, fank 24, 1796, on Occrition of the Lester fionn tbo Bibsaps of the Diucefes of Lemdon and Ruchectier, real in the Churctes on thjefe Days. By the kecior of thofe Pariffes.
WHILE the minifier and the parifinomers of St. Sepulcine, in London, unitw in veffry to refict the advice of their dincefan (if the newfpapers do [^60]net mifreprefent them), H. R. Britiol extorts his parifhioners, bow in towa and country, to do all in their power. by proper ceconomy, to relieve the wants and dittrefles of their poor brethren.

132. Mémoires de la Vic at le Caracere de Madume lat Ducbeffe de Polignac, avec des Anecdites intéceflinutes fur la Révoriution Françoife, et jur la Perjonne de Maria Antoinette, Reine de France. Par la Comitefic Diane de Polignac.
THE Ms. very lately tran'mitted to a lady of ditimbtion in this metropolis by the author herfef, fiter to the Duchefs de Poignac, vith a requed that it mighe ne printed, was written before rine death of the young king Louis XVII. and of his aunt. I: hews the origin and progrefs of that afeginate friendfilip which fubfilted is years between the queen and the duchets; the polatical infumen of the inter over the former cxpined, it is trae. 1787; but neither abfence nor adverfity could diminifh thsir mutual etta:hment, which was only diffolved by deach. The exrats flom the queen's letters to her tri-nd inlpire refocet for her firmnels, confiancy, and magnanimity, under circumfances calculaed to depreis and unnerve the molt heroic mind; and the many of the laten caufes which prodaed the fall of the hoale of Boubon, and particularly the fatal fivirt of concelfion in Louis XVI. which leveled all the barriers placed about the throne, and, by rapid gracations, coniugied him from the elevation and fplendour of Verfailes to the faffold.
"The revolution of 1789 , and its confequencer, form, unquationably, the mort awful and fapendous furjets of contemplation to which the huaran mind can be dieeted. A revolution which has converted the moff fourifling, as well as the moft antient, of the Europtan monarchies, into a valt burying-ground; tranlated Paris, once the feat of luxay, tatte, and literature, into a chamei-houle; and, after coavulfing every itate of Europe, has fpread devaftation and deftruction under a thoufad forms to the moft remote extremities of the globe. No prohnction whtch tends to tlucdate the caufes of this moral and political volcano can be regarded or perufed with mbifference; and, though thie author has ciofen to be filent on the atrociens machinations of the duke of Urlans, of ouly to name him mdirecily, the has not obferved the fame referve reigectiag fjecting the princip!es of Neckar and the conduet of La Fayette. It may, perhaps, be objected, that the portrait of Marie Antoinette is drawn in the moft favourable colours, and that fhe is feen through a partial medium. For this defect, if fuch it be, no apology is attempted. That the errors of the French queen, exagserated by calumny, were maie fubfervient to. wards irritating the public mind, is unqueftionable; that they operited againft her to the laft moments of her life, cannot be denied. But fuely has been the lot of unfortunate princes in every age. Death has redeemed her cbaracter; and pofte. rity, while thev commiferate her unparalleled fufferings, will not refure to do juftice to the elevation of her mind and the benignity of her difpofition."

We have peruled this amiable narrative with real fympathy; and, while we agree with the editor that much of its tendernefs would be loft in a tranflation, we cannot but wifn it had univerfal circulation.

233. Remarks upon tbe Principles and Vicws of the London Correfponding Society.

A fhort and pertinent detection of the abfurdities and inconfifiencies in which this new political creed involyes its abettors.
534. Tbree Letter: to the Right Hon. W. Fitt on the Subject of the Statutes of Mortmain, contuining an Enquiry' into the Origin and prefent State of the Poffefions of the Clergy under tbat Tenusc.
WE had occafion to review a jadicious "Succinct View of the Hiffory of Mortmain and its Statutes," by Mr. Highmore, LVII. 620, compiled with the laudable view of guiding the benevolent in their charitable endowments. The prefent publication has dilferent views; finf, to cenfure the ufurped dominion, the avarice, and ambition, of the clergy. Secondly, to flate the boundaries with dilficulty fet to them by England. Thirdly, to render the clergy obnoxious for " a tenacity to its purpoles which diftinguifines that order." The relaxation of the ftatutes of mortmain in favour of cbaritable $\boldsymbol{u} / \rho$, and the augrientation of poor livings, difpleafes this writer; nor can he with patience lear of the commutation of and for thises. This latter, he afferts, is phejudicial to com: merce, which, he contends, is infeparable from the contitution; the cforts of the commercial man being to acquire homour and independence, and the poffeffion of a portion of the foil of his country, which attaches them to ir by intere't as well as principle. "How differently doos fuch a man view the interefts of his country, when compared with another, who, wi:h an immenfe pooperty in paper and merchandife, confiders hinieif as a citizen of the world, attached to no country but where the can make the moft of his riches! This is the rock on which the French legiflature filf fplit; they held in view no qualification but great abilitits ; there was no refponfibility; and fo they have been betrayed, fold, deceived, and mifled, by thofe who pofiefled the market of the moment, and continue to do fo till the end of the chapter" (p. 48). This is true enough; but to what amounts all the declamation againft building on mortmain tenure for 21 years? No one furely would wifh to enlarge the power of covering every meadow or hill within twenty miles of the metropolis with buildings grounded on any term of years; nor, perhaps, in a view to hoalch and convenience, were it defirable to have had St. George's fields in any other flate than a well-drained and cultivated tract of meadow-ground, and not a pace of privilege for debrors, equal in puint of inconvenience to the commercial and other interefis of this country to any fanctuary eflablifised by the antient clergy. The fame declamatory language purfues the endowments of our univelfifies; which, after all, our author objects to more on the ground of illegality than of immorality.

In the third letter he arguts againft the argument for commuting tithes, that the increafe of income might be in proportion to the decreafe of value in money, as fallacious; many articles of manufacture being lower now than bv proportionate calculation in the aras of the Henrys or Edwards; but the cultivation and vaiue of lands has by no means kept the fame proportion. The effect of this commutation is that the generality of our refident clergy are become farmers, and this is fuppofed ro degrade them into parfon Trullibers. Here we think the writer has outftetched $\mathbf{t}$ Ch; ; and if, in diftant parts of the kingdom, the clergy farm their glebe, it is from the icantinefs of incomc. But with a very ill grace does he upbraid the clelgy with the great incruafe of prebyteridos and meeting-houfes, whofe minifters do but farve as their number increafes; and if any of them eke out an income, dependent on the caprice of their hearers, by let:ing themfelvcs out as authors, to what end do their writings tend? Rut, not to copy his retorts, let him produce in the prefent day the abufes complained of by king Edgar among the clergy of his time.

Thefe letters are conciuded, as one might have expefted, with a hint to the prime miniNer, to avail himielf of the poffeflions of the clergy, and the offer of a plan for that purpofe. "I think fuch a plan might be fketched out and offered, which would infinitely benefit our revenue, enable us to contend will our enemies without any additional burthens on the poople, vin. dicate our character for gnod fenfe and moderation in the eyes of Europe, and alfilt our commerce, modify the action and load of the national debt, and prove even not unacceptable to the c!erge themfelves if they have the fmallen tindure of patriotifin in their compofition" (p. 78). "Thus far on the ptincipal head of thefe reflections; my next will offer fome confiderations on the other chapters of mormain, corporations, and charities."
135. Pride and Superfitition Caufes of Unbelief. A Sermon, preached befure the Rev. the Arciodeacon and Clergy of the Arcbdeaconry of Berks at the Vifitation bohlen at Abingdon, May 13, 1795, by William Weit Gseen, M.A. Vicc-principal of Magdalenhall, Oxford, and Kiciur of South Moreton, Berks.
MR. Green, from Hebrews iv. 11 , has briefly tiaced thefe two caufes of unbelisf, exemplified in the Fiench revolution.
136. A Letter from the Row. Charles Plowden to C. Butler, W. Cruife, H. Clifford, and W. Throckmorton, Efquires, and Reporters of the Cifalpine C.ub; in wbich their Reports on the Alutbenticy of the Infrument of Catbolis Proteflation lolged in the Britifh Mufeunt alc examined.
" In 1789 a large number of Roman Catholics throughout England fabforited an inftrument, called a Proteftation, at the recommendation of the Catholic committee; and an oath was afterwards grounded upon it, which became the fubject of a long difpute. Parliament having rejected this oath, 1791 , it was hoped that the proteftation which had occafioned difagreements would be fuffered to fall into oblivion; but, foon afer, a fmall majority of a Catholic meeting in London thought proper to depofit the original inftrument of that proteftation in the Britifa Mufeum. In 1793 and 1794, the Rev. Mr. Milner (in Ecclefiafical Demsracy detected) and I (in Remarks on the Menoirs of Giegory Panzani) alleged fome reafons for thinking the inftrument depofited in the Mufeum was not the authentic original, but a falfified copy. A club of gentlemen, who call themfelves Cifalpines, undertook to defend the originality of their favourite inftrument. Four law-members of their club were deputed to inveftigate the suthenticity of it ; and their report was putlifhed. Mr. Miloer printed a Refly to that report ; and the Cifa!pines rejoined by a Fartber Rcport, to which the enfuing letter is an anfwer. At the head of it extracts from the two reports are prefixed, to ferve as terms of comparifon, by which the reader may judge whether the authenticity of this inftrument is fairly proved by the Cifalpine, or the fpurioufnefs of it by Mr. Miner and me. If the authenticity of it, what chall be done with the 1500 fignatures which are now affixed to a fpurions inftrument ? The $15^{\circ} \mathrm{Co}$ fubfcribers muft anfwer the queftion." Preface.

Mr. Plowden concludes much p'ea fant and convincing argument againf the autheuticity of the inftrument in queftion with offering the following confiderations:
"The proteftation figned $x 789$ is now univer fally known and believed to be the work of earl Stamhope. Would the fubferiners choofe to borrow their political or their theological creed from that noble-man-perhaps from Jeremiah Joce? 2. They, or the great majority of them, figned the Stanhopian proteftation under an alfurance that no oath was to follow it ; and under explanations of feveral paffiges, which were judged to be refpectively captious, doubtful, inaccus ate, difputable, and erroneous. Of this latter defcription is the propofition which utterly difavows the difpenfing power of the church. The inftrument was, moreover, difsraced with falfe gramonar and folecifms. 3. The proteftation of 1787 , and the oath grounded on it, were rejected by parliament, which fubiftituted initead of them our prefent oath. This wath, therefore, is now our only proteftation, and the only engagement with our country to which we are pledged. There is no need, then, of preferving another which has been an wifortunate fource and occafion of difcord. 4. If the wifdom of parliament in rejecting the protereation had equally prevalled in the catholic meetings of 179 r , the very fource of our difference would have difa - peared for ever. The vote which ordered that fource to be depofited in the Britifh Mufeum was bronght on mawares, without any notice given to the great majority of fubfcribers who alone had a right. to difpofe of the deed which they had figned. Whatever intentions may be fuppofed to have influenced the movers of that vote, the confequence of it has been to perpervate diffenfich, by furihins to fome individuals a pretext to fanction and jufify their inadmiffible oathe, as if they were fairly grounded on the deciared felito of the catholic bor'y. 5. It is $n$th that the freedom of $\mathrm{d}: \mathrm{b}$ te was infringed in the meeting of 179 r , in which a vociferons party of gentlemen hindered the charman from propofing an inoportant amendinent, which was regularly ofee et, anc: whint, atcording to all rales, ougla to iowe nem difpeied of before the ongigat quettion could te put to the voe with valulity, ca:1 be afcribed to the proccedings of a mee: ing fo informal and irregular. 6. Aithougb the proceftation was accepied and fignod under explanatione, yt after it had been fubforihed it was interpreted to figuiy more than tie words imported. This would authoize every fubferber, who wimes to eic.pe the cenfures of party, :o afcertain the precire fenfe in which he funicribed it, even if the original deed remained in the Mufcum. But, if an athered copy bas been introduced in its place, then the patrons of the orig:nal inftrument santuot have any intereft to fupport the credit of a changehng; and chery other motive concurs with double force to perfade fubicriters to withdraw their names from on infrursent the text of which they never figned, or at leaft to make a declaration that they never figned it."
137. Obfervations upon a Ticatifo intituled, "A Defcription of the Plain of 1 roy, by Monf. Le Clhev Lier." By Jacob Bryant. MR. Bryanite'l, us "he wrote this treatife when the Defcription of the Plain of Troy filf canse out. Fna, as he had writen upon the fame fobjed, and concerning the T:ojan war, ard as there were fome articles contuary to his eptuion in the Defcription, it feemed to him by no means imploper to obviate the objekions which might eccor fhould his thoughts ever be mate public. And, as a ficond edition of this work his been publefed, and prolably by this time fold, 11 appeared to be proper so fend this treatile into the world. Fer he faould be willing to take off undue imprethons, that if his wher treatife, of more confoquence than tire prefent, hoad come forb, his proceis may be ficed, if poi.
fible, from all impediments and cbjections." Mir. B examines and dee ens the fallacies and miftakes of M. Le Cheralier, and his mitreprefontations of the antients, particulariy of Sirabo, in the fituation of Troy and its environs; and of Mr. B. himfelf, in difanguifing the coric tumuli raifed in menney of ceriain heroes from the tombs raifed over their aftes. In conciution, M. Br ant delivers his owa fira periuation that both the Trajan war and the eity of Troy never exified; " for which he could bilig verv cogent proof on ud fuch a aiffuifition be at all acceptubie to the worid." For ourfe'ves, we earnofly wifh to tee the Culiject nifcuifed by a wriser of Mr. Bryant's talents and candour.
$1_{3}$ S. A Letier to the Rigbt Hen W. Pitt, Cbancillor of the Evabequer, &'c. on the Conlurt of the Bank Ditelars; quilh Curfory Obfervations on Mr. Morgats's Pamthlet refeesing the Expence of the War and the State of the National Debt.
MR. Vanferart, to whom general $r$ port aferibes this letter, complains of the pr judice done to Mr Pitt's admi witsation by the conduct of rhe bankdir: etors in refufng to advance the imperial loan, and Mr. Morgan's miffatemont of the national debt; thas depreciating nur refources and exaggerating our burthens. Whereas the " isaputiant queftion is not whetter the number of pounds fierling expended in the prefent war is queatry than the number expended in any former war; but, whethor the expence of the prefent war (due atention being paid to the reduced value of moner) is greater in proportion to the exertions made by this country, and to the exertions and expences of the enemy, than the expences of any procecing war, in proportion to the excrtions of this country, and to the extrtions and expences of the enemy, in that war? This is a view of the furject which Mr. Morpan has not thought preper to rake; ani yot candour and com-mon-fenfe muft both unite in pronourcing this to be the only fatement of the queftion by which we can arrive at foch a dolution as will noe mifiead the public mind. If ever the queftion to thated fhould engage the attention of a candid and enlighened mind, por-, felfed of the beft furces of information, I venture to predict that the reat lat of fuch an meftigaten will bes fully as honourable to the "war-minifter," as the financial operations of the prefent war (fo uojufly attacked) are honourable to the "minitter of finance" (p. 34, 35).

1uly
139. Catecbijomus, five prima Infitutio Dijciplineque Pictititis Chriftianx Latine explicata, Autbore Alexandro Nowello. Edition nova, Annotationibus aufa, in UJunt fluzentutis, prefertim Collegii Enei Nafi, ङ Theologice Cantidatorumi in Diocefi Leftrienfi. Accelit |. G. Volifi Difputatio tbeolegica de Sacramentorum vi *ै efficacia.
THE prefent worthy diocetan of Chefter, nor fatisfied with his own exettions in the caufe of religion, here calls in to his aid a champion of acknowiedged abilities in the reign of Elizabeth, Alexander Nowel, dean of St. Paul's, in which office he died at the age of 90 , in the unimpaired poffeffion of his fenfes and faculties. This Catechifm (befides which he publified a greater and a lefs) met the approbation of archbilhop Whitgift and billop Cooper, his contemporaries. The piece by Vothius had formerly iffued from the Oxford prefs. The bimop has added brief notes to both pieces.
140. A Youney from Prince of Wales Fort, in Hudfon's Bay, to tbe Nortbern Octan; undertaken by Order of the Hudfon's Bay Compary, for the Difcovery of Copper-mines, a Nortb-weft Pafage, Éc. in the Years 1769, 1770, 1771, 1772, by Samuel Hearne.
OUR readers are no ftrangers to the merits of Mr. Hearne in the line of difcovery, or to the exertions of his employer', the Hudfon's bay company, in promoting difcoveries, or to the mifreprefentations of them by travellers and navigators.
" The natives, who range over rather than inhabit the large tract of land which lies to the North of Churchill river, having brouglit famples of copper to the company's factory, many of our people conjectured that it was foulid not far from our fettlements; and, as the Indians informed them that tle mines were not very diftant from a large river, it was generally fuppofed that this river muft empty irfelf into Hulfon's bay; as they coold by no means think that any fet of people, however wandering their manner of life might be, could ever traverife fo large a tract of country as to paif the Northern boundaries of that bay, and particularly without the afinitance of water-carriage. The fullowing journal, however, will few how much they have been mifaken, and prove, alfo, the improbability of putting their favourite fcheme of mining into practice's (Introd. p. xxiii).

Gent. Mag Funis, igg.
The accounts of this grand river, with famples of copper, were brought to the faflory 1715 ; and, four years after, a floop was fitted out to difcover it, which tailed *. Samp'es of copper continuing to be brought by the $\mathrm{In}^{-}$ dians, it was determined to fend Mr. H. in fearch of it. He fet out Nor. 6, 1669, and returned Dec. 8, in the fame year ; again fet out February 23, 1770, and returned Nov. 25 , the fame year. Having met with better encouragement from an Indian chief than he had hitherto experienced, he was induced to undertake a third expedition Dec. 7, 1770, which be complered in 18 months and 23 days, arriving at the Copper rivers July 18, 1771. After flaying there long enough to examine them, he fet out on his return the 23d of the fame minth; and, after making a diverfion to Athapufcon lake, reached the fort June 29, 1772 .

Among the principal adventures of the route are the dreadful maffacre of the unoffending Efquimaux by the Indians; a particular account of the $\operatorname{In}$ dians, therr conjuring dcctors, and the fervile laborious offices pertormed by the wrmen, the herds of the Moote deer, the b:aver-houfes, and the crackling or rufling of thie Aurora Borealis $\uparrow$. The Mocfe deer and the beaver are rreated of at largs, and the errors concerning them corrected. "Though my difcoveries are not likely to prove of any material adrantage to the nation at large, or indeed to the Hudfun's bay company, vet I have the pleafure to think that I havs fully complied with the ordiers of my mafters, and that it has put a finail end to a 1 dilputes concerning a North-weft patiage through Hudfon's bay. It will alfo wipe off, [^61]in fome meafure, the afperfions of Debbs, Ellis, Robron, and the American travellers, who have all taken much pains to condemn the conduct of the Hudion's bav companv, in bing averfe from difcoveries and from enlarging their trade" (p. 303). The remainder of this work is taken up in defrribing the natives, and the animal and vegetable productions. The Northérn Indians are reprefented as wellproportioned, ftrong, and robuft, hat not corpulent, nor fo adtive and lively as the other tribes who inhabit the Weftern coaf of Hudfon's bay. Their difpofitions are in general morofe and covetous; and they feem to be untirely unacquainted with the name of gratitude; always p'eading poverty and diftrefs of every kind 10 obtain relitf; infolent under mild treatment, and, by the leaf indulgenee, indolent and troublefome; artiul and fraudulent, but, withal, the mildeft tribe that trate at any of the company's fettlemens: neves heated with liquor, nor rurned to rioi and violence beyond bad language. The men are in general jealous of their wives, and it is not doubted but the women participate this pafion with them. The inhofpitable country the inhabit obliges them to eat much of their foodraw, for want of firing ; and their mode of boiling in their birch:kettles is by putting hot fones into the water. Blood mixed, with the halfdigefted food in the deer's fomach, and the fat after it has been chewed by the clean teeth of men and boys, is a favourite difh; as are alfo the young before birth, and tven the receplacie of them, and the parts of generation of various animals, and the tripe of buffaloes. Their tents are made of deer-fkins, and carried by dogs; but the more bulky part of the baggage by the women, who are deflined to do all the drudgery, without being allowed to take any fhare in their diverfions. Fheir clothing is deer-fkin, with the lair on, which fiwarms with lice, another favourite repaft. The tract rhey johabit, from the 59th to the 68in degree of North latitude, and upwards of 500 miles from Eaft to Weit, is one folid hilly mals of rocks and fones, covered with a thin fod of mofs, with icarcely grafs enough to feed the geefe, fwans, and other birds of paffage, but the lakes atiford plonty of fifh all the $y$ tar.

Upon a fummary view of the account of thefe Indians, there feems nothing particularly ftriking in their charafter or mole of life, or in the exertions or improvement of their minds. A fcorbutic diforder, like the laft ftage of the itch, in the fummer months, confumpti ns, and fluxes, are their principal diforders; the former has no cure but what nature works. When any of the principal Northern Insians die, it is generally believed that they are conjured to Geath by fome of their own countrymen, fome of the Southern Indians, or fome of the Efquimaux; too frequently the fufpicion falls on the latter, which is the grand rafon of their never being at peace with thefe poor and diffitfed people, and committing fuch freguent maffacres of them. They are fo little affected by the miferies of others that they will mimic their yroans and agonies; and, when they mourn a whole year for a near relation, their howling is as much the effect of form and cuftom as of real grief, and they cry in cencert by cultom. They leave thin dead to be devoured where they fall, and absain from eating wolves, foxts, ravens, &c. on that account.

Keligion has not as yet begun to dawn among the Northern Indians. Their conjurors teach thein nothing; they have a confufed idea of the creation of the world, but no idea of a feture fate. Old age is the greateft calamity that can befal them, being left in that flate to perifh with want.

Mr. Hearne concludes with an ace count of the principal quadrupeds found in the Northern parts of Hudfon's bay, the fifh, fhell fifh, reptiles, infects, birds, and vegetables. He fhews that the $W^{\prime} e$-was $\mathrm{bi} / \mathrm{b}$ is a totally different animal from and lefs than the Mooie; in which, as in other inftances here given, Mr. Pennant was miffed, in his Arctic Zoology, by the late Mr. Andrew Graham, an indefatigable colleEtor of natural hiftory. Frogs, fpidefs, and grubs, are frequently frozen, but recoverable.

We venture io rank this as a valuable addition to the difcoveries which the enterprifing firit of our country men leads thein to make. It is accompanied by an accurate map of Mr . Hearne's track, plans of the coppermine river, and of Albany, Moofe, and Slude, rivers, in Hudion's bay:
views of Prince of Wales fort and Athapufcan lake; and two ptints of In. dian implements.
145. An Enquiry into the Second Coming of our Saviour ; §hewing, as well from Sa. Matthew, xxiv. and 1 Cor. xv. as foom tbe Revelations, that the promijed Kingdon of God is not yet connc: Seccnilly, that the Gofpel of the Kingion quas not intended to be preacbed to all the Worl.l till after the Second Coming of Chrift: Thirdly, that the End of the World will not be at bis Sccond Coming. Comprifing alfo a Summary of the Revelations, ant a Parapbrafe of the 15 th and $16 t$ b Chapters of Ifalah. By the Autbor of "Anticbrijt in the French Convention."
WE cannot detail the whole of this ingenious writer's arguments, notwithffanding the narrow compafs into which they are already compreffed, as a kind of fequel to his former train of reafon. ing, reviewed in our vol. LXV. p. 14r; in both which his modefty is equal to his ingenuity. The fum of them is, that the overthrow of the French Convention is nearer than we are aware, "within the three ycars, predicted Ifaiah xvi. 14: from the 5 th verfe of which he concludes this prophecy is to be accomplifhed immediately preceding the coming of Chrift; and, if this conjecture is well founded, we may expect to fee a fire (Jerem. xlviii. 45) kindled in the Low Countries which will devour a part of France and the convention; an event not at all improbable But, in what manner, and $b ;$ what means, thofe 10 powers which have fupporred the Papacy are to combine to deftroy Rome; by what fudden change a ftrong hatred is to be brought about in their minds againft her in fo thort a time ao little more than one year; is at prefent beyond the reach of human compreherfion; yet events as improbable have lately been feen to come to pals." The term of 1260 years, allotted for the duration of the firt bealt, will not expire (according to Gibbon:s nute, IV. p. 176 . on the expulfion of the Goths) till Dec. 10, 1796; but the three years and a half, the term of the fecond beaft, will expire fome time in the fpring of that year, depending on the time from which his rife is dated, whether from Aug. 20, Sept. 22, or OEt. 10. But it hould be remembered that the witnelfes (the Old and New Teftament, or the rwo oiive branches, Zechariath iv. 12, s4, two anointed. ones, perhaps Son and Holy Ghoit, all tending to the fame point, revealed religion) are to arife after three years and 2 half; which word after leaves the time in uncertainty; probably it will be extended to four years; and probably too the firft bealt might arife a few months fooner than Mr. Gibbon dates the cotal extirpation of the Goths in Italy; in fhort, this trifling difference is eafy to be reconciled in various ways, which it is not neccifary here to enumerate.

Though this paragraph may turn out to be a mere flight of imagination, yet the writer cannot forbear putting it forth. He does not pret-nd to the gift of prophecy, nor does he pride himfelf upon literary talents, but wifhes to make himfelf underfood in a few plain words; being actuated by the fianple defire of calling the attention of his felluw-countrymen to a cunfideration of the times in which they live, and to the true wor hip of that God, while yet he may be found, who alone is able to fave in the hour of diffref:. The prophets foretcid not only the firft but the fecond coming of the Mefliah, and the eftabifiment of his kingdom. To this point they all terd, as the radii of a circle to its center; and he cannot but be perfuaded that they relate more to thefe latter times than mankind are generally aware of.

With this good man we wifh alfo to obferve the figas of the times, and, with the devout and thinking mother of our Lord, " lay up thefe fayings in our hearts." Perfuaded, as we are, that our country is referved to be the feat and fource of happinefs, religions and civil, to the furrounding world, however it may have been deemed almof out of it, we cannot help exclaim. ing:

O for the glorious view which he who food
On Pirgal's fummit took of diflant time, And happy place, his Ifrael's envied lot, In vinion feen, and realiz'd by faith; Period, perhaps, not caft beyond man's life, If pure devotion fanctify the wilh.
The fov'reign Arbiter of all events
Can urge them fafter than the fabled Fates Weave their weak web, which God alone confirms.
Return, Aftrea, to this happy land;
INor uncorrected leave thofe wretched realms,
[rage,
Where Antichrift, comb:n'd with Satan's Litoxicates mankind to vie with God:

Them, purs'd by war, by dire experience taught,
Meffiah's fecond advent calms to peace, "s And vindicates the ways of God to man."

I42. Ageneral Viewu of the Etablifhment of Phyfic as a Science in England, by the Incorporation of the College of Pbyficians, London; togetber with an Enquiry into the Nature of that Incorporation; in which it is demor/irated, that the Exclufion of all Pbyficinus, except the Graduates of Ox ford and Cambu'ge, from the Corporate Privillges of the College, is founded in Ufurpation, being contrary to the Letter and Spinit of the Charter. By Samuel Ferris, M.D. F.S.A. ©

THIS is a ferious attack on the $u$ furpation of the college ty favour of bye-lawe, which are acceffible only to the prefident. regifier, and tuor cenfors, and which are unwarrantable. Thofe whom the college will admit poly to the rank of licentiates are, therefore, hereby excited to claim admifion to fellowhips "under the charter of incorporation itfelf, on the broad bafis of individual qualifications, without the leat regard to places of itudy, or local graviuation."

Y43 Hortus Botanicus Gippovicenfis: or, a Syfematical Enumeration of the Plunts cultivated in Dr. Coyte's Botanic Garden, at Iplwich, in the County of Suffolk; alfo their generic Cbaracters, Englifh Names; the Natives of bititain farticularized; the Exotics, wiere befi preferved, and their Disration : witb occafienal botanical Obfervations. To wóicb is added, an Invefigation of the natural Productivers of fome Grafs: Zants in High Suffolk. 1phwich.
OF this publication we can fay no more than the title-page authorizes us; for not the fmalleft hittory of the Doczor or his Garden is gives in any preface or introdustion, except as fol lows:
 accipe-mente ferena lcge-bcnighe corrige. Yy!

> W. B. Coyte."

And a pallage from Seneca, by way of mutto,
Mutium albuc refiat opcris, multumque refabit, feem, to fay to our curionity, "Much remains to be done and known, and yill fill remain."

The inveritigation of the natural productions of fome giafs-lands in High Suffolk was made from four larg? plats of Tannington Green, brought to the Donor in the winter, taken as far diftant from each cther as the common?
which contains nearly 200 acres, would properly admit of, and planted near his refidence; that whatever plant made its appearance might be conftantly under examination, and minuted down at the time of its coming up.". This is at lealt a new way of botanizing.
144. A Defeription of the Country from Tbiro ty to Forty Miles yound Manchefter; the Materials arranged, and the Work compofed, by J Aikin, M.D. Embellifed with 73 P!ates.
THIS work, defcribing a circuit of more than 1000 fquare ralles in extent, has been projeCted by Mr. Stockdale, the editor, at an expence, as he himfelf affures the publick, of 3,5001 . It is impoffible for us to extratt much from the varicty of notices contained in it. The general account of the . counties of Lancafter, Chefter, Derby, the Wef riding of Yook thire, and the North part of Siaffordfhite, is followed bv a hificiy of river and canal navigations, and a full account of the cotton manufactory of this diftict. "We fee the 200,000 . laid out for raw materials for this trade in 20 years, magnified into more than $7,000.0001$. and 50,000 findles into $2,000,000$. An excellent account is given of the prin. cipal branch of trade at Manchefter, which is proud to be "that of the madern tradirg towns in England wbich bas obtained the greatult accetfions of wealth and population' (p. 206). This fentence may feem to be harfily conftructed; but the merit of the work is not materially affected by fuch af. fectations.
145. The Birtb and Triumph of Love: a Po. ein. By Sir James Bland Burgefs, Bart.
A happy imitation of Spenfer's manner, without the affectation of obicure phrafenlogy, extravagant metaphor, or new-fangled abfurd terms. This fio nifhed allegorical poem, rich in poetical imagery, highly wrought in har. mony and force of language, and deferving to be ranked among the moft celebrated compofitions of the kind, rook is rife from 24 beautiful defigns by the Princefs Elizabeth, forming 35 many periods of fanciful hiftory, deli: neated as eizgantly as they are imagined ingeniouply, produced at a time of doneftic celebration. The fuhjeets are, 1. The birth of Love. 2. Going alune. 2. Finds his bow and arrow. 1. Trying his bow and arrow. g.

Dreams there is a world. 6. Going in fearch of the world 7. Alighting on the world. 8. Miftakes his mark. g. In vexation breaks his bow. so. Meets a hearr. yr. Weeps for the lofs of his how and arrow. 12. His arms reflored. 13. Sharpening his arrow. 14. Stringing his bow. 15. Returning thanks. 16. Arrives at the hill of difficulty. 17. Turns away in defpair. 18. Metis with Hope. 19. Afcends the hill with Hope. 20. Refting on Hope frikes the hear's $2 \mathbf{1}$. Otfering up the hearts. 22. Uniting the heart:23. Preparing for triumph. 24 Triamphant. This poem may be bought with or without thefe plates.

146. An Eflay on the Neceffity of Reveaded Religion.

THIS effay, at firft occafioned by the atheiftical progrefs of the French convention, 1793, was firft publifhed in 1794 , and a fecond time this year, 1796. The author diftuibutes his fubjects into threc propofitions: in the firt of which he contends, that nothing fhort of revelation could have defroyed idelatry; the fecond argucs it as necrffary, from the ignorance of man and the juftice of God; the third eftablishes the a!gument of its utility, in having been the inftrument of giving glory to God in the higheft, and communicating peace and good-will to man. Thele propofitions are elucidated and enforced with a degree of spirit, elegance, and accuracy, that difcovers a mind well tutored in general literature, and ftrongly impreffed with sheological truth.

147. Gleanings, ©'c. By Mr. Pratt. (Continued fromp. 143 )

THIS writer of poetry and novels, fometimes under his true and oftener under his alfumed name of Courtney Melmoth, appears in the prefent publication in the character of a pefidentiary traveller. If thereby he means that he has ftaid longer in a place than the generality of travellers ufualy do, and on that fcore is more entitled to credit, he has fo interlarded his obfervations with fentimental defcriptions and reflections, that, excellent as his motive is, we cannot derive the pleafure from his narrative, which a reelly attentive obferver deferves. There is no end to imitations of Sterne; and we profefs to give a preference to fimple facts and unvarnifhed tales, where the reader is left to make his own reflections. The writer's remarks, in pe 293 of his third volume, do him h)nour, and deferve to be univerfaily read:
"I heard one of the mont tender-hented of men declare, that the fight of mangled human boties in the field of batle was difregarded after a month's cuftom; and we know that the appearance of an open grave, or of a deceafed perfon carried to ir, are alon imperceptsle, or at leaft unheeded, objects in a populous city, where funerals are anomst the ordinary occurrences of the day; whereas, in a fmall village, a cofin and a tomb retain their power of interefting and affecting the mind, even of the gay and difflute.
"Thus it is in the flory of France, polluted as it is with ahominations: bur, when more than a century of interval from there Thall arrive (and fuch a period muft come), the noft candid reader will impute fome part of the narrative to prejudice, to paffion, or to fancy.
" Indeed, how can the hiftorian him'elf expect or wifh fucceeding generations should fuppofe there had ever entered into the heads or hearts of their anceftors thofe innovations in cruelty, as I have before called them; thofe original fins in the old age of a wicked world, th to even now we could not believe but that we knous them to be facts?
" It will, neverthelers, he the melancholy, though faithful, office of the biographer of the French remublic to ftate, that whatever is moft repugnant to rea fon and nature, moft offenfive to the laws of man and of God, were the means to bring about the beit end in the French nation; a nation lons ce'ebrated for its manly gentlenefs $*$ and $p$ lifhed urbanity, and which was fo univertally allowed to merit the charafter given of it by one its beft poets:
" Where men adore their wives, and woman's pow'r [fofenefs, Draws rev'r ence from a polifh'd people's Their lufbands' equals, ind their lovers' yutens.
"He muft reverfe this pifture, and fhew this very people embruing themrelves in the life-hlood of the fex they itolize' ; extending their feracity towar is it beyond the practices of the conimon murderer. He muft inftrue childrea yet unhom that their parents were capable of vimatas that religion the hern of whofe garment had beens racre. 1 For proof of which tromendousaffertion, he muit enumerte to ife plundered churches, demolihhed al' ir's, and fiinted images, which fur fo many :ges

[^62]were damosd hallowed, even by the nof reprobate of tytants, asd mact abandoned of the people. To which enormities mork be adied the pillage of coffins, and twening out of then the very bones of titeir forefathers, to convert the materizis, with which filial pisty liad guazaed them, into the wiftrumeints of a bloody tear wpoa wach other. To thefe murt fucceed the fraddering amals of prifens forren, and their contents, anrounting to themiands and tens of thoufands of human beings, mardered with more than Druudical * barbarity, fur yefufing to beconie apof tes to thcir king, their country, and their God.
"In fine, the tifue which fuch an hirtorian mut weave for his reaters would confift of all that is vile and incredbleof naughters, continued many dars and nights without remifinion of a moment; till one of the magrtates avewret, that though the nuanber of batchers ann unted to a hundred, daity contracied for, in the firgle city of Paris, they dee red themfeives fo f. figued, that, in pity to themfelves, though with acknowleltel regret, they were obliged to give there exhiz ited armis a littic eff; after which they returneal to their bloxdy bufiness with reas, ated vigour, thl one of the mure :phinus capitat, in the woild was inunda:ed with the hlood of its beft and braveft inhabitants."

What follows is reall too the $k$ ing to be tranterbidt. We tiank the zuthor wrong and prosipitace in fome of his political obfervations and inferences; hue liis book will entertain many, and oftend nene but thofe whofe irr:table and faftidious tafte rejetrs the whole of a performance, on account of a few and inconfrderabie ezars.

1s The Commentealth in Davger: with an $^{2}$ Intrmit Fion, ocititioning Rewisk on foma Fute Thitings of Arthur Yours, $I_{/ / 7}$. By Johu: Cartwrigit, E/q.
THIS pamphiet, by diat of in:rom dubtor and appendix, is fweited to a 5. voiume, to fligmatizo and brand Nir. Young, and to flew what lengths ofmention can prosed with inpuniry. "Unimethecting perfons," faes Mr. C. "way wasgine that the king and londs, as indenendent banches of the legif.

[^63]lature, cught to have in equal power with the houte of commons. But, in the prefeyt flate of things, this were natura!ly inspomble; end, to think them entatled to fecta an equality, were a pearicious erzor' (p. 1\&8). Except for the corfution of the fyntax, this fentenve is forely decided enough. But what is the retneciy propofed for all political evils? "Ar:n the peopie to the full exient of property; that is, down to every taxed houtchoider; caufe them to be equally, fully, and effectiveiv, repreferaed in annual parliaments; exchange the word king dons for that of commoneweaith, and accomnodate to that wife and falutary change the whole language and law of the fate" (p. 225). The confequence would be, nut, as Mr. Cartwight afferts, that :ovatry, " with its appendage nolitity," being difcharged of ensy, would remain in fately; out, as he well knows, would both be fubverted. He forgets that the exchange has once been made, and was not found wrie or faluary, and that monarchy and nobility were then deftroyed. He procteds by feverely cenfuring all the forms of law and fiate that run in the king's name, and propofes to fubfit tute. " Be it therefore enacted by the people of this commonwealit in parliament afiembed, with the counfel and aflent of the lords of pertiainent and his najeffiv," \&c. This is fpeaking out, at lealt. Mr. Cartwright is very energetic in his endeavour to hold up to contempe the one hundred and fiftyfour pertons in parlament conaeted with bortush, winun he calls $\boldsymbol{r}$ fitiles, \&c. But, as Mr. Young very properly anfwers, " thefe one hundred and bifty-four reptiles inc unde many of the firf, weathieft, and mont refpectable perfons for tank, character and abilites, which the kingdom tas to boati."
Mr. Young's reply, already noticed, in "The Conflitution fafe wishout Reform," Shews that his former "book (The Exanple of Fiance, &ic.) proved a flumbing-block in the path of our reformers ; they knew that by fair areumen they could wot anfwer if; the experiment was more than once made, and failed. Mr. Cartwright has not attempted it : he has taken another road, and transferred the attack fiom the book to its anther," abe Occafion of a Metion made by the Marquis of Lanfdowne.

A variety of papers having been laid before the houle of lords, in compliance with their adircfles to his majefly, the marquis of Lanfdowne grounded on them a motion to this effeet : "That minillers bave taken no fteps to make the reforms recommended by two boards of commifioneers; and that it is incumbent on the loufe to enquire whether any new offices have been created; old falarics increafed on flight pretences; falaries grarted for ipeciai purpofes, and continued though tive reafons for them have ceated; warrants for beneficial grants been direEted; and, on the whole, whether the public expences lave been increafed beyond the fupplies granted by parlinment." To this lord Auckland replied in a very able fpech, nating the gr :at increale of our trade both in imports and exports; the mipping both for war and trade ; a comparative siew of our taxes and national debt, funded and unfunded; and concludes by afcribing " our prefent profperity, under Divine Providence, to our naval fuperiority and fucceffes; to our conquefts in the Eaft and Weft Indies; to the acquirement of new markets; to the enterpriling firit of our merchanss; to the improvements of our manufaktures; to the energy of our countrymen in arts and arms; to the unien of libertv with law; to the national charafter, cherifhed br, and cherifing, the principles of our inimitable confticution ; that eonfitution which it has been the objest of our enemies to deftoy by means and efforis utterIy defrufte to themfelves; that conftitution which it is the great purpofe of our ftruggles in this juft and necefiary war to preferve and maincain."

A comparative Viezo of celtain pibbic Circumflances is the :efpative Periods of $1783-\frac{8}{3}$ and 1795-6.

None.
$2,600,000$
$3,363,800$
$6,191,894$
Tins.
812,960
$1,262,568$
870,270
$1,164,910$
A,6n.
168,962
119,194
6
$9,876,000$
$9,876,000$

$$
\begin{aligned}
& \text { Amount of permanent taxes, on a three years' average, to } \\ & \text { the } 5^{\text {th }} \text { of Jmuาry, } 584 \text {, }
\end{aligned}
$$

Amount of the fame taxes, after making all allowances for the intermediate changes and arrangements of the revenue, on a three years' average, to the $5^{\text {th }}$ of Jatuary, 1795 ,
Amount of the fame taxes, after making all allowances for
the intermediate changes and arrangements of the revenue, on a three years' average, to the $5^{\text {th }}$ of Jatuary, 1795 ,
Amount of the fame taxes, after making all allowances for
the intermediate changes and arrangements of the revenue, on a three years' average, to the $5^{\text {th }}$ of Jatuary, 1795 ,
Amount of the fame taxes, after making all allowances for
the intermediate changes and arrangements of the revenue, on a thres years' average, to the 5 th of January, 7795 ,
12,391,000
Navy-deb:, outftanding and anprovided, - Dec. 1783, $15,510,767$
Ditto,

Ditto, May 2, 1796,
Of which laft fum provifion has actually been made for funding

5,030,000
Amen ton ontfanding debts and demands, and foating and wh furded debt, in January, 1784 (exclufive of two mili on to American fufferers, the debentures for which have fince been difcharged),
Ditto, May 2, 1796,
Sinking Fund, - - - - 1783,
Ditto,
Amount of revenue (including the land and malt) Below the computed expenditure, on a peace-citablifhment of 15 millions, in 178 ? ,

$$
\div
$$

$2,000,000$
Amount of re ente (including the! ind and malt) above the computed expenditure, on a fimilar peace-eftablifhment, with the addition of increafed charges for the debt incurred by the prefent war, in 1795,

3,400,000
150. Thice Dialogues on the Amufements of Clagimen.
WHOEVER be the writer of thefe dialogues, his intentions are certanly of the bef? but it taay be doubted if they ase not too theoretical for the prefent flase of things: The return from abufes is not folpeedy; but, as atofes crecp in gradually, to muft reformation work. The clergy are not to hunt or hoot, becaufe the lport is cruel; nor to play at any game of chance, becaufe the amutement has gain for irs object; nor to fee a play, becaufe the matity even of ShakSpeare's is not fufficiently pure; $n$ re to join in a public danceng, becaufe of promifcuous company and in emperance. In what manner, then, is a clergyman to amufe himfelf? In the country, with waiking, riding, attending to the feeding of his cows and Forfes, and feeding his fowls hi:nfelf; converfing, with his parimoners; fidding enough to amufe hmifelf; fketching landfcapes; walk'ng back wards ard forvates through feveral rooms in his partonage; and plating at bettledore and thuttlecock; turning at the lashe; and bo kbinding. In the forlt age of Chriltianity St. Paul could make a tent as well as a fer,om, though perhaps lie lefi efi the hit when he took up the fec nd tiade. But there was then no paitridse thowing, no cards nor backgammon, no concerts nor affemblies, in town or country. The education of the c.ergy in the prefent century is of a vor: difterent fort; and much mutt ne stformed before the amufemenis of the cl. & can be brought to this wisier's flandard. His purpofe, however, is ich rving of Our higheft commendation:; and, if but one or two are converted to his fea:iments, he will have done good.

151. A Letter to Mr. Miles.

MR. Miles has here met with an antagonift as violent as himleif.
152. Stigitures on Mrr. Burke's Letter to a Noble Lord on the Attai ks made upon him and bis Penfion, in the Houfe of Lords, ly the Duke of Budford and Lord Lauderdale. INORFENSIVE.
153. A Letter to the Rigbt Mor. Ednund Burke, in sinfuce to a Letter refpecting the Duke of Bedfor and Lord Landerdale; to wbich are appentel, fome Anticipations of M). Buke's Tboughts on a Regicide Peace. By the Rev. George Neal, slutbor of Ef: fays on Modera Manners, &゙c.
MR. Nea'e charges Nr. Burke's artack on the duke of Bedford with injulite; and fits the bifhop of Rochefter againft him to wash his career; but neither the ftyle nor arguments are correct.
154. Mr. Burke's Condug and Pretenfions confilered; ; with illuffrative arguments. B'y a Rojalift
BO wBAST in the exticme.
155. A fummary Defence of the Riskt Hon. Edenaid Burke, in two Letters. Letter 1 . adteffel to the Rev. Gilbert Wakefield, in Kefutation of all bis Poyitions. Letter 11. addreffed to the Hort. Somerfet Lawry rulent Pampblit, wuritton by Ai'r. W. Miles. Iy Thanas Townead, Efl. of the IIm. Society of Gray's Imn.
A : : hie cefenct of Mr. Burke, to the great mortification of his adverfarizs.
156. Tbe Works of Charles Vial de Sain bel, Profifto of Vitesuary Malitine. To wisch is prefixed a foort Aiccunt of bis Life. Including allo the Origin of the Vaterinary College in Loudon.
MR. Sainbel having been ruined by the revolution in France, which not only deptived him of the r.tources conferred by the monarch, but alfo of a benefactor in M. de Fleffile (the fecond vidtim of popuiar fury) who had allowed him an annuity of fire hundied livres, determined him to fettle in England. In the year ${ }^{1790}$ he attrakted the notice of the Otham Society for the improvement of agriculture, Ne. and, on Feb. 18, 179r, a committee from that Society, joined by feveral gentlemen in London; detached themfelves from that bod;, to form an inftitution called The Velerinary College of London, of which they appointed Mr. Sainbel Profeffor. The Duke of Northumberland became their prefident, and feveral other moblemen and gentlemen to $k$ the ofices of vice-prefadents and directors. From this time the college continued, we are told, to flourifh, till the death of M. Sainbel, on Aug. 23, 1793. This poihumous volume is fwelled to an unneceliary fize by the mode of printing; but may probably be of fervice in promoting a branch of medicine which, hitherto, has but feldorn been confidered fcientifically.
157. Obfervations on the Mechanifm of the Horre's Foot; its natural Spring explained; and a Mode of fhosing recommended, by wobich the Foot is defended from external Injury, with the leaft Impediment to its Spring. Dy Strickland Freeman, Efq.
OF this fplendid work the obvious value confitts in a fet of very beautifully coloured plates, reprefenting the different parts in a horle's foot, and parricularly iliufrative of the fcience of fheing. They are executed with won. derful delicacy, and, as appears, with equal accuracy. Of each fubject there is a fipited iketch for the references to the explanation, as well as the finimed piece. The number of plates is fixteen. The work itfelf is evidenily the refult of attentive obfervation; and we doubt not that it will alford ufeful hints to thofe who are practically concerned in the fubject. The general principle followed in the doctrine of fhoeing is that of prelicring, as much as polfible, the natural fecting and motion of the foot, and particularly allowing the free expanfion of the hecl. A plate is given of the fhoe recommended by the author, and efpecially adapred to the manage.

Gent. Mag. Junzs 1796.

1j3. Tracts publifked at the ckeap Repofitory for moral and religious Publications.

WE were greatly pleafed at receiving, in this little volume, a flrong proof of the fuccefs of the moft benevolent and judici us andertaking that has lately been conceived. For the theught, and chiefly for the execution of this plan, the pation (we will fay no lefs) has been indehted to the wellknown worth and talents of Mrs. Hannah More; who judged, very wifely, that the moft effectual way to counteract the trah that is ufually circulated at a low price, yas to circulate, ftill more cheaply, compofitions of a better tendency. In this excellent defign, fupported by the zeal of the bilhop of London, and many other perfons of eminent fituation, Mrs. M. has laboured moft fuccefsfully. A large fubfcription has been procured, repofitories have been opened, and the prefert volume contains near fifty fimall publications, all affording ufeful entertainment on moral and religious initruction. So great has been the fale of thefe admirably-executed tracts, that about two millions have been printed, in different forms, fince March 1795 , hefides great numbers in Ireland. The hawkers are fupplied with them at a cheaperate, and they already fupplant, in moft places of fale, the nonfenfe, or worfe, that was before offered to the purchafers. The tratets are in general written with much ingenuity and judgement; they are plain enough to be underftood by the loweft reader, and attradive enough to pleafe all clades. Moft heartily do we wifh continuance of fuceefs to this patriotic plan, and hope that our notice of it may contribute ettectually to that end.
159. Military Obfervations on the Attack and Defence of the City of London, Ec. By Lieut. Col. George Hanger.
WE do not fee the policy or prudence of making thefe itflections public. The new plan of defence, which they point out as neceffary to be adopted in confequence of the French being poffeffed of Holland, feems to have al. ready occurred to our rulers, in their chain
chain of pofts along the Kentifh coaft.
The book is at leat a fufficient anfwer to thofe who doubt the neceflity of io large a force as has been railed for internal defence; and proves that nothing but abfolute neceffity fhould induce us to make peace with France, while the holds the Texel, the mouths of the Wall, or the Scheld.
360. Letiers quritten in France to a Friend in London, betwecr Nov. 1 : 94 and May, 1795, by Major Tench, of the Mavizes, late of bis Maydy's Shif Alexande:.
MAJOR Tench, who gave the firt account of the new fettlement at Bo -tany-bay, and fince extended it on a lazger fale, here rulates. agre eablo enough, the incidents to which he was witn: fs during his captivity, after he was taken, in armiral Bligh's Mip, be the French; between whofe tieatment of prifoners, and that which they experience in England, thefo leters thew the frong and friking consmati as well as paint the horrid exceff.s to which a civilized poople in the 18 h century have vermiranfported.

36r. A Letter un tire Celibacy of Fellonus of Colliges, addieflel to tbe Serate. By a Member of the Uuizorfity of Cambrilge.
MUCH has been faid of la e againft the grievous burthen if a ingle life among Rudious academic:ans, which, atter ali, is but partally a burthen; for it is not eafy to believe hat, weie the reftriction intantly semoved, it would be in the power or the iaclination of a majority of them to alter their condition. The fetter, however, acforves at leaft a perufa'.
362. Mints achireffel to the Fhators of Great Britans, purfutatory io the next Diffaixtion of Purlianant. By Charles Fawlikener.
THElate paliament is difolvol, and a orw one cliden; and, on luw different a plan from that of the Fiench coovention the clection has been canducted, carept perhaps, in a fingkionfataee or two, let the advicates for reforms of parlizment and for revolutions blefh to thing. What were the ideas of the ibu!k of the electors, and whenher the fubjet's hore binted at even had a place in Huis thenghes before or during the elcecton, we may peabaps juige form the sompexion if the new pariament whon it meets. That uvent vill be the tofluricio of dafe ikiats.
153. An Dile to a Boy at Eton, with three Sonnets, ant ore Epigram. By Willan Yarfons, E/f .
IN imitation of Mr. Gray's admirabie "Prolped of Eton college," Mr Parfons endeavours to counterat the gloomy and delponding conclution which that poem is calculated to infpicc. Wheth $r$ of the twain is the hetter moralift, rheir readers will judge; ant how far Mr. P. has cone up to his protorype. Examinations of Mr. Gray's correlinefs may ferve to nccupy thof: who cannot buall his genius; as thofe, who cannot qual our great poets, prefs forwards to uverioad them with comment: i s, and beleck then with pietares. If this be not the Augulan age of genius, it ceriainly is of Editorship. One of the funnets is adareffed to Mr. Rogers, on his " Plafures of Memory;" complimenting him for "" making mank:nd in recallection bief."
164. Ictue and Tiutb; troo modift and peaceable Letters concerning the Dijetazper of the prefonit Tines: quitten fiom a quict and conformaibe Cilizen of London to a bufy and fictious Siopkepper in Coventry. A notv Fition, ru:th Notes, and a Preface. By Tnomas Zouch, M.A.
THESE lcters were written and nuilificed, 1600 , by the well-known I aac Waltoo; but, whether they are altogether calculated for the prefent eera may be doubted. Mr. Zouch lias juft publehed a fplendid edition of Walton's Lives, with notes, and a life of the author. The fubjucls of this article are confirmations of what was advanced in the precedigg.
165. - A Sort Enguiry into the Nature of Mon mpity ard Forc,alling. A fecond Edition, confinterally eilurged und amende. 1. With an Atperaix, on the probable Effeci of an Aat of the Legiflature to erforce the Ufe of a ceater Sort of Bread; and fome Confideratiuns en tbe propoled Plan for the Sale of Corn by 供ighs. By Edvard Morris, Eff. Burijher at Latu.
THE upinion of our brethren who conduct the Monchly Review on the fulject of the late feascity cannot be tom much known; we fhall, therefore, make no other apology for tranfcribing hicir revicw of this hitefe tract :

* We agree with thes learned alvocate that, in curiaury times, deaters in cora aro ent what order of men, tendiag to cqualize the getices of grinin; and to bring

2 rogular fupply to market, and are effentially necelfary to a fupply of the capital; but a recent event has proved that, in time of fcatcity, or during alarms on that account, they have $t$ in their power to raife the price to an unnatural heiglit.
"The hise remark..ble fall in the price of wheat tends to fet afide the author's arguments refpecting the fagacity of the dealers, in the eftimation of the quantity of the corn in hand, and their inoflenfivenefs towarils the confumers. To the Bank of England, we believe, and not to the dealers in corn, we are indebted for the prefent redused price in the quartern loaf. Nothing but ignorance or avarice could have led them into the difgraceful predicament in which they muft at prefent ftand. While the farmers and comutry dealers were enabled to carry on their bufinefs, and to $\mathrm{k}-\mathrm{e} p$ back their flocks from market, by the affiftance of country bankers, and while other dealers were fup. ported, in a fimilar way, upon pillars of p.iper of a different manufacture, the fupply fent to market was fmall, and the price in courfe great : but, the farmer's rent being due, ro mater whether to the landlord or the country banker; the dealer's real capital beirg infutficieent to fuppart his ftock in hand, and the our rent of paper checked ; com-boiders of every clafs were impelled by neceffity to hurry their ftocks to market: the coniequence is well known.
"We wint that we conld felicitate the public on this fudden and great reduction in the price of wheat; but we have our fears with; r -fpect to its operations. It will, doubtlefs, put a fop to the mixture of flour which was beginning to irevill: but it is much to be apprehended that we have not a fufficient fupply of wheat to fupport us through the enfaing fummer. However, as there are, we trutt, inferior giains in fufficient abuadarce, no ferious confequence, we hole, will follow; and an immediate advantage will he feafonably yeaped.
"The author's remarks on felling corn by weight co not appear to us to be very important. Wheat is in effeef fold, at prefent, by weight, in moit parts of the kingdom : it is fold nominally by meafure, the farmer engaging that it fall weigh fo many pounds per bufhel: a practice which is better, perhaps, than felling it ether by weight or meafure only.
" In a calculation on the fupply of food of which the ftoppage of the diftillery deprives the publick, the author commits an unpardonable error, which we think it our daty to point out:
"The malt-diftillers confume annually fiom 160 to 200000 quarters of com, the chitef of which ic barley and malt.
affiftance of a few peas and hears, they fatten ftoves of meat. 30,000 hors, at 25 ft . each, $\quad 750,000$ 1,000 bullocks, 100 ft . each 850,000 ftones, at 4 .
30,000 hugs' offil, at $5 s$.
170,000
7,500
r,000 bullocks' hides, &c.
2,000
E.100,500 10,000 850,000

40,000 quarters of grain, fold
annally to cow-keepere, worth 5 s. per quarter, £. 10,000 Priduce in milk and mear, $\quad 190,000$
"The revenue paid by the diftillers, the laft feafon of their working, amounted to upwards of a million nf monej.
" It is not the qubsele rueigbt of the hullock and th. $t$ of his bide whech are bere to be taken into the account. He waliks into the diftiller's ftall a full-grown animal, and with his hide on. It is only the increafe of weight, arifing from the refufe of the diflillery, which the publick lofe; a very inconfiverable lofs, compared with the quantity of grain which is faved by the regulation."
166. Tbe Curates Act examinet, and its Alviantages and Difadvantazes fairly dijcuffet: containing Objervations bowe to render its Operations ef cicflual, and to counteract tbe Dangers of jome of its Chanfes; wibib carn-ft Alidieffes to the late Hoafe of Commori, the new Parliament, and the lonkiced Cilcrgy, ant an bumble Apslegy to the Regbt Rev. the Bißops and Mitropolitans; cuncluding quitb a Word of Alivive to Chrates. By a C'icuntry Curate. (jee p. 479.)
THE dctign of this liate work is well expreffed in its copious title-page. I's author has feelingly depicted the wate of the inferior clergy; and, in the name of b:s hrethrer, difplayed the moft grateful lentimeats to the bifhors for defigning and accomplibing foch a plan to ffen and neionate their condition. He feems to have beer an intelligent obferver of the conduct of this profellioral bady of men; and his langrage aimoft inclines us to conclude that he writes from cxperience, the beft of all teachers. His reafoningy are, for the moft part, animated and convincing.
367. The Infuence of Religion on National Profperity: preacocal in the W'ff Chutcb, Aberdeen, March 10, 1796, tbe Day appinted for a Goneral Faft: by William Laurence Bowes, D.D. Principal of the Mcrifchal Callege at Aberdeen.
AN excelicat comment on the ext, Pfalm xux. 12.
g08 Seleat Poctry, Antient and Modurn, for June, 1796.

ODE ON HIS MAJESTY'S BIRTH.

 DAY, JUNE 4, 1796.by h. J. pye, esc. poet-laureat.

I.

WHERE are the vows the Mufes breath'd,
That Difcord's fatal reign might ceafe? Where all the hlooming flow'rs they wreath'd,
To biud the :lacid brow of Peace; Whofe angel-form, with radant beam, Pictur'd in Fancy's fairy-dream, Seem'd o'er Europa's ravag'd land
Promps to extend her influence bland,
Calin the thete clangors of the martial lay,
And hail with gentler note our monarch's natal day?

II.

For, $10!$ on yon devoted Mhore,
Sthl through the Weeding ranks of war, His burning axles feep'd in gore

Ambiton drives his iron car.
Still his eyes, in fuy wold,
Glare on fields by arms o'er-run ;
Still his hands rapacious hold Sooils injurious inroad won; And, fpuning wi:h indiguant frown The fober olive's profíred coown, gids the hrazen trmmpet's breath Swell the terrific h!afl of dethyy and death. 111.

Strinks 3ritain at the found? Though, while her eve.
O'er Europe's de folated plains fhe throws, $$!0$ to averge, and mild in ititory,

She mourns the dreadful icene of war and woes;
Yet, if the fee misumigins, read
Difmav in Pay's geatient deed,
And coftrung mescy into fear,
The bloot-ftan'd alm of hevite rear,
By : mint rousid, in juft iffenten: warm,
©i: frowasdefince onthe threat'ning ttorn;
And, tur as Jcean's billows roar,
By $\mathrm{ev}^{\prime}$ y wave encircled thore,
From whete wer icy feas the gaunt wolf roves,
To coalis perfum'd by aromatic groves;
As proully to the ambient fky
In fiken foids her mingled croltes fly;
Sthe foothing vore of Peace is drown'd
A while in war's tumultuous found,
And inrans, fiom Glory's awful clarion blan,
[throne.
Float in triumphant peal around Brtanuia's

O D

pecited at the Anniverfary Meeting of the Subfcribers to the Literary Fiuct, May In, 1736. Ey William Boscawen, Efg. I. $t$.

HENCE, bafe inglorious Pafions I hence
The Thirf of Gain, the Luft of Pow'r!
To thes, Jivine Benevolence,
W/a confecrate the focial hour 1

And, while the circling glafs imparto New fire to melt obderate hearts,
Bid Sympathy, by tafte refin'd,
Expand and purify the mind;
Bid tor attend the thrilling ftrains
When Genius fpeaks iss heart-felt pains,
And waft them to the facred imrine,
By lib'ral Pity rear'd, and cherifh'd by the Nine!

1. 2.

Hark ! 'tis the Mufe's well-known voice ; Heard ye the glad triumphant fong?
She biats har gentle choir rejoice,
And thus with rapture fires the throng:
"Rife, ye who clainı my guardian care,
" Rife from the nlumber of defpair!
" To dry your tears, to chafe your woes,
" With new-bortı zeal Britannia glows;
"At lentth her gen'rous fons proclaim
" That ' Want no moreattends on Fame;'
"Ar length a dawn of happier days
"Beans on your rifing hope, and animates "your lays!"
I. 3 .

Behold! at Fancy's call, a radiant train
In tovely majelty appear ;
And, whalt Compaftion lends her ear,
With tunder grief and fond regret complain How Genius, fated to abide
The frowas of Fortane, fcoff- of Pride,
Long frove in vain life's adverte ftorms ta brave,
Long felr, unheecied and forlorn,
Sharp peoury, relembefs fcorn,
And found its laft beft refuge in the grave;
While thoughtlefs Wealch o'erlook'd its rains,
[nender gains.
Or ruthlefs Av'rice watch'd to feize the
II. 1 .

What graceful Nymph, with look beniga, Firft pleads for Worth by want opprefs'd ?
Sweet Poetry, with notes divine,
Awakes the gen'rous feeling breaft :
"The Barcl," Aecrici, "whofe Mufe " fublime [" Time,
"O'erleap'd the bounds of Space and
"Who, feehle, poor, bereft of fight,
"Cheer'd with my ray the gloom of " nigitt,
"What meed, alas! did he obtain
"For raptur'd Fancy's nobleft ftrain ;
"The facred fong, the infpiring page,
" Which lives, his country's boalt, and " braves the pow'r of age i"

II. 2.

Lo! Hif'ry, for her chofen race,
Advanciog, claims fair Learning's prize;
Who tell, with dignity and grace,
How kings, how empires, fall and rife:
"4 My fons," the cries, (" front this bleit " hour,
" Nor faction's tools, nor flaves to pow'r;)
"Want, dreaded want, fhall ne'er con-
" Your native energy of foul; ..istroun] *Hencforth
"Henceforth your ftrains thall jutice " gaide,
" Infpir'd by independent pride,
" And Truth, immertal Truth alone,
" Fix in your virtuons breafts her ada" mantine throne."

[1. 3 .

Mark where, with graceful fteps and mo* deft air,
Fair science leads her fober train!
Can heav'nly Science plead in vain,
In vain implore Britanuia's fottring care ?
Her vot'ries fhe impell'd to fan
Sublime creaton's mighty plan,
And grafp the wonlers of the itarry pole;
Their fubtle reafon's patient courfe
Trac'd kixervledge to its fecret fource,
And mark'd the myitic mazes of the foul ;
Till fane of wiftom unconfin'd
Had ftamp'd Britamia's fons the pride of human kind.
III. t .

But fee, dispell's by purer light, The Mufe's fleeting vifion ents! All fair, ali ghamens to the fight, Divine liens volence deforsds! Around what angel-forms are feen Attendant on their gentle queen!
Pity, whofe lucid eyes oerflow,
Refponfive to the tale of woe;
Warm Sympathy, which fires the breaf
For Wtaknefs wrong'd or Worth opprefs'd;
And Bounty, genial as the rains
That cheer the dreoping earth, and renovate the plains.
III. 2.
"Away with every weakerclaim!"
(The facred choir enraptin'd fings)
"Vain-glorious fprits bow to Fame;
"True clarity from Virtue fprings.
"Thongh Poetry bewail the wrongs,
"Her foris endure, in melting fongs;
" Though Science juftiy claim her meed;
"With tenfoid power hall Mercy plead:
"Celettial Mercy, from abuve
"Who fheds the dews of peace and love;
"Who, ere th'avenging bolt be hurl'd,
"Can ftay th' uplifted arm, and fave a guil"ty world!

III. 3.

"And, lo! her fmiles approve your boun"teous plan,
"Ye faitliful hand, whofe hearts benign
"Pant to fulfil kind Heav'n's defign
"Of gen'ral love, endearing man to man! "What though applauding verfe may " raife
"Your namestohigh diftinguin'd praife,
"Though Butain's voice your juft defert " proclaim,
"Far nobler triumphs yet fucceed
"To crown ench gentle deed,
"Far brighter honours confecrate your fame; " Nor pafs with fleeting time away,
"But waft the virtuous foul to realms of 4 andlef day !".
anoriginal poem, by lordhervey*.

THOUGH life itfelf's not wurth a thought,
Yct, whillt ilive, could Health be bought,
Whate'er brib'd fenators receive,
Or hack agaia m taxes give ;
Whatever force or fralud obtains;
What Pruffia from Silefia gains,
Or Hanover from England drains;
Whate'er the Autrian wars have cort,
Or Hung "y's quen difours'd or loft;
What Framce has paid to thake her crown。
Or we, like fots, to keep it on;
All that the lndies e'er furply'd
To begnar'd Spain, to feed the pride
Of that Itditu buy dame,
Who keeps all Encope in a flame
For her two brats, thofe princely things,
Whom God made fools, in i the made kings: in fhort, to fum up all, wha'e'er
Or Prule, or Av'rice, makes uscare,
Did I poffefs it, I'd refign,
To make this richer treafure mine.
POEMS, BY ROBERT HERRICK.

1. Deun-bourn, a rule River in Devon, by zubicb fometimes be livel. (See $p .4^{6}$ r.)

DEAN-BOURN, farewell; I never look to fee
De.ne, or thy party incivility.
Thy rockie hottome, that doth teare thy Ifreans, treames;
And makes th.m frantick, ev'n to all ex-
To my content, Inever fhould behohd,
Were thy ftreams filver, or thy rocks all gold.
Rockie thon art; and rockie we difcover
Thy men; and reckie are thy wayes at over.
O men, O manners; now and ever knowne To be a rockie generation.
A people currih; churlifh as the feas i And rude almolt as rudeft favages.
Witls whom 1 did, and may re-fojourne when Rockes turn to rivers, rivers turn to men.

> 2. His Return to London.

FROM the dull confines ot the drooping Weft, [Enit,
To fee the day fpring from the preguant Raviht in fpirit, I come, way more, I hie
To thee, blelt place of my nativtie!
Thus, thes with haliowed fout I touch the ground, [crown'd.
With thourand bleffings hy thy fortune O fruiful genius, that heftoweft here
An everlatting plenty, yeere by yeere!
O Place! O People! Manners! fram'd to pleate
All nations, cufomes, kintheds, languages!
I am a free-born Roman: fuffer, then,
That if amongft you live a citizen. [fent
London my horne is; though hy hard fate
Into a long a and irkfome banifiment;

* See our Ubituary, Juite 0.

Yet fince call'd back, heneforward let me be,
O native countrey, repoifeft by thee !
For, rather than l'le to the Weft return, I'le beg of thee firft here to have mine urn.
Weak I am grown, and muft in short time fail;
Give thou my facred reliques buriall.
3. To tbe reverend Sbade of bis religious Fatber.

THAT for feven lufiers I did never come To doe the ritestothy religious tombe; That neither haire was cut, or thue teares fhed
By me, o er thee (as jufments to the dead), Forgive, forgive me; thace 1 did ot know Whether thy bones had here their reft or no [bring
But, now 'tis known, hehole; beil ld 1 Untu thy ghoft the effited offering:
And look, what fmallage, night thade, cypreffe, yew,
Unto the thadec have been, or now ave due,
Here I devote; and fomething more than fo,
I come to pay a debt of birth $:$ owe.
Thou gav'fi me life, (hut mortall;) for that one
Favour I'le make full fatisfaction;
For my life mortall, rife from out thy herfe, And tal.e a life immortall from ny verfe.

A SACRED ODE

on my son's birthedar, Marcb 13, 1796.
נרגנה היום צ' אתה

 וגט יופרך ברצון עם : עם

 ירח אטּ
 שטם וחול גבל לים הודי על ארץ ושממים:

Iatinè reddita.

Exurabimus hodie, quoniam tu
Natuses viginti duos annos;
Daminus det t:bi longitndnem dieram, sic ctiam recordare sui pro benevoientiâ quæ
Frofequitur populum fuum.
Audi, fill mi, er'vditionem patris tui, Acçure farientam, açuire intellgentian,

Preftantin eft fapientix prof fultitiâ Sicut exccllentia lucis pre tenehris.
Beatus omnir qui timet Dominum;
Quam magna fun opera Domini!
Difpofitit arenam terminum mari;
Cloria ejus fupra terram et calos. Cswbit.
J. Mills.

An O.tc witten from $\rho_{\text {whllheli (Caernarvon- }}$ flirc) to Mir. Ricuard Rithbonf, at 1. wnyfunday, about the Middle of the Year 1742.

0Viro nul'os mini por fodales, Mufa, dilecto pariterque fido, Gaudium quafo refer, et falutem, Refgue fecundas.
Fortè fi quærat, quid aram; refolves
Mente non frmum religuis valere;
Ax mihi nemet munus elfe gratum Abfque fodale.
Deinde, ficaufam (pader, ah! fateri)
Poftulet, nomen tacite Philippre
Auribus manda, fimul et fufurres, Flagrat amore.
Dic, ut infirmom mihi pectus ardet
Anxio; quales patiorque luces;
Nocie qui fommus fugit ; utque rodunt
Pectora curx.
Regna narrabis Veneris tuperba,
Heu! minis fævos puerique lufus;
Adde, ted forian lice:t binendo

> Fallere curac.

Goronwy Owen *, xtat 20,
Mr.Urean, " Wre ford, Apriliz.

PLEASE to indu'ge an old correfpondent by givng a place in your Magazine to the following attenpt at expretfing regret for a very amiable young woman, who died here March 14, aged 27.
SIMPLICITAS munda, fi prifca puraque fides,
Amabilis forma, amabiliufque cor, Morte feroci raptr, jam rubefcente juventa, Ex merito tacrimam pietate facratam merent ;
Ellenæ tumulo facra fua dona referre;
Sic pietate fimili ardeat ubi pectus; Amabilis infra in cmeres forma refolvit, Angelica fupra cantat coram anima Deo.

Tranflated.

if artiefs innocence and native truth,
A form engaging and a foul frocere,
Tors hence by death in all the bloom of youth,
Deferve the pious tribute of a tear,
On Ellen's tomb the facred gift beftow
May kindred piety thy foul inffire;
Her angel-form licsmould'ring here below, Her angel-fpirtf fwells the heav'nls, choir.

Normannus.

* Asmitted fervitor of Jefus-college; Oxford, June ३, 574.?.

To the Menity of George Annerson, - Efy. Accountunt to the Eait-India Bocr.d of Controzl.

FEIGN'D Grief may fing with alt the mournful Arain,
May elegantly paint an uofat pain ;
May range its glutring tinid lies wath eafe,
And cull each gauty fow'ret mate to piade.
From grief like mine no gliding numbers fluw,
Abruit and hroken is the voice of wee;
True fonow holds no fellowfaip with art,
Plain is the fauti ring language of the heart.
Ab! fuatchid too tram, ele half thy worth was known,
I feel with thee my hat beft jeys are flown;
Time's blunching fows fat ipreating o'er my liead,
And all my former friends or tof or dead.
Yet could I fe:rlefs life's dark ev'uing view;
Youth, friards, were gone; bat fill, puffuls'd of you, [gloom inugg'd the lamp that was to gild the
Of waning life, and light me to the tomb;
Dieanid of fome happy days to crown my years,
[tears.
And hop'd life's drama mishe not end in
'Tis palt !-thou'it dead!-here ends my hore and truit;
Ti.e bafelef fabuic mingies with the durt.
Now lonely, joykis, down the dreary way
That leads through darknefs to eternal day, Uncheribid, unfupported, muft I tread,
And mix, a friendlets being, with the dead.
Thus the wreck'd mariner, in fight of fhore,
[roar;
Clings to his plank, nor heeds the billows'
Dreads not the form, how widd foe'er it rave,
[wave.
White on his frail fupport he momrs the
Feels, or believes le folels, the win'd-for lansl,
And almont thinks himfelf upon the frand. Till, from his feeble hand the hooyant wood Dath'd all at once, he fanks into the food; Sefpair his inmate, down the vaft piofound, [round. And dark and whelming billows clofe a D. $\mathcal{G}$.

TO A TRIEND.

from algarotti's foems.

IN troth, not any more ex lied winh, 0 my Arifto! could engage thy mind
Than on the rapid wings of thought t'explore
The heav'nly wonders, and to penetrate
Into the dark myfterious things of nature;
Arming thyfelf with Wifdom's mail, be? proof
Againft the cares and forrows of this earth. Alas, how dire th' etfects of ignorance, Sal lot and common heritaze of man! For, ignorance is caufe of heavier ills Than ertt the fatal dream of A gamemnon,

Which, child of Darknefs, and begot by Elror, [Greeks,
(As fings the Grecian Mufe, urg'd on the Gladden'd with hopes of good fuccers, confirm'd
Iy Jove's feducing promife, againft Troy;
Wheice the earth groan'd under the iron hoof [vale and plain; Of meeds, and feet of men, o'erfpreading Unhappy! fince the will of Jove withftood;
Doum'd, as they were, fall fpeedily to fall ViAlims to mighty Heators dreadful rase, As in the Myfian plain the golden corn Yieids to tive fickle of the bending reaper.

At alltimes but to few, whom bounteous Heav'n
Sapremely favoar'd, has it been allow'd To pierce by keen refearch within the vail Of lovely Wifiom. O immortal godiefs, Thon deign'tt reveal thy felf but to a few Elect I What, thongh amidit theatric pomp, And the fort meloty of Doric reets,
Thou doft not farut aloft; what, if th' apHante
Of crowided theatres reach not thine ear ;
Yet thon with precious fcience feed'it the mind,
Dof, if not diffipate, at leart affurge
Thufe ills whence life is burthenfome to man.
For he, whofe foaring mind on tise intent
Obtims thy fav'ring imiles, with thee acquires
Not maddens Difcord, not infatiate Pride, Not vain falfe Honour, of ignolle Sloth
The fon ; but gentie dow, but nectar fort and pure,
Such as kind Heav'n, with genial infarnce, Sheds on the earth to blers and fertiizs.
On, who will take me up aloft, and flace
Where, all amid a chofen band of fages,
Far Wifdoan has confirm'd ber noblett throne!
Already I behoid the trem'ious gore,
Tho verdant margin, and the whit'niug cliffs, [fluws;
'Gaine which the dark furge dahes as it
L'en to the marble bridge, which ious the banks
Of yonder royal food, fee Rhins on fiips, Thoufand and thouland, preffing on the wave.
Mail, o thou happy land! hail, Alhion!
Thrice hail, aulpicious ifle! favour'd by Gods !
To thee alone was granted to produce
Him to whom Nature's self, with her own hand,
Her laws immutable imparted, thofe
Laws whercwith he controuls the univerfe, To tion imparted, kind to tim alone, A verfe from others. To the fons of men, kefore o'erwhelm'd and loat in grofefter. ror, [hofe fremgs,
He frit difpens's them, firt walock'd
Creough's

512 Sclect Poetry, Antient and Modern, for June, 1796.

Untouch'd before, whence overflow'd a fleam
Of ruth fo copious, that his learned page
Shall ever be efteem'l a facred treafure
While earthand feas, by eve the filver moon,
Or fun hy day, fhall clothe with radiant light.
[lyre,
Give then, O Mufe! a heighten'd hrazen
O give me breath and voice, to thunder forth,
There afar off where rolls hisavealthy tide Fabled Hydaipes, and o'er fultry Afric, Tireughont the confines of the extremeat ocean,
E'en to the unboundel region of the fars,
The country and the name of Newton 1
But whither, my Arifts, do afpire
My humble lays, beyond the modeft fphere stlign'd by Name? $O$, do thou direct Thy flight tow'rds heav'n in company with him;
[hind thee,
And foon foalt thon behold earth fly the Together with its forrows, cares, and ills!

On the Death of the Mofi Noble the Marchi:mefs of Winchester.

DID Fate but guide us through life's form y clime
To plunge forgoten in the tide of time, Well might the wife, the good, the gen'rous, come [low'd thenb;
To mourn their lofs o'er Powlett's hal-
To join the widow's tears, the crphan's cry,
That Virtue in her mortal part fhould die.
But, to! a form ferene on yonder rock,
Whore deep foundations thander wi:h the fhock
[ unigh
Of reftefs waves;-'Is Faith; who points A puth far gleaming through the azure iky ! Whale fmilng Hope, by Revelation Led,
Springs from the gloomy mantions of the dead,
Her glad companion to a hrighter fhore,
Where pain confumes the bud of leeath no more.
[know
Pure fpirit! calld at length by Heav'n to That blifs thy panent virtue earn'd below ;
To wear the blooming wieath on thule befow'd,
Who ufe aright the talents of their Gon:
Thy life (how far beyond the pleacher's art Of pow'r to touch the mbelieving heart!) Shall yet, though paft, our bright example thine;
[thine ?
And who can err whofe deeds refemble Thy dealh-on future confotation prove, And teach to meet thee in the realas above.

> S. w.

Tou voung Lady who quasperefented to the Author in the Drefsof an Officer as a Cornet ef Ihurfe.

IOW :ouathane young Cupil's fnile, And now the nother's gracerna air; For yon iweet fike each bour the whic, 1 charge my tafte and character :
Me ot my heart you fthl hegule, [wear. 2hough thouland differcitt forms you

Your fword, my charming foldier, ne'ter Will fill my breaft with dire darms; My gentle cavalior, y u bear Far diff'rent and more dang'rous arms ; And thefe, my doughty officer, Are your bright eyes, brimful of charms. My lovely cornet, me enrol, With you I flall enlift with joy;
'But you appear, upon my foul (No one, I'm fure, will this deny), More likely far to raife a fhoal Of fine recruits than to uiftroy.

To my Wife, on my Depurture for the Wrat

THE trumpet fur and wide Sounds to the war; 1 go
With itern Bellona for $\mathrm{m} \boldsymbol{\rho}$ guide;
'Tis with rigret I quit thy fide,
But Duty itill is Yleafure's motal fue.
'Tis Glory gives the word;
Ah! ftop thy tears; and truft, my Love,
Adorn'd with a victorions fword,
More worthy thee, more faithful, hall I prove.
'Tis thou canft witnef bear, Kind Cytherea's boy,
That only duty, too fevere,
In fpite of all my love fincere,
Tears nie at once from ev'ry tender joy.
Thus, to thy mot ier true,
Of old, the God of war's alarms
I.efi her, and to the batle flew,

But quick return'd to triumph in her arme,
The firf Tranfutor of the Paralicl between Two Sijers.
sosce by a younclady.

FIE, Damon, f.e! no more purfue mie, bur, if you love, avew your flame;
For, if you love, you'll ne'er mado me,
Nor trifle with my heart and fame.
In vain, fond youth, you thas implore me;
I fee through your delufive feint;
That, while you fwear how you adore me, You'd make a funcer of your faint.
You, in foft ftrains and fond addreffes, Of me a deity have made;
And yet, with impious bold careffes, Your goddefs you would f.in degrade.
But, till you bring a prieft to bind me, 1, goddefs like, will hear the fway;
In Hinen's bands you'll zoman fiad me, Then Love and Damon I'll ubey.

EPIGRAM,
BY THEREV. S. BISHOP, IATE MASTER OF MERCHANT.TADLORS SCHOOL. Hor uge.
A H!ego fi moriar (fic Paula affita maritun $e$ (t)
Tu, mi vir, noftroin funere, tu quidages? Sit de me moramulla, att ille, in pace guicicam; [agan.
IVo: age th-ut potero; quod milh seltat

$\left[\begin{array}{lll}5: 3\end{array}\right]$

INTFLLIGENCE of importance from the LoNDON ©AZETTES.

Aiduinally-Office, May 28. 1.etter from Capi. ihonvis Ir wantie, of His Majefiy's Slip Li con:Rant, 't, Evan Nepean, Efq. dateal off Baf a, A:Nil $27=1-96$.

Sir, I h. ve the hommar of aclofing, for the infuration of their Louth is, the copy of a leter from meto arr tohy jervis, Komght of the Bath 1 am, &r, dc.

T F Fkemantle.
Sir, Incomfant, at Sea, April 23, 1:06.
I have the lomour to nform, what on the $9^{t h}$, crmzing noar ! mis, ! recei ed an account that a trench frogate bad been fren oft Cape Mahera, ne:r Bon; 1 therefore made falfor that place, and, on the evening of the zoth, percelved a hip, under French colous, at anchor on the coast, which I came up to, and direened to ftrike; this wa. Madently complied with. She is called L'Unité, a cowtte if 34 guns and 218 men. ibe ciew had mare an attengt to fot her on fire; tui, by the exertio ns of Letut itw chmon, it was forn extingufind Had the thip be $n$ of equal force $u$ th the luonift.nt, I have every re:fon to helieve it would have affonded me a farther prof of the fpirit and ceadinefs of everv othicer and put or on-buard the thip I command. I:w, &c. &c.
T.f.fkemantle.

Sir Fobn Femrs, K. B. Alimical of the Bluc. EEvc. हैc.
fitimur ally-CIfice, May 3. Letter from Cap. N Jombtufon, Comm.the: o His Majelly's Sorp La Suflime, tu Evan Nepean, Efq. cated of Falmutith, May 28, 1746.

Sir, I have the horour to acquant you, for the in formation if my Loncs Cimariffoners of the Admivalty. that, betmon a cri: ze, in His Majefty's Alap Li Sulifante, uncer my commais, the Lizard beanng N.N. E. diftant 15 leagucs, cailly jefterd y morning, we dhotesed a fal, about fix mules to wincwari, nu immedi. ately fioou for her, ant, wfter a clace of eleven hours, canie tup whith her among the rocks, l:erweell Chat and the main, fhe having endeavourd to make her efcape to Breat thoush the pallage Le Four ; hut I was en..bid to cut her oft hy the fuperior failing of the suffiante. We engaged her clote on bour.l for half an hour, when the fluck, and proves to be the Reval che big, Bermuld-huilt, a rewirk.ble f.ift lariv, perced for foanten guns, munting: welve long four pounder:, and ergin-five chofen men, crmmanded by Mowdeur George Henh Diaveman, Lieutenart de Va fleau, an old and experienced tuman. She was five dias from Havre, bound on a cruize, but had raken nothing. 1 am farticulaitly obl'ged to the officers and crew of the Suffilante, for their cool and defermined conduc, buth in werking and fighting the floop, when the utmott e:sertions w re u(iualis) to prevent the eneny fiom, fuping on o avid the rocks by which "e were urrounded, on a lee-fin re. 1 am happy to add, that there was but one feman wounded mioboand nice Suffifante. Tlie Revanche had two n, c.a killed and feven vounded. 1 am nuw proceedang to Plynw上't, $\boldsymbol{m}$ conysuy with the prize, and hope ws fhath a rase tlieie to night.

> Iam. dc. Nicholas TOMLINSON. Latter fion Commodure sir Fubn Warren wo Eviun Nipaia, csg datal La Pomone, af Scia, $\mathrm{Mayy}_{2}=$, I 7 ge .

Ib g joll whl inlom their Lordmips, that I on this duy captured LaF itafie, a Republic'n prisatte, copper-butomed, muntin $\hat{\text { B }} 14$, urs, and 75 men, from Mortaik, on a curze. S'e had heen only one diy from tice above port, and has not taken any thag.

St. Fames', Fune 4 T!i dav Morfieur potent: 1 y from hi. Satere Highefs the Luke of Wiutrmberg. had a private andience ", her 1 ! iefly.

Almiraly-Otfice, Fuhe 7. Capt. Mowat, of His Majotif = drathrance, to Evan Nepean, Efq dated Staten Ifand, May 3, 1796.

You will be pleafect to acqu $\begin{gathered}\text { int my } \\ \text { Lords }\end{gathered}$ Commeffaner of the fommary, thit, his Majenty's thip ! have the homour to command leit spifhead, and at eight obtork the tame evermb the patted the Needle Point, the wind then :t E. N. E. whach crred er in the lat 43 deg. 55 mm . lang $z=$ deg. 20 min having been : n eek out. From that periou until las eveniog, that nim anchored two miles below New York, the uind did not contane twentyfour hours at any tume facutrable to her coufe. Tive d:y before the fair wind left u, a fail was difcovered rishe a-titad, the thif, being under thll fail, with a moderate bresze, foom brousht the veltel to be feen from the Leck thanding towards us, which lle contmued to do withm the diffance of feven or eigh mules, when the thought it time to pur about, whi crow: ed all the fail The conld fiore us, and was difcovered to be a trig. Ahout four hours after, fhe was hruaght 0 , and proved to the Le Chafferr, Fienc! 1 rivateer, belonging to Bayonne, perced for twolve guns, fix-pouncer, only forr ou-hoar ', the others having been eporced to be thrown inerboard: her crew 62 in number. Fiom the time of her tailing the b cu capmured only one veffet, a brig, wath a cargo of falt from $\mathrm{S}_{\mathrm{P}}$ ain, bound to Nien fomsuland.

> Admiralty-Office, Fune 18. Copies of the following difpatches have been received by Evan Nepean, Efq.

Extrag of a Itter from Sir Edw. Pcllew, Bart. Captain of his Majoth's frip Indefatisabic, hatcd off Fuhnoutb, Fune 13.
You will be pheated to make known to the Londs Commaneners of tie Admiraliy my return off thes harbour, atconpanied Wy the fquaren and two National bitg convettes, which we foll in with eght leaghes fiom Uhant, on Saturday morning. The eariv hith they have of making ofit as from as fetn led noe to fufpect they were cruizers, and, affor a ch.ce of tuenty-four hours, they vele both capaired. One is called Les Twis Couteurs, mounting to gons and 70 men, the other La Bloride, of 60 guns and 95 mon , commaded by Enforns De Varfeanx, buth coppered; had left Ibreft two days, to crize fix weaks; had not taken any ghug.
Extiact of tur, Lctecrs racived from Vict-A.tmirat Kinglmull, Consmader of bis Maifon's Shias and Vificts at Cork: du'cal Yune:
Ey my lift, of the toth inflant, you were acquainted, that his Majeft's Mips Unicorn and Santa Margantta, part of the fquatron under my orters, had fent in 2 large thip, under Swedih colours, laden with Dutch property, from Surinam; and that Lequen $n$ : Carpenter, of the Unicorn, wher bought her here, tod me he had left our atap in chace of three fail, fuppofed to be enemes. Their Lordhips wallon of have le fatufaction of being 116 firmoce, th thofe three fail were Fiench fi gat ', viz. La Tribune of qums, La Tarr it of ;oguns, (fommerly the 1 hames,) and Ia Légert of 34 gans, prder the command if Cum. Youltion. Nenvithrt anding chat iupesionty, his Maje fy's iwo frigates, momediately on aftertai"ing $u$ bat they were, coowded fail after them; upon which the enemy formed in line of bittle, bu' thmily after, declinng to come to action, they feparated, and endea-oured to efcape. Capt. William: in the Unt corn, purved the iargen, la Trifune, and J lave no dombt w-l giee a g waccumt of hier, wiale C.p.Mirtin chaced and come th with La Tamife, which frack to him fier a fanat ation, wherion that thee of be entmy we ekthe in: simen a wotuded, and orif two mon were killed ant thate wondud on-comed the Sat ta M... gante. Un'tucl. ' $y$, as the Iagere cond met te attomed on dariag the ciane un, eng semolr, fie get , ff.

EORIGS IJE: 3.
Roske, Niay i. On Satuaday tat the coura fon Mlaak, accempankel b an Fingut 4 e.lar, we att.ack d by fox city, and wobled of tix than ach cowns. The pofthon, mitnaptizg to drize the Jone i4. The expectation my lait letters to you mut have saifed are mont happily reakzed. 1 now with fec:l:r fatisfaction defue you will acquatic r Lordmips, that the lrench tizare $L_{d}$ ribune, of $4 \%$ guns and 24 men, beating Commoture Monlfon's bucal pendint, is capturd and brought in here by his M.jents's Inip Unicora command di by Copt. W.1Jans, whofe oficitl leter time, comaining a den in of the circuntance, is h-rewith tranmitad. It is remark:hle that thongh they were clafely engaged for thanty five minntes, and the Vnicorn's m.ifts, fails, an riggine, are much cut and damare', ue. a man of ford was hut, while the enemy is d thirtereven killed and fiftecn wommed. Intrepidity and judicious mansereat wre never mole feronals manifeltd than in this inftance, which refleds the hiehoft hanour on Captains Willior s ind neatm, and on every indivilua! unde: their command, and thry all bave my hamble bui wamedt apmobation ond thenks.

Cap:: of bis Majegh's Ship Dowh, Plymoutb Sount, T/me 16.
 on the 13 th intunt, ar one $1 . \mathrm{M}$. Cape Clear bearing Weft by Noth, hianse twhelve !eagues, we cifcoven a fain atmoding towards-a from the sow anwird, but on nearing us bated her wiod and tarket? I immodiately chacel, and cane atomghile of bier at nue P. Mi. when, aftet a rofe aetwo of forty tive maintes, we fruck; proves to be the narmal figate La Profer:
 nines, and 4 thirry tevo pand carronales, with 348 men, comasatc. 1 by Ctizen Pevricu; failed from Eret the 6:1 indent, in cor': anv with La Tribue, 7 hamos, and linLégere corvette; had not wan any thins. I feel myfelf minh indented to the cticers and men uncer riy comnarad foe their fiedsy and firied exertione duing the action. I particulats recommend the fenor officer, Levt. Fing, is tu'y derer eng ther I ornthin's nonce. It is when pleatae a ad', that our billed comif tul only of 2 , mat ? Woundeal; La Proferpare, 3 kuted aid 45 womaded.
[s appear that the Brof pine was part of the fritadr in under the command of the lirench ci monotore Moulten, :nd had fepatated in a forg the eienng proceuing the :ction] harfes, received a wond in the bead with a fatre. Sown ater, the puft from Vitesbo was attachid in the fome place; and Ins town-t bems inforned of the fe proceedug, has pubhined an edict, commanding an perfon, thotreh an eccieffatic, to give information aganft any of the cul-

1796 ] Interefing Intelligence from the Continent, E. and W. Indies. 5is

prits, their accomplices, or the receivers of the hoose, tuder wain of imprifoment, and boing ient to the gathes; for the for mer, a teward is offered, and any ofte of thee delinquants naay be cunnted an evidence.

Upper Rbinc, May 24. The following leter wa: ded ered by the lmperal Minor of Art le y, M. de Schuway, to the Commandant Gener.I of the French advanced poik:

> "General, Mayzt.
"His Roy 1 Aighnefs Arch.tike Charlec, Genert m Chies of te lewernt Army, and a e Army of the Eimpee of the Lower Rhure, his acquanter me, that, as much as it was the wifh of his Impertal Majefty to pr vent the futferions of hamamity of the French Drect "y on thes head force bim to tireprefs hep citic fentuments, and to have dsaill recempe to arms to termiwate an unfortunte wat , which miltates agand his feelngs.
"Asree bly tothis, thave the honour tha quant par, the the oficer who carrie, tha 1-rter, has onders in reman what you thll after the expiratoon of ten days after his arrival at yurr a ivanced pots, according t.a the fliputtion of the armiltice; mid that the armintice thall he at an cal the roment on which tha period expires. Yon wil have he growneis to anteat the arrival of the nfie er, adid thathant nee of thang recewed that notice.
"Baron de Kray,
"Leutenam-General."
ravis, Fiume 1 is. On the 1 th meant, dorng the 1 ght, ieveral citizens were ajoprelye ded, in confegunate of the commotions which have been attemptert within thefe tew days, and of the compriacy in which they originated. The fignal was to have been given in the Rue Verte, in the fect:on of Popincomt. an was announced in the report of the Minnter of Police to the Committee of hirinceturs of the Counchl of Fise Hendrcd.

EAST.INDIdNEWS.

By the Amelian hip Sanfon, Capt. Smath, which artiveri Jue 2-, ind which left Bung.l! the 2d of Pebrury, we have recelved the melancholy particulars of the capture of the Irioa kaft. Lodiamain of 800 toms, on the $29: 11$ of Jalluaty, in the Balafore roads, by ap rty of frenchmen in a fchoner which had been captared a few days before by the Moukfe French privateer. The while number did not exceed twenty-five, who, it was proved, had broken their parole, efcaped from Calcutta in a dingey, and contived to get polfellion of the pilot-fcizooner, under which deferption they were permitted to some along fide the Triton. The monent shey had boarded her, they killed every pertion who had the sfortune o be upor deck ; thote who tufurtunselv fell victims to the treactery of thefe faveres were, Cant. Philip Burnvate, the comminder, a very meritorions officer; fheut: William Pickett, of the infantry (the ondy fon of the worth: A.derman), who was tound to Bengal ; a mothipman, a quartermatier, and a fea va:l. It wasr ported, that Mr Gribhle, the fecond mate. had atf, heon killed; bur a Gazecte, publi hed at Ganjam, did not meation his nane. Thev then fired at the crev down the hatchways, and wounce fix, whe we:? at dinner; the reft called fori quater, and orrained it. The remammg paff ngerc, officers, and crew, were put on-boud the Dian?, another prize, off Ganjam. It had ben reported, that Mr. Bell, the chucf mate, had been taken th the ifie of Fiance. The invoice grods of the ryitom for Madras amounted to about $15.00-1$, and had been faftly landed. Thife for Bengal and Bencoolen were comp.ratively triflesg.

Whst Indfanti, Amertcan News.
$U_{P_{i}: r}$ Carada, March 6. All eathrquake happened here latt March, which did no materid diamage; thoush the thock was fo vintent, as to hread offpurt of the rock, which forms the tapendeus fall of Nagara. Sone people thave been greasly alarmad at this mighty event, knowing that it the rack foould be funk fifieen feer lower, hy a is fuisure earthyuake, it w uld emp'y Lake Erie into Lake Ontrao, with fach rapidity as would necelfa ilv nverflow the flot lan's round Lake Ontari, and deluge Upper and Lower Canada on the banks of the tiver St. Lawrence, for mure than one thou and miles.

Kinglion, Famaiva, Nurch 14. The af. fiz a ot bread here at prefent is the k.e:pence hall-penny loaf to weigh if ounces.

The Congrefs of the United States of Simerics have at length given their affent to the tre sty of Great Britain by a majorty of two or three voices. Tlie committee of firance propofed, by providing for the expences of the year, the following taxes: two per cent. ad valorem on all fuccelfion, except to parents, hurbands, wives, or lineal defcculants; Itamp-duties on a varicty of writurgs ; policies of infurancebills, bond, sec.; 50 per cerit. addutional tax on carriages; and they propofed that five imhoris thould be borrowed at 6 per cent. irsedeemabie for a trm of years.

Scotlafid.

A few days fince, the following melancholy ascitent happened on-board the Spring of Shicilds, Gray mafter, on het voyage from Memel to Liverpool. It blowing a hard gale in the evering, the mafter ordered the dead-lighte to be put in; an', the carpenter and a hoy goug down to freth them, a fark fell into a barrel half-full of gannow krr, and the, $\mathbf{v}$ ffel inftantly blew up aboft. The carpenter and boy were killed, and the mifters wife fo much foorcheal that hae dited in a dav afierwards. The cabin twok fire at the fome time; on which fome veffel. which were in company hore down to theil affitance, got the fire uodir, and took the crew on boad of them. Thete veffels remainedath nieht as near tie Soring as they conld uith fafety, in bopes of $\mathrm{f}_{1}-$ ving fomething; but, thie gale increafing in the morning, they bore away for Sootland. The hody of Mis. Gidy wat fent athore it Aberdeen, and initered in the church-yard.

516 Interefing Intelligence from various Parts of the Country. [June,

Country News.

May:9. About one o'clock a fire broke out in the houfe of M.Irs. Maty in Aenfingtsn, (widow of Mr. Maty late of the Britifn Mufenm) - but by the vigitance of the town, with their own engines only and plenty of wite:, it was extinguighed with the tols of that houfe oniy, without any farther fpread; being contiguous to the church yard pallifadoes, and a sarden backwards, preferved charch-court, and Fovidentially a calm morning, no wind itarriug. Happly no lives were loft. The genticuoman was carried by the watchman in mareis to a neighbour's. Through the carefulnefs of friends, the place was immediately boarded up, and by turning over, fifteng, and riddling, much property has iseen found and refiored, no furniture, only money and metak, all the former excepting whe the intenfences of the heit may have melied.

The following icmarkable family meeting lately touk phace ai Rulleitun Houre, near Montegizer, the fent of Sir John Parker Mofley, Batt. Lord of 'the Manour : Sir Jolin and Lady Mofly, with two fons and three dughter, and thoir refpective wives and luibands, and 17 of Sir John's grave chliden, wheh (wirl at unmarried daughter) formed a piriy of 30 perfons, dined tugrther at Relletton-Houfe, and fpent the $\mathrm{d} \cdot \mathrm{v}$ with that heartiel! ratisfacfion which fuch a mecting was calculated to infpire.

Mav 27. At the election of reprefentatives to ferve for Tiunton, the teritivity of the day was mteriupted by the fo'louing accident, immedictely aifer the candidates were chaired. As a perfon was inronfiderately difcharging a kind of chamber on the purale, amidift a crowd of people, the piece recoi'ed, and at the dift ince of near twenty yards, stluck a man of the name of Colman on the head, and fractured his fkull in fo dieadrul a manner, that, though immediate affitance was pucured, he was removed with fcalcely any figns of life, and with st the moft diftant hopes of recovery.

Nortb.unpron, Fone x. Yefterday, about five o'cluck in the afternnon, during a thunder-ftorm, a ball of fire burft, (with a moft tremendous explofion,) over the houfe of Mr. Fre ke, in Cullege Lant, in this town. The electrical matter towis feveral diredions, and in a mot extraurdinary manner materi 11 y damaged the houfe, buth without fide and within. All the fami'y were very fortunately at the end of the hrufe moft diftant from that where the ball defcended, and receivel no ingury ; only thee of the children were knicked down by the fhock, but who foon ecovered.
flune 9 , in the afternon, there was a dreadfulthunder-ftorm in the neight urhood of Warrington, Lanc fhire, attende! with heavy rain, and a fhower of hailfones three inches in circumference.

A male pike, of the foll wing dimenfrons and weight, was caught in the pond belonging to the Earl of G tindboroush, in Exon Park, on Thurfday June 9: length from eye to fork 42 inches and a half, dito from nofe to tail 49 inches, gitis round the body 28 inches, weight 371 b 4oz. the largeft ever taken from that water in the menory of any man.

Fune 10. An officer helonging to a party on the recruiting fervice at Erecon, took an opportunity, whilft a pur-chaife waa waiting for him at the donr of an ina in the town of Hay, to foot himfelf, and deliberately contrived to fend the ball through bis bead in fuch a dieftion, that he inftantly fell, and died without a groan.

Func 13. Between I: and 12 in the forenoon a fire broke out in the hay-loft over the oit-mill of Meffrs. Wa'ts and Parfons in Turners-bill, Marfh-lane, Chefhunt; which in a fhort time confumed the whole premifes, with fifty loads of oil ready to remove, not withnut fufpicion of wwiful mifchie?, the mill having been on fire a week before.

Coventy, fonc 17. The following inftance of human depravity was difcovered on Wednefday at Weftwood-heath, near Stanleigh. As a young lad, fervant to Mr. Hands, was waiting near Park-wood, in order to fhoot fome rabbits, he heard, at fome diftance wit'in the wood, a noife uhich he fuppofed to be the crying of a cat, and pointed his gun to the fpot in order to deftroy it; bur, not bemg able to get a good :iim, he pioceeded with his gun cocked towards the place whence the noife came, where to his utter aftonifiment he found a little infant. He ran to call his matter, who came immediately to the place, and took up the child, $u$ hich appeared to be nearly exhaufted. Mr. Hand", recolleating there was a woman near the place who hidd a young child of her own, fent for her, and by her aftiftance the poor foumiting was preferved alive. Afrer wathing ner the wood tili midnight, to fee if 3ny ene thoute conne for the infant, be wint home, and inale every engary in his pe twer to learn who hatd for crueliy exis.od it to deftruction; and fufpicion, fron inson circumfantes, fell upon one thanah Rutri. Eally the next morning, Mr. Hinds fot out in purfure of her, athd fanm her in hed at her fith $r$ 's lonuc at Hemly, B Bing voundly taxed with the fact, atter fom hetitation, the comicied, that ahome three weets a a the was sichiverad, in the wois-hute m Corentry, of a female batard-chld; that bat Tued ': the abaias leave ro cone ort, and goto her friewls. 'Hat evening she fpent in the fad chty, and the noxt day fet our fir towils; but, hineing her frien's womd wat be pleafon! to bave the the kand dhe was paing ly, She was sommitued bs rake lier trat.

A few das face, an acoinent of an ex-of teplenillay the furnace, nulonites to the sreventme, uman the Own Con. 1 , i.s the abowe mastoned parih, was, by his font flippors, fulde.ly pucint fed inits

 pe geven him, and it was but the dito

 Aftre colling "p the mhathont of the sto joung houfe, dis: havic lis b dy a wapt "iti tow, lie wiliad as a at mie it tis mother's lonke it Natom, where he laguifucu $24^{\text {in-uns fier, mecioh athitatuce }}$ beine admenfersed in vain.

Givacion. Y'arer\% On Saturday nizint the Britus aid ! zanas! m man cen h arrived ot the linp-jude in Tenkebles, about twalie oucrli, $\because$ oth for whe and a lady; when one of the setuthman a dhe lad geiting out, an oll gouty: mileman and the other pat naw were ihitibad in the couch. Fr matorl-s firang put to, the gand an! coatimana went into the the hotfes fit off tull-i ced, and pabiar through the tmaptesen th whid wis open, went in for Glone-Rter, and :M. along the sanmus turnong w th in $g$ 't th the bos. Af*u gning almolt eizht timies, to the no farsll se:rour of the paffensers, they mat $t=$ alter nual coach, the gidal of whach orerving line no corcument was on the bis, t:e went on witt: tie corach towards Hentah. One of the of treerc, juat bese :lay me: :he othor coach, was fo mach srightened that he jumg: ouc, atad was mugh hart. The gouty gentleman, being unale tis follow him, was whined to fayy benind, and war feveral sime heard on the road, by different perfons, crymg on murder.

Leves, $\mathfrak{J}$ ione 1 . On Saturday fe'nngige the body of a man, named fotn C.watio. an aguiculture: tervant t.) Ar. Chanmers, of Chinton, wataken mit of the water, in Cuckmere harbour, Sofx He had left his moftor's hnote on the Tourfag evening preceding, wit' an i: tent to colluet the esces of the wills, nows, and cous in, from hotes and rieges of the high cliff, near Se. Ford, in which dangerous employ it is fuppofed he fell on the beach, and was kille ; and that the angt-tide had taicen off the hody. The cliff, from which the poor man fet, is from 55 to 400 ient perperlicular hetght. The amnfemont of raking ess dew hed, by marme and orlier fow!, in the fotioy cllts .bovemention d, anit in the neighbouring otes ctiled the Three C'urli, or Charles's, is mucta practifed by faraers' fervants, neat the inat, who que noer, by mans of in hica be is lavered, hy his commanions on the t p, from one lidge to annther, and Dy wion, when he las falle: lis rake: ho is wrattr, with a tolyaice siegse of f:fut?, to the farfice. By ithis niatioud is counte or thee men will often prouche a buthé, of egrs in an verning.

DOMESTIC OCCTNRCNEFS. Saturiay, Mow I 8.

At the simit.liy den in, this day, Jun and Wibram istacheli wiote pet is the Bor, atod armioned for the w! fal marder of Costin Pablatia car the Regh feas. It anmered that the prifonseswor, one t.the a confonimble mumber uf the 5 g merirt fricebifec, who were difetargrd ..t Jerfer, from that plac hame to Geat Bi i.

 vivent form arifi, fo that it becume neceltar; to onder a'l the pallongers under the ho thes isto the iold, which wis des wete to the number of upwar!s of toy urnvid logethor, and, for want of wate: ant ait, an:d the rolling of the thip datheng them agats't esch other, they foum h camo ahmot durrow. They called fer water, but, excent m one or two antances, they were refoled it. It allo appored, that tise dercáa, Colin Framintin, :s as thown form the deck into the hold among the ohers, as wa fuppofed from his bowg refratitny upon deck. One of the witnefres and, after fpeaking to him, go to the place where Franklin lay, and ftrock lim foveral blows. When the Roriry aboten, the batches were pened, and it appeared that 49 men and three women we:e found dead. Franklin was among the deceafd. and his body exhibued teveral matks of violence, as did thofe of if veral others. The ahove was the enerai f hitace of the change as offered by the profecutors. The defence mave chiefiy confifed in crofs-examining one or two witneffes as to facts, and ohers as to character. From thefe it appeared, that the foldias were put inte the bold, and the hatches clofed at their own difire, to prevent the water coming in; they wore knce-leap even with that plecantinn ; they wicre warned of the rikk of fuffocation, hut faid they would ratier be fmothered than irowne!. The Goip was in great danger, and by the foldiers rollong on one fide in the lood it evas nearly overturned. It was at this time Mr. Mitchell went down, apparentiy with a view toput maters to rglits; it evas fo dark, that lie could not be diftinguified form the reft. The folditis had water while the goud weather continued; but they could not procure it-for them while the frorm liftert, as they were obliged to attend the helm, &c. It was proved they were induigent to a pregnant woman faifenger, and left their own cuibit for lier; they had alfo m de efiorts to :eftore one of the deceafed men, when the liatches ware openel, who was not gute dead. Thev had very guod charneters, and were wat men of a cution or ill-natured difpofition. Jaige Bulier thought, that the malcious intert whech alone coull conftcute the morder, was not made out by the evidence, eithor with refpect to Frank lin, or the other foldier ; and, when it was confidered what mutt be the agitation of mind, when fuppoting themfetves :n the jaws of leath, no fort of intention of murder coubl be arubuted to W. Mitchell by his friking Franklin. It was certainly a very meluncholy atfiar ; and the crown-oficers had done well to per them on trial, to inveltigate the carfes to the bottom. The jury, without hefitation, acquitted them both.

$$
\text { Aonday, M.v } 30 \text {. }
$$

Yeftesday and thus day there was a very heavy gale of wind from the Sou'h-Wer, which blew in guft with uacommon violence. Much damage was fuftained in many parts of the metropolis hy the blowing down of chimneys, untiling houfes; and in fome of the environs of the town many trees were torn up by the roots. In Dean's Yand, Weftminiter, part of the old ruinous building came down by the violence of the wind with a great crafh. Luckily it had been fome time fince railed and paled m, , fot that no perfon was near enough to reeeive any damage. In St. James's Park, more than a d zen large trees wefe torn up by the roots, and the fol:ge of others were featered in ev ry diection. Ithe paffeqe to Sping Gardens w as as thickly firewed with leaves as any orchard in antumn. A part of one of the ftards, erected in Cuvent Garden for the accommodation of the fpectatiors of the election, was blown down: there were, however, no perfons on it at the time, as from its elevition it was not confidered fafe. Purt of the roof of a houfe at the comer of Coritse-hill, D:wate, was thrown down; which, full. ing upon a poor woman pafing to the time, hruifed her fo feverely, that the was carried to St. Bartholontew's Ho'pital, withont hipes of recovery. Several buildings in the neighbourhoot of Houndfdith, Bifhopicate-fitect, &c. were atlo unroofed, and fome trees in the quaricr of N orfields were torn up by the roots. In Lambeth-Marh, an cmpty houte, condemned hy the rommifinu:rs of the road, was blown down; as were he roos foom rone of the buillings in the fame quarter.

This day at 12 o'clock the mariff, of Loudon a tended at Guildna!!, to make a retion of the fate of the late poll tor the $\epsilon^{\prime}$ Etion of fur members to ferve for this c.ty in the cufuing parliament; when they fited the numbers polled for each candidite as follows: Ald. Luhingten 4369 , the Lord Mqiyor 4213 , Ald. C thene 3863 , Ald. Anderfon 3170, Ald. Pickett 2705, S. W. Lewes 2355 .

Thurftay, Fiune 2.
This day at the amual mecting of tio charity chlldren, at St. Paul's calhedral, a fermon stas preached by the Rcv. Dr. Huntingdon to a very crowded avditory. The Abp. of Canterbury, feveral of the bifteps, and other dignificd clergy, were prefent. The children fang the parts of fervice allotted to them, in the firt dyle of unity and harmony.

$$
\text { Tuifdey, Foune } 7 \text {. }
$$

A caufe of fome importince wasthis day determined in the Court of King's Bench. Worfey agmit the affignees of Lockier and Eream. This action was originally brought by Lockyer and Brear, whofe houre, in Tavifinck Atreet, was deftroyed by fite on the $14^{\text {th }}$ of May, 1792, againft the Plomix Fre Office, to recover the amount of 7000 . the fun they had infoued That caufe was tiled before Chief Juftice Eyre at Guildhall, when the jury found a verdict fo the plaintuffs. Damages 30001 . The office retufed to pay ; on the ground, that the infured had not performed their contract, in not having produced to them, agreeably to their prinred propofals, a certificate fiom the minifter and churchwardens of the parifh, ftating, that they b-heved the fire was reatly accident.1', and freaking to the good clarakier of the in-

19g6.] HISTORICAL CHRONICLE.

fured, \&c. A part of one of their printed articles rums thus: "Perfons inf red, fur. taning any lofs or dam.ge by fire, thal 1 procure a certificat- mader the hands of the minititer and churchw.ardens, tog-ther with fome other refoctate inh.absants of the parith not concerned in finch 1 is, imporing, that they re well acquanted with the charaf $r$ and cirumflances of the perfon or perfins infu ed, and do know, or verity b linve, th ithe, the, or they. really, and by mist rem., "thout any frade, or evil pretice, $\mathrm{H} \cdot \mathrm{ve}$ fu .incd by fuch fire, the lofs and dimage, shic, her, or their hifs, to the vi'te the-rin mentioned; but, till tuch :ffis certificate of the :nfured's made and prodtuced, the lof not be pay:able." T'i cale was argued more than once in at Cummon-Heas ; affer which thrs gave judgement for the plantiffs. T: mos Wonley, Eiq. the 'ecretary to the Oifice, bronghit a wit of crror mot, the Cout of King's Bench, on th : is of the propriet or's ot the faid office, againft the affignes or Lorkyer and Bream. This wnt of ernor was anged with great abilities by Mr. Law, for the Planatit on eiror, and Mr. Gibles, for the defendan's in entor. The question to be decided by the Conrt, was, Whether, under the circumtances of this cafe, the production of the certificate of the miniter and ctiurchwardens was a romitition pracedent neceffary to be performed by the party chamong the amonit of the lofs from the ofice ? Mi. Law contended, that the production of that certificate was a condition precedent. Mr. G bbe argued, that it was not a condition precele: $t$, but only a regulation, or a condition fubfequent, which had been fubtant ally peat formed on the part of the infured. The Court delivered their opi nions foriation upon this quettion. It was obferved, that this was a cafe calling for their very fermus attention; that the companies infuring ag...nit fire entered moto lery extenfive curtracts; that they were fiequently tivble to attempts to tak money out of their peckets contrary to al juftice and confcence, and that they had a right to chat the door againat fraud as far as they could. For that purpofe they had printeu their pro vofals. The Coult were unammous of apmon, that the producthon of the certificate of the miviter and churchwardens of the parith was a condition precedent, that it was indifpenfably necelfary to be produced by the infured before they had a rightit to cill upon the office for the amonat of the lofs thev had fuftane. This was not an impoffible condition, nor was it illegal or unreafomable. The office hac' a lipht to fay, bece nin in fiedera veni. In refisturg thes demand, they hidd difchar ged a duty which bey owed to themfelves, and which they owed very much to the public. The Co. There mof decidedly of opinion, that ith. Julyemenr of the Court of Common1 leds wught to be reevied.-Judgemeat for the plaint:f in errar.

Saturdal, 'Yue it.

Peing S. Parnabes's w, was heh the Oxford, from Merchint Taylors Schoal, when Wilham Betten Ch mpuefs, and Henty Eilis, baving delieered two gratuLatony oratinos, o.e in $\mathrm{L}:$ in, the other in Srok, be'ides varinus ep gams, in Latin and Enghth, were doly elected.

Tueflay, FJune 2 I .
A fire the tpitech in ms in Callam-- ', Laitu hall marker, damaged 3 livares, ut wis itupt by tmely affitance. Tburflay, Gune 23.
The New College at Hackney, with if acres of land, was this day knocked down at 5 ;ool. wh-ther to a reat or firitious miduer we bive not heard. The adijoining home, whabited by Dr. Re-s, as prefident of the college, was bought 'y him, or in his name, for 10501 . The fate of this buildug, on which the proprietors ackno:vledge immerife fums have been expended in building, and for which more than twice the furn it now fetched had been refurd, athl the fite of the miftuion itfelf, tho ds a ftriking proof that the people of thas chancry are not difpofed to encourage the modern plilofophers in ther attempti in undermme the conftrtution. Itit femmary was inflituted under the moft favouable aufpices. The moft weathy and refpectable part of the Diffenters wero difpofed to fupport the infio tation ; but, that fuplort having been withdrawo, the buldng is brought to the hammer. Whether s fhall be converted into barack, be ng not farther from the Eatt than there in Hyde-park from the Weaten ex:remity of the captal, or into a conn'sy fettlement- of any capital puohic ant more conititutional fchool in toons don, or Cerve as a fupplement to Bedlam, alrady too crowded to receive more in. habiants, time mult thew.

Fritav, Gune 24.
A Common Hall was held at Guidhall, for the clection of the principal officees of the cily of London; when the livaly, after the nomiuation of feveral refpeataie gentlemen, chofe aldermen Langiton and Stuinces to be fheriff. for the yer enfung. And Jin Wikne, Efl. was unammouny re-elcted Clamberlain.

Suturiay, June 25.
This morni: g, wo obld houles in Hough -ton-it-cet, Clare-market, occupied by Mr. Higems and Mr. Cbld, and in which Sever thother families lodged, fell down, and iavalued in their ruins the major part of theer mhabitants. About 4 in the morning, the watchman was alarmed by the falling of feveral panes of glafe from t' e windowe, an., on cherwation, difuvered chafors in in in lion'ef. He alarmed the tenants of e.fi; but, thomigh fome uncountable arahe, they sonis not tis prevaled upen to move. The tmbluch, a hatieraman in W" Thed pem of them sagzar. Abow hat Faft 8 bot' hooken foll; in we thene were In the coner - os the disy dugg wit $\mathrm{d}^{5}-\mathrm{A}^{\prime}$, fome of t!em chidrer, fimeane.. ais:

 age, of st toa ant in ol the l. Wit ra:t, co:等', a afition : het beato wat rot found i! be to n 3 trayn no. whem life inatlett it T reututhotis a mote anompt the repoms, who. te roople werecati utin rearemg, lét they thentd be hures of the fall if ste athoiong houles. Wlite fome $u$ inmea wers emplow ed it prowng the asjo nimer lowita, pat of the astil tellan, wh, thowne lown the $!+d$ is upon which they were it.andins, ", mon were fo muct, hmofec by the fall, th tiley were cartied to the holmitat in a daugerous itate.

$$
\therefore \text { Em, Tuy June } 26 \text {. }
$$

The bentifuichunchus St Bride's parif, having hernionstime fhat of f rathorongh, rejar, was this cay :gan opened with an aurordible fermon, apprepriate to the ucciant by D. Bercy, En of Tromute. Tharlayy. Yunte 30.
From and ate the sth cay of July, ran 6 , every perin whe thal keep iny feyfrond, hommi, poitier, fiti: g-c'g, ipi-two or nagre doz, if wh. ever defoiption or dunomination the fame $m$ ty he, flatl he wateed and aliefted anomaty woth! he fom ot five fibling for each gr y -hound, hound, poniter, foting dos, flewicl. lurcher, or t.win'; and afo for parh dos, vilere'so or nienc ings thall te to ke:t; and wery p.rfar wloo fant int atot any rwelunghanimes houke, or on womox or liglets, a :i Thalt lite? une dog and n:: mo:e, furh dors not bu'ng a friylound, 'otan', temier, thall be ol.rged ard then an-the wiog. the dey is rec: to estend to fetpang hounds may comperma for ony nurnber, on baying that year nt en pound, ac It is moderit of mily the fourth: of the tax are to be collocted for th.: ; ant.

The new chat on hats:. $as place on the sth of Augut $n$ xt; after whach ume enthe hover we feller is liable so a poonaty of rol. sit evity int fols or experied to f.e'e, lot biving same ed linino therem, agrecanle to the flium: क tatus.-viz. $3^{d}$. at four hailinge, of tater: 60. at feven fiohnes, rr under; is, at twelve fhatures, or undel ; and above 2s. - the firumons and mountings iacheced, except gold or filver lace. And iat perfon hauking about any hats for fole, $n$ it dismpud as above, is bathle to be ferzed and commatted to) pritin. And after the 5 th of April, : - 27 , every wener of a hat is liable to the pently of sol. matis he can prove that it was b. ught and winn hefore the 5 tha of Augut, $1=06$, withapper-ftimp therein, which pierof he with the perforl foaccuted.

P. 445, a. Lord Alva was born at Edinburgh, June 20, 1722; eltered advac te Dec. 24, 1743; was appothted Macrift of the county of Perth on the ah.litien of the heritable jurifdictions; mommated one of the harons of the Cont of Fixchequer of Sculand May $27,175+$; this be tefiened on his appoumment to a leat on the beach of the fupreme Civil Connt of Scorlad, June 8, 1761, on which wecifoon the af. fumed the tutle of Lord Baijarg, a property he mberited from his mother; 'ur aitermatds athumen the tille of L. rd Alva, the name of an eftate b:longing to his fat ther. At his lordihip's death ire w \& e oldelt judge in Bratam. He mastied, fir ft, June i, 174 , Mangict, fecend ingemer of Hurt Mreçuirc of Dromdonv, 14 Ayrihre, 5 er of the Conatci-tow $+\cdots$ of Gien ain ; by her (who di:d Ap.i, 1-65, aged 37) he had two daugntry, Je.tn, un.. marned, and tabella, mumed tw C pran Patrick Tveler, of the ..... regiment f font, fon of th leamedrathor of the vill dicat1 : of Quea Mary ; alo two fons, Ctarte, 1 , 4 June 23, 17:I died Sept. 1750, in ho 10th year, ind | ho, born Dec. 30,1758 , who, iffer ittudying the law in the Tempie and at Ed,nhurgh miweffy, enere alrocate $\mathrm{I}^{-2}$, was ap pontal cterk to the Com milaty Court of Scothad in 1790 , and ded at Edinhurgh Jan. 6, 1792, in his z.ph yout, haverg mamel C rutan, eivelt diughter of $\int$ Mn C.nutine:s, of Holmans, by whom he had two fon', James, heir 'o his grandfather, and $J$ hn, and one datighter, $C$ whitte. Lord Al:a mumed, fecos thy, Jo, dimghter and henefs of - Stinmat, of : eviertfhue, relict of Sir John S. of Glorat, hart.; but bo her, who furvoes, has arsifue. He derived his defcent from Sti: Charles Eriknoe, fourth fon of John ferenth Enl if Marr, by his recond wife, Ladv Nary Stewart, daughter of Efne Duke of Lennox. This $S \%$ Charles wis cieated a baronet in 1666, was fucceeded by his fon

Sir Charles Erfine, of Alva, born July 4, 1643, who married Chiftan, daughter of Sir James Dundas, of A miftun. By her he had four fons: I. Sir James Erikme, of Alva, killed at we battle of Landm, july 23, 1693, umaried; 2. Sir John Erkine, of Alva *, heir t', his brother, filled by a fall from hes horle in the Ifle of Man, Mirch 12, 1739, get 67 (he mimied Barbar.a Shultin, lecend daughter of Henry faventh Lart Smatir, of $\because$. Clair, bv wh.m he thid two fom, So Chanie Erf$k$ ne, if Alva, killed it the battle of Lafelld, whtour nale-mine, and sar Hemy Endane, of Alva, batc. M. P. Whw dicd in r763, hivang mamed Tanct Wedderburn, fifter as the proment Lurl Chamellor Lowhomesgh, and left by her two tons, the pretent Sir Jumes Frikine S nclir, of Dyant, hatt. M. P. and Jom, counfellor at l.w, and filazer to the Con: t of Comnum, Pleas) ; ?. Charles; add, 4. Dr. Ro. b:at Eriki e, puffian to the 1 zar of Rulfin. Cuales lrikme, or, as lie more ufally fiple has in me, Arefkine, the third fon, born in $16 \% 0$, itwijed the liaw, entered advocte:71i, wapapointed folicito-general for Scothat, elected thember of parliament tor the Duafrien whtrict of boroughs, nombater, in 1737, has Majelty's alvocate for Scostand, promoted to a feat on the bench $\mathrm{N}_{1}, \mathrm{v} 29,1744$, of which uccafion the allumed the title of Lord Tonwall, the name of an eftate belongarg to him in Dumpiesthry, and was apminted, 174 3, lord juffice clerk, whic! be held till his death, $\mathrm{n}_{1} \mathrm{~F}_{3} 3$ He had difpofedof the eftate of Tinuald fome years before, as alfo of the lands of Burjurf, in the tume county, wh ch he had got by marritge, in on der to tathle him to purchafe, from the creditors of his nepiew, his noble paternal reat aad eftate of A:va, in St:rlingihire which he according!y drd, but left it burhened with fi) heavy a lod of seht that his fon was onliged, itl a few years, $t$ 's difpore of it to the late John Johniton, elq. biother of Sir [^64]Vrm. Pultenev, hart. Lard Jufice Cterk Tunsid morries, firf, Dec. 2s, 1712, Geizeld du ter and he tefs of - Gresfor, of Barjig, and by her had, beftes ten chituen who died young, and wete haried with ther mother in the Grey Friens at Edimbargh, theree daughters, Chritan, born Dec. 3r, 1715 , married, "d. 4,1732 , to Sir R nbert Laure, of Mixweltown, in the con'ty of Domfries, bart.; Jean, born April is, if26, marred, Dec 2r, 1-4t, to Whinn Kotspatrick, of Staws, in the fame cowev; and Sofammals, born Scpe.

 Kobent C sappell, of Fiasb and: Menzie, member uf partiament for Argylabise, and receive:-g weral of the curtoms: alfo, two fons, Charles Ertkine, born O .2 t , 1796, member of pallincot anil counfellar at law, whan diad at London, unmarime i) his father's life-t.me, and was buied in the chape! or Lincoln's-inn; and James Lond Alva, now decedet. Lurd Jutice Clerk Tin aki mamed, feconds, Augot 26,175, , $2 \mathrm{zi}(t)$, thusiter of - Withem Hateftance of Crides rlat of Dr. With m Maxcell, of Pretoal (hy whom the hat two danghers and cotcitefle, ivaty, murise at Edimburgh, April $44,1 / 6 \mathrm{f}$, to Wit1am tiventy-fift Earl of Sutheriand, and Whl:elon, married at 1 , ondson, Sept. 26 , 1:5i, t, John LA․! Vitount Genurchy, fon us joha than lind of Sreadabene), hut ly lier, whas full finmes, had no mue. Ta the mannry of tevernd of the $p$ rfons alotaly tatntioned Lord Alva fit up momoments an the chance of the pamh-church of his own 4 mroftion, which thatl anpat in the NI.anzine for Juts.

1had. b. Lady Chanlotte Finch was not governcts of the royd murlery; the $1 \mathrm{~d} y$ of the tame namu, who did, and ftill doss, bold that fivation, wis filler of the hate Earl if Ponfret, and widow of Mis. Finch.

Jond. The tate Nir. Benlon, by whofe ficiten death a wife and threc children and an iged futl er and mother ware derrived of thear only furport, was the fon of Benfor, whon for many years kept Cole's cofreebhowie $m$ Comhill, ad who always mant ine in that fituaton; a reputable and rofpect bie charactor. If the fon, who premoture'y perifined from the effects of a delimim, did not attain to the finf yank in his proffion, he was set a reypectable performer ; and his utility in the theatre, and zeal to fulfill his duty to the publick, were fufliciently apparent in his readinef; to come forward, either in the parts afligned to himfelf, or as a fuhtioute fire any other perforour, at the footent inotice, form uhich a difappointment to the poblick has in many infances been prevented. In private life he difcharged, in an exemplary manner, the relative duef ef an affectionate buband, tender father, and dutiful fon, fupperting, by his profeil:onal exeations, lis wife, three childres, and his fother 'mbl inother, with a degice of cheafol induhry that, while it e:thted him to refert from the world, pat culaty endedred him t.1 thoie who wete the mare immedinte witnefles of it. The pieprieros of Drury-tans theatre ha ving, wath their utual hiberality (as they Wat before dowe on the dent: of Mr Sto$\left.r+c^{\prime \prime}\right)$, granted a benefit for the widow and chullen of NI: $P$, the eftimation in which the publick held his memoly, character, and ahilities, was amply evinced by the very crouded an! brilliant alfemblage, and by the united exertions of the verfomers of both houfes, which took place on the evening of Thu:fray, Juhe 9 , when "The Fetle's stratagem," " i he Sultan," and a grat valiety of voc 1 entertaimment and imistions, were petformed 1.446. The late Lo.d Fakland was inter ed in the cathedr 1 at Buth, tan the $2 \boldsymbol{q}^{\text {th }}$ of May; his boother was chief mourner.

Bikths.

May T Spits, ne ir Wigton, the wife of 2:. I Jotepn Lamhorn (an indufrious, houett man, employed as a hind to Mr. Bromme!l, of that plac:), one fon and two daughters, who are incly to live; and the mother (who has brought faven children into the wotdd within thefe fotr years) is in a very pronaifors way of recovery.
31. At his Lomathip's Bouc in Berkeleyfarare, the Count fs of Darnl. y, a daugh.

Lateiv, Mrs. Walinms, wif: of the Rev. Mr. W of Whkwar, cr Gioncefter, on the fifteenth annverfory of her wedtug, delivered of her fevent-ertit cholds.

Mrs Delmmote, of Wevnouth, her a jth child; the ather it are all living.

At Trent-ndace, Enfiell, the Lady of - James Townfend, efq. a dill-bom fon.

At Edinourgh, t'e Lady of John Glaffel, efy. of Long Niddry, a danghter.

Mirs. lolfie, of Margaict-ftreet, Caven-difs-fquare, a fon.
flune 6. At Kelham-hall, the Lady of Johm-Charles Garardot, efq. a fon.
II. At his houfe in Lower GrofvenorAreet, the Lady of Richard Aldworth Neville, elq. M.P. for Reading, a fon.

The Lady of John Prinfep, efq. a dau.
16. At Ebinhurah, the Lady of Sir John Sinclair, hat of Ulbfter, a d.ughter.
20. At Slaugher-loufe, co. Glouc, the Lady of Gew. Galway Mills, efy. a daugh, 2I. At her houfe in the Pay-office, Horfe-guards, Lad'y Sufim Rvder, a daugh. 26. Mrs. Maitland, of New Bridge, freet, Dlack-friers, a daughter.

MARriaces.

Miay T Inveractlie, in Scotland, Wm.
17. A Fontiler, efu. uf Culmore, captan in the fecond battation of the fourth foncible regiment. to Mifs Gordon, datigh. of Alex. G.efy of In rette.
19. At Petworth, co. Sulf $\mathrm{x}, \mathrm{J}$. C.

Mitchell, efy. of Brighthelmetone, 10 Mifs Johnfon, eldeft dugher of Willian J. eify. of Petworll.

Chas les Rowen, eff. to Mifs Hartpole, heirefs of the late Geo. H. efq. of Shrow:cafte, in the Dieen's county, trelind, and niece to the Earl of $\mathrm{A}^{\prime}$ :lhornug'?
20. At Eduhergh, J miss lierfon, efq. eldeit fon of Jmer F. efq. of Abngtonshall, co. Combringe, to Nhis Mararet Ouchteriony, fecond daughter of the late John O. efy of Guynd.

Mr. Aviling firgem, to Mrs. Leightor, both of Whather, co. Cambridse.
21. At St. Austew's, Holbon, Poter

Lawrie, efq. of Law ence Poment -hull, to Mrs Buck, whow of the laie Col. B.

Rev. Mr. Bankes, of Bufton, co. Lincoln, to Mifs Hummes, Naugiter of Buter H. efq. mayor of the city of Lincoln.
23. At Qieen's 'quare chapel, Bath, the Rev. Mr. Forter, ©f Southpool, co. Devon, to Mis Lucy Winftone, youngert daughter of William Huywari W. efq. of Oldburycourt, co. Gloncenter.
24. At Cheim ford, Effex, Geo. Porter, efq. cf Stanted hury, co. Hertforl, to Mifs Tindal, eldeft dugliter of Robert T. efq. of Chelonef.rd.

Mr. Weftun, furveyor, of Aynhne, co. Northampton, 'o Mrs. Bloxiam, of Steeple Afton, co. Oxferd.

At Plung r, co. Leicefter, Mr. Lewefley, of Leadenham, to Mifs Blankley, of the former place.
25. Mr. Simuel Rut, builder, in Mifs

Anne Loat, daughter of Mr. 1 homas L. of Chrid church, Surrey.
26. Mr. Foulds, wine-merchant, Oid Swan, near London-bridge, to Mifs Anne Shepherd, daughter of Richard S. efq. of Maiditone, Kent.

At Maidftone, Charles Eedford Young, efq. to Mifs Eliz. Taylor, of that place.

Rev. Lancelot Halton, M. A. fellow of Queen's. college, Oxford, to Mifs St. Barbe. 27. George Smythe, efq brother to Sir Edward S. burt. to Mifs Eliza Vernour, of Wooton, co. Warwick.
23. Mr. Elward Brome, of Waford, Herts, $t 0$ Mils Foard, of Petworth, Sulfex. 29. John Mack-nzie, eiq of King's Arms yard, Coleman-itrect, to Mifs Van Dam, of Guil ford-itteet.

At Edmonthorpe, co. Leicefter, Mr. Aultin, farmer, to Mifs Craven, of Wynondham, in the fame county.

3 r . At the collegiate church in Manchefter, Mr. John Mills, of Stannford, to M :fs Kinder, daughter of Mr. Samuci K. merchant, of Mancheider.

Rev. Mr. Noble, of Friny, co. Leice Ter, to Mifs Wrasge, daugher of the Rev. Mrs, W. furmerly vicat of that phace.

Lately, at F dinburgh, Sir He?or Mackenzi, bart. of Gairluch, to Mifs Chriftian Henderfun.

At Mafulipatam, in the E. Indies, Lient. J. Deightom, 50 Mifs Boyd.

M1. Romet, turvegor, of Blackfriersroad, to Mifs Davidfon, of Swinton-? ?reet.

Mr . James Blow, eldelt fon of Mr . B.
of Whittlesford, co. Cambridge, to Mifs Spreed, of Ware

Wm. Maynard, efq. to Mifs Crow, both of Cbrift church, Su: ${ }^{\prime}$ Y.

Phulp K eating Roche cfy. capt in in the Oxfoulthre regiment of light dragoons, to Mifs Salsey, daugher of johns. efy. of the Haze-p tik, col Salop.

At Souti Cawton, co. Devon, Mr. Pomsford, of Drewitergutun, to Miss Mary Moore, fecond duugher of the Rev. Wm. M. of Lamatun.

At St. Helur's, in the inand of Jerfey, Lieut. Packwell, of the roy il engineers, to Mifs Eliz: Le Matre, of that ifland.

Fure :. Thate Bofnquet, elq, to Mifs Chatente Anme Huiford, fecond daughter of Pe'er H . efy. fenior mafler in chancery. At Bath, Mr. Ellifton, of the theareroyal in that city, to Mir, Eliz Randall.
2. At stepley, Mr. Wm. Rotin on, of Tooley itreet, tob coonit, to Mif. Harjet Peirc, daughter of the !a:e ——P. efq. of Wandformeth.

Mr. Richard Pope, of Henley-uponThames, co. Oxford, to Nhis Steele, of Blount's-conv', near the fume place.
3. At Lambeth-palice, by the Archbiflop of Cin elbury, George Wright, efq. only ton of Sir Itres W. bart. of Rayhoufe, Effex, and nepherv to the Arctibihop, to Nlifs Maclave, only daughter and fole heirefs of the lite Charles M. efq. of Oakhampion, Berks, and a near rehtion of Sir Hector M1. with a fortune of $50,00-1$.

At Bufton, co. Lincoln, the Cnevalier d'Eitimanville, a Canadaan gentleman, to Mifs Blyth, nece to J. Betis, eff.
4. At the church of St. Nary-at-Hill, Mr. Hugh Wympe, to Mits A sarth, eldeit daugh, of the late Cipt. A of Mrogate.
5. Ar Falmouth, Mr. J.W.4fon, of his Majefty'slugger Valiant, ${ }^{\circ} \mathrm{Mrs}$. Mary T ague. 7. Jenies La Lane, efy. of Charlotie-Atr. Bedforci-iquare, to Mirs Blizard, of Morti-ner-fireet, Civend: ?-iquare.

Charles Grifitiths, efq. major in the $\delta_{3} \mathrm{~d}$ regiment of foot, to Mifs Hart, of Con-duit-itreet.

Rev. D. Davis, B. D. prebendary of Chichefter, to Mr. 1ves, widow of J. I. era. F. R.S. late of Great Yarnouth, co. Norf.

Mr. Edward Powers, formerly of Leicefter, to Mifs Lucy Wilkmfon, of Stockport, in Cheibire.
Mr. Edward Bridgman, of HighamFerrers, co. Northampton, to Mirs P. B. Collett, Janghter of the late Eliss S. ef: of Upper Deane, co. Bedford.

At Erizenorton, co. Oxford, Mr. Wm. Tymme, mafon, to Mifs Lord.

At Chtideigh, Thomas Weld, jun. efq. eldeft fon of thom is W. efq. of Lalworthcante, co. Dorfet, to Mifs Lucy Clifford, daug ter of the late Hon. Thomas C . of Tixall, co. Stafford.
9. At St. Andrew'r, Holborn, the Rev. Rev. Gerge Bellafis, D D. of Gueen's college, Oxford, rector of Yattention, and vicar of E.ffiten, Berks, to Mifs Lean Cooper Vrall, of Kendal.

John Henderifon, efq. of the Adtrphiterrace, to Mils Keate, of Chatlotte-fircet, Eloomibury.

At Frome, co. Somerfer, Rev, Charles Sloper, of We!ts, to Mists anae Ford.

At Ecton, co. Northmpenn, Mr. John Ailpert, of Lomdon, to Mifs S. Fifurt, daugh. of Mi: John F of Ecton.
10. At Sudhury, co. Derby: Mr.F. Wolley, of Marfon, aged 74, to Mifis Yater, ag.d $: 5$.

Mir Coats, farmer, at Bamwe!!, to Mifs Biown, et Oundle.

At Hull. Mr. Rohert Swan, Iraper, of Gainmore ip , to Mifs Goodwon, ferond daugh of r. G. of Brige, co. Lincol".
11. At Lady remple's, at Stonetwife, near Pls m. nth, Hemy White, eff. of Eath, to Mifs Rarhara Decker.

At Quecu fquare charel, Bath, Sir Geo. Clynn, hart. wewell, Suricy, to Mirs Cistharine Powelt, datugtater and colerefs of the late Rev. Gervis F. of Llanharan, co. Glamor gan.
13. Mr. John Gregory, farmer, of Wing, to Mife Bull, of Pitm, Cut'and.

At Burwe!l, c.l. Linciln, Hunry Sudell, efy. of Blackhurn, io Mifs Mania Livefey, of Burwell-park, tarl of the Late Tho L. efg.

At L,eeds, he Rev. Henry Jowett, reaor of Little Dombam, co. Nortotk, to Mifs Ivefor, only diughter of 1 ancilit $l$. efy. of Blackbank-ionfe, near that town.

Kienry Shepherd, e'q. lientenant in the light dragome, to Mifs Anne Hath, of Lower Hallíwd.

Rev. $W$ m. Oxnam, to Mifs Treweeke, of Penzance, as. Cornwall.

Is. At Y'uxtes, cis. Huntinglon, Mr. Smuti, of Lomath, to Mis Chambertin, of the firmer place.

At B xwell, w, riloucefter, Win. Veal, efy. of Cotefwonthon, in the fame county, ratritet at ha r, to Mifo S rati Muntev, ?uget caragher of the late Rev. Richard

> 1-c crurt.
n-home, in Scotland, Lew is Gen'ge, to Mifs Sophia er of the late Alex.
armer, of Carlhy,
"nngtio', ot
fon, daughter of Col. T. of Bromptongrove, co. Mildlefex.

Rev. Theophilus Lane, of Hereford, to Mifs Sophia Gardiner, of Eath.

At Bath, Lieut. Eccles, of the 93d regiment, to Mifs Bunbury.
16. Rev. Henry Conke, rector of Dirficld, co. York, to Mifs Boweo, of Wim-pole-f treer, Cavendifh-fquare.

Rev. Dr. Proffer, recior of Gateflec:at, Dubam, to Mifs Sarah Wegs, youngent daug's, of Sam. IWr. efq. of Hommbury fqu.

At Sit. Mary-la-Bonne church, Charles Eady, efu. to Mrs, M‘Lachlan, widow of the l"te Dugakd M. efq.
19. Mr. Umpleny, of Daventry, to Mifs Shaw, of Lutter worth.
20. Rev. Mr. Kiddleton, preceptor to the ctibition of Dr. Pietyman, precentor of Limenha cathedral, to Mifs Madd:fon, dan. of the late john Al. efq. of Gaintbrough.

At St. Laurence Jewry, Mir. James Hil', to Mids Mafon, both of Cheaphite.

At Mitton, Wilts, Rev. Wm. Benwell, fellow of Trinity-collcree, Cafort, to Nifs Loveday, eldert daughter of the late Jolm L. c'f. of Caverfham, co. Oxford.
21. it Kingtor, Surrey, Mr. Charies Stephenfon, of Kentifh toxn, to Mifo Harman, of College frreet, Weftminther.

At Strewbury, the Rev. Forefter Leighton, to Mifs Barclay, daughter of Aujorgeneral B. of thas place.

Mr. Wm. Nabh, attarney, of Manclefter, to Mif M. Lee, of Cingletm.

John-Fraunceis Gwyn, eff. of Ford-abbey, Devon, to Niifs Elizabetl Norman, of Holles-Areet, Caverduh-tquare.
22. Mr. Samuet Heaton, of Ragdate, to Mifs Heale;, of Shöhy, both co. Leicetter.

Mr. Cartwright, fergenn, of Devonthue, to Mifs Aution, of Stepney.

Deaths.

1795. A T Beanfort, in South Carolina\% 0.76 .1 in lis $f$ fin year, the Rev. Matenes: 「are. In his will there was the follownic parasraph: "1 eninoin it upon my execumer to publith it in all the newspape:s in Chatle -town, that 1 dupirted this life modur the full perfoufion, that, if I dic! in portethen of a flave, I thoald not conceive myfalf admumble into the kingdom of haven."
1796. Fel.... At Fulliam, at a very advanced ase, stephan jermy", ffy. iord of the manor of pembrokes, in luteaham patill, co. Midulefex.

Niach I5. At Fant-au-Prince, in St. Doming", of the fever which has been fo fatal there, Major Burvi 1 , of the 6 6threg.
-fpil ... At Buthon, in New England, Thomas kuifell, tig. -The mon hanonathe teflamen torte merits of wis: gentleB. 13 is convey.d in the following extract ". a beter fom a worthy l'r folme at Can-

1796.] Obituary of remar kable Perfons; with Biografhical Anecdotes. 525

teemed public character in this metronolis: "In a letter, dated Feb, 20, you recommend the laying-ouf of the fom of 50 . annu lly for new and valuable books; and f.y that it wouk not be amifs to confult the liberalminded Ratfell, the Macenas of the arts and fciences, on the fubject. Alas! the liberal-minded Ruffell is no more! He died about ten days $b$ fore your letter came to hand, more regretted by the univerfal publick of thefe tates than anv mam ever was fince the fettlement of the country. Every man's countenance $\mathfrak{n}$ as exprefive of this fentiment, "I have loit a friend!" This was the fentiment in every man's mouth in the capital: "Bolton never mot with fuch a lofs in the death of any individual!'" I neyfelf join in the general fentiment, that there could hippen but one death in the United States which would be eonfidered a greater lofs to the comptry, and that is Wathington's. The condnct of the citizens of Bofton evinces the juitnefs of my remark; for, although Mr. Ruffell was not in any oflice of the government, but a private citizen, yet the civic honours paid to his memory were greater than were ever known among us. On the day of his funeral, the cutizens of $B$, thon fofpended their ordinary occupations, clofed all their fhops and fores in the town and wareheufes on the quass; the fops hoifted their coluurs half-mat high, and the theatre was Thut up, while a fort of gtoony amazement pervaded the whole city. The nive fociet.es of which he was prefilent preceded the corpfe, while fuch a concourfe of mourners followed it as was never feen at a funeral in this country. Thefe expretfions of mourning were not becaufe he was the sichett man amongit us, but becaufe he was the beft. Befides the eningies from ale moft every pulpit in the capital, feven focieties, of whach he was rither prefi ent or member, appointed an orator sor the purpofe of pronouncing a patticular eulogium. 1 was froken to by feveral indivifuals for that effice; my anwer was, "I may pof. fibly zorite what you with, liot I am crotain I never can delimer at." They theretore apponnced my colleagtae, Dr. W.arsen, who promounced at lad week, to a crowded athdience, in one ef war largent prablic baldings. And it hould not befafjazed if they erect a monmwent to lat memcry, io dearly was this gond atan baloved, and f , deforous are the peopte of honourmeg the virtues of Thomas Rwifel. In the rublic tofs a finother my own, a far as potible; but I that mif h:min ahmolt every turn in thas rageed road of 1 fe. In fome things lite was my fulctum. As an areeable firond and ac:quant:nice, his lots 1.5 , 13 ma and my family, meparatele. His death was rather fudden. Hic had been dronporg for fome montir, but 1till followed his butmefs. Abd at was nov mare dana ten days before bis death that lie was at my homfe at Came be dge. He kept his chamber but a few day's, and dropped off aponlectic. He was $5^{6}$ years old, and is thought to have diod worth 140,0 ol. fterling, atl which he acquired by his owa looneft indutty as a merchant. He was as jodicimuly libersl as he was rich; and, what is nurch to be regretted by the publick, he died without a will. His valt property (for this comutry) wi.l be dividerl, according to our laws, between his widow and his four children. By the next thip I will fend you the puble orition pronounced on thas worthy character, with fome other pieces; toy which you mav fee that this phan private citizen has received honours from a virthous people which a monarch might envy. Mr. Ruffels neglected his healtin hy perfifting in his very active courfe of life when he ought to have relaxed and graduatly retired from buflinefs."

April 5. At Brechin, in Scotland, Mr. Gearge Mercer, fome time of the excife, afterwards a merchant there.
21. At his houfe in Statford-row, Pimlico, aged 89, Richard Yates, efq. the celebrated comedran, in which his fame, in the patts of old and grotefque characters efpecially, was emmently great. He wis remarkable for pure and chaite acting uo to the words of his atathor with a forapulous attention; the more remarkable, as performers of this cait of acting frequently iotroduce their own humomr, with what may be calied the licentia bifrionion of the drama. He excelled alfo in teaching or making an actor, in a higher degree, perliaps, than any one of his time. He was marribd, firft, to a woman who was rich; fecindly, to Mifs Anma-Maria Graham, who mad heen introduced to his tuition by Mr. Garrick, and with him fae firt came on the fiage at Sirminghan. From the admised pen of Mrs. Frances Brooke we have the memoirs of this iddy, recorded in vol. LV11. P. $5^{9} 5$ : and we trave reaton to fay, that, both on and off the fange, fine wefervet the charater there given of hem. Nr. Y. deed foddenly. He had teen we! y well, as ufat, for fome time, and had breakmated heartly. Having ordered ecls for, dimer, when, unforitabasely, they col.13 not be had, his warm and hifty temper couldill bear the difappointnsent; and from anger ie worked hime felf up tarage. His houfekeener, zealous to preafe him, went out a long way, and bronght fome; ere the returaed, exhanded with tatigut of funs, he had leaned his head apon the table, and line found hum deat. He was born ia London. His brother's grandion, Lieut. Thomas Yates, of the navy, is his nearef recation, a ad was partly dependent on him:, though his abilithes as a fen-painer are, we are cold, very confiderable, and his works have thated the pubhe appipbution for Some years in the Roy:l Acadeny. His will confifts only of fome for..ps of paper in the polfetfion of Mifs Jones his houfekeeper, who had lived with him eight years. He nout have died very rich, as Mrs. Y. h.d realized 8000 . He was hurved, at his nwa defire, by his fecond wife and her f.ther, in the chancel of the church at Richmond in Surrey.
23. Aged 8 r , John Huft, efq. of $\mathrm{Clu:rt}$, near Rotherham.
24. Sudtenly, aged fig, at the docr of his houfe, Georze Rawlinton, efy of Gie t Mary-la Bonne-9reet, Pouthnd-pla:e. He had been ailing a few days, an on the evening of that day (Sundiy) walked ort for the air, having complaned of a f tering about the heart. On his return, he fell down and died; when his bexly was opened, no caufe was difocered; has heal and vifcera were found, and without any confiderable extravafation. He was a lothy man and thort-necked, of an apoplectic form. He moft prob bly died of a pa fm , or paroxyfm, from fever neglected One of his filiends remembers a fimliar accident befel him ten years ago, in lis way home from a neighbur's houfe, where he nfed to fmoke his pipe, when, hy care, he foon recovered. He married the witow of an ironmanger near Oxford chapel in Oxfordfreet, where he was a hopman fome years ago. She died in 1794, leaving no ch:1dren. Mr. R dical, it is faid, poffeffed of rents, &c. worth 600 l . a year. His fortune defcends to his brother, a fmith, who fucceeded him in his fhop, and is now of Nottingham-freet, near Mary-la-Bonne church, and has clilldren.

May 1. it Enfield, Mrs. Woodcock, widow of the Rev. Dr. W. Lite vicar of Watford, \&c. She was buried at Weit Haddon, co. Nerthampten, the advowton of which belonged to her brother, who intended it for one of her fons, who diad hefore he was of age to take it. Her hufband was horied there in $1799^{\circ}$.
13. At Kirkwhe!pineton, co. Northamberland, aged $\mathrm{rO}_{3}$, Whi. Stephenfon.
14. At Heningford-Ahbot:s, co. Huntinglon, Mrs. Staftiod, wife of the Rev. Thomas S. of the fame place.

Aged 72, Mi. Sinubl Clensent, an eminent farmer, of Chaveiton, wear Bath; an honeit, inoftenfive man, who, during his whole life, had leen bat once (and that was to Binacre fair) above feven miles, and rarely two miles from his native place, beng conftantly occupied in the bufinefs of a lange farm.
16. At Geife, co. Caithnef, George Sinctair, eft.

At Slscllow-granse, near Doncafter, in his 6oth yeur, Ciodfircy Hisgins, eiq.
18. After a few diys illnet, at his houre in Great Rufici-ftr. Bloom ©omy, of which parelh he had been cutan 34 years, the

Rev. Thomas Panl, fon of the Rev. Tho. B. of Kingfiere, fonts, at which place he was burn May 25, 1721; being defcended from the antient family of the B alls, orignality of Axminter, and aferwards of is mhead, ir: Devonthire; one "f whom, Sir Peter B, was recorder of Exeter before the C'furpatim. He recerved his education on the foundation at Wincheffer, and, in the year 1740, procected thence to New-col-ge, Oxford. He mary ed a datghter of Richad Palfreyman, of Bu unn, co. lincoln, hy whom he it do a daughter, now matried to the Rev. Gerand dudtwer, of Blomboury. Sa 175 the went tolwide at O.khatm, in Rutianhaire, as mifaut to Mr. Accock, then natler of the foheot there; in November, $175=$, was chofen warden of the hofrital in shat place; and, on the death of Mr. Accock, in $17 \%$, was a candidate for the mailerfhip of the fchooi, which was obtained hy Mf: Powell. In Mach, 1753 , he was prefoted, hy sir jom Donvere, bart. and Thom is ivoel, efq. ©rmées named in the will of Bensett Earl of Harhorongh, to the havig of Whafendine, ia the fame county- In $175^{5}$. he was m:ter of the free-fhool at Molton Mowhray, which he refigned in 1757 . In Jay, ifor, he was pretented to the invirg of Burky-on-theH!ll; and, in the Octuber following, to the rectory of Wymondham, in Leicefer?hire; where, having done much for himfolf and fuccetfors, by fetting afide a pietended modus, and raifing the value of the hiving by no means beyond what was juft and equitalle, he coobl forcely ever appear, whanor receiving thofe infuls which the Clersy too ofien experionce on fimitar occificals. (See the Hiftory of Leicefterthire, vol. II. pp. $258,405,455$ ). In 1766 he was inftilled a prelendary in the cutiegiate-church of Erecon. This preferment is in the gift of the Bimop of St. David's, but by lanfe then fell to the Lord Chancellor Northington. Mr. B. mide ap. plicaton for it thrugh the late Earl of Wincheifer, who (on Mr. B's wating on Fim to know the friccefs of his vifit to the Chincelior) told hum that he had done all in has pawer for lam, but Aal rectiven' a denial, the probend being engaged. Ahout two months after, when the Last of Northington was sions to be fuiceeded by Farl Camden, and the prebend wasf \&ill undifpofed of, Mr. B. waited in perfon on Lord N. and exprefied bis bope that it might fill be bis; addar, that lie trefted the recommendation of Lord W'iaclielfea wond entute him to notice. " Ifis recommendation "" faid lord N. ; " he has never faid a fyllable to me either aboot you or the prehend; bur, as I cannot naw gise it you myif, I whll hand you over to Pratt ; appiy to $\mathrm{b}: \mathrm{m}$, and I will lend you my afiitance." He dulin; and Mr. B. fuccecited. Suon afer, Löd Wiachelifa met hum, and, exprefling his furprize at his appointment, alked him, in a tone not very expreflive of friendlinir, how he could polfibly lave obtained it? "I got it," repliesl Mr. Pall, "わy really afking, and not receiving a denial." In 1775 he was chofen lecturer of st. George', Floomblity, wholr, with the curacy, he held to the day of his detth. He was yoffelfed f great wetivity both of miad and body, and was a friking exmmple of the benefit which may he derived to both by proper and regutar exertions. As a com. pathon, he was cla arfut ant! entertaining ; as a man, frict'y whervant of the focial duties; and, as a parith prieft, mon jutily entitled to a vety liah t? gree of piaife $f$ 少 his uremiting ditiseace and puntratiy in the faithfol difctarge of all the offices of religion.
20. At Ripley, in Surrey, in her 92d year, Mrs. Fellud.
21. At the fame place, age? 72, Mrs. E. White, widow of Mr. Janes W.

Aged 70 , Mrs. Wrigit, wife of Mr. Thonas $W$. fene an opulent $\hat{f}$ rmer at Cuthri'se, near Witnev, co. Oxford.

At Horncafle, co Lincoln, Mrs. Midd?eton, wife of Mr. Erainus M. of that place, whote mit-d ages amounted to upwards of 175 years.
22. At Ipfitich, Mrs. Hatisy, relict of James H. efq.

At Worceiter, ared 62, In. Packer, efq.
23. At Stratford-green, co. Files. Divid Wa'ker, efq. in the commition of the peace for the county of Middlefex.

At Edinhurgh, after a fhort illnaf, aged 86, Right Hom. Primrofe L.dy Lovat.

In the workloufe at Durham, ased 85, Thomas French, well k oown in that ciry, for the laft fix or feven years, by the fictitious thie of Dukse of Ratublemire *, which, $0^{\prime \prime}$ the seclise of his underfanding, he affuroed, and whorein be feemed to have ereater pride thin any peer of the realm ad aned with a real one. He wore a ftar comprod of pieces of cioth of different culnur, or of painted paper, on the beaft of his fpencer, a cock ide in his hat, and feveral brafs curtain-rings on his fingers. He was fo enthufi ftically enraptured with his vifionary disuty as to imagine that he had frequent correfpondences with the King on the fuhjest of raifing men, cerrying on the war, and other important matte's of ftate.
24. At Valentine, the infant fon of Mr. Charles Cameron.

* We remember, in a neighbouring county, a worthy gentleman of an antient famtly and liarge fortune, who, in the wandering of his mind, thought himfelf Duke of Hexham, and whofe affumed title was engraved on las door, and remained fo for many days at his town-houfe in Hert-ford-ftreet, May-fair.

At Blyth, co. Nottingharn, Mrs. M. fon, wife of the Rev. Ylward M. of thet place, and fitter to Lasly Cope, of Bomkillpark, HLants.
2F. At Tooting, Surrey, Mifs Marv Dodwe:l, youmseft d ug'ter of the late R onert D. cfy . of D Sturs Cummens.
=6. In his 534 year, Jacob Sawbriuge, c!c. Iate licutenai t-- olonat of the firit troog ot gremalier-nume's.

At his loilghiss in Notingham, after a fevere illnefs ot five weeks, fwha Bilby, gent. fon of the late Rev. Mr. B. of the: towa.

A: Elmiey-cafile, Mrs. Jones. She was hinta in the year 1701 , in the reign of King William.

4t Witney park-houfe, in an advanced age, after a long and rael.ancholy illnefs, Mrs. Bum, relict of Mr. John B. farmer.
At his hure, $\mathrm{N}^{\circ}{ }_{3}$, Beiford-row, after a few days :Hhef, Samuel Dennifon, efq. of Harrow Wield Common, a comminioner of bankropts.
27. At Puplar, en Midelefex, Angis M'Nah, efq. late commander of the Henry Dundas Eaft Indiaman.

At Mancl: fer, Alexander Eafon, M. D. About a fortuight ago, as he was going to vifit a patient, the horfe he rode, though moving at an eafy rate, made a violent tharable: and the doctor's fudden exation, to fave him from falting, save an injury to the fpiual bonercyond the reich of recovery.

After a foot indifpoftion, aged 26, Mrs. Diewry, wife of Mr. D. printer of the Derby Murcm:

Mr. samuel Tallents, atorney, of Newark, c". Nottingham.

Aced 21 , Mifs Nichol!, of Clough-houfe, near Ha deasfell, co. York.

In the prime of 1 :fe, moft tenderly beInved and d- eply rezaetted, Mrs. Pennington, wire of Dr. Cluries P. of Nottingham.

Suddenly, Mr. William Wright, coact.maker, in Long-acre, confin and fucceffor to the late Mr. Joln W. of that place.
28. At Withich, aged 72, Mr. Fra. Edfon, many years plumher and glazier there.

In his $33^{d}$ vent, after a long illnefs, which he hore with more than ufual fortitude, Hew Hansitrect, of Liverpool, M.D. He has 1 itan univerfal good character.
29. At his hrufe at Gravefend, Kent, Mr. Johm Ward, hrewer.

At Sc. Alhain's, Herts, Mrs. Vander Meulen, wife of Jofeph Vander M. efq. of Toker:-houfe-yard, merchant.

On his road to Bath, after a very long and painful illnefs, the Rev. Edw. Stretch, fellow of C. C. C. Ox.

Suddenly, at the Red Lion inn at Maidenhead, aged $6_{7}$, by the ruptare of a bloodveffel, Mrs. Brockman, widow of Mr. Wm. B. Iate of Henley, co. Oxford.

At Leicefter, Mr. Robert Hall, a lieute. nant in the Loyal Leicefter Volunteer Infantry, a man unverfelly effeemed. He waskithed hy: blow on t!'e ls at dumater an affray on the $2 \mathrm{f}^{\text {th }}$, ar the ime हie patuzans of the iveral c ondilanes for that borourh met on their consas 16 High Erofolleer, of which lee lingu fled tall the 2gtit, when Jo expired. Ont ine 3 noth, an inquet was hed on the body, whicir enga, ed the comet zo bours. Furty-five sieponitans wer le ceived; and a verdict given of Manflaughter as inft J hum Dive Rof, jun. and Thoms Buknt. The iny we.e affifted on the cxambatio: by Sholey ferkins, efq. h.rnfer at law, ton nf S S. P. efq. of Ortin on-the-Hill, at genteman whofe abilities ate inft: held in the higheft tion ard ineprti.s comuct, stme'ft a great mafs of contradici,iy evidence, was of the utmoft importance to the jary and tise puhlik.

5ะB Obituary of remar Aable Perfons; with Biographical Anecdotes. [Jane,

Suddenly, of a fever, at hiv houfe in Rahell-fteer, Covent-faden, Mr. Jofeph Latgnead, lmilh and patan! grate m ker, forner'y of Gofwell-Prect, non fommer. 30. Mrs. Line, widow of the la e john E. gent. in the Hoffe fair, Eanbury, co. Oxford; a lady very much refpected for lier riany amiahle atras.
31. At Eimb. Jas. Voir, efo. advocate. Aged 64, in Harcourt place, Dublin, the Rf. Hon. Whllam Burton Conyngham, one of lis Majeity's noft lanourable pavy council, teller of the exahequer, and che of the conminibners for executing the ufice of nigh treaforer in Ireland titafurer of the kojal lrith Acudery, F. A. S. lond. brother of the te Fract - tienpmint Burton, burn Cooynglan (f the of the pacfent Vifount C.), and uphew of Henty Earl C. 11 comph ance with whole will he took the name of Conyn; ham ; and uncle to the frefent lond. to whom his eitates devolve. Our readers will iectlicet him as the munifucnt patron of Ar. Musphy, in bis jountey to, and defeription of, the monaftery of Batalha, which Mr. C. had bimfelf whitod, and made fome iketches of, with two othor gentlemen who accompanied him in his tra els through Portugal, $\mathbf{7 7 8 3}$. "Thefe fketches, which are very corrce repretentations of the oligmal, save Mr. Mifo hiflo an wea of that buidning as to excite in him an earaef defueto vifit it; and M1. C. having generonly oifted him his patronage and fupport, he fet out from Dublin in a tratheg vetlel, and arri. ved at Oporto in |anu.ay: $\mathbf{- 8 0 \text { ." Mr. M. }}$ concludes his preface with "acknowleng.ng his ohig tions to this gentleman, ly whofe munificence he was enablided to canty on his work. The Portugnefe have too much gratitude not to add their acknowlegements to him atfo for having made known the merits of this inimutable fitucture. The honour of prefcntiag it to the world was referved for a private gentleman, a native of Ireland, who, induced by no other motive than a love of the fine arts, and a with for tire advancement of fience, has exprided opuards of IEcel in refoung this noble edifie from e obfcurity in which it has bain conseded for ages I have taken the 'berty to ded cate the work to him, in confolei.t! a uf lis exemplay liberality, and as an formale teftintony of my everl.ttil g grantude atw refpect." ro the ded:cat:n " pred at potratt of Mr. C. pounted ho cunt, and enrraved by schiavontta. Mr C. Gohfrrthed for ten copies of the work. treland wall feellierfe'f indebted $\therefore$ M. C tor the inflitusion of a Sonste of Antiguarie: 1700 , confilling of himb. If os prefid ot, Mr. Atchull, author of the lrisl: Monait con and Paerase, Mr. "Contur the dhfer: tor, Cul. Val': ncey the am zong etymologit. Ir. Ellic, a plyfi tan, who cit red a Gorery of Natur.l Hiftory. Mr. Leswich, and Mr. Beaufond. Ihang "lent on viry well thll Gov. lounall adernfid a letter to them, "tich Mr. Ledivic: ...fevered in the "Collectanea ilth rma," $\mathrm{N}^{\circ} \mathrm{Xl}$; and y . e e hively, jocul a way in which he then wrote, offended Col. V: who exp.tilited hmm rom his Coltectane.t, if diom ficicty wh ch immediatel ceated. Had thi faciety held togethet, we m.sht hate expatod it :o ha* engrated adilln'tr ted hat for d of drawnss if lift ant guen stom the time of the Dind to the Refommon, wh.ch Nir. C. w, then mokng at a gisat expeme, whinh le was reaty to cummonicatro t" evcij po lon whofe purfus were congenal wht has ost, and which we lup he has taken 1 me methures torender purpetnil; under the chathes of views and phans of cafles and aboess, Dradic.t and Datish temanns, dawa by J. J Barmatet and Michaci-Atigelo, Bigai, deserca, G. Bernger, Jum Fifher, Col. Valancey, Hemy Pellan, Lond Cillow, j. C. Buer, R. Kencrick, Smanel H.yes, efq. Thomas French, and $\mid$ Ralion.

At Hull, in his 58 th year, Mr. Thomas Wafneq.

Mr. John Tiaves, of Shepherd's-cont, Manclefter, tice only chitd of his mother, who had heen a widow from his mancy. Under her fofering care his mental m provenents, both in fcience and bufinefs, had a freted the warnelt expertations of has friends This promming youth had juit enteled upon bufnef: under very fattering profitict if fuccefs, and was preparing to repay the offlution of has parent, by a grateful and datiful attention to relieve the infirmties of declinng years. Complaining. of a tooth-ach he lett his warehoufe on Fiblay the 27th; but a putrid fore brought on mortificaton, which catied him off the following Tut iday, in lus $23^{d}$ year.
${ }_{4}$ atcly, at Litmore, in Iretand, aged 106 years and 6 months, Mr. Henzy Sroith.

1796.] Dbitusry of remarkabie Perfons; with Biographical Ancciotes.

At Cork, Sir John Franklin, one of the aldermen of that cily.

In Molefworth-ftreet, Dublin, ThnmasSamuel Lindiay, eff. majur of the South Mayo regiment of milutia.

At lis lodgings in Capel-freet, Dublin, Sack ville Gardiner, efy. uncle to Lord Vircount Mountioy.

At Pondicticrry, where he cummanded, Lieut.-col. Stirli: g, of the 74 th regiment.

At Salfette, an illand in Bombay harbour, where he went to make drawi"gs, Mr. Wales the artift.

In the Weft Indies, Capt. M'Iver, of the Zebra floop of war.

Aged 21 years and 3 months, Mifs Lucinda Bathee, a yoong lad'y of great perfonsl beauty and accomplifhments. Her remains were interted in the Abhey-church at Bath. She was deftined to lie the wife of the Hon. Hugh Lindfay, brother to the Earl of Balcarras and to the Countefs of Haddwicke; and her talents, education, and porthor, would have dignified tuch rank. A cold caught one rainy evening laft fummer, produced fo fevere an infammation on lar langs as to batfle the beft medical fkill and the te:der attention of her relatives. The bandfome fortme intended for this young laly her father moft generonfly prefented, at her seceafe, tis the gentleman to whom the was betiothed.

Much regretted, Mifs Grace Pearce, of Lanteglus, near Fowey, whofe mother was buried a few days before.

At Neath, in Glamorganfhire, William Baffet, efy.

At lbftock, aged 45, Mr. John Wight.
Aged 70, Mr. Boytield Bowers, farmer and grazier, of Wigtoft, co. Lincoln.

Mr. Lane, mafter of the Duke's Head at Oakham.

At Peterborough, Mr. Whitehead, farrier. He was untortunately afflicted with a cancer in hi, throat, which he bore a great length of time with much fortitude.

In Webb's hofpital at Ruf, aged 96, Betty Virgo, widow. Two days before her death fhe was fo well as to be at market with a piece of cloth the had made, and retained her faculties till within a few bours of her deceafe.

Mh. Wation, fen chemift, of Cambridge.
At her houle at Oakhampton, co. Devon, Mrs. Frances Eaftabrooke, mother of Capt. Juhn E. in the E. India Company's fervice.

After a few hours illnefs, at his huofe at Wchls, co. Somerfet, Maurice Lloyd, efq.

At Falmouth, in her 67 th year, after having fultained a lingering and painful illnefs, Mrs. Mry Finx, relict of Mr. George Crocker F. merchant. Her nuemory will long furvive in the minds of thofe numerous connexions and friends who enjoyed the pleafures of lier fociety, and coultantly experierced the effects of a difpoftiwn kind, hofpitable, and affectionate ; of a heart generous, fincere, and truly henevolent. Her Iofs is extremely lamented by the poor, to whom the was a chearful and hiberal difpenfer from the afluence which Heaven had beftowed upon her.

At Briftol Hot-wells, Mrs. Sutton, wife of Dr. S. phy fician to the forces, and daughter of the late Mr. Ellicott, clock aud watch-maker of the Royal Exchange.

In an atvanced age, M'. Alfton, of Nayland, near Ipfwich, an eminent attorney.
In her $4^{\text {th }}$ year, at the houfe of her affectionate parents, in Oxford, Mifs ElizaAnne Mackworth, fecond daughter of Sir Digby M. bart.
At Ditchtord, co. Worcefter, Mr. Joha Phillips, an eminent grazier.

Mrs. Fabling, wife of Mr. F. of Stapleford, co. Leicefier.

Charles Clarke, eff. of Grantham, co. Lincoln.

Mr. Baker, B. A. fellow of King's-colleze, Cambridge.

At the Hotwells, the Rev. Rich. Burleigh, of Radjentey, near Lymington.

At Alford, co. Lincoln, in his 49th year, the Rev. Henry Coliton, M. A. rector of Billerby, and vicar of Ulieby, both co. Lincolo ; the former in the patronage of the Catheural Church of Southwell, the latter in the gift of the Crown. He was formerly feilow of Stuney-college, Cambridge; B. A. $1-68$; M. A. 1772.

Rev. John Marh, rector of Dikilburghe, co. Norfolk. The living is in the gift of the mafer and fellows of Trinity college, Cambridge, and worth 6 ol. per annum. Mr. M. was admitted to the degree of B. A. in 1-6., M.A. 1765 ; and was late fellow of Trinity-college.

At Scarto ough, the Rev. Edward Belf, rector of Rempifon, co. Nottingham, forw merly of Sidney-colege, Cambridge, which Sociery are patrons of the rectory.

At Bath, after a tedious illnefs, the Rev. George Hunter, M. A. fellow of Chrift's college, Cambridge; B.A. 1783 , iv. .A 1786; in which univerfity he ferved the oftice of junior proctor in 1792.

At his rectory-houfe at Puiborough, Suld fex, of the gout, the Rev. Harvey Spragge, F.A.S. of Trinity-college, Cambridge; B. A. 1744 , M. A. $174^{8}$. The living is in the giftot the Earl of Egremont; but this turn was purchafed by Mrs. Eleanor Spragge, 1759, for her fon. He married, firft, the daughter of the late Dr. Oliver, of Bath (whofe fifter married Sir John Pringle); and, fecondly, Mifs Marriot, of Darfield, co. York, who furvives.

Aged near 70, Mrs. Penfold, wife of Mr. P. of Kingiton-"pon-Thames.

Mrs. Emlyn, wife of Mr. E. of Johnftreer, Gray's-inn-lane, and fifter of Mr. Iohn Collier, late an eminent afothecary of Londin (formerly Devaynes and Collier, cornet of King-fireet, Cheapfide), and widow of the Rev. Mr. Gibhons, brother of the late Dr. G.

$53^{\circ}$ Obituary of remarkable Perfons; with Biegraphical Anecdotes. [June,

Mr. Nathaniel Howe, chemift and druggift in Weft Smithfield.

Yure 1. At Croydou, Surrey, Mrs. Franses Sharp, vife of Mr. Rich.rd S.

Afer a very font illneis, in an advanced ase, Mr Jolin Colling, of Wursy, cor. Oxford, blanket and tilt manufacturer, whe, having acquired a decent competency, retired fome years afo.
ln Red Lion fquare, of a decline, Mr. Ifaac Bence, jun. merchant, of Erithl.

Aged 74, Mrs. Hutchinfon, of the Mar-tet-place, Hell.
2. At has houfe in New Burlingtcii-1t:. George Medley, efq.

At Bayfwater, Mis. Oldfield.
Aged 45, Mr. Anthony Hutchinfon, of Lincoln, miliwright.

At Rickiry-park, Bucks, in his 6th ye:r, Malter George-Jolin Sulliran, only fon of John S. $\mathrm{e}^{\text {ry }}$.

In his arth vear, the Rev. Charles Eyre, rector of Grove and Headon, in the connty of Nottingham.
3. At Banbury, co. Oxford, Mr. John Grimes, landlord of the King's Head, commonly called "The Cafe is altered."

In his 84 !', year, the Rev. John Blackburn, M. A. vicar of Boffall and Weftow, both co. York; the former in tio gift of the Dean and Chapter of Daiham; the laterer in that of the Arclabishop of York.

At his apartnents in Park-itrect, Grove-nor-fquare, Capt. Jofeph Irice, late m.rne paymatter and naval itorekeeper in the Euft India Company's fervice at Kengat.

At Burton, in Kendal, aged 103 , Mrs. Anne Bickerfeth, widow of Nir. Jaraes B. late of that place, furgeon and apotiesaty. She retained her bodily and mental facnities till ber death, and walked down ftairs from her bed-chamber to her parlour the day the died, She always went to bed and rofe very early.
4. At his houfe in Queen-fquare, Briftol, John Grenley, e'q.

After a lingeing illnefs, Mr. muel Firmin, of the Strand, button-maker to their Mrefties and Royal Family.

At Wiriter, co. Dethy, in confequence of a fall from wis horie, aged 28 , George White, etq.

Aged 54, Mr. Samuel Robinfon, of Melbourn, co. Derb;, many years a deacon of the General Baptift church there.

At Maidenhead, of a violent tever, aged $3 \mathrm{I}, \mathrm{Mr}$. Fullwaffer, furgeon and apothccary. His father and grand-father had been fettled there in the fame line of bufnefs; and his brether, from Stamford and Eufie!d, fucceeds.

In Aldermsmbory, ared 73, Mrs. Townes, mioker of pluabers and ghaziers tools; of which bufnefs there is but one more ia Londan.
5. The Rev. John Boldero; rector of Ampron, co. Stiffolk; while officiating at a fumerel he was foddenly taken ill, and died within 12 hours. The living is in the gift of Lord Calthorpe.

At Invernefs, much and juftly regreited Mrs. Frafer, of Farraine.

A: Inverlcithen manfe, the Rev. Robart Scott, minifter of that parish.

At Cullin, Eaft Lothian, Mrs. Aitken, lately from Jamaica.
6. At lishoufe in New College-lane, Oxford, in his $85^{\text {th }}$ year, Mr. Daniel Prince, many years an eminent bookfeller there; whofe lofs will he feverely felt by many perions u ho were the ohjects of his bounty, and by all thofe whot had the happinefs to enjoy his friendithip. His communications to our Mifcellany were frequent and curious. Our lootical Department in April was enriched liy hm with fome valuabie verfes by Mr. T. Warton; and our prefent month by a political poem of Lord Hervey's, originally printed in t!e firf ecition of Doddey's Poems, but with hawn before publication, as it was fuppofed to be two perfonal for the time. During the long period of his heing manage: of the Univer-fity-preís, many valuable publications of courfe paffed under his fuperintendance. Thofe in which he moft prided himfels will the feen in the following lift, which he lately tranfmitted to tis as a curiofity :
"Blackfone's Magn:s Cata," $1759,400$.
" Marmora Oxnu:enfia," 1763 , fol.
"Lifteri Synopis Conchyliorum," 1770 , fol.
"Blackftone's Commentaries," 4 vols 4 to. 3 editions, 1770 , &c.
"Kennicott's Hebrew Bible," 2 vols. fol. 1776.
"Ciceronis Opera," 10 vols. $4^{\text {to }}$ 1784;
"Bradley's Ohfervations and Tables," all printed in 1788 , not publifhed in 1796. (See Analytical Review, May, 1796.)
Mr. Prince maried a fifter of Dr. Hayes.
James Fenoullet, efq. fon of Sr Peter F. and late one of the cierks to the Board of Controul for Iodia Affairs.

In has goth year, after a long ilnefs, Mr. Thomas Tayler, mafter of Lloyd's coffee-houle, Royal Exchange.

At her houfe in Sloane-ftreet, Knightfbridge, of a cancer in her breaft, the Counters of Suliex, fecond wife to the prefent Earl, and daughter of Jn. Vaugan, efig. of Briftel.

Mrs. Honnby, keeper of the coffee-room at St. James's palace, one of the oldeft fervants belonging to his Majefty.
7. Mr. Henry Elaine, cue of the aldermen of Huntingdon.

At Nuttingham, fuddenly, Mr. S. Greenfmith. The circumflances attending his 1796.] Obitua: y of remarkable Perfons; wish Biographical Anecdotes. 531 diffolution were very aweful: he got out of his bed early in the morning, went down in his fhirt to the door next the freet, and called out aloud to the neighbours that his hour was come; went up fairs again, jumped into bel, and expired in a few minutus afterwards.

Mr. Thomas Skelton, merclaant, of Sifelane, C.mmon-ftreet.
8. At her hovife in Sloane-Itreet, Knightfbridge, in lier 8 -th ysar, Mrs. Haris, widow of Thomas H. cly. formerly one of the mafters in chancery.

At Farmsfield, advanced in years, Amns Shaw, gent.
5. In Tichfield Areet, Mary-la-Bonne, after a long and painfid thets, Mrs. Sarith Bourchier, cldeft daughter of the late R. B. efy. formerly governom of Bombay.
ro. Dropped down in an spopleetic fit, in Caftle-Itreet, in the borougls of southwark, and expired immediately, Mr. Perry, of London, furveyor.
11. A: Bedwell-park, Lherts, in his 76 th year, Samuel Whithrtad, efq.; whofe abrlities, integritv, benevolence, and puhlic fpirit, will tranment bis character with refpect to the lateft pofterity. His fither was a yooman of Bedfudine, who lived at the Barns at Cadragton. in that county, on an eftate of about 2001 . per annum, which devolved to his eldett fon, who much improved it by building, and fpent mach of his time at is after he purchafed Bedwellpark. He is rid to have died worth a million at leaf ; the bulk of which he has bequeathed to his fon. He was half-trether to Ive W. efq. hardwareman, of CamonEtreet, and fheriff of London with Mr. Becktord, in i755. By his firit wife, Harriet, danghter of - Haytor, an erninens attorney, of London, whom he married in 1757, and who died in 1764, he has left iffue a fon, S:in. 'el, gentlemancommoner of Chrift Curch, Oxford, and reprefentative of the town of bedford in feveral parlaments aher his father gave it up, and two daughters; the clueft married, 1789 . to James hordon, jam. efq. of Mare-palk, Herts; the younger, Emma, to Henry Eeauchamp Lord St. john of Eletfo, 1780. Mr. W. marred 10 his fecond wife, 1769 , Lady Mary, youngeit daughter ot the late Earl, and fifter to the prefent Marquis, Cornwallis, who died in 1770 , in shilubed of an only daugher, masied, in Juae, 1795 , to Cait. George Grey, late of the Koyne man of wa!, of 98 gurs (lee vol. LXV. p. 433), thard fon of Sir Cliantes G. K. K. and nephew of Sir Harry G. bart. whie fifer was married in 1788 (lee vol. LVIII. p. 82), to the prelent Mr. W. and hy whom he las levelal chidren. His exterfive eliablifhments in the brewery were long univaled, and perhaps, to a sertan pornt, remain fo ftill, and excoted tire eavy eyen of a puet, who frates dut reyalty, though, in this inftance of his fatire, he bas perpetuated a compliment to the fovereign and the man of malt by coupling them together. (Of the royal vifit fee our vol. LVII. p. 633). Mr. W's liberal charity will be witneffed by every parifh where he had property, and in the clitribution of has privatis benevolence, which is find to have exceeded 300 cl . per annom; for ao poper application met with a, repulfe; and to bis honour let it here be recorded, that, foveral years hefore his death, he rettled on St. Luke's Horpital for Lunaticks a perpetual rent-charge of one hundred gnineas, payable out of his ex. tenfive premifes in Chitwell-ftreet. As a fenator, he maintamed his independence and integrity, his walk through life being uniform and unoftentations. His fpeech on the mequatity of the hand-tax, in which he mentioned his eftres in the counties of Lincoln and Leicetter, may be feen in vol. XLVIII. p. 197 ; th a corn-hill in relief of a great fearcity, 1788 , LVAlI. 110 ; on the loan of that year, ibid. $73^{6}$; on the evation of the recetpt-tax, 1.11. 474, 619.

At his houfe at Mitemend, in his 73 d year, the Rev. Samuel Brewer, 13. D. 50 years paitur of the Independent Congregation of Diffenters at S:epney.

Aged 54, Mr William Clapole, an eminent farmer at Eelten, Rut!am.

Mr. L. Atterbury, of Marham-itreet, Weitminiter.

In his $2: d$ year, John Swainfton, efq. of York.

After a fhort illnefs, Mrs. Gardner, widow and relict of Joleph G. efa. of Hatton freet, nttorney.
12. At W'alworth, Surrey, in his 83th year, Alexander Shirreff, efq. former!'y of Craigleitl, near k:dmburgh, and father of Mr. Charles S. of bath, miniature painter, who, with the firlt talents in his art, is remarkable for theing deaf and dumb, and, merely by the motion of the lips, can dif over what is faid to him. He can hardly be faid to be dumb, as he can articulate words nowly and diftinctly, but in a ftrong and manly voice; and allo can converfe with his intimates, by pointing to the joints of his fingers, with wonderfint adroitnefs.

At Stone, co. Stafford, Mr. Tho. Wright, brother of the late sir Sampfon W.

Aged $2, the Rev. Thomas Dickenfon, vicar of Tarvin, and in the commiffion of the peace for Chethire.

The Lavy of Sir Henry Hay Macdougall, bart. of Makerfton.
13. Mr. John Cooper, undertaker, &c. in Great Daftcisap, fenior mhabitant of the parifh, and of cindlewick ward.

In a fit of anoplexy, at Swarkfon, aged 40, Mr. Eramus Stevens, of Derby, veterinarian.

Aged 74, Mr. Wm. Simpfon, of New Northaftreet, Red Lion fquare.

At Ripley, on. Derby, in his 103d year, John Wizzal. He commenced foldier in his 16th year, and continued in the King's fervice till he was boneurably difcharged on account of his age; and enjoyed, till within a fhort time of his ceath, an uninterrupted good ftate of health.
14. At Chatham, aged about 80 , much lamented and refpected, Mrs. Ruttin, a wrdow lady of genteel iortune. former'y of Deal, and mother of Mr. Willianu Lovell R. furgeon and apothecary, of that town.

At h's houfe in Abingdon-ftreet, Weftminfter, in lis 70 th year, the Rev. Themas Cole, LL.K. vicar of Dulverton.

In Tufton-ftreef, Dean's-yard, Wefminfter, Mrs. Jane Dilhington.

In his 73d year, the Rev. John-Jacob Oake, rectr of Bluntifham, near St Ives, in Huntingionthire, and formerly fellow of Trinity-collige, Cambridge, where he proceailed B. A. 1744 , and M. A. 1749. The rectory, worth socl. a year, is in the gift of the Bithop of Ely.

Mifs Mates. This young lady, u ho was univer!atly refpeRed, left England for Jamaica in 793 , and was to have returned thes Surumer with her brother-in-law, Major B ley. Otring her tefidence in the Weft Indies fie had the happinefs to conmand equal ad nnration and eftcem. In the month of Deiember laft, from heing heated at a ball, the canght cold, which, fettling on her lunge, beffed the phyfical fkill of that inand; hut Dr. Edwards, of Spanifhtowr, advifing the air of New Yo:k, he emberked for the cominemt of America, and arrived there on the roth of April; finding her diforder ftill increafe, the tow paffoge for England on the 26 th of the fame motili, and arriving in the Thanits Junc 3 , was, with much difficulty, conveyed, on lier bed, to the houfe of a friend in the Adelphis, where the languifhed till the $14^{\mathrm{h}} \mathrm{h}$, and expired in the armis of her fifters. She was authon of feveral effays and poetical compofitions; fome of which will probably, at a future period, appear in tl is publication.
15. Mi. John Noiton, fen. an eminent maltiter, of Newaris.
16. At the houfe of her father-in-law, sir George Howard, K. B. in North Aud-ley-freet, agei 41, of a lingering illmefs, Lady Frances Howard, the youngelt daugl:ter of Thomas, lite Earl of Effingham, and Llizaheth, daughter of I'ter Beck ford, efc. She was buried on the 24 th inftant at Bookham, near Leatherhead, in Surrev.
17. Found drowned in the New River at Southgate, aged 96, Mrs. Rofe, relict of Mr . $\mathrm{Ra}^{\prime} \mathrm{h}$, an enirent Hamborough merchant, bat lat'y re-married to Mr. Rofe.

1is Gisfton-fireet, Fitzroy-fquare, Capt. Mande, of the royal navy.
18. At Hc: dingion, in his 6 th year, Mr. Ifin Armbrongh, formerly an opulent farmer at Cuddefien, co. Oxford, and 2 very refpectabie character.

Mr. De Herne, of Stamford-ftreet, Surrey fide of Blackfriers-bridge. He mot bimfelf tprough the head. The caufe of this horrid act, which was perpetrated with a blunderbufs placed below his under lip, and fired upwards, is unk nown. The jury found a verdict of lunacy. He had been formerly an ofticer in the Pruffian fervice.
19. A: Dublin, after a lingering illners, the Lady of Cha. Farran, efq. deputy-clerk of the pleas of the Exc equer in Ireland.
20. At St. Alban's, aged 56 , Martha Veary, 26 years a true and faithf:1 fervant to the venerable clerk of the abbey-church.

Much regretted, Mrs. Stewart, wife of the Rev. Charles S. of Melford, leaving a fam!'y of ten chincren to lament the lofs of an atfechonate parent.

At Bath, W'illiam Brightwell Sumner, efq. of Hatchland, Surre 0 .

In Smithfied, Mir. Guy Warwitk, a refpectable grocer on Suow-hill, and fome years in the common council for Faringdon Withicut.

Aged 7r, Mr. John Mann, farmer, of Deeping St. James, co. Lincoln; and, on the 22d, at the fame plice, in his $8 q^{\text {th }}$ year, Mr. Willam Weldon.
21. At Feckhani-rye, co. Surrey, Mr. 1 faac Whitaker, two ## Gazettefromotions.

${ }_{6}{ }_{6}^{\text {April }} \mathrm{C}$EURGE POWNALL, efq. feertary of the province of Lower Canada, knighted.
15. Geolge-Harry Earl of Stamford, created a haron and earl of Great Britain, hy the title of Baron Delamer, of DuntamMaffey, in the county palatinc of Chefter, and Farl of Warrington, in the county palatine of L ancafter.
29. Robert Auriol Drummond Earl of Kinnoul, and Sir Grey Cooper, bart. fworn of his Majeity's moft hon. privy council.
30. John Cox Hippiney, efy. of War-field-grove, Berks, and recorder of Sudbary, co. Suffolk, created a balonet. Alfo, Wharton Anicotts, eff. of Kettlethorpe-park, co. Lincoln, with remainder, in default of iffue, to William Ingilhy, efq. fecond fon of Dame Elizabeth 1. wife of Sir John I. bart. only daughter and heir-apparent of the faid Wharen Amcotts; - Edmund Cradock Hartopp, efg. of Frithby, or Freeby, co. Leicefter, and of Four Oaks hall, co. Warwick, with remainder to his heirs-male by Ame his now wife, beirefs and fole furvivor of Sir John Hartopp, of Frithhy, or Freeby, aforefaid;-Thomas Turton, efq. of Starborough-caftle, co. Surrey;-and Robert Baker, efq. of Upper Dunftablehoufe, co. Surrey, and of Nicholahayne Culmitock, co. Devon.

May 3. John Yenn, efq. R. A. clerk of the works at the Queen's galace, and fore veynr of Greenwich-hofpital, appointed tre.finerer to the Royal Academy, vice Sir William Chambers, dec.
11. Francis d'Ivernois, efq. knighted.
18. Charles Earl of Northampton, appointed level-lientenant of the county of Nothampton, vice his farber, dec.
28. Charles Lord Hawke bury, Baron of Hawkefbury, co. Gloucefter, prefident of the committee of his Majenty's moft bonuturahle privy council for trade and foreign plantations, and chanceltor of the duchy and county palatine of Lancafter, created an earl of the kingdom of Great Eritais, by the tithe of Earl of Liverpool, in the faid county.

Samuel Baron Hiond of the kingtom of Ireland, ailmiral of the Blue, reasted a vifcount of the kingdrm of Great Pritain, hy the title of Vifcount Hood, of Whisley, co. Warwick.

3r. Francis Earl of Moray, created a haron of the kinglom of Grear Britain, hy the title of Baron Swart, of Cafteftuart, co. Invernefs, ith remainder to the heirsmale of his body, lawfully heratten. Alf', John Earl of Galloway, K. T. by the ntte of Faron Stewart, of Garlies, in the $\mathrm{t}^{2} \mathrm{ew}$ artry of K-rkcuthright:-james Ent of Courtown, of the kiingdom of treland, Knt. of St. Fartich, by the title of Barm Saltersford, of Silerstoru, co. Chefer;-George Earl of Macartney, of the kinghom of heland, K B by the title of Baron Macartney, of "arkhurft, co. Sarref, and of Auchinleck, in the ftewartry of Kirkeudhright; John.Chritopher Burton, Vitcount Downe, of the kingiom of Ireland, by the title of Baron Dawnay, of Cowick, co. York;George Vifcount Midkton, of the kingd $m$ of Ireland, hy the titte of Baron Brodrick, of Pepper Harrow, co. Surrey, with remainder to the heirs-m.le of his late father, George Vifconot Midleton, deceafed;-Alexander Baron Bridport, of the kingdom of Ire'and, K. B. admiral of the White, and vicc-alloviral of Great Britain, by the tite of Baron Brisport, of Cricket St. I homis, co. Someriet ;-Sir John Roure, bart. by the title of Baron Rous, of Denningtor, co. Suffolk; - Sir Henry Gough Calthorpe, b.rr. by the title of Baron Cathorpe, of Cal'horpe, co. Norfolk;-Sir Peter Burrell, bart. by the title of Baron Gwydir, of Guydir, co Car-narvon;-Sir Francis Ballet, bart. by the tithe of Baroo de Dunfanville, of Trehidypark, co. Cornwall ;-Edward Latcelles, efq. by the title of Baron Hirewsod, of Harewood, co. York; - John Rolle, efq. hy the title of Baron Roile, of Stevenitone, co. Devon;-and John Campbell, efq. by the tithe of Lord Cawdor, Baron of Cattlemarrin, co. Pembroke.

Yune r. William Campbell, efq. appointed governor and commander in chief of his Majefty's Bermuda or Somers iflanes, in America, took the oaths appointed to be taken by governors of plantatiems.
6. Edward Cooke, efy. noder fecretary in the miltary department of the chief fecretary's office in Ireland, appointed (by the Lond-lieutenant) under fecretary in the civil departnent of the faid office, vice Hamikon, refgued; and William Elliot, efq. appointed under fecretary in the military deparment, rice Cooke.

Barry Earl of Farnham, and Sackville Hamilton, efg. fworn of his Majefty's molt homemalle privy comeil of Ireland.
8. Wiltam Jenkins, efy. appointed exom to the yeomen of the guard, vice Barker, refigned

1r. Richard. Ellifton Philips, efq. appointed one of his Majeity's commiffionere of cultums and filt dxities in Scotand, vice Munhonochie, dec.

Civil Promotions.

IV IV. Martin Coulcher, of ACton, co. Mhdtiefex, late of Trinity-college, Cambitge, M.A. elected mafter of the fice gram rar-fchool of Wifbech, co. Cambrilge, viec Orwin, dec.

Rev. Richard Baty, M. A. principal firrog te of the diocefe of Worcefter, apponted chancellor thereof, vice Burrell, dec.

Rev. James Donne, M. A. one of the miner-c.mons of Chefter, appointed mafter of the free sramimar-f chools at Ofweftry.

Rev. Rotert Bartholomew, M. A. appointed maifter of the free grammar-fchool of Exteter.

Rev. Whittington Landon, D. D. provort of Worcefter-college, Oxford, elected cuftos archivorum of that univerfity, vice Wenman, dec.
Lloyd, efq. of Wadham-college, Oxford, elected keeper of Afhmole's mafeum in that univerfity, vice Sheffield.

Rev. John Smith, M.A. fellow of Pem-broke-college, Oxford, elected mafter of that fociety, vice Sergrove, dec.

Rev. William Hayne, B. A. appointed mafter of the free grammar-fchool of Honiton, co. Devon.
Scrope Bernard, LL.D. one of the advocates in Doctors Commons, appoined chancellor of the dincefe of Durham; and the Rev. John Napleton, D.D. appointed clancellor of the diocefe of Hureford, both vice Harris, lec.

BILL of MORTALITY, from May 24, to June 2 f , 5796.

Chriftened. | Euried. |
| :---: | :---: |\(\quad\left[\begin{array}{ll|ll}2 and & 5 & 244 & 50

50\end{array}\right.\) $\left.\begin{array}{l|l}\text { Males } & 785 \\ \text { Females } 746\end{array}\right\}$ 1535 $\left.\left.\begin{array}{ll}\text { Males } & 744 \\ \text { Females } 669\end{array}\right\} 1413\right\}$ Females 746$\} 1531$ Females 669$\}^{1413}$ Whereof have died under two years old $4^{86}$ for Peck Loaf 3s. 8d. 즌
$\left\{\begin{array}{rrr|ll}2 \text { and } & 5 & 244 & 50 \text { and } 60 & 9 \\ 5 \text { and } 10 & 79 & 60 \text { and } 70 & 75 \\ 10 \text { and } 20 & 49 & 70 \text { and } 80 & 5 \\ 20 \text { and } 30 & 95 & 80 \text { and } 90 & 2 \\ 30 \text { and } 40 & 100 & 90 \text { and } 160 \\ 40 \text { and } 50 & 110 & 104 & \end{array}\right.$

THEATRICAL REGISTER.

May New Drury-Lane.
2. Julia~'The Devil to Pay.
3. The Rivals-The Sultan.
4. Mahmoud-The Citizen.
5. Firt Love-The Virgin Unmafk'd.
6. The Giecian Daughier-The Romp.
7. Mahmoud-The Spuild Child.
9. Ditto-My Grandmether
19. Ditto- 1 he Wedding-Day.
11. The Smugglers-The Virgin Unmafk'd -The Deferter.
12. Hamiet-The Follies of a Day.
13. Love and Money - The Belle's Strata-gem-No Song No Supper.
16. Almeyda-The Wedding-Ddy.
19. Mabmoud-Alive ant Mirry.
10. The Country Girl-Ditio.
19. Mahmond-Ditto.
20. Roneo and Juliet-The Follies of a Day

2r. The Monntaineer-The Devil to H'ay A Mufical Olio.
23. The Roman Actor-Celadon and F'arimel ; or, The Hafpy Counterplot-之io Song No Supper.
24. The Rivals-My Grandmother.
25. Mahmoud-A Dramatic Cento-The Suitan.
[Prize.
©5. She Would and She Would Not-T he
2\%. Hamlet-A Mufical Olio-Rofma.
28. Mahmoud-Alive and Merry.
30. The Belle's Stratagem-Tict Follies of a Day-The Purfe.
31. Love and Money - Piifi Love - My Grandmother.
Fime r. Matmons-The Padlock.
2. Hamlet-Tie Fol:es of a Day.
3. The Scliool for Scandst-Na Song No Supper-A Mufical Olio.
4. Mahmoud-High Life below Stairs.
6. Ditto-Bon Ten.
7. The Mountainers-Don Juan.
8. The Mecry Wives of $W$ indfor-The Purfe-The Gentle Shepherd.
9. The Belle's Stratagem - The sultan.
30. Malmoud-Alive and Merry.
11. Ditto-The Deaf Lover.
13. Catharine and Petruchio-The PrizeThe Irifh Widow. [Liar.
14. My Grandmother-Tit for Tat-The 15. Mahmoud-The Deaf Lover.

Kay Covent-Garden.
2. The Widow of Malibar-The Dol-drum-Har!e equin's Treafure.
3. The Beggar's Opcra-Catharine and Petrucho - The Point at Herqui.
4. The Death of Captain Cook-Ar-taxerxes-St. Patrick's Day.
5. Way to Get Married-Lock and Key.
6. The Mafk'd Friend-The Way to Get Unmarried - The Farmer.
9. Zorinfki-The Doldtum.
9. Ite Firft Part of King Henry the Fourth-Harlequin's Treafuge.
10. Tre Catie of Andatifia-Tbe Mticb of the Wood; or, The Nutting Girls.
11. The Way to Get Unmarried-Ar-taxerxes-The Doldrum.
12. The Merchant of Venice-A.rrived at Portfmonth-The Irifh Minick.
13. Specnlation-brituh Fortitede and Hibervian Friendnip-Lock and Key.
16. The Deferted Dauphter-Mclorofmiotes Ofcar and Malvin.
17. Romeo and Juliet-Netley Abbey.
18. Inkle and Yarico-iom Thumb-The Point at Herqu.
[Treafure.
19. The Way to Get Married-Harlequin's 20. The Road to Ruin-The Pofitive Man. 21. TheRecruitingOfficer-HartfordBridge 23. The Dueana-Harlequin's Treafure.
24. The Earl of Warwick - I he Lie of the Day-Sprigs of Lararel.
25. Comus-Artarerxes-The Boldrum.
26. Fontainbleatu-T ne Prifoner at Large.
27. The Old Asaic-Every One has his Fault-Cymon.
28. Such Things Are-Arrived at Portf-nouth-Rofina.
30. Love in a Village-frihman in London. 3 r. The Myitaries oftlecCaftle-TheFarmer fun 1. The Point at therqui-The Dra-matift-ufear and Malvina.
2. The Wiay to ee Comarried-TheSchool for Arrognce-T:e Shipwreck.
3. The Traveliers in Switzetiand-The Farin-Hcufe.
4. Life's Vagaries-The Poor Sailor.
6. The Buly Bod; - The Irifh Mimick.
7. The Way to Get Married-Harlequin's Treafure.

नине Hay-Makezt.
ir. Peeping Tom-The Liar-Bannian Day. 13. The Dead Alive- The 3 :rtie of Hex-ham-Ditto. [Well-Ditto. 14. The Agreeable Smprize-Hob in the 15. The Purfe-Peeping Ton-Ditto.
16. The Merchant of Vence-Bannian Day. 17. The Purfe-The London Hermit-The Prifon $r$ at Large.
18. Gretna Green-TheLiar-BanmianDay. 20. All in Good Humour-Bamian DayThe Spanifh Barber.
21. The Merchant of Venice-The Agreeable Surprize.
22. The Magic Banner; or, Tivo Wives in One Houfe - The Flitch of Bacon.
23. Ditto-The Dead Alive.
24. Ditto-Peeping Tom.
25. The Mountaineers-My Grandmether.
27. All in Good Humour-The Spanifh Barber-Gretna Green.
28, The Mountaineers-The Mock Doctor. 29. A Quarter of an Hour before Dinner -The Batle of Hexham-Cathak rine and Petruchio.
30. The Jew-Peeping Tom.

AYERAGE

SVERAGE PRICES of CORN, from the Returns ending June is, 1796 .

INLANDCOUNTIES.

Average of England and Whales, per quarter. $80 \quad 6 / 4^{6} \quad 134$ 0/21 $4 / 39 \quad 7$

Average of Scothni, per cyiarter.
$71 \quad 2|34 \quad 2 / 29 \quad 1| 22 \quad 4139 \quad 7|\mid$

MARITIME COUNTIES.

|  | Whe |  | \|Sarle |  |  |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | s. d | d 5. | d. s. | s. $d$ |  |
| Effex |  | 306 | 6261 | 1020 | 2 |  |
| ent | 77 - | To 0 | 0.26 | 320 | 32 | 28 |
| affex | 75 | $0 \cdot$ | $\mathrm{C}_{2} 27$ | c 20 | 0 |  |
| Sutulk |  | ; 6 | 0.26 | 3/18 | 811 | 93 |
| Camorid. | 760 | 40 c | c 26 |  | 311 | 295 |
| Norfolk | 8011 | 32 | $0 \cdot 23$ | $9{ }^{12}$ |  | 30 |
| Lincoln | 77 | 39 c | ${ }^{\text {c) }} 32$ | 17 | 7 | 34 |
| fork | 768 | $4^{8}$ I 10 | 028 | $0 \cdot 20$ | 9 |  |
| nurham | $77 \quad 9$ | 40. | 0.40 |  |  |  |
| Nortizum | 7010 | 40 | - 30 | 20 |  |  |
| Cumberl. | 7411 | 50 - | ${ }^{1} 3^{6}$ |  | 51010 |  |
| Wettm. |  | 50 | 141 | $6 \cdot 22$ | 21110 |  |
| Lancaft. | $76 \quad 9$ |  | c) 9 | 5.25 |  | 60. 0 |
| Chefer | 759 |  | c) 35 | 225 |  |  |
| Flint ? |  |  | 032 |  |  |  |
| Denbigh | $76 \quad 0$ |  | c 39 | 223 | 310.5 |  |
| trglefea |  |  | c)o |  |  |  |
| Carnary | 75 |  | 033 |  |  |  |
| Merione | 8 |  | 6.4 |  |  |  |
| Cardigan | 74 |  | 4.35 |  |  |  |
| Pembuck | 58 |  | c/32 |  |  |  |
| Carmarth. | $6^{6} 9$ | $=0 \mathrm{c}$ | c134 | $0 \cdot 0$ |  |  |
| Glamors. | 745 | 100 | $0 \cdot 39$ | 8121 |  |  |
| Glouceft. | $83 \quad 3$ |  | c 36 | 8.21 |  | 42 |
| Somerít | 874 | 100 c | $c^{5} 5$ | ${ }^{1} 16$ | 6 -3 | 35 |
| Monm. | 872 | ,00 c | c 35 |  | ) 0 | co |
| Devon | 80 o | os c | c 34 | 1)16 |  |  |
| Cornwall | 718 | Oo | 034 | 118 |  |  |
| Dorfot | 8119 |  | [ 32 |  |  |  |
| Hants | 80 ol | 100 | $\mathrm{C}_{2} 8$ |  |  | ${ }^{2}$ |

AVERAGE PRICE, by which Exportation and Bounty are to te regulated.

| Wh |  | d |  | ts |  |  |  |  |  |  |  | ats : Be |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | d. 5. | d. 5 | d. 5 . | ${ }^{2}$ | s. |  | Diftriets |  |  |  | d. s. | d, |  |
| 82 |  | 6129 | 619 |  | 35 | 6 | 9 |  | 2145 | 414 | 1016 | 23 |  |
| 796 | $6{ }^{1} 8$ | $0^{2} 6$ | 417 | 6 | 29 | 3 | 10 |  | 7146 | -1136 | 219 | 43 |  |
| 8011 | $1{ }^{32}$ | : 23 |  | c | $3{ }^{\circ}$ | $\bigcirc$ | 11 |  | 340 | $0 \cdot 13$ | 117 | 8.39 |  |
| 754 | $4{ }^{12}$ | ${ }^{1} 31$ | 418 | 7 | 34 | 5 | 12 |  | $9{ }^{9} 9$ | c) $3^{\circ} \mathrm{O}$ | 924 | 842 |  |
| 744 | 445 | c\|33 | 7120 | 11 | 39 | 7 | 13 |  | $9] 3$ | ${ }^{2}: 1 \cdot 9$ |  | 33 |  |
| 77. |  | 0,37 |  |  | 39 | 7 | 14 |  |  |  |  | 10,40 |  |
| 76 | 46 | $\mathrm{C}_{31}$ |  |  |  | - | 15 | 75 | 9 ? 4 | 229 | 424 | 543 |  |
| 772 | $21+7$ | $\mathrm{raj}_{1} 8$ | 3121 |  |  |  | 16 | 66 |  | , |  |  |  |

PRICES OF FLOUR.

Fine
Seconws Thirds
 44 s . to 52 s . |Common ditto ros od to irsosl| OATMEAL, per Boll of $14^{\circ \mathrm{lb}}$. Avoirdupois, $43^{\text {s. }} 4^{\mathrm{d}}$.

PRICE OF HOFS.

| Kent Pockets | 4l. os. to 61. | Sutfex Pockets | 41. cs. to 6t. |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Ditio Bass | $3^{\text {l }}$. ros. to 5 l. os. | Ditto Bags | 3 l .106. to $\mathrm{g}^{\text {l. }}$ |
| Elfex Bags | $3^{1} .10 \mathrm{~s}$, to 51. | Farnham Fockets | 31. res. to 61. | PRICE CF HAY AND STRAW.

Average Price of SUGAR, computed from the returns made in the wee's endirg June 22, $\mathbf{1 7 9 6}$, is 7 rs .4 dd. Fer cwt. exclufive of the duty of Cuftoms paid or payathe thereor on the impurtation thereof into Great-Britain.

SMITAFIELD, June 27. Tofink the offal-per fone of $\varepsilon!b$.

Beef  Mutton  Veal

3. od. to 4s. ad. Pork

4s. od. to ss. od.
$3^{\text {s. }}$ od. to $5^{\mathrm{s} \text {. od. }}$
4. od. to 5is. od

Tailow, per fone of 8 lb . $3 \mathrm{~s} .7 \frac{1}{2} \mathrm{~d}$.
COALS. Neweartie, 325 ed, to 3 ts.

总

|  |  |  | のかのかの －リードッ － | ののの日 $\omega+\omega \cos$ © OlN sol col 4 |  |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | a on a   II calb \＃5 غ a $B$ $\qquad$ M，cliven + connuta | ののけNはN   Nimplof is a $\omega$ ＊H O の の の ＋imativew wo w | ふの ज ज   p $\omega \mathrm{D}^{\mathrm{con}} \mathrm{O}$ aのa＝a $\omega$ w $\omega$ thot $k$ ． $1-1-4 \ln \infty$ |   ＋ $10 \rightarrow+A+$  is ootwalimbin    Un aintolutoln  304 |  |
| $\begin{aligned} & \infty \\ & 0 \\ & 0 \end{aligned}$ | $\infty$ 0 0 | $\underset{\substack{1 \\ 0}}{v} \text { y }$ | $\rightarrow \cdots \rightarrow \infty$   | $\begin{array}{llll}\infty & \infty & \infty \\ 0 & 0 & 0\end{array}$ 20160201051 | $\begin{aligned} & -30 \\ & 0 \\ & 0 \\ & \text { oiveof } \end{aligned}$ |

INDEX of NAMES in Vol. LXVY. Part I。

| A. | Ball $5_{26}$ | Biggs 167 | Brickenden 439 | Cars |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  | Ballard 83 | Bignell 166 | Bridgman 523 | Carter 173 |
| ABBATT 427 | Bandfill 437 | Bilby 527 | Bridport359,533 | Cartwright 174, |
| Aboyne 80 | Bankes 523 | Biltion 354 | Briggs 166 | 524 |
| Acland 437,438 | Baunitier 351 | Binns 173,444 | Brifow 254 | Carver 350, 446 |
| Adams 84,166, | Parclay 524 | Birch 166, 167 , | Broade 172 | Cary 17 T |
| 261,437 | Bared 169 | 254,352 | Brodie 524 | Cafe 349 |
| Addingten 255 , | Barfoot 174 | Bihop 165,438 | Brodrick 358, | Caffilis 437 |
| 343 | Baril 85 | Billey 171 | 533 | Cafwall 445 |
| Agar $\quad 167$ | Baring 437 | Blaaum 167 | Broome 444,5:3 | 437 |
| Agarth 523 | Barker 533 | $43^{8}$ | Brookman 527 | 17 r |
| Aiken 350 | Burlow 85, $43^{8}$, | ackburn 530 | Brooks 164, 166 | 533 |
| Aitken 530 | 446 | Blackhall 445 | Brown 80, 83, | Cay ${ }^{166}$ |
| Aldborough 261 | Barnes 164, 166 , | Blackwell 444 | 85, 173, 261 , | Chambetlain 85 |
| Allardyce 437 | 254 | aine $53^{\circ}$ | 350, 357,437, | 167 |
| Allot 445 | Barnert 16\%,350 | Blake 445 | 438,446, $5^{24}$ | Chamberlin 524 |
| Allen 85, s66, | Karrafs 261 | Blakemore 165 | Biownlow 167 | Chambers 259, |
| 445 | Barrate 166 | Blandford 437 | Bruce 260, 356 | 533 |
| Allport $\quad 524$ | Barrett 354 | Blandicy 523 | Bruen 257 | Champion 80 |
| Almond 165 | Parrington 165 | Blayney 84 | Bruin 254 | Chander 85 |
| Aliafer 437 | Bartholomew | Blewert $43^{8}$ | Brumell $43^{8}$ | Chaplin 166 |
| fton 529 | 533 | 258 | Brydges 351 | Clapman 8E |
| Alva | Bartlett 350 | 523 | Brymer 166 | Charette |
| Abrofe 167 | Barton 81, 253 | 523 | Ruck 5:3 | 437 |
| Ameots 532 | Barvill 524 | Bloxam 350,523 | Buckingham 441 | 255 |
| 438 | Barwick 360 | Blundtone 353 | Buil 524 | Chriftie 437 |
| AmEnck 352 | Barwife 164 | Blyth 523 | Buller 441 | Clampham 255 |
| Arcrum ${ }^{82}$ | Bafire 253 | Bobart 350 | Bull | Clapole 53 L |
| Anderfin $\mathrm{S}_{3}, 8_{5}$, | Baffett 529,533 | Bcddam 253 | Bunbury 524 | Clark 81, 260, |
| 167, 258,442 | Bates 532 | Bogle 165 | Burdert 349 | 355, |
| Andrews 167, | Bathoe 529 | Bohun 446 | Burdoo 350 | 529 |
| 171,259 | Baty 533 | Poiltau 165 | Burford 166 | Clarkfon 173 |
| Anfon 524 | Baxter $\quad 256$ | Boldero 530 | Burgefs 253 | Clayton 164,256 |
| Anthony 164 | Baycr 444 | Bolton 437 | Burgh 167 | Clement ${ }^{526}$ |
| Armbrough 932 | Bazely 167, 255 | Pond 254,261 | Burieigh 529 | ennel 352 |
| Armirage 350 | Beacheroit 44: | Bonham 356 | Burrel 86, 533 | 524 |
| Aimflrong 438 | Berley ${ }^{165}$ | Booker 165 | Burroughes 446 | 262 |
| Alhbridse 446 | Bearblock 166 | Bo rle 351, $35^{2}$ | Burton 169,355, | 438 |
| Ablfield 166 | Beatie 353 | Bofanquet 253 , | 533 | 437 |
| Alhton 253 | Beavis 44+ | 523 | Bufh 527 | 524 |
| dew 350 | Beaumon | ofwood 254 | Bufhnan $43^{8}$ | Cobb 350 |
| Athawes 445 | Belfaft | oucher 438 | Bute $35^{8}$ | Cocket 438 |
| Atkins 169,256 | Belgrave 444 | Boulton 258 | Bu'ter 438, $44^{2}$ | Cock $\quad 170$ |
| A ${ }^{\text {kinfon } 261 ~}$ | Belhaven 169 | Bourchier 531 | Bulin 446 | Cockayne 446 |
| Alterborough | Bell 83,529 | Pourdien 4.44 | Buxion 254 | Cocker 167 |
| 254 | Bellafis $5: 4$ | Bowen 80, 524 | Bye 445 | Cohen 168 |
| Atterbury 531 | Belling ham ${ }^{6} 90$, | Bower 81, 164 | Byne 165 | Cole 441, $55{ }^{2}$ |
| Aveling $5 \pm 3$ | 359 | Bowers 529 | Byng 437 | Coleback 358 |
| Auftio 350, $5^{23}$ | Belfon 165 | Bowles 350 | Byron 166, $35{ }^{2}$ | Coleman 351. |
| Axford 350 | Benice 259,530 | - 351 |  | $43^{8}$ |
| Ayre 353 | Benet ${ }_{262}$ | Bnycatt 254 | c. | Collett 523 |
| Ajres 16\%,445 | Benfon 445,522 | Boyd 165,523 |  | Colley 166 |
|  | Benwell 524 | Brabazon 255 | CAINDE 255 | Collus 254,350, |
| B. | Beresfurd 166, | Brackflone 169 | Calladine 443 | $53^{\circ}$ |
|  | 170 | Bradford 85 | Csithorpe 533 | Colliafon 444 |
| BACKWELL | Bernard 253,533 | Bradiey $3, 254 | Campbell 80, | Collyer 167 |
| 523 | Bernardi 174 | Brady 253 | 172, 257,357, | Colman 356 |
| Bacon 349 | Berry 166 | Bramion 167 | 4i4, $5^{27}$, 5 23 | Coliton 529 |
| Badcock 442 | Befiell 353 | Brandifh 354 | Campion 169 | Colt So |
| Bailey 106 | Beft 83,350,446 | Brandling 350 | Cape 4iti | Colvill 166 |
| Baily 524 | Bett 350 | Bray 438 | Carden 166 | Congreve 166 |
| Baines 167 | Betts $43^{8}$ | Breadley 524 | Carew 437 | Conquett 350 |
| Baker 84, 85 , | Bevan 354 | Brembridge | Carey 350 | Conway 164 |
| $165,171,444$, | Bibbins 441 | Brereton 3:2* | Carnatic Nabob | Conyugham 528 |
| 529,532 | Bickerlterh 530 | Brewer 531 |  | Cook 259, ${ }^{24}$ 24, |
| Baldwin 170 | Eicknell 161,260 | Brewfits 43 | Carnigie 80,444 | 533 |

[^65]coukfoe

index of Names in Volyme lXVi. parti.

| Cookion | So | Delamot'e | Edwin 44? | Fownes 255 | Grien 437 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| Cooper 166,5 | ,531, | Dennis 438 | Fkim 255 | For | Gould |
|  | 532 | Dennifon 5:7 | 257 | 84 | Grwan |
| oote 173.2 2 | $25^{8}$ | Dent 349 | Id $35^{8}$ | Francis 171, 350 | Graham 164, |
| Corbett 174,441 |  | Eftimauville | Elderfield $35^{\circ}$ | Francklin $44{ }^{6}$ | 358,439 |
| Corneck | 357 | 523 | Elderton 445 | Frauklin 529 | Grant 438 |
| Cornewall | 254 | De Herne 532 | Elyar 444 | Frafer 165, 253, | Graves 253 |
| Cornthwaite 2 | ite 254 | Deverell 167 | Elliutt $66,253^{\prime \prime}$ | 530 | Gray 255 |
| CornvallCornwallis | 437 | Deuxponts, | 533 | $35^{\circ}$ | Greatheed 356 |
|  | - 359 | dutchefs of 355 | Ellis 438 | Freeling 444 | Gebert |
| Cotton 350,43 |  | Dewing ${ }^{167}$ | Ellinon 523 | Freeman 173 | Green 167, 349, |
| Coulcher | 513 | Deze 167 | 167 | 176 | 437 |
| Cuurtorn | 533 | Dias de Faria | Fmlya 529 | 527 | enfmith 530 |
| Coutts | 254 | 350 | Enys ${ }^{164}$ | 259 | egory 437,524 |
|  |  | Dick 261 | Epworth 174 | Fryer 174 | Ram 5 |
| Cowell | 66 | ckenfon 531 | Erikine 445 | Fuller 164, 354 | flev 530 |
| Cozems | 153 | Dicker 524 | Evans 164, 167 , | Fulleratfir r 30 | Greville 261 |
| Crabbe | 54 | Dickin ${ }^{164}$ | 258,261,351, | Furtado 254 | Grey $\quad 165$ |
| Cracroft | $35^{\circ}$ | Dithington 532 | 358,437 | Fyficld 171 | Gribile 3+2:437 |
| Crafion | $4: 9$ | D'Ivernois 533 | Everitt 170 |  | Grifina 255 |
| Craig | So | Divett 438 | Eyre $53^{\circ}$ |  | Griflith |
| Craven | 523 | Dixon 255,441 |  | G. | his 439, |
| Crawford | 442 | Dobell 439 | F. |  | $44^{2,523}$ |
|  | 84 | Dobfon : 66 |  | 353 | $53^{\circ}$ |
| Creed Crequay | ana- | Odwell 5:7 | - 529 | 354 | Grimmer 254 |
| ples | 354 | Dombey 257 | horue 167 | Gallavay 35 | Grimfon 349 |
| Crefpigny | 16.4 | Donne 533 | alkland $44^{6,}$ | Galey 259 | Grote 35 I |
|  | 444 | Dufo 351 | $52=$ | Galloway 5:3 | Grove 437 |
| Cromie Crompton | 437 | Duglas ${ }^{\text {i }} 67$, | anfhaw 80 | Gardiner 164 | Guet |
| Crofier | 257 | 174,254,349, | Faria $35^{\circ}$ | Gathneri72,256 | Guildford |
| Clow | 523 | 351,433 | Farnham 533 | Garling $\mathrm{\delta}_{5}$ | Gunaing 358 |
| Crowther | 439, | Nowne 533 | Farrquiar 350 | Giariert 84, 254 | Guy 30 |
|  | 14,446 | Downes $44^{6}$ | Farran 349, 532 | Gancll 80,524 , | Gayan |
| Croxamil ${ }^{44}$ | 164 | Doyle $\quad 170$ | Farringtun 258 | 529, 531 | Gwyster |
| Crump 174 | 74,255 | Daper $\quad 166$ | Fatcutt 5:4 | Gattey 166 |  |
| Cunningion | ion 166, | Drewry 527 | Fazskerley 443 | Gaufion 437 |  |
|  | 524 | Drought ${ }^{2} 54$ | Feliand 527 | Gearing 441 |  |
| Currie |  | Dindige 350 | 260 | Geary 173 |  |
| Curfons Curteis | 1 | Drummond 437, | enoulhet 530 | Gibben $256,44+$ |  |
|  | 15 | $4{ }^{+6}$ | Fenwick 166 | Gibbs 170, 358 , | Haddington 254 |
|  | D. |  | Dryden 439 | Fergufa 442 | 457 | Hasserion 166 |
|  |  |  | Dubcrley 438 | Field 351 | Gibron $17!$ | Haig 351 |
|  |  |  | Denbar $5^{22}$ | Fielding 253 | Gilinin 258 | Hainfworth 437. |
| DACIE | 261 | Duncan 84, 254 | Finch 352,445 , | Gill 80, 83, 356 | Haiftwell 350 |
| Dalrymple | le 254 , | Duncombe80,84 | $52=$ | Gillan 166 | Halftead |
|  | 359 | Danflanville 533 | Firmin 530 | Gillies 355 | H211 166, 1733 , |
| Daiton | $35{ }^{\text {t }}$ | DuPre 255 | Fther 166, 354 | Gillyaw 443 | 234, 52 4,527 |
| Daniel | 349 | Durham $2 ¢ 8$ | Fizzgerald 253 | Girardot 522 | Hellam 355 |
| Dannett  Darlot | 45 | Durno Si | Fiizpatiick 84 | Gtanville 80 | Hation 523 |
|  | , | Du Tour 444 | Fleming 356 | Glafil 522 | ariton 167, |
| Darnley | 522 | Duviilard 3:6 | Flexney 81 | G!32 brook 446 | 254,357,358, |
|  | 351 | 446 | Flowers $\quad 167$ | Glode 353 | 533 |
| Daf | 157 |  | Flynn 356 | Glyn 165,524 | Henrroud 445 |
| Davenport ${ }^{17}$ |  |  | Fuard -5:3 | Godfard $43^{8}$ | lima, fon $4{ }^{+6}$ |
| Davidifon | 523 | E. | Futies 260, 347, | Codera 166 | llanbury 255 |
| Davies 3 |  |  | 359 | G.e 167 | Hancock 165 |
| Tavis 257, 523 |  | EAGLES 167 | Ford 5:4 | Golden 8i | Hankey $43^{8}$ |
| Davion 255 |  | Earl 351,353 | Foreficr 165 | Gulding 254 | Mantars 356 |
| Dawes 254, 444 |  | Eafon $5^{27}$ | Forreller 522 | Gomme 44t | Hanflrest 527 |
| Dawnay 533 |  | Elabrooke 529 | Furfter 80, 253, | Gooch 43.3 | Harbinke 437 |
| Day 438 |  | Eaton 350, $44+$ | - 523 | Go.dhild 81 | Hirdy 85, 254 |
| Deane : 69 , |  | Ercles ${ }^{\text {a }}$. $2^{4} 4$ | Fort 173 | Guodlake 83 | Han wood 533 |
|  |  | Edm nfone 357 | Fofter 358 | Coodwin 259 , | Hargieaves 356 |
| Decardounell |  | Ed on $5^{27}$ | Fonlds 5:3 | $43^{9}, 52.4$ | Haman ${ }^{\text {a }}$, 150 , |
| Drighton Delamer | 164 | Edward P. 359 | Fowell 351 | Gordonitio, 56 , | $43^{8,524}$ |
|  | 523 | Edwards 80,167, | Fowler 83, 166, | 44, $5^{23}$ | Harrington 81 , |
|  | 532 | 254, 259,353 | $35^{\circ}$ | Gore $\mathrm{t}^{1}$ | $\underset{\text { Haris }}{445}$ |

INDEX of NAMES in Yol. LXVI. Part I.

| Harris 338 , | 437, | Hopkins | 84 | Keayes | 171 | Lewcs 4.6 | 255,256,352, |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
| 44:,445, | 531 | Hernby | 166 | Kells | 260 | Lewelley $5^{23}$ | $5=3$ |
| Harrifon 1 |  | Horner | 254 | Kelly 1 ¢6, | , 258 | Lewis 352,357 | Mackintofh 356 |
| 167,260, | $43^{9}$ | Hurniby | 166. | Kenmose | 84 | $1 \mathrm{ly} \quad 354$ | Ma-kworth 529 |
| Hart 254,4 | 439, |  | 530 | K.nnedy | 80 | Leycefter 356 | M'Lachlan 524 |
| 445, | 523 | Horton | 41. | Kenfington | $43^{3}$ | Lichenrood 165 | Maclane 523 |
| Hartley | 355 | Hofkirs | 351 | Knot | 80 | Lichtentein, Ch. | Miclean i66, |
| Hartorp | 532 | Hotham ${ }^{\text {72, }}$, | ,358 | Kenworthy | 80 | pr . of 168 , | i63, 4.38 |
| Hartpole | $5: 3$ | Houghton | $43^{8}$ | Kernat | 167 | $=53$ | M.Nab 527 |
| Harvey | 3:0 | Howard | 532 | Kerr $1{ }^{688}$ | , 173 | Liddel 351 | Machonnochie |
| Hafeltidge | 445 | Howe 359,5 | 530 | K Imaine | 253 | Lidacrdale 356 | $35^{3}$ |
| Hafleil | 430 | Howeld | $16 ;$ | Kinder | 523 | Licil 259 | Macpherion 256 |
| $\mathrm{H}_{2} \mathrm{~h}$ 刀n | 50 | Howes | 446 | King 84, | 167 , | Liford 167 | Macqueen 166 |
| Harley | $5: 7$ | H.s.r | 166 | 254 | , 443 | Lilly $35^{2}, 44^{6}$ | M Rae 352 |
| Hanketbury | 533 | Hodion | 354 | Kinnoul | 532 | Lindfay 529 | Maddifon 524 |
| Mawking | 109 | Hupaes 6 6, | 255 | Kirty 16 | , 445 | Linnell 354 | Mahiatta, Pam- |
| Hay | 165 | Honning | 5:3 | Kırham | 350 | Liptrap 437 | wa of 255 |
| Haylock | $43^{8}$ | Hunt So, 1 | 170 | Knapp 358, | ,438 | Lifter 445 | Majoribatiks So |
| Hayne | 533 | Hanteri66,3 | 3;3, | Knowles | 260 | Lition 173, 254 , | Mairland 522 |
| Haynes 168 , | ,437 |  | 529 | Knox | 167 | $35^{8}$ | Maibon 2;6 |
| Head . | $43^{8}$ | Ilantingt n | 169 | Kjnafton | So | Litterdale 173 | Mal.ng 350 |
| H :al y | 524 | Hunthy | 524 |  |  | Littlehales 3:8 | Malluck 106 |
| Hearhcote | 349 | Horic | ${ }_{14} 4$ |  |  | Litiletin 350 | Manger 170 |
| He o | $3: 0$ | Haliey | 170 | 1. |  | Liverporl 533 | Marn 532 |
| Hebien | $4{ }^{15}$ | Huat | 5:6 |  |  | Livefy $5 \geq 4$ | Manning 174 |
| Wleberden | 352 | Hutchinfonz | 25, | LADBKOK |  | Livagtone 254 | Manningham 81 |
| Henderlon 2 | 254, | $=5+356,4$ | $43^{\circ}$, |  | 107 | Lloyd 154, 16:, | Markiam 350 |
| 523 , | 524 |  | 520 | La Lane | 5:3 | 170,359,529, | Mariuz 169, |
| Henton | 5ン+ | Hutton |  | Lambe | $3 \cdot 0$, | $5: 3$ | 173, 356 |
| Herbert 85,1 | 166, | Hyde 1\%2, 4 | $44^{6}$ | Lindit | 173 | L.oat 523 | MarSten 256 |
|  | 163 |  |  | La | 533 | ncthart 172 | Marfh 529 |
| Herrior | 80 |  |  | Lave $5^{2}$ | 523, | L. die $\quad 357$ | Marthallio, 350 , |
| M, reingham | 172 | I. and |  |  | 529 | Lorg 167 | . 438 |
| Hericy ${ }^{\text {me, }}$ | 255 |  |  | Langford | $43^{8}$ | Longley 255 | Marter 350 |
| Hefieshioz. | + 4 | Jacifon So, | S: | Lagrorn | $5: 2$ | Lopes $25{ }^{5}$ | Matin S $=164$, |
| $\underset{\substack{\text { Hetr } \\ \text { Hewitt }}}{ }$ | 356 | 106,5 | $3=1$ | Lanymead | 5:3 | Lord $\quad 524$ | 253.254,357, |
| Hewitt | $10 ?$ | Jaes | 2.7 | Langton | 537 | Loreria 8z | 433,445 |
| Hey | 5 | lago | 257 | Lacsworthy | 165 | L.orimer $4: 9$ | Martyn 165 |
| Hibrert | 17. | 1 mes $3: \hat{0}, 2$ | 43: | Laikins | 167 | Lofack 253 | Mafon 17, $\mathrm{t}, 254$, |
| Hicks | 166 | Jametion | $4: 7$ | Lifulies | 349 , | Livat 5 : 7 | 524, 527 |
| Hicks | 444 | Jutas | 166 |  | 53 | I.oveday 524 | Marey 83,438 |
| Higrus | 526 | j-Etite | 433 | Labrook | 255 | Levelace 358 | Mafingherd 165 |
| Hess | 350 | Jeaknstit,5 | 533 | Louzup | 4:8 | Lwiound 253 | Mather 165 |
| Heti 164,3 | $3: 6$, | lerngazza, | $5 \cdot 4$ | Lawnenc | 350 | Lon 254 | Maran $=55$ |
|  | 524 | $J$ Jun | 107 | use | 523 | Lowicn 254 | Maxd 253,350 , |
|  | 442 | I-1.0. | 4 | Leas ${ }^{\text {a }}$ | 83 | Love 106 | $5 ; 2$ |
| Hippeltry | 445, | I | 532 | Leader | 349 | Lowes 173 | Misuadrell 3jz |
|  | 532 | 1 ys is | 259 | eaf | 350 | Lacas 357 | Maunftll 167 |
| II:chen Hiouge | 8 | Innocent | 437 | Loaks | 164 | Ludlaw254,353 | Maxwell 164, |
| Hiudge Hodicion | 44. | Johnfon:-4, | 349 | L-as | $8+$ | Luthll 8 - |  |
| Hodision ${ }^{1}$ | 166, | 352,430,4 | 445 | Leather | 166 | Lydall $25^{3}$ | Mayber $44^{6}$ |
|  | $43^{8}$ |  | $5 \div 3$ | Li Deficacer |  | Luon 261 | Miynard 523 |
| Hogs 3 a | $4{ }^{1}$ | Joll | 255 |  | 253 |  | Mcakham 438 |
| H\%gems | $3: 4$, | Jones Sm, 1 | 164 , | Lee | 524 | M. | Nidtey 530 |
|  | $4+3$ | 17+254.4 | +9, | Leech | 446 |  | Medlycott 160 |
| Mokenhoe, P |  | 446, | 527 | Le Cey | 257 | maberley | Molidh 253 |
|  | 256 | lowett | 524 | Leigh | 165 | 34) | Macer 525 |
| Holden | 351 | Joyce | So | Leighton | 523, | Macarney 533 | Meiclant 255 |
| Holdrworth |  | Ironfide | 255 |  | 524 | M'Connochie | Metcaii 165 |
| Hole 261 , | 357 | juod | 441 | Leiniter | 349 | 354 | Micklelhwaite |
| Hoinurd Holines 67, | $5^{2} 3$ | ivernois | 533 | Le Maitte | 523 | M-Daniel $44^{\circ}$ | 349 |
| Holines r 6 \%, $\mathrm{Hom}=$ | ,174 | Ives | 523 | Leman | 80 | Ma.cougall 531 | Miduleton 254 , |
| $\mathrm{H} \mathrm{m}=$ Honan | 353 | Iveion | 5:4 | Lentail | 167 | M. Dowal $35^{\circ}$ | 524. 527,533 |
| Howan Hood 359, | $4 ; 3$ |  |  | Lepard | 440 | Machumouhit | Milomay 355 |
| ${ }_{\substack{\text { Hood } \\ \text { Hoote }}} 357$ | 5:3 | K. |  | 1. tríon | 165 | 533 | Mites 8t |
| Hoote | 353 |  |  | L.vers | 167 | M'Iver 529 | Miller 84, 166, |
| Hope | 437 | KEATE | 524 | Leving | 159 | Mackenzie 250, | 5 |

INDEX of NAMES in Vol. LXVI. Part I.

| Mills $\begin{array}{r}349,355, \\ 522,523\end{array}$ |  | 0. | Perkins 444 | 1180, | Salwey | 523 |
| :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: | :---: |
|  |  | Perry 167, 531 | Rathall 444 | Sandby |  |
| Milner | 437 |  | OAKES 532 | Perryn 85 | Ravenferoft 253 | Sanderfon |  |
| iln | 165 | Oburn 84 | Perrie 349 | Rawlinion 262, | Sandford | 173 |
| Milward | 254 | Ogilvy 444 | Pettman 255 | 526 | Sands | 255 |
| Minchin | 262, | Ogle 258 | Petwin 170,348, | Rawfon 84 | Saul | 166 |
|  | 349 | Olderfhaw 259 | 446 | Raynal 259,348 | Saunders | 254, |
| Mitchell | 523 | Oldfield 530 | Peyuado 254 | Raynsford 172 | 262, | 438 |
| Mogridge | 259 | Odknow 173 | Philips 164, 533 | Reade 167 | Sawbridge | 527 |
| Moir | 528 | Olive 438 | Phillips 167,445 | Rebello 441 | Saxton | 444 |
| Molefworth167, |  | Ommanney 167 | 446, 529 | Rebsw 349 | Say | 261 |
|  | 441 | Onflow 257 | Pickard 438 | Rees 441 | Schutz | 438 |
| Money | 172 | Oid 165,253 | Pierion 523 | Reeve 254 | Scote | 165 |
| Monoux | 357 | Ohorn 171,438 | 356 | Reid 259 | 166,167 | 354 , |
| Mouro | 81 | Ofwin 533 | Pinkerton 167 | Revely 81 |  | 530 |
| Montague | - 253 , | Ouchterlany 523 | Pitman 441 | Reynilds 254 | Scriven | 350 |
|  | 358 | Oxford 253 | Pixell 350 | Rhodes 167 | Seagood | 441 |
| Mongomerie166 |  | Oxnam $5^{24}$ | Plimley 438 | Richards 164, | Seaton | 354 |
| Moody | 83 |  | Plumtre 444 | 254, 253,350 | Sentence | 439 |
| Moore 173, 350, |  |  | Pollard 441 | Richardfon 83 , | Sergeant | 442 |
|  | 523 | P. | Pollock 171 | 354 | Sergrove | $35^{8}$, |
| Moray | 533 |  | Ponsford 438, | Richmond 253 |  | 533 |
| Morelli | 356 | PACKER 527 | 523 | Rickard 356 | Seton | 261 |
| Morgan | 82 | Palliter 353,439 | Pope 81, 523 , | Risdick 81 | Sewell | 166 |
| Morgatroyd | yd 350 | Palmer 445 | Popham 165 | Riley 438 | Shambrook | $44^{1}$ |
| Morris 172,173, |  | Pank 438 | Porcheiter 437 | Ring 444 | Sharp | 530 |
|  | 349 | Pardoe 349,358, | Porter 172,438, | Ripley 350 | Shave | 259 |
| Mott | 166 | 441 | 523 | Rippirg 438 | Shaw 172, | ,253, |
| Mounfay | 166 | Parker 254, 260, | Portman 85 | Riway 254 | 524, 531 |  |
| Mountjoy | Y 358 | 438 | Potts 356 | Roberts 173, | Sheffield | 533 |
| Moyfey | 85 | Parkes 257 | Powell 253,524 | 259,438 | Shenton | 167 |
| Mozley | 445 | Parkin 351 | Powers 523 | Robinfon 253, | Shepherd | 23, |
| Mualge | 173 | Parkinfon ${ }^{172}$ | Powerscourt 167 | 445,446,523, |  | 524 |
| Mulcafter | r $3: 4$ | Parkyns 354 | Fownall 523 | $53^{\circ}$ | Silerborne | 437 |
| Mullet | 167 | Parminter 438 | Pratt 437 | Roche 8r, 523 | Sheridan |  |
| Mumford | d 164 | Parfons 438,439 , | Preedy 354 | Rodgers 166 | Shipdem | 256 |
| Munro 80, | 80, 353 | 446 | Preicott 351 | Roe 259 | Shipley | 85 |
| Murray | 85 | Pate 444 | Prefon 350,437 , | Roobuck 354 | Shirref | 531 |
| Mufent | 173 | Paterfon 170 | 444 | Rogers 81, 351 | Shortried | 67 |
| Myers | 256 | Patten 351 | Price 84, 357, | Roile 333 | Shrapnel | 44 |
|  |  | Patterion so | 530 | Rolt $35{ }^{6}$ | Shubrick |  |
|  |  | Paul 350 | Prichard 164 | Roper 81,523 | Shem |  |
| N. |  | Paulett 446 | Prielt 441 | Rofe 80, 532 | Shuttlewort |  |
|  |  | Fanlus 353 | Priefley 171 | Rutheram 170 |  | 44 |
| NABB | 524 | Payne 445 | Pruce 530 | Rous 533 | Sibthorpe | 72 |
| Nairne | 444 | Peach 1104 | Pringle 83, 350 | Rowen 523 |  | 53 |
| Napleton | 1533 | Pead 167 | Priniep ${ }^{222}$ | Roxby 350 | Sill | 1 |
| Nation | 350 | Pearce 529 | Proby 165 | Royce $\quad 357$ | S mmitt | 3 |
| Neal 165 | 65,349 | Pearfe 166 | Procior 166 | Rudkin 438 | Simpron | 166 , |
| Neville | 522 | Yearfon 254,354, | Pioffer 257, 524 | Ruffia 532 | 254, 259,35 ${ }^{\text {1 }}$, |  |
| Newman | - 438 |  | Purchate 169 | Ruth 260 |  | 531 |
| Newnham | (m 174 | Pegge 173,349 | Purkis 441 | Rutlell $437,43^{8}$, | Simfon |  |
| Nibbs | 85 | Peirce 254,349 | Pye 80, 8j | 524 | Sinclair | 55 |
| Nicholetts | tis 352 | Peirs $5^{2} 3$ |  | 523 |  | 2, 526 |
| Nicholl | 527 | Peirie 258 |  | Ryder $5 \geq 2$ | Sindry | 444 |
| Nicholls | s 254 | Pell 254 | c. |  | Skelifon | $43^{8}$ |
| Nicholfon | on 83 | Pellew 359 |  |  | Skelton | 531 |
| Nickolds | 5 169 | Pemberton 258 | QUESTED 257 | S. | Skin.ser |  |
| Nicks | 167 | Peniold 529 |  | SACKVILLE | Skinp | 357 |
| Noble | 523 | Yenn 166, $43^{8}$ |  |  | Slater | 349 |
| Nodin | 350 | Pennant Yo | R. | 81 | Sle ght | 171 |
| Noel | 438 | Pennington $35^{8}$, | RADCLIFFE | St. Barbe 523 | Sloper | 524 |
| Norman | 524 | Penfon $\left.\quad \begin{array}{l}527 \\ 349\end{array}\right)$ |  |  | Slow | 167 |
| Northampion |  |  | 351 | 348 | Small | 353 |
|  |  | Penytion 349 | Radford 354 | Salmon 356 | Smith 80, | 80, 84, |
|  |  |  | Ramfay 255 | Salter $\quad 174$ | 170,171 | 1,254 |
| 532 |  | Percival:66,352 | Ramus 17 | Saltersford | 349,350, | , 3519 |
|  |  |  |  |  |  |  |

INDEX of Names in Vol. LXVI. Part I.

$35:, 353,438$,
$444,524,5=8$,
533
Smyth 173, 254,

Suaith | 358,523 |
| ---: |
| 352 |

$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Snell } & \mathbf{1 7 7} \\ \text { Sobey } \\ & 166 \\ \text { Sol }\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Somerville } & 35^{3} \\ \text { Sones } & 43^{9}\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Songa } & 174 \\ \text { Southwell }\end{array}$
Southwell 170 ,

$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Sowerby } & 164 \\ \text { Speed } & 523 \\ \text { Spencer } 169,253\end{array}$
Spotfwoode 83
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Spragse } & 529 \\ & \end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Spreckley } & 4+5 \\ \text { Spry } & 167\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Squire } & 8 \text { I } \\ \text { Staftird } & 5: 6 \\ \text { Stainforth } & 83\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Stainforth } & 83, \\ & 349\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Stamford } & 523 \\ \text { Stanhope } & 437 \\ \text { Stark } & 437 \\ \text { Stecle } & 523 \\ \text { Steer } & 83 \\ \text { Stephens } & 350, \\ & 446\end{array}$
Stephenfon 254,
Sierling 524,526
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Steuait } & 44+ \\ & 439\end{array}$
Sievens 169,53I
Stewart 174,532,
$\begin{array}{ll} & 533 \\ \text { Stileman } & \begin{array}{l}554 \\ 254\end{array}\end{array}$ Stirling 172,255,
Stokes 438
Stone 164, 174,
Stonehoute 165 ,
$\begin{array}{lr} & 354 \\ \text { Storace } \\ \text { Storay } & 353 \\ \text { 80, } \\ 259\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Stoup } & 438 \\ \text { Siracey } & 437\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Siracey } & 438 \\ \text { Strange } & 167\end{array}$ Strangeways $43^{3}$
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Stration } & 256 \\ \text { Stretch } & 527\end{array}$ Strickland 8 r ,
$\begin{array}{ll} & 165 \\ \text { Stringer } & 255\end{array}$
Sturnt 439,533
Sudell
524
Sullivan 5:0
$\begin{array}{rr}\text { Trautmaficorff } & \text { Wall } \begin{array}{r}85,165, \\ 257 \\ 171,350,444,\end{array}, \text { W }\end{array}$
Wilby 167
Summers 170
Sumner 349,532
Suflex 530
Sutton 164,165 ,
438,529

438, 529
Swainton 53I T
,
T.
$\begin{array}{lr} & \\ \text { TagG } & 80 \\ \text { Talbot } & 83, \\ \text { Tallents } & 52 \\ \text { Taniel } & 255 \\ \text { Tanner } & 166 \\ \text { Tafwell } & 256 \\ \text { Tate } & 524 \\ \text { Tayder } 8 \mathrm{I} & 167\end{array}$ Taylor 81, 167,
171,351,437,
$447,44^{6,439}$,
523,530
Teague 523
Temple 259,551
Thomas 166,
$167,350,43 \%$
Thomarifou $\begin{aligned} & 446 \\ & 437\end{aligned}$
Thompfon 171, 255, 35 1, 524 Thomion 30, 84 Thornton 254, Thorold 359,442 254,
445
Threckeld 253 Throckmorton

Tilley 352
Tilley 254
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Timms } & 258 \\ \text { Tindal } & 523\end{array}$
Tod 356
Tolfrey $\mathrm{S}^{22}$
Tollemache 352
Tomkjns 357
Tomlin $16+$
Tookie 353,445
$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Topp } & \& 3 \\ \text { Torr } & 260\end{array}$ Tuwnend 350
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Townes } & 530 \\ \text { Townley } & 84\end{array}$
$\begin{array}{lr}\text { Townley } & 84 \\ \text { Townfend } & 85\end{array}$
Wa!ker 85,15\%
W.

Waddington 165
Wade 171, 173,
Wadman 253
Wake $\quad 350$
Wakefichd 444
Wales, princets
ot 8,
Wales 529
Walford $1 ; 1$
167
$\begin{array}{ll}\text { Treacher } & 167 \\ \text { Tremells } & 44 j \\ \text { Treweeke } & 524\end{array}$

| Wallis |
| :--- |
|  |
| 27 |
|  |
| 259 |

Walters $44^{6}$
Ward $254,35^{\circ}$,
$\begin{array}{rlr}446,527 & \text { Willes } & 437 \\ \text { Waring } 166,35 \mathrm{I} & \text { Williams } & 80,\end{array}$
Warminghin $165,166,169$,
Warre 444 351,353,35t,
Warre 164 442,44t,522
Warren 81,85 Williamioni69,
Wartnaby 254 258,433
Warwick $55^{2}$ Wilmot 174 .
Warner $5^{23} \quad 260,349$
Wation 83,259 , Willon 80,85 ,
359,441,446, 167,351,354,

$$
529 \text { wile } 523
$$

Watts 446 Wilts 80
$\begin{array}{lll}\text { Weaver } & 350 & \text { Winchefter } 353 \\ \text { Webb } & 258 & \text { Wackworth }\end{array}$
Webfier 255 , $35^{3}$
260,437 Windfor 254
Wedgwood 35 r Wing $\mathrm{Q}_{4}$
$W^{\text {Wrld }} 524$
Welderen 357,
Winttone $\quad 523$
Witters 257
Witter $4 \dot{4}$
Wizzal $53^{2}$
Wolley 524
Woud 255, 25,
$35^{\circ}, 441$
Woodcock 526
Wuotrall 254
Wuolcombe 168 ,
441
Woollation 438
Woolmer 166
Wooliych 17\%
Wirrell 254
Wurthington

441

Wragge 523
Wraher 167
Wrey 164
Wrighti64,256,

$$
3 j 6,43^{x}, 4+6
$$

Wyaie $5^{223,537}$
Wynae $5^{2}$;

Y.

YATES 524,
Yestman $\begin{array}{r}525 \\ 446\end{array}$
Yem 532
Voung 164,437 .
523
Z.

Zimmerman235 JMISSIONS IN 1 NDEX, VOL. LXV.
Bukswell, Ruburt, the memorable Difhley Jurm.ng fio.k tarmer
Circuies of the judges
Elchricaikites, danger of 979 Hurford, fam ly of
154 Selzs of relipionits
881
881 Sheriffs, hitt of $5^{8} 3$
INDEX

IND $\mathrm{E} X$ to the Eflays，Differtations，Tranfactions，and Hiforical Paffages，1796．Part I．

A．
ADDINGTON，Stepben，ac－ count of， $34^{8}$
Additon，Mr his early life 6 ． the year of his birth 203 Ahubsoazan，gevernor of Whydah，his fpeech 5： AEjchylu，remarks on the Prumetheus Vinctus of 188，398
Srue，definition of，by a blackfmith
c9
Alßon，（Rudand），church defcribred 17， 3 S6．two figures in the charch yard

183
Air，Harimston on the at－ furditses of modern aërial Findofophers thent con－ fiterations on Harr．ngton＇s thenry

2；8， 376
Abtmaile，Lund，feech on Reav＇s pomplet 390
Allan，yreth，accoant of 85
Fiexandier，Nicholus，monu－ mentai infoription 113 finn，Cha，is，enquiry con－ cerning $\quad 3^{3} 4,4^{6} 3$ ct a mitake conctaming 101
A゙ta，duke，his bicakfafl in ineranle miRutiont di 232 Inde biogrephical account of 52 ：
A－berges，acconat of 55
 Sh，on fort 7 ：G－niral Vontingtor＇s feen 71 ． wones ufed ior incceation swe p puation 317．of 2wo rmorns in，1：0
 the trenty with Gerat
 Atrefly dubed 6 －matelten．Gin．decount f 44？ Oha acomrler 85 simese ainot it wincheller， milaule 4

277 agnion，drtk，artival at im？A．imis us．

A．Ano ve vilt ce of
$2 \therefore$

 ＇ 1
$=$

（1）

cation to Parliament 402. charter

403
Arcipciage，form in ${ }^{153}$ strchitcecs，notices refpecting 219
ArbiteElure，remarks con－ cervines 2－3．lifts of fo－ reign buildings and their are！itects 282.

Alons，at Emfingham church 18．antique ceat of 105 ． in the viluagage houfe at Bufton 290 Artois，count，arrival at Ho－ ly rond boule $\quad 74$
Arts，Society，views of 329 ． mode of eleding men bers
329．premiums nfiercò 321
Al）wesl（Rutlañd）church， account of 17

Alfignat，depreciation of $3^{x}$ Al／izes，circui：s 164，5：0
Athamant lifanyis dicovered 296，37？
Avrot a Bore lis，crackiing of in high Northern latitudes

497
Aypizns，proce dirs of the arry 6 g．fut ention of arme 70 ．expiration of the amordice
$E 15$
Aver，Rev．A．account of 353 （7）．s，Phisp，enquiry corr coninas

463

P．

B．えご，Re\％．Tboma，bi－ aranhical accorant of 526 Euriodis，iamoutun in zo． int lly grice thom 4：9
Buthollomg．A er，acerant of ！！e－lit sut wrimg，$=0$. 1：tar amirR burnunt． Pa：a，adas ane ne of 8 a E．zaso，fecuin of irwhes to the National thembly 1 Eab hante of inviery ir 1－f－i

59
R－auliau ahe v，coetedtons u the arcome ot 4－0 terancaion o：the Cuen ：22
Fitn（Rathar），old avian－

 f．… a ha，xconnt of zero
 the：

 of the If 1 tivera．
 y－ 1 ；i，in dacions．
wice ${ }^{136}$ ，I Tim．iii． 16. explaned 30s．fpecimen of poetic diction in 397. fome of the prophecies of Ifoiah explarned 499
Btrds，migratory，difficulty of Irachag their Winter relidence

3
E：ribs，objections in Scot－ land to the tax on 227
Blackinu＇sn，detcription of 276
Blackjniths in the North，a cuttom of $\quad 133$
Bond，Serjeant，biogra；hical account of－ 26 I Books，advantage of，cheap publications on Nowal and Religivas fubjects 505. 2－，372 prin ed ill Germa－ ny in fix vears

147
liofwortí，Will．cnçury after $4^{63}$
Eread，mixed，ufed in the Navy，and at Greenwich and Creltea hof，itals 79. the realvalue of mixed $\mathrm{IO}_{3}$
Bresd finit，introduced into lam ica 377
Brigers，IIE y y，account of 188
Bicidart，Liro，thanked by the Lords and Cummons $1: 2$
Rrefs，queflions tonching 33
Brawb，liciat，preinot fare of， the varinus entums $4^{87}$
 Fo．c（2．1 mal MS5．pur－ chated by $\quad 2=2$
Row orirr av，King＇s，the criznof $30 \downarrow$
Promidn，a count of $2=3$
Leatice（Rudan）chareh， actom to of 17
Boo．b：N．ck＇ce $3^{3}$ R＇un Co．aument of 257
 Baelstr $4^{8}+$
b．．．mer，Cyt．his romato ino：ofs！

370
 1aling ：a

3－9
B．in，ruedind firis recom－ anemaded as areme．idy for zzo Rate：Sal／ifion his erphurat Cccorest of 8b
Euron＇s Jeentheniae with G－town＇s 10tw＋゙フ．

 1asturacl

312
C．
C．ISS．t？，ins inv fion of Britia 4：4

I N DE X to the Effays, Occurrences, छic. 1795 . Part I.

Caldicot (Rutland)church458
Camden, referencesto be filled up $\quad 107$
Camel, on the flamach of 284
Cartoubeans, a banditi in France
Cutholic protefation, argument againft ics authenticity 49 :
Cattle, a cow in her 32 d year
Calini Be"vernuto, fuppoted pertrait of 9, 371

Ceylon, inellipence from 67, 336. capitulation of Truncomaic

63
Cbad, St. Gofpel of 20 ó
Cbambers, Sar Will. biographical account of 359

Gbarette, account of the execution of $4+1$
Cbayge, not delivered at the Old Balley

464
Charity-chidren, meeting of 518
Charles II Ietter to the duke of Ormond on taking the Seals from lord Clarendon 377. Caarles Firz-Charles a fon of, by keharise Pegse

451
Cbutbom church 276
chefs defcribed from an antient Latio poet 9i", 211
Chonjarab talien $33^{5}$
Coishytamily 291
Cb iffining', the cuftom of buttered fops at 133
Ci ppino, or Venetian Lady's Hilt

115 Claric, Eicward, account of 355 Cliane', Percival, account if ciargy, caution to, in reactios the Scripiures 136 nicefity of a relief or curares 273 , 3: 2 -307. cafe ot auz.
 Wan to parmage-houres recommend d 387 . curties b:ll $347,3^{87}, 479$, ammiments of Clifiom (Rutatic), Rnypl arms there $\quad 17$
Cacb, Bath, overt:and 75
Cob, beraken $\quad 337$
Cok, R . Dr ascount of ift wir. killa by we ourturning of has corricledown a prentice at Batn $24^{8}$
C.ck f: bting, on th: oriz:n of ceferibed 196. fuand near Nothetham 344
Coliat ral luryon, tax an $4^{5} 5$
cujnn,Rcv. Henry, ace. of 5:9

Come Socicty, in Leicetterthire,

 outrag s of344 Conn m's, St. Weil in Scotland, virturs of 223 Comis minople, intel from $34^{2}$
Confumptish, effect of pure air in Dzerins family 192, 2n0, 304.

Di/2uze, Hinyy, cuquiry atter 463
Democracy, natural chalathec
139
Denncritus, enquiry after his writings

193, 290
Defravity, hooking initance of 516 Difinions, fugreftions oa 14. Difinters, a lit of the puble places of worthip of, requetled

34
Difilitry flopred 214 . pernicin us eif ats of 223
Dosijv, Mirs tial for part of the Garrick property $2=9$ D2-ge, tix on $5=0$ Drane, Dr. charsterized 208
D,rche? "e (ONfor Mire), brais figare in the chureh sos Dornocí catbaiiral, account of 22.

Dove, Bp. feal, and account of him 135 . monument 290
Dugglas cafle, account of 22 E
Dieam, facal realization of $45^{6}$
Draid's aitars atGuernfey 373
Drummer, or Haunted Houfe, onizin of the fory of 6
Duel. fufte "t fiuso fe di forme explained $28 y$. Burges and K-arnes 7 . Yogk: of Nortolk and Lord Abalder 432
D:lec Domum, enquiriss concerning 102. Latin and Enghith with the hifury 208, 237
Duncan, Mr. biog. ac. of 8.4 Danhiriey, Mr. extrooritinary parciculars of $6,4 \mathrm{t}, \mathrm{191}$. a fon of George il. $\quad 4 \mathrm{I}$ Diarin, Mr. azcount of 8 s

> E.
E.ARL, W. Benjon, account of, and his charities 353 Ea, omark, meaning of 298 , 396
Eirtbroke in Canada 515 Eachic, reachery of $5^{8}$ Euzua~d, King, monumentat Be urh Math
E \& nut caten in Scotlandze 3 Exch hon charch firire 1 S Avvtian Pyramids 356 Elam, $E_{m \text { in }}$ account of 257 Fimpinghant cbur $b$, atms atis Eng/ana, the detached iisua(10) of parts it feveral ciunties $4 \%$. view of c remplances in 178 ; and 1795 503. al:eracons in the conttimtion frepofed by Mr. Curwalisit, 502

1 NDEX to the Effays, Occurrences, Evc. 1796. Part I.

England, Ricbard, trial of, Fitz-Otho. William, feal of 289 for the killing of Mr. Fleming, Rev. Fobn, account Rowlls
Er/kine, fpeech on the bill for the Security of the King's perfon
$3^{88}$
Eton Montem 43 I
Evans, Rev. Will. ac. of $25^{8}$
Eurcpean ravagers
$3^{2}$
Exson (Rutland), church notes 18
Eycs, efflcacy of Mercurial finuff for the guttajercna ${ }_{5} 6$

F.

FAIRFAX, Lords, notes of 379
Fuiry-ringscaufed by ruffs and reeves
$3^{86}$
Falfa. ffe, on the origin of the character of 375. cleared of cowardice

490
Farringor bill and town defcribed 12,392
Fafl-day recommended in times of dearth
Fire at the Duke of DevonShire's, Chifwick 75 mills at Lea bridge 75. hayricks ar Eoticld 76 . Bowftrect Covent garden 77. at Nine Elmes 79. near Leeds in York fhire 155. wheat-ftark vear Hąings 156. Motton mills in Surrey ist. windmill at Rugby 158. coro-mili in the lile of Man 158. at Wrefle cafte, Yorkfire 247. at Exeter 247. Little Badwin mill 247. Haif way-Bain, near Southampton 248 .at Scarborough $24^{8}$. at Axminfter $=48$. at Hawkthead 278. Hemel Hempftead 245 . wheatricks near Baınet 249. at Brifol 250. at Barking 250. at, Frampton, Doriethice 34 J. Middle.row, Holbourn 347. 4000 warehoufes al Smy rna 429. at Shotley $43^{\circ}$. Latbury inn $43^{\circ}$. at Sapcote 430. at Palbarnugh 430. in Dectors Commons 422. at Kenfington 516. al Chefhunt 516. Cullum-itr. 5 I9
Fur-office, trial with the atfignees of Lochyer and Bream

518
Fijocr, Paine, sccount of 489
finz-Cibarles, Churle, a nalurat fon of Ctarles II. by kithatine PcEyP, account count wo

451

$$
\text { of } \quad 35^{6}
$$

Fletcber, R. enquiry after 463
Flexman, Dr. biographical ac. of
Flour, fubfitutes for 192
Forbes, Adm. biog. ac. of $2 \in 0$
Fox drowned by a Swan 3.45
France reception of the princefs in the Auftrian dominions $69,153,343$. furpenfion of arms with the Auftrians 70. revolution characterized by Dumonriez 139. Government acknowiedged by Denmark 245. Mr. Wickham's note to M. Barthelemi with the anfwer 345 Dr. Sturgets's letter rcforcaing the clergy at Winchefter 373. lift and character of the fuficress there, wanted 379 . memoirs of the war in Veridee 407. behaviour of the clergy defended 478. conremplation on the Revolution 494. cruelty will not be creaited by potterity 501 . expiration of the armiftice

515
Frinch, Tbomas, asecdotes of 527
Fyfe.d, Yobn, anecdotes of 171

G.

G.AGE, $\operatorname{Sir}$ TB. ac of 393

Galan'bus Nivialis 270,469
Gardner, Rev. Jcnatban, biog. account of 250
Gartre, etymology of 33
G. rere-bifo defcribed 33

Gay, monument to, erected by the Duke of Queenfbury, the epitaph by Pope 6 Gayton, Rev. Mr. addrefs to Hamphire Fencible cavalry ${ }^{246}$
Genna, int-llizence from 342
Goorge Iit. proceedings in Parliament on the atiault on 38,40 . dibates on his fiech 38. proceedings fur the act for fafcty of bis perfon 72, $125.212,3 \times 1$, 383. 1 eech 435

Gibbon family 271,459
Glafs, rainted 183
Gicnerciy, account of the inhabitants 224
". God juve the King", on the origill of 118,206
Gold mime found in Ifeland 8 taken poffeffion of for the King
Good Hope, Cape, immenfe quantity of corn there 154 Gordon, Col. Robert, ac. of 442
Grabam, Sir Bellingbam, account of $35^{8}$ Granvilie, Denis, Dean of Durham's ftriking paffage concerning 388
Greebert, biographical ac. of 171

Greekl, remarks on the tragic poetry of 188

Grensda, intelligence from425
Grenville, Lord, fpech on Reevee's pamphlet 391
Gutta ferena, efficacy of mercurial fnuff in

H.

HACKET, Bf. Latin epitaph with two tranflations 295
Fasiney old church defcribed 273. monuments 273 . new chuich

274,468
Hackney collgge the fall of 458 acciunt of the fale of 519
Hague National Convention opened

245
Hakequell (Effex) reetory 96
Hall, Rebert, killed at Leicefer election

527
Hardb.rm priory $\quad 113$
Harris, D:. George, ac. of 358
Harrijan, Henry, erpitaph 194 Hats, duty on 520
Haverfban fchool 132
Haynes, dicwlins, anecdotes of 168
Heall $b$, on the bleffing of 320 Heart, found on the r ght lide 375
Leat and cold, effects of, on the livine fyftem. 145
Heath, Robert, enquiry after 384, 463
Henry $V$ extract from a letter written by him 186. his drefs when prince of $W$ ales vercribed

395
Hen/barv, Archdeacon, account of his family and epitaph $96,235,386,464$. Tobias enquiry concerning 117
It be'or's Bibliotheque Orientule,trafiaticnof, wanted 8 . culegium on, in Latin 19
Hervick, Robert, enquiry after 384. anfwered 461, $4^{63}$

Hervey, George, Lord, account of $\quad 169$ Hurvey, Rev. Yames, account of, and morumestal instription

I NDEX to the Effays, Occurrences, Ecc. 1796. Part I.

Hide of land, the quantity of 36
Higb lake, Chethire, defcribed
445
Hildefly, Bp. his practice of inftructing children at Hitchun

379
Hill, family, monuments 208
Hthl, F.F. biographical and literary anesdotes or 127
Hemortbage, effects of oil of Turpentine in cafes of 53
Hole, Rev. Ricbard, ac. of 357
Hollind and its inhabitants defcribed 16. tour through 182. cleanliners, trugali. ty, and induriry of the inhabitants
${ }_{18}{ }_{3}$
Hood, anriquity of 37
Hook, $N$. enquiry after $3^{8}+$, 463
Honkins, Bond, on his bequilt to the Humane Soiety 8
Horne, Bp. explanation of a paffage in Jones's life of 23,203, 363. his polemical dilputes 23 . letter of his

202
Worfes, draw harrows by the tail on the coan of Argyie 221. additional tax on

485
Hoofev, Pp. letter on the icracity of corn 300 Houfas, fall of, in Haugh:onfreet

519
Msruard, ofobn, his monument with the epitaph, ereced in in St . Pauls
Howve, Earl, entertained by the Goldfmiths' company

432
Howel, Fomes, his character vindicated

10
Humane Sorielv, anniverfary 251 . more than 2000 lives reftored 251. 2001. given by the court of Common cooncil

347
Ilanter, $\mathcal{F}$ obn, his experiment on Swa!lows

309
Hutcbinfonianijn defended $2{ }^{2}+$

I. & I.

FAGO, Rev. Foinn, charefer of Jamaica, Maroons nearly txtirpated 70. intelligence from 241, 338. fuccefs againt the Maroons 338. termination of the Maroon war
Ignorance, pleas for, in Scotland . 225 anclofures, impolicy of too

Independence, the value of $3: 0$
Indix Indicatiriths, 60. 12I
Indies, $235,301,419,456$
Indies, Enft, fucceis againt the Dutch fertlements 336 . intellignoe from . 4:9
Indians, Northern, defcription of, and character 498
Infans wish two herds 183
Irfidcity, the increale of 27 r
Ingamartion, phlegmonic, cafe of 1.45

Inoculation, the caufe of in. creafe of population 112
Injcripti in in a ruom at an nn
i.) Wal:s 270

Yob, critique on 379 . his father . 455 of hung, Dr. his monument in St. Paul's 180 . impreffion of in plaifter 299. durended againft the cenfuse of Mr. Hayley 375. anecdote of

379
Fures, $\mathcal{F}$ are, monumental infcription
$1{ }^{1} 4$
--S. IFm. characier and epitay harg. propofal for a monument to his memory in S. Paul's

378
Fonlon, Ben, Lettars to the Duke of Neweafle 9it
Itehad, Nir. Harman afiflinated hy the Defenders 74, 83. E. Camdan's fpeeches to Parliament 154.343. Ircl nil's Shakfpeare 7, $3^{6} 4$ Irun, mare by the Romans in Britain
$47^{2}$

K .

K.ANG AROO defcribed 467

Keton church-fpire 18
Kippis, Dr. not editor of the Monthly Review

5

L.

LAOCOON, Virgil's defcription deferded ios Laud-tax, on equalization of 145. isate of $43^{6}$ Largeter, dean 478 Lia bridg mills burnt down 75
Liad mine on Mendip hills
Lee $G_{\text {cyt }}$, Mr. biographicalac. of 257 Leitfler, particulars relaung to hifiory of 59. E.arls of 59. Robert Hall killed at the elect on

5:7
Lent, the resfon for eaung what comath out of the water in 293 Letrer, fatal unvéts of one from a former admirer 155
Lcuellen, Martin, enquiry atter
Leyden defcribed $182 .{ }^{38}$ dee votion of the inhabitants 183, college and public library 183
Licbfecid catbedral, a garrifon for the Royalifts 5 !. modern monuments in 5 t . improvements in 98,193 , 299. account of the town

Liciterficin, Prince Charies of 168,253
Lilibullicrorar 395
Lirnzan fy fiem defended 4 tig
Libon, itorms and earthquake 24.

Literary Fund, mitake concering rectified 14
Literay Intelligence 147
Liveryman's hood 37
Lanzillen Vale 413
liogd, his biograpinical fketches not to be credited 100 . defended

203
Lockhart, Cbarles, biographi- ${ }^{202}$ cal account of $\quad 1 ; 2$
London, plan for turning the Thames into a capacious Wet-dock 25 .ohjections 96 . addrefles on the birth of $s$ princefs 79. election 518.
London.bridge, propoial for blowing a man in a buat over it $3 \% 0$
Love, birch and triumph of 500
Lowis XVIII. ordered to leave the Venetian territory 429 arrival at the prince of Conde's army at Riessal $4: 9$
L: idlam, Mr. a writer in the Monthly Review

5
Lufforbam (Rutland), chureh notes

18
Lulus Natura, infant with twoheads 183
Lidynger (Rutland), and hotpital defrribed

457

M.

Mociberfon, Mr. bingraphical account of $\quad 5^{26}$
Madder, on the culteration of 23,115 . on the tythe of $\begin{array}{ll}\text { Malacca, furrender of } & 114 \\ 336\end{array}$
Mrature's mote, vof. on 372
Marfion-baje eltertainarent and ball 160 Martham, chief jullice, monumert.

12, 121
Murces suar, termination of 428
(.) Gencral Mant. Mac. fure, I796.

INDEX to the Ellays, Occurrences, \}'c. 1796. Part Io

Mirriages, cuftom of prefenting donations at 133 . on the ring 119
Martin, St. Qutwich, foundation laid of the new church

393
Martinique, intelligence from $33^{8}$
Mary, Q. of Scots, anfwer ro the objettions made to her being the writer of letters attributed to her

475
Mietkerke family 121
及Jicrocofon, enquiry after 106, 287
Middleton (Surfex), defcribed
369, $4^{89}$
Milimay, Dame Anne, biog. account of 355
Milton, obfervations on his writings
Minot, Laurence, an antient Englim poet, conjectures concerning 48
Mijcellaneous Romarks 394,487
Miffrd, Mrs. monumenial infcriptiou

114
Modbury, acc. of the town of 275
Mobawks, opinions refpecting
104, 188
Monaferie, dangeroustendency of

317
Moore, Abp. letter on the Sacity of grain 300
Morgan, Sylvanus, MS. additions to his Sphere of Gentry 366. account of him

367
Morkigh cbursh, built as an atmement for haviug killed a Parfon

275
Wortwain, remarks touching 494
Afortuaries explained $3^{8} 3$
Mofes, reprefented with hor".s, a mittake of the tranflators

304
Efofley faniiy, remarkable meering of $5^{16}$
Afurder, in lreland 246. ex. staotdinary in Desbythre

249 taken by Sir J. Pellew 337, 339. Lugger Privateer by the Racoon 339. La Percante frigate by the Intrepid 339. Ships taken by Sir J. B. Warren 340. L'Abeile taken by the Dryad 425. Privateers taken and deftroyed by Sir John Laforey 42 6. La Favourite taken by the Alfred 426. La Cigne taken by the Doris 426. L'Esurial burnt by the Niger 426. Alexander taken by the Invincible 427. Argo and Briggs taken by Adm. Duncan 428. L'Unité takers by the Inconftant 513. Revanche takea by the La Suffifante 513. La Fan'aire taken by Sir J. B. Warren 513. Le Chatieur taken by the Affiftance $55^{3}$. Leitrois, Couteux, and Le Bionde, taken by Sir E. Pellew 574. Le Tribune taken by the Unicern 5 ri. Le Tamife taken by the Santa Margaritta 514. Le Proferpine taken by the Dryad $5^{14}$
Navigation, Inlond, the atility of narrow canals 30,94 . plan for avoiding locks 3 t Navigators, two female 115 Nettejwell (Eiliex), topographical defcription of 380 Nervman, Artbur, enquiry after

463
Nomunsland in Domefday 292, 460, 479
Norri)'s dr: $$$ s, honorable teft:mony ot

99
Noribamfion, Earl, account of 356. town, new charter 430
Nughn', Rotert, elquiry alter 479
Nuns, placed neat Amesoury
i, 106
Nursaberg Token
487 230
N.

NATURAL Religion, contiderations on 219
Acval A: Aions, E'Afpietaken by the Queber 24x. La Bonse Ciroyenne taken by Capt. Stoptord 24\%. ataask on the fltipping in Herqui, by Sir Sydney 5 mith 242. Feveral vefiels aaken by Sir J. B. Waitren 243. Le Courtr taken by ske Proferpine 244. fifips the fuccefior to his eftate. 433
Oriental MASS. purchafed for the Britifh Mufeum 252
Oriol, explanation of 299
Orleans, Duke, taken at the battle of Agincourt 185, 304
Owveb, explained $\quad 384$ Oxford, apartments of the Black Prince at Queen's College $\quad 4^{88}$
Oxinden, Henry, account of 466

P.

PAINE, Thomay, characterized 397
Pallifer, Sir Hugh, biographical account of

439

Paper, a rectipt for extracting greafe from, requefted 376
Perkes, Rev. Fobn, character of 257
Purliament, proceedings 38, 121, 212, 301, 484. annual recommended 502
Purr, Dr. letter to Dr. Hawes 412
Pafcall, antient ceremony of 293
Patterfon, Col. account of 170
Pauls, St. no monument to be erected until approved by a committee of the Royal Academy 179. monuments of Howard and Johnton

179
Paulus, his fpecch to the Batavian National Affembly 341. Peter accuunt of him

353
Pearls, a difeafe of the Oyiter
Pedefirinx, account of Mir. Spiliard is Pegge, Rev. Dr. Samuel, biographical account of 450
Pellsw, Sir Edward, letter of 202
Pennjobania, feverity of the weather in 204
Periodical writings, hiftory of wanted
$3^{64} 8$
Perfar, intelligence from 245 cruelties there 245 . obServations on the literature of 318 Peters, Rev. Mr. ac. of 478
Pettrfuarg, Entifh factory houfe there 373
Patrefactions, enquiry conceraing 456 Fbilodem:es, MS. on mufic 3 9 ${ }^{6}$; 486
Pbipar, fentenced to twelve months imprifonmene 347

INDEX to the Effays, Occurrences, pigcons featbers, fuperftitious notion of 465

Pike of $37 \mathrm{lb} .40 \mathrm{z} \quad 5^{16}$
Pilpay's Fables, enquiry after the author
Pitt, $W$. fpeech on the property of the poor 190
Plants, in the defert of Arabia Petrea
Plumtre, Rev. Fames, a contributor to botanical knowledge (fee Part II.) .371 Poetic dicfion, early ${ }^{\text {Specimen }}$ of Poct, on antient Englifh 49, 384, 463
$P_{\text {oland, }}$ advices from 244
Pollard, Sorab, a relation of A. Srephens, and J. Cafaubon, epitaph on 287
Poor, on the property of the 190. on the management of, in workheufes rgo. propofal for the benefit of 234. mode of relieving at Chifelhurft mill 21 I . recommendation for relieving

313
Pope, order for his name being erafed out of all books

120
Pope, A. remarks on his epiraph on Gay

489
Population, Inoculation a caufe of the increafe of 112
Porter, Dr. Fobn, irquiry concerning 300
Fortugal, poets of 192
Pozvder-wills at Hounllow blown up 76 . fufferers by the explofion 118. the reallofs by the explofion 184
Prayer ufed at Bp . Stortford fchool

403
Priefley, Dr. his intemperate fpirit

291
Prince, Daniel, account of $53^{\circ}$
Prometbeus Vinctus of EScbylus, remarks on 188, 307, 491
Property, effect of the idea of, on mankind

190
Propbecirs of IJaiab, on the fulfilling of 499
Provifions, on the high price of
Pfolm 100 , new verfionof ${ }_{1}{ }^{8} 8$
Pfoas Ahfcefs, fuccefsful treatment of 57 rulpir as Bcaulieu defcribed

[^66]RATL (Bird) Reeps under fnow 268
Raphael, painting of difcovered at Wallingford 431
Razulinfor, Gcorge, ac. of 526
Raynal, Abbot, ac. of $2 $ 9$, 348. obelifk erected by him to the authors of the liberty of the Swifs Cantons 455
Rebello, David Alvez, ac. of 441
Rccord's Arithmetic, preface to 117
Red fiststs nef, enquiry after 210, 270
Reevci's Pamphlet, proceedings in Parliament refpecting 302,390
Reg:fers, Kentib, extracls irom 466
Religion, Natural. the parent of Deifm and Infidelity 23. confideratious on 219
Relikc Sund.y 293
Refpiration, difficulties in the modern doctrine of 109
Revelations, conjecture on the two witneffes 271,419
Reynolits, arms of 33
Ritco. recommended as a fubflitute for flour i 92 . brought from the Eaft-Indies 43 t
Ricbard I. pride, covetoufnels and lechery, in what way beftowed by him $3^{6}$
Ricbard III. coin of, defcribed 196
Rialington (Rutland), account of 187
Righy, Fofeph, enquired after 463 Rings found near Leicefter 45 S
Riots, Judge Grofe's charge concerning 321
Rivers in Leicefterfhire 118
Koacb, Mrs. biog. ac. of 8 I
Robin Hood, his noble defcent doubted 48
Robinfon, Rev. Rob. ac. of 415 Roe, Cburrles, hiftorical epitaph

181

Rogers, Rev. Yobn, ac. of 351
Roman coins defcribed 196
Roman fation at Verlucio 47 t .
at Chilham, Kent 473
Roman Catbolisks, their tenets
Rofe, yellow on Dartmoor 197. varieties of 394
Rowe, Sir Tbo.monumem ${ }_{3} 85$
Ruding, family of 217
Rupture, truffes for 96
Ruffcll, Tbomas; ac. of and character .. 524
Ritrtindjbive, tour in 17, 187

Ryall (Rutland), ac. of 187 S.

SAINBEL, Mr. ac. of 505
Se. Martin, family of 487
Saiifury, Rev. Irill.ac of 343
Sardinia, commotions in 342
Savage, biographical ac. of and his writings 309 Sazuyer, Mrs, murder of 347 Schwvanszburg, Countefs, herolfm of 233

Scot, Tho. enquired after ${ }^{236}$
Scotland, proof that wood will grow in the Wefteraillands $22 t$. improvements propofed 22I. cuftoms and fuperfition 22 I . flate of religion 22.4. caufes of tardinefs in improvement 225 Scot, Sir Yobn, fpeech on the bill for the fecurity of the King Sea-gulls, their prefervation recommended 489 Seu-kale, culivivation of 197 Seals, antient $185,373.458$,

$$
487
$$

Seditious meetings, proceedings on the bill againtt 124 . 212, 301. fubfance of the act
Sergrove, Rev. Will. ac of ${ }_{35}{ }^{15}$
Servants, fine for infolence recommended 5 r . necefity of reform in 51 . rewarded with a Copper ketthe on their marriage 133
Servitude, a punifhment for theft in Scotland 226
Sbakfpeare MSS. doubts of their authenicity 7. objections to 92 . names of perfons for and againft the authenticity 267 . remarks on the forgery ${ }_{3} 63,463$
Sbarpe, Gregory, a writer in the Monthly Review 5
Sberburne, Eazvard, account of $384,462,463$
Sheriffs for 1796, $\quad 164$
Sbrezefbury, houie of induftry 159. St. Alkmond's church $3^{69}$
Sibtborp, Dr. Fobn, ac. of $\mathbf{1}_{73}$,
Silius Ilalicus, the varions ed:tions and MSS. of 4.4 Silver-mine at Alva in Scotland

521
Sinclair family of, Caithnefs, particular curtom in 222 Skinner, Rev. Ricb. ac. of 80 Slave-trade, fpeech of a Governor in Afica on 51. obfervations on 291
Small-pnx, fatal at. St. Edmundibury

IN DEX to the Effays, Occurrences, $\mathfrak{E c}$ c. 1796. Part I.

Sminb, Sir Sidncy, capture of 346. fent to St. Loo 4:9 Smitlfoldd-market, propofed ite gulations in 57 . hints reipecting

98
Smyth, Lady, biog. ac. of 173
Sinch,', Archdeacon, ac. of 290
Shuzo-drop, enquity concerning 270, $4^{69}$
Sotulates of Monks, defcribed 384, 456
Sowden, Rev. Berjamin, account of 356, $3^{9} 5$
Spain, entry of the fovereigus of, into Eagadus 244
Spiliard, Mr. a famous pedettrian, account of 7 I Stragge, Rev. Harvey, ac. of 529
$S_{\text {Suire, }} W_{\text {ill. }}$ account of ${ }^{\delta_{I}}$ Stannary Parlizanent, feats removed to Painces-ball 394
Sternct, Dr. biog. ac. of ${ }^{3<} 8$
Stuart, Lieut. iltw. ac. of 439
Stevers, Al:wander, ac. of 169
Stirling, account of $2=2$
Stoikiort, incieafed population of 159

Stuffet, account of his execut10:

245
Stome, Mr. trial and açuital for high treaton

162 Stonebenge
473
Stoneb a $\sqrt{c}$, Sir James, biug. account of 165 sinus from hories, other animats and fin

55
Storaze, Mr. aeccuat of 353
d.orms in vations parts of Ergland $155,157,516,519$
Siuges, Dr. ie ter concerwit:g 1be Fowah clergy at Wiachefter 5: 3, 3 98
Eubterravecus tuflage at odd Sarom

185 Suckiong, Jokn, original Acticr of 16

Suffetes Piuvic: 394
Sujucction, fatal on Rip board
Srondilin, Dr. his cedication os Charles II. I:O. accernt of b im
Sow liusus, obfervations on the migration of 3, 56,115, $187,267,270,385,39 \div \cdot$ bury themflyes inthe waser , $, 399,48.0$ objections to that upinion 5.43 1. deyative of a lerge tlight of I15. casly appearance igós, bSS, 47. dificrent tpecies 198. torpid flate of 21c. Pemant's accourt of the migration of 279. retreat to chiffic iso
Svond drowns a fox 345

Swift, note of an ancefor of Dean Swift $\quad 466$
Swil/s Cantons, reverence for the authors of their liberty 454. inicription to their memory 455 Symonds's Notc Book, exiracts from $4^{66}$

TASHELL L, Rev. Henry, account of ${ }^{2} 5^{6}$
Tyylor, Tp. collegtions for his life 199, 368. his will enquired after 479

Telgrapb defcribe 16 t . on Snottenton bill

473
Teflamen: Nicw, Macknight cal 1 Tm. 11. $16 . \quad 194$ Thanzs, plan for turning it into a capacious Wet-wock

25
Toffime Lynotbjilunt, a rare plani, found in Sutiolk 210 , 395,469
Tiles, a cheap colouring for, wanted

380
Tiibes, oljéctions to commutaticn of 495

Toíacco, additionalduty on4ะ6
Tokens, tradeimens 183
Tollimaibz, Lady Bridget, account of 352
Torwnjend, Lord Cobal les, Bur in a polt-chaife $43^{6}$
Tiwnjon, Archdeacon, particulars conceming
Trial of Stone for HighTreafon 161. of Muct elis for the fufication of fotditrs on inip-board 517
Trian, Eall-India fap, capture of 515 Tojaid Herf, on Virgil's ace count of Fiongh, large me of Moor thone 995

Tuntin號e Revifer, notes from $4^{66}$
Tinr $j_{i}$ ntint C.l, cificacy ot, in intern.l hemorthas 53 Ty.terat, nbityations on act. tranllatcrs of 211

$$
V \text { and } U .
$$

VELZ 1 , Rev. Tho. nonumental infuricion 277
Vondeans, account of 407
V'merillgurs', 'anecuotcs if James O'Burn $\quad 84$ Vrmaj:Ien, Sir Cerneilus 380
$V$ cternary College, ac. of 505 Vidal, Mr. account of 83 bienna, departure of the Areh. duke Charles to the Army
24.5 345 lirgil'saccount of the Trogan horie defended ic8. deifription of the Laocoon defended - 108
Univerfity, propriety of the Students attending their own flace of worthip 106
Lrton fansity 13. the chal. lengefent by Sir Henry to the Duke of Guite 13. Gicy (Hants), defcribed, and Charch Notes 15
Voltare, remarks on fome paflates in his writings 478. France undone by his writings

479
Cortizern, account of the reprefencaime of hat play 346
Uppingham Cburchies. markei
$45^{8}$
Urn turisls amonget the Danes

41

Uvedale, Robert, his applicab,, to the Hobrew language $\quad 100,465$

w.

WAKE, Kyd, tial of 162. fintence

433
Whiles, Princer., delivered of a Princefs 80. Prace of, declines receiving the addrefs of the city on the birth of the Princtls 163
W'aiss, romantic beaty of $2-\cdots$
Wall, Mr. bequeft to the poor of Rridingion 164
Wantage, detcriprion of a figure on themarker-crofsio5
W'a'ton's Lives, Zuach's edithon 29 S Waburtur, Bp. ramalks on has life 363
W'are", A!!trman, biographicalaccome of 85 iV. ditiph:d 71. town, 7000 houfesbatitat 154
Wafe lands, treviate of the till for the cul.ivation of 250
Wat:r, fulphurcous, at Bewd-ley 283
Watirbsure, Eiazo. fuppofed to te the author of the Sphere of Gentry $3^{66}$. Family $4^{60}$ Wa:ing. Arete cuymolocy of +1, $9^{6}$
Waticn, Bp. a cheap edition of his $A_{1}$ pology tor the Bible recommanued 2.75 Heduitgs, walnuts fcattered at ror IV cilleren, Comteffe. ac. of 357,437,464 W: man, ITon。 Tho. ac. of 357 Ii fion, a conviifted forger 435 IFbarton family

Hibitbread,

IN DEX to the ESSAYS, BOOKS, ※c. in Vol. LXVI. Part I.

Wbitbread, $S$. account of, and hischaritable donations53I Wbue-borje on Farringdon hill

105 Wblie Swellings of the joints, efficacy of cauftics 147 Whiting, $N$. enquired after 463 W'bymficalle, the eatly ufe of that word
93
Wildman, T. biographical account of 253 Wilkes's f peech to Earl Howe on the freedoin of ti:e city being profented to him $43^{2}$ Wood, Antbony, his biography ceafured 101,203. his will, enquiry conceraing
$45^{5}$ Y.

YATES, Ricb.account of 525
$Z$.
ZIMMERMAN, Dr. accouns of 255

INDEX to the BOOKS Reviewd in Yol. LXV1. Part I.

A.

Efchytus, Glafgow 405 Ahkin's Defcription of the Country round Manchefter 500
Albin's Hiltory of the Ille of Wight 220 America, Look before you leap, or Hints to Artizans 357. A lit:le plain Englifh addreffed to

419
Anderfon's Narrative of the Embstly to China 145
Andiecw's Hiltory of Grear Bricain

395
Arabian Nigbts Entertainmmt $39^{6}, 438$
Aubry, Oxonii Dux posticus 50 duckland, Lord, $\mathrm{S}_{\mathrm{p}}$ rech, May 2, ${ }^{179} 9^{6}$

502 B.
B.AKER'S American Indian, a Play $4^{6}$ Barry, on decreafing the Number of Dogs 406 Baribelemy's Anacharfis 94 , 396
Biograpbic $l$ Sketches of Purraits at kn ole 46
B. Jit's Skerch of Democracy

Blytb's Sermon 45- Sptech at Oakham Cattle

45
Boaden's Letter on the Shakfeare Papers $\quad 138$
Birwes's Sermen. 507
Bowles on Political Confitutions

228
Bracken's Sermon 493
Brozune's Leaf out of Burke's Book
Bryane's obfervations on Le Cheveliers Defrription of the Plain of Troy $49^{6}$ Budzorth's Ramble to the Lakes

132
Burgefs's Birth and Trium ${ }^{\text {i }}$ h ot Love

500
Burke's Letter to a Noble Lord 3I4. Letter to H. Duncombe on his Letter 314. Lester to Mr. Miles on his Attack on Burke 3:4. Wakefield's Reply to 34. Street's Vindication of the Dake of Belford's Attaik on 315. three Letters to 315 . Thelwal's fober Reflections, on his Leter 315. A warm Reply to 315 . Remarks occafioned by his Letter $315^{\circ}$ A Letter to Mr. Miles $50+$ Neal's Let'er to 504. Conduct and Pretentions contidered 504. Towofend's Deifnce of \mathrm{C} .

$$
$$

$C$ MMBRIDGE, Univerfity Caiendar 1796, 4\% LetIer on the Celibacy of Fellows 506 Cartzuright's Commonwealth in Danger

502
Cobaucer's Troilus and Creffida 492
Cbaumercaux, Narrative of his Efcaic 227 Cbrife, on the fecond coming of 499

Clirgy, Dinlngue on the Amulements of 504. The Curates Aft examined 507
Coetiogon's S rmon on the Death of Romaine 144
Corn on the Evidence of Chritisnity 315
Corn, one Cavie of the prefear Saacity 3r. Indian, infhactions far the ufe of 3 I4
Courtney, Bp. Scrmon 493
Cayte's Hortus Britannicus Gippovicenfis 500
Cregt on the Methodifts 141 D.

DALZEL'S Hiftory of $\mathrm{D}_{\mathrm{a}}$ homy
Dinn's Map of Devon - 393
Dumouricz, View of the tuture Situation of Francel 39 Dinn/er's Milton's Paradife Regained

47
Dyer's Life of Robinfon $4^{1 / 4}$上.
FMIGR.ANTS, Hints to $3: 7$
Frgland, Thoughts on the Government 143, on the prefent Crifis of Affairs 235. Obfervations to the rriends of the Conftitution

Evans, Scrmon to the Memories of Dr. Stennet, Dr. Kippis, and Mr. Harris 45 F.

FAULKNER'S Hints to Electors 506
Farvien's Sermons 157
Fciris's View of Phyfick as a Science 500
Frectisin on the Mechanifm of a Horie's Funt 5 ; G.

GODIVIN on the Bill againt Treafonable Practices $\mathrm{I}_{4} 2$
Gray's Elegy, Greek, by Plumptre 317
Green's Sermon 495
Granada, Narrative of the Revoltat 405
Grafi's Charge at Hertford 32 I Guicciardini, on the antient Flemifn School of Painting 53

H.

HANGER'S Military Obfervatious 505
$H$ wu'ins's Sermon so Hizerayne's Sermon 413
Hayleg's Elegy on Sir W. Jones 223. Life of Milton
$37 t$
Hizrne's Journey fiom Hudfon's Bay to the Northera Ocean

497
Healbiste on the Corporation and Telt AEt $2 $ 3$
Henry l"I. or the Rofes, a Tragedy 227
Hoitiong Sermons 53. Addrefies on the high Price of Provifinns
${ }_{3} 13$
Huber on Bees $\quad 32=$
Hhamane Society, ftate of 412
Hunter, Fobn; Mufeum, Appeal to Parlianent on 50 Hard, Bi. Letter to 133. Life of Bp. Warburton 305
Hutchinfon's Cumberland 305,
419

$I$ and $J$.

GACKSON'S Hiflory of Lichfield Cathedral 50,:23
Fenkins's Sermon on the Death

$$
\text { of Di, Stennet } \quad 30 \mathrm{~S}
$$

fernixgham', Poems 419

INDEX to the BOOKS छc. Vol. LXVI. Part I.

Yones, Sir W. Poem to the Mcmory of 122
Fones's Life of Bp. Horne 23, 203, 365
Stuvenite Olio, 319 k.

XTNASTON'S Chaver's Tro:lus and Cru角da 492 L.

LISANHCraticnes 235
Lifiraty fund, account of $5^{\circ}$
Etteratane, Varieties of 143 , 233
Lompon Corre/ponding Socitcties, Views of 494
Zgndon Wet-docks, Letters relative to $3^{16}$. Ealtward Ho! 316. Letter to the Lord Mayor on 316

M.

Maine's Inquiry into the Authenticuy of Papers attributed to Shakfpear 286, $297,3_{3}, 364,49^{2}$
Majon on Church Muuck 141. on Defigns in Gardening

227
Medical Facts and Obfervations, Vcl.1V. 53, 145
Dindiliton's I'iews 322
Af:ies, Letter to 524
Afilton's Paradife Regainea,
by Dunfer 47
Aitinot's Poems 49
Nonafiery, a Poem 317, 470
Afomopo'y, or the Cutting Butcher's Apology 57
Norris on Monopoly and Foreftalling $\quad 506$
2r.rimain, Letters on 494
Aidfibi Liyllia tria, Graece 316
Atfo, on the Mangemers of Ch:!dren

NAPLETON'S Advize to a Siadent in the Univeifity 136
Nual's Letterto Burke 504
Aistols's Leicefteritire 58
Nowil's Catech:im 497 0.

0 - ${ }^{-}$-efeon the Progrefs of the Kuman Underfanding 157 Oobly's Perfian Mitcellanies 318 $P$.
FAREIRA, Lofter to the Correfponding Socretie:493
frums's Ode to a Boy at Eitr

506
Foufanias Gracis Deforiptro
Pitria's Leter to Citizen Al. quier
PibidemysonMufick $396,4 \times 8$

Pindar's Royal Tour 139
Plowden's Letter to a Roman Catholic Ciergyman 310. Letter to the Reporters of the Cifalpine Society 495 PlutarchiOferally yttenbachiii45
Polignac, Duchels, Me inoires 493
Pepc's Meffiah, Greck, by Plumpire

317
Poor, Propofals for equalizing the pay of lab, uring 144 . Letter to Sir J. C. Bunbury on the Poor-rate 234 . Hints for relievi; g the Diftreffes 313. Thoughts on the Mode of relieving 313. Enquiry into the Siate of the Poor in Hamplinire

313
Pozonall on the high Price of Corn

145
Prati's Gleanings through Wales, Holland, andiWeitphalia 231,501 $R$.
Ree's Sermon on the Death of Dr. Flexman 3es. on the Death of Dr. Kippis 145
R.igion, Defence of Experimenal 313. on the Neceffity of Revealed 505 Religinus Execrations, a Lent Sermon

316
Rerolutions, Confiderations on $2: 9$
Robertfon's Te'emachas 47
Rabin Hoid', Songs, Poum', &c. on

s.

SAIVBEL'S Works 50j
Saviate's Sernions 3C9
Scotland, Satitical ac. of 220
Servarts, Let ter refpecting 5 I
Scivar a's Lin, goltenVale 413
Sbakjpeare's MSS. examined
${ }_{5} 3^{3}$. Boadcit's Letter on 138. Malone's Inquiry $286,297,3^{6} 3,364,492$. Waldron's Reflections 492
Sizyen's Life
138
Silhus Italirus Ruperi 44
Smilbfield Market, Leiter on 57
Smugglers, an Opera, Sunçs in 321
Spolding's Reafons for leaving the National Worftip' 316
Street's Reply to Eurke $3{ }^{1}$;
Sturit's Drefles and Habits of Eingland
Sueronius, Eaglifh, by Thomfon

406
TAXES, Speculations on a uniform Tenure of Land and Equalization of Taxes
141
Taylor's Sermon on the Death of Dr. Stennet

308
Telemachus, Englifh, by Robertfon

47
Tericb's Letters, written in France, from Nov. 1794 to May $1795 . \quad 506$
Thelwal's Reflections on Burke's Letter 315
Tbomfon's Tranllation of Suctonius

406
Tindal's Hittory of Eveham
$3^{8} 3,4^{88}$
Tounfend on the Poor Laws 313. Defence of Burke $52 \ddagger$ Trachs publified at the cheap Repofitory 505 Turreatis Hiltory of the TWas in Laverdee 407 Turton's Reprefentation to the Curporation of London 49

$V$. and $U$.

VANSITTAKTS Le:ter on the Conduct of the Bank Directars $\quad 496$
$I^{\prime}$ fifii Difictatio de Sacramento 497
Ufur゙, Reflections on 3 17
W.

W ALDRON, on Shakfeare MSS.

492
Wrales, Practice of the Gieas S:flion 406
Wake's Verfion of the Pfatms 1;8
Wakcfied's Reply to Burke 315
Wallace, Lady, The Whim, a Comedy 312
Walton's Letters; Love and Truth 506
W'allyerton's official Letters to the Congrefs 135
Wafe Lands, fiif Reput of the Committee 406
Warkins on his Majetty's Powers refpectung Coirswall 228
Watfin, Bp. Apology for the Bible 271,396
Warton, on various Paftages in the New Teflament 404
Whitakir's Sermon 144
White Bread, Searcity of Bread

314
"ilfon's Dialogue on the Two Bills

309
Wincbefler, Hiftory of $47{ }^{\circ}$
Wytteribub's Platarch 44 Y.
rUC'TH'S Metion 315

Index to the POETRY in Vol. LXVI. Parti.

A.

ALGOROTTIto a Friend 5 it Anderfon, Geurge, to the Memory of 511

Anna, Verfes to 65
Affrology, to a Lady fludying 324
Attachment, Local, Mifs Seward on $3^{68}$

B.

BANNISTE R, famer, in a Garden of a Manallery near Lifben

1;8
Beggar-girl, a Song $\quad 322$
Brllingbam, Allan, on 133 Bijbip, Mr. to his Wife 66. Epigram by 512

Bofcawen's Oje on the Literary Fund

508 c.

CAROLIN.A, to, by Sterne
Caîmir, Epigram XIV.
Coildren's Ball
150
Combat, an irregular Ode $6_{2}$
Cotes, Mifs, on 236
$C_{\kappa} b$, the Unlicked $\quad 152$
D.

DELIA, to, in Sicknefs 325
Dian-tourn, a Poem 509
Dulce Domum, the writer of poetically defcribed $3^{66}$

FRA:VCE, Sonret to the Princefo Roysi of 65 G. eEOKGE III. Ode on his Efcape, Hebrew, 6I. Ode on his Birth-day 538 Cratitude, Ode to 64 H.

MAYDEN, Verfes to 65 Heal:b, Ode on 64, the meafure of 509

Herrick, R. his Dean boum 509. Rerurn to London 509. to theReverendShade of his Father

510
Horace, Book I. Ode II. imitated 324. Book I. Ode XXXIV.imitated 324

FULIIA, to J.

KIPPIS, on his Death, by
Mifs Whlliams 66
Kifs, two Soratets on $3^{2} 4$ L.

L $A K E$ in a calm Day deicribed

133
Lap dog, on the Death of a tavourite
Litivary Fund, Ode for 63, 508. Song for 422

Lorke, Mifs, Sonnets by 237
Love, to a Lady who afleed an Antidote to 15 I Livers, the Rock of the two 149. to his Miturefs 321 M.

MORRIS, Capt. on the Lite-rary-Fund

422
N.ATURE, to

Najobj-feld, on 149
327.

Ode on the Wreck of the Wel-India Fleet 325 . to a temperate Morning in January 324. Hebrew and Latin, on his Son's Birthday by J. Mills 510

PIND.AR'S Fythia, Ode IV.
Pitazi, MI. Imitation of an Italian Song 237
Pitt, Mir. to 323
Peetiv. To her who will not undeiftand them 239 . to him who will underfand them 239 . to a young Woman 240. to a young Lady in the Drefs of an officer 512 . on feeing the Royal infant atheep 325 Pye's Ote for the New Year

61
R.
R.ATHBONE, Ricbard, Ode to Retirement, on

510
134

150 SANS CULOTTES, on, J.at 149
Sea, fuppored to be written by Mr. Hutchinfon, drivia to Sea in an open Boat $23^{8}$
Sca-fide, Sonnet, $\quad 2 / 0$ Sezvard, Mifs, on local Attachment 368 . in Memory of Enfign Stevens 420 . Paftoral Ballad $\quad 4=\mathrm{I}$ Sobakfeare, Purodies of : 51 , $^{5}$, Simpliciry, on 425
Song, "Fie, Damon, fie!" ${ }_{512}^{152}$
Spantel, Verfes to $\quad 152$
Stevens, Enfign, in memory of 420. Sonnet on Mifs SeWard's Llangollen Valeq:I
Sunazy Limulements, on the Annihilation of 140 T.

Tbomat, Co!. to the Nymph of the Spriag $14^{8}$
Tragedy, Oie to $\quad 238$
Trent, on the Trent being violently flooded, July 22 , 1792

152
Truenty-one $\quad{ }_{3} 28$

V.

VERSES written near a $\mathrm{Pa}-$ gan Ruin in Rengal 134 . on the Death of a Y"ug Lady i:
Vorigign, Prologue and Epilogue to 326

WARTON, Tho. on Mifs Cotes and Mifs Wilma= 326
Way to get Married, Prologue to ${ }^{326}$
Wife to, on Departure forthe War

512
W'ilmot, Mifs, on 23 家
Wimbelfer, Marchionef, ou her Death
$5: 2$
rFAR, Pye's New-Year's Ode 6r. Ode for the New Year

INDEX to the PLATES in Vol. LXVI. Part I.

Arms, Coat of, in Baliol College, Oxford 105. anrique $\quad 289,457$
Beaulicu, Polpit at 239
Cellini, B. Portrait of 9
Coins 105, 125, 373
Crofs, antique 185
Dorcheftrs (Oxford), Monuinent at

105
Druids Aitor at Cuerafey $3: 3$
Farmsum (Beaks)Wedtyw of Clafs, painted

Hackney new Church 273
Hardham Priory 113
Howard, Johri, Monument
179
LydingtonHofpital, Rutl. 4 :7
Middleton (Suffex), Church and Font. $3^{6} 9$
Ongar, Chipping, Churchirs Peterfburg, Britifi. Faliory Hufe

373 Pulpit at Beaulieu $\quad 289$ Ring $\quad 289,457$ Rumean Encampmeas a5

Chilham, Kent.  473

Scal of Charles 11. 185. $18{ }_{8}$ Dove 185. of Archdeacura Snell 185 . of Will. Fitz Otho

283
Seals 323
Shrewfury, St. Alkmond's

$$
\text { Cherch } 369
$$

Telegraph 4?
Tiles, Antient $37 ?$
Waniage Market-ctofs 105

THE following inferipion is on a brafs plate on the South bafie of an obelifk, or obfervatory, iately erected on the terrace in Hawkfone fark, in the county of $\mathrm{S}_{\mathrm{a}}$ lop:
"The firft flone of this pillar was laid by Sir Riclard Hill, bait. member in feveral parliamentsfor this county, on the ift day of October, in tie year 1795; who caured it to be erected, not only for the various ufes of an cbitervatory, and to feart the eye, by prefentug to it, at one view, a moont luyuriant and extenfive profpect, which takes in not lefs than twelve (inr, fome affert, fiffeen) counties; hut from motives of juftice, reflect, and graturde, to the menory of a truly wreat and good mana, viz. Sir Rowland Hill, kut. who was born at the family manfion of Hawkfone, in the reign of King Henry the Seventli; and, being bred to trade, and free of the cty of 1 undon, became one of the moft ceniviverible and opuleut metclants of his tine, and was lort-mayor of the fame, in the fecond and thirl years of Edward the Sixtli, anno 1549 and 1550; and was the firft Proteftant who filled that hish office.
" Having embraced the principles of the Reformation, he zealoufly exerted himfelf in behalf of the Protettunt caure; and, having been diligent in the ufe of all religious exercifes, prajerfful, corficentious, and watcoful, as a wruer of his char ecr exprelfes it, yet, trufting only in the nees its of his Lord and Saviour, Jetus Chrift, he exclanged this life for a better, a fhort while before the de.th of that pious young monarch, being ased nearly 70 years.
"For a confiderale time previous to his deceafe, he gave up his mercantle occupations, that he might with more devotednefs of heart attend to the great conceins of another world.
" His lands, poltefîions, and church patronage, were inmenfe, particulaty in the counties of Salop and Clietter; the numBer of his tenants (none of whom the ever raifed or fined) amornting to one the thfand one hundred and eighty -one, as appears from a restal yet preferved, and copied from lis own hand-writing.
"But his privale virtues, grood dleeds, and munificent fprit, were quite unlimited, and extended, like the profpect before us, Wa:t, Weft, North, and South, far furpalling all bounds. ' Being fenfibic,' faith Fuller, fpeaking of lim in his Worthics of England, 'that his great eftate was given him of God,' it was nis detire to devote it to lis glory. He huilta a pacions clurch in his own parifh at Hodnet, and likewife the neighbouring clurch of Stoke, at his own expence. He built Tern and Achlam bridses, in this county, both of hewn ftone, and containing feveral arches each. He alfo built other large bridges of timber. He built and endowed feveral free-fchools, particularly that of Drayton. He made and paved divers lughways for the public utility. He founded exhibitions, and educated many ftudents at hoth Univerfities, and fupported, at the inus of cont, others who were broagit up to the law.
"He was the unwearied friend of the widow and the futherlefs. He choathed anmally three hundred poor people in his own neighourhoud toth with fhirts and coats; and, in the city of London, he gave 200 l . (an immenfe fum in thofe days) to St. Bartholemew's hofpital, befides (faith Fuller) 6001. to Chrift church hofpital. He alfo gave molt liberally to all the other hofpitals; and at his death bequeathed 5501 . to the poor of atl the wards in London.
" He had no chiddren; buf his relations and kinsfolk were numerons, who all partook largely of his bounty hoth in his life-time and at his death. He conitancly kept up a great family houfehold, where he maintained good hofpitality ; many reforted to him for his wife and falutary advice; and none whocame to him were ever fent empty or diffati fied away.
"To fuffer fuch a character to fink into oblivion would te in the higheft degree ungrateful, as welt as injurious to pofterity; for whofe imitation, as a city fet on a lull, it is held up; duly to fet it forth would be imponible. Suffice it, therefore, to cloie this account of the above extraordmary perfon with a Latin infeription, which is to be feen under a portrait of him now in the houfe at Hawkfone, and in very good prefervation:
" Rowlandus Hill, miles Salopienfis, vir bonus et fapiens, quondam major civitatis Londini, ac dignitlimus conful ejufdem exiftens Qui anctoritate opibufque temporibus Regum Hemici Octavi et Edwardi Sexti florens, diverfas terras, predia, ac polfethones perouifivit, eaque omnia falva confcientiâ, abtcu: mmi aliorum injurià vel damu. Quo jun finefente, ac in ultiman retatem vergente, a rebus acquirendis piorns abotinuir, ac fuà forte contentus, fibi quieté vixit, neçue phura optabat. Multa praterea praclara opra egit, magnam atebat fam:lam. Bona qua acquifivifet, liberaliter impendit, pauperitns dedit. Schol.aticis in urraque academia exhbuit, leguleios alsit, atque in alios pios ufus erogavit. L.iberos fatcepit nulios, ideoque terras poffelinonefque fuas inter cognatos ac confarn guineos divifit. Breviter tantà pretate claruit, guod fama fatia extendehar, religumque vitam fuam vigilus, timore ac contemplatione conteruit, ad honorem fummi Dei, ac in perpeina fui nominis gloriam," $4$

[^0]:    * Adanf. Voy. Senegal. Engl.edit. p. İr.

[^1]:    * Two other volames, of the fame fize, are propofed to be publidet, at two gutiands each.

[^2]:    *See Biographical Dictionary, 8vo. Vel. FIL. Herbelot

[^3]:    * See the late Dr. Maron't, the Bithon) of Cunke, and the Rev. Mr. Ceman's d:Icription of thas toad, in Nicholo's Leacefterthre, vol. I. p. cxtviii. cxis.
    * This todd alfo 1 undoubtedly Roman, leading from Burough-hill, in the parth of Borough neat Meltom, hy Haboruagh, and Guib lough, in Nothamptonthine, to Borotisi nil!, near Daventay, in the fime romity. See Ntihols, ui fapra; and д. 2. [Wéapprove the conjectarc. EDis.

[^4]:    ＊Not $\mathrm{I}=1^{2}$ ，as tome copies have it．
    ＋There is a MS．m the royal hibiary at Paris，formaty ！in bray＇s；and there was aumeler it Zarich，in Sxizerland；five ll－ ore in the Grant Dake＇s libray；one in等却 of Cardiant O：tubonio

[^5]:    * See D'Arvieux's Travels in Arabia,

[^6]:    * The country expreffion fir the woods.

[^7]:    * See before Pp. 14, 50; and the Sup. plement to vol. LXV. p. iloz.
    + See the account of the Minftrel Demodocus in the Eighth Odyfey.

[^8]:    * A wat is a provmind natae for the mole. S. A. ${ }^{\prime}$

[^9]:    * Our Correfpondem, it is hoped, will excufe the liberty we lave taken in printing this letter.

    EDit.

[^10]:    * "Divide, and you weaken your enemies," is an old and wire maxim. Now, it is certain that santiffeht, at leat the falefmen there, have occafoned this horrid rife of animal foci; it is incontrovertible. A very few weeks ago, an utter ftranger came to the boufe of a farmer at Maidenlrend-thicket, and ottered lmen a vaft price for all his corn. Seeing tonce very fmall pigs, he faid, "I will give you a guinea a-piece fortl.en." The farmer ded red to the ladiy who related it to me, that he hould not have thought of atking more, if fo much, as half-a-guinea a piece. He then faid, he would buy all hrs fore hoge, weigh them alize, lair, hoof, Sic. at one halling per ponad. Q. My not Linis worthy azent be emplojat, by thofe who lad out $£ \cdot 10,0 c 0112$ Tom Pane's bucks, to fowe a famine, that the poor may rife aikd be bangei, and they divite the fyuib?

[^11]:    * Hence the mitake. The artacle was taken firm a MS it if at the legranng of one of Mr: Aile yue sbork, whan ham we find lad been Nit. Bryue's. Evit.

[^12]:    * Ithas beengivin wol. LXV.p. 1079. Edit.

[^13]:    * See Wia's ietter to Dr. Mead.

[^14]:    * This word at the Reformation was ordered to he biotted out of the Calendar, and eraze.l not wherever found.
    See farther on this heials p. 120. Edir.

[^15]:    * I call it an cighth, beanie the villages did not ufually futtio from the fmall pox bogurtionably with the towns.

[^16]:    * The prefent inhabiter of Note's is Duncan Davidon, M. P.

[^17]:    30. A liberal terfion of the Pfalms into moderne Language, according to the Liturgy Tranfhations
[^18]:    " 2 . Here the phrafos, pecp", and freep of hus fafure, occur on then true order: Platm xav. nute on verfe $7 .{ }^{\circ}$
    " 3. The portions which form each clauf of this ve: fo are merely duplicates of each other. To go into bis gates wwith thatiskgit ng means the fane as to enter bis courts with fraife; gates beng a term fynonymous here with coures: giad to be thankfol to bim is equivalent to freaking goold of bis zume. Courts of juffice were, amongit the Jews, fitunted in the gates of their cities; of which cuft ma the reafon :ffigned is, that the people, who were chiefly employed in atricu'ture and rural affairs, might fettle their differences without lofing time a:d incarring expence by ertering the city. The if.tinf alimmates the gates in which the moith judge prefides to the divine conrts which were the refidence of tle Di'y. ${ }^{\prime}$
    "4. The Pfalmift, as ufual, celebrates the mercy and veracity of God with relarion to his promie of never withholding his mer iful potection from Lavid, his family, and kinglom: Pfalm lxxxix. 25,今2, 3 ', 34, 8cc."

[^19]:    * "The place of Mr. Rowland Hill'g chapel."

[^20]:    * See Nichubr's Thermometrical Tables in le firit volume of his Tiavels.

[^21]:    * Bifhop of Lincoln, Dr. jeffreys, Dr. Farmer, and Dr. Jackfon.
    $\ddagger$ Mr. Hedger $\frac{t}{4}$ Rev John Pridden.
    New Sit Join C.th, Bart. if Now Sir Christopher Willougt by, Bart.

[^22]:    \% The arms of H.arton, as given by Mr. Lyfunc, at Greenford Parwa (Enmmons of London, 11. +47), are, O. on a cruls A.z. Spheons of tee rizit, : chief of the 2 d .

[^23]:     feen m: a gentienan in winies in lise gum forets th the miertor part of $A$ ic?, m the (Gith. Adig. VCh. Loy. p. 1208.

[^24]:    * 1 have hand, that an eogle list bern

[^25]:    = Earton (Leicepermire, $\Gamma . ~ ¥ 66$,) baznns this cont thus, Vert, a feis between 3 ro dels Argent. fis a Vifitation of Leicetternhife, $16_{19}$, [Harleian MS. No. $I_{3} 6_{9}$ ], thaned, Argent, on 2 bars Sable 3 plates, 2 and t .

    - Thefe arms are cut on Richard Rudini's tonibftone in St. Mary's Church, in Leir, per. He died in 1582 ,
    "Willis's Mitred Abbsys, Vol. It. P. I If, and Stevens's Monaficon, Yol. II. p. I2it
    a deed in the pofieition of Walter Ruding, L4s.
    © Duydale's Warwickmure, Vol. II. 1. 9.48.
    & Id. Vol. I. ก. 469.
    E Whilis's Buckingham, p. 5\%.61. 62. 69. 75. S3. For his other preferments Whilis's Cathedrais and Le Neves': Tati. Whlis, in his Hiftory of Buckingham, and Cathedrals, gives three difierent couts to this Puding, viz. A crefcent between : onultet, [p. 62]; and, Gules a crefent inter fix efeallons Argent 3,2, and I , [p.6: i and, A urefent withinationdr of five mullets. Cathedrals, Vol. II. p. soz.
    ${ }^{n}$ Brifges's Northamponfaire, Vol. I. p. 8. .
    © Bartlet's Mandueffedum Romanum. Mifc. Antiquities, No. I. P. 3 jo x MS. Britin Mufum XIII. 7. No date to the MS.

    1. MS. Britifh Mufoum D, be iq. ACunt Roll of Shenstano [^26]:    ${ }^{4}$ Sanders's Hiftory of Shenfon. Nifc. Antiq. No. IV. p. 240. The name of Rum-ding, or Rending, occu's like wife at p. 207.209, 215.253.
    Britith Muftim, MS 86. D 31.
    d Blomefild's Norfolt, V(l. V. i. 105:

[^27]:    54. Tbe Rofes; or, King Henry VI.; an bifarical Tragety, reprefented at Reading Sibanl, OAtober $\mathbf{5}, 16,17, \mathrm{r}_{795}$; campile., trincifoully, from Shakfpeare; publifbed as it wass porformed for the Dengiat of tbe Cbrap Repofituy for moral und injiructive Tructs.
[^28]:    * The water on the fulface of the earth is conftantly replete with air, and the atnofphere is replete with waser. The numerons tribe of aquatic animals which nhabit the ocean of water, would perihh, if it contained no air; and it is nor an mprobable conjecture, that the animals that exift in this ocean of air would perifh, f it contained no water. The air, moreover, by being abforbed in the water, and afterwards feparated from it by the action of the fun, to which it is daily expofed, is rendered abundantly more fit for animal refpuration than the common air. Chem. Eff. Dr. Watfon, vol. 1HI. p. 168.
    lporting on the wing.-18. Daffodil fowers.-21. Wagtail appears.-24. A guly day.
    Duft arifes in eddies. Sea-gulls inland.-28. Dandel.on flowers. The ilex depofis its leaves. $\mathbf{2 9}$. Horfe-chefnut, mountain afh, and is ringo, follate.

    Fall of rain this month,,- -1oths of an inch. Evaporation, 3 inches.
    Halton, near Liver jool?
    J. HOLT.

[^29]:    * Phl. Iand vul. II. part il. p. 459 .

[^30]:    * Derham's Phyf. Thenl. note d. p. 349 . Poatop. Hitt. Norw, J. 9 ?

[^31]:    + Gefiner. Icon. An. roo.
    ${ }_{+}+$Derham and Hildrop.
    § Klein. Hift. Av. 205, 206. Ekmarck.

[^32]:    * That much mure was reveuled han we might at firt be !ed to conjecture, we learn from cafual information, Gin. vi where the diai iction between clean and unclean hearts feens to hdve been well known; and Ex. xvi, where mention is exprefily anade of the Sabbath. Sea alfo Gen. u.

[^33]:    * See this queltion atan' ably Ituted, and feveral appolite intances alduced, in the "Schotar armed," vol. h. p. 213.

[^34]:    * Scuttior conenume, Camden's Erit. Suf. fok, 1!.'5, LuR wit.
    + Du Cunge an chamenner take :oo notre of han indecut due, Homak num common m frame than in Lergand.

[^35]:     view of the ruins: and Camden's Eritan. ping new euilivi, i. ijz. Eurf.

[^36]:    * Blate uf ciutifus befure riemed to, 11. 12.

[^37]:    * Rather, a fquare cavity.
    + Prob,bly contuiniug a fentence, fuci as Miferere mei, or fomething to that effect It is molt probably a bad Jrawing of ${ }^{\prime}$ mutilated figure, and the furcot fetting clofe to the body miftaken for the fkip and the har mate too flowng.

[^38]:    100. Obfervations addieffeat to the Friends the Gungitiution, occaffoncd by tbe late Aldd [^39]:    * Robbery.
    Gent. Mac. Apil, 1796.

[^40]:    ＊Your correfpondent foys，＂the plates were fold to a brazer by the churchwar－ dens＂I do not mean here，Mr．Urhan， to juftify their conduct ；on the contrary，I think they atted vely wrong：but， 1 dare fay，had they known their intrinfic value， they would have carefully prefer ved them．

[^41]:    * Sce a view of it, vol. LXIl. p. :17I; and the inferptions in p. 1273 s

[^42]:    * Onr former cosrefpundent calls this " the North fise."
    + See the oticr inferiptions, LXII. 1574 .
    $\ddagger 1$ lufpect an error in the date, bur have so upgntan'y of confuking the crigma!.

[^43]:    * The fame idea, I have fince feen, is farted $m$ another perivilical publ:cation of the latit month.

[^44]:     emplum, icmorifina atque minax eft votuflatis, Lamecha ad uxores effitio Luwth, Præi. Pp. so, 5 I.

[^45]:    * t.a.8. i. e. influcre ct informare mentem confitus et rat onibus, atque afticere fapientes, eofyo dublere et permo. vere. Garb.

[^46]:    * San a Jateotd Balhad, oy Murs Se-

[^47]:    * See tus epraph by himflif, p. 55 .

[^48]:    * He had it Chefterton a worthy fuc-
    * He lad it Chefterton a worthy fuc-ceffor, N2r. Hatl; who aracked Mr. Clayton for his masterate and pagific princighes, [^49]:    * The father of ibs goung foker, who lad latle befule, halfopiy, was promoted from meat.. had beetved many woands $e^{2} . .{ }^{2}$ a the ndd Germat wat, and. ferm one a. trem, catiet brs am in .t flatig to has dath, which haprened at Remtu!, in - - ; ; he tomerty lived at Nombich, where the fon was horn.

    * Harpeniag to be on daty in the lower bu", when the firng hegan, he kept up a) vinemotting fire; and old athery-men entit his conmatad folate of him with rand. On the fouth day's firing ine w. wormden, and the anthor faw him Soty in it. Nrhing cond keep tim ("1 mar wot on dary) from fituations of a Curviz.

[^50]:    * The words between inverted commas weic froken by the youth in his agony. He itopped at Sonthput to get fome waler: and ladd then a mule to go to the hofrital.

[^51]:    * After they has taken off a leg, a mortal womd was perceived in his rems.
    + An efficer of the 39th retimeat, and moit intimately acquanted with young Stevens, going into a colfec-loufe in London, in his uniform, in Dec. 1783 , w:s thins accofted: "Were you there durins the fiege:" "I was." "How did Enigig Stevens behave?" "As filie a boy and brave a folldier as ever lived." "Then 1 am his father!" The ohd officer hast heard that his fon had heen very mprodent in his fet-out, and lie was very much hurt about him; after the high charatter he then receised of him, he recovered his fprits, and, in talking over his own bat. tles, concladed with Rories which redound fo confpicuouny to the memory of this fon. I winh I could add that the latter part of the veteran's life had been unsmbitered; the fame perfon that has offen heard him glory in one fon, has witneifed the poisnant fufferings he underwent at the imprudences of arother.

[^52]:    ${ }^{1}$ La Church-ftreet, at Ahborne, is an atms-home, orignatly fou ded by Cinatupher Pegge, efq. The name occurs alfo on the tuble of bent fastors in thaboue chath.
    ${ }^{2}$ Docquet-hook in the Crown-ofice.
    3 See Sandiord, p. 647, edit. 1707. Granger erionewuly calls him Carlo; and alfo, by miftake, gives him the name of Fitarog.

    4 See xur. Lyfons's Environs of Londme, vol. I. p. 537.
    5 Dart's Hitury of Weftminiker-ahbey, vul. Ii. p. 55.

    - There is a half-length portrat of tha earl, in a rube de chambre, laced cravat, and flowing hair (with a frip in the back grown of the pecture), by sur Peter Lely, now in the famly: ancilfotwo of his mother, fady Greenc; ons a half iensth, with her infant fon ftanding by ber fide; the outer a deree quariers; boibetwer by Str foier cely, or by one of has pupils.
    an uncommon quantity of white bottentee almot daly on te wates. in: has 5

    Wariton, ncar Levce posl.

[^53]:    7 I'r button was preftent (i. e. vice-mater) of the cothge abo Mr. Pogse's fon uas ad uifred of it, 1751; but foon afterward took the hivirg of Staphehrit, on Kent.

    8 the Phat'-followfress at St. John's are fimblar to what aie catied tw-jcllowefrips in fome other coleges al Cammente, and are net on the foumation. Ther origian numLer vias fri, whith a fupend of zol. per zunum each, bentes rooms, and commons at [^54]:    : Vu.. LXXIII.pp. 334,409.

    + Vol. LXIII. pp. 412, 618.

[^55]:    * Wood, Athen. Uxon. 1F. I22.
    + Rymer, Fo:d. tom. XiX p: is 8.
    + See ou: Puetical Department, p. j0g.
    § Walker's Sufferirgs of Clargy, p. ivz.

[^56]:    * Chron. Sax. ad an. MVI. Annal, Wigori. ad an. MicClXIX. Ans!. Sac. vol. 1. p. 498.

[^57]:    * Brokeiby, in Lelanl, woi. V'I. p. 96, edit. 2 d .
    + Richardfon, in Leland, vol. I. p. is, - alit. 2 d.

[^58]:    * The expretion is directly Scriptural. Thus Ifaiah, ch. vi. 9 :

    ##

    referred to in St. Luke, ch. vi. et al.

    + It is almoft fuperflwous to point out the refemblance hetween this name and that. of the foo of Noat.

    Hence,

[^59]:    * Garbitios, Ilyricus. Græiæ Linglett Motatis Phlotoph $x$ Profetior or watat, in Academia Tubangenfi, aun. 1588.

[^60]:    * Wirton's Mifory of Enalife Poetry, vol. 1. &. $3^{9} 5$.

[^61]:    * See a propofal for working the copi per mines in Hulfon's bay, Gent. Mago vol. LIHI. p. 955.
    + Mr. H. has not met with any traveller into thefe high Northein latitudes who have noticed it. sut in thofe defcribed in the Mémoires des içavans étrangers, May, ${ }^{1762}$, a rußing is mentioned. Phil. Tranf. LIX. 87, Gavelin fpeaks of it in the moft ponted terms. A workman from Hus. fon's bay neentions it; and Mr. Nairne fays that he once heard it in Northamptonflire ; Phil. Tranf. LXXIY. 228, 229.

[^62]:    * We cannot help thinkneg our own countrymen have ever had a fuperior clama to this character.

[^63]:    * Wie never bafre leard bubarit attached to the Druids; or hat they prac-ties it in Ganl more that in other nations who offere! human facrifices.
    + sume this was watten, a fecond calition hras appa. ped, in whols the author has fultund the fotwec, sum, we fear, Fot incrafed the truib, of his plefams.

[^64]:    * About 1710, or 1715 , thas Sir John Eikine difocicred a very valuable nine of filver on his ettate of Alva. It made lis firt appearance in fin fll frings of filver-ore, which, beiog followed, led to a very large maf, p rt had the appearmce of malleable filver, and produced 12 ounces of filver from $I_{4}$ ounces of ore. Nor more than 40 or $5^{\circ}$. had been expended in the feanch when this ralume difcovery was made. During the frace of 13 "r 14 weeks it has been credibly affirmed that ore was produced to about the value of 40001 . per week; and it has been conjectured that Sr john drew from 40 to 50,000 . befudes a gieat deal fuppofed to have been purloined by the workmen. When this maf was exhotwed, the filver ore began to appear in much fmaller quanties, and fymptoms of lead, with other metals, were difonved. The confeguince was, that all farther refearches were at that time lad : Bice. Lord Alva tad in has profenion fome very rich pieces of ore; of part he canfed a pair of filver c mmunion-cups to be made, which he prefented to the church of Alva; they were thus inforibed: "Sacris in Ecclefia Sancti Servani apud Alveth, A. D 1767, ex argento indige:o D. D C. Q. Jacobus Erfone." Pror to 1765 , the ftipend of the mmitter of Alva was extrenely moderate; Lord Alva, of his own accord, and withont the knowlege of the mafter, executed a fummons of augmentation againft himfelf, as fole herito. of the parif ; by wiich an addition of 221 . a year was made to the living. Statiftical Account of Scolland, XVIII. I 39.

    Gent. 'viag. Func, 1796.

[^65]:    Gent. Mag Junesigg.

[^66]:    QUEENS.
    URSBUKY, Duke, his reat at Ameetbury defcribed6 Quintin, George, a promifing young Engraver

